While we are not fans of bureaucracy and endless government – having a process in place to protect our shade trees is a good thing.

Some homeowners may not realize that some of "their" trees planted close to the roadway are actually town trees.

If you are familiar with Scituate, you may have driven along Route 3A or Route 123 to Greenbush in recent weeks where construction of the roundabout is under way. You may be struck by the sudden openness of the area that appears to be out-of-character.

Sadly, construction of the roundabout required the removal of several ancient trees. The area now looks barren.

Next door in Hingham, initial plans using state funds to repave and improve Route 228 (Main Street) included removing 150 trees. A public outcry and pressure from the Hingham DPW and others reduced that number to 37.

So when you are driving down Hingham's Main Street and see all those trees – be grateful that folks and officials in Hingham worked very hard to save them!

And as you drive around Cohasset – be appreciative that in addition to our ocean vistas – we also have the pleasure of living in a wooded environment.

Henry David Thoreau put it best:

"I frequently tramped eight or ten miles through the deepest snow to keep an appointment with a beech-tree, or a yellow birch, or an old acquaintance among the pines."

MEETINGS

The following meetings are posted at Town Hall:

Advisory Committee, Oct. 16 & 22, 7 p.m.

Alternative Energy Committee, Nov. 6 and Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.

Cohasset Housing Partnership, Oct. 18, 7 p.m.

Conservation Commission, Oct. 18, 7 p.m.

Library Trustees, Nov. 14, 7 p.m.

Planning Board, Oct. 17, 6:30 p.m.

Recreation Commission, Oct. 17, 6:30 p.m.

School Committee, Oct. 17, 7 p.m. at the high school

Selectmen, Oct. 15, 22, 29 & Nov. 5, 7 p.m.

Stormwater Committee, Nov. 5, 7 p.m.

Water Commission Oct. 17, 7 p.m. with the Planning Board; Oct. 18 & Nov. 24, 6 p.m., King Street plant.

ZBA, Oct. 16, Oct. 22 & Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m.

All meetings take place at Town Hall unless otherwise noted. Call the Town Clerk's office at 781-383-4100 for updates and additions.

'Adopt-a-Street' to conduct meeting

The Town of Cohasset's "Adopt-A-Street" program would greatly appreciate your assistance.

This new environmental program is a partnership between the Town of Cohasset and community-minded businesses, organizations and citizens who will work together to provide a beautiful environment. This program will also educate and encourage people to stop littering and take pride in their community.

The first meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 16 at 6 p.m. in the Town Hall's Basement Meeting Room.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering is encouraged to attend.

For more information please contact Tara Tradd at the Board of Health Office: 781-383-4116.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Indifference in North Cohasset?

TO THE EDITOR:

The local media reported my discussions with the Cohasset Water Commissioners about the absurdity of unbridled water usage throughout Cohasset with the exception of North Cohasset which is under a total water ban from its source: Aquarion - based in Hingham. At the same time, Cohasset sells water to Hingham (Linden Ponds) while Aquarion sells water to North Cohasset.

Last week, the media printed a short editorial plea that I wrote suggesting that people contact me to be kept apprised as I work with Aquarion (Hingham) and the Cohasset Selectmen/Water Commissioners to challenge the status quo (I have been quietly protesting this arrangement for 10 years). I received ONE response.

The Cohasset Water Commissioners predicted that North Cohasset residents might be ambivalent and that a key to breaking the inertia would be a display of interest. North Cohasset residents will only have themselves to blame as we suffer a self-fulfilling destiny due to an attitude of indifference. This problem can be solved with a "temporary" work-around and a long-term plan; however, it won't happen without a public display of interest. Please contact me at 781-383-0505(fax: 781-383-9762) or preferably by email: cohjoe@aol.com.

An "Ostrich in the Sand" approach will assure failure; a pro-active approach may not assure success, but we won't have "met the enemy only to find it is ourselves."

Joseph R. McElroy
59 Windy Hill Road
N. Cohasset

Wonderful dedication is much appreciated

TO THE EDITOR:

I want to tell you how exciting it was for me, John Durkin and Andy Whitney to go onto the field at halftime of the Cohasset vs. Scituate game on Saturday, Sept. 29, for the Gridiron Book dedication as they dedicated the book to John Durkin along with Andy Whitney and myself.

I liked the way that Gridiron member [Mike Maher] read the entire dedication statement including the sentence "John couldn't do his job without the help of Andy Whitney and Shaun Galvin who handle the duty of spotters in the press box." That sentence means a lot to John, Andy and myself and that is the reason the three of us went onto the field to receive this great honor.

I want to thank the Cohasset Gridiron Club for this wonderful dedication and honor to both John, Andy and myself. It has really meant the world to us. I looked at the book and it is absolutely excellent and my Good Luck ad I sent in over the summer came out excellent as well. Also, I am very proud of Cohasset after beating Scituate 28-0 on Saturday, Sept. 29, as well as last Friday's win over Carver, 26-12, along with the Gridiron Book Dedication at halftime of the Cohasset vs. Scituate game and Cohasset improving their record to 5-0 on the season, which makes everything so far this 2007 very super and special.

Thanks again for this wonderful dedication and honor, and Go Blue!

Shaun Galvin
CHS Class of 1999
Weymouth

Josiah Wompatuck and King Philip

WOMPATUCK

JIM ROSE

Although involved in the Christian way of life, the Praying Indians occasionally restored to warfare.

Reprinted with permission from the Friends of Wompatuck, a volunteer organization that helps maintain the state park. To become a member call Eric at 781-741-6047."

First Native American contact with Europeans probably occurred along the coast of Cape Cod 1,000 years ago. Norsemen from Scandinavia landed in northwest Newfoundland in 986. In 1497, John Cabot explored northeast Newfoundland and more than likely encountered the Beothuck tribe living there.

Englishman Captain John Smith specifically mentioned tribal contact when he explored Cohasset and the coast of New England in 1614. A present day plaque commemorating the event can now be found at a water's edge park in Cohasset Harbor.

Soon after Captain Smith departed, three separate epidemics swept across New England between 1614 and 1617 destroying three fourths of the original native population. In 1620, the Pilgrims found most of the Wompanoag villages abandoned. When Puritans first settled Boston in 1629, only 500 of the Massachuset tribe were alive. Smallpox decimated most of the tribe in 1633.

Soon afterwards, Rev. John Eliot began his missionary work among the natives in the area. The new Christian converts were gathered into 14 villages of "Praying Indians."

Committed to strict rules of Puritan conduct, tribal traditions quickly died away. No organized groups of the Massachuset are known to have survived after 1800.

Sachem Josiah Wompatuck was a member of the Massachuset tribe. His father was Chief Chickataubut. When he died, Josiah was raised by his father's brother, Kutchamakin. Wompatuck was exposed to Christianity at an early age and was considered a Praying Indian. He and members of the Wompanoag tribe who he associated with transferred the land of present day Hingham to the town in 1665.

The Wompanoags inhabited southeastern Massachusetts and the eastern shore of Narragansett Bay in Rhode Island. The Massachuset inhabited the valleys of the Charles and Neponset rivers including the present site of Boston and its suburbs. Massachuset translates to "the people of the great hills (Blue Hills)," and Wompanoag translates to "Eastern people" in Algonquin.

Although involved in the

SEE WOMPATUCK, PAGE 13

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.cnc.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore. E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com

The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.

Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

425 S. Main still at 'dead end'

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

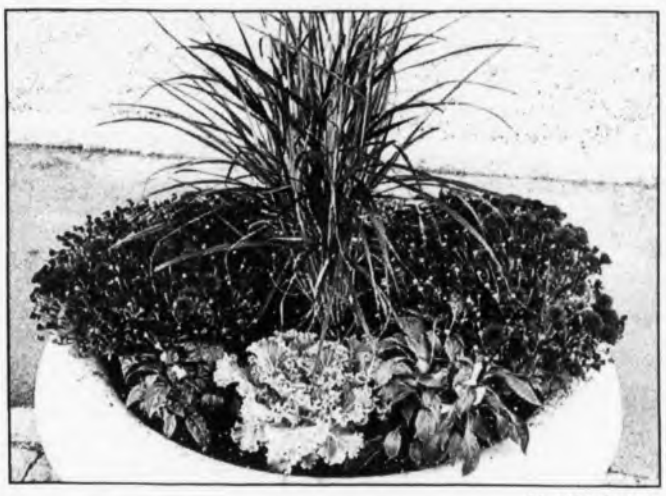
Over the past several weeks we've received quite a few comments about the plight of the resident at 425 S. Main St. In summary, the MBTA closed Lincoln Lane at the railroad tracks to avoid a railroad crossing. This was the access for the home at 425 S. Main St. for more than 30 years for the current resident and way longer than that for prior residents. The MBTA then connected the home at 425 S. Main St. to a private three-home driveway in Scituate. However, the Town of Scituate has a By-Law that limits the number of homes on a private driveway to three. Adding 425 S. Main St. would make four an[illegible] in violation of the Scituate By-Law. Further, the driveway used by the three Scituate homes passes over two properties in Cohasset, for which they have easements. The 425 S. Main St home has no such easement and thus the MBTA connection also creates a trespass situation.

The MBTA closed Lincoln Lane at the railroad tracks to avoid a railroad crossing. This was the access for the home at 425 S. Main St. for more than 30 years for the current resident and way longer than that for prior residents.

In August of 2006, the MBTA sent the accompanying Aug. 8 letter (We have erased all names from the letter because we feel that this information is not pertinent.) addressed to the three Scituate residents detailing what they would do to solve the access problem for 425 S. Main St. Essentially, the MBTA agreed to:

1. Hire and pay for a local attorney to draw up a maintenance agreement between the three Scituate homes and the 425 S. Main St. property and make application to Scituate for a waiver of their By-Law.

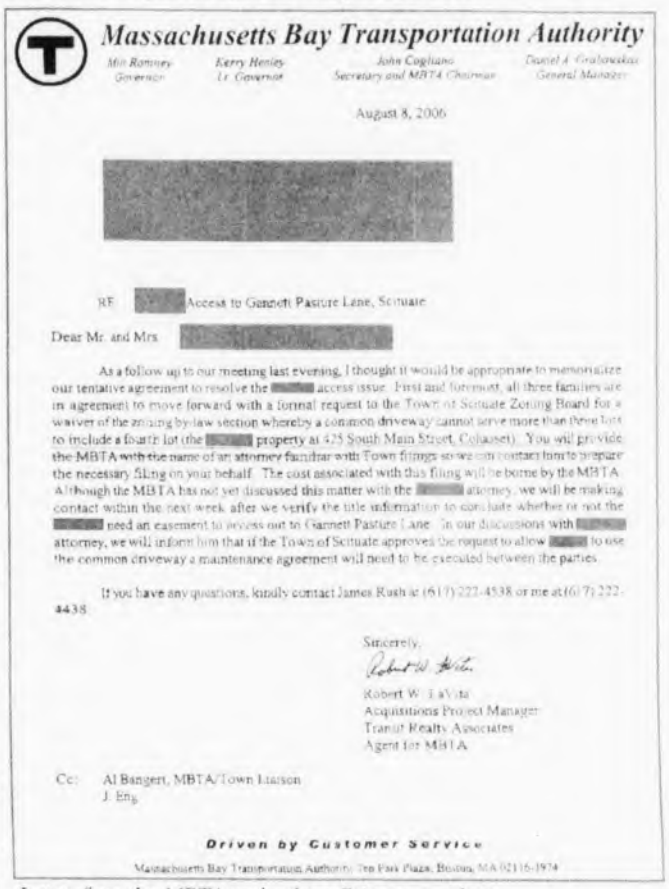
2. Investigate whether easements are required.



After an attorney was hired, the necessary agreements drafted and signed by all, but before application was made to Scituate for a waiver, the MBTA pulled out of their agreement saying they were at a "dead end." Clearly this was not the case. As of this writing, the MBTA has not come back to the table to honor their agreement and 425 S. Main St. has no legal access.

Village Revitalization — As a part of the Revitalization project the contractor was to have filled the several planters in the village area with day lilies. They have been slow to get them planted. The two planters at the corner of Depot Court and Main Street were planted by an "angel" about a month, or so ago. We thank that unknown person. The planters look great! There is another planter in front of the park between Tedeschi's and French Memories Bakery. This past week another (or perhaps the same) angel did an absolutely magnificent job of planting at this location.

We are all very appreciative of the initiative.



Tom Gruber, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Affairs, Email: cgbaffairs@townofcohasset.org

Mark Brennan, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Engineering, Email: cgbengineering@townofcohasset.org Phone: 781-383-3094

COURTESY PHOTO

The Tedeschi's planter after the "angel" treatment.

Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority

Mitt Romney, Governor — Kerry Healey, Lt. Governor — John Cogliano, Secretary and MBTA Chairman — Daniel A. Grabauskas, General Manager

August 8, 2006

[redacted]

RE: [redacted] Access to Gannett Pasture Lane, Scituate

Dear Mr. and Mrs. [redacted]

As a follow up to our meeting last evening, I thought it would be appropriate to memorialize our tentative agreement to resolve the [redacted] access issue. First and foremost, all three families are in agreement to move forward with a formal request to the Town of Scituate Zoning Board for a waiver of the zoning by-law section whereby a common driveway cannot serve more than three lots to include a fourth lot (the [redacted] property at 425 South Main Street, Cohasset). You will provide the MBTA with the name of an attorney familiar with Town filings so we can contact him to prepare the necessary filing on your behalf. The cost associated with this filing will be borne by the MBTA. Although the MBTA has not yet discussed this matter with the [redacted] attorney, we will be making contact within the next week after we verify the title information to conclude whether or not the [redacted] need an easement to access out to Gannett Pasture Lane. In our discussions with [redacted] attorney, we will inform him that if the Town of Scituate approves the request to allow [redacted] to use the common driveway a maintenance agreement will need to be executed between the parties.

If you have any questions, kindly contact James Rush at (617) 222-4538 or me at (617) 222-4438.

Sincerely,

Robert W. LaVita
Acquisitions Project Manager
Transit Realty Associates
Agent for MBTA

Cc: Al Bangert, MBTA/Town Liaison
J. Eng

Driven by Customer Service

Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, Ten Park Plaza, Boston, MA 02116-3974

Letter from the MBTA to the three Scituate residents.

The pitfalls of libel

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

I see where the curse of the late Anna Nicole Smith has risen from the grave to nip at Rita Cosby, the chubby little anchor gal who covered Anna's demise and the courtroom drama that followed for MSNBC.

Rita has written a book, "Blonde Ambition: The Untold Story Behind Anna Nicole Smith's Death," in which she details a "sexual encounter" between Larry Birkhead, the father of Anna's baby, and Howard Stern (no, not that one), her lawyer.

Since Larry and Howard are both of the male persuasion, that raised more than a few eyebrows and brought Howard back to court to sue Rita and her publisher, Hachette, for $60 million for libeling two of the straightest of the straights, as their relations with Anna will attest.

I hope that Rita has some pretty solid evidence in her defense because public sympathy these days seems to be leaning toward the alleged libelee. Witness the recent $2 million-plus verdict that was awarded Judge Ernie Murphy against the Herald.

The stylebook of the Associated Press, my employer for more years than I care to count, devotes 35 pages to laws governing the media and takes a whole page just to answer the simple question, "What is libel?"

When I was young and ice covered most of the earth, I put the same question to an old timer and he gave me an answer to live by.

When I was young and ice covered most of the earth, I put the same question to an old timer and he gave me an answer to live by.

"Son," he said, "libel is anything a jury calls libel."

In 60 years, 10 months and two weeks in the business, I have never been sued for libel or slander or defamation or whatever you want to call it, although once the suits in the executive suite told me I came close enough to keep my mouth shut about it.

It started in Cozaddale, Ohio, a village so small that Rand didn't even bother to tell McNally it was there.

It was founded in the middle of the 19th century by a man named John Cozad, who some sources described as a riverboat gambler. Other sources claimed him to be a violent man and he ratified that claim by killing a man, possibly over a game of cards.

Like so many others facing the same sticky problem at the time, John fled west and settled on the Platte River in Nebraska, where he founded a town called Cozad and begat a first-rate son whom he named Robert Henry Cozad.

Alas, success proved much too heady for old John and, when the people of Cozad went to the mattress with those of nearby Lexington over which town would become county seat, he whipped out his pistol and killed another man.

This time John, with his family in tow, fled east to Atlantic City, New Jersey, where he settled on beachfront property. Later, when they tried to take his land for the Boardwalk, he resisted, which is why the Boardwalk takes a crooked turn around Texas Avenue.

Meanwhile, Robert Henry Cozad, eschewing the family business, went to the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, changed his name to a more artistic Robert Henri, and has gone down in art history as the founder of a very realistic movement known as The Ashcan School.

It was a cute story. Nothing the Pulitzer Committee would get excited over. The kind you see inside a Sunday paper when there is space to be filled among the ads.

I got a letter from the Cozad, Nebraska, Historical Society asking me about some of the sources for the story. I showed the letter to the big boss, who told me he never wanted to hear of Cozad again and implied if I ever mentioned it I could look for another job.

Then he showed me his letter. It was from a lawyer for the estate of Robert Henri. He said they were checking to see how much damage our story had done to the estate. It couldn't have been much because we never heard from them again.

How to embarrass a seven-year old

THE FAR SIDE OF PERFECT

DIANE K. DANIELSON

Last week I got an amusing, yet surprising look in the mirror as my son did a dead-on imitation of me — right down to the hand gestures. Of course, I then had to turn the tables on him and we spent the rest of the day imitating each other and sharing all the things we do to drive the other person batty. We ended up with two lists that we thought we would share with you. Who knows? They just might come in handy some day.

Ten ways to totally annoy, embarrass, and otherwise drive your son absolutely bonkers:

1. When a classic "oldies" song comes on the car radio, sing along at the top of your lungs. This works even better when the windows are rolled down and, like me the only musical key you can hit is "off." Personal favorites are Looking Glass' "Brandy (you're a fine girl)," anything by Celine Dion, and that Tone Loc classic "Funky Cole Medina."

2. While watching the Disney Channel, jump up and attempt do the High School Musical dance numbers along with the movie.

3. In fact, singing or dancing at anytime seems to be hugely embarrassing to a 7-year old.

4. Whenever your son mentions a girl's name from school, ask if she's his girlfriend.

5. If there's a kissing part in a movie, rewind and make him watch it again.

6. Pretend not to understand the language of "whine."

7. Whenever he says he "needs" something, ask him to describe the difference between a "need" and a "want."

8. Call him by pet nicknames in front of his friends (i.e., Sweetie, Honey). The more cringe-inducing the better.

9. Shower him with hugs and kisses just as the school bus pulls up. (This is also a good time to throw in a few nicknames or a dance.)

10. Save up all the evidence (photos, videos, stories) of the silly, cute and amusing things he does at this age for payback when he's a teenager.

Ten ways to totally annoy, embarrass, and otherwise drive your mom absolutely bonkers:

1. Whenever you're in the car find one favorite song on a CD and make her play it over and over and over and over.

2. While she's kneeling down helping you tie your shoes, pull out her ponytail holder and shoot it across the room like a rubber band.

3. Eat your dinner with your fingers. (It makes my mom all flustered and she starts yelling "Fork food. Fork food. Fork food" across the table. It's really funny.)

4. Whenever you see her talking to a guy, ask HIM if he's her new boyfriend.

5. After she's all done tucking you into bed at night, wait for her to get downstairs; and then ask for a glass of water. Drink all the water. Once she gets back downstairs, call out that you need another one. Drink that too. Then wait five minutes and announce that you have to go to the bathroom because of all the water you drank.

6. Pretend not to be able to find anything that's right in front of your face.

7. When she says to you "just one more minute," start counting to 60. When she says it again (after you count to 60 the first time), ask her if it's a "mom minute" or a real minute.

8. Repeat after me: "Are we there yet?" Now continue to ask it over and over starting the second you walk out your front door.

9. Ask her if she loves her computer, iPod, cell phone or BlackBerry more than you.

10. When all else fails and you've finally run out of excuses and explanations as to why you did something you probably shouldn't have done, stick your hand under your shirt and arm fart The Star Spangled Banner. Trust me. It makes even my mom speechless. But, only for a minute because then she starts singing show tunes from Annie… and that's never a good thing.

When not serenading her son about her "hard knock life," or assuring him that "the sun will come out tomorrow," Diane K. Danielson is the founder and CEO of the Downtown Women's Club national business network and the author of the new book, "The Savvy Gal's Guide to Online Networking (or What Would Jane Austen Do?)" now available at Amazon.

LIBRARY CORNER

Great Decisions group meets Sunday

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

Great Decisions Group – The first Great Decisions Discussion group will begin at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 14, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss South Africa, found in chapter five of the assigned text.

Independent Film Night – The library will show the independent film, "The Island," at 6 p.m., Thursday, Oct.18. Somewhere in Northern Russia, in a small Russian Orthodox monastery lives a very unusual man. Those who visit the island believe that the man has the power to heal, exorcise demons and foretell the future. However, he considers himself unworthy because of a sin he committed in his youth. Filmed in Russian with English subtitles. There will be free admission and refreshments, courtesy of the Friends of the Library.

We're Not Making This Up – Ever wonder what the story behind the story is? Hear from true crime writers, drug agents, cyber sleuths and others about what really goes on behind the scenes. "Sisters in Crime" authors Kate Flora and Jayne Hitchcock lead this panel discussion at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 28. Light refreshments will follow and the authors will sign copies of their work, which can be purchased at the event. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Admission is free.

Library Book Group – Join the book group for coffee and a discussion of "Snow Flower and the Secret Fan," by Lisa See at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 31, in the Meeting Room. All are welcome.

FOR CHILDREN

Series news — The Cohasset The Dish series, by Diane Muldrow has been reprinted and can be found in the paperback section. The series is based on a group of girl friends that like friends, cooking, eating, talking, and life. Sounds like what many 8 to 12 year olds like to do. Try it out.

Tom Swift series – The action-packed Tom Swift Young Inventor series is for students 8 to 12 years. Tom Swift's adventures take him to the top of the world, the bottom of the sea, and many other unusual places. Join Tom when he tests out his new inventions. Tom Swift is written by Victor Appleton and can be found in paperbacks.

Magic Tree House series – If you like the Magic Tree House series you might want to try "Time Spies," by Candice Ransom. Join Alex, Mattie, and Sophie as they time travel from one adventure to another. Students 8 to 12 years will find this series in paperback.

Raven Hill Mysteries – Emily Rodda's, Raven Hill mysteries are very exciting and a bit intense. Liz and her friends begin helping out around the neighborhood to do is earn a little extra pocket change but end up risking their weekends and their lives on some of Raven Hill's mysterious secrets. Student 9 years and over may find the Raven Hill mysteries just what they are looking for. They can be found in paperbacks.

Tumble into Reading with TumbleBooks – TumbleBooks are online animated talking books that teach children the joy of reading in a format they'll love. TumbleBooks takes familiar picture books and classic children's literature and adds animation, sound, music and narration. There is an option of reading or being read to. TumbleBooks also offer puzzles, games, language choices and a complete audio library. To access TumbleBooks from home or at the library, go to cohassetlibrary.org and click on the TumbleBooks icon on the homepage.

Tom Callahan guest on 'Our Town'

Tom Callahan, Co-chair of the Cohasset Affordable Housing Partnership, sits down with co-hosts Mark DeGiacomo and Pat Martin to discuss the efforts of the partnership to develop affordable housing in Cohasset as well as to detail the zoning articles going before voters at the Special Town Meeting on Nov. 13. Tune in at 9p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays on Comcast channel 10.

ourtown

Missed the Cohasset High School football games?

Tune in Saturday or Sunday nights beginning 7p.m. to catch the boys in blue on Channel 10.

DOE: 'Circuit breaker' overage goes to general fund pose but special education and an accounting requirement should not change that intent, explained Walsh.

FROM OVERAGE, PAGE 3

Over the past three years, Cohasset schools have received over $570,000 in circuit breaker funds from the state. A memo from Walsh and school business manager Dave DeGennaro to the School Committee states the funds are intended to offset the operational budget, help defray any unforeseen special education costs, and thus save money to the town each year.

Despite the funds received from the state, the schools have charged only $1,286 to the circuit breaker account since July 2005. The costs for special education have been coming directly out of the schools operating budget. Walsh said part of the reason the schools haven't had to dip into the circuit breaker account was they have been able to pre-pay portions of the special education tuition out of the prior year's budget surplus. For example, this year $118,646 was pre-paid toward fiscal 2008 special education tuition.

Walsh said part of the reason the schools haven't had to dip into the circuit breaker account was they have been able to pre-pay portions of the special education tuition out of the prior year's budget surplus.

The circuit breaker is reserved for unanticipated special education cost or cost exceeding the line item in the budget, said Walsh. In this year's budget, the special education line item was reduced by $200,000 in anticipation of the circuit breaker grant.

"We've been very realistic in our estimates," said Walsh, "this is the first year we've been able to have decent reserves for special education."

However, from the town side Buckley said the rationale behind both the circuit breaker program and the new regulations is to help cities, towns and the school district with special education expenses.

"They require what they determine to be a surplus to be closed to the town's general fund, because in effect the town has been overcharged by over funding the school budget," said Buckley.

For the DOE to come down and adopt regulations regarding circuit breaker accounts and then for the DOR to enforce the regulations, Buckley said Cohasset is likely not the only community in the state with this issue.

Walsh said had the school department known about the new DOR requirement; it would have advised the School Committee to pre-pay the carry-over balance toward this year's special education budget.

Police Beat

FROM POLICE, PAGE 3

Stolen checks

Police are investigating a report that came in last week from a resident of Kendall Village about stolen checks. Chief Hussey said the resident could not provide an exact timeframe when the checks were taken but police provided the homeowner with an ID theft package to fill out that will help stop her information from being used by someone else. The info / packet should be sent to the (3) major credit reporting companies Equifax: 1-800-525-6285 www.equifax.com; Experian 1-888-EXPERIAN www.experian.com; and TransUnion 1-800-680-7289 www.transunion.com, police said.

ID theft

A walk-in to the police station last week reported that in the process of applying for a loan, she discovered that someone else was using her social security number. Chief Hussey said police supplied her with an ID theft package to fill out and send to the major credit reporting companies. Detectives are in the process of gathering more information and the incident remains under investigation.

Truck break-in

The owner of a local business at which a truck was broken into is determining what may have been taken. The driver's side door window was broken. The incident apparently occurred sometime over the weekend of Sept. 29-30 and was reported at just before 10 a.m., Oct. 1.

Wall ornament

A copper wall ornament, valued at about $25, may have fallen off of the interior wall of a unit in a Beechwood Street residence because of construction work being done in the house. The tenant reported the incident to police who said he and the worker would try to resolve the issue. Police made a report for insurance purposes.

Abandoned copier

Police still have an abandoned photo copying, desktop machine that was abandoned in the middle of a parking lot off Route 3A last week. The officer checked the building, which was secure, and brought the copier to headquarters for safekeeping.

Found bike

A caller notified police Sunday (Oct. 7) about a bike that had been in the woods for a few days. Police brought the green Tincon Giant to the station for safekeeping. It does not match up with any other bikes that have been reported lost or stolen in town.

Mannequin

A caller recently reported seeing a red Explorer with someone in the back seat "looking strange." The call came in at 11:30 p.m. on Saturday (Sept. 29). Police went to the Elm Street location and discovered that the backseat passenger was a mannequin.

Briefly

Register to vote for Special Town Meeting

Friday, Nov. 2 will be the last day to register to vote for the Special Town Meeting to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Registration will be held at the Town Clerk's office from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Any citizen of the United States who is a Massachusetts resident and who will be 18 years old on or before a town meeting or Election Day may register to vote. There is no waiting period to be eligible to register to vote. Registration is closed for a brief period before each town meeting and election to allow election officials time to prepare the voting lists. If you register during a "closed" period, you will be eligible to vote only in later town meetings or elections.

AEC hires energy consultants

The AEC, Alternative Energy Committee has recently engaged Joanne Sanders and Judeth VanHamm, both of Hull as energy consultants. Funds were allocated at the Fall 2006 Special Town Meeting for the AEC to hire a Consultant(s .) Judeth and Joanne both bring experience in grant writing, having successfully secured funding for several energy conservation and renewable energy projects in Hingham and Hull.

The AEC is looking forward to working with them on a number of items. The committee has devoted much of the past two years investigating the possibility of bringing wind power to Cohasset. The investigation culminated in the installation of a 50-meter MET Tower on Turkey Hill in May of this year. The MET Tower will take wind measurements for the next twelve months. Once this study is complete, the AEC hopes to move forward with wind projects for two or more sites in town.

Currently the AEC is working with the Planning Board and Town Counsel to draft a Wind Energy Overlay District. The AEC will also be involved with energy audits of town buildings, possible systems upgrades for town facilities, conservation measures and grant writing for funding of renewable energy systems.

The AEC Consultants first task will be to develop a Request for Proposal for a 10 kwh solar system for the Paul Pratt Library

Beacon Hill Roll Call

By Bob Katzen
bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

October 1-5, 2007

Senator
Robert L. Hedlund
(R-Weymouth)
(617) 722-1646
Room 413F

Representative
Garrett J. Bradley
(D-Hingham)
(617) 722-2120
Room 472

QUESTIONS

If you have any questions about this week's report, e-mail us at beaconhill@aol.com or call us at (617)720-1562.

Copyright © 2007 Beacon Hill Roll Call. All Rights Reserved.

By Bob Katzen

THE HOUSE AND SENATE. Beacon Hill Roll Call records local representatives' votes on two roll calls from the week of October 1-5. There were no roll calls in the Senate last week.

CHANGE TICKET SCALPER LAWS (H 4263)

House 131-24, approved and sent to the Senate a bill making major changes in the current state law regulating the reselling of tickets to sporting and entertainment events. Under the legislation, Massachusetts would join 27 other states that have repealed their anti-scalping laws. Current state law dates back to 1924 and limits the resale price by individuals or companies to $2 above face value plus costs incurred by the seller related to obtaining and selling the ticket, excluding the cost of the seller's general business operation. Allowable charges include paying for messengers who are paid to stand in line to buy tickets, postage, long distance telephone calls and credit card fees. The current law is rarely enforced. An estimated 130 ticket resellers are currently licensed by the state.

The proposed legislation allows tickets to be resold at any price. It also imposes more regulations on resellers and requires that they have at least one business office in the state. Other regulations include increasing from $500 to $1,000 biennially the licensing fee for resellers; requiring resellers to post a $100,000 bond from which buyers could recoup costs of any sales that are disputed; requiring sellers to give refunds if the ticket sold is counterfeit or if the event is cancelled and mandating that resellers wear identification cards.

A key provision gives venues or cities and towns the option to establish a ticket resale area within the venue's property line and allows resellers to sell tickets only in the designated area. This provision would also establish a "no-sale zone" of 2,500 square feet around large facilities and of 1,000 square feet around smaller facilities.

The measure gives the Commissioner of the Department of Public Safety the authority to determine if a person is engaged in the business of ticket reselling. While it is clear that companies like Ace Tickets, Higs/Cityside Tickets and others would have to be licensed, there is a gray area in the legislation regarding individuals who sell tickets. The commissioner would determine if individuals selling tickets would be considered resellers and be required to have a license and to post a $100,000 bond. An earlier version of the bill limited individuals to selling five tickets per year and defined them as ticket resellers if they exceeded that number.

The proposal would also permit original ticket sellers like the Red Sox, Patriots, Bruins and Celtics to set up a system that allows them to become resellers and to take a piece of the action if the original buyer wants the team to resell his or her tickets for an amount above face value. Teams that opted to set up this system would be prohibited from revoking season tickets from a customer who on his or her own resells a ticket above face value.

Supporters said that today's technology makes it easy to forge tickets. They noted that the bill would protect consumers from the sale of fraudulent tickets and noted that many people currently buy tickets that they do not know are forgeries until they try to enter the venue. They argued that the current law is antiquated and unenforceable and said that it is time to allow the marketplace to determine the price of resold tickets.

Opponents said that this new version of the legislation was just proposed a few minutes ago and members have not had sufficient time to read it. They argued that they are taking issue with the legislative process and not necessarily with the bill itself. Some opponents outside of the House say that the bill would benefit only the sports teams, concert promoters and ticket agencies and would do nothing to enable regular fans to buy tickets at a reasonable price. (A "Yes" vote is for the bill. A "No" vote is against the bill).

Senator Hedlund	Y
Representative Bradley	Y

PAROLE BOARD (H 4264)

House 135-20, approved and sent to the Senate a bill requiring that at least three members of the state's seven-member Prison Parole Board be from the behavioral sciences fields of psychiatry, psychology, social work or sociology. Current law is broader and requires that all seven members be either from those four fields or from five other fields including law enforcement, corrections, law, parole and probation. The bill retains the current law but also adds the new requirement.

Supporters said that not a single behavioral scientist has been appointed to the board since 1990 and noted that few people have been released on parole in recent years. They said that a balanced board would ensure that parole requests are viewed from all angles and would allow an accurate determination of whether a prisoner has expressed remorse and is ready to reenter the community. Some noted that the bill is not an attempt to be "soft on crime" and pointed out that in fact psychologists are actually the ones whose testimony often keeps people in prison longer.

Opponents said that the current system is not broken, works well and does not need fixing. They argued that the bill is simply interference and micromanaging by the Legislature and would tie the hands of governors. Some noted that a system of checks and balances already exists because all appointees to the board require approval by the Governor's Council. Others argued that board members already have the ability to consult with any behavioral science experts when considering parole cases. (A "Yes" vote is for the bill requiring three behavioral scientists on the board. A "No" vote is against the bill).

Senator Hedlund	Y
Representative Bradley	Y

ALSO UPON BEACON HILL:

COLLEGE TEXTBOOKS - The Higher Education Committee heard testimony on a measure aimed at lowering the cost of textbooks purchased by students at state colleges (H 1200). Many publishers offer students only so-called "bundled" textbooks that are shrink-wrapped with additional instructional materials including CD-ROMs and workbooks. The bill requires publishers to give students the less expensive option of buying only the textbook. A similar proposal in 2006 was shipped off to a study committee. Other proposals heard by the committee include prohibiting students from drinking alcoholic beverages on the campuses of all state colleges (H 1179); prohibiting colleges from imposing a surcharge on a student who pays for his or her tuition by credit card rather than by check or cash (H 563) and creating a campus rape and sexual assault prevention advisory council to establish uniform guidelines for state colleges to assist rape and sexual assault victims (S 737). The same proposal was approved in 2007 by the Senate but died in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Y = Yes; N = No; NV = No Vote

Bob Katzen welcomes feedback at bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

Jeep THE NEW HASSAN BROTHERS JEEP Jeep

Check out our entire inventory online at WWW.QUINCYJEEP.com

New & Pre-Owned Specials

Exclusive Discount on Pre-Owned Vehicles for Web Shoppers!
You'll find...

Pre-Owned Jeep Libertys
From $8,990 - $17,990

#7J9686A, 2001 Liberty Sports - #R930, 2007 Liberty Sport

8 To Choose From

Pre-Owned Jeep Grand Cherokees
From $5,590 - $19,490

#R910A, 1996 Grand Cherokee Laredo - #R939, 2005 Grand Cherokee Limited with leather, moonroof and Navigation

16 To Choose From

Jeep #1 COMMANDER & GRAND CHEROKEE SELLING BRAND of Full-size SUVs in the Northeast

A tradition of sales, service and satisfaction since 1939.

HASSAN BROS. INC.
290 WASHINGTON STREET, QUINCY
617-828-8700

LIFETIME

T REDLINE ACCESSIBLE • 15 MINUTES FROM BOSTON • MON.-THURS. 8-8 • FRI. 8-7 • SAT. 8-5 • OPEN SUNDAY 11-4

Health Notes

Fire Lt. John Dockray uses a plastic bone to demonstrate how the intraosseous drill is used.

Fire Lt. John Dockray holds the plastic bone and tubing to administer fluids.

This photo shows the drill and demonstration bone.

'10' drill can be a lifesaver

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

The new technology allows our paramedics to quickly insert a needle directly into bone marrow to administer fluids.

A recent news story told about a Massachusetts two-year-old who had been rescued, not breathing with no heart beat, from a swimming pool after immersion for five minutes. His life was apparently saved with no ill effects by a device called an intraosseous drill. Generally recognized as a major factor in saving the child's life, the recently developed so-called IO Drill has been obtained by a number of emergency paramedic teams in Massachusetts. Cohasset has just acquired one. It's a part of the medical equipment which goes out on every ambulance call in the Town. The Fire Department has 10 paramedics, all trained on the IO drill.

The new technology allows our paramedics to quickly insert a needle directly into bone marrow to administer fluids. Medical personnel have historically used a manual drill to insert an intravenous line into bone marrow, when veins have collapsed or, as in the case of young patients, they are too hard to find. Lieutenant John Dockray, the Fire Department's Emergency Services Coordinator tells me this method of fluid and medication administration is alternative to the preferred IV route when the latter can't be established in a timely manner, especially during cardiac arrest. The IO drill creates a stable entry system for the infusion of fluids, making medications and anesthetics more effective earlier. Formerly, a child's delicate bone, or the brittle bone of an elderly patient, were in danger of damage when using a manual drill the only method available before the IO Drill was developed.

John's demonstration of the device made its application look simple – way simpler than finding a vein and using a hypodermic. If you get past the fact that the IO drill sticks a needle into a bone, the rest is simple. And the needle is very small, only slightly larger than a hair. The device saves a hunt for the vein; it's fast and eliminates the need for the precise injection technique required for hypodermics. The intraosseous space is a specialized area of the vascular system where blood flow is rapid and continues even during shock. Drugs and fluids infused via the intraosseous route reach the central circulation as quickly as those administered through standard IV. Hence it may be indicated for many applications where a continuous infusion from an intravenous needle is now utilized.

John demonstrated use of the IO drill on a simulated tibia, better known as a fake shinbone. He also had a demonstration humerus or fake funnybone. Both had a layer of soft plastic to simulate skin, etc.

The process involved marking an appropriate site and sticking on patch, holding the drill against the spot and removing the drill. A small plastic object is left on the surface of the skin to which a tube may be attached or a hypodermic injected. The operation required perhaps 30 seconds.

We should all feel safer, knowing that the Fire services in town are so well trained and trained. We can learn from such dedicated professionals.

Steve Bobo is a longtime member of the Cohasset Board of Health. His column runs weekly in the Cohasset Mariner.

A quick reference card showing how the intraosseous drill is used

Email us your news at: mford@cnc.com

Josiah Wompatuck and King Philip

WOMPATUCK

Jim Rose

FROM WOMPATUCK, PAGE 10

Christian way of life, the Praying Indians occasionally restored to warfare. After the Mohawk tribe attacked Praying Indians near Boston in 1665, Wompatuck led a retaliatory attack on the Mohawk village of Caughnawaga, N.Y., in 1669. His raid failed and he was killed.

When the King Philip War swept New England in 1675, many of the Praying Indians joined King Philip, also called Metacomet, of the Wompanoag tribe. Puritan missionaries attempted to collect those remaining into praying villages, but only 500 could be found. Despised by Philip's warriors, Praying Indians volunteered as scouts and guides for the English. Still suspect, many loyal natives were killed by the colonists. The colonial militia transferred most of them to Deer Island in Boston Harbor, where many succumbed to disease and malnutrition.

Approximately 800 English died in battle during King Philip's War. Measured against a European population of around 52,000, this death rate was nearly seven times that of World War II. Along the South Shore King Philip's warriors attacked the towns of Weymouth, Hingham, Scituate and Plymouth, killing 11 settlers at Clark's Garrison, now the parking lot of the present Plimoth Plantation.

Portrait of King Philip from the Haffenreffer Museum, R.I. date and artist unknown

The Native Americans suffered even worse. The English massacred natives at Turners Falls and at the Great Swamp in South Kingston, R.I., bringing the war's toll to more than 3,000 Native Americans. Those who survived lost property rights and individual liberties, and many were sold into slavery.

At the conclusion of the war in 1677, only seven of the original 14 praying villages and 300 Praying Indians survived. To this day, some of the descendants from the praying town of Punkapog are still living near the towns of Canton, Mattapan and Mansfield. There are currently five organized bands of Wompanoags that have survived: Assonet, Gay Head, Herring Pond, Mashpee and Namasket.

Jim Rose is historian for the Friends of Wompatuck.

Future of Hunter's Pond to be discussed

Hunter's Pond on Mordecai Lincoln Road at the Cohasset/Scituate line, is a historic and, in some seasons, beautiful spot.

An open meeting of the Gulf Association will take place from 7:30 to 9 p.m., on Oct. 18, at Minot Lightkeeper's Residence, Cohasset Harbor. "The Future of Hunter's Pond: Possible Directions for Restoring the Environment" will be discussed.

Hunter's Pond on Mordecai Lincoln Road at the Cohasset/Scituate line, is a historic and, in some seasons, beautiful spot. In the warm months, though, it becomes weed-choked and stagnant, without enough water flow to support the once-bountiful run of herring up the fish ladder. What can be done about this? Brad Chase of the Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries will discuss ideas for restoring the anadromous fish runs. The floor will also be open to discussion of other ways to improve the Bound Brook/Hunter's Pond environment. All residents of the Gulf River neighborhood are invited to participate in this discussion.

"in" get on the sale

TODAY THROUGH SUNDAY

save 20%–50%

off regular and original prices.

FOR HER:

Take 20% off all Sutton Studio classic cashmere sweaters Indulge in the coziest essential of the season, in four styles and 19 colors. Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

Take 20% off select Aqua cashmere dresses and sweaters Find the latest fall styles, including a babydoll turtleneck dress and cardigan. Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

Take 30% off select fall coats and jackets Choose from your favorite names in wool, cashmere, down and more.

Take 30% off a great selection of fall boots and booties from Enzo Angiolini, Cole Haan, Guess, Stuart Weitzman and Via Spiga.

FOR HIM:

Save 40% on all Joseph & Lyman basic cashmere sweaters Classic styles in 21 colors. Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

Take 30% off all Metropolitan View and Joseph & Lyman fashion cashmere and merino sweaters Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

Take 40% off all already reduced American and European designer dress shirts and neckwear.

Take 30% off select fall outerwear Choose from your favorite styles in wool, cashmere, down and more.

FOR YOUR HOME:

Take 20%–35% off a great selection of kitchen electrics Find Cuisinart®, Delonghi, KitchenAid®, Keurig, Nespresso & more.

Take 20%–30% off a great selection of luxury bedding from Hudson Park, Court of Versailles, Barbara Barry, Charisma & more.

Take 20% off a plush selection of bath towels including famous designer.

Take 20% off every down comforter and pillow includes down alternatives.

Take 25%–30% our entire collection of furniture Find everything you need for your living room, dining room and bedroom.

Save 65% on all one-of-a-kind handmade Oriental rugs Plus, take 50% off all Karastan rugs.

Take 40%–60% off our entire collection of luxury mattresses including Kluft, Shifman, Stearns & Foster and Sealy.

Take 20%–40% a great selection of luggage Choose from Victorinox, Hartmann Intensity and famous designers.

bloomingdale's

the power of pink

Help fight breast cancer with the perfect gift—our Little Pink Gift Card, the present that gives twice.* When you purchase the card, you'll be making a double donation† to The Breast Cancer Research Foundation®. The card features exclusive jewelry by Cancer Vixen author Marisa Acocella Marchetto. Now through February 11.

Bloomingdale's stores and bloomingdales.com/thepowerofpink

10% of the gift card value is donated to THE BREAST CANCER RESEARCH FOUNDATION® when you purchase a gift card. Once the gift card is redeemed prior to 12/31/2007—and the redeemed funds clear the bank regular—10 percent of that amount will also be donated. †

Plus, become an "insider" when you open a Bloomingdale's account and we will automatically take an extra 15% off your purchase†

bloomingdale's

Sale ends October 13, 2007. Designer, brand and women's premium denim excluded; see associate for details. Designer fine jewelry and fine watches excluded. †10% off furniture and rugs. Offer ends October 13, 2007. Subject to credit approval; please see a sales associate for complete details. Minimum purchase required. 259.00 for mattresses; maximum 750.00 applies. Reg./Orig. prices reflect offering prices. Savings may not be based on actual sales. Intermediate markdowns may have been taken. Savings off regular, original and already reduced prices. Some items may be excluded or taken already in progress or in future sales. Some items are great values. No adjustments of prior purchases. Gift certificates/cards may be limited; not all styles in all stores; colors vary by store. All stated home selection available at Chevy Chase. No rain or furniture prevent/long room to long and not accurate tables in showrooms. Not furniture and mattresses not at Wall Whitman Mall or Bridgewater Commons. Lenox Square, North Michigan Avenue, Old Orchard Center, Mall of America or on California Closet. Extensive and exclusions apply to designer items or designer room on designer items. Some items, warehouse, delivery fees apply. No home items at Lenox Square, Bridgewater Commons or North Michigan Avenue. No fashion at Oakbrook Center, Mockingbird Temple or Las Colinas. Recommendations are not guaranteed to fit your unique

FASHION APPAREL STORE HOURS: [illegible] OUT THIS MALL: CHESTNUT HILL, 617 B, BURLINGTON: SUNDAY 10-6; MONDAY [illegible]; TUESDAY, SATURDAY 10-6

Cook Estate closes public hearings

FROM COOK, PAGE 1

The single family, two-bedroom houses will all be between 2,000 and 2,400 square feet and from the outside, their designs will be compatible.

Much discussion throughout the public hearing process has been spent on drainage and stormwater issues on the site. Engineers from two separate firms were hired to represent the project abutters and have given their input throughout the public hearing process.

"There is not a question in my mind this plan meets your regulations in terms of hydrolics," said John Modelewski, the town's engineer consultant. He and the project engineers from Coler & Colantonio have been working all summer to tweak the designs.

Other water issues involved the Water Department who is seeking easements over the property and is interested in looping the water mains to connect Evergreen Lane and Sohier Street. The Water Department met with the applicant last week and Abbott agreed to help loop the water main, which will improve water flow for the development.

Because of the development's location in the watershed area, the Water Commission would like to see bio retention raingardens installed on the property, said Mark Bartlett of Norfolk Ram, consultant to both the Water Commission and the Stormwater Committee. However, Bartlett said he was unable to get a hold of the site plans until a few days before the meeting.

Chairman Al Moore said that while the raingardens were a good idea, it was too late to incorporate the request into the Planning Board's conditions. Abbott met the Water Commission halfway indicating they were willing to work with Bartlett on determining the types of vegetation to go around the detention ponds.

The sticking point for both Modelewski and member Bob Sturdy was the turning radius on the entranceway to the development. Generally, Modelewski said he would like to see a 150-foot turning radius, the plans provide for a 115-foot turning radius.

The developers attest the narrower road will cause cars to slow down and is more aesthetically pleasing. Modelewski said while he understood the benefits of the narrower entrance, he felt there was some sort of compromise that could be made to get the turning radius higher. When asked by member Bob Sturdy if he was willing to put his professional stamp on the plans with the radius as it was, he answered no. Sturdy said he could not support the project if Modelewski was not completely happy with the plans.

The residential cluster development district allows for homes to be built closer together with open space on the edges.

The delays in the Cook Estate hearing have largely been due to the Planning Board's need for four members of the five members to be present. Member Mike Westcott was absent from one of the early public hearings and there is a bit of gray area on whether his vote would hold up if there were ever an appeal of the decision.

Although there was some discussion on whether to vote to "conditionally approve" the application, which would only give the applicant assurance an approval was forthcoming. A poll of the board revealed four of the five members would approve the application, member Bob Sturdy would have disapproved the plans. Sturdy said he stood by Modelewski and would give his approval once the engineer was satisfied.

At its next meeting, the Planning Board will vote on whether to give the Cook Estate an "approval with conditions," meaning they could move ahead with construction.

"The upshot is what you're proposing here is fundamentally good," said member Stuart Ivimey.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

News hotline - 781-741-2933

Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

Salon Très–Chic
340 Washington St. – Rte. 53
Norwell, MA 02061
(781) 659-9494
$15.00 OFF
Any Hair Service
With Mary Dares
With Coupon
Expires 10/1/08

CIRCA
Home Furnishings

Visit our new
Design Studio
designer wallpapers, fabrics, trims & HUNTER DOUGLAS shutters & blinds - all at LOW, SALE PRICES everyday!
306 Washington Street . NORWELL
781 . 659 . 2188

SHOP FOR A CAUSE
THIS SATURDAY, 9AM-10PM††
SAVE AN EXTRA 20%† ALL DAY!
Join Macy's in a national day of support for nonprofit organizations in your community.
Make a donation of $5, receive your all-day shopping pass and start saving!

Extra 20% off† regular, sale and clearance women's, men's and kids' apparel & accessories, fine, bridge and fashion jewelry, bed and bath items, housewares, frames, luggage, china, crystal and silver, all kitchen and personal care electrics and technology items
Extra 10% off† regular, sale and clearance furniture, mattresses and rugs.

Spend $50, get $10 back!*
For every $50 you spend on October 13 you'll receive a $10 coupon to be used at a later date!
Just bring your receipts to the redemption table.

Enter to win‡ a $500 Macy's gift card!
Plus, enjoy entertainment throughout the store, great gifts with select purchases, product demonstrations and more!

New Macy's Cardholders save even more! You'll save another 20% all day —on top of your extra savings — when you open a Macy's account. Exclusions apply, see below.

It's good to shop. It's good for you. It's good for your community. It's our Shop for a Cause Event.

††Open 9am-9pm in Boston and Hampton Bays; Open 9am-8pm in Center City and Belmont; 9am-7pm in Suburban Square; hours may vary at select locations; log onto macys.com for your local store hours. †Excludes cosmetics and fragrances, fine and fashion watches, bridge sportswear, Coach, kate spade and Dooney & Bourke handbags, designer and bridge shoes and handbags for her: Louis Vuitton, Martha Stewart Furniture, Ralph Lauren Furniture, Bridal Kiosks, All-Clad, all Waterford, Baccarat and Lalique. For him/her: Lacoste, Impulse, Polo/Ralph Lauren, Lauren and Tommy Bahama. Not valid on Everyday Values, specials (including morning specials), Super Buys (including fine jewelry super buys), Macy's Gift Cards, special orders, previous purchases, restaurants, wine, or nonmerchandise-related services; on purchases from leased departments; or as payment on credit accounts. Discount will be deducted from the current price (regular, sale or clearance, as applicable). Cannot be combined with another savings pass or discount offer. Valid only on Saturday, October 13, 2007. ‡No purchase necessary. See your Sales Associate for details. *Qualifying purchases must total $50 prior to taxes and delivery fees. Savings Certificates cannot be earned in furniture, mattresses, vitamins, T-Mobile, Stride Rite, bridal, maternity, wine, wigs, Ticketmaster, J & R Express, gift certificates/cards, services, prior purchases, payments to your Macy's account, fees, phone orders or macys.com purchases. Cannot be combined with any other offer. Macy's employees not eligible. Savings Certificate valid 10/14/07-11/12/07. Exclusive of tax and delivery; other restrictions apply; details in store. ‡No purchase necessary. See official rules for more details. Employees of Macy's, sponsors and their immediate families are not eligible. New cardholder savings are subject to credit approval; excludes services, certain lease departments and gift cards; on furniture, bedding and floor coverings, the new account savings is limited to $100; application must qualify for immediate approval to receive extra savings; employees not eligible.

Sleepy's® The Most Trusted Name in Mattresses®

WE HAVE THEM ALL

Sealy Posturepedic · Beautyrest · Serta Perfect Sleeper · Stearns & Foster · Body Diagnostics™ · TEMPUR-PEDIC PRESSURE RELIEVING SWEDISH MATTRESSES AND PILLOWS · VERA WANG BY SERTA · Kingsdown · The Plaza Collection · Comfort Solutions By King Koil® · MIRALUX.

LAST THREE DAYS

Visit Our Competition Crusher℠ Gallery
Value Second to None

Sealy Firm
$199.99 Twin 2 Piece Set
Exceptional Value!* Full 2 pc. set $279.99 · Queen 2 pc. set $299.99
* Exceptional Value models are sold at our everyday low price.

Perfect Sleeper Posturepedic Beautyrest
$299.99 Twin 2 Piece Set

Exceptional Value!*	YOUR CHOICE
Full 2 pc. set	$379.99
Queen 2 pc. set	$399.99
King 3 pc. set	$599.99

* Exceptional Value models are sold at our everyday low price.

Serta Pillowtop
$449.99 Twin 2 Piece Set Reg. $549.99

	REG PRICE	NOW
Full 2 pc. set	$649.99	$549.99
Queen 2 pc. set	$699.99	$599.99
King 3 pc. set	$999.99	$899.99

Euro Top
$499.99 Twin 2 Piece Set Reg. $599.99

	REG PRICE	NOW
Full 2 pc. set	$699.99	$599.99
Queen 2 pc. set	$799.99	$649.99
King 3 pc. set	$1199.99	$949.99

Bonus
Heavy Duty Bed Frame
With any set purchase listed. Does not apply to Exceptional Value Models. Previous sales do not apply

Sleepy's Luxury Mattress Collection
The Right Choice

Sealy Posturepedic Luxury Firm
$699.99 Queen 2 Piece Set Reg. $1099.99

	REG PRICE	NOW
Twin 2 pc. set	$849.99	$549.99
Full 2 pc. set	$999.99	$649.99
King 3 pc. set	$1599.99	$999.99

Serta Perfect Sleeper Ultra Plush
$799.99 Queen 2 Piece Set Reg. $1199.99

	REG PRICE	NOW
Twin 2 pc. set	$899.99	$599.99
Full 2 pc. set	$1099.99	$749.99
King 3 pc. set	$1499.99	$1099.99

Beautyrest Luxury Firm
$899.99 Queen 2 Piece Set Reg. $1299.99

	REG PRICE	NOW
Twin 2 pc. set	$999.99	$699.99
Full 2 pc. set	$1099.99	$799.99
King 3 pc. set	$1799.99	$1299.99

Stearns & Foster Cushion Firm
$999 Queen 2 Piece Set
Exceptional Value!* ONE OF THE LARGEST SELECTIONS OF STEARNS & FOSTER MATTRESSES ANYWHERE
* Exceptional Value models are sold at our everyday low price.

Bonus
7 Pc. Luxury Linen Pack
With any set purchase from Sleepy's Luxury Collection. Excludes Exceptional Values, Stearns & Foster, Clearance Models and Previous Sales

Photos are for illustration purposes only. All models available for purchase and may not be on display.

Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities - 1 per customer. Not responsible for typographical errors.

Don't be fooled by fictitious advertising. If it doesn't say Posturepedic®, Beautyrest® or Perfect Sleeper® on the label, it's not the real thing!

UP TO 36 Months

0% Interest-Free Financing Until Oct. 2010 No Money Down
Subject to credit approval by GE Money Bank. Applies to purchases made on Sleepy's consumer credit card account. No finance charges will be assessed on promotional purchases and until 36th month ("promo period"). Fixed min. monthly payments equal to 1/36th of purchase amount are required during promo period in addition to any other required min. payment. 36 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $2999. 24 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $1999. 12 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $999. 6 mos. avail. on min. purchases of $300. No finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. if you pay this amt. in full by due date as shown on (other) 12th billing statement. If not, finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. from purchase date. Min. monthly payments required. If min. monthly payment is not paid when due, all special promotional terms may be terminated. Variable APR is 23.99% as of 4/04. Fixed APR of 24.75% applies if payment is more than 30 days past due. Min. finance charge is $1.

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!
Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window
Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays &store pick-ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester MA, CT, RI, PA & DE. Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery Fees Apply.

SLEEPY'S®
The Mattress Professionals®

TEMPUR-PEDIC PRESSURE RELIEVING SWEDISH MATTRESSES AND PILLOWS
We Carry 7 Different Tempur-Pedic® Models

BROOKLINE 1385 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpk (Next to Burger King, ample pkg in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawaum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worchester Rd/Rt 9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Place, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 North (Just South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St, Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316

ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Nxt. To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 973-392-0838
STOUGHTON Lot #5 Technology Drive (Nr. Olive Garden) 781-344-0207

BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St. (Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyannough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388 Grand Opening
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com
Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC

Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons

On the South Shore

See page 29

Looking to make history

CHS lady booters in top form heading into first place showdown with Norwell

By Mike Spellman
MSPELLMAN@CNC.COM

By the time anyone but my editor has read this, Deb Beal will hopefully have knocked a couple items off her "things I've got to do before I die" list.

Beal's Cohasset High girls soccer team was slated to take on perennial state power Norwell under the lights at home last night, a showdown that could well determine the South Shore league championship. The SSL rivals come into the game tied for first place, the [illegible] Skippers at 8-1 in the league (9-3 overall), the Lady Clippers at 7-0-2.

In her 10 years at the helm of the Skippers ship, Beal has: 1) never won a South Shore League title, and 2) never beaten Norwell.

"My stomach is doing flip flops," admitted Beal 24 hours out from the showdown. "This is the first time I've been in a position like this as a coach. I just wish the game would get here. I feel like we're as ready as we're going to be. I like our chances."

As if the history did not provide enough motivation to push the local ladies to be their best, there is also the specter of revenge. Beal and her charges felt they were actually the better team in the mid-September 1-0 loss at Norwell. Cohasset controlled much of the territorial battle in that one, but could not overcome a fluky bad-angle shot finding twine after getting

SEE BOOTERS, PAGE 19

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

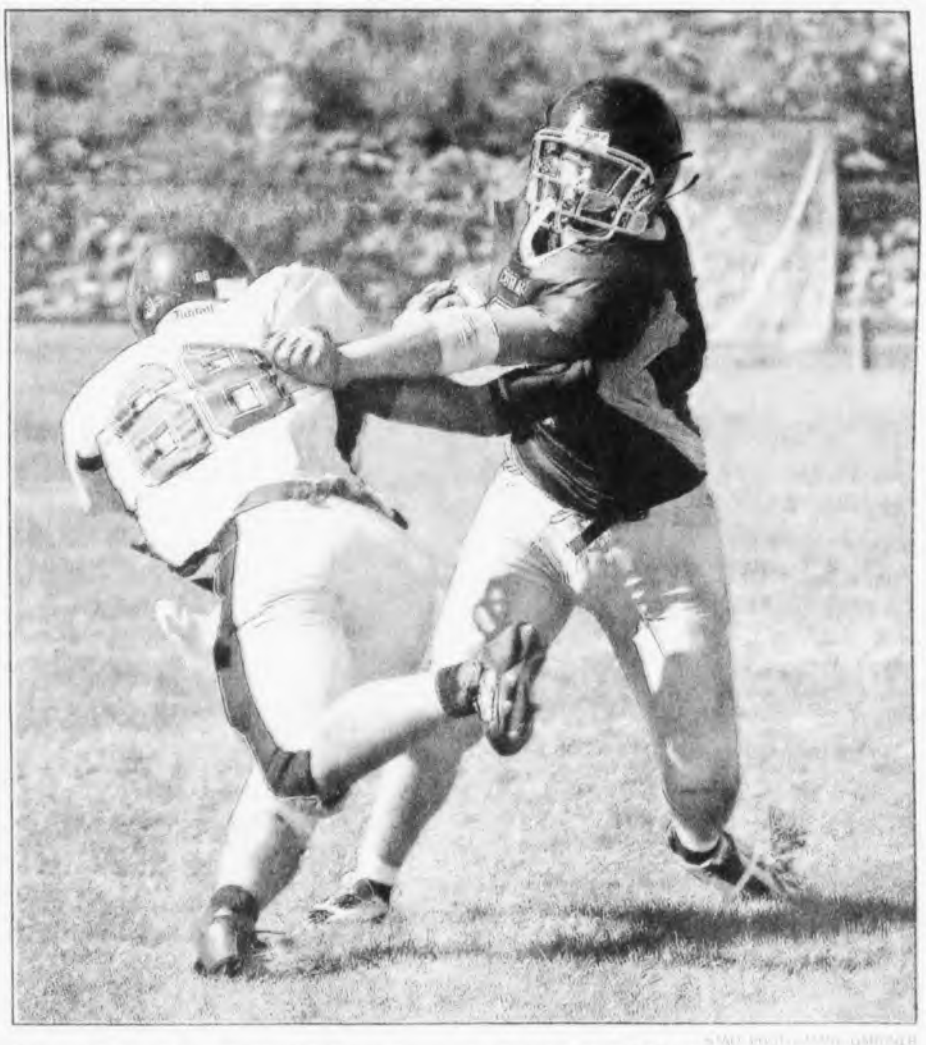
Cohasset keeper Johanna Brophy makes a save in recent Cohasset action. Brophy and the rest of the Skippers are tied for first place going into the Norwell game.

Even keeled

Skippers continue to battle for a tournament berth

By Eric MacCarthy
CORRESPONDENT

With 8 games remaining in the season, the Cohasset Varsity soccer teams sits at 500 and needs to continue that pace if they want to make the tournament. With a win against Abington Friday and a loss to Harwich last Tuesday, Cohasset needs eight points to advance.



A mere two minutes into the game Friday, senior captain Sam Roth gave Cohasset a 1-0 lead with his team leading sixth goal of the season. That was the only scoring of the game as Cohasset went on to beat

SEE TOURNAMENT, PAGE 18

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Colin Dignam (14) collides with Norwell's Matt Breen while going up for a ball in recent Skippers action.

STAFF PHOTO/MARK GARDNER

Cohasset's P.J. McCaw throws off a Scituate opponent in recent action. McCaw and the Skippers are 5-0 heading into homecoming weekend.

Skippers want to be kings in Homecoming

Football team welcomes revamped Mashpee

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

Here we go.

The Cohasset High School football team is 5-0 heading into what should be one of the most exciting and lively Homecoming weekends in a long time. Mashpee comes to Alumni field for a 6 p.m. tilt with the Skippers after losing back-to-back overtime games to East Bridgewater and Norwell.

The Hawks looked like a serious contender for the South Shore League title coming into the season, and by all accounts there is still a good possibility they take home the hardware. With four players returning from an undisclosed situation, Mashpee will be equally as charged as Cohasset when game time rolls around Friday.

Cohasset head coach Pete Afanasiw didn't hesitate to acknowledge the level of intensity the Hawks will bring this weekend.

"They are absolutely going to be fired up," Afanasiw said Wednesday evening. "They are one of the odds on favorites in the

SEE SKIPPERS, PAGE 18

COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com
Home of the Owner's Guarantee
Click on coastalnissan.com for details.
109 Accord Park
Norwell
(Exit 14 off Route 3)
800-562-9993
OPEN: Mon.-Thur. 9-8
Fri 9-6 • Sat. 9-5 • Sun. 12-5
NISSAN
TENT EVENT
NOW THRU OCT. 31ST

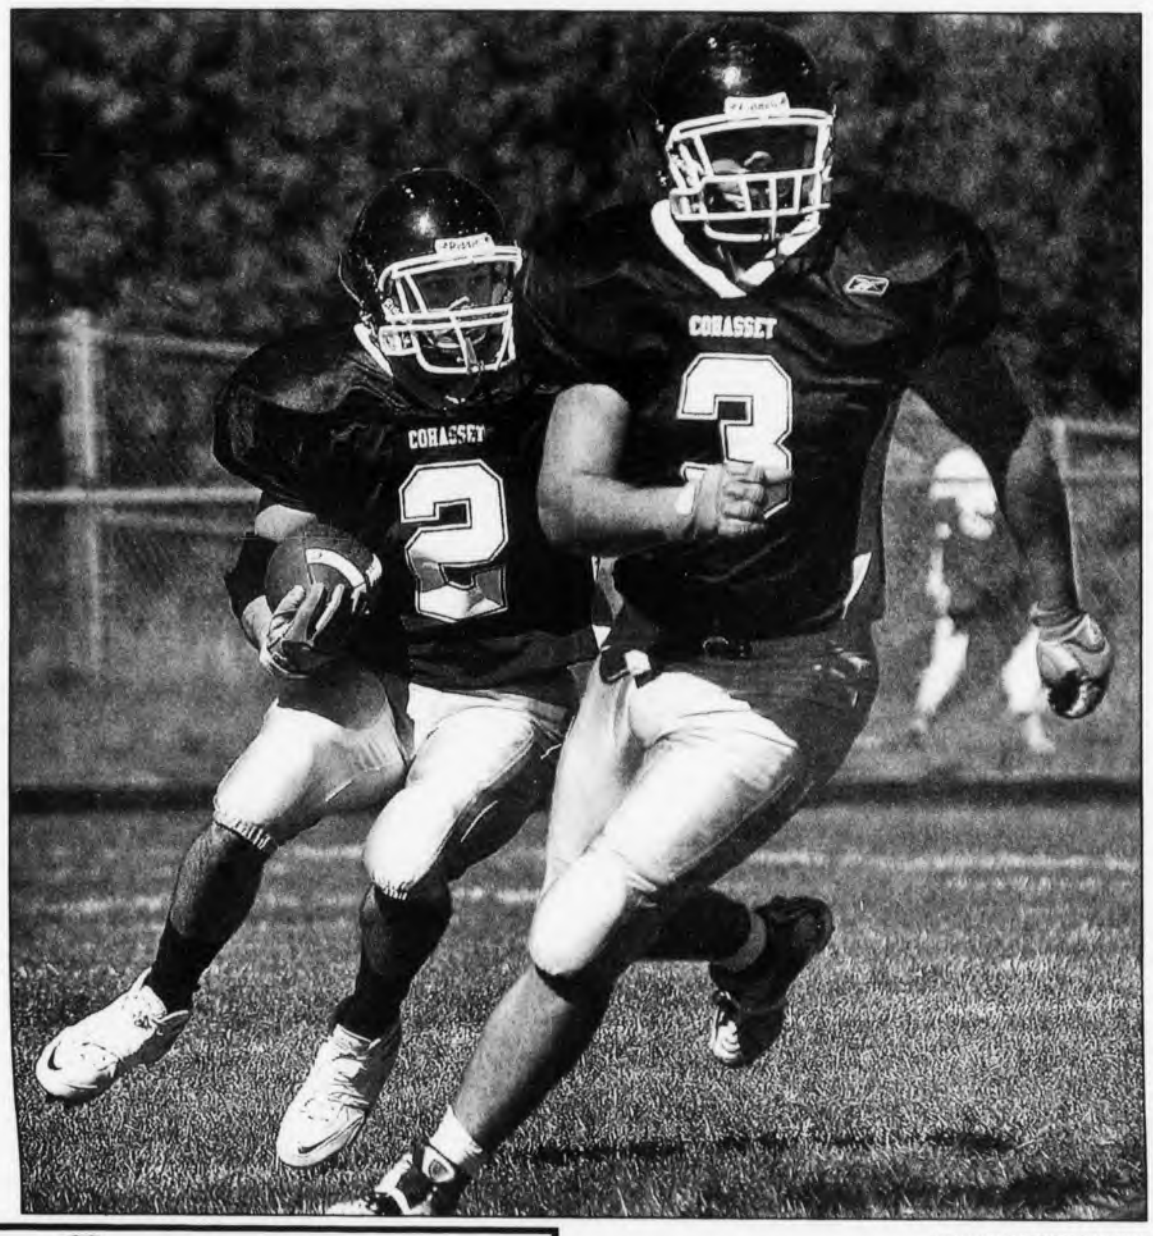
Skippers want to be kings in Homecoming

FROM SKIPPERS, PAGE 17

league and they want to keep those chances alive."

Cohasset opened up its league season with a 26-12 win over Carver at home Friday night. The big story was quarterback David Snowdale missed the game because of a lingering injury. Sophomore John Maher filled in admirably leading Cohasset to the win.

He connected with Kyle Pinkus on a screen pass that went 55-yards for the touchdown. He finished the game 2-of-5 for 67 yards passing. Pinkus rushed seven times for 77 yards. Fellow running back Sam DeGiacomo rushed 16 times for 61 yards including a 2-yard touchdown run on fourth-and-goal.



Cliff Musto highlighted a strong defensive performance with an interception returned for a touchdown. Jake Cuneo also had a fumble recovery.

The offensive line continues to play well, led by Musto, Cuneo, Tyler Kelly, Anderson Lynner and Kenny Muir.

"They are playing outstanding," Afanasiw said. "We simplified their assignments and they have really taken to the new system."

The new system is similar to last year according to Afanasiw but more "user friendly."

"They work well as a group and they work their butts of in practice," Afanasiw said about the line. "You can't ask for much more as a coach."

STAFF PHOTO/MARK GARDNER

Sam DeGiacomo turns the corner and looks for extra yardage with P.J McCaw for protection. The Skippers are 5-0.

Big links

Skippers ready for state and league meets

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

It really is the best time of the year for the Cohasset golfers. All they have to do now is tweak their game, practice in the areas that need work and, of course, get ready to defend the South Shore League meet title from a year ago.

The Skippers are 10-4 overall, 8-3 in the South Shore League, second place behind rival Norwell. With two matches to go against Abington and Quincy, weather pending, Cohasset will tune up for the state tournament Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Norton Country Club, and the league meet, Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Riddler Country Club in Bridgewater.

The Skippers bring its top four golfers into the league meet, Charlie Czerkawski, Jon Wade, Chase Stebbins and Ian Quinlan.

After losing big to Norwell for a second time this season a few weeks back, Sweeney hopes his guys can return the favor at the league meet.

"We were disappointed but that motivates us," Sweeney said. "Hopefully we can turn the tables much like last year."

Czerkawski and Wade finished seventh and 10th respectively last year and should bring a great deal of experience and leadership into Riddler.

"They can kind of mentor Chase and Ian a bit," Cohasset coach Torin Sweeney said about the 18-hole stroke play tournament. "They know how to pace themselves."

The Division 3 South state tournament the day before at Norton CC will also be stroke play (opposed to match play in the South Shore League) and include the top six golfers from each team. Robby Hill will play five and either Harry Cipolla or Conor Michaud will play six.

All of the Skippers have winning records in match play to date.

Tuesday they defeated Carver at Cohasset Golf Course, 41.5-13.5. Wade, Quinlan, Michaud and Stebbins all won. Czerkawski shot a 41, but tied Carver's Tyler Bohan.

Thursday the Skippers defeated Harwich, 31.5-22.5, at Cranberry Valley Golf Course. Quinlan shot a 41, while Wade and Stebbins carded a 42.

Skippers continue to battle for a tournament berth

FROM TOURNAMENT, PAGE 17

Abington 1-0.

Sophomore goalkeeper Will Wise had another shutout and currently has 1.5 goals against average for the season. In the last five games, Wise has allowed only three goals to opposing teams. Coach Willis said that this is in large part due to the outstanding play of senior center defenseman Matt Burgess.

"He has been playing great as of late," said Willis about Burgess.

Unfortunately, the Skippers were unable to hold off Harwich, whom they beat in their first meeting at home. The score was tied 1-1 with ten minutes remaining when Harwich scored the go ahead goal to seal the 2-1 victory. Junior Ivan Sceary scored the lone goal for Cohasset, also his team leading sixth of the season.

Cohasset is currently fourth in the South Shore League with a 4-4-2 record. But with three big games coming up against the three teams that sit ahead of them in the standings, anything can happen.

"Every single game counts, especially now," said Willis, "its going to be a long road."

EMass Jr. Minutemen
Lacrosse Programs for 2007-2008

Select Team Tryouts
Grades 5-12
October 6th & 13th
3:30pm-5:00pm
Braintree Industrial Park, Rte. 37, Braintree Register for tryouts online at www.jrminutemenlax.com

Developmental Program
Designed to develop individual skills and teach team concepts that will prepare players to play at a higher level
U11, U13 and U15 players, 18 skill sessons
Nov. 7th 6:00pm-9:00pm
Detailed info at www.jrminutemenlax.com

for more information please contact
Dan Chouinard, LAX Program Director
781.760.6076

Experienced - Professionals - Teaching as a couple Social Ballroom Dance Lessons with
Roger & Claire Vaka
Hingham - Holbrook -Marshfield
Class - Private - In Home Lessons
Learn for Weddings - Cruises
Reunions - Social Events - Fun
Experience the enjoyment of dancing
Improve lead & following skills 781-837-4943
www.hometown.aol.com/thevakas

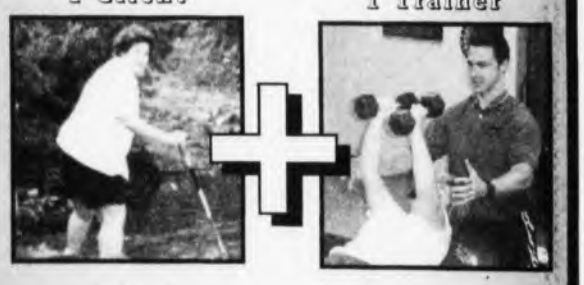
383-6550
GOOD SPORT
SPORTING GOODS
Rte. 3A Cohasset
Basketball Shoes Are In!

UMass Boston Open House 2007
Saturday, October 20th
Begins at 8:30am
- Learn about our vast array of academic programs
- Tour the campus on beautiful Boston Harbor
- Meet professors and students
- Visit apartments just steps from the university

UMASS BOSTON
For more info or to reserve your spot, go to www.umb.edu/openhouse or call 617.287.6000

Check out this month's Parents and Kids
-Greater Boston's Guide to Smart Parenting-

-Annual Grandparents Issue-



From keepers of traditions to childcare providers, grandparents serve many roles. Parents and Kids has assembled ideas on getting active with your grandkids, fun places to go and ways to navigate step-grandparenting. Plus learn Dr. T. Berry Brazelton's best advice for grandparents!

Free publication available at most libraries and other family friendly locations.

www.parentsandkids.net

To speak with the editor, please call – 508-634-7510
To advertise – call 781-433-6973
To subscribe – call 800-982-4023

FT
FITNESS TOGETHER
1 Client 1 Trainer 1 Goal

1 Goal
LOSE +56 POUNDS

$200 OFF
ANY PACKAGE
CALL TODAY
REACH YOUR FITNESS GOALS
781-383-8004
790 Chief Justice Hwy., Cohasset
www.FTcohasset.com

CHS lady booters in top form heading into first place showdown with Norwell

FROM BOOTERS, PAGE 17

just over the fingertips of keeper Johanna Brophy.

"I feel like we're playing better soccer now than we were then," assessed Beal. "We just need to play our game. One of our big focuses has to be on possessing the ball and keeping it wide. If we make good decisions and let the ball do the work, like we've been practicing, I like our chances."

Beal was planning to unveil a new look on the Clippers last night, having recently switched from the traditional 2-4-4 alignment to a 2-5-3—eliminating the sweeper, going with three markers across the field in the rear and moving high-scoring junior Torey Hart back from striker into the middle of a five-player midfield, flanked on the inside by Sarah Monaco and defensive-minded Sarah Coggins.

"We're a better ball-control team with Torey getting involved in the middle of the field, and then she's smart enough to know when to jump up and become our third attacker," noted Beal.

The veteran coach felt this was a move she could get away with given the emergences in particular of one player in the rear, sweeper/middle fullback Sammi Lehr, and another up front, freshman striker Kaci Kucinski.

"We've had good play from all three fullbacks, but Sammi has been such a force back there," said Beal of the powerful and speedy 6-foot- tall junior. "She can mark up and also cover so much ground to help out on those occasions when one of the wings might get beaten. The move has also forced us to communicate better. The sweeper a lot of times isn't marking up, and the communication isn't always great about that. Now, with just three in back, these girls are forced to communicate with one another."

As for Kucinski, all she has done in the first 12 games of her high school soccer career is tally 15 goals and three assists, including a three-goal outburst in the first six minutes of last Monday's 8-0 win over Hull.

"In all my years around soccer, I don't think I've ever seen anything like that," said Beal, a former high school and college soccer player. "I was actually a little concerned early on about throwing a freshman like her up there alongside Kaci, who's been such a great scorer the last few years. Obviously, Kaci has more than held her own. She's doing a great job."

This alignment shift certainly appeared to work out in last Friday's 4-0 win over Abington (another SSL team a Beal-led Skippers team had never beaten before this season) and this Tuesday's 6-1 win over Harwich.

Of course, Beal makes clear her feelings that these two girls are far from the only ones who have "stepped it up" in recent weeks.

She continues to rave about here "juniors down the middle": Lehr, Hart, Coggins, Maggy McGoldrick at stopper and Brophy as the "final line of defense" between the pipes.

Beal also lauds the work done by senior Anna Haggerty, junior Meredith Kelly at fullback, sophomore Christine Coner up front alongside fellow underclassman Kucinski and speedy freshman outside midfielder Caroline Fein (three goals). Beal said the latter player is really starting to "settle into her role of getting outside and running."

And it will most certainly be a case of the rich getting richer when well-rounded senior standout Meg Anderson returns to the pitch.

"Meg scored a few goals early on up front, and then moved back to fill a big role when Meredith Kelly went out sick for a while," said Beal. "She's a tough kid. I expect to get her back by the end of the season, which will be nice going into the (state) tourney.

Cohasset Soccer Notes

Knock on wood, Deb. The Lady Skippers still needed one more win at the time of this writing to qualify for the state tourney. If they did not get it against Norwell last night, they'll still get six more shots at it—the first on Monday when they host East Bridgewater, a team that played Norwell to a scoreless tie last week, creating the first place tie between Norwell and Cohasset.

"We certainly can't look past East Bridgewater," said Beal of the team her squad edged by a 2-0 score in go-round number one. "Don't think I'm not thinking there's a chance we get by Norwell then let down and lose to a good E.B. team. We'd better come out to play (Monday) too."

The three games that follow that one—Wednesday's hosting of Carver, next Friday's trip to Hull and the following Tuesday's home tilt vs. Mashpee—are against SSL rivals the Skippers bested by a combined 17-1 margin on the on the six-game win streak with which they headed into last night's Norwell's showdown.

CYBSA Major League tryouts

The try-outs for the 2008 CYBSA major league baseball season will be held Saturday, Oct. 13 at Barnes Field from 1:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. All boys and girls who are age 10 prior to May 1, 2008 and no older than age 12 on April 30, 2008 and who are not currently on a CYBSA major league baseball team are invited to try-out. All 12 year olds (born between May 1, 1995 and April 30, 1996) who attend the tryouts are automatically selected for a Major League team, provided that these players attend the tryout. Players should register at Barnes Field beginning at 12 noon. This will be the only opportunity to try-out. The rain date will be Saturday, Oct. 20. Please visit our website CYBSA.net for more information. Questions regarding the tryouts may be directed to Liam O'Connell @ (781)383-9538 or Nancy Frojo @ (781)383-1897.

Recreation Notes

The Cohasset [illegible] Commission in the [illegible] Town Hall at 41 High[illegible] Cohasset is accepting [illegible] tions for the following [illegible] For information call [illegible] 4109.

Open Gym – [illegible] for boys and girls in [illegible] through 12, conducted [illegible] Head Boys Varsity [illegible] coach, Dorian Bry[illegible] coaches from the [illegible] Basketball Boosters [illegible] take place at CHS from [illegible] p.m., Tuesday and Wed[illegible] Oct. 9, through Nov. [illegible] registration is nece[illegible]

Cohasset Boosters Basketball – [illegible] Recreation Departme[illegible] Basketball registration [illegible] and girls in grades 1 [illegible] will be held from 9 [illegible] Saturday, Oct. 13 [illegible] Hall. The fee for the [illegible] $75 and checks [illegible] payable to Cohasset [illegible] Boosters Club (CBB[illegible] charge is include[illegible] Details on the [illegible] Program will be avail[illegible] istration. Games [illegible] Saturdays, but [illegible] vacation periods [illegible] avoid any conflicts.

The Recreation [illegible] Program is made [illegible] the joint efforts of [illegible] may be left in the Recreation Department office.

Learn to Ski Program – The Cohasset Recreation Department in conjunction with Buckles and Boards Ski Shop of Marshfield will hold registrations for the Learn to Ski and Snowboard Program from 3 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the Cohasset Recreation Department office. Trips will be to Waterville Valley and Loon Mountain. The program will be open to all ages, but children must be able to participate on their own. There will be an adult chaperone to assist however, children must be able to function with minimal assistance. Ages 7 and over are recommended for participation in this program.

For security purposes, Buckles and Boards will require a current 2-inch by 2-inch photo of your child. The photo will be affixed to the registration form and used for identification purposes.

The fee is $289.99 per student, which includes four-one and a half hour lessons, and five full-day ski lift tickets. The program will include a trip Sunday, Dec. 9, and four Saturday trips, Jan. 5 and 26, Feb. 9, and March 1. Rental information will be available at registration. Checks can be made payable to the Town of Cohasset.

Sports [illegible]

Flash Softball – [illegible] The 2007 Flash fall [illegible] ic will be a weekly [illegible] Saturday, Oct. [illegible] Saturday, Dec. [illegible] Community [illegible] Brockton. The [illegible] hitting and pitching [illegible] under the direction of [illegible] coaches Ernie Otte[illegible] French.

The camp is broken [illegible] hitting, from 8-9 a.m. [illegible] to girls ages 9 and up. [illegible] for girls aged 9-11 will [illegible] from 9-10 and [illegible] from 10-11. The [illegible] hitting or pitching [illegible] both.

For information [illegible] Massasoit Athletic [illegible] "Pete", "Bob's Chowda" and more! For information, call Donna Cohen, Race Director at 508-238-9745 or email edavillerailrun@comcast.net. Or you can go to www.edavillerailrun.com. To be guaranteed a long sleeved T-shirt registrations must be received by Sunday, Oct. 28.

New England Senior Hockey League

Fall and winter adult hockey leagues begin in October. Players and teams are needed for all levels of play and ages at various South Shore locations. For more information, call 888-456-3745 or send e mail to adulthockeynesihl@aol.com for a brochure.

Enter to Win tickets to Halloween Town!

Saturday, October 27
& Sunday, October 28
Seaport World Trade Center, Boston

Bring your "little pumpkins" to this haunted wonderland to benefit The Kids Fund at Boston Medical Center.

*5 Grand-Prize winners will receive the VIP treatment!

- VIP Admission to Halloween Town for 4
- VIP Luncheon and autograph session with celebrity costumed characters
- Dance with Garfield on-stage
- VIP seating for 4 at Girl Authority concert

10 additional winners will receive a family 4-pack of tickets to Halloween Town

*Grand-Prize VIP treatment to take place on Saturday, October 27 only

Name
Address
City
State Zip
Telephone

mail to:
Halloween Town - CNC Promotions,
P.O. Box 9149, Framingham, MA 01701

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

RULES: No purchase necessary. 15 entries will be chosen at random for the above prizes. Entries must be received by Friday, October 19, 2007. Winners will be notified by phone. Prizes may not be exchanged or redeemed for cash. One entry per person per envelope. Photocopies or other mass reproduced entries and incomplete forms not accepted. Entries become the property of Community Newspaper Company. CNC reserves the right to suspend or cancel this contest, or to change the contest schedules or deadlines without prior notification. Each winner, by accepting a prize, agrees to allow their names, town and photos to be used for any lawful purpose, including promotional materials.

SCHOOLS

Cohasset youths named Commended Students

Principal Mr. Joel Antolini of Cohasset Middle High School announces that Samantha Burgoon, Jacqueline Cahill, Cameron Cope, and Alexandra Lass have been named Commended Students in the 2008 National Merit Scholarship Program. A Letter of Commendation from the school and National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the program, will be presented by the principle to these scholastically talented seniors.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Commended Students placed amount the top five percent of more than 1.4 million students who entered the 2008 competition by taking the 2006 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

"The young people named Commended Students in the 2008 National Merit Scholarship Program are distinguished by their strong academic performance in this rigorous competition," commented a spokesperson for NMSC. "Our nation's pursuit of educational excellence can be furthered by publicly honoring these outstanding students and by acknowledging the important role schools play in fostering their development. We hope that this recognition will contribute to their educational opportunities and encourage all students to strive to realize their potential."

BC High School information session

An information session for parents of prospective students will take place at 7 p.m., on Thursday, Oct. 18, at St. Anthony Parish Center for those parents of students interested in entering the seventh or ninth grade at Boston College High School. Members of the admissions department as well as current parents and students will be in attendance to answer questions.

Parents interested in attending are asked to register online to bdolan@bchigh.edu or call 617-474-5010, ext. 1090.

Canceling pep rally was unfair

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

The fact that the pep rally was so quickly taken away represents a lack of faith in this year's seniors and underclassmen.

Give me a "U", give me an "N", give me an "F", "A", "I", "R"; put it together and what does it spell, UNFAIR! This chant was heard from every class hallway after the annual school pep rally was stripped from this week's agenda. Disappointed by the administration's abrupt actions, the student body has desperately tried to reinstate this Spirit Week tradition (rally) but, after several appeals by class representatives (seniors in particular) to the "powers that be", the decision has remained unchanged.

By way of background, last year's pep rally was disrupted by the '07 senior's sudden water balloon attack on the junior class, and the administration was worried that history would repeat itself this year. The student body believes that this year's senior class, and those that follow, should not be denied a pep rally based on the "sins of our older brothers and sisters'. Don't we deserve a chance to prove that we can be better behaved? The fact that the pep rally was so quickly taken away represents a lack of faith in this year's seniors and underclassmen. This is a lack of confidence that is (so far) undeserved. Now is the time to rebuild the students' enthusiasm for the school. It may be too late now for a Spirit Week pep rally, but hopefully a rally for a later date can be reconsidered and put on the calendar in the near future.

Now for the week's top stories:

• Monday, Oct. 8: 1492 Columbus sailed the ocean blue, thus resulting in NO SCHOOL!

• Tuesday, Oct. 9: Seniors donned their golfing and tennis attire for the who participated.

• Wednesday, Oct. 10: Peer leaders met yet again!

• Thursday, Oct. 11: Juniors and Seniors rubbed elbows with the college administrators and representatives at the second college mini fair of the year. In addition, the members of the yearbook organization met to discuss the direction of the yearbook.

Friday, Oct. 12: The Middle School has spirit day, and let's hope our future high schoolers have not yet lost their enthusiasm! Don't forget, it is the high school's homecoming weekend and the winners of homecoming King and Queen will be announced at the football game. Hope to see you all there!

Have a great and safe weekend, everyone!

Christine Kent is a senior at CHS. Her column appears weekly in the Mariner.

Cohasset Public Schools to conduct 'Child Find'

Cohasset Public Schools, in accordance with federal law IDEA 2004 and Massachusetts Special Education Regulations 603 CMR 28.00, are in the process of conducting "Child Find." The school department is seeking children with suspected disabilities residing in Cohasset who may be in need of Special Education services.

Cohasset Public Schools will evaluate students from age 3 through high school age who are unable to progress effectively in a regular education program due to a suspected disability in one of the following areas: developmental or intellectual delay, sensory, neurological, emotional, communication, physical, specific learning disability or health impairment. Cohasset Public Schools will also arrange for an evaluation of young people ages 16 through 21 who have not graduated from high school and who are not now attending school.

In addition, screenings for three- to five-year-olds take place the third Friday of each month at Osgood School. Call the integrated pre-school staff at 781-383-6117 for more information.

Cohasset provides all children with an opportunity to participate in the public school programs using a continuous and systematic process to identify students in need of special education. All programs and services are offered without regard to color, race, sex, religion, national origin, sexual orientation or disability.

Parents who have a child they suspect may have a disability, or know a child with a disability who may be in need of special education services, should call the director of student services, Linda Gill, at 781-383-6104.

Inly School to host admissions open house

Inly School will host an admissions open house from 1 to 3 p.m., on Sunday, Oct. 14, for anyone interested in learning more about the school firsthand.

Prospective families are welcome to come tour the campus and meet teachers, parents, students and alumni.

An overview presentation will begin at 1 p.m., followed by school tours and curriculum presentations.

Inly School includes a toddler program; Children's House for ages pre-kindergarten and kindergarten; lower elementary for grades one through three; upper elementary for grades four through six; and middle school for grades seven and eight.

To learn more about Inly's Montessori-based curriculum, visit inlyschool.org.

Inly School is at 46 Watch Hill Dr., off Route 123, near the junction of Route 3A, Scituate.

For more information, call Marcia Humphrey, admissions director, at 781-545-5544, ext. 114, or email mhumphrey@inlyschool.org.

Millbrook Motors
1474 Tremont Street, Duxbury
Junction of Rtes. 3A & 139
781-934-6551
Jeep

Take A Look At Millbrook... YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID.

#1 in Jeep Service Customer Loyalty in all of New England!

#2 in the entire USA. We will work even harder for you!

Millbrook is the oldest Jeep dealer on the East Coast!
Family Owned and Operated Since 1952

FIVE STAR Five Star Sales & Service. Friendly, Knowledgeable Staff. LIFETIME

MODEL YEAR END CLEARANCE COUNTDOWN SALES EVENT

FREE Navigation & MyGig on select Jeep Models

Brand New 2007 JEEP Commander 4x4
V8, leather heated seats, power sunroof, Sirius Satellite Radio, much more. Stock #7243

Lease for Only $259/mo. 27 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*
M.S.R.P. $37,505
Rebate -$4000
Millbrook Discount -$4000
Buy for Only $29,505*

Take Your Pick!

Brand New 2007 Grand Cherokee 4x4
Sun and sound package. Stock #7149

Lease for Only $189/mo. 27 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*
M.S.R.P. $31,505
Rebate -$4000
Millbrook Discount -$4010
Buy for Only $23,495*

2008 4 Door Wranglers In Stock for Immediate Delivery

*Both leases include 10% of MSRP due at lease signing, loyalty rebate and military rebate. Based on 10,500 miles per year. Commander purchase option at lease end $19,127.55. Dealer reference number 10089. Stock #7243. Grand Cherokee purchase option at lease end $15,180. Stock #7075. Reference number 10085. All vehicles in stock at time of ad. Tax, title, reg. extra on purchase prices.

Specializing in Certified Jeep Pre-owned Vehicles.

Jeep FIVE STAR

Brand Spankin' Used.™

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo
4 to choose at similar savings. #UC-1026

$14,990

2007 Jeep Commander Sport
Silver, 17,376 mi. #UC-1049

$23,990

2004 Jeep Liberty Limited
Light khaki, 32,871 mi. #UC-1024

$14,990

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Special Edition Leather interior, sunroof. #UC-1032 $16,990
2006 Jeep Wrangler Sport Black, 10,950 mi. #UC-1030 ..... $19,990
2004 Jeep Wrangler Unlimited Black, 15,047 mi. #UC-1043 ..... $18,990
2007 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo Black, low miles. #UC-1055 ..... $20,990
2 - 2007 Jeep Liberty Sports Low miles. #UC-1060 & #UC-1061 ..... $17,990*
2003 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo Gray, 52,985 mi. #UC-1056 ..... $13,490

Present this ad and save
$250.00 OFF
any certified Pre-Owned Vehicle in stock
All prior sales excluded. Limit 1 per customer per transaction. No cash value. Expires 10/31/07.

Check out our entire inventory at www.millbrookmotors.com
NO NONSENSE INTERNET SPECIALS
JEEP is a registered trademark of Chrysler LLC.

DAVID YURMAN SPECIAL EVENT

Featuring limited edition pieces and the new Fall collections

Friday, October 19th
New Store; Natick

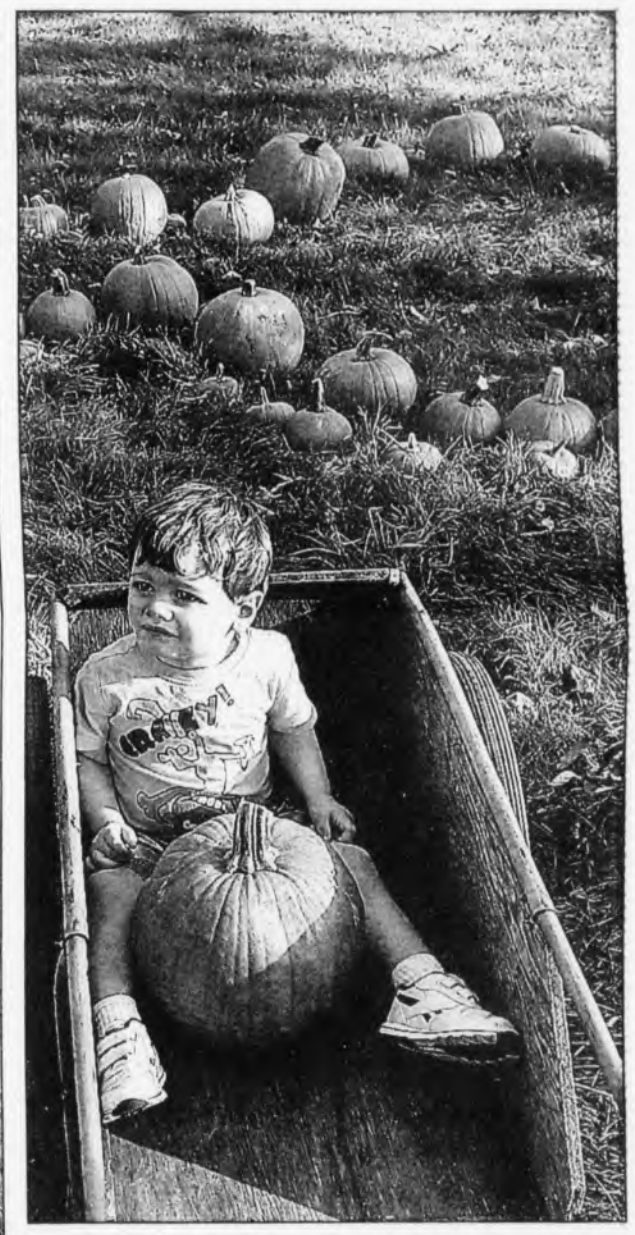
323 Speen Street
Outside the Mall, across from Neiman Marcus
508.650.2900

Saturday, October 20th
Peabody

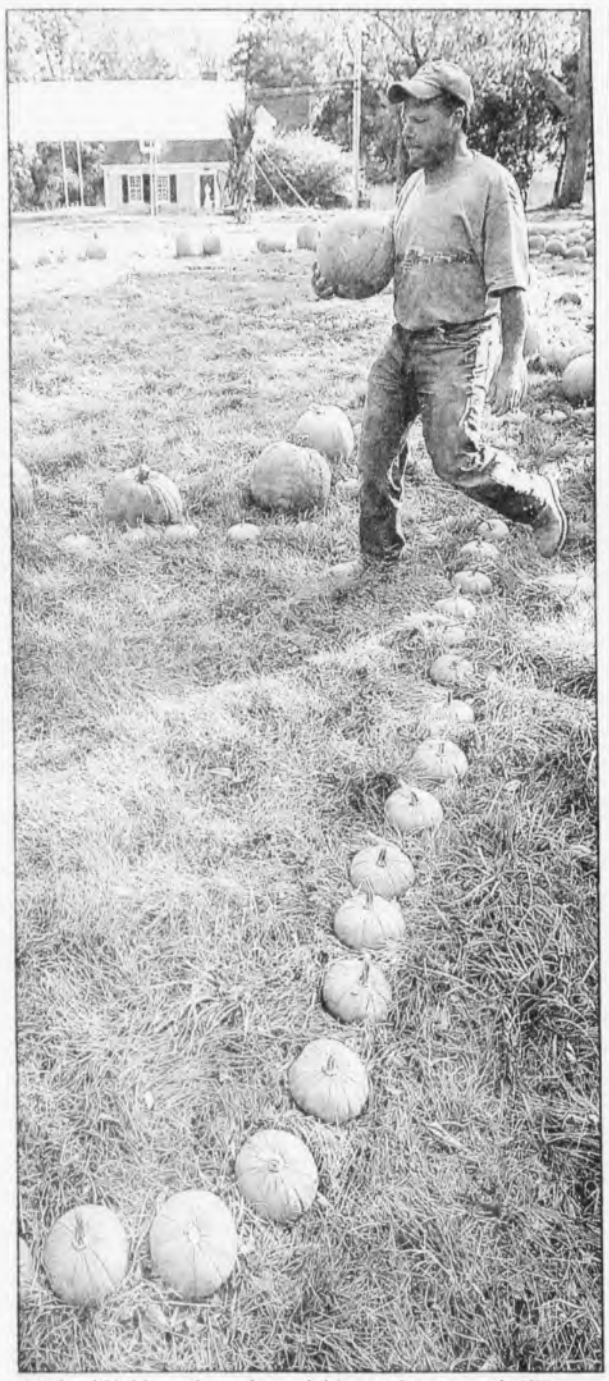
35 Cross Street
Outside the Mall, across from Macy's
978.531.6900

Long's
Fine Jewelers Since 1878

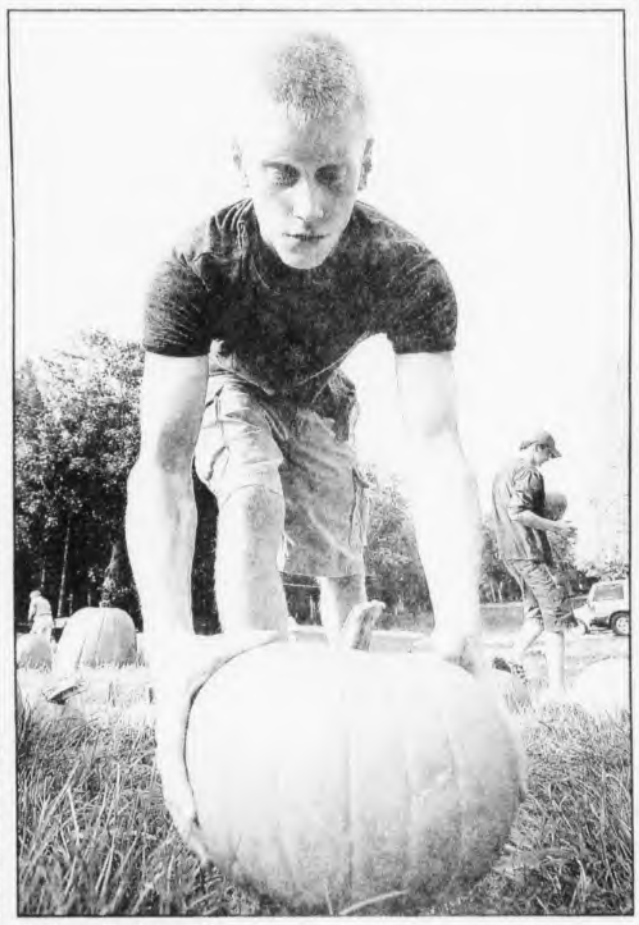
Pumpkin Patch Volunteers unload 2007 crop



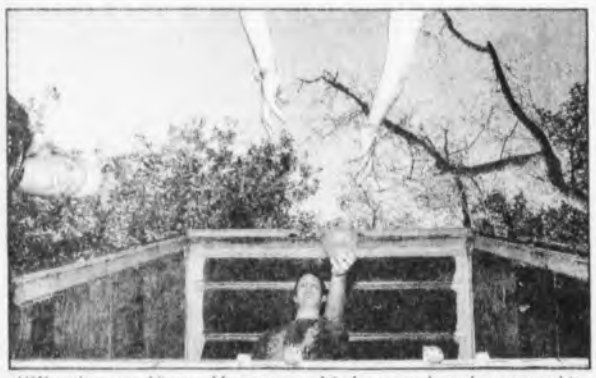
ASP volunteer Nick Silvia, 16, brings over a big pumpkin to the patch while helping out last week. The Pumpkin Patch supports the Cohasset Appalachia Service project that sends about 200 people, adults and teens to the Appalachia area to repair homes each summer.



ASP volunteer Margaret Goodwin, 16, whose orange shirt blends in with the pumpkins helps unload the truck last Thursday.



ASP volunteer Jamie Canavan, 16, helps transfer the pumpkins to the patch while other volunteers make out the borders of the design that the pumpkins would create.



Jamie Frady, 2, sits in a cart with his pumpkin while the ASP volunteers were setting up the Pumpkin Patch at Wheelwright Park last week.

Michael Hubley, whose three children volunteer with ASP, offers a helping hand last week.

Graham Sinclaire, 16, puts a pumpkin down in a special design (see page 9) while helping to set up the pumpkin patch.

ASP volunteer Victor Hartmann, 16, bottom, hands a pumpkin off to fellow volunteer Tatyana Nakashima, 16, while they helped unload the truck last Thursday.

ASP volunteer Mike Fithian, 16, carries a couple of fine pumpkins into Wheelwright Park. The Pumpkin Patch will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. through Oct. 31 in Wheelwright Park off North Main Street.

Staff photos by Robin Chan

It's Happening

Glastonbury Abbey to hold fundraiser

Glastonbury Abbey, 16 Hull St., Hingham, will hold a fundraiser from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 3. The event will feature an evening of wine tasting, music and food. Proceeds benefit Glastonbury Abbey. For more information or tickets, call Ann McCarthy-Egan at 781-749-9423 or Kay Trask at 781-545-0993.

Anti-racism workshop set for Nov. 17

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is sponsoring Seeing the Face of God In Each Other, an inter-faith workshop on anti-racism, with The Rev. Cannon Ed Rodman from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17. This free event is open to people of all faith traditions, teen to adult. Lunch will be served.

Arts Walk is Oct. 21

The 2nd annual Hingham Arts Walk, Sunday Oct. 21 from noon to 5p.m., celebrates the rich history of artists living and working within walking distance of historic downtown Hingham. The walk, organized by the Hingham Downtown Association together with the Hingham Cultural Council and several local artists, civic groups and business owners, features the open studios of several downtown artists. In addition to meeting artists in their studios, visitors can stroll through Hingham's historic architecture, meet artists at special exhibits in shops and other spaces, see arts demonstrations, sample harvest treats, mingle with neighbors and enjoy live music outdoors. For more information about participating in this free event, contact info@discoverhingham.com

Attention gardeners

Community Garden Club of Cohasset is taking orders for a selection of spring flowering bulbs that will enhance the color and beauty of the garden. Bulbs includes tulips in a variety of colors; fragrant double narcissi; allium; rock garden iris; and petite favorites such as chinodoxa, muscari and scilla.

The bulbs are now available, and each order will be accompanied with directions for planting. The bulbs will also be sold at Cohasset Farmer's Market on Cohasset Common on Thursdays, from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

All purchases help fund club programs and community services.

Soccer Boosters pancake breakfast

The Cohasset Soccer Boosters will hold their annual Pancake Breakfast Sunday, Oct. 14 at the Deer Hill School from 8 a.m. – 12 p.m. The $5 ticket will automatically enter the buyer into a raffle drawing for a pair of Yankee/Red Sox tickets for the 2008 season at Fenway Park or a $500 cash prize.

Proceeds from the Pancake Breakfast go to support the Cohasset Soccer Boosters, which last year awarded four $1,000 scholarships to students with a record of academic achievement, participation in soccer programs and dedication to community service.

Tickets can be purchased at the door or from team members at your local Stop and Shop and Shaw's supermarkets. Come out and support your local soccer teams, enjoy a great breakfast, and have the opportunity to see a great game at Fenway Park.

Cohasset historical lecture Oct. 17

The Cohasset Historical Society's Wednesday evening lecture series continues on Oct. 17 with Historian David Wadsworth conducting an armchair tour of the town center.

Through slides and lecture, walk Main Street with Wadsworth and compare the Cohasset that was yesterday with the Cohasset that is today. What has changed and what has stayed the same? This backward glance will begin at 7:30 p.m. at The Society's headquarters, 106 South Main St.

All are invited to attend this free lecture. Light refreshments will be served.

Behind the Scenes at Holly Hill Farm

Holly Hill Farm co-managers Hannah Hobbs and Ben Wolbach will lead visitors around Holly Hill Farm's growing fields at 236 Jerusalem Road in Cohasset from 2 to 3:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 14, see how the 140-acre farm grows its organic vegetables and cut flowers and harvests them at the peak of the fall season. More than just a look-and-see tour, participants will have the opportunity to ask questions and hear tips on how to grow organically and keep weeds and pests under control. Children who are accompanied by adults are welcome. There is no charge for members of the Friends of Holly Hill Farm and their families and a $5 donation is suggested for nonmembers.

Henry Horenstein photography exhibit

South Shore Art Center, 119 Ripley Road, Cohasset, is hosting Henry Horenstein's collection, "Photography Now," through Monday, Oct. 22, in its Bancroft Gallery. Henry Horenstein is well known for his book, "Black & White Photography: A Basic Manual," which is in its third edition and is used by photography instructors as an essential textbook.

Horenstein viewed more than 1,000 images and chose eighty-six photographers to represent the best in creative photography. Images were submitted from artists in forty states throughout the U.S., which is an impressive collection of work drawn to the competition because of Horenstein's reputation.

Boston area prize winners include Marshfield resident Cindy Vallino, first prize; Tony Andrade of Quincy, third prize; and Cambridge resident, Paul Weiner, award of merit. The exhibition is sponsored by Image Resolutions of Norwell, and Tom and Nancy Hamilton of Cohasset.

Henry Horenstein has worked as a photographer, teacher, and author since the early 1970's. He is author of more than 30 books, including many monographs. Power House Books will publish a book of his very earliest work, "Close Relations," next fall. Horenstein lives in Boston, where he works as a photographer exhibiting and publishing, as well as teaching at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Gallery hours are from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday and from noon to 4 p.m., Sunday. For more information call 781-383-2787 or visit www.ssac.org.

Latin Dance Party set for Oct. 20

Warm up this autumn to the rhythm of the Grupo Chevere Band. Come enjoy an evening of live music and Latin dancing, including some instruction and demonstrations, sponsored by the Cohasset Diversity Committee. Proceeds of the event will help fund the Peer Leadership Program at Cohasset Middle High School.

This event will take place from 8 p.m. to midnight, on Saturday, Oct. 20, at The River Club, 78 Border St., Scituate. Cash bar, complimentary hors d'oeuvres will be available. Tickets are $35 person and are available at Buttonwood Books & Toys at Shaw's Plaza and Paperscapes, 47 South Main St., in the village. For more information, call Connie Afshar at 781-383-6006.

Lightkeeper's Boutique

The Lightkeepers Autumn Boutique will be held from 6 to 9 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 1, featuring wine tasting and informal modeling of the hottest new fall and holiday fashions. Shop for unique gifts, many handcrafted by local artisans. Open to all, complimentary admission. Sponsored by DFV Wines, Jodi DiNatale, Magpie Rings, Mollycoddle, Paperscapes, Ports and Company, The Pink Poppy, Tucker O'Day, and more.

For more information call 781-640-4530.

Calling all newcomers!

The Scituate/Cohasset Newcomers Club invites new, prospective, and current members to New Member Gatherings to get to know some new people and to learn more about the club. Friends and children are welcome to attend. Please plan to attend on Saturday, Oct. 13 at 4 p.m. for wine and cheese (juice boxes and snacks for the kids. A coffee will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7 from 10a.m. to noon.

Contact Kim, kim.spires@comcast.net or 545-2952, or Kelly, k-dlee@hotmail.com or 781-545-0866, with any questions or RSVPs. Even if you can't make it to a gathering, please feel free to call about membership. Also, please check the club's website at www.scnewcomers.com.

Forest Avenue sidewalk celebration

Planning is underway for a kickoff event scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27, to celebrate the completion of the long-awaited new sidewalk on Forest Avenue. Tentative plans include a ribbon cutting; a bike, trike, and stroller parade; refreshments and more. To join the planning committee or to offer suggestions, contact Trish Morse or Diana Van Etten at Forest_sidewalk@yahoo.com.

Community Center

Halloween fun with Mary Brennock

The South Shore Community Center, 3 North Main St., Cohasset, will offer the following fall programs. For more information or to register, visit the center, call 781-383-0088, or go to southshorecommunitycenter.com.

CHILDREN

Halloween Fun – Children 4 to 6 can join Mary Brennock from 3:15 to 5 p.m., Monday, Oct. 29, to celebrate Halloween with face painting, music, storytelling and games. Children may come in costume if they wish. The cost is $20 for members and $22 for nonmembers.

Che-Mystery – Mad Science of Greater Boston will conduct this program for children in kindergarten through grade 3, from 3:30 to 4:40 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 7. Children will experiment with and observe various chemicals, potions and solutions in action. Fee: $15.

Woodcrafts – Children 5 and up will assemble a variety of wooden projects under the direction of Bob LeDuc, also known as Bob the Builder, from Wooden Toys and Crafts, from 3:30 to 4:30, Monday, Oct. 22. Young woodworkers will proceed at their own pace. The fee of $19 for members and $20 for nonmembers includes materials and children will leave with a finished project.

Puppet Shows – Pat Boylan will present the following puppet shows each month at 10:30 a.m., Friday: "The Fifth Witch," Nov. 2. The cost is $3.50 per person at the door.

Gym Dandy – Session I programs meet each Wednesday: Movers and Shakers, for children 2 and older, meets from 9 to 9:45 a.m.; Toddlers and Tumblers, for children 1 to 11/2 meets from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. The cost is $192 for members and $224 for nonmembers.

ADULTS

Pediatric CPR – Join Linda Farrag R.N., from 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesdays, Nov. 7 and 14 to learn basic rescue techniques and CPR, as well as how to make a safer environment infants and children. The cost is $55 for members and $60 for nonmembers.

Three Course Dinner – Join Chef Maryann Saporito Boothroyd from 6:30 to 8:45 p.m., Monday, Oct. 22. The menu for the evening will be seared scallops with pistachio crust and beet-zinfandel glaze; seared chicken with apricots, sun dried tomatoes, pine nuts; Sardinian couscous and Panna cotta with sherried walnuts and figs. The cost is $50 for members and 55 for nonmembers.

Hingham Bell Tower, cemetery walking tour

The town-owned Hingham Bell Tower will be open to the public for a special showing from 1 to 1:45 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 13. It will be followed by a guided walking tour of the adjacent Hingham Cemetery at 2 p.m.

Those interested should meet at Hingham Bell Tower, next to Old Ship Church. A $5 donation is requested for the cemetery tour; those younger than 12 will be admitted free. Rain date is Sunday, Oct. 14. For more information, call 781-749-4868.

Those climbing the tower will learn the story behind the Hingham Bell Tower, the mechanics of bell ringing and watch the bells being rung. Town bell ringers include Michael Shilhan, Ann Shilhan, Ken Drescher, Joan Getto and John McKendry. "New bell ringers are always needed," said Mike Shilhan. "We hope this will encourage both men and women to try it."

Lucinda Day has been the cemetery tour guide for the past 10 years. "People on my tours always ask about the tower. They are surprised to learn that Hingham even has a bell tower," said Day. Learning that tour goers would enjoy a chance to go inside the tower and see the bells being rung, she organized the joint event with bell ringer Mike Shilhan.

The Bell Tower will close at 1:45 p.m. so people have time to gather for the cemetery tour. The one and a half hour walk will include the history of the cemetery dating from 1672, notable burials of national importance, important monuments by noted sculptors, as well as social commentary. "Tour goers might even catch a glimpse of the cemetery's three resident 'ghosts,' said Day.

The 150-year-old arboretum on the grounds consists of several hundred specimen trees, both native and exotic, that will be starting their fall color change.

Those interested should meet at Hingham Bell Tower, next to Old Ship Church. A $5 donation is requested for the cemetery tour; those younger than 12 will be admitted free. Rain date is Sunday, Oct. 14. For more information, call 781-749-4868.

www.coupons.townonline.com

Three generations for HCMT"S Cinderella, a family affair! Top row: Lisa Pratt (Director), Logan Pratt (Ensemble), Jo-Jo Fichtner (Choreographer and Lisa's mother). Front row: Halle Pratt (Emsemble) and Madison Pratt (Ensemble), all of Cohasset.

Pratts make 'Cinderella' a family affair

HMCT show sure to sparkle

By Carol Britton Meyer
CMEYER@CNC.COM

Hingham Civic Music Theatre's presentation of the fairytale musical "Cinderella" is as sparkling as the glass slipper the prince places on her foot after the ball.

HCMT's production of this Rodgers and Hammerstein favorite will keep the audience enraptured all the way through — from Cinderella's daydreaming about a better life to the romantic climax.

The Pratt family of Cohasset is playing a big part in bringing the timeless enchantment of this magical fairy tale to life. Talented director Lisa Pratt's three daughters, Logan, 14, Madison, 9, and Halle, 7, bring their own energy to the production.

Logan, who appeared in HCMT's recent production of "The Sound of Music," and her friend Alexandra Butler, 14, also of Cohasset, are members of the ensemble. They appear in a variety of roles, from footmen and townspeople to dancers who waltz at the ball. Madison and Halle are cast as mice.

"We love being in this play. It's fun," said Logan. "The cast is like one big family."

Alexandra shares her enthusiasm. "It's a small group, so everyone knows each another," she said. "There's great chemistry among the cast members and a bond that adds to the energy."

Andrew DeVitre of Cohasset, who plays the prince, enjoys working with Braintree resident Mandy Mitchell, who is cast as Cinderella. "Everyone in the cast is talented, there are wonderful sets, and good choreography," Andrew said.

This prime role is Mandy's first with HCMT and her first time playing Cinderella. "I can't wait to go onstage for the actual production. The costumes are beautiful," she said with a smile. "It's such a classic show. Isn't it every little girl's fantasy to wear a pretty dress and fancy shoes and to meet Prince Charming?!"

"We love being in this play. It's fun. The cast is like one big family."
— Logan Pratt, 14

Mandy, 23, finds HCMT a very welcoming group. "Everyone has been wonderful. It's like an instant family," she said. "It's great to be able to work with kids as well as adults, and it will be fun for the audience to see such a diverse group working so well together. It's a fun show for families."

Working with her mother in another production is only one of the reasons that drew Logan back to HCMT. "I love the HCMT group and I love acting," she said.

Both she and Andrew appeared in Cohasset Dramatic Club's recent production of "High School Musical." Lisa Pratt also directed that show.

But that's not all. Logan's grandmother JoJo Fichtner is the choreographer, which really makes this play a family affair.

Madison and Pauline Rockwell of Hanover, another mother-daughter "act," are part of the ensemble. Betsy and Bernadette Crawford of Cohasset, who are also members of the Cohasset Dramatic Club, are another mother-daughter team. Betsy is part of the ensemble and Bernadette is costume coordinator/designer.

Three Weymouth residents have roles — Bill Boyer plays the king, Bonnie Gardner, the queen, and Ellen Spadorcia is a member of the ensemble.

Longtime HCMT performer Denise Feeney of Abington returns as the royal chef for the king and queen. "People are surprised when they hear there's a royal chef," she said with a laugh.

HCMT's version of "Cinderella" also contains some new numbers that are not in other versions of the musical and a dance that's not often included in the show.

The multi-talented Feeney, who became a lifetime member of HCMT while performing in "The Sound of Music," auditions for most of the group's shows. "I like to be in as many as I can. I rarely miss one," she said. "There are a lot of new people in this production along with some familiar faces. It's a good opportunity to make new friends."

Feeney is also the scenic artist for most HCMT productions, including "Cinderella."

Mark Bono is musical director, and Tophy Woodward the producer.

Show dates are Oct. 13, 19, and 20 at 7:30 p.m. and Oct. 14 and 21 at 2 p.m. The musical will be performed in Sanborn Auditorium in the Hingham Town Hall. Tickets are $16 for adults and $14 for students and seniors. Discounts for groups of 10 or more are available for $12 (telephone orders only). To order tickets, call the ticket hotline at (781) 837-1499. Tickets are also on sale at Noble's Camera Shop in Hingham Square and at Buttonwood Books on Rte. 3A in Cohasset.

Former resident launches historical novels based in Hingham

Former Hingham resident Bill Hammond has launched a series of historical novels with the publication of "A Matter of Honor." The novel, published by Cumberland House, is now available in local bookstores and at Noble's in downtown Hingham.

The novel opens on Crow Point, where the Hingham Yacht Club stands today.

Five years in the making, "A Matter of Honor" is the story of Richard Cutler, a teenage youth from Hingham who ships out with John Paul Jones to avenge the death of his brother, Will, taken by force off Marblehead in 1777 by the Royal Navy and flogged to death for striking an officer on a king's ship. Fate and the winds of war take Richard first to France and England, then, with his English bride, to the West Indies where the real war between France and England is being waged and where the Cutler family owns sugar plantations on the islands of Barbados and Tobago. Along the way, Richard and his shipmates face imminent danger at sea, in battles against HMS Drake and HMS Serapis, and on land in a raid by United States Marines against the English seaport of Whitehaven.

Although the Cutler family is fictitious, the novel features real historical figures such as Alexander Hamilton, Horatio Nelson, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and the Marquis de Lafayette, in addition to Hingham residents such as Sarah Derby and Benjamin Lincoln, second-in-command of Continental forces at Yorktown, Va., where the novel ends. The novel opens on Crow Point, where the Hingham Yacht Club stands today. Many of these people will appear in future titles of a series of six novels that will take the reader from 1774 through the Barbary Wars, the Quasi-War with France and the War of 1812. The backdrop of all six novels is the emergence of the United States as the world's first nation-sized republic and as a naval power gaining recognition and respect on the world stage.

The roots of Hammond's family tree run deep in Massachusetts soil. In 1649, his direct ancestor, Thomas Hammond, sailed from Portsmouth, England, to Hingham where he lived with his family for many years. The author's great-grandfather was a Boston sea captain, and his grandparents both hailed from Holyoke, where his grandfather taught music at Mount Holyoke College. Hammond's parents also grew up in Holyoke, but moved to Manchester on the North Shore in 1946 when his father was appointed the Boston senior partner of White, Weld & Company. In 1981, while serving as sales manager for Little, Brown & Company, Hammond moved with his wife Victoria from Boston to Lafayette Avenue in Hingham where their three sons – Churchill, Brooks and Harrison – were raised.

While living in Hingham, Hammond served on an advisory committee dedicated to the publication of "Not All Is Changed," a definitive history of Hingham. He is a graduate of the Groton School in Groton, and holds an master's degree in business administration from Babson College in Wellesley. A lifelong student of history, and an avid sailor and reader of nautical fiction, Hammond has combined his life's passions in writing "A Matter of Honor" and subsequent titles in the Richard Cutler Naval Series.

In 1995, the Hammonds moved to Minneapolis for professional reasons. While Hammond describes the Twin Cities as a wonderful place to live and to raise children, everyone in his family misses Hingham and the many wonderful friends they have there.

"A Matter of Honor" is the story of Richard Cutler, a teenage youth from Hingham who ships out with John Paul Jones to avenge the death of his brother.

Bill Hammond, author and former Hinghamite.

After Harrison enters college in three years, Bill and Victoria may well move back to the South Shore, a place they will always call home. They remain members of Hingham Yacht Club.

For more information on "A Matter of Honor," visit the author's Web site at bill-hammond.com.

Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

we just scored some top talent.

[And you can too thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs.]

Now more than ever, we 're bringing you just who you 're looking for. By simply placing a local ad, you 'll now get unparalleled exposure to passive and active job seekers — both on- and off-line. Plus your media can be targeted by behavior, location, industry, occupation and keyword. More visibility.More qualifed candidates. More of what you need to find the right one.

CALL TODAY TO LEARN MORE 1-800-624-7355
OR VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

LOCAL NEWS.
LOCAL FLAVOR.
Read and Recharge.

Order home delivery of The Patriot Ledger today at 25% OFF and receive a Dunkin' Donuts® Card worth up to $40.00!

Order now!
Call 1.800.557.8882
Mention campaign code: DUNKIN07

or mail in this form with your payment.

With home delivery of The Patriot Ledger*, you'll stay on top of Local News, Local Sports, and Local Happenings in and around your town every day, Monday through Saturday.*

YES! Please sign me up for convenient home delivery of The Patriot Ledger at 25% off and send me my Dunkin' Donuts® Gift Card!

Please select one of the following:

☐ Option 1: BEST OPTION
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery with EZPay
I understand that my credit card will be charged $12.00 every 4-weeks.
Please send me a $40 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Provide your credit card info below).

☐ Option 2:
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 26-weeks
I have enclosed a check for $78.00
Please send me a $40 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

☐ Option 3:
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 13-weeks
I have enclosed a check for $39.00
Please send me a $20 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

Name
Street / Apt. #
City/State/Zip
Home phone
Email

CREDIT/DEBIT CARD INFORMATION ☐ VISA ☐ MC ☐ DISC ☐ AMEX
Cardholder name
Account number
Expiration date
Signature

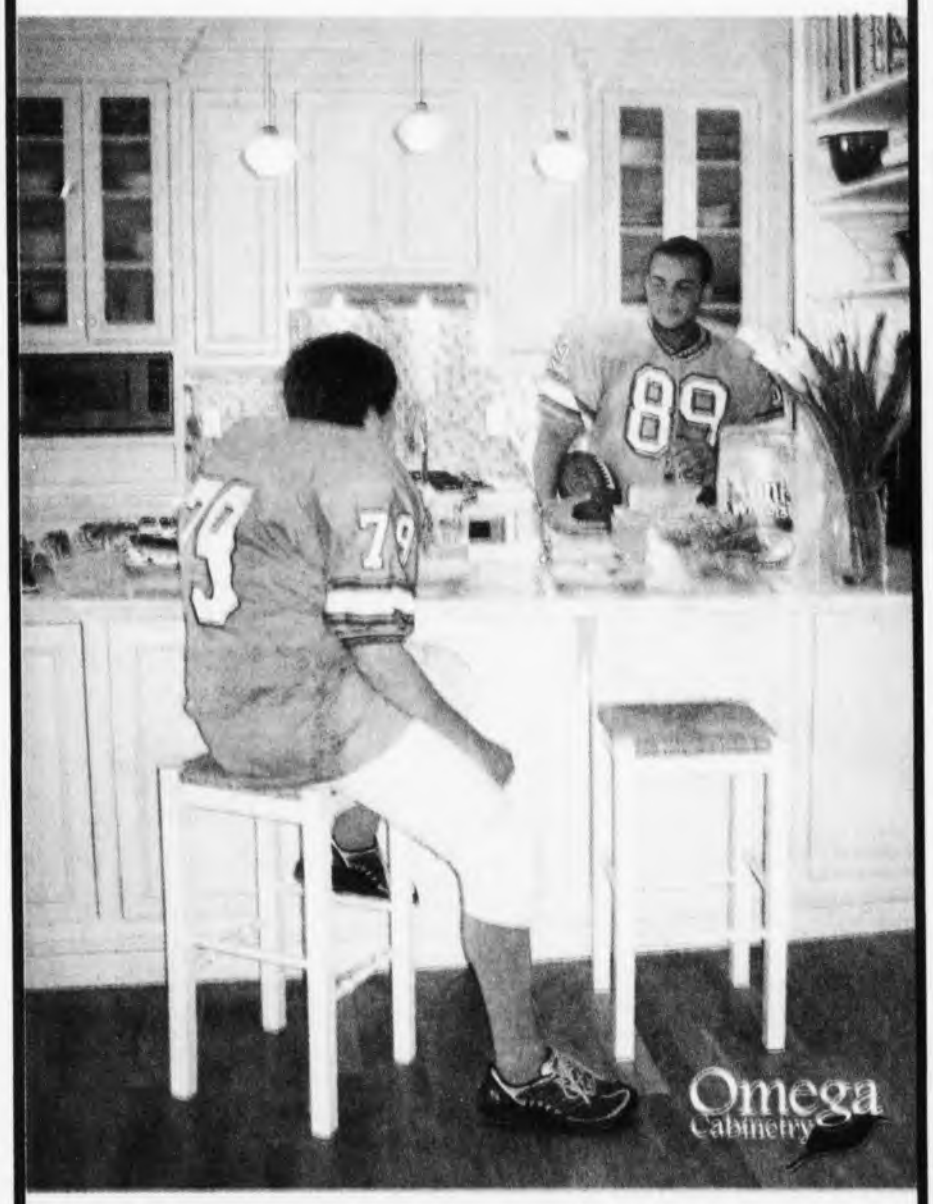
Mail this form to:
The Patriot Ledger,
P.O. Box 699159, Quincy, MA 02269

The Patriot Ledger | COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

*Offer valid for households in The Patriot Ledger delivery area who have not received home delivery in the past 30 days. This is an introductory offer. All subscriptions must by prepaid by check or credit card. Delivery will continue unless you notify us otherwise. You will be contacted prior to the expiration period. If subscription is cancelled, The Patriot Ledger will either reimburse the value of the non-delivered newspapers less the amount of your Dunkin' Donuts® card or charge that amount to you credit card. The Dunkin' Donuts® trademarks/tradedress are owned by DD IP Holder LLC. Used under license. Offer expires 11/12/07. Subscriptions must start by 11/12/07.

DUNKIN07

we just landed a great job. 5,005 of them, actually.



Thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs it's your turn to score big. More Eastern Massachusetts job opportunities. More current listings. More of what you need to find the right one.

VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM TODAY

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

BRING FUN BACK TO THE KITCHEN.

KITCHEN |VIEWS| kitchenviews.com

Newton Center 718 Beacon St 617.244.8439

KITCHEN VIEWS AT NATIONAL LUMBER

Berlin 25 Central St 978.838.0810
Mansfield 71 Maple St 508.339.8020
New Bedford 120 Welby Rd 508.990.8020
Newton 15 Needham St 617.244.8020

SWITCHING BANKS HAS NEVER SOUNDED SO GOOD

Switch to TRUE BLUE Checking and get a free iTunes® Gift Card or iPod®

TRUE BLUE Free Checking℠	TRUE BLUE Select Checking℠	TRUE BLUE Premier Checking℠
$10 iTunes® Gift Card	$10 iTunes® Gift Card & 1GB iPod® shuffle™	$10 iTunes® Gift Card & New 4GB iPod® nano with video

Get your free gift when you open a TRUE BLUE checking account.* Along with the best checking account in town, you get the hottest new music products around. Plus, our tradition of TRUE BLUE customer service. You don't hear that every day. Offer ends soon.

1-800-EASTERN
easternbank.com

Eastern Bank trueblue℠ Member FDIC

*New personal checking account customers only. New checking account must be opened between 9/10/07 and 10/22/07. Minimum $10 to open Free Checking, $50 for Select, and $500 for Premier to receive $10 iTunes® Gift Card. Minimum $5,000 combined balance among primary account holder's eligible accounts required to avoid monthly service charges for Select Checking, and the combined balance must be reached and maintained within 45 days of account opening to qualify for iPod® shuffle™. Minimum $25,000 combined balance among primary account holder's eligible accounts required for Premier Checking and the combined balance must be reached and maintained within 45 days of account opening to qualify for iPod® nano. Select and Premier checking customers must also either (i) sign up for direct deposit, which must start within 45 days of account opening or (2) make five (5) POS or signature debit card transactions within 45 days of account opening. Limit one $10 iTunes® Gift Card per household. Limit one iPod® per household. iTunes® $10 Gift Card received upon account opening. iPod® shuffle™ must be received within 6-8 weeks upon verification of minimum combined balance requirement and either direct deposit into customer's new Select/Premier Checking account or documentation that debit card transactions. 0.15% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) applies to Select and Premier Checking accounts. APY is accurate as of 9/10/07 and is subject to change before or after account opening. Fees may reduce earnings on Money Markets. New Hampshire and Rhode Island residents only. Bonus will be reported to IRS for tax purposes. Gifts are available while supplies last and may be modified or withdrawn at any time without notice. Bank reserves the right to substitute a gift with one of equal or greater value. Other rules and restrictions may apply. See Customer Service Representative for details. iPod® and iTunes® are registered trademarks of Apple Inc. All rights reserved. Apple is not a participant or sponsor of this promotion.

POLICE/FIRE LOG

SATURDAY, SEPT. 29

12:35 p.m. Atlantic Ave., officer wanted, caller reports he's noticed what looks to be pry marks to an old crawl space door that its locked shut.

12:36 p.m. Hull St., parking complaint, caller complains of the illegal parking in this area.

2:51 p.m. Pleasant St., notification, caller would like to report four boys walked by her house and smashed a rock on the sidewalk.

5:03 p.m. Wheelwright Farm, assist citizen, elderly woman locked out of her house.

5:31 p.m. Brewster Rd., disturbance, caller stated that a woman is disturbing his family.

6:10 p.m. Virginia Lane, caller stated that the door was open when she got home and would like an officer to check the house.

7:56 p.m. Atlantic Ave., walk in party stated that a young male with baggy jeans was acting suspicious when he drove past.

8 p.m. Atlantic Ave., disturbance, caller stated that there are a group of kids in his front yard. Kids have been advised to quiet down.

11:06 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

11:33 p.m. Elm St., suspicious vehicle, caller stated that a red Ford Explorer with a party just sitting in the back looked very strange.

11:43 p.m. Border St., motor vehicle crash/no injury, caller reports a minor motor vehicle accident in the parking lot, no injuries.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 30

9:19 a.m. Clay Spring Rd., B&E (past/report), caller reports his garage has been broken into and several tools have been stolen. Officer requesting detectives to the scene. Officer reports several items have been stolen and an estimated total of $6000+.

10:24 a.m. Highland Ct., vandalism report, caller reports his car has been vandalized and he believes he knows who did it.

10:34 a.m. Nantasket Ave., medical aid, Hull Fire requesting R3 for a biker down in the triathalon.

11:12 a.m. Ridge Hill, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS, Scituate Fire requesting R3 for an elderly female that has fallen in the garage.

12:48 p.m. North Main St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, 911 caller report a young girl playing softball has possibly broken her leg.

7:24 p.m. North Main St., trespassing.

8:48 p.m. Highland Ct., domestic (past report).

10:25 p.m. Nantasket Ave., Hull, 209A service.

MONDAY, OCT. 1

1:03 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:08 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

1:12 a.m. King St., suspicious activity, motor vehicle parked behind the building, male party forgot his keys, he will be at this location for the rest of the overnight.

4 a.m. Clay Spring Rd., investigation.

7:11 a.m. Forest Ave., public service, Forest Ave., between Heather Drive and North Main Street will be down to one lane due to the paving. Emergency vehicles can get through.

7:15 a.m. Forest Ave., public service, Forest Ave., at the Black Rock Beach end will be detoured. Emergency motor vehicles can get through.

7:22 a.m. South Main St., public service, South Main Street by #170 will be down to one lane. Emergency vehicles can get through.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 55.

8:08 a.m. Elm St., property (lost), walk in party reports losing a cell phone.

8:32 a.m. Elm St., transport prisoner.

9:32 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., hazard, caller reports a paving crew in a bad spot at this location with not detail. Officer reports the crew has been ejected from the roadway this is the crew from the new water project that is beginning in town.

9:58 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, B&E of motor vehicle, caller reports one of their trucks was broken into sometime over the weekend. Sgt. reports this was a forced entry. Owner of business will be contacting HQ with a list of what was stolen from the truck.

10:59 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop, verbal warning. Vehicle being stopped for a well being check on the operator.

11:14 a.m. North Main St., parking complaint/motor vehicle blocking, caller reports trucks parking on the sidewalk.

11:58 a.m. Rustic Drive, disturbance-neighborhood, caller reports her neighbor is tearing her fence down. Peace restored.

12:07 p.m. South Main St., fire, outside, 911 caller reports smoke from generator, police on scene, smoke showing.

12:52 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious activity, transported other/BLS, caller reports that a male party passed out drunk in his car after stating that he just ran over his wife. Two in PC. Officers request medics to booking. Female party will be transported to SSH. Male prisoner requests medics. Scituate man and a woman taken into protective custody.

2:56 p.m. Highland Ct., 209A service.

3:20 p.m. Gannett Rd., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS. Unknown medical. Someone banging on door asking for ambulance.

3:58 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, 911 caller states that a co-worker has become dizzy and is throwing up. Hull R2 responding.

5:02 p.m. Howe Rd., suspicious activity, caller reports that she received a suspicious phone message regarding her neighbor.

7:27 p.m. Sohier St., fire, E1, R3 to this location for Boyscout training.

7:45 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, 911 caller stated that a female had chest pain on her right side.

TUESDAY, OCT. 2

6:28 a.m. Atlantic Ave., noise complaint, caller states "there is construction noise going on at 6:15 a.m. A dumpster being picked up will be gone momentarily. No other construction going on.

6:33 a.m. South Main St., fire, outside, owner reports an employee put out a small fire behind the building.

6:59 a.m. Norfolk Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:34 a.m. North Main St., medical aid, lift assist for Fallon Ambulance.

10:44 a.m. Church St., medical aid, investigated/report taken. Caller stated that her mother is having trouble breathing.

12:49 p.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

12:56 p.m. Sohier St., Osgood/Deerhill School check.

1:14 p.m. Kendall Village, identity theft/fraud, stolen checks from home.

2 p.m. S St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, Hull FD requesting R3.

2:07 p.m. Pond St., and Lantern Lane, traffic enforcement.

2:08 p.m. Oak St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

3:02 p.m. Cedar Acres Drive, medical aid.

5:20 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller reports a red Volvo with a female driver waving her arms at her and passing her on 3A. Caller reports this vehicle has pulled into Shaw's. Officer spoke with the caller and Scituate Police have been notified.

5:28 p.m. Sohier St., and King St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

6:56 p.m. Atlantic Ave., notification, caller would like to report how rude the detail officer was to her today. She states there was a detail at the end of her driveway today. She states the officer moved her sawhorses and also parked up her driveway. Dispatch has no record of a detail in that location today or yesterday.

10:25 p.m. Summer St., suspicious activity, caller reports she saw someone on the corner of her property looking at her house. When this person realized she was them they started walking away.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3

1:16 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious vehicle.

6:42 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:20 a.m. Beechwood St., and King St., public service, Beechwood Street at King Street will be down to one lane.

7:24 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, public service, CJD Highway, in front of the train station, is down to one lane.

7:28 a.m. White Head Rd., and Atlantic Ave., fire, E2 on detail reports a gas leak in the street.

7:55 a.m. Elm St., disabled motor vehicle, elderly female has lost her steering in the middle of the driveway of the police station.

8 a.m. Weather: Fog, calm, 46.

10:13 a.m. Elm St., property lost.

10:49 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

10:54 a.m. Sohier St., Deerhill/Osgood School check.

11:40 a.m. Pond St., fire, investigation, caller reports a strong outside odor of gas. E3 reports that there is no odor of gas, Keyspan enroute.

3:08 p.m. Highland Ave., disturbance, caller stated that he would like an officer, there is an unhappy customer at the town clerk's office. There is an ongoing problem, all parties have cleared the area.

3:54 p.m. Summer St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

6:12 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious activity, caller reports a man and a woman are standing on the side of the road at this location and another female at a vehicle parked in the parking lot at this location. She is unsure whether they need help or not, caller states it looks a little suspicious. Officer states there is a car at this location but no one around it. Officer states the business is secure along with the vehicle, no sign of anyone, he will check back later. Officer reports vehicle has been removed from earlier.

7:15 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., well being check.

7:36 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS, caller requests R3 for a 94-year-old male who has fallen and may have a broken arm.

8:26 p.m. Smith Pl., well being check.

9 p.m. Sohier St., notification, caller reports she doesn't like the train running so late and states this is disturbing the peace. She also states "how am I supposed to sleep?" Caller wanted her complaint logged.

10:31 p.m. North Main St., notification, caller reports she cannot get her kids to bed because of the train. It shouldn't be running at this hour. She was given the MBTA complaint line.

10:38 p.m. Elm St., suspicious vehicle, walk in party reports there has been a white car parked in front of this location with its hazards flashing for about four hours now. Officer spoke with the owner who forgot he left his car there, he will move it.

Shop online at lordandtaylor.com Sale ends Wednesday, October 17th, except for clearance items or as noted. Savings off original and regular prices. No adjustments to prior sale purchases. Selected collections, not every style in every store. Our regular and original prices are offering prices only and may or may not have resulted in sales. Advertised merchandise may be available at sale prices in upcoming sale events. For the Lord & Taylor location nearest you, visit our website or call 1-800-223-7440.

Worship Guide

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: To be determined. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Oct. 14

10 a.m. – Worship in the Meeting House – "The Magic of Music"

We welcome as worship leader this Sunday Matthew Meyer, percussionist and veteran leader of worship services at Unitarian Universalist congregations and events nationwide.

Religious education classes for our children and youth and childcare for our youngest begin at 10 AM in the Parish House.

11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m. – "Drumming and Spirituality" – a workshop led by Matthew Meyer and co-sponsored by our RE Committee for children and Youth and Adult Ed – Trueblood Hall. This workshop is open to the community! Our regular coffee hour will be supplemented by a light lunch.

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org_to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are a welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for our communities, both near and across the world. Highlights of our parish life include this fall:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups, adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry; weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

Sunday, Oct. 14: Church school at 10 am, youth group meeting at 9 am. Services at 8 and 10, outreach meeting at 11:40

Monday, Oct. 15: 4 pm Christian meditation

Tuesday, Oct. 16: 9:30 am Social Service League meeting

Wednesday, Oct. 17: 9:30 am Healing Eucharist; 10:30 am Bible Study

Friday, Oct. 18: 9:30 am Yoga

Saturday, Oct. 20: 7 am Bible Fellowship

Sunday, Oct. 21: Services at 8 am and 10 am; 9 am Youth Group

To contact us:

Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Changes to the worship guide, may be sent by e-mail to mford@cnc.com.

Obituaries

Dr. Stephen J. O'Connor

Practiced at South Shore Hospital

Dr. Stephen J. O'Connor, of Scituate, Naples, Fla., and formerly of Cohasset, died Oct. 8, 2007, at South Shore Hospital in Weymouth after a long battle with kidney cancer.

Dr. Stephen J. O'Connor

The son of the late Mary and Lawrence O'Connor, he was born and raised in Cambridge, and attended St. Peter's School in Cambridge, and Boston College High School, graduating with the Class of 1952. He then attended and graduated from Boston College, Class of 1956, before receiving his doctor of medicine degree from Georgetown Medical School in Washington, D.C. In 1960, Dr. O'Connor served in the U.S. Air Force as a flight surgeon, as well as serving in the U.S. Air Force Reserves for several years, achieving the rank of major.

After his residency in radiology, Dr. O'Connor practiced at South Shore Hospital in South Weymouth for 32 years, serving on various committees and as president of the medical staff for a term.

An avid golfer, he was a member of Cohasset Golf Club and Pelican Bay Golf Club in Naples, Fla. He and his wife, Donna, also enjoyed many trips traveling the world, especially those with friends.

He leaves his wife of 49 years, Donna M. (Williams) O'Connor; four children, Caryn Collombet of Villard de Lans, France, Kim Van Etten of Hingham, Lauren Boole and her husband, Dana, of Raleigh, N.C., and Stephen J. O'Connor Jr. and his wife, Lisa, of Marshfield; his grandchildren, Jenna Van Etten, Kelsey and Taylor Boole, Cory and Ryan Collombet, Stephen J. O'Connor III and Sara O'Connor; and many nieces and nephews.

He was the brother of the late Lawrence O'Connor, Gerard O'Connor and Margaret Keating.

A funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m., on Friday, Oct.12, at St. Anthony Church, Cohasset. Visiting hours at the McNamara-Sparrell Funeral Home, 1 Summer St., across from St. Anthony Church, Cohasset, will be from 3 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 11. Interment in Woodside Cemetery, Cohasset.

Memorial donations may be made to SSH Cancer Center, c/o of South Shore Hospital Health and Education Foundation, 55 Fogg Road, South Weymouth, MA 02190.

Catherine M. Davis

Former receptionist, enjoyed traveling

Catherine "Kay" M. Davis, 80, of Centerville, died Sept. 15, 2007, after a short illness.

Catherine M. Davis

Born in Providence, R.I., she was the daughter of the late Michael and Frances (McCahey) Butler. She graduated from St. Frances Xavier Academy in Providence, and in 1945 graduated from Johnson and Wales Business School. After graduation, Mrs. Davis worked as a secretary in Providence, where she met her husband Robert L. Davis. In 1954, they moved to Auburn where they raised their family. In 1978, the family moved to Centerville.

For many years, she worked for Dr. Chester Boulris, ophthalmologist, in Hyannis. After her retirement from Dr. Boulris' office, she continued to work part-time for Realty Executives in Hyannis as a receptionist.

Mrs. Davis enjoyed reading, honing her computer skills and traveling. In recent years, she made trips to Paris, London and Ireland. She was a passionate Red Sox fan. Most of all, she took pleasure in spending time with her family and with her best friend, Carol Schofield, of South Dennis.

Wife of the late Robert L. Davis, who died in 1979, she leaves her children and grandchildren, James H. Davis and his wife, Jan, and their children, Caroline, Julie and Jenna of Hingham; Elisabeth "Betsy" Grady and her husband, Patrick, of Worcester; Katherine "Kasey" McCarthy and her husband, George, and their children, Daniel, Claire and Anna of Cohasset; Robert B. Davis and his wife, Laura, and their children, Emily and Jessica of Marstons Mills; Paul V. Davis and his wife, Karen, and their children Halle and Ella of Norwell; and Edward M. Davis and his children, Siobhan, Teddy and Richelle of Suffield, Conn.

She was the grandmother of the late Ryan M. Davis.

A memorial Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m., on Saturday, Oct. 13, at Our Lady of Assumption Church, 76 Wianno Ave., Osterville. Interment will be private.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the American Red Cross or Children's Hospital Suicide Prevention Program.

Temple to host guest speaker at Shabbat Service

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom, 1112 Main St., Hingham, will present guest speaker Amotz Asa-El at the 7:30 p.m. Friday Shabbat Service on Oct. 19.

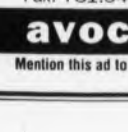
Veteran Jerusalem Post editor and columnist, Asa-El has served until recently as the Post's executive editor, and before that as its business editor, news editor and editor of its overseas edition, the International Jerusalem Post. Having returned to full time writing after a decade and a half of editing, he is currently the Post's senior columnist, as well as a frequent Middle East analyst for the BBC, SKY and NPR.

Winner of several prizes for his writing on Diaspora affairs and author of "he Diaspora and the Lost Tribes of Israel," an Amazon bestseller in Jewish History, Mr. Asa-El is also a board member of the Encyclopedia of the Jewish Diaspora alongside Nathan Sharansky, Sir Martin Gilbert and Brandeis University president Jehuda Reinharz.

A former Israeli delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, Asa-El is also a board member of the Hebrew opinion journal, Eretz Aheret. He holds advanced degrees in journalism from Columbia University in New York and in history from the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

His column, Middle Israel, now in its 12th year, leads the Jerusalem Post's opinion section every weekend, and discusses Israeli, Jewish and international issues from the viewpoint of a native Israeli who has traveled the world extensively. Asa-El has been quoted among others by the New York Times, the Washington Post, the New Republic and Le Figaro. He lives in Jerusalem with his wife and their three children.

Local authors to visit book, craft fair



Congregation Sha'ary Shalom, 1112 Main St., Hingham will host two local authors in its sanctuary, Sunday, Nov. 4, in conjunction with its book and craft fair, which will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Local story teller Mark Binder will perform for primary grade students and their parents, at 9 a.m. Mark is an author, storyteller, and award-winning recording artist who has written more than 200 stories for both young and old, which have been published in magazines, anthologized in books, and used on standardized tests. His "Bedtime Story Book" collection, a multigenerational masterpiece, is now in its seventh edition and his novel, "The Brothers Schlemiel," has been serialized weekly in print for two years and will be released in 2008. He is the founder of the American Story Theater and teaches at colleges and workshops.

Rabbi Joseph B. Meszler, author of "Witnesses to the One: The Spiritual History of the Sh'ma," will take participants on an exploration of the history and the heart of the most important and sacred statement of Judaism. Rabbi Meszler is recognized for his ability to connect the importance of Jewish tradition with everyday life. He was the translator of "Gifts For the Poor: Moses Maimonides' Treatise on Tszedakh" and a former instructor at the Smithsonian Institution, as well as the rabbi at Temple Sinai in Sharon.

For more information call the Temple office at 781-749-8103 or visit www.shaaray.org.

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry

We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.

Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling

Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)

Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.

Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES.

Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00

GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices
NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, Ma. 02339
(Rt. 123 after Stop & Shop) www.gemorama.com

Get Control of Your Computer

RGB Computer Solutions

PC & Laptop Repair

- Remote Desktop Support
- Home Office Setup
- Antivirus Firewall Setup
- Parental Control Software
- Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
- Data Recovery
- Wired & Wireless Networks
- Loaner Computers Available
- New Computer Consultation
- Hardware & Software Upgrades

Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

Before Bob Black

After Bob Black

New cabinets for about the same price as re-facing?

- Why settle for old cabinets with new fronts?
- Brand new cabinets can cost as little or almost as little as re-facing
- 3 weeks or less to install (some restrictions apply)
- Price includes disposal of old cabinets

JOSEPH'S INSTALLATIONS
Professional Cabinet & Countertop Installers
Phone 617-827-0654
Fax 781-337-2229

WINTER IS COMING

Call 781-335-8703
FREE ESTIMATES

For Driveways,
Parking Areas,
Tennis Courts
Over 45 years

HANABURY & SONS
ASPHALT SPECIALISTS

AVO CEDAR FENCES
"YOUR LEADER IN CEDAR"
800-750-3630

- custom built cedar and vinyl fences
- composite and vinyl deck railing
- first choice of fence professionals
- buy direct from the manufacturer
- job site delivery

50 Washington Street
Route 138 (Canton line)
Stoughton, MA 02072
Ph: 781.341.2963
Fax: 781.341.8922

410A Whiting Street
Route 53 (Weymouth line)
Hingham, MA 02043
Ph: 781.335.4312
Fax: 781.335.0309

avocedarfences.com

Mention this ad to receive a 5% discount (up to $500) on your next fence order!
Offer Expires 9/30/07

CURTAIN FACTORY OUTLET

Your Curtains. Your Style. Your Price.

Special This Week!
100% Cotton TAB CURTAINS
Assorted solid colors

- Full 80" wide pairs
- Factory Irregulars
- If perfect $25.99 - $29.99
- Sturdy cotton fabric

150 per store - Please shop early

Only $5.99

WEYMOUTH, MA 60 Winter St. 781-331-8510
RAYNHAM, MA 770 Broadway 508-823-4196
NORTHBRIDGE, MA 8 Sutton St. 508-234-2944
FALL RIVER, MA 420 Quequechan St. 508-678-6996
www.CurtainFactoryOutlet.com

A-1 PAVING CO. INC.

Driveways Parking Lots
Seal Coating Roadways

FREE ESTIMATES
Over 25 Years' Experience

508-384-7314

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO DEALERS
Haddon Lincoln Mercury
www.haddoncars.com
Hanson Automotive Inc.
www.hansonautomotiveinc.com
Jannell Ford
www.jannellford.com
Randolph Chrysler Jeep
www.randolphjeepchrysler.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CATERING
Salsa's - The Sausage Guy
www.sausageguy.comcaterting

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.comHome Health

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRE-SCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

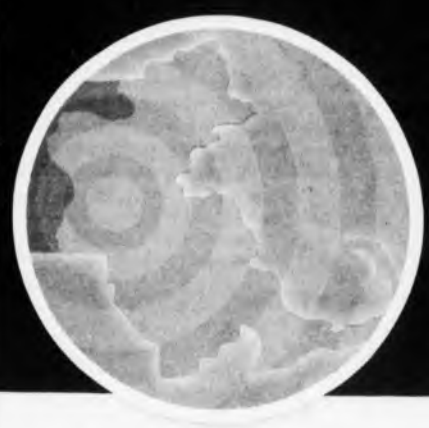
TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

Laser Vision Correction



Richard W. Strecker, M.D.
Board Certified
Eye Physician and Surgeon

Complete Eye Care

ALLEGRETTO WAVE™ Custom LASIK
Laser for Glaucoma & Diabetes
No Stitch, Same day Cataract Surgery
Most Advanced Lens Implant Technology
Cosmetic Eyelid Surgery • Botox® and Restylane®
Eye Exams • Contact Lenses • Optical Shop with Lab

Strecker Eye Center
Free Lasik and Cosmetic Consultations
751 CJC Hwy., Rte. 3A, Shaw's Plaza, Cohasset • 781-383-2555

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

Wicked Local Homes

Wicked Local Homes is a special Community Newspaper Company publication devoted to the real estate market in our region - right at the peak of season!

- In Print with a total distribution of 100,000 copies available in Eastern Massachusetts
- Online at WickedLocalHomes.com
- PLUS: A special reader contest - Readers will have the chance to let us pay their mortgage for 1-month!

Advertising Deadline:
Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date:
Week of October 24th

Winter Coupon Book

Promote your goods and services to customers actively looking for special offers in our Community Coupons section. 88% of Community Newspaper Company readers are coupon users and 65% of adults obtain coupons through the newspaper. Don't miss out - place your advertising message in Community Coupons and let CNC's award winning local newspapers deliver for you today.

• Northwest & North Zones
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date: Week of October 24th
• Cape Cod Zone
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date: Week of October 31st
• Greater Boston, West & South Zones
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 18th
Publication Date: Week of October 31st

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax

NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923G Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

OCTOBER 11-19, 2007

'Wrong Number' done right

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

When its production of "Sorry, Wrong Number" opens on a double bill with "Clue" this Friday in Norwell, the Company Theatre won't just be staging a theatrical production of the radio play that became one of the classic films of the 1940s, it'll be paying homage to an entire film genre.

"We're doing 'Sorry, Wrong Number' as it was done in the 1948 film version — as film noir with beautiful black and white," explained director Lisa Rafferty last week by telephone from her Scituate home. "The entire color palette of costumes and set pieces, right down to an apple pie, will be black, white and shades of gray. Lighting will play a huge part in this piece as it does in classic film noir. The audience will be taken back to 1940s New York City."

The story of a bedridden millionairess who overhears a murder plot on a crossed telephone line, "Sorry, Wrong Number" was written for radio by Lucille Fletcher and first broadcast on the "Suspense" program in 1943, starring Agnes Moorehead in the lead role of Leona Stevenson. Five years later, Fletcher adapted her radio play for a silver screen version which starred Barbara Stanwyck. It is the radio play, however, that forms the basis for the Company production.

"Our show is an adaptation of the radio play so we won't have any of the flashbacks that were seen in the film. What we're presenting is one act and only 22 minutes long."

It may be brief, but the stage show will still feature a large cast of local actors including Newton's Tracy Nygard as Leona, and South Shore actors

Tracy Nygard as Mrs. Stevenson in "Sorry Wrong Number."

Lisa Rafferty, director of "Sorry Wrong Number."

Theresa Chiasson and Matthew Maggio of Braintree, Cinda Donovan of Scituate, Stephanie Gallagher of Plymouth, Eric Braun of Hanover, Marsha Lehane of Weymouth, Susan Waterman of Marshfield, and Jamie Poskitt of Halifax. They play a host of characters including receptionists and switchboard operators reached during housebound Leona's efforts to get help.

"Audiences will be drawn forward into this woman's world. Leona is very wealthy, of course, but she's also an invalid alone in a New York City apartment where her money is cold comfort. People will be on the edges of their seats watching Leona's struggle up close. It will be an extremely suspenseful experience," predicts Rafferty, perhaps best known as the creator of "The MOMologues" and "MOMologues 2: Off to School," which in addition to local runs have recently toured the Netherlands. With her husband, Steve, Rafferty is raising two daughters, Megan, 12, and Molly, 11, and a 9-year-old son, Conor. In addition to directing community theater on the South Shore, Rafferty teaches at Notre Dame Academy in Hingham. She also has a first-hand understanding of her current project's subject matter.

"Not that long ago, I was on my home telephone and I could hear my neighbor's voice speaking to someone else. Lines are still getting crossed even today. My neighbor wasn't planning any murder, of course, but the whole situation still caught me very much off guard. I don't think anyone will be able to resist being drawn into this story by the power of the writing and by Tracy Nygard's stunning ability to capture the helplessness and frustration of someone not able to make others take her situation seriously."

While Rafferty hopes her show will be suspenseful she knows its companion, "Clue," the "who-did-it-where-with-what" murder mystery based on the Parker Brothers board game, will take a whole different tack.

"People will be sitting forward in terror during our show and then leaning back in laughter in the very same seats for 'Clue'."

"Sorry, Wrong Number" and "Clue" will be presented as a double bill of one-act plays at the Company Theatre, 30 Accord Park Drive, Norwell, through Oct. 28. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 781-871-2787 or go online at companytheatre.com.

Reunions

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL All class reunion Oct. 13, social hour 6 p.m. dinner catered by Fasano Caterers at 7 p.m. at the Sons of Italy Hall, King Hill Road, Braintree. $30 per person. Call Barbara Johnson at 617-479-3604.

ROCKLAND HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1972 Reunion, Oct. 20, from 7:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Contact Fran Carriere, franc516@aol.com/781-878-4832 or Bill Holland, cycling53@comcast.net/781-740-5070.

WHITMAN-HANSON REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL The Class of 1962 is having their 45th class reunion Oct. 20, at Stoneforge at Bert's Cove, Plymouth. Cocktails start at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m. with music by a local DJ until 11 p.m. Any questions call Mary-Jane Ricker- Harris at 781-294-8239 or Marsha Walkey Booth at 508-866-9112.

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1972 is planning a reunion for Oct. 26. More information is available at classmates.com and will be updated regularly. They are trying to locate classmates. Log on to the Classmates web site and become a member so that they can reach you and you can receive notice of updates. You can also visit tessahoc72@yahoo.com

EAST BRIDGEWATER HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1957 will hold its 50th class reunion on Oct. 13, at 7 p.m. at The Grill in the Holiday Inn in Brockton. Additional events are planned for that weekend. The Classes of 1956 and 1958, as well as others from the 50's who might like to participate, are invited to join us for the festivities. Michael Buckley, David Clifford and Barbara Rogers are missing from the list. Anyone with information on them, or with interest in the reunion, contact Howard Wilbur at 508-378-3473.

ALL FORMER CAMPER/COUNSELORS-50TH CAMP REUNION, Camps Winni, Kingsmont and Ossipee. Nov. 3, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Lantana in Randolph 43 Scanlon Drive, Randolph. Cost: $50 per/person dinner, entertainment, dancing and a "camp momento." Register on-line youhadtobethere.org or send a check to Don McGibbon, 108 Walker Lane Abington, MA 02351. For information contact Don McGibbon at DonaldMcGi@aol.com or Donna (Ripley) Fallon at djfall@comcast.net or visit youhadtobethere.org. Spread the word. RSVP by Oct. 15. 781-961-4660.

HOLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL – Class of 1987, 20th year Reunion Nov. 10, from 7 to 11 p.m. Cocktail Reception at The Four's Restaurant, 15 Cottage Avenue, Quincy. Includes: cash bar, appetizer buffet, desserts, and a DJ. Cost: $40 per person. RSVP to: hhsclass1987reunion@yahoo.com or call 617-240-3846 as soon as possible.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987 Alumni are planning the HHS Class of '87 20 Year Reunion - and are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net The reunion will be held at the Red Parrot in Hull Nov. 23, from 8 p.m. to midnight.

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1977 will be holding their 30th class reunion on Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1982 25th reunion takes place at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland on Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1977 30th Reunion, 7 p.m. to midnight Nov. 23, at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit www.BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr., Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holiday-inn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

Calendar of events

The Friends of the Boston Harbor Islands are sponsoring a trip to Great Brewster Island on Oct. 14. The boat will depart from Rowes Wharf at 11 a.m. arriving back at 3 p.m. Rowes Wharf is in downtown Boston (by the Boston Harbor Hotel, Atlantic Avenue). The closest T station is South Station (Red Line). The trip goes regardless of the weather, with no rain date. Ride the "Culebra" out to the edge of the harbor. Great Brewster is a drowned drumlin, a 100' hill formed by glacial action about 15,000 years ago. Either take a guided tour or explore on your own. Pack a picnic and water. Space is limited, advance paid reservations are strongly recommended. Any tickets still available on the day will be sold from 10am at Rowes Wharf, first come first served, cash only please. The cost is $25 for adults, $24 for seniors (65+), and $22 for FRIENDS members or children (0 - 12). For information visit fbhi.org or call 781-740-4290.

Thursday, Oct. 11

The Mass Audubon North River Wildlife Sanctuary located at 2000 Main St., (Route 3A), Marshfield presents "Journeys" Art Show at the Mass Audubon North River Wildlife Sanctuary through Oct. 30. Paintings and photographs by Paula Christie, Deborah Lenahan, Flora Moynihan, Betty Rogers and Jay Shippole from their recent adventures to China, Iceland, Italy, Spain, the Caribbean and the USA.

Avid traveler and Norwell resident, Deb Lenahan will speak about a trip to the Darien Province, Panama at the Thursday Tea, Oct. 11, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the South Shore Natural Science Center, Norwell. The travelogue is usually an hour followed by tea and delicious desserts. Register in advance. Cost: $8 members/ $10 non members. For information and to register, call the South Shore Natural Science Center, 48 Jacobs Lane, Norwell at 781-659-2559.

The Plymouth Farmers' Market, held from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m., through October at Stephen's Field located off of Route 3A, just south of Plymouth Center. Oct. 11, singer-songwriter Sherry Malone. For information, contact Barbara Anglin, market manager, at 508-732-9962.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 11, The Bullets 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree every Thursday, Stump Team Trivia at 8:30 p.m. 781-849-7007.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell. Oct.11, Sean Killoran.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 11, DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Satch Romano's open mic with host band, Paul Speidel Band with Lisa Marie at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796 nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Friday, Oct. 12

The North River Arts Society, in collaboration with the Atlantic Symphony Orchestra, has organized a unique art exhibit titled BLUE to be held Oct. 12-19, at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. On Friday, Oct. 12, from 7 to 10 p.m. come to the opening reception and view paintings, photographs and mixed media exploring the myriad facets of the color blue. Meet the artists, listen to live music by members of the acclaimed Atlantic Symphony Orchestra, and meet dynamic conductor Jin Kim. In addition, you will be treated to the unveiling of acclaimed artist David Brega's new masterwork, Coming Home. This new painting will be raffled this spring to support efforts to restore and revitalize the North River Art Society's home at the G.A.R. Hall. Ticket sales for this raffle will begin at the opening reception. The BLUE exhibit runs until Oct. 19. Hours: M-F 9 a.m. to noon weekends from 1 to 4 p.m. Admission to the opening reception is $10. Complimentary hors d'oeuvres and cash bar featuring blue martinis. Admission to the weekend open house is free. For information, contact the NRAS Office at 781-837-8091 or visit our website: northriverarts.org

South Shore Art Center, 119 Ripley Road, Cohasset. Fall fundraiser, titled artini takes place Friday evening Oct. 12 at 7 p.m. The event is $35 for members, $45 for non-members. Reservations for artini can be made by calling 781-383-2787 or Art Center members can reserve online at ssac.org.

Single Executives Club Singles Dance Oct. 12, at Radisson Hotel Grand Ballroom, 929 Hingham St., Rockland. Exit 14, Rte. 228, off Rte. 3. Dancing with music by award-winning DJ from 8:30 to midnight. Complimentary hors d'oeuvres, free door prizes, and match game prizes. Free dance lessons from 7:30-8:30 p.m. For singles & couples, 35+ years old. Cost is $10 before 9. Proper business dress required; sports jacket highly recommended. 781-446-0234. se-4u.com.

South Shore Singles will sponsor our bi-monthly dance with DJ: Rick Walsh from 8 to 11:30 p.m. at the Abington VFW, 30 Central Street, Abington. Doors open 7:15 p.m. Free dance lesson 7:30 to 8 p.m. Free snacks and coffee, cash bar. Dress to impress. 781-331-0021 southshoresingles.org

New England Singles Dances, Sheraton Braintree Grand Ballroom, Route 93, Exit 6, Braintree. DJ Admission$12.

Holbrook Public Library annual book sale, 5 to 8 p.m. on Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. The sale will take place in a large tent on the grounds of Holbrook Junior-Senior High School. For more information, visit the library Web site at holbrookpubliclibrary.org or contact book sale committee chairperson Lori Koffink at 781-767-1768.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Oct. 12, Radio For the Blind 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke, Oct. 12, Spank 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St Braintree every Friday at 8:30 p.m. DJ Rick. 781-849-7007.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell. Oct.12, Elbow Room.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Oct. 13 at 9:15 p.m., Bind Billy & The Spectacles No cover 781-335-9796 nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 12, Circles End 781-837-6368.

The Sea Note, 150 Nantucket Ave., Nantasket Beach. Oct. 12, Dirty Blonde. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email the seanote@aol.com

Saturday, Oct. 13

The Green Harbor Village Association invites you to its Annual HarvestFest, Saturday, Oct. 13 from noon to dusk on Marginal Street in Green Harbor. Local musicians and artists including Tim Byrne, Memphis Rockabilly Band and Basix Black will provide ongoing entertainment. Crafters are welcome. For information on table space, call Deborah Habel, 781-834-9354. Proceeds go to Green Harbor beautification and local charities. To help support Marshfield Community Christmas, bring a new, unwrapped toy to Harvestfest.

Braintree High School All class reunion Oct. 13, social hour 6 p.m. dinner catered by Fasano Caterers at 7 p.m. at the Sons of Italy Hall, King Hill Road, Braintree. $30 per person. Call Barbara Johnson at 617-479-3604.

CALENDAR

Sue Burton

Loretta LaRoche

Loretta LaRoche, highlights Women in Comedy 2007 at Plymouth Memorial Hall in Plymouth, on Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. Loretta is joined by Jane Condon (Last Comic Standing and Ladies of Laughter Contest), Kelly MacFarland (Comedy Central's Laugh Riot & Premium Blend and NBC's- The Biggest Loser), Sue Burton (Nick at Nite's America's Funniest Mom) and Chrissy Kelleher (Nick at Nite's America's Funniest Mom). A portion of the proceeds will benefit the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Tickets are priced at $40 for cabaret Seating and $30 for General Admission. Tickets are available at the box-office at 50 Court St., in Plymouth, by phone at 508-747-1340, online at plymouthhall.com, and all FYE and Strawberries Outlets.

TOWN COMMONS

OCTOBER 11-19, 2007

BEST BET

The New England Herpetological Society will hold its annual Fall Show and Sale from 1 to 4 p.m., Oct. 14, at the Thomas E. Curtis Wildlife Center, 500 Columbian St., South Weymouth. The event will feature tours of the wildlife center, live reptiles on display as well as for sale, and reptile food, books, and supplies. Tables are available for vendors. For information visit neherp.com or call 781-789-5800.

Continued from previous page

Saturdays at the South Shore Natural Science Center, 48 Jacobs Lane, Norwell. Feed the Animals program is each Saturday, 10 a.m. Free with the price of admission. Feed the Animals program is also each Wednesday at 3 p.m. and Monday holidays at 10 a.m. Science Center hours are: Monday through Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; admission is $5 adults, $3 children and seniors. Beginning Oct. 13, a new program, Meet an Animal, offered each Saturday at 2 p.m. With over 25 species of different animals, the naturalist will introduce the visitor to a different animal each week and give a short presentation on their habitats and adaptations. Free with the price of admission. Admission includes the EcoZone, interpretive exhibits depicting the ecosystems of southeastern Massachusetts. Animal Planet's, Jeff Corwin had the vision of creating the EcoZone. For information call 781-659-2559 or view ssnsc.org

Church Hill United Methodist Church, corner of River and Church streets, Norwell, will host a breakfast to benefit Habitat for Humanity from 8 to 10 a.m., on Oct. 13, at pancakes, sausage, muffins, juice and coffee will be served. Cost is $5 for adults, $4 for children. A church yard sale will also take place Oct. 13, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., rain or shine, in the sanctuary basement and on the lawn, weather permitting. Proceeds from the yard sale will benefit the Mission of the Church. For information, call the church at 781-826-4763 or email chumcnorwell@aol.com.

St. Helen Church, 383 Washington St., (Rt. 53) Norwell, will hold a Touch-a-Truck fundraiser from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Oct. 20. Admission is $5 per child (adults and children under 2 are free). Children will be able to look at, learn about, and climb into a variety of trucks, including a fire truck, moving van, cherry picker, army truck, antique car, school bus and more. Admission also includes a trolley ride through Norwell.

South Shore Dancers presents a Harvest Moon Ball semi-formal on Oct. 13, at the Cushing Center on Route 123, Norwell. Lesson at 7:30 p.m. with general dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. The cost is $9 for members and $10 for non-members. Call Tom Osterland for reservations at 781 659-4703 or visit SouthShoreDancers.org.

Hull Artists Studio Connection's October Open Studios Weekend Tour Oct. 13,14, and 15. A map with locations and artists hours is available at Art on the Avenue, 1037 Nantasket Ave. in Hull 781-925-5619 or visit hullartists.com There will be 12 studio locations and 19 artists showing their work. Free to the public.

The MSPCA Metro South Animal Care & Adoption Center, 1300 West Elm St., Ext., Brockton, will host its bi-annual yard sale Oct. 13 and 14, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. All proceeds go to benefit the approximate 5,000 animals that pass through their doors each year seeking kindness, compassion and care. For information, contact Kate O'Donnell at 508-586-2053.

Loretta LaRoche, highlights Women In Comedy 2007 at Plymouth Memorial Hall in Plymouth, on Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. Loretta is joined by Jane Condon (Last Comic Standing and Ladies of Laughter Contest), Kelly MacFarland (Comedy Central's Laugh Riot & Premium Blend and NBC's- The Biggest Loser), Sue Burton (Nick at Nite's America's Funniest Mom) and Chrissy Kelleher (Nick at Nite's America's Funniest Mom). A portion of the proceeds will benefit the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Tickets are priced at $40 for cabaret Seating and $30 for General Admission. Tickets are available at the box-office at 50 Court St., in Plymouth, by phone at 508-747-1340, online at plymouthhall.com, and all FYE & Strawberries Outlets

Company Theatre, 30 Accord Park Dr, Norwell, presents two shows in one evening with Clue and Sorry, Wrong Number being performed on the same night. Performances run Oct. 12 through 28. First up is Sorry, Wrong Number, After a brief intermission, audiences will enjoy Clue, the "who-did-it-where-with-what" murder mystery based on the very popular board game. With surprise endings being offered each performance. Tickets are priced at $21-$23 and are available at the Company Theatre box-office at 30 Accord Park Dr., in Norwell, by phone at 781-871-2787, and online at companytheatre.com

Yoga at the Country Club of Halifax. This an all levels yoga class is currently ongoing at the Country Club of Halifax, on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. This class is suitable for all levels - beginners to advanced - and drop-ins are welcome. For information contact Stacey at 617-548-5877 or via email at stacey@letitflowfitness.com.

The Hingham Civic Music Theatre presents Rodgers & Hammerstein's "Cinderella," Sanborn Auditorium, Hingham Town Hall, 210 Central St., Hingham. Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 14, at 2 p.m.; also Oct. 19-20 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. Adult tickets, $16; students $15, seniors $14, and groups of 10 or more, $12. Visit HCMT.org, or call Ticket Hotline, 781-837-1499. Mandy Mitchell of Braintree plays Cinderella and her Prince Charming is Cohasset's Andrew DeVitre.

South Shore Dancers presents a Harvest Moon Ball semi-formal on Oct. 13, at the Cushing Center on Route 123 in Norwell. There will be a lesson at 7:30 p.m. with general dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. The cost is $9 for members and $10 for non-members. Call Tom Osterland for reservations at 781-659-4703 or visit SouthShoreDancers.org.

Macy's and The Fashion Focus Modeling and Finishing Program are sponsoring a fashion show and Model Search on Oct. 13, at 2 p.m. at the Independence Mall in Kingston. The show is to help celebrate Macy's "Shop for a Cause" day. The proceeds from the $5 pass goes directly to local charities and is your ticket into a fun and rewarding day of shopping at Macy's. Events include Story telling by "Big Joe", performances by the Plymouth Philharmonic/Jazz, Kurig Coffee demonstration, Plymouth Children's Art Guild, food samples from many different local restaurants and bakeries, and music provided by Red Hot Entertainment. Directly after the fashion show, Model Club, Inc of Boston will be conducting a Model Search for it's new faces division for print and talent. For details contact Maria Wood at 781-826-0241.

King Richard's Faire, a re-creation of the marketplaces of 16th century England, will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 21, and Monday, Columbus Day on Route 58 in Carver. Admission is $25 for adults and $14 for children ages 5 to 12. Children under 5 are admitted for free. Special group rates for 25 or more are available. Parking is free. 508-866-2311 or kingrichardsfaire.net.

Run O' The Mill, 6 Spring Lane (the Gristmill), Plymouth. Oct. 13, Traditional Irish Seisiun every Saturday evening from 5:30 to 9 p.m. Great tunes and songs of infinite variety from sea chanteys, rebel songs, and songs of loss, to jigs, reels, and hornpipes, with great craic and sing-along. Admission is free. No Cover. Come sing, come play, come listen. 508-830-1262.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Oct. 13, Blind Ambition 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 13, Jon Frattasio & Friends 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.13, Union Jack.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Oct. 13, The Love Dogs. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Sunday, Oct. 14

Jade Forest Kung Fu/Tai Chi of Cohasset will offer a Tai Chi Open House on Oct 14, from noon to 1 p.m. Free and open to the public. Wear loose clothes and come join in to learn the secrets of the ancient martial art of Tai Chi, including stretching and Chi Kung (Qigong). Refreshments to follow. Call 781-383-6822 to register.

The New England Herpetological Society will hold its annual Fall Show and Sale from 1 to 4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 14, at the Thomas E. Curtis Wildlife Center, 500 Columbian St., South Weymouth. The event will feature tours of the wildlife center, live reptiles on display as well as for sale, and reptile food, books, and supplies. Tables are available for vendors. For information visit neherp.com or call 781-789-5800.

Archbishop Williams High School, a Catholic co-educational high school located at 80 Independence Avenue in Braintree, is hosting an open house on Sunday, Oct. 14 from noon to 2 p.m. For information, call 781-843-3636 or visit awhs.org

The New Jazz Echo band, trumpet, sax, piano, bass and drums, will perform at Thayer Public Library, 798 Washington St., Braintree at 3 p.m. Oct. 14. Inspired by Ellington, Davis, Coltrane, Jobim and others, this is an eclectic band which plays many jazz favorites. Concert is free. For information call 781-413-1327.

Join the NSRWA Oct. 14 from 1 to 4 p.m. for a walk at the Ellis bog, followed by a visit to an active cranberry bog during harvest season. Carolyn Sones, NSRWA Board Member, Sarah Garretson Lowry, a member of a fourth generation cranberry growing family and Doug Lowry, NSRWA Board President will talk about the natural and cultural history of cranberry bogs. Bring your binoculars, for migratory ducks and magnifying glasses for fall dragonflies. Cranberry treats will be provided. Suggested donation is $5 per person. Park on Sandy Hill Drive off of Plain Street (Rte 139) in Marshfield. The entrance is in between Sandy Hill Drive and the United Methodist Church at 185 Plain St. (Rte 139). Pre-registration is required. Contact Paula Christie at 781-659-8168 or email paula@nsrwa.org

BEST BET

The Old Ship Coffeehouse off the Square presents Eric Cometta and Friends in concert Oct. 20, at 8 p.m. This Hingham singer-songwriter is an open microphone legend from Harvard Square to Greenwich Village and back again. To add to the liveliness and fun of the evening, he's asking Jane Gilmartin, a traditional balladeer with a wide repertoire of Scots and English ballads to share the stage along with some Old Shippers and flexible folk friends who will to join him in a song or two. The Coffeehouse off the Square is at the Old Ship Church Parish Hall, 107 Main St., in Hingham Square just up from the Loring Hall Theater and on the MBTA's 220 bus from Quincy Center. Admission is $10 at the door (sorry, no reservations). The concert begins with an open mike at 8 p.m. Net proceeds benefit the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee. For information or to volunteer (free admission) call 781-749-1767.

Mark your calendar

THE HINGHAM MOTHERS' CLUB presents "Barns of Hingham" on Saturday Oct. 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. View seven barns of various ages, uses, and construction types including a state of the art garage with multi-purpose living space, two historical post and beam barns, and a timber frame barn and workshop. Advance tickets are available for $20 per person. Children under 12 do not require a ticket. Visit the website at hinghammothersclub.org or call 781-749-2195 for details. Proceeds to benefit scholarship fund.

PLYMOUTH PHILHARMONIC FUNDRAISING GALA Friday, Oct.. 26, 6:30 to 11 p.m., Waverly Oaks Golf Club, 444 Long Pond Road, Plymouth. Enjoy an elegant evening of music, friends and fine dining at the Phil's annual Auction Gala and Dinner. Bid on exotic vacations, stunning artwork, fun sports memorabilia and much more during the silent and live auctions including three hand painted violins by Andrew Kusmin, Sean Cassidy, Brenda Cobb as well as the Private Holiday Pops Dress Rehearsal item. Or, be the winning bidder on the chance to conduct the Phil! (Black tie or 20's attire optional). $75 per person / $560 per table of eight. For tickets or information call 508-746-8008.

MEET DUXBURY NATIVE AND WORLD RENOWNED ARTIST ANNA CONWAY AND CO ARTIST JOHN HODANY creators of the Duxbury Bay Mural featured in the picture book room of the Children's Department Nov. 3, at the Duxbury Free Library from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Both artists will be signing limited editions of their Mural. Small giclee prints are $125 and larger prints are $200. All proceeds benefit the Library. Tickets are $45 per guest and only 200 tickets will be sold through the Library and Westwinds Bookshop. Music provided by Duxbury students. Coastal theme fare catered by Simply Divine with a raw bar provided by Island Creek Oysters and cash bar. Duxbury Bay Murals framed by Artica Gallery, now on display at the Library will be raffled during the evening. The Friends are accepting preorders for prints at 781-837-0834.

Getting to the 'Heart' of the matter

By Katia Opatkiewicz
KOPATK@CNC.COM

South Shore Art Center Art teacher Patrice Kelly works with artist Nick Sida of Cohasset as he works on his project for the "Art from the Heart" fundraiser event Saturday.

For 51 years The Arc of the South Shore has created a fun and loving atmosphere for adults and children with mental and physical disabilities, offering many classes and support programs as well as family services and physical therapy.

For the past two years the Arc has hosted its annual "Art from the Heart" fundraiser to raise money for the programs it offers. This year's event will take place on Saturday, Oct. 13 at Thayer Academy in Braintree from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. The show will be presented by South Shore Co-operative Bank, and will showcase the talents of children and adults affiliated with the Arc.

People who attend will be captivated by the numerous art pieces that will be for sale while they are treated to many different wines, beers and hors d'oeuvres from the evening's restaurant partner, Bia Bistro.

Over the past two years the Arc of the South Shore has been able to raise more than $80,000 through the art event. All of this year's proceeds from the "Art from the Heart" fundraiser will go to early intervention, which is the discovery of children that have or may be at risk of developing a special need that may affect their development, as well as recreational programs.

One of these programs is "Hanging with Hickey" where Laurel Hickey, assistant coordinator to director of community support and recreation, takes Arc participants on weekend outings.

"Every weekend I take a group out. I usually take a group of my younger guys out on Friday nights, bowling, to the movies, or to museums, this weekend we are going to Salem," said Hickey.

"It gives the participants a chance to socialize with the community," said Claudia Cuscianna, appointed development coordinator of the Arc of South Shore.

Art from the Heart artists Jay Nothnagle, of Cohasset, left, and Peter Plante, of Cohasset work on their projects for Saturday's fundraiser.

"It is my job to help them with the social skills," said Hickey. During the outings the adults gain knowledge of social skills and make friends. "They sit next to a person in art class and that person becomes their friend."

The Arc offers many recreational programs as well, such as softball in the summer and basketball in the winter. There are Monday night art classes and participants at the Arc help with the Special Olympics. "I see so many people enjoying the programs and looking forward to coming back," said Cuscianna.

The Arc also provides classes in art for those who would like to participate.

"Peter loves going to the art class at the Arc," said Maria Plante, Peter's mother. "The Arc has the atmosphere most of these people need, with bright lights and large tables to work at.

"Their teacher is so inspirational to these students, they all love her," Plante said about the art teacher at the Arc.

Many people who come to the Arc are pleased to take the classes that they offer. Artist and Arc member Julie Ann O'Connell said, "I love it" about taking art classes and that she was very happy about her art work being displayed at the "Art From the Heart" fundraiser.

The Arc also hosts quarterly dances for the Arc community in order for them to socialize with friends and have a good time.

"The Arc and the community overlap in many ways," said Cuscianna. "We have asked the children in the special education departments of schools in Randolph, Cohasset and other schools to contribute to the 'Art from the Heart' show as well, and many of them are participants in our programs, so there is a lot of overlapping with the community in our projects."

Part of the Arc of South Shore is Harbor Industries, which offers an employment program that provides services that help adults with developmental disabilities become members of the work place through: skills training and interest evaluation, On-the-job training and transportation, In-house paid contract work, and communication and social training.

"The Arc of the South Shore is really about improving the quality of life for its participants," said Daryl Cook, appointed executive director of the Arc of South Shore.

The Arc of the South Shore serves Randolph, Milton, Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth, Hull, Hingham, Norwell, Scituate, and Cohasset.

Boating Skills and Seamanship Course. Sundays 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. offered by Flotilla 12-4 of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary at Metropolitan Yacht Club, 39 Vinedale Road, Braintree. The fee for the course, including materials, is $50. There is an early registration discount. For information contact Bill Fuller at 781-848-2906 or lwfj@verizon.net.

Seventh Annual Kitchen Tour at Cranberry Hospice. 1 to 5 p.m. Participants will tour six Duxbury kitchens and walk-ins are invited to stop along the tour at Timeless Design Kitchen Showroom, 459 Washington St., between 2 and 5 p.m. to sample a selection of complimentary refreshments. Tour tickets are $25 and available at Westwinds Bookshop, The Studio of Duxbury or by contacting Bonnie Casey at 781-934-4617. Raffle tickets for various prizes are available by contacting Patti Ryan at 508-830-2465. Raffle tickets are $5 a ticket, or a book of ten for $25. Proceeds to benefit Cranberry Hospice's Community Education Fund.

The Silverwood Trio, an innovative, classical chamber music group composed of flute/soprano, cello and piano, will return to The Art Complex Museum, 189 Alden St., Duxbury at 4 p.m. Oct. 14. Their repertoire covers a wide range of styles from the Baroque to Contemporary and includes original compositions by local composers. The members of the trio, Cindy Woolley, flute/soprano, Walter Halvorsen, cello, and Paul Hoffman, piano/composer, are graduates of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. 781-934-6634 x 12. Admission is free. Seating is limited.

CALENDAR, see next page

BEST BET

Hull Artists Studio Connection's October Open Studios Weekend Tour Oct. 13,14, and 15. A map with locations and artists hours is available at Art on the Avenue, 1037 Nantasket Ave. in Hull 781-925-5619 or visit hullartists.com There will be 12 studio locations and 19 artists showing their work. Free to the public.

SCITUATE MUSIC
Serving NE musicians since 1969
Over 700
Electric and Acoustic Guitars, Basses, Banjos, Dulcimers, Mandolins, Ukuleles
Fender Guild
Huge selection of Fender and Guild Guitars, Basses and Amplifiers
Heritage DOD Digitech Boss EMG
Seymour Duncan Sonic Nady EV Shure
Drum Sets
Cymbals Accessories Drum Lessons
PAYMENT PLANS
USED Guitars • Amps Drums • Effects
SONOR Ludwig SABIAN
DIGITAL PIANOS KEYBOARDS
CASIO
BAND INSTRUMENTS
NEW • USED SALES • RENTALS ACCESSORIES
PA System Rentals & Sales All Sizes
Guitar & Amp Repair DJ & 4-track rentals
Guitar, Bass & Drum Lessons
CDs • TAPES 10,000 TITLES
• Special Orders •
SHEET MUSIC
"One of the largest selections in New England"
Scituate Harbor 781-545-9800

Send your calendar news to ddinsmore @cnc.com

SINGLES DANCE
FRI., OCTOBER 12TH at 8:30
RADISSON HOTEL ROCKLAND
929 Hingham St., Rockland
(Exit 14, Rte. 228, off Rte. 3)
"Hundreds of Singles"
35+ y.o.
FREE Door Prizes
FREE Dance Lessons 7:30
Info: (781) 446-0234
$10 before 9. Proper Business Attire.
Singles Events:www.se-4u.com

TOWN COMMONS

OCTOBER 11-19, 2007

Evening of Native song and dance

Plantation offers bicultural concert series

By Rich Harbert
RHARBERT@CNC.COM

With all the talk these days about casinos, people might almost forget the Wampanoag people have a rich heritage of culture and talent.

Visitors to Plimoth Plantation located at 137 Warren Avenue in Plymouth, will get a reminder Saturday, Oct. 13, in an evening of native song and dance.

The Wampanoag Nation Singers and Dancers, featuring members of the Plantation's Wampanoag Indigenous Program, will open for Pamyua, an internationally renowned native group from Alaska. Pamyua, pronounced Bahm-You-Ah, infuse Inuit harmonies with tribal rhythms in a contemporary style. The band has performed around the world and was featured on the Grammy Award show.

The Wampanoag Nation Singers and Dancers perform traditional Northeastern indigenous music and dance and are known for getting audiences on their feet with infectious beats.

Wampanoag Nation Singers and Dancers, featuring members of the Plantation's Wampanoag Indigenous Program, perform Oct. 13 at the Plantation

Pamyua, an internationally renowned native group from Alaska, will headline the first concert in a bicultural series presented by Plimoth Plantation.

Linda Coombs, Jonathan Perry and Kitty Miller of the Plantation's Wampanoag Indigenous Program (WIP) are members of the group. Coombs is associate director of the WIP program.

The performance is part of a bicultural concert series featuring Colonial performances. The Revels Repertory Company will celebrate autumn with presentations of "Harvest Home" Oct. 21.

Plimoth Plantation celebrates both cultures on a daily basis.

The concert will be Saturday, Oct. 13, at 6:30 p.m., in the Plantation's Pavilion on the banks of the Eel River. The event will open at 5:30 p.m. for picnicking and early seating. Advance tickets for the show are available by calling the Plantation at 508-746-1622, ext. 8346. Tickets are $15 in advance, $18 at the door and $12 for members, seniors and children 12 and under. Children 5 and younger are free. Call 508-746-1622 or visit Plimoth.org for information.

Continued from previous page

South Shore Natural Science Center hosts Family Fun Day Bye Bye Birdies, Oct. 14 from 1 to 4 p.m. Birds fly thousand of miles to distant lands twice each year and use no navigational tools. Learn about these migrant birds on Oct. 14 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the South Shore Natural Science Center, Jacobs Lane, Norwell. This is a drop in event, with no sign-up necessary and price includes admission to the EcoZone. Learn about patterns of bird migration, adaptations, how birds communicate and behave. Enjoy games, crafts, demonstrations, exhibits and trail walks. Fee per person: $8 members/maximum of $32 per family, $10 non-members/ maximum of $40 per family. For information call 781-659-2559 or view ssnsc.org

King Richard's Faire, a re-creation of the marketplaces of 16th century England, will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 21, and Mondays for Labor Day and Columbus Day on Route 58 in Carver. Admission is $25 for adults and $14 for children ages 5 to 12. Children under 5 are admitted for free. Special group rates for 25 or more are available. Parking is free. 508-866-2311 or kingrichardsfaire.net.

The Friends of the Boston Harbor Islands are sponsoring a trip to Great Brewster Island on Oct. 14. The boat will depart from Rowes Wharf at 11 a.m. arriving back at 3 p.m. Rowes Wharf is in downtown Boston (by the Boston Harbor Hotel, Atlantic Avenue). The closest T station is South Station (Red Line). The trip goes regardless of the weather, with no rain date. Ride the "Culebra" out to the edge of the harbor. Great Brewster is a drowned drumlin, a 100' hill formed by glacial action about 15,000 years ago. Either take a guided tour or explore on your own. Pack a picnic and water. Space is limited, advance paid reservations are strongly recommended. Any tickets still available on the day will be sold from 10am at Rowes Wharf, first come first served, cash only please. The cost is $25 for adults, $24 for seniors (65+), and $22 for FRIENDS members or children (0 - 12). For information visit fbhi.org or call 781-740-4290.

Monday, Oct. 15

South Shore Habitat for Humanity Ninth annual Golf Classic, Oct. 15, Scramble Format Marshfield Country Club. Lunch will be served at 11a.m. preceding the shotgun start at noon. Cocktails, dinner, silent auction and prizes immediately following the tournament. To sign up or get more information, contact Al Marchionne at 617-471-5010 or al@marchionneinsurance.com. Complete details are posted at sshabitat.org/_pages/events-upcoming.shtml

Parenting Workshop Series. If you're tired of negotiating with your children over everything from breakfast to bedtime and want to spend your time teaching good behavior instead of nagging, bickering and punishing, join Lynne Reeves Griffin, the author of "Negotiation Generation: Take Back your Parental Authority" for a three week workshop series. Mondays Oct. 15, 22 and 29, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Wampatuck Elementary School Library, 266 Tilden Dr. in Scituate. Cost of $100 for all three weeks includes the new book. Visit LynneGriffin.com. Pre-registration required. 781-545-6585.

Toastmasters Club, Hanover, The new South Shore Professionals Toastmasters club will meet on the first and third Monday of every month. This is a great opportunity to learn about how Toastmasters can help you become a more effective leader and communicator. The meetings will run from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Rockland Trust building, 2036 Washington St.- third floor. Arrive 15 minutes early since the meeting starts at 6 p.m. sharp. Contact Stacey for information on this meeting at 617-548-5877 or stacey@letitflowfitness.com. For information on Toastmasters visit toastmasters.org.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 1, free Texas Hold'em with Northern poker league 781-829-6999.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 15, Texas Hold Em Poker 781-837-6368.

Tuesday, Oct. 16

Buttonwood Books & Toys hosts its semiannual event Coffee with the Authors 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. at the Atlantica Restaurant, Cohasset Harbor. This event is an opportunity to nurture your mind as you relax among friends and listen to three wonderful authors. The authors are John Elder Robison discussing "Look Me in the Eye: My Life with Asperger's", Leah Hager Cohen discussing "House Lights", and Michael C. White for "SoulCatcher". Reservations and tickets ($15 per person) are required. Tickets may be picked up at Buttonwood or send a self-addressed stamped envelope with your check to Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt. 3A, Cohasset, MA 02025.Please call Buttonwood at 1-781-383-2665 to reserve or order a signed copy if unable to attend.

Grub Street South at Buttonwood welcomes debut author, John Elder Robison, author of Look Me in the Eye: My Life with Asperger's, his memoir that describes his painful past. Robison will lead a workshop titled "Life Story Writing: Finding the Stories" at 7 p.m. Oct. 16, at Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt.3A, Cohasset. Reservations are requested and can be made by calling Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.

The Olde Kids, a 20-piece orchestra, playing music of the big band era performs at Striar JCC/Fireman Campus, 445 Campus St. Stoughton, every third Tuesday of the month from 1 to 4 p.m. Donation $5 per person. All welcome. No smoking. Wheel chair accessible. 781-341-2016.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 17, Game Show Trivia 781-837-6368.

Wednesday, Oct. 17

Healthtrax Fitness and Wellness in Hanover will be starting The Cancer Well Fit Program this fall. There will be an information night held on Oct. 17, at 7 p.m. at Healthtrax. For information call 781-826-1300 ext. 28 or 50.

The Dolphin Gallery, located in the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., presents On the Road: Italy & France with Kimberlee and Richard Alemian through Oct. 25.. The Dolphin Gallery may be viewed during library hours. For information visit hinghamlibrary.org

The Dolphin Gallery located at the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham presents the photography exhibit of Hingham resident Ed Boylan. His "Landscapes: Hingham and a Few From Beyond" may be viewed through Nov. 1 during library hours. 781-741-1405 hingham library.org

BEST BET

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 17, Texas Hold Em Poker 781-837-6368.

Thursday, Oct. 18

Dr. Mark Mincolla presents Mind Medicine - The Unlimited Healing Power, 7 to 9 p.m. Oct.18, at the Radisson Hotel Rockland Grand Ballroom, on Rt. 228 off of Exit 14, Rt 3. 929 Hingham St. Rockland. Call to RSVP 781 834-2728. Mail payments to: Healthy Living, P.O. Box 357, Marshfield Hills, MA 02051. Confirmation by e-Mail, please send your e-mail address with payment is accepting private reservations for dinner and appetizer. call hotel 781 871 0545 Hotel Directions go to: www.radisson.com/rocklandma

The Plymouth Farmers' Market, held from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m., through October at Stephen's Field located off of Route 3A, just south of Plymouth Center. Oct. 18, folk harpist Shelley Otis. For information, contact Barbara Anglin, market manager, at 508-732-9962.

Best of Bay State Night of Comedy. 6 p.m. at Granite Links Golf Club, 100 Quarry Hills Drive, Quincy. Tickets are $100. Corporate sponsorships are available and all donations are tax-deductible. Send checks payable to "Bay State Community Services" care of Gail Bork to Bay State Community Services, Inc., 13 Temple St., Quincy, MA 02169. For information call 617-471-8400 extension 184 or E-mail gbork@baystatecs.org.

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 18, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with host band, Oct. 18, Paul Fudin from Groove Authority at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 18, DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.18, Jamie Walker.

Friday, Oct. 19

JM Productions presents Two for Road starring Jan Peters and Carol O'Shaughnessy celebrating the best of The Great American Songbook & Broadway stage. Oct. 19, Dinner theatre shows will be held at Nantasket Beach, The Clarion Hotel, hosted by Raffael's Restaurant, in Hull .For tickets, call: JM Productions at 617)-786-SHOW (7469) or visit JM Productions secure website for on line credit card purchasing at: jmproductionspresents.com. Patrons can also call Raffael's at 781-925-4515! Tickets for show only are $30 per person for dinner and show $50 per person with special hotel rates to stay over at the Clarion.

Rockland Legion Baseball Team Comedy Night Fundraiser Oct. 19, at VFW Hal, Essex St., Whitman. Doors Open at 8 p.m. show starts at 9 p.m. two national headliners , music, dancing raffles, 50/50, food and laughs. Tickets $25 each or 10 for $200 (table) Call Thom Roache 781-871-6722.

Single Executives Club Singles Dance Oct. 19, 8:30 p.m. to midnight. The Lafayette House Ballroom, 109 Washington St., Rte, 1 south, Foxboro. Next to the End Zone Hotel. Dance music by award-winning DJ. Complimentary buffet all night. Numerous free door prizes and MATCH Game prizes. For all single professionals and couples 35+ yrs. old. Proper business dress required; sports jackets for men. Admission is $10 before 9. Call 781-446-0234 se-4u.comfor

Bag Full of Blue band. 9 p.m. at the Red Parrot, 258 Nantasket Road, Hull.

South Shore Folk Music Club, The Beal House, Route 106, across from First Parish Unitarian Church, Kingston. Oct. 19, 8 p.m. Coffeehouse featuring Paul Lee and Frank Albani. Open mike. Admission: $5 members; $6 non-members. Handicap accessible. 781-871-1052 ssfmc.org

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 19, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Oct. 19, at 9:15 p.m., Driving Blind. No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

New England Singles Dances, VFW Hall, 30 Central St., Abington. Admission $9. 617-325-4900 Ages 40 and over singles-dances-newengland.com

Halloween Happenings

THE LITTLE THEATRE OF STOUGHTON presents one act plays featuring "Beast of the Baskervilles" and "Frankenstein Slept Here" Saturday, Oct. 20 and 27, at 2:30 p.m. Town Hall, Great Hall third floor, Stoughton. Free admission. Costumes optional.

HALLOWEEN ROMP Come in costume at the Children's Museum in Easton's annual Halloween bash. The Halloween Romp will take place rain or shine at the Museum on Saturday, Oct. 20, 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Activities for all-ages include Halloween crafts, a creepy animal show with New England Reptile and Raptor, a lantern lit trick-or-treat romp through the garden, and more. Admission is $4 per member and $8 per person for non-members. Tickets are limited so call early to reserve yours. For more information, and to reserve tickets, call 508-230-3789 or visit childrensmuseumineaston.org.

THE MARSHFIELD YACHT CLUB ANNUAL KID'S HALLOWEEN PARTY will feature the Plymouth County Sheriff's Department's Fingerprinting Unit on Saturday, Oct. 20, at 1 p.m. Parents and children interact with trained PCSD Deputies to create a take-home identification kit. It takes just a few moments and children of any age can participate. For information on the Sheriff's Fingerprinting Unit contact Dan Connolly at dconn30@yahoo.com

THE INN AT SILVER LAKE HALLOWEEN PARTY The residents of The Inn at Silver Lake invite the community to join their annual Halloween party. Festivities for the kids include peanut free trick-or-treating, costume contests, games, food and more. The party will take place Oct. 29, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. The Inn at Silver Lake is located at 21 Chipman Way in Kingston. For information or directions call 781-336-5220.

HALLOWEEN TOUR OF BEACON HILL This tour takes place on Oct. 31, at 5:30 p.m. Walk the darker side of this seemingly charming neighborhood. From the public hangings on the Common to the dismembered George Parkman, Beacon Hill's heritage of mystery and suspense is a perfect way to spend All Hallows Eve. Guided by Boston By Foot, Inc., the tour begins from the steps of the Massachusetts State House on Beacon Street. Admission is $15 per person and reservations are not required. For further information and a brochure, call 617-367-2345 or visit bostonbyfoot.org.

HAUNTED HALLWAYS Federal Furnace Home and School Association of Marshfield presents Haunted Hallways Oct. 26, at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. Admission: $6 per person.

MASS AUDUBON'S MOOSE HILL, 293 Moose Hill St., Sharon, Halloween Critters: Oct. 31; from 10 to 11:30 a.m. What animals are associated with Halloween? Take a peek into the lives of bats, spiders, owls, and other Halloween creatures of the night. $8-$11 Pumpkin Carving: Oct. 25: 6 to 8:30 p.m. Plenty of pumpkins donated by Ward's Berry Farm, will be available, volunteers are needed to help carve pumpkins into Jack-O-Lanterns for the annual Halloween Prowl. Help appreciated any time after 1 p.m. Free, donations appreciated. 781-784-5691.

Send your Halloween events to ddinsmore@cnc.com or fax 781-837-4543.

The Hingham Civic Music Theatre presents Rodgers & Hammerstein's "Cinderella," Sanborn Auditorium, Hingham Town Hall, 210 Central St., Hingham. Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 14, at 2 p.m.; also Oct. 19-20 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. Adult tickets, $16; students $15, seniors $14, and groups of 10 or more, $12. Visit HCMT.org, or call Ticket Hotline, 781-837-1499. Mandy Mitchell of Braintree plays Cinderella and her Prince Charming is Cohasset's Andrew DeVitre.

BEST BET

An American Original - Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis Oct. 20, from 7 to 10:30 p.m. North Community Parish House, Marshfield Hills. An evening of theatre with Boston actress, Robin Lane as she portrays one of the most dynamic women in American history, Jackie Kennedy. Evening begins with a champagne reception, raffle items related to the Kennedy's and followed by coffee and deserts. Tickets: $22. and will be pre-sold and your name will be listed at the door. Proceeds benefit Daniel Webster Estate. Call Virginia at 781-837-2403 or Eileen at 781-837-7579 or visit danielwebsterestate.org

BEST BET

Marine Advisory: Get the Grady.

Grady-White sets the standard for safety, quality, reliability and performance even in the toughest conditions. Take to the water with confidence in the world's most superbly engineered small sportfishing boat. Get the Grady!

GRADY-WHITE

56 YEARS

BAYSIDE MARINE Corp.
441 WASHINGTON ST., DUXBURY
781-934-0561 • 1-800-540-0561
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Open 7 Days 8-6

- Marine Store
- Gas Dock
- Full Service Yard

INFINITI®

Premium Preowned Vehicles!

2004 Ford Explorer XLT

$14,900 Stk# I3807A

2002 Infiniti I35 Luxury

$14,995 Stk# 73872A

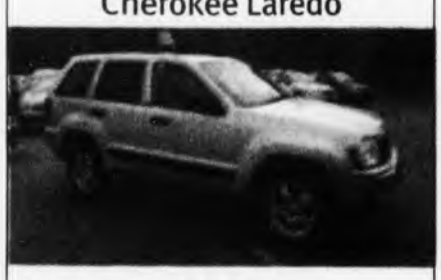
2005 Mazda Tribute S

$15,900 Stk# I3797B

2003 Honda Pilot EX

$15,500 Stk# I3753A

2004 Honda Accord Sedan EX



$16,900 Stk# 73821A

2003 Infiniti I35 Luxury

$17,479 Stk# 73849A

2005 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo

$17,499 Stk# I3724B

2001 Lexus RX 300

$17,880 Stk#I3708B

2005 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo

$17,999 Stk# I3619A

2003 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$18,479 Stk# 83843A

2003 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$19,479 Stk# I3734B

2003 Mercedes-Benz C Class 2.6L

$21,455 Stk# 83820A

2004 Lexus ES 330

$22,879 Stk# I3695A

2006 Nissan Maxima SE

$22,879 Stk# 73846A

2004 Infiniti G35 Sedan w/Leather

$23,479 Stk# I3757A

2004 Lexus RX 330

$28,479 Stk# P154

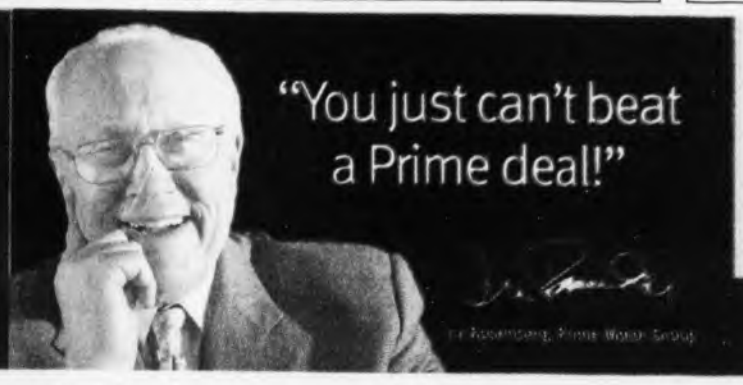
2007 BMW 3 Series 328xi

$32,900 Stk# P159

2005 Porsche Cayenne

$32,900 Stk# P140A

2006 Infiniti FX35



$34,879 Stk# P166

2003 Porsche 911 Carrera

$43,989 Stk# 83826B

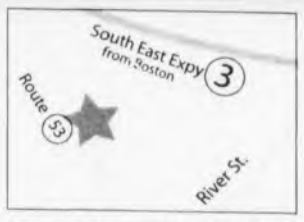
Your new location for Infiniti SALES and master SERVICE

THE PRIME PROMISE

We will have the model you want, with the features you prefer.
We will offer you superior pricing.
Our service will be unrivalled for promptness, courtesy, and quality.

No fancy showrooms. No fancy prices.

prime



INFINITI OF HANOVER

572 Washington St | Hanover, MA

888.425.8999

Open Mon - Thu 9 - 8. Fri, Sat 9 - 6, Sun. Noon - 5

www.primeinfiniti.com

Easy to get to. 1.8 miles from the Hanover Mall

45 *CAR-RT WSHC-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY R
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
The best of both worlds
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

SPECIAL LIVING 50+
► SEE INSIDE

GET AWAY
Experience Hawaii by sea
► SEE INSIDE

8 02722 99075 7 42

Paul Pratt Memorial Library
35 Ripley Rd
Cohasset, MA 02025

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 2007 | 56 Pages | 3 Sections | Vol. 28, No. 42 | $1.00

Behind the scenes at Holly Hill

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

► SEE PAGE 16

Sign of the times at Town Hall

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

► SEE PAGE 17

'Life is a Cabaret' in Cohasset

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

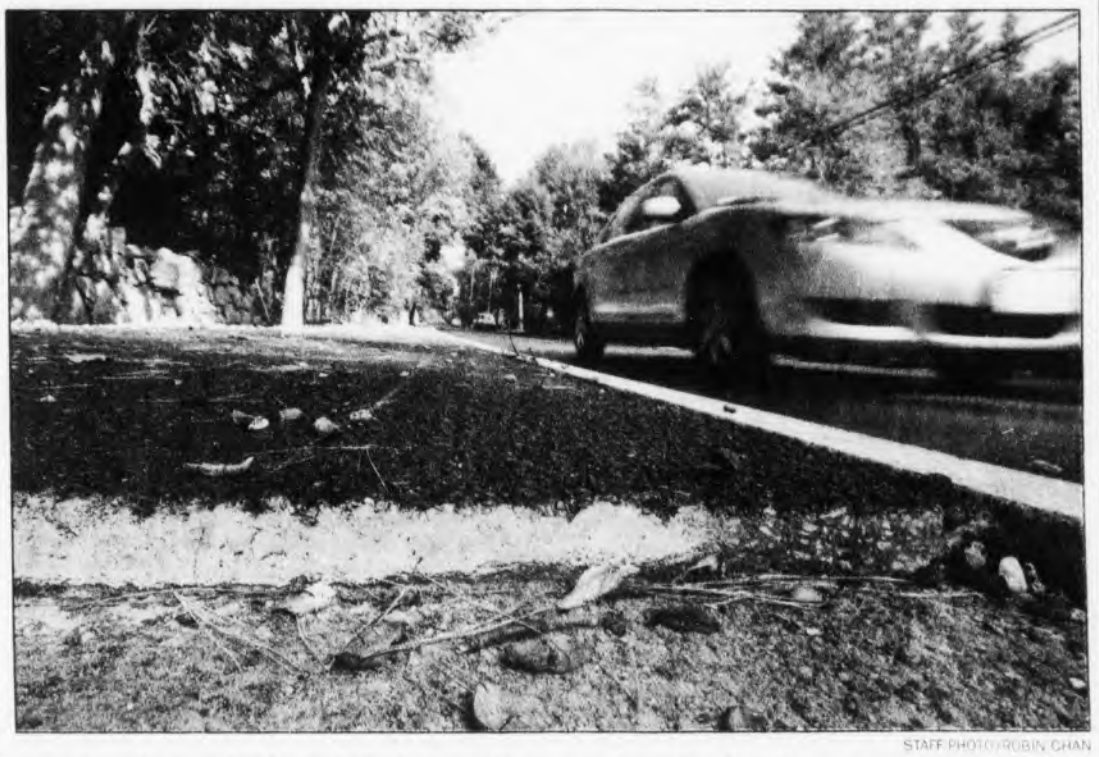
► SEE PAGE 25

QUICK INDEX

Bank robbery 3
Cat Dam update ...8
Sewer report 14
Village bylaw 15
Life at CHS 23
Archives 24
Water alert 24
Happenings 32

Wait for sidewalk almost over

Forest Avenue work nearly complete



By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

A new era has dawned for the residents of the Forest Avenue neighborhood as its sidewalk — over a decade in the making — is finally reaching completion. The result is a safe passage from the sands of Black Rock beach to the busy intersection at North Main Street for joggers, baby carriages, dog walkers and kids on bikes alike. But, even more than that, residents say the sidewalk will provide them with an overdue sense of community.

To celebrate the new sidewalk and to facilitate the coming together of neighbors, residents are planning a neighborhood get-together to highlight the many benefits of the sidewalk. The event is scheduled rain or shine for Saturday, Oct. 27 beginning at 10a.m. (see sidebar)

"A safer route to the train, schools, library, ball fields and the village will help connect us to the rest of town life in a way we couldn't enjoy before without packing everyone up in the

SEE SIDEWALK, PAGE 4

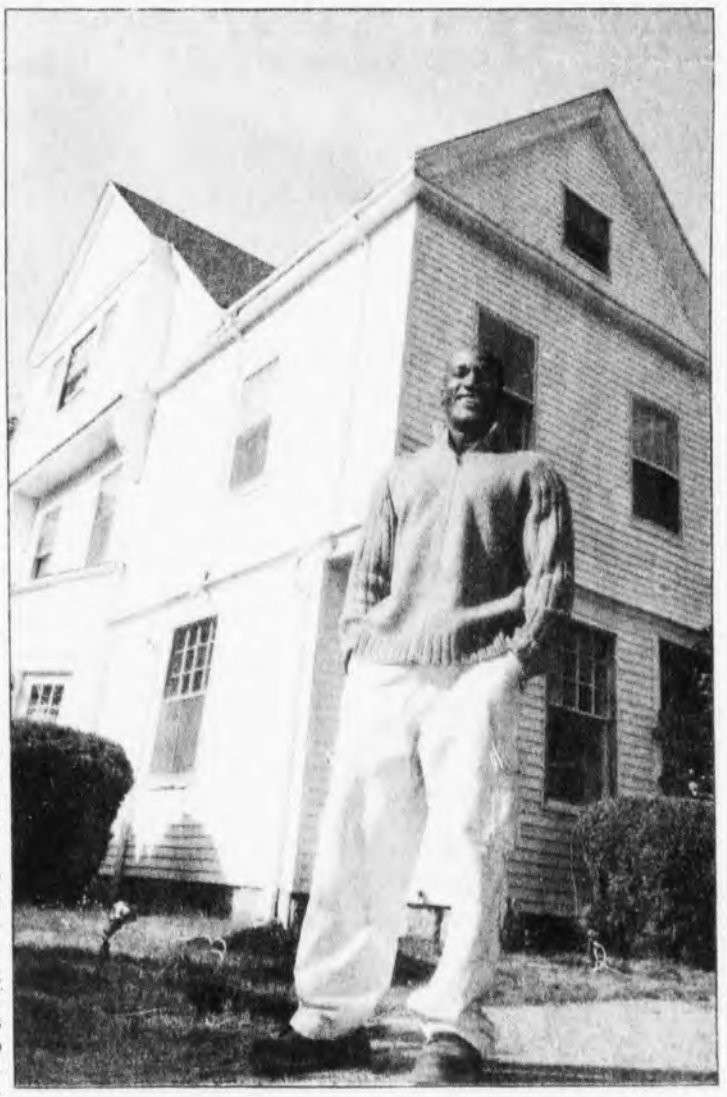
STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

A car drives by the end of the nearly finished — and long awaited — sidewalk on Forest Avenue. A celebration will be held to commemorate the completion of the sidewalk on Saturday, Oct. 27 at 10 a.m.

Ripley Road house plans return

Old hospital to host Halloween benefit

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM



Ghosts, ghouls, goblins and point guards are set to come together at the Vampire's Ball next weekend. Like a werewolf at a full moon, 25 Ripley Road has been transformed from an unassuming house to a haunted mansion in an effort to raise money for the Cohasset Basketball Boosters on Saturday, Oct. 27.

But, this Halloween transformation is only the beginning for property owner and developer, Will Charles. His plans, which are still in beginning stages, are to convert the current single-family residence into seven condominium units, two of which will be affordable under the state's Chapter 40-B law.

For Charles, opening up his house for the Vampire's Ball serves a dual purpose — to raise money for the basketball boosters and to let people know his plans for the building. Amid festive costumes, decorations, music and dancing, Charles will have available his proposed plans for the building which once served as Cohasset Private Hospital.

"I'm going to bring the building up more," says Charles. Since acquiring the property in June, Charles has injected his passion and energy into the project. He has spent many hours working on the home — doing the majority of the work himself with the help of his family but contracting out when a job was too big. Fresh coats of paint, refurbished floors and new appliances were installed in the first phase of the project. In the next phase he will give a facelift to the exterior of the home. New windows and wooden shingling will replace the vinyl siding. "It's going to be something great for the town."

SEE BENEFIT, PAGE 11

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SNOW

Will Charles stands outside his property at 25 Ripley Road. After hosting a Cohasset Basketball Boosters fundraiser, "Vampire's Ball," next Saturday, Oct. 27, Charles has future plans to convert the current single-family residence into seven condominium units, two of which will be affordable under the state's Chapter 40-B law.

More arrests

Two 16-year-olds facing charges

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

Two juveniles were arrested Sunday for allegedly making threats to the 15-year-old sophomore who was assaulted after school on Friday, Sept. 21.

Police Chief James Hussey said based on information supplied to police, detectives met with the parents and the victim and determined there was probable cause to arrest the two teens, who are both 16 and are students at the high school.

"We developed information that the two juveniles being arrested had placed this victim in fear that he might receive bodily injury."
— Police Chief James Hussey

One is being charged with two counts of intimidating a witness and the other is being charged with intimidating a witness and threats to commit a crime. In this case, the witness is also the victim of a crime, Hussey explained.

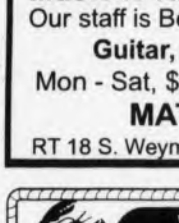
"We developed information that the two juveniles being arrested had placed this victim in fear that he might receive bodily injury," Hussey said. Police have not released the names of those arrested due to their age.

Police do not believe the boys being charged this week were at the scene Sept. 21 when another 16-year-old, who has been charged with assault and battery and assault and battery with a dangerous weapon (his foot), allegedly attacked the

SEE ARRESTS, PAGE 4

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436

DRIFTWAY AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com



Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E26267
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ▮ Bonds ▮ CDs
Mutual Funds ▮ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
Investment Representative 781-383-1996
www.edwardjones.com
Edward Jones
Serving Individual Investors Since 1871

Free Checking
Free ATMs
PilgrimBank
Cohasset
(781) 383-0541

VISIT US ON RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ · Since 1947
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

TRI TOWN
LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Holiday Ideas • Firewood Gift Wrapped
Barrels Sand & Salt • Loam • Mulch • Stone
FREE DELIVERY Saturday Deliveries 7-5
388 VFW Drive, Rockland, MA 02370
781-871-1700

ROCKLAND CEMENT BLOCK & FLAG CO.
285 Centre Ave., Rt. 123, Rockland, MA
781-878-8527 • 800-554-FLAG
• Birdbaths • Statuary

OCTOBER SALE
20% OFF
WITH COUPON • EXPIRES 10/31/07
IN STOCK ITEMS ONLY

IT'S TIME FOR HEAT!
Get 'more' for your Oilheat dollar.
Our name says so.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

The Clog Shoppe
Come Celebrate The Sunshine!
$10.00 off any regular price clog or sandal.

We now have Mel's Bracelets - $15
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street,
So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Summer Hrs: TWTS 9-5, M&Th 9-8, Sun 10-4

COUNTER PRODUCTIVE!
Need more workspace in your kitchen?
• Kitchen & Bath Remodeling
• Full Service • Additions, Decks
• Our own team of electric, plumbing, tile & granite professionals
Servicing the remodeling needs of our clients for over 20 years
Martin General Contracting
We stay on the job until it's complete!
142 East Street, Weymouth 781-337-5232
MA Lic # 056369
HIC# 142848
To view our other projects, please visit us online at www.mgc79.com

MUSIC LESSONS
Get 1 free lesson with this ad (new students only)
Music is fun and we're pros! Ages 7 up!
Our staff is Berklee and NE Conservatory alumni.
Guitar, Bass, Drums, Voice, Piano.
Mon - Sat, $22.00 1/2 Hour. All styles & levels.
MATT'S MUSIC CENTER
RT 18 S. Weymouth - 781-335-0700 - mattsmusic.com

VISIT OUR WEBSITE www.lobsterbarn.net
Hard Shell Jumbo Lobsters
Try Our Individual Clam-Boils
FULL PREPARED MENU EVERY DAY
HOURS: SUNDAY 10:30-7, WED.-SAT. 10:30-8
(781) 871-2433
The Lobster Barn
996 HANCOCK ST., ABINGTON
RT 18 TO RT 139W (Left at sign for Ames Nowell State Park)

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2931
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION MANAGER
Mike Spellman: 781-837-4508

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

PICTURE THIS/Susie Durant

Names: Susie Durant.

Occupation: ASP parent volunteer at the Pumpkin Patch.

Best day of your life: When the ASP buses pull into the parking lot and my kids return.

Best vacation: A three-hour shift volunteering at the Pumpkin Patch.

Favorite season: Autumn.

Favorite holiday: Halloween.

Favorite meal: Homemade pumpkin soup.

Best book: "Extreme Pumpkin Carving: 20 Amazing Designs from Frightful to Fabulous" by Vic Hood and Jack Williams.

Best movie: "Witches of Eastwick."

Best TV show: "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown."

PHOTO/MARY FORD

ASP volunteer, Susie Durant, is a familiar face at the Pumpkin Patch in Wheelwright Park. A second shipment of pumpkins arrived Wednesday. The Patch is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. through Oct. 31.

Pet peeve: People not signing up to volunteer at the Pumpkin Patch.

Most memorable moments: The 75-plus hours in my four years volunteering a the Pumpkin Patch.

Goal: For there to be an ASP pumpkin on every front door stoop.

Person you'd most like to meet: The next Pumpkin Patch customer.

Biggest worry: Rainy days on my shift.

Best part of Cohasset: ASP and all the volunteers.

Cohasset Board of Health to host flu clinic

There will be a flu clinic for seniors, 65-plus years old, and people with chronic health problems such as cardiovascular and pulmonary disease, diabetes, renal dysfunction, HIV positive or immune compromised individuals, from 10 a.m., to noon, on Tuesday, Oct. 23, and from 10 a.m. to noon, on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Cohasset Town Hall auditorium.

The town-wide flu clinic for all Cohasset residents will take place from 10 a.m. to noon, on Saturday, Nov. 3, at Cohasset Town Hall auditorium.

The flu vaccine is free, but seniors are reminded to bring their Medicare insurance card or Medicare HMO card with them, and all are asked to wear a short sleeve shirt for ease of administration.

For more information, call the public health nurse at 781-383-2210.

Parents of children under 18 years of age should consult with their pediatricians.

Brush and paint day set for Oct. 27

The final brush and paint day for 2007 will take place Saturday, Oct. 27. Brush can be dropped off in the DPW parking area from 7:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., and oil-based paint can be dropped off at the Recycling Transfer Station from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For more information, call 781-383-0273.

South Shore Tide Chart
EASTERN STANDARD TIME

Oct.	HIGH AM	Hgt.	PM	Hgt.	LOW AM	Hgt.	PM	Hgt.
Thurs. 18	4:44	7.4	4:51	8.4	10:33	2.1	11:16	1.3
Sunrise: 6:59 a.m.					Sunset: 5:57 p.m.
Fri. 19	5:39	7.4	5:47	8.4	11:29	2.1	—	—
Sunrise: 7:00 a.m.					Sunset: 5:56 p.m.
Sat. 20	6:36	7.6	6:46	8.6	12:11	1.2	12:28	1.9
Sunrise: 7:01 a.m.					Sunset: 5:54 p.m.
Sun. 21	7:30	8.0	7:45	8.9	1:07	1.0	1:27	1.5
Sunrise: 7:03 a.m.					Sunset: 5:53 p.m.
Mon. 22	8:23	8.6	8:42	9.2	2:02	0.6	2:25	0.9
Sunrise: 7:04 a.m.					Sunset: 5:51 p.m.
Tues. 23	9:13	9.3	9:36	9.6	3:54	0.2	3:19	0.1
Sunrise: 7:05 a.m.					Sunset: 5:50 p.m.
Wed. 24	10:02	10.0	10:29	9.9	3:44	-0.2	4:12	-0.6
Sunrise: 7:06 a.m.					Sunset: 5:48 p.m.
Thurs. 25	10:50	10.6	11:21	10.1	4:33	-0.5	5:04	-1.2
Sunrise: 7:07 a.m.					Sunset: 5:47 p.m.

Tides between Cohasset and Plymouth are within 10 min.

Matthew's JEWELERS
1 Hour Jewelry Repair
Ring Sizing
Chain & Clasp Repair
Prong Retipping
Jewelry Polishing
Rhodium Plating
Jonathan Livingston Square
130 King Street (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
(781) 383-1200

Easy Lift RECLINER
$899
BERKLINE RECLINERS
WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM
781-878-5759 • 1-800-696-5759
459 Plain St., Rte. 139, Rockland
Near the No. Abington Line
Open Daily 9-5:30
Friday 9-8:30
Sunday 12-4
FREE DELIVERY FREE DISPOSAL

SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
PERSONAL TRAINING
Acupuncture • Deep Tissue & Sports Massage
Group Exercise Classes • S.W.E.A.T.© Weight Loss Program
Gift Certificates
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

the BLIND STORE
SPRING WHITE Sale!
Direct Manufacturer of Symphony-Cellular Shades
Vertical Blinds & Custom Draperies
Design Consultants & Expert Installation Available
75% OFF
ie: Light Filtering Fabric-30x54
IS NOW $98
While Supplies Last! Similar Savings on Other Sizes. *In Stock Only
Comfortex BlindCraft
272 Columbia Rd., Rt. 53 • Tedeschi Plaza • Hanover 781-826-6229 • 1-800-244-5998
www.theblindstore.com

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Number One Readers Choice Awards #1 2005 2006
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31)
or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken w/cheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash
Call for an appointment
781-383-1403
Paperscapes
Stationery & Gifts
781-383-8008

We'll make you smile.
Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.
SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS
Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate • (781) 545-3466
New Patients Welcome • Free Initial Consultation

www.coupons.townonline.com

Holdup alarm sends police to Sovereign Bank

Rockland Trust in Hingham also robbed

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

For the second time in as many days a local bank has been robbed.

Rockland Trust, which is behind Marshalls off Lincoln Street (Route 3A) in Hingham, was robbed Monday afternoon.

Sovereign Bank, which is off Route 3A in Cohasset Plaza, was robbed on Saturday afternoon.

In both cases, police called in the Scituate K-9 unit but the suspects got away.

At 2 p.m. on Saturday (Oct. 13), Cohasset police responded to a holdup alarm at Sovereign Bank, 380 Chief Justice Cushing Highway

The officers who first arrived, confirmed that a robbery had just occurred. Bank employees said a white female, about 20 years of age, who was wearing dark-colored clothing and a hat, passed a note to a teller demanding cash.

The note inferred that the suspect was armed, police said. Witnesses said the woman fled on foot.

Cohasset police, with the assistance of the Scituate K-9 unit, were able to determine that the suspect ran toward Sohier Street. They searched the area but did not find the woman.

Police have notified the FBI Bank Robbery Task Force.

The Cohasset Police Criminal Investigation Unit is investigating and bank surveillance photos of the suspect have been posted on www.massmostwanted.org.

"This robbery is a reminder to us all that a serious crime can happen at any time," Cohasset Police Chief James Hussey said. "The bank employees did a nice job in staying calm. Our officers have developed some leads and the investigation is ongoing."

PHOTO/WWW.MASSMOSTWANTED.ORG

The surveillance photo taken of the suspect in the robbery of Sovereign Bank on Saturday.

"This robbery is a reminder to us all that a serious crime can happen at any time."

— Cohasset Police Chief James Hussey

An undetermined amount of cash was taken, police said.

At 3:12 p.m. on Monday (Oct. 15), a holdup alarm from the Rockland Trust on Sgt. William Terry Drive came into Hingham police headquarters.

Witnesses at the scene told police a while male went into the bank and demanded money. He told the teller that he had a gun, but a weapon was not shown, Hingham Police spokesman Lt. Michael Peraino said.

The suspect, who was described as being in his 20s, and wearing a white baseball cap, sunglasses, red and white shirt and baggy jeans, fled on foot with an undetermined amount of cash. Witnesses did not see a motor vehicle or the direction the man fled.

Hingham units canvassed the area and the Scituate K-9 picked up the scent at the front door of the bank and led officers behind the bank to the parking lot in Lincoln Plaza where the dog lost the scent.

"It appears he had a car waiting and we will be viewing the surveillance tapes of the parking lot," Peraino said. Police will also be sharing the videotape of the suspect when he was in the bank with other police departments.

Anyone with information should contact the Hingham Police Detectives' Division, at 781-749-1212.

The last time a bank was robbed in Cohasset was in April 2000. The Abington Savings Bank, which had a branch inside Shaw's at the time, was robbed at gunpoint by a lone white male caught on videotape. He laid a silver semi-automatic handgun on the counter at 7:45 p.m. and told the teller he wanted hundreds and fifties. That same bank was robbed five months earlier in December 1999 by a man wearing a ski mask. That 1999 robbery was the first in seven years in Cohasset.

The Rockland Trust at the old Cushing Plaza was robbed of $3,000 in cash by a lone gunman in March of 1992. That was the first armed, bank robbery in more than 10 years in Cohasset.

In Hingham, the Hingham Institution for Savings in Hingham Square was robbed in February 2006. In that incident, the suspect entered the bank and showed the teller a note and told her to empty her drawer; as she looked at him, his right hand was inside his jacket as if he had a weapon. No weapon was shown.

Police Beat

More stolen jewelry recovered

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

The second of two items of jewelry stolen from an antique shop off Route 3A has been recovered, police said.

A jewelry repair store turned in the second item last week (Oct. 9).

The shop owner has positively identified the two pieces.

It all started when the shop's proprietor notified police after she discovered some jewelry was missing after some people had come into the store and "gave her an uneasy feeling," Chief Hussey said.

She made a note of the plate number and called police when they turned up again. Police went to the store and talked with the people. Police are now in the process of charging those individuals, Hussey said.

Fight

Cohasset and Hingham police responded to a report about a fight on Hull Street near DiNero's last Friday at about 10:20 p.m.

The people involved were identified and some kind of assault and battery had occurred but police could not immediately determine who started the altercation and what caused it.

Police Chief James Hussey explained in a simple "assault and battery" meaning that punches were thrown, police cannot make an arrest unless they witness the incident.

Two of the three involved asked to go to the hospital. Police did not observe signs of intoxication so it is unclear if alcohol was a factor.

"We have identified the parties and if they want to seek a complaint they can," Hussey said.

Towel down

A man wearing only a towel went out to his car last Friday at about 11 a.m.; the towel fell down and a neighbor observed him naked and reported the incident to police who are investigating.

Med flight

Based on the bad injury to her ankle after falling off a ladder at her house, it was determined that a North Main Street woman be taken by Med Flight to a Boston hospital Tuesday, police said.

The helicopter landing zone was Milliken Field off Bancroft Road.

Speeding SUV

Police were unable to locate a black SUV that had been reported speeding up and down North Main Street Monday (Oct. 8) at about 12:45 a.m. One caller reported the vehicle as going 90 m.p.h.

Police received several calls but no license plate and the SUV was gone upon their arrival.

However, police are following up with the callers to gather more information.

Parent called

The mother of a girl, who had run away from home previously, was contacted after an officer became suspicious about a car parked at Wadleigh Park on Monday (Oct. 8) at about 12:58 a.m.

The officer heard a female voice shouting and saw two people run to the vehicle. He went up to the car and recognized the juvenile, a former runaway. The girl's mother was contacted as a precaution and came to pick up her daughter.

Credit card

An Oxford man discovered that his credit card was missing after he left a Cohasset restaurant. After he determined it was missing, he contacted the credit card company, which indicated someone in Cohasset had used the card. Police have taken a report and are investigating.

Shoplifting

Stop & Shop has issued a no-trespass order against a person who was seen going through the self-checkout line without paying for his groceries. With the no-trespass order in effect, the individual could be arrested if he goes back to the supermarket, which did not wish to take any further action at this time, police said.

Car keyed

A car parked at a residence overnight on Pond Street was keyed last week, damaging the front driver's side door and fender and rear door and fender. The car owner told police he did not know anyone who would vandalize his vehicle. The incident that was reported at 12:26 p.m. on Tuesday (Oct. 9) is under investigation.

Fake check

A store at Tedeschi Plaza reported receipt of a fake check for an on-line purchase on Tuesday (Oct. 9). The storeowner recognized the check from a prior incident that occurred the year before. The manager called the bank that confirmed the check was not real, police said. "We have copies of the check and detectives are investigating," Chief Hussey said.

Truck team

A State Police truck team was again called to inspect a 1990 garbage truck that had been stopped on Route 3A last month for faulty equipment.

The officer, who was familiar with the prior stop, observed the same truck on King Street last Friday (Oct. 12) at about 1p.m., with some of the same violations in effect. Based on those observations, the officer stopped the truck and it was determined that the required repairs had not been made.

The truck had no taillights, no marker lights and one headlight out, faulty brakes and other problems.

The truck was towed and the operator is facing some serious violations for putting the truck back in service without the repairs, Chief Hussey said.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry

We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.

Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling

Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)

Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.

Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES.
Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00

GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices
NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, Ma 02339
(Rt. 123 after Stop & Shop) www.gemorama.com

Here Comes The Bride

- Mother of the Bride & Groom
- Guests

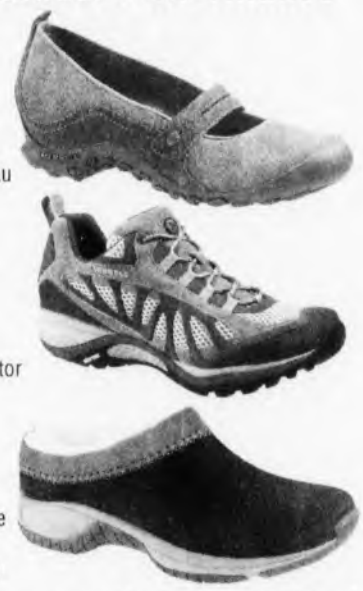
Large Sizes Available We Have It All

Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm

"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358



HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS

"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.

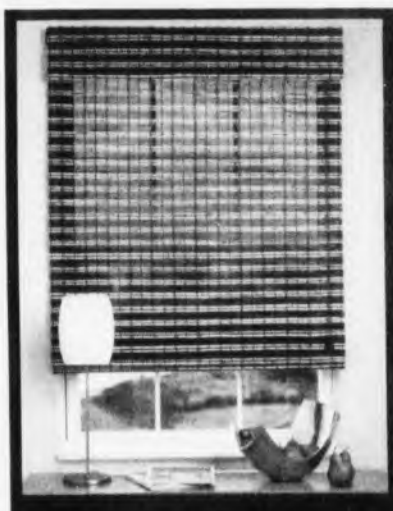
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.

Consignments by appointment
Mon - Sat. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-8

MERRELL®
Outdoor Performance

Plaza Bandeau
Siren Ventilator
Encore Chill Stitch

Complete Selection of Merrell Shoes for Men & Women



Shoe Market
Derby Street Shoppes, Hingham
(Rte. 3 at Exit 15) • 781.749.5411
www.theshoemarket.com

"Is your bulkhead leaking, rotting or rusted?"

- Experienced & Dependable
- All Steel Construction
- Galvanized Steel Available

FREE ESTIMATES
Licensed & Insured
SENIOR CITIZEN DISCOUNT
781-834-3399
EAST COAST BULKHEADS

LAFAYETTE
Natural Shades
Grasses
Reeds
Bamboos
visit our showroom and view the collection
617 964 4580
BARROWS THE WINDOW SHOPPE
365 Boylston Street
Newton
www.barrows.biz

Buttonwood Books & Toys
welcomes
TOMIE DEPAOLA
reading from
FRONT PORCH TALES & NORTH COUNTRY WHOPPERS on
Sat. Nov. 3, 11 AM
At Buttonwood Books & Toys

Front Porch Tales & North Country Whoppers is told with Tomie's classic warmth and humor, and the beautifully crafted illustrations and finely woven tales will keep readers laughing at the lives and antics of these delightful "locals".

Tomie will be happy to sign all books bought at the store for this event, including one (but only one) book from your home, library, or classroom. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a personalized or signed copy, please call Buttonwood at 1-781-383-2665

Buttonwood Books & Toys
Shaw's Plaza, Rte. 3A, Cohasset
Store Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9:30-8 - Sat. 9-6 - Sun. 12-5

AMERICAN GIRL® DOLL DRAWING
At BUTTONWOOD BOOKS & TOYS

WIN JULIE, the newest American Girl® historical character. Girls will enjoy reading about Julie Albright in her new book series, beginning with "Meet Julie," the first book.

DOLL DRAWING DATE: OCTOBER 31, 2007

Entry forms are available at Buttonwood. No purchase is necessary. Winner will be selected at random from entries received and will receive the doll as displayed at Buttonwood. Books and accessories are not included.

Buttonwood Books & Toys
Shaw's Plaza, Rte. 3A, Cohasset
1-781-383-2665 www.buttonwoodbooks.com
Store Hours: M-F, 9:30-8, Sat. 9-6, Sun. 12-5

INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!

- Slip and Fall
- Motor Vehicle Accidents
- General Litigation

No Fee Unless Successful

Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067

Wait for sidewalk almost over

FROM SIDEWALK, PAGE 1

car," says Trish Morse of 78 Forest Ave. and one of the organizers of the Oct. 27 event.

Like the prior Forest Avenue, it was a long and bumpy road to construct the new sidewalk. Residents began requesting the town to build a sidewalk for the growing neighborhood in the late 80s and early 90s. The road's rollercoaster topography made for dozens of blind driveways and treacherous pedestrian access. Parents didn't feel comfortable letting their children walk to the neighbors' home two doors down on Forest Avenue or taking their children for a walk. Neighbors could go years without ever knowing each other.

When Trish Morse moved to 78 Forest Ave. in 1996, she figured out very quickly taking walks with her one-year-old son in a stroller was not going to happen. "I didn't feel safe walking on the street."

As an alternative, she would pack the stroller and her son into the car, drive to the village and take her walks safely among the sidewalks in that part of town — a lot of effort for a simple walk.

But, the effort for a sidewalk began before Morse moved to town, a sidewalk study committee was formed and charged in the 90s to identify where sidewalks were lacking and prioritize potential sidewalk projects. The committee looked at the sidewalk's potential usage and the area's safety without one, says former chairman Peter Pearce of 23 Forest Notch. Only one project was given a higher priority than Forest Avenue — a section of upper King Street near Lily Pond that suffered from drainage problems.

However, how the town could fund the expensive project remained to be seen. In addition to the 7250 feet, or 1.5 miles, of sidewalk, Forest Avenue's sidewalk required ledge removal that drove up the price.

The project had starts and stops. With funding allocated from Town Meeting, a partial section of sidewalk near Black Rock Beach was completed. In the end, the funding was not enough to complete the project neither in total nor in the fashion many Forest Avenue residents has envisioned.

When Greenbush liaisons Mark Brennan and Tom Gruber came on in early 2005, they sparked hope for the languishing project. It started innocently enough, the Department of Public Works superintendent Carl Sestito came to their Town Hall office to have Brennan take a look at the Forest Avenue sidewalk plans. Their intimate involvement in the project evolved from there.

The town was able to receive Chapter 90 funding, an allocation from the state solely for road repair, for Forest Avenue which was riddled with potholes making for dangerous driving conditions. Once the funds were in place, the paving couldn't immediately commence. Two drainage projects, one on Heather Drive and one near the entrance to Wheelwright Park had to be completed first. The precursory drainage projects cost nearly $175,000. While the street and sidewalk has a price tag of $625,000.

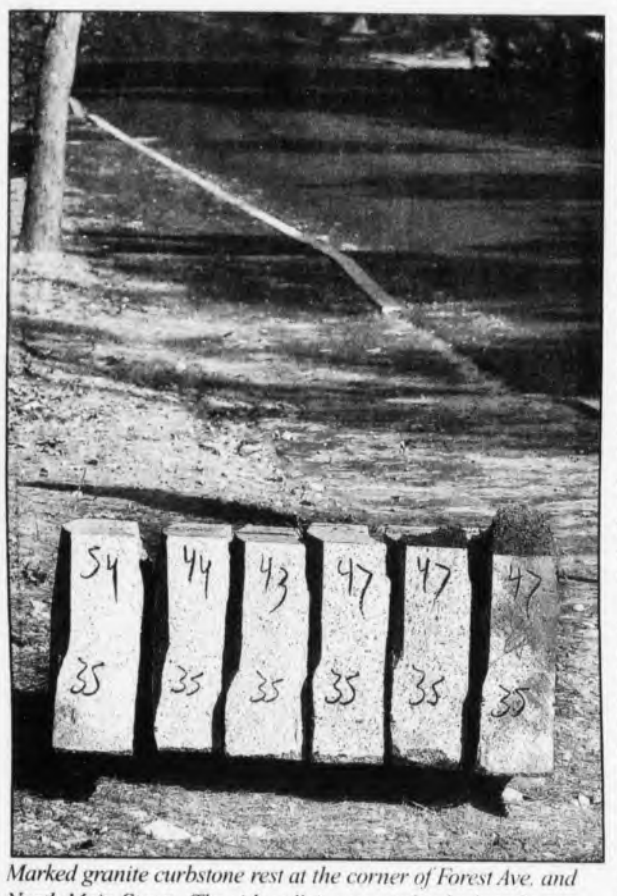
The project involved more than simply installing a sidewalk from 260 Forest Avenue to North Main Street, the entire roadway was improved. Drainage structures were rebuilt, about 44 trees (including eight stumps) were taken out, ledge was blasted, and the road was re-graded and paved.

"It was a monumental undertaking as far as the road, I was so happy the road was ground down 10-12 inches," said Surry Drive resident Dick Avery. Over his 35 years living in Cohasset, he had been through multiple paving projects on Forest Avenue, but none dug down deep enough to correct the problems underlying the road and potholes kept creeping up every winter, "it will payoff for years to come."

However, Avery wasn't 100 percent happy with the design of the sidewalk. The design was provided at no cost to the town by Norfolk County Engineering Department. He was concerned the granite curbing would pose a problem for bicyclists and winter snow plowing.

As a result of a public hearing in April, in part spurred on by a letter from Avery, additional "bike escapes" were added to the design to allow bicyclists and baby carriages to get on or off the sidewalk safely. A Cape Cod berm style sidewalk with a two-feet wide grass patch and no granite curbing was used where the town's right of way allowed (approximately 1500 feet). The granite curbing, in addition to providing a safe haven for pedestrians, acts as a traffic calming measure, says Gruber.

Avery says he couldn't give his final analysis of the project until the fog lines were painted. He is hoping there will be ample space for bicyclists on both sides of the street.



Brennan says the project now is between 85-90 percent complete and the majority of work will be finished by the end of this month, "a punch list will spill over into November," says Brennan. Thirty driveway aprons, a handful of bike escapes, a final pavement layer on 3000 feet of sidewalk, and 800-900 feet of wooden guardrails on severe slopes will be worked on in the coming weeks.

Several residents have said the inconvenience of construction is small price to pay for the end result.

"Now, we have a sense of community and a sense of being a part of the town," says Morse, "this sidewalk is going to serve the community for decades."

As former chair of the sidewalk study committee, Pearce hoped the town continues to set aside money for future sidewalk construction, citing Atlantic Avenue, Beach Street and sections of Jerusalem Road as prime targets.

"There are still areas heavily used that don't have the safety of a sidewalk," says Pearce.

Marked granite curbstone rest at the corner of Forest Ave. and North Main Street. The sidewalk is expected to be largely complete by the end of October. A street-long celebration to show all the new sidewalk has to offer will be held on Saturday, Oct. 27 beginning at 10 a.m. A ribbon cutting and official ceremony will be held at noon on Surry Drive.

STAFF PHOTOS/ROBIN CHAN

Jack Pereira, right and Tom Aiello of P.A. Landers of Hanover spread top soil between the sidewalk and the curb on Forest Ave. Wednesday. Several residents have said the inconvenience of construction is small price to pay for the end result.

Celebration next Saturday, Oct. 27

Plans are well underway for an event to showcase all the new sidewalk will offer to both the Forest Avenue neighborhood and the greater Cohasset community. Organizers Trish Morse and Diana van Etten have been working with local vendors and neighbors to put together an event with food, fun and a little fanfare.

"We wanted to put together fun activities that highlight what's great about Forest Avenue," says Morse. Three stations will highlight the avenue's access to town amenities via North Main Street, its entrance to the 80 acres of Wheelwright Park, and its proximity to Black Rock beach.

"A mile of fun for the whole family" will be set up along Forest Avenue to encourage families to walk the sidewalk. Good Sport has donated sidewalk games (hopscotch, jump ropes and hula hoops) for the day. Stop & Shop, Pizza Zone, Atlantic Bagel, Nona's Homemade and Cabot cheese will be providing food and refreshments. Cohasset Kennel will be providing bandanas, dog treats and dog clean-up bags near Wheelwright Park. Cohasset Cycle Sports will set up a bike and trike course for kids. Down by Black Rock beach, volunteers will be bird watching and doing beach crafts. There will be storytelling featuring sidewalk themed poems and children's literature along the way.

Families can walk from the Forest Avenue entrance of Wheelwright Park to the Pumkin Patch is on North Main Street.

Information on how to stay safe on the sidewalk particularly bike and train safety will be available as well. A ribbon cutting and official ceremony will be held at noon on Surry Drive.

Boys arrested for 'witness intimidation'

FROM ARRESTS, PAGE 1

15-year-old.

The 15-year-old boy, who was sitting with three friends in a parking lot off Pleasant Street, was punched, then picked up and thrown on the ground. The boy (who is also a witness to the incident) tried to protect his face and broke both wrists when he hit the ground.

The incident is believed to have started at school earlier that day when the alleged victim asked some other students to stop throwing things at him and was challenged to fight. A member of the school staff stopped what was a potential altercation and apparently did not think it would escalate further. The alleged attacker, who was accompanied by a group of other students, went looking for the victim later, according to reports.

Hussey does not think there will be further arrests.

BELLEW
TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.

CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING

Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!

Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!

781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

KEEP IT SIMPLE
It it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.
COUNTERTOPS
Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.
CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE
Bill Shea's
www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130
Kathy
Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.

BEGINS IN 2 WEEKS!
Disney
HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL
ON TOUR!
A NEW STAGE MUSICAL BASED ON THE SMASH HIT DISNEY CHANNEL ORIGINAL MOVIE highschoolmusicalontour.com
©Disney
ONE WEEK ONLY!
OCTOBER 31–NOVEMBER 4
WANG THEATRE
Wednesday at 7:30 • Thursday at 2 & 7:30 • Friday at 7:30
Saturday at 2 & 7:30 • Sunday at 1 & 6:30
TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE!
Call (800) 447-7400 or online at citicenter.org
Tickets also available at the Box Office.
citi PERFORMING ARTS CENTER
Groups (10+): (617) 532-1116
tty: (888) 889-8587

CIRCA
Home Furnishings

Visit our new
Design Studio
designer wallpapers, fabrics, trims & HUNTER DOUGLAS shutters & blinds - all at LOW, SALE PRICES everyday!
306 Washington Street . NORWELL
781 . 659 . 2188

The Haunted Ship is Back in Port!
TICKETS
Adults: $10.00
Children: $8.00
Weekends Now Thru Halloween & All of Halloween Week
Haunted Ship is Open:
Evenings 6pm to 9pm
Family Days:
Every Saturday & Sunday
12:00pm-4:00pm
Beginning Oct. 13
Family Days are for those who scare easily.
Increased lighting with less monsters on the run!
Ideal for younger children.
USS Salem at the Fore River Shipyard / Rte 3A Quincy / 617-479-7900 / www.hauntedship.com

EDC sets new course

Promoting all Cohasset has to offer is next step

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"We wanted to think of the town as a whole and look at quality of life issues. We want to promote the good aspects of the town."
— Peter Brown, Economic Development Committee

The Economic Development Committee got thumbs up from the Board of Selectmen on Monday night. Since its establishment in September 2005, EDC members have worked diligently at their charter and have nearly completed their charge as originally outlined.

"The big question is how much further should we go," said Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil. The EDC was originally charged in part with identifying strategies to increase the Town of Cohasset's commercial/industrial tax base and reduce the town's reliance on residential tax revenue. They also were to identify potential obstacles to development, such as zoning bylaws.

EDC Chairman Peter Brown said the committee has supported the creation of a Transit Oriented Overlay District bylaw for the development of a lot adjacent to the new MBTA train station and actively participated in the writing of the proposed Village zoning bylaw.

With a few strides toward a more economically viable Cohasset, the EDC wrote a new charter to focus its future efforts. The multi-faceted mission goes beyond pure economics, said Brown.

"We wanted to think of the town as a whole and look at quality of life issues. We want to promote the good aspects of the town," said Brown, explaining the town's unique features were its history, the harbor and the arts, "these are the triangle key assets of Cohasset, in the context of economic viability."

Thus far, the EDC has done little with marketing and promoting development because they felt it was premature, given the zoning bylaw changes passed and proposed. But, marketing Cohasset to the type of development its citizens would like to see will be a major component in future efforts.

Brown said events like an antique boat or car, or a joint event could showcase Cohasset's highpoints and bring more people to the town. As part of their re-focused effort, the EDC would like to set up a website linked to the town website to use as an informational and promotional tool.

Selectman Ralph Dormitzer feared there was too much focus on development and not enough on maintaining the historical charm of Cohasset — the reason many residents live here. He said the committee needed to find the balance between the two.

"Zoning bylaws have imbued in them restrictions and caveats," said Brown that will retain the town's character despite development, "it allows development in a prudent way."

The persistent question and the reason the Board of Selectmen had the EDC in front of them was to evaluate the committee's charge and effectiveness to determine if the committee was still relevant.

"There has to be some way we know when it's time to sunset [this committee]," said Dormitzer. But, the EDC explained they could not see a time when the committee would lose its purpose.

"When does the economic viability of Cohasset end?" asked EDC member Charles Hurd. Significant changes were coming to Cohasset, including the train, development in the village and on Route 3A, and having a committee look at how the town can use those changes to their advantage could be invaluable, Hurd said.

Vanderweil said the current Board of Selectmen and the current members of the EDC were compatible and able to give and take on issues, but it may not always be the case.

"As soon as we feel the committee is not effective, we'll sunset you," said Vanderweil. As a Selectmen appointed advisory committee, the board can sunset the EDC at any time.

The Board of Selectmen were asked to review the EDC's proposed objectives and rank them according to importance so the EDC would know what to focus its energy on.

"Thanks for doing a great job," said Vanderweil at the close of the discussion.

Cook Estate gets go ahead

It's been months in the making, but the developers of the Cook Estate received their approval with conditions from the Planning Board on Wednesday night. Abbott Real Estate and Development will move ahead with their proposal of a 27 single-family home development off Sohier Street.

When the public hearing was closed two weeks ago, the town's engineer consultant John Modelewski still had concerns about the turning radius of the entranceway to the development. Generally speaking, Modelewski would like to see a 150-foot center line radius to allow for the large fire trucks to have plenty of room to maneuver. The plans called for a 115-foot radius.

At that time, Planning Board member Bob Sturdy said he would not approve the project unless Modelewski felt comfortable with the turning radius.

Modelewski worked with the developer's engineers to widen the road so it now has a 135-foot radius. The developer wanted to keep a narrower turn as a speed calming measure and to preserve the country road feeling of the entranceway. A posted speed limit of 20 miles per hour will complement the design.

"So, I'm satisfied," said Modelewski.

Member Stuart Ivimey commended the developers for taking the extra time to resolve the outstanding issue, "I'm happy to see the work was done."

Minor issues of the number of trees being removed and a retention basin were discussed. 'The Planning Board voted unanimously to approve the plans as presented, subject to set of conditions.

"It's been a long time," said Chairman Al Moore and wished the applicant well as they proceeded with construction. The final plans will be signed at the next Planning Board meeting.

Selectmen issue resolution on assault

Selectmen have issued the following resolution: "The Board of Selectmen of the Town of Cohasset hereby expresses its serious concern about police reports of the alleged beating of one of our town's students by a fellow student at the Town Parking Lot on Sept. 21. Furthermore, there reportedly were numerous bystanders who failed to come to the aid of the victim. The vicious attack and the callous regard for the victim have no place in a civilized society. Furthermore, we fully support the Police Department and the District Attorney in their investigation and prosecution of this case.

"We ask all of our fellow townspeople and town employees to work at preventing physical attacks on others.

"We send our sympathy to the victim and his family and hope he has a speedy recovery."

HALLOWEEN TREATS

& FESTIVE FALL CANDY
Caramel Apples ☆ Candy Corn ☆ Chocolate Favorites
Hilliards CONFECTIONS SINCE 1924 hilliardscandy.com
Canton, Village Shoppes 781-828-9004 | Easton, Rte. 138 508-238-6231 | Hanover, Rte. 123 781-878-8533

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL
EST. 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS Aaron M, Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED | Smile Makeovers since 1987 | ZOOM2 (1 hour) chairside whitening
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

Join Us for a Fall Open House Celebration at Sunrise Assisted Living of Cohasset
Sunday, October 21st from 11:00am-2:00pm
Seasonal refreshments served • RSVP to 781-383-6300
Please join Sunrise of Cohasset at our fall open house celebration. While you're here, meet our team, take a tour and find out what we do to make our community a place seniors are proud to call home. While you mingle with neighbors and residents, enjoy festive food and warm cider.
SUNRISE ASSISTED LIVING
EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY
Sunrise of Cohasset 781-383-6300 Assisted Living, Alzheimer's Care
125 King Street (Route 3A), Cohasset, MA 02025
For more information and a FREE online newsletter, visit www.sunriseseniorliving.com

What direction are you looking in?
Come look at Fontbonne Academy and see what a difference a Fontbonne education can make. Visit our 15-acre campus in Milton and explore our state-of-the-art science wing, language and computer labs, and our wellness center. Learn from the experts, the students themselves, as you tour their vibrant learning environment. Hear from current students engaged in some of our 24 activities and 17 sports. Find your direction by joining us at one of our upcoming open houses.
Fontbonne Academy is an all-girls college preparatory Catholic school which attracts students from 50+ communities, many religious denominations, and international students from Asia and Europe.
OPEN HOUSES
Thursday, October 25 6:30 p.m.
Sunday, November 4 1:00 p.m.
FONTBONNE ACADEMY
930 Brook Road Milton, MA 02186 617.615.3014

Snowball
FASHION SHOW
Fundraiser for the Daniel Webster Estate
Featuring a Fashion Parade of Men's & Women's Winter Sportswear
Ski, Snowshoe, Snowboard & Holiday Fashions
from
Buckles & Boards
Ski & Fashion Shop of Marshfield
Evening includes:
Cash Bar, Hors d'oeuvres. Raffle Items & Entertainment
Enjoy the sounds of Lonesome Jukebox
Time: 7:30pm-11pm
Date: Friday, November 2, 2007
Location: Daniel Webster Estate, 238 Webster St., Marshfield
Ticket Price: $35.00 Advance ticket purchase is necessary
Tickets on sale at Buckles & Boards
2148 Ocean St., Rte. 139, Marshfield or call Virginia at 781-837-2403
Join Us!

Farewell reception for Pastor and Mrs. Fish

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

SMELL THE ROSES

Hey there Cohasset, how is everyone this week? I don't know yet the total outcome of baseball games as Thursday is not here yet (when I am writing this!) so I will be optimistic as of right now. GO RED SOX! If they don't, we can be proud that they made it to where they are and if they do, keep it up.

Enjoy the nice warmer weather that they are saying we are going to have for this weekend and begin to enjoy the Halloween events popping up for this week and next. As I get ready to move to the next level with my business, (One Creative Place, the physical space will be closing as of this Sunday as I am branching out a bit with our community and surrounding towns) I am trying to take each day and admire what we have here with the ocean, beautiful beaches, town common and so much more. Life gets so confusing and complicated at times and it really helps to stop and "smell the roses" as they say, especially when trying to make choices and decisions in all areas of life. Try it, go for a walk, enjoy the harbor or beach, spend time with your kids and just have fun as life changes so quick both for the good and unfortunately, sometimes for the not-so-good. Have a super week Cohasset and send me all your news and information. Oh, also make sure to watch and be safe with the trains at the crossings and all.

DEAN'S LIST

Congratulations go out to Cohasset resident, Kelly Holway who was named to the Babson College Spring Semester Dean's List, which recognizes outstanding student scholarship. Babson College in Wellesley, Mass., is recognized internationally as a leader in entrepreneurial management education. This was wonderful news to receive Kelly

FAREWELL EVENT

The Beechwood Congregational Church on Church Street would like to extend an invitation to the public to attend a reception for Pastor Douglas Fish and his wife Barbara on Sunday, Oct. 21st, at 11:30 a.m.. Pastor Fish and Barbara have recently settled in western Massachusetts and will no longer be making the commute to lead the Beechwood Church. Come and help us wish them happiness in their new endeavors.

WRAPPED UP

Big news from the PSO this week. Their fall wrapping paper fundraiser has wrapped up and the numbers beat the sale's goal by more than the length of a few rolls of paper. The goal was $32,000 but the PSO is happy to report that the sale has raised almost $42,000 and $1000 in donations. Check out the article in today's Mariner to see how each school did and how that the funds will help our students and schools. Good job! Wow, that's a lot of wrapping paper and chocolates. Thank you from the PSO to all who participated!

MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Make-a-Difference Day is a national day of volunteering in its 16th year. It has long been a tradition at the Osgood School to participate and this year, the Deer Hill School will be holding its second Make-a-Difference Day. There are two events scheduled in Cohasset. First, there will be a school improvement day on Saturday, Oct. 20th. At the Osgood School from 9 to 11 a.m. volunteers will assist with general clean-up/maintenance of the outside grounds including weeding, shrub trimming, clearing of the nature trail and trash pick-up around the grounds and perimeter.

At Deer Hill, from 12 to 2 p.m., volunteers will assist with some light moving of boxes from storage classroom and general clean-up/maintenance of the outside grounds including any weeding and/or trash pick-up around the grounds and perimeter.

A second weekend of activities is planned for Nov. 17-18, when students of both Osgood and Deer Hill families alongside other community members, will be working in teams to help with fall cleanup for some of Cohasset's elderly residents. Volunteers will rake, pull down storm windows, change outdoor light bulbs and remove window air conditioners. These are wonderful opportunities for the whole family to Make-a-Difference. If you are interested in volunteering or have any questions, please contact Patty Cunningham at 781-383-1378.

FLOWER POWER

The Community Garden Club of Cohasset will hold its monthly general meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 23 in Bates Hall at the Second Congregational Church on Highland Avenue. In this month's program, Community Garden Club past president and Master Flower Show Judge, Fran O'Toole, will present "Recollections of Japan". With slides and anecdotes, Fran will share her memories of living in Japan and her recent visit with the CGCC Sister Club in Nagoya, Japan. Fran has several degrees in Ikebana and attended the World Conference of Ikebana in Tokyo. As a member of the Ladies Committee of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, Fran was in charge of Art in Bloom for the Asian Room. Most recently, she won a Gold Medal at the New England Spring Flower Show 2007 for her Ikebana arrangement and won 2nd place for her arrangement at the Marshfield Fair Flower Show 2007. The Community Garden Club is proud of her achievement and looks forward to this wonderful program. Coffee will be served at 9 a.m. and the meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. The CGCC is a member of The National Garden Clubs, Inc., New England Region and the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., South Shore District.

LATIN DANCING

Warm up this autumn to the authentic rhythm of the Grupo Chevere Band! Come enjoy a fun evening of live music and Latin dancing (including some instruction & demonstrations) sponsored by the Cohasset Diversity Committee. The members of this popular Latin Band are from Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic and Curacao and specialize in the fun dance styles of meringue, bachata, cumbia and salsa! Proceeds of the event will help fund the valuable Peer Leadership Program at the Cohasset Middle High School. Fifty High School students have been trained to work interactively with the Middle School students to promote a prejudice free, inclusive school and community environment. The dance is happening this Saturday, Oct. 20 from 8 p.m. - midnight at The River Club, 78 Border St., Scituate. Cash bar, complimentary tasty hors d'oeuvres! Tickets are $35 person and are available at Buttonwood Books & Toys (Shaw's Plaza) and Paperscapes, 47 South Main Street (in the village). For more information please call Connie Afshar at 781 383 6006

AWARDS NIGHT

The Cohasset Youth Baseball and Softball Association will be holding its 2007 Championship Awards Night on Wednesday, Oct. 24th at 7:30pm at the CMHS Auditorium. The event will recognize the 2007 baseball and softball spring, summer and fall championship teams. All CYBSA Little League participants, family and friends are invited to attend. Any questions, please contact Nancy Froio at (781) 383-1897.

POST PROM

The Post-Prom Committee of 2008 is holding a meeting on Oct. 25th at 7:15 pm in the Cohasset High School Library. Any interested parties should plan on coming or, if you have any questions you may call Babette at781-383-2651 or Ann at 781-383-2069.

MORE PUMPKINS

The Pumpkins are here and the second shipment has arrived! Sponsored by Cohasset Appalachia Service Project, the Pumpkin Patch will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. through Oct. 31. The Pumpkin Patch supports the Cohasset Appalachia Service project that sends about 200 people, adults and teens to Appalachia area to repair homes each summer. A great program to help families in need and a great group of teens and adults are involved and are running the patch. Come on by.

REC FUN

The Cohasset Recreation Dept. along with One Creative Place is getting ready for some new programs and classes for the November/December Falling Into Winter Session with a variety of activities for ages 3 and up in music, art, science, sports and more. For more information, please call 781-383-4109(Recreation Dept.), 781-923-1473(One Creative Place) or log onto www.townofcohasset.org or www.onecreativeplace.net

That is all for this week. Send me all your news and info even no later than Tuesdays by 5 pm.

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com

PHONE: 781-383-0143

Items may also be dropped off at Cohasset News on Brook Street.

ANGEL FUND

Red Sox relief pitcher Mike Timlin recently presented a $30,000 donation to The Angel Fund, an independent, non-profit organization benefiting Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis research at Cecil B. Day Neuromuscular Research Center at Massachusetts General Hospital. Since Timlin joined the Red Sox, he and his wife, Dawn, have been making a donation to The Angel Fund each time he takes the mound for the Red Sox, in memory of his mother, Sharon Timlin, who died of ALS. Taking part in the check presentation with Timlin, prior to a regular season home game at Fenway Park, were from left: Rich Kennedy of Cohasset, president of The Angel Fund; Wally the Red Sox Mascot; Wendy Kennedy of Cohasset; and Dr. Robert Brown, director of the Cecil B. Day Neuromuscular Research Center at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Claire Cook to give writing workshop

Friends of Scituate Library and Grub Street South at Buttonwood will welcome author Claire Cook at 7 p.m., on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Scituate Town Library, 85 Branch St., for a writing workshop. Cook will host a class titled "Finding the Muse: How to start, and actually finish, the book only you can write."

Since her first novel was published in 2000, Cook has learned a lot about writing and the writing life, and she's happy to share it all. Practical strategies for living through it all will be discussed, and the class will also offer a chance to connect with other writers and pull together as a support group.

Cook is the author of four novels, "Ready To Fall," "Must Love Dogs," "Multiple Choice" and "Life's A Beach."

For reservations, call Scituate Library at 781-545-8727. Anyone unable to attend who would like to order a signed copy can call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.

St. Stephen's Church accepting book donations

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is currently accepting donations of slightly worn hardcover and paperback books, DVDs and CDs for its annual book sale, part of the ecumenical Village Fair that will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 1 on Cohasset Common.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Pick up of donations can be arranged. For donation pick up or more information, call D'Anne Avotins at 781-923-1104. Books will be sorted at St. Stephen's Church in Walton Rodgers Hall every Tuesday from 9:30 to 11a.m. Donations will be accepted through Nov. 23. Old textbooks, romance novels, damaged or moldy books or books with notes and/or highlighting will not be accepted.

Money raised from the book sale will be used to send underprivileged children and their families to the Barbara C. Harris Camp in Greenfield, N.H. Donations will help change lives and strengthen the community. For more information about this facility, visit bchcenter.org.

FT®
FITNESS TOGETHER
1 Client 1 Trainer 1 Goal

$200 OFF
ANY PACKAGE
CALL TODAY
REACH YOUR FITNESS GOALS
781-383-8004
790 Chief Justice Hwy., Cohasset
www.FTcohasset.com

Braintree Stripper
Custom Finishing of Furniture & Millwork
Fine Wood Finishing
Commercial & Residential
Call us for your used furniture needs.
781-335-4880
65 Mathewson Drive #K
(off Pleasant St.)
Weymouth, MA 02189
contact us at:
www.braintreestripper.com
OVER 35 YEARS IN BUSINESS!

WINTER IS COMING
Call 781-335-8703
FREE ESTIMATES
For Driveways,
Parking Areas,
Tennis Courts
Over 45 years
HANABURY & SONS
ASPHALT SPECIALISTS

CURTAIN
FACTORY OUTLET
Semi-Sheer Panels
Soft and elegant look with the feel of chiffon
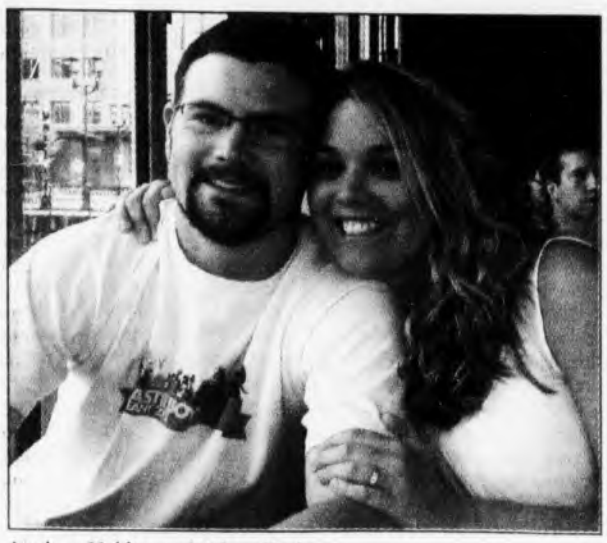
54" Wide x 63" or 84" Lengths
6 solid colors - 100% Polyester
Only $5.99
2 panels shown. Please shop early.
Limited quantity.



Complete Window Set
Easily Hangs on One Rod.
Includes: Curtain pair with tiebacks, attached valance with tassel trim and matching sheer curtain.
63" Length
Pale Gold, Pale Green or Burgandy
Only $8.99
(Regular $14.99)
WEYMOUTH, MA 60 Winter St. 781-331-8510
RAYNHAM, MA 770 Broadway 508-823-4196
NORTHBRIDGE, MA 8 Sutton St. 508-234-2944
FALL RIVER, MA 420 Quequechan St. 508-678-6996
www.CurtainFactoryOutlet.com

SERVICE CENTER
A Fix It Shop In the Cohasset Village Parking Lot 781-383-6936
Open Tues. to Sat. 9am-1pm
• Screen & Window Repairs
• Lamp & Furniture Repairs
• Keys Made • Sharpening • Cohasset Trash Bags

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
• Remote Desktop Support
• Home Office Setup
• Antivirus Firewall Setup
• Parental Control Software
• Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
• Data Recovery
• Wired & Wireless Networks
• Loaner Computers Available
• New Computer Consultation
• Hardware & Software Upgrades
Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com
Before Bob Black
After Bob Black

ENGAGEMENT

Lindsey Hubley and Adam Graham

Hubley - Graham

Michael and Michele Hubley of Cohasset announce the engagement of their daughter, Lindsey Hubley, to Adam Graham.

The bride-to-be is also the daughter of Darlene and Richard Walsh of Truro, Nova Scotia, and a 2005 graduate of Acadia University where she earned her degree in sociology.

Her fiancé is the son of Percy and Joy Graham of Great Village, Nova Scotia, and graduated from Acadia University with a degree in kinesiology.

A June 2008 wedding in Nova Scotia has been planned.

Annual Bark 'n Howl Ball Fundraiser

Join WATD's news diva Christine James and the hard-working 3A Farm Fund volunteers from 7 p.m. to midnight, Saturday, Oct. 27, at the third annual Bark 'n Howl Ball that will rock the rafters at the Hatherly Country Club in Scituate. The annual ball is the highlight of the fall season and the popular local band, Section 8, promises to keep you hopping. James, a faithful longtime supporter of the shelter, will be welcomed back for her third stint as the master of ceremonies.

Tickets are $50 each and are available at the Scituate Animal Shelter on the Driftway. The Bark 'n Howl Ball is a fun evening with great food, music and dancing, live and silent auction prizes and all proceeds help the Scituate Animal Shelter relocate from the Driftway to the 3A Farm.

The land at the 3A Farm where the new shelter will be built has been purchased, but fundraising efforts continue to pay down the mortgage received from Rockland Trust. As of May, 2007, the capital campaign met the initial goal of $800,000 in gifts and pledges. The group now needs to sell a one-acre lot and raise another $180,000 to complete the project. Thanks to a generous donation of architectural services from Artisan Architecture, the shelter design is nearly complete.

"We're almost there" is the group's motto; and the Friends of the Scituate Animal Shelter are very close to realizing this wonderful gift to pets in need and residents of the South Shore.

For more information and to follow the progress of the relocation, visit www.town.scituate.ma.us/animalshelter, www.3afarmfund.com, or call the shelter at 781-545-8703, between 3 and 5 p.m., Wednesday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturdays.

CEF plans family Barn Bash for Cohasset

By Catherine O'Callaghan
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Dust off your cowboy boots, throw on your western attire and grab your family to The Cohasset Education Foundation's Barn Bash. The CEF is hosting its first annual family Barn Bash on Friday, November 2nd at 6pm. The event will be held at the Red Lion Barn and will offer live music from the Armstrong Brothers, square dancing, country style food, pie baking contest, costume prizes and fun for all ages.

Gerd Ordelheide, Proprietor of the Red Lion Inn has graciously donated the Red Lion Barn for the event. As a supporter of the Cohasset Schools and the CEF, the Barn is the perfect place to host this event. Community members, parents and children of all ages will enjoy the informal, Western party. The Red Lion Inn's award winning chef is preparing a delicious menu of fried chicken, ribs and all the country fixings.

The Armstrong Bothers Band is donating live music to the family event. "It's a great cause, and being a full time guitar instructor to over 25 families in Cohasset, I'm looking forward to seeing a lot of my students in the audience" says Jim Armstrong, lead singer and guitarist for the band.

The Armstrong Brothers Band have been performing at South Shore Events for the better part of two decades, and have recently been featured musical performers for the Marshfield Audubon Society Annual Field Day, the Weir River Farm Fall Festival, and Cohasset's own South Shore Arts Center sponsored Arts Festival.

Although many band members have come and gone over the years, the core of the group consists of brothers Jim Armstrong on guitar and vocals, Joe Armstrong on Bass guitar, mandolin, and vocals, and Gerard Armstrong on electric guitar and harmony vocals. Their good friend and talented percussionist Bill Holbrook anchors the band with his solid, dynamic, country style drumming.

"The guys are also looking forward to backing a new musical friend of the band and talented guest vocalist Shannon Lynch, a recent addition to the Cohasset music scene" says Jim. Shannon Lynch, a trained vocal instructor and experienced stage vocalist, recently moved back to the South Shore from the Southwest after many successful years as the lead singer for the Pink Flamingos, a nationally known, top rated Society band. She will join the guys mid-set to sing some of her favorite country hits for the crowd.

In addition to the live music, professional square dance caller, Bill White of Holbrook, Mass. will lead the live square dancing. Bill White has been calling square dancers for over 45 years. He belongs to the American Association of Callers, the New England Callers Coordinating Association and the local Old Colony Callers Association.

The Cohasset Education Foundation is excited to offer this family event in celebration of the tremendous support they have received from the community since their reestablishment a year ago. The CEF has raised more than $466,000, which has been divided into their Project Fund account and Endowment account.

In the past year, the CEF has approved the following grants to benefit the Cohasset Schools.

• Funded the Osgood Computer Lab, which included replacing 24 computers, purchasing new software and increasing learning opportunities for 394 students in grades Pre K - 2.

• Purchased a Promethean White Board for students at the Deer Hill School. The White Board allows for interactive dynamic lessons allowing students greater opportunities for participation, collaboration and presenting their work to classmates in creative ways.

• Purchased a Safari Montage Video on Demand system. This program provides a video library of over 2000 titles available for students in grades K - 12 that enhance the curriculum.

• In partnership with the PSO, provided funding to complete the Middle School Engineering Lab. This Grant award purchased the Paxton Patterson Action Lab module series. Each subject module provides 10 days of hands-on learning for 6 objectives as specified by the Massachusetts Technology Engineering Frameworks.

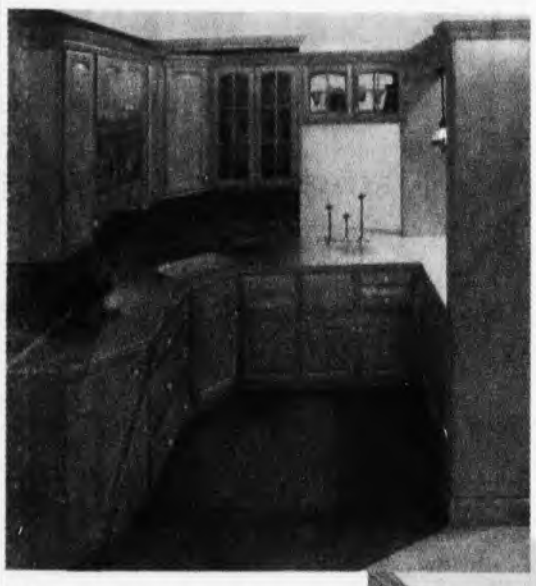
• Funded Cohasset Student Coastal Research (CSCR) request for a binder incubator and repaired an existing autoclave. CSCR educates students in environmental science, encourages environmental awareness, and promotes stewardship of Cohasset's unique coastal resources.

• Purchased an IDEportal, an on-line resource that lets teachers access instructional materials and professional development opportunities that foster a learner-active, technology infused classroom.

• Funded Virtual High School pilot program. VHS is a non-profit organization providing schools a cost-conscious means to expand curriculum, including Advanced Placement, core and elective courses that would not otherwise be available here in Cohasset.

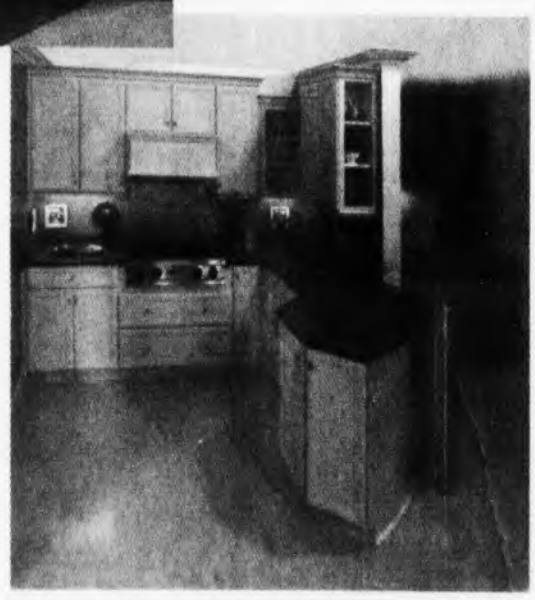
The endowment fund, which has raised $165,000, is held in a principal preserved interest-baring account to ensure long-term support for the Cohasset Schools. The CEF is planning on a community wide annual appeal for early November. Donors who pledge at least $10,000 through 2009 join the CEFs Founder's Circle. The CEF is a way to support the community's schools and provide those services, resources and tools that are not included in the school's annual budget.

Tickets for the Barn Bash to be held on Friday, November 2nd at the Red Lion Barn are $25 for adults and $15 for children (under 5 years old are free). Guests are invited to bring pies for the Pie Baking Contest and there will be prizes for best Western costumes. Space is limited so visit the CEF website at www.cohasseteducation.org to download an invitation or send in your check to the CEF at PO Box 309 Cohasset, MA 02025. For more information, please call Catherine O'Callaghan at 781-383-6868.



COURTESY PHOTO

The Armstrong Bothers Band, pictured here, is donating live music to the family event.



"It's a great cause, and being a full time guitar instructor to over 25 families in Cohasset, I'm looking forward to seeing a lot of my students in the audience."

— Jim Armstrong, Armstrong Bothers Band

Schrock cabinetry

Planning a new kitchen, bath, entertainment center or home office?
Let our experienced designers work with you to create not just a beautiful kitchen, but a room that becomes the centerpiece of your home.

Here at CCL we've created an array of displays in home like settings that are second to none and feature fine cabinetry from manufactures such as Schrock™ Cabinetry. Visit one of our showrooms and see that we're "More Than Lumber"

CCL
CAPE COD LUMBER
A NAME YOU CAN BUILD ON.™

Homescapes™ AT CAPE COD LUMBER ...your showroom is open.

403 Bedford St. Abington 800-698-8225
80 Hampden Rd Mansfield www.cclco.com

BRING FUN BACK TO THE KITCHEN.

KITCHEN VIEWS
kitchenviews.com

KITCHEN VIEWS CUSTOM
Newton Center 718 Beacon St 617.244.8439

KITCHEN VIEWS AT NATIONAL LUMBER
Berlin 25 Central St 978.838.0810
Mansfield 71 Maple St 508.339.8020
New Bedford 120 Welby Rd 508.990.8020
Newton 15 Needham St 617.244.8020

FAIRVIEW
LAWN SPRINKLER
Specializing in
• Plumbing & Heating
• Spring Start-ups and Repairs
• Custom Installations
• Shut Down, Winterize
Serving and Installing All Types of Irrigation Systems Since 1963
781-659-4540
www.fairviewlawnsprinkler.com

Inner Little Harbor gets close look

Neighbors disagree over Cat Dam

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

In the Selectmen's office on Monday night every seat was filled, chairs were brought in from the hallway and residents stood side-by-side in whatever space they could find. More than 40 residents came to hear and participate in an open discussion over "Cat Dam"— a 50-year old mechanism to slow the flow of water in and out of inner Little Harbor.

Residents from abutting streets (Jerusalem Road, Nichols Road, and Atlantic Avenue) are at odds over what to do with the dam going forward. Two points of view came to the meeting with compelling arguments. In the end, the residents didn't get a clear-cut answer from the Board of Selectmen; instead they were asked to work together to reach a resolution.

Both sides submitted in-depth reports on their perspective prior to the Selectmen's meeting. At its simplest terms, as described by Chairman Gary Vanderweil, one group says the flushing of the harbor needs to be increased, the other contends there is plenty of flushing already.

Cat Dam is owned by the town but historically has been maintained and operated by the abutters. The current operational schedule leaves the dam completely open three months of a year (January, February and March) and open three days out of every other month. The rest of the time the tide gates/dam are left closed. However, it was explained by one side that even when the tide gate is closed it still allows water to pass through it.

Steve Brown of 275 Jerusalem Road spoke first on behalf of 12 families who believe the inner Little Harbor is not flushing enough which leads to environmental problems. Brown's group would like to see the town take advantage of a "free non-binding study" by Coastal Zone Management (CZM), a state agency. The study would look at ways to improve the health of inner Little Harbor, including changing the flushing schedule or the dam mechanism.

In addition, Brown said they would like to see the town take back control of the dam and establish a committee to be responsible for its operation.

"We have never seen more algae and less birds [in inner Little Harbor] than in this past year," said Susan Playfair, 249 Jerusalem Road and a member of Brown's camp. Armed with pictures from as far back as 1890 to today, she said there is increased phragmite growth; an indication the salt marsh was failing.

"I hope the Selectmen will not allow the area to become further degraded," said Playfair. Past professional studies were presented to support Brown and his neighbor's proposal. Brown said the studies done concluded inner Little Harbor was polluted; a Camp Dresser and McKee study in 2000 recommended more flushing to reduce the pollution.

Brown argued none of the residents had the expertise to determine the right way to deal with the dam and a CZM study would provide the professional expertise they needed.

On the other side, George Chamillard of 400 Atlantic Ave. represented 19 other abutting families. The 19 families recently contributed to a fund to repair the aging dam at a cost of $22,600. He contended now was not the time to do a study because one of the main issues in inner Little Harbor is a high level of nutrients — an issue the town expects to be largely resolved with tying the district's homes onto town sewer. However, it will be close to five years before all Little Harbor homes are hooked up to town sewer.

In addition, Chamillard said CZM was not an unbiased party to perform a study, "they have an agenda to increase flushing."

The group also refuted with its own pictures the claim fish and birds were no longer frequenting the estuary.

In an attempt to bring the two sides together, Vanderweil asked Chamillard's group whether they would be willing to experiment in opening the dam up to six days per month. They agreed.

Representatives from both sides were asked to agree on testing scenarios for the operation of Cat Dam.

Furthermore, Vanderweil agreed CZM may not be an objective party and suggested the neighbors consider fund an independent environmental engineering firm to study the dam and inner Little Harbor.

"You need a disinterested third party," said Selectman Ralph Dormitzer, "I'm a big believer in empirical testing. I'd rather see this thing solved among abutters."

The Selectmen will schedule a follow-up meeting with the Cat Dam abutters after the fall Special Town Meeting in November.

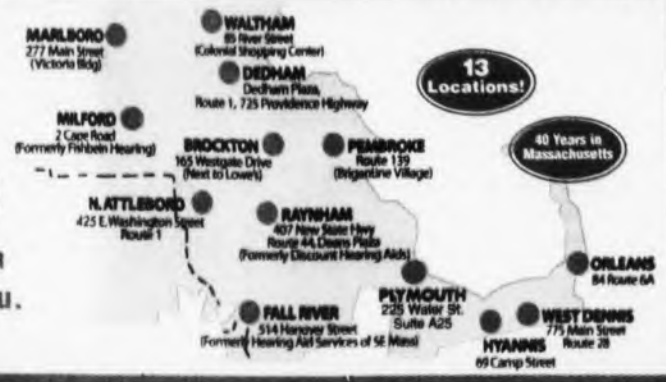
Water restrictions lifted for N. Cohasset

The following press release was provided by Aquarion.

Aquarion Water Company of Massachusetts officials announce that they have lifted the Phase III Mandatory Water Restrictions for customers in Hingham, Hull and North Cohasset, which went into effect Wednesday, Oct. 17. Under Phase III no outdoor watering was allowed at any time.

The water use ban, put into effect Aug. 30, was a result of the higher than normal daily water demands and extended hot and dry weather conditions. The Phase III mandatory outdoor water use restrictions helped assist in managing the MA DEP Water Management Act Registration limits.

Under the MA DEP Water Management Act, Aquarion is only allowed to pump an average of 3.51 million gallons per day on an annual basis.



"During the summer, we have found that water usage increases about 150 percent or more, and most of that increase is due to outside watering through the use of irrigation systems," Larry Bingaman, Aquarion Senior Vice President, said. "Since the Phase I voluntary reduction in outside water use and the Phase II Odd-Even Mandatory Water Use Restrictions did not result in a large enough reduction in demand in addition to continued hot and dry weather patterns, we had to go to Phase III. We would like to thank our customers for their support in complying with the restrictions, which reduced the average daily water demand from 4.5 million gallons per day (MGD) to 3.6 MGD." Bingaman added, "Demand is currently running about 3.0 MGD."

Bingaman noted that rainfall for the month of September in Hingham was down by about 32 percent compared to a 50-year average for the same month, and for the May to June 2007 period, when rain is heavier, rainfall was 31 percent lower than the 50-year average for the same months. For the first two weeks in October, rainfall is about equal to the 50-year average. The Phase III water restrictions are being lifted based on the demand reductions in the system, rainfall events of last week and irrigation systems are typically not in use this time of year.

ELIZABETH GRADY
THERE'S BEAUTY IN NUMBERS.

OCTOBER SERIES SALE.
Buy a series of six, twelve or twenty four Elizabeth Grady beauty treatments and save up to $18 on each facial. A series makes a perfect holiday gift and you'll be thanked again, & again, & again ... Call now for a number of beautiful reasons.
Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for the salon nearest you.

Hearing Problems?
Digital Hearing Instruments
SALE 2 for Only $1,990!
After this sale, this model will be priced at our regular 2 for $3,000.
Fully Programmable Audio In The-Ear Model • Offer expires 10/31 and cannot be combined with other offers Hearing Solutions
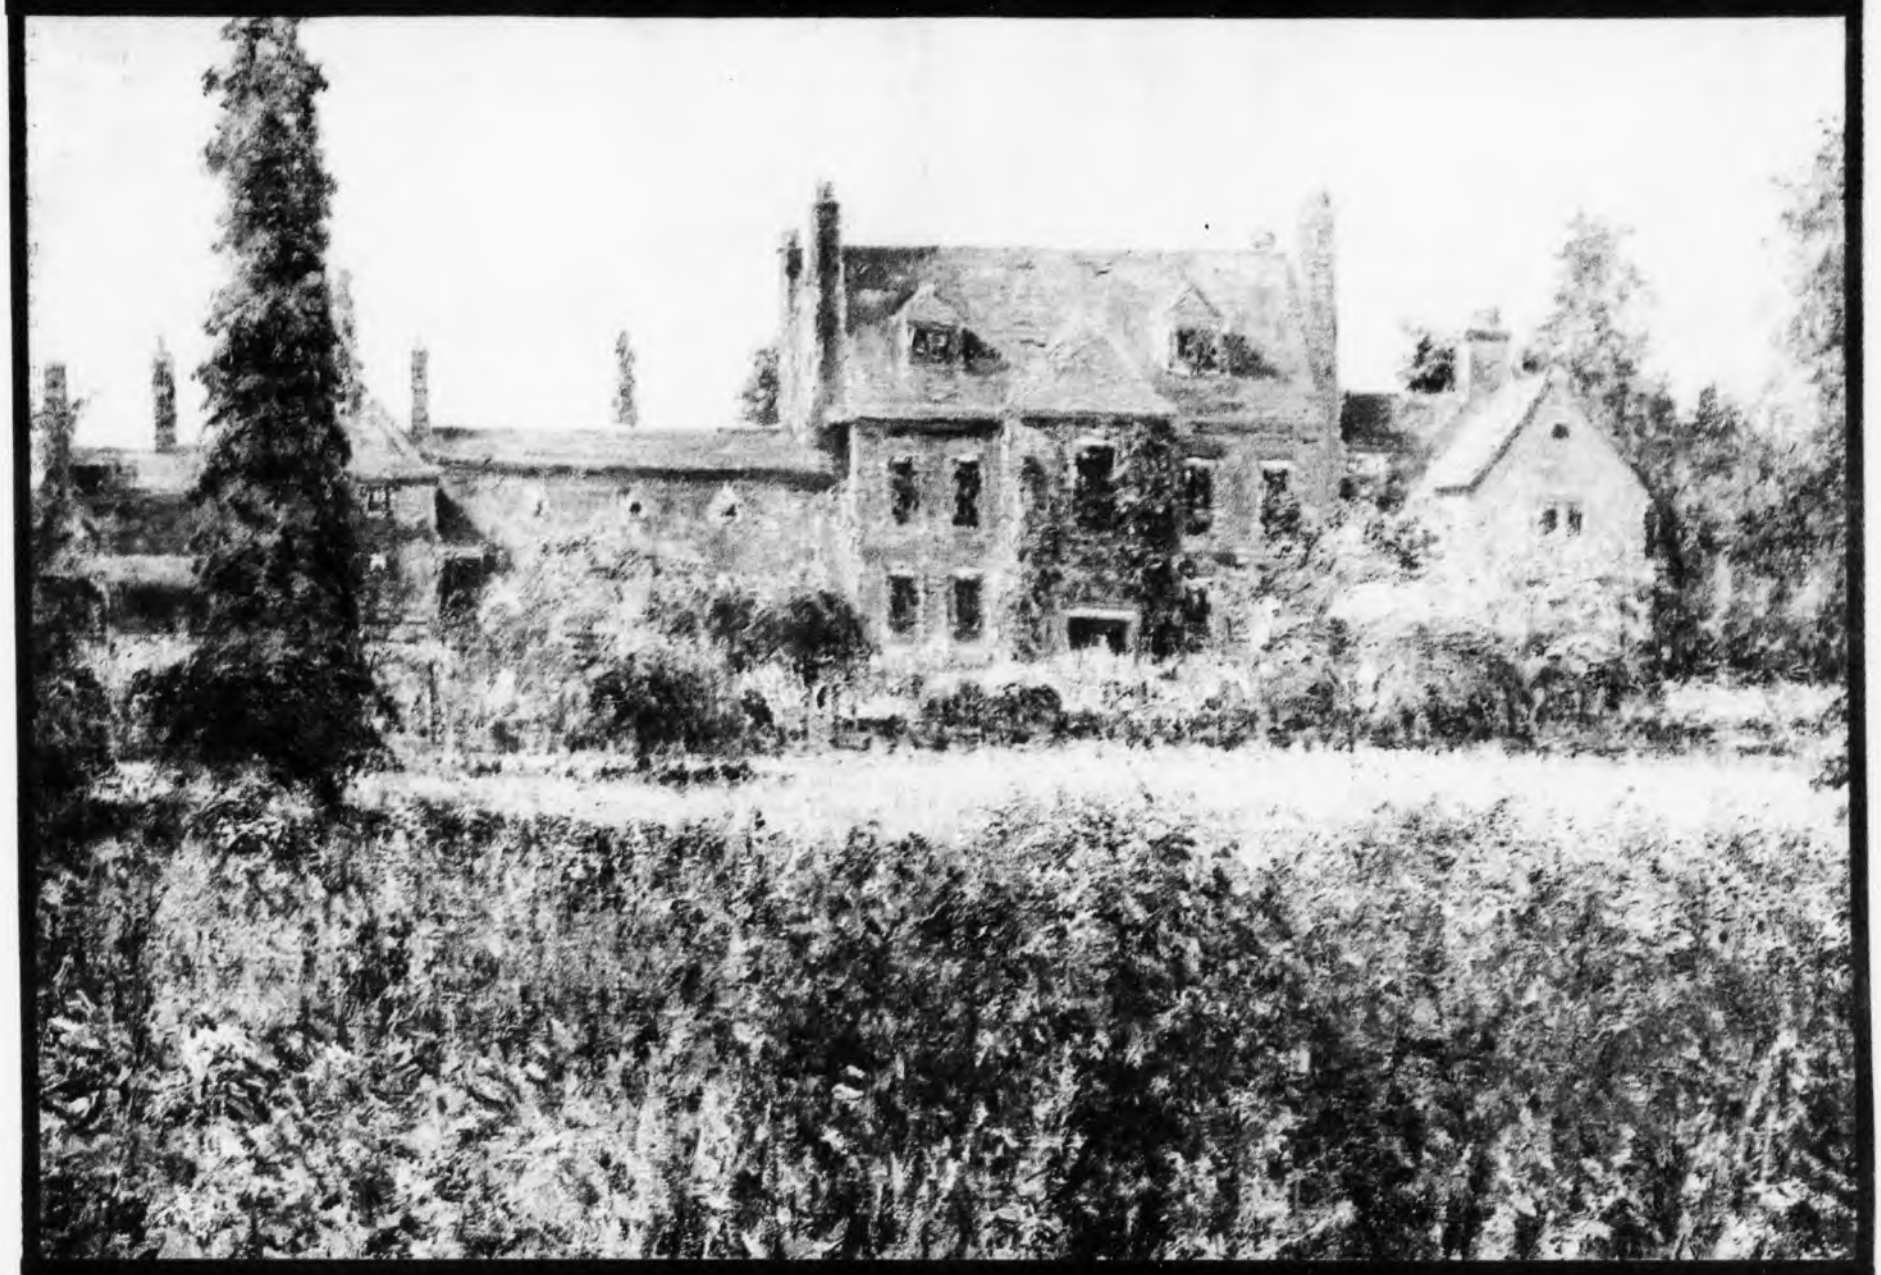
Starting at ONLY $495
MA Analog FS Model
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 10/31/07

Great Selection of AMPLIFIED TELEPHONES!!
You will hear clearly with any of these amplified telephones.
Free Hearing Test and Comprehensive Hearing Evaluation will reveal the source of your hearing problem.
Don't trust your hearing to anyone but the best!
If you want to improve the quality of your life by bringing back the joy of better hearing trust Mass Audiology. For over 40 years Mass Audiology has helped thousands and thousands regain that wonderful connection with life. You can trust Mass Audiology because we offer leading edge personal hearing systems. And just as importantly a caring and dedicated staff of State licensed specialists that average over 17 years of individual experience. Our superior staff insures your satisfaction.
Mass Audiology, which is owned and directed by a Doctor of Audiology, is backed by nationwide service. We also offer the convenience of in-home hearing tests that are free for seniors and are totally without obligation.
Experience the Mass Audiology difference. The best products. The best specialists. The best overall care that you deserve. Call today to arrange a free hearing consultation at a location near you. 1-866-536-4327
Nationwide Service ★ Lifetime Care ★ American Owned & American Made ★ Advanced Hearing Technology
Mass. Audiology
Personal Hearing Systems
1-866-536-HEAR (4327)
www.massaudiology.com
Call today for a FREE Hearing Test in your home or in the office nearest you.
All major insurances accepted including GIC, 1st Seniority, BlueCare 65, Mass Health, and Medicaid



Owned and Directed by a Doctor of Audiology

Remember last June when you said:
"We will do a will, healthcare proxy and some estate planning after the kids go back to school in the Fall?"
Well, they're back!
Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048
George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)
Member ~ Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)

50th Year Anniversary!
The Frank Evans Company, Inc. is a family owned and operated home improvement business whose name and reputation is well recognized in Eastern Massachusetts. Frank Evans, Sr., founded the company in 1957 and has passed the reins over to the second generation, sons: Larry, Rich and Frank, Jr.
We provide no obligation, free estimates, and there is never any hard sell or pressure to buy today. We have a long list of satisfied customers. Call us to see how we can enhance your home with our quality products. We look forward to hearing from you.
THE FRANK EVANS COMPANY, INC.
EVANS
HOME IMPROVEMENT
Ask About FALL SPECIALS
1-800-339-4619

Residential Roofing • All Season Sunrooms
Harvey Replacement Windows • Vinyl Siding
www.evanshomeimprovement.com

Home Center | Sotheby's INTERNATIONAL REALTY

Artfully uniting extraordinary properties
. . . with extraordinary lives.

Opening October 25th
One South Main Street
Cohasset

Home Center
Sotheby's INTERNATIONAL REALTY

www.HomeCenterSIR.com
781-383-8835

View to the Manor House from the Lily Pond, used with permission.
Each Office is Independently Owned and Operated.

Transitions™
simplifying change

Order Your Farm Tables Now for the Holidays!

Prices Starting at $695

Experience The Lifestyle

11 Commerce Rd., Rockland
781-871-1225
Mon.-Sat. 10-6 pm; Sundays 12-5 pm

R.O. home RESTORATIONS & ORIGINALS
HOME STORE
www.restorationsandoriginals.com

Custom-made for remodeling.

With custom sized Andersen® Woodwright® windows, you can replace your old, drafty worn-out windows while maintaining the timeless beauty of your home. With rich wood interiors, thick profiles and milling detail worthy of fine furniture, they are ideal for window replacement.

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Windows

CLIMATE Door & Window
276 Weymouth St., Rockland
781-681-7007
Financing Available
Andersen

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

- Installs over new or existing gutters
- Keeps you safe from falling
- Lifetime Warranty

The Gutter Experts: New Repair Replacement

$250 OFF LIMITED TIME OFFER

FREE IN-HOME ESTIMATE
No Payments for One Year†

Code 121

Gutter Helmet
NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

BBB

Call the Gutter Experts Today!
1-800-924-3563
www.GutterHelmetNE.com

*75 ft. Min. Call for more details. Offer valid at time of estimate only. Not valid with any other offers and/or promotions. † For qualified buyers. Financing provided by third party provider.

"I never thought I could do it!"

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what ENC gave me."
— Maria Rodriguez, ENC LEAD Program Student

Our LEAD Program can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months by attending class just one night a week.

- ENC provides the personal support and attention that makes all the difference
- Enroll now for November classes!

Call 877-ENC-LEAD or visit us at www.enc.edu

Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
www.enc.edu

We Sell Luxury Homes

NEW LISTING

Gleaming ocean view colonial in best gold coast location. This meticulously updated home features a highly functional open floor plan. Great kitchen/family room space as well as generous formal living and dining rooms make up the first floor. Oversized master suite with large deck with sweeping views of Straits pond and the ocean beyond. Finished walk up third floor. A short stroll to black rock beach. A great Cohasset Value. New Price $729,000

Ask for Tom Koncius
See photos at our website.

ATLANTIC BROKERAGE GROUP
REAL ESTATE

9 Depot Ct., Cohasset • 781-383-8100 • www.AtlanticBrokerageGroup.com

Our truck is coming to your neighborhood.

Schedule your FREE Pick-up today!

www.GotBooks.com

978-664-6555

Come home to Andersen.

Turn Simple Window Replacement Into Serious Home Improvement.

Andersen® Woodwright® replacement windows – an easy, beautiful way to rejuvenate a home while maintaining it's charm. With rich wood interiors available in oak, maple or pine, plus traditional window detailing and custom sizes, it's an excellent choice to replace your leaky, drafty old windows.

Cape Cod Lumber
403 Bedford St. Rte. 18
Abington
80 Hampden Rd., Cabot Business Park
Mansfield
www.cclco.com

Fairview Millwork
100 Pearl St.
Bridgewater
508-697-6128 • 800-880-DOOR www.fairvu.com

Hingham Lumber Company
165 Chief Justice Cushing Highway (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
781-749-4200 www.hinghamlumber.com
Mon.-Fri. 7 am-6 pm, Sat. 7 am-5 pm

andersenwindows.com WINDOWS • DOORS Andersen AW

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Decorating is already well underway for the Vampire's Ball next Saturday, Oct. 27. Will Charles, owner of Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc. and father of two high school basketball players, is sponsoring and hosting the Basketball Booster fundraiser at his property at 25 Ripley Road.

Ripley Road house plans return

FROM BENEFIT, PAGE 1

Charles doesn't want to do the project halfway — he says when complete he wants people to drive by the building "with their jaws dropped."

"I'm not going to build something detrimental to the neighborhood," says Charles, 'I'm not here to bring the neighborhood down. Cohasset is where I live, where I work and where my kids go to school."

He plans on keeping the basic architecture of the 1889 building intact, with minimum modifications, such as additional balconies. The spacious first floor, with several larger rooms, will be transformed into three one-bedroom apartments. The second and third floors will be converted four two-bedroom units.

"It's spacious and it's near everything — the village, the library, the schools," and Charles saw its inherent potential since he moved to town in 2001.

The buildings storied history and its age attracted him as well, "I like old buildings," he says with a smile. While others would have shied away from the project, Charles embraced it.

The building at 25 Ripley Road has been reincarnated many times over. It was began its life as a single-family residence, but in 1925 was converted into Cohasset Private Hospital. The building was later expanded and housed more than 20 beds. It operated as a hospital until the early 1950s when it was converted to a nursing home. Later, the building returned to its beginnings as a single-family home (Information from "Narrative History of Cohasset," Pratt).

Charles was slated to meet with the Housing Partnership Committee to formally discuss his plans on Thursday evening after the Mariner went to press. He hopes to work with the partnership on a Local Initiative Program (LIP), or "friendly 40-B" process. A LIP is a 40-B proposal that is either initiated by or sponsored by the local community.

The project will be very familiar to the Housing Partnership because it was their committee that proposed an almost identical 40-B development on the same property in the beginning of this year. In fact, Charles is using the same configuration plans. After receiving opposition from the neighborhood, the Partnership moved on to other opportunities.

Charles is hopeful the neighbors will like what he has in store for the home, "it's going to be something good for the town."

If the project moves forward and gets all the necessary permits, 25 Ripley Road could be the first project to come to fruition under the town's inclusionary bylaw, which says all multi-family residential development of five or more apartment units must include one unit or 10 percent affordable housing units, whichever is greater. Affordable housing is desperately needed in Cohasset, as the town is hovering near the 2 percent affordable housing stock, while the state mandates towns have at least 10 percent affordable housing under Chapter 40-B.

Under Chapter 40B, a town's zoning board can approve affordable housing developments under flexible rules if at least 20-25 percent of the units have long-term affordability restrictions. Towns, like Cohasset, that are under the 10 percent threshold of their housing stock deemed as affordable by state standards are vulnerable to 40-B projects.

Vampire's Ball

Join the fun at the Vampire's Ball, on Saturday, Oct. 27 at 7p.m. when the Cohasset Basketball Boosters Club raises money to support basketball in Cohasset.

Will Charles, owner of Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc. and father of two high school basketball players, is sponsoring the event by hosting the fundraiser at 25 Ripley Road, once the historic Ripley Road Hospital where many a Cohasset native was born.

"It's going to be a fun night," says Charles. The boosters are hoping to raise over $12,000 for the Cohasset Basketball Boosters. The funds will support the high school varsity and junior varsity basketball teams, college scholarships and the rec basketball program. A portion of the money will be used to build up the town's basketball program for younger kids so a love of the sport is instilled early on, says Charles.

Atlantica will be catering the event and complimentary beer, wine and specialty drinks will be served. The night will include dancing in the "Night of the Living Dead Discothèque" plus haunted tours and high jinks. The event will also provide televised coverage of the World Series. Tickets are $40 per person and can be purchased by calling Will Charles at 781-696-0291 or Pat Martin at 781-383-3279. Tickets may also be purchased at the door. Festive seasonal attire is suggested.

Conway
INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
Complete Insurance Protection
• AUTO • HOME • LIFE
• BUSINESS • HEALTH
HANOVER 183 Columbia Rd. (781) 826-3804
SCITUATE 80 Front St. (781) 545-6110
WHITMAN 715 Bedford St. (781) 447-0661

FRONT STREET GOURMET
Wine & Spirits
121 Front Street • Scituate Harbor
781-545-4050
We will match ANY current advertised price for Beer, Wine & Liquor. Please bring in your current ad at time of purchase.

Spirits Specials

SMIRNOFF VODKA	1.75L	$19.99
KETEL ONE VODKA	1.75L	$32.99
J & B SCOTCH	1.75L	$28.99
JOHNNIE WALKER RED	1.75L	$30.99
TANQUERAY GIN	1.75L	$29.99
MT. GAY ECLIPSE RUM	1.75L	$23.99

Wine Specials

KENDALL JACKSON CHARDONNAY	750ML	$9.99
YELLOW TAIL WINES	1.5L	$9.99
J. LOHR CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$9.99
SANTA MARGARITA PINOT GRIGIO	750ML	$15.99
CASTLE ROCK MONTEREY PINOT NOIR	750ML	$9.99
CORBETT CANYON WINES	1.5L	$4.99

Beer Specials

BECKS OR ST. PAULI GIRL	12PK/NR	$9.99
STELLA ARTOIS	12PK/NR	$9.99
BASS ALE	12PK/NR	$9.99
CORONA/CORONA LT	12PK/NR	$10.99
HARPOON ALL TYPES	12PK/NR	$10.99
BUDWEISER/BUD LT	30 PACK/CANS	$19.99

Gourmet Food Specials

BOAR'S HEAD PRODUCTS

LEAN ROAST BEEF	LB	$5.99
OVEN GOLD TURKEY	LB	$4.99
BLACK FOREST HAM	LB	$4.99
LACEY SWISS CHEESE	LB	$4.99
VERMONT CHEDDAR CHEESE	LB	$3.99
PARMIGIANO REGGIANO	LB	$7.99
EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL	1 LT	$5.99

Sale Dates Oct. 1 - 31, 2007. Quantities Limited. No Other Discounts Apply

Save time and money on laminate countertops!
• Complete service — removal of existing laminate tops, disconnect/ reconnect sink, free disposal of old tops or counters
• Best prices around — compare... you'll see!
• Professional, courteous service
JOSEPH'S INSTALLATIONS
Professional Cabinet & Countertop Installers
Phone 617-827-0654
Fax 781-337-2229

NEW ENGLAND BULKHEAD
Clip 'N' Save For A Rainy Day!
10% SENIOR DISCOUNT
Replace that rotted leaking problem, now for Winter. We can fit any size: flat or sloped foundations. We do full digouts!
FREE ESTIMATES • 781-820-7381

FOUR SEASONS BUILDERS INC.
26 Years in Business
CUSTOM BUILT HOMES AND ADDITIONS
FREE ESTIMATES
Specializing in Custom Built Homes • Additions • Garages • Roofing *Plan design included
(508) 747-4429
Stephen Howie - President
Serving the South Shore & Cape - License #042754

A la carte Pinehills style.
This evening the menu calls for a little of this and a little of that and just a dash of something else, all tossed together with a smidgin of who knows what. Season to taste.

NOW OPEN! The spectacular new concept home by Kistler & Knapp at The Custom Gallery.
The Pinehills CUSTOM HOMES
Just off Route 3 at Exit 3
Plymouth, MA
pinehillscustomhomes.com
508-209-2007
If you can imagine it, we can build it.
- Introducing Rvecroft, a neighborhood of custom homes from $1.1 million, featuring woodland, pond and golf views.
- By Kistler & Knapp, MacKenzie Brothers, WhiteFox and Whitman Homes.
- Miles of trails, swimming and tennis at The Stonebridge Club, plus shopping, dining and services at The Village Green.
- To tour the custom concept homes, stop by The Summerhouse, open 9 to 5 daily.

OPINION

EDITORIAL

Larger world

Living in Cohasset, one can easily be lulled into the belief that we are somehow exempt from crime that plagues other places.

However, as Saturday's bank robbery illustrates, Cohasset is not always spared from dangerous crime. The brazen robbery of Sovereign Bank in Cohasset Plaza reminds us that we all need to be aware of what is going on around us.

It is no secret, and authorities have stated over and over again, that a lot of crime can be directly traced to drug activity. We have not been told if that was the case with the robbery in Cohasset and another bank robbery two days later in Hingham. We also do not have any information and police have not said if the two events are related.

However, we can make a pretty sure bet that drugs and getting money for drugs is behind the two robberies and much other crime.

We view walking into a bank in broad daylight and walking up to a bank teller with a threatening note as pretty brazen.

Although it appears that in both the Cohasset and Hingham robberies there were accomplices with "getaway" cars and therefore there was some planning – bank robberies, in our view, are acts of desperation. Not since the days of Jesse James has anyone gotten rich by robbing banks and today if caught and convicted, those involved are facing serious criminal charges and prison time.

As citizens we need to be aware of our surroundings and any suspicious activity – but we also need to recommit to the "war on drugs" — no matter how overused and archaic that phrase has become.

As families and as communities, we need to do our best to put a stop to the drug trade. It is not an easy task. While a lot of TV and movies focus on "law and order," nearly as much attention also glorifies drugs and the abuse of alcohol.

We need to keeping talking to our kids about the dangers of drugs and support drug education in our schools.

Call us naive, but we have always believed that the future of our society and the health of our community – starts right here at home.

Economic Development

We support continuing the Economic Development Committee, which serves in an advisory role to the selectmen. So we applaud the selectmen's decision not to "sunset" the EDC.

With Greenbush set to roll after nearly 50 years, Cohasset could be poised for some "economic opportunity" that needs to be watched, nurtured and developed in a way that maintains the town's unique character.

We think the EDC, which has tapped the talents of local residents, can be at the forefront of that effort.

No one wants to see Cohasset lose what makes it so unique. However, not preparing for the future would be very shortsighted.

Next door in Hingham, many residents opposed the train. That town launched a lawsuit that was largely responsible for derailing the project for years.

Yet, the Hingham Industrial and Development Commission (HDIC), an appointed committee, has worked tirelessly on plans to transform Hingham Square – post-Greenbush. Ironically, Hingham Square may come out on top in terms of mitigation and related grants because of the hard work and determination of the HDIC.

MEETINGS

The following meetings are posted at Town Hall:

Advisory Committee, Oct. 16 & 22, 7 p.m.

Alternative Energy Committee, Nov. 6 and Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.

Cohasset Housing Partnership, Oct. 18, 7 p.m.

Conservation Commission, Oct. 18, 7 p.m.

Library Trustees, Nov. 14, 7 p.m.

Planning Board, Oct. 17, 6:30 p.m.

Recreation Commission, Oct. 17, 6:30 p.m.

School Committee, Oct. 17, 7 p.m. at the high school

Selectmen, Oct. 15, 22, 29 & Nov. 5, 7 p.m.

Stormwater Committee, Nov. 5, 7 p.m.

Water Commission Oct. 17, 7 p.m. with the Planning Board; Oct. 18 & Nov. 24, 6 p.m., King Street plant.

ZBA, Oct. 16, Oct. 22 & Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m.

All meetings take place at Town Hall unless otherwise noted. Call the Town Clerk's office at 781-383-4100 for updates and additions.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bradley reports on voting bill

TO THE EDITOR:

Last week the Massachusetts Joint Committee on Election Laws, headed by co-chairs Rep. Garrett Bradley (D-Hingham), who also represents Cohasset, Hull, and a section of Scituate, and Senator Ed Augustus (D-Worcester), gave a favorable report to the National Popular Vote bill. This important legislation would guarantee that the presidential candidate who receives the most popular votes in all 50 states and the District of Columbia would win the Presidency, rather than the current state-by-state winner-take all allocation of Presidential electors in all states but Maine and Nebraska.

Currently, Presidential campaigns are waged in a handful of "battleground" states, leaving the vast majority of voters in "safe" states like Massachusetts to practically sit out the election. It also means that a presidential candidate can receive the most votes and still lose the election, as happened 1888, 1876, 1824, and most recently in 2000. Dozens of other times, this has almost happened. In fact, in five of the last twelve presidential elections, a shift of a small number of votes in one or two states would have elected the second-place candidate.

Common Cause, which leads a coalition of civil rights and good government groups supporting this legislation, applauds the leadership of Rep. Bradley and Sen. Augustus in moving this bill forward to the House floor, where we expect a vote as early as next month. We believe the winner should win, and that all votes for this most important public office should be of equal value-regardless of the state from which they are cast. Readers wanting more information about this proposal can visit our website: www.commoncause.org/ma

Pam Wilmot, Executive Director
Common Cause Massachusetts

HEALTH NOTES

Dispelling some myths about the flu

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Folks in town have at least three opportunities to obtain flu shots depending on age, inclination and several other factors. There will be a Flu Clinic for Seniors, 65-plus years, and those people with chronic health problems such as cardiovascular and pulmonary disease, diabetes, renal dysfunction, HIV positive or immune compromised individuals, on Tuesday Oct. 23, from 10 a.m. to noon, and Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 10 a.m. to noon, at the Cohasset Town Hall auditorium. Parents of children under 18 years of age should consult their pediatricians.

For those who are too healthy to qualify for shots on the above dates, we will be having a flu clinic for you especially. The town-wide Flu Clinic for all Cohasset residents will take place on Saturday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to noon at Cohasset Town Hall auditorium.

The flu vaccine is free but seniors are reminded to bring their Medicare insurance card or Medicare HMO card with them and all are asked to wear a short sleeve shirt for ease of administration. The money the Board of Health receives from Medicare registration and reimbursement during flu clinics will assist in paying for flu shots for a broader segment of town citizens, thus reducing the likelihood of flu being transferred between individuals.

Flu is caused by viruses of several types:

Seasonal flu viruses infect humans every year causing respiratory disease (fever and cough), which can lead to more severe disease, and even death in infants, the elderly or those with chronic health problems. In Cohasset, flu season usually begins in December and can last into March or April.

Avian or bird flu occurs naturally among wild birds. The H5N1 strain currently circulating has caused significant illness and death among wild birds and domestic poultry. Bird flu is not easily passed to humans, but some people have become sick after extensive direct contact with poultry.

Pandemic flu. Sometimes a new strain of influenza virus emerges to which humans have no natural protection. If the new virus is easily transmitted from person to person, it can result in a pandemic affecting people worldwide. Influenza pandemics have occurred in 1918, 1957 and 1968. The next influenza pandemic will occur when a new strain of influenza virus emerges that is easily transmitted from person to person.

Over time, flu has produced a number of myths, the most prevalent of which are:

Myth 1. "The flu isn't a serious disease." In fact, flu is a serious disease of the nose, throat and lungs, and it can lead to pneumonia. Each year, about 200,000 people in the U.S. are hospitalized and about 36,000 people die because of the flu. Most who die are 65 years and older. But small children less than 2 years old are as likely as those over 65 to have to go to the hospital because of the flu.

Myth 2. "The flu shot can cause the flu." No! A flu shot cannot cause the flu. Some people get a little soreness or redness where they get the shot. It goes away in a day or two. Serious problems from the flu shot are very rare.

Myth 3. "The flu shot does not work." Most of the time the flu shot will prevent the flu. In scientific studies, the effectiveness of the flu shot has ranged from 70 to 90 percent when there is a good match between circulating viruses and those in the vaccine. Getting the vaccine is your best protection against this disease.

Myth 4. "The side effects are worse than the flu." Nonsense; the worst side effect you're likely to get from a shot is a sore arm. The nasal mist flu vaccine might cause nasal congestion, runny nose, sore throat and cough. The risk of a severe allergic reaction is less than 1 in 4 million.

Myth 5. "Only older people need a flu vaccine." Truth: All with reduced immunity. Adults and children with conditions like asthma, diabetes, diabetes, heart disease and kidney disease need to get a flu shot. Doctors also recommend children 6 months and older get a flu shot every year until their 5th birthday.

Myth 6. "You must get the flu vaccine before December." Actually, the best time to get vaccinated is October or November, but you can get vaccinated in December or later.

For more information, ask the town health nurse, your healthcare provider or call 800-CDC-INFO (800-232-4636) or visit the Web site at cdc.gov/flu.

Steve Bobo is a long-time member of the Cohasset Board of Health

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company,165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore, E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com

The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.

Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

Some are doing stupid things

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

Greenbush — The bewitching day of Greenbush commercial service on Wednesday, Oct. 31st is coming closer and closer; less than two weeks away. With that in mind, we thought that safety should be the topic foremost in everyone's mind. We have to say, we have seen some people do some very stupid things since the train started operating in its various phases of testing. We have written about some of them in the past, but they still happen.

For example:

- We have seen impatient drivers actually drive around crossing gates and cross the tracks between the medians!
- We have seen drivers who have not planned ahead and stop on the tracks because of a traffic tie up on the other side of the tracks.
- We have seen one area where someone actually cut through the MBTA fence to gain access to walk on the right of way.
- We could go on and on, but you get the point.

These are all very irresponsible acts that can have lethal effects on you, your children or friends. The facts are; there will be accidents involving trains. And, over 50 percent of them are at crossings with active warnings (bells, lights, and gates). Don't let it be you or your children. Speaking about children, we worry about them a lot. We have had Operation Lifesaver programs at the schools. But, have you sat down with your children, one on one to reinforce the danger in making poor choices about safety and trains? Not to be morose, but Operation Lifesaver has a thought provoking statistic. If a car runs over a single soda can, you can easily imagine the damage that would cause to that can. Well, if you look at the ration of weights, the car is to a soda can as a car is to a train. That's dramatic. Next time you are tempted to short-cut safety, think of the crushed soda can. That could be you!

Greenbush Progress— The Greenbush workers continue to buzz around like busy bees. The sophisticated crossings are still in the testing mode. Recently, there have been flagmen at Pleasant Street each evening while the train repeatedly passes over the crossing. Finishing touches are being added to the station. For example, bird netting is being installed at the station to protect the waiting passengers from missiles from above. Final signs are being installed. We have included several photos of some of this preparatory work.

COURTESY PHOTOS

Workers install final detail at the Cohasset Train Station.

You have probably noticed that even though the horn ban is in effect, occasionally you can hear horns. The reason is that a horn ban does not mean that there will never be a horn. The engineer will always blow the horn if there is a visible danger ahead. With workers on the tracks, the engineer will always blow the horn to warn them.

Interesting Greenbush Trivia — The Greenbush, as you probably know by now, will start revenue service on Wednesday, Oct. 31st. Two weeks ago we listed the schedule in this column. For anyone who missed it you can get it on line at:

www.mbta.com/uploadedFiles/documents/Greenbush%20Line%20WeekDay%20092107.pdf (That's a big enough web address to choke a horse.)

The initial trains will have a mixture of single and double deck cars and will accommodate up to 940-seated passengers. The MBTA plans keep this configuration for about six months. After this time period the will reevaluate and adjust their capacity accordingly.

At the present the Charlie cards will not be used on the train. Passes can be bought in Boston at various locations. Tickets can be purchased on the train. Boat monthly passes will be accepted on the train, but train monthly passes will not be accepted on the boat.

When a train is in the Cohasset station, both the Greenbush station parking lot access from N. Main St. and the N. Main St. crossing will be blocked by the railroad gates in the down position. The moral here is if you are running late; don't try to sneak in from N. Main St. It won't work.

A Greenbush Not-So-Trivial Note — During next week, the residents along the track from Sohier Street to King Street will be treated to an unusual event. For three or four days, a train will be parked on the railroad siding as a training exercise for Cohasset's emergency forces. Each day the train will be on the siding for one to two hours (with the engine running) to acquaint our firefighters and EMTs with the details of both the diesel engine, the passenger cars (both single and double decked), the methods of access both under normal and emergency conditions, as well as the equipment and techniques necessary to deal with a rail emergency. The reason these training sessions will extend over several days is so the various shifts can be fully trained and not leave the Town bare of trained emergency responders.

Tom Gruber, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Affairs, Email:
cgbaffairs@townofcohasset.org
Mark Brennan, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Engineering, Email:
cgbengineering@townofcohasset.org
Phone: 781-383-3094

A sign that will soon become familiar to Cohasset commuters.

Flying low in 'friendly' skies

DRIVING WHILE TYPING

JOHN LENGYEL

Basically what they want are paying mannequins on that plane, and if we don't play ball we can bloody well drive to San Francisco, that's what.

I used to get really excited about flying. It wasn't that long ago. I don't fly very often, which helps, but I've always loved airplanes and took every chance I got to ride in one.

Then, at some point over the last few years, airlines decided they had been spoiling us for decades and began a systematic program of passenger torture. Annoyed that we often joked about how awful airplane food was, they stopped cooking for us, then stopped feeding us altogether. We joked about how useless that bent-over crash position was, so they crushed the seats together, pretty much ruling out any position that involves bending. If we disable or tamper with the lavatory smoke detectors one more time I can easily see them replacing all lavatories with another eight rows of seats. Basically what they want are paying mannequins on that plane, and if we don't play ball we can bloody well drive to San Francisco, that's what.

I visited these friendless skies last week on my way to the west coast. Five hours into the flight I was famished. I flagged down an unnaturally cheerful flight attendant, who laid out my two options: I could die and shrivel up like a dried cockroach, or I could pay five bucks for a few pieces of cheese and some cantaloupe. After considering them both I went with option two and wolfed down the food, shocking my glucose levels and bringing on a queasiness I haven't felt since I mistakenly rode a Tilt-A-Whirl at age 40.

The back of my neck tingled. I was sweating. I breathed deeply and tried to relax. The last thing I wanted to do was talk or even think, so I gracefully bowed out of a conversation I'd been having with an older couple from Oregon next to me, explaining to the woman that I didn't feel well. She turned quickly to her husband.

"Keep him talking," I heard him whisper to her, as if it were some kind of hostage situation.

"So, um, do you think the Red Sox will lose?" she asked.

"I'm sorry," I mumbled, fumbling for the airsickness bag. "I'm not afraid of flying, I just got too hungry and I—"

"I know almost nothing about baseball, but to me their bullpen seems a little anemic this year."

"Um, could be," I said. "Could you blow on my neck?"

"They've got some sluggers, but the whole bottom half of the lineup could contribute more, don't you think?"

"I'd take a mint if you had one."

"And what's the deal with Gagne?"

"Please don't say Gagne."

We began descending and immediately hit turbulence. I concentrated on calm, cool lakes, silent—

"Are you feeling any better?" she asked.

"No, and I really just need—"

"You look pale as a sheet. Want some more bleu cheese?"

"I need to get to the lavatory."

"They charge two dollars now. Isn't that awful? Do you have any kids?"

"I've got $1.35. Could I borrow three quarters?"

"Say, does that nice Damon fellow still play for your team?"

And so on. I don't actually remember the last 20 minutes of the landing but somehow I made it to earth without losing my $5 cantaloupe.

I was smarter preparing for the return flight, packing myself a hearty lunch with a big bottle of spring water, both of which were promptly confiscated by security on the way in. Water and roast beef sandwich bombs are one of the big threats these days, according to the rotund man waving a cookie-detecting wand over my body. Apparently I would have aroused no suspicion had I packed a tripe sandwich and carrot juice, but I guess you live and learn.

John Lengyel lives in Cohasset. He remembers a time when connecting through Newark on a People Express red eye was considered roughing it. Had he known then that he was experiencing the future of first class he would have been a lot more smug.

LIBRARY CORNER

Register for free e-mail newsletter!

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

E-Mail Newsletter – Register for the library's free e-newsletter and never miss another program. Simply go to www.cohassetlibrary.org and click on the e-mail list registration button.

Great Decisions Group – The first Great Decisions Discussion group will begin at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 21, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss war crimes, found in chapter six of the assigned text.

We're Not Making This Up – Ever wonder what the story behind the story is? Hear from true crime writers, drug agents, cyber sleuths and others about what really goes on behind the scenes. "Sisters in Crime" authors Kate Flora and Jayne Hitchcock lead this panel discussion at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 28. Light refreshments will follow and the authors will sign copies of their work, which can be purchased at the event. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Admission is free.

Library Book Group – Join the book group for coffee and a discussion of "Snow Flower and the Secret Fan," by Lisa See at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 31, in the Meeting Room. All are welcome.

New DVDs – Check out these recently purchased DVD titles: "A Mighty Heart," starring Angelina Jolie; "Moonlighting: Season 3 and 4," starring Bruce Willis and Cybil Shepherd; and "The X-Files: The Complete First Season." Not on the shelf? Place a hold on your favorite title either online, over the phone, or in person.

FOR CHILDREN

MamaSteph – Performances will be from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Monday, Oct. 22 and 29, Nov. 5, 19, and 26, and Dec. 3, in the Meeting Room. Come sing and dance. All ages and communities welcome. Funded by the Friends of Cohasset Library.

Drop In Story Time – Join others in the Story Room from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 23 and 30, for Big Book adventures, music and movement. All ages and communities welcome.

Spanish Story Time – This four-week program for Cohasset residents ages 3 to 6, takes place from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Fridays, Nov. 2, 9, 16, and 30, in the Story Room. Register online now for this dual language story time provided by Emilia Buckley and Sharon Moody by visiting the library Web site and clicking on the link to the calendar; click on Nov. 2; and click on register.

Global warming?

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

I have to admit I'm confused about this global warming thing.

Every time Al Gore wins an Oscar or a Nobel Prize for warning me that my progeny face 200-foot tidal waves unless I shape up environmentally, the temperature tanks and I have to get out the electric blanket again.

Every time Rush Limbaugh or Bill O'Reilly tells me that it's all a lot of nonsense, the creation of the moonbats, then we get another 90-degree day in October and I have to shut off the furnace and put the air conditioner back in the window.

As a good Democrat, I know I should support the Kyoto Protocols, which restricts the polluting activities of the evil capitalists of the developed countries, like the United States, but exempts those of the so-called developing nations, like India and China, the worst polluters of them all.

A total of 55 nations have agreed to the Kyoto Protocols, but the two most notable absentees are Australia and the United States, where it has been defeated by an alliance of those who don't think it exists, those who don't think burning coal or oil has anything to do with it and those who don't give a damn as long as it doesn't cost them anything.

Global warming, as we all know, is caused by the greenhouse effect, which in turn is caused by burning coal and oil to create carbon dioxide, which traps the heat from the sun that usually radiates back into space. But what caused global warming in the past — Alley-Oop broiling dinosaur steaks over his campfire?

As far as I can tell, scientists who have studied the subject appear to have come up with the wrong answers while our statesmen down in Washington have sampled the opinions of 150 people at the Herbert Hoover Day dinner and come up with the real poop, discovered in a more democratic way.

Remember, these are the same people who viewed the late Terri Schiavo on television and diagnosed her ailment as temporary, even after she spent most of a decade in a vegetative state in a Florida hospice.

The first question asked of Al Gore when he was announced as the winner of the Nobel Peace Prize for his documentary was "Do you plan to run for president?" as if that was one of the qualifications for the White House. What's a president doing with a peace prize?

The same day, a British judge was warning school children in Old Blighty to watch Al's documentary, "An Inconvenient Truth," with a jaundiced eye because he, the judge, found nine major errors in it.

And you wonder why I am confused?

The best argument for global warming that I have heard came from the Pacific island nation of Tuvalu, 10 square miles of sand and coral, no part of which is more than 13 feet above sea level, which has risen 1.2 inches in the past century and is calculated to rise 39 inches in the next.

Its 11,000 residents, soon to be evicted, would appreciate it if someone were to give them another island, preferably uninhabited.

"We don't know when the island will be covered (by the sea) but we need to start working on this now," said Filimpost Nelesones, one of Tuvalu's headliners. "We cannot just float on the water hoping that the sea will go down again."

Tom Callahan guest on Our Town

ourtown

Tom Callahan, Co-chair of the Cohasset Affordable Housing Partnership, sits down with co-hosts Mark DeGiacomo and Pat Martin to discuss the efforts of the partnership to develop affordable housing in Cohasset as well as to detail the zoning articles going before voters at the Special Town Meeting on Nov. 13. Tune in at 9p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays on Comcast channel 10.

Missed the Cohasset High School football games? Tune in Saturday or Sunday nights beginning 7p.m. to catch the boys in blue on Channel 10.

Disruption is part of the project

SEWER REPORT

JOHN BECK

It will be a two-year period of noise, traffic delays and frustration. That is the nature of the beast.

This is the first in a continuing series of status reports for the Little Harbor/Atlantic Avenue sewer and water projects. The reports will also cover work being done on the Deep Run and Rust Way extension for the North Cohasset sewer work, as well as storm water and drainage work being done in conjunction with the water and sewer projects.

Earlier this summer, following issuance of bid requests and public evaluation of responses, a contract was awarded to L&M Holdings to perform the work. The contract is structured in three parts; one for water pipe replacement, one for new sewer pipe and the third for storm water and drainage work in the affected areas. The intent of having all this work done by a single contractor is to minimize the time that any one area is disturbed and achieve a high level of efficiency. For example, it may be possible in some locations to do rock/ledge removal and trenching at the same time for the separate water and sewer pipe installation. In other cases, the trenching work may be done sequentially if there is no net reduction in disturbance time by doing the work in parallel.

At first glance, it may seem that digging a trench and installing a pipe is simple. However the ledge conditions in Cohasset, combined with the strict regulatory requirements governing water and sewer pipe separation and installation, significantly complicate the work. Every effort will be made to do all the work as efficiently as possible, thus minimizing the disturbance to all.

One of the first requirements in the contract was for the contractor to find a suitable location for the equipment and materials lay-down area and construction trailers needed on a job of this magnitude. After evaluating a number of possible locations, both town-owned and private property, an agreement was reached with the owners of sufficient space on Jerusalem Road. This location is in close proximity to the work being done and meets all regulatory and zoning requirements. There have been a number of complaints by near-neighbors about this choice in that it is seen as a disturbance to the peace and tranquility of their immediate neighborhood. Please know that efforts are underway to minimize the aesthetic impacts with plantings and visual shielding of the area, as well as strict compliance with the working hours required of the contractor. Everyone needs to recognize that a project of this type cannot be done by waving a magic wand. It will be a two-year period of noise, traffic delays and frustration. That is the nature of the beast. The end result will be a huge improvement in the water and sewer infrastructure. Most significantly, we will achieve a level of environmental improvement in Little Harbor and surrounding waters that can only be done by sewering all the homes in the watershed.

Near term activities

Water and Sewer Piping Installation — The multi-colored striping and "hieroglyphics" which have appeared on numerous streets are the initial steps needed to safely begin digging the trenches for water and sewer. There are other utilities buried beneath the streets and these guiding markings will assist the contractor in his efforts to minimize/avoid damage to these existing utilities. Installation of water "by-pass piping" has started on those streets (Deep Run, Whitehead Road and Nichols Road) where replacement water pipes will be installed this fall before freezing weather. There will also be pre-blast surveys conducted in the Deep Run neighborhood. Once the winter freezing period begins, this surface piping will be de-activated, awaiting the spring thaw.

During the winter months we expect that progress will be made on the new sewer pipes on those streets. This sewer work does not require any by-passes.

When work commences in the streets, signage will be used to display specific activities underway.

Waste Water Treatment Plant (WWTP) — A separate contract governs the work required to upgrade the WWTP for the increased flows generated by the 450 additional homes being added by the sewer project. High on our priority list for this work is to install the necessary internal piping and modifications needed to avoid any future plant over-flows such as we experienced in May 2006. We anticipate that these specific modifications will be finished before winter.

Contacts — Should anyone have questions about any aspect of this work, there will be a construction trailer located in the lay-down area off Jerusalem Road maintained by Coughlin Environmental Services LLC (CES). CES is the engineering firm responsible for the project. The telephone number for the trailer is 781-383-2900, and this trailer will be staffed during normal working hours. Kevin McRae is the CES resident engineer whose cell phone number is 617-592-3276.

Questions about the updates — Anyone having questions about the updates may send an email to the author, John Beck, at johnbeckiii@msn.com. A prompt response will be sent.

John Beck is vice chairman of the Cohasset Sewer Commission.

'Paper towels come from trees'

TOWARD A SUSTAINABLE COHASSET

JOANN MIRISE

I used only eight paper towels the first month, and my run-rate is approaching zero this month.

Recently, a friend and I were cooking for hours in her kitchen. Afterwards we were surrounded by one big, sloppy mess. I looked for some paper towels to start the clean-up, but there were none to be found. No paper towels? How could that be possible?

In my quest to be more environmentally conscious, I knew paper towels were my Achilles heel. Despite some half-hearted efforts to use cloth, I continued to reach instead for the paper. For a person who has turned her life around in order to tread more lightly on this planet, I was feeling defeated by this 11 by 11 sheet of manufactured product. Ours was a household addicted to paper towels and I was the dealer.

I at least made the switch to 100 percent recycled paper towels. I was helping to save virgin forests. I was making a dent in energy and water usage since recycled products typically require fewer resources to manufacture. And I was decreasing the levels of cancer-causing dioxins from being released into the environment since I only chose recycled paper towels that are chlorine-free.

Still, I couldn't shake the feeling that regularly using any paper towels was just not right. I was recently in a public restroom and saw a sticker on the paper towel dispenser that stopped me in my tracks. It simply said "These come from trees." Had I forgotten that I was trading in a living organism in exchange for a quick wipe?

If I was to beat this habit, I would have to do something big. When dieting, some people are able to reach past the freezer where the ice cream lives to get to the crisper drawer for a handful of carrot nubs. I am not that person. I need to exterminate my cabinets and refrigerator of all calorie-offenders. The same all-or-nothing approach seemed to be in order for my paper towel problem. I decided I was going to purge all paper towels from the house and not use a single one for an entire month.

I kept putting off the start date of my pledge. It seemed so ominous. Luckily a simpler solution emerged in my friend's kitchen. When I asked if she had any paper towels, she glided over to an unassuming cabinet, a little out of the way, opened the door and there they were, tucked neatly to the side of some other kitchen accessories. She said she didn't use them much so she stored them in a cabinet – accessible but not entirely handy. A light bulb appeared above my head. I could simply put my roll of paper towels in the cabinet, away from the convenient countertop. No grand gestures. No pledges. No all-or-nothing. A swift, simple re-org. Such a small step. How could I have missed this option?

Inspired by my friend's idea, I put our roll of paper towels in the cabinet. I used only eight paper towels the first month, and my run-rate is approaching zero this month. One small step, one big personal victory. And I later found out this idea inspired a couple of other friends to go paper towel-free. The impact keeps expanding.

There is a lot of discussion over the effectiveness of the small steps in addressing the alarming state of our earth. Some even argue that small steps are downright dangerous since they make us think we are making a difference and give us a cleaner conscious, when in fact we are not even coming close to doing what is necessary. As we are patting ourselves on the back for being green, the planet continues to spiral toward collapse.

We still, however, need the small steps. In fact they are crucial. The rippling effect that a small step can have cannot be underestimated. This simply means we need to keep changing our light bulbs, turning down the thermostat in the winter and trading in our SUVs for more fuel-efficient vehicles. But even more so, we need to remain open to the next place that these changes can take us. Perhaps many of us will realize that we don't even need (or like) having a big, suburban house. And perhaps we'll find that our family can easily rely on one or even no car. It is all possible.

Small steps are like the handful of trail mix that gives us the energy to make it a few more miles. It's the energy we need to take a good, hard look at ourselves. It's the energy we need to think of new paths. And it's the energy we need to come together, combining forces, so that our small steps multiplied by the population, move us toward a lasting solution.

JoAnn Mirise lives and writes in Cohasset.

Register to vote for Special Town Meeting

Friday, Nov. 2 will be the last day to register to vote for the Special Town Meeting to be held on Tuesday, Nov.13. Registration will be held at the Town Clerk's office from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Any citizen of the United States who is a Massachusetts resident and who will be 18 years old on or before a town meeting or Election Day may register to vote. There is no waiting period to be eligible to register to vote. If you move, you may register to vote as soon as you move into your new home. Registration is closed for a brief period before each town meeting and election to allow election officials time to prepare the voting lists. If you register during a "closed" period, you will be eligible to vote only in later town meetings or elections.

Beacon Hill Roll Call

By Bob Katzen

bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

October 8-12, 2007

Senator
Robert L. Hedlund
(R-Weymouth)
(617) 722-1646
Room 413F

Representative
Garrett J. Bradley
(D-Hingham)
(617) 722-2120
Room 472

QUESTIONS

Y

Y

N

N

N

If you have any questions about this week's report, e-mail us at beaconhill@aol.com or call us at (617)720-1562.

Copyright © 2007 Beacon Hill Roll Call. All Rights Reserved.

By Bob Katzen

THE HOUSE AND SENATE. Beacon Hill Roll Call records local representatives' votes on five roll calls from the week of October 8-12. There were no roll calls in the Senate last week.

SUSPEND RULES TO IMMEDIATELY CONSIDER $278 MILLION SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET (H 4282)

House 130-18, approved a Democratic motion to suspend rules to allow immediate consideration of a $278 million fiscal 2007 supplemental budget. The rules that were suspended include the one requiring that copies of all bills be made available to all members of the House and the public at least 24 hours in advance of consideration. Supporters of rule suspension said that the House should act quickly and responsibly to approve this budget that funds many vital programs. Opponents of rule suspension said that this complicated 41-page budget was distributed to members less than two hours ago. They argued that it is irresponsible and unfair to act on the budget when members have not had sufficient time to read it. (A "Yes" vote is for rule suspension. A "No" vote is against rule suspension).

$278 MILLION SUPPLEMENTAL BUDGET (H 4282)

House 126-18, approved a $278 million fiscal 2007 supplemental budget proposed by the Democratic leadership. The Senate later approved it on a voice vote, without a roll call, and sent it to Gov. Deval Patrick. Provisions include $116.5 million to fund collective bargaining agreements; $20 million for public defenders; $8 million for Central Artery repairs; $200,000 for a special commission that will prepare a ten-year strategic plan for the systemic reform of public education; $200,000 for implementing a survey of all public schools teachers to solicit their views on the teaching and learning environment and $50 million for the state's Rainy Day Fund that has a current balance of $2.2 billion. A controversial provision gives the governor and the state's four other constitutional officers automatic biennial pay raises under the same system that that automatically increases legislators' pay. The governor currently is required to raise the salaries of legislators under the terms of a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in 1998. The amendment requires legislative salaries to be increased or decreased biennially at the same rate as the state's median household income for the preceding two-year period - as ascertained by the governor. Legislators received a 4.8 percent pay raise for 2007 and 2008. The $2667.33 hike increased the annual salary of rank-and-file members from $55,569.41 to $58,236.74. If the automatic pay raises for the five constitutional officers is signed into law, they would receive the same 4.8 percent increase retroactive to July 1 and would automatically receive increases every two years. The initial increase would provide a $6,745 hike for the governor (from $140,535 to $147,281); a $5,996 raise for the lieutenant governor, secretary of state and treasurer (from $124,920 to 130,916) and a $6,121 hike for the attorney general (from $127,523 to $133,644). The measure also creates a new five-member advisory board, appointed by the governor on compensation of officials. The board would study the adequacy of compensation of officials and submit a report to the Legislature by December 5. Supporters said that the package is a fiscally responsible one that funds collective bargaining agreements, replenishes accounts that are running out of money and adds money to accounts that would be helped by increased funding. Some opponents said that there is still waste in the budget. Others argued that members received this 41-page document less than two hours ago and said that it is irresponsible and unfair to act on the budget when members have not had sufficient time to read it. (A "Yes" vote is for the $278 million budget. A "No" vote is against the $278 million).

$450 MILLION IN NEW LOTTERY LOCAL AID FOR CITIES AND TOWNS (H 4282)

House 24-123, rejected a Republican amendment providing $450 million in additional Lottery Local Aid to cities and towns to be used at their discretion. Amendment supporters said that the Legislature cut Lottery Local Aid by $450 million over the past three years when the state's financial situation was in question. They noted that eventually the state ended up with an estimated $1 billion surplus in each of those three years and diverted the money to the state's Rainy Day Fund instead of giving it back to cities and towns. They argued that many communities have been forced to override Proposition 2 1/2 and increase taxes or cut funds for their school, police and firefighters because of this lost local aid. Amendment opponents said that sponsors of the amendment have not indicated from where this $450 million would come. They said that the amendment is fiscally irresponsible and would result in cuts in other important items in the supplemental budget. Some noted that the state substantially increased local aid this year to help make up for the $450 million loss over three prior years. (A "Yes" vote is for $450 million in local aid. A "No" vote is against the $450 million).

$450 MILLION IN NEW LOTTERY LOCAL AID FOR PROPERTY TAXPAYERS (H 4282)

House 19-125, rejected a Republican amendment providing $450 million in Lottery Local Aid to cities and towns to distribute as a form of direct tax relief to all residential property taxpayers. Amendment supporters repeated their arguments that the state diverted $450 million in local aid over a three-year period. They noted that this amendment differs from the first one because it would require cities and towns to distribute the funds directly to property taxpayers. Amendment opponents again argued that the proposal is a fiscally irresponsible one that does not specify from where this $450 million would come. (A "Yes" vote is for $450 million in local aid. A "No" vote is against the $450 million).

ELIMINATE $453,292 FOR GOV. PATRICK'S WASHINGTON D.C. OFFICE (H 4282)

House 19-128, rejected a Republican amendment to eliminate $453,292 in additional funding for the Patrick administration's office in the nation's capital. Supporters of the $453,292 said that the funding is necessary to strengthen this office that works to maximize the amount of federal funds that the state receives. They argued that the additional funding would help bring back millions more in federal dollars to the state. Opponents of the $453,292 said that this additional funding nearly doubles the current budget of this office and asked proponents to explain exactly how the additional money would be used. They noted that the office is currently funded out of the governor's general budget and said that the Legislature this year increased that general budget by 9.5 percent. (The roll call was on elimination of the $453,292. A "Yes" vote is for the amendment eliminating the $453,292. A "No" vote is against the amendment and supports the $453,292).

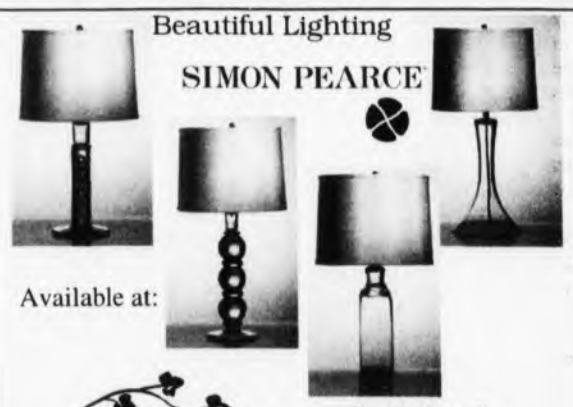
Y = Yes; N = No, NV = No Vote

Bob Katzen welcomes feedback at bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

James G. Judge DMD, MSD

Specialist in Pediatric and Adult
Orthodontics
781-837-1351

Halloween



• Delicious hand-made goodies in spooky themes to delight your favorite trick-or-treaters.
• Caramel Apples hand-dipped in Phillips Chocolate, topped with candies and nuts.

PHILLIPS CANDY HOUSE
FINE CHOCOLATES SINCE 1925
818 Morrissey Boulevard, Boston
South Shore Plaza, Braintree
(Now in the Sears Wing, next to The Irish Cottage)

Order Online at PHILLIPSCHOCOLATE.COM or call 800.722.0905

Beautiful Lighting
SIMON PEARCE

Available at:

per Simmons
gifts & home furnishings

Rt. 53, Norwell
781-659-2215
www.persimmonsgifts.com

Next stop: Town Meeting

Planning Board approves draft of village zoning bylaw

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The proposed village zoning bylaw is headed for the prime-time.

A united Planning Board voted to approve the article draft for the Special Town Meeting warrant at the close of their continued public hearing of the bylaw.

Most notably, the Planning Board moved forward with a bylaw naming the Planning Board special permit granting authority despite lengthy discussion and opposition from members of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The complex bylaw is bound to raise much discussion on the floor of Town Meeting (to be held on Monday, Nov. 13), where voters will determine its fate. Like all zoning bylaw amendments, a two-thirds majority vote is required to enter the changes into the books.

A much thinner crowd consisting mostly of local developers, property owners and town committee members than the first public hearing (Oct. 2) joined the Planning Board for round two of the public hearing process on Wednesday night. Every zoning bylaw must have a public hearing to air concerns from citizens before going to the floor of Town Meeting.

The overlying intent of the village bylaw is to allow additional development to increase economical vitality, while maintaining the character of the district. At the forefront is the Planning Board's desire to streamline the process for the potential developers. To that end, a one-stop approval process was written into the bylaw with the Planning Board as the special permit granting authority for the village business district. A similar permitting process, with the Planning Board as the authority, is currently in place for the cluster development and the Transit Oriented Overlay District (TOD).

Traditionally, in cases of commercial expansion or new construction in the village the applicant would need to go before the Planning Board for a site plan review and before the ZBA for a special permit or variance.

The overlying intent of the village bylaw is to allow additional development to increase economical vitality, while maintaining the character of the district.

Since reviewing the proposed bylaw the ZBA has disagreed with the shift of permit granting authority to the Planning Board. In recent meetings, members of the ZBA have lobbied for the dual board process to remain intact. Achieving a resolution to this jurisdictional issue before Town Meeting was viewed as crucial to its ultimate success.

In preparation for the discussion, village consultant Angus Jennings of Concord Square Development Company prepared a motion that would effectively transfer the permit granting authority back to the ZBA in the draft bylaw. The proposed motion would enable coordination between the boards and the ZBA would be obligated to address the Planning Board's comments on the project before granting a special permit.

"My main concern is getting movement on this article," said Planning Board Mike Westcott, who has been running lead on this project. Although he said it was reasonable for the Planning Board to be the special permit granting authority, he was willing to concede this piece of the bylaw to resolve this issue, "at Town Meeting we need to be unified as two boards."

Woody Chittick, chairman of the ZBA, said the proposal made sense and, with this change, would be willing to support the bylaw as a whole.

But, Planning Board member Bob Sturdy said the change would add increased expense and delays in the permit process for the developer — exactly what they were trying to avoid, "my objective is to promote development."

"The Planning Board is more well equipped to deal with district wide and planning based development," said audience member Tom Callahan. In his professional experience as a real estate attorney, Callahan said throughout the state new districts or overlay districts special permit granting authority is almost universally being given to Planning Boards.

Jennings agreed there was a current trend in zoning reforms that placed authority under the Planning Board, "I felt very comfortable through the summer carrying the Planning Board as the permit granting authority." But, most of the towns had the benefit of a town planner to keep a close watch on development.

Moreover, like Westcott, he did not want the bylaw to fail over this conflict, "the proposal is a viable, credible way to bring forth this bylaw with the support of the ZBA."

The discussion came down to if the Planning Board was willing to take its chances on presenting the village bylaw without the unified support of the Planning Board and the Zoning Board of Appeals.

"It's sort of unfortunate we are being held hostage [by the ZBA] on this issue," said Westcott. Although an audience member pointed out the ZBA has not voted on an official stance on the village bylaw as of yet.

Planning Board Vice Chairman Bill Good spoke passionately over why the board should stick with their original proposal, 'let's go forth with conviction and belief. It's going to add such a value to the village...we'll speak at Town Meeting with the enthusiasm and passion we all share for [this bylaw]."

But, Westcott indicated it was more complicated than that, "the intent and ultimate result is too important for us to take a chance of any kind. It's too important a deal to let it go down for any reason."

With a final motion on the table to approve the draft of the bylaw, with the Planning Board as the special permit granting authority, Moore, Good and Sturdy gave their affirmatives with Westcott taking a few extra moments before casting his vote with the other members. Member Stuart Ivimey was absent.

MBTA conducts train safety session

By Ryan Bray
RBRAY@CNC.COM

The MBTA has a saying that "Anytime is train time."

While even a year ago, that philosophy wouldn't have applied to Cohasset, with the Greenbush line slated to begin operation Oct. 31, it's a phrase that residents need to familiarize themselves with — and soon.

MBTA officials held a train safety night at Scituate High School Tuesday in a last push to alert people to the do's and don'ts of train safety before the opening of the line. Seven MBTA representatives briefed residents and answered questions regarding signage, signal testing and train speeds among others. Residents were also given an overview of train safety through the MBTA's ongoing "Operation Lifesaver" program.

Steve Jones, director of railroad operations for the MBTA, described the new Greenbush line as the organization's "most modern and improved railway." As such, he said it's important that residents, as well as police and fire officials, understand how to act and react safely in the presence of trains and railroad crossings.

"Safety is always first on our list," Jones said. "It's of first importance on our discharge of duty each day."

Joe McCabe, senior signal supervisor for the MBTA, added that the Greenbush line, which passed inspection upon review by the Federal Railroad Association, is overseen piece by piece, with an eye toward improving glitches and imperfections as needed.

"You can always get a new car, but you can't replace the people in it."
— Ed O'Connell, Operation Lifesaver

"I can't emphasize enough the amount of time and energy that has gone into ensuring this line's safety," said McCabe, a Scituate resident. "We monitor every function of every event in real time. We know what's happening, and we're always looking for anomalies."

While measures are in place to correct problems along the railroad, MBTA officials stressed that residents must also do their part to ensure safety along the line. One area of concern is trespassing on the railroad. Lt. Commander Joe O'Connor of the MBTA transit police said trespassing on the tracks is punishable by fines and possibly imprisonment. He said while there have been no issues with trespassing on the tracks since test trains began running in May, people need to be aware of the dangers and consequences that come with trespassing on the tracks.

"Being on the tracks is not all right," he said. "We'll educate as much as we can, but we'll arrest if we have to."

Ed O'Connell, a retired lieutenant with the MBTA transit police, briefed residents on Operation Lifesaver. Since being implemented nationwide 35 years ago, the program has helped reduce the number of train-related accidents each year, from 14,000 in 1972 to about 3,000 this past year.

The Operation Lifesaver presentation, which has been shown to students, MBTA officials and members of the town's police and fire departments over the past year, went over the dangers of crossing the tracks, the importance of obeying crossing signals and the proper course of action if someone is caught in the middle of the railroad. O'Connell said in such an instance, the only thing a person can do is run.

"You can always get a new car, but you can't replace the people in it," he said.

Residents fired numerous questions at MBTA officials, mainly pertaining to the MBTA's decision to begin service Oct. 31. Town officials and residents have raised concerns with opening the train to the public on Halloween, a night when pedestrian traffic will be considerable, especially children.

Jones said the MBTA didn't target Halloween as its start date, but said that the necessary permitting fell into place to align with an opening date at the end of the month.

"The sequence of all the permits and certifications just led us to that day," Jones said.

Bob Murphy, director of safety training for the MBTA, said train officials are cooperating with local police to alert people to the opening of the train on Halloween, including posting flyers around town.

The first of four seven-week courses begins November 6th.

Facilities Management Certificate

Enroll now, and you will:

- Develop advanced skills and knowledge in the field of facilities planning and management
- Enhance your career
- Brush up on essential skills
- Prepare for the CFM Exam

WENTWORTH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Offered through the Division of Professional and Continuing Studies (DPCS). A leader in adult education, DPCS helps adult learners achieve their educational and career objectives with evening and weekend courses designed to fit busy lifestyles.

For more information, call 1-800-323-9481 or e-mail dpcs@wit.edu

NEW LOCATION!

Minuteman Club / Bedford, MA

MILLBROOK MOTORS

Millbrook Motors
1474 Tremont Street, Duxbury
Junction of Rtes. 3A & 139
781-934-6551
Jeep

Take A Look At Millbrook... YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID.

#1 in Jeep Service Customer Loyalty in all of New England!

#2 in the entire USA. We will work even harder for you!

Millbrook is the oldest Jeep dealer on the East Coast!
Family Owned and Operated Since 1952

FIVE STAR — Five Star Sales & Service. Friendly, Knowledgeable Staff. — LIFETIME

MODEL YEAR END CLEARANCE COUNTDOWN SALES EVENT

FREE Navigation & MyGig on select Jeep Models

Brand New 2007 JEEP Commander 4x4
V8, leather heated seats, power sunroof, Sirius Satellite Radio, much more. Stock #7243

Lease for Only
$259/mo. 27 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*
M.S.R.P. $37,505
Rebate -$4000
Millbrook Discount -$4000
Buy for Only
$29,505

Take Your Pick!

Brand New 2007 Grand Cherokee 4x4
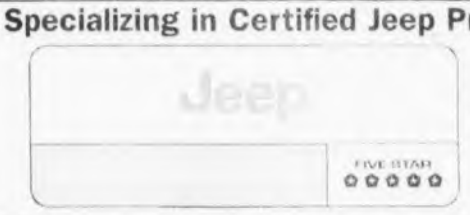
Sun and sound package. Stock #7149



Lease for Only
$189/mo. 27 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*
M.S.R.P. $31,505
Rebate -$4000
Millbrook Discount -$3010
Buy for Only
$23,495

2008 4 Door Wranglers In Stock for Immediate Delivery

*Both leases include 10% of MSRP due at lease signing, loyalty rebate and military rebate. Based on 10,500 miles per year. Commander purchase option at lease end $19,127.55. Dealer reference number 10089. Stock #7243. Grand Cherokee purchase option at lease end $15,180. Stock #7075. Reference number 10085. All vehicles in stock at time of ad. Tax, title, reg. extra on purchase prices.

Specializing in Certified Jeep Pre-owned Vehicles.

Brand Spankin' Used.

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo
4 to choose at similar savings. #UC-1026

$14,990

2007 Jeep Commander Sport
Silver, 17,375 mi. #UC-1049

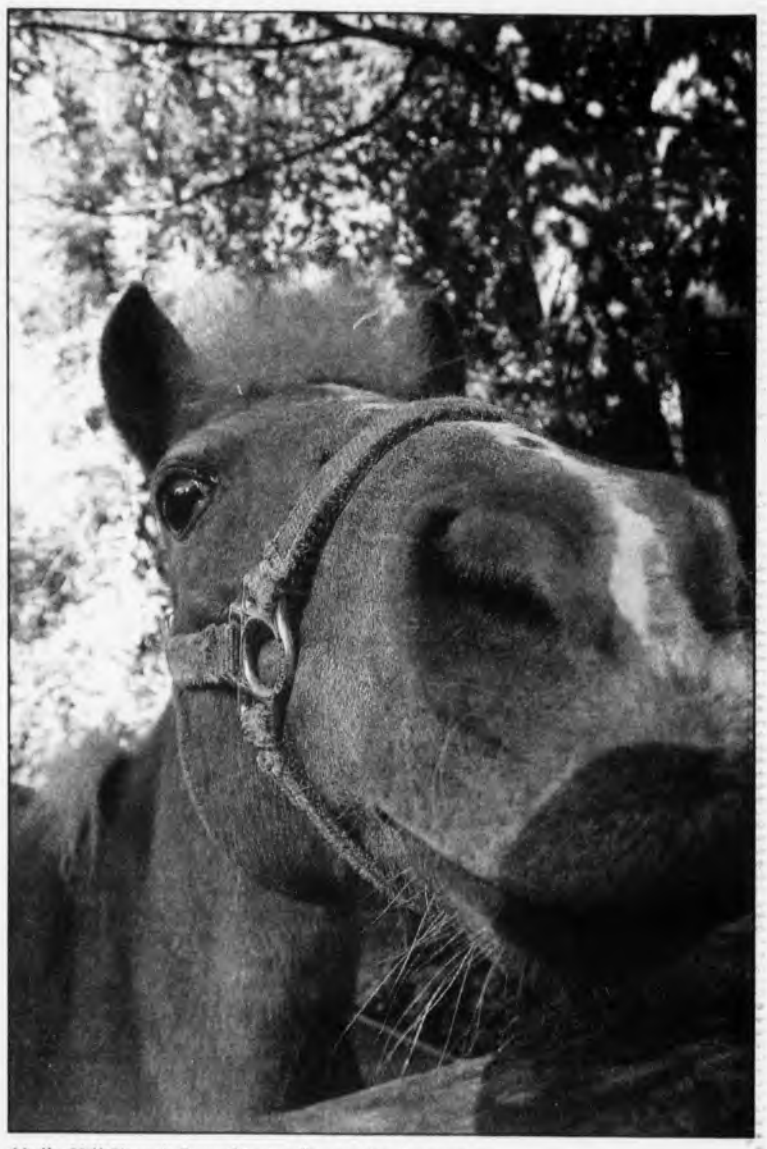
$22,990

2007 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo 4x4
White, low miles. #UC-1063

$20,990

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Special Edition Leather interior, sunroof. #UC-1032 $16,990
2006 Jeep Wrangler Sport Black, 10,950 mi. #UC-1030 $19,990
2004 Jeep Wrangler Unlimited Black, 15,047 mi. #UC-1043 $18,990
2- 2007 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo
1 black & 1 steel blue, low miles. #UC-1055 & #UC-1062 $20,990ea
2007 Jeep Liberty Sport Low miles. #UC-1061 $17,990
2003 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo Gray, 52,985 mi. #UC-1056 $13,490

Present this ad and save
$250.00 OFF
any certified Pre-Owned Vehicle in stock
All prior sales excluded. Limit 1 per customer per transaction. No cash value. Expires 10/31/07.



Check out our entire inventory at
www.millbrookmotors.com
NO NONSENSE INTERNET SPECIALS
JEEP is a registered trademark of Chrysler LLC.

Down on the farm Visitors go behind the scenes at Holly Hill

PHOTOS BY CRAIG GOEDECKE

Visitors walk between rows of asparagus and a cover crop of buckwheat that helps keep the weeds down and for the soil to be enriched. The tour took place at the Holly Hill Farm Sunday afternoon.

Holly Hill Farm's Pumpkin is all eyes for the camera.

Ben Wolbach, co-manager at Holly Hill Farm off Jerusalem Road, talks to visitors about the tomato-growing season that had its ups and downs. This was all part of the behind the scenes look at the organic farm on Sunday.

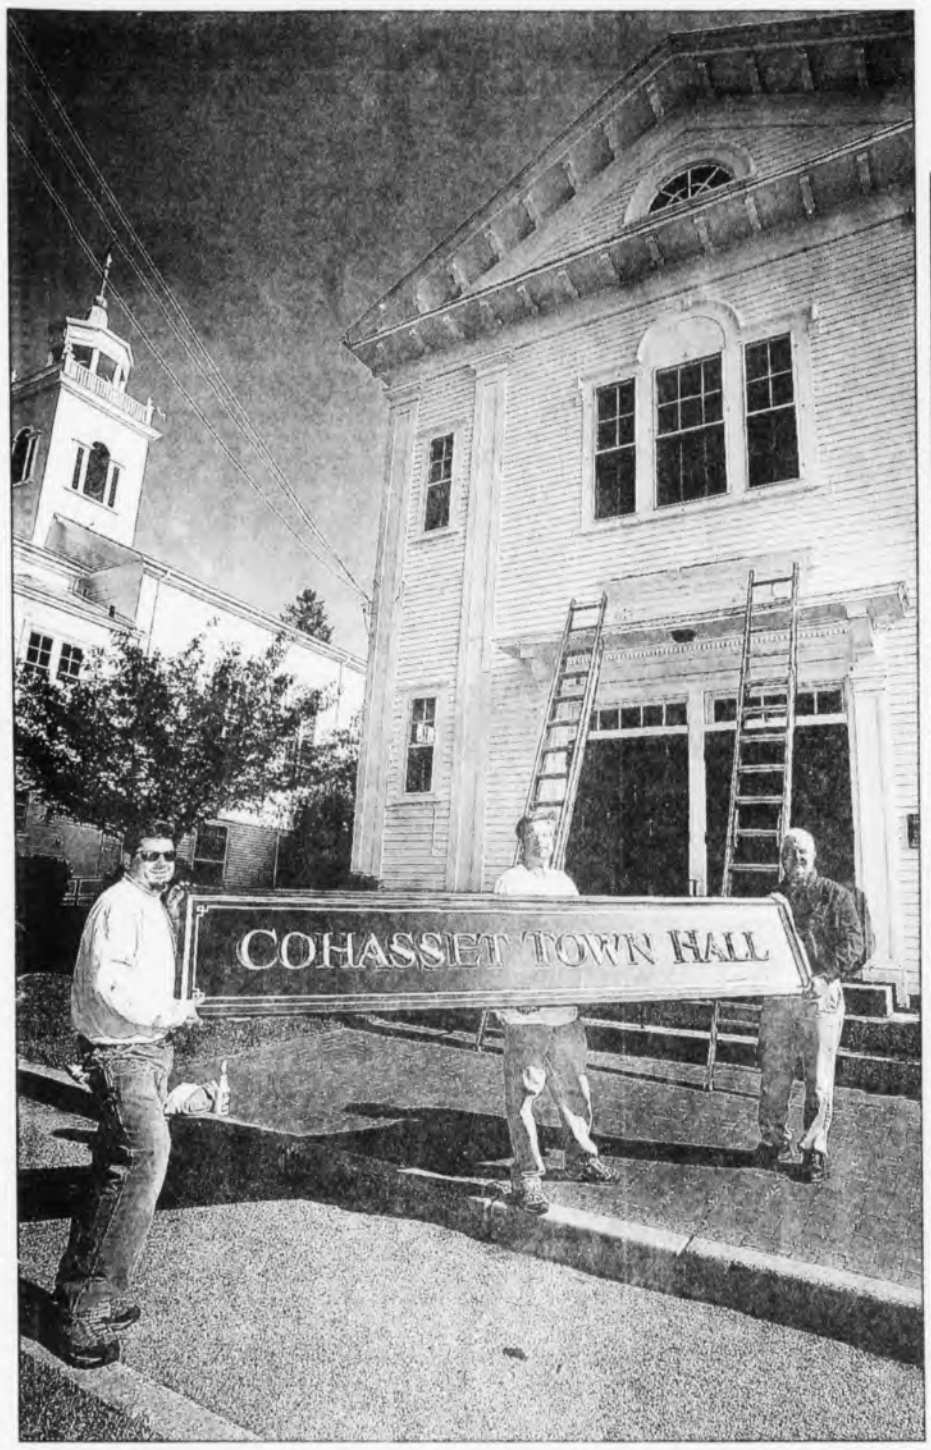
Hannah Hobbs, one of Holly Hill Farm's co-managers, holds a chunk of organic compost matter that was shown to visitors Sunday afternoon during the tour of the Farm.

Turnips and radishes are just a few of the organic vegetables grown at the Holly Hill Farm gardens.

Eileen Stoolmacher of Somerville picks some spicy cress to taste while on a tour of the Holly Hill Farm organic gardens Sunday afternoon.

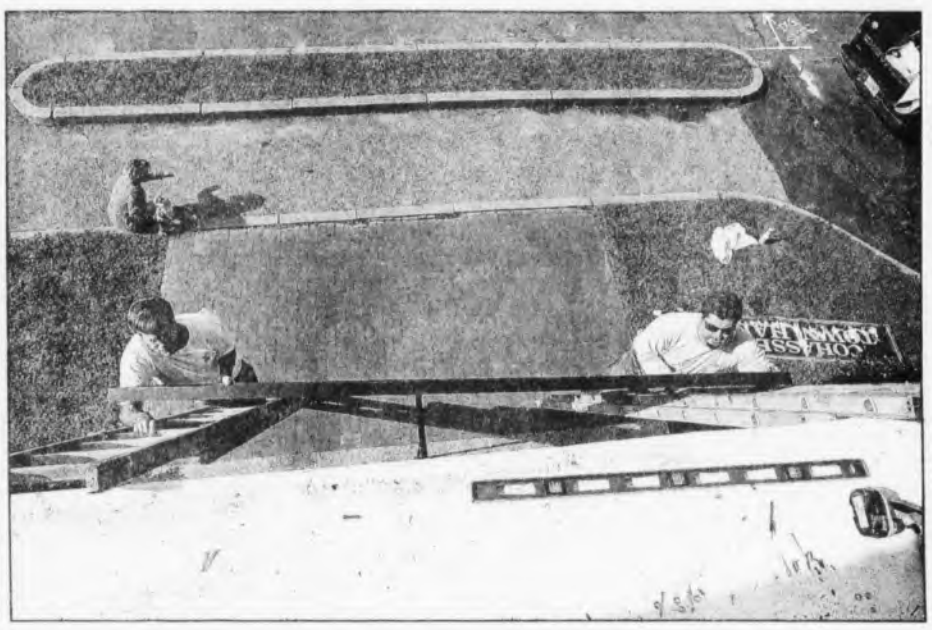
Visitors are led on a tour by Holly Hill Farm co-managers Hannah Hobbs and Ben Wolbach Sunday afternoon during a Behind the Scenes look at Holly Hill Farm.

Left: Co-Managers of Holly Hill Farm Hannah Hobbs, far left and Ben Wolbach, right talk to visitors inside one of the two greenhouses that is used to grow tomatoes. The farm sits on 140 acres and 4 to 5 acres of the farm are used for organic gardening.



Left: Roma and Dirk Hertel fill a baggie with organically grown Arugula at the Holly Hill Farmstand.

Holly Hill Farms Co-manager Ben Wolbach holds a Hakurei Turnip up for visitors to see while taking a behind the scenes tour of the organic gardens Sunday afternoon. More than just a look-and-see tour, participants had the opportunity to ask questions and hear tips on how to grow organically and keep weeds and pests under control.



Sign of the times

Josh Hassan, Kevin Gildea and Building Inspector Bob Egan, right, stand with the new sign before it was placed on the Town Hall. Egan submitted the petition to the Community Preservation Committee to have the aging sign replaced. The lettering is finished with 23-karat gold leaf.

Josh Hassan removes the peeling sign from above the auditorium doors. The old sign was refinished a year after the filming of the "Witches of Eastwick."

Josh Hassan, right, and Kevin Gildea of Hassan Sign Company in Cohasset climb up their ladders to install a new sign for the Cohasset Town Hall. Spring Town Meeting allocated $4120 of Community Preservation funds for a new sign.

Staff photos/Robin Chan

we just landed a great job.
5,005
of them, actually.

Thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs it's your turn to score big. More Eastern Massachusetts job opportunities. More current listings. More of what you need to find the right one.

VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM TODAY

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

© 2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

SLEEPY'S® - CELEBRATING OUR 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Simmons® Beautyrest

1/2 PRICE†

LAST THREE DAYS

SLEEPY'S® WILL BEAT ANYONE'S PRICE BY 20% OR IT'S FREE*

Guaranteed

We will meet any price on any Stearns & Foster®, Internet, TrueForm®, Tempur-Pedic® or BodypDiagnostics® models *Applies to same or comparable mattresses prior to delivery. Excludes closeouts, special purchases, exchanges, floor samples, warranties, discontinued & one-of-a kind items. Must present competitor's current ad or invoice.

†1/2 Price Sale applies to models listed in ad only. All models available for purchase and may not be on display. Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities - 1 per customer. Not responsible for typographical errors. Photos are for illustration purposes only.

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price.

Simmons Twin 2 PC. SET $199.99
Full 2pc.set $279.99
Queen 2pc.set $299.99

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price.

$399.99 Queen 2 PC. SET Beautyrest Firm

Twin	2pc. set	$ 299.99
Full	2pc. set	$ 379.99
King	3pc. set	$ 599.99

$599.99 Queen 2 PC. SET Beautyrest Pillowtop

REG $1199.99

	OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$ 899.99	1/2 Price	$449.99
Full 2pc. set	$1149.99	1/2 Price	$574.99
King 3pc. set	$1699.99	1/2 Price	$849.99

$649.99 Queen 2 PC. SET Beautyrest Luxury Firm

REG $1299.99

	OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$ 999.99	1/2 Price	$499.99
Full 2pc. set	$1199.99	1/2 Price	$599.99
King 3pc. set	$1799.99	1/2 Price	$899.99

UP TO 36 Months

0% Interest-Free Financing Until Oct. 2010 No Money Down

Subject to credit approval by GE Money Bank. Applies to purchases made on Sleepy's consumer credit card account. No finance charges will be assessed on promotional purchase amt. until 36th month ("promo period"). Fixed min. monthly payments equal to 1/36th of purchase amount are required during promo period in addition to any other required min. payment. 36 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $2999, 24 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $1999, 12 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $999, 6 mos. avail. on min. purchases of $300. No finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. if you pay this amt. in full by due date as shown on (6th)(12th) billing statement. If not, finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. from purchase date. Min. monthly payments required. If min. monthly payment is not paid when due, all special promotional terms may be terminated. Variable APR is 23.99% as of 4/04. Fixed APR of 24.75% applies if payment is more than 30 days past due. Min. finance charge is $1.

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!

Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window

Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays &store pick-ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester, MA, CT, RI, PA & DE. Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery Fees Apply.

SLEEPY'S®

The Mattress Professionals®

BROOKLINE 1385 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpk (Next to Burger King, ample pkg in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawaum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worchester Rd/Rt 9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Place, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 North (Just South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St, Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316

ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Nxt. To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 973-392-0838
STOUGHTON Lot #5 Technology Drive (Nr. Olive Garden) 781-344-0207

BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St. (Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyannough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388 Grand Opening
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com

Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC

Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons

On the South Shore

See page 33

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

General Manager John Guilfoy, left, and owner David Littlefield, right, chow down on some of their delicious products in front of a painted trailer with Wally the Green Monster. David is the Sausage Guy and he started the famous booth 15 years ago. Dave and John have been working together for the past 3 years and both run the Boys of Summer Ice Cream, Company here in Cohasset.

Boys of summer grill up playoff excitement

Win or lose sausages aplenty at Red Sox themed eatery

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

Nobody likes the end of the baseball season unless it involves your team and a champagne soaked locker room. Even then it's hard to say goodbye. As of Mariner press time our beloved Red Sox were fighting for their playoff lives against a very good Cleveland Indians team. For those who can't bear to accept the possible fate of the hometown nine, there is an oasis of Red Sox joy situated in the heart of Cohasset Village.

It's called the Boys of Summer Ice Cream, Company and David Littlefield, Fenway Park's famed Sausage Guy, owns it. He, along with general manager John Guilfoy plan on staying open for business year round, Thursdays through Saturdays. If that insatiable appetite for all things Fenway comes groaning in the form of hunger pangs, there will be a Dice Dog waiting for you, even if Japan's favorite son is eating Sushi in Sapporo.

"The playoffs are always great to us, people think Red Sox and they think of us," Littlefield said from his Cohasset location.

The Sausage Guy is a 15-year veteran at Fenway and thought bringing a little city flavor to the suburbs would taste just fine. Since doors opened in July, the dogs have been flying over the counter.

"I love it," Littlefield said. "I love being here (Cohasset), it's a beautiful place to live, work and play."

SEE SUMMER, PAGE 21

Balanced attack

Field hockey team qualifies for state tournament with win

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

Strong bench play couldn't come at a better time for the Cohasset High School field hockey team. Tuesday, the girls defeated Mashpee, 1-0, but back-to-back games Friday and Saturday, tested the strength of the Skippers depth.

"We played fearless Saturday," Bostwick said about a 1-1 tie against Nantucket. "We were a little tired and a little worn out but we knew we were trying to secure the tournament spot."

By gaining a point against the Whalers and beating the Hawks, Cohasset improved to 8-3-3 overall, 6-2-2 in the South Shore League. That qualifies the girls for their second straight state tournament appearance and a potential second place finish in league play behind Harwich, a team that beat them Friday, 3-0.

"I am extremely pleased with Alyssa Mullin. She is really doing a great job."
Deb Bostwick

Cohasset continues to get great play from its main group: Olivia Kimla, Sally Meehan, Paige Strecker, Katina Martone, May McCarthy, Jean Thomae, Izzy Franklin, Lucy Noble, Marissa Tangherlini and Alyssa Mullin. What has keyed them over this recent stretch of games has been the bench play from Kaleigh Teague, Hilary Gaumer, Hannah Burgess, Lauren Mack, Amanda Hurd, Jenny Cahill and Erika Reardon.

Reardon scored the game winner against Mashpee, a team Bostwick called Cohasset's "mirror image." The go-ahead score started when Tangherlini won a tackle and pushed the ball up field to Mack. Mack then

SEE HOCKEY, PAGE 21

COURTESY PHOTO

Olivia Kimla rushes forward for the Skippers. Kimla continues to shine as one of Cohasset's captains.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Ryan Crough (4) and Norwell's Owen Cox (8) battle for the 50/50 ball earlier in the season. The Skippers have turned their play up a notch of late and are battling for a tournament position.

Boys continue strong play

Skippers vie for tournament berth

Eric MacCarthy
CORRESPONDENT

After a tie, a win and another tie, the Cohasset High School boys soccer teams sits at 5-4-4 overall and only two wins away from a spot in the state tournament. The Skippers tied Norwell 2-2, beat Nantucket 3-2, and tied first place East Bridgewater 0-0.

Senior captain Ryan Crough and junior Lenny Brown scored the two goals for Cohasset in its 2-2 tie versus Norwell, a team Cohasset lost to 4-1 in its first meeting. Cohasset kept it up beating Nantucket 3-2 after Sam Roth, senior captain, put in the game winner on a free kick. Fellow captain Mike Grimm also scored and senior Colin Dignom scored his first goal of the season on a header.

"We're playing great and doing a lot better against teams the second time around. The guys have a lot more confidence and overall better awareness of what they need to do."
Cohasset head coach Jim Willis

Nantucket and Cohasset tied in the first meeting of the season.

After losing 2-0 against East Bridgewater earlier in the year, and facing a goalie that has given up only two goals all season, Cohasset showed it could compete with the best. The 0-0 tie knocked the Vikings out of first place.

"That was huge game for us because we were able to break East Bridgewater's undefeated record," said Cohasset head coach Jim Willis. "We played a great defensive game."

The great defensive play is attributed to not only senior Matt Burgess, but also two juniors, Conor Olstun and Owen Landon.

"We're playing great and doing a lot better against teams the second time around" Willis said. "The guys have a lot more confidence and overall better awareness of what they need to do."

One part of the team's awareness is the great play of the seniors. All continue to play like it's their last season in hopes of a

SEE SOCCER, PAGE 20

COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com

Home of the Owner's Guarantee
Click on coastalnissan.com for details.
109 Accord Park
Norwell
(Exit 14 off Route 3)
800-562-9993
OPEN: Mon.-Thur. 9-8
Fri 9-6 • Sat. 9-5 • Sun. 12-5

NISSAN
TENT EVENT
NOW THRU OCT. 31ST

Title plans in progress

Soccer team strong from top to bottom as it battles for SSL crown

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

Deb Beal is in an envious position. She arguably has the most talented team in the South Shore League and there are only two seniors on the team (Anna Haggerty and Meg Anderson). After tying Norwell, 0-0, the Skippers look like they will tie the Clippers for a co-championship in the league. As of press time, they are 11-3-1, 10-1-1 in the South Shore League.

The girls play at Hull today (Friday, Oct. 19) at 6 p.m., and by no means are looking past their final two league games.

"The weather is going to be OK, but it's still nerve-wracking going down there," Beal said about heading to Hull. Cohasset beat the Pirates, 8-0, the first time around. Kaci Kucinski scored three goals in the first six minutes.

If Cohasset can wrap up league play and tie Norwell for the title it will be the first time in a long time for the program.

"It's just another feather in our cap," Beal said. "Going into the season our goal is always to qualify for the tournament, but if we can be co-champs that is exciting."

The Skippers took a big step toward that goal with Monday's 4-2 win against East Bridgewater and Wednesday's 3-0 win over Carver.

Sarah Coggins scored goals in both games. She has been a spark in the offense that is sometimes overlooked. Or the casual observer may just not notice, but Beal has.

"When you go back and look at the games she is starting a lot of our scoring," Beal said about the junior center midfielder. "She is the first goal scorer in a lot of our games."

Coggins and Maggie McGoldrick both set the tone for the Cohasset midfield, although McGoldrick is more defensive oriented.

"All those two know how to do is just play," Beal said.

Anderson, Mackenzie Hart and Christine Coner added goals against the Vikings. Monday's game added an element of pressure coming of the big clash with Norwell. Cohasset couldn't take them lightly given the Vikings history as a tough team. Cohasset beat them, 2-0, the first time, but nothing is guaranteed with East Bridgewater.

"East Bridgewater is a team that just doesn't go away," Beal said. "There was pressure looming we knew we had to stay even with Norwell. Either way we had to stay focused and we ended up doing what we had to do."

Kucinski added her 16th goal of the season against the Crusaders and Brittany Dunn scored on a penalty kick. Dunn made a heads up play when her initial PK was saved and she followed the rebound (live ball) for the score.

"That couldn't have happened to a better person," Beal said about Dunn's great play.

Those plays are going Cohasset's way lately.

With Scituate and Hanover to end the season, Beal plans on treating those tough non-league matches with the same vigor as a tournament game. Both the Sailors and the Indians will provide good pre-state tournament competition, something the young Skippers could use to their advantage.

Weymouth 18-And-Unders Prepping For Junior USTA Competition

Intermediates To Travel To Tucson For Nationals, October 26-28

By Ed Carpenter
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Eight members of the Weymouth Club's 18-and-under intermediate tennis team are beginning their final week's preparations for the National Junior Team Tennis Tournament that is set for October 26-28 at the El Conquistador Hotel and El Conquistador Country Club Courts in Tucson, AZ.

This marks the first time any Weymouth Club team has qualified for the National Junior Team competition.

The eight players include four women—Maddy Altholtz (Cohasset), Roberta Bergstein (Hingham), Kellie MacFarlane (Kingston), and Katherine Kelley (Norwell) as well as four men—Robbie Yee (Quincy), Kevin Hadar (Weymouth), Danny Hajjar (Weymouth), and Max Staffa (Milton).

The team qualified for the National Tournament by winning the Sectional title in late August in Hartford, CT.

Over the last several weeks, the eight have been playing and practicing a minimum of three times a week. The sessions have included private lessons, practicing as a team, and participating in the Weymouth Club's Tournament Training Clinic.

The team is scheduled to arrive in Tucson Thursday, October 25 with their first match to be played the next morning, 8:00 a.m. Friday, October 26. At that time, Weymouth will take on their counterparts from South Carolina. While the Weymouth Club players won the New England Sectional to represent this region, South Carolina won the Southern region competition.

Following the Friday morning match, the Weymouth Club entry will have a short break before it meets a team from Puerto Rico, winners of the Caribbean region, at 1:00 p.m.

The third scheduled match is set for Saturday, October 27, when the locals are matched up against Middle States region winner New Jersey at 8:00 a.m.

Depending on how the team did in its first three matches, there will be added competition on Saturday afternoon.

Guaranteed to play five matches at the Nationals, the Weymouth Club team will close out its competition on Sunday, October 28, against a team and at a time to be determined.

Skippers vie for tournament berth

FROM SOCCER, PAGE 19

tournament berth.

"The seniors are really stepping it up," said Willis after four seniors scored in the last three games.

Also important according to Willis has been the improved play of sophomore goalie Will Wise.

"He's getting more comfortable and he's able to come out of the net now when earlier in the season he didn't do that."

With a healthy roster, the Skippers are playing at full strength, where in the first half of the season they constantly had injuries. This should help them down the stretch.

Cohasset's first step towards the tournament now is against Carver, Wednesday after the Mariner went to press. They play Hull at home Friday evening under the lights.

Sports Briefly

Southeast Medical 5K Road Race

The Southeast Medical 5K Road Race and walk to benefit scholarship funds at East Bridgewater High School will take place Sunday, Oct. 28, at 8:30 a.m. The runners begin the 3.1-mile course at the high school and travel over flat, suburban roads. Along the course there will be one water stop and volunteers at each mile mark. This is a USA Track & Field sanctioned race. There will be post-race festivities, including refreshments, music and an awards ceremony.

Extra Innings clinic

Extra Innings, 319 Manley St., West Bridgewater, is taking registration for the following clinic. To register, go to www.extrainnings-wbridgewater.com or call 508-580-3113.

Fall indoor wiffle ball leagues – Wiffle ball leagues are currently being formed for the second annual fall league, which starts Monday, Oct. 29 and runs until Jan. 25. Last year's champs will be back to defend their titles in all three age groups. Ages 6 to 8, 9 to 10, and 11 to 12 will compete over 14 weeks for a shot at the coveted Extra Innings Wiffle Trophy. Sign up as a team or as an individual and be placed on a team. Either way, this is their most popular off-season league and it fills up fast. Extra Innings staff will umpire the games and some new rules will add to the fun. The cost for a team with a minimum of five players is $250 and for individuals, the cost is $60. Ages 4 to 6 will meet from 10 to 11:15 a.m.; ages 7 and 8 will meet from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Head of the Charles Regatta

The world's largest regatta returns to the banks of the Charles River in Boston Oct. 20 and 21 for the 43rd annual edition of the Head of the Charles Regatta. The regatta includes 55 different men's and women's races divided into various age groups and skill level. Spectators can enjoy food and beverage at the popular Reunion Village while listening to the annual Row-a-Palooza live music festival. Admission to the race is free. Reunion Village admission is $1 per day to benefit the Regatta's official charities. The hours are Oct. 20, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; and Oct. 21, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Starts at Boston University's DeWolfe Boathouse in Cambridge and finishes at Artesani Park in Allston. The race spans three miles down the Charles River. Throughout the course of two days and 55 events, more than 250,000 spectators will gather to see crews and scullers compete to win the honorary title of "Head of the Charles."

Edaville Rail Run

The seventh annual Edaville Rail Run will take place Saturday, Nov. 10, at Edaville Railroad in South Carver. There will be a 5-mile race and a 2-mile fun run/walk, both starting at 10 a.m. Two of the most unique courses around, these courses traverse the gravel bog trails in and around Edaville Railroad. No hills but some nice multi-media surfaces, from grass to gravel to some asphalt. All participants may purchase half price tickets for Edaville that day only. Indoor facilities before and after the race, entertainment by "Pete", "Bob's Chowda" and more! For information, call Donna Cohen, Race Director at 508-238-9745 or email edavillerailrun@comcast.net. Or you can go to www.edavillerailrun.com. To be guaranteed a long sleeved T-shirt registrations must be received by Sunday, Oct. 28.

College scholarships from Patriots

Attention college-bound students: you can score up to $20,000 in college scholarship funds from the New England Patriots during the 2007 NFL season. For the third year in a row, the Patriots Charitable

SEE BRIEFLY, PAGE 21

383-6550 GOOD SPORT SPORTING GOODS Rte. 3A Cohasset
Basketball Shoes Are In!

Professional DIRECTORY

ARCHITECTS
(pre-construction computer rendering)
If 3D digital imaging like this isn't part of your project's design...
...you're not getting the whole picture!
DUXBOROUGH DESIGNS
portfolio at duxboroughdesigns.com
Duxbury, MA ■ 781.934.7265

DESIGN SERVICES
window treatments . slipcovers . bedding & accoutrements design consultation . installation
the personal touch
house dressing
exquisite workmanship . fine detail
Maryjane Sparks 781.659.4788

ELECTRICAL
Randall's Electrical Services
Interior/Exterior Lighting & Wiring
Design & Installation
Public, Commercial & Residential Projects
SERVING THE SOUTH SHORE EXPERTLY FOR OVER 30 YEARS
781-545-3799 • CELL 781-424-8845
MASTER'S LICENSE #A13637

PERSONAL TRAINER
Everybody's doing it and they've never looked and felt better!
Art Tagliaferri
• Certified Personal Trainer
• Lifestyle & Weight Mgt. Consultant
• Diet & Nutrition Specialist
South Shore "FITNESS TO YOU"
I bring the Gym to You!
In the privacy of your own home I will:
• Design/conduct workout sessions to increase lean muscle mass & help combat osteoporosis
• Teach you how to eat the foods you love and still lose 1-2 pounds per week, and keep it off! No fad diets!
• Strengthen and tone your abdominals.
• Help you to improve your cardiovascular system.
• Give you the knowledge and confidence to eventually workout on your own, either at home or at a commercial gym.
• Bring you all equipment needed for our workout sessions.
FREE INITIAL CONSULTATION
Call Today: 617.842.0519
www.southshorefitnesstoyou.com

To Advertise in this Directory Call Brandi at 781-433-7946

Open House Sunday October 28
10:00 A.M.–1:00 P.M.
Entrance Exam:
November 17, 8:30 A.M.
December 8, 8:30 A.M.
Classmates for 4 years.
Brothers for life.
XB XAVERIAN BROTHERS HIGH SCHOOL
Give your son a lifetime of opportunity.
Xaverian Brothers High School is more than a boys' Catholic college preparatory school. It's a brotherhood of intelligent, talented young men with faith and vision—the vision to become leaders, thinkers, entrepreneurs, educators, and active contributors to society. Come join us October 28 at our Open House to learn more or visit: www.xbhs.com and click "Admissions" to start your journey today.
Xaverian Brothers High School
800 Clapboardtree Street
Westwood, MA 02090
(781) 326-6392
www.xbhs.com

Autos OF THE Week
CAR
2006 PORSCHE BOXSTER S ROADSTER
Only 13,000 miles, 3.2L V6, traction, ABS, Homelink, spoiler, aluminum wheels, leather seats, much more. #P3442
$49,995
SUV
2006 VOLVO XC90 AWD
14K miles, V-8, 3rd row seat.#7543
$35,995
TRUCK
2004 DODGE 1500 PICKUP QUAD CAB SHORT BED
Hemi, 20" wheels, sport package, bed liner. #347626 KELLEY BLUE BOOK $23,825
$21,988
For more details on these fine vehicles and many others, go to today's Fall Auto Preview section!
Featuring These Great Local Dealerships...
Best Chevrolet • Colonial Ford • Desantis Ford • Maguire Motors
Majestic Cars, Limited • Marty's GMC-Pontiac-Buick-Isuzu
Rietzl Porsche-Audi • Shaw Saab • South Shore Jeep-Chrysler-Volkswagen

Field hockey team qualifies for state tournament with win

FROM HOCKEY, PAGE 19

found Martone down the left side for a shot, where Reardon followed up with a tip-in for the goal.

Meehan and Kimla created a lot of scoring opportunities in the game, while Strecker played strong defense as usual from full back.

Mullin added another shutout to her resume in the game. She also played well against Harwich despite the loss, facing 19 defensive corners and posting five saves.

"I am extremely pleased with Alyssa Mullin," Bostwick said. "She is really doing a great job."

Kimla scored on a penalty stroke against Nantucket, and Mullin added six saves and faced 10 corners in the tie.

"We came out a little flat against Harwich the day before but we really prevailed with the tie Saturday," Bostwick said.

Cohasset also shutout Scituate, 2-0, last Tuesday behind a pair of McCarthy goals.

"I'm excited and the girls are really working hard so we will see what happens," Bostwick said.

Cohasset played at Carver yesterday (Thursday, Oct. 18) after the Mariner went to press. Monday, Oct. 22, it's the Skippers will host Hull as part of Senior Day at 3:30 p.m.

COURTESY PHOTO

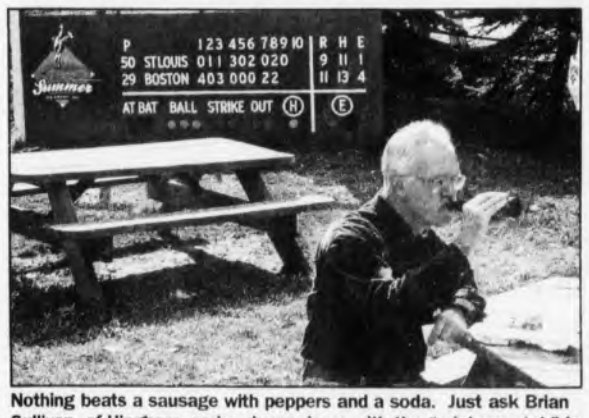
Alyssa Mullin has been a rock in the Skippers net this season. Cohasset is getting ready for its second straight state tournament.

Sports Briefly

FROM BRIEFLY, PAGE 20

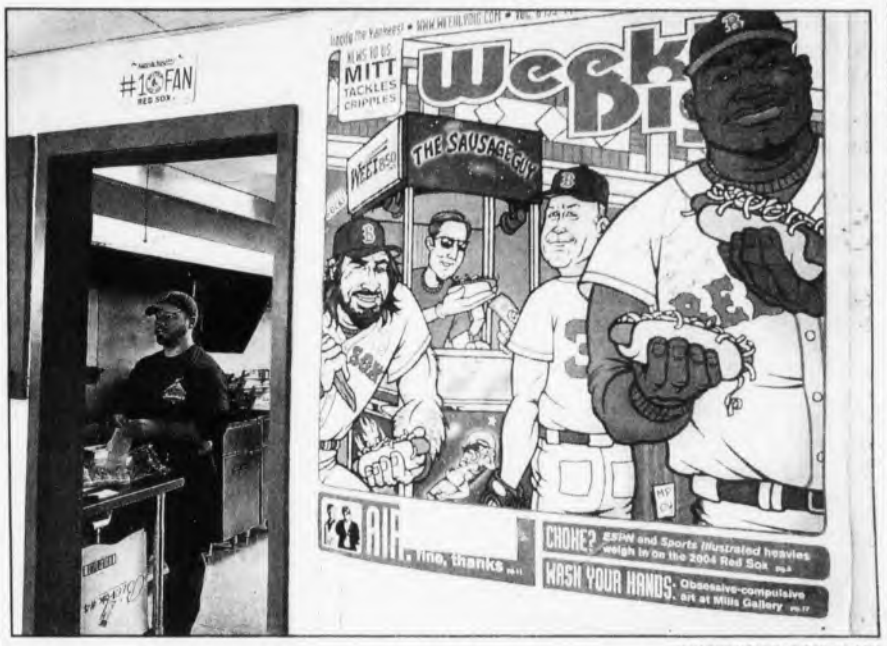
Foundation and Fidelity Investments will give away thousands of dollars in scholarship money to local students through the Inspire the Future "Write On" Scholarship Contest. To enter, students must write a 500-750 word recap about the Patriots' most recent game. After every four-game stretch on the Patriots schedule, a first place winner will be awarded a $5,000 college scholarship, two second place winners will receive $2,500, and six third place winners will receive $1,000 in scholarship money. At the conclusion of the season, all previous first place winners and others who qualify will be eligible to win the $15,000 grand prize, the $10,000 runner-up prize or the $5,000 honorable mention prize. All winners will also be honored at a reception held at Gillette Stadium. Essays can be submitted online at www.totallypatriots.com or mailed to "Write On" Contest, Gillette Stadium, 1 Patriot Place, Foxborough, MA 02035. For more information, tune in to Totally Patriots, hosted by Kerry Connolly, each Sunday at 11 a.m. on WCVB-TV, immediately following the Emmy-Award winning Patriots All Access.

Boys of summer grill up playoff excitement



FROM SUMMER, PAGE 19

If that insatiable appetite for all things Fenway comes groaning in the form of hunger pangs, there will be a Dice Dog waiting for you, even if Japan's favorite son is eating Sushi in Sapporo.



Guilfoy came up with the menu that features an array of Red Sox related items, including the "Mini Papi" Cheeseburger, the Bogg's Fried Chicken and Papelbon's Pizza Sandwich.

"It's fun the kids love it," Guilfoy said. "We may have to change the menu around every year but kids come in with suggestions, like Okajima Onion Rings wasn't on the menu, a six-year old customer from town suggested that. Another liked the Pedroia Panini – maybe in the future."

For now, some can only hope we will never see an A-Rod Rib Sandwich replace the Lowell Lobster Roll. You'll have to stop by the Boys of Summer during baseball's winter meetings for that dicey dilemma.

Nothing beats a sausage with peppers and a soda. Just ask Brian Sullivan, of Hingham, as he chows down with the "mini-monstah" in the background.

STAFF PHOTOS/ROBIN CHAN

John Guilfoy prepares to cook some hot dogs. Guilfoy is a die-hard Red Sox fan and he didn't hesitate to air his displeasure with manger Terry Francona's decision to keep Jacoby Ellsbury on the bench against the Indians.

we just scored some top talent.

And you can too thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs.

Now more than ever, we 're bringing you just who you 're looking for. By simply placing a local ad, you 'll now get unparalleled exposure to passive and active job seekers — both on- and off-line. Plus your media can be targeted by behavior, location, industry, occupation and keyword. More visibility.More qualifed candidates. More of what you need to find the right one.

CALL TODAY TO LEARN MORE 1-800-624-7355
OR VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

PSO fall fundraiser all wrapped up with a bow!

Most importantly, a huge, beautifully wrapped thank you to the children, their families, friends and neighbors who participated in the sale either by making an order or getting out and selling from their catalogs.

The PSO's fall gift-wrap fundraiser is all wrapped up, and due to record sales, one could say it just got topped off with a big, beautiful bow. It was a job well done by the students and their families of Joseph Osgood and Deer Hill schools. They have been busy selling gift wrap, chocolates and other items from Innisbrook Wraps and the Helen Grace Chocolate Company during the PSO's fall fundraiser. The orders are in and being processed and the PSO reports the numbers look fantastic. Osgood School's sales receipts totaled more than $16,000 and Deer Hill's almost $26,000, bringing the total sale to close to $42,000. The PSO will receive half of that, almost $21,000. Several families who did not wish to buy items made donations directly to the PSO, totaling almost $1,000. The fundraiser takes place every fall with the goal of raising money for a variety of programs, for supplemental curriculum materials for classrooms and for updating equipment at the both the Osgood and Deer Hill schools, as well as the Middle/High School.

The theme this year for the sale, "the PSO and Innisbrook have got the beat," directed the fun the children had during the sale. At Osgood, the children heard music during morning and afternoon announcements and had music to dance to on the playground during recess. Physical education teacher, Kevin Dykas, loaned his equipment and music to the PSO for these special activities, which provided a chance for students to practice their dancing skills and get some fun exercise, complimenting a favorite program they do with Dykas in gym class. Raffles were also held with the prize being a Hip Hop Back Pack Clipper.

At Deer Hill, where the students are a little older, they had the opportunity to sell door-to-door or in their neighborhoods and earn prizes for the total number of items sold. Seventy students earned the Hip Hop Back Pack Clipper by selling 10 items or more, and all who participated in the sale earned music-related prizes on a graduated, cumulative basis, with the highest prizes being all the music prizes and gift cards from Best Buy for $100, $150 and $250. If a student reached the top level, they received all three gift cards. The top amounts sold were 151 items, the second was 67 items and the third, 58 items, with the 151 items qualifying the sister and brother team who worked together on their sale for two Best Buy gift cards.

All of the items sold will either be available for distribution in early November or, for those ordered online, there is immediate delivery. Online sales accounted for approximately $3,100 and $5800 of the total sales receipts at Osgood and Deer Hill respectively.

The programs and materials that will be purchased as a result of this fundraiser are already in the works. The PSO has grant requests from teachers for supplemental curriculum materials and equipment for classrooms. An example of what those requests led to last year at the Osgood are: the grade two classrooms received math and science curriculum materials, grade one received new area rugs for the classrooms, and kindergarten classes received supplemental Reading Street curriculum materials. In addition, the art teacher received 3-D art supplies, the librarian received books to enhance and broaden the library's section on continents, and new equipment was purchased for the students to use during recess.

At Deer Hill, teacher grants enabled the purchase of traditional literature books for all grade three classrooms, magnet sets and foam sun models for the grade three science curriculum, various heavy duty office equipment supplies such as paper cutters for the teacher work rooms, and grade five students had a ceramist provide special instruction in the art classroom. Additionally, a computer learning system called Renzulli was purchased for the computer classroom and the Enrichment, Motivation and Challenge program for all students at Deer Hill. All of these programs and materials were a result of the PSO funding teacher grant proposals.

Popular programs

In addition to teacher grants, the PSO will fund May Arts Night and also Math and Science Night at Osgood, two popular programs for the students and their families. These programs are consistent with the desire to offer the students opportunities to explore areas of the curriculum in a more in depth manner. Several curriculum enrichment programs are being planned for this year at each school including author/illustrator visits like that of Brian Lies last year. Other enrichment programs that students enjoyed last year included several offered at Deer Hill, the Amazing Hero Art Demonstration, World of Robotics presentation, Discovery Museum Physical States of Matter program for fifth graders, and Petticoat Patriot Reenactment for grade three. An Audubon program was offered to students at both Osgood and Deer Hill. These programs are a hit with students and often a highlight of their year.

The PSO's commitment to building character and strong values in children has prioritized the funding and support of various Character Education programs that take place throughout the year at both Osgood and Deer Hill. The Discovering Justice Program offered at Osgood for grades one and two is supported by the PSO. It is a civics education program that teaches concepts about fairness, equality and justice. This program provides the foundation for continuing programs where children learn tools to help them become caring and considerate classmates and individuals. Other PSO funded programs will happen several times throughout the year at Osgood and Deer Hill, and at the Middle/High School as well.

Last year, in partnership with the Cohasset Diversity Committee, an Anti Defamation League Peer Leadership Program was started at the Middle/High where 50 high schools students were trained to be Peer Leaders. These Peer Leaders go to the Middle School to work with middle school students on dealing with peer issues, including bullying, accepting differences, leadership and inclusiveness. This initiative will continue this year with more students being trained. The Diversity Committee is a valuable resource to the schools and the town, and is a district wide committee of the PSO, funded through the many donations of parents as well as grants from community churches and the ADL. The Diversity Committee is also a member of the No Place For Hate Program. Like the Peer Leadership program, all Character Education programs offered this year will continue this theme of teaching and building character and strong, positive values among the student population, with appropriate plans for each grade level.

Thank you's

The PSO would like to thank the many people who helped to make the funding of these great programs possible by participating in it's fall fundraiser. Osgood principal Janet Sheehan and Deer Hill principal Jennifer deChiara provided space for marketing the sale, time with the students to help them understand their role in the sale, encouragement of students and families to participate in the sale and assistance with carrying out the various incentives offered at both schools.

Thank you to the administrative staff, Judy Figueirido, Joanie Meade and Anita Ross, for helping to collect order forms, field questions from students and families and make copies of flyers sent home. To the teaching staff, thank you for the support and encouragement, and especially working around the disruptions caused by changes in the routine due to the sale.

The PSO would also like to thank Bernadette O'Connell for watching over and running the music at recess at Osgood, and Kevin Dykas for the loan of his equipment, and Ted Holland, the Osgood custodian, for setting up and taking down the equipment for all recess periods. Also, Tom Jones, Deer Hill custodian, was a great help in setting up and taking down displays for the sale.

The PSO would also like to thank Christian Cunnie, owner and manager of the Slushy Guy slush stand at the Cohasset Farmers Market, for his loan of his sandwich board to help advertise the sale on Sohier Street at the entrance to the schools. A special thank you to those who helped to add up and process the sale orders, Kathy Iantosca, Donna Sanderson, Sandra Cavanaro, Lisa Rosen, Marie Dunkleburger, Jessica Fitzpatrick, Tracey Vainisi and Colleen Kelly.

Most importantly, a huge, beautifully wrapped thank you to the children, their families, friends and neighbors who participated in the sale either by making an order or getting out and selling from their catalogs. The PSO is especially grateful for their enthusiasm and commitment to the PSO and the schools, demonstrated by the success of this fundraiser. A special thank you also to the families who made donations to the PSO in lieu of purchasing items. Last, the PSO thanks the two fundraiser chairwomen, Carolyn Coffey and Mary Jo Blackington, for the time and effort in making the sale the success that it has been.

The PSO has many volunteers who throughout the year contribute to the programs offered by the PSO and thus, add to the education the children receive at the schools. Those interested in joining the PSO can secure contact information via the PSO Web site, cohassetpso.com or at any of the school's offices. Also, the products offered by Innisbrook Wraps and the Helen Grace Chocolate Company are available throughout the school year and people can continue to support the schools by placing orders any time online at innisbrook.com.

Artist advocacy group seeks volunteers

South Shore Advocacy for Art (SSAFA), a group dedicated to founding a building to house artist studios, and support artists, arts and art education, is looking for volunteers. Help is particularly needed in grant writing, fundraising, publicity and other areas. All people who are interested in enhancing the culture of the South Shore are invited to join the efforts to achieve these goals.

People who would be willing to serve on an advisory board are also being sought. This would include an attorney, financial advisor, educator and artist.

Anyone who is interested can visit the SSAFA Web site at.ssafaonline.org for more information on this new organization and leave a message, or contact Chuck Lathrop, chairman, at bluedoorstudio100@earthlink.net.

SSAFA's next meeting will take place at 7 p.m., on Nov. 7, at Chuck Lathrop's studio on the fourth floor of the Sandpaper Factory, 83 East Water St., Rockland.

SCHOOLS

Cohasset Schools to conduct 'Child Find'

Cohasset Public Schools, in accordance with federal law IDEA 2004 and Massachusetts Special Education Regulations 603 CMR 28.00, are in the process of conducting "Child Find." The school department is seeking children with suspected disabilities residing in Cohasset who may be in need of Special Education services.

Cohasset Public Schools will evaluate students from age 3 through high school age who are unable to progress effectively in a regular education program due to a suspected disability in one of the following areas: developmental or intellectual delay, sensory, neurological, emotional, communication, physical, specific learning disability or health impairment. Cohasset Public Schools will also arrange for an evaluation of young people ages 16 through 21 who have not graduated from high school and who are not now attending school.

In addition, screenings for three- to five-year-olds take place the third Friday of each month at Osgood School. Call the Integrated Pre-school staff at 781-383-6117 for more information.

Cohasset provides all children with an opportunity to participate in the public school programs using a continuous and systematic process to identify students in need of special education. All programs and services are offered without regard to color, race, sex, religion, national origin, sexual orientation or disability.

Parents who have a child who they suspect may have a disability or know a child with a disability who may be in need of special education services, should call the director of Student Services, Linda Gill, at 781-383-6104 for information regarding the referral process.

Letters About Literature contest entries sought

Letters About Literature, a national reading and writing promotion program for young readers in grades 4 through 12, is sponsored in part by the Massachusetts Center for the Book, with lead support from the Calderwood Writing Initiative at the Boston Athenaeum and additional assistance from Houghton Mifflin Co. and Massachusetts libraries.

Last year more than 55,000 young people from across the nation entered the competition and two Cohasset students, Madeline Blackburn and Foster Eymer, won in the honorable mention category. To read their winning entries visit http://www.massbook.org/lal2006.html and scroll down to honorable mention.

To enter, readers must write a personal letter to an author explaining how his or her work changed their view of the world or of themselves. Young readers can select authors from any genre including fiction or nonfiction, contemporary or classic. The deadline for entries is Friday, Dec. 14.

Judges, working with the Massachusetts Center for the Book, will select the top letter writers in the commonwealth from three competition levels. Entries will be assessed on three criteria: content, or the writer's achievement in addressing the contest theme; exposition, or the writer's use of language skills; and voice, the writer's style and originality of expression.

State winners receive a $50 Target Gift Card and are invited to a State House awards ceremony. The three state winners then advance to the national competition. A panel of judges for the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress will select six national winners and 12 national runners-up. Each national winner will receive a $500 Target Gift Card. In addition, he or she will win a Reading Promotion Grant of $10,000 for his or her school or community library. National winners will be instrumental in deciding how the library funds will be spent. The 12 national runners-up will win a $100 Target Gift Card and a Reading Promotion Grant of $1,000 for their school or community libraries.

To obtain the required entry coupon and a copy of the guidelines, visit www.massbook.org/letters or contact the Massachusetts Center for the Book by sending email to massbook@simmons.edu.

Homecoming weekend was enjoyable!

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

Hey readers!

Hopefully everyone enjoyed the Homecoming weekend despite the Varsity Football team's upsetting loss to Mashpee. With the sun shining and team spirit in the air, this weekend's sporting events proved to be crowd pleasers as parents and fans alike surrounded the sidelines to cheer on such teams as field hockey and soccer. Nothing says Fall like a field packed with shivering fans grasping their hot chocolates and coffees! Also of note, Sarah Brown and Matt Blaze were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. Congratulations, you both deserve it!

Last week's Spirit Week for the High School turned out to be a fun filled and spirited event. Regardless of the fact that there was no pep rally, students seemed to enjoy the chance to dress in "outrageous" outfits to match each day's theme. Like every year, the Seniors marched to the beat of their own drum by dressing differently than the underclassman. As the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors donned their wetsuits and bikinis for underwater day, the Seniors suited up in their favorite Disney attire. Blasting "A Whole New World" and "Circle of Life" at lunch, it was hard to ignore the Seniors' musical statement. Still bitter, the Senior class dressed in all black on Friday in an act of protest against the administration's unfair action (aka the removal of the annual pep rally.) The rest of the student body wore the school colors, blue and white, thus enabling them to win the Spirit Week.

Nothing says Fall like a field packed with shivering fans grasping their hot chocolates and coffees!

On the bright side, the girls' Varsity Field Hockey team has entered Tournament thanks to its 1-0 win over Mashpee on Tuesday. Call it karma, since Mashpee was the team that beat us in last Friday's Football Homecoming game.

Now for the weeks top stories!

PREVIEW DAY FRIDAY ONE DAY SALE SATURDAY DON'T MISS IT!

SPECIAL 89.99
Sportcoats in cotton corduroy or sueded polyester with centervent styling from a famous American designer. Reg. $250, after special 99.99.

SATURDAY IS THE DAY
PREVIEW DAY FRIDAY
THE OCTOBER
ONE DAY SALE
MORNING SPECIALS
9AM-1PM BOTH DAYS

★SPECIAL 79.99
Only at Macy's Suede jacket from our exclusive career collection. For misses. Reg. $159, after special 119.99.

SPECIAL 29.99 GEOFFREY BEENE
Chest stripe sweater. S-2XL. Reg. $60, after special 39.99.

SPECIAL 21.99 DOCKERS®
Men's discontinued pants. Orig.* $48, after special $24.

SPECIAL 79.99
Skirtsuits, pantsuits & more. For misses, petites & women. Reg. $200-$360, after special 99.99.

SPECIAL 19.99
Alfred Dunner separates. For misses & petites. Reg. $42-$60, after special 25.20-$36.

SPECIAL $79
Cultured freshwater pearl & diamond earrings in 14k gold. Reg. $200, after special $85.

SPECIAL $79
14k two-tone gold swirl hoop earrings. Reg. $200, after special $85.

SPECIAL $199
Sapphire & diamond pendant in 14k gold. Reg. $600, after special $378.

SPECIAL $199
Ruby and diamond ring in 14k gold. Reg. $600, after special $378.

SPECIAL $299
14k gold 22" figaro link necklace. Reg. $850, after special 361.25.

SPECIAL $599
1 ct. t.w.† diamond earrings in 14k white gold. Reg. $1300, after special 773.50.

SPECIAL $599
3/4 ct. t.w.† champagne & white diamond ring in 14k white gold. Reg. $1225, after special 728.75.

SPECIAL $1599
5 ct. t.w.† diamond bracelet in 14k gold. Reg. $3500, after special 2082.50.

SPECIAL 79.99
4-pc. luggage set. Reg. $200, after special 99.99.

SPECIAL 19.99
Presto 22" jumbo griddle with cool-touch base. #7034. Reg. $40, after special 29.99.

SPECIAL 119.99 CUISINART
Food processor with 11-cup Lexan® work bowl. DLC-8S. Reg. $240, after special 149.99.

SPECIAL 60% OFF
Entire stock of pillows from Calvin Klein, Lauren Ralph Lauren, our Charter Club, more. Reg. $20-$280, after special 8.99-139.99, special 7.99-111.99.

★macy's
macys.com

OPEN EARLY 9AM FRIDAY! SHOP 9AM-11PM SATURDAY
9AM-10PM AT BROOKLYN, HERALD SQUARE, STAMFORD, LEDGEWOOD, WEST ORANGE, PREAKNESS, METRO CENTER, CHESTNUT HILL & FURNITURE STORES • 9AM-9PM AT BOSTON & HAMPTON BAYS • 9AM-8PM AT BELMONT • 9AM-7PM AT SUBURBAN SQUARE • 10AM-8PM AT CENTER CITY

star REWARDS
Open a Macy's Account for extra 20% savings the first 2 days with more rewards to come. Exclusions apply; see below.

New cardholder savings are subject to credit approval; excludes services, certain lease departments and gift cards; on furniture, mattresses and rugs, the new account savings is limited to $100; application must qualify for immediate approval to receive extra savings; employees not eligible. REG./ORIG. PRICES REFLECT OFFERING PRICES IN EFFECT DURING THE 90 DAYS BEFORE OR AFTER THIS SALE, BUT NOT NECESSARILY DURING THE PAST 30 DAYS. SAVINGS MAY NOT BE BASED ON ACTUAL SALES. SOME ORIG. PRICES MAY NOT HAVE BEEN IN EFFECT DURING THE PAST 90 DAYS. *INTERMEDIATE PRICE REDUCTIONS MAY HAVE BEEN TAKEN. MORNING SPECIAL PRICES IN EFFECT 10/19/07 & 10/20/07, 9AM-1PM. †Ct. t.w. represents approximate weight; total weight may vary to up to .05 carat. Jewelry photos may have been enlarged or enhanced to show detail; most gemstones are often treated to enhance their beauty; some treatments may not be permanent and/or may require special care; ask your sales associates for details. Fine jewelry not at Belmont. Select fine jewelry items at West Orange, Middlesex & Hampton Bays. Home store merchandise not at Center City. Moderate sportswear not in Short Hills, Chestnut Hill, Suburban Square & Bridgewater. Advertised items may not be at your local Macy's. Selections vary by store. Not responsible for typographical errors. Luggage & electric items carry warranties; to see a manufacturer's warranty at no charge before purchasing, visit a store or write to: Macy's Warranty Dept., GPO Box 3200, NY, NY 10116, attn: Consumer Warranties. Not responsible for typographical errors. For store locations, log on to macys.com

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO DEALERS
Haddon Lincoln Mercury
www.haddoncars.com
Hanson Automotive Inc.
www.hansonautomotiveinc.com
Jannell Ford
www.jannellford.com
Randolph Chrysler Jeep
www.randolphjeepchrysler.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CATERING
Salsa's - The Sausage Guy
www.sausageguy.comcaterting

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.comHome Health

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRE-SCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

From the Archives of the Cohasset Historical Society

Built circa 1880, this was the stately home of Marinda C. Parker but by 1940 it had become the Cohasset Hospital and later a nursing home. Located at the corner of Ripley Road and Sohier Street it is today once again being used as a residence. Those curious for a glimpse of the interior, can join the Cohasset Basketball Boosters on Oct. 27 at their Halloween fundraiser. Further information on the fundraiser can be found at cohassetbasketball.com.

From the Archives is a weekly feature provided by Cohasset Historical Society.

The Cohasset Historical Society welcomes donations. If you have something that you would consider donating to our archives please give us a call at 781-383-1434.

Information about drinking water

Your water is more likely to contain high lead levels if water pipes in or leading to your home are made of lead or contain lead solder.

The following is a notice from the Cohasset Water Department

Cohasset Water Contains High Levels of Lead — Our water system recently violated a drinking water standard. Even though this is not an emergency, as our customers, you have a right to know what happened, what you should do, and what we are doing to correct this situation.

We routinely sample water at consumers' taps for lead. The tests show lead levels in the water above the limit, or "action level," so we are required to install corrosion control treatment. This treatment helps prevent lead in the pipes from dissolving into the water. Corrosion control is installed and is being adjusted to improve results.

What should I do?

- Listed below are some steps you can take to reduce your exposure to lead:
- Call us at the number below to find out how to get your water tested for lead.
- Find out whether your pipes contain lead or lead solder.
- Run your water for 15-30 seconds or until it becomes cold before using it for drinking or cooking. This flushes any standing lead from the pipes.
- Don't cook with or drink water from the hot water tap; lead dissolves more easily into hot water.

Do not boil your water to remove lead. Excessive boiling water makes the lead more concentrated — the lead remains when the water evaporates.

What does this mean?

Typically, lead enters water supplies by leaching from lead or brass pipes and plumbing components. New lead pipes and plumbing components containing lead are no longer allowed for this reason; however, many older homes may contain lead pipes. Your water is more likely to contain high lead levels if water pipes in or leading to your home are made of lead or contain lead solder.

Infants and children who drink water containing lead in excess of the action level could experience delays in their physical or mental development. Children could show slight deficits in attention span and learning abilities. Adults who drink this water over many years could develop kidney problems or high blood pressure.

What happened? What is being done?

In August of 2007, three homes in Cohasset tested above the maximum contaminant level for lead. The source of the lead is from brass or lead pipes and fixtures located in the plumbing of the home. The water that leaves the treatment plant and well station to supply the town does not contain any lead. The treatment plant has a corrosion control system in place and has made adjustments to improve results.

This is not an emergency. If it had been, you would have been notified immediately.

For more information, please contact the Cohasset Water Department at 781-383-0057 or 339 King St. Cohasset, MA 02025.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.

Legion seeking donations for those deployed

Donations may be dropped off at the Legion Post on Summer Street daily after 3 p.m. or at Pilgrim Cooperative Bank branches on 3A or in the village.

The George H. Mealy American Legion Post 118 is seeking donations of toiletries and other items for those deployed to Iraq and Afghanistan. Donations may be dropped off at the Legion Post on Summer Street daily after 3 p.m. or at Pilgrim Cooperative Bank branches on 3A or in the village.

Monetary donations are also accepted. Checks should be made out to the Sons of the American Legion, with "Soldiers Project" written in the memo line on the check. Checks can be mailed to Sons of the American Legion, PO Box 118, Cohasset, MA 02025. The following items are being collected at the American Legion for deployed servicemen and women:

Batteries - AA and AAA, razors, mouthwash, Chapstick, nuts, shaving cream Ziploc bags of all sizes, hand warmers, baby wipes, pens and notepaper, Pringles, toothbrushes, toothpaste and floss.

Also, sports magazines, local newspapers, socks, T-shirts, candy (no chocolate), phone cards, peanut butter and crackers, dry tuna in a bag, deodorant, winter hats and gloves, gum, mints, Lifesavers, Q-Tips, sunscreen, soap and body wash, dry soup, beef jerky, Tylenol, Advil, Excedrin and cameras.

Also, athlete's foot cream or spray, bandanas, socks, Bounce dryer sheets, chap sticks, ground coffee, CoffeeMate, antibiotic cream, duct tape, used CD or DVD's, paperbacks, knee-hi hose, cologne, Band-Aids, a variety of shoe inserts, playing cards, black pens, writing pads, envelopes, puzzle magazines, flea collars, lens cleaner for glasses, Ramen noodles in the cup, breakfast bars, gum, single-serve packets hot chocolate or soup, Pringles, hard candy, and microwave popcorn. Personal notes or cards are encouraged.

Forget Me Not Drive set for Nov. 9 and 10

Lt. Ralph Talbot Disabled Americans Chapter 65 supports disabled veterans and their immediate families in the towns of Abington, Cohasset, Hanover, Hanson, Hingham, Hull, Norwell, Pembroke, Scituate and Weymouth. The chapter will conduct its annual Forget Me Not Drive on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10, immediately preceding Veterans Day. DAV members will be seeking donations and distributing Forget Me Not Flowers from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the following locations:

- Stop & Shop, 400 Lincoln St., Lincoln Plaza, Route 3A.
- Stop & Shop, 468 Washington St., Norwell, Route 53.
- Shaw's, 610 Middle St., East Weymouth, intersects with Route 53.
- Stop & Shop, 700 Middle St., East Weymouth, intersects with Route 53.

DAV assists disabled veterans and their immediate families in whatever manner possible. For example, it serves as a legislative advocate and source of assistance in processing claims, rating adjudication and appeals to the Veterans Administration.

Talbot Chapter 65 provides volunteer claims processing assistance to veterans, assists disabled veterans in area VA Medical Centers and Soldiers' Homes, and supports a transportation service for disabled veterans to and from VA hospitals. Those who don't have a chance to donate at one of the store locations, are asked to consider mailing a donation to Talbot DAV Chapter 65, P.O. Box 890300, East Weymouth, MA 02189, and Forget Me Not Flowers will be mailed.

For more information, call adjutant Joe McElroy at 781-383-0505 or visit cohjoe@aol.com.

Step out with Cohasset's Cabaret!

All for a good cause

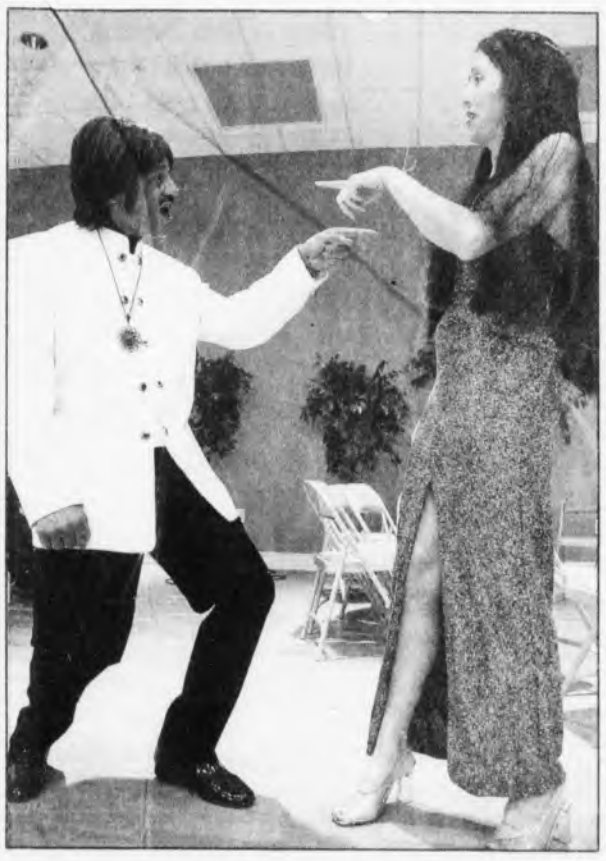
Cohasset's Cabaret fundraiser will take place Nov. 2 and 3, at 8 p.m., with a social and raffle hour starting at 7 p.m. Many people in town have attended the Hingham Cabaret fundraiser that has been selling out to crowds for 45 years. Those who have enjoyed that show will recognize some of the performers who will share their talent with Cohasset too. St. Anthony Parish and the Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs are joining forces to present an evening of entertainment, food and frolic at St. Anthony Parish Hall. There will be show tunes from "Chicago," "Cats" and "Fiddler on the Roof"; and glimpses of Marilyn Monroe, Johnny Cash and the Dream Girls. Rich Hebert will be a special feature of the show as he has won the Bay Area Critics Circle Award in Boston for his performance in "Les Miserables," has two Grammy Award-winning CDs, been in six Broadway shows and numerous television shows.

People can purchase a table with friends and bring their favorite goodies to munch on while the South Shore cast members sing and dance. There will be a cash bar where alcoholic beverages and soft drinks will be available. Those who plan ahead can order an already prepared "just for you" gourmet snack box for $10. While at the Cabaret, make sure to buy a few raffle tickets and take a chance at bringing something special home.

Tickets will be available during the week at St. Anthony Parish Hall and Cohasset Elder Affairs office at South Shore Community Center, Main Street. Cost of tickets is $25. Tickets may also be purchased Mondays, Oct. 22 and Oct. 29, 5 to 10 p.m., at St. Anthony Parish Hall. For more information on ticket sales, call 781-383-0752.

Proceeds benefit the Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs.

Catie Campbell, left, of Weymouth, and John Campbell of Cohasset, go over some details with director Blanche Clark during Monday's dress rehearsal.



(Above) Rosemary Martinez rehearses her songs at St. Anthony's Parish Hall with music director Tom Boyer.

(Right) Cohasset Dreamgirls rehearse for the Cohasset Cabaret variety show. From left are, Maryann Kozlow, Arpy Aghazarian and Doris Seroll.

Photos by Craig Goedecke

(Above) Kaye Kelley and Rich Hebert share a laugh during Monday's dress rehearsal at St. Anthony's Parish Hall.

(Left) John Taylor as Sonny and Sheila Umano as Cher rehearse their act for the Cohasset Cabaret.

get AWAY

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

The Pride of Hawaii cruises off Kaual's Na Pali Coast

Experience Hawaii by sea

Fran Golden
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

I wasn't exactly Cameron Diaz emerging from the Pacific waters looking hotter than the sunshine, but there I was in Maui with a rented surfboard and the attention of a blond, tanned and buff instructor.

Three tries and I'd yet to stand on the board, but hot surfer dude urged me on.

And suddenly I was on my feet, feeling like I was in slow motion as a small wave pushed me gently to shore.

I'd come to Hawaii to get active on a Norwegian Cruise Line cruise. The line has three 2,000-passenger, American-flagged ships cruising Hawaii year-round. The itineraries include a weeklong cruise that gets you to the four main islands, starting on Oahu and visiting Maui, the Big Island and Kauai.

Cruising on the Pride of Hawaii, the first port of call was Hilo on the Big Island, home to the active Kilauea volcano. Curious, I signed on for a shore excursion to Hawaii Volcanoes National Park ($109).

Guide Danny Almonte reminded our van load of passengers where we were by sharing several sentences of vowel-filled Hawaiian and an endearing island philosophy: "I have the surf, my surfboard and my dog to keep me happy."

At the park, we explored a rainforest lush with green, the volcanic ash having given way to fertile soil. But then as we drove through the park, green quickly faded to black. We emerged into a setting of barren rock and rising steam. It was like landing on another planet, a reminder the active volcano was only a few miles away. At night the captain positioned our ship within view of Mount Kilauea so passengers could see the distant sight of bright orange lava flowing and spurting above the dark sea into the star-filled sky.

Next call, Maui, where from the port of Kahului, it's about a 45-minute drive to historic Lahaina, Hawaii's first capital. The colorful 1820s buildings on Lahaina's Front Street would be quaint were they not jam-packed with tourist shops. Still, there are galleries to explore, and Hawaiian shirts to buy. Those interested in history can do a walking tour to learn more about the former whaling town. Nearby are narrow surf beaches including the one where I took my lesson.

The ship overnighted in Maui so we had plenty of time to explore.

We had only one day at the next port of call, Kona, on the other side of the Big Island from Hilo. Here the attractions include back-sand beaches and an open-air market — an excellent place to buy Kona coffee and macadamia nuts.

I headed off for several hours on a strenuous kayaking excursion ($89 per person), but later wished I'd spent time on the beach. The pace was slower in Kauai, where the ship overnights in Nawiliwili.

Kauai is the prettiest of the islands with striking scenery including the Na Pali coast where magnificent volcanic cliffs rise from the blue sea; you've seen them in movies including "Raiders of the Lost Ark," and "Jurassic Park."

Rather than doing a shore excursion, I rented a car with a friend and drove two hours to Waimea Canyon, a giant earth opening that Mark Twain dubbed "the Grand Canyon of the Pacific." The massive canyon views from lookout points on a winding mountain roadway were well worth the drive. On the way back, we stopped at popular Poipu Beach to put our feet in the sand and surf and stopped to admire the monk seals that sunbathe there, ignoring the beach-going human crowd.

While the NCL ships offer a sampling of Hawaiian culture onboard – hula performances, lei-making classes, storytelling sessions – you miss something if you don't attend a luau, the traditional Hawaiian feast.

On Kauai, NCL offers an excursion to the Lu'au Kalamaku, at the historic Kolohana Plantation ($95). The evening includes a delicious buffet of Hawaiian dishes such as lomi lomi salmon and shredded Kalua pork, followed by a heart-thumping display by grass-skirted male and female hula dancers telling of ancient Polynesian migration to Kauai. This is no hokey tourist production, but rather an amazing show of talents and tradition.

At the conclusion you can join the dancers and hula yourself, but I demurred. Even if I didn't exactly "hang ten," my trip had included standing on a surfboard. Hula would wait for another visit.

Weeklong Norwegian Cruise Line Hawaii cruises are priced from $749 per person (with specials available on some dates). Call a travel agent or visit www.ncl.com.

PHOTO BY FRAN GOLDEN

A monk seal on Poipu Beach, Kaual.

SWITCHING BANKS HAS NEVER SOUNDED SO GOOD

Switch to TRUE BLUE Checking and get a free iTunes® Gift Card or iPod®

TRUE BLUE Free Checking℠	TRUE BLUE Select Checking℠	TRUE BLUE Premier Checking℠
$10 iTunes® Gift Card	$10 iTunes® Gift Card & 1GB iPod® shuffle™	$10 iTunes® Gift Card & New 4GB iPod® nano with video

Get your free gift when you open a TRUE BLUE checking account.* Along with the best checking account in town, you get the hottest new music products around. Plus, our tradition of TRUE BLUE customer service. You don't hear that every day. Offer ends soon.

1-800-EASTERN
easternbank.com

Eastern Bank trueblue℠

Member FDIC

*New personal checking account customers only. New checking account must be opened between 9/10/07 and 10/22/07. Minimum $10 to open Free Checking, $50 for Select, and $500 for Premier to receive $10 iTunes® Gift Card. Minimum $5,000 combined balance among primary account holder's eligible accounts required to avoid monthly service charges for Select Checking, and the combined balance must be reached and maintained within 45 days of account opening to qualify for iPod® shuffle™; minimum $25,000 combined balance among primary account holder's eligible accounts required for Premier Checking and the combined balance must be reached and maintained within 45 days of account opening to qualify for iPod® nano. Select and Premier checking customers must also either 1) sign up for direct deposit, which must start within 45 days of account opening or, 2) make five (5) PIN or signature debit card transactions within 45 days of account opening. Limit one $10 iTunes® Gift Card per household; limit one iPod® per household. iTunes® $10 Gift Card received upon account opening; iPod® shuffle™/nano delivered within 6-8 weeks upon verification of minimum combined balance requirement and either direct deposit into customer's new Select/Premier Checking account or required five (5) debit card transactions. 0.15% Annual Percentage Yield (APY) applies to Select and Premier Checking accounts, is accurate as of 9/10/07, and is subject to change before or after account opening. Fees may reduce earnings. Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island residents only. Bonus will be reported to IRS for tax purposes. Gifts are available while supplies last and may be modified or withdrawn at any time without notice. Bank reserves the right to substitute gift with one of equal or greater value. Other rules and restrictions may apply; see Customer Service Representative for details. iPod® and iTunes® are registered trademarks of Apple Inc. All rights reserved. Apple is not a participant or sponsor of this promotion.

IN NEW ENGLAND

BY FRAN GOLDEN

Basking in Barnacle Billy's

Fran Golden
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

I go in April, when the slightly fancy lobster shack first opens for the season – my way of welcoming the coming of warm weather. Or in early fall, getting one last taste of the ocean before the place closes for its winter break – this year it's opened until Oct. 28.

Lobster, steamed clams, homemade chowder or lobster stew are the things to order at this 46-year-old landmark.

A few years back, owner Billy R. Tower also opened a sit-down restaurant next door called Barnacle Billy's, Etc. But I prefer the original Billy's where you place your order at a counter, wait for your number to be called, and haul your tray to your table (there are waitresses for drink service).

In warm weather I sit on the open deck where tables face the best views of little Perkins Cove and boats in the harbor. If it's chilly, the inside fireplace in the dining room beckons.

If I have time to work off the effects, I order the killer rum punch, created by Billy in tribute to many a punch he's had during winters spent in St. Bart's.

In warm weather I sit on the open deck where tables face the best views of little Perkins Cove and boats in the harbor. If it's chilly, the inside fireplace in the dining room beckons.

He developed the recipe about 20 years ago (Ogunquit was a dry town before that).

"When we were on all fours on the dining room floor we said, 'that's it,'" Billy said.

Billy is now 80 with no plans to retire. His two sons and two daughters are also in the business.

Barnacle Billy's is not for the faint of purse – remember Ogunquit is a popular tourist town – and a one-and-a-quarter-pound lobster will cost you about $20, served with melted butter, a bib and a towelette – and that's it. Add a big bowl of steamed clams for $18.95, the same price as a bowl of lobster stew. A cup of chowder is $4.50.

But the rustic, oceanside ambience is worth it. And in addition to the Cove, you may catch views of a different sort – George and Barbara have left the Bush compound in Kennebunkport at least a dozen times this year, arriving at Barnacle Billy's in their boat. Jeb comes sometimes, too. George W. was a regular, but not since he's been president.

Find more at www.barnbilly.com, or call 207-646-5575.

PHOTO BY REG BENNETT

Perkins Cove

ONLY 4 DAYS Oct 24, 25, 26, 27

NOTICE

ONLY 4 DAYS Oct 24, 25, 26, 27

Massachusetts Reprocessed Vehicle Sale

CARS, TRUCKS, MINIVANS, CONVERSION VANS AND SPORT UTILITY VEHICLES

275 VEHICLES TO BE SOLD THIS WEEK IN WEYMOUTH

WEYMOUTH, MA - This week a consignment of bank repossessions, fleet vehicles and dealer overstocks will be eliminated in what could be the largest used car sales event in Massachusetts history. Some of these vehicles are Repos, slightly blemished, new and former rentals, leftovers and take over payments.

Truck loads of repossessed cars, trucks, minivans and sport utility vehicles from the east coast have been assembled on the property of Ricky Smith Pontiac GMC, 25 Main St., in Weymouth for this special event.

During this sale, anyone can take delivery as financing will not be a problem. Local banks and credit unions have agreed to help buyers finance these vehicles regardless of past credit history. Simply sign and drive with $0 down and take on low monthly payments with your approved credit. Even buyers with less than perfect credit will be able to obtain on-the-spot approval. This is a great opportunity to get a great price and get the best financing terms. The selection of cars, trucks, vans, and SUVs will be huge. Buyers will find Chryslers, Jeeps, Fords, Chevrolets, Dodges, GMCs, Pontiacs, and Cadillacs, as well as a wide selection of imports like Kia, Hyundai, Honda, Toyota, Nissan, and more.

Trade-ins are welcome during this event. Just bring your title or payoff, registration, and proof of insurance, and let the event representatives take care of the rest. If you or anyone you know is in the market for a good used car, then you need to make plans to attend this special sale this week. This event is October 24th-27th at Ricky Smith Pontiac GMC.

JUST SIGN AND DRIVE!

ONLY 4 DAYS

ONLY 4 DAYS

VEHICLES FOR JUST $99 Mo.

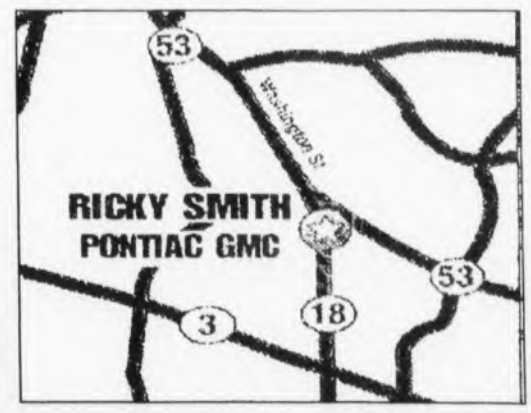
Wednesday Oct. 24	Thursday Oct. 25	Friday Oct. 26	Saturday Oct. 27

*On Approved Credit

RICKY SMITH PONTIAC • GMC



25 MAIN ST., Exit 16A Off Rte 3 • WEYMOUTH

FREE LIFETIME WARRANTY! with your purchase!

- No Calls Please
- No Dealers Allowed
- No Overnight Camping Please

*Ex. L181B 2000 Chevy Cavalier, sale price $4990. $99 mo. for 60 mos. @ 8% Apr O.A.T. Tax, Title, Reg & Fees add'l

ONLY 4 DAYS Oct 24, 25, 26, 27

WWW.RICKYSMITH.COM

1-866-406-4204

Cinderella's stepmother (Barbara Baumgarten of Cohasset) and Cinderella's stepsisters Joy (Jennifer Duval White) and Portia (Caroline Maus) are upset that the Prince has chosen Cinderella over them. The musical continues this weekend at Hingham Town Hall.

Cinderella ensemble members, Will McDonald of Scituate and Betsy Crawford of Cohasset, sing "The Prince is Giving a Ball" with the rest of the ensemble in the Hingham Civic Music Theatre production on stage at Hingham Town Hall. For information, call the Hot Tickets line at 781-837-1499 or visit www.HCMT.org.

Night fit for a Princess

Cohasset actors star in 'Cinderella'

Cinderella (Mandy Mitchell) and the Prince (Andrew DeVitre of Cohasset) sing "Ten Minutes Ago" after they meet at the ball.

The Queen (Bonnie Gardner) and her son (Andrew DeVitre of Cohasset) discuss the upcoming ball while the King (Bill Moyer) looks on.

Herald (Richard Chason of Cohasset) announces in the public square that the Prince is giving a ball. The shows are at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 19, and Saturday, Oct. 20. The curtain goes up at 2 p.m., for the Sunday matinee on Oct. 21.

Photos by Laura Sinclair

Wicked Local Homes

A SPECIAL REAL ESTATE SECTION

Coming the week of October 22

PLUS! READER CONTEST INSIDE THIS SECTION!

ENTER TO WIN!

We'll pay your mortgage payment for 1 month! Up to $2500.00*

Congratulations to Aleksandr Druzhin, the winner of our September contest.

Inside you'll find tips on preparing your home for sale, moving, tax rates, community preservation, and more!

See complete details inside section.
(*Winner must show mortgage payment)

Be sure to pick up WICKED LOCAL HOMES at the following retail locations:

BlockBuster • CVS • Star Market • Shaws • Stop & Shop

Plus Real Estate offices and other area businesses throughout your community!
For a complete list of locations, go to www.wickedlocalhomes.com

(*Available at most locations throughout Eastern Massachusetts)

WICKED LOCAL™ Homes.com

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
GateHouse Media New England

You're cordially invited to

SHECKYS™

Girls Night Out™

The Original Shopping Event Spectacular

- Shop up to 50 emerging designers at sale prices (up to 75% off!)
- Enjoy 5 hours of complimentary cocktails, wine, and beer in our cool beverage lounges
- Indulge in free services like manis, massages, and beauty consultations*
- Deluxe Goodie Bags filled with fabulous items!
- And much more!

Thurs-Sat, November 1st-3rd

5pm-10pm @ Boston Center for the Arts—Cyclorama
539 Tremont St. (Clarendon & Berkeley Sts.)

For tickets and details visit WWW.SHECKYS.COM/BOSTON
or call 212.242.2566

SPONSORED BY

MIDORI · little Black dress wines · BUD LIGHT · jenni

NOTE: You must be 21 years or older to attend this event. Proper ID will be required at the door.
*Content/services may vary. Only Deluxe Goodie Bag tickets include a Sheckys Goodie Bag. Contents of individual bags vary.
Midori® Melon Liqueur, 20% alc/vol (40 proof), imported by Suntory International Corp. NY, NY. Distributed by Jayer Spirits, LLC, San Francisco, CA. © 2007. • www.midoriusa.com
Brown-Forman Corporation reminds you to drink responsibly. © 2007 Brown-Forman Corporation, Louisville, KY. • www.bfdrinkiq.com
Bud Light Beer is brewed to be enjoyed by adults. © 2007 Anheuser-Busch, Inc. Bud Light®, St. Louis, MO. All rights reserved.

Hingham Arts Walk returns

Historic downtown Hingham will again become an open-air art museum with artists in their open studios and at special exhibits in more than 20 shops and historic buildings at the second annual Hingham Arts Walk. The free event, sponsored by the Hingham Downtown Association together with the Hingham Cultural Council, will take place from noon to 5 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 21. Conceived last year by downtown residents and artists, Gary Nisbet and Page Railsback, this event affords the chance to experience first hand the extraordinary art being created in Hingham.

This year, seven Hingham artists, all within walking distance of Hingham Square, have graciously opened the doors of their studios for this event. In addition, special exhibits by a host of talented local painters, photographers, sculptors, jewelers, illustrators and potters will be on display in downtown shops and in historic buildings. In addition to meeting artists and seeing their works, visitors strolling through this charming historic downtown area can see fine arts demonstrations, enjoy children's art exhibits, create their own self-portraits, sample harvest treats, mingle with neighbors and enjoy live music.

For a complete list of participating artists and their host locations, and special Hingham Arts Walk exhibits and demonstrations, visit www.discoverhingham.com or pick up a map at Bowl & Board at 140 North St., or South Street Gallery at 149 South St. Maps will also be available on the day of the walk in Caffe Tosca at 19 North St., along with hot cider.

TOBY WOLK DESIGN

For a complete list of participating artists and their host locations, and special Hingham Arts Walk exhibits and demonstrations, visit www.discoverhingham.com or pick up a map at Bowl & Board at 140 North St., or South Street Gallery at 149 South St.

Participating artists

• Joan Brancale – Joan has lived and painted 25 Fearing Road, which is at the corner of Fearing Road and Cottage Streets, just one block from the Hingham Post Office since 1982. She paints landscapes of her favorite places in Hingham and Cape Cod, and colorful depictions of cats and other things she loves.

• Jack Dickerson – The home and studio of Jack Dickerson at 137 Main Street was built in 1709 and was once the meeting place for the Hingham Arts and Crafts group. Meetings for the group were held around the turn of the century in the living room of the Dickerson home, steps away from where Jack now paints. Kate Dickerson's faux painting skills are evident in the family's kitchen on the way to Jack's bright windowed studio.

• Bob Mosher – Bob Mosher developed a passion for decoy carvings as a teen growing up in Hingham, a town renowned for its decoy carvings and woodenware since Colonial times. Mosher, who works out of a small outbuilding on his property at 16 Water Street, is a world-class carver of traditional style shorebirds and duck decoys.

• Page Railsback – Page Railsback paints and teaches in the beautiful outbuilding at 35 North Street, which dates back to the mid 1800's, and was once the studio of children's book illustrator Marc Brown. Page paints with acrylics in an impressionistic, loose style.

• Vcevy Strekalovsky – A third generation classic Russian school painter, Vcevy Strekalovksy, frequently paints scenes of life in Hingham, where he has lived and worked for over 30 years. Strekalovksy, also a renowned architect, has recently moved his office in to this historic building at 22 North Street near Hingham Harbor.

• Mike and Peggy Weymouth – Mike and Peggy Weymouth live in this simple farmhouse at 29 Water Street, which was built in the 1850's. The couple embodies the tradition of artists setting down roots in Hingham with Peggy's studio in the barn and Mike's studio in a separate more modern building at the edge of the woods on their property.

Participating businesses

The walls of the following local businesses will become museum exhibit space for the day as owners partner in creative ways with more two-dozen artists for the Hingham Arts Walk.

• Winston Flowers – At 8 Main Street in Hingham Square, will feature Hingham resident Sandra Allen's large-scale pencil drawings of trees.

• Dot Gallery – Gary Nisbet, a Hingham artist who recently opened Dot Gallery at 112 North Street, will host two sculptors for the day: Susan Luery, who is working on a mother and child sculpture for the Hingham Public Library, and is the creator of the Babe Ruth statue that towers over fans at Camden Yards in Baltimore. Ed Bagley, whose family lives in Hingham, comes to the Arts Walk through a fortuitous meeting with Nisbet in Blue Hills Maine. Bagley, a sculptor and painter, brings his whimsical invention, "The Incredible Self-Portrait Machine."

• South Street Gallery – The gallery at 149 South Street will feature painters, Eli Cedrone, Sue Charles and Tatiana Yanovskaya, who will demonstrate their techniques in Plein air, still-life and small portraits.

• Brigham's – Lynn Rizzotto's Children's Creativity Workshop students created "Ice Cream Dreams," in their fall class, expressly for their Arts Walk exhibit at Brigham's at 37 Main Street.

• Carolann's Children's Shop – Students of Miss Donna's Place will exhibit their fall creations of spirit fairies and gourd masks in this shop at 35 Main Street.

Community spaces

• Old Ship Meeting House – This national historic landmark at 107 Main St. will be open for short tours and will feature an exhibit of art works that span the centuries.

• Hingham Community Center – The community center at 70 South St. will host a photographer's exhibit, a potter and his wheel, a student piano player, and children's art activities.

• Former School Department building – The elegant high ceiling of the foyer in this building at 14 Main St. will feature the paintings of Janet Kingan and the illustrations of Joan Drescher.

AUTO PREVIEW 2008

Look for the
AUTO PREVIEW 2008
special section
in today's paper

ROLEX

HINGHAM
JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street • Route 53, Hingham • 781-749-2108
Hours: Tue. - Fri. 9:30-5:30 • Sat. 9:30-5:00
OFFICIAL ROLEX JEWELER
ROLEX ♛ OYSTER PERPETUAL AND DATEJUST ARE TRADEMARKS.

Laser Vision Correction
Complete Eye Care

Richard W. Strecker, M.D.
Board Certified
Eye Physician and Surgeon

ALLEGRETTO WAVE™ Custom LASIK
Laser for Glaucoma & Diabetes
No Stitch, Same day Cataract Surgery
Most Advanced Lens Implant Technology
Cosmetic Eyelid Surgery • Botox® and Restylane®
Eye Exams • Contact Lenses • Optical Shop with Lab

Strecker Eye Center
Free Lasik and Cosmetic Consultations
751 CJC Hwy., Rte. 3A, Shaw's Plaza, Cohasset • 781-383-2555

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

Wicked Local Homes

Wicked Local Homes is a special Community Newspaper Company publication devoted to the real estate market in our region - right at the peak of season!

- In Print with a total distribution of 100,000 copies available in Eastern Massachusetts
- Online at WickedLocalHomes.com
- PLUS: A special reader contest - Readers will have the chance to let us pay their mortgage for 1-month!

Advertising Deadline:
Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date:
Week of October 24th

Winter Coupon Book

Promote your goods and services to customers actively looking for special offers in our Community Coupons section. 88% of Community Newspaper Company readers are coupon users and 65% of adults obtain coupons through the newspaper. Don't miss out - place your advertising message in Community Coupons and let CNC's award winning local newspapers deliver for you today.

• Northwest & North Zones
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date: Week of October 24th
• Cape Cod Zone
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 11th
Publication Date: Week of October 31st
• Greater Boston, West & South Zones
Advertising Deadline: Thursday, October 18th
Publication Date: Week of October 31st

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax

NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923C Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

GOODlife

Living in comfort, living with style... at home, in the office or out on the town. That's GOODlife, a quarterly magazine published by Community Newspaper Company to help modern men and women today live life and live it well. This high gloss, full color magazine is designed to stimulate and inspire a highly upscale audience to seek out and enjoy life - the good life - with the latest design trends, entertainment advice, fashion ideas and more!

Publication Date:
Week of November 26
Copy & Space Deadline:
Wednesday, October 31

Holiday Planner 2007

Where to go. What to buy. How to Find it. It's all inside our holiday advertising sections. From Holiday Happenings to Great Holiday Gift Ideas to the Last Minute Gift Guide. With so many shopping choices, make sure they choose you.

Shopping Facts:
- More then 833,000 CNC readers often read or look to newspaper's advertising booklets, flyers, coupons or other advertising.
- The most commonly purchased holiday gifts include clothing, books, CDs, DVDs, gift certificates or cards, toys and beauty items.

*More then 38,000 readers have purchased a gift card in the past 12 months.

Wrap up your holiday plans today!

Advertising Deadlines:

Holiday Happenings
Publication Dates: November 11 - 17
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 1

Great Holiday Gift Ideas
Publication Dates: November 25 - December 1
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 15

Last Minute Gift Guide
Publication Dates: December 9 - December 15
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 29

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax

NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923C Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

Worship Guide

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: Jim Fitzgerald. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Oct. 21

10 a.m. – Worship in the Meeting House – Association Sunday

Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull will lead worship and preach on "Free Association" as we celebrate our Unitarian Universalist Association.

Religious education classes for our children and youth and child-care for our youngest begin at 10 AM in the Parish House.

Refreshments and fellowship follow the morning service and RE classes in Trueblood Hall.

11:45 a.m. – "Hope in Guatemala" – Steve & Margie Brown - Parish House

Come learn about Common Hope, a non-profit in Guatemala that has managed to keep 2300 children in school despite their families' abject poverty.

11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m. – Welcome to You and Unitarian Universalism and to First Parish UU – An Overview, Discussion & Brunch for New & Prospective Members (offered also on Nov. 11)

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are a welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for our communities, both near and across the world. Highlights of our parish life include this fall:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups, adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry; weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

- Sunday, Oct. 21: Today we celebrate the "National Interfaith Observance of Children's Sabbath." This is an event happening throughout the country in various faith traditions to celebrate children and pray for a world where children are safe, cared for and nurtured physically, emotionally and spiritually. Please join us for the 10 a.m. service. Also on 21st: 9 a.m. Youth Group meeting; 9:05 Holy Communion class for children; 11:30 am Altar Guild training and luncheon.
- Monday, Oct. 22: 4:00 pm Christian meditation
- Wednesday, Oct. 24: 9:30 am Healing Eucharist; 10:30 am Bible Study
- Friday, Oct. 26: 9:30 am Yoga
- Saturday, Oct. 27: 7:00 am Bible Fellowship; Parish Dinner 6:00
- Sunday, Oct. 28: Services at 8 am and 10 am; Intercessory Prayer, 11:40 am; Youth Worship Service at 5 p.m.

To contact us: Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom: 1112 Main St., 781-749-8103; denomination: Jewish; Rabbi Shira Joseph; Cantor Steven Weiss. Friday evenings 7:30 p.m.; Saturday morning worship, 10:30 a.m. Hebrew religious school and adult classes. For more information call our office, 781-749-8103. Also you can visit us at: www.shaaray.org

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom will present guest speaker Amotz Asa-El at the 7:30 p.m. Friday Shabbat Service on Oct. 19.

Temple Beth Sholom, 600 Nantasket Ave., Hull. 781-925-0091, 781-925-2377. Conservative. Rabbi Ben Lefkowitz. Daily Minyan. Monday-Friday, 7:45 a.m.; Saturday, Sunday and holidays, 9 a.m.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints: 379 Gardner St. Hingham, Denomination: Mormon; clergy: Bishop Leif Erickson (781-659-4702); Sunday meetings: 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. (Infants are welcome.) Enrichment Night for women (3rd Wednesday each month, 7 p.m.); scouting and youth programs: Tuesdays, 7 p.m.; early morning Seminary for teens: weekdays, 6 a.m., throughout school year. (H)

First Church of Christ, Scientist: 386 Main St., Hingham. Denomination Christian Science (781 749-2874). Christian Science church services are held at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday and at 7:45 p.m. on Wednesday evening. Everyone is invited!

The Christian Science Reading Room,35 Station St., Hingham, hours are Tuesday through Friday 11 a.m. –3 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Changes to the worship guide, may be sent by e-mail to mford@cnc.com.

Worship News

Public invited to reception for Rev. Fish

Beechwood Congregational Church on Church Street in Cohasset would like to extend an invitation to the public to attend a reception for the Rev. Douglas Fish and his wife, Barbara, at 11:30 a.m., on Sunday, Oct. 21.

Rev. Fish and his wife have recently settled in western Massachusetts and will no longer be making the commute to lead Beechwood Church. Join others to wish them happiness in their new endeavors.

Adult education series

Congregation Sha'ary Shalom, 1112 Main St., Hingham will hold "Magic, Superstition and Things That Go Bump In The Night," with Rabbi Shira Joseph at 7:30 p.m., Mondays, Oct. 22, and 29, and Nov. 5 and 12, as part of its adult education series.

Trace the Jewish history of ghosts and magic from biblical times throughout the ages. Learn the origins of magical incantations, red ribbons, and more. This course will also examine the Jewish origins of numerology, reincarnation and Frankenstein. The final session will include a 1937 Yiddish movie about a romantic tragedy of possession and exorcism.

For more information, call the Temple office at 781-749-8103 or visit www.shaaray.org.

Local authors to visit book, craft fair

Congregation Sha'ary Shalom, 1112 Main St., Hingham will host two local authors in its sanctuary, Sunday, Nov. 4, in conjunction with its book and craft fair, which will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Local story teller Mark Binder will perform for primary grade students and their parents, at 9 a.m. Mark is an author, storyteller, and award-winning recording artist who has written more than 200 stories for both young and old, which have been published in magazines, anthologized in books, and used on standardized tests. His "Bedtime Story Book" collection, a multigenerational masterpiece, is now in its seventh edition and his novel, "The Brothers Schlemiel," has been serialized weekly in print for two years and will be released in 2008. He is the founder of the American Story Theater and teaches at colleges and workshops.

Rabbi Joseph B. Meszler, author of "Witnesses to the One: The Spiritual History of the Sh'ma," will take participants on an exploration of the history and the heart of the most important and sacred statement of Judaism. Rabbi Meszler is recognized for his ability to connect the importance of Jewish tradition with everyday life. He was the translator of "Gifts For the Poor: Moses Maimonides' Treatise on Tszedakh" and a former instructor at the Smithsonian Institution, as well as the rabbi at Temple Sinai in Sharon.

For more information call the Temple office at 781-749-8103 or visit www.shaaray.org.

POLICE/FIRE LOG

THURSDAY, OCT. 4

7 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, notification, caller reports he lost his wallet possibly in the area of above location. Caller reports he checked above area, unable to locate it, he doesn't know where he lost it.

7:06 a.m. Norfolk Rd., and Bancroft Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:08 a.m. Beechwood St., notification, Beechwood Street is down to one lane of traffic from King Street to 3A – notified fire – emergency traffic can get through.

8:52 a.m. Kendall Village, fire, E3 to this location to check the water.

9:43 a.m. South Main St., property lost, walk in party would like to report lost property for insurance purposes.

11:27 a.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

11:46 a.m. Fairoaks Lane, lost property, caller stated that his wife's diamond ring was stolen.

12:12 p.m. N. Main St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

12:50 p.m. North Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation issued, crosswalk violation.

3:15 p.m. Pleasant St., disturbance, caller stated that a group of boys were very loud when they walked by her house.

6:29 p.m. Elm St., road rage, officer out with two parties that are verbally fighting with each other. Both parties have been spoken to.

10:10 p.m. Elm St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, walk in male states he is having chest pain.

FRIDAY, OCT. 5

1:50 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:53 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

7:12 a.m. Beechwood St., notification, detail officer reports above location – 1 lane.

9:33 a.m. Pond St., vehicle repossession.

9:46 a.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

10:13 a.m. Fairoaks Lane, officer wanted, caller requests an officer regarding a situation from yesterday.

10:57 a.m. Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

12:05 p.m. Kane Drive, medical aid, Scituate is requesting R3 for a medical. Canceled before arrival.

1:05 p.m. King St., suspicious activity, caller reports 2 males and one female entered the store and are acting suspicious.

2:53 p.m. Joy Pl., caller reports she lost her dog.

3:07 p.m. First Parish Rd., lost property, she lost her cell phone in Cohasset.

3:29 p.m. Elm St., identity theft/fraud, walk in party would like to speak to an officer regarding identity theft.

4:04 p.m. Wade St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, mutual aid to Scituate for a party with chest pain.

9:12 p.m. Hull St., threats, caller states that his son received a threatening phone call and is getting threats at school.

SATURDAY, OCT. 6

12:59 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

1 a.m. Sohier St., both elementary schools check secure.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, light wind, 67.

12:46 p.m. King St., medical aid, 911 caller reports her mother has a bad infection in her jaw and is having trouble walking and pain all over.

2:03 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, 911 caller reports a female costumer going in and out of consciousness and is very weak. Officer on scene reports female extremely weak, her daughter is on scene and is a nurse.

3:11 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle crash/hit and run, caller reports she is an employee at this location and her vehicle has been parked in the lot since 7 a.m. and someone smashed into the side of her car and did not claim to do it.

3:17 p.m. Central Park Drive, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS, Scituate Fire request R3 for a female not feeling well.

4:32 p.m. Sohier St., open door/window, caller reports his neighbors back door is wide open and an alarm is going off inside the house and nobody is home. Resident just arrived home and states its a problem with her alarm system, they are having some work done on the house.

4:59 p.m. Hill St., 209A violation.

5:07 p.m. Beechwood St., vandalism report, 911 caller reports he was playing basketball and a group of youths were playing baseball and hit a ball into his car by accident, but are refusing to give information. Officer reports this was an accident, all parties are satisfied, report to follow.

6:11 p.m. Elm St., property recovered, a piece of jewelry that was involved in a larceny has been turned into the OIC of the shift by a party that works at a jewelry repair shop.

7:19 p.m. Bailey's Causeway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, Scituate Fire requesting R3 for a young child that broke his nose.

8:33 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, property recovered, officer reports there is a copy machine in the middle of the parking lot, he is checking the building. Building is secure at this time, he is bringing the machine to HQ for safe keeping.

8:53 p.m. South Main St., abandoned/hang-up 911, received 2 abandoned 911 calls from this location. On call back person that answered the phone with a strong accent told dispatch "I never heard of that."

SUNDAY, OCT. 7

12:01 a.m. Linden Drive, noise complaint.

12:25 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

12:26 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

8 a.m. Weather: Cloudy, light wind, 62.

9:03 a.m. N. Main St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, 911 caller reports his mother is having chest pain.

9:06 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., officer wanted, walk in party would like to speak to an officer regarding his neighbor acting very strange recently.

3:17 p.m. Sohier St., open door/window, caller reports one of the windows on the side of the building is wide open and the screen has been removed. There is an open window and the screen has been removed, officers are going in the building. Officers are clear at this time, caretaker notified to review tapes to see if entry was gained.

4:33 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, erratic operation of motor vehicle, 911 cell caller reports vehicle driving erratically on 3A with Florida plates, that's the only description available and caller hung up before any info could be gotten.

6:37 p.m. South Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:06 p.m. North Main St., and Sohier St., property recovered, caller reports a bike in the woods for a few days now and he will "stand by and wait for an officer to retrieve it." Bike has been brought to station for safekeeping.

9:28 p.m. North Main St., and Red Gate Lane, motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

MONDAY, OCT. 8

12:13 a.m. Highland Ct., noise complaint, anonymous caller states "there is loud music coming from a residence down a little road without a name." 3 or 4 motor vehicles in the town hall parking lot have been moved along.

12:31 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

12:31 a.m. Sohier St., both elementary schools checks secure.

12:42 a.m. North Main St., erratic operation of motor vehicle, 911 cell caller states "a black SUV just went by her house going 90 mph." This is the fourth time this has happened tonight." Motor vehicle is headed towards the village. No motor vehicles on the roadway.

12:46 a.m. North Main St., erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller states "the dark colored SUV is now headed towards Hull St." "This is the 6th time the motor vehicle has gone by." No motor vehicle on the roadway now. Officer spoke to the caller.

12:52 a.m. Ripley Rd., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning – obscured plate and marked lanes.

12:58 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., motor vehicle stop, mother of one of the passengers notified, mother will be responding to the location.

1:16 a.m. North Main St., erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller states "the black SUV went by again, going 100 mph."

6:54 a.m. North Main St., and Forest Ave., 911 cell caller states there is a tree on fire at the intersection. Officer reports tree is on North Main St. surrounding area is catching fire. High priority wire in the tree. National Grid notified. E3 reports National Grid is temporarily shutting off the power to North Main St., North of North Main St., Lower King St., and part of Forest Ave.

8 a.m. Weather: Rain, light wind, 58.

8:50 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, animal complaint, multiple callers report a dead deer on the side of the road on 3A in the south bound lane near the Cohasset station. Mass Highway notified.

6:06 p.m. Beechwood St., public service, caller reports a German Shepard tied up to a pole with nobody around. Officer has checked the area and the owners are at the park with the dog, no problem.

TUESDAY, OCT. 9

12:32 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

12:33 a.m. Sohier St., both elementary schools check secure.

5:37 a.m. Sohier St., and Ripley Rd., public service, caller states "there is a flashing strobe light in the big white house across from the library." Officer states it is a Halloween decoration.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, light wind, 57.

9:08 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious vehicle, caller reports a motor vehicle all over the road, motor vehicle has pulled into the Fiori Exxon, officer reports no problem with operator, party dropped a cell phone and was trying to pick it up.

10:01 a.m. Border St., suspicious activity, caller reports his credit card was taken from his motor vehicle in the parking lot. He further stated there were charges made in the Cohasset area.

10:01 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, manager at Stop & Shop has a shoplifter, he is requesting an officer. Officer reports the party has been issued a verbal No Trespassing order and Stop & Shop will be issuing a written No Trespass order the manager, would not like to pursue any further actions at this time.

12:26 p.m. Pond St., vandalism report, caller stated that his car has been keyed.

12:41 p.m. Pleasant St., officer wanted regarding someone trespassing on the caller's property.

1:08 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, larceny, caller would like to see an officer regarding a fake check.

1:26 p.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

1:43 p.m. South Main St., caller stated that she smelled an outside odor of gas.

2:45 p.m. Nantasket Ave., and School St., medical aid, transported SSH/BLS, Hull FD requesting R3 for motor vehicle accident.

5 p.m. Brook St., civil matter, male into HQ advising that a repo company may attempt to repo his motor vehicle in the next few days. Male has a temporary civil injunction that was just issued by the court – wanted CPD to know that repo company should not take the motor vehicle. The RP was advised that this is a civil matter, but a copy of his injunction will be mentioned at roll calls.

5:31 p.m. King St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

6:49 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:49 p.m. Sohier St., parking complaint.

8 p.m. Pleasant St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

9:25 p.m. Elm St., sewerage coming out of the floor drain in the juvenile cell. Facilities manager advised and responding. Fire Captain notified, Police Chief notified.

10:50 p.m. George Washington Blvd., assist other Police Department, Hingham 910 request that a Cohasset cruiser block the intersection of Rockland Street and George Washington Blvd. – they have a serious motor vehicle accident on the Hull line.

10:53 p.m. George Washington Blvd., medical aid, transported QMC/ALS, Hingham requests R3 for a motor vehicle accident.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 10

1:09 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:10 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

7:15 a.m. North Main St., suspicious person, caller reports white female with white shorts walking on the side of the road – caller didn't know if she's having difficulty. Officer reports female is fine.

7:33 a.m. Deep Run, notification, detail officer reports deep run narrow lane. Notified Fire Dept.

8:53 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., and Forest Ave., animal complaint, caller reports a swan in the roadway.

9:12 a.m. Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

9:19 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, larceny, caller is requesting to see an office with regards to a larceny by check report.

12:03 p.m. Highland Ave., walk in party reports a power line hanging over Highland Ave. Verizon has been notified.

12:26 p.m. King St., notification, speed board posted at the location.

1:40 p.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

3:14 p.m. Henry Turner Rd., Scituate, erratic operation of motor vehicle.

3:58 p.m. Kendall Village, vandalism report, caller would like an officer for a vandalism report.

6:57 p.m. Atlantic Ave., parking complaint, caller states there are illegally parked cars on the bridge. Officer tagged 3 cars.

7:53 p.m. King St., suspicious activity.

POLICE/FIRE TERMS

ACO -Animal Control Officer

ALS - Transport, Ambulance Transporting - Advanced Life Support (High level of care with paramedics administering drugs)

BLS Transport - Ambulance Transporting, Basic Life Support (Usually not life threatening)

BOLO - Be On the Look Out

BT - Breath Test (having to do with liquor offenses)

CID - Criminal Investigation Division (Cohasset Detectives)

D/K - Drunk

E1 - E4 - Cohasset Fire Engines

GOA- Gone on Arrival

HQ - Headquarters

Juvenile -Person under the age of 17

L1 - Cohasset Fire Ladder Truck

LEAPS/NCIC - Police Computer System (National)

ME - Medical Examiner

M/V - Motor Vehicle

OIC - Officer in Charge

OUI - Operating under the influence (liquor or drugs)

PC - Protective Custody (Persons who are too intoxicated to care for themselves are taken into protective custody - not a criminal charge)

PI - Personal Injury

PT - Patient

QMC - Quincy Medical Center

R3 - Abbreviation for Cohasset Ambulance / Rescue 3. May also be R1 (Hingham Fire Ambulance), or R2 (Hull Fire Ambulance)

RMV -Registry of Motor Vehicles

RO - Restraining Order

S/P - Suspicious Person

SSH - South Shore Hospital

WMS - Warrant Management System (Name for Massachusetts computer system that holds arrest warrants)

How can you help fight cancer before the end of the year?

LIMITED OPPORTUNITY IN 2007: USE YOUR IRA LIKE NEVER BEFORE.

If you have an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), you may be eligible to benefit from the Pension Protection Act of 2006. Under this landmark legislation, people who are age 70 ½ or older may now make gifts to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute from their IRAs without incurring tax consequences. Most importantly, your gift will benefit lifesaving research and care at Dana-Farber. Take advantage of this opportunity before it ends on Dec. 31, 2007 to help Dana-Farber conquer cancer.

DANA-FARBER CANCER INSTITUTE

The Jimmy Fund

To learn more, please contact:
Christopher E. Painter, Director of Gift Planning
Phone: 617-632-3756 or 1-800-535-5577
E-mail: Christopher_Painter@dfci.harvard.edu
www.dana-farber.org/giftplanning

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

Legal Notices

ZBA/66 NICHOLS RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, November 6th , at 8:15 PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §8.7.2 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicants, Pamela J. Ireland and Michael Mellone, seek to construct an addition within the setback at 66 Nichols Road according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-10-09.

AD#11487251
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

SEL/CABLE TV PROVIDERS
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Cable Advisory Committee of the Town of Cohasset will conduct a public Ascertainment Hearing in preparation for the negotiation of contracts with cable television providers.

The Hearing is scheduled for November 15, 2007 at 7:00 PM in the basement conference room at Town Hall, 41 Highland Avenue, Cohasset, MA 02025. The public is invited to offer public input on existing and potential future cable television service in writing in advance of the public hearing or in person at the hearing. Written comments should be sent to: Ms. Patricia Martin, Chairman of the Cable Advisory Committee, 169 Linden Drive, Cohasset, MA 02025.

Cable Advisory Committee

AD#11485856
Cohasset Mariner 10/19/07

ZBA/609 JERUSALEM RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, November 6th at 8:15 PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §5.3 and §9.6 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicant, Heidi Condon, Architectural Designer, seeks to build an addition to the existing house and demolish the existing barn and construct a new garage at 609 Jerusalem Road, according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-10-15a.

AD#11487274
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

ZBA/6 NICHOLS RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday November 6th at 9:15 PM, to hear and act upon an application for an Appeal of the Building Commissioner's opinion decision allowing a portion of the property at 198 Jerusalem Road be used as a staging area for the municipal sewer system project. The applicant is Eileen Craven of 6 Nichols Road, according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office File #07-10-15b.

AD#11487265
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

A-1 PAVING
CO. INC.

Driveways Parking Lots
Seal Coating Roadways

FREE ESTIMATES
Over 25 Years' Experience

508-384-7314

To Place A Legal Ad Call Mary (781) 433-7902

It's Happening

Glastonbury Abbey to hold fundraiser

Glastonbury Abbey, 16 Hull St., Hingham, will hold a fundraiser from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 3. The event will feature an evening of wine tasting, music and food. Proceeds benefit Glastonbury Abbey. For more information or tickets, call Ann McCarthy-Egan at 781-749-9423 or Kay Trask at 781-545-0993.

Anti-Racism workshop set for Nov. 17

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is sponsoring Seeing the Face of God In Each Other, an inter-faith workshop on anti-racism, with The Rev. Cannon Ed Rodman from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17.

This free event is open to people of all faith traditions, ages teen and up. Lunch will be served.

Children's author

Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaws Plaza, Route 3A, Cohasset, will welcome award-winning artist/author Tomie dePaola at 11 a.m., on Saturday, Nov. 3. dePaola will read from his new book, "Front Porch Tales & North Country Whoppers," (G. P. Putnam's Sons, $17.99) laugh out loud stories from Vermont and New Hampshire set during the four seasons of the year. Told with warmth and humor, the illustrations and tales will delight youngsters of all ages. The reading will start promptly at 11 a.m.

dePaola lives in New London, N. H., and is the recipient of a Newbery Honor Award (26 Fairmount Avenue) and a Caldecott Honor (Strega Nona). He has also been awarded the Smithsonian Medal, Regina Medal and was designated a "living treasure" by the state of New Hampshire. He will receive the Sarah Joseph Hale award in October.

Copies of dePaola's other books will be available for purchase at Buttonwood. dePaola will be happy to sign all books bought at the store for this event, including one – but only one – book from one's home, library or classroom.

Anyone unable to attend that would like to order a personalized or signed copy should call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.

Drama Kids classes available

Drama Kids is offering after-school classes for children ages 3 through 12. The Drama Kids program focuses on developing children's verbal abilities while enhancing creativity, social confidence and building self esteem. Classes take place at locations in Scituate, Cohasset and Hingham.

Call 781-749-4911 or visit dramakids.com for more information.

Holly Hill Farm seeks help in its woods

Holly Hill Farm has set aside this Sunday afternoon, Oct. 21, to clean up its trails in preparation for winter. Farm staff members will lead volunteers over the woods' historic cart paths and walking trails that traverse the 140-acre Cohasset farm.

Most of the work involves removing windfalls and cutting with clippers encroaching brambles, brush and overhangs. Work crews will gather at the farm's Main Barn at 2 p.m. at 236 Jerusalem Road. Work should be completed by 3:30 p.m. Work gloves are recommended. Volunteers are asked to bring their own loppers and clippers to supplement the farm's supply.

If interested in participating or for more information, call Jon Belber at 781-383-1455.

Latin Dance Party set for Oct. 20

Warm up this autumn to the rhythm of the Grupo Chevere Band. Come enjoy an evening of live music and Latin dancing, including some instruction and demonstrations, sponsored by the Cohasset Diversity Committee. Proceeds of the event will help fund the Peer Leadership Program at Cohasset Middle High School.

This event will take place from 8 p.m. to midnight, on Saturday, Oct. 20, at The River Club, 78 Border St., Scituate. Cash bar, complimentary hors d'oeuvres will be available. Tickets are $35 person and are available at Buttonwood Books & Toys at Shaw's Plaza and Paperscapes, 47 South Main St., in the village.

For more information, call Connie Afshar at 781-383-6006.

Newcomers Club new member gathering

Scituate/Cohasset Newcomers Club invites all new and prospective members, as well as current members, to a New Member Gathering from 10 a.m. to noon, on Wednesday, Nov. 7. At this new member coffee, attendees can meet people and learn more about the club. Friends and children are welcome to attend.

Call Kim at 545-2952 or email kim.spires@Comcast.net or Kelly at 545-0866, k-dlee@hotmail.com for more information or to register. For information about membership, visit the Web site at scnewcomers.com. There are many activities planned throughout the year.

Retreat programs at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph Retreat Center, 339 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset is hosting the following upcoming programs:

- Tuesday, Oct. 30: Day of Prayer, 10 a.m.– 3 p.m. "The Spirituality of Aging"
- Wednesday, Nov.7, Morning of Prayer, 9:15-11:45. "From the Rising of the Sun to its Setting"
- Nov. 9-11, Quilting Retreat Weekend, "The Fabric of Our Lives: Co-Creating a Holy Pattern"
- Nov. 12-16, Directed Retreat.
- Saturday, Nov. 17, Day of Prayer, 9:00 – 3:30. "Heart for the Holidays during a Time of Loss"
- Sunday, Nov. 18, Reflective Workshop, 9:00 – 3:30. "Grief and Gratitude in Prayer and Spiritual Direction"
- Dec.7-9, Weekend Retreat. "Soul Collage - A Journey of Discovery"

Besides scheduled events, the retreat house is often available for private retreat days. For more information and to register, visit www.csjretreatcenter.org or call 781-383-6024.

Pianist in recital at St. Stephen's

St. Stephen's Church is pleased to present pianist Michael Crane of New York in a recital on Sunday, Oct. 28 at 3 p.m.

Michael Crane has been active as a teacher, collaborator, composer and performer in Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York. He holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Southern California where he studied with Daniel Pollack. Michael's teachers have included David Kaiserman at Northwestern University and Boris Berman at Yale University and he has been a participant in Master Classes conducted by Richard Goode, Claude Frank, and Alicia de Larrocha. His graduate studies have included work in the areas of music theory, music history, and electro-acoustic media. He is a member of the Pi Kappa Lambda music honor society and the Music Teacher's National Association. Michael is also a laureate of several piano competitions including the Grace Welsh Prize in Piano and the Joanna Hodges Piano Competition.

The concert, to be held in the Music Room, will introduced by David Baker, Director of Music at St. Stephen's, and a reception will follow the program.

The church is located at 16 Highland Ave. is handicap accessible, and plenty of parking is available at the village car park. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted. For information, please call 781.383.1083.

Turkey Day Trot to raise funds for DMD

Runners have an opportunity to participate in the Thanksgiving spirit of sharing and appreciation, while also making room for that extra helping of turkey. Dan McCarron of Cohasset, founder and chairman, announces the seventh annual Turkey Trot, Cohasset, will take place Nov. 22, Thanksgiving morning. All funds raised will benefit the Jett Foundation of Pembroke to combat Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy.

The 3.1-mile race, which starts on Cohasset Common at 8 a.m., follows the town's Little Harbor along its route. Registration will begin at 7 a.m. on the Common. Those signing up by Nov. 9 are guaranteed a number and a runner's shirt, according to McCarron. The registration fee is $20 before Nov. 16 and $25 after. Families of four or more are capped at $100. Runners and their friends are invited to donate more to this cause. Go directly to jettfoundation.org to register. Official trip timing be will be done by Sark Productions of Waltham.

This year's charitable event is co-sponsored by the Shoe Market, Hingham. "We are very appreciative of our sponsors' support. Through their help, the registration fees and the additional generous donations of those who support this important cause, we hope to top all previous year's fundraising efforts," McCarron said.

The Jett Foundation, founded in 2001 by the McSherrys of Pembroke, for their son Jett, raises funds for research and clinical trials to combat DMD, the most common and lethal genetic disorder in the world. DMD affects one in every 3,500 male births; 20,000 new cases are diagnosed each year. It is a muscle wasting disease and most boys are wheelchair bound by 12 and don't live beyond their teen years.

Weir River Race

Hull Lifesaving Museum's 20th annual Head of the Weir River Race on Saturday, Oct. 27, will be a celebration of the estuary at the height of its fall beauty and the array of the region's open water rowers.

As many as 60 boats jockey for position racing out the narrow estuary and onto open water, traveling from West Corner, on the Hingham/Hull/Cohasset line, past Bumpkin Island, across Hull Bay, to the museum's Windmill Point Boathouse at Hull Gut. A highly contested 5-fi miler, the Weir draws coxed youth and adult rowers in gigs, single and double livery and workboats, currachs and ocean shells, as well as experienced paddlers in kayaks and canoes. In the head of the river format, boats kick-off the starting line at one-minute intervals, and times are collated at the finish to determine the race winners. The Weir is an exciting race and a great spectator event, featuring more than 150 of the region's finest rowers from all over New England and New York. Best spectator views are from the bridge on George Washington Boulevard, 10 to 20 minutes after the start; at the tip of Hull's Sunset Point, or at the Windmill Point Boathouse finish line. Spectators should show care crossing the road on George Washington Boulevard, watching for fast moving traffic.

Registration, required for all participants, will begin at 11 a.m. at the race starting line behind the Hull Public Works building at the Hull town line on Route 228. The coxswains' meeting is at 12:45 p.m., and race start at 1:30 p.m. All coxed boats must contact the race organizers before the day of the race. There is no parking available at the race starting line; the put-in for trailered boats is at Nantasket Pier, one mile from the starting line, where car and trailer parking is available.

For information, call Ed McCabe, Hull Lifesaving Museum's maritime program director, or Lory Newmyer, executive director, at the museum at 781-925-5433 or visit the museum's Web site at lifesavingmuseum.org.

LOCAL NEWS.
LOCAL FLAVOR.
Read and Recharge.

Order home delivery of The Patriot Ledger today at 25% OFF and receive a Dunkin' Donuts® Card worth up to $40.00!

Order now!
Call 1.800.557.8882
Mention campaign code: DUNKIN07

or mail in this form with your payment.

YES! Please sign me up for convenient home delivery of The Patriot Ledger at 25% off and send me my Dunkin' Donuts® Gift Card!

Please select one of the following:

☐ Option 1: BEST OPTION
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery with EZPay
I understand that my credit card will be charged $12.00 every 4-weeks.
Please send me a $40 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Provide your credit card info below).

☐ Option 2:
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 26-weeks
I have enclosed a check for $78.00
Please send me a $40 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

☐ Option 3:
Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 13-weeks
I have enclosed a check for $39.00
Please send me a $20 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

Name
Street / Apt. #
City/State/Zip
Home phone
Email

CREDIT/DEBIT CARD INFORMATION ☐ VISA ☐ ☐ ☐
Cardholder name
Account number
Expiration date
Signature

Mail this form to:
The Patriot Ledger,
P.O. Box 699159, Quincy, MA 02269

The Patriot Ledger | Community Newspaper Company

With home delivery of The Patriot Ledger, you'll stay on top of Local News, Local Sports, and Local Happenings in and around your town every day, Monday through Saturday.

Offer valid for households in The Patriot Ledger delivery area who have not received home delivery in the past 30 days. This is an introductory offer. All subscriptions must by prepaid by check or credit card. Delivery will continue unless you notify us otherwise. You will be contacted prior to the expiration period if subscription is cancelled. The Patriot Ledger will either reimburse the value of the non-delivered newspapers less the amount of your Dunkin' Donuts® card or charge that amount to you credit card. The Dunkin' Donuts® trademarks/tradedress are owned by DD IP Holder LLC. Used under license. Offer expires 11/12/07. Subscriptions must start by 11/12/07.

DUNKIN07

TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

OCTOBER 18-26, 2007

One for the money; 'Two for the Road'

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

Boston Cabaret favorites Carol O'Shaughnessy and Jan Peters will be in Hull on Friday to perform "Two for the Road: A Musical Trip Celebrating the Best of the American Songbook and Broadway Stage" at Raffael's at Nantasket.

"This appearance will mark the first time that Carol and I have done a full-scale show together in about two years," said Peters by telephone last week from western Pennsylvania, where she relocated in March 2006. "I get home to the Boston area about three times a year now and this time it just worked out that I would be able to perform with Carol for our old friend, John McDonald. Carol and I did four or five shows for John at the old Raffael's location in North Quincy and we always had a great time. We both love working with John and performing for South Shore audiences."

A former resident of Brookline, Peters earned a name for herself — and a loyal following among cabaret devotees — with acclaimed performances at Scullers Jazz Club and Club Cafe as well as frequent appearances in the Encore Lounge in Boston's Theatre District. Peters put all that aside early last year when she moved to Beaver, Pa., to be near her sister, two young nieces and a nephew.

"With my brother and his family in South Carolina and my sister and her family in the Pittsburgh area, it seemed like I was always headed out of town, until I finally decided it was time to move closer to my family. I'm a

Jan Peters will perform with Carol O'Shaughnessy at Raffael's at Nantasket Oct. 19.

When she takes the stage this week with the veteran O'Shaughnessy, a fixture on the Boston cabaret scene for decades, Peters says the pair plan a song list that reflects the best of both of their respective careers.

Boston cabaret veteran Carol O'Shaughnessy.

40-minute drive from Pittsburgh and one hour away from Boston by plane so it has been a pretty smooth adjustment."

Peters' career continues to move along smoothly, too.

"I was lucky enough to establish a good relationship with WJAS 1320, a Pittsburgh radio station that put me on its play list back when I was just coming here to visit my sister. Thanks to that station playing music from my two CDs, 'Somebody Come and Play' and 'You Started Something,' I developed a following in Pittsburgh to complement the one I already had in Boston. On the station, I'm sandwiched between Rosemary Clooney and Frank Sinatra, which is a real kick. The audience is primarily baby boomers, too, which has been great for my live shows."

When she takes the stage this week with the veteran O'Shaughnessy, a fixture on the Boston cabaret scene for decades, Peters says the pair plan a song list that reflects the best of both of their respective careers.

"Our show will be a compilation of both of our latest solo shows plus some of the music that we've done together over the years. I know Carol is planning to do her 'Peter Pan' medley which always goes over well, and also Fats Waller's 'The Joint is Jumpin.' I'll probably do a Doris Day medley, plus 'The Lies of Handsome Men,' a terrific number written by Francesca Blumenthal, from my second CD, and there will be some surprises, too."

JM Productions will present Carol O'Shaughnessy and Jan Peters in "Two for the Road" at Raffael's at Nantasket, 45 Hull Shore Drive, Hull, on Friday, Oct. 19. For information about the various packages which include show, show and dinner, or show, dinner, and an overnight stay at the Clarion Nantasket Beach Resort Hotel & Spa, call Raffael's at 781-925-4515 or go online at raffaels.com.

Calendar of events

The guitar duo of Mark and Beverly Davis opens the 10th anniversary Boston Classical Guitar Society 2007/2008 "Sunday Sounds Special" series at the Hingham Public Library on Oct. 21 at 3:30 p.m. The free series is sponsored by the Boston Classical Guitar Society, the Library, Derby Street Shoppes of Hingham and the Hingham Middle School Sixth Grade Class of 2006/2007. Their performance selections are drawn from the international repertoire for two guitars, including traditional songs of the British, pieces from the Spanish tradition by Halter, Scarlatti, and Soler, and contemporary compositions.

Send your calendar events to: Dorothy Dinsmore, Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 or by fax 781-837-4543 or email ddinsmore@cnc.com. For information call 781-837-4518. Deadline is Friday at noon. Visit Town Commons: What's happening on the South Shore on the web at wickedlocal.com — click on your town — then click the fun tab.

Thursday, Oct. 18

Dr. Mark Mincolla presents Mind Medicine - The Unlimited Healing Power, 7 to 9 p.m. Oct.18, at the Radisson Hotel Rockland Grand Ballroom, on Rt. 228 off of Exit 14, Rt 3. 929 Hingham St. Rockland. Call to RSVP 781 834-2728. Mail payments to: Healthy Living, P.O. Box 357, Marshfield Hills, MA 02051. Confirmation by e-Mail, please send your e-mail address with payment is accepting private reservations for dinner and appetizer. call hotel 781 871 0545 Hotel Directions go to: www.radisson.com/rocklandma

The Plymouth Farmers' Market, held from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m., through October at Stephen's Field located off of Route 3A, just south of Plymouth Center. Oct. 18, folk harpist Shelley Otis. For information, contact Barbara Anglin, market manager, at 508-732-9962.

Best of Bay State Night of Comedy. 6 p.m. at Granite Links Golf Club, 100 Quarry Hills Drive, Quincy. Tickets are $100. Corporate sponsorships are available and all donations are tax-deductible. Send checks payable to "Bay State Community Services" care of Gail Bork to Bay State Community Services, Inc., 13 Temple St., Quincy, MA 02169. For information call 617-471-8400 extension 184 or E-mail gbork@baystatecs.org.

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 18, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with host band, Oct. 18, Paul Fudin from Groove Authority at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 18, DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.18, Jamie Walker.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Friday, Oct. 19

Company Theatre, 30 Accord Park Dr, Norwell, presents two shows in one evening with Clue and Sorry, Wrong Number being performed on the same night. Performances run Oct. 12 through 28. First up is Sorry, Wrong Number, After a brief intermission, audiences will enjoy CLUE, the "who-did-it-where-with-what" murder mystery based on the very popular board game. With surprise endings being offered each performance. Tickets are priced at $21-$23 and are available at the Company Theatre box-office at 30 Accord Park Dr., in Norwell, by phone at 781-871-2787, and online at companytheatre.com

Yoga at the Country Club of Halifax. This an all levels yoga class is currently ongoing at the Country Club of Halifax, on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. This class is suitable for all levels - beginners to advanced - and drop-ins are welcome. For information contact Stacey at 617-548-5877 or via email at stacey@letitflowfitness.com.

The Hingham Civic Music Theatre presents Rodgers & Hammerstein's Cinderella, Sanborn Auditorium, Hingham Town Hall, 210 Central St., Hingham. Oct. 19-20 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. Adult tickets, $16; students $15, seniors $14, and groups of 10 or more, $12. Visit HCMT.org, or call Ticket Hotline, 781-837-1499. Mandy Mitchell of Braintree plays Cinderella and her Prince Charming is Cohasset's Andrew DeVitre.

JM Productions presents Two for Road starring Jan Peters and Carol O'Shaughnessy celebrating the best of The Great American Songbook & Broadway stage. Oct. 19. Dinner theatre shows will be held at Nantasket Beach, The Clarion Hotel, hosted by Raffael's Restaurant, in Hull .For tickets, call: JM Productions at 617.786-SHOW (7469) or visit JM Productions secure website for on line credit card purchasing at: jmproductionspresents.com. Patrons can also call Raffael's at 781-925-4515! Tickets for show only are $30 per person for dinner and show $50 per person with special hotel rates to stay over at the Clarion.

Rockland Legion Baseball Team Comedy Night Fundraiser Oct. 19 at VFW Hall, Essex St., Whitman. Doors Open at 8 p.m. show starts at 9 p.m. two national headliners, music, dancing raffles, 50/50, food and laughs. Tickets $25 each or 10 for $200 (table) Call Thom Roache 781-871-6722.

Single Executives Club Singles Dance Oct. 19, 8:30 p.m. to midnight. The Lafayette House Ballroom, 109 Washington St., Rte. 1 south, Foxboro. Next to the End Zone Hotel. Dance music by award-winning DJ. Complimentary buffet all night. Numerous free door prizes and MATCH Game prizes. For all single professionals and couples 35+ yrs. old. Proper business dress required; sports jackets for men. Admission is $10 before 9. Call 781-446-0234 se-4u.com for

South Shore Folk Music Club, The Bead House, Route 106 across from First Parish Unitarian Church, Kingston. Oct. 19, 8 p.m. Coffeehouse featuring Paul Lee and Frank Albani. Open mike. Admission: $5 members; $6 non-members. Handicap accessible. 781-871-1052 ssfmc.org

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax. Oct. 19, John the Conqueror 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 19, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

New England Singles Dances, VFW Hall, 301 Central St., Abington. Admission $9. 617-325-4900 Ages 40 and over. singlesdances-newengland.com

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Oct. 19, at 9:15 p.m., Driving Blind. No cover. 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Mark your calendar

MEET DUXBURY NATIVE AND WORLD RENOWNED ARTIST ANNA CONWAY AND CO ARTIST JOHN HODANY creators of the Duxbury Bay Mural featured in the picture book room of the Children's Department Nov. 3, at the Duxbury Free Library from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Both artists will be signing limited editions of their Mural. Small giclee prints are $125 and larger prints are $200. All proceeds benefit the Library. Tickets are $45 per guest and only 200 tickets will be sold through the Library and Westwinds Bookshop. Music provided by Duxbury students. Coastal theme fare catered by Simply Divine with a raw bar provided by Island Creek Oysters and cash bar. Duxbury Bay Murals framed by Artica Gallery, now on display at the Library will be raffled during the evening. The Friends are accepting preorders for prints at 781-837-0834.

THE COHASSET CABARET will make its debut Nov. 2, and Nov. 3, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall, 129 South Main St. Each evening will begin with a social hour from 7 to 8 p.m., featuring a raffle table with items from local artists and merchants, followed by the cabaret. Cast members from the South Shore area will perform Tickets cost $25 each and are available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., each Sunday, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Tickets are also available during the week at the Parish Hall, and at the Cohasset Elder Affairs office at the South Shore Community Center on Main St. For information, call 781-383-0752.

COUNTRY STAR JOSH GRACIN will make his area debut with a show at Plymouth Memorial Hall on Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. A portion of the proceeds will benefit Habitat for Humanity/Women Build as they construct a new home on the South Shore. For country music fans, one of the highlights of "American Idol 2" was the success of a young Marine named Josh Gracin, Opening for Gracin will be Carmen Rasmusen. Tickets are priced at $45-$25, with a limited number of VIP tickets available which include a pre-show reception with Josh Gracin and Carmen Rasmusen, with the proceeds from the reception going to Habitat for Humanity.Tickets are available at the Plymouth Hall box-office at 50 Court St., Plymouth, by phone at 508-747-1340, online at plymouthhall.com, and at all FYE and Strawberries outlets.

"Boats at Rest", acrylic by Jane Flavell Collins

The South Street Gallery 149 South St., Hingham presents "Water Water Everywhere," the works of Jane Flavell Collins of Duxbury, The opening event will take place Oct. 26, from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Nov. 15. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For additional information, call 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 19, PiAlley 781-837-6368.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell. Oct.19, Typhoon Ferry.

The Red Parrot, 258 Nantasket Road, Hull. Oct. 19, 9 p.m. Bag Full of Blues.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach. Oct. 19, Mission of Blues. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email thescanote@aol.com

Saturday, Oct. 20

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax. Oct. 20, Tongue and Groove 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 20, Six Foot Sunday 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Oct. 20, at 9:15 p.m. Beale Street Band. No cover. 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

CALENDAR, continued

The Ventress Library Sunday Concert Series kicks off the 2007-2008 season with a concert featuring Atwater Donnelly on Sunday, Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. The popular folk duo will present a program called "American and Appalachian Melodies" as they explore the Celtic, African and Native American roots of traditional American folk music. The musicians will also play and demonstrate a variety of instruments for the audience including mountain dulcimer, Irish tin whistle, mandolin, old-time banjo, harmonica and guitar. Clog dancing will be used as a percussive instrument. The concert, is free and open to the public. No tickets are required. Light refreshments will be served after the concert. Bring the family. The library and program room are handicapped accessible. For information, contact librarian Chris Woods 781-834-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

TOWN COMMONS

OCTOBER 18-26, 2007

STAFF PHOTO/RICHARD ARCHBOLD

BEST BET

King Richard's Faire, a re-creation of the marketplaces of 16th century England, will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 21, on Route 58 in Carver. Admission is $25 for adults and $14 for children ages 5 to 12. Children under 5 are admitted for free. Special group rates for 25 or more are available. Parking is free. For further information, call 508-866-2311 or log on to kingrichardsfaire.net.

Continued from previous page

Rockland High School Band will host its annual Recycle Day Fundraiser on Oct. 20. The event will provide an opportunity for area residents to properly dispose of unwanted appliances and electronics at reasonable costs. Proceeds from the fundraiser will go toward the purchase and maintenance of musical instruments for the band as well as to scholarships for graduating band members. Participation by community members will help achieve a clean environment and the musical development of some talented kids. Recycle Day will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 20, at Rockland High School parking lot, Taunton Ave., Rockland. Prices for some items include: $10, computers; $10, computer peripherals; $19, televisions; $10 and up for appliances; $30 and up for carloads.

The Furnace Brook Middle School Student Council is sponsoring FBMS Spirit Day Oct. 20, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The day will include: car wash, dunk the teacher tank games, food raffles , much more. They will also be collecting items to send care packages to our men and women serving overseas in our Armed Forces. A list of items needed is on the FBMS web site.

Designs of France located at the home John and Peg Carpenter, 58 Meadowbrook Road, Norwell, presents a Harvest Open house and Sale featuring hand-painted pottery, tableware, table linens, etc. Oct. 20, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information call 781-826-8553.

The Hingham Mothers' Club proudly presents "Barns of Hingham" Oct. 20 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. View seven barns of various ages, uses, and construction types including a state of the art garage with multi-purpose living space, two historical post and beam barns, and a timber frame barn and workshop. Advance tickets are available for $20 per person. Children under 12 do not require a ticket. Visit [illegible] or call 781-749-2195 for details. Proceeds to benefit the Hingham Mothers' Club scholarship fund.

The Friends of the Boston Harbor Islands are sponsoring a trip to Peddocks Island on Oct. 20. The boat will depart from Long Wharf at 10 a.m., arriving back at 4 p.m. Rain or shine. Take a guided tour or explore on your own. Pack a picnic. Tickets will be sold on the day from 9 a.m. at Long Wharf, first come first served, cash only. Tickets $30 for adults, $28 for seniors (65+), $26 for FRIENDS members, $16 for children (3 – 12), and babies under three travel for free (but still need a ticket). For information and to purchase visit fbhi.org or call 781-740-4290.

Sauchuk Farm, 53 Palmer Road, (Rt. 58), Plympton. Fall Corn Maze spread throughout six acres on Center St. (off Route 58) in Plympton. Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dusk through the end of October. Admission $8 adults age 12 and up; $5 children ages 4-11; toddlers age 3 and under free. 781-585-1522 sauchukfarm.net

Lululemon Athletica located at the Derby St. Shoppes, Hingham is having a one year birthday celebration from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Oct. 20.

The Hingham Civic Music Theatre presents Rodgers & Hammerstein's Cinderella, Sanborn Auditorium, Hingham Town Hall, 210 Central St., Hingham. Oct. 19-20 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. Adult tickets, $16; students $15, seniors $14, and groups of 10 or more, $12. Visit HCMT.org, or call Ticket Hotline, 781-837-1499.

The South Shore Conservatory and Duxbury Bay Maritime School for Music and the Sea, will hold a concert and reception with Ray Hornblower, tenor and Beth MacLeod, mezzo-soprano, with Hui-Min Wang pianist. Mr. Hornblower will perform Robert Schumann's song cycle Dichterliebe and Beth MacLeod will sing excerpts from Edward Elgar's, Sea Pictures at the concert on Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Ellison Center for the Arts in Duxbury. The reception and concert will begin at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $75. Proceeds benefit South Shore Conservatory and Duxbury Bay Maritime School. For information and to purchase tickets, contact Amy Schomp 781-749-7565 x19 or Missy Battista 781-934-7555.

The Jordan Hospital Club is holding the 1st Annual Beat Goes On 5K Walk/Run on Oct. 20 to benefit the Jordan Hospital Cardiovascular Center. Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. and the walk/run starts at 10 a.m. Registration and the race start will be held in the parking lot adjacent to Jordan Hospital's main entrance. Runners and walkers of all ages are invited to participate. Pumpkin decorating and festive activities will be available for kids. Registration forms are available at jordansbeatgoeson.com. The walk/run will be held rain or shine.

They Weymouth Art Association will meet from 2 to 4 p.m. Oct. 20 at the Tufts Library, 46 Broad St, Weymouth. Virginia Freyermuth will lecture creativity. Free and open to the public. 781-337-1402.

The Atlantic Symphony is entering its 11th season under the direction of conductor Jin Kim, the orchestra's opening night will be held Oct. 20 at 7:30 pm, at the Duxbury Performing Arts Center next to the Duxbury Library. The program highlights festive and triumphant music from the rich cultural heritage of three nations: Sibelius' Lemminkainen's Return from a great Finnish myth, Copland's quintessential American Rodeo, and the Russian Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4. Conductor Jin Kim gives a pre-concert talk at 7 p.m., and all are invited to meet musicians at the post-concert dessert reception. In addition, the lobby will display a special exhibit of works by artists from the North River Arts Society on the theme of Blue, inspired by the symphony's new name. For tickets in advance, call 781-740-5694 or order online at atlanticsymphony.org. $32 adults, $22 seniors, $10 youth through age 18. Tickets will also be available at the door. Various subscription packages are also available. Subscribers gain the full benefit of hearing these superb musicians throughout the season.

An American Original - Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy Onassis Oct. 20, from 7 to 10:30 p.m. North Community Parish House, Marshfield Hills. An evening of theatre with Boston actress, Robin Lane as she portrays one of the most dynamic women in American history, Jackie Kennedy. Evening begins with a champagne reception, raffle items related to the Kennedy's and followed by coffee and deserts. Tickets: $22. and will be pre-sold and your name will be listed at the door. Proceeds benefit Daniel Webster Estate. Call Virginia at 781-837-2403 or Eileen at 781-837-7579 or visit danielwebsterestate.org

The Old Ship Coffeehouse off the Square presents Eric Cornetta and Friends in concert Oct. 20, at 8 p.m. This Hingham singer-songwriter is an open microphone legend from Harvard Square to Greenwich Village and back again. To add to the liveliness and fun of the evening, he's asking Jane Gilmartin, a traditional balladeer with a wide repertoire of Scots and English ballads to share the stage along with some Old Shippers and flexible folk friends who will to join him in a song or two. The Coffeehouse off the Square is at the Old Ship Church Parish Hall, 107 Main St., in Hingham Square just up from the Loring Hall Theater and on the MBTA's 220 bus from Quincy Center. Admission is $10 at the door (sorry, no reservations). The concert begins with an open mike at 8 p.m. Net proceeds benefit the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee. For information or to volunteer (free admission) call 781-749-1767.

The South Shore Men of Harmony practice each Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the Hingham Community Center.

Men find vocal accord

By Katia Opatkiewicz
KOPATKIE@CNC.COM

While college students may have different ideas on how they would like to spend their free time, Dan Costello likes to spend his time singing and performing with the South Shore Men of Harmony, a barbershop harmony group that performs in competitions and hosts annual Christmas shows.

Costello, 20, of Pembroke, first joined the group at the age of 10 with his grandfather, John Brennan. "I kept begging him to take me and he finally did," said Costello.

Costello also sung in his school chorus and theatrical productions when he was a student at Silver Lake Regional High School. Costello, now a student at Massasoit Community College studying criminal justice, is the musical director of the Men of South Shore Men of Harmony and also participates in a chorus in Concord on Friday nights.

As musical director, Costello is in charge of rehearsal and keeping all the music. He also plays an active part on the group's music committee and keeps track of the group's goals.

Though Costello is looking toward a career in law enforcement he plans to continue singing with the South Shore Men of Harmony, but considers his role in the group "strictly a hobby."

"I get paid for this job, but it is mainly for enjoyment," said Costello.

Many of the gentlemen who sing have been with the group for years. Bill Fitzgerald, of Weymouth, has been part of the group for 32 years.

"Barbershop harmony keeps my mind young," said Fitzgerald.

Fitzgerald first got into barbershop harmony through his church. A member of his church, who was the musical director of the South Shore Men of Harmony, which was known then as the Scituate Harbor Men, invited him to a rehearsal.

"Anyone can sing barbershop harmony, you just have to be able to carry a tune," said Fitzgerald.

The South Shore Men of Harmony will be performing in a district competition this Saturday at the Lowell Auditorium, competing against 45 different choruses. The winner of the event goes on to compete in the international competition.

Soon the South Shore Men of Harmony will also be hosting an all-month event to teach Christmas carols. The group would like to invite any man who has an interest in singing and who would like to learn Christmas carols to stop by one of the rehearsals during the month of November.

For 56 years the South Shore Men of Harmony have kept the art of barbershop harmony alive in the community and hope to keep the tradition alive. They are always looking for new members.

"Any one who is interested is welcome to come down and try us out," said Fitzgerald.

The men practice every Tuesday night at 8 p.m. at the Hingham Community Center.

For more information call 781-337- SING or visit southshoremenofharmony.org

Reunions

ROCKLAND HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1972 Reunion, Oct. 20, from 7:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Contact Fran Carriere, franc516@aol.com/781-878-4832 or Bill Holland, cycling53@comcast.net/781-740-5070.

WHITMAN-HANSON REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL 45th reunion class of 1962 Oct. 20, at Stoneforge at Bert's Cove, Plymouth. Cocktails start at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m. with music by a local DJ until 11 p.m. Any questions call Mary-Jane Ricker- Harris at 781-294-8239 or Marsha Walkey Booth at 508-866-9112.

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1972 is planning a reunion for Oct. 26. More information is available at classmates.com and will be updated regularly. They are trying to locate classmates. Log on to the Classmates web site and become a member so that they can reach you and you can receive notice of updates. You can also visit tessahoc72@yahoo.com

CARDINAL CUSHING CENTRAL HS SO. BOSTON – Class of 1967, 40th reunion Oct. 28 from 1 to 5 p.m. Luncheon at Best Western Adams Inn 29 Hancock St Quincy, River Room. Cost: $26 per person. RSVP by Oct. 24 call 781-335-9327.

ALL FORMER CAMPER/COUNSELORS-50TH CAMP REUNION, Camps Winni, Kingsmont and Ossipee. Nov. 3, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Lantana in Randolph 43 Scanlon Drive, Randolph. Cost: $50 per/person dinner, entertainment, dancing and a "camp momento." Register on-line youhadtobethere.org or send a check to Don McGibbon, 108 Walker Lane Abington, MA 02351. For information contact Don McGibbon at DonaldMcGi@aol.com or Donna (Ripley) Fallon at djfall@comcast.net or visit youhadtobethere.org. Spread the word. RSVP by Oct. 15. 781-961-4660.

HOLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion class of 1987, Nov. 10, 7 to 11 p.m. Cocktail Reception at The Four's Restaurant, 15 Cottage Ave., Quincy. Includes: cash bar, appetizer buffet, desserts, and a DJ. Cost: $40 per person. RSVP to: hhsclass1987reunion@yahoo.com or call 617-240-3846 as soon as possible. Tickets must be pre-paid.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987, Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at the Red Parrot in Hull Alumni are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL 30th reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/ M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion Class of 1982 Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 15th reunion Class of 1992 Nov. 23 8 p.m. to midnight at F1 Boston on Wood Rd. in Braintree. The cost is $45 per person and the evening will include DJ, cash bar, and apps. Checks can be made payable to Laurice Vallancourt/BHS Class of 1992 and mailed to 11 Winter Terrace, Hanson MA 02341 by Nov. 9. Any questions, contact Laurice (Gunn) Vallancourt at vallancourt11@comcast.net

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 30th Reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr.,Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holidayinn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL- Class of 1977 30th year reunion, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Nov. 24. Dinner buffet at The Weymouth Elks, Washington St., (Rte. 53). Includes: cash bar, appetizers, dinner buffet, dessert and DJ. Cost:$35 per person. RSVP to weymouthsouth77@yahoo.com by Nov. 12.

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

BEST BET

The Art Complex Museum, 189 Alden St., Duxbury presents an exhibit featuring an intriguing exploration of how three very diverse contemporary artists, Carol Bolsey, Ellizabeth Geissler and B.A. King view an animal which has long fascinated humans, the magnificent horse. Each artist uses different techniques and mediums but all provide a fascinating glimpse into the nature of this much loved animal. The opening is scheduled for Oct. 21, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. For information call 781-934-6634 x 12 or visit artcomplex.org

Marine Advisory: Get the Grady.

Grady-White sets the standard for safety, quality, reliability and performance even in the toughest conditions. Take to the water with confidence in the world's most superbly engineered small sportfishing boat. Get the Grady!

GRADY-WHITE

56 YEARS

BAYSIDE MARINE Corp.
441 WASHINGTON ST., DUXBURY
781-934-0561 • 1-800-540-0561
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Open 7 Days 8-6

- Marine Store
- Gas Dock
- Full Service Yard

Sunday, Oct. 21

The Art Complex Museum, 189 Alden St., Duxbury presents an exhibit featuring an intriguing exploration of how three very diverse contemporary artists, Carol Bolsey, Ellizabeth Geissler and B.A. King view an animal which has long fascinated humans, the magnificent horse. Each artist uses different techniques and mediums but all provide a fascinating glimpse into the nature of this much loved animal. The opening is scheduled for Oct. 21, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. For information call 781-934-6634 x 12 or visit artcomplex.org

Second Hingham Arts Walk on Oct. 21 from noon to 5 p.m. Visit artists' open studios in historic buildings, meet artists at their exhibits in downtown shops and in some of Hingham's treasured places, hear live music, see arts demonstrations, sample harvest treats and enjoy a stroll through this vibrant New England village. Meet the artists and choose from a variety of works - plein air paintings, traditional decoys, jewelry, contemporary art, ceramics, & photographs. Maps available after October 14 on-line and at Bowl & Board, 140 North St. Visit www.discoverhingham.com for details or contact info@discoverhingham.com

King Richard's Faire, a re-creation of the marketplaces of 16th century England, will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 21, and Monday, Columbus Day on Route 58 in Carver. Admission is $25 for adults and $14 for children ages 5 to 12. Children under 5 are admitted for free. Special group rates for 25 or more are available. Parking is free. For further information, call 508-866-2311 or log on to kingrichardsfaire.net.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.20, Matthew Stubbs Band.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Oct. 20, Mission of Blues. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Sauchuk Farm, 53 Palmer Road, (Rt. 58), Plympton. Fall Corn Maze spread throughout six acres on Center St. (off Route 58) in Plympton. Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dusk through the end of October. Admission $8 adults age 12 and up; $5 children ages 4-11; toddlers age 3 and under free. 781-585-1522 sauchukfarm.net

King Richard's Faire, a re-creation of the marketplaces of 16th century England, will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 21, and Monday, Columbus Day on Route 58 in Carver. Admission is $25 for adults and $14 for children ages 5 to 12. Children under 5 are admitted for free. Special group rates for 25 or more are available. Parking is free. For further information, call 508-866-2311 or log on to kingrichardsfaire.net.

The Hingham Civic Music Theatre presents Rodgers & Hammerstein's Cinderella, Sanborn Auditorium, Hingham Town Hall, 210 Central St., Hingham. Oct. 19-20 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. Adult tickets, $16; students $15, seniors $14, and groups of 10 or more, $12. Visit HCMT.org, or call Ticket Hotline, 781-837-1499.

An all-Bach chamber music concert will be presented at 7 p.m., at the First Parish Church Unitarian Universalist in Duxbury. The concert is part of the church's 375th anniversary celebration. Tickets are $20, $15 for students and seniors, and are on sale at the church office weekdays, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and at Westwinds Bookstore, 45 Depot St., Duxbury. Tickets will be available at the door. First Parish Church Unitarian Universalist is located on Route 3A at Depot Street in Duxbury. For information, call the church at 781-934-6532 or visit the Web site, www.duxburyuu.org.

CALENDAR, see next page

TOWN COMMONS

OCTOBER 18-26, 2007

Jin Kim

BEST BET

The Atlantic Symphony is entering its 11th season under the direction of conductor Jin Kim, the orchestra's opening night will be held Oct. 20 at 7:30 pm, at the Duxbury Performing Arts Center next to the Duxbury Library. The program highlights festive and triumphant music from the rich cultural heritage of three nations: Sibelius' Lemminkainen's Return from a great Finnish myth, Copland's quintessential American Rodeo, and the Russian Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4. Conductor Jin Kim gives a pre-concert talk at 7 p.m., and all are invited to meet musicians at the post-concert dessert reception. In addition, the lobby will display a special exhibit of works by artists from the North River Arts Society on the theme of Blue, inspired by the symphony's new name. For tickets in advance, call 781-740-5694 or order online at atlanticsymphony.org. $32 adults, $22 seniors, $10 youth through age 18. Tickets will also be available at the door. Various subscription packages are also available. Subscribers gain the full benefit of hearing these superb musicians throughout the season.

Halloween Happenings

THE LITTLE THEATRE OF STOUGHTON presents one act plays featuring "Beast of the Baskervilles" and "Frankenstein Slept Here" Oct. 20 and 27, at 2:30 p.m. Town Hall, Great Hall third floor, Stoughton. Free admission. Costumes optional.

HALLOWEEN ROMP Come in costume at the Children's Museum in Easton's annual Halloween bash. The Halloween Romp will take place rain or shine at the Museum on Saturday, Oct. 20, 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Activities for all-ages include Halloween crafts, a creepy animal show with New England Reptile and Raptor, a lantern lit trick-or-treat romp through the garden, and more. Admission is $4 per member and $8 per person for non-members. Tickets are limited so call early to reserve yours. For more information, and to reserve tickets, call 508-230-3789 or visit childrensmuseumineaston.org.

THE MARSHFIELD YACHT CLUB ANNUAL KID'S HALLOWEEN PARTY will feature the Plymouth County Sheriff's Department's Fingerprinting Unit on Saturday, Oct. 20, at 1 p.m. Parents and children interact with trained PCSD Deputies to create a take-home identification kit. It takes just a few moments and children of any age can participate. For information on the Sheriff's Fingerprinting Unit contact Dan Connolly at dconn30@yahoo.com

HULL PERFORMING ARTS, INC. PRESENTS HARBOR HAUNTS an adaptation of legends and ghost stories recorded by Edward Rowe Snow in his history of the Boston Harbor Islands. A special adaptation of A Lady in Black, written by Hingham High School student William Hall is included. Friday, Oct. 26, 7 p.m. at the Lifesaving Museum 1117 Nantasket Avenue, Hull. Admission is $5 for members, $3 for non-members of the museum. Call 781-925-2406 for directions and other information.

THE INN AT SILVER LAKE HALLOWEEN PARTY The residents of The Inn at Silver Lake invite the community to join their annual Halloween party. Festivities for the kids include peanut free trick-or-treating, costume contests, games, food and more. The party will take place Oct. 29, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. The Inn at Silver Lake is located at 21 Chipman Way in Kingston. For information or directions call 781-336-5220.

HAUNTED HALLWAYS Federal Furnace Home and School Association of Marshfield presents Haunted Hallways Oct. 26, at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. Admission: $6 per person.

FAMILY HALLOWEEN FUN at the South Shore Natural Science Center, 48 Jacobs Lane, Norwell. Halloween Howl is Oct. 27, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Science Center and features an evening of spook-tacular fun with crafts, animal presentations, night hike, spooky room and treats! Wear a costume and bring a pumpkin to carve. Pre-registration required. Cost is $10 member/ $12 non-member per child and $3 per adult. Program suitable for children ages 3 and up, children must be accompanied with an adult. Enjoy a not too scary walk through Halloween scenes in the Science Center's woods at Spooky Woods Oct. 28 from 5:30-8 p.m. Wear a costume, bring a flashlight and be bewitched! In the event of inclement weather, event will be held inside. Cost $5 per person, no pre-registration required, drop in anytime during the bewitching hours of 5:30 to 8 p.m. For information and pre-registration contact the Science Center at 781-659-2559 or view the website at ssnsc.org

27TH ANNUAL BRAINTREE HAUNTED HOUSE Tour a Classic Haunted House and Graveyard on Friday and Saturday night, Oct. 26 and 27, from 6 to 9:30 p.m. at 10 Plain St., (near Bayshore Athletic Club) in Braintree. Admission is $6 for children and $7.50 for adults. A "Not So Scary" lights-on night appropriate for younger children will be held on Thursday Oct. 25 from 6 to 8 p.m. for just $5. All proceeds directly benefit the students of the Highlands and Liberty Elementary Schools. Wheelchair accessible. Free child care and pizza, soda and treats are available. Visit gpvillage.com/highlandsschool for information.

ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARADE sponsored by the Hanover Woman's Club Juniors (HWCJ) will be held Oct. 28. The sign up registration begins at 1:30 p.m. at the Hanover Boys Club. The parade will be led by the Hanover Fire Department and the Hanover Marching Band. The children will march to the Sylvester field where there will be entertainment by Bob Ryan Tall Tales. Rain or Shine and expected to end at 2:45 p.m. A food item donation is requested to benefit the local Food Pantry. Contact Lynne at 781-871-3065 for more information.

ANNUAL SOUTH SHORE COMMUNITY CENTER NURSERY SCHOOL HALLOWEEN FAIR steps off Oct. 28, with its traditional costume parade at 1:45 p.m. around the duck pond. Little ghosts and goblins will want to stay around until the fair's end at 4 p.m. to try their hand at enchanting games of skill and luck, a giant slide, a train ride and the always fun pony rides. Tickets for activities and rides can be purchased at the event. All proceeds from the fair directly benefit the SSCCNS's Enrichment fund. For information call 781-383-0036.

HALLOWEENTOUR OF BEACON HILL This tour takes place on Oct. 31, at 5:30 p.m. Walk the darker side of this seemingly charming neighborhood. From the public hangings on the Common to the dismembered George Parkman, Beacon Hill's heritage of mystery and suspense is a perfect way to spend All Hallows Eve. Guided by Boston By Foot, Inc., the tour begins from the steps of the Massachusetts State House on Beacon Street. Admission is $15 per person and reservations are not required. For further information and a brochure, call 617-367-2345 or visit bostonbyfoot.org.

MASS AUDUBON'S MOOSE HILL, 293 Moose Hill St., Sharon, Halloween Critters: Oct. 31; from 10 to 11:30 a.m. What animals are associated with Halloween? Take a peek into the lives of bats, spiders, owls, and other Halloween creatures of the night. $8 $11 Pumpkin Carving: Oct. 25 6 to 8:30 p.m. Plenty of pumpkins donated by Ward's Berry Farm, will be available, volunteers are needed to help carve pumpkins into Jack-O-Lanterns for the annual Halloween Prowl. Help appreciated any time after 1 p.m. Free, donations appreciated. 781-784-5691.

ADULT HALLOWEEN NIGHT PROGRAM The Ventress Memorial Library in Marshfield will present an Adult Halloween Night Program on Oct. 31, at 7 p.m. titled "Halloween, Graveyards and Family Trees." Dick Sullivan, a retired Randolph teacher and Marshfield resident, will blend themes of pagan festivals, human psychology and the occult with using gravestones to aid in genealogy research of family trees. The lecture is a unique blend of scary and scholarly topics, with a dose of personal anecdote. The program is free and open to the public, no tickets are required. Cider and candy corn will be served. The library and the program room are handicapped accessible. For information contact librarian Chris Woods at 781-835-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

Send your Halloween events to ddinsmore@cnc.com or fax 781-837-4543.

Continued from previous page

"Fall For The Arts" continues through Wednesday, Nov. 21, at the Dickinson Art Gallery in Weymouth. This multi-media show features several of the East Coast's finest artists: Vincent Elliot, Danielle Festa, Roger Gill, George Hartley, George Murray, Dick O'Brien, Charlie Robinson, Corey Ritch, Lisa Smith, and many others. Dickinson Art Gallery, 1132 Main St., Weymouth. Gallery hours: Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sundays noon to 5 p.m. 781-331-3384.

The Ventress Library Sunday Concert Series kicks off the 2007-2008 season with a concert featuring Atwater Donnelly on Sunday, Oct. 21, at 2 p.m. The popular folk duo will present a program called "American and Appalachian Melodies" as they explore the Celtic, African and Native American roots of traditional American folk music. The musicians will also play and demonstrate a variety of instruments for the audience including mountain dulcimer, Irish tin whistle, mandolin, old-time banjo, harmonica and guitar. Clog dancing will be used as a percussive instrument. The concert, is free and open to the public. No tickets are required. Light refreshments will be served after the concert. Bring the family. The library and program room are handicapped accessible. For information, contact librarian Chris Woods 781-834-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

The guitar duo of Mark and Beverly Davis opens the 10th anniversary Boston Classical Guitar Society 2007/2008 "Sunday Sounds Special" series at the Hingham Public Library on Oct. 21 at 3:30 p.m. The free series is sponsored by the Boston Classical Guitar Society, the Library, Derby Street Shoppes of Hingham and the Hingham Middle School Sixth Grade Class of 2006/2007. Their performance selections are drawn from the international repertoire for two guitars, including traditional songs of the British, pieces from the Spanish tradition by Halter, Scarlatti, and Soler, and contemporary compositions.

Monday, Oct. 22

The North River Arts Society presents Faces & Places, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery featuring original watercolor paintings by Wendy Hale. This show will run from Oct. 1 to Nov. 16. A free opening reception will be held on Oct. 1 from 7 to 9 p.m. Hours for the Library gallery, located in Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield are Monday-Wednesday: 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday-Saturday: 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. For information, call NRAS at 781.837.8091 or email northriverarts@verizon.net

Parenting Workshop Series. If you're tired of negotiating with your children over everything from breakfast to bedtime and want to spend your time teaching good behavior instead of nagging, bickering and punishing, join Lynne Reeves Griffin, the author of "Negotiation Generation: Take Back your Parental Authority" for a three week workshop series. Mondays Oct. 15, 22 and 29, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Wampatuck Elementary School Library, 266 Tilden Dr. in Scituate. Cost of $100 for all three weeks includes the new book. Visit LynneGriffin.com. Pre-registration required. 781-545-6585.

New Beginnings, a nonprofit, nonsectarian support organization for single, widowed, separated and divorced men and women, has helped more than 9,400 south shore residents start a new life over the past 20 years. New Beginnings meets at the UCC Church, 460 Main St. Norwell, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Support groups meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., followed by social time and the evening's program or speaker. Orientation is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and is highly recommended for newcomers. All are welcome. For information, call Peggy Loud at 781-659-1857.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke, every Monday, free Texas Hold'em with Northern poker league 781-829-6999.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 22, Texas Hold Em Poker 781-837-6368.

Tuesday, Oct. 23

The South Shore Men of Harmony Barbershop Chorus invites men of all ages who like to sing to join them during the month of November to rehearsals that will be open to anyone who would like to learn Christmas music sung in the Barbershop acapella style. They will be accepting invitations from all sorts of organizations to present Christmas programs and would be delighted to include whoever is interested in having fun singing. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., at the corner of Central Street. Call 781-337-SING for additional information or e-mail danielcostello@gmail.com or billfitzjr@aol.com.

The North River Arts Society presents Faces & Places, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery, Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield, featuring original watercolor paintings by Wendy Hale through Nov. 6. For information, call NRAS at 781-837-8091 or email northriverarts@verizon.net 781-834-5535

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 23, Game Show Trivia 781-837-6368.

Wednesday, Oct. 24

The Hingham Public Library and Buttonwood Books & Toys welcome Brett Milano discussing The Sound of Our Town: A History of Rock & Roll on Oct.24, 7 p.m. at the Hingham Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham. Covering the last 50 years, "The Sound of Our Town" is a tribute to the underground bands and musicians who have entertained and electrified the Boston music scene. The J.Geils Band, the Dresden Dolls, Buffalo Tom and Aerosmith are just a few of the bands that are featured. Organized by time and movement, fans will recognize personal favorites and learn about others who were significant contributors to Boston's musical history. Free event. Call Buttonwood at 1-781-383-2665 if you would like order a personalized or signed copy. buttonwoodbooks.com

Notre Dame Academy, welcomes Immaculée Ilibagiza for a public presentation on Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. in the Cardinal Cushing Auditorium at 1073 Main Street, Hingham. Ilibagiza is the author of the inspiring autobiography, LEFT TO TELL: Discovering God Amidst the Rwandan Holocaust. Free of charge and open to the public. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. For information on this event visit the Academy's Web site at ndahingham.com or contact Danielle Gagnon at 781-749-5930, ext. 248.

Lindamood-Bell Learning Processes, will host an Autumn Affair on Learning on Oct. 24, at 7 p.m. at the South Shore Learning Center, located at 515 Washington St. in Norwell.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 24, Texas Hold Em 781-837-6368.

Thursday, Oct. 25

Celebrate the wedding of Abigail Smith and John Adams Oct. 25, at 10 a.m. Abigail Smith leaves her Birthplace, at 180 Norton St., North Weymouth, for her wedding. At 11 a.m. the wedding of Abigail Smith and John Adams takes place at The First Church in Weymouth, 17 Church St., Weymouth. At 1 p.m. toast and well wishes for the new couple at their home, the John Quincy Adams Birthplace, 141 Franklin St., Quincy. Rain or shine. For further information call Caroline Keinath 617-773-1177 or Judith Alukonis 617-772-1361.

October is Lupus Awareness Month. The Greater Plymouth Lupus Group will host a local Rheumatologist, Dr. Tanya Doan who practices with Dr. Philip Molloy on 45 Resnick Road, Plymouth. Dr. Doan's talk is titled UPDATE ON SLE. The meeting will be held Oct. 25, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Kingston Public Library, 6 Green St., Kingston. Light Refreshments will be served. For information, contact Nicole Peterson 781-582-8770. No registration is required.

The Plymouth Farmers' Market, held from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m., through October at Stephen's Field located off of Route 3A, just south of Plymouth Center. Oct. 25, contemporary folk with Karen Woodhall. For information, contact Barbara Anglin, market manager, at 508-732-9962.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 25, Sweet Melissa with Chris Stovall Brown 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.25, Rachel Parsons and Rick Jackson.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with Diane Blue Oct. 25, at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 25, DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

Friday, Oct. 26

On the Path Wellness Center is hosting a guided imagery, meditation workshop with Dawne Corti-Migre. This workshop will help you to learn how to cope with the daily stresses that we all experience and enable you to enjoy that quite place within. Friday Oct. 26, at 7 p.m. For more details call Dawne at 617-750-8101or email balancepoint2006@aol.com

Comedy Night to support South Shore Habitat For Humanity Oct. 26, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Emerald Hall, 120 Bay State Drive, Braintree. DJ, comedians, raffles, and more Comedians: Harrison Stebbins, Annette Pollack, Dave Rattigan, Matt McArthur and Larry Lee Lewis. Tickets: $30. For tickets call Julie 978-877-0053; Shannon 781-843-9010 x14 or Annette 781-843-4833 For Tax-Deductible Donations: E-Mail to: communitydev@habitat.org

South Shore Singles will sponsor its annual Halloween dance with DJ: Rick Walsh from 8 to 11:30 p.m. at the Abington VFW, 30 Central St., Abington. Doors open 7:15 p.m. Free dance lesson 7:30 to 8 p.m. $2 off admission if you come in costume. Free snacks and coffee, cash bar. 781-331-0021. southshoresingles.org

The South Street Gallery, 149 South St., Hingham presents "Water Water Everywhere", the works of Jane Flavell Collins of Duxbury. The opening event will take place Oct. 26, from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Nov. 15. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For additional information, call 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra's annual auction gala and dinner takes place from Oct. 26, from 6:30 to 11 p.m., at the Waverly Oaks Golf Club, 444 Long Pond Road, Plymouth. Enjoy an evening of music, friends and dining. This year the theme is the Great Gatsby. Black tie or 1920s attire optional Bid on vacations, artwork, sports memorabilia and much more during the silent and live auctions including three hand-painted violins by Andrew Kusmin, Sean Cassidy and Brenda Cobb as well as the private Holiday Pops dress rehearsal item. Or, be the winning bidder on the chance to conduct the Phil.. Cost is $75 per person/$560 per table of eight. For tickets or more information call 508-746-8008. For information about the PPO's 92nd season, visit plymouthphil.org.

Monponsett Inn, Rt. 58, Halifax. Dinner show scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. 26. The Ghost of Mad Table Manor an interactive who-dun-it comedy mystery dinner. Social hour starts at 6:30 p.m. followed by the dinner and show at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $40 per person and must be purchased in advance.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Oct. 26, Young Neal & The Vipers. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: thescanote@aol.com

BEST BET

Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra's annual auction gala and dinner takes place from Oct. 26, from 6:30 to 11 p.m., at the Waverly Oaks Golf Club, 444 Long Pond Road, Plymouth. Enjoy an evening of music, friends and dining. This year the theme is the Great Gatsby. Black tie or 1920s attire optional Bid on vacations, artwork, sports memorabilia and much more during the silent and live auctions including three hand-painted violins by Andrew Kusmin, Sean Cassidy and Brenda Cobb as well as the private Holiday Pops dress rehearsal item. Or, be the winning bidder on the chance to conduct the Phil.. Cost is $75 per person/$560 per table of eight. For tickets or more information call 508-746-8008. For information about the PPO's 92nd season, visit plymouthphil.org.

Phil Music Director Steven Karidoyanes and PPO Board President Paula Harris are ready for this year's Great Gatsby-themed gala.

Dave Rattigan

Larry Lee Lewis

Harrison Stebbins

Comedy Night to support South Shore Habitat For Humanity Oct. 26, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Emerald Hall, 120 Bay State Drive, Braintree. DJ, comedians, raffles, and more Comedians: Harrison Stebbins, Annette Pollack, Dave Rattigan, Matt McArthur and Larry Lee Lewis. Tickets: $30. For tickets call Julie 978-877-0053; Shannon 781-843-9010 x14 or Annette 781-843-4833 For Tax-Deductible Donations: E-Mail to: communitydev@habitat.org

BEST BET

The Village Fair

Saturday, October 20th, 9-2pm

Old South Union Church

Columbian Square, So. Weymouth

Bake Shop, Books, Xmas Crafts, Attic Treasures

Lunch 11am-1pm

ADA Accessible - Torrey St. Entrance

SCITUATE MUSIC

Serving NE musicians since 1969

Over 700

Electric and Acoustic Guitars, Basses, Banjos, Dulcimers, Mandolins, Ukuleles

Fender Guild

Huge selection of Fender and Guild Guitars, Basses and Amplifiers

Heritage DOD Digitech Boss EMG Seymour Duncan Sonic Nady EV Shure

Drum Sets

Cymbals, Accessories, Drum Lessons

PAYMENT PLANS

USED Guitars · Amps Drums · Effects

SONOR Zildjian SABIAN

DIGITAL PIANOS KEYBOARDS

CASIO

BAND INSTRUMENTS NEW · USED SALES · RENTALS ACCESSORIES

PA System Rentals & Sales All Sizes

Guitar & Amp Repair · DJ & 4-track rentals

Guitar, Bass & Drum Lessons

CDs · TAPES 10,000 TITLES

- Special Orders -

SHEET MUSIC

"One of the largest selections in New England"

Scituate Harbor 781-545-9800

INFINITI®

Quality. Luxury. Value.

2008 Infiniti G37 Sport Coupe

MSRP $42,025

LEASE FOR $499* per mo. for 42 mos. $2,999 cap cost reduction

Voice Activated Navigation, Rear View Monitor, Blue Tooth, 300 HP V6, Bose Stereo, 6-Speed Manual...And Much More

Model #99368

2008 Infiniti FX35 AWD Touring

MSRP $42,865

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 24 mos. $1,199 cap cost reduction

Hands-Free Package, Bose Stereo/iPod Connector, XM Radio, Leather ...And Much More

Model #87418

2007 Infiniti G35x AWD Sedan

MSRP $34,840

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $1,799 cap cost reduction

Heated Leather Seats, Power Moonroof, Intelligence Key, In-Dash CD Changer, Power Front Seats...And Much More

Model #90617

2008 Infiniti QX56 AWD

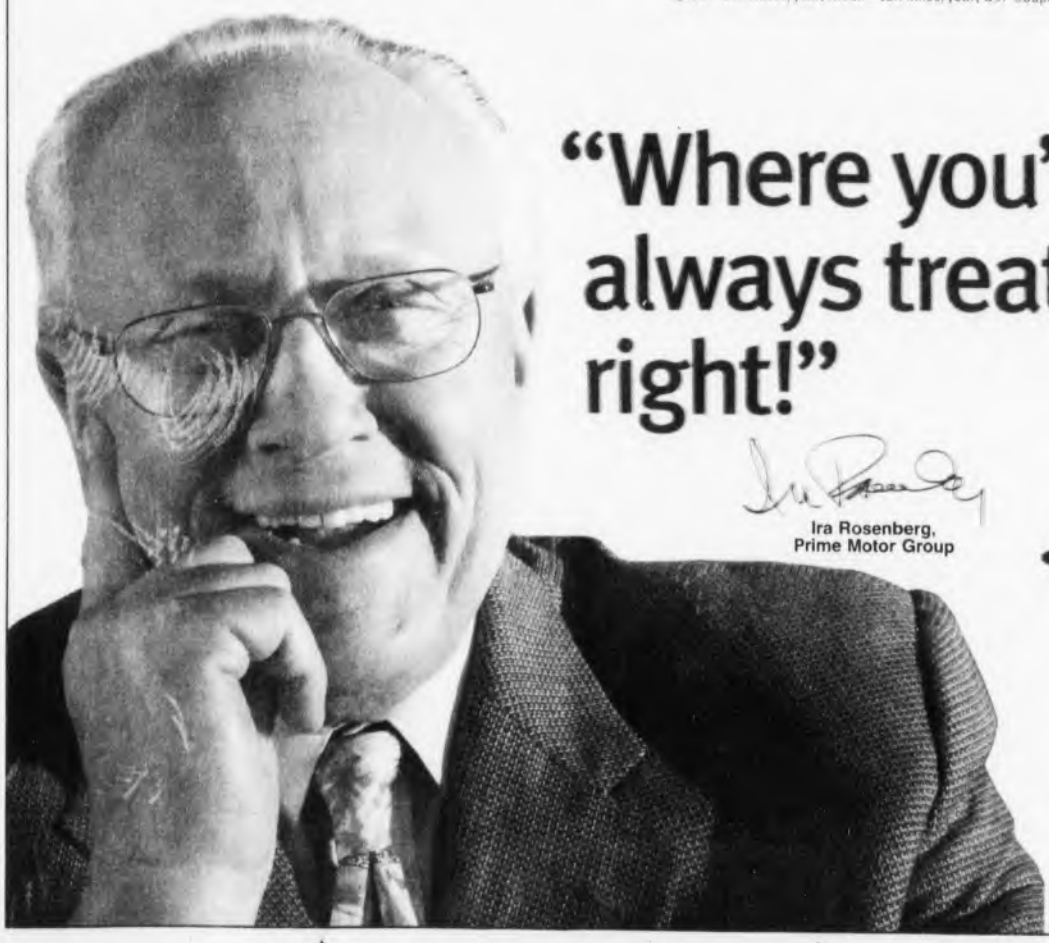
MSRP $58,075

LEASE FOR $649* per mo. for 42 mos. $4,999 cap cost reduction

Leather, DVD Navigation, 20" Chrome Wheels, Power 3rd Row Seat, Heated Steering Wheel...And Much More

Model #86418

All New 2007 Infiniti M35x AWD



MSRP $45,560

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $4,599 cap cost reduction

Leather, Navigation, Blue Tooth, Rear View Monitor ...And Much More

Model #98017

*Tax, 1st months payment, plates, registration, title, documentation and bank acquisition fees additional on all leases. Zero security deposit. FX35 – 10k miles/year; QX56 – 10k miles/year; M35x – 10k miles/year; G37 Coupe – 10k miles/year. Offer expires 10/24/07.

"Where you're always treated right!"

Ira Rosenberg, Prime Motor Group

Prime MOTOR GROUP

572 Washington St., Hanover
1-888-425-8999 • www.primeinfiniti.com

Open Mon. thru Thurs. 9AM to 8PM
Fri. & Sat. 9AM to 6PM, Sun. Noon to 5PM

45 *CAR-RT WSH##C-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY R
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
Rich in amenities
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

SPECIAL
Community Guide 2007
► SEE INSIDE

GET AWAY
Haunted New England
► SEE INSIDE

8 02722 99075 7

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2007 | 56 Pages | 3 Sections | Vol. 28, No. 43 | $1.00

Welcome to WICKED LOCAL Cohasset

WICKED LOCAL.com

► SEE PAGE 11

Shopping night out on Main Street

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

► SEE PAGE 28

Derby Academy focuses on wetlands

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

► SEE PAGE 29

QUICK INDEX

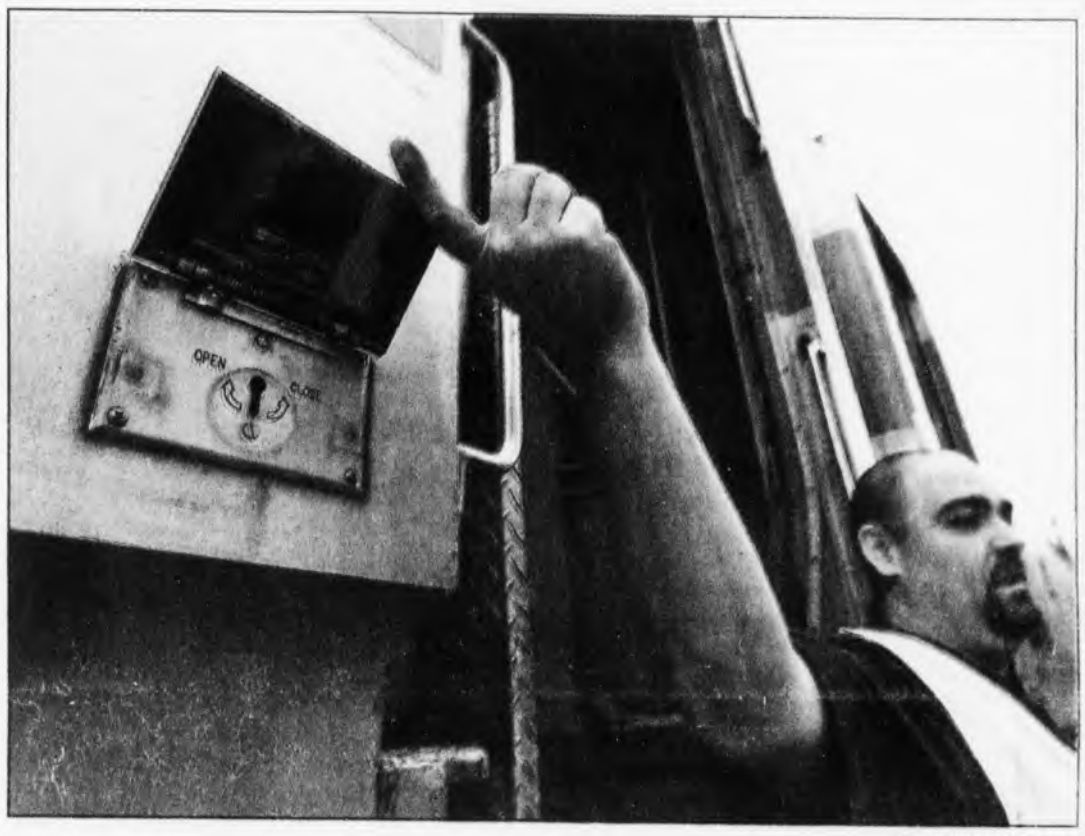
Staph infection 3
Triathlon 5
Local author 7
Archives 8
Cabaret 10
Opinion 12-14
Health Notes 14
Life at CHS 23
Worship 31

Greenbush

Firefighters look at train up close

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The commuter train is a new neighbor for all Cohasset residents. The town needs to get acclimated to its schedule and general presence as of the start of regular commuter service next Wednesday, October 31.



The Fire Department got an up close look at the locomotive, the coaches and the towering double decker trains that will begin chugging through Cohasset next week. The stationary train loomed large when seen from ground level on the rail siding, a second set of track, just north of the Sohier Street crossing.

At one point during the training, a test train on the adjacent track, less than three feet away, whizzed by the windows of the stationary train.

"Watching the train go by at 50 miles per hour will keep me from taking any chances near the tracks," said Fire Chief Robert Silvia. At 60 miles per hour, it takes the train over a mile to stop, the MBCR representatives said.

Representatives from Mass Bay Commuter Rail, the firm contracted by the MBTA to run the commuter trains, walked a group of about a dozen firefighters and call firefighters through the trains' various safety features. If there ever were an emergency on board a train and the fire department needed

SEE TRAIN, PAGE 16

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Kevin Amaral, an electrical technician for Massachusetts Bay Commuter Rail, shows the Cohasset firefighters one of the ways to get into a car during an emergency.

'Quiet zone' means no horns will blow

By Carol Britton Meyer
CMEYER@CNC.COM

With the exception of Halloween, from here on in, residents and others living in or passing through the five Greenbush communities can no longer rely on horns to warn of an approaching train.

While whistles provided advance warning that test trains were on the tracks while the signals and gates were being checked, that will no longer be the case now that the Federal Railroad Administration has officially declared Hingham, Scituate, Cohasset, Braintree, and Weymouth "quiet zones."

"All of the MBTA environmental reports were based on this design feature."
— Tom Gruber, Greenbush liaison

However, as the Greenbush start date fast approaches, the Scituate and Weymouth police chiefs are among those calling for a reconsideration of the horn ban for safety's sake. It's not that simple, though, because the MBTA is bound by the FRA ruling, at least for now.

This means that no horns will sound along the entire Greenbush line unless there's an emergency or workers are on the tracks. Train service is set to begin Oct. 31 following an inaugural run the previous day.

(The five communities were unanimous in allowing trains to blow the whistle on Halloween for safety purposes. Scituate was expected to inform the MBTA on behalf of all of the towns.)

Under federal law, train whistles are ordinarily required to be blown when approaching a grade crossing, but due to the large number of crossings within a short distance along the entire Greenbush corridor, a waiver was sought from the FRA by all five towns to provide relief from inces-

SEE QUIET ZONE, PAGE 16

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

Anna Abbruzzese heads into the Senior Center on North Main Street. Abbruzzese is this year's recipient of the South Shore Elder Service's Edythe B. Dunkin Memorial Award.

Volunteerism never goes out of style

Abbruzzese receives regional recognition

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

It's a "thank you" on your way out the door. It's the pat on the back while serving a plate of food. It's the kind smile or well wishes from a grateful person.

These seemingly little things keep Anna Abbruzzese, Chairman of Board of Elder Affairs, coming back to the Senior Center week after week and year after year.

"It's the fringe benefits," Abbruzzese says with a laugh. Just when she thinks she might give something up in deference to another pursuit, or simply to relax, a sincere thank you keeps her going.

The 22-year volunteer veteran at the Senior Center is this year's recipient of the South Shore Elder Service's Edythe B. Dunkin Memorial Award, an award annually given to an individual in recognition of significant, outstanding contributions to elders through community service and leadership.

"I'm very honored and humbled by the award," says Abbruzzese, who admits she is a little embarrassed as well. "I don't do this by myself. There are so many people who are a part of the Senior Center."

The last Cohasset resident to receive the Dunkin Award was in 1993 when it was given to the late Gerard Keating, a

SEE VOLUNTEERISM, PAGE 10

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436

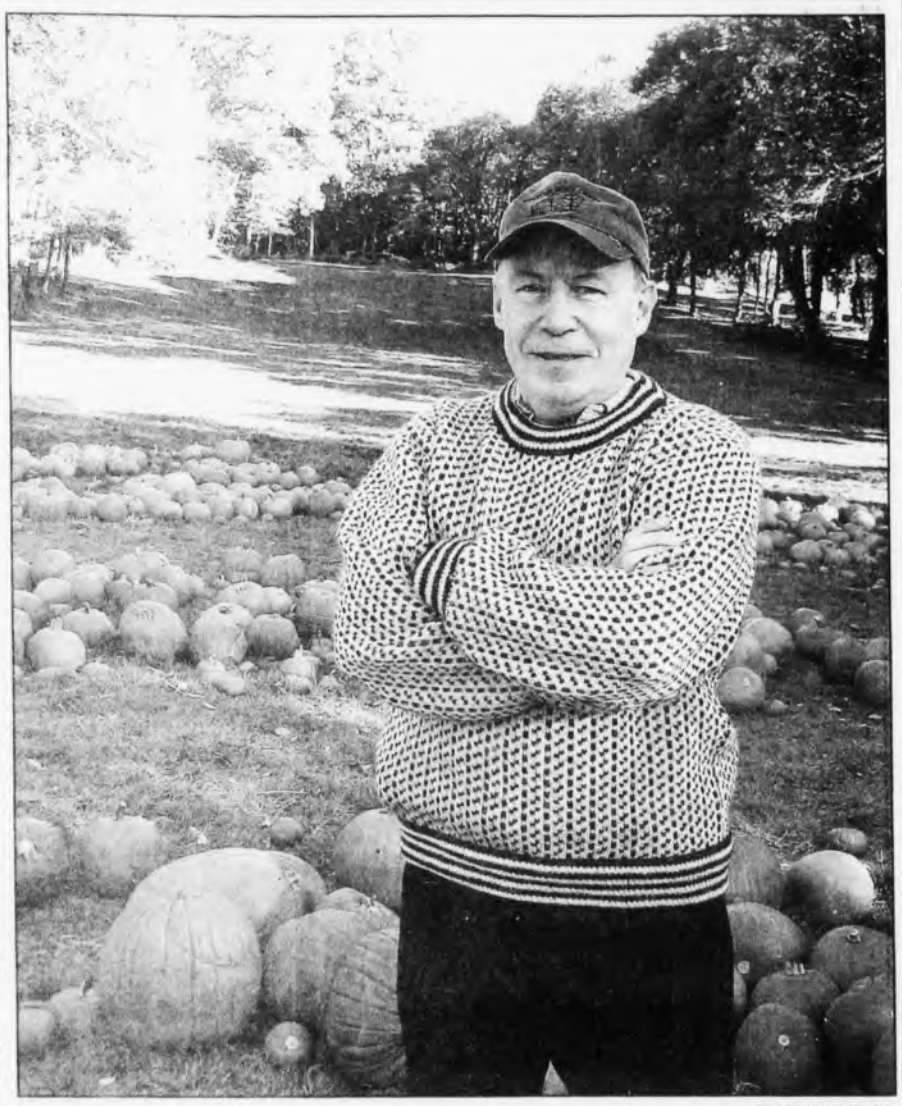
DRIFTWAY
AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com

VISIT US ON RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ Since 1942
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E26267
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ▮ Bonds ▮ CDs
Mutual Funds ▮ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
Investment Representative
781-383-1996
www.edwardjones.com
Edward Jones

Free Checking
Free ATMs
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset
(781) 383-0541
www.BankPilgrim.com



SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
ACUPUNCTURE
Personal Training • Deep Tissue & Sports Massage
Group Exercise Classes • S.W.E.A.T.® Weight Loss Program
Gift Certificates
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

TRI TOWN
LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Holiday Ideas • Firewood $250 Cord Delivered
Barrels Sand & Salt • Loam • Mulch • Stone
FREE DELIVERY Saturday Delivery 7-5
388 VFW Drive, Rockland, MA 02370
781-871-1700

The Clog Shoppe
Saturday, October 27th
The Clog Shoppe proudly presents a dansko trunk show.
Please join us 10am - 4pm.
Come see what's new for fall and register to win a free pair of clogs.
We now have Mel's Bracelets - $15
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street,
So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 10-4
Front & rear entrance and parking available.

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31) or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken w/cheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash — Call for an appointment 781-383-1403
Paperscapes — Stationery & Gifts 781-383-8008

PICTURE THIS/John Chapman

PHOTO/MARY FORD

The Mariner caught up with John Chapman this week at the Pumpkin Patch off North Main Street. The Patch is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. through Oct. 31.

Name: John Chapman

Occupation: ASP Advisor and Pumpkin Patch Treasurer

Best day of your life: August 14, 1982.

Best vacation: First ASP trip in 2001.

Favorite season: Summer.

Favorite holiday: July 4th.

Favorite food: Biscuits and gravy, with grits on the side.

Best book: "The Other America," by Michael Harrington.

Best movie: "October Sky."

Best TV show: "Country Boys."

Pet peeve: Intolerance.

Most memorable moments: ASP picnic, when grandson of my ASP client would not leave my side.

Goal: For every Cohasset teen to have a fulfilling, eye-opening ASP experience.

Person you'd most like to meet: Tex Evans (ASP founder).

Biggest worry: That the roof we repaired for an ASP project would leak.

Best part of Cohasset: Support given to ASP.

PILGRIM PAVING
"Solid as the Rock!"
www.pilgrimpaving.com
RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL
DRIVEWAYS • PARKING LOTS • STONE DRIVEWAYS
SEAL COATING • FREE WRITTEN ESTIMATES
FALL SPECIAL 10x20
Two layers of asphalt over Gravel
$595.00
781.982.9898
Bill Dyer
DISCOUNT TO SENIOR CITIZENS AND NON PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

Brush and paint day Oct. 27

The final brush and paint day for 2007 will take place Saturday, Oct. 27. Brush can be dropped off in the DPW parking area from 7:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., and oil-based paint can be dropped off at the Recycling Transfer Station from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information, call 781-383-0273.

Easy Lift RECLINER $899
BERKLINE RECLINERS
WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM
781-878-5759 • 1-800-696-5759
459 Plain St., Rte. 139, Rockland
Near the No. Abington Line
Open Daily 9-5:30
Friday 9-8:30
Sunday 12-4
FREE DELIVERY FREE DISPOSAL

IT'S TIME FOR BIOHEAT®!
Ask 'more' of your Oilheat company.
We provide more.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

Matthew's JEWELERS
1 Hour Jewelry Repair
Ring Sizing
Chain & Clasp Repair
Prong Retipping
Jewelry Polishing
Rhodium Plating
Jonathan Livingston Square
130 King Street (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
(781) 383-1200

CIRCA
Home Furnishings
Visit our new Design Studio designer wallpapers, fabrics, trims & HUNTER DOUGLAS shutters & blinds - all at LOW, SALE PRICES everyday!
306 Washington Street . NORWELL
781 . 659 . 2188

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY www.tuwoonline.com

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2931
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION MANAGER
Mike Spellman: 781-837-4508

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
• Remote Desktop Support
• Home Office Setup
• Antivirus Firewall Setup
• Parental Control Software
• Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
• Data Recovery
• Wired & Wireless Networks
• Loaner Computers Available
• New Computer Consultation
• Hardware & Software Upgrades
Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com
Before Bob Black
After Bob Black

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry
We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.
Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling
Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)
Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.
Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES.
Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00
GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices
NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, Ma 02339
(Rt. 123 after Stop & Shop)
www.gemorama.com

Mistletoe Boutique
sunday, NOV 4th * from 10am to 5pm
ATLANTICA RESTAURANT * COHASSET HARBOR
NEW LOCATION
with over 30 artisans and vendors.
Sponsored by:
Our World Children's Global Discovery Museum
www.ourworldcgdm.org
ADMISSION: FREE

FAIRVIEW LAWN SPRINKLER
Specializing in
• Plumbing & Heating
• Spring Start-ups and Repairs
• Custom Installations
• Shut Down, Winterize
Serving and Installing All Types of Irrigation Systems Since 1963
781-659-4540
www.fairviewlawnsprinkler.com

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

Police Chief James Hussey is flanked by Det. Lt. Greg Lennon and Lt. William Quigley during a break in Monday's Selectmen's meeting.

Lieutenants introduced to Selectmen

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Introductions between the Board of Selectmen and the two new Police lieutenants were the first order of business on Monday night. Former, Det. Sgt. Gregory Lennon and Sgt. Bill Quigley, were recently promoted to two, newly created lieutenant slots.

Police Chief James Hussey identified the need for additional lieutenant slots when he first came on the job three and half years ago, "it will be a better, more efficient way of taking care of the details that need to be taken care of." The lieutenants will deal with day-to-day issues allowing the Chief's office to devote more time to the areas that impact the overall mission of the department including public relations, budget, grants, labor, and best practices.

Hussey praised both Lennon and Quigley for their past accomplishments and dedicated service, "they are two outstanding gentlemen." Quigley said both he and Lennon came on to the Cohasset police force together, were promoted to sergeant together and now, lieutenant.

Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil spoke at how the town needs to move toward continuous improvement, much like businesses in the private sector, "your youth and energy will drive that process forward."

The reorganization includes placing a lieutenant to lead the operational services of the department made up of the patrol force, traffic safety and part-time/seasonal officers (Quigley). The other lieutenant will lead the support/investigative services including criminal investigations, the emergency dispatch center, grants and animal control (Lennon).

CHS boy treated for staph infection

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Late last week a high school student, who also participated on the boys junior varsity soccer team, was treated for a staph infection. The Middle-High School administration took immediate action by disinfecting and sanitizing the boys' locker room, notifying the school community through a Connect-Ed message and holding an assembly with the student body the following day.

A staph infection, a bacterial skin infection short for staphylococcus aureus, is commonly found on the skin and nose of healthy people. Staph infections begin when the bacteria gets into a break in the skin. It spreads by direct skin-to-skin contact such as shaking hands, playing contact sports, or by touching items handled by an infected person.

A more severe strain of staph, methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureas, or MSRA, is resistant to certain antibiotic treatment. The high school student was treated for a staph infection, not MSRA.

As a precaution, Middle-High School Principal Joel Antolini had the boys' locker room professionally cleaned last Thursday evening. On Friday morning, school nurse Judy Collins presented a powerpoint slide show on staph infections separately to the Middle School and the High School students. Students were told what staph infections were, how it is spreads, and steps to prevent infection, said Antolini. The slideshow is posted on both the district and high school webpages for parent and community reference.

Staph infections typically look like a pimple or a boil on the surface of the skin. They can be red, swollen, painful and have drainage, according to the slideshow. Frequent and thorough hand washing, covering open wounds and generally practicing good hygiene were listed as preventative measures.

"As always, the safety and well-being of our students and staff is our paramount concern," said Antolini.

Antolini said he knew of no other student being treated for a staph infection. The high school advised parents if they had any concerns regarding skin infections to contact their child's physician.

POLICE BEAT

Sirens help man find way out of woods

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

The thought of getting lost in the woods and not being able to find your way out has caused many people to wake up from a nightmare.

However, a Weymouth man had a real-life "lost" experience last week in Whitney Woods. Luckily he had his cell phone along and was able to call police who helped him find his way out.

The man has hiked there before but last Wednesday (Oct. 17) he veered off his usual trail and could not find his way out. Officers went to two separate locations and sounded their sirens, while police kept the man on the phone. He heard the sirens closest to Crocker Lane and walked out.

Cohasset fire checked him out at the scene and Officer Christy Tarantino drove him back to his car. The man, who is in his 60s, was fine, Police Chief James Hussey said.

Hussey said he received a nice thank you letter from the man on Tuesday.

Deer season

It is the time of year when amorous deer might dart out into traffic looking for a mate. Although collisions with deer can occur at any time, they are more prevalent this time of year.

Last Wednesday (Oct. 17) at 11:48 p.m. a 1999 Mercedes Benz heading southbound on Route 3A near Hingham Lumber hit a deer; the driver was not injured but the car, which had heavy front-end damage, had to be towed.

"The operator said 'I just never had a chance'," Chief Hussey said. The state DPW was called to remove the deer.

Sidewalk parking

Police discourage parking on sidewalks whenever possible, Chief Hussey said. Police received reports of an ongoing problem on North Main Street last week about construction vehicles blocking the sidewalk by a rambling house that is being renovated.

In this particular incident, Hussey said police spoke with the worker, who moved the truck. They will give a warning to a first-time offender but will issue a ticket if the individual parks there again, he said.

Suspicious man

Police believe a scruffy looking man in an older model greenish-blue pickup could be an area handyman seeking work.

The person complaining about the man said he came to her door first thing in the morning, asked if she had young kids, and if he could do work on the house.

Police had a composite drawn and put out a flash message over LEAPS.

However, based on the composite, police think they may know who he is.

The incident is under investigation and at the very least, police want to speak to him about the way he tries to solicit business.

Shoplifter

Police were called to Stop & Shop at 11:45 a.m. on Sunday (Oct. 21) on a report the manager had detained a female shoplifter wearing a white sweater and Capri pants. The caller called back to report she had broken away. Police apprehended the woman, who allegedly stole cosmetics and food items. Stop & Shop management issued a verbal no-trespass order but did not want to pursue the matter through the courts.

Chief Hussey explained that the woman could be arrested if she returns to Stop & Shop. Store managers or security personnel have the right of arrest on their property. Therefore, it was OK that the manager had detained the woman. Store security personnel also can turn an arrest over to police, he said.

Lost wallet, cell phone

Police want anyone who has lost a wallet or purse to come down to the station and make a report, Chief Hussey said. That way police will have some knowledge if a credit card is fraudulently used, for example, he said. Last week a caller reported losing her wallet but has not yet come down to file a report. "We need a report as opposed to a log item," he said.

In an unrelated incident a walk-in at the police station turned in cell phone found near the Mobil Mart on 3A. Police were able to locate the owner of the cell phone and return it. Hussey said it is helpful for people to report lost cell phones and also if any are found, to bring them to the station.

Civil matter

Police were called twice last week to a Forest Avenue location where there is a property line dispute between neighbors. Chief Hussey explained that police cannot arbitrate in these situations and determine where property lines lie. They can take a report and refer the people to the building inspector or other knowledgeable person. Often police are contacted because they are available 24/7 and those involved want the matter resolved at the time. Police can suggest that someone move their car, for example, if it is blocking a driveway but cannot determine the outcome of a dispute. That is up to civil court, Hussey said.

Traffic accident

The operator of a 1994 Mercury was cited for failure to yield to oncoming traffic last Monday (Oct. 15) following a two-car accident at the lights at Stop & Shop.

Police said a 2000 Chevy was headed northbound on Route 3A and while going through the green light was struck by the southbound Mercury while it was attempted to make a left-hand turn into the plaza.

Have a car you're no longer using?

Donate it to
Good News Garage and help get a family rolling again!

Good News Garage accepts, repairs and awards donated vehicles to families struggling to become financially independent.

You get the satisfaction of helping a family in need and may qualify for the highest tax deduction allowable under IRS regulations!

DONATING IS EASY!

To donate call toll-free
877-GIVE-AUTO
or donate online at www.GoodNewsGarage.org

Good News GARAGE
An affiliate of Lutheran Social Services of New England

Donate a car, Change a life!

We'll make you smile.

Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.
SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS
Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate • (781) 545-3466
New Patients Welcome • Free Initial Consultation

Here Comes The Bride
• Mother of the Bride & Groom
• Guests

Large Sizes Available
We Have It All
Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm

"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358
HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS
"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.
Consignments by appointment
Mon. - Sat. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-8

SPASCAPE
dayspa

Join us 7 days a week at Spascape, a full-service day spa overlooking Scituate Harbor. Relax and enjoy our full compliment of treatments, including manicures, luxury facials, the latest massage techniques, laser hair removal, steam rooms and our oxygen bar.

Fall Indulgence Special: Anti-aging skin care treatments featuring the SEA C SPA, a powerful antioxidant skin care line designed to delay the signs of aging and to rejuvenate the skin. Look as young as you feel!

3 Mill Wharf Plaza, Scituate • 781.545.1200

HALLOWEEN TREATS

& FESTIVE FALL CANDY
Caramel Apples ✕ Candy Corn ✕ Chocolate Favorites

Hilliards
CONFECTIONERS SINCE 1926 hilliardscandy.com
Canton Village Shoppes 781-828-9008 | Easton, Rte. 138 508-238-6231 | Hanover, Rte. 123 781-878-8533

If you think you simply must go to Boston
To find a top notch lawyer...

Think again!

Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048

George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)

Member
Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)

INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!

- Slip and Fall
- Motor Vehicle Accidents
- General Litigation

No Fee Unless Successful

Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL
EST 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS Aaron M. Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED
Smile Makeovers since 1967
ZOOM2 1-hour chairside whitening
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

Thank you to eastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire for making The Maids® Home Services the Best of Boston® – AGAIN!

BEST OF BOSTON 2007
Awarded by Boston magazine

Winner of Boston Magazine's 2007
Best Housecleaning and Best Maid Service 2002 & 2003

The Maids Home Services
888-445-6243 • www.maids.com

MILLBROOK MOTORS DUXBURY

Millbrook Motors
1474 Tremont Street, Duxbury
Junction of Rtes. 3A & 139
781-934-6551
Jeep

Take A Look At Millbrook...
YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID.

#1 in Jeep Service Customer Loyalty in all of New England!

#2 in the entire USA. We will work even harder for you!

Millbrook is the oldest Jeep dealer on the East Coast!
Family Owned and Operated Since 1952

FIVE STAR Five Star Sales & Service. Friendly, Knowledgeable Staff.

LIFETIME POWERTRAIN WARRANTY

MODEL YEAR END CLEARANCE COUNTDOWN SALES EVENT

FREE Navigation & MyGig on select Jeep Models

Brand New 2008
JEEP Commander Sport
Stock #8050

Lease for Only
$289/mo. 39 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*

Take Your Pick!

Brand New 2007
Grand Cherokee 4x4
Sun and sound package
Stock #7149

Lease for Only
$189/mo. 27 mos.
Including taxes & reg. fee*

2008 4 Door Wranglers In Stock for Immediate Delivery

*Both leases include 10% of MSRP due at lease signing, loyalty rebate and military rebate. Based on 10,500 miles per year. Dealer reference number 10089. All vehicles in stock at time of ad. Tax, title, reg, extra on purchase prices.

Specializing in Certified Jeep Pre-owned Vehicles.

Jeep CERTIFIED PRE-OWNED FIVE STAR

Brand Spankin' Used.™

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo
4 to choose at similar savings. #UC-1026

$14,990

2007 Jeep Commander Sport
Silver, 17,376 mi. #UC-1049

$22,990

2007 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo 4x4
White, low miles. #UC-1063

$20,990

2004 Jeep Grand Cherokee Special Edition Leather interior, sunroof. #UC-1032 $15,990
2006 Jeep Wrangler Sport Dual top, black, 10,950 mi. #UC-1030 ..... $18,990
2004 Jeep Wrangler Unlimited Black, 15,047 mi. #UC-1043 ..... $18,990
2- 2007 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo
1 black & 1 steel blue, low miles. #UC-1055 & #UC-1062 ..... $20,990
2007 Jeep Liberty Sport Low miles. #UC-1061 ..... $17,990
2003 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo Gray, 52,985 mi. #UC-1056 ..... $13,490

Present this ad and save
$250.00 OFF
any certified Pre-Owned Vehicle in stock
All prior sales excluded. Limit 1 per customer per transaction. No cash value. Expires 10/31/07.

Check out our entire inventory at
www.millbrookmotors.com
NO NONSENSE INTERNET SPECIALS
JEEP is a registered trademark of Chrysler LLC.

Two units slated at 821 Jerusalem Road

Developer bids are in

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The Housing Partnership Committee is plugging along on the process to construct two affordable units under Chapter 40-B at 821 Jerusalem Road. The town has heard back from two developers on its request for proposal for the town-owned property.

The Housing Partnership has been working on this project since the spring. The town foreclosed on the property in May 2005 due to non-payment of property taxes. Over the summer, the partnership received assurances the proposed units would be deemed affordable from the Department of Housing and Community Development, the state department that oversees the development of Chapter 40-B housing.

If affordable units are developed in 821 Jerusalem, the project will be the Housing Partnership's first to come to fruition.

McKenna Building Contractors of Cohasset put in a bid for $163,000 to build two three-bedroom rental units, with one rented as affordable and the other at a market rate. As rental units, both would qualify as affordable under state regulations. The other bid put forth by Rockland-based Michael Durante was for a three units at $75,000.

Before the process moves forward, two issues need to be resolved. At the upcoming special Town Meeting, voters will need to approve Article 11. Approval of the article would authorize the Board of Selectmen to dispose of 821 Jerusalem Road under the state's procurement laws, Chapter 30B.

In addition, there is an ongoing effort by the daughters of the former owner of the property to get back the house. The petition has been denied at Land Court and was appealed to the state appeals court. There has been no determination on the state appeal.

Once the issues are resolved, the Selectmen will award the bid subject to all appropriate permits being obtained.

However, the Partnership is looking ahead and has recommended the Selectmen accept the McKenna bid, in part due to the large difference in purchase price. McKenna's proposal calls for two "family-sized" three-bedroom units. The bid allows for the outstanding taxes, approximately $70,000, to be paid to the town, with excess funds to go toward a third affordable housing unit somewhere else, explained Partnership chairman Tom Callahan.

Although the partnership would have liked to see three units on the property, there are challenges on the site in doing so. If the other bid was chosen and three units were unrealized, the town would end up with only two units and little money to put toward another project, said Callahan.

The partnership intends to work with the developer to get the proper permits and the 40-B certification under a Local Initiative Project (LIP). Only then will the town close the sale and transfer the property title.

The Partnership is working on creating a generic agreement to be entered into between developers and the town for this project and other future LIP developments.

"It's nice to have the committee making progress," said Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil.

Briefly

Rec Director retiring

Longtime Recreation Director Jack Worley notified the Town Manager of his intent to retire in the spring. Worley has served as the town's first and only Recreation Director.

"Having spent 31 years in this position coupled with the extensive numbers of hours worked each week. I feel that is far more than employment that I am leaving. Rather, it is a fine community with very fine residents that I have had the privilege to serve these past three decades that I leave," Worley wrote.

Town Manager Bill Griffin described Worley "as one of the most dedicated and professional public servants I have ever had the pleasure to work with. He will be sorely missed."

Worley's retirement will become effective on April 30, 2008. Griffin, along with the Recreation Commission will commence the process to select the next director.

Train work remains

With revenue passenger service on the Greenbush Line to commence next week on Wednesday, Oct. 31, the MBTA has sent the town a list of items that will not be completed prior to the train's rolling through town. The memo indicates all outstanding items will be completed in the next year.

Intersection improvements at Route 3A and King Street will be completed in 2008. A traffic signal at the entrance of Route 3A will be constructed in association with the proposed transit oriented district shopping mall development. The traffic signal design is under development and will need to be reviewed by the Mass Highway Department; it should be in operation by the end of 2008.

Other smaller items including the row of eight additional parking spaces near the Teen Center, an advance warning sign on Pond Street, and paving of the turnaround at the closed Spring Street crossing will all be completed in November.

Lastly, a draft design proposal for the North Main Street crossing corrective work was sent to the town earlier this month. The MBTA is awaiting the town's comments.

Town Meeting warrant off to printer

With Special Town Meeting only two weeks from Tuesday, the Board of Selectmen voted to approve the warrant and send it to the printer. A total of 11 articles, or items of business, will be discussed and voted on Tuesday, November 13 at 7p.m. The warrant will be sent to all Cohasset households on Oct. 30, two weeks before Town Meeting.

The Selectmen recommended approval of three of the articles at Monday night's meeting. The Water Resource District Zoning Bylaw (Article 3) seeks to change the language over the storage of deicing chemicals and animal manure in the water resource district.

Article 7 would eliminate several committees that are no longer relevant or populated with members from the bylaws. The committees proposed to be eliminated are Personnel Committee, Design Review Board, Committee to Survey Structure and Function of Town Government, Drainage Committee, Commission on Disabilities and Civilian Dispatch Committee.

Article 11 is proposed to give the Selectmen the authority to dispose of the property at 821 Jerusalem Road. The town for non-payment of taxes previously foreclosed on the property, a two-family dwelling. The Housing Partnership Committee is pursuing the development of two affordable housing units.

All three reviewed articles were recommended by a unanimous vote.

Selectmen to review village bylaw

The Board of Selectmen will review the proposed Village Business District zoning bylaw and likely give their recommendation next Monday night, October 29. The Selectmen encourage all interested parties to come to the meeting to participate in the discussion.

Building Permits

The following building permits were issued recently at Town Hall:

Brown, 471 Beechwood St., 18 sq. wood side walling, gutters and downspouts, $16,000; Parcel Two Realty, 825 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy., new 6,000 square foot one-story commercial building, $188,000; Barunas, 54 Jerusalem Road, 8 sq. cedar roofing, $7,900; Flanagan, 21 Aaron River Road, demolish existing home and build new residence, $700,000; Syatt, 113 Border St., 12 foot by 14 foot screened-in porch at rear of house, $20,000 and Swartwood, 348 South Main St., remodel kitchen, fix exterior wall and new windows, $25,000.

Schwandt, 43 Tower Lane, 27 sq. asphalt roofing, $10,500; Gillis, 130 Wheelwright Farm, remodel 2.5 baths, install cabinet lighting, replace 13 windows, install new handrail and balusters, $35,000; DeSharnais, 12 Holly Lane, second story addition, two new baths, laundry room, three bedrooms; $100,000; Therialt, 42 Stockbridge St., five new windows, new sidewall on two sides, rebuild existing deck, $25,000; Seel, 50 Forest Ave., 25 sq. asphalt roofing, $9,000; Route 3A Group, 152 King St., renovate existing office, $15,000; Stavis, 60 Jerusalem Road, 12 sq. asphalt roofing, $4,700; Hanflig, 395 Jerusalem Road, install beams to support second floor walls on ocean side, $20,000; Laas, 22 Pratt Court, remodel two baths, gut wall board, tile, fixtures and finish, $25,000; Dunne, 21 Beach St., remodel workshop to exercise room, $10,000; Pinnacle Tower, 150 Turkey Hill Lane, add three antennas and two equipment cabinets, $25,000;

Kehoe, 28 Bayberry Lane, remove existing deck and replace with 10 foot by 12 foot deck; $2,200; Young, 24 Short St., remove single story rooms, replace roof, sidewall, new kitchen, new bath, $160,000; Vainisi, 17 Sohier St., 20 foot by 40 foot in ground pool, $30,000.

ST. MARK'S SCHOOL
OPEN HOUSE
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2007
No RSVP Required
Bring your family and experience a day on campus.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS
10:15 AM – Registration
10:50 AM – Student Led Tours
11:30 AM – Welcome from Head of School
– Lunch with Faculty and Students
Starting 2:30 PM –
Home Games vs. St. Paul's School
Varsity Football, Varsity & JV Field Hockey
Varsity & JV Boys Soccer
Varsity & JV Girls Soccer

SM QUICK FACTS
Founded in 1865
Grades 9–12
Co-educational
Boarding and day
335 students
Financial aid available
Average class size: 10 students
5:1 student/faculty ratio
18 Advanced Placement Courses

25 Marlborough Road • Southborough, MA 01772 • (on the corner of Rt. 85 & Rt. 30) • 508-786-6000 • www.stmarksschool.org

Cohasset Triathlon will return

Date set for Sunday, June 29

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"My goal is to continue looking for ways to make the Cohasset Triathlon the best triathlon."
— Bill Burnett, Race Director

The Cohasset Triathlon is returning to the shores and streets of town next summer. A date for the second annual event has been set for Sunday, June 29. Although still months away, athletes could begin registering for the event as of today (Oct. 26).

Race Director Bill Burnett has been thinking about next year's event almost since the moment the first one was over. No longer a rookie at putting together the run-bike-swim event, Burnett has analyzed last year's event for ways on how to improve and enhance it for all involved.

"My goal is to continue looking for ways to make the Cohasset Triathlon the best triathlon," said Burnett. His passion for the event is contagious and he has been able to recruit a larger team to help him on the effort, "I have a whole group of people who are excited to help me."

Simple items like renting additional port-a-potties, easing traffic hot spots and parking will be targeted in the months ahead. More complex issues, like safety in the water, are being looked at closely.

Safety in the open ocean water is at the forefront of concern after the first triathlon. Four swimmers in distress were pulled from this year's swim leg. The race participants and community mourned after one of those swimmers died.

To ease congestion at the start of the race, athletes and spectators can expect more waves, or heats. The heats, each with less than 100 athletes, will leave the beach in the five-minute intervals.

"We want to spread them out a bit more," said Burnett. Athletes will come off the beach and into the water in smaller groups to give each athlete more breathing room at the start and around the quarter-mile water course.

In addition, on all registrations the athlete will be asked whether this is their first triathlon and/or their first open water ocean swim triathlon. The first-timers will be given a different color swimming cap to alert safety officials on the water to keep a close eye on them.

Burnett says the race will not be bigger than last year, with registrations capped at 700 individual athletes and 25 relay teams. He expects the race to sell out by early 2008, so encourages Cohasset residents especially to sign up early.

A few weeks ago, Burnett came before the Board of Selectmen and proposed a July 13th date for the triathlon. But, when he spoke with members of the Sandy Beach Association they were concerned the July date when Sandy Beach is most heavily used wasn't ideal, says Burnett.

"We wanted to have the least effect on beach goers," said Sandy Beach Association President Robin Lawrence and the event shuts down the beach parking lot for the morning.

The stars seemed to align for the new date June 29, according to Burnett. A morning high tide, availability of the race timing company and rental equipment and no other competing triathlon in the area made the switch easy.

"We're 100 percent in favor" of the triathlon returning, said Lawrence, "it's a great event, managed very well and we expect it to be similarly well run this year."

Along with Sandy Beach Association, the Board of Selectmen, the Harbormaster and the police and fire departments are on board with the new date, says Burnett.

The inaugural triathlon donated all net proceeds to the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), a total of $50,219. Burnett would like to raise even more money in this year's triathlon. In addition to the net proceeds, racers are encouraged to get sponsors for the race.

"The race was one of the most successful start up third party events in the country for JDRF this year," said Burnett. On a local level, Burnett and the Cohasset Triathlon Association have joined the town's Adopt-a-street program pledging to keep parts of the racecourse free of litter. He also is seeking local businesses to become sponsors of the race.

The second annual Cohasset Triathlon will consist of a quarter-mile ocean swim, followed by a 12.5-mile bike course and a 3.2 mile run. This event is sanctioned by the USA Triathlon and is expected to draw both first-time triathlon participants as well as ranked elite athletes.

"The triathlon showcases the best parts of Cohasset," says Burnett, who believes the annual triathlon will bring more people to town to visit and patron local businesses.

Online race registration is available through Active.com. Visit the re-vamped Cohasset Tri website at www.cohassettri.com for more information. Hats and triathlon jewelry are on sale on the website.

Adopt-a-street program is under way

The newly established Adopt-a-street program has received support from several local families, organizations and businesses. Last week, safety vests, gloves and bags, along with safety guidelines were handed out to participants.

The program proposed by resident Jim French in the late winter has been met with interest since its official announcement at the end of May. The Cohasset Golf Club donated $500 to subsidize the start-up cost to get the program running. Sponsor signs are in the process of being made and will be posted along the adopted streets.

Six parties have already come forward to participate and keep clean large sections of the town. The Cohasset Triathlon Association has adopted parts of the racecourse to keep clean: Atlantic Avenue from Nichols Road to Sandy Beach, Jerusalem Road between Atlantic Avenue and Forest Avenue and Atlantic Avenue between Sandy Beach and Sandy Cove. The Rotary Club has adopted Government Island. Other residents have volunteered to maintain the pocket park between French Memories and Tedeschi's, North Main Street from Cedar Street to the Hingham town line and lower King Street.

However, program coordinator Tara Tradd has targeted additional areas of town that need a little help with litter: Sohier Street, Beechwood Street, S. Main Street, Ripley Road, Depot Court, Elm Street, Forest Avenue, upper King Street and Pond Street.

Organizations, businesses, families and individuals can adopt a street, a portion of a street, park or other public place and keep it free of litter. If interested, contact program coordinator Tara Tradd at the Board of Health office, (781) 383-4116 or by e-mail at tarat@townofcohasset.org.

THERE'S BEAUTY IN NUMBERS.

OCTOBER SERIES SALE.
Buy a series of six, twelve or twenty four Elizabeth Grady beauty treatments and save up to $18 on each facial. A series makes a perfect holiday gift and you'll be thanked again, & again, & again ... Call now for a number of beautiful reasons.

Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for the salon nearest you.

Holiday Open House

✦ Fri., Nov. 2nd, 10-5 p.m.
✦ Sat., Nov. 3rd, 10-5 p.m.
✦ Sun., Nov. 4th, 12-5 p.m.
Enjoy hot apple cider and hors d'oeuvres as you shop.

Octavia's
Home Accents & Unique Gifts
35 Depot St. • Duxbury Marketplace
Duxbury ✦ 781-934-9553

KEEP IT SIMPLE
If it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.
COUNTERTOPS
Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.
CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE
Bill Shea's
www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130

Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.

Estate Planning for Seniors and Caregivers
An Informative Event at Sunrise of Cohasset

Please join us at Sunrise Assisted Living of Cohasset for an informative presentation by local Elder Law Attorney Susan M. Cox who specializes in estate planning. Learn about the following legal care documents:

- Health Care Proxy
- Durable Power of Attorney
- Living Will
- Do Not Resuscitate
- Estate planning documents such as wills and living trusts

Also information on using veteran's benefits towards the cost of assistant living will be discussed. A question and answer session will follow the presentation. Light refreshments will be served.

Sunrise senior living is committed to furthering the knowledge of senior living though events and seminars designed to help inform seniors and their caregivers.

EVENT DETAILS
Estate Planning for Seniors and Caregivers
with Susan M. Cox
Elder Law Attorney
Thursday, November 8
5:00pm-7:00pm
Space is limited.
RSVP 781-383-6300.

SUNRISE ASSISTED LIVING
EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY
Sunrise of Cohasset 781-383-6300 Assisted Living, Alzheimer's Care
125 King Street (Route 3A), Cohasset, MA 02025
For more information and a FREE online newsletter, visit www.sunriseseniorliving.com

Holiday Open House
You are cordially invited to preview our new and exciting holiday merchandise at our Open House on Friday-November 2nd, Saturday November 3rd and Sunday-November 4th.
Our stores are Festively decorated, which will certainly put you in the the Holiday Spirit; Thanksgiving and Christmas.
DUXBURY MARKETPLACE
Depot Street
Duxbury, MA
Open Sunday Nov. & Dec. Noon to 5 pm
the Studio of Duxbury — Fine Gifts
Octavia's Home Accents & Unique Gifts

INLY INGREDIENTS ACADEMICS • INLY INGREDIENTS INDEPENDENCE • INLY INGREDIENTS HANDS-ON APPROACH • INLY INGREDIENTS INVOLVEMENT
INLY INGREDIENTS PROBLEM SOLVING
Come see for yourself why Boston Magazine called Inly one of "The Best Schools" in 2007
We are now scheduling observations at all levels. We invite you to visit. Call 781-545-5544 x114.

For hands-on stories, visit INSIDE OUT at:
WWW.INLYSCHOOL.ORG
46 WATCH HILL DR, SCITUATE, MA 02066 • 781-545-5544
The Ingredients of an Inly Education
Individual attention & low teacher/student ratios
• Toddler house (ages 18–36 months) ... 1:5
• Children's house (ages 3–6) ... 1:12
• Elementary (grades 1–6) ... 1:12
• Middle school (grades 7–8) ... 1:8
Multi-age classes that provide...
• opportunities for broad social development
• small-group work relative to ability and interest
Experiential/hands-on curriculum in which...
• students actively participate in the work, thereby meaningfully engaging with the subject for a deeper understanding Leadership opportunities that... set our students apart as they successfully transition to:
• BC High School • Boston University Academy • Cape Cod Academy • Commonwealth School • Dana Hall School • Falmouth Academy • Noble & Greenough • Notre Dame Academy • Phillips Exeter Academy (NH) • Putney School (VT) • St. George's School • Tabor Academy • Thayer Academy and more
INLY SCHOOL
INLY INGREDIENTS INDIVIDUALITY
INLY INGREDIENTS LIFE SKILLS • INLY INGREDIENTS INSIGHT • INLY INGREDIENTS CREATIVITY • INLY INGREDIENTS INCLUSION

Red Sox fever is very contagious

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

SOX FEVER!

Hello Cohasset. How is everyone doing this week with "Red Sox Fever" happening everywhere? As I write this column, I do not know how we did but of course, feel like we won both games so far! Go Red Sox.

A funny little aside to share with you: this past Monday, I was awaiting some parents for one of our after-school programs to pick up their kiddos so I decided to have a chat about, you guessed it, the Red Sox. I just assumed they would all be psyched and pumped about it and I said, "Hey guys, how about those Sox?" Well, four of the kids had such a great reaction based on how they felt, etc. and two of the others reacted in a very strong manner and said, "YUCK, we hate those guys" and stuck out their tongues. I asked them who they liked and they looked at me like I was an alien or something and the boy said, (they were sister/brother), "we like Chicago baseball people, that is where we were born." I said, "that is great as everyone has favorites and they are not always the same. Who do you like on the Chicago team?" Again, a crazy look from him and he said in a very matter-of-fact way, "I have no idea, I don't even like baseball! My dad just said that I like the Chicago people." It was pretty funny although the other children in the group didn't quite see the humor in it at the time. Oh well, I did.

My last blurb before we get to the news and info is to remind everyone out there to have a wonderful Halloween next week and please make sure to stay happy and safe. As we all know, Halloween is the first day of the train so make sure to stress to the kids of all ages the importance of being super careful and to have a family night discussion maybe the night before of the benefits and good things about the train while setting down the rules both that have been set by the train and town people themselves as well as your own family rules. Happy Halloween to all! Here is the news for the week.

NEW ARRIVAL

We have a new Cohasset resident to welcome this week. Timothy Joseph Donovan has arrived on Sept. 23, 2007 weighing in at 7 pouns 13 ounces and measuring 21 inches long.

Baby Timothy is the proud new addition of his family with mom Jackie, dad Joe, big brother Ryan and big sisters Madeleine and Alexis. The happy grandparents are Maria and Jose Leitao and Martha and Jerry Donovan, both of Weymouth. Congratulations to all of you on your wonderful new addition.

And of course (drum roll, please) Timothy's parents are Jackie and Joe Donovan of Cohasset.

GRIDIRON TRADITION

The Cohasset Gridiron Club is proud to welcome back to Cohasset High School members and their families of the 1957 undefeated football team who are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their perfect season.

The event takes place Friday night, Nov. 2 when the current Cohasset Skippers take on South Shore League rival, Abington. Kickoff is 7 pm, preceded by the traditional honoring of this year's Senior Class players and parents. Come out and support the 2007 team and honor the 1957 team and enjoy some great football action and tradition under the Friday night lights!

BRICK FUNDRAISER

The Beechwood Ballpark is complete. There is a brick fundraiser under way to help pay for maintaining this wonderful new space. Engraved bricks are $100 and will be placed in the grassy area behind the outfield scoreboard. If you are interested, please contact Michelle Loughlin at mloughlin521@hotmail.com. Engraving will begin shortly so please get your order forms in by Oct 31.

BIA ART

Brian Houlihan, of Bia Bistro, is not only a great chef, he is also a supporter of the local arts community. The newly renovated bistro on South Main has become an art gallery ("biaart") as well, showing work of Cohasset artists JoAnne Chittick and Diana Rousseau, Sue Charles (Marshfield), Page Railsback (Hingham), and Daniel Roy (Woodstock, Conn.). The warm tones of the walls are a perfect background for the richly colored paintings, which include oils, watercolors, acrylics, and pastels. All paintings are for sale. When you enjoy the delicious meals at Bia, be sure to look at the paintings that are exhibited throughout the restaurant.

CLASS REUNION

The Cohasset CHS Class of 2002 would like to announce its reunion information. The invite is as follows. "Please join us for our 5th year reunion on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21 at 8pm in the Salon du Soleil at the Red Lion Inn. Feel free to bring dates and others who went to school with us at any point along the way." This sounds like a great night for you all to get together and share what you have been through over the last five years.

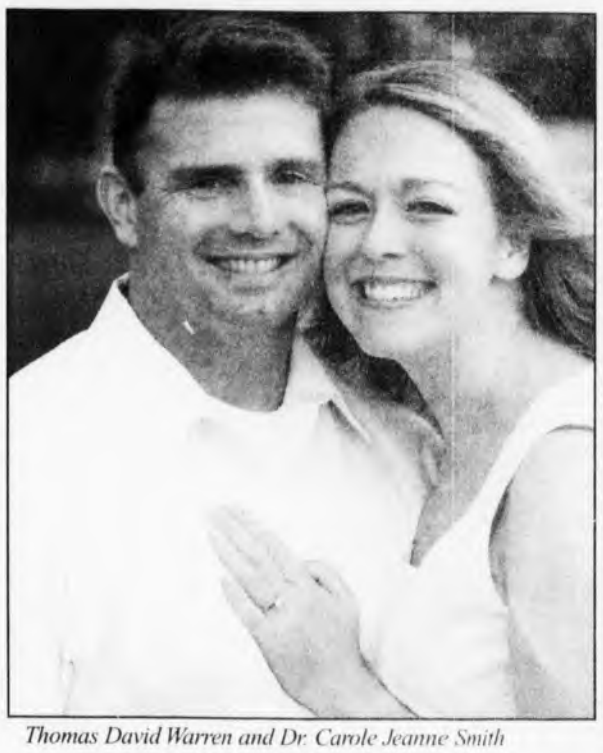
That is all for this week. Make sure to send in all of your news and information to me no later than Tuesdays by 5 pm. Happy Trick-Or-Treating and stay safe!

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com

PHONE: 781-383-0143

Photos and news items may also be dropped off at Cohasset News on Brook Street. Please have those in by 8 a.m., Tuesday for that week.

ENGAGEMENT



Smith - Warren

Mary Ellen and Peter W. Smith of Cohasset announce the engagement of their daughter, Dr. Carole Jeanne Smith, to Thomas David Warren, son Clare and John P. Warren of South Dennis.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Williams College and UMass Medical School. She completed her residency at Brown University and is employed as a family physician at Harbor Medical Associates in Pembroke.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Assumption College. He received his master's degree in Education from Boston College. He is employed as a sixth grade Social Studies teacher at Walsh Middle School in Framingham.

A July 2008 wedding is planned.

Thomas David Warren and Dr. Carole Jeanne Smith

St. Stephen's Church accepting book donations

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is currently accepting donations of slightly worn hardcover and paperback books, DVDs and CDs for its annual book sale, part of the ecumenical Village Fair that will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 1 on Cohasset Common.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Pick up of donations can be arranged. For donation pick up or more information, call D'Anne Avotins at 781-923-1104. Books will be sorted at St. Stephen's Church in Walton Rodgers Hall every Tuesday from 9:30 to 11a.m. Donations will be accepted through Nov. 23. Old textbooks, romance novels, damaged or moldy books or books with notes and/or highlighting will not be accepted.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Money raised from the book sale will be used to send underprivileged children and their families to the Barbara C. Harris Camp in Greenfield, N.H. Donations will help change lives and strengthen the community. For more information about this facility, visit bchcenter.org.

Newcomers Club new member gathering

Scituate/Cohasset Newcomers Club invites all new and prospective members, as well as current members, to a New Member Gathering from 10 a.m. to noon, on Wednesday, Nov. 7.

At this new member coffee, attendees can meet people and learn more about the club. Friends and children are welcome to attend.

Call Kim at 545-2952 or email kim.spires@Comcast.net or Kelly at 545-0866, k-dlee@hotmail.com for more information or to register.

For information about membership, visit the Web site at scnewcomers.com. There are many activities planned throughout the year.

News hotline - 781-741-2933

THAYER ACADEMY
BRAINTREE, MASSACHUSETTS
2007 OPEN HOUSES

UPPER SCHOOL (GRADES 9-12)
Saturday, October 27
12:00 - 2:00 PM

MIDDLE SCHOOL (GRADES 6-8)
Saturday, November 3
1:00 - 3:00 PM

Tours start every 20 min.

- A highly rigorous academic curriculum
- A wide variety of performing & fine arts opportunities
- A broad and successful athletic program

www.thayer.org 781-664-2221
745 WASHINGTON STREET, BRAINTREE, MA 02184

AUCTION
High End Art, Jewelry, Rugs, Coins, Sports Memorabilia
SUNDAY OCTOBER 28th at 1PM
SHERATON BRAINTREE HOTEL
37 Forbes Road, Braintree, Massachusetts 02184
Hotel Phone: (781) 848-0600

ORIGINAL SIGNED IN BRUSH BY GARY BENFIELD

PRESIDENTIAL ROLEX

AUCTION BEGINS AT 1PM-DOORS OPEN AT 12:30

ORIGINAL PAINTINGS BY H. CLAUDE PISSARRO, PAULEMILLE PISSARRO, & BOULANGER. HAND SIGNED MASTERPIECES BY PICASSO, DALI, CHAGALL, MIRO, ERTE, PETER MAX AND MANY MORE. OVER 200 LOTS OF RARE AND VALUABLE JEWELRY INCLUDING: 6.5 CT DIAMOND RING, RUBY AND DIAMOND NECKLACE WITH APPROX. 70 CT RUBY 30 CT DIAMOND, 35.51CT PLATINUM DIAMOND NECKLACE, 22CT DIAMOND NECKLACE, 7.2 CT SOLITARY DIAMOND RING, PRESIDENTIAL ROLEX, CARTIER, PATEK PHILLIPE, PIAGET. COINS: COLLECTORS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF GOLD AND SILVER SPORTS MEMORABILIA: MAGIC JOHNSON, BROOKS ROBINSON, MICKY MANTLE, JOE DIMAGGIO,GRETZKY SIGNED HOCKEY STICK, ALL WITH CERTIFICATES RUGS: LARGE INVENTORY OF HANDMADE RUGS FROM IRAN: FINE TABRIZ KASHAN, KERMAN, NAIN, MASHAD, AND MUCH MORE. LARGE SELECTION OF BEAUTIFUL FURNITURE : LIVING ROOMS, DINING ROOMS, SITE TABLES , CHAIRS, COMMODES. PORCELAIN, BRONZES.

18 K WHITE GOLD RADIANT & ROUND DIAMOND RING 7.15 CT

ORIGINAL OIL ON CANVAS BY BOULANGER

35.51CT PLATINUM DIAMOND NECKLACE

ORIGINAL OIL ON CANVAS BY BRODINSKY

FULL PAYMENT DAY OF SALE, SALES SUBJECT TO DELETIONS. VISA MASTERCARD, AMEX,CASH, APPROVED CHECKS WITH MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF $10,000. ACCEPTED. 15% BUYER'S PREMIUM. SOME ITEMS SUBJECT TO ERRORS & OMISSIONS. ARMED SECURITY ON PREMISES. PHOTO ID REQUIRED. PAUL NUSSBAUM AUCTIONEER
LICENSE No 2703. FOR QUESTIONS CALL FEDERAL AUCTION CO AT (800) 962 0434
AUCTION OPEN TO THE PUBLIC FREE ADMISSION
VISIT US AT: WWW.FEDERALAUCTIONCO.COM

Federal AUCTION

The first of four seven-week courses begins November 6th.

Facilities Management Certificate

Enroll now, and you will:

- Develop advanced skills and knowledge in the field of facilities planning and management
- Enhance your career
- Brush up on essential skills
- Prepare for the CFM Exam

WENTWORTH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Offered through the Division of Professional and Continuing Studies (DPCS). A leader in adult education, DPCS helps adult learners achieve their educational and career objectives with evening and weekend courses designed to fit busy lifestyles.

For more information, call 1-800-323-9481 or e-mail dpcs@wit.edu

NEW LOCATION!

Minuteman Club / Bedford, MA

BELLEW
TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.

CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING

Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!

Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!

781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

A story she had to write

JoAnne Fichtner pens book

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

A story is often too important not to share with others. That's why after nine years of thinking about writing a book, first-time author and Cohasset resident JoAnn Fichtner just sat down one day and started writing.

For JoJo, as her friends call her, it wasn't the writing that attracted her to pen an autobiographical book — it was the story she felt she needed to tell.

She describes her book, "Have the Last Dance with Me," as the love story of her and her husband, Herman Fichtner. Their star-crossed tale begins in 1958 when a friend of hers repeatedly asked her to go out on a date with a Navy friend of his who "looked like a movie star." After months of turning down the offer, she acquiesced to the blind date.

"I didn't want to just focus on the medical portion or the disease."
— JoAnn Fichtner, author

"We dated for 11 months and got married," she says with a big smile. From there, the book recounts fond — and often humorous — family memories of moving to Cohasset, raising a son and daughter and growing old together.

But, as they got older, JoJo began to notice moments of forgetfulness in her husband. Lapses in decision making over simple everyday occurrences began to happen more frequently. She began having nagging thoughts that something just wasn't right with her navy fighter pilot, highly educated and loving husband.

Her suspicions turned out to be true, but no doctor could diagnose his condition. Despite long nights at the library doing research and consulting with the best doctors, it wasn't until after he passed away that doctors found out he suffered from Lewy Body Disease, a progressive brain disease.

Lewy Body Disease caused a disruption in perception, thinking, and behavior. It can exist either in its pure form, or in conjunction with other brain changes, including those typically seen in Alzheimer's disease and Parkinson's disease.

JoJo hopes her literary venture will bring attention to the disease, which has no cure, "we still don't have any answers."

But, the book's was begun as part of the hearing process, says JoJo. She thought about how she would write her memoirs for close to nine years before ever sitting at a computer to put her thoughts into sentences.

"I actually started writing the book for myself," says JoJo. As she wrote the narrative she realized others could relate to her story.

"For seven years I took care of Herm. I felt he deserved that. It never crossed my mind to put him in a nursing home," says JoJo of her personal choice. She knows there are plenty of other caregivers out there who struggle with that question everyday, "you always wonder if you make the right decision. For me, there was never any other way."

More than sharing the experience at the end of his life, JoJo wanted to give a complete picture of their life together and convey to readers what kind of person her husband Herm was.

"I didn't want to just focus on the medical portion or the disease," JoJo says, although she does give medical information at the end of the book.

JoJo met Herm when he just finished active duty as a Navy pilot, but he was in the reserves for years after that. He flew A4-Skyhawks for years out of the former South Weymouth Naval Air Station. She chose a smiling picture of him climbing into an A4-Skyhawk to grace the cover of the book.

"He was always getting into and out of a plane," she says, "and I just love this picture."

To complement the 75-page text are several pages of pictures to help illustrate their life together.

"You're laughing one minute and the next minute you're crying," JoJo has heard from her test readers. In preparation for the release of the book, JoJo has contacted family and old friends. The effort has put her back in touch with dozens of old friends and books have already been pre-ordered from online bookstores.

She's looking forward to having the book in her hands and to be able to share her story with those close to her and with strangers. The book will be in select bookstores on Nov.19th.

"I really told the story from the heart, just the way it happened. It's the truth," says JoJo, "it just seemed the right thing to do."

"Have the Last Dance with Me" can be ordered online at www.amazon.com.

Author of "Have the Last Dance with Me" JoAnne "JoJo" Fichtner with her late husband, Herm, at the 1993 Memorial Day parade. The autobiographical book, currently available for pre-order online, chronicles the couple's love story.

Senior Scene

Charlie Cards at the CEA

Call 781-383-9112 as soon as possible to sign up for the following events.

SPECIAL EVENTS

MBTA Charlie Cards at CEA – Tuesday, Nov. 6, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., at 3 North Main St.

Cohasset Cabaret – Nov. 2 and 3, at 7 p.m., at St. Anthony's Hall. Tickets are $25. Transportation available. Call 781-383-0752 for more information. Sponsored by Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs and St. Anthony's Parish.

Make a Difference Day – Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 17 and 18. Sponsored by Cohasset's PTO. Call for fall cleanup, yards raked, etc.

Thanksgiving Feast at Atlantica Restaurant – Tuesday, Nov. 20, at noon. Sponsored by Roy and Joe Campbell family and staff.

ONGOING CLASSES

Senior Dance Aerobics – Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 8 to 8:45 a.m.

Line Dancing – Tuesdays, at 1:15 p.m.

Drop-in Bridge – Wednesdays, at 1 p.m.

Arthritis Exercises – Fridays, at 9:30 a.m.

Annual Bark 'n Howl Ball Fundraiser

Join WATD's news diva Christine James and the hard-working 3A Farm Fund volunteers from 7 p.m. to midnight, Saturday, Oct. 27, at the third annual Bark 'n Howl Ball that will rock the rafters at the Hatherly Country Club in Scituate Tickets are $50 each and are available at the Scituate Animal Shelter on the Driftway. The Bark 'n Howl Ball is a fun evening with great food, music and dancing, live and silent auction prizes and all proceeds help the Scituate Animal Shelter relocate from the Driftway to the 3A Farm.

For more information and to follow the progress of the relocation, visit www.town.scit-uate.ma.us/animalshelter, www.3afarm-fund.com, or call the shelter at 781-545-8703, between 3 and 5 p.m., Wednesday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturdays.

We've been working on the railroad.

Join us Tuesday, October 30th for the Greenbush Commuter Rail Line Grand Opening Greenbush Station - 11:30 A.M.

Be among the first to ride the rails! From your local station's special festivities, to the big celebration at Greenbush Station, it's free and everyone is invited!

	Departs:
East Braintree/Weymouth Landing Station	10:15 A.M.
East Weymouth Station	10:30 A.M.
West Hingham Station	10:45 A.M.
Cohasset Station	11:06 A.M.

Departing trains will return you to your original station. Regular service begins Wednesday, October 31! Visit mbta.com for schedules and fares.

"Limited seating available

Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority
Driven by Customer Service

Subscribe to the Journal today!

from 'hiring' to 'hired' in no time.

WickedLocalJobs.com, in partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs, can help you fill those job openings—pronto. When you place a local print ad with us, you can also get widespread online exposure, so it's easier than ever to find the right one.

CALL TODAY TO LEARN MORE. 1-800-624-7355

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

From the Archives of the Cohasset Historical Society

Franics H. Manning and friends circa, 1900.

Those were the days!

Pictured above is one of the photographs we were able to reproduce from glass plates thanks to the generosity of the Community Preservation Fund and attendees at last year's spring Town Meeting.

We have now added to our collection approximately 250 photographs which we plan to have on exhibit at the Pratt Building early next year.

Please stop by 106 South Main St. to see these and other artifacts from our collection.

From the Archives is a weekly feature provided by Cohasset Historical Society.

The Cohasset Historical Society welcomes donations.

If you have something that you would consider donating to our archives please give us a call at 781-383-1434.

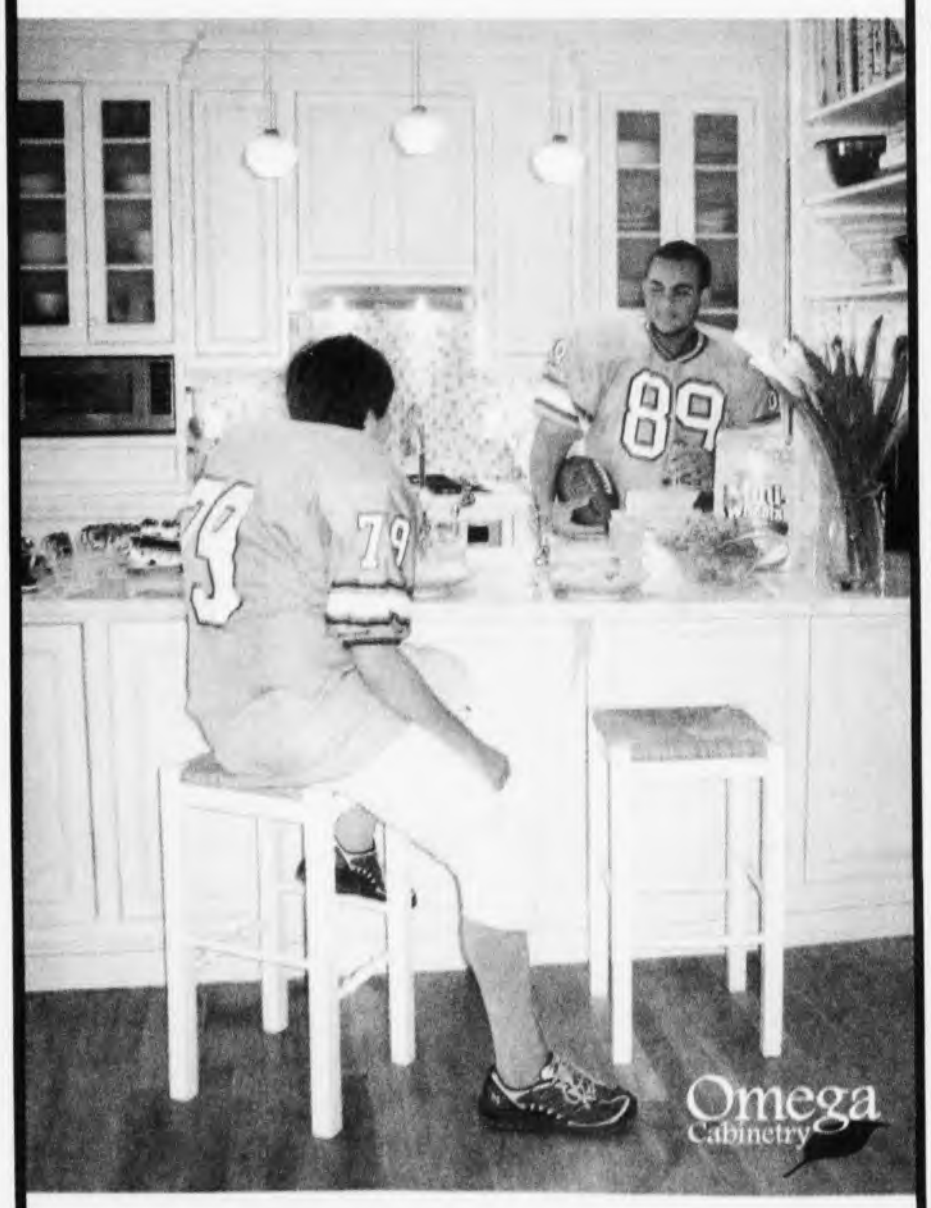
Forest Avenue Sidewalk Celebration is Saturday

The Forest Avenue Sidewalk Celebration will take place from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 27. The schedule of activities is as follows.

Sidewalk Celebration – All events are free from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Activities will be held from 10 a.m. to noon. The opening ceremony, ribbon cutting, and raffle drawing will take place at noon on Surry Drive.

Bike It – Visit 78 Forest Ave., for kids bike decorating, mini race-course and bike helmet safety station. Refreshments and energy bars will be available.

Ride It – Visit 78 Forest Ave., for MBTA train schedules, kids coloring activities and train safety information.



Hike It – Free trail maps will be available, as well as guided tours at 10:30 and 11 a.m., at Wheelwright Park. Hike to and from the Pumpkin Patch on North Main Street. Trail Treats included.

Walk It – Join the Doggie Meet and Greet at Wheelwright Park. Dog treats, biscuits and bandanas will be provided.

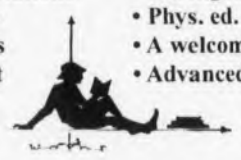
Beach It – Visit 306 Forest Ave., for seaside storytelling and poems, sailboat cookie decorating with colored sugar beach sand. Fresh apples and apple cider will be served. Enjoy the seabirds, rocks and seashells at Rocky Beach.

Play It – Visit Surry Drive for sidewalk chalk, bubbles and street games. Nona's ice cream, food and drinks will be served.

BRING FUN BACK TO THE KITCHEN.

KITCHEN VIEWS

kitchenviews.com



KITCHEN VIEWS CUSTOM
Newton Center 718 Beacon St 617.244.8439

KITCHEN VIEWS AT NATIONAL LUMBER
Berlin 25 Central St 978.838.0810
Mansfield 71 Maple St 508.339.8020
New Bedford 120 Welby Rd 508.990.8020
Newton 15 Needham St 617.244.8020

OPPORTUNITY: noun "The right moment to take action toward a definite goal"
(The American Heritage Dictionary)

Each year Derby Academy enrolls over fifty new students in PreK to Grade 8.

- Small class sizes
- High academic expectations
- Strong arts program
- A safe school campus
- Parental involvement
- Personal attention
- Caring, dedicated teachers
- Phys. ed. and team sports
- A welcoming community
- Advanced technology

The view from here  is forever.

Visit our beautiful 27-acre campus (300+ stadium seat theater, state-of-the-art Science Center, family-style dining room, extensive athletic fields, expanded and remodeled Lower School, etc.) and attend one of our Information Sessions.

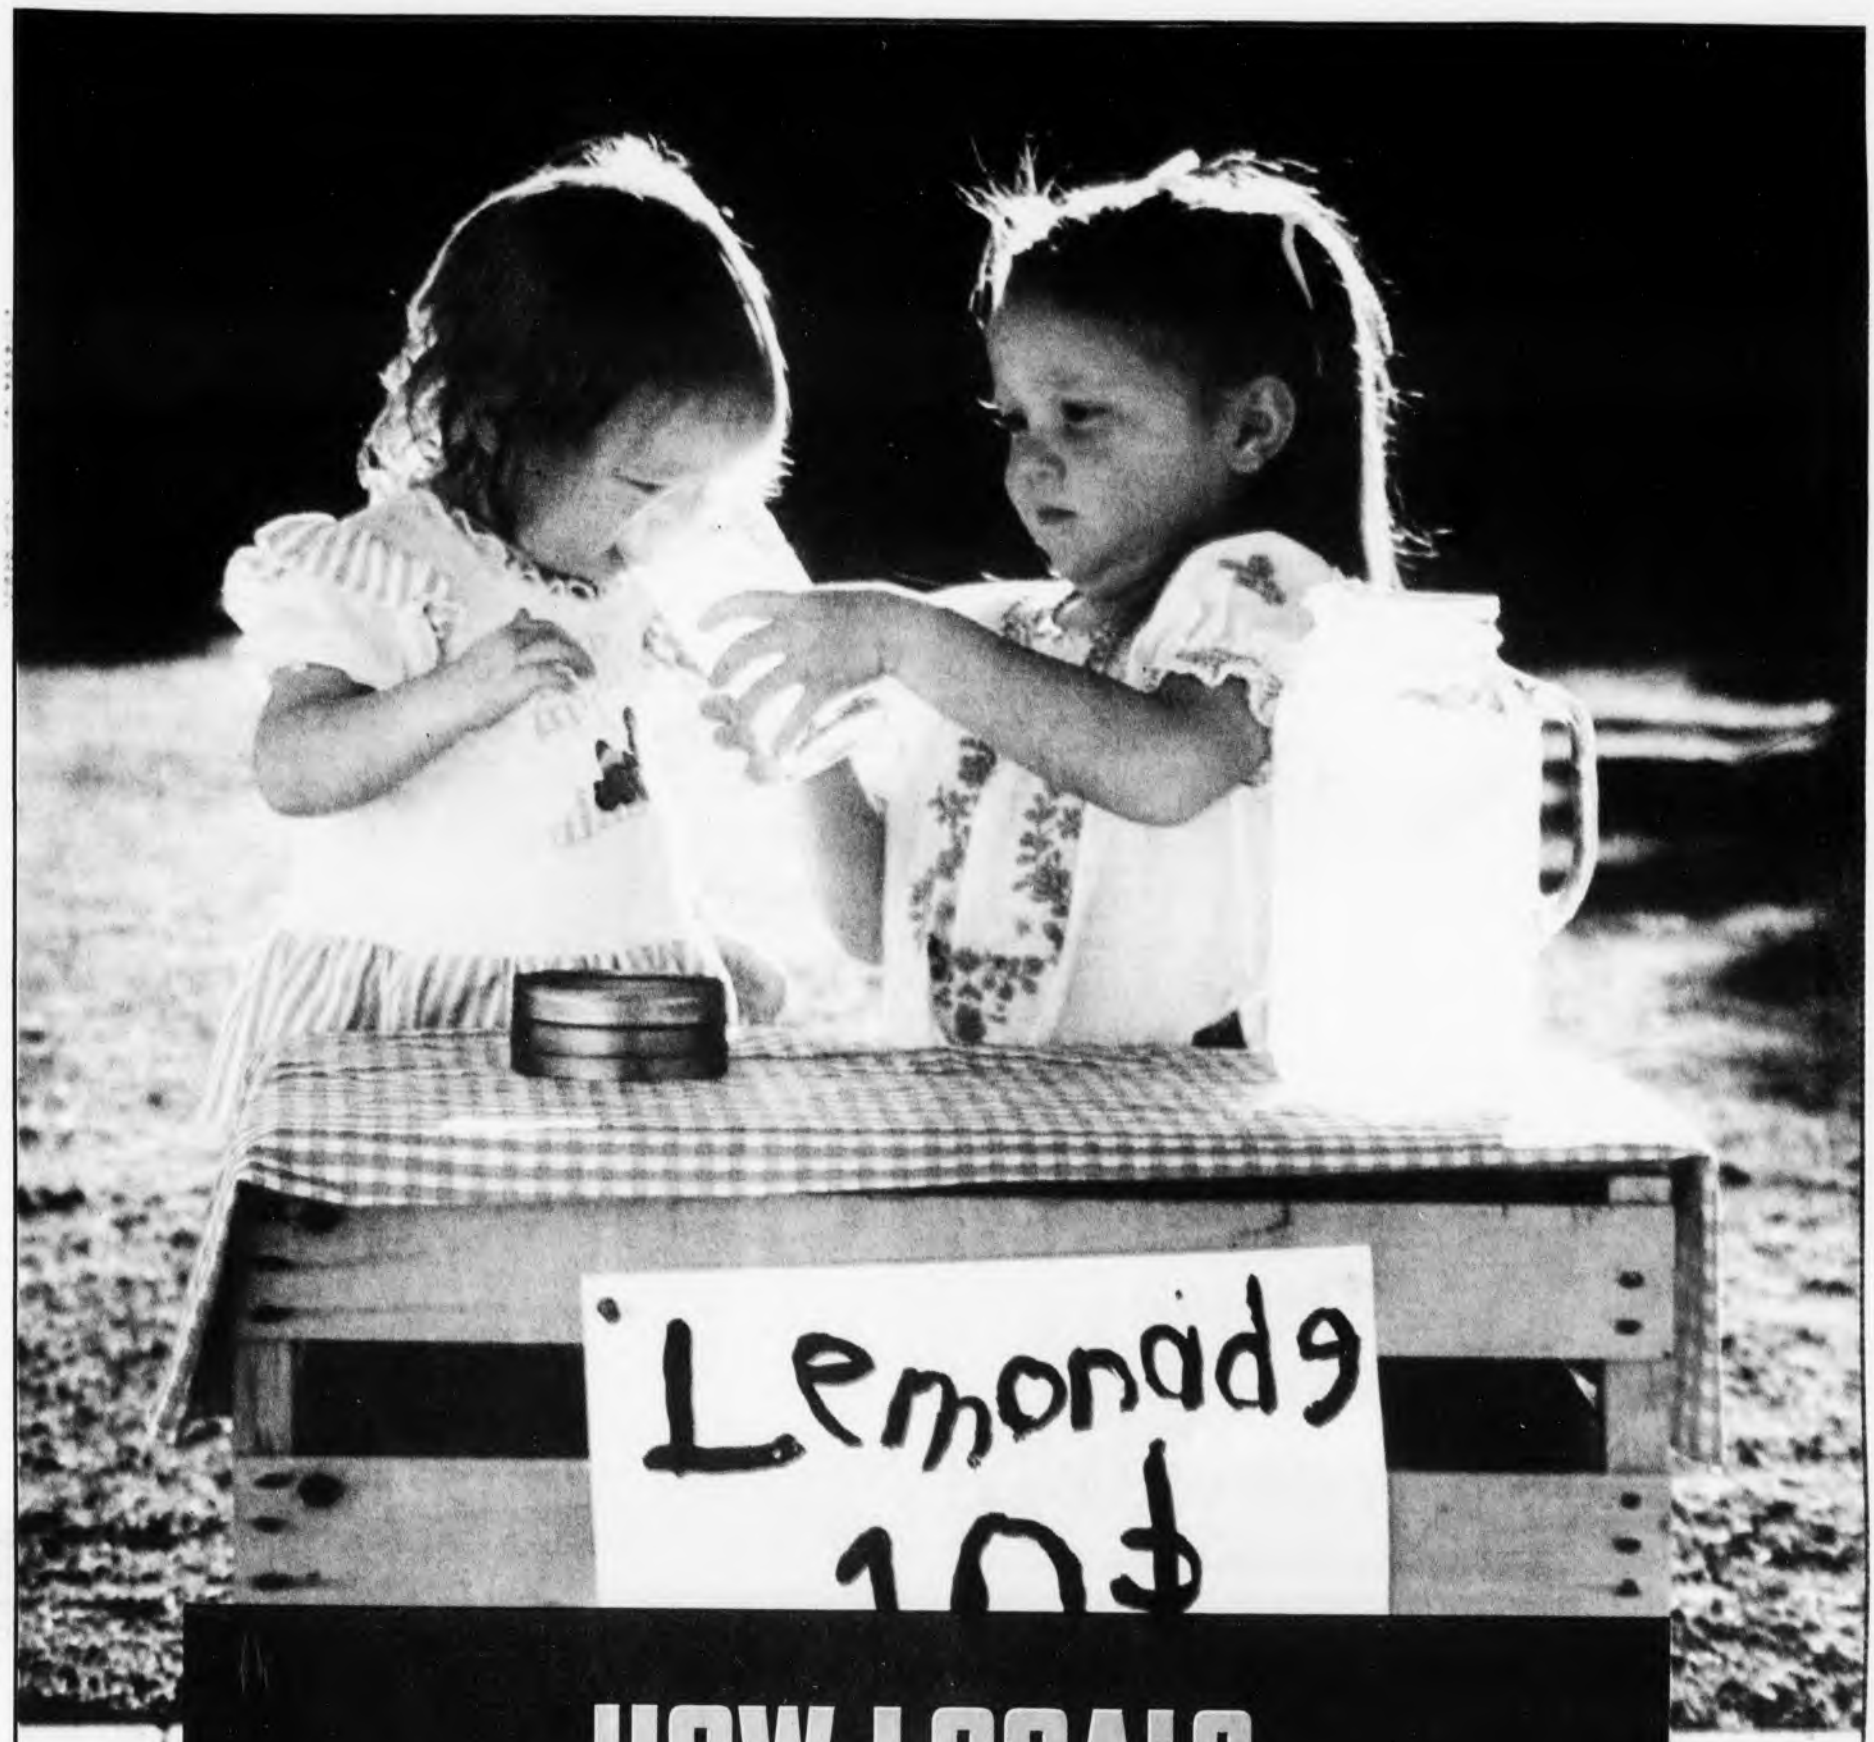
- Grades PreK-8 ~ Tues., Oct. 30, at 9:00 AM
- Grades PreK-8 ~ Sun., Nov. 4, at 2:00 PM

Call for details. 781-749-0746 Ext. 46

Derby Academy
An independent, coed, day school for students in PreK through Grade 8.
56 Burditt Avenue, Hingham
www.derbyacademy.org

"I never thought I could do it!"

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what ENC gave me."
— Maria Rodriguez,
ENC LEAD Program Student



Our LEAD Program can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months by attending class just one night a week.

- ENC provides the personal support and attention that makes all the difference
- Enroll now for November classes!

Call 877-ENC-LEAD or visit us at www.enc.edu

Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
www.enc.edu

HOW LOCAL?

STOPPING FOR LEMONADE EVEN WHEN YOU'RE NOT THIRSTY

LOCAL!

HOW LOCAL? WICKED LOCAL.

Local means something. That's why WickedLocal.com is giving you something to talk about. If local means something to you, get involved. Post photos and videos. Read about local topics and comment on them. Post your event or just see what's going on. Create a blog or just read ours. At WickedLocal.com you can get involved or just take it all in. Go to WickedLocal.com and click on your community. Make WickedLocal.com your hometown home page.

WICKED LOCAL™.com

IT HAS TO BE GOOD TO BE WICKED!

Abbruzzese receives regional recognition

FROM VOLUNTEERISM, PAGE 1

tireless advocate for the senior center. Abbruzzese counts herself in good company, "[Keating] was an essential figure in Cohasset".

Cohasset is a regional standout with the highest number of volunteers when compared to the 11 other towns in the South Shore Elder Service region, which stretches from Quincy to Holbrook to Scituate.

Other than a few staff members, it's mostly volunteers that keep the senior center running, says Abbruzzese, making the volunteers a vital part of the organization.

The Senior Center housed inside the South Shore Community Center across from the Town Common has over a hundred seniors involved in their programs and activities each week. Aerobics, arthritic exercise, knitting group, and book club all meet at the Senior Center regularly. Lunch is served on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. A crowd of 40 regularly attends on Wednesdays for a gourmet lunch served up by the Angel Food Project, a group started out of St. Anthony's Church.

Several times per month workshops and speakers are conducted on subjects relevant to senior citizens. There is an outreach program to help homebound seniors.

"We live in such transient society, a lot of [senior citizens] don't have families living in town or even in the state. They rely on information and services from the center," says Abbruzzese. The Senior Center can fill the gaps for seniors with rides to the grocery store and to appointments or with a volunteer visit to chat and read a book. There is someone to help seniors navigate through the maze of medical insurance, which can be overwhelming.

"There is so much stuff out there that people can help with," says Abbruzzese. She encourages anyone to walk in or call the senior center — the same way she got started over two decades ago. She was looking for a new activity with her kids grown and moved out, "I like to be busy and fill my time…it's a nice little club to belong to."

Linda Ellworthy, director of Elder Affairs, says Abbruzzese is more than a tireless volunteer, she has a way about her that people just can't say no to her. Ellworthy says Abbruzzese has recruited dozens of volunteers to help out at the senior center, "she's a wonderful recipient for this award."

Abbruzzese lends her cooking skills to a senior cooking class and runs a bereavement group for families at St. Anthony's. She organizes a group of 25 people who make homemade items that she brings into the Pine Street Inn on a bi-monthly basis to serve to the homeless. Abbruzzese is also a part of the five-member board organizing the June to October Farmer's Market.

"I like to think of it as collecting frequent flyer points for my ticket to heaven," jokes Abbruzzese.

The Cohasset Elder Affairs mission is to offer outstanding programs and services that provide for the physical, social and emotional needs of our older adults by assisting them to lead independent, stimulating and self-reliant lives as members of the community. Currently, Elder Affairs provides services to more than 1700 seniors.

The senior center is constantly looking for volunteers to share their skills and time. To volunteer or to find more information, please call volunteer coordinator Martha Horsefield at 781-383-9112.

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

Roy Colella and Kaye Kelley rehearse a scene from "Fiddler on the Roof" for Cohasset Cabaret, which is on stage Nov. 2 & 3. Proceeds benefit the Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs.

Cabaret tickets are still available

Cohasset's Cabaret fundraiser will take place Nov. 2 and 3, at 8 p.m., with a social and raffle hour starting at 7 p.m. Many people in town have attended the Hingham Cabaret fundraiser that has been selling out to crowds for 45 years. Those who have enjoyed that show will recognize some of the performers who will share their talent with Cohasset too. St. Anthony Parish and the Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs are joining forces to present an evening of entertainment, food and frolic at St. Anthony Parish Hall. There will be show tunes from "Chicago," "Cats" and "Fiddler on the Roof"; and glimpses of Marilyn Monroe, Johnny Cash and the Dream Girls. Rich Hebert will be a special feature of the show as he has won the Bay Area Critics Circle Award in Boston for his performance in "Les Miserables," has two Grammy Award-winning CDs, been in six Broadway shows and numerous television shows.

People can purchase a table with friends and bring their favorite goodies to munch on while the South Shore cast members sing and dance. There will be a cash bar where alcoholic beverages and soft drinks will be available. Those who plan ahead can order an already prepared "just for you" gourmet snack box for $10. While at the Cabaret, make sure to buy a few raffle tickets and take a chance at bringing something special home.

Tickets will be available during the week at St. Anthony Parish Hall and Cohasset Elder Affairs office at South Shore Community Center, Main Street. Cost of tickets is $25. Tickets may also be purchased Mondays, Oct. 22 and Oct. 29, 5 to 10 p.m., at St. Anthony Parish Hall. For more information on ticket sales, call 781-383-0752. Proceeds benefit the Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs.

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

- Installs over new or existing gutters
- Keeps you safe from falling
- Lifetime Warranty

The Gutter Experts: New Repair Replacement

$250 OFF LIMITED TIME OFFER

FREE IN-HOME ESTIMATE

No Payments for One Year†

Code 121

Call the Gutter Experts Today!

1-800-924-3563

www.GutterHelmetNE.com

Gutter Helmet NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

BBB

*75 ft. Min. Call for more details. Offer valid at time of estimate only. Not valid with any other offers and/or promotions. † For qualified buyers. Financing provided by third party provider.

Lic# MA 116535 RI 7259 CT 0586725

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

Hearing Problems?

Digital® Hearing Instruments

SALE 2 for Only $1,990!

After this sale, this model will be priced at our regular 2 for $3,000.

Fully Programmable AudiD In-The-Ear Model • Offer expires 10/31 and cannot be combined with other offers.

Hearing Solutions Starting at ONLY $495

MA Analog FS Model

Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 10.31.07

Great Selection of AMPLIFIED TELEPHONES!!

You will hear clearly with any of these amplified telephones.

Free Hearing Test and Comprehensive Hearing Evaluation will reveal the source of your hearing problem.

Don't trust your hearing to anyone but the best!

If you want to improve the quality of your life by bringing back the joy of better hearing trust Mass Audiology. For over 40 years Mass Audiology has helped thousands and thousands regain that wonderful connection with life. You can trust Mass Audiology because we offer leading edge personal hearing systems. And just as importantly a caring and dedicated staff of State licensed specialists that average over 17 years of individual experience. Our superior staff insures your satisfaction.

Mass Audiology, which is owned and directed by a Doctor of Audiology, is backed by nationwide service. We also offer the convenience of in-home hearing tests that are free for seniors and are totally without obligation.

Experience the Mass Audiology difference. The best products. The best specialists. The best overall care that you deserve. Call today to arrange a free hearing consultation at a location near you. 1-866-536-4327

Nationwide Service ★ Lifetime Care ★ American Owned & American Made ★ Advanced Hearing Technology

Mass. Audiology Personal Hearing Systems

1-866-536-HEAR (4327)

www.massaudiology.com

Call today for a FREE Hearing Test in your home or in the office nearest you.

All major insurances accepted including GIC, 1st Seniority, BlueCare 65, Mass Health, and Medicaid.

Owned and Directed by a Doctor of Audiology

WINTER IS COMING

Call 781-335-8703

FREE ESTIMATES

For Driveways, Parking Areas, Tennis Courts

Over 45 years

HANABURY & SONS ASPHALT SPECIALISTS

Coming Soon…

Camilley's Closet

Exclusive retailer of:

Festa T-shirts, Karma Threads, Violet Love Headbands, All the Rage Jewelry, Pasion Argentina (amazing handmade leather bags!!) and DiZonda (more amazing handmade leather and metal jewelry from Argentina!)

It's better (shopping!!) in the Closet! Be there, in the Square!

88R North Street, (behind Hair Flair), Hingham, MA

Denise Bruce • Camille David, owners

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Doors & Windows, Patio Doors and Entry Doors.

CLIMATE Door & Window

276 Weymouth St., Rockland

781-681-7007

Financing Available

Andersen

Replacement Windows and Patio Doors

Community Center

Halloween fun with Mary Brennock

The South Shore Community Center, 3 North Main St., Cohasset, will offer the following fall programs.

For more information or to register, visit the center, call 781-383-0088, or go to southshorecommunitycenter.com

CHILDREN

Halloween Fun – Children 4 to 6 can join Mary Brennock from 3:15 to 5 p.m., Monday, Oct. 29, to celebrate Halloween with face painting, music, storytelling and games. Children may come in costume if they wish. The cost is $20 for members and $22 for nonmembers.

Che-Mystery – Mad Science of Greater Boston will conduct this program for children in kindergarten through grade 3, from 3:30 to 4:40 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 7. Children will explore one of the most exciting and fundamental sciences by experimenting with and observing various chemicals, potions and solutions in action. Fee: $15.

Puppet Shows – Pat Boylan will present the following puppet shows each month at 10:30 a.m., Friday: "The Fifth Witch," Nov. 2. The cost is $3.50 per person at the door.

Gym Dandy – Session I programs meet each Wednesday: Movers and Shakers, for children 2 and older, meets from 9 to 9:45 a.m.; Toddlers and Tumblers, for children 1 to 11/2 meets from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. The cost is $192 for members and $224 for nonmembers.

ADULTS

Pediatric CPR – Join Linda Farrag R.N., from 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesdays, Nov. 7 and 14 to learn basic rescue techniques and CPR, as well as how to make a safer environment infants and children. The cost is $55 for members and $60 for nonmembers.

Digital Photography – Join Laura Sinclair, a professional photographer with Community Newspaper Company, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Wednesdays, Oct. 17 and 24. This workshop, for the absolute beginner, is for those individuals who recently purchased a digital camera or are thinking about doing so. This class will demonstrate the marvelous capabilities of digital photography. Students are encouraged to bring their digital cameras and manuals to class. The following subjects will be covered: how the digital camera relates to computers, pixels, resolution, storage mediums, battery systems, downloading techniques, the use of menus and possible settings, printing options and the basics of image editing. The cost is $49 for members and $52 for nonmembers.

Holidays Ideas – Join Chef Maryann Saporito Boothroyd, from 6:30 to 8:45 p.m., Monday, Nov. 5, who will show you how to make wild rice Crespelles with mushrooms, duck prosciutto and spinach; grilled and roasted lamb sirloin with rosemary, mustard, and red wine sauce; and a winter salad of romaine and radicchio with roasted beets and granjes figs and fried goat cheese. The cost is $50 for members and 55 for nonmembers.

Wicked Local site debuts in Cohasset

GateHouse Media New England has transformed its TownOnline websites into the new Wicked Local network of 158 hyper-local community sites.

Developed from the prize-winning Wicked Local Plymouth, each town-specific site features a combination of news from GateHouse newspapers, opportunities for user participation, deep community information and lots of advertising from local merchants.

Spread across eastern Massachusetts from the North Shore to the tip of Cape Cod and out to Worcester County in the west, each Wicked Local site allows a visitor to:

- Read the local news, comment on it, and discuss it with other citizens.
- Get local information about schools, government, organizations, and history.
- Share photographs and videos.
- Read blogs from GateHouse reporters, editors, and community members.

"We want each of our sites to be thought of as a one-stop resource for living in that community," said Kirk Davis, President and CEO of GateHouse Media New England. "With deep roots in every one of our communities and the cutting-edge technology platform, we feel we are in the best position to become that one-stop resource in all our cities and towns."

The 158 town-specific sites join GateHouse Media's existing Wicked Local verticals, which include Wicked Local Homes for real estate, Wicked Local Wheels for auto sales and Wicked Local Jobs, in partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs, for employment.

The goal of Wicked Local is to go beyond being just "the newspaper online," explained Anne Eisenmenger, Vice President of Audience Development for GateHouse Media New England. "We've designed Wicked Local to be a forum for debate, a central local marketplace, a place for neighbors to exchange information about milestones and happenings. A place to brag. A place to grieve. A place to argue. A place to come together."

In line with that philosophy, the navigational "tabs" on the site do not read like the sections of a newspaper. While "News" contains most of the relevant newspaper's content (and more), "Sports," "Fun," "Blogs" and "Town/City Info" go beyond traditional newspaper fare.

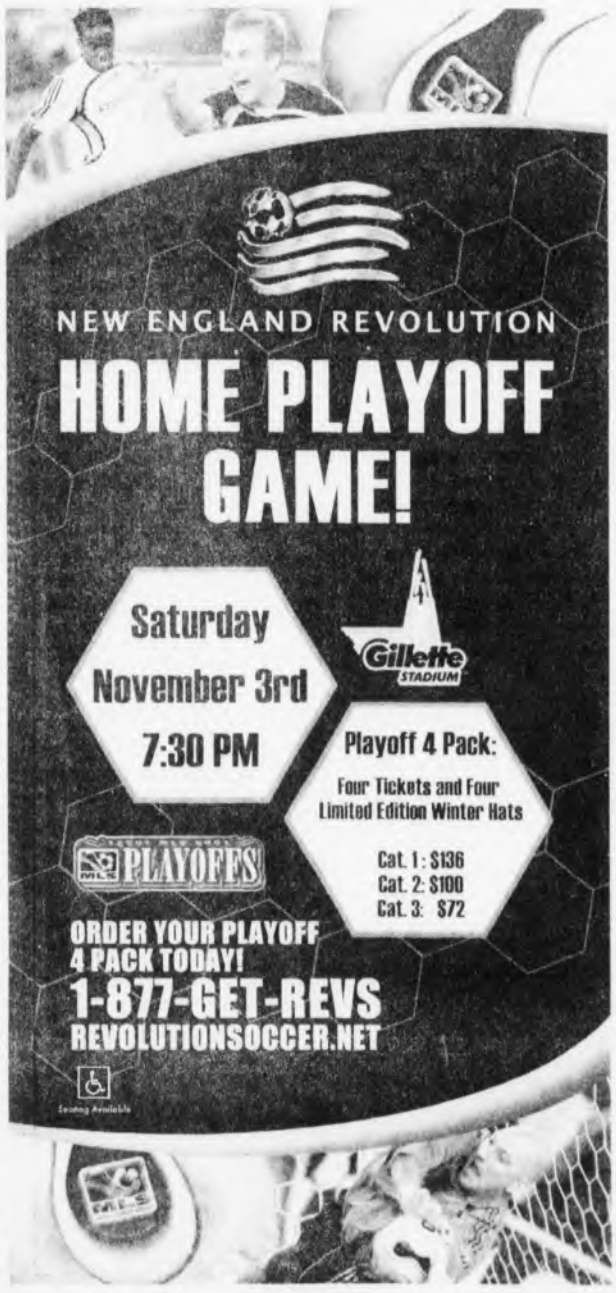
At the same time, GateHouse Media New England — with its eight daily newspapers and more than 100 weekly titles throughout eastern Massachusetts — has the on-the-ground reporting resources to provide timely, accurate, professional news reporting in all 158 Wicked Local communities.

The new Wicked Local sites replace the Town Online websites previously maintained by the GateHouse weekly newspapers. The GateHouse daily newspapers retain their individual websites, working synergistically with the Wicked Local sites.

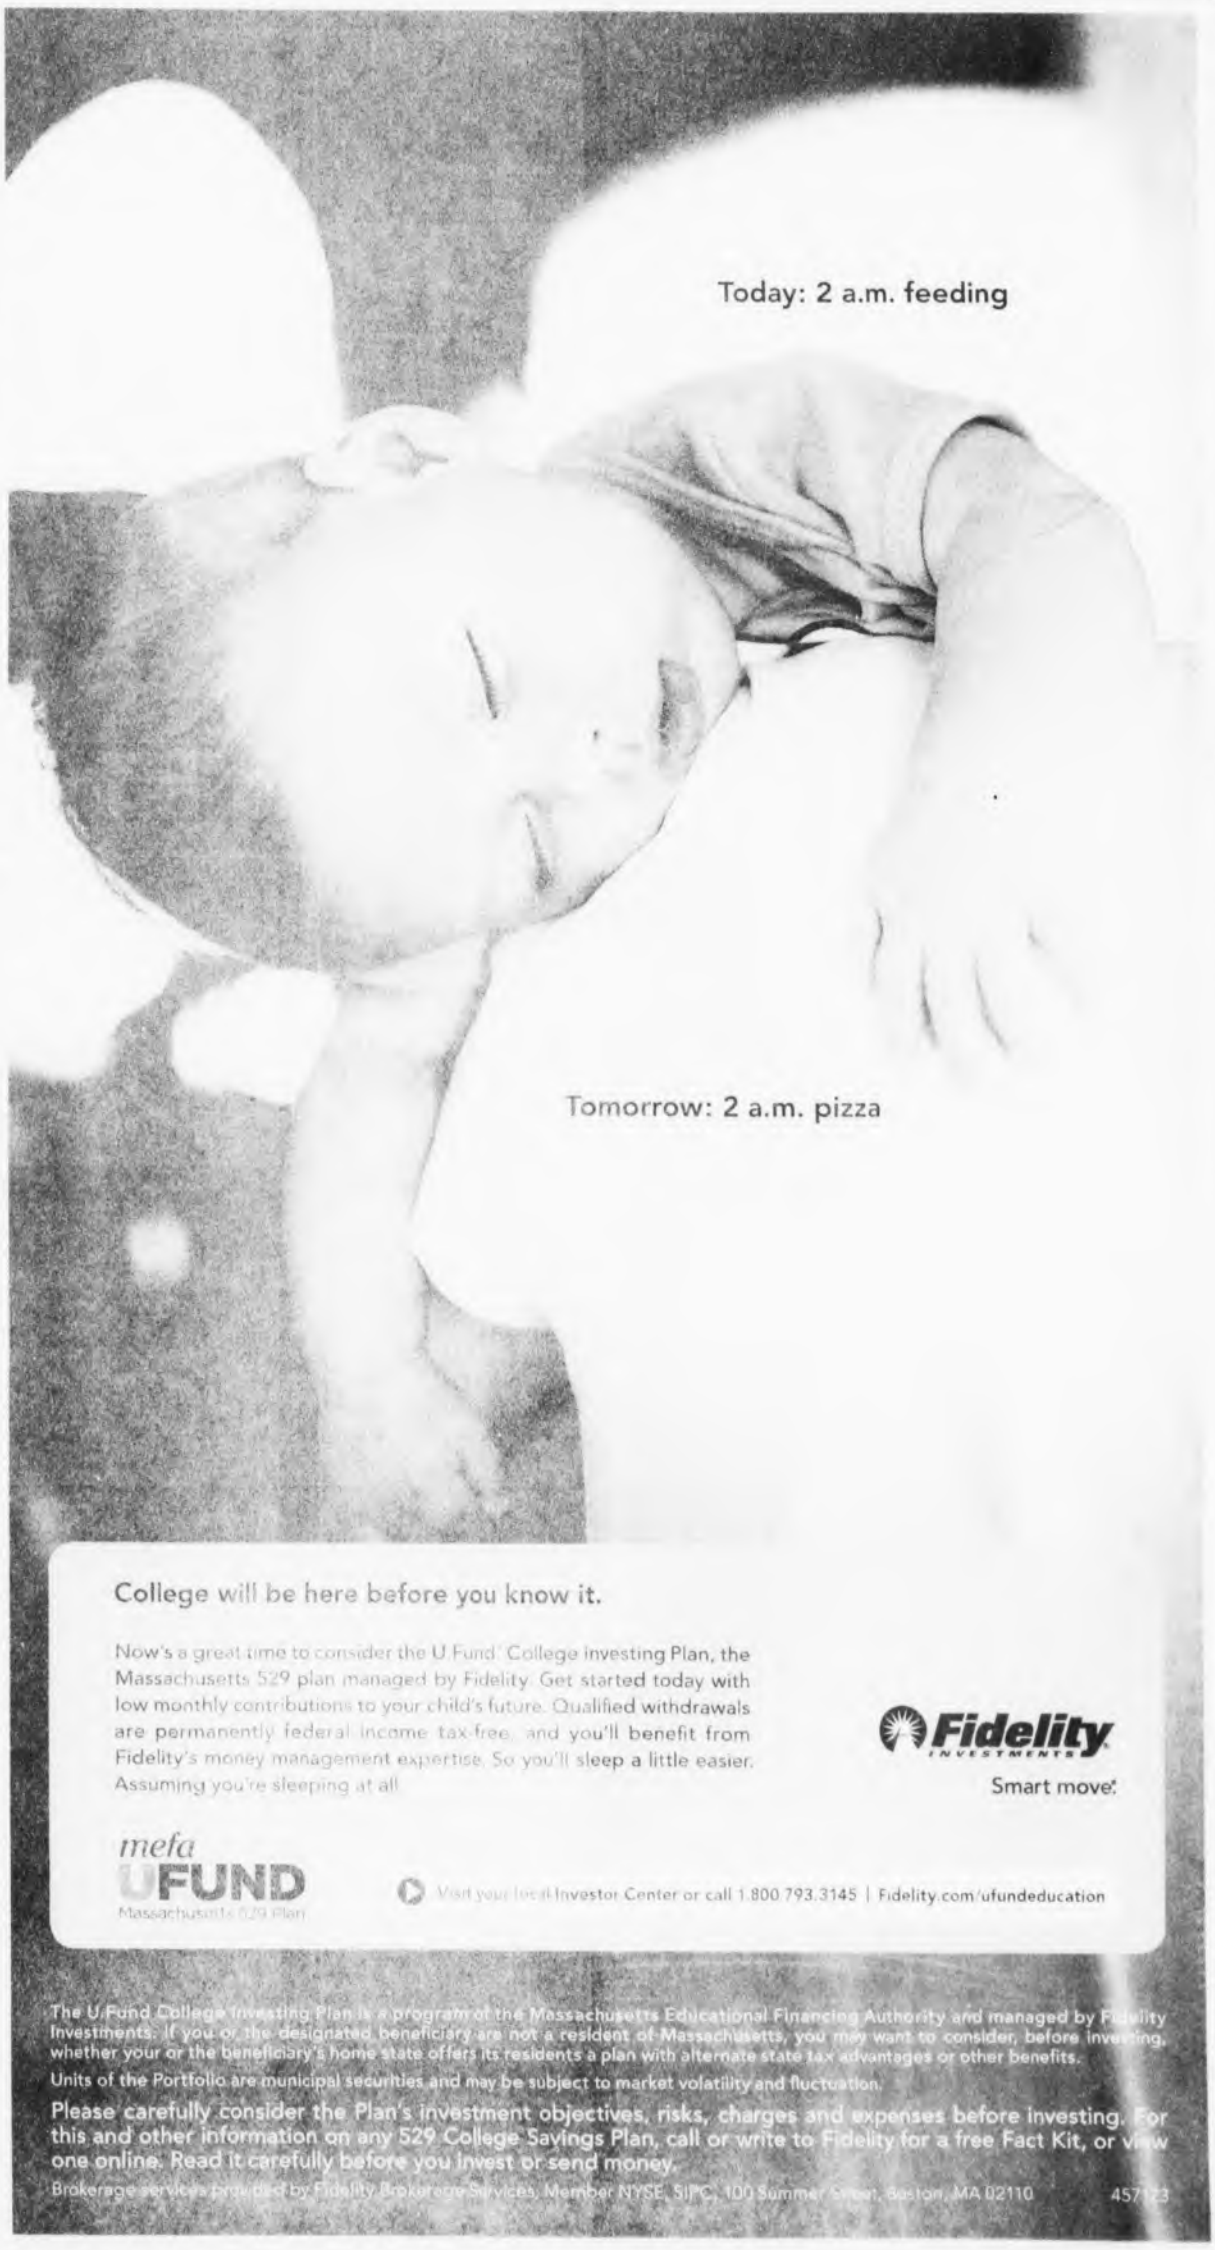
The original Wicked Local Plymouth site, launched in the spring of 2006, was named Website of the Year by Suburban Newspapers of America in 2006 and Best Local Community Website in 2007. Also this year, Wicked Local Plymouth was one of 32 websites from around the world honored by Editor & Publisher and MediaWeek magazines with a prestigious EPpy award.

While changing technology platforms to expand Wicked Local from three to 158 sites, GateHouse endeavored to retain the original Wicked Local functionality and add some new features, such as the ability for users to post video and start their own blogs.

To see the new websites, go to www.wickedlocal.com and, from there, to "Wicked Local Towns," and click on your community.



GateHouse Media New England publishes 127 daily and weekly newspapers reaching more than 1.7 million readers through eastern Massachusetts each week. The eight daily newspapers include The Patriot Ledger of Quincy, The Enterprise of Brockton and The MetroWest Daily News. GateHouse Media New England also publishes numerous specialty publications.



GateHouse Media, Inc., headquartered in Fairport, N.Y., is one of the largest publishers of locally based print and online media in the United States as measured by its 86 daily publications. GateHouse Media currently serves local audiences of more than 10 million per week across 19 states through hundreds of community publications and local websites. GateHouse Media is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "GHS."

For more information regarding GateHouse Media and to be added to our email distribution list, please visit: www.gatehousemedia.com.

OPINION

EDITORIAL

Quiet trains

All told, we have probably used more newsprint covering Greenbush over the past 15 years than any other issue.

From the get-go, restoration of the Greenbush — the third leg of the Old Colony project — was fraught with controversy.

Going forward, we will bet there will be more train stories to cover as Cohasset and the other four towns along the line get used to a new neighbor, who for many is quite literally in their own backyards.

Next week that new neighbor moves in for good. There will be those that will continue to argue whether the train with its half-billion-dollar price tag was worth the cost not only in terms of dollars but also in environmental impacts.

However, we believe that everyone — whether pro, con or on the fence about Greenbush — wants the train to be as safe as possible.

The Greenbush towns have banded together and successfully applied to the Federal Railroad Administration for the corridor to be "whistle-free." That means that train whistles will not sound routinely as the train passes through grade crossings.

Supplemental safety measures (which cost some $80 million) that, authorities believe, are as effective as a train whistle had to be put in place at those crossings for the FRR to consider the whistle-waiver.

Those safety enhancements included:

• Construction of four, grade separation projects (tunnels, bridges) eliminating eight grade crossings

• Closing seven additional grade crossings

• Installing four-quadrant gates with presence detection or curbed medians at the 23 remaining grade crossings

As you can see, Greenbush's being a whistle-free zone was not accomplished without planning. In fact, Greenbush was constructed from the start not to have whistles blaring through the 28 remaining grade crossings, many of which are just a few feet from houses.

Quiet zones are not unusual; they exist in other places in Massachusetts and across the country. What makes Greenbush somewhat unique is that is was actually constructed with the Quiet Zone in mind, and unlike other places, will not have to retrofit grade crossings with enhanced safety measures.

Whistles have been sounding on the Greenbush test runs conducted over the past several months. All the trains will be equipped with whistles that the engineers can use at their discretion. In other words, if an engineer sees someone or a vehicle on or near the tracks, he or she will sound the whistle.

However, with that being said, some citizens in the five towns and some public safety officials still have legitimate concerns that train horns are a safety measure that warns motorists from afar, giving them time to prepare. The fact that a whistle would blow once someone or a vehicle is on the tracks may be too late — it takes a mile for a train to fully stop.

Starting next week, we won't be hearing "that lonesome whistle blow" but we all need to be aware that a train can come down those tracks at any time!

As Operation Lifesaver is a national, non-profit, public education program on railroad safety, says, "always expect a train!"

MEETINGS

The following meetings are posted at Town Hall:
Advisory Committee, Nov. 6, 7 p.m.
Alternative Energy Committee, Nov. 6 and Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.
Assessors, Oct. 30, 4 p.m.
Cable Advisory Committee, Nov. 1, 7:30 p.m.
Capital Budget Committee, Oct. 29, Nov. 5 & 6, 7:30 p.m.
Cohasset Housing Partnership, 6:30 p.m., Nov. 13 at the high school (before Town Meeting)
Conservation Commission, Nov. 1, 7 p.m.
Library Trustees, Nov. 14, 7 p.m.
Planning Board, Nov. 7, 7 p.m., public hearing Special Town Meeting Articles 3 & 5
Recreation Commission, Nov. 7, 6:30 p.m.
School Committee, Nov. 7, 7 p.m. at the high school
Selectmen, Oct. 29 & Nov. 5, 7 p.m.
Stormwater Committee, Nov. 5, 7 p.m.
Town Hall Design Selection Committee, Nov. 5, 6 p.m.
Water Commission Nov. 24, 6 p.m., King Street plant.
ZBA, Oct. 29 & 30, & Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m.
All meetings take place at Town Hall unless otherwise noted. Call the Town Clerk's office at 781-383-4100 for updates and additions.

Tell us what you think!

The Mariner welcomes for publication signed letters to the editor that include the writer's address and, for verification purposes only, a phone number. Unsigned letters and letters with names withheld by request or pen names will not be printed. Email your letters to: mford@cnc.com. Deadline for all letters in noon on the Wednesday prior to publication date.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Little Harbor tidal flow and Cat Dam

TO THE EDITOR:

Re: "Inner Little Harbor gets close look" article in Oct 19, 2007, Cohasset Mariner.

For those who are interested, a few clarifications may be helpful. The tide gates at "Cat Dam" do NOT slow tidal flow into inner Little Harbor; they only slow the receding tidal flow out of inner Little Harbor, thus maintaining water cover in inner Little Harbor when the tide gates are lowered as intended and designed.

Steve Brown spoke on the behalf of 12 individuals, representing six families, three of whom are NOT abutters on inner Little Harbor. Only one of these families provided financial support for the recently required maintenance work on the tide gates at Cat Dam. There are 19 families, 18 of whom are direct abutters, who contributed to the maintenance of the tide gates. It does not require a great leap of faith to conclude that those who did not contribute would prefer that the tide gates deteriorate to the point that they are no longer functional.

Chamillard indicated a willingness to evaluate changes to the tide gate-operating program (opening and closing) to see if there was any effect on the annual, seasonal algae bloom. He did not agree to "opening the gates up to six days a month", although there may well be some months when the algae is most sensitive to less water (i.e., May and June) and more than six days a month might be effective in reducing algae presence. The algae appear in specific areas of the 18-acre inner Little Harbor and are seasonal, lasting about eight to 10 weeks in the late spring and early summer. These details are being discussed with the interested parties.

Chamillard also stated that his group is ready and willing to re-constitute a democratically elected committee, representing all direct abutters to work on the most effective ways to insure the continuing health of inner Little Harbor. It is anticipated that this committee should be up and running before the end of the year.

The major cause of the annual algae blooms has little, if anything, to do with flushing. It is the direct result of nutrient flow into inner Little Harbor from septic leach fields in the Little Harbor watershed, storm-water run-off, and tributary flow into inner Little Harbor, i.e., Richardson Brook. Richardson Brook drains farmland which is a prime source of nutrients. The sewering of the watershed and improvements in storm-water flow treatment and catch basins for that flow will have a significant positive impact on the quality of Little Harbor water. Baseline testing of the Little Harbor waters will be done prior to any effect from sewering, and further testing will be continued for at least five years after homes begin to hook up to the new sewer.

John Beck
44 Nichols Road

SEE LETTERS, PAGE 14

Village, harbor development worries

COMMENTARY

GEORGINA MASSA

This is an open letter to the citizens of Cohasset regarding the proposed amendments to the zoning bylaws for the village and harbor areas. If there were any two places that should remain un-violated by the growing and seemingly constant stream of non-stop construction in the town, it would be the village and harbor. Since these are considered sort of the "crown jewels" of Cohasset, we should be vigilant to nip in the bud any attempts to change the laws protecting these two areas. And now just such an occasion has again arisen.

On Wednesday, Nov. 7, there is a hearing at 7:30 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the Town Hall, open to the public, concerning a citizens' petition proposing changes to the harbor bylaw. And on Tuesday, Nov. 13, there is a "special" town meeting at 7 p.m. at the high school gymnasium for the public to vote on both the village and harbor proposed amendments. It's important that we stop this at its point of conception before a toehold is gained, opening the door to more and more development. As it always seems to be: First a toehold, then a foothold, and then a strong hold. Cohasset citizens have the opportunity to vote against these amendments and protect the historical integrity of our town now.

There have already been the inroads of such an assault in the village in the form of a crude hacking off of a beautiful rock outcropping at St. Stephen's Church to accommodate an unnecessary sidewalk. (I personally have never seen anyone use it). And the unused sidewalk, in turn, has made driving through the village an obstacle course, and dangerous. The new brick crosswalks are already sinking into the streets. And there is an ungainly, out-of-sync building in the process of being squeezed in not too far from the charm of the truly neo-classical New England common with its traditional architecture.

If anyone would like to have a preview of what could happen to the harbor, just take a look at the nondescript jumble of ill-fitting buildings that have recently begun to overwhelm the Scituate harbor area.

There are practical considerations as well. The last thing we need in the Town is any more drain on the main water supply, since for quite a while now many Cohasset residents have had contaminated water coming into their homes. I was told that one of the reasons for this is the increased demand on the supply. And though we are constantly being held-up and rerouted by the water department's projects devastating our streets, heralded by a sign promising "improvements;" the end result of all this vaunted improvement is unusable brown water coming through many of our spigots. Do we really want to worsen the situation by unnecessarily increasing the population?

I also think it's safe to say that we are all "construction-weary" by now. The dust and the dirt, the traffic tie-ups and detours, the maddening noise have all taken their toll in the past decade or so. Long-time residents

SEE MASSA, PAGE 14

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company,165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons. Dorothy Dinsmore, E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com
The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.
Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

Start up will be in several phases

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

Greenbush — There is hardly a person in Town who does not know that the Greenbush is about ready to start operation next week. It just does not seem like two years and 10 months since we have started working on this project. Time has just flown for both of us. We both have had a lot of fun and a few hard times working on the project on behalf of our Town. We've had the chance to meet a lot on new people and answer their questions and concerns. We have done our best to work on your behalf to make the Greenbush as good as it can be for the Town of Cohasset. The Selectmen and the Town Manager have given us their strong support, for which we are grateful. Thank you Cohasset for the opportunity to work with so many great people. It has made a difference.

The start up of the Greenbush line will be in several phases. The first, is a private fund raiser that will take place on Saturday, Oct. 27th. The Friends of the Scituate Library in concert with the Cohasset Historical Society have leased a train from the MBTA for a fundraiser ride from Greenbush to Boston, a 2-hour layover, and return trip to Scituate. As we understand, this trip has proven to be very popular and is sold out. But, this will be the First, First train ride for those who stepped up to support two good local causes.

The "First" train on Tuesday, Oct. 30th will be a grand affair. It will begin in Boston loaded with VIPs and leave South Station at 9:26 a.m.. It will make stops at Weymouth Landing, East Weymouth, and Hingham prior to its arrival at Cohasset Station at 10:57 a.m.. The train will be welcomed by the Cohasset High School Band. The MBTA will have light refreshments and commemorative gifts at our station for everyone. The station platform will be festooned with decorative bunting in honor of the special day. The Key VIPs will leave the train for a brief ribbon cutting ceremony to officially open our station and will promptly return to the train. Due to the tight schedule, the selected Cohasset residents with prearranged train passes will then board for the trip to Greenbush for the Grand Opening of the Greenbush Rail Line.

COURTESY PHOTO

The sign announcing the parking lot is for commuter rail only will soon become a familiar sight.

There will also be a "Second First" train, immediately behind the VIP "First" train which anyone can board free of charge to the Grand Opening ceremony at Greenbush. At the conclusion of the ceremony each train will retrace its steps and return all to the station of their choice. If you are planning on attending, make sure you are early.

Then of course, revenue service starts the next day, Wednesday Oct. 31st. (That means you pay for the ride and you pay for parking.) So that's what's in store for next week.

Lots to be done, yet — Last week the Town received a letter from the MBTA giving their list of "Open Items" for Greenbush completion. These are both large and small tasks that have never been completed. We did take exception to their list in that we felt that they omitted a large number of tasks that still need to be completed. Perhaps the biggest issue is the additional work that the MBTA needs to do on Route 3A between King Street and the station. The Cohasset Mitigation Agreement calls for the MBTA to provide a traffic light at the entrance on Route 3A. This was approved by Mass Highway Department on April 28, 2005. Since then the MBTA has made little visible progress. So, we will be facing up to a year of rail service without a traffic light at the station entrance. The Cohasset Police Department is very concerned about the safety of making left turn in the evening into the southbound rush hour traffic. The MBTA is also telling the Town that they won't complete the widening of Route 3A at Lower King Street until sometime in 2008.

The Town Manager has written a letter to the Greenbush Project expressing our concerns about the safety implications of postponing this work. We also included an updated list of specific places where the MBTA needs to finish or correct their work.

More on Horns — Last week we heard a news broadcast on a Boston news station saying that a Scituate Fire representative was not aware that there would be no horns on the Greenbush. We were flabbergasted at this statement. We have been directly involved in the Greenbush Project since the late 1990's. At that time anyone associated project knew that the design from the get-go was to be hornless. In Cohasset, both the fire and police departments participated in the mitigation meetings. We assume that Scituate had similar representation in their deliberations.

The facts are that the Greenbush is a totally different rail system than would have been designed to operate with horns. Many, many extra safety features have been built into this system simply because it was designed to be hornless. Things such as closed crossings, quad gates, road median dividers, and special train control systems, etc. Another reported misconception is that the FRA (Federal Railroad Administration) forced us to have a hornless system. Not true! A hornless system must be requested by the communities through which it operates. All five Greenbush towns requested that the FRA grant a hornless waiver. After this request is made, the FRA evaluates the system, looking for these added safety features. Without them we would not have received our hornless permit.

Now for the big news. Cohasset and the other four Greenbush towns have just voted among themselves to officially request that the MBTA blow the horns for Halloween only. Scituate will make the request to the MBTA on behalf of all the other towns.

Tom Gruber, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Affairs. Email: cgbaffairs@townofcohasset.org

Mark Brennan, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Engineering. Email: cgbengineering@townofcohasset.org

When penguins start trash talking

THE FAR SIDE OF PERFECT

DIANE K. DANIELSON

As a writer, critics come with the territory, especially since the bulk of my written work involves two hot-button topics: generational and gender issues in the workplace. Depending on how controversial an angle I cover, the publication's "Letters to the Editor" section, my inbox and/or blog comments can overflow with individuals challenging my point of view.

I've always found it important to hear different opinions on any issue, even if they oppose my own. In fact, sometimes at night to liven things up, I might post a tidbit on my blog questioning whether Boomers broke the generational contract by leaving our society in worse shape than when they got it. Usually, it's only a few minutes before someone from that generation, who forgot to take their Ambien pill and somehow mastered these new-fangled computer thingies, will blast off an email or comment about how my generation, X, and the one younger than me, Y, are ungrateful, overly-entitled whiners. Now, I'm kidding here, because in this column, that's what I do to make a point. The point this time is how, through constructive debate, everyone can learn and evolve.

Similarly, if I write something in support of women in the workplace, I will invariably get a 3,000-word email, or two or three, about how the whole glass ceiling and gender gap doesn't actually exist and I'm part of a conspiracy to emasculate men. Individuals who have interesting, albeit creative arguments on this point, can usually be convinced to at least consider the possibility that one might be able to support women without actively being against men. Of course, there are others who clearly have been wronged by women their entire lives and while I am sympathetic to their plight, there is simply no use attempting to reason with them. Instead, I tell them that I'm really part of a super-secret plot to make women and minorities so dominant in our society, that all the best universities will desperately need white males by the time my son is ready to apply. So far, I've only had one response back inquiring where he could get more information on this. Again I'm kidding, but this time only about the last sentence.

However, this week a different type of critic appeared online at the Cohasset Mariner Web site, in the comment area at the bottom of my last column at www.wickedlocal.com/cohasset. This critic clearly had some very strong opinions about me personally, as well as my writing capabilities. Unlike my normal critics, there was neither an intellectual challenge to an idea or something specific I had written, nor were they willing to sign their name to it. Instead, it was an anonymous personal attack meant to slander, to harm my reputation, and to convince the Mariner to drop my column.

I have requested that the comment remain visible on the Web site. Most Web sites moderate and delete personal attacks and then ban the offending commenter or take other legal action. As mentioned above, I believe in a person's right to their opinions. In fact, I'll be the first to admit that sometimes I'm not as funny as I would like to be. But, there are days when I wake up to find that there are things happening in our world that are just not funny. And, cyberbullying is one of them.

Slandering someone with the intent to harm their reputation or influence behavior, whether it's spoken or written online, can be a form of bullying. In light of recent events at our high school, and the fact it is National Bullying Prevention Awareness Week; for me to ignore this incident would be a missed opportunity to create awareness of a new and emerging societal problem.

To the Mariner readers, I ask that you take some time in the next week to speak to your children about cyberbullying. Adult online bullying is prevalent and possibly dangerous, as demonstrated in a Forbes cover story earlier this month. But, it's also a reality for our children. Club Penguin, a popular Web site for younger kids, has protocols for reporting penguins that bully, use foul language, or otherwise break the Penguin Code. As our children grow older and are no longer talking about or through penguins, the Web sites have less protections, the potential for abuse increases, and the consequences become much more dire.

Start a discussion by asking your child if they are aware of anyone being mean on the Internet. When I posed this question to my son, he informed me that a friend had to first block, and then report a trash-talking penguin that was bothering him. That seven-year old knew how to handle it properly. Would yours? Have conversations about why online bullying can be just as harmful as playground bullying. Then help your child develop an effective strategy for dealing with both.

There are a number of resources available on the Internet detailing how to speak with your child about cyberbullying, and even what do if you discover that they have been victimized, or if they have been the one sending out hurtful messages. Other steps you can take include moving their computer into a public area of your home.

Next share in the positive aspects of the Internet with your child, whether it's visiting the land of Webkinz or Club Penguin, battling corporate cogs on ToonTown — my personal favorite, creating a MySpace page, or even having them teach you how to download music. These are all ways to educate both yourself and your child while keeping the conversation open and flowing.

The Internet is a remarkable tool and can be used in many positive ways. Providing your child with a strategy and plan to handle individuals, who may be using the Internet to make hurtful comments or threats, will empower them. Empowered children can go on to do great things and as a result, lead happy lives. This is probably the genesis behind a quote I kept coming across repeatedly during my research for this column: "Those who can, do. Those who can't, bully." Let's help all our children grow up to be ones that "do."

Diane K. Danielson is a Cohasset resident who apologizes in advance to any Boomers and men she might have offended at the outset of the column. She'll gladly buy you a cup of coffee to make up for it, unless you're one of those anti-coffee people who wrote in to criticize her column last year about her coffee addiction. Despite some well-reasoned arguments on your part, she remains steadfast in her resolve to stay on the dark roast side and has no plans to become a tea-drinker at any time in the near future.

Tailgating comes of age

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

One of these days, some local institution of higher learning, probably Johnson & Wales University, the Providence cooking college, is going to introduce a course in how to broil steaks on the trunk of your car.

They'll call it Tailgating 101 and give you five credits for it.

If I recall my days in college, when ice covered most of the stadium parking lot as well as the earth, we held a hot dog on a stick over a blazing can of Sterno and washed it down with a flagon of heavy Pick.

The subject of tailgating came up the other day when I learned that there is an American Tailgaters Association.

We called that Tailgating, too, and all it ever gave us was a hangover.

There was also another form of tailgating but whether you practiced it depended on whether you wanted a new appliance on the cheap and some absent-minded trucker left one unguarded on the tailgate of his truck. But I digress . . .

The subject of tailgating came up the other day when I learned that there is an American Tailgaters Association, complete with members, officers and a burning desire to unite hungry football fans everywhere.

They even come equipped with a website — atatailgate.com. You might say tailgating, which is as much a part of football as the kickoff, has come of age.

Right now, members of the association are busy cooking up the ATA Hall of Flame Foundation with the expressed mission "to recognize, educate and unite the Tailgating Community as we 'Grill for the Greater Good.'"

The foundation logo is an overgrown hibachi grill with its cover up and rising wavy lines indicating a steak is broiling over hot coals inside. Or maybe it's shrimp on the barbie, for all I know.

One of the stated goals of the foundation is to "provide education to millions of tailgaters with a focus on promoting safe and responsible tailgating habits and behavior," which include sportsmanship, responsible drinking and related topics.

Another is to "recognize those Tailgaters who go above and beyond to give back to their local communities through advocacy, volunteerism and charitable giving."

The ATA is a relatively new organization so it hasn't had time to put out guides for rookie tailgaters. The apparent spokesman for the group is one Jeff "Doc" Dockery, who I was unable to find. But Kelly DiNardo of USA Weekend magazine did.

"Tailgating is a high performance sport," he advised her, "and you don't want to miss out because you weren't dressed appropriately for the weather."

And get to the stadium parking lot early so you can socialize with your fellow tailgaters and not get shuffled off into some remote area of the lot where you're unable to trade a bite of your dynamite chicken Marengo with the guy at the next grill for a taste of his shrimp scampi.

You think I'm kidding when I list chicken Marengo and shrimp scampi as tailgate items. Think again. There is even a new tailgating cookbook, "Tan Fare," by Debbie Moose, which lists such finger-licking good items as sweet potato ham biscuits and spicy cole slaw with jalapenos.

That'll be on the menu in the Johnson & Wales parking lot before you know it.

LIBRARY CORNER

'National Velvet' movie matinee Nov. 2

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

Movie Matinee – Come to the library for a free showing of the film "National Velvet," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Mickey Rooney and Angela Lansbury at 11 a.m., Friday, Nov. 2. The Friends of the Library will provide light refreshments. The Movie site license was generously sponsored by the Friends of the Library and the Cohasset Democratic Town Committee.

Great Decisions Group – The first Great Decisions Discussion group will begin at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 4, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss Central Asia, found in chapter seven of the assigned text.

We're Not Making This Up – Ever wonder what the story behind the story is? Hear from true crime writers, drug agents, cyber sleuths and others about what really goes on behind the scenes. "Sisters in Crime" authors Kate Flora and Jayne Hitchcock lead this panel discussion at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 28. Light refreshments will follow and the authors will sign copies of their work, which can be purchased at the event. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library. Admission is free.

Library Book Group – Join the book group for coffee and a discussion of "Snow Flower and the Secret Fan," by Lisa See at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 31, in the Meeting Room. All are welcome.

New Titles – Check out the great new titles now on the library shelves: "Home to Holly Springs," by Jan Karon; "The Race," by Richard North Patterson and "The Heir," by Barbara Taylor Bradford. To reserve your copy, stop by or call the library or visit the library Web site.

FOR CHILDREN

MamaSteph – Performances of children's music will be from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Monday, Oct. 29, Nov. 5, 19, and 26, and Dec. 3, in the Meeting Room. Come sing and dance. All ages and communities welcome. Funded by the Friends of Cohasset Library.

Drop In Story Time – Join others in the Story Room from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 30, and Nov. 6, 13, 20, and 27, for Big Book adventures, music and movement. All ages and communities welcome.

Family Read-A-Loud Books – Try some of these old and new classics for a family read-a-loud: Any "Adventures of" story by Thornton W. Burgess; "The Adventures of Paddington Bear," by Michael Bond; "The Adventures of Pippi Longstocking," by Astrid Lindgren; "The Reluctant Dragon," by Kenneth Grahame; "Mrs. Piggle Wiggle," by Betty MacDonald; "Toys Go Out," by Emily Jenkins; "The Rosie Stories," by Cynthia Voigt and "Gooseberry Park," by Cynthia Rylant.

Affordable housing is Our Town focus

ourtown

Tony Callahan, Co-chair of the Cohasset Affordable Housing Partnership, sits down with co-hosts Mark DeGiacomo and Pat Martin to discuss the efforts of the partnership to develop affordable housing in Cohasset as well as to detail the zoning articles going before voters at the Special Town Meeting on Nov. 13.

Tune in at 9p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays on Comcast channel 10.

Missed the Cohasset High School football games?

Tune in Saturday or Sunday nights beginning 7p.m. to catch the boys in blue on Channel 10

Disappointed in handling of Cat Dam issue

COMMENTARY

FRANK WHITE

The following is a copy of a letter sent Oct. 18, 2007, by Frank White to the Cohasset Board of Selectmen:

I am disappointed in the manner with which you handled the two-part petition from the group of citizens anxious to improve the environmental quality of Inner Little Harbor.

First, I find it irresponsible that you will continue to allow a private group of citizens the authority to manage Cat Dam and not turn the management over to a publicly controlled body. The past management system dependent as it was on a small group of citizens interested primarily in preserving the financial value of their personal homes and having little or no regard for the environmental interests of the community as a whole demonstrates clearly the principle of conflict of interest.

The fact that the board's solution seeks to have the Cat Dam management group's membership include additional citizens representing views counter to the founding group will not, in reality, decrease the conflict of interest factor. A controversial issue with potentially widespread ramifications like this one needs to be under the management of the town that is, in turn, accountable to the whole community.

Second, I find it dismaying to find the board or at least those that voiced opinions defending so easily the current Cat Dam management group's dismissal on the basis of the alleged unreasonable bias of Coastal Zone Management's offer to provide the town with a study of the effect of the dam's current open and shut practices on the environment of Inner Little Harbor.

Coastal Zone Management's mission is to look out for interests of the larger community, present and future, by assuring our coastal waters are protected from environmental abuse, not to protect the immediate financial interests of a small group of citizen. Those who believe CZM should compromise their conclusions about a significant environmental issue clearly demonstrates the all too prevalent attitude in this country that environmental issues should have a lesser priority than financial concerns. Hence, we now have our environment compromised by belching factories and emission spewing automobiles because to control that pollution, we are told, would cost jobs and lower industry profits. I would hope Cohasset's Board of Selectmen could do better.

Finally, I found the board's dismissal of the evidence presented that there is ongoing destruction of the salt marsh of Peck's Meadow to be discouraging. The proliferation of phragmites at the expense of salt marsh is primarily the result of changing ratios of fresh water and salt water, not the increase of nutrients. The new central sewer system, when it's in place in 2012, may or may not make a difference to the nutrient values in Inner Little Harbor. Its presence alone will have little or no impact on the ongoing destruction of Peck's Meadow salt marsh.

Yes, I did hear that the Board of Selectmen is aware of the invasion of phragmites in other salt marshes in Cohasset. But no one seemed overly alarmed about the loss of this valuable resource and the implications for the greater marine environment. Major portions of the Peck's Meadow salt marsh may be lost forever, but that's not an acceptable excuse for not taking steps to preserve what's left.

Frank H. White lives at 190 Jerusalem Road.

HEALTH NOTES

Building up your immunity

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Do common flu and other modern diseases need to be so common?

As you know, it's flu season and last Tuesday we had our first of three flu clinics for those with compromised immune systems, dispensing more than 280 shots. Next week we will have another at the same time, from 10 a.m. to noon, at the same place, the town hall theater. Shots will also be available Saturday, Nov. 3, at the town hall theater for all residents.

Flu shots bestow a measure of immunity. In general, a robust immune system is one that carries antibodies for a diversity of illnesses. And the more antibodies you have, the more resistant to diseases you become. A laboratory test that measures the presence and amount of antibodies in blood is called an antibody titer; part of a blood test. The antibody level in the blood is a reflection of your past exposure to an antigen or to something that the body does not recognize as belonging to itself but uses to attack and remove foreign substances.

The antibody titer will determine the strength of an immune response to the body's own tissue, your need for a booster immunization, or whether a recent vaccine is strong enough to protect against the disease

Do common flu and other modern diseases need to be so common? According to Jessica Snyder Sachs, of Science Digest, the author of "Good Germs, Bad Germs: Health and Survival in a Bacterial World," a University of Michigan poll says more parents than ever before, nearly 65 percent, intend to vaccinate their young children this year. With better vaccines and most no longer using mercury-based preservatives, there is little reason not to.

Since the beginnings of history, people have wondered why some people are susceptible to diseases and others not. During the World War I, British soldiers believed that the big strapping country farm hands were far more likely to die from wounds, fever and flu than the smaller, sometimes emaciated cockneys from the London slums. Each generation has its own ideas about how immunity works.

Now, the often-held view that colds and flu are a means for toughening up a developing immune system has been declared wrong. Studies now show that the more infections a person has during childhood, the greater the chance of premature death from other factors like heart disease and cancer from chronic inflammation, a kind of lingering collateral damage from the body's disease-fighting response.

Some modern parents have come to believe it's natural to have the 6 to 10 respiratory infections the typical American child gets every year, or even the two to four we adults experience. But more probably, colds, flu and most other contagious diseases found a central place in our lives only after we and our domestic animals began crowding together in large settlements some 5,000 years ago.

True, as a group, babies in large families and daycare are less likely to develop allergies and asthma than are children born into smaller families and kept at home. The same protective effect can be seen in children born on farms and in areas without public sanitation. The cause seems to be early and ample exposure to harmless bacteria, especially the kinds encountered living close to the land around livestock and other young children. In other words, dirt, dung and diapers, or as a local veterinarian refers to it: The Dung Titer. Others call it the Peck of Dirt Syndrome, the one everyone eats before he dies. Just as disease-causing microbes clearly bring on inflammation, harmless microorganisms appear to exert a calming effect on the immune system.

Perhaps the most compelling reason to get a flu shot this year is a new threat: methicillin-resistant Staphylo-coccus Aureus, or MRSA, a dangerous kind of staph that has been causing outbreaks of pneumonia among the otherwise young and healthy, typically on the heels of the flu. Unfortunately, we have no practical way to eradicate MRSA. About a third of us silently carry staph at any given time, and trying to eradicate MRSA or any other staph strain from a community of symptom-free carriers is difficult to impossible. Worse, the experts conclude, any widespread effort to do so is certain to breed greater drug resistance.

Flu shots don't guarantee protection from MRSA pneumonia, but protecting yourself and your children from the flu may be the best way to reduce your family's risk. Try to avoid any exposures that may make you ill. Use the commonplace defenses: Wash your hands, cough into your elbow, and eat and drink sensibly.

Steve Bobo is a long time member of the Cohasset Board of Health.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FROM LETTERS, PAGE 12

A heartfelt thank you

TO THE EDITOR:

The village was alive with people and activity Thursday, Oct. 18, during the first Night Out On Main Street. Under spectacular summer-like weather, groups of friends strolled along Main Street, stopping to sample hors de oeuvres, "shrimp on the barbie," fall desserts, and wine. Shop windows outlined with white lights and highlighted with pink balloons added to the festive atmosphere, and the entertainment in Ports was lively. WATD radio broadcasted interviews and created a buzz about Cohasset Village with its listening audience.

Customers and friends visited each shop, collecting raffle tickets for a chance to win one of the 13 prizes donated by each merchant. Several new businesses made their introductions to the community, and the established businesses greeted both new visitors and old friends. The businesses that participated included Bia Bistro, Carmela Drew, Focus Gallery, Darilynn's, Epiphany Designs, Flemings, Hernan's, Independence Fireplace, Paperscapes, Ports, The Red Geranium, Twist, and Village Wine and Spirits.

While sponsoring an open house for the town was one goal, the evening also had a charitable purpose. Ten percent of the evening's sales were donated to Hope in Bloom, Inc., an organization that plants indoor and outdoor gardens for women undergoing breast cancer treatment. The founder of this group, Roberta Hershon, actually drove down from Newton, visited each shop, and thanked us for our efforts in supporting her group. In addition, Beth Anderson, a local garden recipient and native of Cohasset, also stopped in to show her appreciation.

On behalf of the 13 merchants who sponsored this first Night Out on Main Street, we want to extend a heartfelt thank you to all those who came out to make this event a success. With three new businesses opening, and an energetic, committed group of merchants, we are excited about the future of the business climate here in Cohasset Village.

Darilynn Evans
Beverly Bielewicz
Nancy Levanchy
Lisa Lynch

COURTESY PHOTO

Bob Cunningham, Sandy and Kevin Crough serving up delicious pancakes at the Annual Soccer Pancake Breakfast.

Soccer Booster Club says thanks

TO THE EDITOR:

Cohasset High School Soccer would like to thank all who supported our recent fundraising annual Pancake Breakfast and Raffle. This event has become an annual tradition in the town and we are grateful for the large number of local merchants and families that help make this event a success.

Through the efforts of the Booster Club, the funds raised at the Pancake Breakfast go to support the men and women's soccer programs in the Middle and High school. Four $1,000 scholarships were awarded this past year to Cohasset students who excelled not only in soccer, but academically and in community service as well. Proceeds are also used to buy warm ups and provide supplemental technical training for the student athletes.

We would like to personally thank the following local merchants and families for their generous donations to the 32nd Annual Breakfast and Raffle: Marty Corry, Red Sox Fan; Joe Campbell and Atlantica; Sean and Christine Cunning; Mark Tosi and Mariann Cannon; David and Nancy Wise; Nancy and Hank Kucinski; Good Sport; Buttonwood Books; Village Butcher & Deli; Darilynn's; MTC and Tom Lemaire; Feng Shui; Kathy and Rich Ofstrun; Black Rock Country Club; Liz Richardson, Photographer; The Coggins' Family and Michael Sceery, Auto Cleanser.

Thank you to the Cohasset School Administration for the use of the Deer Hill cafeteria, and to Mr. Jones and Ms. Rhodes for their guidance and help in the kitchen. We greatly appreciate the efforts of parents for spearheading the ticket, food, and personnel responsibilities of the breakfast, as well as the spirited culinary consortium that so graciously satisfied a record-dining crowd. More than 350 hungry boosters attended the event.

We look forward seeing everyone next year!

George McGoldrick
President Cohasset Soccer Booster Club

Al Jazeera News Channel

TO THE EDITOR:

A new library book, "Mission Al Jazeera," by Josh Rushing describes how this Qatar-based Arab language news and opinion channel is providing the Arab and the wider Muslim world with balanced coverage of events and opinions, to supplement the output of the media organizations which are tightly controlled by the various authoritarian governments. Apparently the progressive and London-educated Emir of Qatar believes strongly in a free press and has the vast oil revenues to enable him to support his ideals.

Satellite dishes disseminating balanced news and opinion will erode the mind control attempts of authoritarian governments, as well as providing broader access to the mind-numbing trash that the free world tolerates and generates.

Josh Rushing was a U.S. Marine media liaison for 14 years and somewhat jaundiced by our own government's efforts to spin the news and by the absence of understanding of and interest in other cultures by our civilian and military leaders. He is now the Washington correspondent of Al Jazeera English, the English language version launched in 2006, which hopefully will help the xenophobic West to better understand the East, just as the original Al Jazeera is generating understanding of our rationales. The effusions of Al Qaeda and other extremists are granted air time, thus providing cover for more timid media organizations to copy together with competing opinions and news, so that the viewer can draw his or her own conclusions.

Let us hope that this idealistic, determined and well-financed attempt to bridge the gap between cultures, replace misconceptions with information, and encourage individual judgments, counter to judgments imposed by authoritarian governments, will damper the fires of ignorance that lead to wars, or lead to sanctions that punish the innocent more than the guilty.

R. Murray Campbell
217 Jerusalem Road

Village, harbor development worries

COMMENTARY

GEORGINA MASSA

FROM MASSA, PAGE 12

can remember back to former undisturbed decades of peace they enjoyed before the continual invasions of heavy machinery and chaos we are now constantly forced to suffer.

There are many other issues as well, such as traffic and parking. At present, the harbor area cannot support the summer traffic and parking just as it is now. Adding any more businesses or residences in any form would constitute a sort of progressively suicidal move on the part of the town. Sometimes deterioration can come in the disguise of so-called progress.

One of the reasons why they were conscientiously framed laws protecting these areas against precisely what is now being proposed by a few, is to preserve the uniquely aesthetic character of an unusually lovely New England town for the many; some of whom are already being taxed out of town as a result of having to pay, higher and higher taxes, for some of these unnecessary changes and the construction errors that usually accompany them.

The Cohasset village and harbor area was considered so unusually beautiful by Warner Bros., that they did a special unscheduled aerial shot over it during the 1986 filming of "The Witches of Eastwick" here, because they said: "No one would believe it was real if we didn't; they'd think we created it on a sound-stage." Could jaded Hollywood appreciate our town more than we do? Do you think they would have had the same response to a harbor cluttered with condominiums" or a town beginning to take on the appearance of a deranged jigsaw puzzle?

Unfortunately, we really have been on alert to collectively and individually do whatever we can to save the long-standing and peerless quality of our town or it will slip away bit by bit, as has already started. These things seem to just "happen" when we're not looking. It would also be a good idea to call 383-4105 or 383-3517, the selectmen's and the planner's numbers, respectively, before the abovementioned meetings to check if these important articles are still on the agenda; since these things are prone to change with little or no notice. And keep abreast of any rescheduling and/or "new approaches." It's pretty much up to Cohasset townspeople who still care, to be watchful. Because the stratagem of the others, even when rejected, just seem to keep coming under the cover of more jargon and sophistry.

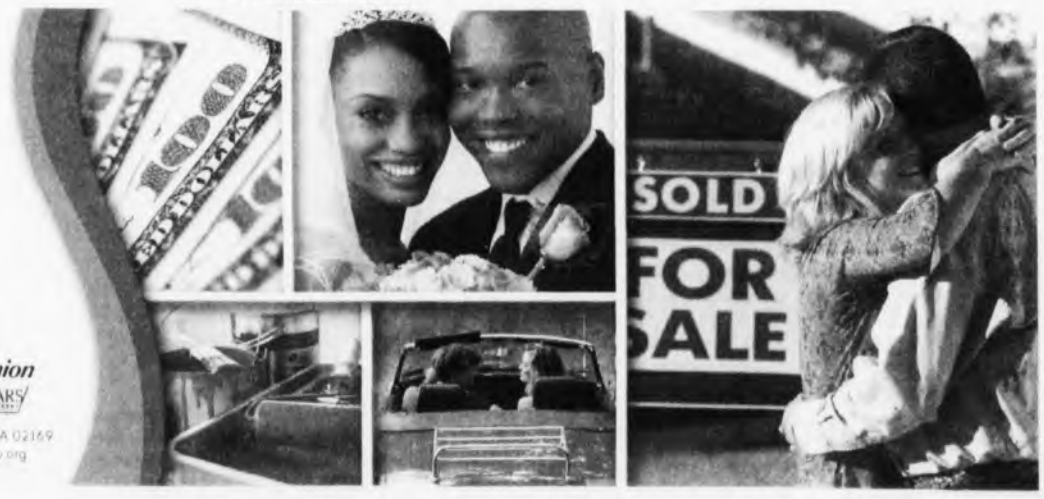
Georgina Massa lives at 51 Border St.

Dream • Plan • Succeed

Our home financing programs help you do it all.

MORTGAGE PRODUCTS
First Time Home Buyers Program
7-15 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
20-30 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
15-40 Year ARMS

HOME EQUITY LOANS
Home Equity Line of Credit
Home Equity Fixed Rate Loan



Membership* available to those who live or work in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Dorchester, and any family member.

*$5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.

NCUA

Quincy Credit Union 70 YEARS

100 Quincy Ave. • Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558 • www.qcu.org

Capital issue

Budget committee looks to future

In recent history, the town has relied on free cash for maintenance and capital purchases, instead of including the costs in the department's operational budgets.

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The Capital Budget Committee has its work cut out for them. Each town meeting season, town departments line up at the door to request money for capital projects, maintenance and investments. The Capital Budget Committee then has the difficult task of allocating limited funds to the most urgent needs in the town.

But, this year as was suggested on Wednesday night, this short-term strategy could be traded in for a more long-range goal. An informal discussion born out of a proposal by some members of the Advisory Committee proposed the possibility of not spending any, or only some, of the money currently available for capital items.

In this Town Meeting round, Town Manager Bill Griffin said there is approximately $300,000, the majority from free cash, available to fund capital items. Voters will have the final say on where the money is allocated at Town Meeting on Nov. 13.

The idea of not spending all the money currently available for capital items, ties into another proposal floated by the Capital Budget Committee. In early September, the committee proposed to the Board of Selectmen a $500,000 override for fiscal 2009. The committee suggested establishing a "capital stabilization fund," a separate fund dedicated to capital improvements, which in the future would maintain a balance of $2 to $3 million. The money would be used for capital maintenance, new, non-bonded purchases, and possibly down payments on bonded projects.

If the override passed, Griffin explained in subsequent years the Board of Selectmen would need to bring forth an article to Town Meeting giving at least $500,000, with the option to increase by 2.5 percent, to the capital stabilization fund. The article would have to pass by a two-thirds vote, said Griffin.

If the committee decides not to use all the available funds for capital items, the money would remain in free cash. At spring Town Meeting, if a stabilization fund is proposed and approved, the free cash earmarked for capital could be transferred to the newly established fund.

Advisory Committee member Pat Waters said if the town were not to spend any money on capital items in this round, it would show the committee is committed to the capital stabilization fund effort.

Both efforts could begin to change the way the town thinks about capital. In recent history, the town has relied on free cash for maintenance and capital purchases, instead of including the costs in the department's operational budgets. Although capital budget chairman Steve Gaumer said this method is more or less standard for small municipalities; the committee would like to see the town take a more long-range approach.

"Our view is if we do this now over the longer view, in the neighborhood of 10 years residents will start seeing the benefits," said Gaumer in a phone interview. If the town's departments have the money to properly maintain their capital assets, it will prevent a big ticket refurbishment or replacement down the line. He likened the effort to painting your house every few years, instead of a complete re-siding every 20 years.

"Can we afford to not spend any money on health, safety and education in Cohasset at this time?" asked Gaumer at the meeting. The committee will mull that question over in the few weeks as they hear from more departments and decide what to do with the available $300,000. Gaumer said the idea would be fully vetted by the committee before making a formal recommendation to town boards and Town Meeting.

On Tuesday night, the Capital Budget Committee discussed capital items with three groups. Neighbors in the Rose Hill development off Route 3A came before the board to discuss their citizen's petition to have the town fund a sidewalk between lower King St. and the entrance to their development. The current estimate for the 600 feet of sidewalk is $100,000.

Carl Sestito, superintendent of the DPW, listed his top three capital items as the purchase of a new bucket truck ($70,000), the refurbishment of the loader at the Recycling Transfer Facility ($30,000) and replacement of a tractor ($120,000).

Lastly, Griffin presented three items on behalf of the Board of Selectmen (in order of priority): funding for development of a flood control master plan ($85,000), design and replacement of a new Jacob's Meadow outlet channel ($40,000), and a town sewer connection for the Lightkeepers Building ($50,000).

After the Capital Budget Committee hears from the school department, the library and fire department on Tuesday, October 30 they will discuss how to allocate the monies. They will meet with the Board of Selectmen on Monday, Nov. 4 and the Advisory Committee Tues. Nov. 5.

Local legislators testify in favor of changes to 40B

"To me, the 'B' in 40B stands for 'broken."
— State Sen. Robert Hedlund

Sen. Robert Hedlund (R-Weymouth), Rep. Frank Hynes (D-Marshfield), and Rep. Garrett Bradley (D-Hingham) each testified this week before the Joint Committee on Housing in favor of bills altering Chapter 40B, the state's so-called affordable housing law.

Developers who build projects under Chapter 40B, also known as the comprehensive permit law, are allowed to skirt local zoning and planning regulations in exchange for deeding between 20 and 25 percent of the built housing units as affordable according to state housing guidelines.

While the legislators support the need for affordable housing in their districts, they feel that Chapter 40B is not working; that the law is instead being abused by developers looking to maximize profits at the expense of the host communities.

"To me, the 'B' in 40B stands for 'broken,'" Sen. Hedlund said. "Too often Chapter 40B is being abused by unscrupulous developers with little interest in actually providing affordable housing. They hijack a well-intentioned law and use it to build as many units as they can, for as much money as possible, with little regard to the impact on the town."

Both Sen. Hedlund and Rep. Hynes have filed legislation calling for a state-wide moratorium on projects proposed under Chapter 40B.

"It has been several years since the Senate has had a chance to debate this problematic law and until we do, I don't think its fair for the towns I represent to continue to be hammered by these projects," Sen. Hedlund said.

Hynes said previous attempts to review and reform 40B have never been fully implemented and never got to the core of the problems caused by the comprehensive permit law. He said projects built with comprehensive permits can short-circuit a community's attempt at long-term planning.

"We recognize that a need exists for housing that is affordable, but with the wide latitude granted by the statute, the lack of objective oversight of a development's lasting impacts and a project's finances in many cases serve as an incentive for a developer to use 40B to their advantage," he said. "South Shore legislators are among the leaders in seeking responsible reforms to this unworkable law."

In addition to the moratorium, Sen. Hedlund has also filed a bill that would require 100 percent of all housing units built using a comprehensive permit to be classified as "affordable," up from the current requirement of 20 to 25 percent.

Rep. Bradley has filed bills that would expand the definition of affordable units, require a full audit by the inspector general's office of Chapter 40B project profit levels, and allow zoning boards of appeal to take into consideration the financial feasibility of projects. "It is clear that 40B has not worked and has been abused," Rep. Bradley said. "I will continue to work with Representative Hynes and Senator Hedlund to allow our communities to have more of a say on potential projects. Many developers have been using loop-holes in the 40B law to bypass local regulations and that is wrong. We must return some level of local control to communities." Rep. Hynes has filed with bills that would, among other things, commission a special panel to review 40B and make recommendations, redefine what would make a project proposed under the law "uneconomical", give more control over projects to cities and town.

VETERANS

Prayer service Nov. 11

Cohasset American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War posts and the Sons of the American Legion will conduct a prayer service in honor of Veterans Day at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11 (Sunday) at the Veterans Memorial at Cohasset Harbor.

Thanksgiving breakfast

Will be held from 7:30 to 930 a.m. at the Legion Hall. $5, all you can eat. The American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring the breakfast.

Healing Field

On Memorial Day 2008 the Sons of The American Legion will be sponsoring a Healing Field. The field is made up of all American Flags that will be set in a military row. Plans are to place 400 flags. The flags will be placed on the traffic island located at the corner of Summer and Border streets. (Across from the American Legion Post) This Healing Field will pay homage to all our veterans, loved ones and friends who have gone before us.

If would like to donate, please write a check for $25 for a flag in the name of: (Please Print Clearly) and drop check off at the American Legion off Summer Street.

All proceeds will go to Veterans projects of The Sons of The American Legion.

Greenbush

Firefighters look at train up close

FROM TRAIN, PAGE 1

to respond they would need to have some familiarity with the trains.

The first stop was the locomotive. Beyond the noise and heat of the engine is a small room where the track ahead lays out in front of the engineer. In cramped quarters typically only occupied by one person, a dozen firefighters got a overview of the controls that operate the train. The firefighters peppered Kevin Amaral, an electrical technician with MBCR, with questions about emergency braking and dispatch communication.

Any given train is at least staffed by a conductor and engineer who work together to get the train where it needs to go — and stay on time. More conductors to collect tickets and oversee the coach part of the train are added depending on the number of train cars and crowd on the train.

Next, MBCR safety advisor Jack Mimms took the firefighters through the coaches. Mimms showed the group how to open the emergency windows and doors. An open area at the front and rear of the train were ideal if EMTs needed to work on a patient, or put someone on a stretcher, said Mimms. In MBCR's experience in routine first aid emergencies the EMTs will be called to the next station, rather than the tracks between stations, MBCR representative said.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Fire Lt. John Dockray pulls an emergency brake valve during the safety training of the Cohasset firefighters on Tuesday.

The location of key controls and emergency brakes were highlighted. The firefighters were shown how to shut down the power to the train car completely, if the emergency necessitated it. The fire officials tested the emergency brake in a coach car, as well as opened and closed the emergency doors.

MBCR is giving similar tours of the trains in all the Greenbush towns to give the fire departments an overview of the equipment.

However, the tour of the train is neither the beginning nor the end of the town's emergency response of training for the train. The on site walk-through was in addition to a two-hour classroom course, "this was a follow-up to actually see the train. A powerpoint slideshow can only do so much," said Silvia. Each fire department shift was brought in to get the tour of the train this week, he said .

In upcoming months, the emergency personnel from all Greenbush towns will participate in a "mass casualty drill" where a train accident will be simulated, 'it will be actual hands on training," said Silvia.

Going into next week, Silvia feels confident the Fire Department is prepared. His major concern is people not heeding the warning signals.

It will be the Fire Department's protocol to wait at train crossings, if the red lights are flashing and the arms are down, "if we can wait, someone certainly getting a cup of coffee can wait," said Silvia.

If there is an emergency on the tracks that the fire department needs to respond to, Silvia said they would communicate with the MBCR dispatch center to alert the running trains that they will be on the tracks.

Since residents do not have the ability to contact the dispatch center, they need to stay off the tracks and not use the MBTA right of way as a cut through.

The rail siding where the stationary train was brought for the training will be used to store equipment for repairs or maintenance work in the future. All trains will be housed in the Scituate/Greenbush yard.

Train facts and tips

The Operation Lifesaver rail safety program offers the following railroad safety facts and tips:

- Modern trains are quieter than ever, with no telltale "clackety-clack." An approaching train will always be closer and moving faster than you think.
- Railroad tracks, trestles, yards, and equipment are private property.
- Trespassers are subject to arrest and fines.
- Never drive, ride a bike, or walk around a lowered railroad crossing gate.
- Always wait for the train to pass and for the gates to be raised.
- Trains cannot stop quickly. A freight train moving at 55 mph, or an eight-car passenger train moving at 60 mph, can take a mile or more to stop.
- Don't walk, run, cycle, or operate all-terrain vehicles (ATVs) on railroad property, including tracks, or through tunnels.
- Cross the tracks only at designated pedestrian or roadway crossings.
- Never play or walk on the tracks.
- Observe all warning signs and signals.
- Don't hunt, fish, or jump around railroad trestles. There is only enough clearance on tracks for a train to pass. Trestles are not meant to be sidewalks or pedestrian bridges.
- Don't attempt to hop aboard railroad equipment at any time. A slip of the foot can cost you a limb, or your life.
- Be aware that trains do not always follow set schedules. Any time is train time.
- Don't skateboard or Rollerblade on station platforms or in parking lots.
- Always stand behind the yellow platform stripe.

Operation Lifesaver is a national, non-profit, public education program dedicated to ending collisions, deaths, and injuries at grade crossings and along railroad rights-of-way. The program emphasizes the importance of obeying signal lights at railroad street crossings to avoid being struck by a train and not walking on railway beds.

'Quiet zone' means no horns will blow

FROM QUIET ZONE, PAGE 1

sant whistle blowing.

Hingham agreed to act as the "point person" on behalf of the other communities to ensure that the criteria being put into the Greenbush data being sent to the FRA was exactly what each town negotiated.

The FRA may grant exemptions if they are requested by local officials. To be exempt, a grade crossing must have supplemental safety measures, such as four-quadrant gates, that are considered to be as effective as a train whistle.

Cohasset Greenbush liaison Tom Gruber said whistle-free corridor is nothing new. "When I was appointed to the Mitigation Committee in the late 90s, first as a volunteer member and later elected to Chairman, I understood that Greenbush was to be a 'hornless' system from the get-go. All of the MBTA environmental reports were based on this design feature," Gruber said.

"One of the things that has not been publicized about the hornless system is that the basic design of a hornless system is different from a railroad system where the horns will be routinely blown," he explained. "Special safety-related controls, medians to channelize the traffic, quad gates, closed crossings, and grade separations (Rocky Lane Bridge) are all features that may not have been used if we had horns."

The Swift Act, the federal law requiring horn blowing at grade crossings, was enacted in the 1990s partly in response to a federal study that showed a significant increase in train-car collisions at rail crossings in Florida communities with whistle bans.

Hingham Greenbush Coordinator Alexander Macmillan also said Greenbush project was planned without train horns from the beginning. Much of the line cuts through a National Register Historic District, which is entitled to special protection.

The MBTA realized early on that a permit would not be issued for the project if train horns blared, he said in an earlier interview. In other words, the impact on the historic district, which includes dozens of antique homes, would be too great to allow horns.

"From the very first it was clear that horns would not blow, so ways had to be found to adequately address the safety issues without horns or risk having no project," he said.

Cohasset Fire Chief Robert Silvia points out not sounding the horns does not mean the train always be silent.

"The corridor was planned not to have horns and was designed with that in mind," Silvia said. "But it is not as if the trains were built without horns, engineers will blow the horns if anyone is on or near the tracks."

Cohasset Police Chief James Hussey noted that Greenbush towns worked together to create the no-horn environment.

"The trains do have a whistle and any engineer who sees anything that he believes to be an unsafe situation can blow the whistle," said Hussey. He also noted that the towns had safety measures added to the project – things that may not have come about if whistles were routinely allowed.

Hingham resident Martha Bewick said it is a quality of life issue.

"It's almost impossible to live in an area where there is continuous horn blowing," Bewick said. "The quality of life of human beings would be affected for the long-term, as well as the value of their homes."

Bewick, a commuter boat advocate, noted that before Greenbush service ended in the late 1950s, some of the homes along the tracks in Hingham were boarded up. "It was hard for people to live there," she said. "The continuous whistle blowing really makes these neighborhoods almost uninhabitable. Some people in Weymouth have told me that even without the horns, the vibration and noise are much greater than anticipated."

Bewick noted there are a number of other communities that are also designated as quiet zones. "The FRA has agreed that as long as communities have the proper safety equipment installed, these bans are justified," she said. "At the same time, the national policy is to do away with grade crossings."

Mariner editor Mary Ford also contributed to this report.

PHOTO/MARY FORD

No train horn signs, like the one shown here at the North Main Street crossing, were installed at Greenbush grade crossings last spring.

Train can take a mile to stop

The Greenbush commuter line is now an active railway.

A commuter train traveling at 55 mph takes a mile to come to a complete stop, as compared with 200 feet for a car moving at the same speed.

Trains have the right of way, and they can come at any time. The trains are also wider than they appear, with a three-foot hangover on both sides of the tracks.

Town officials, police officers, and the MBTA continue to warn that adults, children, and pets should stay off and away from the tracks at all times and that vehicles should not stop on the tracks under any circumstances.

There are 25 public and three private grade crossings along the Greenbush line. A total of 15 crossings that existed originally have been eliminated through the construction of underpasses in Weymouth Landing, Weymouth Heights, and Hingham Square, an overpass in Cohasset, and the closure or avoidance of seven other grade crossings.

In an emergency situation, such as observing children playing on the tracks, call 911. Local police and fire departments will contact the MBTA as required. The MBTA police emergency number is (617) 222-1212.

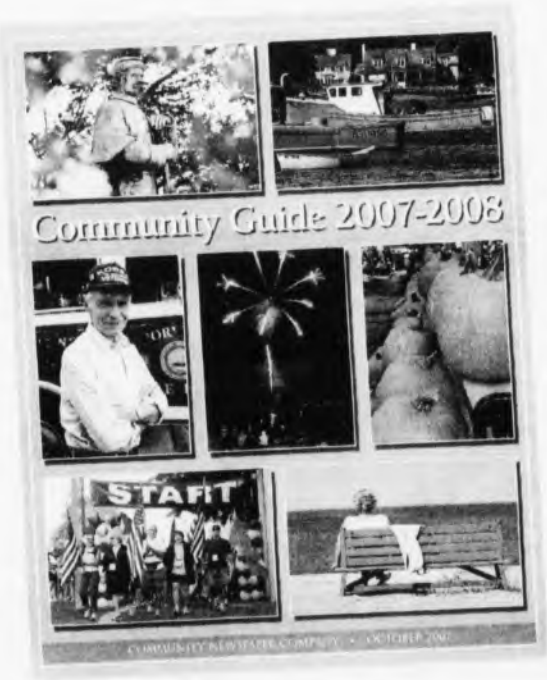
Autos OF THE Week

CAR
2003 VW JETTA 1.8T

Dark Blue, 5 spd, 42K miles. #7591
$10,995

SUV
NEW JEEP PATRIOT 4X4

A/C, Power windows, Locks, CD. #359116
Lease For $179* a month
$18,183



TRUCK
2005 CHEVY SILVERADO CREW CAB LS

25K miles. #8825P
$21,999

For more details on these fine vehicles and many others, go to today's Community Classifieds section!

Featuring These Great Local Dealerships...

Best Chevrolet • Colonial Ford • Majestic Cars, Limited
Marty's GMC-Pontiac-Buick-Isuzu • Shaw Saab
South Shore Jeep-Chrysler-Volkswagen

Look for the CNC 2007-2008 Community Guide in today's paper.

You'll want to save this unique reference guide to your town.

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
WICKED LOCAL

Greenbush

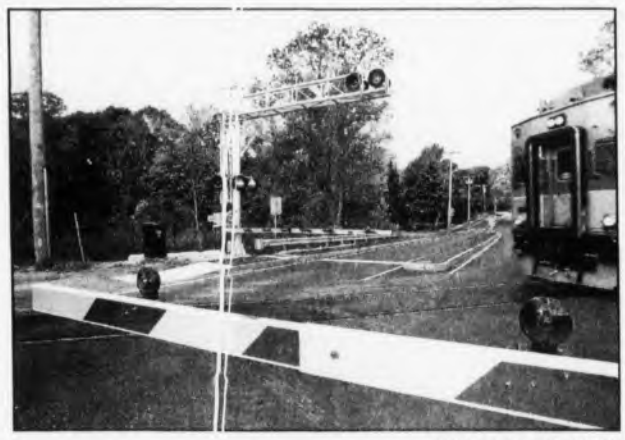
First commuter trains to roll on Halloween

Inaugural run is Oct. 30

By Carol Britton Meyer
CMEYER@CNC.COM

Next week marks the revitalization of the Greenbush rail line after lying dormant for nearly 50 years.

How the scenario will play out with respect to traffic and parking has yet to be seen, but one thing is certain — the first train carrying paying passengers will leave Scituate next Wednesday (Halloween) — bound for South Station via Cohasset, Hingham, and Weymouth.



The T will offer 12 round trips on the $513-million, 18-mile Greenbush line on weekdays, excluding holidays, and eight round trips during the weekend. The trains will run between 5:45 a.m. and 11 p.m. A one-way trip from Scituate to South Station is expected to take 59 minutes.

A ceremonial first train carrying a number of state officials will leave South Station the day before (Oct. 30) and head for the Scituate Greenbush station, picking up elected officials in each of the towns that will be served by the new rail line along the way.

The train will stop at one station in each of the communities [Weymouth, Scituate, Cohasset, and Hingham], with special events planned at each location. Hingham has two stations – one at Nantasket Junction and the other near the country club, which is called simply "Hingham Station." The train is expected to arrive there before 10:30 a.m. and to depart at 10:36 a.m. This train will not stop at Nantasket Junction.

There will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony at each stop to celebrate the beginning of commuter rail service on the South Shore.

There will be seven new stations in all, providing a total of 3,000 parking spaces — 300 each at the stops in Weymouth Landing and near Jackson Square in East Weymouth; 200 in West Hingham; 500 at Nantasket Junction; 400 each in Cohasset and North Scituate; and 1,000 at the Greenbush station.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

A commuter train goes through the Sohier Street crossing during a test train run on Tuesday afternoon.

Estimates put ridership after three or four years at 4,300 inbound passengers — equivalent to 76,000 fewer driven miles daily, according to T General Manager Daniel Grabauskas.

He noted that a good turnout for a test train run on a rainy Saturday in May showed signs of enthusiasm for the train.

No changes in commuter boats are planned, although proposals to improve the service are being discussed.

Greenbush restoration was delayed for many years due to community opposition based on cost, safety, and other issues related to impacts on South Shore communities. Concerns about impacts to historic Hingham Square were resolved when the MBTA agreed to build a 795-foot tunnel under Hingham Square.

There is concern that passenger service begins on Halloween at a time when residents, particularly children, aren't fully adjusted to the trains. The MBTA didn't target Halloween as its start date, but the necessary permits fell into place to align with an opening date at the end of October, according to MBTA officials.

"Service begins on that date because it follows Oct. 30, the day of the inaugural train," MBTA Spokesperson Joe Pesaturo said. "Trains are operating everyday now, and they have become a very familiar sight as they travel through the towns."

Drills related to overall rail safety and tours to familiarize firefighters, police officers, and towns that are part of the local mutual aid program with the train have been conducted. Tunnel emergency access and evacuation drills have also been completed and staging areas identified in the event of an incident inside the Hingham tunnel.

A fire protection system has been installed inside the tunnel, with back-up equipment on the Quint (the largest piece of Hingham Fire Department) to supply additional water in the event of a train derailment that damages the tunnel water system. Train windows open for emergency access.

A full-scale safety drill involving multiple towns and agencies and South Shore Hospital will be held in the Spring.

Operation Lifesaver plays a major role in educating the public about the dangers posed by the train. The MBTA-sponsored program is designed to educate citizens about train safety. Elementary and middle school students, driver education classes, and school bus drivers have already received OL training, and additional education and training will continue throughout the school year.

The MBTA held a train safety night in Scituate last week to alert residents in all five communities to the do's and don'ts of train safety.

For further information about Greenbush rail service, visit www.cbhgreenbush.com. For schedule, map, and fare information or to ask a question or voice a concern, visit www.mbta.com.

Greenbush Line Schedule
Effective Wednesday October 31, 2007

Saturday and Sunday

Inbound to South Station

Train No. Saturday	1070	1072	1074	1076	1078	1080	1082	1084
Train No. Sunday	2070	2072	2074	2076	2078	2080	2082	2084
	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
Greenbush	7 26	9 26	11 26	1 26	3 26	5 26	7 26	9 36
North Scituate	7 32	9 32	11 32	1 32	3 32	5 32	7 32	9 42
Cohasset	7 38	9 38	11 38	1 38	3 38	5 38	7 38	9 48
Nantasket Junction	7 42	9 42	11 42	1 42	3 42	5 42	7 42	9 52
West Hingham	7 47	9 47	11 47	1 47	3 47	5 47	7 47	9 57
East Weymouth	7 52	9 52	11 52	1 52	3 52	5 52	7 52	10 02
Weymouth Landing/East Braintree	7 57	9 57	11 57	1 57	3 57	5 57	7 57	10 07
Quincy Center	L 8 05	L 10 05	L 12 05	L 2 05	L 4 05	L 6 05	L 8 05	L 10 15
JFK/UMASS	L 8 10	L 10 10	L 12 10	L 2 10	L 4 10	L 6 10	L 8 10	L 10 20
SOUTH STATION	8 22	10 22	12 22	2 22	4 22	6 22	8 22	10 32

Outbound from South Station

Train No. Saturday	1071	1073	1075	1077	1079	1081	1083	1085
Train No. Sunday	2071	2073	2075	2077	2079	2081	2083	2085
	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
SOUTH STATION	8 15	10 15	12 15	2 15	4 15	6 15	8 15	10 50
JFK/UMASS	f 8 22	f 10 22	f 12 22	f 2 22	f 4 22	f 6 22	f 8 22	f 10 57
Quincy Center	8 28	10 28	12 28	2 28	4 28	6 28	8 28	11 03
Weymouth Landing/East Braintree	8 37	10 37	12 37	2 37	4 37	6 37	8 37	11 12
East Weymouth	8 42	10 42	12 42	2 42	4 42	6 42	8 42	11 17
West Hingham	8 47	10 47	12 47	2 47	4 47	6 47	8 47	11 22
Nantasket Junction	8 52	10 52	12 52	2 52	4 52	6 52	8 52	11 27
Cohasset	8 56	10 56	12 56	2 56	4 56	6 56	8 56	11 31
North Scituate	9 03	11 03	1 03	3 03	5 03	7 03	9 03	11 38
Greenbush	9 10	11 10	1 10	3 10	5 10	7 10	9 10	11 45

Greenbush Line Schedule
Effective Wednesday October 31, 2007

Monday through Friday

Inbound to South Station

Train No.	070	072	074	076	078	080	082	084	086	088	090	092
	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
Greenbush	5 44	6 39	7 32	7 50	8 47	10 42	11 50	2 07	3 45	5 20	7 04	8 10
North Scituate	5 51	6 46	7 39	7 57	8 54	10 49	11 57	2 14	3 52	5 27	7 11	8 17
Cohasset	5 58	6 53	7 46	8 04	9 01	10 56	12 04	2 21	3 59	5 34	7 21	8 24
Nantasket Junction	6 02	6 57	7 50	8 08	9 05	11 00	12 08	2 25	4 03	5 42	7 26	8 28
West Hingham	6 07	7 02	7 55	8 13	9 10	11 05	12 13	2 30	4 08	5 47	7 30	8 33
East Weymouth	6 11	7 06	7 59	8 17	9 14	11 12	12 17	2 38	4 12	5 53	7 34	8 37
Weymouth Landing/East Braintree	6 17	7 12	7 35	8 23	9 20	11 18	12 23	2 44	4 18	5 59	7 40	8 43
Quincy Center	L 6 26	L 7 21	L 7 46	L 8 32	L 9 29	L 11 27	L 12 32	L 2 53	L 4 27	L 6 21	L 7 52	L 8 52
JFK/UMASS	L 6 33	L 7 29	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---
SOUTH STATION	6 42	7 37	8 01	8 49	9 45	11 43	12 48	3 09	4 43	6 34	8 07	9 08

Outbound from South Station

Train No.	071	073	075	077	079	081	083	085	087	089	091	093
	A.M.	A.M.	A.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
SOUTH STATION	6 54	9 22	10 39	12 45	2 27	4 02	4 52	5 20	5 45	6 35	8 25	10 00
JFK/UMASS	---	---	---	---	---	4 08	---	---	---	---	---	---
Quincy Center	---	9 35	10 52	12 58	2 40	---	5 06	5 33	5 58	6 48	8 36	10 13
Weymouth Landing/East Braintree	7 16	9 44	11 01	1 07	2 49	4 24	5 15	5 42	6 07	6 57	8 47	10 22
East Weymouth	7 22	9 50	11 07	1 13	2 55	4 30	5 21	5 48	6 13	7 03	8 53	10 28
West Hingham	7 29	9 54	11 11	1 17	2 59	4 34	5 25	5 53	6 17	7 07	8 57	10 32
Nantasket Junction	7 34	9 59	11 16	1 22	3 04	4 39	5 30	5 58	6 22	7 12	9 02	10 37
Cohasset	7 38	10 03	11 20	1 26	3 08	4 43	5 34	6 02	6 26	7 16	9 06	10 41
North Scituate	7 46	10 11	11 28	1 34	3 16	4 51	5 43	6 10	6 34	7 24	9 14	10 49
Greenbush	7 55	10 19	11 36	1 42	3 24	4 59	5 51	6 18	6 42	7 33	9 22	10 57

Key to above: "L" above, denotes that passengers can board or leave the train at this location, but the train may leave the station early (ahead of the times posted). "f" above, denotes that this is a flag stop, i.e., the passenger must be on the platform visible to the engineer for the train to stop. If no passengers are visible, the train will not stop.

T Charlie Van works Greenbush corridor

In preparation for the opening of the Greenbush commuter rail line on Wednesday, Oct. 31, the MBTA's Charlie Van will be available at selected locations along the corridor for customers to purchase monthly Charlie passes and one – way Charlie tickets.

Staffed with T personnel, the Charlie Van will be available through Tuesday, Oct. 30. Only monthly passes and one – way tickets will be sold and only cash will be accepted. Other fare media can be purchased at MBTA fare vending machines at subway stations; the Downtown Crossing Pass Sales office; MBCR Ticket Windows at South, North and Back Bay stations; and online at www.mbta.com.

"We're urging people to take advantage of the Charlie Van and buy their fare in advance of the opening," said MBTA General Manager Daniel A. Grabauskas. "We want customers to experience easy boarding and enjoy their first ride on the Greenbush line. Having your Charlie ticket or Charlie pass in hand will guarantee that."

COURTESY PHOTO

Look for the Charlie Van at various locations.

The Charlie Van will be available at the following locations from 4 to 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 26, at Shaw's/Star Market on Snow Street in Marshfield; from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 27 and Sunday, Oct. 28, at Shaw's Supermarket in Cohasset; from 4 to 7 p.m., Monday, Oct.29, at Java Junction, Route 3A, Country Way, Scituate; and Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 9 to 10:30 a.m., at the Weymouth Landing Station and 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., at Greenbush Station. One-way tickets will be sold at stations during the morning rush hours only from Wednesday, Oct. 31 through Friday, Nov. 9.

Customers can also purchase monthly passes and one – way Charlie tickets, between 5 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday through Saturday at Java Junction Coffee Shop in Scituate.

James G. Judge DMD, MSD
MARSHFIELD ORTHODONTICS
EXPECT THE BEST
Specialist in Pediatric and Adult
Orthodontics
781-837-1351

D&G Dolce & Gabbana · Valentino Red · GF Ferré · Elie Tahari · Galliano
Charles Nolan · Alice & Olivia · J Brand Jeans · Petit Bateau · Kay Unger
Christopher Fischer · Nicole Miller · ABS · Julie Brown · Womyn
Just Cavalli · Marc by Marc Jacobs · Cynthia Vincent · Adam + Eve
we are shaped & fashioned by what we love a beautiful little boutique, Gia B. makes everything personal & exquisitely your own from casual to black tie accessories, items you'll love & wardrobe essentials... Gia B is an inviting shop that that meets your every fashion need
NOW OPEN - DERBY STREET SHOPPES
781 749 5510 / giaboutique.net / 92 derby street-suite 131 / hingham ma

CURTAIN FACTORY OUTLET
Your Curtains. Your Style. Your Price.
Big Savings!
Full 54" Width Panel with Tieback
63" or 84" Lengths
Terrific Look - 3 Colors
Panel or Valance
Only $6.99
(Original Prices to $15.99)
Photo Shows: Two panels and three valances
Tier Curtain Special
Embroidered Floral with Scalloped Edge
100% Cotton - White
24" - 36" Length or Valance
Only $3.99
WEYMOUTH, MA 60 Winter St. 781-331-8510
RAYNHAM, MA 770 Broadway 508-823-4196
NORTHBRIDGE, MA 8 Sutton St. 508-234-2944
FALL RIVER, MA 420 Quequechan St. 508-678-6996
www.CurtainFactoryOutlet.com

SERVICE CENTER
A Fix It Shop In the Cohasset Village Parking Lot 781-383-6936
Open Tues. to Sat. 9am-1pm
• Screen & Window Repairs
• Lamp & Furniture Repairs
• Keys Made • Sharpening • Cohasset Trash Bags

www.coupons.townonline.com

SLEEPY'S® - CELEBRATING OUR 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Sealy Posturepedic® and Stearns & Foster®

Sealy Posturepedic
Exceptional Values
GREAT VALUES AT OUR EVERYDAY LOW PRICE

FIRM SUPPORT
$199.99 Twin 2 Pc Set
Full 2pc. set $279.99
Queen 2 pc. set $299.99

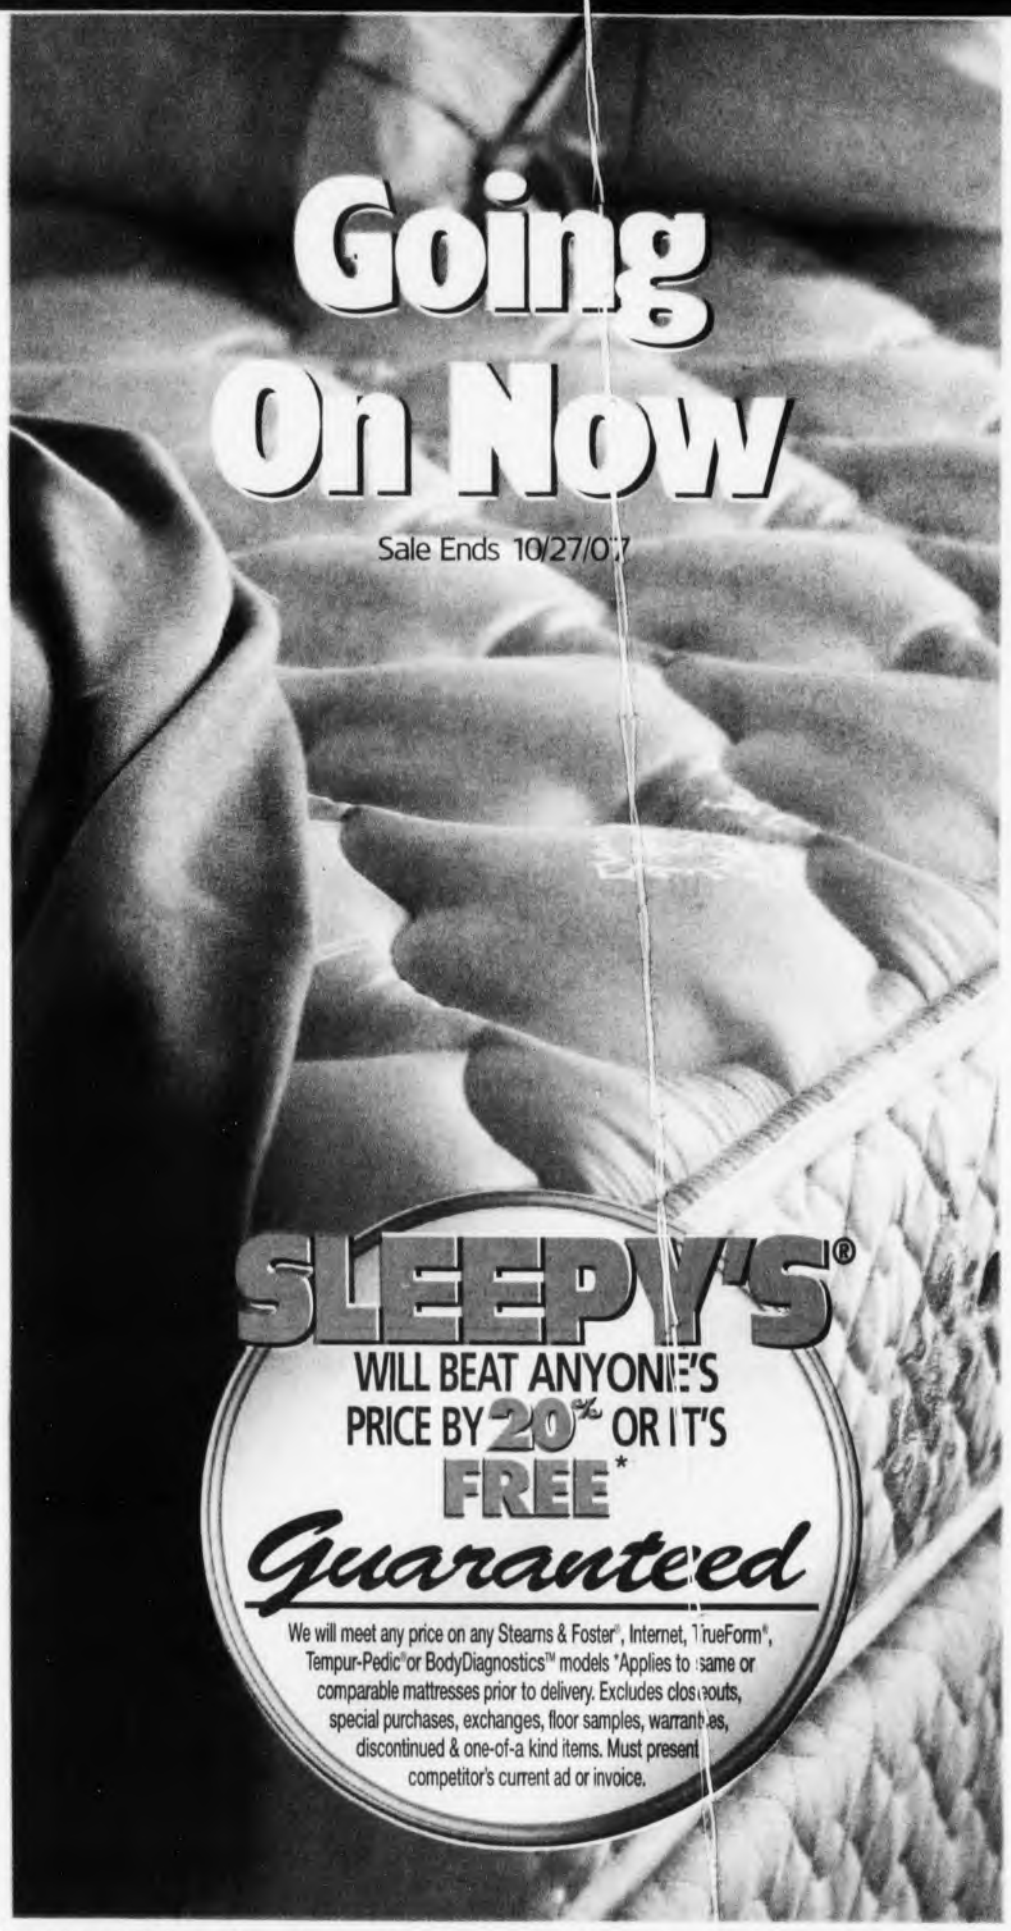
Posturepedic SUPER PREMIUM
$299.99 Twin 2 Pc Set
Full 2pc. set $379.99
Queen 2 pc. set $399.99

Ultra Plush

	OUR REG	SAVE	NOW
Twin 2pc. set	$749.99	$ 250	$499.99
Full 2pc. set	$999.99	$ 450	$549.99
Queen 2pc. set	$1099.99	$ 500	$599.99
King 3pc. set	$1499.99	$ 600	$899.99

Ultra Plush Pillowtop

	OUR REG	SAVE	NOW
Twin 2pc. set	$899.99	$ 300	$599.99
Full 2pc. set	$1099.99	$ 450	$649.99
Queen 2pc. set	$1199.99	$ 500	$699.99
King 3pc. set	$1599.99	$ 600	$999.99



Posturepedic® Exclusive Firm

	OUR REG	SAVE	NOW
Twin 2pc. set	$899.99	$ 250	$649.99
Full 2pc. set	$ 1149.99	$ 400	$749.99
Queen 2pc. set	$1249.99	$ 450	$799.99
King 3pc. set	$1699.99	$ 600	$1099.99

Posturepedic® Exclusive Pillowtop

	OUR REG	SAVE	NOW
Twin 2pc. set	$1149.99	$ 350	$799.99
Full 2pc. set	$1449.99	$ 500	$949.99
Queen 2pc. set	$1499.99	$ 500	$999.99
King 3pc. set	$1999.99	$ 600	$1399.99

Bonus
FREE BED FRAME
With any set purchase listed. Does not apply to exceptional value models or previous sales.

FOUNDED S&F 1840

Stearns & Foster
Cushion Firm
Exceptional Value
$999 Queen 2pc set

	Sleepys Price
Twin 2pc set	$ 779
Full 2pc set	$ 949
King 3pc set	$ 1499

† Exceptional values are sold at our everyday low price

Stearns & Foster
Plaza w/ Cashmere and Memory Foam
Firm, Plush or Euro-Pillowtop
$1399 Queen 2pc set Reg. $1699

The Plaza Collection	Sleepys Price	Extra Savings	Price Now
Twin 2pc. set	$ 1479	Instant $300 SAVINGS	$ 1179
Full 2pc. set	$1649		$ 1349
King 3pc. set	$ 2199		$ 1899

Stearns & Foster
Plaza Ultra Plush Box Top with Smart Latex & Memory Foam
$1599 Queen 2pc set Reg. $1899

The Plaza Collection	Sleepys Price	Extra Savings	Price Now
Twin 2pc. set	$1679	Instant $300 SAVINGS	$ 1379
Full 2pc. set	$1849		$ 1549
King 3pc. set	$2399		$2099

Stearns & Foster
Plaza Ultra Plush Euro-Pillowtop
Liquid Injected Foam Encased
$1799 Queen 2pc set Reg. $2199

The Plaza Collection	Sleepys Price	Extra Savings	Price Now
Twin 2pc. set	$1979	Instant $400 SAVINGS	$ 1579
Full 2pc. set	$2149		$ 1749
King 3pc. set	$2699		$ 2299

Stearns & Foster
Plaza Plush Euro-Pillowtop
Plus Exclusive Pillow Coil
$2499 Queen 2pc set Reg. $2999

The Plaza Collection	Sleepys Price	Extra Savings	Price Now
Queen 2pc. set	$2999	Instant $500 SAVINGS	$2499
King 3pc. set	$3699		$3199

Bonus
INSTANT SAVINGS $200-$500
On select Stearns & Foster mattress sets. Previous sales do not apply. See store for details. Does not apply to exceptional value models listed.

Photos are for illustration purposes only. All models available for purchase and may not be on display. Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities-1 per customer. Not responsible for typographical errors.

UP TO 36 Months 0% Interest-Free Financing Until Oct. 2010 No Money Down
Subject to credit approval by GE Money Bank. Applies to purchases made on Sleepy's consumer credit card account. No finance charges will be assessed on promotional purchase amt. until 36th month ("promo period"). Fixed min. monthly payments equal to 1/36th of purchase amount are required during promo period in addition to any other required min. payment. 36 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $2999, 24 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $1999, 12 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $999. 6 mos. avail. on min. purchases of $300. No finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. if you pay this amt. in full by due date as shown on (6th)(12th) billing statement. If not, finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. from purchase date. Min. monthly payments required. If min. monthly payment is not paid when due, all special promotional terms may be terminated. Variable APR is 23.99% as of 4/04. Fixed APR of 24.75% applies if payment is more than 30 days past due. Min. finance charge is $1.

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!
Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window
Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays and store pick-ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester, CT, PA, DE, MA, RI - Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery fees apply.

SLEEPY'S®
The Mattress Professionals®

BROOKLINE 1385 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpk (Next to Burger King, ample pkg in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawaum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worchester Rd/Rt 9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Place, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 North (Just South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St, Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316

ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Nxt. To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 973-392-0838
STOUGHTON Lot #5 Technology Drive (Nr. Olive Garden) 781-344-0207

BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St. (Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyanough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com
Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC
Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons
On the South Shore
See page 33

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Kacy Kucinski (3) tries to edge out Norwell's Kara O'Connell (2) from the ball while trying to go on the attack. Cohasset is refocusing its efforts after losing a chance at the SSL title.

Championship dreams dashed

Tie with Mashpee sends Lady Skippers into second place

By Mike Spellman
MSPELLMAN@CNC.COM

This is a tie that will bind for a long, long time.

With Mashpee dropping a surprising 1-1 tie on them Tuesday, the Cohasset High girls soccer team lost their bid for a share of the South Shore League title—a crushing blow to all the hard-working girls on this team, to be sure, but perhaps an even crueler hit on veteran head coach Deb Beal.

"It was there for the taking, but we just didn't play our best game," said the Lady Skippers 10th year head coach, who will have to carry her dream of a championship season into another off-season. "The girls played hard. They played with heart, but we just didn't have quite enough."

Gusting winds, a physical opponent and a few questionable calls/non-calls were factors in the match, but Coach Beal chose not to use any of those as excuses.

"We played into [Mashpee's] hands, playing a kick and chase game rather than spreading the field like we can do on our home field," said Beal. "We just never settled into our game. It was disappointing."

After Cohasset junior Torey Hart was set up by fellow offensive standout Kaci Kucinski to score the game-tying goal with 11 minutes to play, the Lady Skippers showed what they were capable of in pulling out all the stops down the stretch. They came within inches of netting the game-winner several times, but time simply ran out on the game clock and their league title hopes.

"The girls knew that a tie was

SEE SOCCER, PAGE 22

League (meet) champs!

Skippers grab second straight title

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

For the second straight year the Cohasset High School golf team won the South Shore League Meet. This year the tournament was held at Ridder Farm Golf Club in East Bridgewater. In the first time in head coach Torin Sweeney's seven-year career as coach, three members from the same team medaled, and they were all from Cohasset.

Jon Wade (77), Chuck Czerkawski (80) and Ian Quinlan (81) all took the top three spots in the meet. After finishing behind Norwell during the regular season for the second consecutive year, the Skippers again exacted their revenge during the league meet.

"It shows the commitment of the kids and how much they enjoy competing," Sweeney said. "They are a good core group of kids."

Wade, who won, had a tough first go-round at Ridder a few weeks back during the regular season, losing one of his only match's of the season. He, along with Quinlan and Chase Stebbins, played a practice round Sunday.

"I really think that round Sunday made a huge difference," Sweeney said.

Stebbins didn't medal in the league meet, but he shined at the Div. 3 South Sectional at Norton Country Club Monday. He finished 10th out of 115 golfers and will move on to the Div. 3 state individual meet at Wentworth Hills Country Club in Plainville, Monday, October 29.

Czerkawski wrapped up his amazing senior season finishing second in the league meet, after finishing fourth last year.

"That really just solidified him as one of the top golfers on the South Shore again," Sweeney said.

There will be more coverage of the CHS golf team in next week's Mariner, including an update on Stebbins's progress at the Div. 3 individual's.

South Shore League All- League Golf Tournament Results

The All-League Golf Tournament was held Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Ridder Farm Golf Club in East Bridgewater. The South Shore League would like to extend its thanks to Jon Ridder and Skip Keene of Ridder Farm Golf Club for donating the course for the 2007 SSL Championship Tournament.

2007 SSL Tournament Team Results

1. Cohasset	238
2. Abington	249
3. Norwell	254
4. East Bridgewater	256
5. Mashpee	267
6. Harwich	276
7. Carver	306

2007 SSL Tournament Individual Medalists - par 70

1. Jon Wade	Cohasset (Jr)	77
2. Chuck Czerkawski	Cohasset (Sr)	80
3. Corey Donlan	Abington (So)	81 tie
3. Ian Quinlan	Cohasset (So)	81 tie

2007 SSL Regular Season Standings

SSL
1. Norwell	12-0
2. Cohasset	9-3
3. East Bridgewater	8-4
4. Mashpee	6-6
5. Abington	4-8
6. Harwich	3-9
7. Carver	0-12

2006 SSL Sportsmanship Award - as voted by coaches

1. Carver
2. Cohasset (tie)
2. Norwell (tie)

2007 South Shore League Golf All-Star Team - as voted by coaches

Name	School	Grade
Corey Donlan	Abington	10
Tyler Bohan	Carver	12
Charlie Czerkawski	Cohasset	12
Jon Wade	Cohasset	11
Chase Stebbins	Cohasset	10
Nick Venezia	East Bridgewater	11
Peter Sawyer	Harwich	12
Ben Jenkins	Mashpee	10
Alex Wagner	Mashpee	12
Cody Cavicchi	Norwell	12
Dan Dempsey	Norwell	12
Mike White	Norwell	12

Cruise control

Field hockey team looks strong heading into tournament

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

The success keeps on coming for the Cohasset High School field hockey team. The Lady Skippers clinched second place in the South Shore League, with a 11-3-3 overall record and a 8-2-2 total in league. Three girls were named to the South Shore League All-Star team, Sally Meehan, Olivia Kimla and Paige Strecker.

Alyssa Mullin and Katina Martone were both named Honorable Mention. The team tied second place for the Sportsmanship Award.

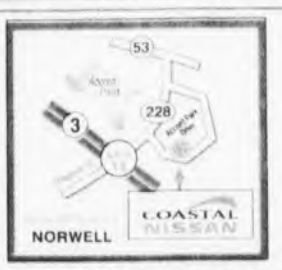
The girls won their last three games against Carver, Hull and Scituate. They played at Hingham, Thursday passed Mariner deadline.

In their most recent win Tuesday at Scituate (1-0), a pair of all-stars connected for the game's only score. Strecker assisted a Meehan goal on an offensive corner. Head coach Deb Bostwick called Strecker's pass a "beautiful ball."

Mullin notched her 9th shutout of the season, and totaled six saves in the game.

Martone, Lesen Haracz, Erika Reardon, Kaleigh Teague, Jenny Cahill all created a lot of movement on the outside. Kimla and Izzy Franklin added a number of scoring opportunities and Sandra Hart, Marisa Tangherlini and Jean Thomae all played strong defense to preserve the shutout.

The girls dominated Hull on Senior Day, Monday, winning 4-0. Reardon scored twice while



SEE HOCKEY, PAGE 22

COURTESY PHOTO

Cohasset is looking strong going into the state tournament this season. They finished second in the SSL.

COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com

109 Accord Park, Norwell
(Exit 14 off Route 3)
800-562-9993
OPEN: Mon.-Thur. 9-8
Fri 9-6 • Sat. 9-5 • Sun. 12-5

TENT EVENT
NOW THRU OCT. 31ST

Skippers drop second in a row

Head into bye week 5-2

By Andrew Clark
ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENT

On Homecoming Weekend, the East Bridgewater stands were full for a festive day that included a showcase of floats and the naming of the homecoming king and queen.

However, as the Vikings hosted South Shore League foe Cohasset, East Bridgewater tailback Brian Phillips made it clear who was king of the field, propelling his squad to a 12-7 victory.

"He's our workhorse," said East Bridgewater head coach Shawn Tarpey of his star captain following Saturday's victory. "He always gives us everything he has. We didn't get him a lot of carries against Abington and we lost that game. We made sure to give him a lot of carries today."

The senior captain ran for 112 yards on 24 carries, accounting for all of his team's 12 points, en route to being named co-offensive player of the game along with quarterback Greg O'Sullivan.

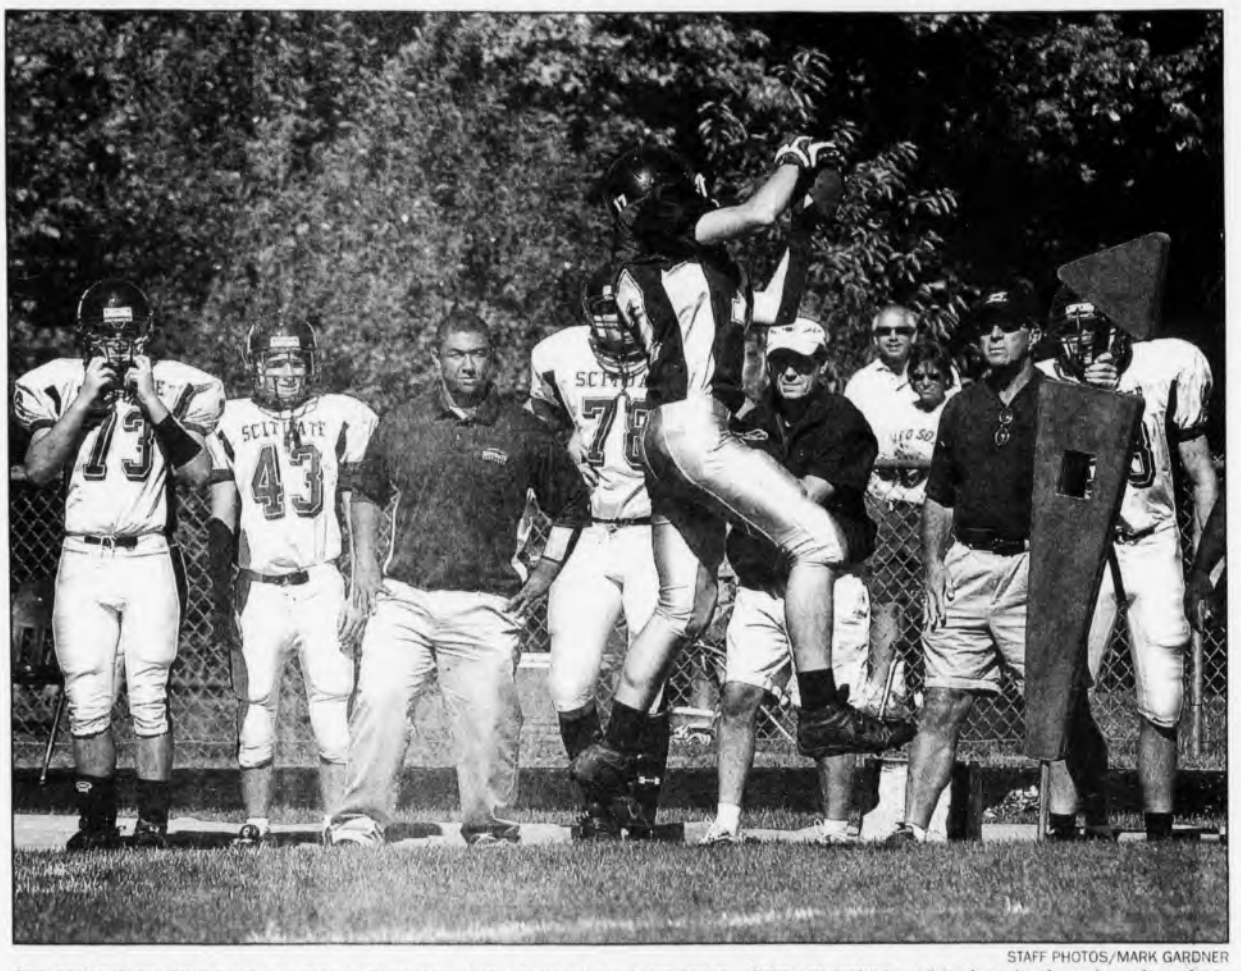
East Bridgewater (5-1) jumped out of the gate on its first possession after a strong defensive stand against the Skippers.

Starting on the Cohasset 32, Coach Tarpey relied heavily on the legs of Phillips to beat down the Skippers defense. Phillips carried six times on the seven-play drive which was punctuated by an 11-yard touchdown run by the senior tailback as he sifted through the middle of Cohasset (5-2) defense, scampering into the end zone.

Following a missed extra point attempt, East Bridgewater assumed the early 6-0 lead.

Early in the second quarter, the Vikings struck again. After recovering a muffed punt return, East Bridgewater took over with favorable starting field position at the Cohasset 26.

The Vikings wasted no time capitalizing as Coach Tarpey got a little creative with his play calling.



Following two incomplete pass attempts, Phillips lined up in the shotgun position and took the direct snap. The tailback then sprinted for a 26-yard score and after the two-point conversion attempt failed, the East Bridgewater lead increased to 12-0.

The Vikings defense gave a strong performance as well, staving off the Cohasset attack. The Skippers struggled to get a rhythm going offensively in their first two drives and on their third drive, they marched all the way down to the East Bridgewater 10, where they were forced into a turnover on downs.

"Our defense has been tough all year," said Tarpey. "I thought they out hit them for the most part today."

The only blemish for the Vikings came at the start of the third quarter.

Cohasset attempted and recovered an onside kick right out of the gate. The Skippers utilized both their vertical game and rushing attack to chip away at the Vikings defense. Senior quarterback David Snowdale led his squad down to the goal line, where running back Sam DeGiacomo punched the ball in for the one-yard score.

STAFF PHOTOS/MARK GARDNER

Cohasset's Kenny Muir hauls in a pass in front of the Scituate bench in recent action. Cohasset looks to get back on track next week against Abington.

After Pat Doonan converted the extra-point attempt, the Skippers cut the deficit to 12-7.

The Skippers posed a threat late, but East Bridgewater shut them down. Junior defensive back Justin DeAndrade picked off a Snowdale pass with 1:19 left and the Vikings played a clock control offense, halting any chance of a Cohasset comeback and sealing the 12-7 victory.

"East Bridgewater was fired up and played aggressive," said Cohasset head coach Pete Afanasiw. "You have to give credit where credit is due. It's tough to play catch up against a good team like that. We just gave too little, too late."

Cohasset's Pat Doonan looks to evade Scituate's Alex Cuomo (left, 33) and George Russo (right, 53). The Skippers are 5-2 heading into the bye-week.

Cohasset High School football schedule

November

2	Abington	7 p.m.
9	Norwell	7 p.m.
22	@Hull	10 a.m.

Professional DIRECTORY

ARCHITECTS

(pre-construction computer rendering)

If 3D digital imaging like this isn't part of your project's design...
...you're not getting the whole picture!

DUXBOROUGH DESIGNS
portfolio at duxboroughdesigns.com
Duxbury, MA ■ 781.934.7265

DESIGN SERVICES

window treatments · slipcovers · bedding & accoutrements
design consultation · installation
the personal touch
house dressing
exquisite workmanship · fine detail
Maryjane Sparks 781.659.4788

ELECTRICAL

Randall's Electrical Services
Interior/Exterior Lighting & Wiring
Design & Installation
Public, Commercial & Residential Projects
SERVING THE SOUTH SHORE EXPERTLY FOR OVER 30 YEARS
781-545-3799 ■ CELL 781-424-8845
MASTER'S LICENSE #A13637

PERSONAL TRAINER

Everybody's doing it and they've never looked and felt better!

Art Tagliaferri
- Certified Personal Trainer
- Lifestyle & Weight Mgt. Consultant
- Diet & Nutrition Specialist

I bring the Gym to You!
In the privacy of your own home I will:
- Design/conduct workout sessions to increase lean muscle mass & help combat osteoporosis
- Teach you how to eat the foods you love and still lose 1-2 pounds per week, and keep it off! No fad diets!
- Strengthen and tone your abdominals
- Help you to improve your cardiovascular system
- Give you the knowledge and confidence to eventually workout on your own, either at home or at a commercial gym
- Bring you all equipment needed for our workout sessions

FREE INITIAL CONSULTATION
Call Today: 617.842.0519
www.southshorefitnesstoyou.com

To Advertise in this Directory Call Brandi at 781-433-7946

STOREWIDE SALE
1 WEEK ONLY
Oct. 29th-Nov 4th
HOURS: Mon.-Sat. 10-6; Sun. 12-5

Trestle Table	Reg. $1,895	Now $795
Handpainted Bombe Chest of Drawers	Reg. $1,095	Now $895
Scandinavian Chest of Drawers	Reg. $795	Now $695
Simone Sofa	Reg. $1,725	Now $1,300
Pyramid Bookcase	Reg. $695	Now $495
Roosevelt Sideboard	Reg. $465	Now $365
Morin Dining Chair	Reg. $195	Now $135
Crosby Mirrored Cabinet	Reg. $1,095	Now $795
Holly Sectional	Reg. $1,990	Now $1,500
Iron & Marble Table Lamp	Reg. $295	Now $195
White Corner Cabinet	Reg. $1,225	Now $895

R.O. HOME
RESTORATIONS & ORIGINALS HOME STORE

11D Commerce Rd.
Rockland
781-871-1225
M-Sat. 10-6, Sun. 12-5

Neighboring power struggle

Sailors upend Skippers on pitch with tourney implications on the line

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

The more desperate team won Monday when the Scituate and Cohasset boys soccer teams played, but when levels of despondency are measured it usually means neither team is very good. That was not the case Monday, as both teams played an evenly fought game that had the Sailors coming out on top, 3-2.

It took a Jamie Pratt goal in the 76th minute for Scituate to prevail over the opportunistic Skippers. Scituate improved to 7-7-2 with the win, and has to beat either East Bridgewater or Carver to qualify for the Division 2 state tournament.

They play the Vikings at home Friday for a 6:00 p.m. start.

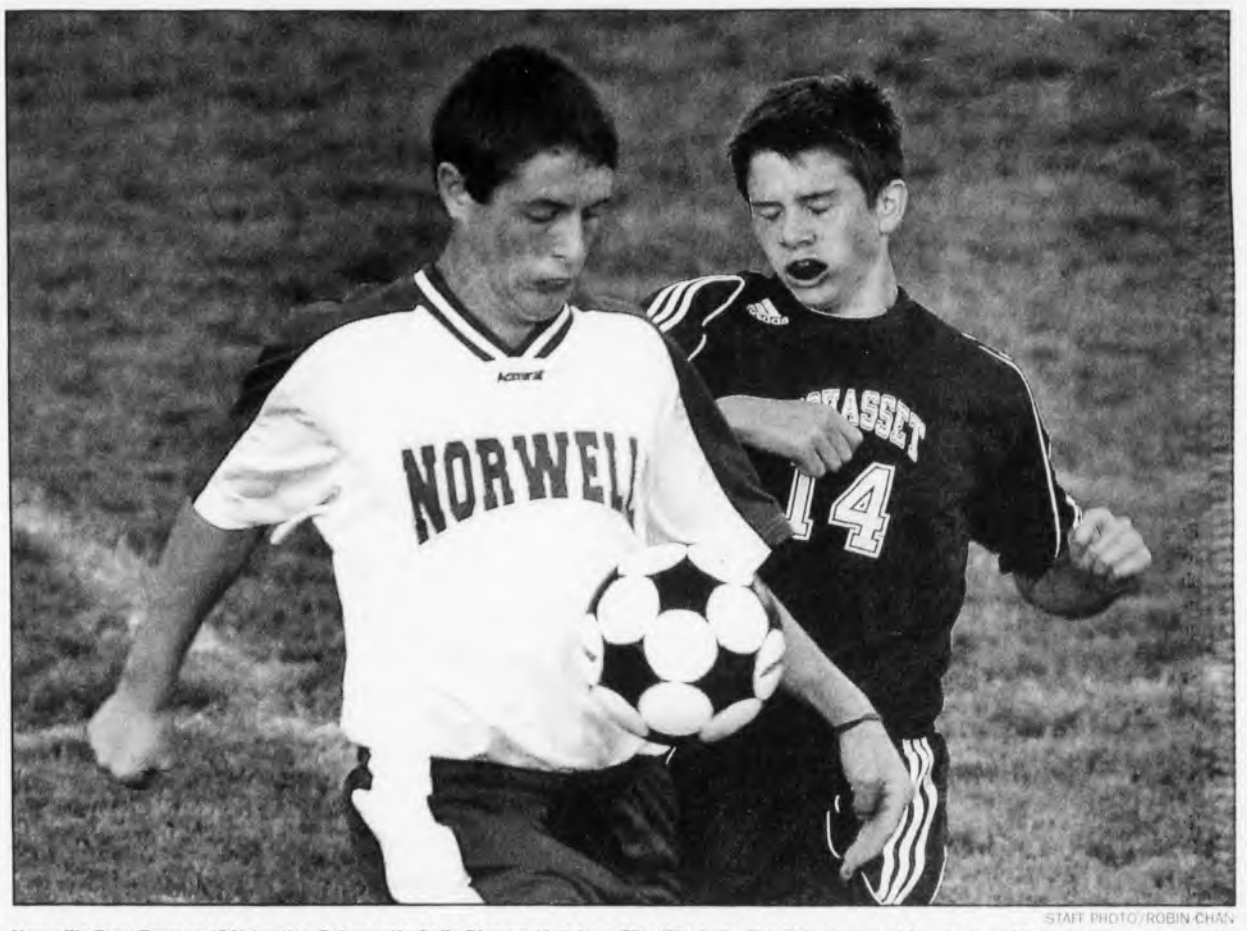
Cohasset dropped to 5-6-5 with the loss and 3-3 tie with Mashpee Tuesday. They have to win one of its final two against Rockland and Hull to get in the Division 3 bracket. An early season tie with Nantucket became a win when it was learned that the Whalers had an ineligible player on their team.

They played the Bulldogs Thursday after the Mariner went to press. They will play Hull at home Tuesday. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Pratt's late game-winning goal showcased why the senior is an invaluable piece in the Sailors attack.

"Jamie is just a really strong player for me," Scituate coach James Forde said about the versatile halfback. "When he wants to take over a game he can take over a game. He can win the fifty-fifty balls, he can distribute and he can finish, as you saw tonight. He stepped up in the mid-field and kept the charge going."

The even keeled Pratt may not be the biggest player on the field but his quick feet and strong scoring ability has been key to Scituate's tournament run.



"We had to stay aggressive," Pratt said afterwards. "This was a must win game."

Monday was also a homecoming of sorts for Cohasset head coach Jim Willis. Willis coached Scituate varsity for eight seasons before heading to Cohasset. He also coached the 12 and 14 and under all-star teams that showcased many Sailors seniors.

"It's hard to come back here, you want to shake hands and talk to everybody and catch up but you got business to do," Willis said. "The other hard part about it is I have been coaching these seniors since they were in fifth grade. I'm happy for them, I hope they make the tournament, but at the same time I'm glad they are division two and we are division three."

Scituate's Cory Walls got things started scoring in the 5th minute of the game on Max Liedtka's first of two assists. Cohasset tied it up later in the half on a Mike Grimm goal from 25 yards out. The ball floated just over Greg Hall's head into the net. Grimm's was a perfect kick.

Both teams went into the half tied 1-1.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Norwell's Tony Ferzoco (21) battles Cohasset's Colin Dignam (14) for a fifty/fifty ball. The Skippers need to win one of their last two games to get into the tournament.

Chris Nelson scored in the 59th minute for Scituate. Cohasset tied it up in the 70th minute on a Scituate breakdown in the box, when Sam Roth hit a strike into the lower right side of the net. At that point the momentum swung in the Skippers direction and it seemed they would leave with a point.

"It was tough, it was physical, both teams were playing for a tournament spot but they were a little more desperate than us," Willis said. "They only have three games left and they have to win two and I think they played like it."

Scituate played strong but missed on a number of offensive opportunities. Had they not come out with a win it would have been a huge disappointment.

"We had chances, we are the type of team where we unfortunately get a dozen chances and only score on a few," Forde said. "You have to give them credit, we are getting good ball movement and good chances but we just don't have that pure finisher. In a way it's good because we are so balanced."

Robbie Vogel came back from his high ankle sprain for Scituate and spelled its "iron-man" Kurt Stephens, at stopper back. Utilizing its versatility will help Scituate during this critical stretch.

Ryan Crough continued his stellar play for the Skippers.

"Crough was outstanding in the middle of the field," said Willis. "He took a lot of shots but he kept bouncing up and doing what he had to do, he was moving well really pushing the offense up."

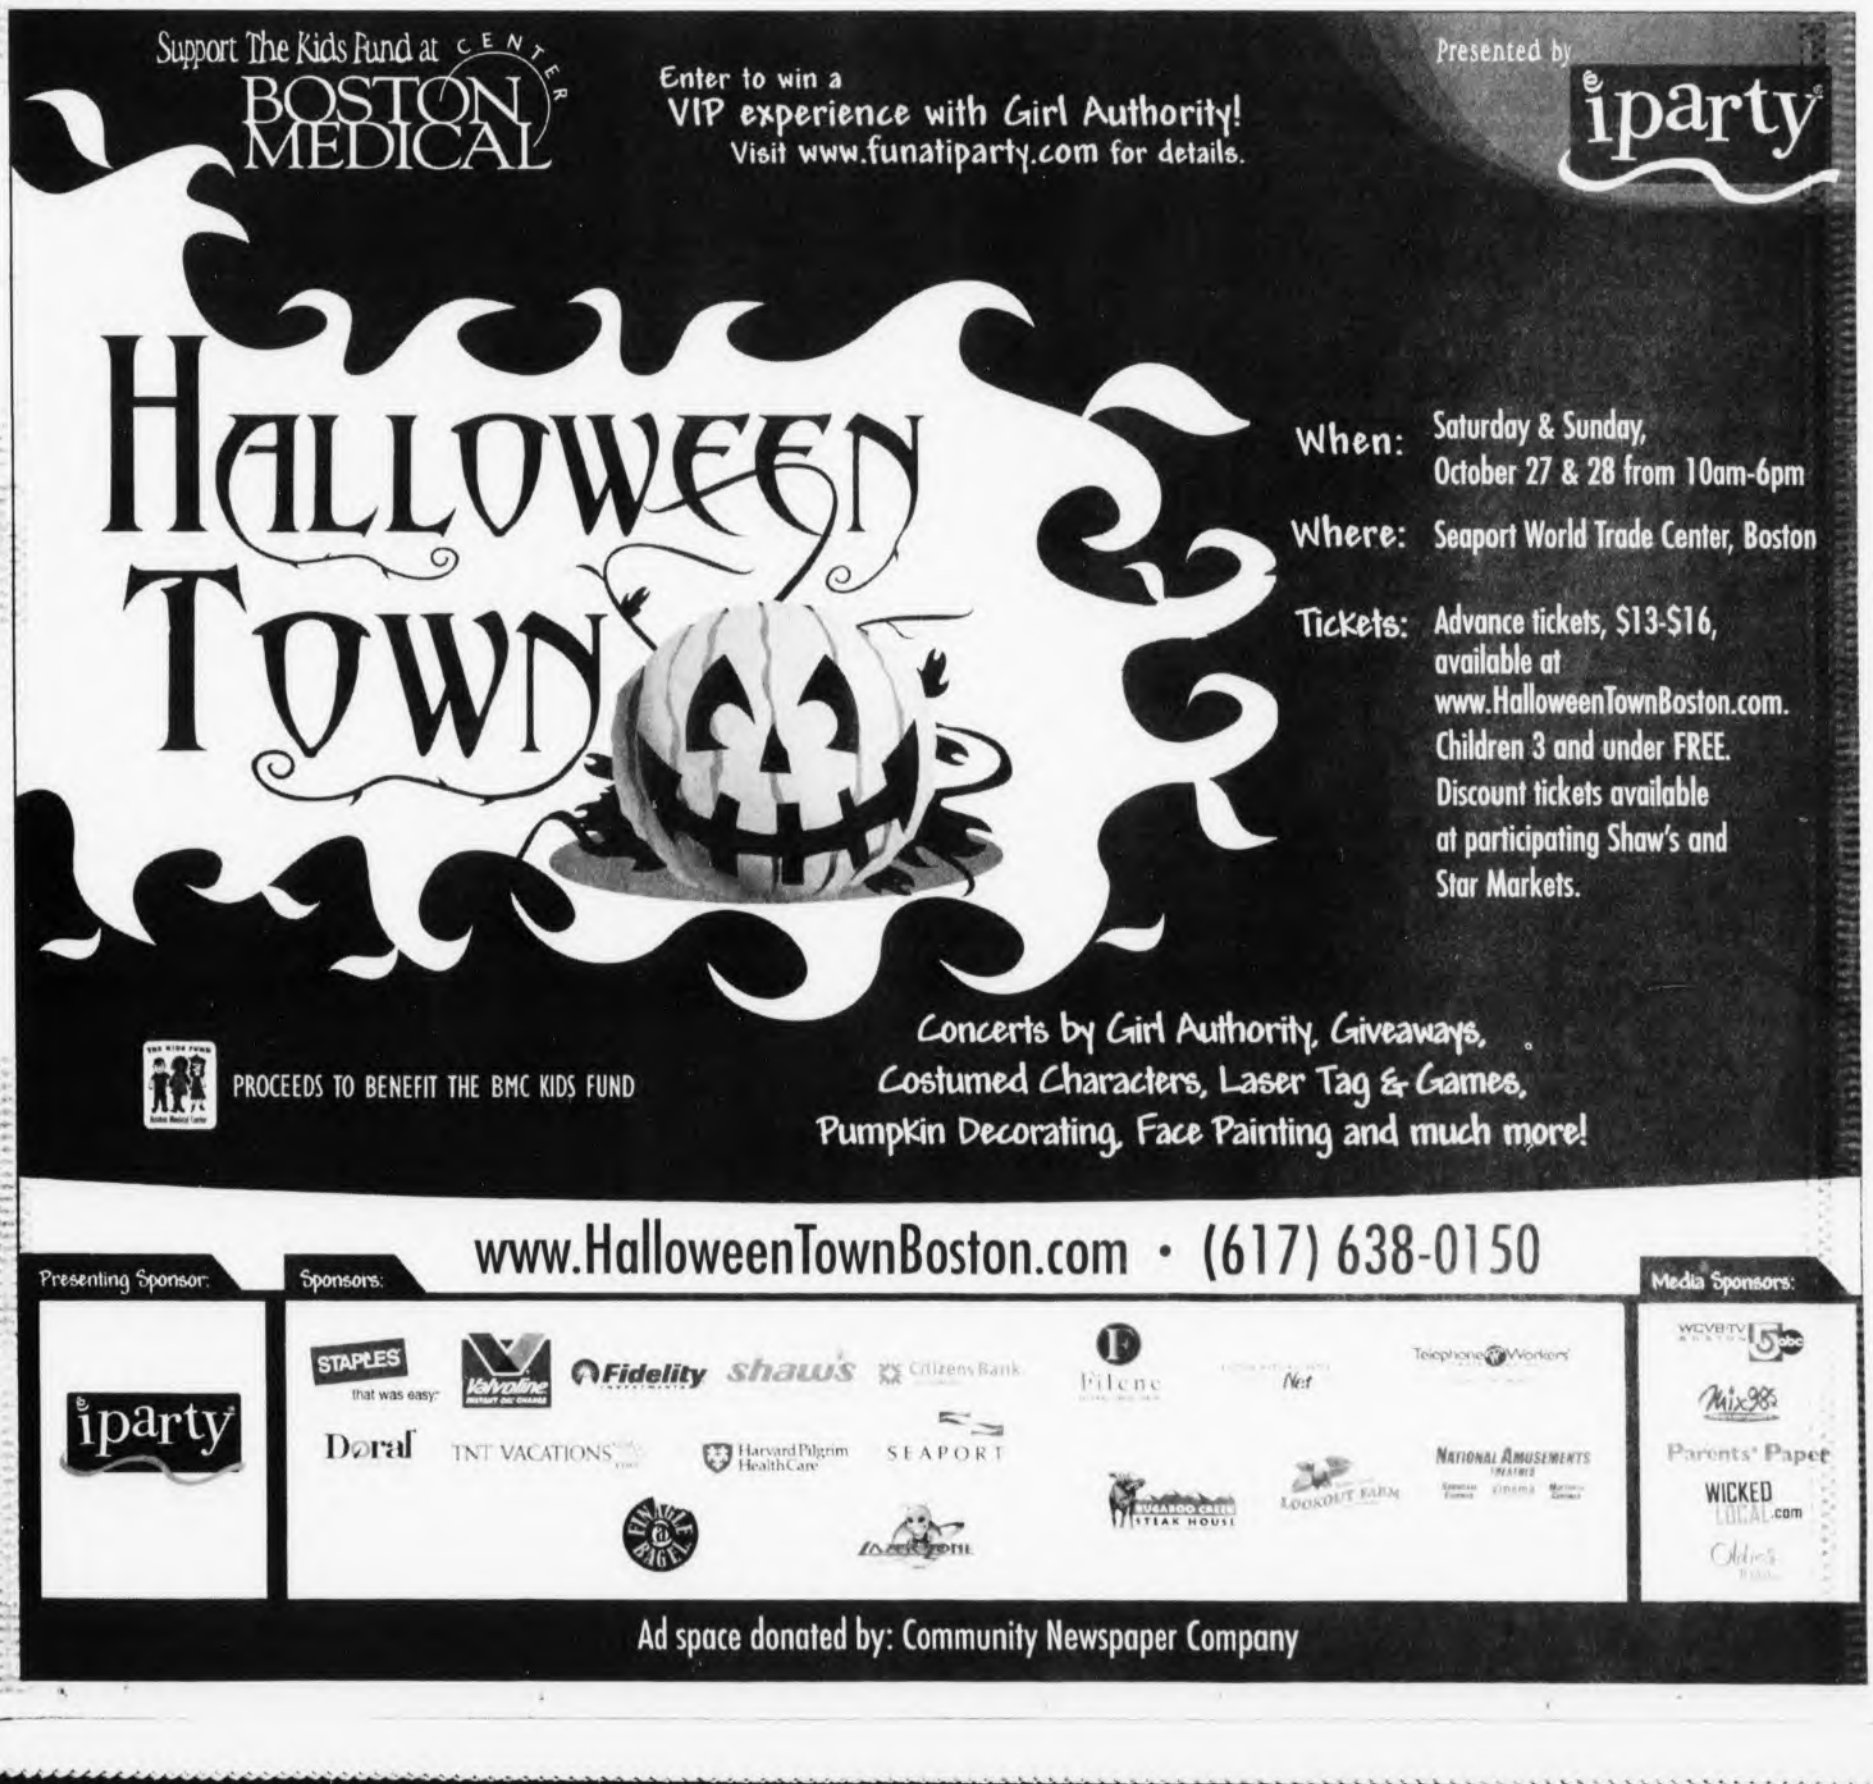
Skippers 3, Mashpee 3

Roth, Crough and Lennart Brown all scored against the Hawks. The Skippers actually led 3-0 at halftime until they broke down in the second half.

"We are going through a bad stretch," said Willis. "We were doing pretty well, but the last three games we have played terrible. After playing them (Mashpee) well the first time, we did pretty poorly last night."

Cohasset looked to get back on track against a tough Rockland team out of the Patriot League.

Sports Briefly



Southeast Medical 5K Road Race

The Southeast Medical 5K Road Race and walk to benefit scholarship funds at East Bridgewater High School will take place Sunday, Oct. 28, at 8:30 a.m. The runners begin the 3.1-mile course at the high school and travel over flat, suburban roads. Along the course there will be one water stop and volunteers at each mile mark. This is a USA Track & Field sanctioned race. There will be post-race festivities, including refreshments, music and an awards ceremony.

Extra Innings clinic

Extra Innings, 319 Manley St., West Bridgewater, is taking registration for the following clinic. To register, go to www.extrainningswbridgewater.com or call 508-580-3113.

Fall indoor wiffle ball leagues – Wiffle ball leagues are currently being formed for the second annual fall league, which starts Monday, Oct. 29 and runs until Jan. 25. Last year's champs will be back to defend their titles in all three age groups. Ages 6 to 8, 9 to 10, and 11 to 12 will compete over 14 weeks for a shot at the coveted Extra Innings Wiffle Trophy. Sign up as a team or as an individual and be placed on a team. Either way, this is their most popular off-season league and it fills up fast. Extra Innings staff will umpire the games and some new rules will add to the fun. The cost for a team with a minimum of five players is $250 and for individuals, the cost is $60. Ages 4 to 6 will meet from 10 to 11:15 a.m.; ages 7 and 8 will meet from 11:45 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Field hockey team looks strong heading into tournament

FROM HOCKEY, PAGE 19

Strecker, Cahill and Meehan finished off the Pirates.

"All the seniors contributed to a highly successful day," added Bostwick.

Hilary Gaumer, Hannah Burgess and Kate O'Callahan all played well in the win. Senior Chrissy Kent recorded her first career shutout in net.

Thursday, the defense of Strecker, Meehan, Haracz and Franklin slowed down Carver's Kayla Littig, one of the state's premier scorers. Meehan, Kimla and Teague all scored in the game.

Sports FAX 781-837-4543

Tie with Mashpee sends Lady Skippers into second place

FROM SOCCER, PAGE 19

like a loss, so they just poured it all out for those last few minutes," said Beal. "It hurt to see how much this hurt them, but that's something we can build on. This loss hurts, but it would hurt a lot more if it came a couple weeks from now."

In other words, in the state tourney. Indeed, the disappointment of a second place league finish would be quickly overshadowed by a long postseason run.

At 12-3-2 (9-1-2 in SSL play) heading in to a pair of non-league matches to close out the regular season, the Lady Skippers should receive a high seed and quite likely a home match or two when the MIAA announces the seedings and pairings on Nov. 1.

Doing her best to see the glass as half full, Beal expressed hope that Tuesday's performance will serve as a wakeup call for her charges.

"Maybe we've gotten a little complacent," offered Beal. "It happens sometimes. It doesn't mean the girls aren't playing hard. There are just some little things we're not doing as well right now as we were before. We'll get back to some basics in practice: passing to feet, one touching the ball. I'm sure we'll come out of it a better team. I remain optimistic."

The Lady Skippers were slated to play Scituate, of the larger school Patriot League, yesterday, and then close out the season on Monday with Hanover, another Patriot league team.

"Those non-league games should be pretty good for getting us ready for battle," said Beal. "Then, we're going to have a week or so off before we play our first tourney game, and I think that's just what we need right now. There isn't a lot of downtime built in to the season. We've been playing a lot of tough games one on top of the other. We can use this stretch to regroup a little."

Another consolation for the veteran coach is the fact that, after losing 22 players to graduation the previous two seasons, she'll lose just two this season: versatile standouts Meg Anderson and Anna Hagerty.

"Obviously, I'll miss Anna and Meg a lot, but looking what we've got coming back is pretty exciting," said Beal. "I'm not looking beyond this season, but I think it's safe to say we'll be in pretty good shape for another league run next year."

Skippers 4, E. Bridgewater 2

The Skippers officially qualified for the Div. 3 state tourney with this victory last Monday at home. Sarah Coggins, Meg Anderson, Christine Coner and Mackenzie Hart each scored for the hosts.

Skippers 3, Carver 0

Junior Sarah Coggins scored the winning goal fewer than 10 minutes into the game. Freshman Kaci Kucinski scored her team best 16th goal of the season, and junior Brittany Dunn rounded out the scoring.

Junior Torey Hart had two assists in the victory.

Recent Standouts

Beal expressed a good deal of satisfaction over the improving chemistry between her top two offensive talents, freshman Kaci Kucinski and junior Torey Hart.

"They both do so many things well on the field, but they're looking more and more comfortable playing off one another," said Beal. "It's pretty exciting going into the playoffs with Kaci and Torey really clicking together."

The veteran coach also lauded the play of late of juniors Maggy McGoldrick, at stopper, and Sarah Coggins, as the "defensive" center midfielder.

"Sarah takes so much pride in what she does out there," said Beal. "She brings an unbelievable amount of passion to the game. She's really stepped it up recently, and done an outstanding job."

NOW THROUGH NEXT WEDNESDAY
TAKE AN EXTRA 15% OFF SALE MERCHANDISE*
WHEN YOU USE YOUR
LORD & TAYLOR CREDIT CARD
DON'T HAVE A LORD & TAYLOR ACCOUNT? OPEN ONE INSTANTLY AND GET AN EXTRA 15% OFF YOUR FIRST DAY'S PURCHASES IN ADDITION TO YOUR JUST IN TIME SAVINGS. SUBJECT TO NORMAL CREDIT APPROVAL. SOME EXCLUSIONS APPLY. SEE YOUR SALES ASSOCIATE FOR DETAILS.

JUST IN TIME

ON TIME & ON SALE NOW

30% OFF DOWN AND WOOL COATS FOR HER
SALE 49.99 TO 89.99
LUXURIOUSLY SOFT CASHMERE CARDIGANS, CREWS, V-NECKS, HOODIES AND MORE FOR HER. ORIG. $86-$144
NOWHERE BUT LORD & TAYLOR
SALE 59.99 TO 169.99
BOOTS & BOOTIES...THE SHORT AND TALL OF FALL. REG. $79-$198
25% TO 30% OFF KIDS' OUTERWEAR
30% OFF MEN'S RAINWEAR, TOPCOATS & OUTERWEAR
139.50 MEN'S GRANT THOMAS CASHMERE SWEATERS
NOWHERE BUT LORD & TAYLOR

Shop online at lordandtaylor.com. *Offer ends Wednesday, October 31st. 10% discount on men's suits, suit separates, sportcoats & shoes. Excludes: BRAND NAMES: All BCBG/BCBG Max Azria, Marc by Marc Jacobs, Kate Spade, Seana, Tumi and Papyrus; men's merchandise from Lacoste, Island Soft, Indigo Palms, Tommy Bahama, Andrew Marc outerwear, Marc New York outerwear, Ted Baker, Nat Nast and Diesel. DEPARTMENTS: Ladies' cashmere departments, cosmetics, fragrances, beauty accessories, Best Buys, watches, special event promotions and designer jewelry in Fine Jewelry, Beauty Salon, restaurants, alterations & gift cards. Cannot be combined with Savings Passes or Coupons. Not valid on prior purchases. Bonus savings % applied to reduced prices. Not valid on telephone or internet orders, or at Levittown. Sale ends Wednesday, October 31st, except for clearance items as noted. Savings off original and regular prices. No adjustments to prior sale purchases. Selected collections; not every style in every store. Our regular and original prices are offering prices only and may or may not have resulted in sales. Advertised merchandise may be available at sale prices in upcoming sale events. For the Lord & Taylor location nearest you, visit our website or call 1-800-223-7440.

Sports Notes

The Cohasset Gridiron Club

The Cohasset Gridiron Club is proud to welcome back to Cohasset High School members and their families of the 1957 undefeated football team who are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their perfect season.

The event takes place Friday night, November 2, when the current Cohasset Skippers take on South Shore League rival, Abington. Kickoff is 7 p.m., preceded by the traditional honoring of this year's Senior Class players and parents.

Come out and support the 2007 team and honor the 1957 team and enjoy some great football action and tradition under the Friday night lights!"

Cohasset Travel Basketball winter 2007/2008

Tryouts for Cohasset Travel Basketball for boys and girls in grades 5-8 will take place Monday, Oct 29 and Tuesday Oct. 30 as follows, same times each night:

At the Osgood School the girls grades 5 and 6 will tryout from 5:30-7 p.m. Grade 7 will be from 7-8 p.m. and Grade 8 will be from 8-9 p.m. All girls interested in trying out please email Mr. Fredey at stredey@aol.com. Put "Travel Basketball" in the subject line and just give him your name and grade.

At the Deer Hill school the boys grade 5 from 5:30-6:30 p.m., grade 6 from 6:30-7:30 p.m., grade 7 from 7:30-8:30 p.m. and Grade 8 from 8:30-9 p.m.

All boys interested in trying out please email Mr. Haggerty at chaggerty22@yahoo.com. Put "Travel Basketball" in the subject line and just give him your name and grade.

SCHOOLS

Halloween train a little scary

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

Boo!

Readers, it is that time of the year that every kid looks forward to and every parent secretly dreads. Yes, I am talking about Halloween! Bring on the sugar rushes and crazy costumes, and, oh yeah, the train? For reasons unbeknownst to me, and I am sure to plenty of parents the MBTA people have decided to begin running the SILENT train on the one night kids roam freely in the streets with or without parental supervision. Like kids won't already have a hard enough time hearing their parents over all the candy commotion… not to mention those wearing masks who will only see half of the night. Hopefully, this grand premiere will be postponed to a time when people can be excited by, and appreciate, the train.

Hopefully, this grand premiere will be postponed to a time when people can be excited by, and appreciate, the train.

On a different note, it seems as though Cohasset High is home to numerous and talented athletes. With both the girl's soccer and field hockey teams entering tournament it is safe to say that girls can definitely kick butt! But, it would be unfair to not mention that the boy's varsity soccer is ranked second in the league — quite an accomplishment after last years under-whelming season. I guess the Red Sox and the Patriots aren't the only New England teams bringing their "A" games this sports season. Don't you just love Boston!

Now for the week's top stories:

• Monday, Oct. 22: The Varsity field hockey team played on turf against Hull. In addition to beating our friendly rivals, the senior teammates basked in the glory of Senior's Night as they took center stage at half time to receive roses and hugs from parents and coaches alike.

• Tuesday, Oct. 23: Careful drivers! A new session of Driver's Ed. has begun. Who doesn't love watching clips of horrific accidents and movies about the car anatomy for three hours straight? The true test is when students are actually learning first hand how to drive…so don't forget to buckle up and keep checking your rear view mirror!

• Wednesday, Oct. 24: First game of the World Series!!!!…. Enough said! Oh, and the whole school showed their Red Sox players some love by sporting Red Sox apparel.

• Thursday, Oct. 25: Rehearsals continue for the Middle School play, "Fifteen Reasons Not to be in a One Act Play."

• Friday, Oct. 26: The middle school kids had the Halloween dance.

Well, that is it for me this week! Have a great and safe weekend!

Don't miss the Osgood Book Fair!

The Joseph Osgood School Parent School Organization, PSO, will host a Book Fair fundraiser, from 2 to 7 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Joseph Osgood School, 210 Sohier St.

This year, the Joseph Osgood School PSO will introduce a new and different book fair, "Bookfairs by Bookends." This dynamic company has been hosting books-only book fairs that are packed with a premier selection of books from over forty different publishers. There will be thousands of quality books with titles that you and your children will be excited to read. Lively picture books, captivating beginning readers, enchanting chapter books, and timeless classics and award winners will be among fact-packed science and reference books, popular adult titles and perfect gift books.

This year, the Joseph Osgood School PSO will introduce a new and different book fair.

Attendees can also help the school build classroom libraries and the school library by purchasing books for teachers through the Classroom Wish List.

The PSO is a non-profit organization whose role is to act as an advocate for public education and serve as the official link between parents and schools. The PSO voices parental responses to school issues, and provides forums for administrators, teachers, and students to present their programs and policies to the public. Through fundraising efforts, like the upcoming Book Fair, the PSO provides programs and activities that enrich the school experience for students, teachers, and parents. Families, teachers, and all members of the community are invited to attend the fair and discover the magic of reading.

Youth Drama Workshop at middle-high school

Cohasset MHS Arts Boosters is pleased to announce a unique enrichment opportunity for Cohasset High School students: Youth Drama Workshop.

The workshop will be held on Tuesdays Nov. 13, 20, 27 & Dec. 4 from7-8:30 p.m.

Attend Cohasset High School's first Drama Workshop and learn from a professional how to:

• develop vocal techniques and delivery,

• shape a dramatic scene,

• perform monologues,

• practice improvisation … and much more.

Instructed by Steve Dooner, drama professor, skilled actor, and experienced director for The Company Theatre, Fiddlehead Theatre, Bay Colony Orpheum Theater, Quincy College Drama Society and others, the class is intended to bring your craft to the next level.

Sign up for all four free sessions in the HS Office or see Mrs. Noble by Nov. 7th.

All experience levels welcome. Space is limited.

Cohasset MHS Arts Boosters has applied for a 2007 Cohasset Cultural Council Grant to help subsidize this program.

Cohasset Schools to conduct 'Child Find'

Cohasset Public Schools, in accordance with federal law IDEA 2004 and Massachusetts Special Education Regulations 603 CMR 28.00, are in the process of conducting "Child Find." The school department is seeking children with suspected disabilities residing in Cohasset who may be in need of Special Education services.

Cohasset Public Schools will evaluate students from age 3 through high school age who are unable to progress effectively in a regular education program due to a suspected disability in one of the following areas: developmental or intellectual delay, sensory, neurological, emotional, communication, physical, specific learning disability or health impairment. Cohasset Public Schools will also arrange for an evaluation of young people ages 16 through 21 who have not graduated from high school and who are not now attending school.

In addition, screenings for three- to five-year-olds take place the third Friday of each month at Osgood School. Call the Integrated Pre-school staff at 781-383-6117 for more information.

Cohasset provides all children with an opportunity to participate in the public school programs using a continuous and systematic process to identify students in need of special education. Programs and services are offered without regard to color, race, sex, religion, national origin, sexual orientation or disability.

Parents who have a child they suspect may have a disability or know a child with a disability who may be in need of special education services, should call the director of Student Services, Linda Gill, at 781-383-6104 for information.

Letters About Literature contest entries sought

Letters About Literature, a national reading and writing promotion program for young readers in grades 4 through 12, is sponsored in part by the Massachusetts Center for the Book, with lead support from the Calderwood Writing Initiative at the Boston Athenaeum and additional assistance from Houghton Mifflin Co. and Massachusetts libraries.

Last year more than 55,000 young people from across the nation entered the competition and two Cohasset students, Madeline Blackburn and Foster Eymer, won in the honorable mention category. To read their winning entries visit http://www.massbook.org/lal2006.html and scroll down to honorable mention.

To enter, readers must write a personal letter to an author explaining how his or her work changed their view of the world or of themselves. Young readers can select authors from any genre including fiction or nonfiction, contemporary or classic. The deadline for entries is Friday, Dec. 14.

Judges, working with the Massachusetts Center for the Book, will select the top letter writers in the commonwealth from three competition levels. Entries will be assessed on three criteria: content, or the writer's achievement in addressing the contest theme; exposition, or the writer's use of language skills; and voice, the writer's style and originality of expression.

State winners receive a $50 Target Gift Card and are invited to a State House awards ceremony. The three state winners then advance to the national competition. A panel of judges for the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress will select six national winners and 12 national runners-up. Each national winner will receive a $500 Target Gift Card. In addition, he or she will win a Reading Promotion Grant of $10,000 for his or her school or community library. National winners will be instrumental in deciding how the library funds will be spent. The 12 national runners-up will win a $100 Target Gift Card and a Reading Promotion Grant of $1,000 for their school or community libraries.

To obtain the required entry coupon and a copy of the guidelines, visit www.massbook.org/letters or contact the Massachusetts Center for the Book by sending email to massbook@simmons.edu.

Make a difference!

Make-a-Difference Day is a national day of volunteering in its 16th year. It has long been a tradition at the Osgood School to participate and this year, the Deer Hill School will be holding its second Make-a-Difference Day. Make sure to mark in your calendars the following information so that you and your family can take part and Make-A-Difference here in town.

Get ready for Nov. 17 and 18, when students of Osgood and Deer Hill families and community members will work in teams to help with fall cleanup for some of Cohasset's elderly residents.

Volunteers will rake, pull down storm windows, change outdoor light bulbs and remove window air conditioners.

To volunteer, or for more information, contact Patty Cunningham at 781-383-1378.

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

GOODlife

Living in comfort, living with style... at home, in the office or out on the town. That's GOODlife, a quarterly magazine published by Community Newspaper Company to help modern men and women today live life and live it well. This high gloss, full color magazine is designed to stimulate and inspire a highly upscale audience to seek out and enjoy life - the good life - with the latest design trends, entertainment advice, fashion ideas and more!

Publication Date:
Week of November 26
Copy & Space Deadline:
Wednesday, October 31

Holiday Planner 2007

Where to go. What to buy. How to Find it. It's all inside our holiday advertising sections. From Holiday Happenings to Great Holiday Gift Ideas to the Last Minute Gift Guide. With so many shopping choices, make sure they choose you.

Shopping Facts:

- More then 833,000 CNC readers often read or look to newspaper's advertising booklets, flyers, coupons or other advertising.
- The most commonly purchased holiday gifts include clothing, books, CDs, DVDs, gift certificates or cards, toys and beauty items.

*More then 38,000 readers have purchased a gift card in the past 12 months.

Wrap up your holiday plans today!

Advertising Deadlines:

Holiday Happenings
Publication Dates: November 11 - 17
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 1

Great Holiday Gift Ideas
Publication Dates: November 25 - December 1
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 15

Last Minute Gift Guide
Publication Dates: December 9 - December 15
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 29

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

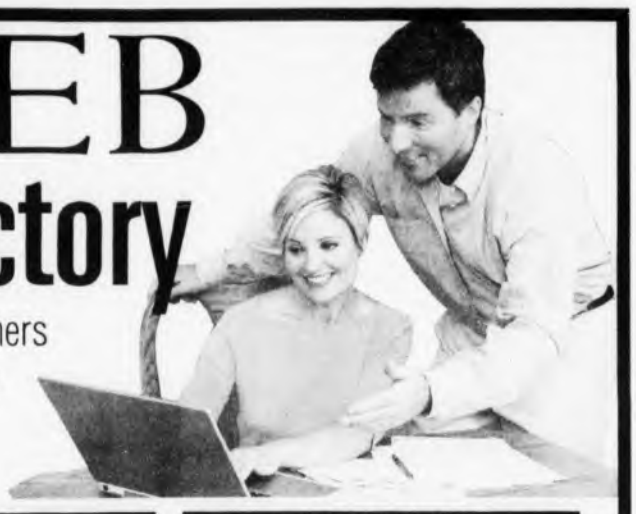
BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax



NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923C Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO DEALERS
Haddon Lincoln Mercury
www.haddoncars.com
Hanson Automotive Inc.
www.hansonautomotiveinc.com
Jannell Ford
www.jannellford.com
Randolph Chrysler Jeep
www.randolphjeepchrysler.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CATERING
Salsa's - The Sausage Guy
www.sausageguy.com

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.com

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

LIMOUSINE SERVICE
JB Livery
www.JBLivery.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRESCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

McAleer finds role she relishes

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

For Trish McAleer, changing roles has come naturally. The former agent with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) and current Hingham resident, is now a drama teacher with her own business.

"I did have to use acting and improvisational skills in my past life," quips McAleer, referring to her work as an undercover narcotics agent. Now she is married and the mother of two young children.

After having children McAleer decided continuing her career in law enforcement was not something she wanted to do. She was searching the Internet for a "family friendly" opportunity and discovered Drama Kids International, a franchise opportunity that would allow her to work with children while having some flexibility in terms of hours. She could also run the business-side of Drama Kids from her house.

"It looked like such a blast," McAleer recalls about her first impression of Drama Kids.

McAleer, who is a native of Long Island and admits to being "a bit of a ham" as a child and teenager, launched Drama Kids South Shore this year. She and her husband, Rob Baynes, a software engineer, moved to Hingham in 2003 from San Francisco. Baynes grew up in Hingham, so moving here provided them with the opportunity to be closer to family.

They have not looked back.

"Housing prices in San Francisco are worse than here," says McAleer, who had no trouble adjusting to life in Hingham. "This is the first town where I have gotten to know so many of my neighbors."

Flexibility and running a home-based business aside, McAleer believes in the Drama Kids' mission.

McAleer explains that most theater groups are performance-based while Drama Kids is "process based." Instead of learning "a" part in "a" play, Drama Kids uses a variety of speech drills, voice exercises, and different improvisations each week. The program focuses on building a child's verbal ability and uses drama as a means to that end.

"Enhancing a child's verbal ability leads to better self-confidence and self-esteem," she explains. "It is important to develop those skills more than ever." McAleer notes that with computers and the Internet, some children are having less and less opportunity to interact.

Although there is an original staged production each spring, Drama Kids is more of an educational program than a theater program, she says. "Students learn theatrical skills and acting along the way – but we are more strongly focused on overall development of students communication skills that lead to social confidence and self-esteem."

The program can help the extrovert become more focused and bring out a more withdrawn child, who may not like to speak in public.

Drama Kids encourages participants to speak in complete sentences through different exercises and activities. Teamwork is also stressed and students learn how to project their voices.

McAleer attended training through Drama Kids in Baltimore where she was able to see the program from the student's point of view. Critiques from field visits have also helped her develop as a teacher. McAleer serves as lead teacher for all three locations at present although she has hired Cohasset resident Jen Piepenbrink, to teach the "Drama Tykes and Kinder Kids" classes.

Drama Kids South Shore is conducting classes in Scituate, Hingham and Cohasset, open to ages 3-12. Classes meet once a week for one hour. Cost ranges from $75 for a six-week session to $125 for 10 weeks. Locations include Old Ship Parish House in Hingham; St. Luke's activity center, 465B First Parish Road in Scituate; and Cohasset's Deer Hill School off Sohier St. Call 781-749-4911 or visit dramakids.com for more information.

PHOTOS/CRAIG GOEDECKE

Drama Kids director Trish McAleer of Hingham goes through a few improvisational lines for children during a workshop held last summer at the Scituate Libary.

Drama Kids director Trish McAleer of Hingham gives an elocution lesson during last summer's workshop.

Piepenbrink joins staff of Drama Kids

Here in Cohasset, Drama Kids programs are being run on Thursday afternoons through Cohasset Recreation and One Creative Place, Here, There and Anywhere. Cohasset resident Jen Piepenbrink is training with Trish McAleer. A special four-week program is being added for November and will be held on Thursday afternoons for grades 3-5 and K-2 right after school. More information can be found by going to www.dramakids.com.

Jen is certified in Early Childhood Education and has more than 25 years of experience with children from birth through teens. Children have been a main focus in Jen's life from the time she was quite young. Having taught and worked in many children's programs, for the last two years Jen has owned and operated One Creative Place in Cohasset, which has provided music, art and theater classes for South Shore kids. Jen hasperformed and worked with local community theater, and now extends her interest in drama by joining our Drama Kids staff where she teaches our Drama Tykes and Kinder Kids programs.

Drama Kids director Trish McAleer of Hingham works with David Sullivan, 8, during a workshop held last summer at the Scituate library.

"We are strongly focused on development of students' communication skills that lead to social confidence and self-esteem."
Trish McAleer

BLANCHARD'S

Est. 1838

Always the Best Selection, Always the Best Price!

HALLOWEEN SALE 2007

WINE

Open Sunday 12-6pm

BUBBLY

VEUVE CLICQUOT BRUT	750ML	$35.97	DOMAINE CHANDON BRUT, ROSE & BLANC DE NOIR	750ML	$15.97	CRISTALINO BRUT & ROSE	750ML	$6.97
MOET & CHANDON WHITE STAR	750ML	$29.97	MUMM NAPA BRUT	750ML	$15.97	JACOBS CREEK BRUT	750ML	$7.97
DEUTZ BRUT CLASSIC	750ML	$29.97	KORBEL BRUT, EXTRA DRY, CHARDONNAY & ROSE	750ML	$9.97	MARTINI & ROSSI ASTI	750ML	$9.97
PAUL ZINC CREMANT	750ML	$14.97	DOMAINE STE MICHELLE BRUT, EXTRA DRY, & FRIZZANTE	750ML	$8.97	CANELLA PROSECCO	750ML	$11.97

RED WINES

2003 ROMBAUER MERLOT	750ML	$26.97	CARR CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$16.97	2004 CH. LES GRANDS MARECHAUX	750ML	$15.97
2004 SEBASTIANI MERLOT ALEXANDER VALLEY	750ML	$19.97	SEBASTIANI CABERNET SAUVIGNON SONOMA	750ML	$13.97	2003 FONTERUTOLI CHIANTI CLASSICO	750ML	$22.97
RODNEY STRONG MERLOT & CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$12.97	VILLA MOUNT EDEN CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$12.97	2003 SIRO PACENTI ROSSO DI MONTALCINO	750ML	$19.97
RED DIAMOND MERLOT	750ML	$8.97	CURIOUS BEAGLE CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$10.97	VILLA CAFAGGIO CHIANTI CLASSICO	750ML	$16.97
2005 ROSENBLUM ZINFANDEL RICHARD SAURET	750ML	$21.97	HENRY'S DRIVE SHIRAZ	750ML	$24.97	DA VINCI CHIANTI	750ML	$10.97
2004 DASHE DRY CREEK ZINFANDEL	750ML	$18.97	PAXTON SHIRAZ/GRENACHE	750ML	$18.97	RUFFINO CHIANTI DOCG	1.5L	$11.97
RENWOOD OLD VINE ZINFANDEL	750ML	$13.97	TORBRECK WOOCUTTERS SHIRAZ	750ML	$17.97	ROCCA DI MONTEMASSI SANGIOVESSE	750ML	$9.97
CLINE ZINFANDEL	750ML	$7.97	WAKEFIELD SHIRAZ	750ML	$13.97	CANTINA ZACCAGINNI MONTEPULCIANO D'ABRUZZO	750ML	$12.97
PARAISO PINOT NOIR	750ML	$17.97	YALUMBA Y SERIES SHIRAZ/VIOGNIER	750ML	$9.97	BODEGAS NORTON MALBEC RESERVE	750ML	$11.97
SEBASTIANI PINOT NOIR	750ML	$13.97	SIXTH SENSE SYRAH	750ML	$12.97	TWO BROTHERS BIG TATTOO RED	750ML	$7.97
CASTLE ROCK PINOT NOIR MONTEREY COUNTY	750ML	$10.97	BOGLE PETIT SIRAH	750ML	$9.97	ARTARDI OROBIO RIOJA	750ML	$12.97
2002 TURNBULL CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$33.97	DUBOEUF BEAUJOLAIS VILLAGES	750ML	$7.47	MARQUES DE CACERES CRIANZA	750ML	$10.97
2005 JUSTIN CABERNET SAUVIGNON	750ML	$21.97	GUIGAL COTES DU RHONE	750ML	$8.97
			2003 CH. HAUT BEAUSEJOUR	750ML	$19.97

WHITE WINES

2005 CH. ST. JEAN CHARDONNAY ROBERT YOUNG	750ML	$19.97	ESTANCIA CHARDONNAY	750ML	$7.97	PIGHIN PINOT GRIGIO	750ML	$11.97
AU BON CLIMAT CHARDONNAY	750ML	$17.97	TIN ROOF CHARDONNAY	750ML	$7.97	CAPOSALDO PINOT GRIGIO	750ML	$7.97
CUVAISON CHARDONNAY	750ML	$16.97	JADOT POUILLY FUISSE	750ML	$18.97	FIVE RIVERS PINOT GRIGIO	750ML	$7.97
SIMI CHARDONNAY	750ML	$13.97	JJ VINCENT BOURGOGNE CHARDONNAY	750ML	$12.97	MACMURRAY PINOT GRIS	750ML	$12.97
BERINGER NAPA CHARDONNAY	750ML	$12.97	2006 SBRAGIA SAUVIGNON BLANC	750ML	$17.97	MAX FERD. RICHTER RIESLING "ZEPPELIN"	750ML	$10.97
TOASTED HEAD CHARDONNAY	750ML	$10.97	FERRARI CARANO FUME BLANC	750ML	$13.97	COVEY RUN RIESLING & GEWURZTRAMINER	750ML	$7.97
KENDALL JACKSON CHARDONNAY	750ML	$10.97	TIN ROOF SAUVIGNON BLANC	750ML	$7.97	NORA ALBARINO	750ML	$8.97
GREG NORMAN CHARDONNAY	750ML	$9.97	OYSTER BAY CHARDONNAY & SAUVIGNON BLANC	750ML	$8.97	LOIS GRUNER VELTLINER	750ML	$13.97
J LOHR CHARDONNAY RIVERSTONE	750ML	$9.97	CONUNDRUM	750ML	$22.97
STERLING VINTERS CHARDONNAY & PINOT GRIGIO	750ML	$9.97	CLINE VIOGNIER	750ML	$7.97
KENWOOD SONOMA CHARDONNAY	750ML	$8.97	CLOS DES BRIORDS MUSCADET	750ML	$10.97

FAMILIES

GREG NORMAN RED WINES	750ML	$10.97	RAVENSWOOD VINTNERS BLEND ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	REDWOOD CREEK ALL TYPES	1.5L	$8.97
YELLOW TAIL RESERVE WINES	750ML	$8.97	BERINGER FOUNDERS ESTATE ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	BAREFOOT CELLARS	1.5L	$8.97
ROSEMOUNT DIAMOND REDS	750ML	$7.97	SMOKING LOON CABERNET, CHARDONNAY & MERLOT	750ML	$7.97	CK MONDAVI ALL TYPES	1.5L	$8.97
COLUMBIA CREST GRAND ESTATE ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	WOODBRIDGE CAB, CHARD, MERLOT, PINOT GRIGIO & SHIRAZ	1.5L	$9.97	SUTTER HOME CAB, CHARD, MERLOT & PINOT GRIGIO	1.5L	$8.97
MONDAVI PRIVATE SELECTIONS ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	LINDEMANS CAB, CHARD, MERLOT & SHIRAZ	1.5L	$9.97	BELLA SERA ALL TYPES	1.5L	$9.97
BLACKSTONE ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	TURNING LEAF ALL TYPES	1.5L	$9.97	MEZZACORONA PINOT GRIGIO & PINOT NOIR	1.5L	$9.97
BV COASTALS ALL TYPES	750ML	$7.97	BLACK SWAN ALL TYPES	1.5L	$8.97	SUTTER HOME WHITE ZIN	750ML	$3.99 2 FOR $7.00

BLANCHARD'S OCTOBER FESTIVAL OF WINE TASTING & SALE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2007 • 6PM TO 9PM

Featuring more than 100 wines from around the world • 20% Discount on all wines at the tasting!

LIQUOR

KETEL ONE VODKA 80° + CITROEN	1.75L	$35.97	BACARDI RUM FLAVORS LIMON, RASP., MELON	750ML	$13.97	CROWN ROYAL WHISKEY	1.75L	$44.97
ABSOLUT 80° VODKA	1.75L	$29.97	SOUTHERN COMFORT	1.75L	$27.97	SEAGRAMS VO	1.75L	$20.97
SMIRNOFF 80° VODKA	1.75L	$20.97	KAHLUA FR. VANILLA & HAZELNUT	LITER	$23.97	CANADIAN MIST	1.75L	$15.97
SMIRNOFF VODKA (CITRUS, APPLE, RASP.)	1.75L	$22.97	EMMETTS IRISH CREAM	750ML	$9.97	JACK DANIELS	1.75L	$38.97
SKYY 80° VODKA	1.75L	$21.97	PIERRE FERRAND RESERVE COGNAC	750ML	$45.97	BAKER' S BOURBON 107°	750ML	$29.97
SOBIESKI 80° VODKA	1.75L	$14.97	CUERVO GOLDEN MARGARITA	1.75L	$15.97	WOODFORD RESERVE BOURBON	750ML	$26.97
BELVEDERE VODKA	750ML	$26.97	SPRINGBANK 15YR SINGLE MALT	750ML	$84.97	JAMESON 18YR IRISH WHISKEY	750ML	$64.97
SKYY 90° VODKA	LITER	$29.97	GLENFIDDICH 12YR SINGLE MALT	750ML	$32.97	MILAGRO SILVER SELECT TEQUILA	750ML	$58.97
GOSLING BLACK SEAL RUM	1.75L	$24.97	DALMORE 12YR SINGLE MALT	750ML	$31.97	PATRON SILVER TEQUILA	750ML	$44.97
CAPT. MORGAN SPICED RUM	1.75L	$26.97	DALMORE CIGAR MALT	750ML	$27.97	CUERVO GOLD TEQUILA	1.75L	$34.97
SAILOR JERRY SPICED RUM	1.75L	$24.97	SPEYBURN 10YR SINGLE MALT	1.75L	$34.97	SAUZA GOLD TEQUILA	1.75L	$29.97
MOUNT GAY RUM	1.75L	$23.97	CHIVAS REGAL SCOTCH	1.75L	$54.97	BOMBAY SAPPHIRE GIN	1.75L	$36.97
PARROT BAY COCONUT, MANGO & PINEAPPLE RUM	750ML	$14.97	JOHNNIE WALKER BLACK	1.75L	$64.97	TANQUERAY GIN	1.75L	$33.97
BACARDI LIGHT & AMBER RUM	1.75L	$21.97	DEWARS WHITE LABEL SCOTCH	1.75L	$32.97	BEEFEATER GIN	1.75L	$26.97

BEER

BERKSHIRE BREWING "FRESH & LOCAL"	12 OZ BT	$2.97 +dep	SAM ADAMS "BREWMASTER"	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep	ST PAULIE GIRL	12PK BT	$8.97 +dep
LONGTRAIL ALL FLAVORS	6PK BT	$6.47 +dep	SIERRA NEVADA	12PK BT	$12.97 +dep	BUSCH LIGHT	20PK BT	$9.47 +dep
BROOKLYN ALL FLAVORS	6PK BT	$7.57 +dep	FLYING DOG MIX PACKS	12PK BT	$14.47 +dep	PABST BLUE RIBBON	18PK CANS	$8.97 +dep
SMUTTYNOSE ALL FLAVORS	6PK BT	$6.97 +dep	HOEGAARDEN	6PK BT	$7.97 +dep	KILLIANS	12PK BT	$10.47 +dep
ABITA PECAN HARVEST	6PK BT	$6.97 +dep	GUINNESS	8PK CANS	$11.47 +dep	MILLER LITE	30PKS	$19.97 +dep
SOUTHAMPTON PUMPKIN	22OZ BT	$4.97 +dep	SMITHWICKS	6PK BT	$6.67 +dep	COORS LIGHT	30PKS	$19.97 +dep
MAGIC HAT ALL FLAVORS	6PK BT	$6.97 +dep	BASS	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep	BUD & BUD LIGHT	30PK	$19.97 +dep
SAM ADAMS IMPERIAL PILSNOR	4PK BT	$8.97 +dep	NEWCASTLE	12PK BT	$12.47 +dep	WOODCHUCK CIDER ALL FLAVORS	6PK	$6.97 +dep
ANCHOR PORTER, ALE, STEAM	6PK BT	$7.97 +dep	HEINEKEN LIGHT	12PK CANS	$12.97 +dep	JK SCRUMPYS "ORGANIC"	22OZ BT	$4.97 +dep
THOMAS HOOKER OCTOBERFEST	6PK BT	$6.97 +dep	STELLA ARTOIS	12PK BT	$12.47 +dep	SMIRNOFF RAW TEA GREEN TEA	6PK BT	$6.77 +dep
SHIPYARD ALL FLAVORS	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep	DOS XX AMBER	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep	MIKES COCKTAILS	4PK BT	$6.57 +dep
HARPOON ALL FLAVORS	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep	BECKS	12PK BT	$11.97 +dep

BLANCHARD'S FALL BEER TASTING

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24TH • 6PM TO 9PM – Over 75+ Beers. Giveaways & Raffles. Must be 21 to attend.

MARSHFIELD

700 Plain St. • 834-9068

ALL BEER AND TONIC PLUS DEPOSIT. Not responsible for typographical errors - We reserve the right to limit quantities - ALL BLANCHARD'S distributors are individually owned and operated. Some products not available in all stores - substitutes offered.

get AWAY

Nighttime at the Green Mountain Inn in Stowe, Vermont.

Haunted New England

By Kim Foley MacKinnon
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

Want to have a spooky good time at Halloween? Consider spending a night or two at a haunted New England inn. All the following properties report they have residents who have never checked out and haven't paid their bills either – they don't have to, they're ghosts.

The Green Mountain Inn in Stowe, Vermont., has, of all things, a tap dancer as its resident ghost. Boots Berry was born in Room 302 in 1840 (his parents worked at the inn). As an adult, he learned to tap dance while in prison in New Orleans. Years later, after returning home, he died after supposedly rescuing a girl from the roof during a snowstorm in 1902 – he saved the girl, but fell to his death. Where was he when he fell? Above Room 302, of course. It is said during bad storms, tap dancing can be heard up on the roof, perhaps Boots warning away anyone with roof-top shenanigans in mind. Innkeeper Patti Clark says Boots also has a mischievous side, opening filing cabinets and moving a rocking chair outside Room 302.

At the Inn Bliss Bed & Breakfast in Newport, Rhode Island, co-owner Nick Maioe says the first night he slept in the Victorian inn after purchasing it, he had a dream of an old woman who showed him around the house. He didn't tell anyone about it at first, but as guests started to stay there, they would come to the breakfast table with the same tale of this old woman. "I was shocked," said Maioe. Research of the home's occupants revealed that Nellie Gleason was born in the house in 1889 and died there in 1974. It is likely it is her ghost who reportedly pays a visit to many guests spending their first night there.

A younger ghost can be found at the Watson House in South Windsor, Connecticut. In 1818, 2 1/2-year-old Maryanne Hayden died in the house of small pox. She is buried on the property along with a few unidentified graves marked with stones. Owner Brandy Feldmeier says Maryanne usually only makes her presence known if asked, except for playing with the lights. When Feldmeier was pregnant, she asked a visiting medium if Maryanne would mind having a baby around. The medium reported that Maryanne was excited at the prospect, but annoyed that Feldmeier was too busy to listen to her when she tried to communicate. Perhaps the fact that Feldmeier and her husband Mike named their daughter Hayden in her honor will appease Maryanne.

Another child ghost is said to reside at the Admiral Peary House in Fryeburg, Maine. The inn is named for Admiral Robert E. Peary, a previous resident and the first person to venture to the North Pole in 1909. Owners Hilary and Derreck Schlottmann can't find any historical evidence of any child ever living, or dying, in the 19th century house. But guests repeatedly report seeing a 7- or 8-year-old girl hanging about – when no real-life children are present. And this, despite the fact that the innkeepers don't regularly bring the subject up to guests, not wanting to frighten anyone. A psychic guest told the Schlottmanns that the girl's name is "Annabelle."

A ghost named Hannah makes her presence known at the Three Chimneys Inn in Durham, New Hampshire, by hiding objects, opening drawers, turning deadbolts and moving furniture. This 1649 mansion, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, is one of the oldest homes in New Hampshire. Once, Hannah supposedly smashed a glass during a dinner party. Another time, a staff member reported that she awoke to Hannah playing with her hair. She told her to go away and Hannah did. If Hannah doesn't appear to you in the inn, try paying a visit to the neighboring graveyard, which dates back to the 1700s.

Coming next week in GetAWAY: Start making your holiday vacation plans.

IF YOU go...

Inn Bliss Bed & Breakfast
10 Bliss Road / 2 Sunnyside Place, Newport, RI
877-INN-BLIS;
www.innbliss.com
Rates from $199 per night

The Watson House
1876 Main Street, South Windsor, CT
860-282-8888; www.thewatsonhouse.com
Rates from $99 per night

Admiral Peary House
27 Elm Street, Fryeburg, Maine
877-4ADMPRY; www.admiralpearyhouse.com
Rates from $129 per night

Three Chimneys Inn
17 Newmarket Street, Durham, NH
888-399-9777; www.threechimneysinn.com
Rates from $220 (including dinner) per night

The Green Mountain Inn
18 Main Street, Stowe, VT
800-253-7302; www.greenmountaininn.com
Rates from $129 per night

Spooky Tours

If sleeping with a ghost is a little much, but you still want to get the shivers, try a spooky tour. Most are about 90 minutes and storytellers take you through locales relating ghost stories and histories of cemeteries, haunted houses and buildings.

On the popular Boston Ghosts and Gravestones tour, for instance, you board the "Trolley of the Doomed," and are escorted by costumed characters, including a gravedigger, who will take you to both the Copp's Hill Burying Ground in the North End and the Granary Burying Ground on Tremont Street.

You'll hop off the trolley as you walk through the cemeteries, listening to tales of who is buried there, as well as stories about the Boston Strangler and the Angel of Death. Though the stories are pretty grave (get it?), the guides keep things light hearted with jokes and bad puns.

The following are some haunted tour options.

Massachusetts

New England Ghost Tours/ The Boston Spirits Walking Tour
781-235-7149; www.newenglandghosttours.com
Tickets: $18 adults, $13 kids
Ghosts and Gravestones/Boston
617-269-3626; www.ghostsandgravestones.com
Tickets; $30.60 adults, $18.90 kids
Haunted Footsteps Ghost Tour
978-745-7715; www.salemhistoricaltours.com
Tickets: $14 adults, $8 kids

New Hampshire and Maine

New England Curiosities/Portsmouth and Maine Coast
207-439-8905; www.newenglandcuriosities.com
Tickets: $10 adults, $6 kids
Ghostly Tours, York, Maine
207-363-0000; www.ghostly-tours.com
Tickets: $10

Rhode Island

Providence Ghost Tour
www.providenceghosttour.com
Tickets: $15 adults, $5 kids
Providence Ghost Walk
401-454-0977; www.roryraven.com
Tickets: $7
Ghost Tours of Newport
866-33-GHOST; www.ghostsofnewport.com
Tickets: $18 adults, $10 kids

Golfing indoors

By Tim Jones
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

Fall sometimes means perfect weather for a round of golf. Sadly, sometimes it doesn't.

If you aren't quite ready to put your clubs away for the season, and you don't have time to head to sunnier climes, you've at least got some really good indoor golf options nearby.

At Okemo Mountain Resort (800-786-5366; www.okemo.com) in Ludlow, Vt., there's a 6,000-square foot Indoor Golf Training Center, housed in what looks like a classic Vermont red barn. This is a place where avid golfers can sharpen their skills on a 9-hole putting green and three swinging stations. The fee is $15 for all-day use.

Want more challenge? Try the "Full Swing Golf Simulator" with a computer and TV display that lets you "play" famous golf courses from around the world ($30 per hour). Great fun.

If the weather is cooperating, play at the par 70 Okemo Valley Golf Club, Vermont's only Heathland course, named by "Golfweek" as the Best Public Course in Vermont.

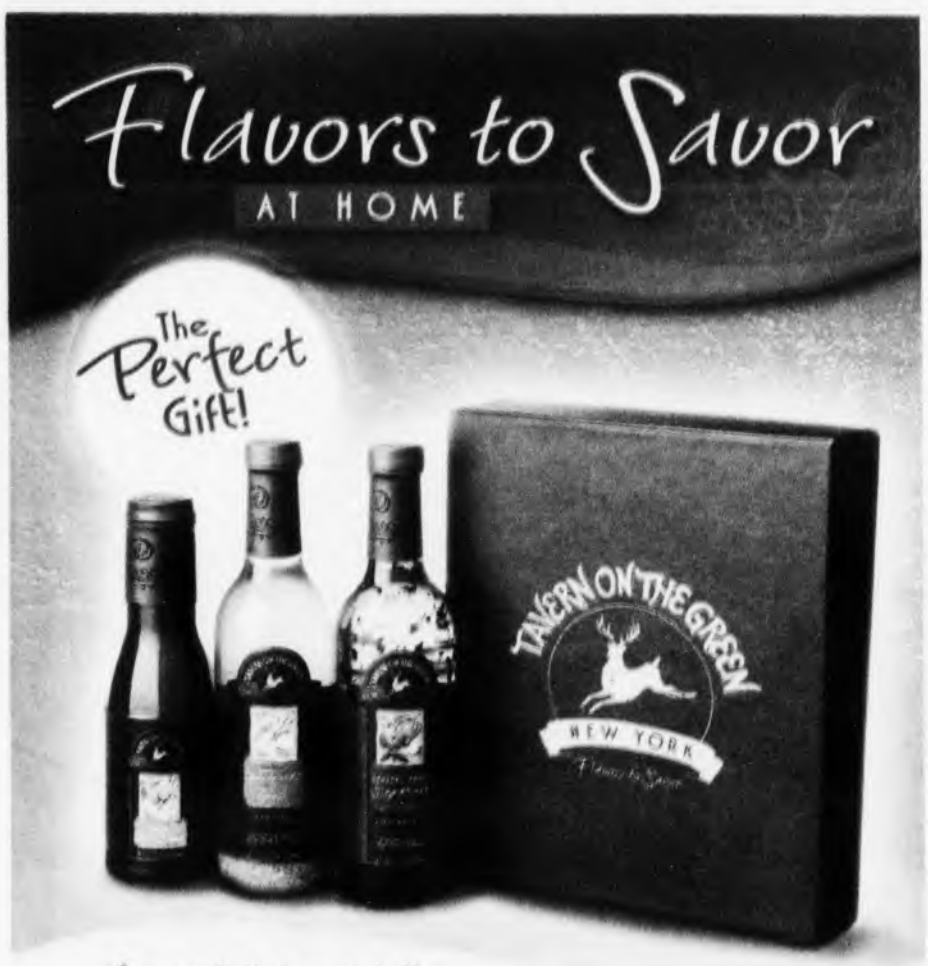
Packages with lodging, play and instruction, start at $189 per person, per night (two-night minimum stay required).

Or combine your golf with time at gaming tables. At Lake of Isles at Foxwoods Resort (800-foxwoods; www.foxwoods.com, www.lakeofisles.com) in Ledyard, Ct., you can practice your swing at the Lake of Isles Golf Academy, operated by Troon Golf.

The pros put you in a clean white room in front of an open garage door (if the weather is nasty, they can close the door), turn the lights on really bright and videotape you simultaneously from two angles.

Then they put you on a computer screen and play it back frame by frame. The instructors can even put up a sequence of Tiger Woods teeing off and compare his swing with yours, inch by inch. Great learning tool; not the best salve for your fragile ego.

But, then again, if your ego is that fragile, why are you playing golf?



There's also an indoor practice area. Private instruction is $100 per hour.

Weather permitting, play is on the 18-hole North course designed by Rees Jones, and named one of the "Top 100 Golf Courses You Can Play" by "Golf Magazine." [The Jones-designed South course is off limits to all but members and their guests.] Stay and play packages are from $215 per person, per night.

PHOTO BY TIM JONES

Teeing off at Foxwoods.

Give a gift that supports the
NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN

NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN®

Tavern on the Green proudly supports the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

For easy recipes, information on other delicious Tavern on the Green products and to purchase, visit
TAVERNDIRECT.COM

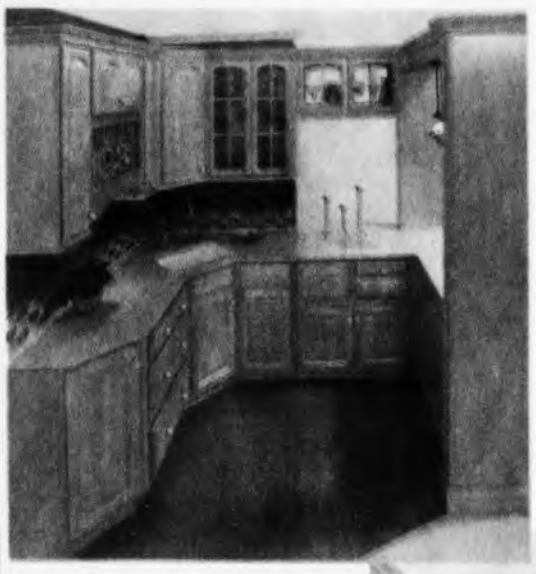
ENTER PROMO CODE
BO5678
RECEIVE 5% DISCOUNT

ALL NATURAL

This exclusive line of savory sauces, balsamic vinegars, marinades and dipping oils brings the Tavern on the Green dining experience to life.

thousands of jobs. including 'the one'.

Thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs, your chances of finding that perfect match just got better. More Eastern Massachusetts job listings. More up to date. More of what you need to find the right one. Get ready to fall in love.



VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM TODAY

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

Schrock cabinetry

Planning a new kitchen, bath, entertainment center or home office?
Let our experienced designers work with you to create not just a beautiful kitchen, but a room that becomes the centerpiece of your home.

Here at CCL we've created an array of displays in home like settings that are second to none and feature fine cabinetry from manufactures such as Schrock™ Cabinetry. Visit one of our showrooms and see that we're "More Than Lumber"

CCL CAPE COD LUMBER
A NAME YOU CAN BUILD ON

Homescapes AT CAPE COD LUMBER
...your showroom is open.

403 Bedford St. Abington 800-698-8225
80 Hampden Rd Mansfield www.cclco.com

LOCAL NEWS. LOCAL FLAVOR.

Read and Recharge.

Order home delivery of The Patriot Ledger today at 25% OFF and receive a Dunkin' Donuts® Card worth up to $40.00!

Mention campaign code: DUNKIN07

or mail in this form with your payment.

With home delivery of The Patriot Ledger*, you'll stay on top of Local News, Local Sports, and Local Happenings in and around your town every day, Monday through Saturday.*

Please sign me up for convenient home delivery of The Patriot Ledger at 25% off and send me my Dunkin' Donuts® Gift Card!

Please select one of the following:

☐ Option 1: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery with EZPay
I understand that my credit card will be charged every 4-weeks.
(Provide your credit card info below)

☐ Option 2: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 26-weeks
I have enclosed a check for
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger)

☐ Option 3: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 13-weeks
I have enclosed a check for
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger)

Name
Street / Apt. #
City/State/Zip
Home phone
Email

☐ VISA ☐ MC ☐ DISC ☐ AMEX
Cardholder name
Account number
Expiration date
Signature

The Patriot Ledger,
P.O. Box 699159, Quincy, MA 02269

The Patriot Ledger | Community Newspaper Company

*Offer valid for households in The Patriot Ledger delivery area who have not received home delivery in the past 30 days. This is an introductory offer. All subscriptions must be prepaid by check or credit card. Delivery will continue unless you notify us otherwise. You will be contacted prior to the expiration period. If subscription is cancelled, The Patriot Ledger will either reimburse the value of the non-delivered newspapers less the amount of your Dunkin' Donuts® card or charge that amount to your credit card. The Dunkin' Donuts® trademarks/tradedress are owned by DD IP Holder LLC. Used under license. Offer expires 11/13/07. Subscriptions must start by 11/13/07.

DUNKIN07

Six-year-old Elizabeth Mitterando of Cohasset became a junior live window model for Ports & Company during Cohasset's first ever Night Out on Main Street. Behind Elizabeth is Angie Goossen of Hingham, at left, and Phyllis Donovan of Hull. Shoppers enjoyed great sales and samplings of special foods along with wine tasting. Ten percent of sales went to Hope in Bloom, a breast cancer charity.

The Hochkeppel family (Kurt, Kelly, Cole, and Finn) enjoy first ever Night Out on Main street in Cohasset last week. Shops on Main Street stayed open after hours for the event. In recognition of October being Breast Cancer Awareness Month, 10 percent of sales will be donated to Hope in Bloom, a nonprofit organization which provides indoor and outdoor gardens to those undergoing breast cancer treatment.

Rebecca Behema of Cohasset tries the Beef Wellington from Maria DePaoli of Weymouth. The food is from Carmella Drew's Fine Foods and Accessories that will be opening Oct. 29th on South Main Street.

Village shops host special night

Photos by Craig Goedecke

(Left) Shoppers seeking bargains strolled South Main street in Cohasset Thursday evening during the first ever Night Out on Main street. There were games,raffles and samplings of foods and wine and a live fashion window show.

(Right) Window Model Cindy Mathelson of Cohasset shows a Night Out on Main Street shopper a pair of gold laced boots at the Ports & Company.

Ted Maguire of Cohasset works the grill in front of Independence Fireplace on South Main Street,, while shoppers take in the great bargains during the first ever Night Out on Main Street held last Thursday evening (Oct. 18) in the village.

Angie Goossen of Hingham who played window model during Cohasset's first ever Night Out on Main Street, enjoys a hot dog while watching shoppers on South Main Street.

Open House
Sunday
October 28
10:00 A.M.–1:00 P.M.

Entrance Exam:
November 17, 8:30 A.M.
December 8, 8:30 A.M.

Classmates for 4 years.
Brothers for life.

XB XAVERIAN BROTHERS HIGH SCHOOL

Give your son a lifetime of opportunity.
Xaverian Brothers High School is more than a boys' Catholic college preparatory school. It's a brotherhood of intelligent, talented young men with faith and vision—the vision to become leaders, thinkers, entrepreneurs, educators, and active contributors to society. Come join us October 28 at our Open House to learn more or visit: www.xbhs.com and click "Admissions" to start your journey today.

Xaverian Brothers High School
800 Clapboardtree Street
Westwood, MA 02090
(781) 326-6392
www.xbhs.com

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

Established in 1853

Young women finding their voices, with open minds and open hearts, centered in the love of God.

OPEN HOUSE
Sunday, October 21,
1:00 p.m. — 3:00 p.m.
Thursday, November 8,
6:00 p.m. — 8:00 p.m.

1073 Main Street/Hingham, MA 02043
Phone: 781-749-5930/Fax: 781-740-1683
www.ndahingham.com

Derby environmental project makes the grade

Derby Academy conducted a "media event" last week to herald a new, ongoing partnership with creatures and plants that cannot speak for themselves.

But if they could talk, the waterfowl, fish and plant life would surely be glad that the private, independent school is in their backyard.

The estuary that abuts Derby Academy grounds is suffering from reduced tidal exchange between Broad Cove and Hingham Harbor that threatens various species – from salt marsh grass to fish and birdlife that live there.

The Massachusetts Office of Coastal Zone Management, through the wetlands restoration program, recently declared Broad Cove a priority project.

The school has committed to a scientific monitoring program of Hingham's Broad Cove, one of the town's environmental gems.

The program is called the Derby Academy Broad Cove Stewardship Project. The school, along with the Center for Student Coastal Research in Cohasset and the state Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, has launched an effort to revive Broad Cove, a salt marsh.

Coastal Zone Management will co-host an open house at Derby at 7 p.m. on Nov. 27 for those interested in learning more about the project.

The project got under way in 2006 when Jason Burtner and Tim Smith of CSM installed a data logger to get a baseline reading on the water. The logger recorded salt and oxygen content, tidal levels, water temperature as well as how much estuary water is being regularly flushed through a culvert connecting Hingham Harbor to the cove.

That summer Jay Sadlon, Derby's assistant head of school, and school trustee Ellen Roy Herzfelder, a Cohasset resident and former state Secretary of Environmental Affairs, volunteered their time doing fieldwork and collecting data at nearby World's End. The CSCR provided their training.

The 2006-2007 school year saw the integration of the Broad Cove Field Study with Derby's science curriculum.

This past summer six Derby student volunteers with the guidance of two faculty members conducted a detailed study of Broad Cove that has exhibited reduced salinity levels.

In addition to Derby faculty, staff, student volunteers and their parents, attendees at Friday's event included state Sen. Robert Hedlund, Jack Buckley (director of CSCR), Jason Burtner (CZM regional coordinator), and Philip Griffiths of the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs.

Griffiths gave the program high marks and stressed the importance of engaging the students.

"We are encouraging the next generation of environmental stewards," he said.

The program was helped with state grant money that is administered through the Center for Student Coastal Research.

This is the wetlands by the school where the students did their research over the summer.

Giuliana D'Esopo, 13, of Norwell looks through a refractometer while showing the audience what they did over the summer.

Desmond Herzfelder, 6 left, and his sister Julia, 9, both of Cohasset, sit by a refractometer and a field guide for birds during the press conference.

Senator Hedlund points to an aerial map of Derby Academy while talking about an old icehouse that he used to remember in the area.

STAFF PHOTOS/ROBIN CHAN

Hannah Rawson, 13, middle of Cohasset, shows Philip Griffiths, left, of the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, how to use a refractometer which they used in their research over the summer. The other girls from left to right are: Giuliana D'Esopo, 13, of Norwell; Erika Wolff, 13, of Marshfield; Chrissy Kalpin, 13, of Scituate; and Marissa Mitchell, 14, of East Bridgewater.

How can you help fight cancer before the end of the year?

LIMITED OPPORTUNITY IN 2007:
USE YOUR IRA LIKE NEVER BEFORE.

If you have an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), you may be eligible to benefit from the Pension Protection Act of 2006. Under this landmark legislation, people who are age 70 ½ or older may now make gifts to Dana-Farber Cancer Institute from their IRAs without incurring tax consequences. Most importantly, your gift will benefit lifesaving research and care at Dana-Farber. Take advantage of this opportunity before it ends on Dec. 31, 2007 to help Dana-Farber conquer cancer.

DANA-FARBER CANCER INSTITUTE

The Jimmy Fund

To learn more, please contact:
Christopher E. Painter, Director of Gift Planning
Phone: 617-632-3756 or 1-800-535-5577
E-mail: Christopher_Painter@dfci.harvard.edu
www.dana-farber.org/giftplanning

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
GateHouse Media New England

Get away!

Looking to get away? Look for our new weekly travel section in today's paper!

Around the world? Cruise? White sandy beach? Big-city weekend? Action adventure? Ski resort? We've been there! Every week we'll feature articles on a new location by world traveling journalists, along with outstanding values so you can get away the right way.

GetAWAY is edited by one of America's leading travel writers, Fran Golden – she knows the ins and outs of travel, so make sure you check in every week to see Fran's newest favorite spot! You can also find it and Fran's blog online at wickedlocal.com!

get AWAY

Read it every week - and enjoy!

Police/Fire Log

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 10

9:14 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building secure.

9:15 p.m. Sohier St., building secure.

9:16 p.m. High School and Pond St., building secure.

11:41 p.m. South Main St., disturbance.

THURSDAY, OCT. 11

1:07 a.m. High School and Pond St., officer reports building appears secured.

1:08 a.m. Sohier St., officer reports building appears secured.

5:49 a.m. Sohier St., and Ripley Rd., suspicious activity, walk in party reports at the empty white house there is recorder on – music and prayers. Officer reports this is part of a haunted house display.

8:27 a.m. North Main St., officer wanted, caller requests to see an officer, she is having problems with her neighbor.

1:40 p.m. Nichols Rd., officer wanted, walk in party requests a well being check for neighbor.

2:19 p.m. King St., investigation, officer reports that two pieces of jewelry recovered from a larceny reported stolen on Sept. 24, were positively identified by store owner.

3:43 p.m. Elm St., and Highland Ave., notification, caller reports he drove an employee to the hospital this afternoon and her car is parked in this location and may be there overnight.

3:45 p.m. Irving Rd., Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

7:35 p.m. Linden Drive, assist citizen, caller reports he has a water leak inside residence, caller needs help shutting off main water valve to residence, contacted Water Dept. – they will contact homeowner.

7:44 p.m. King St., disturbance, caller reports white female threatened him, she left in a light blue BMW.

9:21 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

9:30 p.m. South Main St., parking complaint, caller reports several vehicles are at above location, one vehicle moved – one tagged.

10:32 p.m. Sohier St., building check.

10:33 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building check.

FRIDAY, OCT. 12

12:30 a.m. East St., downed tree, Hingham reports a tree down on East Street. Hingham requests North Main Street be closed until the tree can be removed.

12:42 a.m. North Main St., public service, the storm drain is flooded.

1:11 a.m. Forest Ave., and Jerusalem Rd., public service, dirt has washed into the roadway, notified DPW later in the am.

1:36 a.m. Windy Hill Rd., power outage, caller states the power is out. National Grid notified. National Grid is aware of the problem.

1:42 a.m. Beechwood St., and Doane St., the area is completely flooded.

5:05 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, assist citizen, caller requests assistance with a broken key. Unable to gain entry. Employee to notify a locksmith.

7:08 a.m. Norfolk Rd., and Bancroft Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:10 a.m. South Main St., traffic enforcement.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 60.

9:47 a.m. Forest Ave., dead animal, detail officer reports a deceased animal

SEE POLICE LOG, PAGE 32

Status Reports

Police made five arrests in September

There were 49 motor vehicle citations issued totaling $1,290 in fines. And 24 parking tickets issued totaling $575 in fines.

Cohasset Police made five arrests in September: one for assault and battery, one for operating under the influence of alcohol, one for shoplifting, one for vandalizing property, and finally one for protective custody, Police Chief James Hussey said.

During the month of September the police department investigated eight motor vehicle accidents: one of which resulted in personal injury. There were 49 motor vehicle citations issued totaling $1,290 in fines. Additionally, there were 24 parking tickets issued totaling $575 in fines, Hussey said.

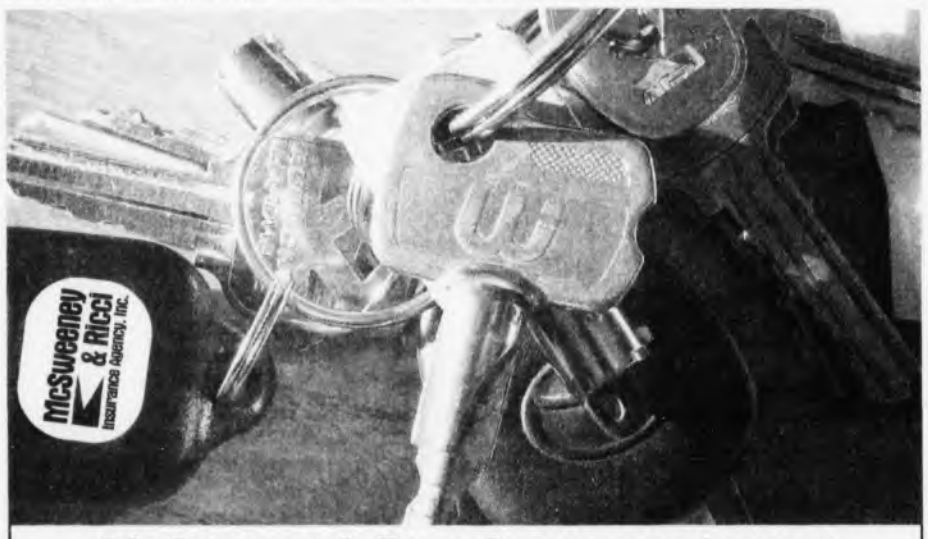
Also in the month of September the Emergency Dispatch Center received a total of 677 calls for police services and of those, 246 were emergency 911 calls, he said.

In the month of September there were three reports of breaking and entering, all involving private residences. Also, there were five criminal complaints issued for the month of September, he said.

CFD responded to 170 incidents last month

Advanced life support transports were required for 34 of the 51 transports. Mutual aid ambulances were dispatched to six incidents.

During the month of September the Fire Department responded to 170 incidents, Chief Robert Silvia said. The summary of Fire Department responses during the month: two building fires; seven motor vehicle crashes; four outside fires; one illegal burning; 69 medical emergencies; 35 inspections; 14 investigations; 17 automatic alarm activations; one downed power line; seven assistance; one hazardous materials; one lock out; one fire drill; three mutual aid structure fires; and six miscellaneous responses.



A total of 38 emergency incidents were reported by 911 telephone: 30 medical emergencies; one structure fire; four motor vehicle crashes; one fire alarm activation; one downed wire and one call for assistance, Silvia said.

The Fire Department ambulance transported 50 patients to South Shore Hospital and one patient to Quincy Medical Center. Advanced life support transports were required for 34 of the 51 transports. Mutual aid ambulances were dispatched to six incidents. They transported four patients to South Shore Hospital. Two of the four mutual aid ambulance transports were advanced life support. There were two motor vehicle crashes that required the victims to be transported to the hospital, he said.

Automatic fire alarm activation responses totaled 17 for the month. Accidental activation of the alarm system accounted for 10 responses and alarm malfunction was the cause for seven responses.

Two responses were classified as building fires for the month; one was for a fire in a residence that was started when curtains came into contact with a halogen lamp. The other was for malfunctioning electrical equipment.

Probationary Firefighter/Paramedic Kevin Durette graduated from the Massachusetts Firefighting Academy on Sept. 28 after completing the 12-week recruit training course, Silvia said.

McSweeney & Ricci Insurance Agency Holds the Keys to Proper Auto Insurance.

You can depend on our exceptional service, professional advice, and choice of top-rated insurance companies to make sure you are properly covered. Contact us today. You'll drive away happy.

McSweeney & Ricci Insurance Agency, Inc.
The Strength & Stability to Guide Your Future

Braintree 781.848.8600 • Marshfield 781.837.7788 • Scituate 781.545.4800 www.mcsweeneyricci.com

HOME • AUTO • BUSINESS • LIFE

Wicked Local Homes
A SPECIAL REAL ESTATE SECTION
Coming the week of October 22

PLUS! READER CONTEST INSIDE THIS SECTION!
ENTER TO WIN!
We'll pay your mortgage payment for 1 month! Up to $2500.00*

Congratulations to Aleksandr Druzhin, the winner of our September contest.

Inside you'll find tips on preparing your home for sale, moving, tax rates, community preservation, and more!

See complete details inside section.
(*Winner must show mortgage payment)

Be sure to pick up WICKED LOCAL HOMES at the following retail locations:
BlockBuster • CVS • Star Market • Shaws • Stop & Shop
Plus Real Estate offices and other area businesses throughout your community!
For a complete list of locations, go to www.wickedlocalhomes.com
(*Available at most locations throughout Eastern Massachusetts)

WICKED LOCAL™ Homes.com
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
GateHouse Media New England

Rail Revival - Greenbush
COMING . . . NEXT WEEK!

Forty-eight years later, the Greenbush rail line is ready to roll again! Don't miss next week's paper when we will take a look back, and preview the future, in a commemorative pull-out supplement. From the last Greenbush passengers in 1959 to the newest schedules, routes and maps, Rail Revival - Greenbush will contain all the information you need.

Sponsored by: North Scituate Village

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
WICKED LOCAL

A comfortable home, a wonderful family, and sharing moments with the ones who matter most!

Call the Allerton House Assisted Living Community of Your Choice

DUXBURY • 781-585-7136
HINGHAM • 781-749-3322
WEYMOUTH • 781-335-8666
QUINCY • 617-471-2600

TAKE A TOUR TODAY!
www.welchhrg.com/allertonhouse

Owned and managed by Welch Healthcare and Retirement Group

Worship Guide

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: Jim FitzGerald. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Oct. 28

8 a.m. - Circle Ministry in the Parish House/Atkinson Room - Group led by Bill Baird and Kirk Jackisch

9:45 a.m.- Chidren and youth meet in the Parish House to prepare for your Processional!

10 a.m. – Worship in the Meeting House

Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull will lead worship and preach on "Ghosts."

Children and youth will spend the first part of the morning in the service in the Meeting House and then return to the Parish House, where Al MacDonald of our Green Sanctuary Group will show you how we can be green all week long!

Religious education classes for our toddlers and childcare for our youngest begin at 10 a.m. in the Parish House.

Refreshments and fellowship follow the morning service and RE classes.

11:30 a.m.– Work Fest at Holly Hill Farm for all generations - Come to church in your jeans!

Come dressed in your jeans and old shoes or garden clogs, with garden tools ready to go. Right after refreshments in Trueblood Hall, we'll head to Holly Hill Farm to help the staff there prepare for a long winter for our plant friends.

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are a welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for our communities, both near and across the world. Highlights of our parish life include this fall:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups, adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry; weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

- Sunday, Oct. 28: Services at 8 am and 10 am. Church school at 10 am, Youth group worship at 5 pm followed by pizza.
- Monday, Oct. 29: 4 pm Christian meditation
- Wednesday, Oct. 31: 9:30 am Healing Eucharist; 10:30 am Bible Study
- Friday, Nov. 2: 9:30 am Yoga
- Saturday, Nov. 3: 7 am Bible Fellowship
- Sunday, Nov. 4: Celebration of All Saints Day. Services at 8 am and 10 am. 9 am Youth Group meeting.

To contact us: Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083, or email cwood@ststephenscohasset.org.

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom: 1112 Main St., 781- 749-8103; denomination: Jewish; Rabbi Shira Joseph; Cantor Steven Weiss. Friday evenings 7:30 p.m.; Saturday morning worship, 10:30 a.m. Hebrew religious school and adult classes. For more information call our office, 781-749-8103. Also you can visit us at: www.shaaray.org

Sunday Nov. 4th – Get ready for Chanukah – Craft and Book Fair from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. From 9-10:45 a.m. in the Sanctuary, book signing and lecture with Rabbi Joseph Meszler.

The author of "Witness to the One: The Spiritual History of the Sh'ma" takes us on an exploration of the history and the heart of our most sacred proclamation. Please RSVP to the office.

Saturday Nov. 10th – 9 am KIDushat Shabbat – preschool age children.

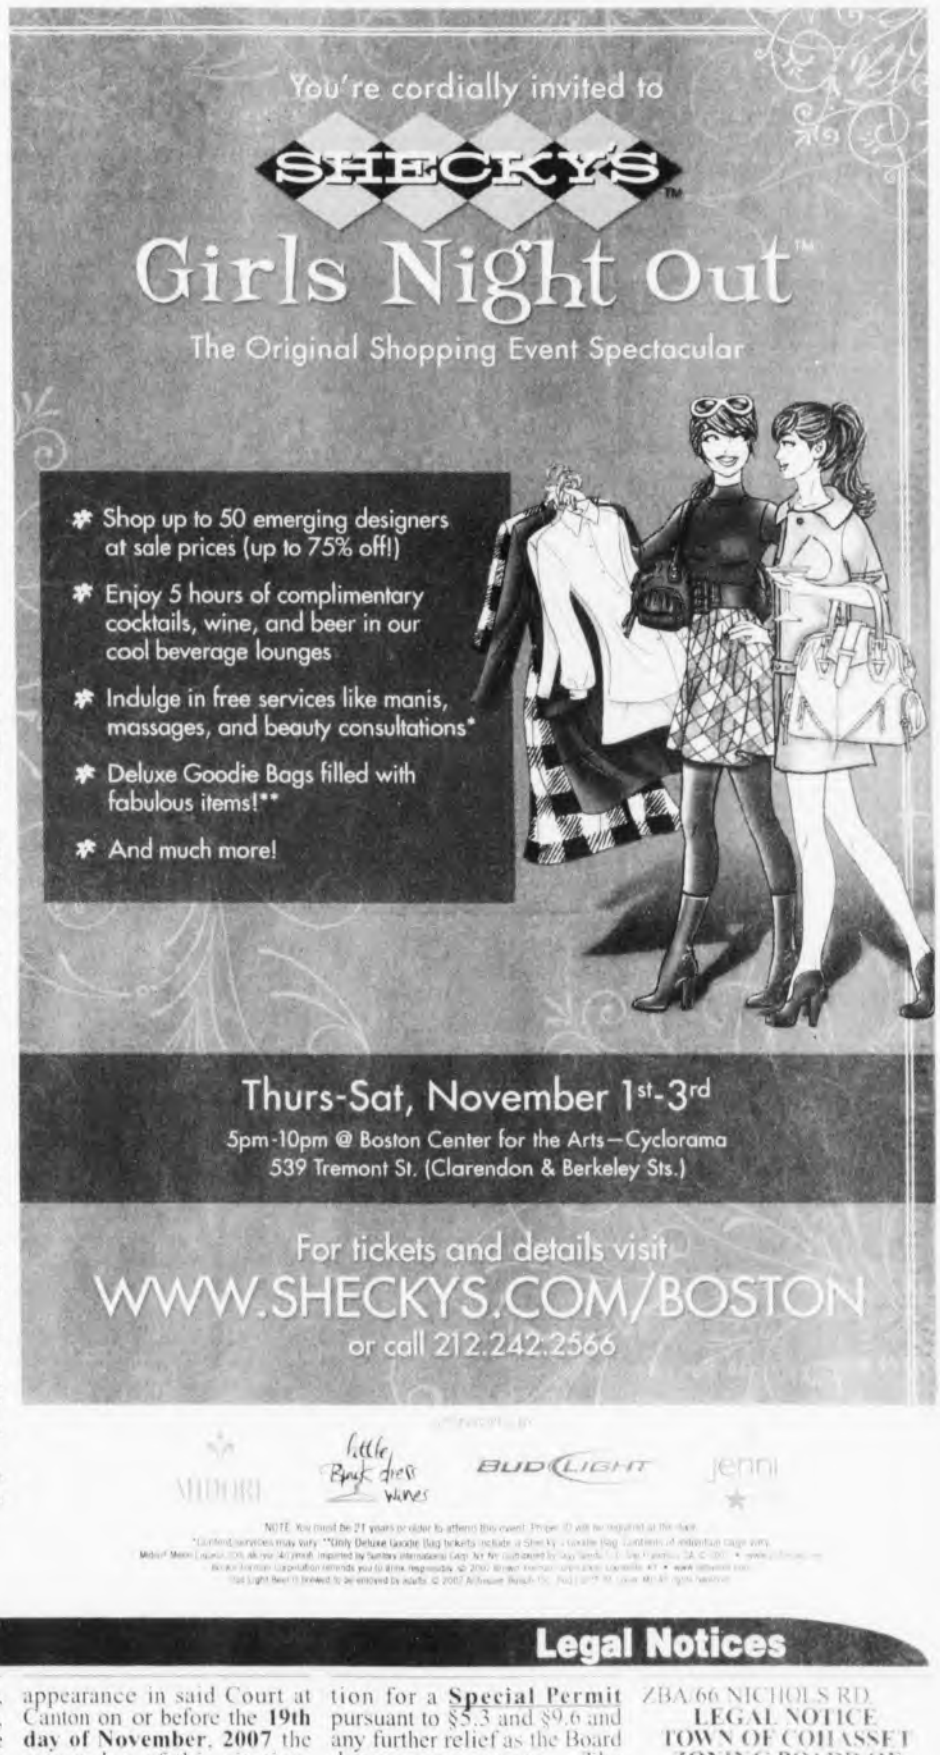
Temple Beth Sholom, 600 Nantasket Ave., Hull. 781-925-0091, 781-925-2377. Conservative. Rabbi Ben Lefkowitz. Daily Minyan, Monday-Friday, 7:45 a.m.; Saturday, Sunday and holidays, 9 a.m.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints: 379 Gardner St. Hingham. Denomination: Mormon; clergy: Bishop Leif Erickson (781-659-4702). Sunday meetings: 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. (Infants are welcome.) Enrichment Night for women (3rd Wednesday each month, 7 p.m.); scouting and youth programs: Tuesdays, 7 p.m.; early morning Seminary for teens: weekdays, 6 a.m., throughout school year. (H)

First Church of Christ, Scientist, 386 Main St., Hingham. Denomination Christian Science (781 749-2874). Christian Science church services are held at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday and at 7:45 p.m. on Wednesday evening. Everyone is invited!

The Christian Science Reading Room,35 Station St., Hingham, hours are Tuesday through Friday 11 a.m. –3 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m.–2 p.m.

Changes to the worship guide, may be sent by e-mail to mfont@cnc.com.



Second Congregational Church to host celebration on Sunday, Nov. 4

The Second Congregational Church of Cohasset at 43 Highland Ave., Cohasset Common, will host several special events during and after the 10 a.m. service on Sunday, Nov. 4, which is All Saints Sunday.

New members will be received and the congregation is encouraged to invite friends for Bring a Friend to Church Day. Immediately after the service, there will be a Christian Education Open House and Classroom Tour.

Following the open house and tour, a lunch will be held for all which will include soups, salads and desserts, made from recipes from the soon to be published "Church Cook Book."

Reverend Gary Ritts and his wife, Judy will then show slides and tell stories about their summer travels and studies in New Hampshire, West Virginia, New Mexico, and Europe.

Worship News

Retreat programs at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph Retreat Center, 339 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset is hosting the following upcoming programs:

- Tuesday, Oct. 30: Day of Prayer, 10 a.m.– 3 p.m. "The Spirituality of Aging"
- Wednesday, Nov.7, Morning of Prayer, 9:15-11:45. "From the Rising of the Sun to its Setting"
- Nov. 9-11, Quilting Retreat Weekend, "The Fabric of Our Lives: Co-Creating a Holy Pattern"
- Nov. 12-16, Directed Retreat.
- Saturday, Nov. 17, Day of Prayer, 9:00 – 3:30. "Heart for the Holidays during a Time of Loss"
- Sunday, Nov. 18, Reflective Workshop, 9:00 – 3:30. "Grief and Gratitude in Prayer and Spiritual Direction"
- Dec.7-9, Weekend Retreat. "Soul Collage - A Journey of Discovery"

Besides scheduled events, the retreat house is often available for private retreat days. For more information and to register, visit www.csjretreatcenter.org or call 781-383-6024.

Adult education series

Congregation Sha'ary Shalom, 1112 Main St., Hingham will hold "Magic, Superstition and Things That Go Bump In The Night," with Rabbi Shira Joseph that continues at 7:30 p.m., Mondays, Oct. 29, and Nov. 5 and 12, as part of its adult education series.

Trace the Jewish history of ghosts and magic from biblical times throughout the ages. Learn the origins of magical incantations, red ribbons, and more. This course will also examine the Jewish origins of numerology, reincarnation and Frankenstein. The final session will include a 1937 Yiddish movie about a romantic tragedy of possession and exorcism.

For more information, call the Temple office at 781-749-8103 or visit www.shaaray.org.

Legal Notices

MCCULLOUGH ESTATE
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
NORFOLK Division
Docket No. 07P2344EP

In the Estate of MURIEL M. MCCULLOUGH
Late of COHASSET
In the County of NORFOLK
Date of Death September 10, 2007

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR PROBATE OF WILL

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, a petition has been presented praying that a document purporting to be the last will of said decedent be proved and allowed, and that WILLIAM C. HAYS of LEXINGTON in the County of MIDDLESEX or some other suitable person be appointed executor, named in the will to serve without surety.

IF YOU DESIRE TO OBJECT THERETO, YOU OR YOUR ATTORNEY MUST FILE A WRITTEN APPEARANCE IN SAID COURT AT CANTON ON OR BEFORE TEN O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON (10:00 AM) ON NOVEMBER 14, 2007.

In addition, you must file a written affidavit of objections to the petition, stating specific facts and grounds upon which the objection is based, within thirty (30) days after the return day (or such other time as the court, on motion with notice to the petitioner, may allow) in accordance with Probate Rule 16.

WITNESS, HON. DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, First Justice of said Court at CANTON this day, October 1, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11488380
Cohasset Mariner 10/26/07

SEL/A TASTE FOR WINE, INC.
LEGAL NOTICE
Board of Selectmen
Public Hearing Notice

The Cohasset Board of Selectmen, acting as liquor license authority, will hold a public hearing on Monday, November 19, 2007 at 7:15 PM in the Selectmen's Office, Town Hall, 41 Highland Avenue, to consider the application of 380 Corporation d/b/a Cohasset Plaza Liquors, 380 Chief Justice Cushing Highway to transfer its annual all alcoholic package store license to A Taste for Wine, Inc. d/b/a A Taste for Wine & Spirits, same address. The proposed manager is Bruce K. Sinclaire. The licensed premise is Unit F in the Cohasset Plaza Retail Center, comprised of a retail store, storage area, and office space. Three exits, one front entrance/exit and two rear emergency exits. The public is invited to offer public input on this proposed in writing in advance of the public hearing or in person at the hearing.

Board of Selectmen

AD#11494790
Cohasset Mariner 10/26/07

PRATT ESTATE
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 04P1816EP
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of Adelaide Pratt late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 1st and final account(s) of United States Trust Company NA and Walter V. Tripp III as executor(the fiduciary) of said estate has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 19th day of November, 2007 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney for the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 11th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11488345
Cohasset Mariner 10/26/07

ZBA/609 JERUSALEM RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, November 6th at 8:15 PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §5.3 and §9.6 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicant, Heidi Condon, Architectural Designer, seeks to build an addition to the existing house and demolish the existing barn and construct a new garage at 609 Jerusalem Road, according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-10-15a.

AD#11487274
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

ZBA/6 NICHOLS RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday November 6th at 9:15 PM, to hear and act upon an application for an Appeal of the Building Commissioner's opinion decision allowing a portion of the property at 198 Jerusalem Road be used as a staging area for the municipal sewer system project. The applicant is Eileen Craven of 6 Nichols Road, according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office File #07-10-15b.

AD#11487265
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

ZBA/66 NICHOLS RD.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, November 6th , at 8:15 PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §8.7.2 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicants, Pamela J. Ireland and Michael Mellone, seek to construct an addition within the setback at 66 Nichols Road according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-10-09.

AD#11487251
Cohasset Mariner 10/19, 10/26/07

To Place A Legal Ad Call Mary (781) 433-7902

POLICE/FIRE LOG

FROM POLICE LOG, PAGE 30

in front of this residence. ACO will be notified.

10:56 a.m. Sex offenses, walk in party reports her neighbor has been exposing himself in his front yard, see officer report.

11:04 a.m. Summer St., escort, officer escorting a funeral procession to Woodside Cemetery.

11:15 a.m. Elm St., officer wanted, walk in party turned over a shot gun to be held for safe keeping, he no longer wants possession of the weapon.

12:05 p.m. Elm St., suspicious letter, officer received a letter in the mail from this party at HQ.

12:53 p.m. Sohier St., motor vehicle stop, State Police truck team enroute, ETA 1 hour. Truck team on scene at this time.

12:56 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

3:44 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, caller stated that there is a fire in a tree just north of the train station on 3A. National Grid on scene.

4:09 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, caller stated there is smoke in the generator room.

4:42 p.m. Forest Ave., downed tree, caller reports large tree down in the middle of the road. DPW also reports there is a guide wire (not live wire) next to pole where the tree was located – notified National Grid.

4:54 p.m. Beechwood St., dead animal, caller reports a dead raccoon in her back yard.

5:09 p.m. Elm Ct., suspicious activity, officer reports out on follow up traffic.

9:26 p.m. Sohier St., building checks.

9:36 p.m. Pond St., building checks.

9:41 p.m. Elms St., notification, walk in party reports she is going to park her vehicle in the parking lot near the house of elderly. Her mother lives there, she is visiting.

9:46 p.m. Bancroft Rd., medical aid.

10:18 p.m. Hull St., assault and battery, caller reports large fight at above location. Hingham PD requesting R3 at above location. E3 reports R3 treating 2 subjects – E3 in service at scene. Officer requesting flatbed.

SATURDAY, OCT. 13

12:45 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, there is an orange flashing light on the side of the building. Left message for the custodian.

12:48 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks secure.

12:49 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

4 a.m. Pond St., assist citizen, caller states there is a male party standing in the middle of the roadway. Male party was turned over to his parents.

7 a.m. South Main St., traffic enforcement.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 44.

9:56 a.m. Norfolk Rd., caller reports she just turned her furnace on about a half hour ago and her carbon monoxide detectors are sounding.

11 a.m. Elm St., child safety seat install.

11:04 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, disturbance, caller reports an irate customer claiming damage done to a jacket of his. The male went behind the counter, grabbed a jacket that appeared to be his and left. The jacket was not his. Male is in an older model Nissan Altima, color gold or tan.

11:17 a.m. Edward Foster Rd., Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

11:30 a.m. Elm St., child safety seat install.

12:19 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., and Atlantic Ave., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

1:23 p.m. Old Coach Rd., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

1:48 p.m. Bancroft Way, parking complaint, caller reports cars parked illegally at this location.

2 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, alarm-holdup, alarm company reports a hold-up alarm at this location. All units on scene. Robbery did occur and suspect has fled. Broadcast sent over bapern and leaps with the description being a female in her 20's with a pea coat, lots of make-up and Greek style fishing hat. FBI, Lt. notified. Det. paged. Scituate canine responding. Canine on scene.

2 p.m. South Main St., notification, walk in reports that the water dept. knocked over a wood post in his yard. He will come in tomorrow to file a report.

2:45 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, well being check, caller reports a party in her motor vehicle sleeping and would like a well being check.

4:19 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, larceny, clerk reports a drive-off, owner of motor vehicle contacted and is going back to pay.

4:50 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, larceny, clerk states this motor vehicle drove off without paying. Message was left with owner.

9:10 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, well being check.

10:47 p.m. Sohier St., and King St., erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller reports a small red 2 door motor vehicle going the wrong way through the intersection. Officer reports operation normal.

SUNDAY, OCT. 14

1:36 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:37 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 48.

12:14 p.m. Beechwood St., officer wanted, caller reports he would like to see an officer. Male party is at his residence in Cohasset units are speaking to him there. Officers have spoken to the male party at his residence in Cohasset. All is fine for the time.

2:01 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

2:24 p.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

3:06 p.m. Lamberts Lane, call directly into fire HQ for an odor of plastic burning. No problems found in the area.

4:42 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Route 228, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS. Hingham Fire requests R3 for a motor vehicle accident.

6:10 p.m. Elm St., threats. Juvenile arrest: Age: 16. Charges: Intimidating a witness. Juvenile arrest: Age: 16. Charges: Intimidating a witness, threat to commit a crime.

7:48 p.m. Elm St., investigation.

MONDAY, OCT. 15

12:15 a.m. King St., public service, caller reports the gates down and lights flashing. MBTA notified. MBTA crews working on Lower King Street and Sohier Street. MBTA working on the Pleasant Street Crossing.

1:10 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:11 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

1:39 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

1:40 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

6:25 a.m. Forest Ave., and North Main St., public service, caller states the traffic light is stuck. Lights appear to be functioning now. Note: Traffic lights are partially controlled by the MBTA.

6:55 a.m. South Main St., traffic enforcement.

6:58 a.m. South Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:12 a.m. Norfolk Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:22 a.m. South Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:31 a.m. Beechwood St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 46.

9:04 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and King St., motor vehicle crash/injuries, several callers reports a motor vehicle crash at this location. McBrien's notified for two vehicles.

1:20 p.m. Forest Ave., disturbance, caller reports he is having a dispute with his neighbor. Units will be clear, one neighbor parked his vehicle too close to the other neighbor's property. Caller has been advised to contact his attorney.

1:54 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., well being check, mail carrier reports the mail is piling up at the door step, nobody has seen the elderly male for a while. Officers reports the male is in the hospital and the son is caring for the dog and the home.

2 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., hazard (traffic), 911 caller reports her car has broken down in the middle of the street at a bad spot and is afraid it might cause an accident.

3:06 p.m. Forest Ave., disturbance, caller reports a black male in a black pick up truck just went by the house yelling swears out his window.

3:15 p.m. Elm St., bolo announcement, bank robbery just occurred in Hingham at Rockland Trust. White male about 5'7-5'8 acne on his face wearing a white ball cap, baggy jeans and sunglasses. Male did state he was going back to shoot people.

4:55 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS. Scituate Fire requests R3 for a medical aid.

6:38 p.m. Haystack Lane, medical aid.

TUESDAY, OCT. 16

12:20 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

12:21 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, officer reports building appears secured.

5:51 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., traffic enforcement.

7:13 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., and Deep Run, notification, detail officer reports – above location down to one lane.

7:19 a.m. Beechwood St., and King St., notification, detail officer reports above location down to one lane.

8:15 a.m. South Main St., officer wanted, caller requests an officer regarding an irate customer. Caller requests canceling the officer due to the customer leaving. Officer to this location, officer reports the customer was upset about re-paying for an inspection sticker.

8:27 a.m. North Main St., medical aid.

9:03 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, bolo announcement, Hingham PD reports they have just had a lo jack hit on a stolen vehicle out of Boston. 1998 green Acura Integra. Hingham PD reports it is headed southbound on 3A.

9:36 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, notification, detail officers report there will be a lane shift change, all traffic will be able to get through. Fire Dept. notified.

10:37 a.m. North Main St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

10:45 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

12:36 p.m. North Main St., medical aid, transported other/ALS, caller reports a female has fallen off a ladder from the roof, she is conscious and breathing. Medflight notified 14 ETA.

1:23 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

2:18 p.m. Little Harbor Rd., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

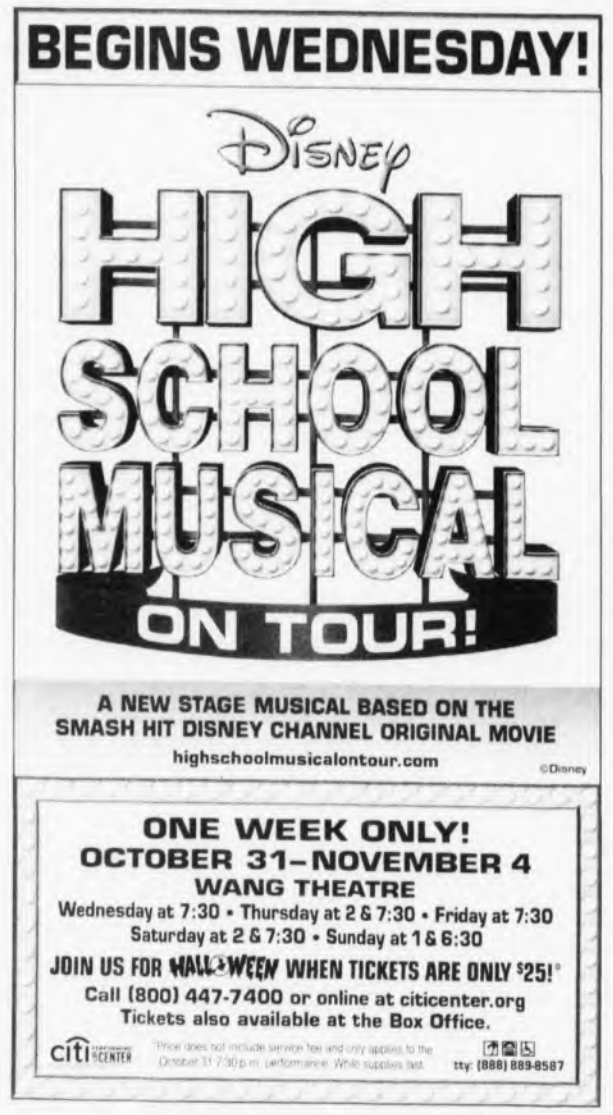
2:50 p.m. Elm St., B&E, walk in party reports the door has been kicked in at this location. Neighbor reports that the home owner was locked out and had to kick the door down, no further actions required.

5:06 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller stated that there is a Mustang going up and down the street screeching tires.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17

12:26 a.m. King St., open door/window, officer reports out at above location with open door. Officer reports open door is doorway, not inside business. Building appears secured.



TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

OCT. 25 - NOV. 1, 2007

A blast from the past

Member of Shirelles comes to Memorial Hall stage

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

If there hadn't been a Shirley Owens, there might never have been a Diana Ross.

Before The Supremes, there was The Shirelles—the first powerhouse female vocal group of the rock and roll era. It was Owens, Beverly Lee, Doris Coley, and Addie "Micki" Harris—neighbors and schoolmates in 1950s Passaic, N.J.—whose harmonies blended pop, R&B, and soul to define the so-called girl-group sound.

For Owens, now known as Shirley Alston Reeves, who comes to Plymouth Memorial Hall on Nov. 3, what started out as something that was fun to do with friends soon became a career.

"We loved singing in the neighborhood for the other kids long before we became famous," recalled Reeves, 66, by telephone last week from her Hillside, N.J., home. "We were all friends from school and church. Beverly and I were making money babysitting when we decided to try and do something more with our music. We hired two additional girls, Doris Coley and Addie Harris, to sing harmony, because we knew we wanted a good, strong R&B sound. We called ourselves 'The Poquellos' and we entered a talent show at Passaic High School with a song we wrote called 'I Met Him on a Sunday.' Not too much later, we auditioned for Florence Greenberg and she signed us to her label, Tiara Records, and changed our name to the Shirelles, which was a combination of my first name and The Chantels, one of my favorite groups of all time."

Greenberg licensed the Shirelles recording of "I Met Him on a Sunday" to Decca where it rose to the Top 50 in 1958. After two subsequent singles flopped, however, Decca passed on further releases and Greenberg signed the girls to her new label, Scepter Records, and brought in producer Luther Dixon to help shape their sound. After "Dedicated to the One I Love" (1959) and "Tonight's the Night" (1960) fared only so well on the charts, the Shirelles released "Will You Love Me Tomorrow," by Gerry Goffin and Carole King, in late 1960 and it went on to become the first number one single of the rock era by a girl group on the Billboard Hot 100. Their subsequent hits included "Mama Said," "Soldier Boy," and "Foolish Little Girl."

Shirley Alston Reeves

"It amazes me how many people still love the music we did over 40 years ago, but they really do. I might forget a lyric once in a great while, but the audience never does."
Shirley Alston Reeves

The group's initial success, however, was marred by the racial prejudice that held back so many black artists of the time.

"They wouldn't put our pictures on the cover of our first album, 'Tonight's the Night,' because of fear that white parents wouldn't allow their children to buy an album with four black faces on the cover. We were lucky, however, that we waited until our songs broke big before we went on tour. We were booked in a club in North Carolina and when we arrived, and the owner saw us in person and realized we were black, he flatly refused to even let us inside. Finally, his son protested so loudly that the owner relented and we ended up playing to a sold-out house."

In the early days, The Shirelles often toured with other groups including Motown's most famous girl group.

"We used to work a lot with The Supremes. We liked Diana (Ross), Florence (Ballard) and Mary (Wilson) very much. It wasn't long, though, before we realized what we were up against. Motown did everything right for its acts. They focused not just on the music, but on grooming and poise, too. The Supremes started wearing perfect gowns and beautiful wigs which we certainly didn't have and it hurt us. We dressed ourselves and we always tried to dress in clothes that were appropriate, but we could never compete with their gowns. Ultimately, we never became as big as they did. We were the door openers. The Supremes followed us and became bigger than us in every way."

When Motown head Berry Gordy placed his star's name above the title and "Diana Ross and The Supremes" were born, Greenberg renamed her label's girl group, "Shirley and the Shirelles." It was a short-lived change that never sat well with Reeves.

"From the very beginning, Florence tried to get me to be the leader. She even wanted to pay me more, but I said no to all of it. I told her I couldn't do it, because we were a group. I didn't want my name on the group, because I didn't want to create any animosity."

Reeves left the group in 1976 to start a family that now includes two daughters, Amber and Chonna, as well as grandchildren from her second marriage. She has reunited with her fellow surviving Shirelles only on rare occasions such as their 1996 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame induction, and for a few television and recording dates with their one-time Scepter Records labelmate and sometime Shirelle fill-in, Dionne Warwick.

While Beverly Lee still top lines a group she calls The Shirelles, Coley and Harris have passed away, and Reeves prefers to continue her solo career.

"I love performing and I love being on stage. In my own act, I don't only do Shirelles music, but a little bit of everything including music made famous by other girl groups. It amazes me how many people still love the music we did over 40 years ago, but they really do. I might forget a lyric once in a great while, but the audience never does."

Harvey Robbins will present the Doo Wop Hall of Fame of America Concert with Shirley Alston Reeves, The Belmonts, Jimmy Clanton, and guitarist Billy Davis at Plymouth Memorial Hall, 83 Court St., Plymouth, on Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. For tickets and information, call 508-747-1340, go online at ticketweb.com or visit any FYE or Strawberries store.

Warwick takes center stage

In 1962, the songwriting team of Burt Bacharach and Hal David wrote the chart-topping "Baby It's You" for The Shirelles. That same year, another Bacharach and David composition, "Don't Make Me Over," was recorded by a Scepter Records back-up singer named Dionne Warwick, whose distinctive vocals took the song to number 21 on the Billboard charts. Briefly a substitute Shirelle, when Shirley Owens and Doris Coley took leaves to get married, Warwick — who will give two concerts at Boston's Cutler Majestic Theatre this weekend — instantly became a star in her own right and launched a decade-long partnership with Bacharach and David that would produce more than 30 hit singles.

In the 45th year of a still-vibrant career, the East Orange, N.J.-born Warwick is second only to Aretha Franklin among rock era female vocalists, with 56 chart hits including "Do You Know the Way to San Jose," "A House Is Not a Home," "Alfie," "Theme from Valley of the Dolls," "Anyone Who Had A Heart," "I'll Never Fall in Love Again," "Then Came You," and "That's What Friends Are For." Warwick has earned five Grammy awards over three decades as well as Bachelor's and Master's degrees in music from the Hartt School of Music at the University of Hartford. Her latest album, "My Favorite Time of the Year," will be released by Rhino Records on Oct. 30.

Dionne Warwick

"I knew Dionne had it from the very first time I heard her sing," recalls Shirelles original lead singer Shirley Alston Reeves. "We were on the same label in those days and it was as clear then as it is now that no one sings like Dionne Warwick. I'm very proud to call her my friend, not just because she is immensely talented, but also because I love her."

Dionne Warwick will be at the Cutler Majestic Theatre, 219 Tremont Street, Boston on Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 28 at 3 p.m. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 1-800-233-3123 or go online at telecharge.com.

—R. Scott Reedy

Calendar of events

BEST BET

Paint! A national show, juried by Boston artist Gerry Bergstein, opens at South Shore Art Center, 119 Ripley Road, Cohasset, on Nov. 2 with a reception from 6 to 8 p.m. The Dillon Gallery will showcase the work of SSAC Gallery Artists with "Small Works" all artwork under 400 square inches and priced for holiday giving. 781 383-2787 ext. 10. Artists whose work was selected for Paint! are Boston artists Lisa Houck, Colleen Kiely, C.J. Lori, and William Tamowski. Artists from the South Shore include Abby Zonies from Milton; Veevy Strekalovsky, Michael Weymouth, Page Railsback, and Priscilla Seddon from Hingham; Paul Andrade from Quincy; and Richard and Kimberlee Alemian from Cohasset. Eleven states across the country including New York and California are represented in the exhibition. Gallery hours are Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday, noon to 4 p.m. 781-383-2787 ext. 10. ssac.org

Artwork by Fred Lynch, Winchester.

Artwork by Christie Allan-Piper, West Newton.

Send your calendar events to Dorothy Dunsmore, Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 or fax 781-837-4543 or email ddunsmore@cnc.com. For information call 781-837-4518. Deadline is Friday at noon. Visit Town Commons: What's happening on the South Shore on the web at wickedlocal.com/towncommons, then click on this link.

Thursday, Oct. 25

Celebrate the wedding of Abigail Smith and John Adams Oct. 25 at 10 a.m. Abigail Smith Adams Birthplace, at 180 Norton St., South Weymouth, for her wedding. At 7 p.m. the wedding of Abigail Smith and John Adams takes place at the First Church in Weymouth, 27 Church St., Weymouth. At 8 p.m. toast and well wishes for the new couple at their home, the John Quincy Adams Birthplace, 141 Franklin St., Quincy. Rain or shine. For further information call Cassie Kennedy 617-773-1177 or Jessie Mulcahy 617-732-1361.

October is Lupus Awareness Month. The Greater Plymouth Lupus Group with guest speaker Rheumatologist Dr. Tanya Dwan who practices with Dr. Doris Stokes on 45 Resnick Road, Plymouth. Dr. Dwan's talk is titled LUPUS and SLE. The meeting will be held Oct. 25 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Plymouth Public Library on Nelson Street. Light Refreshments will be served. For information, contact Sue Peterson 781-585-7501 or email her at

The Plymouth Farmers Market, held from 2 to 6:30 p.m.

Yoga at the Country Club of Hingham. This an all levels yoga class is currently ongoing at the Country Club of Hingham on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m. The class is suitable for all levels. Register in advance. Email drop-in Adrienne for information, contact Stacey at 617-548-5879 or via email at stacey@celebrityexpressions.com.

Fish Tale On the Water. [illegible] Road, Scituate, presents Drift Wood with J. Place, Joe Mcardle, John Erwin, performing [illegible] the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's. Music is from 8 to 10:30 p.m. [illegible]

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke, [illegible] Sweet Melissa with Chris Snow and Brown [illegible]

Mount Blue Music at [illegible] Rachel Parsons and Rick Jackson.

The Next Page Blues [illegible] Brook St., Weymouth, [illegible] Rosmond's open mic [illegible] Riley [illegible]

Dang's Village [illegible] Holly Stevenson [illegible]

CALENDAR

BEST BET

South Shore Conservatory presents Spooky Suzuki on Oct. 28 at the Ellison Center for the Arts in Duxbury at 4 p.m. Come in costume if you wish and enjoy Conservatory Suzuki faculty and students perform together. From the most seasoned performers playing Bach and Vivaldi to the newest students playing charming pieces. This informal, fun family concert. Free for all. 781-749-7565 x19 or amyschoenpf southshoreconservatory.org.

Chris Rathbun, bass instructor, as Frankenstein performs with a Conservatory student.

TOWN COMMONS

OCT. 25 - NOV. 1, 2007

BEST BET

The South Shore Folk Music Club, welcomes Session Americana, to Tanger Newton's best kept secret, on Friday, Nov. 2. The concert will be held at The Boat House of the Unitarian Universalist Church, 222 Main St., Route 106, Kingston. The hall is handicapped accessible and smoke and alcohol-free. Doors open at 7:30. The concert starts at 8 p.m. Tickets at the door are $13 for members and $15 for non-members. Advance tickets are available by mailing your request and check at least 10 days in advance to: South Shore Folk Music Club, P.O. Box 156, Kingston, Mass. 02364. ssfmc.org or 781-871-1052.

Continued from previous page

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 25, DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

Friday, Oct. 26

On the Path Wellness Center is hosting a guided imagery, meditation workshop with Dawne Corti-Migre. This workshop will help you to learn how to cope with the daily stresses that we all experience and enable you to enjoy that quite place within. Friday Oct. 26, at 7 p.m. For details call Dawne at 617-750-8101or e-mail balancepoint2006@aol.com

Comedy Night to support South Shore Habitat For Humanity Oct. 26, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Emerald Hall, 120 Bay State Drive, Braintree. DJ, comedians, raffles, and more Comedians: Harrison Stebbins, Annette Pollack, Dave Rattigan, Matt McArthur and Larry Lee Lewis. Tickets: $30. For tickets call Julie 978-877-0053; Shannon 781-843-9010 x14 or Annette 781-843-4833 For tax-deductible donations: e-Mail to: communitydev@habitat.org

The South Street Gallery, 149 South St., Hingham presents "Water Water Everywhere", the works of Jane Flavell Collins of Duxbury, The opening event will take place Oct. 26, from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Nov. 15. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For additional information, call 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra's annual auction gala and dinner takes place from Oct. 26, from 6:30 to 11 p.m., at the Waverly Oaks Golf Club, 444 Long Pond Road, Plymouth. This year the theme is the Great Gatsby. Black tie or 1920s attire optional. Cost is $75 per person/$560 per table of eight. For tickets or more information call 508-746-8008. For information about the PPO's 92nd season, visit plymouthphil.org.

Monponsett Inn, Rt. 58, Halifax, Dinner show scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. 26. The Ghost of Mad Table Manor an interactive whodun-it comedy mystery dinner. Social hour starts at 6:30 p.m. followed by the dinner and show at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $40 per person and must be purchased in advance.

"Single Executives Club" Halloween Party & Singles Dance. Oct. 26 at Raffael's, 1601 Main St., Rte. 1A, Walpole. Dancing with music by award-winning DJ from 8:30 p.m. to midnight. Complimentary buffet all night, free door prizes, and MATCH GAME prizes. Hundreds of singles and couples, 35+ years old. Cost is $10 before 9. Proper business-casual dress acceptable tonight only. Prizes for best three costumes.781-446-0234. Co-sponsored by Rhode Island's Most Eligible Singles. 508-668-8071 se-4u.com

South Shore Singles will sponsor its annual Halloween dance with DJ: Rick Walsh from 8 to 11:30 p.m. at the Abington VFW, 30 Central St., Abington. Doors open 7:15 p.m. Free dance lesson 7:30 to 8 p.m. $2 off admission if you come in costume. Free snacks and coffee, cash bar. 781-331-0021. southshoresingles.org

Hull Performing Arts, Inc. presents Harbor Haunts an adaptation of legends and ghost stories recorded by Edward Rowe Snow in his history of the Boston Harbor Islands. A special adaptation of A Lady in Black, written by Hingham High School student William Hall is included. Friday, Oct. 26, 7 p.m. at the Lifesaving Museum 1117 Nantasket Avenue, Hull. Admission is $5 for members, $3 for non-members of the museum. Call 781-925-2406 for directions and other information.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Oct. 26, Code 7 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 26, Clubba Lang 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Oct. 26, at 9:15 p.m., Racky Thomas Band. No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.26, The Dan Byrnes Trio.

Run of the Mill, 6 Spring Lane, Plymouth. The Hot Sauce Band will perform. 508-830-1262. No cover charge.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Oct. 26, Young Neal & The Vipers. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 26, Spank 781-837-6368.

Saturday, Oct. 27

Sauchuk Farm, 53 Palmer Road, (Rt. 58), Plympton. Fall Corn Maze spread throughout six acres on Center St. (off Route 58) in Plympton. Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dusk through Oct. 28. Admission $8 adults age 12 and up; $5 children ages 4-11; toddlers age 3 and under free. 781-585-1522 sauchukfarm.net

The Hull Lifesaving Museum's 20th Annual Head of the Weir River Race. Registration begins 11 a.m. Oct. 27, at the race starting line behind the Hull Public Works building at the Hull Town Line on Route 228. The coxswains' meeting is at 12:45 p.m., and race start at 1:30 p.m. For information or questions, call Ed McCabe, or Lory Newmyer, at 781-925-5433 or visit lifesavingmuseum.org

Southeast Medical Center Community Health Fair Compass Medical, P.C. Southeast Medical Center, 1 Compass Way/Rt. 18, East Bridgewater, 1 to 4 p.m. Oct. 27. Free event - health education, free screenings, facility tour, games, giveaways, fire trucks. No registration is necessary. For information, call 508-350-2350.

Bark 'n' Howl Ball, The Hatherly Country Club in Scituate. Oct. 27, to benefit the Scituate Animal Shelter featuring local band Section 8. Join WATD's news diva Christine James and the hard-working 3A Farm Fund volunteers. Tickets are $50 each and are available at the Shelter on the Driftway. All proceeds help the Scituate Animal Shelter relocate from the Driftway to the 3A Farm.

Viking Club, Braintree Oct. 27, 7:30 p.m. Enjoy barbershop music broadway show tunes negro spirituals dixie land band. Cabaret seating Featuring (tables of 10) Island Grove Chorus, Basket Raffles, Katrina Armando, Cash Bar. Christian Potts, Debby Rawson, The Dixie Diehards Tickets $15. Call Judy 781-848-5843

Mt Hope Coffee House, located at the intersection of Clapp and Cedar Road Scituate - The Bear Bones Band will host another 'nite of music' Other performers include Dave Smith, Burning Moth, Andy Bergsten, Greg and Nancy Zappolo, Susie Arana, Rocky Run Jam Band , Archie and more. Doors open at 7 p.m., music 7:30 to 11 p.m. Donation at door to Mt. Hope Improvement Society Scholarship Fund $5. Coffee and snacks available. For info or to perform at the next Coffee House contact Bearbonesband@gmail.com. or Chris at 781-544-3122.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Oct. 27, Rock Star Poses 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 27, Mother Focus Party Band 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Oct. 27, at 9:15 p.m., Dave & The Goliaths/ Next Page Halloween Party No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

New England Singles Dances, VFW Hall, 30 Central St., Abington. Admission $9. 617-325-4900 Ages 40 and over singlesdances-newengland.com

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Oct.27, 9 p.m. The Hoochies Rock Halloween Party, Cover charge.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Oct. 27, Fat City Band.Halloween Party. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Sunday, Oct. 28

Sauchuk Farm, 53 Palmer Road, (Rt. 58), Plympton. Fall Corn Maze spread throughout six acres on Center St. (off Route 58) in Plympton. Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to dusk through Oct. 28. Admission $8 adults age 12 and up; $5 children ages 4-11; toddlers age 3 and under free. 781-585-1522 sauchukfarm.net

St. Nicholas UMC, 130 Spring St., Hull presents Dick Mandell, one man orchestra and DJ featuring Tina. Oct. 28, 3 p.m. Reception following in Gould Hall. Tickets $10 by calling 781-925-2461, 781-925-4962, or 781-925-5796.

St. Stephen's Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset presents pianist Michael Crane of New York in a recital Oct. 28 at 3 p.m. in the Music Room. A reception will follow the program. Handicap accessible, and plenty of parking is available at the village car park. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted. 781-383-1083.

CALENDAR, see next page

Rivers' comedic timing doesn't need surgery

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

The subject of plastic surgery hasn't even been raised, but Joan Rivers thinks it has and that's enough to get under the preternaturally tight skin of the legendary comedienne.

"I've only done plastic surgery twice and somehow I've become the poster girl for plastic surgery," exclaimed Rivers last week by telephone from her New York City apartment. "I'm tired of people talking about it. It is time for everyone to move on to Michelle Pfeiffer already."

Joan Rivers

With that, Rivers leaves behind a topic for which she has become known in recent years in favor of one that has been the basis of her career for the past 40 years.

"The comedy is what I am about and it is who I am. If your looks improve, your comedy doesn't change. You're still who you are inside."

At an age only a rotter would reveal, Rivers remains one of the hardest-working women in show business. In addition to her stand-up comedy — which will bring her to Boston's Berklee Performance Center on Saturday — the Brooklyn-born performer, and eight-time author, is also an Emmy Award-winner for her now defunct daytime talk show and a Tony nominee for her work on Broadway. Since 1990, she has been selling her own fashion jewelry, and more recently beauty products, on QVC. A mother and grandmother, Rivers refuses to say what part of her professional life gives her the most satisfaction.

"Whatever I'm doing at the time is what makes me happiest. I just love the business. The work ethic is very important to me. Just keep me busy and I'm fine. I think work spares people a lot of problems. The pioneers worked hard churning butter and chopping wood and nobody heard them complaining. I think Britney Spears could do herself a big favor by focusing on her career and getting back to work."

The trouble-plagued pop star just better make sure she isn't in Rivers' way when she does resume her career.

"I'm very competitive. I love Kathy Griffin and Sarah Silverman, but I'm the only comedienne I want to see up on stage. When I walk out on stage to do my act, I immediately know this is where I belong. And when I am out there, it is my job to make people believe that I am the funniest person alive."

Joan Rivers will be at the Berklee Performance Center, 136 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, on Oct. 27 at 8p.m. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 617-931-2787 or go online at ticketmaster.com.

Halloween happenings

THE LITTLE THEATRE OF STOUGHTON presents one act plays featuring "Beast of the Baskervilles" and "Frankenstein Slept Here" Oct. 27, at 2:30 p.m. Town Hall, Great Hall third floor, Stoughton. Free admission. Costumes optional.

HULL PERFORMING ARTS, INC. PRESENTS HARBOR HAUNTS an adaptation of legends and ghost stories recorded by Edward Rowe Snow in his history of the Boston Harbor Islands. A special adaptation of A Lady in Black, written by Hingham High School student William Hall is included. Friday, Oct. 26, 7 p.m. at the Lifesaving Museum 1117 Nantasket Avenue, Hull. Admission is $5 for members, $3 for non-members of the museum. Call 781-925-2406 for directions and other information.

THE INN AT SILVER LAKE HALLOWEEN PARTY The residents of The Inn at Silver Lake invite the community to join their annual Halloween party. Festivities for the kids include peanut free trick-or-treating, costume contests, games, food and more. The party will take place Oct. 29, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. The Inn at Silver Lake is located at 21 Chipman Way in Kingston. For information or directions call 781-336-5220.

HAUNTED HALLWAYS Federal Furnace Home and School Association of Marshfield presents Haunted Hallways Oct. 26, at 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. Admission: $6 per person.

PLYMPTON HAUNTED HOUSE The Plympton Cub Scouts Pack 53 -14th Annual Haunted House behind Plympton Town House on Oct. 26, from 7 to 9 p.m. and, Oct. 27, from 6 to 8 p.m. Cost is $4 each. Meals will be available for purchase, along with Halloween trinkets, face painting and tattoos. Raffle of a signed Boston Bruins team hockey stick.

27th ANNUAL BRAINTREE HAUNTED HOUSE Tour a Classic Haunted House and Graveyard Oct.. 26 and 27, from 6 to 9:30 p.m. at 10 Plain St., (near Bayshore Athletic Club) in Braintree. Admission is $6 for children and $7.50 for adults. A "Not So Scary" lights-on night appropriate for younger children will be held on Thursday Oct. 25 from 6 to 8 p.m. for just $5. Wheelchair accessible. Free child care and pizza, soda and treats are available. Visit gpvillage.com/highlandsschool for information.

FAMILY HALLOWEEN FUN at the South Shore Natural Science Center, 48 Jacobs Lane, Norwell. Halloween Howl is Oct. 27, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Science Center and features an evening of spook-tacular fun with crafts, animal presentations, night hike, spooky room and treats! Wear a costume and bring a pumpkin to carve. Pre-registration required, Cost is $10 member/ $12 non-member per child and $3 per adult. Program suitable for children ages 3 and up, children must be accompanied with an adult. Enjoy a not too scary walk through Halloween scenes in the Science Center's woods at Spooky Woods Oct. 28 from 5:30-8 p.m. Wear a costume, bring a flashlight and be bewitched! In the event of inclement weather, event will be held inside. Cost $5 per person, no pre-registration required, drop in anytime during the bewitching hours of 5:30 to 8 p.m. For information and pre-registration contact the Science Center at 781-659-2559 or view the website at ssnsc.org

HALLOWEEN FUNFEST, Marshfield High School, noon to 4 p.m. Oct. 27 for ages 1 to 12, costume parade, haunted hallway, picture taking, games, face paiting. 781-834-5050.

HALLOWEEN PADDLE, North and South River Watershed Association Halloween Paddle on South River, noon to 4 p.m. Oct. 28, costumes welcome. Meet at Rexhame Beach, marshfield, parking lot at 11:30 a.m. lunch at noon. $10 donation requested. Pre-registration required. 781-659-8168.

ANNUAL HALLOWEEN PARADE sponsored by the Hanover Woman's Club Juniors (HWCJ) will be held Oct. 28. The sign up registration begins at 1:30 p.m. at the Hanover Boys Club. The parade will be led by the Hanover Fire Department and the Hanover Marching Band. March to the Sylvester field where there will be entertainment by Bob Ryan Tall Tales. Rain or Shine and expected to end at 2:45 p.m. A food item donation is requested to benefit the local Food Pantry. Contact Lynne at 781-871-3065 for more information.

ANNUAL SOUTH SHORE COMMUNITY CENTER NURSERY SCHOOL HALLOWEEN FAIR steps off Oct. 28, with its traditional costume parade at 1:45 p.m. around the duck pond. Little ghosts and goblins will want to stay around until the fair's end at 4 p.m. to try their hand at enchanting games of skill and luck, a giant slide, a train ride and the always fun pony rides. Tickets for activities and rides can be purchased at the event. All proceeds from the fair directly benefit the SSCCNS's Enrichment fund. For information call 781-383-0036.

TRICK OR TREAT Halifax Town Hall, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Oct. 31.

HALLOWEEN TOUR OF BEACON HILL This tour takes place on Oct. 31, at 5:30 p.m. Walk the darker side of this seemingly charming neighborhood. From the public hangings on the Common to the dismembered George Parkman, Beacon Hill's heritage of mystery and suspense is a perfect way to spend All Hallows Eve. Guided by Boston By Foot, Inc., the tour begins from the steps of the Massachusetts State House on Beacon Street. Admission is $15 per person and reservations are not required. For further information and a brochure, call 617-367-2345 or visit bostonbyfoot.org.

MASS AUDUBON'S MOOSE HILL, 293 Moose Hill St., Sharon, Halloween Critters: Oct. 31; from 10 to 11:30 a.m. What animals are associated with Halloween? Take a peek into the lives of bats, spiders, owls, and other Halloween creatures of the night. $8-$11 Pumpkin Carving: Oct. 25: 6 to 8:30 p.m. Plenty of pumpkins donated by Ward's Berry Farm, will be available, volunteers are needed to help carve pumpkins into Jack-O-Lanterns for the annual Halloween Prowl. Help appreciated any time after 1 p.m. Free, donations appreciated. 781-784-5691.

ADULT HALLOWEEN NIGHT PROGRAM The Ventress Memorial Library in Marshfield will present an Adult Halloween Night Program on Oct. 31, at 7 p.m. titled "Halloween, Graveyards and Family Trees." Dick Sullivan, a retired Randolph teacher and Marshfield resident, will blend themes of pagan festivals, human psychology and the occult with using gravestones to aid in genealogy research of family trees. The lecture is a unique blend of scary and scholarly topics, with a dose of personal anecdote. The program is free and open to the public, no tickets are required. Cider and candy corn will be served. The library and the program room are handicapped accessible. For information contact librarian Chris Woods at 781-835-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

Send your Halloween events to ddinsmore@cnc.com or fax 781-837-4543.

Photograph by Murton Sudalter

BEST BET

Oceanside 17 Studio & Gallery, 17 Rockland Circle, Hull, Here & Away: Four Hull Artists Murton Sudalter and Sharyn Fireman photographs and jewelry inspired by travel to exotic lands, Arlene Tuck-landscapes in oil, Kim McNeil-pastel landscapes. Opening reception 6:30 to 9 p.m. Nov. 2, Gallery Open: Thursday-Sunday 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. by appt. 781-773-1563 Fandahazy@comcast.net

SCITUATE MUSIC
Serving NE musicians since 1969
Over 700
Electric and Acoustic Guitars, Basses, Banjos, Dulcimers, Mandolins, Ukuleles
Fender Guild
Huge selection of Fender and Guild Guitars, Basses and Amplifiers
Heritage DOD Digitech Boss EMG Seymour Duncan Sonic Nady EV Shure
Drum Sets
Cymbals Accessories Drum Lessons
PAYMENT PLANS
USED Guitars • Amps Drums • Effects
SONOR Zildjian SABIAN
DIGITAL PIANOS KEYBOARDS
CASIO
BAND INSTRUMENTS NEW • USED SALES • RENTALS ACCESSORIES
PA System Rentals & Sales All Sizes
Guitar & Amp Repair DJ & 4-track rentals
Guitar, Bass & Drum Lessons
CDs • TAPES 10,000 TITLES • Special Orders •
SHEET MUSIC "One of the largest selections in New England"
Scituate Harbor 781-545-9800

Marine Advisory: Get the Grady.
Grady-White sets the standard for safety, quality, reliability and performance even in the toughest conditions. Take to the water with confidence in the world's most superbly engineered small sportfishing boat. Get the Grady!
GRADY-WHITE
56 YEARS
BAYSIDE MARINE Corp.
441 WASHINGTON ST., DUXBURY
781-934-0561 • 1-800-540-0561
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
• Marine Store
• Gas Dock
• Full Service Yard
Open 7 Days 8-6

Town Commons

OCT. 25 - NOV. 1, 2007

The Cohasset Chorale will appear on Nov. 2, and Nov. 3, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall, 120 South Main St. Each evening will begin with a social hour from 7 to 8 p.m., featuring a raffle table with items from local artists and merchants, followed by the cabaret. Tickets cost $25 each and are available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., each Sunday, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Tickets are also available during the week at the Parish Hall, and at the Cohasset Elder Affairs office at the South Shore Community Center on Main St. 781-383-0752.

BEST BET

Continued from previous page

Southeast Medical Center 5k Foot Race & Walk to benefit The East Bridgewater High School Scholarship Fund, Oct. 28, at East Bridgewater High School, 11 Plymouth St., East Bridgewater, Registration starts at 7:30 a.m. Race starts promptly at 8:30 a.m. Register on-line at racedirectors.com/semc5k Applications are also available on the day of the race, beginning at 7:30 a.m. 617-699-6914.

South Shore Conservatory presents Spooky Suzuki on Oct. 28 at the Ellison Center for the Arts in Duxbury at 4 p.m. Come in costume if you wish and enjoy Conservatory Suzuki faculty and students perform together. From the most seasoned performers playing Bach and Vivaldi to the newest students playing charming pieces. This informal, fun family concert. Free for all. 781-749-7565 x19 or amyschomp@southshoreconservatory.org.

Monday, Oct 29

New Beginnings, a nonprofit, nonsectarian support organization for single, widowed, separated and divorced men and women, has helped more than 9,400 south shore residents start a new life over the past 20 years. New Beginnings meets at the UCC Church, 460 Main St., Norwell, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Support groups meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., followed by social time and the evening's program or speaker. Orientation is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and is highly recommended for newcomers. All are welcome. For information, call Peggy Loud at 781-659-1857.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. every Monday, free Texas Hold'em with Northern poker league 781-829-6999.

Tuesday, Oct. 30

The Friends of the Scituate Library and Grub Street South at Buttonwood welcome the nationally recognized author Claire Cook on Oct. 30, 7 p.m. at the Scituate Town Library, 85 Branch St. Scituate, for a writing workshop. Claire will be hosting a class titled "Finding the Muse: How to start, and actually finish, the book only you can write." For reservations, call the Scituate Library at 781-545-8727. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a signed copy, call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.Visit buttonwoodbooks.com or sctuatetownlibrary.org

The Braintree High School Band and Orchestra will present its annual Fall Concert on Oct. 30, at 7:30 pm in the Grabosky Auditorium at Braintree High School. The program will present a diverse collection of musical compositions from many areas of the world. Free and open to the public.

The South Shore Men of Harmony Barbershop Chorus invites men of all ages who like to sing to join them during the month of November to rehearsals that will be open to anyone who would like to learn Christmas music sung in the Barbershop acapella style. They will be accepting invitations from all sorts of organizations to present Christmas programs and would be delighted to include whoever is interested in having fun singing. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., at the corner of Central Street. Call 781-337-SING for additional information or e-mail danielcostello@gmail.com or billfitzjr@aol.com.

The North River Arts Society presents Faces & Places, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery, Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield, featuring original watercolor paintings by Wendy Hale through Nov. 6. For information, call NRAS at 781-837-8091 or email northriverarts@verizon.net 781-834-5535

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Oct. 23, Game Show Trivia 781-837-6368.

Wednesday, Oct. 31

Dickinson Art Gallery, 1132 Main St., (Route 18), Weymouth presents Fall For The Arts, final week for this multi-media show featuring new gallery artists, Dick O'Brien, Vincent Elliot, George Hartley, Lisa Smith , and Danielle Festa showing in the Glass Gallery. The Studio Gallery is featuring the artwork of 20 of New England's finest artists. Hours: Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m. All other times are by appointment. No admission charge and plenty of free parking. 781-331-3384, dickinsonartgallery.com.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Oct. 31, Halloween Party with SPANK 781-829-6999.

Thursday, Nov. 1

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

Toastmasters Club, Hanover, The new South Shore Professionals Toastmasters club will meet on the first and third Monday of every month. This is a great opportunity to learn about how Toastmasters can help you become a more effective leader and communicator. The meetings will run from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Rockland Trust building, 2036 Washington St.- third floor. Arrive 15 minutes early since the meeting starts at 6 p.m. sharp. Contact Stacey for information at 617-548-5877 or stacey@letitflowfitness.com. or toastmasters.org.

The Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham invites the public to hear Rappaport Foundation's report on the impact of commuter rail on host communities. This free talk will be presented by David Luberoff, Executive Director of Harvard's Rappaport Institute for Greater Boston, on Nov. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Library's Whiton Meeting Room. As Greeenbush line service begins on the South Shore, David Luberoff will help clarify expectations for commuter rail and offer commentary on how far commuter rail can take our communities. No reservations are required. 781-741-1405, ext. 2600. hinghamlibrary.org

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

South Shore Conservatory presents Opera By The Bay's production of "La Traviata" in Cox Hall, South Shore Conservatory, Hingham, Nov. 2, and at the Ellison Center for the Arts, Duxbury, on Nov. 3. Both concerts begin at 7:30 p.m. A wine and cheese reception will precede the performances at 6:45 p.m. Opera by the Bay's production of Verdi's immortal classic features talented artists, full sets and costumes, and our intimate atmosphere that promises a first class operatic experience. Tickets are $20 for adults and $12 for children. For information contact Amy Schomp, 781-749-7565 x19 or amyschomp@southshoreconservatory.org.

Violetta,(Natalie Polito) rejects Alfredo, (Kevin Hayden) for the sake of his family in South Shore Conservatory's La Traviata.

BEST BET

Café Bella Coffeehouse, North River Community Church, 334 Old Oak St., Pembroke, presents acoustic artist Rosie Thomas Nov. 2. Show starts at 7 p.m., doors open 6:45 p.m. Admission is $10 and includes Starbucks coffee and desserts. All ages are welcome, handicap accessible. 781-826-0722 ext. 12. Visit rosiethomas.com or cafebella.org.

BEST BET

Country star Josh Gracin will make his area debut with a show at Plymouth Memorial Hall on Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. For country music fans, one of the highlights of "American Idol 2" was the success of a young Marine named Josh Gracin, and there were more than a few people thinking about how nice it would be to welcome him to the country charts. Opening for Gracin will be Carmen Rasmusen, who will feature her new song, "Nothin' Like the Summer." Tickets are priced at $45-$25, with a limited number of VIP tickets available which include a pre-show reception with Josh Gracin and Carmen Rasmusen, with the proceeds from the reception going to Habitat for Humanity. Tickets are available at the Plymouth Hall box-office at 50 Court Street in Plymouth, Ma, by phone at 508-747-1340, online at plymouthhall.com, and at all FYE & Strawberries outlets.

BEST BET

Fairs and festivals

CRAFT FAIR Immaculate Conception, 1199 Commercial St., E. Weymouth, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Oct. 27, Lots of crafts and food.

AUTUMN TRAIN FESTIVAL Celebrate the new look of North Scituate and the start of train service on the Greenbush line. Travel the shops and visit with the merchants for specials, activities, food, music, raffles and fun for all ages throughout the village. Train safety presentations will also be held. Pick up your "ticket" at Clipper Travel between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Oct. 27, to start your "trip" (rain or shine). Call Funtastics at 545-2813 for info. Sponsored by the merchants of North Scituate and the Scituate Chamber of Commerce.

THE SOUTH SHORE MODEL RAILWAY CLUB, 51 Bare Cove Park, Hingham Fall Open House & Show 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 27 and 28. The entrance to Bare Cove Park is 1/10 of a mile west of The South Shore Country Club at 19 Fort Hill St. Hingham, In addition to the club's operating layout, there will be over 40 dealer tables, a "White Elephant Table" and demonstrations of model railroad construction. Admission is $4 for Adults, $2 Senior's (65+), Children (6-12, with an adult) $2. ssmrc.org 781-740-2000.

THE SHOPPING EXTRAVAGANZA, Norwell Middle School PTO Shopping Extravaganza 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 3, at the Cushing Center, 673 Main St., Norwell. Showcasing a variety of products designed and created by area business owners and local shops. and artisans. Refreshments and bake sale table raffle prizes. Admission Tickets $ 3 sold at the door.

HARVEST FAIR St. Luke's, Route 3A and First Parish Road, Scituate from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 3. Silent auction, food, crafts, face painting, moonwalk, pet boutique, lunch and more. 781-545-9482.

ANNUAL SWEDISH COUNTRY FAIR at the Covenant Congregational Church. 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Nov. 3, 204 Center St., North Easton. Admission is free.

ANNUAL HOLLY DAY BAZAAR. Avon Baptist Church 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 3, 119 North Main St., Avon. Will include crafts, a knit/crochet and sewing table, bake table, silent auction, white elephant room, book nook, photos with Santa, and the "Village Café."

21ST ANNUAL CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL New England's Largest Fine Art and Craft Show at World Trade Center, Boston. Nov. 2, 3 and 4, at Boston's Seaport World Trade Center featuring the work of more than 300 artists and master craftsmen. Hours are Friday, noon to 7 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. - 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tickets are $12 for adults and free for children under 14. 617-385-5000, christmascraftfestival.com

ANNUAL BROCKTON TRAIN SHOW. 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 4, at the Brotherhood of Temple Beth Emunah located in Brockton. The kosher snack bar will be open for breakfast, lunch and snacks. Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens over 65 and children ages 8 to 17 and $7 for a family fare. Children 7 and under admitted free with an adult. For more information call 508-583-5810 or E-mail to acastaline@alum.mit.edu.

ANNUAL CHURCH FAIR, Bryantville United Methodist Church, 546 Mattakeesett St., Pembroke, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 10. Arts and crafts, silent auction, snack bar and more.

ANNUAL HOLIDAY BAZAAR - The St. Francis of Assisi holiday bazaar held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 875 Washington St., Braintree 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 10. Coffee, muffins, donuts and soft drinks will be available. Lunch at 11:30 a.m. until sold out. Tables include crafts, knitted items, jewelry, baked goods, face painting religious items and country kitchen with jams, preserves and fudge. 781-843-1597.

FALL FAIR Pilgrim Congregational Church, 24 Athens St., North Weymouth, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 17. Crafts, baked goods, luncheon. 781-337 2075.

ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR North Pembroke Elementary School PTO 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 18, from at the school. More than 40 local crafters, enjoy the bake sale tables, snack in the cafeteria and take a chance on the raffles from local merchants and crafters. Pictures with Santa, craft room and special shopping tables with free gift wrapping just for the kids.

E-mail fair and festival listings to ddinsmore@cnc.com

Reunions

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1972 is planning a reunion for Oct. 26. More information is available at classmates.com and will be updated regularly. They are trying to locate classmates. Log on to the Classmates web site and become a member so that they can reach you and you can receive notice of updates. You can also visit tessahoc72@yahoo.com

CARDINAL CUSHING CENTRAL HS SO. BOSTON – Class of 1967, 40th reunion Oct. 28 from 1 to 5 p.m. Luncheon at Best Western Adams Inn 29 Hancock St Quincy, River Room. Cost: $26 per person. RSVP by Oct. 24 call 781-335-9327.

ALL FORMER CAMPER/COUNSELORS-50TH CAMP REUNION, Camps Winni, Kingsmont and Ossipee. Nov. 3, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Lantana in Randolph 43 Scanlon Drive, Randolph. Cost: $50 per/person dinner, entertainment, dancing and a "camp momento." Register on-line youhadtobethere.org or send a check to Don McGibbon, 108 Walker Lane Abington, MA 02351. For information contact Don McGibbon at DonaldMcGi@aol.com or Donna (Ripley) Fallon at djfall@comcast.net or visit youhadtobethere.org. Spread the word. RSVP by Oct. 15. 781-961-4660.

HOLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion class of 1987, Nov. 10, 7 to 11 p.m. Cocktail Reception at The Four's Restaurant, 15 Cottage Ave., Quincy. Includes: cash bar, appetizer buffet, desserts, and a DJ. $40 per person. RSVP to: hhsclass1987reunion@yahoo.com or call 617-240-3846 as soon as possible. Tickets must be pre-paid.

NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987 20 year class reunion on Nov. 23rd, 7:30-12:30 at Black Rock Country Club, Hingham. Ticket price is $50 per person, includes: cash bar, hors d'oeuvres, desserts and DJ. Call Cheri (Connolly) Farley at 781-659-5898 for more information or visit norwellhs1987.myevent.com

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 10 Year Reunion – class of 1997, Nov. 23, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Jillian's on Lansdowne St., Boston, on the second floor in the main Jillian's complex. $25 per person and guests are welcome. Includes plenty of food, lots of pool tables, and bowling.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987, Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at the Red Parrot in Hull Alumni are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL 30th reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/ M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion Class of 1982 Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 15th reunion Class of 1992 Nov. 23 8 p.m. to midnight at F1 Boston on Wood Rd. in Braintree. The cost is $45 per person and the evening will include DJ, cash bar, and apps. Checks can be made payable to Laurice Vallancourt/BHS Class of 1992 and mailed to 11 Winter Terrace, Hanson MA 02341 by Nov. 9. Any questions, contact Laurice (Gunn) Vallancourt at vallancourt11@comcast.net

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 30th Reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr.,Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holiday-inn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL- Class of 1977 30th year reunion, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Nov. 24. Dinner buffet at The Weymouth Elks, Washington St., (Rte. 53). Includes: cash bar, appetizers, dinner buffet, dessert and DJ. $35 per person. RSVP to weymouthsouth77@yahoo.com by Nov. 12.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987 Saturday, Nov. 24, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Sons of Italy in Braintree. $35 per person or $60 per couple. Includes D.J., cash bar and apps until 10 p.m. Checks made payable to B.H.S. Class of 1987 and should be mailed to Mary Ellen Coffey, 53 Till Rock Lane, Norwell, MA 02061. Any questions, contact Mary Ellen (Gunn) Coffey at maryellen724@yahoo.com.

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway 192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

The Braintree Ballet Company

&

Director and Choreographer: Melissa Kelley Clark

Present

"THE NUTCRACKER"

a full length ballet production

Celebrating our 12th season

A wonderful, magical holiday experience for the whole family.

(please check with age restrictions when calling for tickets)

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8TH at 2PM & 7PM

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 9TH at 2PM

East Middle School, River St., Braintree

For ticket information or to purchase tickets, please call:

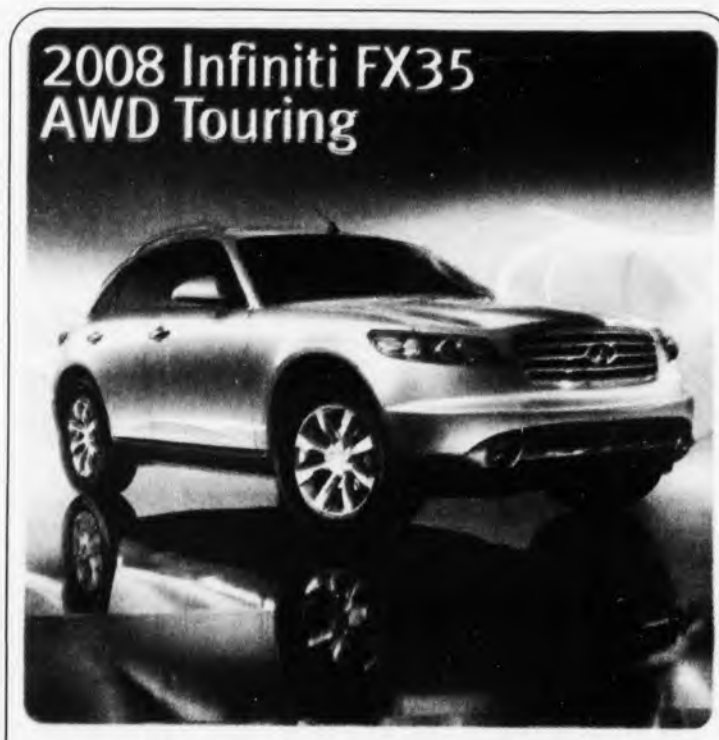
Melissa Kelley's Dance Studio of Braintree, LLC

781-380-8856

INFINITI®

Quality. Luxury. Value.

2008 Infiniti G37 Sport Coupe



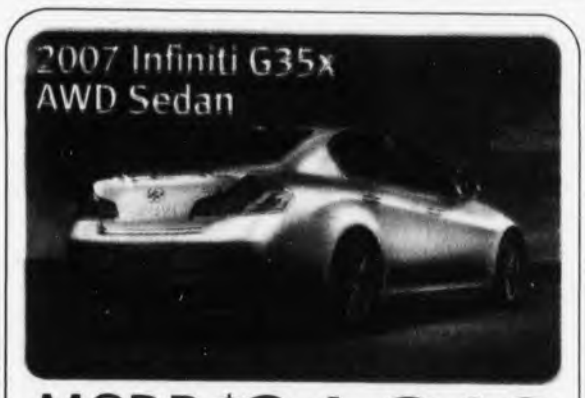
MSRP $42,025

LEASE FOR $499* per mo. for 42 mos. $2,999 cap cost reduction

Voice Activated Navigation, Rear View Monitor, Blue Tooth, 300 HP V6, Bose Stereo, 6-Speed Manual...And Much More

MODEL #99368

2008 Infiniti FX35 AWD Touring



MSRP $42,865

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 24 mos. $1,199 cap cost reduction

Hands-Free Package, Bose Stereo/iPod Connector, XM Radio, Leather ...And Much More

MODEL #87418

2007 Infiniti G35x AWD Sedan

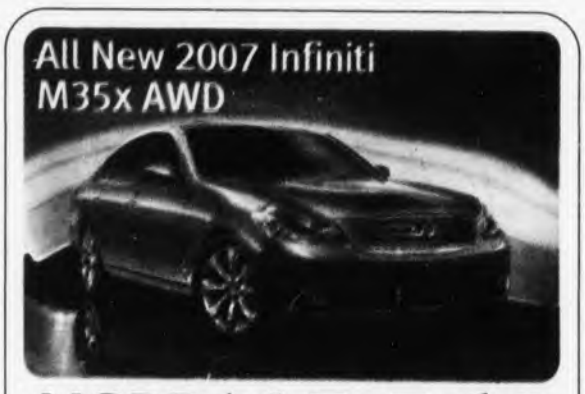
MSRP $34,840

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $1,799 cap cost reduction

Heated Leather Seats, Power Moonroof, Intelligence Key, In-Dash CD Changer, Power Front Seats...And Much More

MODEL #90617

2008 Infiniti QX56 AWD



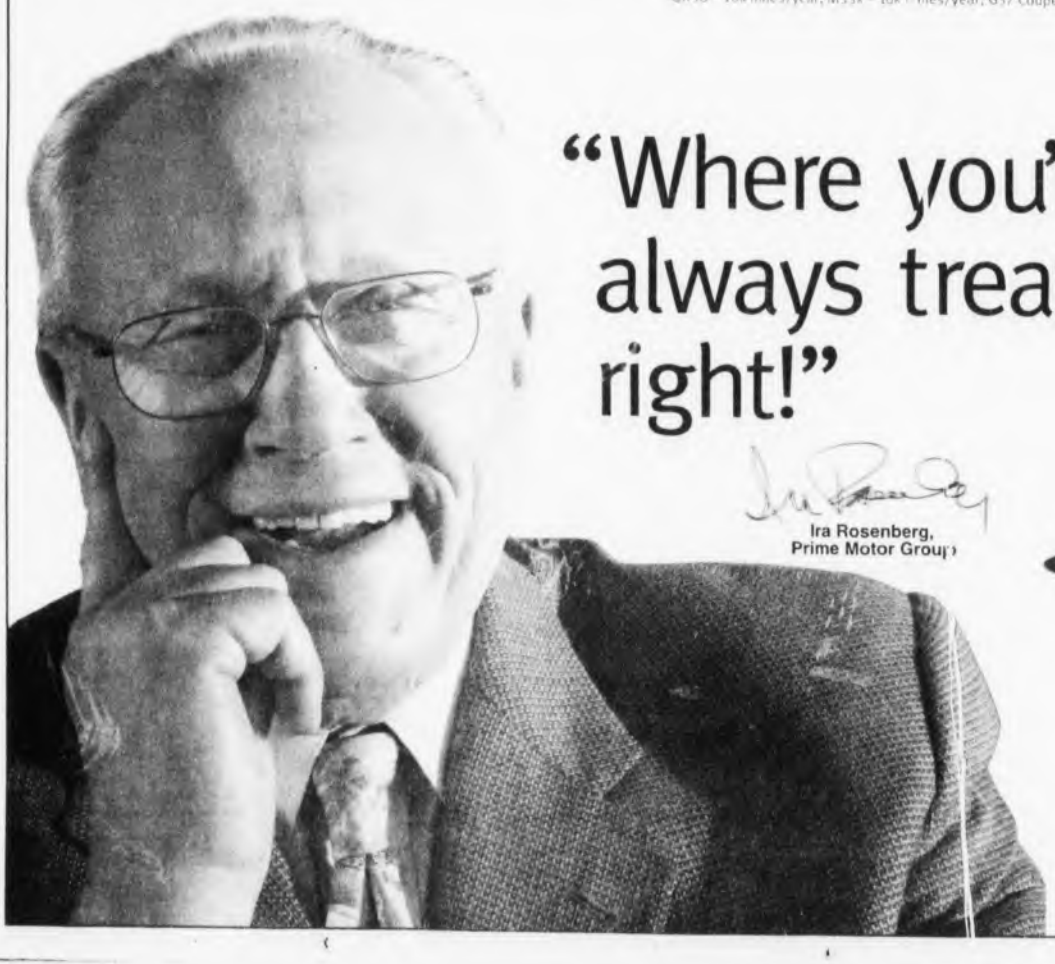
MSRP $58,075

LEASE FOR $649* per mo. for 42 mos. $4,999 cap cost reduction

Leather, DVD Navigation, 20" Chrome Wheels, Power 3rd Row Seat, Heated Steering Wheel...And Much More

MODEL #86418

All New 2007 Infiniti M35x AWD



MSRP $45,560

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $4,599 cap cost reduction

Leather, Blue Tooth, Rear View Monitor ...And Much More

MODEL #98017

*Tax, 1st months payment, plates, registration, title, documentation and bank acquisition fees additional on all leases. Zero security deposit. FX35 – 10k miles/year; QX56 – 10k miles/year; M35x – 10k miles/year; G37 Coupe – 10k miles/year. Offer expires 10/31/07.

"Where you're always treated right!"

Ira Rosenberg, Prime Motor Group

Prime MOTOR GROUP

572 Washington St., Hanover
1-888-425-8999 • www.primeinfiniti.com

Open Mon. thru Thurs. 9AM to 8PM
Fri. & Sat. 9AM to 6PM, Sun. Noon to 5PM

45 CAR-RT WSH##C-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY R
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
The good life
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

SPECIAL
Rail Revival
► SEE INSIDE

COUPONS
Great Savings
► SEE INSIDE

02722 99075 7 44

Turn clocks back 1 hour Nov. 4

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 2007 | 56 Pages | 3 Sections | Vol. 28, No. 44 | $1.00

First day on commuter rail

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

► SEE PAGE 15

Hamster crashes dog parade

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

► SEE PAGE 29

Cohasset learns to Zumba!

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

► SEE PAGE 32

QUICK INDEX

Capital budget 4
Coast Guard 6
Boy Scouts 7
Library 10
Hamilton 12
1957 Team 19
Life at CHS 24
Worship 30

It's a banner day for Greenbush

Train makes an entrance to fanfare

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

While the Red Sox paraded the streets of Boston for their World Series championship Rolling Rally, the five Greenbush towns were having a rolling rally of their own to celebrate this week's opening of the commuter rail line.

The young and old, town officials and townies, politicians and dignitaries gathered Tuesday morning on a picture perfect autumn day — clear skies, sunshine and mild temperatures — to welcome the historic return of the Greenbush commuter rail to Cohasset.

Buntings of red, white and blue hung from the rafters of the Cohasset station, while purple details, the official color of the MBTA commuter line, complemented the setting. Excited residents waited patiently for the arrival of the purple and silver train. When the sounds of the bells and lights flashing from the nearby grade crossing on North Main Street were heard, everyone turned to watch the train pull into town.

It was a scene that harkened back to a time when trains were the latest technology and the locomotive was making its way out west. Although the train rumbled through Cohasset for nearly 100

SEE GREENBUSH, PAGE 14

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Selectmen Paul Carlson, center, and Ted Carr, right, help state Rep. Frank Hynes, D-Marshfield, cut the ceremonial ribbon in front of the Cohasset station on Tuesday.

Rail Revival ceremonial train supplement inside

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Bill "Spanky" Sorenson, shown here at the train station on Wednesday morning, is sure to become a familiar figure to Cohasset commuters.

Coffee, breakfast for commuters

Spanky sets up service at station

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

Cohasset's Boston-bound commuters who opt to take the Greenbush line should be pleasantly surprised that they can grab a cup of coffee and a muffin at the train station.

At all stations along the Greenbush line, vendors who have obtained a license from the MBTA will be setting up shop.

In Cohasset, Bill "Spanky" Sorenson, a self-described "people-person," will be there with his Spanky's Top Dog truck.

The Norwell native and Hanover resident is familiar with the area.

"I am looking forward to it, I am excited," said Sorenson in an interview earlier this week before the trains started to roll.

Cohasset commuters will soon come to recognize Sorenson, whose nickname "Spanky" has something to do with a childhood resemblance to Spanky of the "Little Rascals."

Today, only Sorenson's blue eyes and warm grin match his strawberry blonde hair and moustache.

Sorenson, who will be operating out of his truck for the weekday morning and afternoon commutes, expects that business may not be brisk at first. He realizes that a lot of commuters may not know about the service.

He will offer fresh coffee (decaf and

SEE COMMUTERS, PAGE 14

Permit power

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The village zoning bylaw has been crafted with hundreds of hours of labor by both the town's consultants, Planning Board members and citizens. Discussion over this integral piece of both Cohasset history and daily life has been both spirited and thorough over the last six months.

"For 52 years village zoning has been in the hands of the zoning board, if there is a turf war it has been created by the planning board."
— Woody Chittick, ZBA

As promised by the Planning Board, a proposed village zoning bylaw is on the warrant for the upcoming Special Town Meeting, Nov. 13. For the Selectmen, the complex six-page village zoning bylaw has come down to the issue of jurisdiction — which board, Planning Board of Zoning Board of Appeals, will be the primary special permit granting authority for the village business district.

The overlying intent of the village bylaw is to allow additional development to increase economical vitality,

SEE PERMIT, PAGE 5

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436

DRIFTWAY AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com

VISIT US ON RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ - Since 1947
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E26267
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ▮ Bonds ▮ CDs
Mutual Funds ▮ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
Investment Representative
781-383-1996
www.edwardjones.com
Edward Jones
Serving Individual Investors Since 1871

Free Checking
Free ATMs
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset
781-383-0541
www.BankPilgrim.com

SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
DEEP TISSUE & SPORTS MASSAGE
Personal Training • Acupuncture
Group Exercise Classes • S.W.E.A.T.© Weight Loss Program
Gift Certificates
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

The Clog Shoppe
NEW Muck Boots
The Perfect Alternative for any Kind of Winter.
$10.00 Off
Any Regular Priced Clog or Boot with this Ad.
Gift Certificates Available
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street,
So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 10-4
Front & rear entrance and parking available.

Easy Lift RECLINER
$899
BERKLINE RECLINERS
WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM
781-878-5759 • 1-800-696-5759
459 Plain St., Rte. 139, Rockland
Near the No. Abington Line
Open Daily 9-5:30
Friday 9-8:30
Sunday 12-4
FREE DELIVERY
FREE DISPOSAL

Correction in this week's Greenbush Rail Revival section

Due to a production error, the telephone number that appears in the Chair Fair ad on page 5 is incorrect.

The correct telephone number is 781-337-4900

We apologize for any inconvenience.

VISIT OUR WEBSITE www.lobsterbarn.net
Hard Shell Jumbo Lobsters
Try Our Individual Clam-Boils
FULL PREPARED MENU EVERY DAY
HOURS: SUNDAY 10:30-7, WED.-SAT. 10:30-8
(781) 871-2433
The Lobster Barn
996 HANCOCK ST., ABINGTON
RT 18 TO RT 139W (Left at sign for Ames Nowell State Park)

PICTURE THIS/Julio Falcon

PHOTO/MARY FORD

The Mariner caught up with Julio Falcon this week at the South Shore Community Center. He is holding a poster with thank you notes and photos of children in Santo Domingo holding and opening the gifts sent to them through the SSCC toy and clothing drive. In addition to clothes and toys, the SSCC encourages cash donations to defray the expense of the shipments. For more information, stop by the center at 3 N. Main St. or call 781-383-0088.

Name: Julio Falcon

Occupation: Building maintenance at the South Shore Community Center.

Best day of your life: Sept. 22, 1944, the day I was born.

Best vacation: March 15, 2005, when I went to Santo Domingo.

Favorite season: Summer.

Favorite holiday: July 4th.

Favorite food: Chocolate, turkey and potato fries.

Best book: The Bible.

Best movie: "Police."

Best TV show: Sports, especially baseball.

Pet peeve: Rude drivers.

Most memorable moment: The day I got married.

Goal: For the children in Santo Domingo to have a nice Christmas.

Person you'd most like to meet: The President.

Biggest worry: Not to live long enough to see my son and grandchildren come to the United States.

Best part of Cohasset: The library and the beach.

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31) or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken w/cheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash Call for an appointment 781-383-1403
Paperscapes Stationery & Gifts 781-383-8008

THANKSGIVING DINNER BUFFET
Roasted Turkey with Stuffing, Gravy & Cranberry Sauce
Prime Rib of Beef with Au jus & Horseradish
New England Scrod with Cream Sauce
Roasted Vegetable Lasagna with White Sauce
Roasted Pork Roulade with Spinach, Pine Nuts & Calvados Sauce
Red Bliss Mashed Potatoes
Roasted Sweet Potato Casserole with Toasted Pumpkin Seeds
Butternut Squash
Creamed Peas & Onions
Vegetable Medley
Ceasar Salad, Jade Salad, Relish Tray
Cornbread, Cranberry Bread, Date Nut Bread & Assorted breads
Pumpkin Pie, Chocolate Bourbon Pecan Pie, Scituate Shamrock Apple Pie, Carrot Cake, Apple Buckle, Steakhouse Style Cheesecake & MORE!!!!!
$24.95pp
Opening from Noon to 7:00pm
Reservations Recommended
On the Water Restaurant & Function Hall
44 Jericho Road, Scituate, MA
(781)545-4700
www.onthewaterscituate.com

MUSIC LESSONS
Get 1 free lesson with this ad (new students only)
Music is fun and we're pros! Ages 7 up!
Our staff is Berklee and NE Conservatory alumni.
Guitar, Bass, Drums, Voice, Piano.
Mon - Sat, $22.00 1/2 Hour. All styles & levels.
MATT'S MUSIC CENTER
RT 18 S. Weymouth - 781-335-0700 - mattsmusic.com

Conway
INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
Complete Insurance Protection
• AUTO • HOME • LIFE
• BUSINESS • HEALTH
HANOVER 183 Columbia Rd. (781) 826-3804
SCITUATE 80 Front St. (781) 545-6110
WHITMAN 715 Bedford St. (781) 447-0661

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2931
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION
888-343-1899

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

O'LEARY ANTIQUES AUCTION
1101 HIGHLAND AVE.
MASONIC LODGE - NEEDHAM, MA
SAT. NOV. 3RD,
PREVIEW AT 8:30-11:15
AUCTIONS STARTS AT 11:30
Items of interest: Tiffany, Weller, Jensen, Meissen, Paintings, Antiques & So Much More!
View our website for more info!
olearyantiquesauctions.com
Tel: 617-734-3967

the BLIND STORE
SPRING WHITE Sale!
Direct Manufacturer of Symphony-Cellular Shades Vertical Blinds & Custom Draperies Design Consultants & Expert Installation Available
75% OFF
ie: Light Filtering Fabric-30x54
IS NOW $98
While Supplies Last! Similar Savings on Other Sizes. *In Stock Only
Comfortex BlindCrafter
272 Columbia Rd., Rt. 53 • Tedeschi Plaza • Hanover 781-826-6229 • 1-800-244-5998
www.theblindstore.com

IT'S TIME FOR BIOHEAT®!
Ask 'more' of your Oilheat company.
We provide more.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

After nearly a century of financing the South Shore, we've pretty much seen it all.
Since 1928 Scituate Federal Savings Bank has honestly and proudly provided affordable home financing for residents of the South Shore. So while headlines report on the problems within the mortgage industry, it is comforting to know Scituate Federal will be here for the next century doing what we do best - providing friendly, competitive and common sense home financing solutions. If you are thinking about refinancing or purchasing your home, talk to us first. We have money to lend at competitive rates and service that is unmatched. Thinking about home financing? Talk to us first!

• First-time Homebuyer Programs
• Fixed and Adjustable Rate Products
• Construction-Permanent Financing
• Mass Housing Finance Agency Loans
• Municipal Employee Loan Program
Call today 781-834-2100
SCITUATE FEDERAL SAVINGS Bank with a Good Neighbor
www.scituatefederal.com
Scituate Marshfield Norwell Green Harbor Hingham

Matthew's JEWELERS
1 Hour Jewelry Repair
Ring Sizing
Chain & Clasp Repair
Prong Retipping
Jewelry Polishing
Rhodium Plating
Jonathan Livingston Square
130 King Street (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
(781) 383-1200

POLICE BEAT

Two men attacked with baseball bats Saturday morning

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

Police are investigating an assault with baseball bats on two men who stopped their car at the corner of Hull Street and Grace Drive at about 12:20 a .m. on Saturday (Oct. 27). Chief James Hussey said police received a call from a Jerusalem Road resident that someone was trying to break into her house. As it turned out, one of the victims of the assault was looking for assistance.

Police said the man (seeking assistance) and the operator of the car had stopped to meet a female friend. Within seconds of getting out of the car, the operator was attacked by a group wielding baseball bats; he got back into the car and the attackers hit the car with a bat, breaking the windows. The passenger of the car also got out and was assaulted. The operator, who was an 18-year-old white male from Dedham, drove away from the scene, headed toward Hull and went to the Hull police. He was transported to the hospital.

The passenger, who was a 22-year-old white male from Hull, went up Grace Drive to the home on Jerusalem Road. Cohasset police took him to the station where he was checked out by paramedics for a cut on his forehead; he did not wish to be taken to the hospital, Hussey said.

Police believe those involved in the attack went into a house on Hull Street. Based on information officers gathered and in speaking to people in and around the area that night, officers have developed information on two suspects – a 21-year-old white male from Hingham and a 21-year-old white Hull male — and are seeking warrants for their arrests on charges of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon and willful and malicious destruction of property, Hussey said. The incident remains under investigation.

"We are not 100 percent sure of what the motivation was," Hussey said about the attack. "But we do know that it was not a random act."

There is a potential that more people could be charged; police believe there were more than two attackers, Hussey said.

One of the bats used was found at the scene and taken as evidence, he said.

"We are not 100 percent sure of what the motivation was. But we do know that it was not a random act."

— Police Chief James Hussey

Drunken teens

In investigating the assault detailed above, police went to a home on Hull Street in Cohasset on Saturday night and came across teens that appeared to be intoxicated, Chief Hussey said. Police ended up speaking with the mother of one of the teens; she had just arrived home and told police she had kicked a couple of people out of her house before police had arrived.

"We believe after the assault took place, people involved in the assault went into that house," Chief Hussey said. "We do believe the two incidents are related."

The woman's son, age 15, and another boy, 16, who lives in Cambridge and is formerly of Cohasset, came outside after police arrived and appeared to be under the influence, police said.

The 15-year-old Cohasset boy was allowed to remain with his mother.

Because the 16-year-old was not a resident of the home and was in an intoxicated state, police took him under protective custody. A 15-year-old girl and a 14-year-old girl, who were also in the house, and are both from Hull, also presented themselves and appeared to be intoxicated. They were also taken into protective custody; their parents were called and picked them up at the station. The parents of the Cambridge boy could not be immediately contacted and he was taken back to the Hull Street home and released into the custody of the other boy's mother.

Hussey said when police take people who are under 17 into protective custody they do not try to hold them at the station; they try to release them to a parent or responsible adult.

Officers did believe that the mother had not been at home and returned to find the teens had been drinking. "There was no evidence that she had knowledge this was taking place and she did throw two people out," Chief Hussey said.

Erratic driver

A 25-year-old Norwell man is facing the charge of operating under the influence of marijuana after he was stopped for driving erratically at about 10:36 p.m. on Friday (Oct. 26).

Police received a cell call reporting a gray or silver car that was headed south and was stopping at green lights and swerving on Route 3A. Police pulled the vehicle over by Shaw's.

The operator was asked to step out of the car and to perform field sobriety tests. Chief Hussey said the operator started the test, then stopped and refused to cooperate. Based on police investigation at the scene marijuana was recovered from the MV.

The man was also charged with possession of marijuana and marked lanes violation.

Tipped over

A tractor-trailer tipped over onto its side on the truck owner's property last week in a work-related mishap.

Cohasset fire was able to quickly contain some hydraulic fluid that had leaked.

The owner called Clean Harbors, which siphoned the fuel out of the truck before it was righted. There was no damage to the environment, police said.

OSHA and the DEP were initially notified but did not have to investigate.

The State Police truck team did not issue any citations. The incident was reported last Thursday (Oct. 25) at about 11:24 a.m.

Suspended license

A 43-year-old Scituate man was arrested last week for operating on a suspended license. Two days earlier on Oct. 22 officer, who knew the man had a suspended license, had observed him pull out of a parking lot on Route 3A (CJC Hwy.); the officer, who was not in the cruiser at the time, notified other units that were unable to locate the driver.

Then at about 10 a.m. on Oct. 24, the officer saw the same man drive out of the same parking lot and was able to stop him and place him under arrest.

Playground vandal

Police are investigating a vandalism incident at the playground behind the library. The vandal drew an obscene picture on the walkway with a black marker. The drawing has since been either covered up or removed after police took a photo of it for their investigation. The matter was reported to police on Tuesday (Oct. 23).

Burglary

An envelope with $168 was taken from the Texaco station on S. Main Street last week. An employee reported the break-in when he arrived at work on Saturday morning (Oct. 27). Police inspected the scene and it was determined that entry was gained by removing a panel in one of the garage doors. Evidence has been collected. Police have not found the Plexiglas panel, Chief Hussey said.

Bikes taken

Two bicycles valued at $330 each were stolen from an unlocked shed last Saturday. The S. Main Street resident reported the theft at 11:09 a.m. The door to the shed had been closed but that morning she noticed that the shed door was open. There was no forced entry, police said. One of the bikes is a green Rigid Bike and the other is a silver, woman's specialized bike.

Lot accident

The operator of a 1990 Pontiac contacted police after attempting to pull into a parking space off Route 3A and hitting another car last Tuesday (Oct. 23) at 12:42 p.m. The motorist explained that his foot slipped off the brake and hit the gas. The 2000 Toyota was unoccupied but information was left for the owner. There was minor damage to the passenger side door of the Toyota, police said. There were no citations issued. "The motorist 'fessed up' and the insurance companies will take it from there," Chief Hussey said.

Boat trailer

A walk-in to the police station last week reported that his boat trailer valued at about $2,000 had been stolen from a Route 3A boatyard.

The trailer had been at that location since May and the owner discovered the theft when he went to retrieve it; police said. Police are not sure when the theft occurred and the incident is under investigation.

SEE POLICE BEAT, PAGE 4

Getaway driver in bank robbery charged

On Oct. 29, 2007, Cohasset Police charged Scott Brown, 25, of Quincy with unarmed robbery in connection with the robbery of the Cohasset branch of the Sovereign Bank, 380 Chief Justice Cushing Highway. On Oct. 13, 2007, a lone female entered the Sovereign Bank and passed a demand note to the victim teller, indicating that she was robbing the bank. After taking a sum of money, the robber fled the bank on foot. Brown is believed to have been the getaway driver, picking the robber up on Sohier Street following the robbery. Cohasset Police detectives have also identified the female robber and expect to file similar charges against her in the coming week. She was taken into custody in Holbrook on Friday, Oct. 26, by Cohasset Police and FBI agents as a result of a warrant that had been issued for her arrest in connection with a bank robbery she is believed to have committed in another jurisdiction.

Brown was identified as a result of an intensive joint investigation between the Cohasset Police Criminal Investigation Division and the Boston Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Violent Crime/Bank Robbery Task Force. Weymouth and Hingham Police assisted with the investigation.

Chief Hussey said it is always satisfying to solve a serious crime in the community.

"Our officers did a great job responding to the robbery and collecting evidence," he said. "Our detectives evaluated the evidence, and diligently worked with the FBI and other local law enforcement personnel to identify and take into custody those persons responsible for the bank robbery."

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

KEEP IT SIMPLE
If it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.
COUNTERTOPS
Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.
CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE
Bill Shea's
www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130
Kathy
Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.

"Is your bulkhead leaking, rotting or rusted?"
• Experienced & Dependable
• All Steel Construction
• Galvanized Steel Available
FREE ESTIMATES
SENIOR CITIZEN DISCOUNT
Licensed & Insured
781-834-3399
EAST COAST BULKHEADS

CIRCA
Home Furnishings
Visit our new
Design Studio
designer wallpapers, fabrics, trims & HUNTER DOUGLAS shutters & blinds - all at LOW, SALE PRICES everyday!
306 Washington Street . NORWELL
781 . 659 . 2188

SAVE THE DATES!
LOOK who's coming to town!
Sat. Nov. 3, 11 AM
TOMIE DEPAOLA
discusses
FRONT PORCH TALES & NORTH COUNTRY WHOPPERS
At
Buttonwood Books & Toys, Cohasset
Thu. Nov. 8, 7 PM
ARCHER MAYOR
discusses
Chat
At The
Scituate Public Library
Listed events are free and open to all. If unable to attend and you would like to order a signed copy, please call Buttonwood at 1-781-383-2665
Buttonwood Books & Toys
Shaw's Plaza, Rte. 3A, Cohasset
1-781-383-2665 • www.buttonwoodbooks.com
Store Hours: Mon-Fri 9:30-8 • Sat 9-6 • Sun 12-5

Let Us Do The Work!
ORDER EARLY!
FULLY-COOKED TURKEY DINNERS
Orders must be called in by Nov. 19 or while supplies last
(1) 15 lb. Avg.* Serves 8-10
COMPLETE DINNER
$79.95
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 2 Sides & 2 Pies
(2) 19 lb. Avg.* Serves 16-18
COMPLETE DINNER
$99.95
Less than $6/person
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 4 Sides & 3 Pies
*Weight before cooking - Reheat instructions included
Choice of Sides: Mashed Potatoes, Gravy, Butternut Squash, Glazed Carrots & Broccoli au Gratin
Choice of 8" Pies: Apple, Mince, Pumpkin, Custard
FULLY COOKED TURKEYS AVAILABLE
Hilltop Dressing & Marinade Gift Packs $13.99
855 Broadway
Route 1 Saugus
(781) 233-7700 x6802
Route 18,
Weymouth
(781) 340-4459
Extra Sides Available
BUTCHER SHOP
Store Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9am-7pm, Sun. 9am-5pm
www.hilltopsteakhouse.com

inside out
home furnishings & accessories upholstery reproductions custom beds
Holiday Open House
• 10% OFF storewide*
• 20% OFF upholstered samples
• FREE GIFT w/ 20.00 purchase
Tuesday - Sunday
November 6th - 11th
2004 2005 2006 2007
781-829-4567
31 Schoosett St. (Rte. 139) in Pembroke
Tuesday-Saturday 10-6 • Thursday until 8 • Sunday 12-5
*Prior sales, gift certificates & prior purchases.

SALE Store Wide Discounts, Mark-Downs
November 1st – 4th
WWW • FURNITURE CONSIGNMENT • COM
Hen redon • Ralp Lauren • Henkle Harris • Eldred Wheeler
5 Showroom Floors of the very best quality Pre-owned* Dining, Living, Bedroom, Lighting, Mirrors, Oriental Rugs and a wide variety of Decorative Accessories for buyers & sellers.
Sunday 12-5 • Wednesday 10-9 • Tuesday-Saturday 10-6
781-826-5114
20 miles South of Boston • 756 Washington St, Hanover (Rt 53)

$220,000 in capital items recommended

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Town Meeting voters will have the final say on how the money is allocated on Nov. 13.

Paring down a list of dozens of capital requests is the task put forth to the Capital Budget Committee for this Town Meeting cycle. With only $300,000 to dole out, the committee had to determine the town department needs versus wants and balance that with more long-range goals.

For the upcoming Special Town Meeting, the Capital Budget Committee is recommending six capital items be funded with the available monies.

"There are certain items that can't be put off," said chairman Steve Gaumer. However, the recommended allocations will leave $80,000 to spare to possibly be used toward a capital stabilization fund, a proposal the budget committee may bring to spring Town Meeting.

The Capital Budget Committee heard from the department heads over the last month about each department's capital priorities. The requests ranged from new gutters at the Paul Pratt Memorial Library to a DPW bucket truck. On Tuesday evening the committee waded through the requests and discussed the urgency of each item.

The committee's recommendations will be presented to both the Board of Selectmen next Monday (Nov. 5) and the Advisory Committee next Tuesday (Nov. 6). Town Meeting voters will have the final say on how the money is allocated on Nov. 13.

The biggest ticket item, coming in at $80,000, is for a Flood Control Master Plan. Brought forth by the Board of Selectmen, the engineering study would take an in-depth look at the flood prone areas of town: Jacob's Meadow, Atlantic Avenue and other smaller areas, like Rattlesnake Run.

The town-wide study, as described in the Request for Proposals for the project, would develop a conceptual, phased drainage master plan that the town can implement over the next few years, the exact schedule depending on the pace of funding. A detailed engineering design of each phase is not part of the present scope; instead, it will be done at a later time as the master plan is implemented.

The School Department had one urgent priority for a new handicap accessible special education van. In the spring, the schools requested money to purchase a replacement for the 12-year old van, but the repair of the High School library windows was determined more urgent and was funded instead.

Superintendent Denise Walsh explained on Tuesday evening the van has gone from "need to critical need in the last two weeks." The brakes on the van went out completely and the schools have been borrowing a Scituate van in the meantime.

"It reached a point where it could have been a disaster," said Walsh. About $45,000 was left-over from the library windows project after the necessary work was not as extensive as originally believed, the committee felt that savings should be used toward the purchase of the van.

The committee recommended the Fire Department received a total of $50,000 for two items. Fire Chief Robert Silvia identified a new ambulance as his priority, but the hefty price tag, $165,000, was too much at this time. Instead, the committee proposed putting $25,000 to repair the six-year-old ambulance.

With the regular commuter train service starting this week, the Capital Budget Committee recommended the purchase of $25,000 worth of heavy rescue tools to use in case of a serious car or train accident.

A new marked cruiser for the Police Department, $30,000, was added to the recommended list; as well as $15,000 for the purchase of 11 new staff computers at the library. The Old Colony Library Network, which Cohasset is a part of, is updating their computer network in the coming year and the current staff computers will not be compatible.

With an eye to the future, the Capital Budget Committee left approximately $80,000 of the $300,000, or about 25 percent, in free cash. The committee had formally proposed an $500,000 override in the spring to begin a capital stabilization fund, a separate fund dedicated to capital improvements, which in the future would maintain a balance of $2 to $3 million. The money would be used for capital maintenance, new, non-bonded purchases, and possibly down payments on bonded projects.

"We wish we could put $200,000" aside for the fund, Griffin said. But with several pressing capital needs and the uncertainty ahead of winter weather took precedence.

Recommended capital purchases

Fire
Heavy rescue tools	$25,000
Repairs to ambulance	$25,000
Schools
Special Ed van	$45,000
Police
Marked cruiser	$30,000
Selectmen
Flood control master plan	$80,000
Library
11 Staff computers	$15,000
TOTAL	$220,000

POLICE BEAT

FROM POLICE BEAT, PAGE 3

Parking ban

No all-night parking is allowed on any street in Cohasset from Nov. 15th-April 1st per the town's traffic rules and orders.

Coyote

A caller reported coming "face to face" with a rabid coyote on Hull Street last Wednesday morning (Oct. 24) and was concerned about schoolchildren at bus stops. The caller said the coyote was headed toward Lambert's Lane.

Officers went to the scene but could not find the animal. Animal Control Officer Paul Murphy is following up to see if there were other sightings.

Warrant

Police received a call last Wed. (Oct. 24) about a Cohasset resident that did not appear in court in South Boston. A warrant was issued and Cohasset police took the 24-year-old man into custody.

Faceplate

A Cohasset High student reported to police last week that the faceplate that covers the stereo in her car had been taken sometime between 7:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Her car, which had a defective door that would not lock, was parked in the school lot. There were no signs of forced entry. Police are reviewing surveillance tapes to see if there is any evidence to determine who might be responsible.

Argument

Police responded to a call about an argument in the dining room at a local establishment between the owner and an employee who had been terminated. The employee, who further claimed she had been harassed, wanted her final paycheck. Management assured police that she would be paid once it was determined what she was owed. She was asked to return an hour later but was asked not to come back without a police escort.

Police provided the employee with a statement form if she decides to file a complaint about workplace harassment.

BB gun

Police informed two boys who were spotted with a BB gun last week that they cannot shoot it off in any direction where the BB has the potential to leave their property.

Cars egged

Motorists from Hull and Scituate last Friday (Oct. 26) had their cars egged as they drove along Forest Avenue. Both called police on their cell phones. Police have not located those responsible. One driver got out and found pieces of eggshell on his car. The incidents occurred in the evening about one hour apart.

MVA

There was a minor accident at the lights at Beechwood and Route 3A last week.

The accident involved a Nissan that was traveling northbound on 3A and a brown Toyota Tundra that was southbound.

The Nissan was attempting to turn left onto Beechwood Street but the motorist's view of oncoming traffic was blocked by a southbound truck, also waiting to turn left.

The Nissan and Toyota, which came around the truck, were both going slowly when the collision occurred.

There was minor damage and the motorists exchanged papers.

Window smashed

A caller reported that when she went to move her car at about 9:40 p.m. on Sunday (Oct. 28), she discovered that her rear window was smashed. Police said there was glass inside the car and recovered pieces that looked like they were part of a bottle mixed in with the window glass.

The woman said she had parked the car about 6:30 p.m. She told police that she was not having any difficulties with anyone.

Police think it could be a random incident and are not sure if someone threw a bottle out of car or walked by and used the bottle to break the window.

Bartender

A bartender at a local establishment reported to police last week that he had a disagreement with management and was punched in the back of the head. Chief Hussey said police are in the process of investigating and will make a determination whether to take any criminal action.

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry

We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.

Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling

Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)

Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.

Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES

Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00

GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices
NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, Ma 02339
(Rt. 123 after Stop & Shop)
www.gemorama.com

"IT'S IRRESISTIBLE"
MICHAEL RIEDEL, NY POST

ON SALE NOW!

BENNY ANDERSSON & BJÖRN ULVAEUS'
MAMMA MIA!
THE SMASH HIT MUSICAL BASED ON THE SONGS OF ABBA®
Lexus Boston Area Dealers BROADWAY ACROSS AMERICA BOSTON | TUFTS Health Plan
617.931.2787 • BroadwayAcrossAmerica.com
Groups 20+: 866.633.0194 • Purchase thru authorized agents only
Nov 27 - Dec 16 • Colonial Theatre
Prices range $21.50 - $91.00. Additional fee may apply. All sales final; no exchanges or refunds. Price, show, dates, schedules and artists are subject to change. TTY 617.426.3444
www.mamma-mia.com
MAMMA MIA! ORIGINAL CAST RECORDING AVAILABLE ON DECCA BROADWAY

Need more workspace in your kitchen?
• Kitchen & Bath Remodeling
• Full Service • Additions, Decks
• Our own team of electric, plumbing, tile & granite professionals
Servicing the remodeling needs of our clients for over 20 years
Martin General Contracting
We stay on the job until it's complete!
142 East Street, Weymouth 781-337-5232
MA Lic # 056369 HIC# 142648
To view our other projects, please visit us online at www.mgc79.com

the Studio OF DUXBURY Authentic Nantucket Lightship Baskets by
Bug Light Baskets
Pamela Campbell Smith • Patricia Campbell • Cynthia Campbell

Baskets • Purses • Wine Coolers • Trays • Ice Buckets

TRUNK SHOW
Saturday, November 10

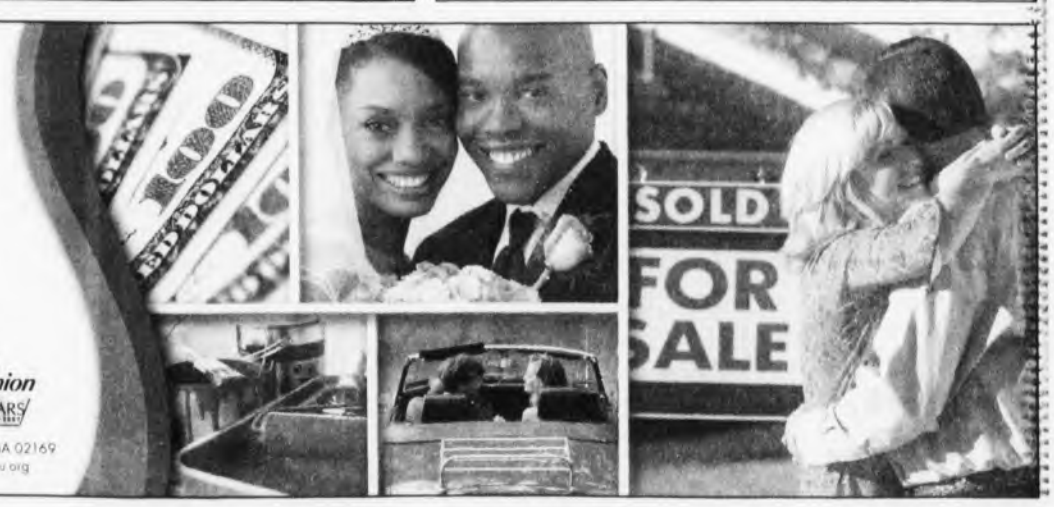
Great gift items for any occasion!
Anniversary • Wedding • Birthday • Holiday
~All items can be custom ordered for holiday delivery~

Duxbury Marketplace • Mon.-Sat. 9:30-5:30 • 781-934-2121
The Studio The Studio The Studio

ALL ABOARD!!!!!!!!!!
If you think the Greenbush line is the hottest thing to hit Cohasset, think again!
You forgot The Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
No horns, whistles, glitz or gimmicks.

Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
572 Pleasant Street
Brockton, MA 02301
508-586-2123
Cohasset Branch, 9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048

George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)
Concentrating in Civil Litigation, Real Estate, Divorce, Mediation, Estates and Trusts
Member ~ Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)



Mistletoe Boutique
sunday, NOV 4th * from 10am to 5pm
ATLANTICA RESTAURANT * COHASSET HARBOR
NEW LOCATION
with over 30 artisans and vendors.
Sponsored by:
Our World Children's Global Discovery Museum
www.ourworldcgdm.org
ADMISSION: FREE

Dream • Plan • Succeed
Our home financing programs help you do it all.

MORTGAGE PRODUCTS
First Time Home Buyers Program
7-15 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
20-30 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
15-40 Year ARMS

HOME EQUITY LOANS
Home Equity Line of Credit
Home Equity Fixed Rate Loan

Membership* available to those who live or work in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Dorchester, and any family member.
*$5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership
NCUA

Quincy Credit Union 70 YEARS
100 Quincy Ave • Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558 • www.qcu.org

Village bylaw prepares for Town Meeting

FROM PERMIT, PAGE 1

add vibrancy to the village and create a positive economic climate all while maintaining the character of the district seemed to be supported by all.

At their meeting Monday night, the Selectmen postponed making a recommendation for the Town Meeting article (Article 4) until next Monday's meeting (Nov. 5) so all five Selectmen could vote. Selectman Fred Koed was absent Monday evening.

Although the Selectmen's recommendation carries some weight, the voters at Special Town Meeting will ultimately determine the fate of the village bylaw. Like all zoning bylaw amendments, a two-thirds majority vote is required to enter the changes into the books.

Angus Jennings of Concord Square Development Company was hired by the town to look at the existing bylaws and propose meaningful amendments. In addition to constructing a bylaw to promoting a strong economic center, Jennings looked at housing/apartments, parking and open space.

The Planning Board approved the bylaw two weeks ago at its continued public hearing. As written the Planning Board is the primary special permit granting authority for the village business district. The philosophy is to streamline the permitting process to make it easier and therefore more attractive for developers to invest in their property. Any application that is outside the zoning bylaws set forth would have to appeal to the ZBA for a variance.

A similar permitting process, with the Planning Board as the authority, is currently in place for the Transit Oriented Overlay District (TOD) instituted at the 2006 Annual Town Meeting.

Currently, in cases of commercial expansion or new construction in the village the applicant would need to go before the Planning Board for a site plan review and before the ZBA for a special permit or variance.

"It's fair to say Zoning Board of Appeals in favor of the intention of the bylaw but unanimously opposed to current bylaw as it is written," said Zoning Board Chairman Woody Chittick. The ZBA has taken exception to making the Planning Board the primary permit granting authority. The ZBA plans to take make its official recommendation on the bylaw at its meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

He went on to explain the current dual board process adds a layer of checks and balances to the permitting system. In the current procedure, the Planning Board's site plan review is taken into consideration before a permit is issued, said Chittick.

Chittick said the if Planning Board is given permit granting authority, they would have no jurisdiction over abutting residential districts. "[the ZBA] is not anti-development, we just need to balance the interests of all in town."

"For 52 years village zoning has been in the hands of the zoning board, if there is a turf war it has been created by the planning board," who desired the permitting power be transferred to their board, said Chittick in a phone interview, "any problems with downtown development has been in the bylaw (as they are written) not in their administration."

"It's a well intentioned bylaw and I wish we could come to a resolution," said Chittick at the meeting.

A "compromise," or as Town Manager Bill Griffin later said was more accurately an "alternative," in the form of an amendment has been prepared by the town's village bylaw consultant Angus Jennings to effectively transfer the permit granting authority back to the ZBA. Concerns were raised that a substantial amendment on the floor of Town Meeting could cause voter confusion.

"The bylaw is already six pages long. It's full, rich and complex," said Chittick.

Griffin said if the Selectmen would like to go that direction, printed copies of the amendment could be handed out to Town Meeting voters at the meeting.

Planning Board member Bob Sturdy said he didn't buy into the ZBA's rationale, adding his board was better equipped to look at the big picture issues facing the village — architecture, massing, design, drainage, lighting, noise, "there's a lot of arm wrestling (with the developer)," to get a project that works for everyone, he said.

The varied buildings and lot areas in the village beg for compromise and coordination between abutting property owners and an eye on a greater vision for the village, "[the ZBA's] workload deals with the fine print. Ours is in plans, designs and drawings," said Sturdy.

Jennings said in every instance he's been hired to consult on zoning bylaws for a new overlay or specialty zoning district, the permit granting authority has been given to the Planning Board.

"I think we all support the intent and wording of the bylaw," said Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil but needed to make a determination on the jurisdiction issue.

"If this doesn't pass, it's a terrible disservice to the town," said Selectman Ralph Dormitzer and hoped they could determine a compromise that could pass muster with voters.

"I think by (next) Monday we can come to grips with this," said Vanderweil. At Monday's meeting, the Selectmen will vote on their recommendation for the village bylaw.

Village bylaw in brief

To the greatest extent possible, and to keep things simple, all existing bylaws are being preserved. The Village Business District runs from approximately the Red Lion Inn to Carousel Antiques including Brook and Elm St. (to Flemings) and James Brook Crossing shops.

- Definition of apartment: Apartment has never been defined in the town bylaws. A single apartment in the village business district will be limited to no less than 700 square feet, but no more than 1,500 square feet.
- Definition of floor area ratio: A new term and mechanism to limit the amount of development on a given piece of land. It is the relation between buildable lot size and sum of gross floor area of all buildings on a lot. For the purposes of calculating floor area ratio, gross floor area will exclude garages, uninhabitable attic or cellar space, and underground parking.
- Permitting authority: The special permit granting authority for the downtown village business district is the Planning Board. Any application that is outside the zoning bylaws set forth would have to appeal to the ZBA for a variance.
- Sidewalk sales: In the village business district merchants may display their goods on public sidewalks on a temporary basis as long as the display is routinely removed outside of normal business hours. The display must still allow for safe pedestrian passage.
- Inclusionary bylaw: The Village will be exempt from the inclusionary bylaw, which states all multi-family residential development of five or more apartment units must include one unit or 10 percent affordable housing units, whichever is greater. The Housing Partnership Committee is in the process of rewriting this bylaw so it is subject to change at a future Town Meeting. Given that, the bylaw crafters though it wise to leave the village exempt for the time being.
- Table of area regulations: The table does away with the 40,000 square foot lot size requirement for apartments reducing it to 5,000 square feet. Frontage must be at least 50 feet. It defines minimum yard setbacks for the front and rear as 15 feet. Side yard setbacks are given a minimum of 10 feet. However, it enables narrower setbacks based on adjacent buildings and (to be written) Planning Board design guidelines. There is no change in height restrictions or lot coverage, which are set at 35 feet and 80 percent, respectively.
- Parking: The bylaw stipulates any existing parking in the village business district should be maintained.
- Floor area ratio: The maximum allowable floor area ratio for new buildings will be 1.3, however, the maximum may be increased to 2.0 by the special permit granting authority based on providing a providing a public benefit, such as a green building, parking, sidewalks or affordable housing.
- Residential only buildings: Apartment units on the ground floors of buildings will be allowed if two requirements are met. First, the building is located behind another building, or is a portion of a building, that has one or more retail or service uses on the ground floor. Second, the first floor residences will not have an adverse impact on the continuity of any retail or services uses located adjacent to a street.

Maximum buildout

The Selectmen requested Jennings and his team to look at the maximum number of allowable apartment/condominium units under the new bylaw. To preface the number, Jennings said the maximum buildout would take likely a 20-year time period. Using his database, he was able to calculate a total of 94 housing units possible in the district. Twenty-nine apartment units are currently in the district and Jennings said there might be some overlap in the numbers. About half of the units will be part of smaller scale developments with one to six apartments in a building.

www.coupons.townonline.com

Clarks ENGLAND
from $39.95
Off Derby Shoe Outlet
Lincoln Plaza, Rte. 3A, Hingham • 781.556.0221
Brand Name Shoes at Rock Bottom Prices

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL EST. 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS Aaron M. Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED Smile Makeovers since 1987 ZOOM2 (1 hour chairside whitening)
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

The Silent Chef
A CATERING COMPANY
Scituate, Massachusetts (781) 545-6665
Thanksgiving Day "2007"
Order on-line at www.silentchef.com
WHOLE ROASTED TURKEY
Mashed Potatoes • Sage Stuffing • Gravy • Butternut Squash
Cranberry Relish • French Dinner Rolls
Apple, Pumpkin, Blueberry, and Pecan Pies
Small: TURKEY DINNER (precooked 12-14 lb.)
Fixings are provided for eight guests (choice of two pies) $130.00
Large: TURKEY DINNER (precooked 22-24 lb.)
Fixings are provided for 14 guests (choice of three pies) $170.00
Prices subject to 6% Mass. Meals Tax
ALL ORDERS MUST BE PLACED NO LATER THAN Wednesday, November 14, 2007
You may pick up your turkey or food order at our shop on Tuesday, Nov. 20 between 3:00-7:00 pm or Wednesday, Nov. 21 between 9:00-3:00 pm
Or avoid waiting in line and have it delivered to your home for an additional charge.
113 Front Street, P.O. Box 535, Scituate, Massachusetts 02066
Phone: 781-545-6665 • Fax: 781-544-3415
Thank you and have a nice holiday.

Holiday Open House

✦ Fri., Nov. 2nd, 10-5 p.m.
✦ Sat., Nov. 3rd, 10-5 p.m.
✦ Sun., Nov. 4th, 12-5 p.m.
Enjoy hot apple cider and hors d'oeuvres as you shop.
Octavia's
Home Accents & Unique Gifts
35 Depot St. • Duxbury Marketplace
Duxbury ✦ 781-934-9553

INLY INGREDIENTS ACADEMICS • INLY INGREDIENTS INDEPENDENCE • INLY INGREDIENTS HANDS-ON APPROACH • INLY INGREDIENTS INVOLVEMENT
INLY INGREDIENTS PROBLEM SOLVING
Come see for yourself why Boston Magazine called Inly one of "The Best Schools" in 2007
We are now scheduling observations at all levels. We invite you to visit. Call 781-545-5544 x114.

For hands-on stories, visit INSIDE OUT at: WWW.INLYSCHOOL.ORG
46 WATCH HILL DR, SCITUATE, MA 02066 • 781-545-5544
The Ingredients of an Inly Education
Individual attention & low teacher/student ratios
• Toddler house (ages 18–36 months) ... 1:5
• Children's house (ages 3–6) ... 1:12
• Elementary (grades 1–6) ... 1:12
• Middle school (grades 7–8) ... 1:8
Multi-age classes that provide...
• opportunities for broad social development
• small-group work relative to ability and interest
Experiential/hands-on curriculum in which...
• students actively participate in the work, thereby meaningfully engaging with the subject for a deeper understanding
Leadership opportunities that...
set our students apart as they successfully transition to:
• BC High School
• Boston University Academy
• Cape Cod Academy
• Commonwealth School
• Dana Hall School
• Falmouth Academy
• Noble & Greenough
• Notre Dame Academy
• Phillips Exeter Academy
• Putney School
• St. George's School
• Tabor Academy
• Thayer Academy
and more
INLY SCHOOL
INLY INGREDIENTS INDIVIDUALITY
INLY INGREDIENTS LIFE SKILLS • INLY INGREDIENTS INSIGHT • INLY INGREDIENTS CREATIVITY • INLY INGREDIENTS INCLUSION

Ensign Cambi commissioned on USCG Cutter Sherman

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

TURN CLOCKS

Hey Cohasset, how is everyone this week? I hope that Halloween was fun, safe and tasty for all who enjoyed the day and evening and that everyone is back on track schedule-wise. Actually, a new schedule is happening tomorrow night so don't forget to turn your clocks BACK one hour. Also get ready for some cool weather that is headed our way although it looks like it will stay rather dry for the most part. I cannot believe that it is November already, time flies when you are having fun I guess!

GRIDIRON EVENT

The Cohasset Gridiron Club is proud to welcome back to Cohasset High School members and their families of the 1957 undefeated football team who are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their perfect season.

The event takes place Friday night, November 2 when the current Cohasset Skippers take on South Shore League rival, Abington. Kickoff is 7 pm, preceded by the traditional honoring of this year's Senior Class players and parents. Come out and support the 2007 team and honor the 1957 team and enjoy some great football action and tradition under the Friday night-lights!

COAT DRIVE

Cohasset Girl Scout Troops #4784 and #4777 will be collecting coats for the homeless on Sunday, Nov. 11th from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the back of Saint Anthony's parking lot. Kids, women, and men's coats are needed. Please give to this worthy cause. The scouts collected more than250 coats at the last coat collection two years ago and hopes to break that record! If you have any questions, please call 781-383-0695.

CHEERLEADERS

The Cohasset High Cheerleaders would like to thank all the wonderful people who donated money to their team. The girls worked together to do a can drive at Stop & Shop and CVS over these past two weekends. With their time and effort, the girls raised more than $400. They were very successful is raising money for things like POM POMs, and maybe in the future new uniforms among other things. So thank you all very much for your support of the CHS Cheerleaders.

Ensign Cosimo F. Cambi

COAST GUARD

Sunny skies were the backdrop this past May 23rd for the 126th USCGA Commencement ceremony which featured keynote speaker President George W. Bush. Proud family members and guests listened along with 228 graduates as President Bush gave a speech which lauded the cadets for their commitment and devotion to duty. The address was followed by the conferral of commissions, and presentation of their degree by President Bush and USCGA Superintendent Admiral Scott Burhoe.

Among the graduating Cadets was Cosimo F. Cambi, son of Michele and Michael Hubley of Cohasset, who were joined by Cosimo's proud grandparents, Mike and Anna Abbruzzese, along with many family members. Ensign Cambi is presently commissioned on the USCG Cutter Sherman based in Alameda, Calif. Congratulations on this wonderful news Cosimo.

JURIED SHOW

Paint! a nationally juried show, opens this Friday at the South Shore Art Center. Opening reception is Friday, Nov. 2 from 6-8 p.m. and all are welcome to attend. The exhibition, held in conjunction with the South Shore Art Center Gallery Artists' annual Small Works show, will be up through the end of December. Small Works features paintings, photographs,and other artwork priced for holiday gift giving. For more information, go to www.ssac.org

ON STAGE

If you are looking for a wonderful evening out with friends, why not come to the Cohasset Dramatic Club's fall 2007 production, "Moon Over Buffalo" by Ken Ludwig, directed by Eric Henderson and produced by Jean DiGiacomandrea. This hilarious comedy centers on the lives of George & Charlotte Hay, two fading repertory stage actors, stuck in a stop on their tour in thrilling 1950s Buffalo. George and Charlotte have lost their last chance at stardom, their agent is smitten with Charlotte and the company ingénue has become pregnant by George. The plot is full of misunderstandings, misplaced affections and missing persons. Cohasset residents, Kurt Hochkeppel is playing the role of Paul and Sharon White is Eileen.

Performances take place at Cohasset Town Hall Auditorium, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8 - 10th at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 11th at 2 p.m. For tickets call 617-697-2115.

FUNDRAISER

Here is some yummy news from our current fifth-grade class at Deer Hill School. From now until Nov. 13th, the Deer Hill Fifth Graders are selling Kinnealey Meats for their first Camp Bournedale Fundraiser. If you are interested in purchasing Kinnealey Meats and do not know a fifth grader, please contact either Beth Marsden Gilman at bmarsden@comcast.net or Lisa Dooley at the4dooleys@comcast.net and they will be able to assist you.

NEW ARRIVAL

Best of wishes go out to a wonderful family here in Cohasset. Billy and Katie Oliver, along with big brother Bobby, who is 8, and big sisters Abby, 5, and Amanda, 3, would like to announce the birth of the new addition, Katelyn May Oliver.

Katelyn was born on Oct. 10, 2007 and is so blessed and lucky to have so much love at home as she settles into life in our town with her family and friends. Enjoy this beautiful new addition and congratulations to all.

POST PROM

The next Post Prom Committee Meeting for CHS Seniors parents will be held on Thursday evening, November 15 at 7:30 pm at the Cohasset High School Library. Support, ideas and thoughts are encouraged and it would be wonderful to have you involved. If you have any questions, please contact Babette at 781-383-2561.

That is all for this week. My daughter is going in next week for a bit of surgery (we are all thinking of you cutie and know you will be fine) so if possible, could you try to send in all of your news to me by Tuesday at noon? That would be a huge help all around for the column, thanks so much in advance.

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com
PHONE: 781-383-0143

ENGAGEMENT

Adrienne Michelle Sullivan and Matthew Scott DiFonzo

Sullivan - DiFonzo

Priscilla and Stephen Sullivan of Cohasset and Avon, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Adrienne Michelle, to Matthew Scott DiFonzo, son of Maureen and Alan DiFonzo of Hopedale.

The bride-to-be is a 1998 graduate of Avon High School and a 2002 graduate of Marist College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. She currently works in human resources at Winn Management Group in Boston.

Her fiancé is a 1996 graduate of Milford High School and a 2000 graduate of Plymouth State University. He works as a senior benefits analyst for Diversified Investment Advisors in Newton.

The couple will reside in Natick following a September 2008 wedding in Cohasset.

St. Stephen's Church accepting book donations

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., is accepting donations of slightly worn hardcover and paperback books, DVDs and CDs for its annual book sale, part of the ecumenical Village Fair that will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 1 on Cohasset Common.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Pick up of donations can be arranged. For donation pick up or more information, call D'Anne Avotins at 781-923-1104. Books will be sorted at St. Stephen's in Walton Rodgers Hall every Tuesday from 9:30 to 11a.m. Donations will be accepted through Nov. 23. Old text books, romance novels, damaged or moldy books or books with notes and/or highlighting will not be accepted.

Money raised from the book sale will be used to send underprivileged children and their families to the Barbara C. Harris Camp in Greenfield, N.H. For more information visit: bchcenter.org.

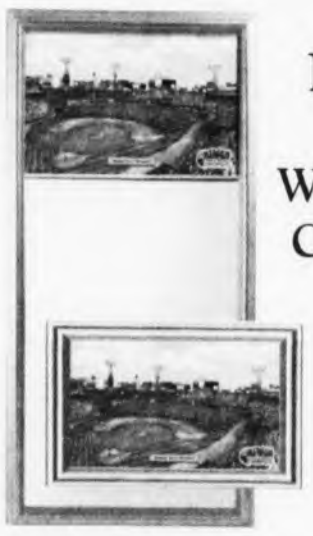
Here Comes The Bride
• Mother of the Bride & Groom
• Guests
Large Sizes Available
We Have It All
Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm

"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358
HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS
"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.
Consignments by appointment
Mon - Sat. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-8

Please recycle this paper

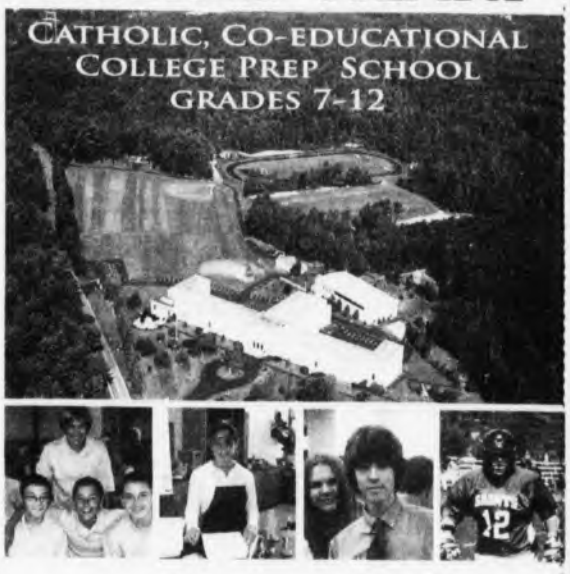
INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!

• Slip and Fall
• Motor Vehicle Accidents
• General Litigation
No Fee Unless Successful
Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067



NEW ENGLAND BULKHEAD

Clip 'N' Save For A Rainy Day!
10% SENIOR DISCOUNT
Replace that rotted leaking problem, now for Winter.
We can fit any size: flat or sloped foundations.
We do full digouts!
FREE ESTIMATES • 781-820-7381



We'll make you smile.
Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.
SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS
Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate • (781) 545-3466
New Patients Welcome • Free Initial Consultation

Red Sox 2007 World Series Champions priced from $35.00*
*paperweight, not shown
Surprisingly Affordable Quality Jewelry™
BEST JEWELER 2006 BEST JEWELER 2007
COHASSET JEWELERS
BEST OF BOSTON 2005 BEST OF BOSTON 2007
(781) 383-1933 / Toll Free (877) 867-2274
790A Route 3A, Cohasset, Hours: Mon. - Sat. 9:30 - 5:00

SACRED HEART
CATHOLIC, CO-EDUCATIONAL COLLEGE PREP SCHOOL GRADES 7-12

OPEN HOUSE
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1PM
• Serving South Shore families for over 50 Years
• Transportation available
College Prep, Honors & AP Courses
• 15 Acres of Athletic Fields
• 19 Varsity & JV Sport Teams
• Nationally Ranked Student Newspaper, Speech & Debate,
• Theatre & Visual Arts Programs
399 Bishops Highway Kingston, MA
781-585-7511

Thunderstorm & Hurricane season is here
BE PREPARED!
The storm hits. The power's out. But you're on.
• Permanently installed and runs off your natural gas or LP line
• Starts and runs automatically whether you are at home or not
• Wired directly into your main electrical panel
• Lights and appliances come on within seconds of the power outage
• Includes automatic transfer switch
• 3 year 1500 hour warranty
Call for information
(800) 430-6547
or visit: www.neesco.com
NEESCo
Distributed Power
P.O. Box 697613 • Quincy, MA 02269
Coleman PowerStation EMERGENCY BACKUP POWER SYSTEM
10,000 Watts
120/240 Volts
Low Oil Shutdown
Full Pressure Lube
18 hp Briggs & Stratton OHV Vanguard Engine
PowerStation 10000
The Ultimate Backup Generator

Troop 28 hikes in White Mountains

The entire trip was organized by Patrol Leader Tucker Oddleifson, who has the rank of Star Scout.

COURTESY PHOTOS

On top of Mt. Washington, from left, back row: Bruce Sinclair, Morgan McCarthy, Christian Quebec, RK Quebec, Paul Berube, Greg Berube, Graham Sinclair, Chris Oddleifson; kneeling, left to right: August Oddleifson and Tucker Oddleifson.

Members of Cohasset Boy Scout Troop 28 traveled to the White Mountains in New Hampshire on two separate hiking trips on Oct. 6 through 8. On Saturday, a group of senior Scouts backpacked to Mizpah Springs in the Presidential Range and set up camp. On Sunday, that group climbed to the top of Mount Washington by way of the peak of Mount Pierce (4,310 feet) and then along the Crawford Path to the summit of Mount Eisenhower (4,760 feet) and then to the summit of Mount Washington (6,288 feet). The hike covered more than 12 miles in more than 9fi hours.

While weather early on Sunday was not promising, the day turned out to be clear with unseasonably light winds. The views from the peaks, and from the trail above the tree line, were spectacular. All seven Scouts and all three adults accompanying them completed the hike.

The second group of Scouts camped at nearby Lafayette State Park in the Franconia Range. That group hiked portions of Cannon Mountain to Lonesome Lake. The latter group also hiked the geologic formations in the Flume Gorge.

The entire trip was organized by Patrol Leader Tucker Oddleifson, who has the rank of Star Scout. Several Scouts took advantage of the opportunity for Scout rank advancement by taking responsibility for camp cooking and by leading portions of the Cannon Mountain hike with map and compass.

Boys ages 12 through 17 interested in the fun, adventure and service opportunities offered by Scouting can contact Troop 28 for more information through the troop's Web site at troop28cohasset.org.

At Lonesome Lake, from left, Blake Erler, Thomas Fogarty, Jack O'Brien, Kevin Mack, Robbie Hillman, Alex Kent, Hugh Gideon-Murphy and Colin Gideon-Murphy.

From the Archives of the Cohasset Historical Society

Train at Cohasset, Feb.19, 1896.

Pictured above is another photograph reproduced from our collection of glass slides. As the Greenbush line began to service Cohasset this week we thought a look back was appropriate. Our exhibit on the history of the railroad in Cohasset will remain until Nov. 6th. Don't miss your opportunity to stop by and see the photographs and memorabilia.

From the Archives is a weekly feature provided by Cohasset Historical Society.

The Cohasset Historical Society welcomes donations. If you have something that you would consider donating to our archives please give us a call at 781-383-1434.

Teen dance set for Nov. 2

Cohasset Youth Resources will host a Midnight Blue Teen Center Dance for Cohasset youngsters in grades six through eight from 7 to 10 p.m., on Friday, Nov. 2. Cost is $5 per person, and those attending will be required to show their student ID when they sign in for the dance.

Students should be sure they gain admittance to the dance before their ride lives, as once full capacity is reached no further admittance will be allowed. There will be no admittance after 8:30 p.m.

Snacks and refreshments will be on sale. This is not a school function.

Click on CohassetCares.com

It's just the ticket.

Save time, save money. Go to Boston in the easiest, fastest way possible! To save time, get your MBTA Greenbush Commuter Rail tickets and passes in advance.

Tickets and passes are available at:

- South Station, all station fare vending machines and wherever MBTA tickets are sold
- Our Charlie Van* (in your area starting October 26th)
- On-line at mbta.com

Local MBTA vendors*, including:

- Village Market 71 Front St., Scituate
- Java Junction 763 Country Way, Scituate
- Tedeschi's 337 Gannett Rd., Scituate
- Tedeschi's 181 South St., West Hingham
- 7-Eleven 51 Commercial St., Braintree

Departure Station	Zone	Monthly Pass	One-way Fare
Greenbush	6	$223.00	$6.75
North Scituate	5	$210.00	$6.25
Cohasset	4	$186.00	$5.75
Nantasket Junction	4	$186.00	$5.75
West Hingham	3	$163.00	$5.25
East Weymouth	3	$163.00	$5.25
East Braintree/ Weymouth Landing	2	$151.00	$4.75

* For the growing list of pass and ticket vendors in your area and information on Charlie Van location dates and times, visit mbta.com or call 617-222-3200, TTY 617-222-5146.

Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority

Driven by Customer Service

PLEASE RECYCLE THIS NEWSPAPER

skirt! magazine
is now in Boston

skirt!®
is all about women... their work, play, families, creativity, style, health and wealth, bodies and souls. skirt! is an attitude... spirited, independent, outspoken, serious, playful and irreverent, sometimes controversial, always passionate.
www.skirtmag.com

Get in on the ground floor of a hip, new women's magazine in the Boston market! We are currently looking to fill the following position:

Account Executive

Develop leads, follow-up on assigned projects, presenting the publication and securing business for the magazine each month. Responsible for maintaining a list of several hundred active accounts and prospects. Will be expected to handle a large volume of business, exceeding 50 active accounts per month, and billings of $20,000 and above.

Requirements: At least 1-3 years experience as a sales rep at a print publication. Retail background helpful. Professional demeanor, college degree and computer skills required.

Please send resume and cover letter to:
skirt! Boston
c/o Human Resources
254 Second Ave. • Needham, MA 02494
or email at ghmnejobs@ghmne.com

THAYER ACADEMY
BRAINTREE, MASSACHUSETTS
2007 MIDDLE SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE
(GRADES 6-8)
Saturday, November 3 1:00 - 3:00 PM
Tours start every 20 min.

Grades 6-12, Co-ed, Day School
A highly rigorous academic curriculum
A wide variety of performing & fine arts opportunities
A broad and successful athletic program
A strong financial aid program
Accessible by T (Red Line / Commuter Rail) and Thayer buses
www.thayer.org 781-664-2221
745 WASHINGTON STREET, BRAINTREE, MA 02184

OPPORTUNITY: noun "The right moment to take action toward a definite goal"
(The American Heritage Dictionary)

Each year Derby Academy enrolls over fifty new students in PreK to Grade 8.

- Small class sizes
- High academic expectations
- Strong arts program
- A safe school campus
- Parental involvement
- Personal attention
- Caring, dedicated teachers
- Phys. ed. and team sports
- A welcoming community
- Advanced technology

The view from here  is forever.

Visit our beautiful 27-acre campus (300+ stadium seat theater, state-of-the-art Science Center, family-style dining room, extensive athletic fields, expanded and remodeled Lower School, etc.) and attend one of our Information Sessions.

- Grades PreK-8 ~ Tues., Oct. 30, at 9:00 AM
- Grades PreK-8 ~ Sun., Nov. 4, at 2:00 PM

Call for details. 781-749-0746 Ext. 46

Derby Academy
An independent, coed, day school for students in PreK through Grade 8.
56 Burditt Avenue, Hingham
www.derbyacademy.org

New Price! The CHANNEL 5 CONCEPT HOME is ready to occupy! NE Shingle Style w/ carriage house, 4 garages & 3 private acres. 4/5 bedrooms, $100k kitchen by Kitchen Concepts. Semi-circular screen porch, decks & terrace for stunning sunsets. $1,690,000.

Meticulously redone 3-bedroom Ralph Lauren style home w/ wall of glass overlooking private patio, gardens and backyard located on cul-de-sac near schools & town. Stainless/granite kitchen and 2 new baths. $649,000.

New Price! Stroll to the Harbor from this unique Antique Village Cape. Kitchen/family room addition w/ entertainment size deck, 5 fireplaces, expansive private backyard and detached 2-car garage w/ 2nd floor space. $998,000.

COHASSET

New to Market! 1812 Captain Treat's Home in premier Atlantic Ave neighborhood with deeded rights to Sandy Cove & bath house. 9-room, 4-bedroom Victorian with separate barn/guest house. $998,000.

New to Market! Spectacular panoramic ocean views from this Jerusalem Rd Axiom Renovation. Professional, coastal landscaping, state of the art kitchen & baths (5), 5 bedrooms, open floor plan and lots of windows to enjoy the continuous drama of the sea from this Shingle Style Sparkler! $2,300,000.

Prime lot in Cohasset's newest neighborhood on the ocean side of town! Custom built 3500-sq-ft 10-rm, 4-bedroom Stone & Shingle residence w/ inspiring architecture and a serene indoor/outdoor ambience. $1,450,000.

Dean & Hamilton 781-383-6010
deanandhamilton.com

Cohasset Real Estate

We Sell Luxury Homes

REAL ESTATE

New Listing: Over 5,000 sq. ft. of the highest quality materials and craftsmanship available. 5-6 bedrooms with en-suite baths, separate au pair/guest accommodations. Finished basement with 9 ft. ceilings. Pebble-tec pool with cabana. $4,500,000

Ask for Thomas Koncius

Cohasset's Finest Waterfront New Construction

9 Depot Ct., Cohasset • 781-383-8100 • www.AtlanticBrokerageGroup.com

DON'T MISS THE BOAT!
DON'T MISS THE TRAIN!

Don't miss the opportunity!
Harborside Village!

- GREAT INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY
- Fabulous Scituate Harbor location – dock your boat, relax on the beach, play golf, enjoy life in one of the South Shore's finest waterfront communities
- Easy commute to Boston by the new MBTA train; walk to local restaurants, boutique shops, marinas, and modern movie theatre

ONLY 5 OF THE REMAINING 9 HOMES ARE AVAILABLE AT THIS LOW PRICE!
1 BEDROOM FROM $329,000; 2 BEDROOMS FROM $420,000

NO WAITING – MOVE IN TODAY!

OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY, 2:00PM–4:00PM

coastal BROKERAGE

For more information or to schedule a tour, please call (781) 545.1911
91 Front Street, Scituate, MA www.coastalbrokeragellc.com

COHASSET
Move right in! Meticulous CE Colonial on a private lot in a cul-de-sac. Features incl. hardwood floors, C/A, fin. LL, oversize FR & 2 FPs. Walk to schools, ball fields & village. Town sewer. Appt. only. $829,000

COHASSET
Walk to Black Rock Beach. Pristine CE Colonial. Recent renovations incl. granite kit w/SS appliances, HW floors, fin LL, new roof & heating system. Private lot w/pool & spa. Appt. only. $1,225,000

HULL
Enjoy panoramic water views from Boston to Minot Light from this recently renovated 2BR, 2.5BA end unit Townhouse w/garage. The exquisite MBR suite has 1 of the 3 private balconies. $499,900

SCITUATE
Sparkling Townhouse on shared acre of land - no monthly fees! Short stroll to the harbor. Large, FP living room, new family room & 3 large BRs upstairs. Full basement with room to expand. Town sewer! $379,900

COASTAL COUNTRYSIDE PROPERTIES
383-9922
www.coastalcountryside.com

The Premier Signs of Real Estate

www.ColdwellBankerPreviews.com www.NewEnglandMoves.com

COLDWELL BANKER RESIDENTIAL BROKERAGE

"67 Million Reasons to List Your Home with Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage"

Cohasset Market Share January, 2007 - September 30, 2007

This representation is based in whole or in part on data supplied by M.L.S. Property Information Network, Inc. MLS does not guarantee or is in any way responsible for its accuracy. Data maintained by MLS may not reflect all real estate activity.

Dorene Ambrose

Justine Augenstern

Barrie Borr

Elaine Cole

Victoria Connolly

Eileen Corbett

Retta Dwyer

Chris Ford

Terri Geary

Johnnie Harrison

Judith Hart

Elizabeth A. Henle

Karen Mack

Kathy Marcus

Sally Marr

Laurajean McDonald

Paula Meallo

Elena Meredith

Amy Meschino

Frank Neer

Lisa Nolan

Penny O'Brien

Paul O'Leary

Justin Oliver

Christine Powers

Patricia Ranney

Erica Rice, Mgr.

Jennifer Routhier

Nancy Ryan

Maria Santos

Lilly Sestito

Karen Sheerin

Pamela Sinton-Coffman

Lorraine Tarpey

Elizabeth Tarpey

Laura Thomas

Heather Thompson

Jane Wasel

Claire Watts

Ellen Youngman

Mary Burnicika

Margy Charles

Jacqueline Clark

Sally Cousins

Davenport Crocker

John Durkin

Jane Goff

Julie Guild

Jean Hajjar

Lora Labonte

Penny Locke

Peggy Lovallo

Owned and operated by NRT Incorporated. An Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Housing Opportunity

NE MOVES Mortgage, LLC
An Affiliate of Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage

Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage
www.NEMMortgage.com

For a FREE Pre-Approval
Call Kevin Richardson
617-347-1651

Hockey Boosters sponsor Holiday Calendar Drive

CHS hockey players will be in community neighborhoods Sunday, Nov. 4, selling raffle tickets for the Hockey Boosters eighth annual Holiday Calendar Sales Drive. Raffle tickets are $5 each and all proceeds benefit the Cohasset varsity hockey team.

Each raffle ticket has 32 chances to be a winner in a daily drawing of prizes and gift certificates from local merchants ranging in value from $50 to $300 per day. Be sure to purchase raffle tickets, support Cohasset varsity hockey team and perhaps be a winner in December for the holidays.

LIBRARY CORNER

Showing of 'National Velvet' Nov. 2

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road.

For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

Great Decisions Group – The first Great Decisions Discussion group will begin at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 4, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss Central Asia, found in chapter seven of the assigned text.

Movie Matinee – Come to the library for a free showing of the film "National Velvet," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Mickey Rooney, and Angela Lansbury, at 11 a.m., Friday, Nov. 2. The Friends of the Library will provide light refreshments. The Friends of the Library and the Cohasset Democratic Town Committee generously sponsored the movie site license.

Independent Film Night – The library will show the independent film, "The Way I Spent the End of the World" at 6 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 15. Free admission and refreshments will be provided. A Romanian schoolgirl, played by Dorothea Petrie, finds her life forever changed when she accidentally knocks over a bust of dictator Nicolae Ceausescu in director Catalin Mitulescu's tragic and comic coming-of-age tale.

FOR CHILDREN

MamaSteph – Performances of children's music will be from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Monday, Nov. 5, 19, and 26, and Dec. 3, in the Meeting Room. Come sing and dance. All ages and communities welcome. Funded by the Friends of Cohasset Library.

Drop In Story Time – Join others in the Story Room from 10:30 to 11 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 6, 13, 20, and 27, for Big Book adventures, music and movement. All ages and communities welcome.

Family Read-A-Loud Books – Try some of these old and new classics for a family read-a-loud: Any "Adventures of" story by Thornton W. Burgess; "The Adventures of Paddington Bear," by Michael Bond; "The Adventures of Pippi Longstocking," by Astrid Lindgren; "The Reluctant Dragon," by Kenneth Grahame; "Mrs. Piggle Wiggle," by Betty MacDonald; "Toys Go Out," by Emily Jenkins; "The Rosie Stories," by Cynthia Voigt and "Gooseberry Park," by Cynthia Rylant.

thousands of jobs. including 'the one'.

Thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs, your chances of finding that perfect match just got better. More Eastern Massachusetts job listings. More up to date. More of what you need to find the right one. Get ready to fall in love.

VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM TODAY

WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

Custom-made for remodeling.

With custom sized Andersen® Woodwright® windows, you can replace your old, drafty worn-out windows while maintaining the timeless beauty of your home. With rich wood interiors, thick profiles and milling detail worthy of fine furniture, they are ideal for window replacement.

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Windows

CLIMATE Door & Window
276 Weymouth St., Rockland
781-681-7007
Financing Available

Andersen

"I never thought I could do it!"

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what ENC gave me."

— Maria Rodriguez, ENC LEAD Program Student

Our LEAD Program can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months by attending class just one night a week.

- ENC provides the personal support and attention that makes all the difference
- Enroll now for November classes!

Call 877-ENC-LEAD or visit us at www.enc.edu

Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
www.enc.edu

Donate Books!

We also accept DVD's, Videos, CDs, Records and More

Free Home Pick-Up!

To schedule a pick-up or to locate a drop-off location near you, call us
978.664.6555

Or visit our website:
www.GotBooks.com/cnc

To learn more about the nonprofit groups we serve please call us or visit our website

Please recycle this newspaper

TRUNK SHOW
Saturday, November 3rd

JUDITH RIPKA

HINGHAM JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street, Rt. 53 Hingham, MA 02043
(781) 749 2108

Consignment Shop benefits go beyond Cohasset borders

By Judy Graham
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

The Cohasset Consignment Shop on Route 3A in Cohasset's CVS Plaza, is more than your typical consignment store. At the Consignment Shop you can purchase gently used home goods, furniture and clothing, or consign items when you are downsizing a household or want to make room for something new. A lesser-known fact is that the Consignment Shop is the cornerstone and major funding source for the Social Service League of Cohasset, a non-profit organization whose programs have provided a beacon of hope for people in need all over the South Shore since 1912.

The Consignment Shop is co-managed by Marita Carpenter and Leslie Lemaire who, with the help of volunteers, welcome customers six days a week. Customers from local communities find the shop a treasure trove of furniture, home decorative items and affordable clothing and accessories. Others welcome the shop's reputation as a respected, well-run organization, as they consign items for sale.

"We have many long-standing customers who we work with on a regular basis," says Shop Manager Marita Carpenter. "We are proud to provide a valuable service to the people in the area who rely on us for the purchase and sale of quality consignment goods."

Leftover goods not sold are donated to the Sea-Renity Rose Recovery Home in Scituate.

Barbara Conway of Scituate shopped in the store for many years before becoming a volunteer, "I have loved shopping here and now I enjoy interacting with the customers. There is such an excitement they find something great. The other day we had a woman find the same dress she just bought at Bloomingdales for $500 priced here at $30."

"I heard about the shop from the ladies in my cooking class," said Merry Ann Hilson of Norwell. "I was downsizing my home, so I came in and consigned. I will be back with my mother's Hummel collection. Your volunteers were so helpful."

Consignment Shop co-managers, Marita Carpenter and Leslie Lemaire, holding the new logo for the Social Service League, designed by Lisa Corrado of Hingham.

"We are proud to provide a valuable service to the people in the area who rely on us for the purchase and sale of quality consignment goods."
— Marita Carpenter, co-manager

The Consignment Shop's benefit to the community extends far beyond the walls of the store. By generating funds for the nonprofit Social Service League, the shop is an extension of the League's mission, which is to identify and assist the most needy and least served people of all ages within our surrounding communities and to provide programs, which will directly assist them. Last year the League conducted an in-depth needs assessment survey, canvassing educators, law enforcement officials, clergy and local lawmakers from South Shore communities to determine which social services were most urgent. Elder services, teen safety, affordable childcare and housing, and alcohol problems were the major issues identified by the survey, as was a need to link local communities and service providers together to pool resources and help direct those in need to appropriate agencies for help.

In response, the Social Service League conducted lecture series to educate parents and college-bound teenagers on the dangers and issues they could face in college such as alcohol and drug abuse, rape and abduction, and to prepare them to be socially responsible young adults.

For many years the League has supported Elder Affairs programs by providing Thanksgiving and Christmas meals to local seniors, organizing Meals on Wheels, and the Christmas Angel Program, which is a holiday gift-giving program for seniors through the Council on Aging. In addition, the League manages the Wilcutt Fund, which provides funds for elderly couples to remain living in their homes, when escalating taxes and other housing expenses become unaffordable.

The Social Service League has long provided annual assistance and funding to Wellspring of Hull, which helps many families throughout surrounding communities by providing domestic violence intervention programs, crisis counseling and adult learning programs.

The recent community needs assessment has invigorated the Social Service League as it enters its 95th year of service to our communities. An updated mission statement and new logo promotes the League's dedication to being a beacon of hope for those less fortunate. In the coming weeks the League's new Web site will be launched, which will be a clearinghouse of information and resources, providing vital links to social service providers in communities all over the South Shore.

The Cohasset Consignment Shop offers affordable clothing and home goods items for sale and provides a reputable place to consign your personal treasures six days a week, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The support the shop provides to the underserved in our surrounding communities through the Social Service League has an impact that is felt every single day.

To volunteer or get information on consigning at the Consignment Shop, contact Marita Carpenter at 781-383-0687.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com
News hotline - 781-741-2933
Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

Mistletoe Boutique is Sunday

The fifth annual Mistletoe Boutique will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Atlantica Restaurant, 44 Border St.. The boutique will feature more than 30 artisans and vendors.

In addition to Atlantica, vendors for the boutique will also be at Our World Children's Global Discovery Museum in Cohasset. Admission is free at both locations.

Also featured will be children's activities including music and games with Princess Sharon, as the Snow Princess; arts and crafts; pictures with Santa Claus and a visit from The Cat in the Hat.

FREE MAKEOVER.

Free Makeup Application. Save $45.
During November our professional make-up artists will do an application and teach you how to do your own makeup using PUREMINERALS.™ For coverage, it's superior to normal makeup because it's concentrated. You use less, yet it always looks sheer and natural. Dermatologists recommend it because it doesn't contain fillers and talc that can irritate your skin and clog pores. PUREMINERALS is only available at Elizabeth Grady salons. Feel free to schedule an appointment today.

Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for nearest location, services, products & gift certificates.

HunterDouglas
Duette®
Honeycomb Shades
Available in a variety of styles and colors
617 964 4580
BARROWS THE WINDOW SHOPPE
365 Boylston Street
Newton
www.barrows.biz

Join the Gym you'll actually use!
0% Sign Up Fee!
Curves of Cohasset

Certified Personal Trainer. Massage Available Dec. 1st. Yoga - 8 wk sessions ongoing. Ask about our Mother/Daughter Discount. FREE Gift & Magazine for all new members & transfers.
30 minutes to a new you! • 781-383-6606
130 King St., (Rte 3A), Jonathan Livingston Square, Cohasset (rear of complex)

Estate Planning for Seniors and Caregivers
An Informative Event at Sunrise of Cohasset

Please join us at Sunrise Assisted Living of Cohasset for an informative presentation by local Elder Law Attorney Susan M. Cox who specializes in estate planning. Learn about the following legal care documents:

- Health Care Proxy
- Durable Power of Attorney
- Living Will
- Do Not Resuscitate
- Estate planning documents such as wills and living trusts

Also information on using veteran's benefits towards the cost of assistant living will be discussed. A question and answer session will follow the presentation. Light refreshments will be served.

Sunrise senior living is committed to furthering the knowledge of senior living though events and seminars designed to help inform seniors and their caregivers.

EVENT DETAILS

Estate Planning
for Seniors and Caregivers
with Susan M. Cox
Elder Law Attorney

Thursday, November 8
5:00pm-7:00pm

Space is limited.
RSVP 781-383-6300.

SUNRISE ASSISTED LIVING®
EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Sunrise of Cohasset 781-383-6300 Assisted Living, Alzheimer's Care
125 King Street (Route 3A), Cohasset, MA 02025
For more information and a FREE online newsletter, visit www.sunrisesenioriving.com

OPINION

EDITORIAL

1-4-3 (I/We love you)

Ahoy there!

Here at the Cohasset Mariner, we appreciate our readership and relish the fact we've become a tradition in the vast majority of households in town.

However, it's always bothered us that everyone isn't a subscriber. To that end, we're mailing the Cohasset Mariner to every household in town this week in the hope that we'll convince those who don't read the paper to give us a try.

The Cohasset Mariner has been around since 1978 so we are beginning to feel like a "venerable" institution.

And since we turn back the clocks this Sunday (Nov. 2), we thought it would be fun to give you a snapshot of the year your hometown paper debuted.

According to www.thepeoplehistory.com:

A gallon of gas cost 63 cents in 1978. A pound of bacon was $1.20 and a dozen eggs, 48 cents. The average cost of a new house was $54,800.

At year-end, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 805.

The most popular movies were "Grease," "Saturday Night Fever," and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." The Bee Gees topped the charts with "Night Fever and Stayin' Alive." The most popular musicians were Paul McCartney and Wings and the Rolling Stones.

On the small screen, "Happy Days," "Little House on the Prairie," and "The Rockford Files" were watched by the most Americans.

For sports fans, according to informationplease.com:

Dallas beat Denver 27-10 in the Super Bowl; The Yankees beat the LA Dodgers (4-2) in the World Series; Montreal defeated Boston (4-2) in the Stanley Cup, and in the Wimbledon finals, Martina Navratilova beat Chris Evert and Bjorn Borg beat Jimmy Connors.

Although we are not anywhere near as historic or as old as Minot Ledge Lighthouse, we are proud to include its rendering in our flag on page one as a symbol of Cohasset heritage.

Some of our readers may not know that the lighthouse, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, was rebuilt in granite in 1858-59 on outer Minot's ledge after the original lighthouse toppled in a gale. It was lit in 1860 and about 30 years later, the U.S. Lighthouse Service assigned it the distinctive 1-4-3 pattern so it could be easily recognized. Over the years the familiar flashing light has come to mean "I Love You."

The top of the lighthouse was replaced in 1987 and the granite blocks were recycled to construct the replica that adorns Government Island where the lightkeepers once lived.

Cohasset is a great town and we pledge to continue to provide the coverage it deserves. Every week we publish all the news we can scout up in the Mariner and that wouldn't be possible without a lot teamwork that includes staff reporter Nancy White; sports editor Joel Racicot; staff photographers Robin Chan and Chris Shores; cartoonist Jim Hamilton; Around Town columnist Jennifer Piepenbrink; correspondents, freelance photographers, columnists and other contributors. We're also grateful to tech support, our typesetters, and paginators.

But the most important part of our team is you, our readers. You provide us with the tidbits of information that compile Around Town, Happenings, social and club news. Many of our news tips come from you.

In short, you are the reason we're here. You're the reason we're still publishing after 29 years.

Let us know what you think.

We love what we do and consider it a privilege to keep you informed and be part of the continuing Mariner tradition.

— Mary Ford
mford@cnc.com

MEETINGS

The following meetings are posted at Town Hall:

Advisory Committee, Nov. 6, 7 p.m.

Alternative Energy Committee, Nov. 6 and Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.

Board of Health, Nov. 15, 7 p.m.

Capital Budget Committee, Nov. 5 & 6, 7:30 p.m.

Cohasset Housing Partnership, 6:30 p.m., Nov. 13 at the high school (before Town Meeting)

Historical Commission, Nov. 14, 7:30 p.m.

Library Trustees, Nov. 14, 7 p.m.

Planning Board, Nov. 7, 7 p.m., public hearing Special Town Meeting Articles 3 & 5

Recreation Commission, Nov. 7, 6:30 p.m.

School Committee, Nov. 7, 7 p.m. at the high school

Selectmen, Nov. 5, 7 p.m.; Nov. 13, 6 p.m. at Sullivan gym before Town Meeting; Nov. 19, 7 p.m.

Sewer Commission, Nov. 26, 6 p.m.

Stormwater Committee, Nov. 5, 7 p.m.

Town Hall Design Selection Committee, Nov. 5 & 6, 6 p.m

Water Commission, Nov. 7, 7 p.m. at the Planning Board meeting at Town Hall; Nov. 8 and Nov. 24, 6 p.m., King Street plant.

ZBA, Nov. 6, 7:30 p.m.

All meetings take place at Town Hall unless otherwise noted. Call the Town Clerk's office at 781-383-4100 for updates and additions.

Some commuters didn't think twice about Halloween being the charter Greenbush run

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Water Dept. thanked

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing to commend the people at the Cohasset Water Company for being "on the job" and helping to prevent a potential disaster.

On Friday, the construction company digging on Nichols Road broke our gas line. Thanks to Keyspan it was replaced the next day. On Monday, the same construction company broke our water line. During the repair, they connected our line to the main water line. Next, they began to tap-in a line for the water company's use as a feeder line for adding components such as chlorine. Luckily, a water company supervisor was on site and noticed that the feeder line was being connected to the main line on the wrong side of the valve and he corrected the workmen. Without the correction, the chlorine would have fed directly into our drinking water with dire consequences.

Thanks to the Water Company for their timely interference and supervision!

George Watts
76 Nichols Road

The shared cost of NIMBY

TO THE EDITOR:

Little Harbor area residents scheduled to be connected to the sewer system will bear substantial first cost plus a doubling of their water bills. So it's a shame that the pique of one or two residents (about locating the equipment and materials staging area near their homes) may result in all residents sharing the increased cost of satisfying that pique. The Building Inspector's permit will be challenged at a ZBA hearing Nov. 6 at 9.15 p.m. If the complainant's lawyer succeeds in identifying some technical deficiency in the permit, the cost of delay and subsequent legal jousting may add significantly to the shared cost. Because the town granted the permit, presumably the contractor would have good grounds to claim reimbursement from the town for all costs of mitigation or relocation and interruption of the work.

The town is fortunate that the contractor found a large enough and flat enough plot close to the work, and available for lease (on Jerusalem Road at Nichols Road) and owned by the Jenkins family). Proximity to the work not only reduces cost of time consumed in movement of materials and equipment, but reduces the number of people to be annoyed by the movement, and reduces street damage from moving heavy equipment. The lot is temporarily paved so as to reduce mud dragged out into the streets.

If anyone is dismayed that the lessor would be profiting from the sewer activity that will cost the rest of us money, be comforted by realizing that the lots location enables more effective and less costly use of the contractor's manpower. There is no suitable town-owned land anywhere nearby.

Let us hope that the work is not interrupted or made more costly by this challenge.

While on the subject of sewers, why hasn't the Sewer Commission transferred or emulated the excellent reporting of Tom Gruber and Mark Brennan on the train and Forest Avenue to reporting on the sewer project. We have endured a few weeks of noise, equipment traffic and hieroglyphics painted on the asphalt without the benefit of information. Information tends to generate support, lack thereof tends to encourage the opposite.

R. Murray Campbell
217 Jerusalem Road

Inviting tragedy

TO THE EDITOR:

As a long time resident of Cohasset, I am not happy with those few who are refusing to allow the MBTA train to sound its horn at railroad crossings. Unlike the sound the sound of click, clack that went out with Charlie Chaplin movies, the high-tech joining of the tracks of today are so smooth, so tightly fit together, and so silent, that they do not give you any warning.

MBTA officials who I have spoken with have told me that they are not happy about this; they also told me that many local police are also alarmed by the lack of a horn sounding. This could spell doom for the hard of hearing, children, the handicapped, and anyone not warned by the sound of a train horn.

Please urge elected officials in your town that the demands of a select few, who do not want to be disturbed by the sound of the train horn, is a selfish move and it's putting the safety of citizens at risk. It will only take one accident, one death, to reverse this no-horn policy.

Rik Tinory
PO Box 311
Cohasset

Village article different from harbor article

COMMENTARY

TOM CALLAHAN

I write in response to the letter last week opposing both the village and harbor zoning bylaw changes. First, it is critically important to separate the village article from the harbor article. They come forth neither as a package nor from the same source. Indeed, their motivations are quite different. They should not be so casually mixed together for your consideration as was done last week.

The village zoning article is the result of a concentrated, two-year effort by your elected Planning Board, and indeed from a longer seven-year process going back to the foundings of the Master Plan. It does not represent change; instead, it actually represents a return to the historical character of the village, a place of mixed uses where people lived, worked and shopped. It is unfortunate that 200 years of common sense development patterns in this country now have to carry new monikers such as smart growth and new urbanism, but these terms merely represent a return to what was, in contrast to the now-apparent destructiveness of post-war suburban sprawl.

Communities all around New England and this country are desperately moving back in this direction and seeking to revitalize villages and downtowns. The driving, public-spirited, public-focused motivation of the village zoning has always been to return, save and/or preserve its economic and social vitality and its central role in this community in the face of suburbanism and big box retail, by indeed making it an attractive and economically viable place to live, work and shop. Hyper care has gone into the crafting of the bylaw and its accompanying design guidelines to preserve the character of the village and town we all care for and to avoid a Scituate Harbor outcome; a result of very different zoning guidelines not present in this bylaw.

Further, it is important to note that the proposed changes have enjoyed almost universal support amongst town leaders, but for the turf war waged by ZBA, and the support of Town Meeting through prior groundwork articles over the years.

The harbor bylaw is none of this. It is a citizen article, not the product of a careful, deliberate and professionally augmented development process. Ms. Massa is a harbor resident, who not surprisingly, opposes it. Although the article bears 100 citizens' signatures, none of the lead ones are from the harbor and I would be surprised to find any harbor supporters at all. In fact, the article appears to be nothing more than a cynical attempt by the single dominant owner within the Waterfront Business District to piggy-back on a popular

SEE VILLAGE, PAGE 16

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore, E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com.
The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.
Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

A momentous week for Cohasset

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

COURTESY PHOTO

Pat Martin and Merle Brown of Cohasset join in conversation during the VIP ride.

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Commuters get ready as the 9 a.m. train arrives in Cohasset on Wednesday morning.

It was really nice to ride in comfort. The view out the rail car windows was very pleasant. From our standpoint, it was good to meet old friends whom we had met and worked with over the years on the rail project. Truly, this was a big day on the South Shore.

This Past Week — What a week this has been for the Town and us. The neighborhood spirit shown along Forest Avenue last Saturday had to give anyone from that neighborhood a sense of pride. Likewise, the Saturday special run of the Greenbush co-sponsored by the Cohasset Historical Society (CHS) and the Scituate Library Foundation was likewise a great event and a lot of fun. But the crowning event was the Grand Opening of the Cohasset Station and the Greenbush Rail line on Wednesday the 30th. Since there are two of us we decided to split up on Saturday, one of us would attend the Forest Avenue Celebration and the other would attend the CHS trip so we could report both events to you.

Forest Avenue Celebration —On Saturday the 27th of October a gathering of appreciative Forest Avenue neighbors and Town officials gathered on Surrey Drive to celebrate the completion of the Forest Avenue sidewalk. To be accurate, there are still some finishing touches being constructed this week and into the next. But the project is substantially complete. Trish Morse and Diana Vanetten were the prime organizing dynamos responsible for the event. They did a marvelous job bringing neighbors together for what may possibly turn out to be an annual celebration. Both Town and Norfolk County officials responsible for the project truly appreciate the sense of civic pride demonstrated, the enthusiasm of all, and humbly, the recognition given by these fine citizens. To see children together was the neatest visual of all. What was most impressive was how Trish and Diana managed to stop the rain for the entire gathering!! How did they ever do that? (We'll keep them in mind for weather control during our next project.) Thanks Trish and Diana.

Saturday Special Trip to Boston — The historical society trip had almost a carnival atmosphere. An entire train was filled top the brim as it left the Greenbush Station in Scituate last Saturday morning. The trip was the brainchild of Ed McCann of Scituate. (Those of you who have been in Town for a while may remember Ed as the interim Town Manager during the Cohasset's change from Town Administrator to Town Manager.) About 900 boarded the train in Scituate for this inaugural run of the Greenbush. The train pulled out for the trip to South Station promptly at 11:26. The passengers were serenaded by a roving band on musicians and even joined in singing the chorus of "Charlie on the MTA." The ride was amazing and there are large areas along the right of way where the riders can't see any sign of development and feel like they are in a large uninhabited forest area … quite a beautiful sight.

After a two-hour layover in Boston, during which most took in the sights and enjoyed a leisurely lunch break, the train returned to Scituate. Nearly everyone seemed to like the trip and had a great time during the entire festive ride. And, the train didn't even get lost. It found its way back in grand style.

Greenbush Opening — The big day has come and gone. The State and local officials from Boston swarmed our Town briefly for a ribbon cutting ceremony at our station Tuesday morning. The high School band did a great job of providing background music while all of the guests and visitors awaited the VIP train from Boston. The MBTA had organized the ceremony to a "T" (no pun intended). After the ribbon cutting ceremony to open the Cohasset Station, the VIPs piled back on the train with a number of local dignitaries for the ride to Greenbush for the BIG opening ceremony for the Greenbush line.

It was really nice to ride in comfort. The view out the rail car windows was very pleasant. From our standpoint, it was good to meet old friends whom we had met and worked with over the years on the rail project. Truly, this was a big day on the South Shore.

Wednesday AM — Always being a bit curious, we traveled to the station just before 9 a.m. to see if people were in fact riding the train. Lo and behold, there were about 75 cars in the parking lot with more still arriving. Not a bad turnout for the first day. A coffee and snack wagon was parked in front of the walkway ready to cater to the needs of the passengers.

You may notice that a black storage shed has been plopped down at the edge of the parking lot in front of the platform. We do wish that they had found a better out-of-the-way place to keep it.

Tom Gruber, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Affairs
Email:cgbaffairs@townofcohasset.org
Mark Brennan, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Engineering, Email:cgbengineering@townofcohasset.org
Phone: 781-383-3094

Those baseball commercials

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

I was watching the commercials on the tube the other night when a baseball game broke out.

Or so it seemed.

I know that Fox or NBC or whoever paid the equivalent of the gross national product of a third world nation to be allowed to turn their cameras on the game has to make it back by hustling ads to us folks who can no longer afford tickets.

But do they have to make it all back during the TV timeout between the first and second innings?

The game times in the current World Series between Colorado and Our Olde Towne Team were nudging the four-hour mark and I'll bet that two hours of that span were taken up selling Chevies, Budweiser, or Taco Bell burritos.

And the sales pitch was shown over and over and over for those who didn't get it or missed it the first time.

And the sales pitch was shown over and over and over for those who didn't get it or missed it the first time.

Somehow, watching that girl jogger run in the parked car failed to inspire me to run out and buy a Chevy Malibu in spite of the announcer's promise that "Soon there'll be a car you can't ignore."

I'll admit that the commercial for Chili Cheese Nachos El Grande showing the bubbling pot of chili did send me out to the kitchen for a sandwich, but the girl with the lap dog and the dragon tattoo cooled by appetite.

Halfway through the game, I was more interested in checking out the ads than the score, which was heavily weighted for the home team at the time.

Did you know there's an ad for "bankofamerica.com" over the Red Sox dugout, which is an appropriate place for it since that's where the millionaires go when they're not in the field?

Fenway's famed left field wall, the Green Monster, is defiled by two ads for CVS and W.B. Mason, but when one of the Sox, I think it was Dustin Pedroia, homered off the Coke bottle up top, there was no mention of it since Coke was not a sponsor.

The panel that appeared on the grandstand fence behind home plate had me baffled for a while when, in successive innings, it advertised Dick's Sporting Goods, State Farm Insurance, Verizon, AT&T, and Taco Bell.

But when the TV camera showed a replay from a different angle the panel was empty of messages.

I finally figured out that it was one of those TV tricks that enable them to put on the screen something that isn't there and make it appear that it is, like the yellow first down line in a football game.

Best of all was the recorded dugout conversations among Coco Crisp, Royce Clayton, and Jacoby Ellsbury about Taco Bell's promise to give everyone in the United States a free Crunchy Seasoned Beef Taco for the first stolen base in the series.

"You could go to every Taco Bell in the world and say that 'I ain't got my taco!' How they gonna know?" asked Clayton after Ellsbury stole the required base.

"I knew it was big when the text messages and emails started coming in," said Rob Poetsch, the Taco Bell man who just happened to be at the game. "This is the kind of a thing that you really can't pay for."

And that's about all that went unpaid for in Fenway the other night.

Communing with cats

DRIVING WHILE TYPING

JOHN LENGYEL

It may be too late to help Muffin, but I'm telling you my kids can forget about camping in the Hostess factory from now on.

It has come to my attention that two weeks ago my daughter Emily let herself out of the house and somehow managed to get onto the Internet. For 90 minutes she hacked gateways, left viruses in her wake, and scrawled nasty comments on several sites including Wicked Local. If she did to the World Wide Web half the damage she does to her clothes closet every morning, no doubt we have a lot of cleaning up to do. I apologize to anyone who was adversely affected.

This is the same daughter who is going for her First Holy Communion in the spring. Children like her are never shoe-ins for salvation, so we say they're "going for" a sacrament in the same way one might go out for the varsity football team. When she learned that confession was part of the deal she bristled, thinking of the long hours she'd be spending with the priest trying to clear her conscience.

"You're not evil, Emily," my wife reassured her. "You may be naughty sometimes. You may be destructive, and whiny, and prone to tearing up your sister's social studies projects with a maniacal laugh, but you haven't committed any sins. Yet. That I know of."

Emily's lower lip began quivering. "I've sinned against a cat," she said tearfully.

I had to agree. The only real saint I've met in my life is our cat Muffin, who, in exchange for little more than an endless supply of free food and protection from vicious predators, has been tolerating Emily for five years. She's at the point now where she wants him to like her, but the concept small children don't grasp is that animals have memories. Even though you're being nice to Muffin at the moment, he hasn't forgotten what you did to him last week with the vacuum and the chop sticks.

I was exactly the same way as a kid. My friend Davy and I — two of the kinder, gentler boys I knew — liked to stuff Davy's big Siamese cat Sweeney into a sleeping bag, climb in after him, and toboggan down the stairs. Davy had a husky named Viking too, and we would get Viking to eat all kinds of things dogs aren't meant to eat by hiding them inside Twinkies, sort of along the same lines as Jessica Seinfeld's cookbook. What I've realized now as an adult is that every child, no matter how caring or sensitive they are to other people's feelings, should be kept away from animals, sleeping bags and Twinkies. It may be too late to help Muffin, but I'm telling you my kids can forget about camping in the Hostess factory from now on.

The question raised by First Communion season is an interesting one: namely, at what age can a child's thoughts and actions be considered sinful, and not merely heinous and criminal? This issue is relevant to everyone living here on the South Shore, whether you're Catholic, Roman Catholic, or even Episcopalian I suppose. What exactly is innocence, and when is it finally, irretrievably lost? As academic standards rise, and preschool children are taught to read, compete at sports, and begin planning for their retirements, can we still consider a six-year-old incorruptible? More to the point, how soon can we introduce the threat of eternal damnation when she sticks entire rolls of first class stamps all over our kitchen cabinets? Because seriously, time-outs aren't cutting it.

I'm not overly worried about Emily's soul if she doesn't make the First Communion team. After all I was raised a congregationalist and haven't turned to serial killing yet. But as a parent I have to be mindful of the potential for evil that every new person represents, which is why I worry so much about other people's children. Joey Havis, for instance. Now there's a bad egg. The day that kid learns about cyberbullying is a day we'll all regret.

John Lengyel lives in Cohasset. Although some animals were harmed during the making of his childhood he would just like to point out that there are plenty more gerbils where those came from.

Accidental gas, water service line breaks

SEWER REPORT

JOHN BECK

Be assured that the location of all new lines will be precisely known and recorded with GPS coordinates, thus eliminating location uncertainties for future work.

This is one in a continuing series of status reports on the Little Harbor/Atlantic Ave. Sewer and Water Projects.

The contractor is fully mobilized and is making progress on all fronts. There are three crews simultaneously deployed in three different areas of the overall project: Nichols Road, Deep Run/Rust Way and Whitehead Lane.

Many may have noticed two different events recently: an accidental break of a gas service line and a water line while excavation was being done on Nichols Road. In both of these incidents the broken lines were a substantial distance from the "dig safe" locations provided by the gas company and the water department or were lines whose locations were not known to the respective utilities. Because of the historical legacy of inaccurate or missing records of past installations by the gas company and water department, we are unfortunately exposed to a continuing risk of encountering other unknown pipe locations as the excavation work continues for installation of the new water, drain and sewer service piping. Be assured that the location of all new lines will be precisely known and recorded with GPS coordinates, thus eliminating location uncertainties for future work.

In the case of a broken water line, it is an inconvenience for the water users to wait without service for repairs to be done, but there is not a safety issue. This is not the case for gas lines, where a break poses a safety risk of fire or explosion. This potential risk is further exacerbated by the current inability of the gas company to isolate the Nichols Road gas lines. This inability is understood to be due to either missing or inoperative isolation valves. The gas company has been put on notice that this is an unnecessary and unacceptable safety risk, and that they must correct it as soon as possible. In the meantime, all excavation work in this area is proceeding with extra care and caution when there is any likelihood that a gas or water line may be encountered.

By-pass lines — You may have noticed the yellow pipes that have been installed along the streets in all the areas. These pipes are temporary water by-pass lines that will provide the water supply to affected homes while the old water mains are being replaced. Once the by-pass lines have been appropriately installed, cleaned and sanitized, the by-pass lines will be connected to outside faucets at each home and provide water through that connection while the normal supply path is disabled during replacement of the old water mains. These bypasses will be removed when the threat of freezing conditions no longer make them a viable supply path or when the work has been completed. Water work has been given a priority, and planned water main replacement that has not been completed before freezing conditions this fall will be completed in the spring. When it is no longer possible to do water work, sewer work will be done throughout the winter and early spring in these areas.

For those interested, the overall schedule (downloadable PDF format) for the water and sewer projects will soon be added to the Sewer Commission web page on the Town of Cohasset's web site at : www.townofcohasset.org/sewer/documents.html.

Contacts — Should anyone have questions about any aspect of this work, there is a construction trailer located in the lay-down area off Jerusalem Road maintained by Coughlin Environmental Services, LLC (CES). CES is the engineering firm responsible for the project. The telephone number for the trailer is 781-383-2900, and this trailer will be staffed during normal working hours. Mr. Kevin McRae is the CES Resident Engineer whose cell phone number is 617-592-3276.

Questions about the updates — Anyone having questions about the updates may send an email to the author, John Beck, at johnbeckiii@msn.com . A prompt response will be sent.

John Beck is vice chairman of the Cohasset Sewer Commission.

STM articles explained

During the next Our Town, articles going before voters at the Special Town meeting are the focus. Local attorney Charles Humphreys details the article he authored for zoning changes to the Waterfront Business District.

ou town

Consultant Angus Jennings then joins the show to outline the Downtown Village Zoning article and its plans to create more mixed use in the village.

Finally, Andrew Willard of the Alternative Energy Committee presents information on how supporters can bring a free solar energy system to the town's library.

Tune in starting Monday at 9pm on channel 10 or catch up on Tuesdays or Thursday at 9pm.

Our Town will be offering pre town meeting coverage starting at 6pm on channel 22 on Tuesday, Nov. 13.

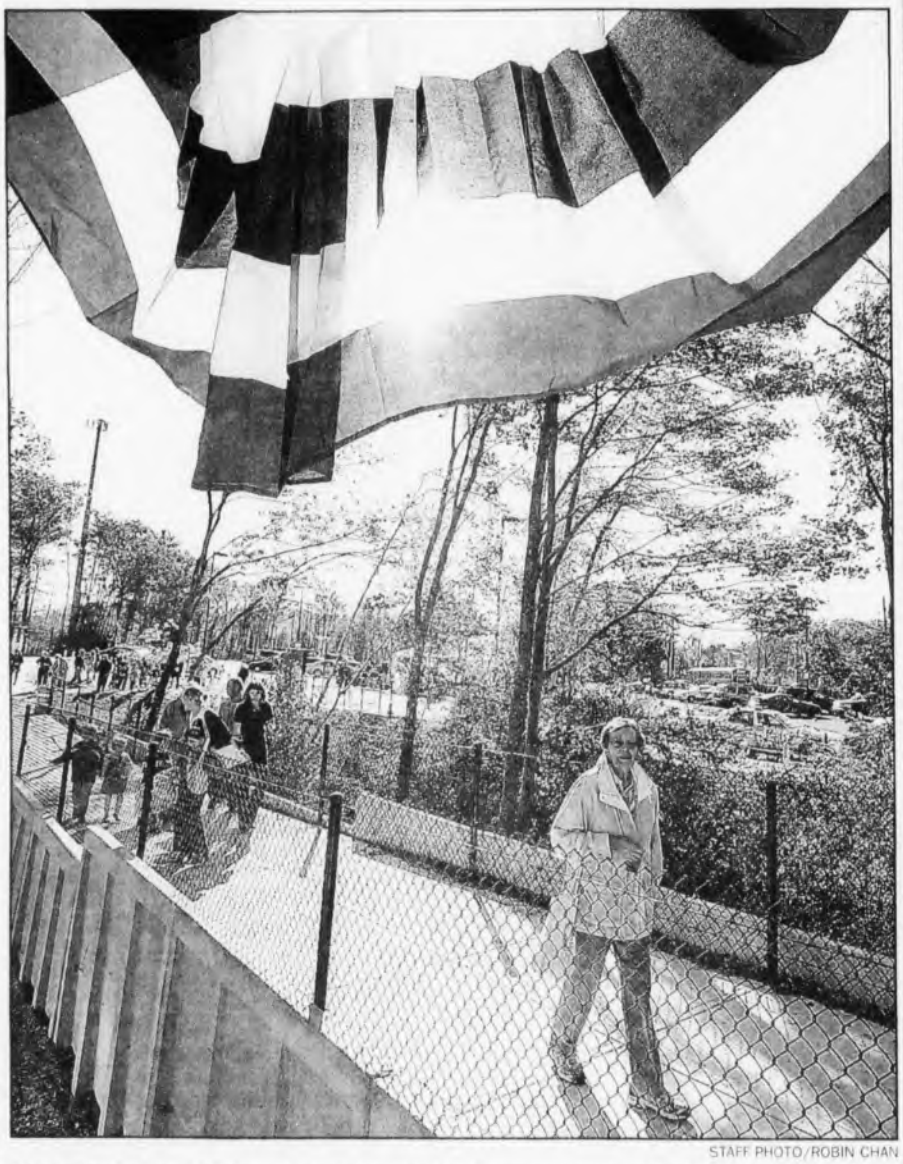
Tune in, Cohasset, and stay informed.

It's a banner day for Greenbush

FROM GREENBUSH, PAGE 1

years until 1959 for most residents the train is an entirely new entity.

Lt. Governor Timothy Murray, Secretary of Transportation Bernard Cohen and MBTA General Manager Daniel Grabauskas led a host of elected town officials and special guests on a ceremonial train, marking the inaugural trip from South Station to Greenbush. A second train followed close behind the first to pick up any stragglers.



Officials from the MBTA, the state and the town, including state Senator Robert Hedlund and state Rep. Garrett Bradley, filed off the train, down the ramp and assembled behind the purple ribbon that once cut would officially open the Cohasset station off Route 3A. The Cohasset Middle High School band played a few musical numbers to enrich the celebratory atmosphere.

Residents came from all over town and each for their own reasons. There was a positive atmosphere of anticipation. Beverly Spearin of Forest Avenue said she wanted to be among the first to ride the train.

"I've never been first for anything in my life," said Spearin with a bright smile. Accompanied by her husband, Malcolm, she arrived early to the station to ensure she would get a parking space and a seat on the train. Spearin said this would be her first Greenbush ride, but assuredly not her last. She and her husband plan to take the commuter train frequently into Boston hospitals as opposed to driving to Quincy to take the Red Line train, "this will be much easier."

Others just wanted to see the train in action, "I've been in the midst of all the construction and wanted to come out and take a ride on the train," said Pleasant Street resident Mary Bohmer, who has lived in town for over 40-years. Despite her proximity to the construction, Bohmer said she supported the train all along because she felt it was a needed amenity in town.

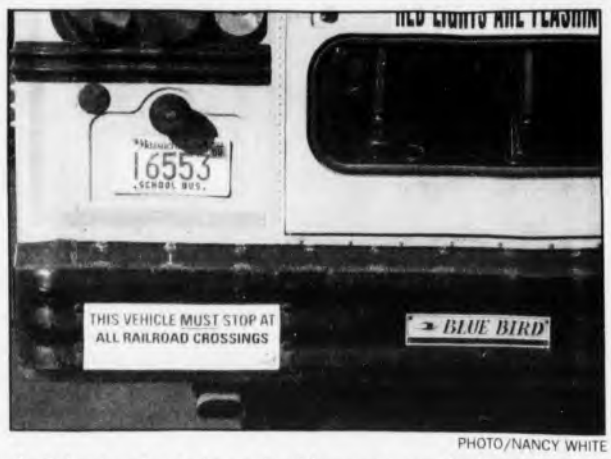
Louis Eaton, who commuted on the train to Boston from 1946 to 1959 until the Old Colony Line was abandoned, is looking forward to having the train back in town. Although his days of commuting have since past, Eaton has long supported the train's return. He represented Cohasset on the MBTA Advisory Board for 40 years and said his feelings on the day were reflected by the beautiful day nature had provided for the celebration.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Shirley Tewksbury of Cohasset heads towards the Greenbush train at the Cohasset station during the inaugural run on Tuesday.

About 10 young families with their pre-school aged children came out to see and ride the "choo-choo" through Cohasset.

"We wanted to celebrate. I wanted my daughter Lily to realize how big of a deal this is," said Kim Reilly of Elm Court. In the two years they have lived in town they have watched the tracks take shape and this was the culmination.



After the purple ribbon was cut to cheers from onlookers, the majority of the audience got on the train to continue to the Greenbush terminus for the official ceremony.

Eighteen miles in length, the $512 million Greenbush line has seven new stations with a combined total of 3,000 parking spaces, and serves the communities of Braintree, Weymouth, Hingham, Cohasset and Scituate.

Twelve round trips between South Station in Boston and Greenbush Station in Scituate each weekday, with the first weekday train leaving the Cohasset station at 5:58a.m. and the last train pulling in at 10:37p.m. The ride from the Cohasset station will be 44 minutes.

Cohasset Station by the numbers

- Number of parking spaces: 410
- Daily parking cost: $2.00
- One-way cost to South Station: $5.75 (discounts available for seniors, persons with disabilities, and high school students).
- Monthly pass cost: $186

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

By federal and state law, school bus must stop, look and listen at every rail crossing, no matter what. The procedure, which takes 30-45 seconds, may delay drivers behind them. Bus driver Dama Dow hopes those drivers will be patient for this necessary safety precaution.

Buses must stop at grade crossings

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

School buses have special rules when it comes to rail grade crossings. With the safety of their passengers always at the forefront, bus drivers are required to take the mantra "always expect a train" in their daily travels.

The Cohasset Public Schools' bus drivers have been training with representatives from Operation Lifesaver every year for four years, says schools bus driver training instructor Dama Dow.

"We have to make sure the kids are safe," says Dow, "We've been stopping at [rail] crossings every since the grade crossings became a reality."

School buses are required by both federal and state law to make a complete stop at least 15 feet before a rail crossing. Dow says as a general rule they require even the smaller special education vans to stop at the crossings. The operator of a school bus, in addition to bringing his vehicle to a full stop, must then open the service door and driver's side window to get a clear look up and down the track. If children are on the bus they are asked to be quiet. The driver listens for any indication a train is approaching. If the driver ascertains the bus can cross safely, the door will be closed and the bus will continue on its way.

"In a nutshell it's stop, look, and listen for a train regardless if the signals indicate a train is coming," says Dow. The entire process takes between 30 and 45 seconds to complete. Even if the bus has stopped behind a lowered grade crossing as the second or third car, Dow says they will stop again to ensure the railway is safe to cross. All buses have a bumper sticker indicating, "This vehicle must stop at all railroad crossings."

In addition, bus drivers who suspect there are malfunctioning signals have to stop and call an emergency number, as well as local police, "we just can't take the chance," says Dow. Busses won't take a chance either if a bus stalls on the tracks, "we will evacuate the bus as quickly as possible."

In all instances, the procedure may delay drivers following behind the school bus, much like dropping off kids at a bus stop would. However, Dow is afraid impatience might get the best of some drivers as she recently witnessed at the Pleasant Street grade crossing.

Dow was walking the trainee through the rail crossing process when a car following behind the bus decided to circumvent the stopped bus.

"The driver of the car behind the bus decided she wasn't going to wait and drove around the bus into oncoming traffic," says Dow, "that driver put everyone at risk."

The safety risk is clear, if there had been oncoming traffic, an oncoming train, or the bus driver did not see the car passing to the left there could have been a serious accident, says Dow, "thank goodness no one was coming on."

Dow reported the incident to the police immediately, but they were not able to find a match for the license plate provided. Although this was the first incident of its kind she is aware of in Cohasset, it raised a red flag in her mind.

With school buses carrying Cohasset's most valuable cargo — its children, Dow says she hopes drivers will have the patience to allow the buses to take the proper (and mandated) safety precautions at rail grade crossings.

"People who pass buses put everyone at risk and I'd hate to see anything bad happen," says Dow.

Coffee, breakfast for commuters

FROM COMMUTERS, PAGE 1

regular), muffins, bagels and breakfast sandwiches in the morning and steamed hot dogs and cold-cut subs in the afternoon. The menu will change and expand according to customer demand. Coffee prices are $1.50 for a small and $2 for a large. Muffins run about $1.50. Eventually he hopes to sell newspapers from his catering truck.

Some area residents may recognize Sorenson, who worked in the food distribution business before branching out on his own, from Nantasket Beach where he operated a concession in Hull this past summer.

"Once commuters see the truck and know that I will be there, business should pick up," he said about his Cohasset service.

Sorenson plans to be at the Cohasset station, which has spaces for 410 cars, by 5:15-5:30 a.m. The first in-bound, weekday Cohasset train is 5:58 a.m.

"At that time in the morning, some people are still half asleep," he quipped. "I will try to tell a joke to cheer them up."

Over the summer in Nantasket, Sorenson became a familiar figure and enjoyed lots of return business.

Joe Pesaturo, spokesman for the MBTA, said the MBTA has been offering food service at its commuter rail stations for about 10 years. Vendors sent letters and requested the station they would like. He said plans are in place to ensure smooth operation.

"The Railroad Operations department will meet the vendor on site and show them their spot to place either their trailer or catering truck," Pesaturo said. "They are also instructed that if it is a trailer they must transport it in and out on a daily basis and are also told where they can park their vehicle. They are also told to take their trash with them on a daily basis and when we have a snowstorm they need to work with the parking lot vendor as far as if their spot is cleared or if they need to move."

It is OK for commuters to take their coffee and food items onto the train.

MBTA General Manager Daniel Grabauskas said The T does everything possible to make the commuter rail experience a pleasant one.

"We think it's great that customers can relax, sip a coffee and enjoy a newspaper while we do the driving," he said.

Sorenson said it would not be long before he gets to know his "regulars."

"Eventually I will know this person is a regular and this person is large cream no sugar," he said. "Everything is going to run smoothly."

Vendors at other Greenbush stations include: Coffee Train (Greenbush); Java Junction (North Scituate); Red Eye Roasters (Nantasket Junction); Steve's Catering (West Hingham); JDS Catering (Weymouth Landing) and Woodies Goodies (East Weymouth).

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Bill "Spanky" Sorenson gets a cup of coffee ready for a thirsty commuter.

Autos OF THE Week

CAR

2004 AUDI 1.8T QUATTRO

Only 29,240 miles, traction, ABS, CD changer, anti-theft, automatic. #P3411

$25,331

SUV

2006 VOLVO XC90 AWD

14K miles, V-8, 3rd row seat. #7543

$35,995

TRUCK

2004 FORD F150 CLUB CAB 4X4

6 bed, auto, AC, only 19K miles #16152/

$17,988

For more details on these fine vehicles and many others, go to today's Community Classifieds section!

Featuring These Great Local Dealerships...

Best Chevrolet • Marty's GMC-Pontiac-Buick-Isuzu • Rietzl Porsche-Audi
Shaw Saab • South Shore Jeep-Chrysler-Volkswagen
Sullivan Brothers Auto Mall

THE CARROLL SCHOOL

Open House
November 4, 2007
1:00 - 3:00
Presentations at 1:15 & 2:15

- Individualized, multisensory teaching
- Orton-Gillingham approach
- Academic skills and learning strategies
- Elementary through Middle School
- Beginning Reader Class (Grade 1)
- Studio and Performing Arts
- Bounders Outdoor Program
- Speaker Series, 2007-2008
- Summer Academic & Camp Programs

Founded in 1967,
The Carroll School is a dynamic independent day school for bright children with language-based learning disabilities, such as dyslexia.

The Carroll School • 25 Baker Bridge Road • Lincoln, MA 01773
781-259-8342 • www.carrollschool.org

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

These BC High students, who previously had taken a 1-1/2 hour bus ride to school, were asked as they exited their first return train ride Wednesday what they liked best. Here is what they said: John Spence (left): "More flexible schedule." Patrick Cantillon: "Funny stuff written on the seats." Andrew Cantillon: "Short ride."

Regular rail service is back on track

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"I liked seeing all my neighbors on the platform."
— Howie Altholtz, Cohasset commuter

After the fanfare of Tuesday's inaugural train ride and ceremony, it was down to business on Wednesday morning when regular Greenbush commuter service began. Wednesday, Oct. 31, 2007 will go down in the history books as the first day of restored service to the long dormant tracks.

It's been over 48 years since Cohasset residents had the opportunity to ride the rails into South Station and the Greenbush line itself has been decades in the making. With mitigation and the bulk of controversy a thing of the past, the train ran smoothly and on time through the five Greenbush towns.

The Cohasset Station parking lot was one-quarter full after the morning commuting hours. On the return trips, cars idled in the parking lot waiting to pick up returning commuters.

"I liked seeing all my neighbors on the platform," said commuter Howie Altholtz, explaining while the commuter boat gets a mix of people from different South Shore towns, the Cohasset station is almost entirely Cohasset residents, "everyone was in a good mood."

Seeing the South Shore from the tracks made for a scenic ride from an entirely new perspective, "it was an interesting ride along the neighborhoods and towns I've only seen from the car," said Altholtz.

While the train will not be Altholtz's exclusive method of commuting (he's still going to take the boat out of Hingham), "I'm sure I will drive less because of it."

BC High students lined up to take the commuter rail, which drops them at JFK/UMASS station about a half-mile from the Dorchester school. Cohasset boys who attend the private high school previously endured an hour and a half bus ride or had to be driven into school.

Commuters commented on how smooth and quiet the train ride itself was. Mark Brennan, the town's Greenbush liaison, was struck by the smoothness of the ride on the ceremonial train ride Tuesday. He said the ride was not unlike the Acela to New York, "the new technological advancements in rail construction and equipment they are using enhanced the quality of the ride."

While commuters will likely be the primary users of the railroad, many residents who don't work in Boston are looking forward to heading into Boston to catch a theatre matinee, lunch with friends or shop at the department stores.

Joan McDonald and two friends didn't waste any time taking advantage of Cohasset's new access into Boston, "this was our maiden voyage. We took the train to the Huntington Theatre to see 'Brendan,'" said McDonald, "it was quite a deal — $6.50 round trip for senior citizens. We might do it everyday!"

Town Manager Bill Griffin said he has heard from several people how they look forward to bringing the family into Boston to visit the Aquarium or meet a family member who works in Boston for lunch. The train makes for a convenient connection from Cohasset to Boston, he said.

In addition, as several commuters pointed out, the train also allows for inter-town travel, which previously could only be done by car.

Only time will tell what the eventual success of the Greenbush line will be or what impacts the train will have on the town, "I suspect the T will ultimately get the ridership it needs," said Brennan.

"I expect the train is here to stay," he quipped.

For further information about Greenbush rail service, visit www.cbbgreenbush.com. For schedule and more fare information and maps, or to ask a question or voice a concern, visit www.mbta.com.

For sale: Cohasset Hardware

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"I'm hoping for something great to happen to the building."
— Jim Watson, co-owner

The iconic Cohasset Hardware building is for sale.

Last weekend, "for sale" signs were posted in the windows of the prominent village building that has been vacant since the hardware store closed in May.

"We decided rather than develop and manage the building for 10 years, we'd sell it," said Jim Watson, who owns the building with his sister, Tina.

The decision did not come easy to the pair. The building has been in their immediate family since 1964 and their extended family since 1920s. Jim spent a good part of his career owning and working at Cohasset Hardware. The building holds a special place in their hearts.

Yet, both feel this was the right decision to make, "the time is right for our family to sell," said Tina in a phone interview. Tina said both are back to doing what they went to school for and what they love. Jim has returned to landscaping and Tina is an artist. The frustration involved in developing the property was not their cup of tea, said Tina.

The intent to sell comes as a surprise as re-development plans for the building had been in the works for the better part of a year. Plans for a restaurant and four upstairs apartments were posted in the hardware store windows. Over the summer, the Watsons applied for and received (after several hearings with the Zoning Board of Appeals) a special permit to transform the second and third floors into four one-bedroom apartments. The Board of Selectmen approved a liquor license application for a new location for a South End restaurant, Stella, in August.

The Watsons obtained sewer connections. Everything seemed to be chugging along. But, then in the fall the lease with Stella fell through.

"It was disappointing," said Tina, "instead of going on with the hassle of developing the property, we're going to let someone else do it."

But that's not to say the Watsons aren't interested in finding the right buyer for the property.

"We're interested in keeping the place in line with the village character," said Jim, although both admit they can't pick a buyer. They'd like to see the property developed much like they had originally envisioned — with mixed-use of apartments and retail.

"It's basically what the building needs, it's ideal for a (upstairs) living area," said Tina.

The two are selling the building on their own and have gotten several inquiries on the property already. Its prime location they hope will be a major selling point. No asking price was disclosed.

"I'm hoping for something great to happen to the building," said Jim.

After doing the tough job of placing the 'for sale' sign in the window, Tina took her dog for a walk to clear her mind. While talking to her mother on her cell phone, she asked for some sort of sign that they were making the right decision. When she looked off in the distance she saw a rainbow, "I knew we had done the right thing."

"Now, we're going to go forward and be positive about it," said Tina. "We really do care what happens to the building. We want what's best for the village."

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

GOODlife

Living in comfort, living with style... at home, in the office or out on the town. That's GOODlife, a quarterly magazine published by Community Newspaper Company to help modern men and women today live life and live it well. This high gloss, full color magazine is designed to stimulate and inspire a highly upscale audience to seek out and enjoy life - the good life - with the latest design trends, entertainment advice, fashion ideas and more!

Publication Date:
Week of November 26
Copy & Space Deadline:
Wednesday, October 31

Holiday Planner 2007

Where to go. What to buy. How to Find it. It's all inside our holiday advertising sections. From Holiday Happenings to Great Holiday Gift Ideas to the Last Minute Gift Guide. With so many shopping choices, make sure they choose you.

Shopping Facts:

- More then 833,000 CNC readers often read or look to newspaper's advertising booklets, flyers, coupons or other advertising.
- The most commonly purchased holiday gifts include clothing, books, CDs, DVDs, gift certificates or cards, toys and beauty items.

*More then 38,000 readers have purchased a gift card in the past 12 months.

Wrap up your holiday plans today!

Advertising Deadlines:

Holiday Happenings
Publication Dates: November 11 - 17
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 1

Great Holiday Gift Ideas
Publication Dates: November 25 - December 1
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 15

Last Minute Gift Guide
Publication Dates: December 9 - December 15
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 29

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax

NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923G Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

Paying attention to the little things

HEALTH NOTES

STEVE BOBO

SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

It seems that traces of chemicals from personal care products and other sources have been linked to reproduction changes in fish and microvertibrates.

When I was young, I had a roommate who, I now recollect, had an obvious disability. His arms had been deformed exiting his mother's womb. Although, we haven't spoken of it ever (it's 64 years ago) I reflect on his choices as a teenager. He would have done anything to get on the crew team. He wanted soccer — and many other sports with an urgency of youth, but he pursued them with determination that left all of us with perhaps better abilities in awe. Nevertheless, we loved him. As a junior, he just missed being class president although we, his friends, voted for him. So what happened to him? He wrote and became a successful author, not because he had good penmanship, perhaps the typewriter saved him, but because in his heart, he had something to say. And he has said it well through the many years since our youth. We learn our strengths, but we discover our values.

It's time to review this column and answer the question "is the information valuable?" True, there needs to be a place where the current thinking about health matters is discussed, notices are given — upcoming clinics, etc. And we need warnings about current threats to our health and safety. But is enough happening in the broad category titled "health news" to warrant a weekly column. Generally, this column is written by Monday afternoon, the week's health topics in press, tube and net have been perused. Those shouting to be commented upon are noted, wild claims of miraculous cures from the onslaught of medicinal ads mediated, the local news scanned and an issue is usually commented upon. For example, this week, the CDC is filled with news about smoke from wildfires. Do wildfires really affect us. Well, there are useful bits of information about smoke inhalation from which we can all benefit. One doesn't need to smell them for small smoke particles to affect us. Fire is one factor that can introduce contaminants into the air. But so can boiling water or heat rising from a dusty surface. The CDC recounts the ways to detect irritants in the air, who's most susceptible and how to lessen any health effects from such contamination, what will and won't work. How many of us have had fits of sneezing when the heat's first turned on? It's from dust rising off hot pipes or being circulated by heating fans. Wear a mask? — the CDC says: "not effective" — get outside and ventilate the space. All from wildfire PR. Well, maybe such advice needs explanation that we try to provide here. So, we comment on those elements of the health picture that affect us and neglect those with little relevance.

Which somehow brings us to the issue of trace contaminants. At a recent Massachusetts Health Officer's Association meeting the Department of Public Health presented a report on the increasing effect of trace contaminants entering the environment and finding their way into the food chain. It seems that traces of chemicals from personal care products and other sources have been linked to reproduction changes in fish and microvertibrates. Possibly linked, for example, to the fact that of the flounder populations in some estuaries, only females can be found. It makes one wonder if increasing amounts of trace contaminants may, at some time in the future, have an effect on our genes.

No question about it; small things are important. Some are highly therapeutic: quiet, laughter, optimism, feeling good about yourself — more than self esteem. And speaking of self-esteem, why not be a volunteer. Don't tell me volunteering isn't therapeutic. Anybody over 65 who doesn't volunteer is missing something and is probably less healthy for it. Volunteers always get more than they give.

In Cohasset we have numerous single and unique volunteer opportunities: The Cohasset phone book lists more than a dozen. All churches have volunteer programs. Opportunities abound. Servenet, a volunteer listing service, gives the names of over 3,500 volunteer opportunities within 20 miles of Cohasset.

So what little things are keeping you healthy?

Steve Bobo is a long time member of the Cohasset Board of Health.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Simple arithmetic on Cat Dam

TO THE EDITOR:

Regarding Cat Dam – the most important issue is the long term health of Cohasset's wetlands and not the number of people who think one way or another. However, since the numbers were brought up in John Beck's letter in last week's Mariner, I would like to set the record straight. Beck stated, "Steve Brown spoke on the behalf of 12 individuals, representing six families, three of whom are not abutters on inner Little Harbor." I helped to coordinate the group for whom Steve was speaking. We received the support of the following households, all of whom agreed to have their names listed on our request that the town assume control of the town-owned Cat Dam and that the town accept a free non-binding offer from Coastal Zone Management (CZM) to study the health of Inner Little Harbor (ILH):

Steve and Margie Brown, 275 Jerusalem Road.

Susan Playfair and Richard O'Connell, 249 Jerusalem Road.

Rustam Devitre, 430 Atlantic Ave.

Ross and Kathleen Sherbrooke, 311 Jerusalem Road.

George and Lynda Parks, 279 Jerusalem Road.

Tom and Martha Horsefield, 255 Jerusalem Road.

Nancy and Sean Teague, 271 Jerusalem Road.

Ed and Lucia Woods, 231 Jerusalem Road.

Frank and Jean White, 190 Jerusalem Road.

Don and Joan White, 226 Jerusalem Road.

Al and Barb Stefan, 260 Jerusalem Road.

Tom and Meg Nelson, 264 Jerusalem Road.

I count 12 families (not six) and 23 individuals (not 12). Six (not three) of these households are direct abutters to ILH. Four of these households are direct abutters to Peck's Meadow, which is the marsh surrounding Richardson's Brook. Richardson's Brook is part of ILH (artificially separated by Jerusalem Road). The brook flows into ILH, and the marsh in Peck's Meadow is fed by the salt water from ILH. The other two families overlook ILH and Peck's Meadow. All of these 12 households are concerned about the long term health of ILH, and I believe the 19 families supporting Beck's position are also interested in the health of ILH. Our differences are primarily based on conflicting views about the current amount of flushing, the value of more flushing, and who should control both the operation of the town-owned dam and any testing done in ILH.

The 2000 Camp Dresser & McKee report states, "Since ILH suffers from elevated nutrients and little flushing, opening of Cat Dam will provide a relief to eutrophic conditions. For there to be a more permanent remedial response in the harbor, the dam will need to be opened indefinitely." We think intermediate solutions may be available to improve the health of the harbor, but none of the neighbors involved in this controversy are marine biologists or estuary experts – hence our request for the town to accept the free non-binding offer from CZM to study how best to improve the health of ILH.

John Beck goes on to say, "Chamillard also stated that his group is ready and willing to reconstitute a democratically elected committee, representing all direct abutters to work on the most effective ways to insure the continuing health of inner Little Harbor." The direct abutters are fortunate to have the opportunity to view ILH's beauty out of their windows every day, but I believe that ILH is a public resource – not private property. In addition, the health of ILH affects surrounding wetlands and bodies of water, such as Peck's Meadow and the Main Little Harbor near Cat Dam. I believe a group of private citizens with vested interests is not the right group to manage the town-owned Cat Dam and the public resource that is ILH. Just as the direct abutters to Cohasset Harbor do not own the harbor nor control how it is managed, similarly ILH abutters should not solely control ILH. A municipal board, such as the Conservation Commission whose responsibility is maintaining the health of all the town's wetlands, would likely be a more objective body. The Board of Selectmen has not yet voted on our request to have a municipal board or commission take control of the operation of Cat Dam.

Marjorie Brown
275 Jerusalem Road

Village, harbors article differ

FROM VILLAGE, PAGE 12

bylaw and momentum in the village, so as to overcome the past obstacles that have prevented desired high-end condo development on the harbor.

This article has not been vetted, thought through, and tested as has the village article, nor has it kept up with the constructive changes that have been made to the village article during the vetting process. Although I personally think the mill buildings could and should be redeveloped into mixed use and liked one idea I saw a couple of years ago, doing so with this ill-begotten sledgehammer of a bylaw that could bring unwanted development elsewhere, and overrule a 30-plus year restriction on one building, is not the way to do it.

The other reasons cited for opposing the village article have little merit. The current state of construction, indeed annoying, comes from a well documented near-century of neglect of our water delivery system. Only in the last 10 years or so have we finally awakened to updating and caring for the entire infrastructure that was ignored for so long. The transient annoyances of construction are part of the price we pay to correct our mistakes. That the construction seems ill-coordinated and without rhyme or reason is a legitimate critique, but not a reason to avoid its necessity.

Likewise, even if one agrees that the results of the village's aesthetic improvements are disappointing, that should not prevent the town from pursuing the right course that the village bylaw represents. We also have more water than we need by far, even managing somehow to sell it to other towns. That it tastes and looks as it does has nothing to do with overpopulation. We cannot put a wall around Cohasset and ignore development patterns around us. Change comes, like it or not, and the village needs change, whether one thinks of it as smart growth or a return to a sensible past. We hopefully learn from past change to make future change better. I prefer to bring forward this managed change than leave the village to a long, lingering death.

Tom Callahan lives at 35 Hillside Drive

The first of four seven-week courses begins November 6th.

Facilities Management Certificate

Enroll now, and you will:

- Develop advanced skills and knowledge in the field of facilities planning and management
- Enhance your career
- Brush up on essential skills
- Prepare for the CFM Exam

WENTWORTH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Offered through the Division of Professional and Continuing Studies (DPCS). A leader in adult education, DPCS helps adult learners achieve their educational and career objectives with evening and weekend courses designed to fit busy lifestyles.

For more information, call 1-800-323-9481 or e-mail dpcs@wit.edu

NEW LOCATION!

Minuteman Club / Bedford, MA

The Home for Little Wanderers

www.thehome.org

888.HOME.321

"You don't have to be perfect to be a perfect parent."

BECOME AN ADOPTIVE PARENT

Have you or someone you know ever considered becoming an adoptive parent? Hundreds of children in Massachusetts are living in foster care and need a loving home like yours. You can help make a difference.

Rail Revival - Greenbush

IN TODAY'S PAPER!

Forty-eight years later, the Greenbush rail line is ready to roll again! Don't miss your copy of the special pull-out supplement in today's paper. Read about the last Greenbush passengers in 1959 to the newest schedules, routes and maps.

Rail Revival - Greenbush contains all the information you need.

Sponsored by:

NORTH SCITUATE VILLAGE

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

WICKED LOCAL

BELLEW TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.

CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING

Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!

Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!

781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

Changes in store for North Main Street crossing

Three safety issues addressed in new plan

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

A permanent solution to the North Main Street grade crossing is in the works.

Town officials have been calling for changes to address three issues afflicting the stretch of track that passes over the main Cohasset byway. Engineering plans are in the hands of the town's Greenbush liaisons and they are currently working with the MBTA to tweak the design.

Next to Route 3A, North Main Street is the main street on which to enter Cohasset. With an entrance to the train station and parking lot, the residential street is expected to have increased traffic during morning and evening commuter hours.

But it is concerns over bike accidents, cars veering off the road and onto the tracks, and left turns in to Woodside Cemetery that are addressed in the new design.

Currently, visitors and residents are welcomed into Cohasset with seven yellow sand barrels situated to prevent left turns into Woodside Cemetery. The new plans call for an extended median island, said Greenbush liaison Tom Gruber.

Although more aesthetically pleasing than the yellow barrels, the bad news is visitors and funeral processions still will be unable to make a left turn into or out of the cemetery. To curtail the illegal left turns (or really u-turns around the extended median) into Woodside, the cemetery entrance will be narrowed, explained Gruber. Right now, three jersey barriers form a makeshift narrowing to reduce the driveway width.

Gruber said to make the extended median possible and safe, North Main Street will have to be slightly widened to accommodate the median island.

More than the turn at Woodside Cemetery, the severe angle at which the track is laid on the street has caused bicycle accidents in the double-digits. Bicycle wheels get trapped in the tracks, causing them to stop abruptly, in some cases sending riders over the handlebars. Cyclists heading down North Main Street in either direction are warned by yellow signage of the impending danger. However, many cyclists ride with their heads down, looking at the street, and do not see the signs.

The new engineering designs call for a "jug handle" – basically a small bike path in the shape the name implies – off to the right on each side of the street, so bicycles will hit the track at a less severe angle. The grade crossing rubber matting on the tracks will extend a few feet on each side to accommodate the bike path.

To complement the jug handles, more signage and painting on the road — to notify those bicyclists with their head down — will be added to the crossing, said Gruber.

At the crossing there are white lines running parallel to the track that at night, on several occasions, have been mistaken for fog lines. The confusion has led three cars to drive down the track, where they ultimately get stuck.

This most recently happened to a driver of a 2007 Corvette in late August. This is an obvious safety hazard to both cars and the train.

To address this safety issue, the parallel lines delineating the rail tracks will be removed. The fog lines – the white lines at the edge of the street – will be painted over the rubber matting on the grade crossing.

"They are definitely positive," said Gruber of the proposed changes.

Gruber and Mark Brennan, liaison for Greenbush engineering, have submitted comments on the engineering plans since receiving them in the beginning of October. They are expecting a revised copy of the plans within the next month.

If the town okays the plans, Brennan suspects the MBTA will implement the corrections shortly after.

To make the extended median possible and safe, North Main Street will have to be slightly widened to accommodate the median island.

Other items for MBTA

Despite revenue service beginning this week, there is still Greenbush work to be done according to town officials. Town Manager Bill Griffin responded to a letter from James Eng, the MBTA's director of Greenbush construction, regarding outstanding project work. He states there remain questions and concerns that need to be resolved.

Griffin asked for a more specific timeline for the intersection improvements for Route 3A and King Street. Eng's letter said the improvements would be "completed in 2008."

"The whole reason for the expansion of the Route 3A roadway was to make this area safer for the increased traffic expected from the railroad passengers," stated Griffin, "delay in this widening will force the town to operate with a traffic pattern that is less safe than the redesign that the MBTA has permitted and promised."

The key intersection is in the center of a few potentially large developments: the MBTA station and potential transit oriented district (TOD) to the north and Avalon development to the south. A traffic light is also in the works for that intersection of King and 3A in association with the Scituate Hill Development planned for next to the Cohasset Family Medical Center.

Farther north on Route 3A, the road has been widened and lined to accommodate a traffic light at the entrance of the station, there is no light yet and the MBTA said an operational light could be as far away as the end of 2008.

"We need to have a better time frame other than by the end of 2008. We also need to know what safety measures the MBTA will employ at the station entrance on Route 3A until the traffic light is functional," wrote Griffin.

Attached with the letter was a three-page spreadsheet listing and describing open items that need the MBTA's attention.

Hot From The Oven!
ON THANKSGIVING DAY
A 17 lb. HOT Roasted Turkey for 10-12 people with stuffing, gravy, mashed potatoes, butternut squash, rolls, cranberry bread, cranberry sauce & relish, apple and pumpkin pies.
Pick up on Thanksgiving Day 11-12 noon.
Gerard Farm
Ocean St. (Rte. 139)
Marshfield, MA 02050 • 781-834-7682
gerardfarmonline.com
$185 Cash only.
Please specify "Hot Dinner" when ordering.

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

• Installs over new or existing gutters
• Keeps you safe from falling
• Lifetime Warranty
The Gutter Experts: New Repair Replacement
$250 OFF LIMITED-TIME OFFER
FREE IN-HOME ESTIMATE
No Payments for One Year†
Code 121
Gutter Helmet
NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®
BBB
Call the Gutter Experts Today!
1-800-924-3563
www.GutterHelmetNE.com
*75 ft. Min. Call for more details. Offer valid at time of estimate only. Not valid with any other offers and/or promotions. † For qualified buyers. Financing provided by third party provider.

STOREWIDE SALE
1 WEEK ONLY
Oct. 29th-Nov 4th
HOURS: Mon.-Sat. 10-6; Sun. 12-5

Trestle Table ... Reg. $1,895 ... Now $795
Handpainted Bombe Chest of Drawers ... Reg. $1,095 ... Now $895
Scandinavian Chest of Drawers ... Reg. $795 ... Now $695
Simone Sofa ... Reg. $1,725 ... Now $1,300
Pyramid Bookcase ... Reg. $695 ... Now $495
Roosevelt Sideboard ... Reg. $465 ... Now $365
Morin Dining Chair ... Reg. $195 ... Now $135
Crosby Mirrored Cabinet ... Reg. $1,095 ... Now $795
Holly Sectional ... Reg. $1,990 ... Now $1,500
Iron & Marble Table Lamp ... Reg. $295 ... Now $195
White Corner Cabinet ... Reg. $1,225 ... Now $895
R.O. home
RESTORATIONS & ORIGINALS HOME STORE

11D Commerce Rd.
Rockland
781-871-1225
M-Sat. 10-6, Sun. 12-5

NOTRE DAME ACADEMY
Established in 1853

Young women finding their voices, with open minds and open hearts, centered in the love of God.
OPEN HOUSE
Thursday, November 8, 6:00 p.m. — 8:00 p.m.
1073 Main Street/Hingham, MA 02043
Phone: 781-749-5930/Fax: 781-740-1683
www.ndahingham.com

Dillon & Company
ENGLISH COUNTRY ANTIQUES

New shipment of English & French Antique Furniture just arrived
Plymouth (508) 747-2242 • Cohasset (781) 383-6880
www.DillonandCompany.com
Mon.-Sat. 11-5, Sun. 1-5

Professional DIRECTORY

ARCHITECTS
(pre-construction computer rendering)

If 3D digital imaging like this isn't part of your project's design...
...you're not getting the whole picture!
DUXBOROUGH DESIGNS
portfolio at duxboroughdesigns.com
Duxbury, MA ■ 781.934.7265

DESIGN SERVICES
window treatments · slipcovers · bedding & accoutrements
design consultation · installation
the personal touch
house dressing
exquisite workmanship · fine detail
Maryjane Sparks 781.659.4788

ELECTRICAL
Randall's Electrical Services
Interior/Exterior Lighting & Wiring
Design & Installation
Public, Commercial & Residential Projects
SERVING THE SOUTH SHORE EXPERTLY FOR OVER 30 YEARS
781-545-3799 ■ CELL 781-424-8845
MASTER'S LICENSE #A13632

PERSONAL TRAINER
Everybody's doing it and they've never looked and felt better!
Art Tagliaferri
• Certified Personal Trainer
• Lifestyle & Weight Mgt. Consultant
• Diet & Nutrition Specialist

I bring the Gym to You!
In the privacy of your own home I will:
• Design/conduct workout sessions to increase lean muscle mass & help combat osteoporosis
• Teach you how to eat the foods you love and still lose 1-2 pounds per week, and keep it off! No fad diets!
• Strengthen and tone your abdominals
• Help you to improve your cardiovascular system
• Give you the knowledge and confidence to eventually workout on your own, either at home or at a commercial gym
• Bring you all equipment needed for our workout sessions
FREE INITIAL CONSULTATION
Call Today: 617.842.0519
www.southshorefitnesstoyou.com

To Advertise in this Directory Call Brandi at 781-433-7946

SLEEPY'S® CELEBRATING OUR 50TH ANNIVERSARY

LAST THREE DAYS

1/2 PRICE†

Serta

PERFECT SLEEPER

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price.

Serta Twin 2 PC. SET $199.99 FIRM

Full 2pc. set $279.99

Queen 2pc. set $299.99

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price.

$399.99 Queen 2 PC. SET Perfect Sleeper *Firm

Twin	2pc. set	$299.99
Full	2pc. set	$379.99
King	3pc. set	$599.99

SLEEPY'S®
WILL BEAT ANYONE'S PRICE BY 20% OR IT'S FREE
Guaranteed
We will meet any price on any Stearns & Foster®, Internet, TrueForm®, Tempur-Pedic® or BodyDiagnostics® models *Applies to same or comparable mattresses prior to delivery. Excludes closeouts, special purchases, exchanges, floor samples, warranties, discontinued & one-of-a kind items. Must present competitor's current ad or invoice.

$599.99 Queen 2 PC. SET REG $1199.99 Perfect Sleeper *Plush

	OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$ 899.99	1/2 Price	$449.99
Full 2pc. set	$1099.99	1/2 Price	$549.99
King 3pc. set	$1499.99	1/2 Price	$ 749.99

$649.99 Queen 2 PC. SET REG $1299.99 Perfect Sleeper *Pillowtop

	OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$ 999.99	1/2 Price	$499.99
Full 2pc. set	$ 1199.99	1/2 Price	$599.99
King 3pc. set	$ 1599.99	1/2 Price	$799.99

†1/2 Price Sale applies to models listed in ad only. All models available for purchase and may not be on display. Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities - 1 per customer. Not responsible for typographical errors. Photos are for illustration purposes only.

Don't be fooled by fictitious advertising. If it doesn't say Perfect Sleeper® on the label, it's not the real thing!

UP TO 36 Months

0% Interest-Free Financing Until Nov. 2010 No Money Down

Subject to credit approval by GE Money Bank. Applies to purchases made on Sleepy's consumer credit card account. No finance charges will be assessed on promotional purchase amt. until 36th month ("promo period"). Fixed min. monthly payments equal to 1/36th of purchase amount are required during promo period in addition to any other required min. payment. 36 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $2999, 24 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $1999, 12 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $999. 6 mos. avail. on min. purchases of $300. No finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. if you pay this amt. in full by due date as shown on (6th)(12th) billing statement. If not, finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. from purchase date. Min. monthly payments required. If min. monthly payment is not paid when due, all special promotional terms may be terminated. Variable APR is 23.99% as of 4/04. Fixed APR of 24.75% applies if payment is more than 30 days past due. Min. finance charge is $1.

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!
Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window
Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays and store pick-ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester, CT, PA, DE, MA, RI - Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery fees apply.

SLEEPY'S®
The Mattress Professionals®

BROOKLINE 1385 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpk (Next to Burger King, ample pkg in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawaum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worchester Rd/Rt 9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Place, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 North (Just South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St, Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316

ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Nxt. To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 978-392-0838
STOUGHTON Lot #5 Technology Drive (Nr. Olive Garden) 781-344-0207

BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St. (Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyannough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com
Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC.
Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons

On the South Shore

See page 33

Lady Skippers luck

CHS girls soccer team set to open tourney vs. Blue Hills tomorrow

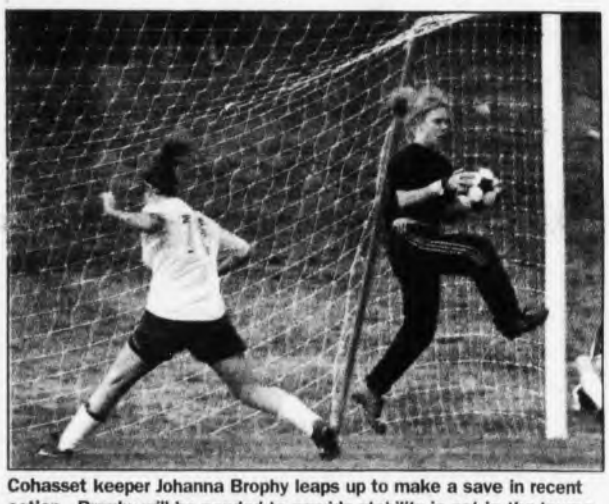
By Mike Spellman
MSPELLMAN@CNC.COM

Though Deb Beal won't say it, a lost coin flip on Tuesday night appears to have put her Cohasset girls soccer team in a preferential position.

Losing the 50-50 proposition for the number three seed in the Div. 3 south tourney dropped the Lady Skippers to the number four slotting and placed them on the right side of the bracket, away from perceived postseason monsters Sacred Heart (18-0), Ashland and long time arch-nemesis Norwell.

"We've got some good teams on our side of the bracket too, but there are a few teams on the other side I really didn't want to see early on," said Beal, in her 10th season at the helm of the Lady Skippers program.

At the time of this writing, it appeared the Lady Skippers (14-3-2) would be opening postseason play at home against Blue Hills. A second home game on Monday would be the prize for a victory here, with the winner of South Shore Christian vs. Ursuline coming to town.



"The girls are excited and so am I," said Beal. "I feel like this is the best team I've ever coached, and we definitely seem to be playing good, hungry soccer going into the tourney."

A stunning 1-1 tie with Mashpee last Tuesday cost the Cohasset girls a shot at their first South Shore League title of Beal's tenure. Looking back a week removed from that crusher, however, Beal feels that was a necessary, albeit excruciating, wakeup call.

"Considering how we're playing now, that tie might have been the best thing that could have happened to us," said Beal. "The girls definitely are playing with more aggressiveness right now, and we're looking good."

Indeed.

The Lady Skippers closed their season by besting a pair of state tourney bound teams from the larger school Patriot League. They topped PL title contender Scituate (12-5) last Friday, then also beat Hanover by a two-goal margin, 4-2, to cap the regular season on Monday.

Cohasset keeper Johanna Brophy leaps up to make a save in recent action. Brophy will be needed to provide stability in net in the tournament.

Skippers 3, Scituate 1

Goals by juniors Christine Coner and Sammi Lehr, as well as frosh phenom Kaci Kucinski helped the visiting Skippers to their first victory over neighboring town rival Scituate of Beal's tenure.

"This was a tremendous victory," gushed Beal, a Scituate native. "At first we didn't even think we'd play the game (because of a scheduling conflict), but then we worked things out and the girls played a phenomenal game from top to bottom."

Skippers 4, Hanover 2

The Skippers lost leads of 1-0 and 2-1, and were forced to go into the half tied at 2-2. Red-hot junior midfielder Sarah Coggins scored her second goal of the game a few minutes after the respite, though, to break the tie for good.

Kaci Kucinski scored her team-best 18th goal of the season a short while later, enabling the Lady Skippers to breathe easily down the stretch.

"Kaci and Torey Hart are working better and better off each other," Beal said of Kucinski's teaming up front with star junior midfielder Torey Hart (9 goals, team-best 12 assists). "They're both such talented players, and their feel for where the other is going to be just keeps getting better and better. They're fun to watch together."

Sophomore Christine Coner, moved recently from striker to outside halfback, continued her torrid play, scoring Cohasset's second goal.

"Christine is looking real comfortable with the ball since we made that move," said Beal. "She can really run, and she knows just where everyone should be at the offensive end from her time at striker."

Looking ahead

The Lady Skippers head into the postseason as healthy as they've been in some time. Senior Meg Anderson, a returning starter who went down early on with mononucleosis, got back into action this past week, and has looked strong in the last few practices, according to Beal.

The only other senior on the team, fullback Anna Hagerty, continues to provide strong play opposite fast-improving sophomore fullback Meredith Kelly.

"Meredith is really starting to peak," appraised Beal. "She's playing as hard as a kid can play. She's become a real asset to the program, and it's exciting to think that she's still got two more years with us after this one."

Practice makes perfect

Beal has been pleased in general with the tenor of practices leading up to the tourney opener.

"We're just concentrating on reenforcing the things that got us here," noted the veteran coach. "It's not like we need to learn anything new at this stage. The girls have been going hard. We're doing a lot of running. We've got a good balance going right now."

Nothing artificial about this offer

Should the Lady Skippers win their two home games, every game after that would be played on a neutral site artificial turf field.

If it gets to that point, Scituate High Athletic Director Rick Cash has assured Beal he'll find a way to get the CHS girls some practice time on his turf pitch.

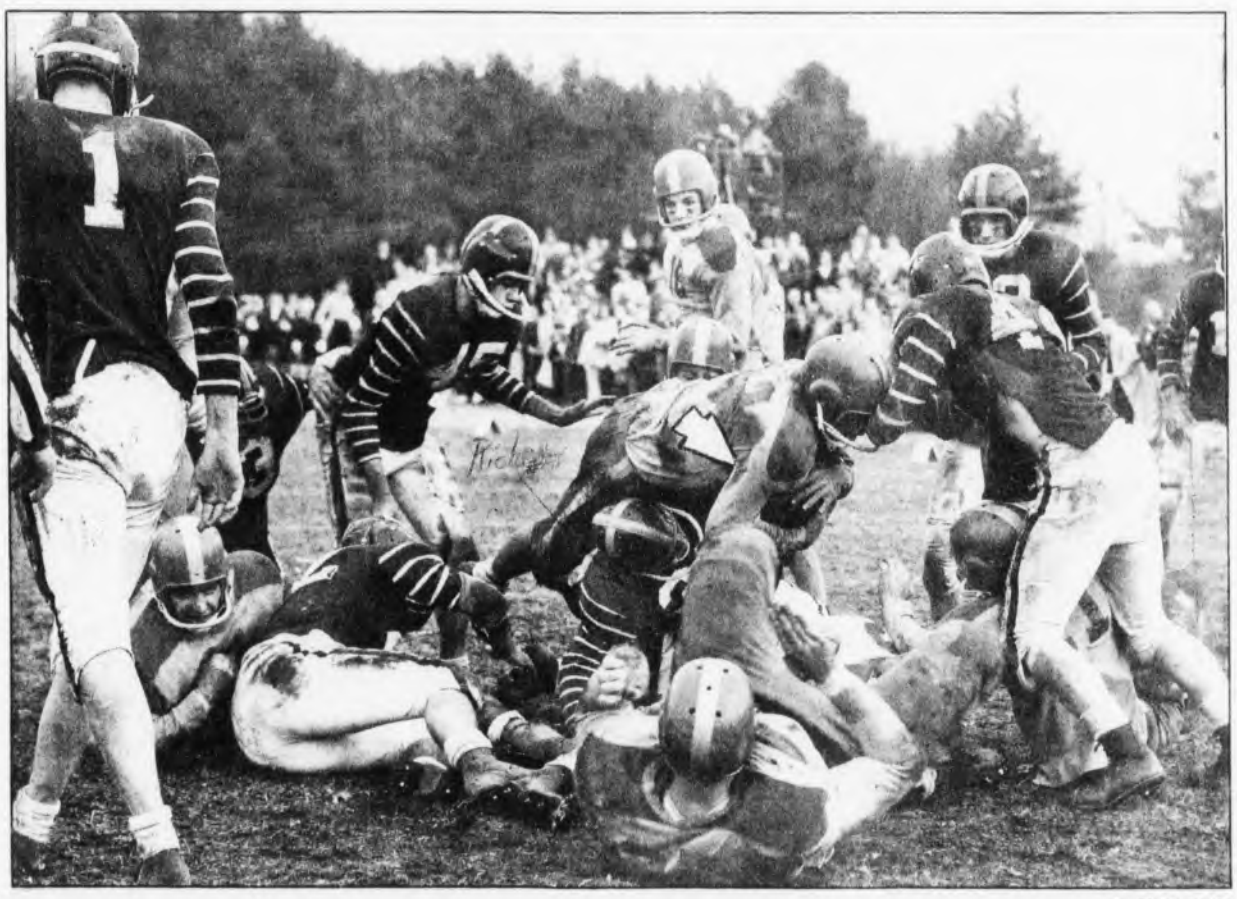
Hey now, I'm an All-Star

If you think this year's Lady Skippers team is good, just wait until next season.

Six Lady Skippers were named this week to the South Shore League all-star team, five juniors and one freshman.

The juniors voted in by league coaches were keeper Johanna Brophy, sweeper Sammi Lehr, stopper Maggy McGoldrick, defensive center-midfielder Sarah Coggins and offensive center mid-fielder Torey Hart (nine goals, 12 assists)

"Obviously, the strength of our team is up the middle," noted Beal.



The sixth member of the SSL all-elite team is freshman striker Kaci Kuscinski, who led the league in scoring in her rookie campaign with 18 goals and eight assists.

"You don't see too many freshman being named league all-stars, but leading the league in scoring carries a little weight," deadpanned Beal.

STAFF PHOTOS/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Sammi Lehr (20) goes up and tries to prevent Norwell's Krista Prouty (20) from getting the ball. Lehr leads a young and talented Skippers team into the tournament.

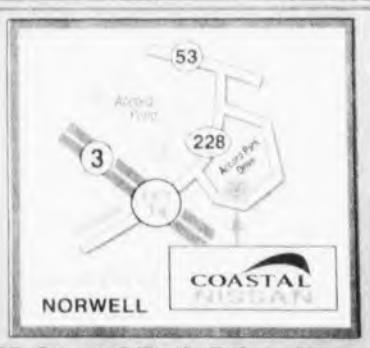
COURTESY PHOTO

Cohasset players make a gang tackle against Hanover during the 1957 season. The Skippers finished the season 9-0 and will be honored Friday, November 7, against Abington. Game time and festivities start at 7 p.m.

Undefeated and unforgettable

Former Skippers reminisce for 50th anniversary

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM



In the hub of Cohasset history, the freshman and the senior sit at one end of a table long enough to hold a 20-person dinner party, and talk about a Cohasset High School football game from 50 years ago like it took place last Friday night. A gaggle of historical non-fiction is spread in front of them and piece by piece they begin to put it together, making sense of the archived pictures, sports cartoons and stories, about a team that made a splash on its small coastal community so long ago.

It is the story of the undefeated 1957 Cohasset High School football team and they will be honored this Friday night during halftime of the Abington game. Not all of the members from the team will be in attendance for the 50th anniversary, but many will make either the long or short trek to Alumni Field, the place of their namesake.

Jim "Whitey" Campbell was a senior on the '57 team. Rich Silvia, the proprietor of the old Quincy Ledgers, was a freshman. The difference between the two is Campbell, unlike his younger teammate at the time, had to endure years of losing and frustration before that magical year when the stars aligned and coach Evie Dorr managed to create an atmosphere of winning.

"We used to get beat up all the time and we would lose some games by embarrassing scores when we were freshman and sophomores," said Campbell, who played tight end and linebacker. "But it slowly turned and we realized with hard work, good coaching and continued practice it came together. It's an axiom, nothing new there we didn't need a Vince Lombardi to teach us that, we had coach Dorr."

SEE 1957, PAGE 21

ASK THE NISSAN GUYS
COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com
Winter Wiper Blade Special
Buy 1 Get 1 Free
Nissan vehicles only. Expires Nov. 30, 2007
We want to service your Nissan regardless of where you bought it.
The Nissan Guys - Richard Walker and Tom Norton
NISSAN

109 Accord Park Drive, Norwell
(Exit 14 off Route 3)
800-562-9993

Boys secure spot in tournament

Finish the regular season on a high note

By Eric MacCarthy
CORRESPONDENT

Cohasset varsity soccer finished up its season strong with wins against Rockland, 2-1, and a shutout against South Shore League opponent Hull, 5-0.

Despite finishing 5th in the league at 8-6-4 with a 5-5-5, league record, Cohasset's victory over Rockland gave them a spot in this year's state tournament. A total of five South Shore League teams clinched spots in the tournament. The seeding's for the tournament come out this week and it's possible that Cohasset will play a preliminary game this weekend.

"I'm just excited to start it," said coach Jim Willis. "We're going to practice hard this week and see how it goes this weekend."

In an equally special night for two captains of Cohasset, the team easily defeat rival Hull Tuesday night. Seniors Mike Grimm and Sam Roth were both elected and named to the South Shore League All-Star team.

Both Grimm and Roth also scored in the game against the Pirates, Roth twice. Roth's two goals tied him for third in the league for scoring. Grimm's goal gave him a total of eight for the season. Junior Ivan Scerey also had a great game with two goals, which gave him a total of eight goals for the season as well.

Although Cohasset doesn't know who they will be playing, or even when they will be playing, Willis is confident that his team is ready to play no matter. Cohasset tied league opponent East Bridgewater a couple weeks ago, a team that finished one point out of first, and in doing so, knocked them out of the running for a tie in first place with Carver.

"We can play with anybody if we show up on the right day, at the right place, at the right time," said Willis of the upcoming tourney game.

If Cohasset does not have to play a preliminary game, then they will most likely play a higher seeded team and these Skippers will have to show up if they hope to win.

Willis also commented on the difference between a tournament game and a regular season game saying, "a team can't hope to win by scoring a lot of goals, you have to be able to rely on defense, wait for the opportunities, and take them, your playing against good teams."

A good thing for this Cohasset team is the depth from upperclassmen to underclassmen. As he has done all year, Willis reiterated how much the young guys have stepped it up, and how well his senior core is playing. They will hope to keep it going in the playoffs.

More than 70 area youth attend clinic

Josh Davis, Aaron Peirsol Highlight "Incredible Experience"

By Ed Carpenter
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

More than 70 area youth swimmers ages 8 to 18 were on hand Saturday (October 27) at the Weymouth Club as Olympic Gold Medal swimmers Josh Davis and Aaron Peirsol conducted the Mutual of Omaha Break*out!* Swim Clinic.

"It was an incredible experience," said Mike Riley, head coach of the Weymouth Waves, which swims out of the Weymouth Club.

"Everyone benefited from it, the parents, the (Waves) coaches, and most importantly, the swimmers," continued Riley, who engineered the Clinic.

"It was better than I had expected," said Riley. "Both Josh and Aaron brought their Gold Medals, and you should have seen the kids as they saw the medals and touched them. It is an amazing what an Olympic Gold Medal means.

"This is the first time we have brought (swimming) Olympians to the Weymouth Club," concluded Riley. "Not only that but Aaron is the fastest (backstroke) swimmer on the planet right now."

While the 2008 Olympic Trials aren't scheduled until next summer, Peirsol, who currently holds the world record in the 100-meter backstroke, is a favorite to represent the United States at the Beijing (China) Games next year. This would be his third Olympiad as he also competed in 2000 and 2004.

At his first Olympics in 2000, he took home a Silver Medal in the 200-meter backstroke. At his second Olympics in 2004, he took home the Gold Medal in the 100-, 200-meter backstroke becoming just the fifth male to sweep the backstroke races. In addition, he was on the Gold Medal-winning 400-meter medley relay.

Recently at the 2007 World Championships, he earned a Silver Medal in the 200-meter backstroke and set a new world record in the 100-meter backstroke, adding another international Gold Medal to his collection.

Davis began his Olympic experiences in 1996. There, he was the only man from any nation to win three Gold Medals in one sport as he was on the winning U.S. 400- and 800-meter freestyle and 400-meter medley relays.

He made his second Olympic appearance in the 2000 Games in Sydney, Australia where he was elected captain of the USA men's swim team and took home Silver Medals in the 400- and 800-meter relays. He went on to break the American record three times in the 200-meter freestyle.

After two Olympics and five medals, Davis has established himself as an ambassador for the sport of swimming and is pioneering the road for the next generation of professional swimmers.

The Clinic was a unique experience developed by Davis, in conjunction with Mutual of Omaha, to inspire and motivate a new generation of swim stars. As an official sponsor of USA Swimming, Mutual of Omaha actively supports the sport on all levels, from local clubs across the country to the National Team.

PHOTO/ED CARPENTER

Cohasset's Emma Humphrey high fives Olympic Gold Medalist Josh Davis after she completed a lap.

Sports Notes

The Cohasset Gridiron Club

The Cohasset Gridiron Club is proud to welcome back to Cohasset High School members and their families of the 1957 undefeated football team who are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their perfect season.

The event takes place Friday night, November 2, when the current Cohasset Skippers take on South Shore League rival, Abington. Kickoff is 7 p.m., preceded by the traditional honoring of this year's Senior Class players and parents.

Come out and support the 2007 team and honor the 1957 team and enjoy some great football action and tradition under the Friday night lights!"

Cohasset Travel Basketball winter 07-08

Tryouts for Cohasset Travel Basketball for boys and girls in grades 5-8 will take place Monday, Oct 29, and Tuesday, Oct 30.

The girls grade 5 and 6 will tryout at the Osgood School from 5:30-7 p.m., Grade 7 will be from 7-8 p.m. and Grade 8 will be from 8-9 p.m. All girls interested in trying out please email Mr. Fredey at sfredey@aol.com put "Travel Basketball" in the subject line and just give him your name and grade.

The boys will tryout at the Deer Hill School. Grade 5 from 5:30-6:30 p.m., grade 6 from 6:30-7:30 p.m., grade 7 from 7:30-8:30 p.m. and grade 8 from 8:30-9 p.m.. All boys interested in trying out please email Mr. Haggerty at chaggerty22@yahoo.com. Put "Travel Basketball" in the subject line and just give him your name and grade.

Turkey shoot is November 18

A fun family afternoon is planned at the Scituate Rod & Gun Club off Route 3A (near the Cohasset line) Sunday, Nov. 18, from noon to 4 p.m.

Turkeys will be awarded for winners of different events including skeet shooting and archery.

Everyone is invited!

383-6550 GOOD SPORT SPORTING GOODS Rte. 3A Cohasset
Basketball Shoes Are In!

Start Your Search With Trust

BBB ACCREDITED BUSINESS

Lots of companies say they are trustworthy. Those with the Better Business Bureau Seal have proven it. So next time you look for a business, find one you can trust. Start at bbb.org.

Start at bbb.org

AUTO GLASS REPLACEMENT & REPAIR
Elite Auto Glass, Inc.
Free Mobile Service
Certified Installers
Specializes in Shower Glass Door Replacement
Serving MA
Weymouth
(781) 380-4020
Established: 2004
www.eliteautoglassinc.com

COUNTER TOP SALES
Planet Granite, Inc.
Come See Our New Location
145 Webster St. Unit K
Hanover
(866) 703-TOPS (8677)
Established: 2002
www.planetgraniteofmass.com planetgraniteofmass@verizon.net

PHOTOGRAPHERS
Photography by Michelson, Inc.
Specializing in Wedding Photography & Video Packages
Serving the South Shore for Over 30 Years
Braintree
(781) 848-8870
Established: 1974
www.pbmphoto.comweddingindex.htm

AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION SERVICES
Veterans Livery, Inc.
Airport Transportation and Limousine Service
Weymouth Town Taxi
Braintree Blue Cab
Taxi Service
Serving the South Shore
(781) 843-6000
888-Logan98
Established: 1991
www.vipcoach.com

BUILDING REPAIR SPECIALISTS: STRUCTURAL
Beam & Structural Repair Co., Inc.
Damaged Posts, Beams, Termite Damage & Barns Repaired.
Buildings Jacked & Leveled.
Save that Barn!
Whitman
781-447-7324
Established: 1975
www.BeamStructuralRepair.com
custsvc@BeamStructuralRepair.com

DRIVEWAYS
McDonough Paving
Driveways, Sidewalks, Parking Lots, Tennis Courts & Sealcoating Specialists
Residential & Commercial
Serving the South Shore
(781) 837-4411
Established: 1988

STEEL BUILDING CONTRACTORS
Barnes Buildings and Management Group, Inc.
Supplier & Installer of Pre-Engineered Steel Buildings,Metal Roofs & Metal Wall Systems
Serving New England
(781) 337-5277
Established: 1996
www.barnesbuildings.com
sales@barnesbuildings.com

AUTO BODY REPAIR & PAINTING
Bay State Collision Center, Inc.
Porsche & Audi Specialist
Auto Body Repairing and Painting
Collision Repair Professionals
Braintree
(781) 848-4607
Established 1993

CONTRACTORS - GENERAL
FitzGerald Design Build, Inc.
Residential Remodeling Specialists
Serving the South Shore
(781) 871-9714
Established: 1981
www.fitzgeraldcontracting.com mail@FitzgeraldContracting.com
HIC Reg. # 141447

FOUNDATION CONTRACTORS
The Crack Team
Foundation Repair Specialists
Mr. Happy Crack Says,/
A Dry Crack is a Happy Crack
Serving the South Shore, Boston and Cape Cod
(781) 843-0339
Established: 1985
www.thecrackteam.com
jmccarthy@thecrackteam.com

INSURANCE - HOMEOWNER AND AUTO
David B. Richardson Insurance Agency, Inc.
We will take the time to explain your coverage so that you can make the right decision.
Serving Hanover and Surrounding Towns
(781) 826-5161
Established: 1931
www.dbrichardson.com
mail@dbrichardson.com

Tips from your BBB
> Keep all receipts and compare them to your bills.
> Never give out personal information when you don't know who you are dealing with.
> Give, but give wisely to charities.

Better Business Bureau
235 West Central Street, Natick, MA 01760-3767 | 508-652-4800 | bbb.org | info@bosbbb.org
With more than 400,000 Accredited Businesses and 128 offices in North America, BBB is the largest Accredited Business supported public service organization in the world. The is only a partial list of our Accredited Businesses. We encourage you to check out a business before making a buying decision at bbb.org. As a matter of policy, BBB does not endorse any product, service or business.

Former Skippers reminisce for 50th anniversary

FROM 1957, PAGE 19

The years prior to '57 could be classified as disappointing.

Cohasset could barely field a team, and when Silvia's older brother, Reggie, went down to play Nantucket some years before his arrival at the school, they had to play with nine, so too did the Whalers. As the years passed and the team got slowly better, the numbers that came out to play continued to grow. After a slew of talented players came and went without much of a supporting cast, the '57 team finally put a roster around its top names.

"It's hard for kids to be on a losing team, people would feel so bad for them," Silvia said. "They would put 15 kids out there and some weighed 110 pounds, and these busloads of kids from Bridgewater would just beat the hell out of them."

Greg Koval, a star running back on the team, could attest to the beatings.

"My freshman year we had something like 13 players and I was getting my teeth knocked in," he said from his home in Tennessee. "I had to take my knocks, we had some tough seasons but as the years progressed seeing it culminate was just phenomenal. It was the reward for all the broken bones, bumps and bruises."

♣♣♣

The Skippers realization that excellence might be in their sights came during a pre-season jamboree in which they scored 20 points in 15 minutes against vaunted Foxboro.

"Foxboro came out with 30 players or so then they announced Cohasset and I could here the snickers," Silvia said. "People thought it was a mistake even having us there, but we just kept coming out, there was 55 guys all with brand new uniforms. All you could play was one quarter and we blew them apart."

Coach Dorr and assistants Pat Donahue and Frank Giuliano didn't want the Skippers' heads to swell with the impressive preseason showing, but the players knew they were good.

"I thought, 'you know, we might have something here'," said Nat Towle, now living outside Detroit, Michigan. Towle was a center on both sides of the ball during the '57 season and agreed that the jamboree was the clear starting point to the unbeaten campaign.

"My freshman year we had something like 13 players and I was getting my teeth knocked in. I had to take my knocks, we had some tough seasons but as the years progressed seeing it culminate was just phenomenal. It was the reward for all the broken bones, bumps and bruises."
Greg Koval

"The coaches tried to down play it but we knew we had (a good team)."

Heading into week five the Skippers were 4-0 and cruising along as they prepared to face Mario Moriello's Canton team. The Bulldogs struggled but were a much bigger school. Cohasset scheduled Canton to get some payback against Moriello, who coached at Hopkinton the previous two seasons before heading to Canton. Moriello and the Skippers assistants, Donahue and Giuliano, were teammates at Boston University, adding to the rivalry. While in Hopkinton, Moriello defeated the Skippers 32-0 (piling on the points according to Silvia, who was still in junior high and watching from the sidelines) and 7-6 in consecutive years.

The Skippers dominated this game, however, beating the Bulldogs 46-13 and totaling 520 total yards on offense.

They got their revenge and at 5-0 were well on their way to a May Shore League Championship and an undefeated season.

♣♣♣

Walter Francis Sweeney was a junior running back on the '57 team. Along with Koval and Eddie Figueiredo, the Skippers backfield was their undeniable strength. Sweeney went to play football at Syracuse University where he made the school's All Century Team. After a successful college career, the National Football League's Cleveland Browns and the American Football League's San Diego Chargers drafted Sweeney. He went on to help the Chargers win the AFL Championship, and made nine consecutive all-star or Pro Bowl teams playing offensive line.

Capt. Robert Scobie, USCG (Ret.), was a freshman on the '57 team who earned a junior varsity letter that year and three subsequent varsity letters until he graduated. A neighbor of Towle on Border Street, Scobie saw very little varsity action during his freshman year.

"I was certainly a bystander in a lot of that excitement," Scobie said from his home on Merritt Island, Florida. "I was 5-foot, 4-inches at the time, Walt Sweeney, Greg Koval, Wally McLarey were just huge as far as I was concerned."

In the "Whose who in football in 1957," it said Scobie "weighed 116 pounds with an anvil in each hand."

"I remember one drill where you match up with somebody and run a 40-yard dash and the loser has to do a lap," said Scobie. "I look over and there is Walt Sweeney next to me, my steps were two and a half feet, his were two and a half yards — he was over the horizon before I even started."

♣♣♣

Evie Dorr had played football at Boston University only to be swept up by WWII like so many other boys his age. While in combat on Iwo Jima he injured his leg. By the time he got back to Boston, the former running back was determined to continue his football career, despite the injury.

He got creative. Dorr won the Swede Nelson Trophy in 1947 becoming one of the nation's best kickers.

The Gridiron Club of Greater Boston hands out the award annually. Other past winners include Doak Walker, Dick Jauron, Tom Waddle, Jay Fiedler and Matt Hasselback.

Dorr was loved by his charges long before they reached the high school ranks. He became a fixture around town and a father figure for many of the players who lost theirs to the war. His wife Frances also took care of the boys and kept up with them long after they left Cohasset.

"Evie Dorr, he was our father, he was a father to all of us," said Silvia.

Dorr was the physical education teacher from the high school down to kindergarten, so he was well known by almost all of the town's kids.

"When I was in the third grade I was a water boy," said Silvia. "I lived near the field and Dorr had me from that time on. I went to every game and every practice until I graduated."

In fact, Dorr got more than he bargained for with Silvia. Silvia's older brother Reggie was a senior when he was in eighth grade. Determined to either cause a raucous or, otherwise get the only chance to play with his older brother, the youngest Silvia made a bold attempt to infiltrate the Archbishop Williams game.

"I was bigger than most of the other kids on the team at the time and I wanted to play in the game," Silvia said slyly smiling. "I had just done my junior high practice and I saw a varsity uniform and put on the shirt. We were doing pretty well and my brother is on the field playing and the coach was starting to send players in, so I walked up next to him and he put his arm around me and he sent me in."

Once Dorr realized the opportunistic eighth grader was in the game he was forced to call a timeout. Silvia got his one play with big brother Reggie.

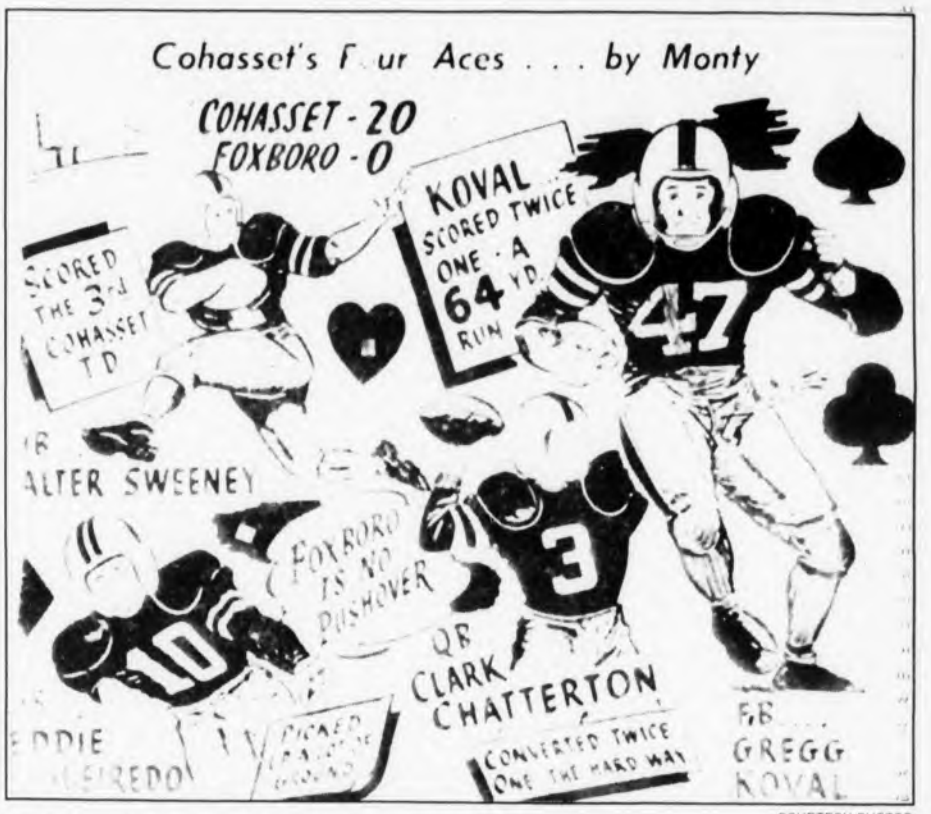
"Evie called time out and I wouldn't come out," Silvia said laughing. "My brother, he didn't pay too much attention to it."

♣♣♣

"We had a joke, we would say that their average IQ was higher than their average weights," said former assistant coach Frank Giuliano.

Giuliano came to Cohasset in the fall of 1957 after coaching the US Army 7th Corps Jayhawks for one season. He went on to be a principal and an administrator in the Cohasset school system for more than two decades.

"They were a very bright team," Giuliano said. "I had about three-fourths of the kids in trigonometry during the first period and then again for calculus in the last period. They made very few mistakes on the football field, once we told them about the center of gravity that is where they hit (the opponent)."



Cohasset hit its center of gravity by beating Hull, 19-0, Thanksgiving 1957, to finish a perfect 9-0. Clark Chatterton played heady ball at quarterback like he always did. Towle and McLarey held the Pirates' running attack in check, while Campbell picked off three passes.

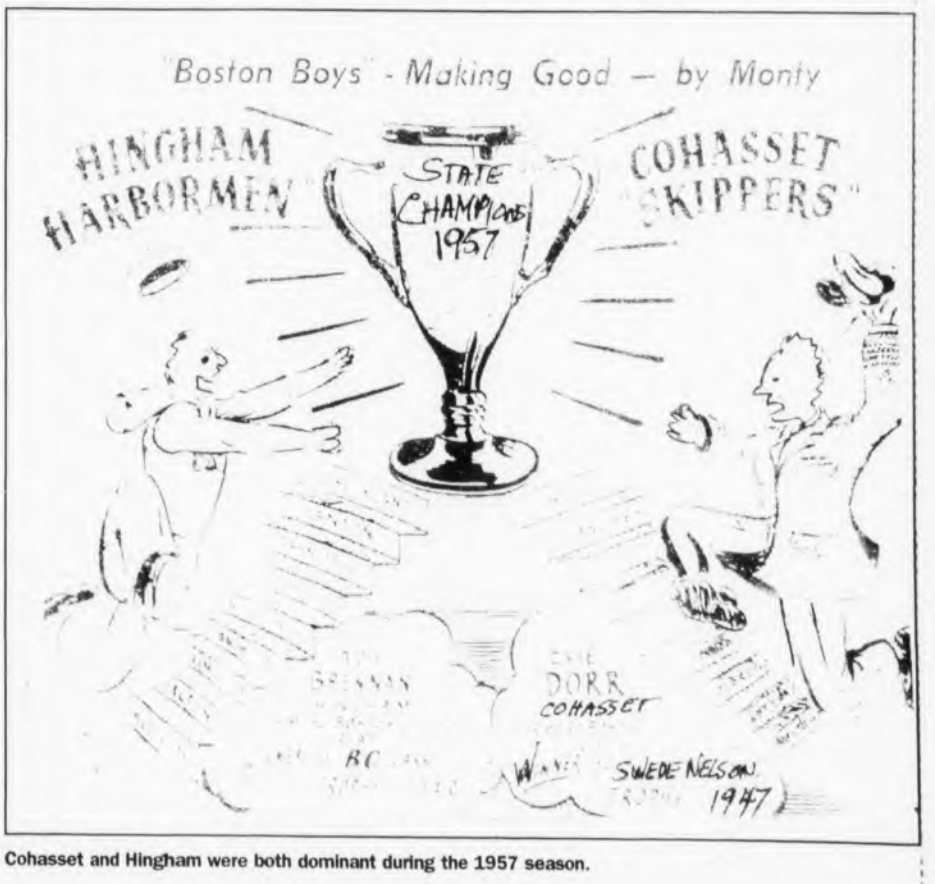
Figueiredo (who is a lobsterman in town) recovered a fumble that led to a Sweeney touchdown. Koval and Allan Ingram added scores and the season was over.

"It just ended for us that year which was disappointing, we wanted to just keep playing," said Campbell, who went on to marry his high school sweetheart and co-captain of the 1957 cheerleading team, Elinor Tower. "It was a brotherhood, everybody looked out for everybody on that team."

Fifty years later the memories are just as vivid, rich, enjoyable and humorous for so many of the players from that team. Many still live in the area, including Giuliano, Donahue, Sweeney, McLarey, Ingram, Roger Pompeo, Dick Conant, Peter Barnier, Bill Connelly, Phil Tumey, Keith Megathlin, Richard Pope, Frank Carey, Bobby Tilden and Ray Vanderweil.

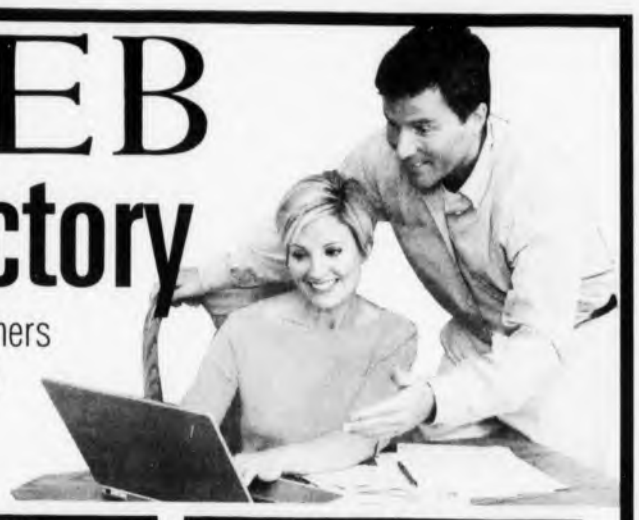
"Sports and activities builds a feeling amongst the active members, it bonds them together," Giuliano said from his home in Milton Tuesday night. "Whether it's the band, the school newspaper or the football team, the kids grow and learn and build character. These guys went on to become important, strong citizens and it makes you feel good to see that."

COURTESY PHOTOS



The jamboree domination is depicted via a sports cartoon circa 1957.

Front, from the left; Dick Conant, Allan Ingram, Bruce Williams, Nat Towle, Frank Carey, Wally McLarey, and Jim Campbell. Back row; Clark Chatterton, Ed Figueiredo, coach Evie Dorr, Walter Sweeney and Greg Koval.



Rich Silvia during his senior year at Cohasset. Silvia was a freshman on the '57 team.

Cohasset and Hingham were both dominant during the 1957 season.

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO DEALERS
Haddon Lincoln Mercury
www.haddoncars.com
Hanson Automotive Inc.
www.hansonautomotiveinc.com
Jannell Ford
www.jannellford.com
Randolph Chrysler Jeep
www.randolphjeepchrysler.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CATERING
Salsa's - The Sausage Guy
www.sausageguy.com

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.com

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

LIMOUSINE SERVICE
JB Livery
www.JBLivery.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRESCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

Skippers senior night

Friday night, November 2, will be senior night for the Cohasset High School football team. Ceremonies for the players will go off sometime before game time so get there early. The gridiron club will honor the undefeated 1957 Skippers as well.

Cohasset is 5-2 overall coming of its bye-week and looks to get on track against Abington, the top team in the South Shore League.

Asked what his team needs to do to get back to its winning ways after two straight losses, head coach Pete Afanasiw simply said, "win."

Players to be honored for their last home game as members of the Cohasset High School football team include; Sam DeGiacomo (C), PJ McCaw, David Snowdale, Pat Doonan, Kenny Muir, Mark Flibotte, Kyle Pinkus (C), Cliff Musto, Tyler Kelly, Stephen Hurlbut, Jake Cuneo (C) and Jordan Sargent.

The honoring of the undefeated 1957 team will include the return of many former players to watch this highly anticipated game. Cohasset hopes to rebound and still has an outside shot at a South Shore League title of they win Friday.

"We have a couple of tough games but there is a lot of football left to be played," said Afanasiw. "They need to finish what they started with as much pride and commitment as they can."

Cohasset finishes the season with two monster SSL games against Norwell, Friday November 9, at 7 p.m. and Thanksgiving at Hull. Game time will be 10 a.m.

See next week's Mariner for full coverage of Friday's game.

STAFF PHOTO/MARK GARDNER

Cohasset quarterback David Snowdale rolls out. The Skippers are 5-2 heading into Friday's game with undefeated Abington.

COURTESY PHOTO

Cohasset earned the 7th seed in the Div. 2 South Sectional tournament and will host Seekonk, Friday, November 2 at 3 p.m. See next week's Mariner for full coverage.

E-mail your sports news to jracicot@cnc.com

What page are you on?

Open yourself to Fontbonne Academy and see what a difference a Fontbonne education can make. Visit our 15-acre campus in Milton and explore our state-of-the-art science wing, language and computer labs, and our wellness center. Learn from the experts, the students themselves, as you tour their vibrant learning environment. Hear from current students engaged in some of our 24 activities and 17 sports. Find your next chapter by joining us at our upcoming open house.

Fontbonne Academy is an all-girls college preparatory Catholic school which attracts students from 50+ communities, many religious denominations, and international students from Asia and Europe.

FONTBONNE ACADEMY

930 Brook Road Milton, MA 02186 617.615.3014

FIRST OFFER

TODAY THROUGH SUNDAY
TAKE AN

EXTRA 40% OFF*

ALMOST ALL PERMANENTLY REDUCED FALL SELECTIONS IN WOMEN'S, MEN'S, KIDS', FASHION ACCESSORIES AND HANDBAGS FOR A TOTAL SAVINGS OF 55%–75% OFF ORIGINAL PRICES.

ALSO SAVE ON BLOOMINGDALES.COM†

bloomingdale's

*Certain designer and brand exclusions apply. See a sales associate for details. Excludes Women's Shoes. †Prices, savings and selection may differ on Bloomingdales.com. Kids' items not available at Soho, Beverly Center, Newport Beach and Chevy Chase. Reg./Orig. prices reflect offering prices. Savings may not be based on actual sales. Intermediate markdowns may have been taken. Savings off original and already reduced prices. Some items may be included in sales already in progress or in future sales. No adjustments to prior purchases. Bloomingdale's is not responsible for typographical or pictorial errors. Sale ends November 4, 2007.

SPECIAL HOURS: OPEN THIS FRIDAY 10-10 AND SATURDAY 9-10

SCHOOLS

'Fall makes a person feel good'

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

Maybes it's due to an overdose of family movie specials or the prospect of Winter Vacation just two months away.

"Good Times Never Seemed to Be So Good!" Wise words Neil.

Good weather, good sports games, good times trick or treating! Putting aside the stress of research papers or college apps, it is safe to say that this October has been a pleasant time as we welcome the train, appreciate the greatness that is the Red Sox, and cheer on our successful CHS athletes. There is just something about Fall that makes a person feel good. Maybes it's due to an overdose of family movie specials or the prospect of Winter Vacation just two months away. But in truth, so far this Autumn has not been marked by serious "disaster" (with the exception of a small Staph outbreak) meaning, it is definitely time to embrace the good times and put any tension aside whether it be between seniors and the administration or between fellow classmates.

On a totally different note, it is important to thank the Red Sox. If it hadn't been for their awesome sweep in the World Series many kids would have been forced to spend another dull day in school on. Just kidding…but I understand that an epidemic of the 24-hour flu hit Cohasset schools on Tuesday. Nothing gets the heart pumping faster then a celebration for the Sox! Times like these make one remember why Boston is such a great place to call home. In a city with so much pride and passion it is hard to not embrace the culture. Plus, who else can say that their city has a soundtrack: Dropkick Murphys anyone?

So, in the spirit of Red Sox Nation let's show our support for the girl's varsity soccer and field hockey teams who will be facing off in their first tournament game…. let's hope there's a second! Bring out the blue and white, it's time to finally show some CHS sports pride for teams other than the obvious (but still well deserving) ones. Rest assured, both games will be packed with intensity and entertainment. Put any stereotypes or laziness aside and go watch as these girls take names and kick butt in tournament!

Now for the run down of the week!

- Monday, Oct. 29: The Sox returned from their victorious stint in Colorado where they beat the Rockies!
- Tuesday, Oct. 30: Ms. Hoskins jazz band played at the grand opening of the train.
- Wednesday, Oct. 31: Trick or treat, it was Halloween on Wednesday!
- Thursday, Nov. 1: THIS FIRST OF A NEW MONTH!
- Friday, Nov. 2: Field hockey girls compete in their first tournament game against SeeKonk at the Deer Hill at 3 p.m.

Christine Kent is a senior at CHS. Her column appears weekly in the Mariner..

Don't miss the Osgood Book Fair!

The Joseph Osgood School Parent School Organization, PSO, will host a Book Fair fundraiser, from 2 to 7 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 7, at Osgood.

This year, the Joseph Osgood School PSO will introduce a new and different book fair, "Bookfairs by Bookends." This dynamic company has been hosting books-only book fairs that are packed with a premier selection of books from over forty different publishers. There will be thousands of quality books with titles that you and your children will be excited to read. Lively picture books, captivating beginning readers, enchanting chapter books, and timeless classics and award winners will be among fact-packed science and reference books, popular adult titles and perfect gift books.

Attendees can also help the school build classroom libraries and the school library by purchasing books for teachers through the Classroom Wish List.

The PSO is a non-profit organization whose role is to act as an advocate for public education and serve as the official link between parents and schools. The PSO voices parental responses to school issues, and provides forums for administrators, teachers, and students to present their programs and policies to the public. Through fundraising efforts, like the upcoming Book Fair, the PSO provides programs and activities that enrich the school experience for students, teachers, and parents. Families, teachers, and all members of the community are invited to attend the fair and discover the magic of reading.

Apple Project meeting

All are welcome to attend the upcoming meeting, which is an overview of the A.P.P.L.E. Project, on Tuesday (Nov. 6) at 7:30 p.m. at the Osgood School library.

On Oct. 18-20, the Cohasset School District had the unique experience to be involved with the A.P.P.L.E. Institute — Advancing Parent-Professional Leadership in Education. A total of five Massachusetts towns participated. Five Cohasset parents came together with their school districts SPED Director to learn more about ways to improve communication and collaboration between parents of children receiving special education services and their school system.

The meeting starts promptly at 7:30 p.m. All workshops and presentations are free; the meeting is sponsored by the PSO/PAC.

SOUTH SHORE PAC Network promotes communication, combines workshops and establishes a broader network. The South Shore PAC Network hopes to meets informally throughout the year. If you would like to be added to the e-mail network for updates forward your contact information to: southshorepac@comcast.net

Volunteers from left, Marie Dunkleborger, Marcella Hoehn, Jen Havlicek, Jen Gallagher and Bill Babner.

Scaring up some fun!

Halloween came early on Cohasset Town Common this week. The South Shore Community Center Nursery School held its annual Halloween Fair on Sunday. Janice Batts, everyone's favorite witch, began the event leading the children in a costume parade around the duck pond.

The fair was a tremendous success due to the efforts of SSCC parent volunteers. The SSCC thanks Kelli Gildea and Sara Fox for chairing this event.

Proceeds from the Halloween Fair benefit the Nardo Scholarship Fund and enrichment activities for the nursery school families.

South Shore Community Center Nursery School students, Emma and Sean Thornton, at Sunday's Halloween Fair.

COURTESY PHOTOS

South Shore Community Center Nursery School teachers Marianne Smith and Weezie Welz are in the Halloween spirit.

Get away!

Looking to get away? Look for our new weekly travel section in today's paper!

Around the world? Cruise? White sandy beach? Big-city weekend? Action adventure? Ski resort? We've been there! Every week we'll feature articles on a new location by world traveling journalists, along with outstanding values so you can get away the right way.

GetAWAY is edited by one of America's leading travel writers, Fran Golden - she knows the ins and outs of travel, so make sure you check in every week to see Fran's newest favorite spot! You can also find it and Fran's blog online at wickedlocal.com!

Read it every week - and enjoy!

Make every occasion in your life an opportunity to conquer cancer.

Honor the important moments and people in your life with a gift of hope. These unique programs support Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the Jimmy Fund's lifesaving mission.

FAVORS GREETING CARDS

When planning your next party or special occasion, give your guests a favor that is also a lifesaver. These unique cards and scrolls carry a message of hope that displays your support for cancer patients everywhere.

PERFECT FOR:
Weddings
Bar/Bat Mitzvahs
Retirement Parties
Anniversary Parties
Holiday Parties

Order your Favors online at www.jimmyfund.org/favors or call 617-632-6099.

Looking for a unique gift for someone special in your life? Simply give $25 or more, and we will send a personalized greeting card to the special person of your choice within 24 hours.

PERFECT FOR:
Thanksgiving
Christmas/Hanukkah
Graduations
Weddings/Anniversaries
Birthdays

Order your Greeting Cards online at www.jimmyfund.org/jfcards or call 617-632-6099.

DANA-FARBER CANCER INSTITUTE
The Jimmy Fund®
MISSION POSSIBLE
The Dana-Farber Campaign to Conquer Cancer
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
GateHouse Media New England

IT'S HAPPENING

Turkey shoot is Nov. 18

A fun family afternoon is planned at the Scituate Rod & Gun Club off Route 3A (near the Cohasset line) on Sunday, Nov. 18 from noon to 4 p.m.

Turkeys will be awarded for winners of different events including skeet shooting and archery.

Everyone is invited!

Anti-Racism workshop set for Nov. 17

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is sponsoring Seeing the Face of God In Each Other, an inter-faith workshop on anti-racism, with The Rev. Cannon Ed Rodman from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17.

This free event is open to people of all faith traditions, ages teen and up. Lunch will be served.

'NE Perspectives' at the James Library

Three South Shore landscape photographers, Margot Cheel of Cohasset, Mike Sleeper, and Stephen Eames, will present a photography exhibit at the James Library and Center for the Arts, 24 West St, Norwell. An opening reception will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 2, and the show continues until Thursday, Nov. 29.

The show, "New England Perspectives," will showcase the different views from each photographer. Margot Cheel presents aerial photography of the South Shore and Cape as abstract art. Mike Sleeper is well known for his panoramic photos of the South Shore landscape. Steve Eames captures New England scenes with a painter's eye. Margot Cheel's web site is at www.margotcheel.com; Mike Sleeper's web site is at www.mikesleeper.com and Steve Eames web site is at www.eamescreative.com.

The James Library is open from 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday. For more information, visit http://www.firstparishnorwell.org/james.html.

Newcomers Club new member gathering

Scituate/Cohasset Newcomers Club invites all new and prospective members, as well as current members, to a New Member Gathering from 10 a.m. to noon, on Wednesday, Nov. 7. At this new member coffee, attendees can meet people and learn more about the club. Friends and children are welcome to attend.

Call Kim at 545-2952 or email kim.spires@Comcast.net or Kelly at 545-0866, k-dlee@hotmail.com for more information or to register. For information about membership, visit the Web site at scnewcomers.com. There are many activities planned throughout the year.

Glastonbury Abbey to hold fundraiser

Glastonbury Abbey, 16 Hull St., Hingham, will hold a fundraiser from 4 to 7 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 3. The event will feature an evening of wine tasting, music and food. Proceeds benefit Glastonbury Abbey. For more information or tickets, call Ann McCarthy-Egan at 781-749-9423 or Kay Trask at 781-545-0993.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

News hotline - 781-741-2933

Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

Community Center holds clothing and toy drive

The collection begins early, because it takes three weeks for the donated items to be shipped. and then received in Santo Domingo

Since Nov. 2001, the South Shore Community Center has been privileged to sponsor an annual clothing and toy collection to be distributed to the impoverished children of Santo Domingo during the winter holidays. The drive started when Stephanie Church and Ruthanne Ardrizzoni were moved by the poverty of Santo Domingo, the homeland of the center's beloved janitor, Julio Falcon.

What began as simple donations, given by Stephanie and Ruthann of needed items, has flourished and become a wonderful holiday tradition. All arms of the Community Center participate in this Toy and Clothing Drive, including the Gymnastic Program, the Nursery School and the toddler Gym Dandy Program. Each year, they continue to be overjoyed by the generosity of the Cohasset community.

Each November the Community Center distributes letters to the parents of all of its students to remind them of this mission. The Directors of all programs incorporate this collection into their classes as a lesson in sharing with others less fortunate. The collection begins early, because it takes three weeks for the donated items to be shipped. and then received in Santo Domingo.

The center usually sends out three to four shipments. In addition to gift giving, they also encourage cash donations to defray the costly expense of the shipments. As most are aware, the center is a nonprofit organization that depends upon the public good, so that it can continue to bring joy into the lives of needy children. Every year, they receive thank you notes and photographs of the children holding and opening the gifts and the photographs are posted throughout the center, so that all of the students can see the fruit of their labor.

Don't miss amazing savings on rugs, lamps, wall art and more!

Save on hundreds of new arrivals, including:

clocks $14.99-$19.99

hand-painted furniture $149.99-$199.99

jewelry armoires $179.99-$299.99

Turn back the clocks! Daylight savings is on November 4th!

Hurry in!

HomeGoods®

In MA: Acton, Bedford, Braintree, Danvers, E. Falmouth, Framingham, Hyannis, Milford, Norwell, Plainville, Plymouth, Reading, Saugus, Seekonk, Somerville, Tewksbury, Westborough, Woburn & Worcester. In NH: Bedford, Gilford, Londonderry, Nashua & Salem. In RI: Lincoln, Narragansett, N. Kingstown & Warwick.

Introducing the TJX Rewards™ Card. The one card that keeps you in style for less.™ Visit www.chase.com/tjxrewards to find out how you can start earning rewards. Styles will vary by store. Prices as marked. ©2007 HomeGoods, Inc

get AWAY

Still time to make your holiday travel plans

Fran Golden
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

Aruba, Mexico's Riviera Maya, the Dominican Republic, Caribbean cruises, Disney World and Italy are popular places travelers are heading for the upcoming holidays, according to Boston-area travel agents. Some folks are even going on African safaris.

And the good news for those who have yet to make their holiday plans is there is still space available – though it's going fast.

Procrastinators will find comfort in numbers. Maybe the lingering warm weather is to blame. But the cold is coming and so are our thoughts of someplace warm.

Barbara Nason, senior expert with Vacation Outlet, said don't panic if you have yet to book your holiday trip. While scheduled air alone to a warm Caribbean destination may cost you $1,200 to $1,500 for Christmas week, there are companies like Apple Vacations and TNT Vacations with special charter flights from Boston that bring the costs way down.

Procrastinators will find comfort in numbers. Maybe the lingering warm weather is to blame. But the cold is coming and so are our thoughts of someplace warm.

With the charter packages (offered on specific dates), Nason said she had available a weeklong Christmas week stay at the Holiday Inn SunSpree Resort in Aruba, including air, from $1,599 per person.

Even Thanksgiving holiday travel is still doable.

"I booked a client on a two-week Thanksgiving cruise just this week," Nason said.

Barbara Katz, an agent with American Express Travel in Boston, said those with flexible dates may have the best luck when it comes to getting good prices. And travelers may want to think beyond the Caribbean.

She said Italy is hot with her clients this year, and she's suggesting New Year's in Rome.

"The Italians love to celebrate," Katz said.

She noted hotel prices and air in Europe are a lot cheaper in the winter than in the high summer season.

PHOTO COURTESY OF IBEROSTAR HOTELS & RESORTS

All-inclusive properties on Mexico's Riviera Maya are a popular holiday choice.

"It's especially a value after Christmas and including for New Year's and there's no snow," Katz said.

Cruise lines pull out all the stops for the holidays, adding decorations and special activities, with Santa onboard for the kiddies. Like hotels and airlines, they also tend to pump up their prices during this period.

But Amani Richardson, a senior cruise expert for Vacation Outlet, said plenty of holiday cruises out of easy-to-get-to Florida are still available and at decent prices.

For instance, Richardson said she has a six-night New Year's cruise on Carnival Cruise Line's brand new Liberty departing Dec. 30 from Fort Lauderdale, from $729 per person. Or do a five-night cruise out of Tampa on Carnival's Inspiration, departing Dec. 22, from $599.

Even posh Holland America has oceanview cabins on the Veendam for a Christmas week cruise out of Tampa, departing Dec. 23, from $1,399 per person, a bargain for that line at that time of year, Richardson said.

Marilyn Wexler, an agent with Tzell Travel, said she is getting last-minute requests from clients for exotic holiday vacations for their families such as African safaris and trips to the Galapagos.

"They are very late at this point and it's more (inquiries) than usual," Wexler said. Typically, these types of high-end trips are booked 10 months to a year in advance, she added.

And Wexler said if people think by waiting they will get a better deal, they're wrong.

"At this point, you have to be prepared to pay a lot of money for it," Wexler said.

Holiday vacationers need to be flexible with dates and willing to pay more, agreed Diane Macedo, owner/manager of Carlson Wagonlit Travel in Wrentham.

"But we definitely tell people there is no reason to stay home. You just may need to do some digging."

She said a popular trip she's booking is Christmas or New Year's at Disney World.

"They do the big New Year's Eve parties and things like that and it's an easy destination to get families together from across the country," Macedo said.

Another great spot, she said, is Mexico's Riviera Maya.

"You fly into Cancun, and the all-inclusives are great for families with a variety of restaurants and activities," Macedo said.

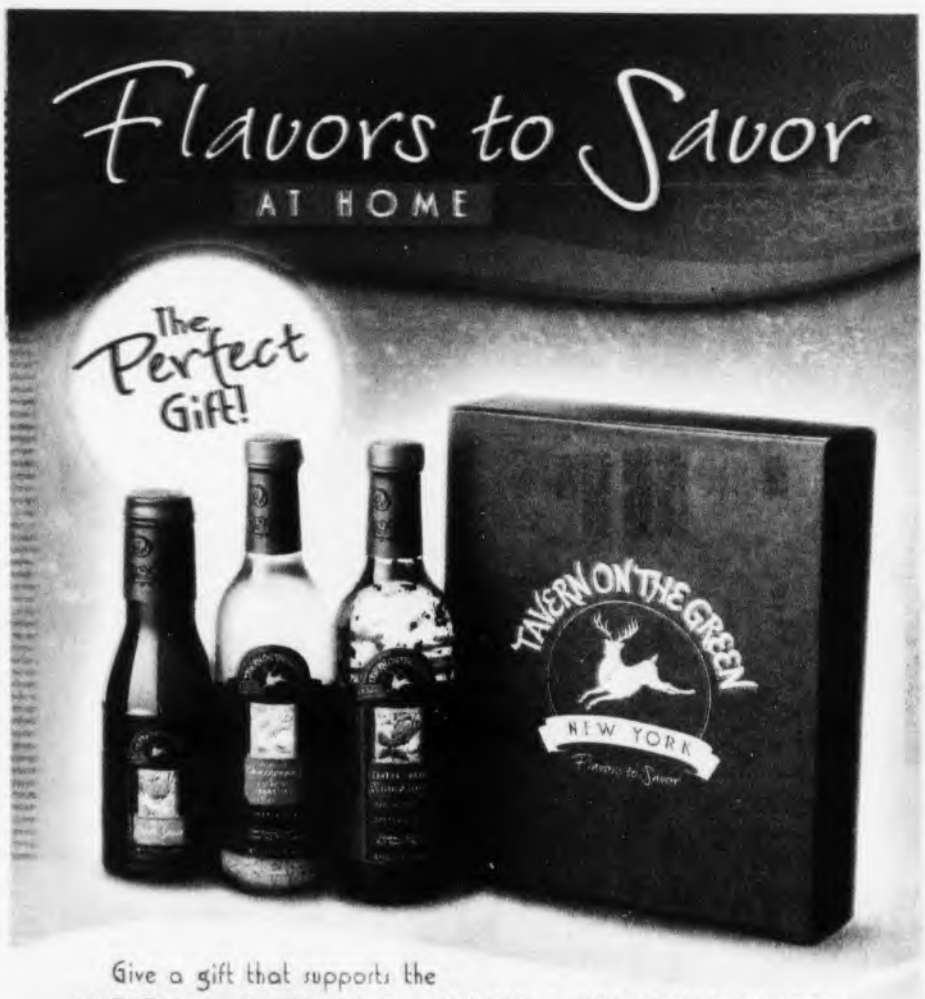
For true bargain hunters, she said one of the best times to book is after the holidays. For instance, at a five-star resort in Punta Cana, Dominican Republic, you can book a charter trip for Christmas for $1,849. That goes down to $1,379 for New Year's. But wait another week and it's only $1,189, Macedo said.

She added she is also busily booking trips for the February and April school vacations, and it's not too early to get going on that.

Tips for Holiday Travelers

Your vacation should be fun and stress-free. Toward that end, here are a few important things to consider as you make your holiday travel plans.

✈ Beginning Jan. 1, you will need a passport to travel to the Caribbean, Mexico, Bermuda, Canada and everywhere else outside the U.S. Find details at www.travel.state.gov.



✈ Being flexible is the best way to get a deal. Consider traveling, for instance, on Christmas Eve or even Christmas Day.

✈ Look to alternative airports where low-cost carriers may fly (for instance, drive to Manchester or Providence, where you'll find Southwest Airlines, which does not fly from Logan).

✈ Do research online but use a travel agent to make your booking; a good agent knows when a deal is a deal and with holiday trips – especially when kids are involved – you don't want to take any chances. Find more on travel agents at www.travelsense.org.

✈ Get to the airport early. These are the busiest times for travel and there will be lines.

✈ Check with your airline about luggage weight limits. And mail your gifts to your destination ahead of time or you'll need to keep them unwrapped for airport security (which will ruin the surprise if the gift recipients are accompanying you).

Give a gift that supports the
NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN

NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN®

Tavern on the Green proudly supports the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

For easy recipes, information on other delicious Tavern on the Green products and to purchase, visit

TAVERNDIRECT.COM

ENTER PROMO CODE
BO5678
RECEIVE 5% DISCOUNT

ALL NATURAL

This exclusive line of savory sauces, balsamic vinegars, marinades and dipping oils brings the Tavern on the Green dining experience to life.

PHOTO COURTESY OF EATON VILLAGE PRESERVATION SOCIETY

The Eaton Village Store is once again a popular gathering place.

The Village Store

Fran Folsom
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

IN NEW ENGLAND
BY FRAN GOLDEN

In today's high-tech, get-everything-at-the-mall society, many of New England's traditional general stores have gone by the wayside. One store that has survived — through the determination of its community — is the Eaton Village Store in quaint Eaton Centre, in New Hampshire's Mount Washington Valley.

The lakeside store was built in 1800 as a private home; it became a general store in 1947 selling gas, groceries and blocks of ice cut from the lake. Through the years, the store was successfully operated by several owners including Babe Ruth's daughter Judy Stevens in the early 1950s. Other owners added improvements including a lunch counter.

In 2003, new owners gutted and stripped the building and made the place upscale, selling fancy arts and crafts and serving nouveau cuisine. They didn't make a go of it.

Enter the Eaton Village Preservation Society, which bought the building in 2004. With the help of 400 town residents, the group returned the store to its original look and purpose.

Today's proprietor, Phil Kelly, sells crafts by local artists, fruit and vegetables from area farms and uses local ingredients in his cooking.

"I make it work by being open long hours and being friendly," Kelly said. "Sure people could shop at Wal-Mart, but this is more than just a general store. It's the social center of town."

Others in the village agree.

"When it was in danger of closing for good, it really had an impact on the town," said Tom Ostendorf, who runs the Inn at Crystal Lake in Eaton Centre, a local bed & breakfast. "It always has been and finally is again, the heart of the town.

While the inn serves its guests a full country breakfast (included in the daily rate) on select days they also have the option of having breakfast with the local "crowd" at the Eaton Village Store.

Eaton Centre is historically significant as the place where Helen Keller spent her summers. Attractions include sparkling Crystal Lake, where you can swim in summer and skate in winter. There is also a barley candy shop, pottery studios, antique shops, an alpaca farm and a photographic little white church.

For more information on the Eaton Village Store, call 603-447-2403 or visit www.evps.org. Rates at the Inn at Crystal Lake are from $109 to $209 per night for two. Call 800-343-7336 or visit www.innatcrystallake.com.

LOCAL NEWS.
LOCAL FLAVOR.
Read and Recharge.

Order home delivery of
The Patriot Ledger today at 25% OFF and receive a Dunkin' Donuts® Card
worth up to $40.00!

Order now!
Call 1.800.557.8882
Mention campaign code: DUNKIN07

or mail in this form with your payment.

With home delivery of The Patriot Ledger, you'll stay on top of Local News, Local Sports, and Local Happenings in and around your town every day, Monday through Saturday.

YES! Please sign me up for convenient home delivery of The Patriot Ledger at 25% off and send me my Dunkin' Donuts® Gift Card!

Please select one of the following:

☐ Option 1: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery with EZPay
I understand that my credit card will be charged every 4-weeks.
(Provide your credit card info below).

☐ Option 2: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 26-weeks
I have enclosed a check for
Please send me a $40 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

☐ Option 3: Sign me up for 6-Day Home Delivery for 13-weeks
I have enclosed a check for
Please send me a $20 Dunkin' Donuts® Card.
(Make check payable to The Patriot Ledger).

Name
Street / Apt. #
City/State/Zip
Home phone
Email

CREDIT/DEBIT CARD INFORMATION ☐ VISA ☐ MC ☐ DISCOVER ☐ AMEX
Cardholder name
Account number
Expiration date
Signature

Mail this form to:
The Patriot Ledger,
P.O. Box 699159, Quincy, MA 02269

The Patriot Ledger | Community Newspaper Company

*Offer valid for households in The Patriot Ledger delivery area who have not received home delivery in the past 30 days. This is an introductory offer. All subscriptions must be prepaid by check or credit card. Delivery will continue unless you notify us otherwise. You will be contacted prior to the expiration period. If subscription is cancelled, The Patriot Ledger will either reimburse the value of the non-delivered newspapers less the amount of your Dunkin' Donuts® card or charge that amount to you credit card. The Dunkin' Donuts® trademarks/tradedress are owned by DD IP Holder LLC. Used under license. Offer expires 11/12/07. Subscriptions must start by 11/12/07.

DUNKIN07

CAPIZZI Home Improvement
1645 NEWTOWN ROAD
COTUIT, MA

Where You Won't Get The Home Improvement Run-Around!

VINYL SIDING
SAVE UP TO $1,100*

ON VINYL SIDING OR ALUMINUM TRIM JOBS (SAVE 10% UP TO $1,100*)

WINDOW REPLACEMENTS

SAVE $65 PER WINDOW*

HAVE A NEW SUNROOM BUILT IN 3 Weeks!

Save $1500 on a new 4 Season Sunroom

Let us expand your living space!
Custom-Designed for YOUR Home. Virtually Maintenance-Free!

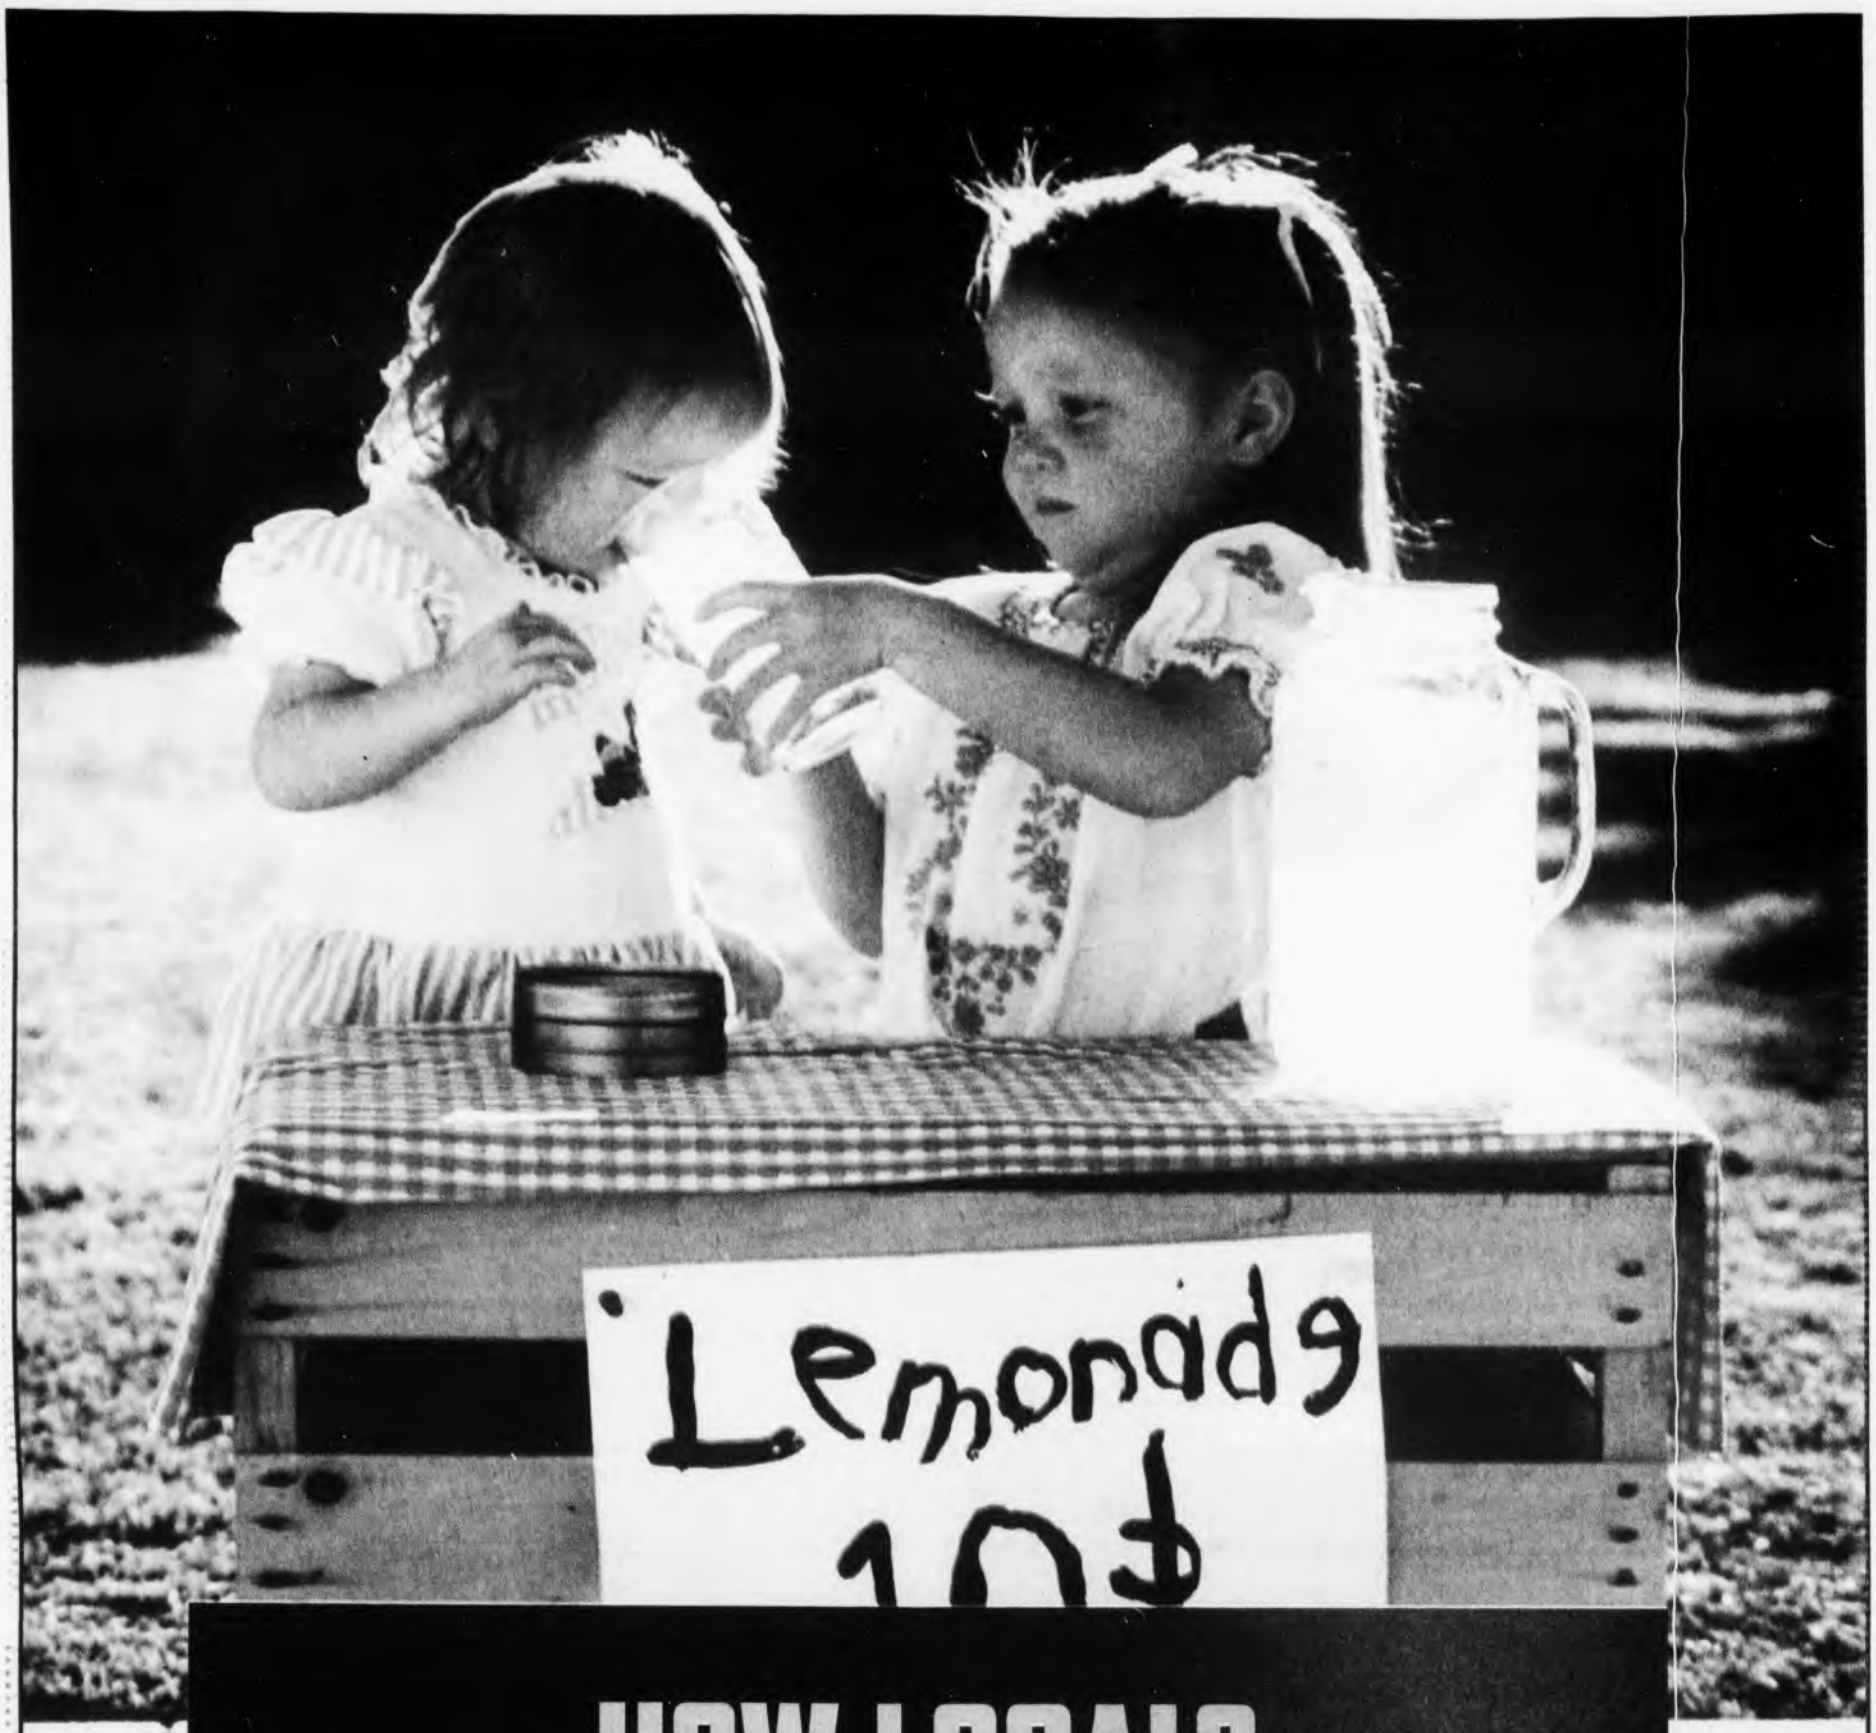
DECKS
Save Up to $900*

OFF ANY DECK (SAVE 10% OFF UP TO $900*)

The Rompala's of Centerville said:
"Every year the salt air would ruin the ballisters. Constant upkeep was needed. We haven't had to do anything more to the deck in the 3 years since it has been installed. It was painless. Everything was exactly as it said it was going to be. We have had a lot of work done on homes across the country and Capizzi is the best contractor that we've ever dealt with."

Right Photo: Jean & Richard Rompala shown with Mike Hurley (in center), Estimator

ZERO Down + NO Payments + NO Interest
FOR 6 MONTHS SAME AS CASH
(Up to $30,000 on Approved Credit)
Loans provided by EnerBank USA (1245 E. Brickyard Rd., Suite 640, Salt Lake City, UT 84106) on approved credit through participating contractors, for a limited time. Repayment terms vary from 18 to 126 mo. 18.7% fixed APR subject to change. Interest waived if repaid in 6 months.



*Coupons must be presented at the time of the sale. Prior sales excluded. May not be combined with any other offers. Offer good for 30 days from initial appointment.  3 weeks from start of construction.

LIC #007454
HIC #100740

1-800-806-2853

Call Today! for a FREE Estimate

1645 Newtown Road, Cotuit • email: chi@capecod.net • www.capizzihome.com

HOW LOCAL?

STOPPING FOR LEMONADE EVEN WHEN YOU'RE NOT THIRSTY

LOCAL!

HOW LOCAL? WICKED LOCAL.

Local means something. That's why WickedLocal.com is giving you something to talk about. If local means something to you, get involved. Post photos and videos. Read about local topics and comment on them. Post your event or just see what's going on. Create a blog or just read ours. At WickedLocal.com you can get involved or just take it all in. Go to WickedLocal.com and click on your community. Make WickedLocal.com your hometown home page.

WICKED LOCAL™.com

IT HAS TO BE GOOD TO BE WICKED !

Jamey Kupsc gets Kiwi all suited up in a pumpkin costume before the dog show at the Farmers Market.

Hog dog! "Boston" works the crowd during the dog costume show at the Farmers Market last month.

Dogs on parade

Costumed canines at Farmers Market

Bridget DeGroat, 2, takes a closer look at "spider-dog" Charlie at the Farmers Market. It was a dog show, although some other pets also arrived.

Hannah Nichols, 1-1/2, gives "Tucker" a pat because he is such an angel.

Staff photos by Robin Chan

Restyle your jewelry

ENHANCE YOUR RING · CHANGE YOUR STYLE

- Top designer mountings & settings
- Custom design your ring with our on-site expert jeweler
- Expanded collection of diamonds, gemstones, and much, much more.

Friday ~ Sunday, November 2nd ~ 4th
Burlington

Middlesex Turnpike
(Across from the Mall)
781.272.5400

Friday ~ Sunday, November 9th ~ 11th
New Store: Natick

323 Speen Street
(Outside the Mall, across from Neiman Marcus)
508.650.2900

Longs
Fine Jewelers Since 1878
www.longsjewelers.com

3 more weeks...

...Are you ready?

Holiday Preview Tasting Event

Sample what we're serving up this holiday!

Thursday, November 8
4 - 7 p.m.

Live jazz by the Nancy Carr Trio

Hingham
Derby Street Shoppes
94 Derby Street
781-741-8050

WHOLE FOODS MARKET

Place holiday orders before Tuesday, November 20 at noon.

In the heart of Boston, city becomes campus

The NEWMAN School

247 Marlborough St.
Boston, MA 02116
617-267-4530
www.newmanboston.org

Entrance/Scholarship Exam: Saturday, November 10th at 10 a.m.

"ONE HELL OF AN EXCITING MOVIE."
Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE

"ONE OF THE BEST MOVIES OF THE YEAR."
Richard Roeper, AT THE MOVIES WITH EBERT & ROEPER

"POWERFUL, DRAMATIC, GRIPPING AND ACTION-PACKED."
Bill Zwecker, CBS-TV

ACADEMY AWARD® WINNER DENZEL WASHINGTON
ACADEMY AWARD® WINNER RUSSELL CROWE

A RIDLEY SCOTT FILM

AMERICAN GANGSTER

UNIVERSAL PICTURES AND IMAGINE ENTERTAINMENT PRESENT IN ASSOCIATION WITH RELATIVITY MEDIA A BRIAN GRAZER PRODUCTION IN ASSOCIATION WITH SCOTT FREE PRODUCTIONS DENZEL WASHINGTON RUSSELL CROWE "AMERICAN GANGSTER" CHIWETEL EJIOFOR CUBA GOODING JR. JOSH BROLIN TED LEVINE ARMAND ASSANTE JOHN ORTIZ JOHN HAWKES RZA MUSIC BY MARC STREITENFELD EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS NICHOLAS PILEGGI STEVEN ZAILLIAN BRANKO LUSTIG JIM WHITAKER MICHAEL COSTIGAN PRODUCED BY BRIAN GRAZER RIDLEY SCOTT WRITTEN BY STEVEN ZAILLIAN DIRECTED BY RIDLEY SCOTT

IMAGINE R A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

www.americangangster.net

SOUNDTRACK ALBUM FEATURING "DO YOU FEEL ME" PERFORMED BY ANTHONY HAMILTON IN STORES 11/6
JAY-Z'S NEW ALBUM "AMERICAN GANGSTER" IN STORES 11/6

MOBILE USERS: For Showtimes - Text GANGSTER with your ZIP CODE to 43KIX (43549)!

OPENS FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2ND

AMC LOEWS BOSTON COMMON 19, 175 TREMONT ST, 1-800-FANDANGO #730
REGAL CINEMAS FENWAY THEATRE, 201 BROOKLINE AVE, 617-424-6266
SHOWCASE CINEMAS CIRCLE, CLEVELAND CIRCLE, 617-566-4040
AMC LOEWS DANVERS 20, LIBERTY TREE MALL, 1-800-FANDANGO #734
AMC BRAINTREE 10, OFF FORBES RD., RTE. 37 & 128, 781-848-1070
AMC FRAMINGHAM 16, FLUTE PASS AT SKIPPERS WORLD, 508-628-4400
SHOWCASE CINEMAS DEDHAM, RTE. 1 & 128 EXIT 15A, 781-326-4955
SHOWCASE CINEMAS RANDOLPH, RTE 139 EXIT 20A OFF RTE 24, 781-963-5600
SHOWCASE CINEMAS WOBURN, RTE. 128 EXIT 35 & RTE. 38, 781-933-5330
SHOWCASE CINEMAS REVERE, RTE. C1 & SQUIRE RD., 781-286-1660
AMC BURLINGTON 10, RTE. 128 EXIT 32B, 781-229-9200
SOMERVILLE THEATRE, 55 DAVIS SQUARE, 617-625-5700
AMC LOEWS HARVARD SQ. 5, 10 CHURCH ST. CAMBRIDGE, 1-800-FANDANGO #733
SPECIAL ENGAGEMENTS NO PASSES OR DISCOUNT COUPONS ACCEPTED

CHECK LOCAL LISTINGS OR CALL FOR SOUND INFORMATION AND SHOWTIMES

WORSHIP GUIDE

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: Jim FitzGerald. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Nov. 4

8 a.m. - Circle Ministry in the Parish House/Atkinson Room - Group led by Joan Kovach & Susan Meikleham and meeting 1st & 3rd Sundays)

10 a.m. – Worship in the Meeting House – "Just ask!"

Do you have a question or two you'd like to ask our minister? Think about it, and come with those questions in mind. Ushers will have index cards for you to post your questions. These will be collected and given to Jan, who in her sermon will make good on her invitation to you to "Just ask!"

Religious education classes for toddlers, children and youth and childcare for our youngest begin at 10 AM in the Parish House.

Refreshments and fellowship follow the morning service and RE classes.

Noon – 2:30 p.m. – Soul Work: Conversations across Congregations – Atkinson Room - First-timers welcome!

This session marks the second in this season's collaborative venture of First Parish UU in Cohasset, First Parish (Old Ship) in Hingham and Second Parish UU in Hingham. Lunch will be available at noon (fsuggested contribution of $5/person), and we'll convene for conversation from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.. In respectful dialogue, we undertake the work of anti-racism as spiritual practice. Our discussions are based on Soul Work: anti-racist theologies in dialogue. We'll focus this time on the essay, "Racism and Anti-racism in a Culture of Violence," by Rev. Dr. George Tinker. Eva Marx and Jan Carlsson-Bull continue to co-facilitate.

5 to 6 p.m. – Candlelight Peace Vigil on Cohasset Common

Join us for this first Sunday of the month witness for peace in our world, our nation, and our communities. Open to peacemakers of all ages throughout the community! Please bring your candles, though we will have some available.

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are a welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for our communities, both near and across the world. Highlights of our parish life include this fall:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups, adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry; weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

- Friday, Nov. 2: 9:30 am Yoga
- Saturday, Nov. 3: 7 am Bible Fellowship
- Sunday, Nov. 4: Celebration of All Saints Day. Services at 8 am and 10 am. 9 am Youth Group meeting.

To contact us: Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083, or email cwood@ststephenscohasset.org.

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom: 1112 Main St., 781- 749-8103; denomination: Jewish; Rabbi Shira Joseph; Cantor Steven Weiss. Friday evenings 7:30 p.m.; Saturday morning worship, 10:30 a.m. Hebrew religious school and adult classes. For more information call our office, 781-749-8103. Also you can visit us at: www.shaaray.org

Sunday Nov. 4th – Get ready for Chanukah – Craft and Book Fair from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. From 9-10:45 a.m. in the Sanctuary, book signing and lecture with Rabbi Joseph Meszler.

Temple Beth Sholom, 600 Nantasket Ave., Hull. 781-925-0091, 781-925-2377. Conservative. Rabbi Ben Lefkowitz. Daily Minyan, Monday-Friday, 7:45 a.m.; Saturday, Sunday and holidays, 9 a.m.

WORSHIP NOTES

Celebration Sunday at Second Congregational

The Second Congregational Church of Cohasset at 43 Highland Ave.,, will host several special events during and after the 10 a.m. service on Sunday, Nov. 4, which is All Saints Sunday.

New members will be received and the congregation is encouraged to invite friends for Bring a Friend to Church Day. Immediately after the service, there will be a Christian Education Open House and Classroom Tour.

Following the open house and tour, a lunch will be held for all which will include soups, salads and desserts, made from recipes from the soon to be published "Church Cook Book."

Reverend Gary Ritts and his wife, Judy will then show slides and tell stories about their summer travels and studies in New Hampshire, West Virginia, New Mexico, and Europe.

Retreat programs at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph Retreat Center, 339 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset, is hosting the following programs:

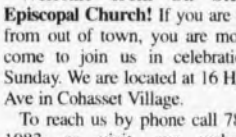
- Wednesday, Nov.7, Morning of Prayer, 9:15-11:45. "From the Rising of the Sun to its Setting"
- Nov. 9-11, Quilting Retreat Weekend, "The Fabric of Our Lives: Co-Creating a Holy Pattern"
- Nov. 12-16, Directed Retreat.
- Saturday, Nov. 17, Day of Prayer, 9:00 – 3:30. "Heart for the Holidays during a Time of Loss"
- Sunday, Nov. 18, Reflective Workshop, 9:00 – 3:30. "Grief and Gratitude in Prayer and Spiritual Direction"
- Dec.7-9, Weekend Retreat. "Soul Collage - A Journey of Discovery"

The retreat house is often available for private retreat days. For more information and to register, visit www.csjretreat-center.org or call 781-383-6024.

Worship notes and changes to the worship guide may be sent by e-mail to mford@cnc.com.

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
- Remote Desktop Support
- Home Office Setup
- Antivirus Firewall Setup
- Parental Control Software
- Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
- Data Recovery
- Wired & Wireless Networks
- Loaner Computers Available
- New Computer Consultation
- Hardware & Software Upgrades

Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com



Before Bob Black

After Bob Black

Peacock Style & Color Lounge
Announcing Some Very Special Savings on Holiday Primping:
- 25% Off Hair Extensions - Give yourself a new image or enhance your look!
- 25% Off updos and formal occasion hair styles
- $50 Off Japanese Hair Straightening

Note: Our website www.peacockstyle.com is now live.
Visit our Specials & Promotions page for monthly year-round values!
As the newest salon in Norwell, we bring you a flair for the modern and a welcome spa feel. Our stylists offer urban, artistic, styling methods coupled with years of experience in design and color mastery. Our cuts are as unique as your lifestyle warrants. Our attention to detail puts us on the A-list with those clients who demand a look that is fresh and on target with today's image.

Stop by for a free consultation
Call 781-659-9929 to make an appointment
Visit our website at www.peacockstyle.com
Let us let you love your hair
Hours: Tue. 10am-7pm, Wed. 10am-6pm, Thur. 10am-8pm, Fri. & Sat. 9am-5pm

Thanksgiving Day Menu
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 2007
Raffael's Nantasket
~ Buffet ~
New England Clam Chowder & Turkey Vegetable Soup
Roast Turkey with traditional stuffing & Gravy
Stuffed Pork Loin (Figs & Gorgonzola)
Baked Stuffed Sole with rock shrimp scampi sauce
Mixed Greens with cranberries & walnuts
Roasted Butternut Squash
Green Bean Casserole
Pumpkin Ravioli (with confit duck in hazelnut cream sauce)
Mashed Potato ~ Rice Pilaf ~ Peas & Onions
Sugar Glazed Yams ~ Fresh Baked Breads
Decadent Dessert Sweet Table
Holiday Pies – traditional Apple, Blueberry, Pumpkin, Ricotta & Mince Meat includes coffee and tea
ADULTS $27.99 CHILDREN (under 12) $13.99
Reservations available from 11:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
781-925-4515
15% gratuity added to groups of 8 or more
45 Hull Shore Drive, Hull ~ at the Clarion Nantasket Beach Hotel

ROLEX

HINGHAM JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street • Route 53, Hingham • 781-749-2108
Hours: Tue. - Fri. 9:30-5:30 • Sat. 9:30-5:00
OFFICIAL ROLEX JEWELER
ROLEX ® OYSTER PERPETUAL AND YACHT-MASTER ARE TRADEMARKS

MUST END SUNDAY, NOV. 4
TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE!
Disney HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL ON TOUR!
A NEW STAGE MUSICAL BASED ON THE SMASH HIT DISNEY CHANNEL ORIGINAL MOVIE
highschoolmusicalontour.com ©Disney

FINAL 7 PERFORMANCES!
WANG THEATRE
Thursday at 2 & 7:30 • Friday at 7:30
Saturday at 2 & 7:30 • Sunday at 1 & 6:30
Call (800) 447-7400 or online at citicenter.org
Tickets also available at the Box Office.
citi PERFORMING ARTS CENTER
Groups (10+): (617) 532-1116
tty: (888) 889-8587

CURTAIN FACTORY OUTLET
Your Curtains. Your Style. Your Price.

Great Values!
Lace Trim Panel
Sheer voile panel features an attached lace valance with matching insert and bottom hem.
60" Wide x 63"or 84" Lengths
White or Ivory

Your Choice
Only $6.99

Embroidered Panel
Fantastic Price!
Delicate and elegant - Valance Included
55" Wide x 63" or 84" Lengths
4 colors
Please shop early for best selection.

WEYMOUTH, MA 60 Winter St. 781-331-8510
RAYNHAM, MA 770 Broadway 508-823-4196
NORTHBRIDGE, MA 8 Sutton St. 508-234-2944
FALL RIVER, MA 420 Quequechan St. 508-678-6996
www.CurtainFactoryOutlet.com

POLICE LOG

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17

12:52 a.m. Lower King St., notification, officer reports there is a crew working on RR tracks at above location. 2 vehicles parked on side of road.

1:19 a.m. King St., notification, officer reports there is a work crew at above location.

1:38 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks, officer reports building appears secured.

1:39 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, officer reports building appears secured.

6:29 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., traffic enforcement.

7:10 a.m. Cushing Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:11 a.m. Beechwood St., and Chief Justice Cushing Highway, notification, detail officer reports above location down to one lane, emergency vehicles and buses can get through. Jerusalem at Deep Run also down to one lane, emergency vehicles able to pass.

10:40 a.m. Highland Ave, downed power lines, officer reports phone lines still hanging in this location. This is the fourth call to Verizon. Verizon reports there should be a truck coming out to fix this today.

10:41 a.m. Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

10:49 a.m. High School and Pond St., school check.

11:10 a.m. Forest Ave., officer wanted, caller would like to speak with an officer regarding a car parked in front of his driveway that is stopping him from doing work on the driveway. Officer requesting the building inspector for neighbor disputing over property lines. Officer has advised both parties how to go about resolving this. This is a civil matter.

11:14 a.m. Elm St., officer wanted, walk in party would like to speak with an officer regarding a past report.

11:46 a.m. Cedar St., animal complaint, caller reports a coyote running around the area. Animal control notified.

1:29 p.m. Forest Ave., and North Main St., motor vehicle stop traffic citation/warning.

1:50 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, lost property, calling party states she lost her wallet at this location.

2:40 p.m. Crocker Lane, lost person, caller reports he's lost in Whitney Woods. Officers are stationed at two different locations and are sounding their sirens to see if the missing party can hear them. Cruiser is at the top of Crocker Lane sounding the sirens. Calling party is close to this location. Fire is enroute and calling party is now with the officers. Officer transporting the party to his motor vehicle.

4:56 p.m. Beechwood St., and Mill Lane, traffic enforcement.

5 p.m. Lincoln Park, Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

5:05 p.m. Forest Ave., traffic enforcement.

5:24 p.m. Forest Ave., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

5:57 p.m. King St., property (recovered), walk in party found cell phone. Located owner of cell phone, he will be in tomorrow.

7:08 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

9:31 p.m. Lower King St., hazard, caller reports the gates are up – bells ringing – lights flashing and the train has already gone through. Officer reports malfunction of lights and gates, contacted MBTA. Officer reports MBTA is working on RR tracks – there are trucks parked on scene.

9:37 p.m. N. Main St., suspicious activity, there were subjects with flashlights out at above location. Officer reports subjects on scene is in charge of above location, he left something on scene and is now looking for it.

10:12 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

11:48 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, animal complaint, 911 caller states he hit a deer. Scituate Fire reports incident also. McBrien's notified for tow. State DPW notified.

THURSDAY, OCT. 18

12:16 a.m. King St, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

7:04 a.m. South Main St., and Summer St., traffic enforcement.

7:08 a.m. North Main St., traffic complaint, caller states "a truck is parked on the sidewalk forcing mothers and children into the street." Ongoing problem. Motor vehicle owner will move the vehicle.

7:14 a.m. North Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:45 a.m. Beechwood St., public service. Beechwood Street from CJC Highway to King Street is down to one lane.

8 a.m. Weather: Foggy, calm, 63.

12:52 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

5:22 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

6:30 p.m. Elm St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

6:45 p.m. South Main St., parking complaint, caller reports vehicles are parked all over parking lot. Officer reports one vehicle moved and one tagged.

6:53 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic complaint, caller reports they are paving driveway – large truck in the middle of the road. Officer reports no traffic hazard at this time.

7:39 p.m. Lower King St., hazard, caller reports the train went through but the lights are still flashing and bells are ringing. Contacted MBTA they advised there are test trains going through however there is someone responding to above location ETA 5-10 minutes. MBTA called reports all equipment working and worker will stay on scene to find out why malfunction occurred. Contacted MBTA reported when he called he stated everything is back working and test train is running.

11:14 p.m. King St., medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

FRIDAY, OCT. 19

1205 a.m. HQ., erratic operation of motor vehicle, Hull Police report a small black motor vehicle with tinted windows traveling at a high rate of speed. Unknown direction of travel.

1:21 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:22 a.m. Sohier St., both elementary schools check secure.

7:06 a.m. Norfolk Rd., and Bancroft Rd., traffic enforcement.

7:15 a.m. Beechwood St., public service, Beechwood Street between CJC Highway and King Street will be detoured. Emergency vehicles can get through.

7:23 a.m. South Main St., traffic enforcement.

7:24 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., public service, Jerusalem Road by #198 will be down to one lane. Emergency vehicles can get through.

8 a.m. Weather: Cloudy, calm, 67.

10:37 a.m. Mohawk Way, fire alarm activation, caller reports her fire alarms have activated in her house. Units responding.

12:43 p.m. Border St., fire alarm activation, alarm company reports fire alarm activation from the second and third floor. No problems found at the residence, unable to gain access and no keyholder is available at this time, units clear.

1:33 p.m. Parking Way, public service, there will be two large Allied moving tractor trailer trucks parked in the town lot for the night that will be transporting to Jerusalem Lane in the a.m.

1:45 p.m. Doane St., suspicious activity, walk in party reports a male in his late 50's or early 60's came to her door and first thing he asked was if she had any young kids, then asked if he can do work in the house. The male was very scruffy looking driving an older model greenish blue pick up truck. No plate available. Walk in party also reported that the pick up truck had a Vere sticker on the back of it. Administrative flash message put out over leaps. BCI responding to HQ for a composite.

2:01 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

2:40 p.m. North Main St., suspicious person, female caller reports she was approached by male party in a blue/green pick up truck asking if she knew where the dog that was in his truck belonged. The female stated no and the male asked if she could help him find where the dog lives. Female would not give any information. No suspicious activity, male party was actually attempting to return a dog to its owner, male is known to department and checks out OK. Male has found the owner and returned the dog, no problems.

3:25 p.m. Elm St., animal complaint.

8:44 p.m. Hull St., disabled motor vehicle, caller stated that a car just ran up the curb and hit a pole. Officer reports car is stuck, no pole was hit. Vehicle stuck on curb.

11:01 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

SATURDAY, OCT. 20

12:40 a.m. Red Gate Lane, medical aid.

12:45 a.m. Red Gate Lane, assist citizen, 2nd 911 call from the residence, caller advised R3 is on the way.

12:46 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

12:46 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

7:07 a.m. Sohier St., medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

7:29 a.m. Forest Ave., erratic operation of motor vehicle, 911 cell caller states there is an older model motor vehicle with a Hispanic operator all over the road. Motor vehicle was on Forest Ave but turned onto Jerusalem Road, unknown which side of Jerusalem Road. Motor vehicle not in the area now.

8:53 a.m. Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

9:30 a.m. Beechwood St., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

10:27 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks, school check.

10:35 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

11:52 a.m. Buttonwood Lane, fire – public assist, Fire Dept called public assist at above location. Fire report large tree that has split in back yard of above location – tree may by unsafe. Fire reports there is a tree contractor that is going to take care of tree.

12:02 p.m. Hull St., officer wanted, caller reports there is a vehicle parked in front of his residence.

1:05 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, special assignment.

6:57 p.m. Beechwood St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

8:08 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

8:18 p.m. Pond St., building checks.

8:41 p.m. Highland Ave., disturbance, caller reports a large group of kids in this area throwing bottles and trash around. Officer reports no on in this area but there is a group at the Tedeschi's, he will be patrolling the area.

9:23 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, disabled motor vehicle, officer reports the cruiser will not start, McBrien's notified. Officer reports he got the vehicle started and will head for the station, cruiser is not running right. Cruiser dropped off a t Robbin's Garage.

9:36 p.m. Oak St., fire, caller reports the above address is under construction and n on e lives there and the smoke alarms are going off.

10:48 p.m. Medical aid, transported SSH/ALS, caller reports her 16-year-old son is unconscious, R3 transporting the SSH/BLS at this time.

11:13 p.m. Forest Ave., medical aid, caller reports someone has been knocking on her door, her neighbor stated there were two people standing across the street in white T-shirts when they saw him, they took off towards the beach. Officer reports area search negative, no one around.

11:18 p.m. Elm Ct., follow up

SUNDAY, OCT. 21

12:29 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

12:29 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks secure.

7:53 a.m. Red Gate Lane, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

9:58 a.m. First Parish Rd., Scituate, medical aid.

11:45 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, shoplifting, caller reports they have a shoplifter detained. Caller called back stating the female has broken away from the manager and is running from the store wearing a white sweater and lube Capri pants. Units are out with the female. Officers report they are clear, management does not wish to persue the matter through the courts, but they have issued a verbal 'No Trespass' order.

12:26 p.m. School Buildings, building checks, officer reports all school buildings check ok, all secure.

2:48 p.m. Norfolk Rd., suspicious activity, caller reports they were just pulling into the driveway of their residence and a young male was exiting their house and jumped into a vehicle waiting and they took off. 911 caller was kept on the line and they are following the suspicious vehicle. This was a misunderstanding, one of the young males was getting a football from his residence to bring back for a family cookout and then just grabbed the football and ran back to the car. No problems. Officers have confirmed misunderstanding, units clear.

4:52 p.m. South Main St., fire, investigation, direct call into FD reporting outside odor of natural gas. Gas company notified.

5:54 p.m. Ash St., fire, investigation, caller reports his trash compactor is smoking, possible fire in the wall. E3 reports under control, units in service.

7:05 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, erratic operation of motor vehicle, Scituate PD reports an erratic operator, driving very, very slow, breaking and swerving. Headed North on 3A. Officer checked 3A from Scituate line, nothing in the area, Hingham PD notified.

Legal Notices

SOUTHER ESTATE
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
NORFOLK Division
Docket No. 07P2413AD

In the Estate of PETER R. SOUTHER

Late of COHASSET
In the County of NORFOLK
Date of Death May 11, 2007

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATOR

To all persons interested in the above captioned estate, a petition has been presented praying that PAMELA H. SOUTHER of SCITUATE in the County of PLYMOUTH or some other suitable person be appointed administrator of said estate to serve without surety.

IF YOU DESIRE TO OBJECT THERETO, YOU OR YOUR ATTORNEY MUST FILE A WRITTEN APPEARANCE IN SAID COURT AT CANTON ON OR BEFORE TEN O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON (10:00 AM) ON NOVEMBER 21, 2007

WITNESS, HON. DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, First Justice of said Court at CANTON this day, October 10, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott,
Register of Probate

AD#11501864
Cohasset Mariner 11/2/07

350 FRONT ST.
LEGAL NOTICE
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset, MA 02025

Pilgrim Bank is filing an application with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for consent to establish a branch at 350 Front Street, Marion, MA 02738.

Any person wishing to comment on this application may file his or her comments in writing with Regional Director, Division of Supervision and Consumer Protection of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at its Boston office located at 15 Braintree Hill Office Park, Braintree, Massachusetts 02184, not later than November 17, 2007. The nonconfidential portions of the application are on file in the regional office and are available for inspection during regular business hours. Photocopies of the nonconfidential portion of the application file will be made available upon request.

AD#11500559
Cohasset Mariner 11/2/07

To Place A Legal Ad Call Mary (781) 433-7902

Celebrating diversity

Latin dance party was a hit

By Chartis Tebbetts
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

The Cohasset Diversity Committee hosted an evening of Latin-style dancing on Saturday, Oct. 20th, at the River Club in North Scituate. The Diversity Committee has hosted several social evenings around Oct. 24th, which is United Nations Day. The 2007 theme gave us an opportunity to appreciate the music and style of the Brazilian beat, along with delicious hors d'oeuvres prepared by the River Club's Brazilian chef. Demonstrations of these lively dances encouraged many of those in attendance to try the steps. The Diversity Committee raised approximately $1500, which will support many programs both in the schools and the community.

The major focus of the Diversity Committee in the past two years has been the Peer Leader Training program, now a strong part of the Cohasset Middle High School. Fifty sophomores, juniors and seniors have been trained by staff from the World of Difference Institute of the Anti-Defamation League. Funds from the ADL, the Diversity Committee, the Parent School Organization (PSO) and area churches and synagogues made this training possible.

Introduced in New York City in 1991, A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE Institute's Peer Training Program now operates in 13 U. S. cities and 11 European countries. In the New England region, more than 65 middle and high schools sponsor the Program, with 2,000 students trained annually to deliver workshops to over 60,000 peers. The workshops address bias-motivated behaviors such as name-calling, bullying, and harassment. The Program empowers young people to recognize the prejudices in themselves and others, and provides participants with the knowledge and skills to facilitate greater inter-group dialogue, understanding and respect.

Other activities, which are supported by the Diversity Committee, include the annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Breakfast. This January event rotates among the churches of Cohasset and is co-sponsored with the Cohasset Clergy Association.

The Diversity Committee hosted a speaker from the ADL in 2006 about Hate Crimes Response, and is currently in the final stages of facilitating a Response Protocol with Police Chief Hussey, Superintendent of Schools Walsh, and Town Manager Griffin.

The Diversity Committee welcomes anyone in the community to join its group and to help plan and implement these and other events and activities. The Committee also thanks all those who support the activities financially.

Rolando Maldon, lead singer and rhythm guitarist with the Grupo Chevere Band sings during an evening filled with Zumba Latin Dancing.

Cohasset's Diversity Committee members at the dance party included, from left, Chartis Tebbets, Jane Ellis, Susan Etkind, Connie Afshar, Amy Geyer and Eva Haber.

Percussionist Angel Rivera of Brockton gets the crowd in the mood with music and singing.

Zumba Dancers Johana O'Neill, left, Ann Saldi, center, and Danielle Buckley, right, go over the music with DJ Willy Colom before hitting the dance floor.

David Bigley of Cohasset, center with white hat, observes Zumba Dancer Ann Saldi show her moves during the night of live music and Zumba Latin dancing. The event took place at Scituate's River Club.

Laura and Lee Stone have a great time kicking up their heels at Scituate's River Club to the rhythm of the Grupo Chevere Band.

Almis and Danguole Kuolas dance a Latin waltz during an evening filled with Latin music and Zumba dancing.

Zumba dancer Johana O'Neill of Weymouth served as emcee during the evening of live music and Latin dancing, including some instruction and demonstrations.

Linda Nathan, right, learns the steps of Zumba dancing from instructor Johana O'Neill at left.

TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

NOVEMBER 1-9, 2007

Disney takes show on the road

'High School Musical' enjoys success on stage

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

Since it debuted on the Disney Channel in January 2006, "High School Musical" has evolved from a TV-movie about a handsome high school basketball star and a pretty, but shy bookworm who share a love for singing, into an international phenomenon. Blockbuster ratings and worldwide broadcasts spawned an ever higher rated television sequel in August, an album that was the biggest selling soundtrack of 2006, plans for third installment for feature release, and a stage adaptation now at Boston's Wang Theatre.

The intensity of the hoopla surrounding all things "High School Musical" managed to escape the attention of director Jeff Calhoun, however, right up until the time the Broadway veteran signed on to direct the current national tour and watched its first public performance from backstage.

"I didn't really know what to expect on this project. I don't watch The Disney Channel so I had no idea how big this was until the first preview in Atlanta. When the houselights dimmed and the audience erupted in cheers, I don't think I was really ready for that. I started to feel very nervous. I kept thinking that all the applause was for the movie and wondering what would happen when people realized the stage show was not the movie," recalled Calhoun last week by telephone from New York. "By the end of our show, however, the entire audience was standing and cheering just as loud. I was very relieved."

PHOTO BY JOAN MARCUS

"Wildcat Cheer" from Disney's "High School Musical" National Tour.

Calhoun — represented on Broadway last season for his musical staging of "Grey Gardens" and director of the Tony Award-winning 1999 revival of "Annie Get Your Gun" starring Bernadette Peters and the 1994 "Grease" revival that brought Rosie O'Donnell to Broadway — knows something about successful shows, but admits that "High School Musical" is more than just a hit.

"I don't know how you can really explain the phenomenal success of something this big. It probably has a lot to do with there being someone on stage for everyone in the audience to relate to. In some ways it is like 'Grease' for the 21st century, but with a polar opposite story. Instead of being about the importance of looking, acting, or dressing a certain way in order to be cool, this is about how everyone can be cool just by being themselves."

Calhoun may not watch the Disney Channel, but he still relates to his main characters.

"I was the football quarterback who also the choreographer for my high school musical," says Calhoun who first gained fame in New York as a protégé of the legendary Tommy Tune on "My One and Only" and "The Will Rogers Follies."

"This story really resonates with me, because I can still remember having to leave football practice an hour early on Wednesdays to go to tap-dance class."

"High School Musical" will be at the Citi Performing Arts Center Wang Theatre, 270 Tremont St., Boston, through Nov. 4. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 1-800-447-7400 or go online at citicenter.org.

Send your calendar events to: Dorothy Dinsmore, Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 or by fax 781-837-4543 or email ddinsmore@cnc.com. For information call 781-837-4518. Deadline is Friday at noon. Visit Town Commons: What's happening on the South Shore on the web at townonline.com — click on your town — then click the entertainment tab.

Thursday, Nov. 1

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

The Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham invites the public to hear Rappaport Foundation's report on the impact of commuter rail on host communities. This free talk will be presented by David Luberoff, Executive Director of Harvard's Rappaport Institute for Greater Boston, on Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Library's Whiton Meeting Room. No reservations are required. 781-741-1405, ext. 2600. hinghamlibrary.org

Yoga at the Country Club of Halifax. This an all levels yoga class is currently ongoing at the Country Club of Halifax, on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. This class is suitable for all levels - beginners to advanced - and drop-ins are welcome. For information contact Stacey at 617-548-5877 or via email at stacey@letitflowfitness.com.

Mount Vernon Mortgage Corporation - Free Educational Homebuyer Seminars for South Shore Residents, Nov. 1, 6 to 8:30 p.m. Weymouth: Tufts Library (Main Branch), 46 Broad St., Nov. 3, 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Quincy: 500 Victory Road, Marina Bay. Free and open to the public. Pre-registration is required. Participants can register online at MtVernonMortgage.com/Events or register by phone at 781-337-2432 x16.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 1, Infractions. 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree every Thursday, Stump Team Trivia at 8:30 p.m. 781-849-7007.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's.every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with Erin & The Soul Drivers Nov. 1, at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 1, 9 p.m. Sean Killoran

Photograph by Mike Sleeper

BEST BET

Landscape Perspectives three photographers Margot Cheel, Mike Sleeper and Stephen Eames will be on view at the James Library and Center for the Arts, Norwell Center, from Nov. 2 through Nov. 28. An opening reception for the public will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 2. The exhibit may be viewed Tuesday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. jameslibrary.org. or 781.659.7100.

Photograph by Stephen Eames

Photograph by Margot Cheel

American Idol Finalist Elliott Yamin will perform a special concert immediately following the Celtics vs. Denver Nuggets game on Nov. 7, at the TD Banknorth Garden. This unique performance is the first of three post-game concerts. Tickets are available now and start at just $10 in the Rite Aid Pharmacy Family Section. To purchase tickets, log on toceltics.com or call 1-800-4NBA-T.I.X. or visit the Garden Box Office. One ticket grants admission to both Celtics NBA action and the special concert performance. Game time 7:30 p.m.

Elliott Yamin

BEST BET

Mark your calendar

THE PILGRIM FESTIVAL CHORUS Fall Concert performance, Nov. 11 at 3 p.m. at The Church of the Pilgrimage, 8 Town Square in Plymouth. Tickets are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. Advance tickets are available at The Golden Gull Studios at 17 South Park Avenue, Plymouth, 508-746-8091; Frame It Studio and Gallery at The Pinehills, Meeting Way in Plymouth, 508-209-0550; The Plymouth Philharmonic office at 16 Court St., Plymouth, 508-746-8008; and from PFC members. pilgrimfestival.org

THE 16TH ANNUAL OPEN STUDIOS, with 36 artists located in the ET Wright Building, 379 Liberty St., Rockland and seven artists located in the American Sandpaper Co., 83 E. Water St. Rockland. Nov. 17, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Nov. 18 from noon to 5 p.m. In each building, see artists working and demonstrating in their studios, see displays of their work, Artists include painters, printmakers, sculptors, photographers, jewelers, graphic designers, interior designers, architects, fiber artists, woodworkers, and potters. Plenty of free parking with police details. The ET Wright building is handicapped accessible. 781-792-1705 4thfloorartists.org

NORTH POLE EXPRESS Nov. 24, take a ride on the Polar Express at Kingston Commuter Rail Station. The event includes a magical ride aboard "The Polar Express" train, treats, a special gift from Santa and Mrs Claus and more. Tickets are $20 each and the train will leave the station at noon, 2:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. All proceeds benefit the Daniel Webster Elementary School Project Playground and PTO, Marshfield. For information or to purchase tickets, call 781-837-3555.

Friday, Nov. 2

Seaside Mothers of Multiples will be hosting its sixth annual Trunk Show from 7 to 11 p.m. Nov. 2, at The River Club, 78 Broad St., Scituate. The public is invited to this fun evening of stress-free, pre-holiday shopping featuring 25 hot vendors, cash bar, mini-massages, mini-facials and more. For information, contact Maureen Brennan at 781-740-8177 or visit the group's website at seasidemoms.org

Landscape Perspectives three photographers Margot Cheel, Mike Sleeper and Stephen Eames will be on view at the James Library and Center for the Arts, Norwell Center, from Nov. 2 through Nov. 28. An opening reception for the public will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 2. The exhibit may be viewed Tuesday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. jameslibrary.org. or 781.659.7100.

Boston in the Burbs!!! Ladies Night Out to benefit the Pembroke Education Foundation and the Pembroke Food Pantry, Nov. 2, from 7 to 11 p.m. at Halifax Country Club, (Route 106) 100 Country Club Drive, Halifax. Enjoy drawings, DJ, appetizers and a cash bar. Unique specialty shop vendors. Tickets $10 in advance by calling Cheryl Bocash at 781-293-2451or at the door. Visit womensclubofPembroke.org

Café Bella Coffeehouse, North River Community Church, 334 Old Oak St., Pembroke, presents acoustic artist Rosie Thomas Nov. 2. Show starts at 7 p.m., doors open 6:45 p.m. Admission is $10 and includes Starbucks coffee and desserts. All ages are welcome, handicap accessible. 781-826-0722 ext. 12. Visit rosiethomas.com or cafebella.org.

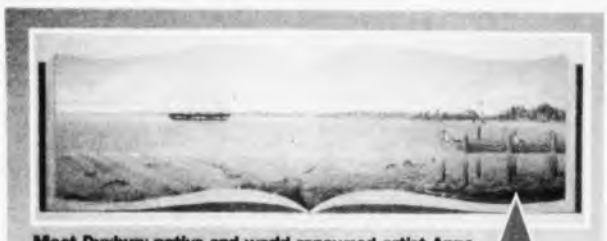
Oceanside 17 Studio & Gallery, 17 Rockland Circle, Hull. Here & Away: Four Hull Artists Murton Sudalter and Sharyn Fireman photographs and jewelry inspired by travel to exotic lands, Arlene Tuck landscapes in oil, Kim McNeil pastel landscapes. Opening reception 6:30 to 9 p.m. Nov. 2, Gallery Open Thursday-Sunday 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. by appt. 781-773-1563 Fandahazy@comcast.net

Paint! A national show, juried by Boston artist Gerry Bergstein, opens at South Shore Art Center, 119 Ripley Road, Cohasset, on Nov. 2 with a reception from 6 to 8 p.m. The Dillon Gallery will showcase the work of SSAC Gallery Artists with "Small Works" all artwork under 400 square inches and priced for holiday giving. 781-383-2787 ext. 10

The Cohasset Education Foundation is hosting its first annual family Barn Bash Nov. 2, at 6 p.m. the Red Lion Barn and will offer live music from the Armstrong Brothers, square dancing, country style food, pie baking contest, costume prizes and fun for all ages. Tickets for the Barn Bash are $25 for adults and $15 for children (under 5 years old are free). Space is limited so visit cohassetedfoundation.org to download an invitation or send in your check to the CEF at PO Box 309 Cohasset, MA 02025. For information, call Catherine O'Callaghan at 781-383-6868.

The Ventress Library, Library Plaza, off Rt. 139, Marshfield, Sunday Concert Series continues on Nov. 4, at 2 p.m. with a performance featuring jazz/pop/rock singer Lisa Yves of Easton. Yves, a member of the final nine out of 731 contestants in the 2004 Boston Pops talent search, has performed with Harry Connick, Jr. and Dave McKenna. She recently appeared on the Today Show with her female rock band "HRT" co-founded in 2004 with two other mothers (see hrtrocks.com) Yves appears in Marshfield with pianist Richard Rancatore, bassist Marshall Wood and clarinetist Elmer Drotos. The program, called "Musical Astonomy", will feature a variety of tunes from the jazz and pop repertoire. Free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served at a post-performance social hour. No tickets are required. For information, contact librarian Chris Woods at 781-834-5535 or visit ventrelllibrary.org

BEST BET



The Cohasset Cabaret will make its debut Nov. 2, and Nov. 3, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall, 129 South Main St. Each evening will begin with a social hour from 7 to 8 p.m., featuring a raffle table with items from local artists and merchants, followed by the cabaret. Tickets cost $25 each and are available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., each Sunday, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Tickets are also available during the week at the Parish Hall, and at the Cohasset Elder Affairs office at the South Shore Community Center on Main St. 781-383-0752.

The Autism Center of the South Shore, Inc will its first annual Harvest Dinner at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 2, at the Radisson Hotel, 929 Hingham St., Rockland. Cost: $50 per person; $475 for a table of 10. Corporate sponsorships are available and donations are tax-deductible . To donate or reserve a ticket to this event, contact Judy Geagan at 800-482-5788 or info@autismsouthshore.org. The featured keynote speaker will be Susan Senator, author of "Making Peace with Autism." Berkshire Hills Music Academy will provide entertainment and Tiffany Kelly, Miss Massachusetts 2006, will serve as the Master of Ceremonies.

CALENDAR, see next page

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 1-9, 2007

BEST BET

Meet Duxbury native and world renowned artist Anna Conway and co artist John Hodany creators of the Duxbury Bay Mural featured in the picture book room of the Children's Department. Nov. 3, at the Duxbury Free Library from 6:30 to 9:30 pm. Both artists will be signing limited editions of their Mural. Small giclee prints are $125 and larger prints are $200.All proceeds benefit the Library. Tickets are $45 per guest and only 200 tickets will be sold through the Library and Westwinds Bookshop. Music provided by Duxbury students. Coastal theme fare catered by Simply Divine with a raw bar provided by Island Creek Oysters and cash bar. Duxbury Bay Murals framed by Artica Gallery, now on display at the Library will be raffled during the evening. The Friends are accepting preorders for prints at 781-837-0834.

Continued from previous page

The South Shore Folk Music Club presents Session Americana, no longer Boston's best kept secret, on Friday, Nov. 2. The concert will be held at The Beal House of the Unitarian Universalist Church, 222 Main St., Route 106, Kingston. The hall is handicapped accessible and smoke and alcohol-free. Doors open at 7:30. The concert starts at 8 p.m. Tickets at the door are $13 for members and $15 for non-members. Advance tickets are available by mailing your request and check at least 10 days in advance to: South Shore Folk Music Club, P.O. Box 156, Kingston, Mass. 02364. ssfmc.org or 781-871-1052.

Country star Josh Gracin will make his area debut with a show at Plymouth Memorial Hall on Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. Opening for Gracin will be Carmen Rasmusen. Tickets are priced at $45-$25, with a limited number of VIP tickets available which include a pre-show reception with Josh Gracin and Carmen Rasmusen, with the proceeds from the reception going to Habitat for Humanity. Tickets are available at the Plymouth Hall box-office at 50 Court Street in Plymouth, Ma, by phone at 508-747-1340, online at plymouthhall.com, and at all FYE & Strawberries outlets.

South Shore Conservatory presents Opera By The Bay's* production of La Traviata in Cox Hall, South Shore Conservatory, Hingham, Nov. 2, and at the Ellison Center for the Arts, Duxbury, on Nov. 3. Both concerts begin at 7:30 p.m. A wine and cheese reception will precede the performances at 6:45 p.m. Tickets are $20 for adults and $12 for children. For information contact Amy Schomp, 781-749-7565 x19 or amyschomp@southshoreconservatory.org.

Tuscan House Restaurant, 58 E. Grove Street (Rt. 28) Middleboro Comedy & Dinner Show, Nov. 2, 7 p.m. Rescheduled and back by popular demand: Frank Santorelli and a very special performance by Rex Trailer of "Boomtown fame. Other comics: Annette Pollack Taylor Connelly, and your host: Joe List (508) 923-0099 For Tix/ReservationsDinner/Show Package $35.95. Comedy Show $22. Advance reservations required by calling 508-923-0099 or 781-843-4833.

New England Singles Dances, Mosely on the Charles, 50 Bridge St., Dedham. Admission $12. 617-325-4900 Adults of all ages. Music from the 70s to the present and requests .singlesdances-newengland.com

Single Executives Club Singles Dance, South Shore Country Club, 274 South St., Hingham. 8:30 p.m. to midnight. For singles and couples age 35 and over. Proper dress required, ties and jackets recommended. Admittance $10 before 9 p.m. or $15 after. Free dance lesson from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Dance music by DJ. Se-4u.com 781-446-0234.

The Academy of The Company Theatre's production of Give My Regards to Broadway. Young performers will be bringing back the music and dance of those old-time Hollywood musicals. Performances are Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m., and Nov. 4 at 3 p.m. Tickets are $12 and can be purchased at The Company Theatre box-office at 30 Accord Park Drive in Norwell, by phone at 781-871-2787, companytheatre.com

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 2, Don't Call Me Junior 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 2, 10K-Shimmer 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 2, 9 p.m. Too Loud, Cover charge.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth.Nov. 2, at 9:15 p.m., Satch and The Mighty Houserockers. No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, DJ Rick every Friday. 781-849-7007.

Singles Executive Club, Singles Dance, Nov. 2, from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. South Shore Country Club, 274 South St,. Hingham. Free dance lessons 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Singles and couples age 35 and over. Proper dress required, ties and jackets recommended. Admittance is $10 before 9 p.m. or $15 after. 781-446-0234 se-4u.com

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 2 Chris Fitz Band. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Saturday, Nov. 3

Mount Vernon Mortgage Corporation - Free Educational Homebuyer Seminars for South Shore Residents, Nov. 1, 6 to 8:30 p.m. Weymouth: Tufts Library (Main Branch), 46 Broad St., Nov. 3, 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Quincy: 500 Victory Road, Marina Bay. Free and open to the public. Pre-registration is required. Participants can register online at MtVernonMortgage.com/Events or register by phone at 781-337-2432 x16.

Securitas Financial Group, One Derby St., Hingham and Guardian Life Insurance Company of American, New York, is offering an educational seminar for members of the community Nov. 3, at 10 a.m. on the subject of "Education Funding Strategies". Contact: Richard Gilman, 781-682-8120, or via email: Richard_gilman@securitasfg.com

Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt.3A, Cohasset welcomes the award winning artist/author Tomie dePaola at 11 a.m. Nov. 3. Tomie will be reading (reading will start promptly at 11 a.m.) from his new book, Front Porch Tales & North Country Whoppers. Tomie will be happy to sign all books bought at the store for this event, including one (but only one) book from your home, library, or classroom. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a personalized or signed copy, call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.

Latin American Food Festival from 3 to 5 p.m. Nov. 3, North River Community Church 334 Old Oak St., Pembroke. Sample typical food from different Latin American countries including: Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Puerto Rico and Venezuela. Enjoy music and cultural presentations and interact with native Spanish speakers. Free event! Kids activities. For information call Rosa 781-927-9337.

Ballroom Dance, Trinity Episcopal Church Hall, 241 Broad St., Weymouth, Nov. 3, from 7:30 to 11 p.m. Tickets $12 advance / $15 door. DJ Music by DanceSport of Boston. Refreshments - door prizes.617-325-1562(open to the public), Hingham Nursery School will host its Harvest Party and Auction on Nov. 3, Parents and all community friends are welcome to attend. The event will take place at the Old Ship Church Parish House from 7 p.m. through 11 p.m. The night will include cocktails, hors d'oeuvres and music. Both a live and silent auction will be held showcasing variety of exiting items donated by the community. Tickets are $50 per person. For ticket information, contact Hingham Nursery School at 781-749-0029. All proceeds will benefit Hingham Nursery School.

Cradles to Crayons: second annual Family Time To Give a large-scale donation drive and family volunteer day on Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Resurrection Church, 1057 Main St., Hingham. Volunteer your time and bring donations of new and gently-used children's clothes and shoes, maternity clothes, children's games and toys, school supplies, and baby items and equipment. Visit cradlestocrayons.org for more details or contact Jen at jpoakley5@hotmail.com.

BEST BET

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth.Nov. 2, at 9:15 p.m., Satch and The Mighty Houserockers. No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Reunions

ALL FORMER CAMPER/COUNSELORS-50TH CAMP REUNION, Camps Winni, Kingsmont and Ossipee. Nov. 3, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Lantana in Randolph 43 Scanlon Drive, Randolph. Cost: $50 per/person dinner, entertainment, dancing and a "camp momento." Register on-line youhadtobethere.org or send a check to Don McGibbon, 108 Walker Lane Abington, MA 02351. For information contact Don McGibbon at DonaldMcGi@aol.com or Donna (Ripley) Fallon at djfall@comcast.net or visit youhadtobethere.org. Spread the word. RSVP by Oct. 15. 781-961-4660.

HOLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion class of 1987, Nov. 10, 7 to 11 p.m. Cocktail Reception at The Four's Restaurant, 15 Cottage Ave., Quincy. Includes: cash bar, appetizer buffet, desserts, and a DJ. $40 per person. RSVP to: hhsclass1987reunion@yahoo.com or call 617-240-3846 as soon as possible. Tickets must be pre-paid.

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 2002- Fifth year reunion Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Salon du Soleil at the Red Lion Inn, Cohasset.

NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987 20 year class reunion on Nov. 23, 7:30-12:30 at Black Rock Country Club, Hingham. Ticket price is $50 per person, includes: cash bar, hors d'oeuvres, desserts and DJ. Call Cheri (Connolly) Farley at 781-659-5898 for more information or visit norwellhs1987.myevent.com

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 10 Year Reunion – class of 1997, Nov. 23, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Jillian's on Lansdowne St., Boston, on the second floor in the main Jillian's complex. $25 per person and guests are welcome. Includes plenty of food, lots of pool tables, and bowling.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987, Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at the Red Parrot in Hull Alumni are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL 30th reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/ M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion Class of 1982 Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 15th reunion Class of 1992 Nov. 23, 8 p.m. to midnight at F1 Boston on Wood Rd. in Braintree. The cost is $45 per person and the evening will include DJ, cash bar, and apps. Checks can be made payable to Laurice Vallancourt/BHS Class of 1992 and mailed to 11 Winter Terrace, Hanson MA 02341 by Nov. 9. Any questions, contact Laurice (Gunn) Vallancourt at vallancourt11@comcast.net

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 30th Reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr., Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holiday-inn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL- Class of 1977 30th year reunion, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Nov. 24. Dinner buffet at The Weymouth Elks, Washington St., (Rte. 53). Includes: cash bar, appetizers, dinner buffet, dessert and DJ. $35 per person. RSVP to weymouthsouth77@yahoo.com by Nov. 12.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987 Saturday, Nov. 24, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Sons of Italy in Braintree. $35 per person or $60 per couple. Includes D.J., cash bar and apps until 10 p.m. Checks made payable to B.H.S. Class of 1987 and should be mailed to Mary Ellen Coffey, 53 Till Rock Lane, Norwell, MA 02061. Any questions, contact Mary Ellen (Gunn) Coffey at maryellen724@yahoo.com.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1982, 25th Reunion, Dec. 1, from 7 to 11 p.m.at The Jones River Trading Company, 42 Elm St., Kingston, $40 per person check payable to: WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF '82 Mail to: Mary Beth Hillson, 5 Collins Circle, South Weymouth, MA 02190. For more info or questions e-mail weymouthsouth82@yahoo.com

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASS FLORIDA REUNION: The 25th Annual Braintree High All Class Florida Reunion will be held at the Ramada Plaza Hotel in Kissimmee, FL the weekend of Feb. 8, 2008. The reunion luncheon is scheduled for Feb. 9, 2008. The cost of the luncheon will be $25 per person. For complete details, logon to braintreehigh.com, click on "Florida" or contact Jill (Whitten) Coyle at 781-843-3275 or jcoyle@beld.net.

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

BEST BET

Dickinson Art Gallery, 1132 Main St., Weymouth presents the mixed-media works of the experimental contemporary painter, Stanley Krupa, in the Glass Gallery from Nov. 3 through Nov. 16. The studio gallery will be showing works by Edwina Caci, Vincent Elliot, William Beyer, Steve Boczanowski, Dominic Farrell, Kathy Ferrara, Roger Gill, Dick O'Brien, Isabelle Shamitz, Brian Josellyn, Charyl Weissbach, Marilyn Reisberg, Stephan H. Holland, Danielle Myers, Chris Myers, George Hartley, Corey Ritch, Charlie Robinson, J. Marshall Dyke, Danielle Festa, George Murray, Lisa Smith, and Fred Madden, as well as the private collection of the gallery owner, Donald Dickinson. Gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. -6 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m. 781-331-3384 dickinsonartgallery.com

The Marshfield Republican Town Committee is hosting a Pasta & Politics dinner on Nov. 3, at the Elks Lodge in Marshfield from 6 to 9 pm. The suggested donation is $10 for adults, $5 for kids. For tickets and more information please call Ed O'Connell at (781) 834-8715, Lynne Cooper at (781) 837-8268 or Paul Fitzpatrick at (781) 424-9945.

Clift Rogers Library Harvest Dance Nov. 3,at the Clift Rogers Library will hold their annual Harvest Dance at the North Community Parish House in Marshfield. It begins at 7:30 p.m. and dance lessons will be offered. Limited tickets are available for $10 per person. All proceeds go directly to the Clift Rogers Library. To purchase tickets or for more information, call 781-834-4597.

Dickinson Art Gallery, 1132 Main St., Weymouth presents the mixed-media works of the experimental contemporary painter, Stanley Krupa, in the Glass Gallery from Nov. 3 through Nov. 16. The studio gallery will be showing works by Edwina Caci, Vincent Elliot, William Beyer, Steve Boczanowski, Dominic Farrell, Kathy Ferrara, Roger Gill, Dick O'Brien, Isabelle Shamitz, Brian Josellyn, Charyl Weissbach, Marilyn Reisberg, Stephan H. Holland, Danielle Myers, Chris Myers, George Hartley, Corey Ritch, Charlie Robinson, J. Marshall Dyke, Danielle Festa, George Murray, Lisa Smith, and Fred Madden, as well as the private collection of the gallery owner, Donald Dickinson. Gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m. dickinsonartgallery.com 781-331-3384.

The Cohasset Cabaret will make its debut Nov. 2, and Nov. 3, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall, 129 South Main St. Each evening will begin with a social hour from 7 to 8 p.m., featuring a raffle table with items from local artists and merchants, followed by the cabaret. Tickets cost $25 each and are available from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., each Sunday, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Tickets are also available during the week at the Parish Hall, and at the Cohasset Elder Affairs office at the South Shore Community Center on Main St. 781-383-0752.

Randolph Theater Company presents CINDERELLA Nov. 3, 4, 5, Evening performances at 7:30 p.m. Matinee at 2 p.m. Randolph High School, Memorial Parkway, Randolph. For information, call 781-961-0939.

Meet Duxbury native and world renowned artist Anna Conway and co artist John Hodany creators of the Duxbury Bay Mural featured in the picture book room of the Children's Department. Nov. 3, at the Duxbury Free Library from 6:30 to 9:30 pm. The Friends are accepting preorders for prints at 781-837-0834.

Comedy and dinner show at X & O Restaurant. 217 Washington St., Stoughton. Nov. 3, 7 p.m., Featured comic is Frank Santorelli. The dinner and show package is $40. Comedy show alone is $20. Advance reservations required. For more information, tickets and reservations, call 781-344-1800 or 781-843-4833.

New England Singles Dances, Halifax Country Club, 100 Country Club Dr., Route 106, Halifax. DJ Admission $9 617-325-4900 Adults of all ages. Music from the 70s to the present and requests. singlesdances-newengland.com

Run O' The Mill, 6 Spring Lane (the Gristmill), Plymouth, Nov. 3, Traditional Irish Seisiun every Saturday evening from 5:30 to 9 p.m. Great tunes and songs of infinite variety from sea chanteys, rebel songs, and songs of loss, to jigs, reels, and hornpipes, with great craic and singalong. Admission is free. No Cover. 508-830-1262.

Sweet Fordy's, 290 Center St, Pembroke. First Saturday of the month, Wine and Pastry tasting from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. 781-294-8550

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 3, Blind Ambition 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 3, Rob Benton Band 781-829-6999.

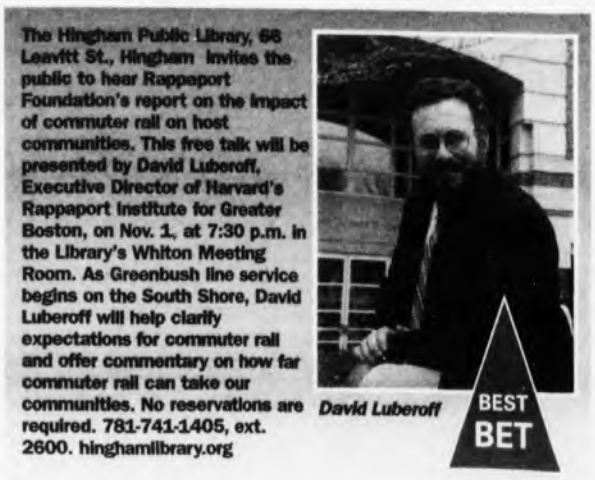
JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, Nov. 3, Torpedo Ray. 781-849-7007.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 3, 9 p.m. The Smoking Jackets .

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth.Nov. 3, at 9:15 p.m., Track 44. No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 3, Steve Smith & The Nakeds. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Sunday, Nov. 4



All you can eat breakfast, Nov. 4, from 8 to 11:30 a.m. Corner Stone Lodge, 585 Washington St, Duxbury. Scrambled eggs, home fries, bacon, sausage, toast, English muffins, baked beans, juice and coffee. Pancakes and French toast cooked to order. Adults, $7; seniors, $6; children ages 12 and under $5. Open to the public.

The Calyx Piano Trio will kick off the concert season at James Library & Center for the Arts, 24 West St., Norwell on Sunday, Nov. 4 at 3 p.m. Tickets are $20 adult/$18 senior/ $10 student and will be available at the door or by calling The James at 781-659-7100. The concert includes classics of the piano trio repertoire by Mozart, Bach and Tchaikovsky. A complimentary reception to meet the musicians follows the concert. JamesLibrary.org.

The Scituate Library Foundation presents a KidsConcert program at Scituate Town Library at 12:30 p.m. Nov.4. An octet of Atlantic Symphony Orchestra musicians, two from each "family" of instruments (strings, woodwinds, brass and percussion) and conductor Jin Kim present a lively introduction to classical music to students ages 5 and up, accompanied by an adult. Tickets are $3 for children and adults. Space is limited so advance purchase is recommended. Tickets are available for purchase at the circulation desk at Scituate Town Library, 85 Branch St., 781-545-8727 or scituatetownlibrary.org.

The Art Complex Museum 189 Alden St., Duxbury presents pianist, Levon Hovsepian in concert at 4 p.m. Nov. 4. The concert is free and open to the public. 781-934-6634 x 12 artcomplex.org

CALENDAR, see next page

BEST BET

David Luberoff

The Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham invites the public to hear Rappaport Foundation's report on the impact of commuter rail on host communities. This free talk will be presented by David Luberoff, Executive Director of Harvard's Rappaport Institute for Greater Boston, on Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Library's Whiton Meeting Room. As Greenbush line service begins on the South Shore, David Luberoff will help clarify expectations for commuter rail and offer commentary on how far commuter rail can take our communities. No reservations are required. 781-741-1405, ext. 2600. hinghamlibrary.org

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 1-9, 2007

BEST BET

Hull artist Lenore Schneider presents Forever a'Bloom in the Clemens Gallery at Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham from Nov. 3-30. The show consists of eight flower drawings. She invites the public to her Sunday, Nov. 4, opening reception from 2 to 4 p.m.. "Forever a'Bloom" may be viewed during library business hours. Learn more about Lenore Schneider and her art work by visiting lenoreschneider.com

Continued from previous page

Hull artist Lenore Schneider presents Forever a'Bloom in the Clemens Gallery at Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham from Nov. 3-30. The show consists of eight flower drawings. She invites the public to her Sunday, Nov. 4, opening reception from 2 to 4 p.m.. "Forever a'Bloom" may be viewed during library business hours. Learn more about Lenore Schneider and her art work by visiting lenoreschneider.com

The Historical Society of Old Abington, Inc. will hold its next meeting at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 4, at the Dyer Memorial Library, 28 Centre Avenue, in Abington. A program titled "Retrospective on the Dyer Memorial Library" will be presented by Library Director, Joice Himawan. The public is welcome to attend. 781-878-8480.

The annual Candlelight Concert series at Hingham's Old Ship Church, 107 Main St., Hingham, kicks off its new season on Sunday, Nov. 4, with a free performance by the Chameleon Arts Ensemble of Boston at 4 p.m. in the meeting house. Free and open to the public. Handicap accessible. Children are especially welcome accompanied by adults. Call 781-749-1067 for large group reservations. Directions are available from the church office during business hours at 781-749-1679, or online at oldshipchurch.org.

The Ventress Library, Library Plaze, off Rt. 139, Marshfield Sunday Concert Series continues on Nov. 4, at 2 p.m. with a performance featuring jazz/pop/rock singer Lisa Yves of Easton. Yves, a member of the final nine out of 731 contestants in the 2004 Boston Pops talent search, has performed with Harry Connick, Jr. and Dave McKenna. She recently appeared on the Today Show with her female rock band "HRT" co-founded in 2004 with two other mothers (see hrtrocks.com) Yves appears in Marshfield with pianist Richard Rancatore, bassist Marshall Wood and clarinetist Elmer Drotos. The program, called "Musical Astonomy", will feature a variety of tunes from the jazz and pop repertoire. Free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served at a post-performance social hour. No tickets are required. For information, Chris Woods at 781-834-5535 or visit ventrelllibrary.org

Monday, Nov. 5

Toastmasters Club, Hanover, The new South Shore Professionals Toastmasters club will meet on the first and third Monday of every month. Learn about how Toastmasters can help you become a more effective leader and communicator. The meetings will run from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Rockland Trust building, 2036 Washington St.- third floor. 617-548-5877 or stacey@letitflowfitness.com. or toastmasters.org.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. every Monday, free Texas Hold'em with Northern poker league 781-829-6999.

New Beginnings, a nonprofit, nonsectarian support organization for single, widowed, separated and divorced men and women, has helped more than 9,400 South Shore residents start a new life over the past 20 years. New Beginnings meets at the UCC Church, 460 Main St., Norwell, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Support groups meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., followed by social time and the evening's program or speaker. Orientation is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and is highly recommended for newcomers. All are welcome. For information, call Peggy Loud at 781-659-1857 .

Tuesday, Nov. 6

The South Shore Men of Harmony Barbershop Chorus invites men of all ages who like to sing to join them during the month of November to rehearsals that will be open to anyone who would like to learn Christmas music sung in the Barbershop acapella style. They will be accepting invitations from all sorts of organizations to present Christmas programs and would be delighted to include whoever is interested in having fun singing. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., at the corner of Central Street. Call 781-337-SING for additional information or e-mail danielcostello@gmail.com or billfitzjr@aol.com.

The North River Arts Society presents Faces & Places, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery, Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield, featuring original watercolor paintings by Wendy Hale through Nov. 6. For information, call NRAS at 781-837-8091 or email northriverarts@verizon.net 781-834-5535

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 6, Game Show Trivia 781-837-6368.

The New England Landscapes of Duxbury photographer Steven Eames are featured in the Dolphin Gallery at the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St, Hingham through Nov. 29. The exhibit may be viewed during library hours. Hinghamlibrary.org 781-741-1405 ext. 2600.

Wednesday, Nov. 7

Food Allergy Group of the South Shore meeting Topic: Food Allergy Myth Busters 7 to 9 p.m. at South Shore Hospital, 55 Fogg Rd., So. Weymouth. Free. For information call 781-444-7778, or visit asthmaandallergies.org.

The Hingham Library and Buttonwood Books welcome Diane Rapaport at 7 p.m. Nov.7, at the Hingham Library. Rapaport will be hosting an illustrated presentation about her new book, The Naked Quaker: True Crimes and Controversies from the Courts of Colonial New England. This is a free event. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a personalized or signed copy, call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.

Rockland Garden Club Meeting, 6:30 p.m. Nov. 7, Rockland Memorial Library, Belmont St., Rockland, Program: What the Garden Has Taught Me by Marcia Baker of A Family Affair in Hanson. Guests are welcome. 781-878-8629.

Eastern Bank will host a free, first-time homebuyer seminars providing a variety of information on financing from 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 7 at Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., Hingham. For information or to register to attend, call Pat Talbot 781-348-4963.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

American Idol Finalist Elliott Yamin will perform a special concert immediately following the Celtics vs. Denver Nuggets game on Nov. 7, at the TD Banknorth Garden. This unique performance is the first of three post-game concerts. Tickets are available now and start at just $10 in the Rite Aid Pharmacy Family Section. To purchase tickets, log on toceltics.com or call 1-800-4NBA-TIX, or visit the Garden Box Office. One ticket grants admission to both Celtics NBA action and the special concert performance. Game time 7:30 p.m.

First Time Home Buyer Seminar: Eastern Bank. Nov. 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., Hingham. Learn about a variety of options for homebuyers programs such as My Community which provides 100 percent financing as well as Mass Advantage products through Mass Housing Finance Agency. Call to register at 781-348-4963.

Thursday, Nov. 8

The Friends of the Scituate Library and Buttonwood Books & Toys welcome Archer Mayor, 2004 Winner - Book Award for Best Fiction by New England Booksellers, at 7 p.m. Nov. 8, at the Scituate Library, 85 Branch St., Scituate. Mayor will discuss "Chat", the 18th book in the highly successful and well-loved mystery series featuring Brattleboro, Vermont, policeman Joe Gunther. Books, provided by Buttonwood, will be available for purchase. If you are unable to attend and would like to purchase a signed book, call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665 or order online at buttonwoodbooks.com.

The Duxbury Newcomers Club invites the public to support local area women and invited guests as they showcase their handmade unique gifts and those of the companies they represent in the club's second annual Shop-A-Palooza. The event takes place at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, at The Pub in the Kingsbury Club in Kingston. It promises to be an evening of good food, good drink and - best of all - good shopping! More than 25 vendors include Mermaids of Duxbury, Bella of Cape Cod, Simply Beads, Celebrations, etc., Jilly Bean Bags and Wiggee's. Proceeds go to local charities. For information call Lori Mullin at 781-934-7173 or Mollie O'Hara at 781-934-9484.

BEST BET

The Academy of The Company Theatre presents "Give My Regards to Broadway." Young performers will be bringing back the music and dance of those old-time Hollywood musicals. Performances are Nov. 2 at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m., and Nov. 4 at 3 p.m. Tickets are $12 and can be purchased at The Company Theatre box-office at 30 Accord Park Drive Norwell, by phone at 781-871-2787, companytheatre.com

Luke Sullivan of Hingham and Natalie Mirabito of Norwell

The Buttonwood Book Group for Middle School children (Grades 6-8) will meet on Nov. 8, 7 p.m. at Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt. 3A, Cohasset. The facilitator is Ms. Barb Mullin. The selected book is "Flush" by Carl Hiaasen. No reservations are necessary. All are welcome. 781-383-2665.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

Wine Tasting and silent auction to benefit TIC Network 6 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 8, at Plymouth Country Club featuring wine provided by Empire Wine and Spirits of Kingston and food prepared by the club's executive chef Keith Kolinsky Local singer Lori Asher will be performing. Tickets are $25 and are available through TIC by calling 781-834-4400 or e-mailing Ron Bersani at rbersani@ticnetwork.com

Yoga at the Country Club of Halifax. This all levels yoga class is currently ongoing at the Country Club of Halifax, on Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. This class is suitable for all levels - beginners to advanced - and drop-ins are welcome. For information contact Stacey at 617-548-5877 or via email at stacey@letitflowfitness.com.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 8, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 8, 9 p.m. Jamie Walker.

Friday, Nov. 9

Wellspring Silver Star Soiree, A sparkling evening supporting the programs of Wellspring Nov. 9, 7 to 10 p.m. At the Derby Street Shoppes, 98 Derby St., Suite 460, Hingham. Food stations, music, wine silver giving stars, and the chance to win $1,000 shopping spree at the Derby Street Shoppes, $35 per person. Call 781-925-3211 for information or to purchase tickets

Communicating with deceased loved ones with Rita. Nov. 9, 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Center at Westwoods, Westwood. Costs $40 before Nov 1 and $50 after. For information, call Candita at 781-834-2728.

Phillips Old Colony House 780 Morrissey Blvd., Boston. Comedy and dinner show. Nov. 9, 7 p.m. Comics include Kevin Knox, Dan Boulger, Annette Pollack, Christine Hurley and Corey Manning. Call 617-282-7700, extension 0 or 781-843-4833 for reservations. The dinner and show is $39.95 per person. The comedy show alone is $25. Advance reservations are required.

South Shore Singles will sponsor its bi-monthly dance with DJ: Dave Becker Nov. 9, from 8 to 11:30 at the Abington VFW, 30 Central St., Abington. Doors open 7:15 p.m. Free dance lesson 7:30 to 8 p.m. Free snacks and coffee, cash bar. 781-331-0021 southshoresingles.org

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 9, Sage 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 9, Flydown 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 9, 9 p.m. The Vibe, top 40. Cover charge.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 9, Funky White Honkies Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Send your calendar news to ddinsmore@cnc.com

Theater review

The cast of "Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street"

Todd' cuts to the core

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

Much has been written about John Doyle's "revolutionary re-imagining" of Stephen Sondheim's classic musical "Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street" since it opened in England in 2004 and on Broadway the following year. Those of us fortunate enough to have seen the original Harold Prince production in 1979 fondly remember its grand scale and Grand Guignol styling complete with a 30-member cast and full orchestra. When word came from London that Doyle was dispensing with the pit band, paring down the acting company, and having his 10-member "Sweeney" cast play their own instruments, many wondered whether the director best known for his work in regional theater was really reworking a masterwork or just finding a way to make it work for less. The Broadway revival quieted some of the naysayers when it opened two years ago this week, and went on to win Doyle the Tony Award for Best Direction of a Musical and enough critical acclaim to send out the first-rate national tour now at Boston's Colonial Theatre.

There was grandness in every part of Harold Prince's original telling of "Sweeney Todd," with a Hugh Wheeler book based on the 19th century legend of a London barber who embarks on a life of crime after a spiteful judge separated him from his wife and daughter by sending him to prison, and a truly magnificent performance by Angela Lansbury as the pie-making Mrs. Lovett. Lansbury shared that two-story, rolling "Sweeney" stage set with Len Cariou on Broadway and later George Hearn on national tour. In the 2005 revival, Patti Lupone had to hoist a tuba to her lips to define her Mrs. Lovett as a bakeshop trollop trolling for ingredients in all the wrong places. Lupone has a voice many people love, but she never seems able to lose herself completely in any character. Lupone was also only so willing to share the stage even with her sexy Sweeney Todd, the estimable Michael Cerveris whose madman barber out for revenge seemed genuinely mad in every way.

The tour, which launched here last week, features the splendid Judy Kaye as Mrs. Lovett. Unlike Lupone, who not for a single minute seemed ever to have been an English schoolgirl, Kaye appears British to the bone, especially in an Aquanet-enforced jet black wig that looks like it came from the wardrobe department at a BBC sitcom. Kaye doesn't just look the part of Mrs. Lovett, she sings it, too, most memorably on "The Worst Pies in London," "Poor Thing," and "Wait." David Hess is very good as Todd and he has palpable chemistry with Kaye that makes their characters work as a couple in ways that haven't always been clear in prior productions. Edmund Bagnell, as both the straight jacketed resident of the asylum and Mrs. Lovett's young bakeshop employee, has the audience's attention from his first entrance and does a yeoman job on the violin and clarinet. Benjamin Magnuson and Lauren Molina play the cello and keyboard, and cello, respectively, while also doing top-notch work as the sweet, doomed young couple, Anthony and Johanna. Magnuson delivers the first "Johanna" beautifully in act one, before it is sung again to disturbing effect by Keith Buterbaugh as Judge Turpin, the jurist whose malevolence didn't end when he jailed Todd and became Johanna's foster father.

Whether you prefer the Lovett of Lansbury, Lupone or Kaye, and whether you like your "Sweeney Todd" as a garish spectacle that you can't take your eyes off of, or as a dark and intimate tale that at once repels and lures you in, you can't help but revel in Sondheim's masterful score. From the rousing, riveting exhortation of "The Ballad of Sweeney Todd" through the hauntingly ethereal "Johanna" to "Pretty Women" and the gorgeous "Not While I'm Around," this may very well be the best work of one of Broadway's most prolific and highly regarded composers and lyricists. You may wish these great voices were left only to sing and were accompanied by equally great Broadway-level musicians, but you will still have an experience to remember if you attend the tale of "Sweeney Todd."

"Sweeney Todd, The Demon Barber of Fleet Street," will be at the Colonial Theatre, 106 Boylston St., Boston, through Nov. 4. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 617-931-2787 or go online at broadwayacrossamerica.com/boston.

Fairs and festivals

THE SHOPPING EXTRAVAGANZA, Norwell Middle School PTO Shopping Extravaganza 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 3, at the Cushing Center, 673 Main St., Norwell. Showcasing a variety of products designed and created by area business owners and local shops. and artisans. Refreshments and bake sale table raffle prizes. Admission Tickets $ 3 sold at the door.

HARVEST FAIR St. Luke's, Route 3A and First Parish Road, Scituate from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 3. 781-545-9482.

ANNUAL SWEDISH COUNTRY FAIR at the Covenant Congregational Church. 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Nov. 3, 204 Center St., North Easton. Admission is free.

ANNUAL HOLLY DAY BAZAAR. Avon Baptist Church 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 3, 119 North Main St., Avon.

21ST ANNUAL CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL New England's Largest Fine Art and Craft Show at World Trade Center, Boston. Nov. 2, 3 and 4, at Boston's Seaport World Trade Center featuring more than 300 artists and master craftsmen. Hours are Friday, noon to 7 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. - 7 p.m.; and Sunday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Tickets are $12 for adults and free for children under 14. 617-385-5000, christmascraftfestival.com

ANNUAL BROCKTON TRAIN SHOW. 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 4, at the Brotherhood of Temple Beth Emunah located in Brockton. The kosher snack bar will be open for breakfast, lunch and snacks. Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for senior citizens over 65 and children ages 8 to 17 and $7 for a family fare. Children 7 and under admitted free with an adult. 508-583-5810 or e-mail to acastaline@alum.mit.edu.

15TH ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR, St. Ann by the Sea Crafters, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 17, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 18. Parish hall, 591 Ocean St., (Rt. 139) Marshfield. Table space available, $25 for two days. Call 781-83702447 or 781-834-4953.

YAMAHA

208 Adventurer
20' Walkaround Cabin

Marine Advisory: Get the Grady.

Grady-White sets the standard for safety, quality, reliability and performance even in the toughest conditions. Take to the water with confidence in the world's most superbly engineered small sportfishing boat. Get the Grady!

GRADY-WHITE

56 YEARS

BAYSIDE MARINE Corp.
441 WASHINGTON ST., DUXBURY
781-934-0561 • 1-800-540-0561
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Open 7 Days 8-6

- Marine Store
- Gas Dock
- Full Service Yard

INFINITI®

Premium pre-owned vehicles!

2005 Ford Freestar Wagon SES

$10,988 No. P172

2005 Chevrolet Impala

$12,489 No. P173

2003 Infiniti I35 Luxury

$14,479 No. 73849A

2005 Jeep Grand Cherokee Laredo

$14,999 No. 73872A

2005 Mazda Tribute

$15,900 No. I3797B

2001 Lexus RX 300

$16,880 No. I3708B

2001 BMW 7-Series 740iL

$16,999 No. I3772A

2003 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$17,679 No. 83843A

2004 Infiniti I35

$18,995 No. P162

2004 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$19,999 No. I3786A

2004 Lexus ES 330

$20,879 No. I3695A

2004 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$21,879 No. P169

2006 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$22,879 No. P152

2005 Lexus ES 330

$24,989 No. 73865A

2005 Infiniti G35 Sedan

$24,995 No. 73823A

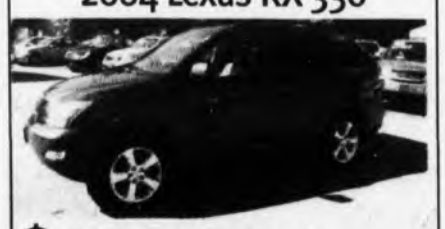
2004 Toyota Sequoia SR5

$24,995 No. 83886A

2004 Infiniti G35 Coupe

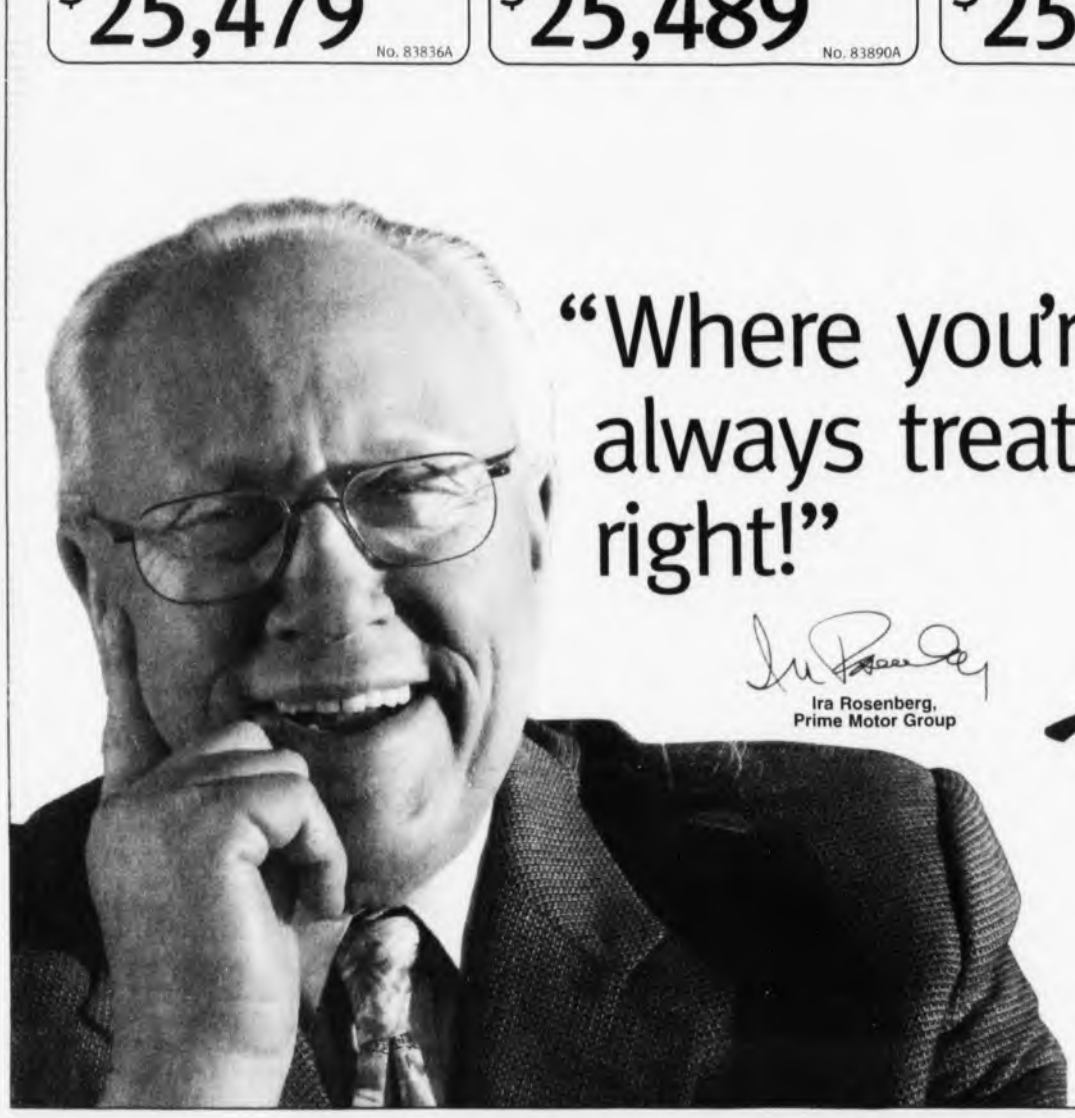
$25,479 No. 83836A

2004 Infiniti G35 Coupe



$25,489 No. 83890A

2004 Acura MDX Touring



$25,879 No. P168

2004 Lexus RX 330

$25,989 No. 73903A

"Where you're always treated right!"

Ira Rosenberg, Prime Motor Group

Prime MOTOR GROUP

572 Washington St., Hanover
1-888-425-8999 • www.primeinfiniti.com

Open Mon. thru Thurs. 9AM to 8PM
Fri. & Sat. 9AM to 6PM, Sun. Noon to 5PM

44 ######AR-RT WSH##C-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY R
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
'The best of the best'
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

TOWN COMMONS
"Evidence of Life" works of Mary A. Smith at the South Street Gallery.
► SEE INSIDE

Paul Pratt Memorial Library
35 Ripley Rd.
Cohasset, MA 02025

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 2007 | 52 Pages ■ 3 Sections ■ Vol. 28, No. 45 ■ $1.00

Sidesplitting comedy on stage

STAFF PHOTO/MARK GARDNER

► SEE PAGE 12

Gridiron Skippers stand tall

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

► SEE PAGE 17

Hometown hoedown for CEF

COURTESY PHOTO/AMY OSTEN

► SEE PAGE 23

QUICK INDEX

Street lines 3
St. Croix puppies 7
Archives 8
Cooking class 9
Opinion 10-11, 13
Virtual learning 15
Life at CHS 21
Worship 22, 27

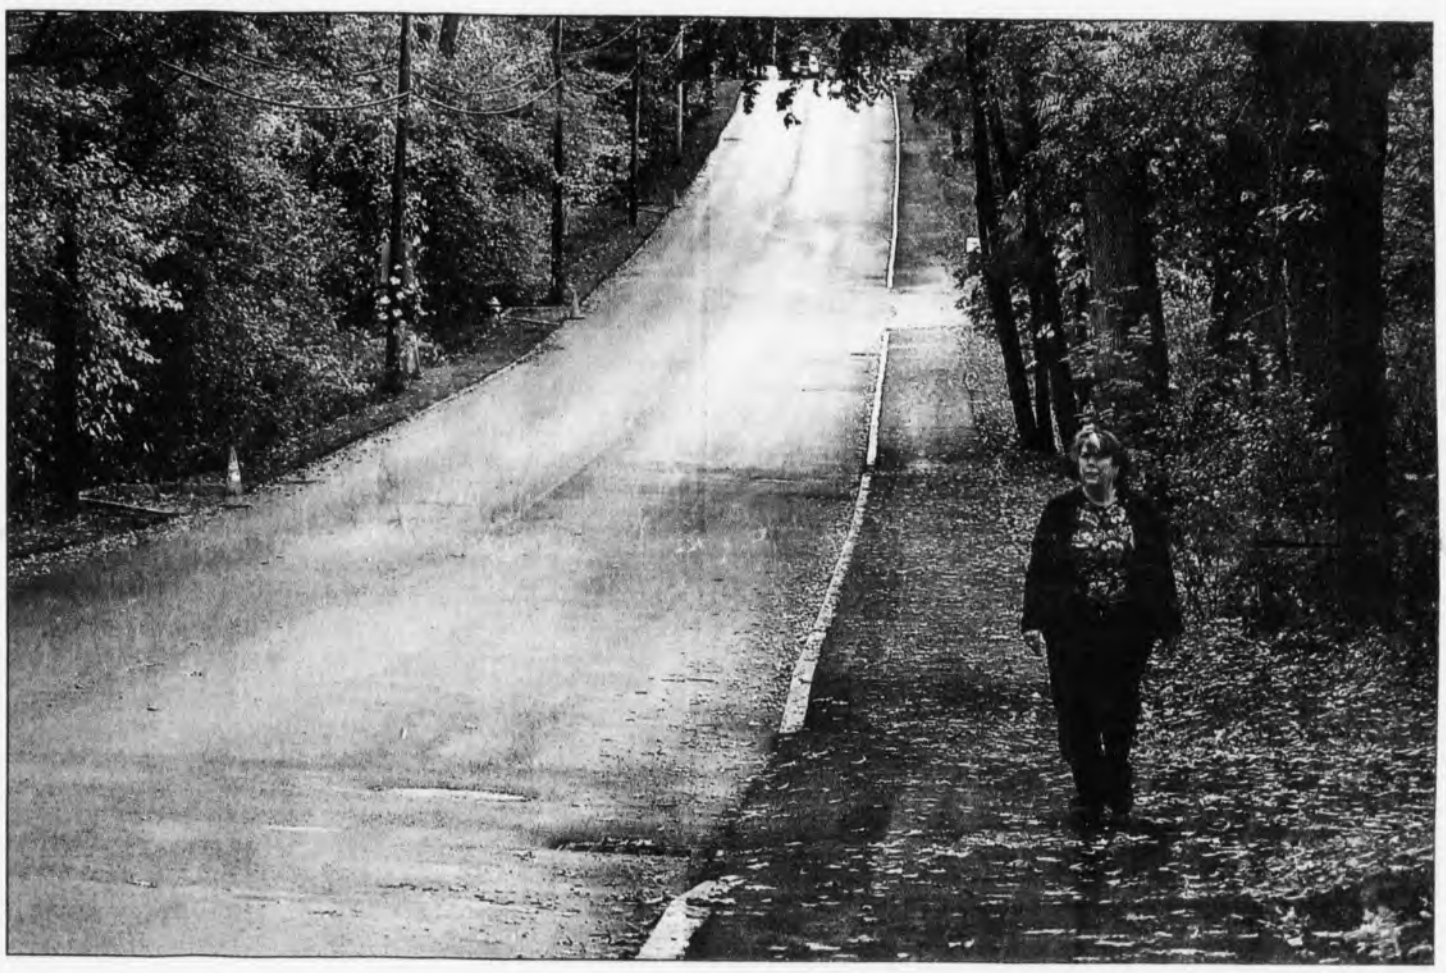
Village zoning at center stage Tuesday

Special Town Meeting to start at 7 p.m.

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

For perhaps the first time at least in recent history Special Town Meeting will begin on a Tuesday night. The observance of Veterans Day, a federal holiday, precluded Town Meeting from beginning on its typical Monday evening.

This Tuesday, Nov. 13 at Special Town Meeting will convene at the Cohasset High School Sullivan Gymnasium at 7p.m. Voters will be asked their collective opinion on a total of 11 articles, or items of business, including budget amendments, capital purchases and four zoning bylaws, including amendments to the village business district and the waterfront district.



The Village Zoning bylaw (Article 4) is prepared to take center stage early on in the evening. The effort to bring this bylaw to the floor of Town Meeting has been a six-month long process and involved various expert consultants: architects, town planners, civil engineers and market analysts. The Planning Board has spearheaded the project to change the bylaws and provide a framework for the development of an economically viable town center.

The six-page article is a complicated piece of zoning, but the underlying concept behind the bylaw is to allow mixed-use development, with retail and business space on the first floors, and residential units on the upper floors. Currently, a 40,000 square foot lot requirement prohibits additional apartments in the village.

But, in recent weeks a debate over which board — the Planning Board and

SEE ZONING, PAGE 4

SIDEWALK SAFETY

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Ann Pompeo of Forest Avenue walks down the new sidewalks for the first time. She has waited 50 years for the sidewalks to be installed and was enjoying her worry free stroll. For photos on the neighborhood sidewalk celebration, see page 26.

Schools take on bullying

Adopt policy for teachers and administrators

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Bullying manifests itself in different ways throughout all grade levels. But, until Wednesday night, school administration had no uniform way of dealing with the serious issue. In the works since last year, a Cohasset Public Schools bullying policy was brought forth and approved unanimously by the School Committee.

"We were not dealing with this very important issue with any consistency through all the schools," said High School Assistant Principal Mike Gill. The four-page document defines bullying, sets goals and outlines a method for teachers and administrators to deal with bullies, including an incident report document and a step-by-step procedure to follow when a bullying situation is reported or witnessed. Representatives from all three schools, as well as a parent voice, put together the policy.

Superintendent of Schools Denise Walsh said the policy shifts the focus from what students to a positive enforcement of the type of culture and environment the entire school community should strive to create. Three phrases on the cover page she said aptly describe the overarching goals of the policy, "creating a culture of intolerance for inappropriate behavior, maintaining a culture of respect and providing a healthy atmosphere for student growth."

...we need to keep reminding ourselves it's not all about test scores, these are real kids with real problems."

— Mike Gill,
CHS assistant principal

There are instructional pieces at all levels to educate the school community about bullying, Gill said. Teachers will be trained, students will be educated and parents will be informed.

"We are at a time where our schools are being run by high stakes testing,"

SEE BULLYING, PAGE 14

Staging area for sewer project in question

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The Big Dig Cohasset has begun. The Little Harbor sewer and water project is the largest municipal project, with the exception of the school building project, to be undertaken by the Town of Cohasset.

Heavy trucks, long pipes and construction trailers have become a passing site along Jerusalem Road near Nichols Road. But, is this where they belong?

That was the question the Zoning Board of Appeals began to tackle at a hearing Tuesday night. With a construction project of this magnitude there is a need for a location — a staging area — to store equipment and materials as well as serve as headquarters for the multi-faceted project.

Before the start of the project, the town's contractor, L M Holdings, located a piece of property, less than an acre, on Jerusalem Road to serve the staging area for the duration of the project, approximately two years. The contractor got the green light from Building Inspector Bob Egan and prepared the site for use by blacktopping, fencing and placing hay bails around a section of private property at 198 Jerusalem Road, conveniently located right in the midst of the majority of project work.

"The contractor has to provide this area to the town and we are actively operating as agents of the town on the site."

— Dan Coughlin

A neighbor in near proximity to the staging area, Eileen Craven of 6 Nichols Road, appealed Egan's opinion/decision to bring the issue before the ZBA.

The presence of a construction yard in a residential neighborhood and if that

SEE PROJECT, PAGE 14

Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E26267
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ■ Bonds ■ CDs
Mutual Funds ■ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
Investment Representative
113 Ripley Road Cohasset, MA
781-383-1996
www.edwardjones.com
Member SIPC
Edward Jones
Serving Individual Investors Since 1871

Free Checking
Free ATMs
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset
48 South Main Street • 800 Chief Justice Cushing Way
(781) 383-0541
www.BankPilgrim.com

DRIFTWAY
AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com

VISIT US ON
RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ Since 1947
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application
Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436

Remember last June when you said:

"We will do a will, healthcare proxy and some estate planning after the kids go back to school in the Fall?"

Well, they're back!

Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048

George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)

Member ~ Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)

PICTURE THIS/Woody Chittick

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

The Mariner caught up with chairman Woody Chittick during a break in the ZBA meeting on Tuesday at Town Hall.

Name: Woody Chittick.

Occupation: Working without pay (a.k.a. "retired").

Best day of your life: Wedding.

Best vacation: Biking in the Dordogne with my wife, JoAnne.

Favorite season: Summer (so I can sail!)

Favorite holiday: Christmas — I'm still a kid at heart.

Favorite food: Anything spicy.

Best book: Any Jeeves story by P. G. Wodehouse.

Best movie: "Casablanca" — could there be any other?

Best TV show: "Winds of War."

Pet peeve: Sanctimonious people.

Dumbest thing you've ever done: On my maiden voyage with my cruising boat, losing power and sailing through Cohasset Harbor on a pitch-black night. Why didn't I drop an anchor outside?

Most memorable moment: Discovering our Cohasset house (the only house we've ever owned) on a day when we weren't house hunting. In fact, we didn't even know where Cohasset was!

Goal: A happy, healthy family.

Person you'd most like to meet: Harry Truman.

Biggest worry: Many politicians' seeming ignorance of foreign cultures and histories (and seeming unwillingness to get educated) — a trait shared by both major parties.

Best part of Cohasset: Water access and water views.

SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
GROUP EXERCISE CLASSES
Deep Tissue & Sports Massage • Personal Training
Acupuncture • Gym Memberships • Gift Certificates
S.W.E.A.T.© Weight Loss Program
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

New Scituate Harbor Spa

Gift Certificates Available
Full-Service Day Spa
- Massage Therapy
- Stone Therapy
- Facial Treatments
- Nail Care

SPASCAPE dayspa
3 Mill Wharf Plaza, Scituate • 781.545.1200

383-6550 GOOD SPORT SPORTING GOODS Rte.3A Cohasset
Basketball Shoes Are In!

Matthew's JEWELERS
1 Hour Jewelry Repair
Ring Sizing
Chain & Clasp Repair
Prong Retipping
Jewelry Polishing
Rhodium Plating
Jonathan Livingston Square
130 King Street (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
(781) 383-1200

BELLEW TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.

CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING

Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!

Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!

781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

We'll make you smile.
Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.
SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS
Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate
(781) 545-3466
New Patients Welcome · Free Initial Consultation

EDAVILLE USA
Where the good times keep on rollin'
There is so much to do, you won't know where the fun begins or where the smiles end! All rides are covered by your admission ticket, so ride as often as you like.
Edaville has a lot to offer so be sure to check it out at www.edaville.com
$5.00 Off Regular Admission Price for Each Person in Your Party. Coupon valid on the following dates ONLY: November 9, 10, 11, 16, 17, 18, 2007; December 29, 30, 31, 2007 & January 1, 2008. Cannot be combined with any other offer. Only one coupon necessary per party.
$2.00 Off Regular Admission Price for Each Person in Your Party. Coupon valid MONDAYS through THURSDAYS ONLY November 23 through December 28, 2007. Cannot be combined with any other offer. Only one coupon necessary per party.

Millions of lights. Even more memories.
Celebrate the season at the Christmas Festival of Lights™ at Edaville USA™! Millions of lights, a train ride through Winter Wonderland, Santa, Ellis Indoor Playhouse, unlimited use of rides, FREE parking and more! Visit the website for dates and hours. Less than 1 hour from Boston & Providence!
FIREWORKS Every Friday Night 11/30 thru 12/28
877-Edaville • 877-332-8455 • Pine Street • Carver, MA

The Clog Shoppe
NEW Muck Boots
The Perfect Alternative for any Kind of Winter.
$10.00 Off
Any Regular Priced Clog or Boot with this Ad.
Gift Certificates Available
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street, So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 10-4
Front & rear entrance and parking available.

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY www.CommunityNewspaperCompany.com

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2931
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION
888-343-1899

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Number One Readers Choice Awards #1 2005 2006
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31) or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken w/cheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash Call for an appointment 781-383-1403
Paperscapes Stationery & Gifts 781-383-8008

THANKSGIVING DINNER BUFFET
Roasted Turkey with Stuffing, Gravy & Cranberry Sauce
Prime Rib of Beef with Au jus & Horseradish
New England Scrod with Cream Sauce
Roasted Vegetable Lasagna with White Sauce
Roasted Pork Roulade with Spinach, Pine Nuts & Calvados Sauce
Red Bliss Mashed Potatoes
Roasted Sweet Potato Casserole with Toasted Pumpkin Seeds
Butternut Squash
Creamed Peas & Onions
Vegetable Medley
Ceasar Salad, Jade Salad, Relish Tray
Cornbread, Cranberry Bread, Date Nut Bread & Assorted breads
Pumpkin Pie, Chocolate Bourbon Pecan Pie, Scituate Shamrock Apple Pie, Carrot Cake, Apple Buckle, Steakhouse Style Cheesecake & MORE!!!!!
$24.95pp
Opening from Noon to 7:00pm
Reservations Recommended
On the Water Restaurant & Function Hall
44 Jericho Road, Scituate, MA
(781)545-4700
www.onthewaterscituate.com

Lining the streets

Poorly marked pavement makes driving dangerous at night

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Cohasset attracts many a Sunday driver out to see the expansive ocean views and beautiful homes of Jerusalem Road or to see the New England charm of the town common and village. But, some residents are concerned when the views fade into the darkness, driving through town can be a difficult undertaking due to poorly lined streets.

Robert Ernst Sr. of 60 Elm St. represented 13 residents looking for the town to address the lack of visible lines on the Cohasset byways. While the roads were charming in the daytime, it was at night where the absence of visible street lines caused a dangerous problem for many residents, particularly his fellow senior citizens.

Ernst recounted recent difficulties traveling the streets of Cohasset. He recently ordered dinner at a restaurant as night was falling, then began to worry about driving home as a result he cancelled his order and left the restaurant promptly. Other times he has had trouble turning onto Border Street from Elm Street and maneuvering on Beechwood Street when it meets Norman Todd Road.

"There may be a number of people like me who don't venture out in the evening because roads don't allow you to proceed with confidence," said Ernst. If he finds himself having to drive at night in Cohasset, he goes slow and often with his hazard flashers on.

Ernst met with police Lt. Bill Quigley in the late summer to identify and discuss his concerns. On a drive in a marked cruiser, they identified several streets as being unsafe due to faded markings: Border Street, Summer Street, Atlantic Avenue, Sohier Street, Beach Street, North and South Main streets, Beechwood Street from S. Main to Route 3A, Norman Todd Road and Elm Street.

Although Quigley asked if his aging eyesight was a factor, Ernst said while with age eyesight deteriorates, he has had two doctors give him a green light for driving.

Selectman Paul Carlson said Ernst is not alone, at a recent Council on Elder Affairs meeting, Carlson brought up the issue to see if the member shared in Ernst's concerns. "a number of people at the meeting, including some much younger than I, expressed concern over seeing the lines on the road," said Carlson.

Town Manager Bill Griffin said part of the problem is the road lines are only painted once a year, while other towns typically paint the lines twice a year, "it's too long between paintings." The fiscal 2008 budget includes $9,000 for line painting.

"Other towns do a much better job than you folks do" with street lining, said Ernst.

"Public safety is a priority, but we can't direct the DPW to paint more than budget allows," said Griffin.

The Selectmen directed Griffin to include an additional $9,000 for street lining in the preparation of next year's budget. With the additional funds, the centerlines and the fog lines of the main byways will be painted every six months.

"I'm delighted you guys are taking into serious consideration my concerns," said Ernst. "I don't think people should be hindering their lifestyle because they are scared to go out after dark."

CPD enhances response rate to child abductions

When a child is reported missing, time is one of law enforcement's greatest enemies. Every hour a child is missing, the likelihood of a safe recovery decreases. In order to ensure a high level of preparedness for child abduction cases, Cohasset Police Department today announced the implementation of LOCATER – Lost Child Alert Technology Resource.

There are many challenges facing law-enforcement personnel in missing-child cases. One of the greatest is collecting and disseminating the child's descriptive information quickly. With that goal in mind, LOCATER was created to provide the computer hardware and software needed to rapidly distribute critical missing child data on a local, statewide or nationwide basis. This program enables law enforcement agencies to rapidly disseminate images and information about missing and abducted children to other law enforcement agencies, the media and the public. Although it is designed for missing child posters, the technology may also be used for a number of purposes such as stolen vehicles, wanted persons and crime alerts.

Chief James Hussey said, "The Cohasset Police Department will utilize every resource available to ensure a safe recovery of a missing child. This technology will enhance those efforts especially in the rare case of a child abduction."

Cohasset Police Department is pleased to be working with the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children to implement LOCATER. NCMEC has found that when pictures of missing children or abductors are made available to the public, one in six children is recovered as a direct result.

Brush chipping day

Residential brush will be accepted for chipping from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17, in the parking area of the D.P.W. at 91 Cedar St., Cohasset. No trees over 3 inches in diameter will be accepted and no trees will be accepted from contractors.

POLICE BEAT

Motorists urged to report rail crossing issues

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

Police Chief James Hussey said over the past week some motorists have complained that the crossing gates are down too long. He explained that the gates go down in anticipation of a train coming before it is actually visible.

In one incident on N. Main Street on Saturday morning, the lights flashed and bells rang for about five minutes. The MBTA was contacted and sent a crew out.

In Hingham on Wednesday morning a motorist proceeded through the grade crossing on Hersey Street because the gate went back up, even though the bells were still ringing and lights flashing. As he was crossing he looked to the right and saw the train. Shaken up, he reported the incident to Hingham police who sent out a reverse 911 call warning residents to stop and remain stopped at crossings when the lights are on and bells ringing, even if the gate is not down.

Chief Hussey echoed those concerns and said all drivers should stop and wait at the crossing when the lights are flashing and bells ringing.

He also encouraged residents to contact police if they have concerns or think there is a malfunction at a crossing.

"We want to make sure we are in communication with the MBTA and are flagging these issues," he said. "We want people to call if they experience anything that is out of the ordinary."

Woodpecker

In what could be a first for Cohasset, a hungry woodpecker caused enough of a disturbance to end up in the police log. Dispatch received a call at 5:11 p.m. last Thursday (Nov. 1) from a South Main Street resident reporting that a woodpecker was pecking a hole from outside her home into her son's bedroom. She wanted the incident logged and left a message for Animal Control Officer Paul Murphy.

In an interview this week, Murphy said woodpeckers will drill into exterior walls to try and get to the insects under the shingles. He said this type of incident is not uncommon and in some cases the birds can be pretty intense. He recommends using tinsel or pie plates — or something that is reflective and moves in the breeze — as a deterrent. Even hanging old CDs would work, he said. "That will deter birds from chewing into the walls," he said.

Murphy said he called the concerned homeowner about what action she could take. He said there is really no way to set a trap for a woodpecker.

Jewelry missing

An Atlantic Avenue resident reported that two bowls containing a wedding band and some costume jewelry were taken from her some sometime between about 10 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. on Monday (Oct. 29). There were no signs of forced entry; the doors of the home were closed but left unlocked. Police are asking neighbors if they saw anyone around the property.

Fairoaks larceny

Police are investigating a larceny on Fair Oaks Lane that was reported last week. The homeowner is not sure when the items were taken but when he went to look, they were gone. Among the missing is a small coin collection valued at $200. There were no signs of forced entry and police are looking into who might have had access to the property.

Eviction process

Police said a person at the site of his business had a right to be there last week as the eviction from the property had not taken place. Apparently there was some confusion over the timing and calls were made to police about suspicious activity at the 3A location. The individual was able to remove items. Police were able to determine that the individual was not there illegally, Chief Hussey said.

Water pipe

Reports about a "frozen" water pipe this early in the season proved to be false last week. The seam in the pipe split apart and the owner of the business called a plumber to fix the problem. The owner of the business was contacted after a caller reported water pouring out of the building and said a pipe was possibly frozen.

Verbal altercation

A verbal altercation between two women, whom police said were under the influence of alcohol, allegedly got physical last week, police said. One was a tenant in a building on N. Main and the other was visiting one of the apartments in the building. An ambulance was called to check out one of the women but she did not have to be transported.

Police did not witness the alleged fight and the women were told how to go about seeking complaints if they chose to do so.

'Stolen' plates

Police said as it turned out plates that were reported stolen by a man who contacted Cohasset police had actually been confiscated by Marshfield police in that town because the registration had been revoked for non-payment of insurance. Cohasset put the plates through the NCIC (National Criminal Information Center) that revealed the plates had been confiscated a few days before.

Silly string

The day after Halloween, some "trick or treaters" apparently still had some tricks up their sleeves. According to police they opened the outer door to a home on Lamberts Lane and sprayed silly string on the front door. The initial call at about 3:18 p.m. on Nov. 1 reported that the kids had opened the front door and sprayed silly string inside the house. That was not the case. There were no other incidents reported.

Briefcase stolen

A caller wanted it logged last week that her briefcase was stolen from her vehicle while she was in Walgreen's Thursday afternoon (Nov. 1) She did not report the theft until she got back to her Norwell office. She also did not want to leave any information and did not want to file a report.

Operator cited

A cell phone caller told police that a red SUV was driving "real slow" in front of him on Route 3A with no lights. Officers went to the scene and observed the vehicle, stopping it by Shaw's. The operator was cited for not staying within marked lanes and for defective equipment (rear lights). The operator was evaluated and deemed OK to drive. The incident occurred Friday (Nov. 2) at about 8:15 p.m.

Roaming dog

The owners of a dog that keeps roaming around the village and to the fire station have been fined, Animal Control Officer Paul Murphy said. He explained that dog owners are fined $25, $35 or $50, depending on the number of offenses. Dogs must be kept under control at all times in Cohasset.

MERRELL®
Madness
Jungle Moc

Take $10.00 OFF
(suggested retail price)
Shoe Market's Best Seller
Sale price refers to all Men's & Women's Jungle Moc only
Sale ends 12/30/07

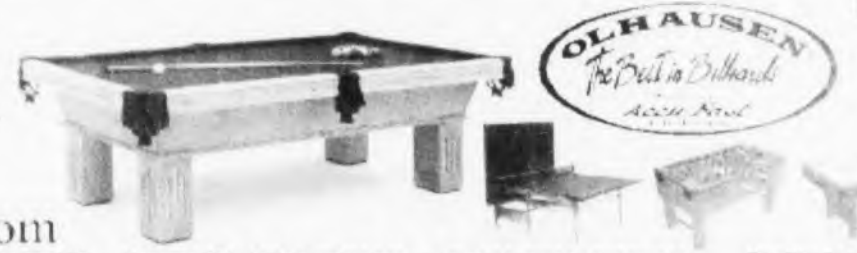
Shoe Market
Derby Street Shoppes, Hingham, (Rte. 3 at Exit 15)
781.749.5411 • www.theshoemarket.com

IT'S TIME FOR BIOHEAT®!
Ask 'more' of your Oilheat company.
We provide more.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

SAVE THE HARBOR
VOTE NO ON
"THE CITIZEN'S PETITION"
ARTICLE 5

WHAT'S AT STAKE? SOME POTENTIAL IMPLICATIONS:
- DO WE WANT CONDOS AT THE COHASSET HARBOR INN?
- DO WE WANT EXISTING OPEN SPACE REZONED AS A PARKING LOT?
- DO WE WANT ZONING BY-LAWS CHANGED TO BENEFIT ONE PERSON'S BUSINESS INTERESTS?
- DO WE WANT TO FURTHER RESTRICT PUBLIC ACCESS TO THE HARBOR?
- DO WE WANT TO CREATE A NEW CLASSIFICATION TO ALLOW NON-MARINE USE IN AREAS/BUILDINGS PREVIOUSLY RESTRICTED TO MARINE RELATED USE? MORE CONDOS AT THE BOAT YARD?
- WHAT KIND OF QUALITY OF LIFE DO WE WANT? NOISE? TRAFFIC? CONGESTION? SAFETY? PARKING? PUBLIC ACCESS?



WHAT CAN YOU DO?
ATTEND THE TOWN MEETING ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13TH, @ 7PM
VOTE NO ON "THE CITIZEN'S PETITION"
Paid for by FRIENDS OF COHASSET HARBOR, RICHARD KAROFF, Cohasset, MA 02025

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

SERVICE CENTER
Winter's Coming
With heating costs soaring, don't wait. We can fix those windows and storms, install weather-stripping, and help you get ready for winter.
A Fix It Shop In the Cohasset Village Parking Lot 781-383-6936
Open Tues. to Sat. 9am-1pm

Nails By The Sea
THE ULTIMATE ADVANCED NAIL CARE
15% off ANY SERVICE MON.-THURS with this ad.
Offer expires 12/13/07 Manicures • Pedicures • Full Sets • Eyelash Extension
Herring Brook Place
28 New Driftway, Scituate
Across from Greenbush Station
(781) 545 - 1030
Mon. - Fri. 10:00am - 7:00pm
Saturday 9:30am - 5:00pm

SEASONAL POOL & PATIO CENTER
781-826-0077
over 1 acre of showroom
Store hours: Mon, Tues 10-6 • Wed, Thurs Fri 10-8 • Sat 10-5:30 • Sun 12-5

OLHAUSEN The Best in Billiards Since 1906
Largest Dealer in Mass.
Build the pool table of your dreams with Olhausen's Custom® Kiosk, or buy one of the 40 masterpieces on display. Stop in to see all our Pool & Game tables
2 piece pool cues 25% off
Hanover, MA 357 Columbia Road Route 53 next to Building 19
Quality Game Tables
Bars & Stools, Spectator seating

Village zoning at center stage Tuesday

FROM ZONING, PAGE 1

the Zoning Board of Appeals — will have the special permit granting authority has come to the forefront. The bylaw as written and endorsed by the Planning Board had the special permit granting authority for the downtown village business district is the Planning Board. Any application that is outside the zoning bylaws set forth would have to appeal to the ZBA for a variance. The Board of Selectmen has yet to make a recommendation on the article (see related story).

"It may prove to be a controversial debate," said Vanderweil, "other articles are smaller and have less impact."

Despite some big issues, this Special Town Meeting is significantly smaller than last year's fall Town Meeting that tackled 28 articles.

"It's not a purposeful move, but it is a welcome change," said Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil adding Special Town Meeting was originally intended as a means to clean up the budget if there were shortfalls or unexpected expenses.

"With only 11 articles in the Warrant, a few of which may be indefinitely postponed, it is very realistic that we can finish in one evening," said Town Moderator Dan Evans.

Vanderweil is less hesitant to make a prediction. "I've given up predicting Town Meeting," he quipped, explaining he is usually wrong when he does make a prediction. With the majority of residents, including himself, heading to work in the morning he hoped Town Meeting could finish at a reasonable hour.

"With only 11 articles in the Warrant, a few of which may be indefinitely postponed, it is very realistic that we can finish in one evening."

— Town Moderator Dan Evans

"I would hope that we could finish by 10p.m. or so, but if necessary I would plan to push on to 11p.m. or later in order to wrap up in one session," said Evans.

A quorum of 100 registered voters is required before Town Meeting can be called to session. Once a quorum is determined at the start of the meeting, it is assumed a quorum is present unless challenged. If challenged the number of voters will be counted, and if a quorum does not exist, the meeting will be adjourned.

"While I'll keep my fingers crossed, there appears to be strong interest in at least a couple of the articles, so I don't anticipate an issue getting a quorum Tuesday evening," said Evans.

Each article will be taken up one at a time, citizens will a motion will be made, and votes will typically be taken on a voice basis.

Article 1 would amend the fiscal 2008 operating budget. The town is proposing two amendments to the budget for unexpected increases. The budget was previously approved at the Annual Town Meeting in April.

First, Director of Finance Mike Buckley has requested a $15,000 increase in his general expenses budget to undertake a new analysis now required by the Government Accounting Standards Board, a group that establishes standards of financial accounting and reporting for state and local governmental entities. The town is obligated to provide an analysis of the town's post-retirement healthcare liability as of Jan. 1, 2008.

Second, there is a $29,752 increase in the South Shore Regional School District assessment. Town Manager Bill Griffin allocated his original estimate presented at Town Meeting based on a five-year trend because the regional school committee did not adopt its budget until after the Annual Town Meeting. This year, there was a larger than expected regional school budget and a reallocation of that budget among member towns due to student enrollment shifts. Griffin has said the numbers are very difficult to predict ahead of time.

Despite the two unexpected increases, totaling $44,752, the amount can be accommodated within the bottom line budget because the state assessment for retired teacher health care decreased by $56,489, Griffin said.

Article 2 proposes capital budget spending items. Based on current finances, Griffin told the Capital Budget Committee — which recommends capital expenditures to the Board of Selectmen — $300,000 could be made available spending $300,000 in free cash for capital projects. The budget committee recommended six capital investments, $45,000 for a new school special education van; $80,000 for a Flood Control Master Plan study; $25,000 to repair the Fire Department's 2001 ambulance; $25,000 for the purchase of heavy rescue tools for the Fire Dept.; and $15,000 to fund the purchase of new staff computers at the library. The items total $220,000, which leaves $80,000 to remain in free cash.

However, the Selectmen requested an addition to the capital items at their meeting Monday night — $40,000 in funds to design the replacement of the deteriorating Jacob's Meadow outlet channel to the harbor. Vanderweil called fixing the culvert was a "crisis situation." For several years, abutters to the meadow have experienced severe flooding in their backyards and homes during major storms. The bottleneck at the Jacob's Meadow outlet is viewed as a key component to a solution. The town is also on a waiting list for a FEMA grant to partially fund the replacement of the culvert.

Next up, the Water Commission is seeking to amend the water resource district bylaw (established in 1986) to the most current regulatory language required by the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection in Article 3. The article specifically addresses two specific deficiencies regarding the storage of deicing chemicals and animal manure. The Water Commission is up against a deadline of December 31, 2007 to get these changes on the books as a condition of their Water Management Permit, which allows the Water Department to withdraw water for the public water supply system.

The most vetted article leading up to Town Meeting is the village zoning bylaw (Article 4). The article, proposed by the Planning Board, is designed to enable limited and appropriate mixed-use development in the Village Business District. Currently, apartments are prohibited for any lot under 40,000 square feet, which encompasses nearly all the village lots. The bylaw modifies existing dimensional requirements and permitting procedures in the village business district to establish a single set of dimensional standards (lot size, building height, setbacks) that would apply to all development in the village business district.

Article 5 is a citizen's petition to amend the zoning bylaws for the waterfront business district. If passed, apartments, in conjunction with stores or other permitted uses, will be allowed by special permit to be granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals. Like the village bylaw amendment, it introduces the Floor Area Ratio calculation and exempts the district from the inclusionary zoning bylaw that mandates affordable housing. At the required public hearing on the article with the Planning Board Wednesday evening, the board voted to indefinitely postpone the article. Planning Board member Mike Westcott said the board would undertake a similar "open, public process" as what was done for the village this past year with Article 4. Although voters will be able to take up the article and discuss its merits, it is likely the article will be indefinitely postponed on the floor of Town Meeting.

The Community Preservation Committee (Article 6) received no requests for funding in this Town Meeting cycle. The article will likely be indefinitely postponed.

Article 7 would eliminate several committees that are no longer relevant or populated with members from the bylaws. The committees eliminated in the article are Personnel Committee, Design Review Board, Committee to Survey Structure and Function of Town Government, Drainage Committee, Commission on Disabilities and Civilian Dispatch Committee.

Article 8 & 9 are companion articles. In short, the passage of the articles would correct a defective title on the property at 55 Norfolk Road. The town sold the property a decade ago, a house was built on the property and now the owners are seeking to sell the home. But, the defective deed title is preventing the house from being sold. The first seeks to take a portion of land at 55 Norfolk Road, likely by eminent domain. The purpose of the acquisition is to clarify and correct a defective title to lands previously granted by the Town of Cohasset by deed dated Oct. 20, 1998. Article 9 seeks to dispose of the portion of land at 55 Norfolk Road to complete the process and clear the deed title. The article may be amended on the floor of Town Meeting pending further review from Town Counsel.

A second citizen's petition, Article 10, seeks the funds to construct approximately 600 feet of sidewalk on Route 3A between Lower King Street and Sanctuary Pond Road/Rose Hill development. However, the petitioner's have decided to seek an indefinite proposal of the article.

Article 11 seeks to give the Board of Selectmen the authority to dispose of 821 Jerusalem Road. The town foreclosed on the property, which includes a two-unit dwelling, due to nonpayment of property taxes. The property would be sold through a competitive process for the purpose of increasing the town's affordable inventory.

The Special Town Meeting will be held Tuesday, November 13 at 7p.m. in the Cohasset High School Sullivan Gymnasium. Warrants have been mailed to every household, and extras will be available at the meeting.

Let Us Do Your Cooking
Thanksgiving Turkeys
ROASTED, STUFFED, WITH GRAVY
(includes heating instructions, pick up Tues. & Wed. before the holiday)
Also Fresh Dressed Turkeys, Spiral Hams, Whole Turkey Breasts, Sliced Breast of Real Turkey

Also available: Many vegetable sides plus all the fixin's
Gerard Farm
Ocean St. (Rte. 139)
Marshfield, MA 02050
781-834-7682
gerardfarmonline.com
CASH & CREDIT CARDS ONLY

CURTAIN FACTORY OUTLET
Your Curtains. Your Style. Your Price.
Special Purchase

Superior Quality
Originally sold for $35.99!
3 Pc. Swag Set - Full cut insulated swag and insert valance
Hangs Beautifully
Soft Termal Suede Backing
120" Wide Set x 63" Length
$9.99
Fantastic Value!
Solid - Navy, Hunter or Wine
Print - Linen, Natural or Sage
150 per store - Please shop early
WEYMOUTH, MA 60 Winter St. 781-331-8510
RAYNHAM, MA 770 Broadway 508-823-4196
NORTHBRIDGE, MA 8 Sutton St. 508-234-2944
FALL RIVER, MA 420 Quequechan St. 508-678-6996
www.CurtainFactoryOutlet.com

ROLEX

HINGHAM JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street • Route 53, Hingham • 781-749-2108
Hours: Tue. - Fri. 9:30-5:30 • Sat. 9:30-5:00

The Closet is Full and ready to be opened!
Camilley's Closet Grand Opening is this Saturday, November 10th, at 10 a.m.
Come visit us at 88R North Street (behind Hair Flair) and check out all the fabulous accessories that are so (we never say cheap!) affordable!
If this isn't exciting enough, all customers who purchase goods from Camilley's Closet on opening day can enter their names to win a $50 gift certificate to the Closet. You can also take your receipt next door to Hair Flair (under new management!) and, if you are a first time client, you will receive 20% off your first hair appointment!
FUN, FABULOUS and OH SO STYLISH, that's Camilley's Closet!
Be there, in the Square!
Denise Bruce/Camille David, owners

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
- Remote Desktop Support
- Home Office Setup
- Antivirus Firewall Setup
- Parental Control Software
- Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
- Data Recovery
- Wired & Wireless Networks
- Loaner Computers Available
- New Computer Consultation
- Hardware & Software Upgrades

Before Bob Black
Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

After Bob Black

PRE HOLIDAY SALE
25% OFF
ALL CHRISTMAS ITEMS
Arrangements and special orders excluded.
November 7 - November 18
Largest Selection of Christmas Merchandise Ever PROFESSIONAL DECORATING FOR ALL OCCASIONS
Village Gardens INC.
376 Washington Street, Rte. 53
Norwell • 781-659-7500
Exit 13 off Route 3
Across from St. Helen's Church
Handicap Accessible
Unlimited Parking
Mon. & Sat. 9-6, Sunday 9-5

Veterans Day SUPER SALE

Buy 1 Get 1 FREE!
Free Exercise Bike
w/purchase of Treadmill or Elliptical $700 value (offer expires 11/14/07 or while supplies last!!)

0% for 12 months
No Pay/No Interest/No Money Down
Treadmills • Ellipticals
Rowers • Bicycles • Multi Gyms
Unadvertised Specials!

American Fitness Equipment
"Shape Up at Home"
412 Washington Street, Norwell
(781) 659-0006 • www.americanfitnessequipment.com
Monday - Saturday 10-6, Sunday 12-5, Thursday 10-8

Selectmen defer village bylaw vote

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

A Board of Selectmen recommendation on the village zoning bylaw was deferred until shortly before Town Meeting. After a lengthy discussion on the village bylaw, which carried over from the previous week's meeting (Oct. 29), the consensus of the Selectmen was to wait a week to see if the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Board could work out the issue of special permit granting authority.

The Selectmen have scheduled a pre-Town Meeting conference beginning at 6p.m. to discuss several articles, including the village bylaw, and vote on their recommendations.

Two amendments to the village bylaw will be brought to the floor of Town Meeting, one to change the special permit granting authority to the Zoning Board of Appeals and another to amend the parking regulation for the district.

It's been called a stumbling block, a turf war and a power struggle, but the jurisdictional issue between the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Board some fear could become a deal breaker. Future projects in the village area hang in the balance waiting for the village bylaw to go into effect.

"Let's let both sides go at it at Town Meeting, both sides can present their best arguments on the floor of Town Meeting," said Selectman Fred Koed, calling Town Meeting the highest authority and most appropriate to make a final decision on the issue.

"How are we [the Selectmen] going to get three boards to agree," seconded Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil and later said, "I'm not sure if this board has an opinion on jurisdiction."

After the meeting, the Selectmen said they hoped the ZBA and the Planning Board could come to some sort of resolution before Town Meeting. But, both the ZBA and the Planning Board fervently believe in their own board having the power to issue special permits in the district.

The Planning Board has been the driving force behind the bylaw, which welcomed public input and involvement since early May. A series of public hearings and meetings were held throughout the summer and early fall to ensure the bylaws were what the town desired for the village.

Currently, in cases of commercial expansion or new construction in the village the applicant would need to go before the Planning Board for a site plan review and before the ZBA for a special permit or variance. Although the ZBA takes into consideration the Planning Board's opinion, the ZBA is the final authority.

The village bylaw has been drafted to give the Planning Board more teeth in their site plan review where they would be the permit granting authority. The reasoning was to create a simplified process for those developers not looking to build outside the zoning bylaws. The Planning Board has argued they are more equipped to deal with the big picture issues facing the village such as architecture, massing, design, drainage, parking, lighting, and noise.

The ZBA has held the special permit granting authority for the village since zoning was instituted in 1955. In their view, the current system provides checks and balances for both boards.

To support their view the ZBA, with a consensus at their meeting Tuesday evening, will put forth an amendment to the bylaw which would essentially keep the permit granting authority with the Zoning Board. Copies of the bylaw (which is about two-pages long) will be distributed to Town Meeting voters on Tuesday evening.

The town's village consultant Angus Jennings of Concord Square Development Company drafted the amendment a few weeks ago, but the Planning Board voted (4-0) to move ahead with the village bylaw as it was originally drafted and intended.

At the meeting, Planning Board member Mike Westcott said if there is jurisdictional change, the entire bylaw should be re-drafted.

"I, for one, could not support the article," if the ZBA is given special permit granting authority said Planning Board Chairman Al Moore, "I am in total disagreement with the opposition. If successfully proposed, it will be the death of the article."

Although ZBA Chairman Woody Chittick said in a phone interview, the change of jurisdiction was minor in the greater scheme and concept of the article; the proposal could cause confusion on the floor of Town Meeting.

Meanwhile, developers and property owners have been counting on this passage of the village bylaw so they can begin to renovate and develop their land.

"If the bylaw doesn't pass it stalls any development planned right now in the village to an uncertain time in the future," said Wayne Sawchuk, owner of 35-39 South Main Street. Through the public process to draft the bylaw a momentum has built with developers and adjacent property owners to begin to think cooperatively about the village — including working together on open space and pedestrian walkways.

Without the village bylaw, the village will stay the same or developers may be forced to rethink their plans to likely less attractive and commercially oriented buildings, said Sawchuk.

Parking amendment

With new residential units a possibility and a desire to come out of the village zoning bylaw, the Selectmen expressed concern there was no requirement for parking spaces per unit. To that end, the Planning Board voted to put forth an amendment at Town Meeting to require one parking space per new unit in the village business district. The requirement will apply to new construction and buildings constructed post-zoning (1955). For example, the Hardware store, which has almost 100 percent lot coverage, would not be required to have on-site parking.

In the drafting of the bylaw, the market analyst and property owners, told the Planning Board market forces would necessitate the inclusion of on-site parking in the village which is why the parking requirement was not included in the bylaw as it appeared in the warrant. This amendment reinforces what the Planning Board has been learned through the process.

Angus Jennings, village consultant, said the amendment still gives the special permit granting authority (the Planning Board) the ability to use their discretion on certain parcels. The parking requirement is able to be waived if parking is addressed in another way, or is inconsistent with design guidelines. For example, the Planning Board does not want any additional curb cuts on S. Main Street. Likewise, a permit could be granted on the condition of providing more parking units than required.

In addition, the bylaw stipulates any existing parking in the village business district should be maintained. The proposed amendment, which is less than a page long, will be distributed when checking in at Town Meeting.

Rain check for waterfront bylaw

Planning Board votes to indefinitely postpone

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Cohasset Harbor is considered the crowning jewel of the town.

At Town Meeting Tuesday, voters will be asked to determine if the waterfront business district is primed for some change. A Citizen's Petition (Article 5) proposes several changes to the zoning bylaws enabling mixed-use development, similar to what is being proposed for the village. If passed, developers on the waterfront could add condos or apartments to already existing buildings and build new construction with mixed-use within the established regulations.

Like the village zoning bylaw, the harbor is so much a part of what identifies Cohasset it was bound to spark ample discussion on the floor of Town Meeting. But, while that still could be the case, the Planning Board voted to recommend indefinite postponement of the article on Wednesday evening.

Planning Board member Mike Westcott told the representative proponent, Charles Humphreys, there was discussion about developing an overall master plan for the harbor in the near future, similar to what was done for the village.

"It was always part of the plan to move to the harbor next," said Westcott in a phone interview Thursday. A well-vetted public process to look at the issues facing the harbor is the goal, "it might be that we decide the harbor doesn't need any changes but, the process will help us determine that."

A close look at the village could provide the data and projections the Selectmen said was lacking for the proposed bylaw Monday night.

"I don't want something to happen no one anticipated," said Selectman Ralph Dormitzer, "I would like to know the worst case scenario."

Dormitzer was concerned with the possibilities for development the bylaw provides, rather than what is concretely planned for the properties.

"This is a significant commitment on the town end and we haven't looked at any data," agreed Vice Chairman Ted Carr.

Humphreys was hired by Peter Roy of 49 Margin St. and owner of much of the very limited Waterfront Business District, which includes the businesses on the harbor side of Border Street — Cohasset Harbor Inn, Atlantica, Olde Salt House and the Mill River Marine — ending at the Border Street bridge. The small storefronts near the intersection of Elm Street and Border Street are considered downtown zoning district, not the waterfront.

Humphreys outlined what was planned for the properties in the waterfront district, if the bylaw passed. The second and third floors of the Cohasset Harbor Inn would be converted into 16-18 residential condominium units. The marina would be renovated to include three condos on the second floor.

The Waterfront Business District suffers from the same economic viability problems as the village, Humphreys said. In that vein, many of the same concepts from the village bylaw have been applied to the waterfront zoning bylaw.

"Fundamentally, the purpose is to allow something not allowed in the current bylaw — mixed-use development," said Humphreys.

On Monday night, the Selectmen decided to hold off on making their recommendation until the Planning Board could hold their public hearing on the bylaw. They will formally make their recommendation at a pre-town meeting conference Tuesday, Nov. 13, 6p.m.

Town Meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 13 beginning at 7p.m. at the Cohasset Middle-High School Sullivan Gymnasium.

FREE MAKEOVER.

Free Makeup Application. Save $45.
During November, our professional make up artists will do an application and teach you how to do your own makeup using PUREMINERALS.® For coverage, it's superior to normal makeup because it's concentrated. You use less, yet it always looks sheer and natural. Dermatologists recommend it because it doesn't contain fillers and talc that can irritate your skin and clog pores. PUREMINERALS is only available at Elizabeth Grady salons. Feel free to schedule an appointment today.

Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for nearest location, services, products & gift certificates.

INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!

- Slip and Fall
- Motor Vehicle Accidents
- General Litigation

No Fee Unless Successful

Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067

The Silent Chef
A CATERING COMPANY
Scituate, Massachusetts (781) 545-6665
Thanksgiving Day "2007"
Order on-line at www.silentchef.com

WHOLE ROASTED TURKEY
Mashed Potatoes • Sage Stuffing • Gravy • Butternut Squash
Cranberry Relish • French Dinner Rolls
Apple, Pumpkin, Blueberry, and Pecan Pies
Small: TURKEY DINNER (precooked 12-14 lb.)
Fixings are provided for eight guests (choice of two pies) $130.00
Large: TURKEY DINNER (precooked 22-24 lb.)
Fixings are provided for 14 guests (choice of three pies) $170.00
Prices subject to 5% Mass. Meals tax

ALL ORDERS MUST BE PLACED NO LATER THAN
Wednesday, November 14, 2007
You may pick up your turkey or food order at our shop on Tuesday, Nov. 20 between 3:00-7:00 pm or Wednesday, Nov. 21 between 9:00-3:00 pm.
Or avoid waiting in line and have it delivered to your home for an additional charge.
113 Front Street, P.O. Box 535, Scituate, Massachusetts 02066
Phone: 781-545-6665 • Fax: 781-544-3415
Thank you and have a nice holiday.

FAIRVIEW LAWN SPRINKLER
Specializing in
• Plumbing & Heating
• Spring Start-ups and Repairs
• Custom Installations
• Shut Down, Winterize
Serving and Installing All Types of Irrigation Systems Since 1963
781-659-4540
www.fairviewlawnsprinkler.com

Sleep Testing ... to Plymouth
Hilton Garden Inn
Total Sleep announces the opening of a Sleep Testing Center designed to provide the very best experience.
Please consult your physician and contact us today to schedule your sleep study appointment.
Sleep Testing to Begin November 1st.
Scheduling Available
Monday – Friday
9am – 5pm
Call Toll Free:
866-852-5433
Or Fax:
800-443-7402
total sleep
To Learn More About Our Sleep Programs Contact Fernando DaSilva at 508-524-6054
Hilton Garden Inn Plymouth
Four Home Depot Drive
Plymouth, MA 02360

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL
EST. 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS Aaron M. Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED
Smile Makeovers since 1987
ZOOM2 (1 hour chairside whitening)
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

The Fogg Lecture Series

presents
KATE BRAESTRUP author of
Here If You Need Me
(Little Brown, $24.99)
Wed. Nov. 14 at 7pm
at First Parish Norwell, 124 River St., Norwell, MA
"Insightful" and "extraordinarily well-written" — Publisher's Weekly
"A heartening book" — Kirkus Reviews
Books, provided by Buttonwood Books & Toys, will be available for purchase at the event. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a signed copy please call 1-781-383-2665
Buttonwood Books & Toys
Shaw's Plaza, Rte. 3A, Cohasset

Meghan Marr runs NYC Marathon!

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

COOL TIMES

Hello Cohasset. How did everyone make out during the storm, Daylight Saving time and the starts of our cold weather this past week? I hope for the most part that everyone fared pretty well.

MARATHON EFFORT

Wow, congratulations go out to Meghan Marr of Cohasset who finished the New York Marathon in 4 hours and 16 minutes. Meghan is a senior at Providence College and this was her first marathon. She ran with her friend and classmate Molly Concannon. Parents Matthew and Sally Marr attended the race and were waiting at the finish line!

In order for Meghan to run in the Marathon, she had to raise $2500 for a charity. She picked the Team for Kids who fund fitness and character building programs for underprivileged kids in more than 150 schools and community centers. Meghan would like to send out a huge thank you to everyone who supported her in this effort! Great work Meghan, Cohasset is proud of you as well.

CENTURY MARK

Dorothy Busa from Cohasset, will be celebrating her 100th birthday on Dec 3rd. There will be a party for her at Queen Anne Nursing Home where she is now residing, on Dec 2nd. Her children, grandchildren, her great-grandchildren and other family members will surround her. Up until a year and a half ago she had been living with her daughter and son-in law Roberta and Bob Raffa. She has many friends from Cohasset Elder Affairs where she would have lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

COURTESY PHOTO

Meghan Marr, right, poses with Christen Reardon, also of Cohasset, after Meghan finished the NYC Marathon.

CANCELLATIONS

There are two cancellations of programs for this upcoming week.

The first is the Post Prom Committee Meeting scheduled for Nov. 15 at 7:30 has been cancelled due to a variety of scheduling conflicts.

The next cancellation is as follows. The Cohasset Historical Society regrets that the Fall Lecture "Exploration of China and Tibet" by Edyth Ford that was scheduled for Nov. 14 has been canceled. This program will be rescheduled for the Spring of 2008. There will be no program on Nov. 14.

MEAT LOVERS

Don't miss out on your chance to get great Kinnealey Meats and support the fifth-grade Bournedale fundraiser! The last date for orders for Kinnealey Meats is Tuesday, Nov.13 and delivery is Saturday, Dec. 1st. If you don't have a fifth-grader in your neighborhood, contact Lisa Dooley at 781-383-0958 or the4dooleys@comcast.net or Beth Marsden Gilman at 781-383-1811. Thank you for your support!

COAT COLLECTION

Cohasset Girl Scout Troops #4784 and #4777 will collect coats for the homeless on Sunday, Nov. 11th from 8:30 to 12:30. The girls will be collecting the coats at the back of Saint Anthony's parking lot. Kids', women's, and men's coats are needed. Please give to this worthy cause. We collected over 250 coats at the last coat collection two years ago! The girls hope to break that record!! If you have any questions, please call 781-383-0695.

ON STAGE

Here is a great weekend event for many of you. Don't miss Cohasset Dramatic Club's fall 2007 production, "Moon Over Buffalo" by Ken Ludwig, directed by Eric Henderson and produced by Jean DiGiacomandrea. This hilarious comedy centers on the lives of George & Charlotte Hay, two fading repertory stage actors, stuck in a stop on their tour in thrilling 1950s Buffalo. George and Charlotte have lost their last chance at stardom, their agent is smitten with Charlotte and the company ingénue has become pregnant by George. The plot is full of misunderstandings, misplaced affections and missing persons. The show premiered on Broadway starring Carol Burnett, so it is sure to be a laughter filled evening of pure entertainment. Performances take place at Cohasset Town Hall tonight and tomorrow night at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 11 at 2 p.m. For tickets call 617-697-2115.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Make-a-Difference Day is a national day of volunteering in its 16th year. It has long been a tradition at the Osgood School to participate and this year, the Deer Hill School will be holding its second Make-a-Difference Day. One event has past with success but another one is coming up soon. This weekend of activities is planned for Nov. 17/18th, when students of both Osgood and Deer Hill families alongside other community members, will be working in teams to help with fall cleanup for some of Cohasset's elderly residents. Volunteers will rake, pull down storm windows, change outdoor light bulbs and remove window air conditioners. This is a wonderful opportunity for the whole family to Make-a-Difference. If you are interested in volunteering or have any questions, please contact Patty Cunningham at 781-383-1378.

That is it for this week. Send in all of your news no later than Tuesdays by 5:00 pm. Email works best and for photos, please send them to mford@cnc.com with the written portion coming to me.

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com

MAIL: Around Town, C/O One Creative Place, PO Box 33, Cohasset, MA 02025

ENGAGEMENT

Chloe Johanna Chittick and Andrew Caleb Patton

Chittick - Patton

Woody and JoAnne Chittick of Cohasset announce the engagement of their daughter, Chloe Johanna Chittick, to Andrew Caleb Patton, son of Stephen and Linda Patton of Evanston, Ill.

The bride-to-be is a 1996 graduate of Cohasset High School and a 2000 graduate of Colby College in Waterville, Maine. She is currently employed at Slover Linett Strategies, Inc., a research and planning firm for non-profits.

Her fiancé graduated from St. Ignatius College Prep in Chicago in 1996, Boston College in 2000, and Indiana University School of Law in 2004. He is currently employed as an attorney at Zelechowski & Associates in Chicago.

The couple resides in Chicago with their dog, Doug. An August 2008 wedding is planned in Cohasset.

Jade Forest to host 'The Myth of Aging'

John Loupos and Steven Aronstein, founder of Somatic Systems Institute, will co-present a workshop on clinical somatics titled "The Myth of Aging," on Sunday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The simple movement patterns that will be taught are designed to eliminate pain and stiffness and enhance proprioception and flexibility. Somatics use yoga-like movement patterns to help people gain smarter muscles by recalibrating the faulty brain/muscle control settings that cause chronic pain and stiffness. Somatics doesn't require exertion – it's non-competitive and non-jarring – making it suitable regardless of one's physical condition.

This event will be offered by the Pain & Mobility Clinic at Jade Forest Kung Fu/Tai Chi, 130 King St., Route 3A, Cohasset. The fee to attend is $150. For more information, call Loupos at 781-383-6822.

Free family fun
in historic downtown Hingham.

Upcoming events:

Horse-drawn Hayrides
Saturdays, November 24 - December 22, noon - 3 p.m. Corner of Main & North.

Ornament making for kids
Saturday, November 24 from 1 - 3 p.m.
at the original Talbots.

Shop for Schools
Wednesday, November 28.
20% of pre-tax purchase price goes to any Hingham elementary school of your choice.

Christmas in the Square
Friday, Dec 7 from 6 - 8 p.m.
Singing, a live Nativity and
Santa's Grand Entrance at 6:30 p.m.
Saturday, Dec 8 - celebration lasts all day.

Festival of Trees
Friday, December 7 from 5:30 - 8 p.m. &
Saturday, December 8 from 10 - 3 p.m.

WIN: A Holiday Dinner for four.
Present this coupon to any participating Hingham downtown merchant and you'll be entered into a drawing to win a $300 gift certificate to the Square Cafe.
Name_____
Address_____
Home Phone #_____
No purchase necessary. One entry per family. Drawing December 7.
The gift certificate has no cash value & cannot be substituted for any other item.

Vibrant shops & great restaurants in our authentic New England downtown.

for details visit:
discoverhingham.com

Discover Hingham

2 more weeks...

...Are you ready?

Holiday Preview Tasting Event
Sample what we're serving up this holiday!

Thursday, November 8
4 - 7 p.m.
Live jazz by the Nancy Carr Trio

Hingham
Derby Street Shoppes
94 Derby Street
781-741-8050

WHOLE FOODS MARKET

Now taking holiday orders - call or stop by today!

Dogs find home sweet home

St. Croix Puppy Connection has placed over 300 dogs

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

When Angel, a tiny puppy with unmistakable ears from St. Croix, came to Cohasset she was shy and anxious around people. She shook with fear any time someone came close. But, slowly but surely — with kindness and love — Angel came around and now jumps into the laps of visitors for a good belly rub.

Angel is just one of more than 300 dogs that have been placed in loving homes by the St. Croix Puppy Connection based in Cohasset. The non-profit organization's focus is to rescue small mixed-breed dogs from St. Croix, a Caribbean island and US territory, and provide them with loving homes in the Massachusetts area.

"It's almost as if [the dogs] know they have a second chance," says volunteer Kathleen Womersley, who hears from adopters regularly on how loving and affectionate their dog is. She believes part of the reason is the dogs know how lucky they are.

The St. Croix Puppy Connection was born out of a group of volunteers at the Scituate Animal Shelter. The Mariner met with Joan McCafferty, Kathy Arthur-Tyler and Womersley, three of the seven volunteers who make up the organization. They found out about the plight of St. Croix dogs from a volunteer at another shelter who encouraged them to establish their own group. In the spring of 2003, they teamed up with an animal shelter in St. Croix for an off-island program called "Pets from Paradise."

"Our focus is on small mixed-breed dogs or puppies that will be small," says McCafferty. While volunteering at the Scituate Animal Shelter, many prospective dog owners would come in looking for a smaller dog but all they would find was larger dogs, "the waitlist was usually 10 people long." Meanwhile in St. Croix small dogs were being euthanized.

McCafferty jokes the St. Croix dogs are AKC — All Kinds of Crucian — because they are such a mix of different breeds it's often difficult to determine what the dominant breed is. Typically, the dogs are a cross of chihuahua, poodle, dachshund, spaniel, terrier or a combination of some, or all, of the above.

Now, four and half years later the St. Croix Puppy Connection has placed hundreds of dogs in happy homes.

The organization goes to great lengths to ensure the dogs' safety, comfort and well being in their travels to the US and in their future life.

Kizzy, Angel and Michelle, three small mixed-breed dogs from St. Croix, came to Cohasset through the St. Croix Puppy Connection. Together with several other volunteers, Kathy Arthur-Tyler and Joan McCafferty work with a shelter on St. Croix to bring young dogs to the US.

The process begins in St. Croix, which suffers from an overpopulation of dogs. A spay/neuter program now in place on the island has curbed the problem to some extent, but there is still a need for the Cohasset-based program as well as other similar programs in the US.

Before their trip to Massachusetts, the dogs are vet-checked and given every vaccination possible given their age. In addition, the dogs are spayed and neutered.

The dogs never travel by themselves; a travel partner accompanies each dog on their voyage. The dog is either toted as a carry-on or travels in a special cargo area in a crate. The amount of dogs that arrive each week depends on if there are travel partners available and if dogs are ready to go. On average, the organization can receive anywhere between two and four dogs each month. "it goes in waves," says McCafferty.

"It gives me so much hope that anything is possible, these dogs got through despite the overwhelming odds against them."
— Kathleen Womersley

Once the dogs arrive at Logan Airport, a volunteer picks them up personally. Womersley says for her each trip to the airport brings a renewal of hope.

"It gives me so much hope that anything is possible," says Womersley, "these dogs got through despite the overwhelming odds against them."

Before they reached the shelter on the island, many roamed the streets of St. Croix searching for food. Some dogs have been abused, found in a dumpster or neglected.

"The older the dogs are, the more baggage they come with," says Womersley, but the trio has scores of happy "tails" to tell.

"The dogs are sponges for kindness," says Arthur-Tyler. With kindness and consistency, the volunteers have been able to turn the dogs into prized family pets.

"Once they connect with a human, any human, they can easily transfer that connection to another human," says Womersley. Once a dog is able to connect with her — follow her around the house or cuddle on the couch — she knows they are ready for adoption.

Before being fostered, the dogs are placed in an isolation facility for 48 hours as part of a new regulation mandated by the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture for all rescue or for sale dogs coming from out-of-state without an owner. The dogs are vet-checked once again by a South Shore vet.

"The local vets have been very supportive," says Arthur-Tyler. Veterinarian Jenny Maas of South River Veterinary Service in Marshfield and Dr. Fawn Stevenson of Crazy Paws in Cohasset have both been generous with their time and services, the St. Croix volunteers say.

The organization relies on foster homes to house the dogs before a permanent family can be found.

"With foster homes you're able to get a real sense of the dogs," says McCafferty, then the foster moms and dads can give prospective adopters a fuller picture of the dog's personality and quirks.

The volunteers take great care in ensuring the dogs find a home where they can live out the rest of their days happily. Each dog is matched, not adopted out on a first-come first-serve basis. "it can be an agonizing choice, especially if you're deciding between two applications," says Arthur-Tyler. They check the personal and vet references of each applicant.

"Sometimes you have to go with your gut. If a warning sign goes up and it's not a good fit for the family, it's definitely not a good fit for the dog," says McCafferty.

The St. Croix Puppy Connection volunteers believe in what they are doing and don't see any sign of slowing down.

"As long as there is a need, we'll keep doing this," says McCafferty, "they need us and we need them."

The St. Croix Puppy Connection's available dogs are listed on www.petfinder.com. E-mail Joansoolai@aol.com for more information.

Available for adoption now

Kukala is a 1-year-old Chihuahua, Dachshund and all around AKC — All Kinds of Crucian. She weighs in at 10.5 pounds. She loves the company of other dogs and does well with the cats in her foster family. Kukala can be shy around men initially, but warms up to them when given the chance. If interested in adopting, e-mail joansoolai@aol.com.

'tis the season, Nantucket style.

Nantucket Noel

Featuring
Christmas Stroll Weekend
Nov. 30 - Dec. 2

Great Shopping
Festive Events
Cozy Lodging
Delicious Dining & Festive Holiday Atmosphere

Nantucket Island
Closer than you think!

Massachusetts

Plan Your Holiday Getaway Today!
NantucketNoel.com • 508-228-1700

Estate Planning for Seniors and Caregivers
An Informative Event at Sunrise of Cohasset

Please join us at Sunrise Assisted Living of Cohasset for an informative presentation by local Elder Law Attorney Susan M. Cox who specializes in estate planning. Learn about the following legal care documents:

- Health Care Proxy
- Durable Power of Attorney
- Living Will
- Do Not Resuscitate
- Estate planning documents such as wills and living trusts

Also information on using veteran's benefits towards the cost of assistant living will be discussed. A question and answer session will follow the presentation. Light refreshments will be served.

Sunrise senior living is committed to furthering the knowledge of senior living through events and seminars designed to help inform seniors and their caregivers.

EVENT DETAILS

Estate Planning
for Seniors and Caregivers
with Susan M. Cox
Elder Law Attorney

Thursday, November 8
5:00pm-7:00pm

Space is limited.
RSVP 781-383-6300.

SUNRISE ASSISTED LIVING

Sunrise of Cohasset 781-383-6300 Assisted Living, Alzheimer's Care

125 King Street (Route 3A), Cohasset, MA 02025
For more information and a FREE online newsletter, visit www.sunriseseniorliving.com

INLY INGREDIENTS ACADEMICS • INLY INGREDIENTS INDEPENDENCE • INLY INGREDIENTS HANDS-ON APPROACH • INLY INGREDIENTS INVOLVEMENT

A comprehensive curriculum that is experiential and hands-on...

INLY SCHOOL

...one ingredient of an Inly education

Come see why Boston Magazine called Inly one of "The Best Schools"

SCHEDULE AN OBSERVATION
INLY SCHOOL • 46 WATCH HILL DRIVE, SCITUATE, MA 02066
781-545-5544, EXT. 114 • WWW.INLYSCHOOL.ORG

INLY INGREDIENTS PROBLEM SOLVING
INLY INGREDIENTS INDIVIDUALITY
INLY INGREDIENTS LIFE SKILLS • INLY INGREDIENTS INSIGHT • INLY INGREDIENTS CREATIVITY • INLY INGREDIENTS INCLUSION

Plans underway for Holiday House Tour

It's beginning to look and feel a lot like Christmas already as the members of the Community Garden Club of Cohasset begin preparations for "Christmas Memories," a holiday house tour of the Cohasset Historical Society's Paul Pratt building, and five of Cohasset's loveliest homes. The tour will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 6, rain or shine, and is for adults only.

Tickets are $20 in advance and $25 on the day of the tour and may be purchased the first week in November in Cohasset at Fleming's, Windsor Tea Shop, Buttonwoods Books and Toys, and Darilynn's. Other ticket sales locations include: The Welch Company in Scituate; Stonehouse Gardens in Norwell; and Talbots, Johannah's, and The Shoe Market in Hingham's Derby Street Shoppes.

COURTESY PHOTO

Doris Flint of the Community Garden Club admires a beautiful Christmas plate that she has decorated for the "Christmas Memories " Holiday House Tour to be held on Dec.6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

From the Archives of the Cohasset Historical Society

IS THIS YOUR HOUSE?

The Cohasset Historical Society was recently given the photograph of this house to add to our archives but we don't recognize its location. If you can identify it, please contact us at 781-383-1434.

From the Archives is a weekly feature provided by Cohasset Historical Society.

The Cohasset Historical Society welcomes donations. If you have something that you would consider donating to our archives please give us a call at 781-383-1434.

LIBRARY CORNER

Independent Film Night to be held Nov. 15

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

A Romanian schoolgirl, played by Dorothea Petrie, finds her life forever changed when she accidentally knocks over a bust of dictator Nicolae Ceausescu...

Independent Film Night – The library will show the independent film, "The Way I Spent the End of the World" at 6 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 15. Free admission and refreshments will be provided. A Romanian schoolgirl, played by Dorothea Petrie, finds her life forever changed when she accidentally knocks over a bust of dictator Nicolae Ceausescu in director Catalin Mitulescu's tragic and comic coming-of-age tale.

Movie Matinee – Come to the library for a free showing of the film "Singing in the Rain," starring Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds and Donald O'Connor, at 11 a.m., Friday, Dec. 7. The Friends of the Library will provide light refreshments. The Friends of the Library and the Cohasset Democratic Town Committee generously sponsored the movie site license.

Great Decisions Group – The first Great Decisions Discussion group will begin at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 18, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss Children, found in chapter eight of the assigned text.

Library Book Group – Join the book group for coffee and a discussion of Penelope Fitzgerald's book "Offshore," at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 28, in the meeting room. According to NoveList, the book "offers a portrait of a group of eccentrics living in houseboats on the river Thames and describes how their disparate lives intertwine and complicate matters for everyone." The book won the Booker Prize in 1979. All are welcome.

FOR CHILDREN

School Project Help – The library Web site, www.cohassetlibrary.org, is set up to help with many school projects. Students in grades 1 through 5 will find everything they need on the Children's Page under links and homework help. A new addition to the search engine category is the CIA World Fact Book, which includes everything needed for country reports. The library has many research databases designed and written for students. Middle and high school students will find the research page extensive.

In addition, project help is always available by emailing the children's librarian, Sharon Moody, at smoody@ocln.org or the reference librarian, Gayle Walsh, at gwalsh@olcn.org.

NoveList – Looking for a good book? Click on NoveList, an extensive database of juvenile and young adult fiction, complete with reviews and reading levels.

Young Adult Page – The Young Adult page has links to sites and databases of interest to teens.

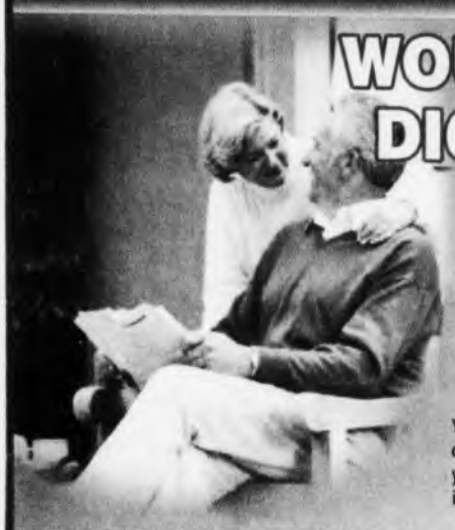
News hotline - 781-741-2933

"I never thought I could do it!"

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what ENC gave me."

— Maria Rodriguez,
ENC LEAD Program Student

Our LEAD Program can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months by attending class just one night a week.



- ENC provides the personal support and attention that makes all the difference
- Enroll now for November classes!

Call 877-ENC-LEAD or visit us at www.enc.edu

Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
www.enc.edu

Trouble Hearing In Noise?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TRY DIGITAL HEARING AIDS® FREE?

All you have to do is call our office for your FREE hearing test and ask for the Free Trial Offer.

You can wear the new OPEN FIT digital aids for 30 days free of charge with a small security deposit which will be fully returned to you if you decide not to keep your aids. If you decide that you can't part with your new aids, use the coupon below to save $500 Off a complete set of two instruments. This opportunity may never be repeated and positively ends November 30, 2007.

DIGITAL SAVINGS
Fully Programmable OPEN FIT Instruments
$500 OFF PAIR
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

WIRELESS TV LISTENERS
$49.95
(Limit Two) This will end the loud TV in your home.
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

FREE REPAIRS
Bring your broken aid in to any of our offices. If we can fix it in our lab, we will fix it
FREE!
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

FREE HEARING TEST
Using the latest audiometric testing equipment available.
Call Our Office Today!
Expires 11/30/07

OWNED AND DIRECTED BY A DOCTOR OF AUDIOLOGY

"I'M NOT ASKING 'WHAT' ALL THE TIME" Since purchasing my hearing aids, it's made a world of difference for me and my wife. Now that I'm not asking "What" all the time, she says it's made her life much easier. I can hear everything the first time! Our communication has gotten so much better. I would highly recommend you.

-Robert Down of Hudson, MA

THANKS MASS. AUDIOLOGY!

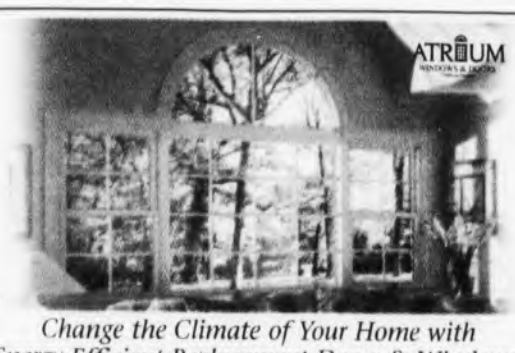
Nationwide Service ★ Lifetime Care ★ American Owned & American Made ★ Advanced Hearing Technology

Mass. Audiology
Personal Hearing Systems
1-866-536-HEAR (4327)
www.massaudiology.com
Call today for a FREE Hearing Test in your home or in the office nearest you.

All major insurances accepted including GIC, 1st Seniority, BlueCare 65, Mass Health, and Medicaid

MARLBORO 277 Main Street (Victoria Bldg)
WALTHAM 85 River Street (Colonial Shopping Center)
DEDHAM Dedham Plaza, Route 1, 725 Providence Highway
13 Locations!
40 Years in Massachusetts
MILFORD 2 Cape Road (Formerly Fishbein Hearing)
BROCKTON 165 Westgate Drive (Next to Lowe's)
PEMBROKE Route 139 (Brigantine Village)
N. ATTLEBORO 425 E. Washington Street Route 1
RAYNHAM 407 New State Hwy Route 44, Deans Plaza (Formerly Discount Hearing Aids)
ORLEANS 84 Route 6A
PLYMOUTH 225 Water St. Suite A-200
FALL RIVER 514 Hanover Street (Formerly Hearing Aid Services of SE Mass)
WEST DENNIS 775 Main Street Route 28
HYANNIS 69 Camp Street

Owned and Directed by a Doctor of Audiology



UMASS BOSTON

We invite you to attend a public workshop to discuss plans for the future redesign of the UMass Boston campus.

Workshops will be held Thursday, November 15, 2007, 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm and
Monday, November 19, 2007, 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm
Campus Center Ballroom
University of Massachusetts Boston
100 Morrissey Boulevard

If you plan to drive, we suggest that you park in the university's North Lot, which is next to the Campus Center. You can also use the T: Take the Red Line to the JFK/UMass stop and the free university shuttlebus to the Campus Center.

For directions and more information about the university, please visit www.umb.edu. To learn more about the strategic planning process, please visit www.umb.edu/strategic_plan

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Doors & Windows, Patio Doors and Entry Doors.

CLIMATE Door & Window
276 Weymouth St., Rockland
781-681-7007
Financing Available
Andersen
Replacement Windows and Patio Doors

Maryann Saporito Boothroyd prepares the lamb for roasting.

Class provides holiday cooking ideas

Maryann Saporito Boothroyd led a cooking class Monday, Nov. 5, which gave her students lots of fabulous ideas for cooking during the holiday season. The menu included roasted lamb, duck, and winter salads. Maryann has been teaching at the South Shore Community Center since 2002 and is the former owner of Saporito's Restaurant in Hull, which was rated one of Boston's top five restaurants by the New York Times. She recently opened Hola, a new restaurant in downtown Marshfield, which specializes in Tapas and flatbreads.

For more information on SSCC's programs visit www.southshorecommunitycenter.com or call 781-383-0088.

Anti-racism workshop to be held

A workshop on multiculturalism and anti-racism will be offered from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17, at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Cohasset. The free workshop, which will focus on issues of racism and multi-culturalism, will be presented by Rev. Ed Rodman, an Episcopal priest, former president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, and professor at the Episcopal Divinity School in Cambridge. Rodman has spent most of his career working around issues of racism, urban ministry, ecumenical and interfaith efforts, and social justice.

No one likes to think that they are racist or culturally insensitive, but the truth is, there are many challenges to living in a way that truly honors differences in race, culture, gender and religion. The workshop, "The Marks of a Multi-Culturally Competent Person," will be geared toward an interfaith audience and will help participants understand the difference between race and racism, ethnicity and national origin and culture, acknowledge their own prejudices and stereotypical thinking about different groups, and challenge the myth of color-blindness and the reality of color-consciousness.

The workshop will also help participants realize that race, gender, religion and many other factors can be used as organizing principles for discrimination and/or empowerment and that there are multiple centers of truth, which are related to different experiences, as well as help them appreciate that in most societies one experience is held as normative as a result of the social power that group has attained.

The event includes lunch. To reserve a space, call Colette Wood at 781-383-1083, or email her at cwood@ststephenscohasset.org.

Community Center holding clothing and toy drive

Since Nov. 2001, the South Shore Community Center has been privileged to sponsor an annual clothing and toy collection to be distributed to the impoverished children of Santo Domingo during the winter holidays. The drive started when Stephanie Church and Ruthanne Ardrizzoni were moved by the poverty of Santo Domingo, the homeland of the center's beloved janitor, Julio Falcon.

What began as simple donations, given by Stephanie and Ruthann of needed items, has flourished and become a wonderful holiday tradition. All arms of the Community Center participate in this Toy and Clothing Drive, including the Gymnastic Program, the Nursery School and the toddler Gym Dandy Program. Each year, they continue to be overjoyed by the generosity of the Cohasset community.

Each November the Community Center distributes letters to the parents of all of its students to remind them of this mission. The Directors of all programs incorporate this collection into their classes as a lesson in sharing with others less fortunate. The collection begins early, because it takes three weeks for the donated items to be shipped, and then received in Santo Domingo.

The center usually sends out three to four shipments. In addition to gift giving, they also encourage cash donations to defray the costly expense of the shipments. As most are aware, the center is a nonprofit organization that depends upon the public good, so that it can continue to bring joy into the lives of needy children. Every year, they receive thank you notes and photographs of the children holding and opening the gifts and the photographs are posted throughout the center, so that all of the students can see the fruit of their labor.

Train DVD available

DVDs of the Greenbush Line Grand Opening Celebration are now available to purchase for $20 each. To order a copy, call Shaun Galvin at 781-424-2197 or email shaungalvin@yahoo.com. The request can also be sent with a check for $20 per DVD to Shaun Galvin, P.O. Box 526, Hingham, MA 02043.

Senior Scene

PTO to help seniors with fall chores

The following events are sponsored by Cohasset Elder Affairs at 3 North Street. Registration is required for all events unless noted by calling 781-383-9112.

EVENTS

Make a Difference Days – Members of the Cohasset PTO and their families will go to the homes of senior residents to rake leaves and perform other chores, Saturday, Nov. 17, and Sunday, Nov. 18.

Thanksgiving Feast – Enjoy a Thanksgiving Feast at noon, Tuesday, Nov. 20, which is being offered to Cohasset seniors at the Atlantica Restaurant.

Lunchtime Lectures

The Lunchtime Lecture series will be held at 11 a.m. The cost is $2.50 including a gourmet lunch.

The Longevity Revolution – Join Frank and Libet Callahan, Wednesday, Nov. 14, for "Managing your Medications."

Medicare Part D – Sid Whiting from Senior Initiatives will go over the Medicare Part D changes for 2008, Wednesday, Dec. 5. The Angel Food Project will prepare lunch.

St. Stephen's Church accepting book donations

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., Cohasset, is currently accepting donations of slightly worn hardcover and paperback books, DVDs and CDs for its annual book sale, part of the ecumenical Village Fair that will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 1 on Cohasset Common.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Old textbooks, romance novels, damaged or moldy books or books with notes and/or highlighting will not be accepted.

Money raised from the book sale will be used to send underprivileged children and their families to the Barbara C. Harris Camp in Greenfield, N.H.

· Trina Turk · Velvet · Laurie B · Calypso · G1 · Citizens of Humanity · Cullen · Susana Monaco · Billy Blues · Beth Bowley · Marika Charles · Hanky Panky · Aude · Brunya · Lia Kes · Autumn Cashmere · Alexis Bittar · Ann Feriday · Nicole Miller · Charlotte Tarantola · Free People · Hadley Pollet · Organic · Majestic · Kai · Rebecca Taylor · Yoana Baraschi · Kinross Cashmere · Sweet Pea · Blue Duck · New Scotland · Notice · Molly

Belmont
59 Leonard Street
617 484 3711

Hingham
The Derby Street Shoppes
under the pink awning
781 749 6633

Beverly Farms
29 West Street
978 922 4777

www.glee.us

Country House Furniture & Interiors
Fall Home Sale

Interior Design
Fine Furniture
Custom Upholstery
Custom Draperies
Carpets &
Oriental Rugs

Country House
Furniture and Interiors

818 Rte. 3A, Cohasset
781-383-1832
Open Monday-Saturday 11-5
Sunday 12Noon-4pm
or by appointment

OPINION

EDITORIAL

Brave hearts, strong arms

On the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918, the Armistice ended the bloody saga of World War I.

This conflict was believed by contemporaries to be the Great War, the war to end all wars, the war to make the world safe for democracy.

Yet the Armistice did not end war, because the enemies of freedom continued to spawn in the fetid waters of tyranny and radicalism.

And every time this threat hunkers down on the horizon, the response of the sons and daughters of liberty is swift and sure.

If the price of liberty is eternal vigilance, the cost of liberty is eternal defense against the enemies of a free society.

Down through the years, this cost has been met by the brave hearts and strong arms of our men and women in the military.

On Veterans Day, which has its roots in Armistice Day, we honor and thank all our veterans.

We acknowledge the courage and stamina of our military families.

Like the soldiers on the front line, our military families back home face a fearsome battle.

Today, as our troops serve in Iraq, Afghanistan, and myriad "hot spots" over the world, the response is no different than it was in 1776, 1914,World War II, the 1950s Korean War Era, the 1960s Vietnam Era, or during the Cold War. Our military families, all of the United States, face these hardships with stamina and endurance.

The War on Terrorism may be generations long.

There are days when we feel like this war may never end.

As we at home bear the burden, tears, loneliness, and sacrifice of war, the image of our military men and women, marching just as courageously today as in 1776, rises up before us.

This image renews our resolve.

We know that ultimately freedom will be the victor.

Nineteenth-century composer William W. How once wrote, "And when the strife is fierce, the warfare long, steals on the ear the distant triumph song, hearts are brave again, and arms are strong."

On Veterans Day, we give thanks to the brave hearts and strong arms of our veterans of yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

On Veterans Day, we revere those who gave their lives in defense of our nation in all wars.

When the sound of "Taps" echoes through the sky this Veterans Day, the notes will be both a reverent goodbye and a tearful blessing to our servicemen and women who gave their lives for their country. We would do well to remember that the roll call of heroes is not static. It is ever changing, ever expanding, with each life sacrificed in defense of our freedom.

We also revere the men and women, strong and sure as arrows, who currently fight the eternal fight on foreign soil.

We can hardly begin to comprehend the hardships our troops face, or to remember that our men and women oversees miss so many precious things we take for granted. Only in their dreams do they take part in family celebrations and embrace loved ones at home.

These are our veterans of tomorrow.

We owe a sacred debt to our veterans.

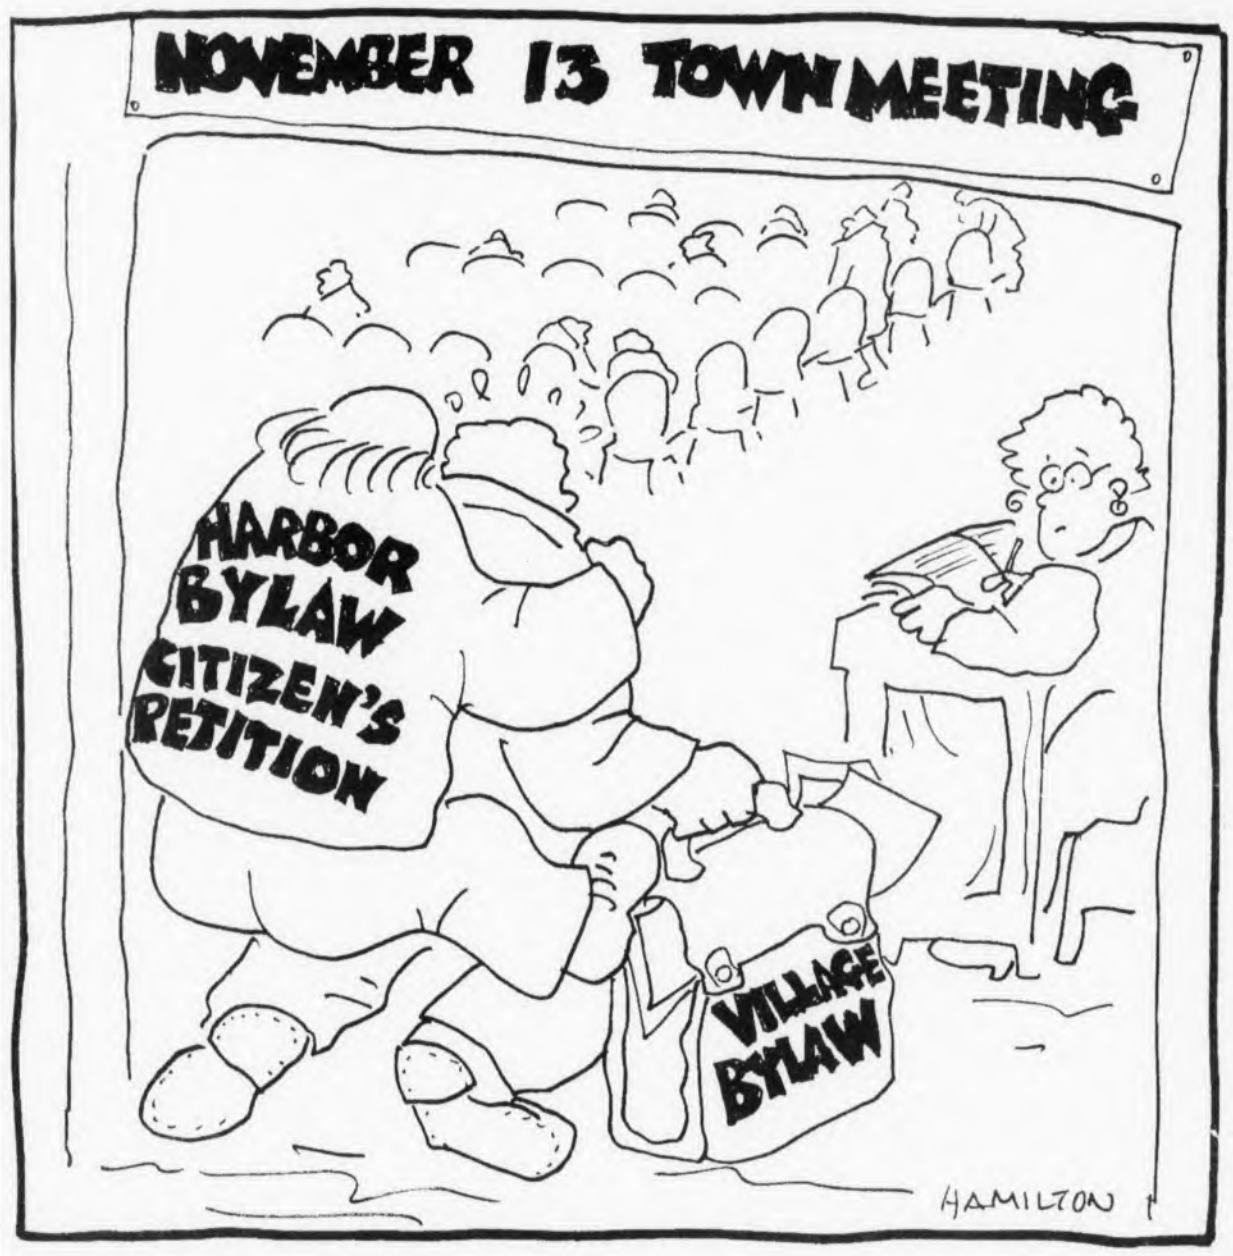
This is not a debt that can be paid in a single day. Let's resolve to carry our gratitude into action.

As Veterans Day ceremonies draw to a close, what will we do to support our troops as vigorously and selflessly as they defend us?

It's fitting that we should cheer and wave flags, and it is even more fitting that we do all we can to ensure our veterans have a hero's homecoming, quality health care when they return, and all the benefits to which they are more than entitled.

It's fitting that we remember our neighbors with family members overseas with words of encouragement and friendly acts to help out when needed.

On Nov. 11, we have the opportunity to offer our heartfelt "thank you" to America's veteran soldiers, sailors, airmen, Marines, Coastguardsmen, Reserves, and members of the National Guard.



Our town will join communities across the country in giving special thanks to our veterans on Veterans Day.

Let's be sure the sidewalks are filled with cheers and waves, so our veterans will know they remain in our hearts.

We will never forget or neglect.

Prayer service on Nov. 11

Cohasset American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War posts and the Sons of the American Legion will conduct a prayer service in honor of Veterans Day at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11 (Sunday) at the Veterans Memorial at Cohasset Harbor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Vote 'no' on Harbor article

TO THE EDITOR:

As a 14-plus year resident of Border Street, this is my families' "neighborhood."

Even after this period of time, I am reminded on a daily basis of the natural beauty of this long rocky place. I am deeply troubled by the prospect of multi-family development replacing or supplementing existing properties in the Waterfront Business (harbor) area. I urge my fellow citizens to plan to attend the Nov. 13 Special Town Meeting and vote no on Article 5. Passage of Article 5 would change the zoning in the Waterfront Business (WB) district from one that does not now allow "dwellings for more than one family, in combination with stores and other permitted uses" to "Special Permit" and the possibility of development of multi-family dwellings combined with stores, in the Waterfront Business (harbor) area. Additional development in the harbor area would strain the area, burdening it with additional cars/traffic and forever changing its character, further restricting public access to the harbor and pushing out marine related uses.

Please read Article 5 and join me in voting no on Article 5 at the Nov. 13 Special Town Meeting.

Susan Galligan
31 Border St.

'Wrongheaded opposition'

TO THE EDITOR:

With respect to the Commentary column by Tom Callahan in the Mariner of Nov. 2, in which he praises the Town Meeting article about village revitalization and damns the citizens' article about Harbor revitalization, he is too negative. Because I have great respect for Tom's public service, integrity and intelligence, I'm dismayed that his condemnation reminds me of the wrongheaded opposition to the efforts of the now defunct Cohasset Revitalization Corporation, in which a group of mostly business owners attempted to be a catalyst for improvement.

Of course the improvements would have benefited some owners of business property, especially in the Harbor area, but the critics could not grasp that the improvements would also benefit the Town, at no great cost to the Town. Rather than work responsibly and thoughtfully with the CRC, the opponents chose a nasty and thoughtless campaign to discredit the proponents and their proposals.

We'll probably experience more of this behavior at town meeting. But reasonable people should consider that the Town benefits more from a motel and boatyard that are rendered economically viable (by the provisions of proposed article) than from businesses that may no longer be subsidized by the current owners and are sold off to purchasers with much less interest in maintaining attractive and well-managed operations.

I was not one of the signatories nor do I carry any water for the owner, but I don't believe in cutting off one's nose to spite one's face!

Tom Callahan may be correct that the article needs more review and revision by experts before adoption, to safeguard the interests of all parties current and future, but let the discussion be civil, constructive and rational, and avoid the nasty ad hominem attacks that characterized the CRC discussions.

R. Murray Campbell
217 Jerusalem Road

SEE LETTERS, PAGE 13

Planning Board support urged

COMMENTARY

TOM CALLAHAN

Should the Planning Board or ZBA should be the special permit granting authority (SPGA) under the new village bylaw? The new bylaw would consolidate site plan review and the special permit application in the PB. The ZBA is waging a petty turf war and would risk years of effort and possibilities for the village. Its objection should be seen for what it is. The PB should be supported for these reasons:

1. An objective is to streamline the permitting process. Consolidation into the PB does this as to zoning and site plan issues.

2. Increasingly common in modern zoning is the use of specialized districts and overlays targeted for specific development objectives (exs.: like our TOD). The trend under such bylaws is that the Planning Board is SPGA.

3. Neither state law nor town bylaws mandate ZBA as the exclusive SPGA. The PB is already the SPGA for the TOD district (a perfect analogy to village zoning) and the former Senior Overlay Bylaw.

4. Specific state law-mandated duties for each board create key distinctions in their focus. The ZBA's sole statutorily mandated duties create a narrower focus, solely on the zoning bylaw's impacts at the individual property level. In contrast, the mandated duties of a Planning Board create a focus on the broader scope of development. Specialty district zoning, for ex., the village, is focused on district-wide impacts and consistency. The PB, through the experience of its statutorily mandated duties, is clearly the board that is better equipped to handle specialty district development.

5. Our current site plan review process, vested in the PB, is not also a special permit process, as is more often the case in other communities. Site plan review without a special permit attached to it is relatively toothless, with tenuous binding authority and appeal rights. Findings and conditions under a combined site plan/special permit process have teeth, and there is a clear process of appeal. The Senior Overlay and TOD bylaws have already begun the transition towards making site plan reviews by the PB into special permit processes.

6. ZBA admits it has no expertise, or indeed even authority, to address the comprehensive

SEE PLANNING BOARD, PAGE 13

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company,165 Enterprise Drive,
Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore. E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com.
The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.
Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

Parents should teach kids about tracks

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

An Open Letter to Cohasset Parents— This past week we have had a few very troubling reports regarding train safety and Cohasset youth.

On Trick-Or-Treat night we saw, first hand, a small group of youths who went under the gates at the Pond Street crossing and proceeded to the end of the median island to look down the track to get a better view of the approaching train. This placed them inside of the gates only a few feet from the train as it went through the crossing. Clearly this was a dangerous and risky thing to do. But, when you are in Middle School, we guess you are invincible.

Another incident reported to us concerned youth at the Pleasant Street crossing hanging over the wrought-iron fence to get a better view of the train as it sped by. The person who saw the incident said the children leaned so far over the railing he was worried that they would fall over the fence onto the tracks. The photos show where the children were when the trains went by. Also, about month ago, we reported that in one neighborhood, someone cut a trap door into the railroad safety fence so they could gain access to the track. This was probably so they could continue to use their favorite shortcuts. This is an incredibly dangerous and potentially lethal thing to do.

Even though the MBTA has spent considerable time and effort through Operation Lifesaver supporting programs about train safety at the schools, the message has apparently not sunk in fully. It is up to you, the parents, to review and review again the commonsense safety issues about the train with your children. No one else will do it as well as you can! Your children need to learn that they are not invincible and the train can squash them just like when someone stomps on a soda can. It is not our style to be alarmist, but safety is very serious stuff. And, the potential impacts to your children are indeed very real and incredibly tragic.

Beechwood Street Sidewalk — This week, you may see construction starting on Beechwood Street, weather permitting. To refresh your memory, the Town is constructing a new sidewalk from South Main Street to Telarico Lane along the southern side of Beechwood Street. The plans have been drawn up for some time and the project has been approved by the Conservation Commission. P.A. Landers, who was the primary sidewalk contractor for the Forest Avenue sidewalk project, will be doing the Beechwood sidewalk work as well. Once the work actually starts, we would expect to be complete in 2 to 3 weeks. The only possible exception to this schedule might be the safety fence that needs to be constructed along the walkway on the N. Main Street side of the railroad crossing. If the weather holds we might be able to move to Lower King Street and complete a portion of that sidewalk as well. Stay tuned; we'll keep you up to date.

COURTESY PHOTOS

Note dangerous location: Children leaned over the railing to get a look at the train near the Pleasant Street crossing.

Note dangerous location: On Halloween night a group of youths went under the gates to the end of the median at the Pond Street crossing.

Greenbush stuff – This office has received a number of favorable comments about the new Greenbush commuter rail line. Most seem impressed with the smoothness of the ride. And, 45 minutes to South Station ain't bad! This past Sunday, as we drove past the West Hingham and Cohasset stations, there were a number of cars of people enjoying a day trip into Boston. The number of vehicles parked at the Cohasset Station also seems to be increasing daily.

This week we had another report from an eyewitness of a northbound car driving onto the tracks at the North Main Street railroad crossing. The MBTA is in the process of making major changes to the crossing, but we have no information regarding the final design or when they plan to start construction. This is the fourth occurrence that we know of where cars have driven onto the tracks. Fortunately, the car had enough time and ground clearance to back up onto the road and drive away. The MBTA has come up with some rather simple road marking changes that might eliminate this problem. We are anxiously waiting for those changes to occur quickly as they are simple and could save lives now that the train is operating.

Occasionally, we receive calls from residents who may perceive that odd things are happening at the various crossings. Each call we get is taken very seriously and is passed on to the MBTA project personnel and beyond, if necessary. We do not stop until we are satisfied with objective evidence that all systems are working as intended. There are some quirks that you may have noticed in the system. For example at Lower King Street when a southbound train is in the station, the King Street gates will come down. If the train stays in the station for a prolonged period of time, the King Street gates will go back up. (A handicapped passenger, an unusually heavy number of exiting passengers, or a "hold" placed by central dispatch in Boston may be the cause of a longer than normal in-station time.) As soon as the train begins to move toward King Street, the southbound the gates will come down again. We have received a number of calls about this down and up and down and up maneuver. Even though it looks silly, safety is not an issue as long as drivers and pedestrians do not try to "beat" the gates. We are hoping that we can get the gate control systems fine tuned a bit more, but we need to see how things operate for a while.

Keeping up with the Jetsons

THE FAR SIDE OF PERFECT

DIANE K. DANIELSON

Yet, look around today, and with the exception of flying cars, we're not that far from a Jetsonian lifestyle.

Recently, I watched an episode of The Jetsons with my son. It brought back memories of my brother and I wearing footie pajamas, sitting on the floor, eating Cream of Wheat on TV trays, with our eyes glued to the Saturday morning cartoon lineup. (Note to son: Yes, there once was a time when SpongeBob was not on television 24/7/365.) We would dream of flying cars, Rosie the robot maid, "Rrrr-Astro" the dog, and wanting to look like daughter Judy (that would be me, not my brother).

The Jetsons' futurized world seemed so far away from our lives in an early 1970s Maryland suburb. Yet, look around today, and with the exception of flying cars, we're not that far from a Jetsonian lifestyle. In the cartoon, George Jetson works three hours per day, three days per week at a job that consists of pushing a single computer button (shades of Tim Ferriss' bestseller, The 4-hour Workweek — although clearly something only Tim and George have figured out how to accomplish). From episode to episode, despite the banality of his job, George is arbitrarily promoted, demoted, fired and rehired by his company (shades of life in any corporation these days).

While I don't have a Rosie (either live or robotocized) I do have my self-propelled Roomba vacuum that gets the job done with a push of a button. And top of my holiday wish list this year? A Scooba (another iRobot invention that scrubs floors). Moreover, the microwave is responsible for more meals than I'd care to admit. And what Jetsons fan could step on a treadmill without at least once thinking of Astro dragging George along after him?

However, despite the many innovations and shortcuts like remote controls, online banking, home-delivered groceries, people movers and GPS systems, there's one thing the Jetsons' writers missed: if we truly kept up with the Jetsons, we would have an even worse obesity issue on our hands.

I never noticed how much we don't do physically anymore until a recent rental car experience. Mine was in the shop, so I rented the cheapest available, and ended up with a car with manual locks, steering, and windows. I couldn't recall when I'd last leaned across a passenger seat to roll down the window to hand my credit card to the gas attendant. Certainly not since I was old enough to strain my neck and shoulder doing so. In fact, when did I stop pumping my own gas? But, thanks to my "manual" rental, I got some extra exercise that week by walking around the car to unlock my son's door by actually putting the key into the lock and turning it (after the window roll down incident, I couldn't move my neck to reach it from inside).

It seems that all this automation has made me frightfully lazy. Step outside or open a window to check the weather? Naaaah. I just look it up on the computer. Open Netflix video envelopes to see what I ordered several weeks earlier? It's much easier to check my orders online. Fortunately, now that I can download and TiVo movies at my convenience, I no longer need to exert myself by opening any envelopes.

Even mentally I'm slacking. Memorize phone numbers? Why do that, when you can program in a name or scroll down the call-list. PIN numbers and passwords? I just hit the "forgot password" button. Hmmmm. Perhaps I should start doing that Sudoku puzzle in the paper to stay one step ahead of senility. The only problem is that I stopped getting the paper. It took too much effort to walk all the way downstairs to retrieve it when I could read it on my laptop.

With all that in mind, I'm not sure a Jetsonian life is necessarily the right thing for society. So, perhaps it's just as well that we may never live to see flying cars. I personally gave up on that dream when I realized that the Jetsons' writers missed another big one: that the day after the first flying car was invented, lawyers would be lining up to file NIMAS lawsuits. Not. In. My. Air. Space.

Diane K. Danielson is a Cohasset resident who instead of holding out for a flying car has set her sights on a hybrid (with a GPS system and automatic everything) and she will just have to settle for pretending that it flies. For more of her random musings and other insights, visit her blog at www.womensDISH.com.

HEALTH NOTES

Weighing need for Shingles shot

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Shingles — an ailment that is associated with chicken pox, is usually accompanied by considerable distress. In addition to the bad rash, a case may involve severe pain, fever, an upset stomach, or headaches. But the pain from postherpetic neuralgia, the aftermath of shingles, can make life miserable for months, even years. You can't get shingles unless you've first had chicken pox. Currently, more than 90 percent of Americans have had chicken pox and about one in three will get shingles at some time in their lives.

If you have a new sharp irritation that you don't recognize, it could be anywhere, get it checked by a doctor immediately. most doctors can successfully stop the early onset of shingles if it's detected within 72 hours of onset.

Last spring a new vaccine, Zostavax was approved by the FDA based on a large clinical trial that showed it halved the risk of getting shingles. Even more important, it cut by two-thirds the risk of developing postherpetic neuralgia, which develops in about a third of the cases in people age 60 and over. However, with all the good reviews, the vaccine is not in widespread use for several reasons:

High Cost — Merck charges about $150 for the one-shot vaccine. In Cohasset, expect to pay as much as $300. Because Zostavax must be stored at a temperature of -5° F (-15° C), it's shipped frozen to points of distribution and most doctors who see adult patients don't store it or carry it. Generally, hospitals have set up centralized by-appointment-only Zostavax clinics, staffed by pharmacists.

Medicare D will cover flu, pneumococcal and hepatitis B, but it's up to each plan to decide about shingles vaccine, and considering the difficulty surrounding its handling it may be more nuisance than benefit. You'd be wise to contact the your primary care doctor to find about its availability in your specific case. In comparison, the standard flu vaccine costs between $11 and $15, and the pneumococcal vaccine, about $25. Traditionally, vaccines are one of the best health bargains out there — a low up-front cost that pays for itself many times over in averted sickness and early death. But vaccine costs are going up and the economics are no longer clearcut anymore. An analysis of Zostavax in the Annals of Internal Medicine has put it in the intermediate cost effectiveness category.

For people who have had shingles — the chances of getting another attack are extremely low. Accordingly, Zostavax probably won't help people who have had shingles.

Lack of urgency — Vaccines have traditionally targeted communicable diseases, so getting immunized has a social purpose: You're protecting yourself and others that you might infect with a contagious disease. People with shingles can infect others with the herpes virus that causes the disease (the result is chicken pox, not shingles). Still, shingles is less contagious—and far less lethal—than flu, measles, and many other diseases we get vaccinated for. One of the most impressive results from the Shingles Prevention Study that led to approval of the vaccine was the two-thirds reduction in postherpetic neuralgia.

Should you get the shingles vaccine? — Adverse reactions to the vaccine don't seem to be a huge problem. A small group of people get a rash around the injection site. It's a new vaccine and side effects may emerge as more people take it. Age is a consideration. The vaccine is approved for people 60 and over. The likelihood of getting shingles increases with age but the older you are the less effective the vaccine is against shingles. For many people the worst part of shingles is the pain from the postherpetic neuralgia that develops after shingles. Results from the clinical trial of the vaccine showed that it was actually more effective in preventing postherpetic neuralgia in people 70 or older than in those age 60 to 69.

Experts say once the immune system has been primed by shingles the vaccine doesn't accomplish much, especially in the years following an attack. But the shingles induced immunity may taper off, so depending on how long ago you had shingles there might be some value to getting the vaccine

Finally there's the cost to consider. If you want the vaccine you need to check whether it is covered by your health plan or Part D Medicare prescription plan first. Coverage is by no means universal. If you have to pay for it out of pocket, you may want to reconsider and take your chances.

Portions taken from Harvard Medical Review: www.health.harvard.edu

Steve Bobo is a long-time member of the Cohasset Board of Health.

Sleep well, my hero

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

A war hero died with little fanfare last week and I don't want to let him to go quietly because he was a particular hero of mine and several hundred thousand others who don't have the opportunity to put words on paper for all to see.

Paul Tibbetts was a general when he died but to me he'll always be Col. Tibbetts, the pilot of the B-29 called the Enola Gay that dropped the first atom bomb on Hiroshima, killing at least 70,000 people, but saving hundreds of thousands more.

There's a better than 50-50 chance that I was one of them.

FMF stood for Fleet Marine Force, the guys who jumped out of the LCIs and ran up the beach.

I was a radio-gunner on a PBJ Mitchell medium bomber attached to Marine squadron VMB 423 in a place called Malabang on the island of Mindanao in the Philippines at the time, preparing for the invasion of the Japanese homeland.

We didn't know when it was coming or what our role was to be because the Marines had a disquieting habit of raiding their Air Wing to find warm bodies for the FMF after a particularly bloody battle and this was right after Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

FMF stood for Fleet Marine Force, the guys who jumped out of the LCIs and ran up the beach. It was not a pleasant prospect to one who had spent the previous months dropping bombs on stranded Japanese in remote places like Rabaul and Kavieng.

The scuttlebutt was that there would be upwards of 800,000, maybe a million, casualties in the invasion of Japan, not counting the Japanese themselves, the same people who had fought to the death across the Pacific, even to the point of suicide.

The beginning of the end of all that came on the morning of Aug. 6, 1945 when Col. Tibbetts flew the Enola Gay over Hiroshima. Eight days and another A-bomb later, Japan surrendered and World War II was over.

In the 62 years that have passed since the bloodiest war of them all ended and the horrors of nuclear warfare have become apparent, attempts have been made to paint Col. Tibbetts as a villain who needlessly killed thousands of innocent women and children.

Those who are wont to rewrite history reported at various times that he was in prison or a hopeless alcoholic or driven insane by guilt over what he had done. Actually, he had done very well, rising to the rank of brigadier general in the Air Force, retiring in 1966 to take over an air taxi service and retiring from that in 1985.

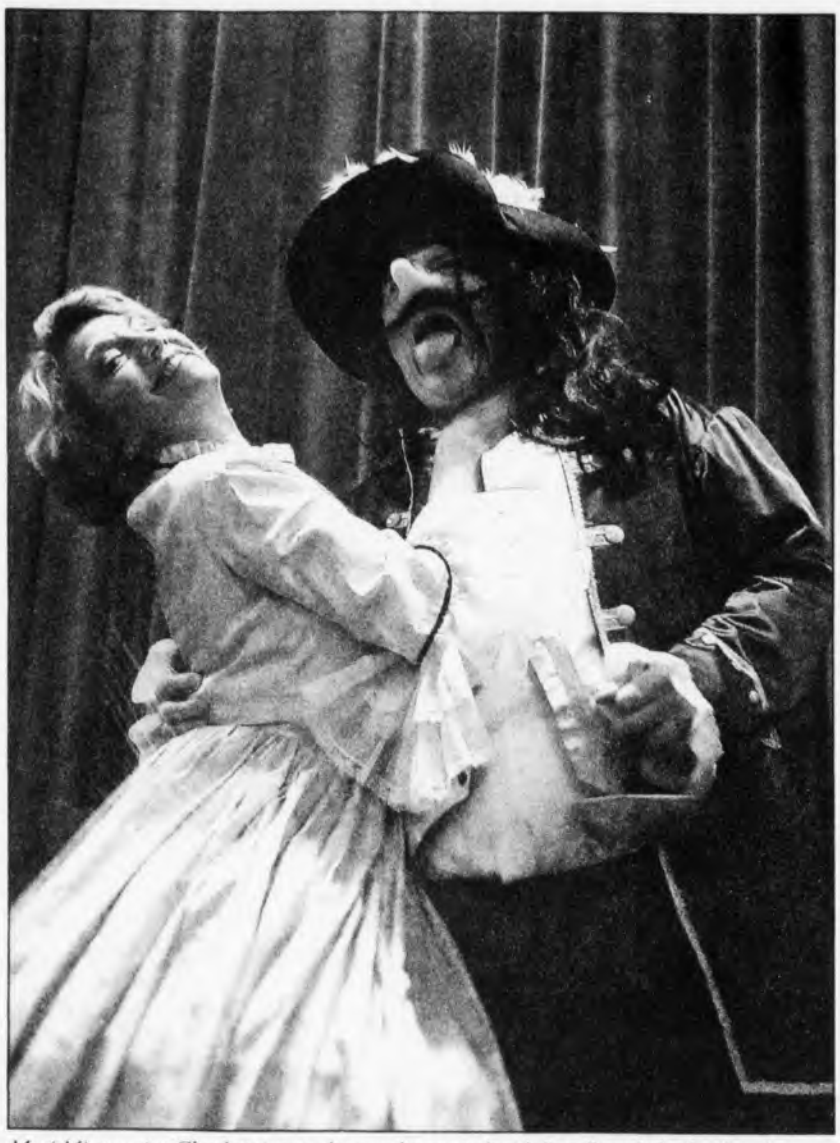
"I'm not proud that I killed 800,000 people," he said. "We were at war. You use anything at your disposal."

The second sentence of his obit said: "He was 92 and insisted for six decades after the war that he had no regrets about the mission and slept just fine at night."

For the thousands of us who lived long and productive lives, I say, "Thanks and continue to sleep well, Col. Tibbetts."

STM articles explained

Articles going before voters at the Special Town meeting are the focus.

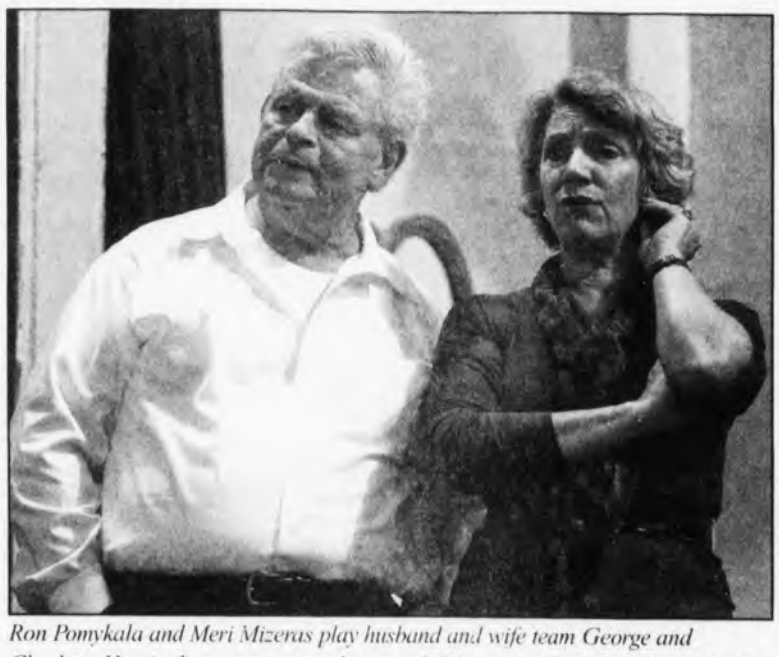


Local attorney Charles Humphreys details the article he authored for zoning changes to the Waterfront Business District.

Consultant Angus Jennings then joins the show to outline the Downtown Village Zoning article and its plans to create more mixed use in the village.

Finally, Andrew Willard of the Alternative Energy Committee presents information on how supporters can bring a free solar energy system to the town's library.

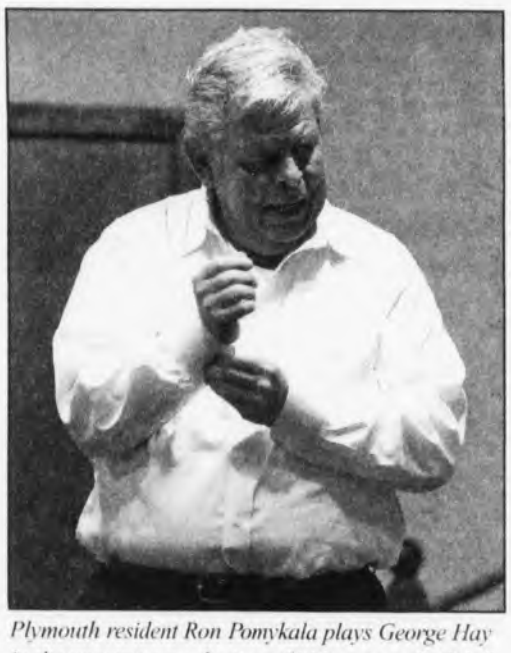
Tune in Monday at 9pm on channel 10.



Our Town will be offering pre town meeting coverage starting at 6pm on channel 22 on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Tune in Cohasset and stay informed.

Meri Mizeras (as Charlotte) gets close and personal with Ron Pomykala (husband George). Mizeras and Pomykala are starring in the Cohasset Dramatic Club's upcoming "Moon over Buffalo" at Cohasset Town Hall.

Angela Paz, right, who plays Rosalind, shares a moment of joy with her grandmother, Ethel, played by Jean DiGiacomandrea. . For tickets call 617-697-2115.



Ron Pomykala and Meri Mizeras play husband and wife team George and Charlotte Hay in the upcoming production of "Moon over Buffalo". The plot is full of misunderstandings, misplaced affections and missing persons.

Sidesplitting comedy takes Town Hall stage

Staff photos/Mark Gardner

Angela Paz as Rosalind with her stage fiancé Howard played by Scituate resident Terry Low. Performances at Town Hall are , at 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 9, and Saturday, Nov. 10, and at 2 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 11. For tickets call 617-697-2115.

Plymouth resident Ron Pomykala plays George Hay in the upcoming production of "Moon over Buffalo" at Cohasset Town Hall. The cast is made up of eight South Shore residents hailing from as far as Randolph, Plymouth and Middleborough and as close as right here in Cohasset.

Cohasset native Kurt Hochkeppel plays the role of Paul and Angela Paz (Scituate) plays Rosalind as part of the Cohasset Dramatic Club's production of "Moon over Buffalo," which opens in Cohasset this weekend. The comedy centers on the lives of George and Charlotte Hay, two fading repertory stage actors, stuck in a stop on their tour in thrilling 1950s Buffalo.

The Chef's Table

781-826-3320

201 Oak Street – Pembroke

COMPLETE THANKSGIVING DINNER

Whole Roasted Turkey with your choice of stuffing, three side dishes and holiday pies. Complete holiday dinners also include pan gravy, cranberry relish and dinner rolls.

10 Guests - $160.00 16 Guests - $190.00

THANKSGIVING A LA CARTE

Don't need the entire dinner, but do need some help? Choose from a large selection of hors d'ouevres, turkeys, salads, side dishes and desserts to customize your meal.

Please call or visit our website for the complete menu
All orders must be placed by November 15th www.thechefstableonline.com

DELIVERY AVAILABLE

Now is the perfect time to book your 2007 holiday party!
Full Service Catering and Parties to Go

AUCTION

High End Art, Jewelry, Rugs, Coins, Sports Memorabilia

SUNDAY NOVEMBER 11th at 1PM

SHERATON BRAINTREE HOTEL

37 Forbes Road, Braintree, Massachusetts 02184
Hotel Phone: (781) 848-0600

ORIGINAL SIGNED IN BRUSH BY GARY BENFIELD

PRESIDENTIAL ROLEX

AUCTION BEGINS AT 1PM-DOORS OPEN AT 12:30

ORIGINAL PAINTINGS BY H. CLAUDE PISSARRO, PAULEMILLE PISSARRO, & BOULANGER. HAND SIGNED MASTERPIECES BY PICASSO, DALI, CHAGALL, MIRO, ERTE, PETER MAX AND MANY MORE. OVER 200 LOTS OF RARE AND VALUABLE JEWELRY INCLUDING: 6.5 CT DIAMOND RING, RUBY AND DIAMOND NECKLACE WITH APPROX. 70 CT RUBY 30 CT DIAMOND, 35.51CT PLATINUM DIAMOND NECKLACE, 22CT DIAMOND NECKLACE, 7.2 CT SOLITARY DIAMOND RING. PRESIDENTIAL ROLEX, CARTIER, PATEK PHILLIPE, PIAGET. COINS: COLLECTORS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF GOLD AND SILVER SPORTS MEMORABILIA: MAGIC JOHNSON, BROOKS ROBINSON, MICKY MANTLE, JOE DIMAGGIO,GRETZKY SIGNED HOCKEY STICK, ALL WITH CERTIFICATES RUGS: LARGE INVENTORY OF HANDMADE RUGS FROM IRAN: FINE TABRIZ KASHAN, KERMAN, NAIN, MASHAD, AND MUCH MORE. EUROPEAN STYLE FURNITURE, PORCELAIN, BRONZES.

18 K WHITE GOLD RADIANT & ROUND DIAMOND RING 7.15 CT.

COLOR LITHOGRAPH BY JOAN MIRO

35.51CT. PLATINUM DIAMOND NECKLACE

ORIGINAL OIL ON CANVAS BY BRODINSKY

FULL PAYMENT DAY OF SALE. SALES SUBJECT TO DELETIONS. VISA MASTERCARD, AMEX,CASH. APPROVED CHECKS WITH MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF $10,000. ACCEPTED. 15% BUYER'S PREMIUM. SOME ITEMS SUBJECT TO ERRORS & OMISSIONS. ARMED SECURITY ON PREMISES. PHOTO ID REQUIRED. PAUL NUSSBAUM AUCTIONEER LICENSE No 2703. FOR QUESTIONS CALL FEDERAL AUCTION CO AT (800) 962 0434

AUCTION OPEN TO THE PUBLIC FREE ADMISSION

VISIT US AT: WWW.FEDERALAUCTIONCO.COM

Federal AUCTION

At the Nov. 3 Climate Action Rally in the Hull Lifesaving Museum, Selectmen Gary Vanderweil and Fred Koed, holding the A in "ARE," joined Hingham and Hull Selectmen and other Hull officials to report on the town's progress and call on residents and businesses to join in cutting carbon dioxide to stabilize climate and sea level.

Cohasset represented at Climate Action Rally

Koed encouraged Cohasset residents to sign up for Green Start, an option on their National Grid bills. By signing up for Green Start, residents get their electricity from renewable energy.

During the storm on Saturday, a standing-room-only group of over sixty people gathered at the Hull Lifesaving Museum for the Climate Action Day Rally. Cohasset Selectmen Gary Vanderweil and Fred Koed spoke about the work of Cohasset's Alternative Energy Committee and Sustainable Cohasset to cut carbon dioxide and save money on fuel costs. Hingham Selectman Laura Burns reported on Hingham's efforts. The Hull Selectmen issued Hull's Greenhouse Gas Report and along with members of the Hull Planning Board, Light Board, and School Committee issued a call to action for residents and businesses.

Residents of all three towns were invited to attend the fall quarterly meeting of Sustainable South Shore at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 27, at First Parish Church, 24 River St., Norwell. The event was part of a National Day of Climate Action. Pictures of the Rally are available at www.StepItUp2007.org

Vanderweil noted Cohasset budgets about $850,000 for fossil fuels each year. He said there are two groups working on cutting fuel costs and carbon dioxide in Cohasset: the Alternative Energy Committee, which is responsible for the wind anemometer on Turkey Hill, and Sustainable Cohasset. He showed one of the cloth shopping bags that he had purchased from Sustainable Cohasset. He smiled, "Now my wife and I are learning to remember to take them into stores."

Koed encouraged Cohasset residents to sign up for Green Start, an option on their National Grid bills. By signing up for Green Start, residents get their electricity from renewable energy. Mass Technology Collaborative matches the added money on their bill to help the town purchase a photovoltaic array. He said that right now 30 Cohasset's residents are signed up for Green Start. The goal is to have 300 residents sign up by April 30, 2008, to obtain a 10 KW photovoltaic array for the library. The PV array would provide five percent of the library's electricity and reduce peak demand, thus increasing the savings. Koed added the Alternative Energy Committee is also investigating the feasibility of geothermal for the Town Hall, solar thermal and daylight sun pipes for the schools, library, and DPW, and Tornado FuelSavers for town vehicles. He also mentioned the 20-foot by 20-foot carbon cube built by Cohasset High School students to show residents the size of a ton of CO2.

Sustainable South Shore president Judeth Van Hamm invited South Shore residents to the fall quarterly meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 27, at Norwell First Parish Church, 24 River St., just off Main Street in Norwell, to share ideas with other South Shore residents about ways to cut carbon dioxide and fuel costs.

The Rally will be aired on Community TV. Watch for it.

Letters to the Editor

FROM LETTERS, PAGE 10

Sandy Beach appreciates business support

To the Editor:

The Sandy Beach Association is a nonprofit organization that manages all beach operations including staffing, maintenance and insurance. The costs to manage the beach are significant and the association is grateful to each and every individual in town who donates to the annual fundraising drive. The association placed a full-page note thanking supporters in the Mariner several weeks ago.

In addition to these individuals there are many local businesses that provide the association with services, often at discounted rates, to help maintain the beach. The association is especially grateful to: Bill Cavanaro (Cohasset Collision), Doug Saleski Cleaning Service, Rosano-Davis, Vinnie Cogliano Plumbing, David Marks, Eagle Flag, Hassan Sign Company, Old Colony Locksmith, D.J. Richard Electrician, Fox Associates Graphic Design, Kevin Sneyd (Northeast Fence), as well as special recognition to Carl Sestito and the entire Cohasset DPW for their work to maintain the beach parking lot.

Sandy Beach is a town-wide treasure and on behalf of our town's citizens we thank these local businesses for their wonderful services.

Robin Lawrence
on behalf of the Sandy Beach Association

Planning Board support urged

COMMENTARY

Tom Callahan

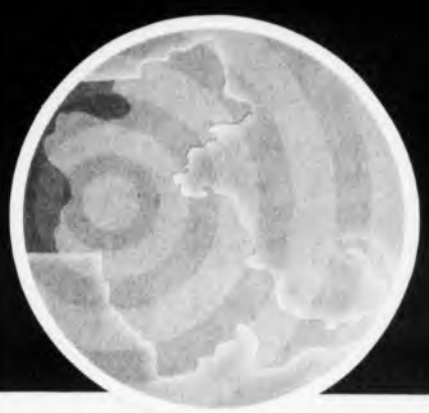
FROM PLANNING BOARD, PAGE 10

development impact issues that fall under site-plan review. Thus, a combined process cannot be vested in it. With ZBA as SPGA, as now throughout most of our bylaw, the opportunity exists for it to simply ignore or disagree with the PB, whose site plan conditions are but mere recommendations. The ZBA's promise that it would not do so is all well and good. A proposed compromise that would add compel ZBA to do so is not a compromise at all — it is already what is required. However, conflict with the PB has occurred in the past and nevertheless should not be risked if one seeks any type of efficient permitting process. Without a guarantee that the conditions of the PB will become binding in a special permit, obtainable only when you have a combined site plan/special permit process vested in a PB, the Town is at risk for a poorly developed project or one that inadequately addresses all the impacts of that development.

7. To the ZBA's comment made that placing the SPGA power within the PB has the potential for creating a "czar-ship" with no ability to appeal, such a catchy statement is loaded with stunning legal inaccuracies resulting from either not knowing the law or a disingenuous obfuscation in order to keep its contrary "czar-ship". Whichever board is the SPGA, it is the sole authority on the special permit requested. Becoming a "czar" is always a possibility if a board acts irresponsibly. The ZBA simply wishes to keep the potential (or indeed actuality) of being that "czar".

8. Appeal rights are not changed under the village bylaw. Any special permit decision can be appealed to court by statute. That is the sole means of appeal now with the ZBA as SPGA and it will continue to be the sole means of appeal if the PB is SPGA. For those who think some check and balance is needed, what check and balance now exists on ZBA? The same as would with the PB – the court.

9. To the extent that the ZBA and others believe there now exists, or could exist, some town-level of appeal to ZBA if the SPGA is the PB, they are simply wrong on the law. There is no statutory authority for ZBA to act as a de facto appellate court in this context. Any attempt to vest it with such power would be overly burdensome, guarantee inter-board conflict, and be contrary to and in conflict with state law governing the appeal process.



10. ZBA also argues that where Section 8 of our zoning bylaw (involving non-conforming lots and where it is SPGA) could still come into play, a two-step permitting process would still be required. Correct, but far overstated. Most, but not all, presently existing non-conformity would, in fact, be eliminated by this bylaw. Section 8's SPGA can likewise be either board. To comprehensively put all zoning issues into one site plan/special permit process, Section 8 should be amended to make the PB the SPGA for Section 8 issues that arise in the village. It is a simple amendment to accomplish, and I am prepared to offer it at town meeting.

Tom Callahan lives at 35 Hillside Drive.

New sidewalks slated for West Corner

The West Corner Culvert Replacement Project will give the intersection a whole new look. On top of the new culvert, the Hull Street, Jerusalem Road, Rockland Street intersection will be realigned. New sidewalk sections at the Jerusalem Road intersection and a completely new sidewalk on the Hingham side of Hull Street will also be incorporated.

When Selectmen made the decision to institute two new parking spaces for DiNero's Restaurant on the Cohasset side of Hull Street, they ran the chance of losing the area to a new sidewalk. Town Manager Bill Griffin told the Selectmen that was no longer a possibility. There will be no change to the parking situation on the restaurant side of the street.

Targeted Advertising Opportunities

GOODlife

Living in comfort, living with style... at home, in the office or out on the town. That's GOODlife, a quarterly magazine published by Community Newspaper Company to help modern men and women today live life and live it well. This high gloss, full color magazine is designed to stimulate and inspire a highly upscale audience to seek out and enjoy life - the good life - with the latest design trends, entertainment advice, fashion ideas and more!

Publication Date:
Week of November 26
Copy & Space Deadline:
Wednesday, October 31

Holiday Planner 2007

Where to go. What to buy. How to Find it. It's all inside our holiday advertising sections. From Holiday Happenings to Great Holiday Gift Ideas to the Last Minute Gift Guide. With so many shopping choices, make sure they choose you.

Shopping Facts:
- More then 833,000 CNC readers often read or look to newspaper's advertising booklets, flyers, coupons or other advertising.
- The most commonly purchased holiday gifts include clothing, books, CDs, DVDs, gift certificates or cards, toys and beauty items.

*More then 38,000 readers have purchased a gift card in the past 12 months.

Wrap up your holiday plans today!

Advertising Deadlines:

Holiday Happenings
Publication Dates: November 11 - 17
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 1

Great Holiday Gift Ideas
Publication Dates: November 25 - December 1
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 15

Last Minute Gift Guide
Publication Dates: December 9 - December 15
Copy & Space Deadline: Thursday, November 29

For more information on any of these sections contact the office nearest you:

BEVERLY
72 Cherry Hill Park
Beverly, MA 01915
978.739.1300 phone
978.739.1391 fax

CONCORD
150 Baker Ave Ext., Suite 201
Concord, MA 01742
978.371.5700 phone
978.371.5211 fax

FRAMINGHAM
33 New York Avenue
Framingham, MA 01701
508.626.3835 phone
508.626.3900 fax

MARSHFIELD
165 Enterprise Drive
Marshfield, MA 02050
781.837.4521 phone
781.837.4541 fax

MILFORD
159 South Main Street, Suite B
Milford, MA 01757
508.634.7557 phone
508.634.7511 fax

NEEDHAM
254 Second Avenue
Needham, MA 02494
781.433.8200 phone
781.4338201 fax

ORLEANS
5 Namskaket Road
Orleans, MA 02653
508.247.3219 phone
508.247.3201 fax

YARMOUTHPORT
923C Route 6A
Yarmouthport, MA 02675
508.375.4939 phone
508.375.4909 fax

Staging area in question

FROM PROJECT, PAGE 1

was allowed under the town's zoning bylaws was the first issue taken up. Attorney for Craven, Rich Henderson, said the contract to lease the land was a private contract between L M Holdings and the landowner.

"There is no municipal aspect," said Henderson, "it is not subject to the town, it's purely private."

The distinction was important to his argument because under the zoning bylaws the use of the property as a staging area was allowed in a residential district if the town or other governmental agency was operating the use of the property.

"It isn't being operated by the town, it's being operated by a contractor who happens to be doing municipal work," said Henderson.

But, when Egan had the floor he explained his thought process was the Little Harbor sewer and water project was a municipal project and because of that, the staging area was permissible in the residential district.

"Towns always hire a private contractor," said Egan.

In typical large municipal projects, like this one, the town requires by contract a staging area but does not provide one, said project manager Dan Coughlin of Coughlin Environmental. Coughlin's firm is overseeing the project on behalf of the town and its central office is located in the secure staging area.

"The contractor has to provide this area to the town and we are actively operating as agents of the town on the site," said Coughlin, adding the town does not provide a staging area because they do not know the exact needs of the contractor.

Some of the neighbors, including Craven and others, were frustrated with the lack of information available and provided to them, which indicated them the town was not operating the site. Paula Becker of 185 Jerusalem Road said she could not find out the duration or terms of the lease agreement between the contractor and the property owners, the Jenkins family.

COURTESY PHOTO

Staging for the Little Harbor sewer project in the Jenkinses' backyard as viewed from their rear deck.

"All we wanted was answers and a chance to be heard, not pavement, trailers, pipes, wire fencing basically a warehouse, a commercial entity in our residential neighborhood," Becker said. Other residents said as abutters they had a right to know if an abutting property was changing use.

Jean White of 190 Jerusalem Road, and the abutter closest to the staging area, said the staging area was unavoidable.

"It's necessary for all of us to live with. It's accessible and convenient to Little Harbor. We all have to put up with some form of inconvenience. To undo it now would cost the taxpayers so much money," said White. In fact, it will be the homeowners in the 485 to-be-sewered households in the Little Harbor district that paying for the entire project price of all $15.2 million.

"I wish we had a magic wand to accomplish this project without disturbances, but we don't," said Sewer Commissioner John Beck, adding he was happy to sit down with the neighbors to talk about the issues.

Owners of the property where the staging area is located, Leonora and Leland Jenkins, were present but did not speak at the meeting.

"It is the town municipal water and sewer project, the town's project manager on site, all the materials on the property belongs to the town. It's not a private project at all," said Leonora Jenkins, when contacted by phone Wednesday.

"By having the staging area here it benefits all involved—and paying for—the water and sewer project," said Jenkins, "the further you have to travel from the project the more disruption it is for the rest of the town not involved in the project."

ZBA Chairman Woody Chittick said the issue for the board came down to whether the staging area was legal or not under the zoning bylaws. The ZBA left the hearing open so the Planning Board could have the opportunity to have a hearing of their own and provide comments to the ZBA. A decision will be made at the next ZBA meeting on Tuesday, December 11.

Schools take on bullying

FROM BULLYING, PAGE 1

said Gill, "but we can't lose sight of educating the whole child. We need time and resources to do that...we need to keep reminding ourselves it's not all about test scores, these are real kids with real problems."

Important to recognize, said Chairman Rick Flynn, bullying is often the result of issues at home, "there's a lot that goes on there and there's responsibility there."

Member Alfred Slanetz said he would have like to see incorporated into the policy what was being done in the schools to change the culture and teach kids how and why they need to be respectful of other's differences. But, the policy was meant to put in place a straightforward definition and method to deal with bullying, administrators said. A definition that was needed, according to Osgood School Principal Janet Sheehan, who said when issues arose the lack of a clear-cut definition often made communication with parents difficult.

"This is perfect for you to deal with bullying," said School Committee member Adrienne MacCarthy.

Cohasset Library Trust to hold its first meeting

After a lengthy trip through the legal and legislative process, the Cohasset Library Trust is up and running. Created to protect and grow the Paul Pratt Memorial Library's endowment, the trust will hold its first annual meeting Tuesday, Nov. 20.

"We are blessed with a library that is truly at the center of town life," said Jane Goedecke, President of the Trust. "This treasure must be nurtured and protected. It is an investment in our future, so we must invest in its future."

Goedecke outlined different ways residents can help the endowment to grow. Gifts of $5,000 can create a named book fund to honor or remember loved ones and will earn the donor a place on the endowment donor wall, which will soon be installed in the library.

A brochure created by the trust describes pressures on the library budget: greater usage and a rapidly changing and increasing need for technology. At the same time, the library's share of Cohasset's annual budget has steadily decreased. Trust members are committed to improving library service by insuring funding that will "match the vision," according to Goedecke.

The Trust Board of Directors, appointed by the Library Trustees, in addition to Goedecke, includes Sheila S. Evans, Rodney M. Hobson, Linda M. Litchfield, Bernadette Faulkner, James T. McKenna, Sarah E. Morton, Brian M. Murphy, Christopher Oddleifson, Sarah R. Pease, John P. Reardon, Jr., Robert E. Riley, Deborah A. Shadd, Gordon M. Stevenson Jr., and Patience G. Towle.

BRIEFLY

Cable ascertainment hearing is Nov. 15

The Cable Advisory Committee is looking for public input on existing and potential future cable television service in Cohasset in preparation for contract negotiation with cable television providers in the upcoming year. They will hold an ascertainment hearing on Thursday, Nov. 15.

Town Manager Bill Griffin drafted a memo describing a few of the problems the town has experienced over the last few years with Comcast, including poor audio and picture quality of meeting broadcasts. Citizens are encouraged to attend to provide community input.

National Grid looking at trees

National Grid will be initiating a tree hazard mitigation program to remove or trim overhanging or hazardous trees along several town roads to lessen the risk of power outages over the next few months.

"Electrical outages are most often caused by nature, and, specifically, tree contact with our wires," stated Joan Callahan of coordinator for National Grid's hazard tree mitigation program.

Several streets have been identified as having a "chronic tree-caused outage problem." Those streets will be looked at for potential tree removal. The area includes Route 3A from the Scituate line to Pond St., Pond St., Spring St., Summer St., Elm St. and North Main St. from the village to the intersection of Jerusalem Road.

Both a certified arborist and the town's tree warden Andy Swanson will inspect the entire length of the above streets. Trees in poor condition and hazardous to the electric line will be identified and marked.

If the tree is on public property and scheduled for removal, Swanson will hold a public hearing as required by the shade tree law. If the tree is on private property, the owner will be notified in writing and will have to give written consent before the tree is removed.

Free legal clinic

Do you have a legal question or are you confused about a legal issue? The Bar Association of Norfolk County will sponsor a free legal clinic as a public service to the community from 6 to 8 p.m., Dec. 11, at Quincy District Court, 1 Dennis F. Ryan Parkway, Quincy Center.

A panel of attorneys experienced in all areas of the law will be available for one-on-one consultations to discuss legal questions. All consultations are strictly confidential.

For information contact Adrienne C. Clarke, Bar Association of Norfolk County, at 617-471-9693.

NOW OPEN! The spectacular new concept home by Kistler & Knapp at The Custom Gallery.
Interior design and furnishings by The Cottage at The Pinehills and Concord.

The Pinehills
CUSTOM HOMES
Just off Route 3 at Exit 3 Plymouth, MA
pinehillscustomhomes.com
508-209-2007

If you can imagine it, we can build it.
- Introducing Ryecroft, a neighborhood of custom homes from $1.1 million, featuring woodland, pond and golf views.
- By Kistler & Knapp, MacKenzie Brothers, WhiteFox and Whitman Homes.
- Miles of trails; swimming and tennis at The Stonebridge Club; plus shopping, dining and services at The Village Green.
- To tour the custom concept homes, stop by The Summerhouse, open 9 to 5 daily.

WINTER IS COMING
Call 781-335-8703
FREE ESTIMATES
For Driveways,
Parking Areas,
Tennis Courts
Over 45 years
HANABURY & SONS
ASPHALT SPECIALISTS

THE QUEEN'S GARDEN
"Fabulous Accents for the Home"
BE FABULOUS!
thequeensgarden@aol.com
21 Park Ave. at Rte 18, South Weymouth • 781-331-6272
Open 7 days 9am-6pm • Sunday 11am-6pm

Dream • Plan • Succeed
Our home financing programs help you do it all.
MORTGAGE PRODUCTS
First Time Home Buyers Program
7-15 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
20-30 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
15-40 Year ARMS
HOME EQUITY LOANS
Home Equity Line of Credit
Home Equity Fixed Rate Loan
Membership* available to those who live or work in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Dorchester, and any family member.
*$5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership.
NCUA
Quincy Credit Union 70 YEARS
100 Quincy Ave. • Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558 • www.qcu.org

Virtual high school

Online courses available at CHS

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

It is no secret computers are an integral part of our modern society. We use them for recreation, for work, for communication and now, at the Middle-High School, for education. This fall, students have had the opportunity to attend a "virtual high school" — online classes for high school students.

The program is ideal for Cohasset small size, which limits the number of diverse courses that can be offered. Right off the bat, the high school's course catalog increased by over 200 courses.

"Virtual high school offers students a platform for distance learning…students could potentially take a course not offered within Cohasset High School's four walls," says Principal Joel Antolini. This semester, 10 students are enrolled in varied classes including such as zoology, music composition, screen writing and AP Government and Politics — courses that piqued the student's personal interests and fit in with the student's educational goals.

Virtual High School, a non-profit collaborative consisting of schools, teachers and students, has courses for all different level students, including college-level advanced placement courses.

The virtual high school has its home base out of the high school library with library director Theresa Conroy acting as the site coordinator. The students do the coursework from one of the ten library computers during a set block in their schedule. Conroy says she adds a human side to the virtual environment and can help the students troubleshoot if they run into technical difficulty or simply have a question about the program.

Conroy had to take a four-week virtual high school course to become a site coordinator. Using the same platform as the students use now, she become familiar with the virtual classroom environment. At the start of the program the virtual environment overwhelmed some of the students because it is so different that traditional classroom work.

"The students did a good job acclimating to that environment," says Conroy. The web-based program, which requires a log in and password, includes elements of the classroom situation the students are familiar with. A discussion board simulates classroom discussion and multi-media elements intertwine with online reading and textbooks.

Being pioneers of the program, the students had to do some adapting to the web-based program and online courses. "I found it hard to get used to at first," says CHS junior Lily Simon, who is taking animal behavior and zoology this semester, "but now it's gotten easier, probably because I'm mostly enjoying it."

"The students can participate in discussions with kids throughout the world."
— Prinicipal Joel Antolini

Conroy says the courses involve a fair amount of independence on behalf of the student, which may not be for everyone. In the same token, she says it can build confidence in the student as they succeed.

Many high schools across Massachusetts and the globe are a part of the virtual high school halls. CHS senior Lindsey Blake has two students from Asia in her "101 ways to write an essay" course.

"The students can participate in discussions with kids throughout the world," says Antolini, giving kids the advantage of a global perspective that might not readily find within the high school walls.

The addition of virtual high school is a reflection of a more technology driven world. Involvement in an online learning environment will be useful both in higher education and the workplace, says Antolini.

"I think there is a potential for all high school students to take a course online before they graduate," says Conroy. The experience could prove invaluable down the line for students as online-based learning is becoming more prevalent at colleges and universities. Both Conroy and Antolini hope to grow the program in the coming years. Right now, the program is solely student-based, but there is an opportunity for CHS teachers to become Virtual High School teachers, which Antolini foresees down the line.

"There's a move toward technology based education, it's not to replace anything else, but just move forward," says Conroy.

The Cohasset Education Foundation, a non-profit local education fund, financed the virtual high school program through a grant to the Middle-High School. With the school's tight operating budget, the $15,000 yearly membership fee and the one-time $1,500 site coordinator training, would have been out their reach otherwise. The membership fee allows for 20 students to take advantage of the program.

CEF board member and chair of the grant committee Mary McGoldrick said the virtual high school program is an ideal fit for the organization. She said they look to support innovative programs, programs that integrate technology into the curriculum and impact a significant number of students.

Without the virtual high school program, McGoldrick says the enrolled students would be doing independent studies or having a non-academic block.

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

This fall Cohasset High School students had the opportunity to enroll in online classes on the web platform Virtual High School. Junior Lily Simon attends to her online coursework in her animal behavior and zoology course.

Dillon & Company
ENGLISH COUNTRY ANTIQUES

New shipment of English & French Antique Furniture just arrived

Plymouth Cohasset
(508) 747-2242 • (781) 383-6880
www.DillonandCompany.com
Mon.-Sat. 11-5, Sun. 1-5

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

- Installs over new or existing gutters
- Keeps you safe from falling
- Lifetime Warranty

The Gutter Experts:
New Repair
Replacement

$250 OFF Labor and Material
FREE IN-HOME ESTIMATE
No Payments for One Year†
Code 121

Gutter Helmet
NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®
BBB
Call the Gutter Experts Today!
1-800-924-3563
www.GutterHelmetNE.com

*75 ft. Min. Call for more details. Offer valid at time of estimate only. Not valid with any other offers and/or promotions. † For qualified buyers. Financing provided by third party provider.

Let Us Do The Work!
FULLY-COOKED TURKEY DINNERS
Orders must be called in by Nov. 19 or while supplies last

ORDER EARLY!

① 15 lb. Avg.* Serves 8-10
COMPLETE DINNER
$79.95
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 2 Sides & 2 Pies

② 19 lb. Avg.* Serves 16-18
COMPLETE DINNER
$99.95 Less than $6/person
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 4 Sides & 3 Pies

*Weight before cooking - Reheat instructions included
Choice of Sides: Mashed Potatoes, Gravy, Butternut Squash, Glazed Carrots & Broccoli au Gratin
Choice of 8" Pies: Apple, Mince, Pumpkin, Custard.
FULLY COOKED TURKEYS AVAILABLE
855 Broadway Route 1 Saugus (781) 233-7700 x6802
Route 18, Weymouth (781) 340-4459
Store Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9am-7pm, Sun. 9am-5pm
www.hilltopsteakhouse.com
Hilltop Dressing & Marinade Gift Packs $13.99
Extra Sides Available
BUTCHER SHOP

Autos OF THE Week

CAR
2006 PORSCHE BOXSTER S ROADSTER
Only 13,000 miles, 3.2L V6, traction, ABS, Homelink, spoiler, aluminum wheels, leather seats, much more. #P3442
$49,995

SUV
2006 JEEP COMMANDER 4X4
7 pass., V6, auto #326426
$22,988

TRUCK
BRAND NEW 2007 TOYOTA TACOMA 4X2 REG. CAB
2.9% 36 mos. exp. 12/3/07
5 speed, enhancement pkg., floormats, A/C #J3984
YOU PAY $11,388

For more details on these fine vehicles and many others, go to today's Community Classifieds section!
Featuring These Great Local Dealerships...
Best Chevrolet • Columbia Buick Pontiac GMC • Marty's GMC-Pontiac-Buick-Isuzu
McGee Pre-Owned Super Store of Pembroke • Rietzl Porsche-Audi • Shaw Saab
South Shore Jeep-Chrysler-Volkswagen • Sullivan Brothers Auto Mall
Tom O'Brien Hyundai

Professional DIRECTORY

ARCHITECTS
(pre-construction computer rendering)

If 3D digital imaging like this isn't part of your project's design...
...you're not getting the whole picture!
DUXBOROUGH DESIGNS
portfolio at duxboroughdesigns.com
Duxbury, MA • 781.934.7265

ELECTRICAL
Randall's Electrical Services
Interior/Exterior Lighting & Wiring Design & Installation
Public, Commercial & Residential Projects
SERVING THE SOUTH SHORE EXPERTLY FOR OVER 30 YEARS
781-545-3799 • CELL 781-424-8845
MASTER LICENSE #A13637

NOW is the time to advertise!

PERSONAL TRAINER
Everybody's doing it and they've never looked and felt better!
Art Tagliaferri
- Certified Personal Trainer
- Lifestyle & Weight Mgt. Consultant
- Diet & Nutrition Specialist

I bring the Gym to You!
In the privacy of your own home I will:
- Design/conduct workout sessions to increase lean muscle mass & help combat osteoporosis
- Teach you how to eat the foods you love and still lose 1-2 pounds per week and keep it off! No fad diets!
- Strengthen and tone your abdominals
- Help you to improve your cardiovascular health
- Give you the knowledge and confidence to eventually workout on your own either at home or at a commercial gym
- Bring you all equipment needed for our workout sessions

FREE INITIAL CONSULTATION
Call Today: 617.842.0519
www.southshorefitnesstoyou.com

To Advertise in this Directory Call Brandi at 781-433-7946

SLEEPY'S® - CELEBRATING OUR 50TH ANNIVERSARY

HOLIDAY MATTRESS SALE

SLEEPY'S® WILL BEAT ANYONE'S PRICE BY 20% OR IT'S FREE* Guaranteed

We will meet any price on any Stearns & Foster®, Internet, TrueForm®, Tempur-Pedic® or BodyDiagnostics™ models *Applies to same or comparable mattresses prior to delivery. Excludes closeouts, special purchases, exchanges, floor samples, warranties, discontinued & one-of-a kind items. Must present competitor's current ad or invoice.

SPECIAL HOLIDAY HOURS: THURS - SAT 10-9, SUN 10-8 & MON 9-9 Sale Ends 11/12/07

Sealy Posturepedic · Simmons Beautyrest · Serta Perfect Sleeper · S&F Stearns & Foster · Body Diagnostics™ · TEMPUR-PEDIC Pressure Relieving Swedish Mattresses and Pillows · Vera Wang by Serta · Chatham & Wells · Kingsdown · The Plaza Collection · Comfort Solutions By King Koil® · MIRALUX

OUR PRICES Have Never Been LOWER!†

†On Exceptional Values

Great Everyday Low Prices Plus Extra 30-50 Savings
Prices shown reflect 30-50 Savings off Reg. Prices

Sealy / Serta YOUR CHOICE SEALY OR SERTA FIRM
$169.99 TWIN 2 PC. SET
FULL 2 PIECE SET . . . $239.99
QUEEN $249.99 2 PC. SET

PERFECT SLEEPER® POSTUREPEDIC® BEAUTYREST®
SUPER PREMIUM
$269.99 TWIN 2 PC. SET
FULL 2 PIECE SET. . . $339.99
QUEEN $359.99 2 PC. SET

CHIRO SUPPORT — $79.99 Twin Ea. Pc.
Full ea. pc. $99.99 · Queen 2 piece set $239.99
"Everyday Low Price"

DEEP SLEEP — $119.99 Twin Ea. Pc. Reg. $149.99

	REG	NOW
Full ea. pc.	199.99	$149.99
Queen 2 pc. set	499.99	$399.99

"Great Value"

PILLOW TOP FIRM — $159.99 Twin Ea. Pc. Reg. $199.99

	REG	NOW
Full ea. pc.	249.99	$199.99
Queen 2 pc. set	599.99	$499.99
King 3 pc. set	799.99	$649.99

CHIRO ELITE VIII — $179.99 Twin Ea. Pc. Reg. $249.99

	REG	NOW
Full ea. pc.	299.99	$219.99
Queen 2 pc. set	699.99	$549.99
King 3 pc. set	899.99	$699.99

KING KOIL FIRM — $199.99 Twin Ea. Pc. Reg. $299.99

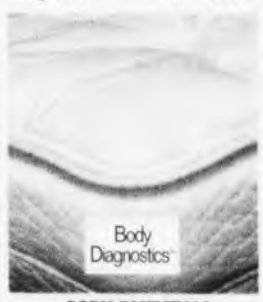
	REG	NOW
Full ea. pc.	349.99	$249.99
Queen 2 pc. set	799.99	$599.99
King 3 pc. set	1049.99	$799.99

ROYAL POSTURE — $449.99 TWIN 2 PIECE SET Reg. $699.99

	REG	NOW
Full set	799.99	$549.99
Queen 2 pc. set	899.99	$649.99
King 3 pc. set	1099.99	$849.99

BEAUTYREST PILLOWTOP — $599.99 TWIN 2 PIECE SET Reg. $899.99

	REG	NOW
Full set	1149.99	$749.99
Queen 2 pc. set	1199.99	$799.99
King 3 pc. set	1699.99	$1199.99



POSTUREPEDIC ULTRA FIRM — $649.99 TWIN 2 PIECE SET Reg. $899.99

	REG	NOW
Full set	1149.99	$799.99
Queen 2 pc. set	1249.99	$899.99
King 3 pc. set	1699.99	$1299.99

PERFECT SLEEPER 800 COILS — $799.99 TWIN 2 PIECE SET Reg. $1299.99

	REG	NOW
Full Set	1399.99	$999.99
Queen 2 Pc. Set	1499.99	$1099.99
King 3 Pc. Set	1999.99	$1599.99

BODY ESSENTIALS — $899.99 TWIN 2 PIECE SET Reg. $1199.99

	REG	NOW
Full Set	1499.99	$1099.99
Queen 2 Pc. Set	1699.99	$1299.99
King 3 Pc. Set	2299.99	$1799.99

All models available for purchase and may not be on display. Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities to 1 set per customer. Photos are for illustration purposes only. Not responsible for typographical errors.

7 PIECE LUXURY LINEN PACKAGE your choice of designer colors

Bonus
• 2-PILLOWS • 2-PILLOW CASES
• 1-MATTRESS PAD • 1- FITTED SHEET
• 1-FLAT SHEET
Twin Bedpack Includes: (One Pillow & One Pillow Case) Retail Value from $79-$149
With any set purchase of $899 or above. Excludes exceptional values, Stearns & Foster, clearance models and previous sales.

Bonus
BED FRAME
With any mattress Set purchase of $599 and above

STEARNS & FOSTER®
$200 TO $500 INSTANT SAVINGS
On select Stearns & Foster mattress sets
Previous sales do not apply. See store for details. Does not apply to exceptional value models.

UP TO 36 Months
0% Interest-Free Financing Until Nov. 2010 No Money Down
Subject to credit approval by GE Money Bank. Applies to purchases made on Sleepy's consumer credit card account. No finance charges will be assessed on promotional purchase amt. until 36th month ("promo period"). Fixed min. monthly payments equal to 1/36th of purchase amount are required during promo period in addition to any other required min. payment. 36 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $2999, 24 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $1999, 12 mos. avail. with min. purchase of $999. 6 mos. avail. on min. purchases of $300. No finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. if you pay this amt. in full by due date as shown on (6th)/(12th) billing statement. If not, finance charges will accrue on promotional purchase amt. from purchase date. Min. monthly payments required. If min. monthly payment is not paid when due, all special promotional terms may be terminated. Variable APR is 23.99% as of 4/04. Fixed APR of 24.75% applies if payment is more than 30 days past due. Min. finance charge is $1.

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!
Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window
Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays and store pick-ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester, CT, PA, DE, MA, RI - Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery fees apply.

SLEEPY'S®
The Mattress Professionals®

BROOKLINE 1385 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpk (Next to Burger King, ample pkg in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawaum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worchester Rd/Rt 9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Place, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 North (Just South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St, Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316

ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Nxt. To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 978-392-0838
STOUGHTON Lot #5 Technology Drive (Nr. Olive Garden) 781-344-0207

BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St. (Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyannough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com
Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC
Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons
On the South Shore
See page 29

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

The Cohasset field hockey team celebrates its dramatic 2-1 playoff win in penalty shots over Seekonk surrounding goalie Alyssa Mullin, center.

Wild, wild win

Skippers bow out of tourney after historic first round victory

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

Where do we start with this one? How does one possibly recap what happened last week at the South Sectionals for the Cohasset High School field hockey team.

First off, we can just forget about the 7-0 loss to Harwich in the quarterfinals of the sectionals for a moment and look back at Friday's historic 2-1 win over Seekonk in the opening round.

Harwich is really good, they won big and the second seeded Rough Ryders are already in the finals. But last Friday, Cohasset hosted one of the most exciting tournament games of any kind in its history when the Skippers won in four overtimes, including a pair of shootouts.

This one had it all.

Leading 1-0 late in the game Cohasset continued to play aggressive, not settling into its small lead. As the game winded down, literally seconds away from the win, Seekonk led an offensive attack and powered a ball into the circle where senior captain Paige Strecker defended. Strecker swung at the moving ball that ricochet away. She was called for a foul and with no time left Seekonk was awarded a corner.

"I said to myself 'this isn't happening'," said Deb Bostwick. "Then I turned to my assistants and said 'watch they are going to score'."

They did. Tie game 1-1.

"Paige felt terrible," Bostwick said.

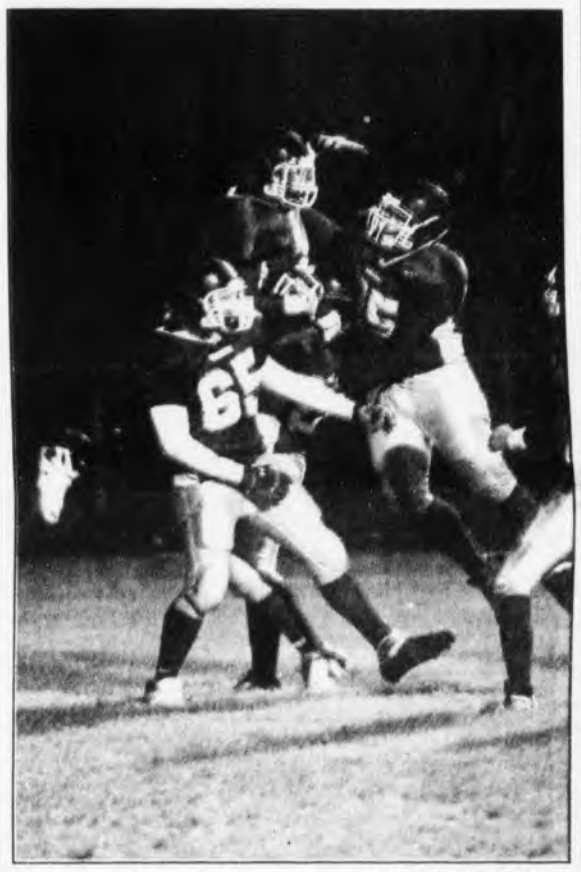
Her redemption would soon come.

In the first overtime both teams played tight and neither scored, although Cohasset carried much of the play like it did for most of the game, according to Bostwick. In

SEE WIN, PAGE 18

Sensational senior night

Skippers defeat Abington in final home game of season



By Eric MacCarthy
CORRESPONDENT

Cohasset varsity football faced off against the Green Wave of Abington Friday night in its last home game of the season, the last for seniors. On their very own night, the seniors enjoyed an impressive 20-6 victory over the Green Wave.

Cohasset came out with some left over tricks in its bag from Halloween, and on the very first kickoff the Skippers attempted an onside kick to try and catch Abington off guard. Unfortunately, the plan failed and Abington started the game with great field position.

After quickly driving

SEE SKIPPERS, PAGE 19

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Cohasset players celebrate after a touchdown by Dana Valentine against Abington Friday.

Semi-tough showdown

Red hot Lady Skippers square off with unbeaten top seed Sacred Heart

By Mike Spellman
MSPELLMAN@CNC.COM

Immovable object, meet irresistible force.

The Cohasset girls soccer team swept through the opening two rounds of the state tourney in dominant fashion, topping Blue Hills and Ursuline earlier this week by a combined score of 10-1.

Amazingly, the Lady Skippers semifinal's opponent, Sacred Heart (Kingston), has bested its own first two postseason opponents by an even greater margin of victory, 13-3-- running past Case, 6-1 on Monday, and Cape Cod Academy on Wednesday, 7-2.

Sacred Heart has already surpassed this fall what those in Patriots-nation are now only whispering about in revered tones: a 19-0 season. With Wednesday's shellacking of Cape Cod Academy, the Saints stretched their mark on the season to a perfect 20-0.

Obviously, something has to give when these two high powered teams meet in tonight's semifinals showdown on Scituate High's new turf field (5 p.m. start). The only seeming certainty is there'll be a pretty high caliber of soccer played.

SEE SHOWDOWN, PAGE 20

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Caroline Fein (9) fights for the ball in the first half of their playoff game with Ursuline.

Defensive day falls short

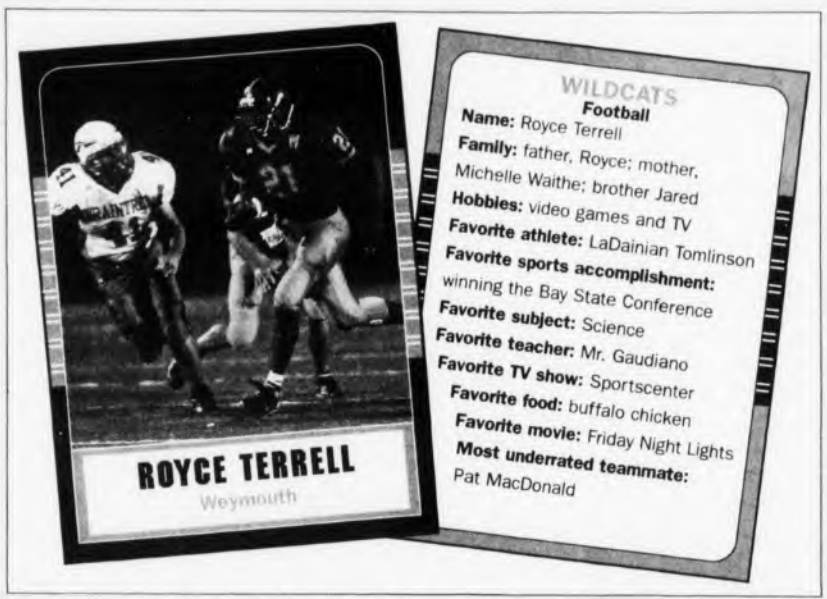
Boys lose heartbreaker to Hanover in final seconds

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

After successfully defending 15 corner kicks during its game against Hanover, Cohasset head coach Jim Willis turned to draw up an overtime game plan right before Hanover set to kick its sixteenth corner of the day, seconds before the end of the second half.

You can't blame Willis for his opportunistic coaching during the preliminaries of the Div. 3 South Sectional. The Skippers (18th seed) defense had stymied the home team all game. Lennart Brown moved from midfield to sweeper and played masterful, as he had done against East Bridgewater only a few weeks back. Evan Deutch, Matt Burgess and Ryan Crough along with goalie Will Wise turned away the 15th seeded Indians at every turn.

But there it was, with less than 30 seconds to play, the ball went up in the air and off the heads of two Indians before finding its way into the back of the Cohasset net.



Hanover 1, Cohasset 0. Season over.

"When you play in the tournament you want to play good defense, bear down and hope the bounces go your way," Willis

SEE HEARTBREAKER, PAGE 19

COASTAL NISSAN salutes the South Shore
Athlete of the Month
Royce Terrell of Weymouth H.S. is having a phenomenal season for the football team, having scored 15 TDs and rushed for 1200 yards. He is tied for most TDs in Div. IA .
Coastal Nissan has donated $500 to the Weymouth High School Athletic Fund in Royce Terrell's name.
Way to Go Royce!
COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com
800-562-9993
109 Accord Park Drive
Norwell (Exit 14 off Route 3)
Royce Terrell
Weymouth High School
NISSAN

ATHLETE OF THE MONTH

Nominees for the South Shore Athlete of the Month are chosen by sports editors from the following towns: Abington, Braintree, Cohasset, Hanover, Hingham, Marshfield, Norwell, Rockland, Scituate and Weymouth. One student-athlete is chosen from the list of nominees as the South Shore Athlete of the Month. Coastal Nissan, sponsor of the South Shore Athlete of the Month, will present a check in the amount of $500 each month to the athletic department from the winning school.

Nominees for the month of October are: Abington: Keith Faxon; Braintree: Joe Ponticelli; Cohasset: Sam Roth; Hanover: Mike Wheeler; Hingham: Meri McCann; Marshfield: Molly Shanley; Norwell: Cam Evans; Rockland: Corey McCauley; Scituate: Rosie Branton; Weymouth: Royce Terrell.

The Athlete of the Month for October is Royce Terrell of Weymouth. Terrell has gone over 1,000 yards in eight games, while leading the Wildcats to the Bay State League title and a playoff berth. He is ranked second in Division 1A with 16 rushing touchdowns.

SPONSORED BY COASTAL NISSAN NORWELL

COURTESY PHOTO

Ryan Mclellan, who is a freshman at Rochester Institute of Technology, and Nick Cambi, a freshman at Roger Williams College, both 2007 graduates of Cohasset H.S., were with their respective wrestling teams this past weekend at the Ithaca College wrestling Tournament.

Cambi named RWU Male Athlete of the Week

Freshman wrestler Nick Cambi (Cohasset, Mass.) has been named Roger Williams Male Athlete of the Week after his outstanding performance at the Ithaca College Invitational November 3 and 4. Cambi, who wrestles at 197 pounds, was one of only two freshmen to earn a berth in the tournament's final round.

Earning his place in the finals, Cambi defeated three opponents, including the 4th and 5th seeds, Alex Chianurashvili of NYU and Matthew Andrikut of the University of Southern Maine, respectively. Cambi lost in the finals to the 2 seed, Shawn VanWinger of TCNJ.

Head Coach Dave Kemmy describes Cambi as a strong and hard-working student-athlete with technical skill.

"He has quite a bit of potential," he said.

Cambi will represent Roger Williams again this weekend on the mat, as the Hawks hosts the 13-team Roger Williams Invitational on Saturday beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Wild, wild win

FROM WIN, PAGE 17

the second overtime it becomes seven-on-seven and Cohasset went with a lineup of Strecker and Marissa Thomae on defense, and Kaleigh Teague, Sally Meehan, Olivia Kimla and Katina Martone with Alyssa Mullin in net.

"We dominated," said Bostwick, but to no avail.

The third OT meant a shootout. The first four Skippers missed and the fourth Seekonk player scored. This meant that young gun Lucy Noble had all the pressure on her shoulders heading into the final shot. She misses and Cohasset goes home.

"She is so steady and so technical," said Bostwick, justifying her decision to have her shoot last.

Noble rifled the ball in and now it was up to Mullin to get one more save.

"We mauled her (Noble) at the line," Bostwick said. "Then I told Alyssa, "do what you know how to do'."

She did saving the final shot.

Fourth OT and a new school record, as no team had ever ventured this deep into a game in the history of Cohasset field hockey.

This time it is sudden death. The same five go for Cohasset. Both Cohasset and Seekonk misfire on the first shot. Up steps Strecker.

"She looked at me and said 'coach do you want me to go weak side'," Bostwick said. "I said 'no, just do whatever you have to do to put that in the net'."

She did, putting the pressure on the Seekonk shooter.

"She totally redeemed herself I was so proud of her," Bostwick said about Strecker.

Mullin made a waist high lunging stick save on the Seekonk attempt (not a simple task) and Cohasset was the winner.

"It was just outstanding," Bostwick said.

Chrissy Kent, Kate Durant and Lauren Mack kept the bench alive during the whole ordeal.

"They were so focused on keeping everybody pumped," Bostwick said.

SPORTS NOTES

Learn to skate at Pilgrim Rink

The Learn to Skate Program starts Saturday, October 27, 2007 and runs thru March 2008 on every Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. This program is an hour of open ice provided for children who are novice ice skaters.

Parents are encouraged to join and teach their children how to skate. The program is held every Saturday at Pilgrim Arena, rink A from 11:30 to 12:30. There is a $50 annual registration fee required for all children in addition to a weekly fee of $5 (no charge for parents). The maximum registration fee is $100 for families with more than two children participating in this program. Helmets and gloves/mittens are required for all children (no one is allowed on the ice without skates please). Additional padding for elbows and knees are recommended. You can register any Saturday at rink A from 11:20 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. starting Oct 27.

Turkey shoot is November 18

A fun family afternoon is planned at the Scituate Rod & Gun Club off Route 3A (near the Cohasset line) Sunday, Nov. 18, from noon to 4 p.m.

Turkeys will be awarded for winners of different events including skeet shooting and archery.

Get away!

Looking to get away? Look for our new weekly travel section in today's paper!

Around the world? Cruise? White sandy beach? Big-city weekend? Action adventure? Ski resort? We've been there! Every week we'll feature articles on a new location by world traveling journalists, along with outstanding values so you can get away the right way.

GetAWAY is edited by one of America's leading travel writers, Fran Golden - she knows the ins and outs of travel, so make sure you check in every week to see Fran's newest favorite spot! You can also find it and Fran's blog online at wickedlocal.com!

Read it every week - and enjoy!

skirt! magazine

skirt!®

is all about women... their work, play, families, creativity, style, health and wealth, bodies and souls. skirt! is an attitude... spirited, independent, outspoken, serious, playful and irreverent, sometimes controversial, always passionate.

www.skirtmag.com

skirt! magazine is now in Boston

Get in on the ground floor of a hip, new women's magazine in the Boston market! We are currently looking to fill the following position:

Account Executive

Develop leads, follow-up on assigned projects, presenting the publication and securing business for the magazine each month. Responsible for maintaining a list of several hundred active accounts and prospects. Will be expected to handle a large volume of business, exceeding 50 active accounts per month, and billings of $20,000 and above.

Requirements: At least 1-3 years experience as a sales rep at a print publication. Retail background helpful. Professional demeanor, college degree and computer skills required.

Please send resume and cover letter to:
skirt! Boston
c/o Human Resources
254 Second Ave. • Needham, MA 02494
or email at ghmnejobs@ghmne.com

Defensive day falls short

FROM HEARTBREAKER, PAGE

said.

Cohasset nailed two of those three staples to success as they allowed Hanover to control most of the offensive play while moving a pair of players from front to back helping the defense. The conservative play calling opened up in the final 10 minutes of the game, a plan Willis thought gave his team its best chance at winning.

After preparing for Westport for two days, Cohasset found out it would play Hanover after a team had put an extra win on its totals, wreaking havoc on the brackets.

Willis was proud of the way his team handled the game plan change and impressed with the way they executed under duress.

"They played awesome, they worked their butts off all game," Willis said.

The offense did get a share of chances in the second half thanks to the solid play from Sam Roth, Mike Grimm and Ivan Sceery. They were more or less stuck up front to do most of the offensive duties with a pair of mates moved back on defense. They made a valiant attempt, but never broke through.

"They play in a very good league," Willis said about Hanover. "We knew it was going to be a tough game."

Roth finished the season with 13 goals and 5 assists leading the team in scoring. Grimm finished second with 8 goals and 6 assists. Sceery scored 8 goals. Wise ended with a 1.55 goals against average. Both Roth and Grim were named to the South Shore League All-Star team.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Mike Grimm (7) goes up for a header in the first half of its 1-0 loss to Hanover.

Sports Notes

SCOH Learn To Skate: Our "Skate With US" program is a US Figure Skating Association Basic Skills program for boys & girls of all ages & skating abilities. Groups are kept small to allow for individual attention to student needs. Classes are held on Saturday mornings from 10:40-11:40 a.m. at the Pilgrim Skating Arena, 75 Recreation Park Drive, Hingham. For more information please call: 781-741-8194 or check out our website: http://www.skateclubhingham.org/learn.html Come join the fun!!

Sensational senior night

FROM SKIPPERS, PAGE 17

down the field, Abington was unable to get the ball into the end zone on third down and was forced to try a field goal. Abington also had some tricks in its bag as they tried a fake field goal run.

Cohasset wasn't having it and easily stuffed them in the backfield.

Cohasset looked primed to play and on the first set of downs senior captain Kyle Pinkus broke free for a 50-yard run. Once again though, things were not going Cohasset's way, as the run was called back on a block in the back penalty. Cohasset would be forced to punt and the first quarter would see no score.

The Skippers' defense looked completely different during the Green Wave's next drive as they forced them three and out. Cohasset once again made a simple error that almost cost them dearly. After coming inches away from blocking the punt, senior captain Sam DeGiacomo was called for running into the kicker.

Abington took full advantage of its new life and once again began to drive down the field. On a fourth and one, Abington's Steve Perakslis scrambled and found room for a first down. Then on a third and seven, Abington completed a 21-yard catch down into the red zone.

Then Cohasset's defense turned it on.

Senior P.J. McCaw sacked the quarterback on a huge hit. Then on a fourth and five from the Cohasset 11-yard line, Abington yielded to kick a field goal and decided to go for it. The pass was thrown into the end zone and batted down by Cohasset to force a turnover on downs.

"Our boys played the best football they've played all season," said Cohasset coach Pete Afanasiw about the 6-2 Skippers. "The (defense) played with tremendous intensity and passion unlike what I've seen in other games."

Although the first half contained no scoring, both teams came out right away and put some points on the board. In their first drive of the third quarter, quarterback Dave Snowdale completed a long catch and run to McCaw all the way down to the 15-yard line. After a false start on Cohasset, Snowdale hooked up with senior Mark Flibotte on a 20-yard touchdown pass, putting Cohasset up 7-0 after the extra point.

On the next Abington possession Cohasset forced a fumble and appeared to have jumped on it, but the call was Abington ball. The Green Wave went on for a 10-play, 66-yard scoring drive.

Once again Abington was feeling tricky, and went for the two-point conversion. After receiving the handoff, the halfback jumped up, lobbing the ball over the linemen. Despite the effort the Cohasset defense held strong.

Cohasset's sideline stirred with excitement.

On the kickoff, Brendan Doonan received the ball and returned it 75 yards to the Abington 10-yard line; setting up a five-yard touchdown run by fellow sophomore Dana Valentine. The extra point was blocked this time and Cohasset's lead was 13-6.

As the fourth quarter went on, Cohasset had the ball with less than three minutes left in the game. After a handoff, Abington forced a fumble. Snowdale dove on the ball without hesitation and came up with it after the pile had been dislodged. Despite this, the referees signaled Abington possession at the Cohasset 30-yard line.

On the next play following the lost fumble, the Skippers rush defense forced a bad throw by Steve Perakslis and sophomore John Maher intercepted the pass.

On a third and three, senior tight end Kenny Muir caught a pass for a first down right on the sideline, barely staying in bounds. Cohasset added one more punch as Snowdale broke a quarterback keeper for a 43-yard touchdown run to seal the win with just over a minute to play.

Cohasset Football Notes

For a number of years, Cohasset's Alumni Field has been nothing but a house of horrors for the Green Wave, and Friday night the nightmare was kept alive as the Skippers threw a wrench in the Green Wave's postseason plans by taking the 20-6 win.

"It's absolutely huge," head coach Pete Afanasiw said of the win. "These seniors can walk off the field with their heads held high knowing they played their hearts out on the field they have known since they were little kids. I'm happy for those 12 seniors because they earned it."

Doonan's kick return proved vital.

"It was absolutely huge because it gave us some breathing room," Afanasiw said. "That was a great job by Brendan and the entire kick team to open up some holes for him."

Nick French contributed to the CHS Football Notes

Send us your sports news

Sports teams and leagues are encouraged to send their results and news to the Mariner. Information can be faxed to 781-837-4543 or emailed to sports editor Joel Racicot at jracicot@cnc.com or mailed to Community Newspapers/South, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, 02050. Joel can be reached at 781-837-4577.

SKIS & SNOWBOARDS ON SALE
ATOMIC völkl Jackets TooII obermeyer
SALOMON NORDICA NILS
ROSSIGNOL THE NORTH FACE SPYDER
ROXY
COUNTRY SKI & SPORT INC. 1970
161 Quincy Ave.
Quincy
617.773.3993
(Across from OLindy's)
901 Winter St.
Hanson
781.826.2022
www.countryski.com coupons & more
sign up for our e mail list today!!

Thanksgiving Day Menu
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 2007
Raffael's Nantasket
~ Buffet ~
New England Clam Chowder & Turkey Vegetable Soup
Roast Turkey with traditional stuffing & Gravy
Stuffed Pork Loin (Figs & Gorgonzola)
Baked Stuffed Sole with rock shrimp scampi sauce
Mixed Greens with cranberries & walnuts
Roasted Butternut Squash
Green Bean Casserole
Pumpkin Ravioli (with confit duck in hazelnut cream sauce)
Mashed Potato ~ Rice Pilaf ~ Peas & Onions
Sugar Glazed Yams ~ Fresh Baked Breads
Decadent Dessert Sweet Table
Holiday Pies ~ traditional Apple, Blueberry, Pumpkin,
Ricotta & Mince Meat
ADULTS $27.99 CHILDREN (under 12) $13.99
Reservations available from 11:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
781-925-4515
45 Hull Shore Drive, Hull ~ at the Clarion Nantasket Beach Hotel

3rd Anniversary Celebration
With this ad
take 20% off 3 gifts
Nov. 9, 10 & 11
* Limited to one sale, 3 items per customer during celebration. Not applicable to special orders or Interior Design.
Darilynn's
Gifts · Bridal Registry · Home Accessories · Baby
64 So. Main St. • Cohasset Village • 781.383.1002
www.darilynns.com

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
2007 – 2008 SEASON OCTOBER 4 – MAY 4
JAMES LEVINE MUSIC DIRECTOR
BERNARD HAITINK CONDUCTOR EMERITUS · SEIJI OZAWA MUSIC DIRECTOR LAUREATE SIMÓN BOLÍVAR YOUTH ORCHESTRA OF VENEZUELA
NOV 7 WED 8PM
Gustavo Dudamel, conductor
BARTÓK Concerto for Orchestra
BEETHOVEN Symphony No. 7
BERNSTEIN Symphonic Dances from West Side Story
CHRISTIAN TETZLAFF
NOV 8 THURS 10:30AM
NOV 8 THURS 8PM
NOV 9 FRI 8PM
NOV 10 SAT 8PM
James Levine, conductor
Christian Tetzlaff, violin
BERG Violin Concerto
MAHLER Symphony No. 9
MAHLER SYMPHONY NO. 9
NOV 13 TUES 8PM
James Levine, conductor
MAHLER Symphony No. 9
PRE-CONCERT TALKS The BSO offers Pre-Concert Talks, free to ticket holders at Symphony Hall prior to all BSO concerts and Open Rehearsals. Supported by New England Coffee
TICKETS: $19–$114
There is a $5.50 per ticket handling fee for tickets ordered by phone/internet
617-266-1200 • bso.org
TDD/TTY 617-638-9289
For services, ticketing, and information for persons with disabilities, call 617-638-9431.
Season Sponsor: UBS
EMC²
SUPPORTING PARTNER
All programs and artists subject to change.
PHOTOGRAPHY: MICHAEL LUTCH

SOUTHFIELD
View new video on website

15 miles from Boston on Scenic South Shore
Welcome Center Opens Early 2008
SouthField Highlands first new neighborhood ❧ Up to 2,855 homes by 2017 ❧ Live/work/play/shop community ❧ Immediate commercial opportunities available ❧ 3 stops to South Station from on-site MBTA ❧ Regional recreation complex and 18-hole golf course break ground in 2008
www.SouthField.com

Red hot Lady Skippers square off with unbeaten top seed Sacred Heart

FROM SHOWDOWN, PAGE 17

"We're just all really excited right now," said veteran Skippers coach Deb Beal, following Wednesday's win. "The girls were really clicking (Wednesday) and played with an incredible amount of fierceness and competitiveness. When we play like that, we can compete with anyone."

Of course, the Sacred Heart girls aren't just anyone. The Lady Saints embarked into this postseason as the top seed in the Div. 3 South standings. The Lady Skippers, now 15-3-2, were awarded the fourth seed in the 19-team field, and had little trouble in dispatching 13th seeded Blue Hills, 5-0, and 12th seeded Ursuline, 5-1.

Beal, who will be coaching in the first semifinals game of her 10 year career tonight, is not talking like the coach of an underdog.

"Sacred Heart has to contend with our speed, our passing and our overall game," said Beal. "We played a very tough non-league schedule, and I think that gave us the confidence to play with everyone. I looked at Sacred Heart's schedule, and no one they played really jumps out at me."

Beal actually went out and caught the first half of Sacred Heart's game on Wednesday, as it started at 2:30 p.m., more than two hours before the start of the Lady Skippers game. Unfortunately, the Saints scored four goals before the game was nine minutes old, making it tough for Beal to get much of a read on how they defend or contend with pressure.

The coach arrived back at Cohasset High around 4 p.m. to the sight of her charges getting loose on the field and the Ursuline bus pulling into the lot.

"That's when the butterflies started going a little," admitted Beal.

She then added with a laugh: "You know, the girls have the easy job. They get to go out and play. I get to worry about the next opponent and every little thing. But that's exactly the way I want it. The girls have worked hard to get to this point. If they just play their game with confidence, I like our chances."

Cohasset senior Meg Anderson got her coach breathing a little easier 2:30 into Wednesday's quarterfinal tilt, as she ran onto a ball just over the 18 on the right flank with room to settle it, did so and quickly blasted home a winner.

Anderson returned to action just before the start of the tourney after being shelved for over a month with mononucleosis. Beal reports the senior has been slowly getting her wind back, and sounded nearly as thrilled over this goal as she did the win itself.

"Oh, it was just so great for Meg to get that goal that I can't even describe it," said Beal. "It's so important that Meg and Anna (Hagerty, the only other senior on the team) play well in these games, because their next one could be their last.

Sweeper Sammi Lehr got a rare scoring chance five minutes later, as Beal picked her to do the honors on a direct kick from just outside the 18. The strong-legged junior made her coach look like a genius, as she lofted her shot over the wall and just inside the far post.

The coach said she made the choice based on the success of Lehr in the post-practice contests several players hold to see who can hit the cross bar from long distance. Of course, the coach's resolved was also helped along by the fact Lehr buried a re-start shot from almost the same spot in a win two weeks ago over Scituate.

"Sammi has definitely shown the most on shots like that, so she was the logical choice," explained Beal. "She doesn't get the recognition she deserves on this team, because so many people talk about the scorers, so that was definitely nice to see."

It was one of those high profile scorers who extended the Lady Skippers lead to 3-0 eight minutes before the halftime break. Junior Tory Hart ran onto a well-served pass from the end line by fast-emerging freshman Caroline Fein, and chipped it home from six yards out.

The Lady Skippers seemed to grow a little complacent after that, according to Beal, and a rare push the other way turned quickly into an odd-man rush and a goal on hung out to dry keeper Johanna Brophy 2:30 before halftime.

"That's always a big no-no to me, giving up a goal in the first five or last five minutes of a half," said Beal. "That's when you see a lot of teams not into the game or letting down a bit, and so you see a lot of goals scored."

Beal figures that put her charges back on their collective heels a bit to start out the second half. Fortunately, the defense held it together until the Hart girls teamed up to get the Lady Skippers back their three-goal cushion in the 58th minute. Junior Tory sent a pretty cross into the box and freshman sis MacKenzie finished like a seasoned vet.

Another freshman, Fein, put the final nail in Ursuline's coffin a minute later, with the elder Hart again notching the assist.

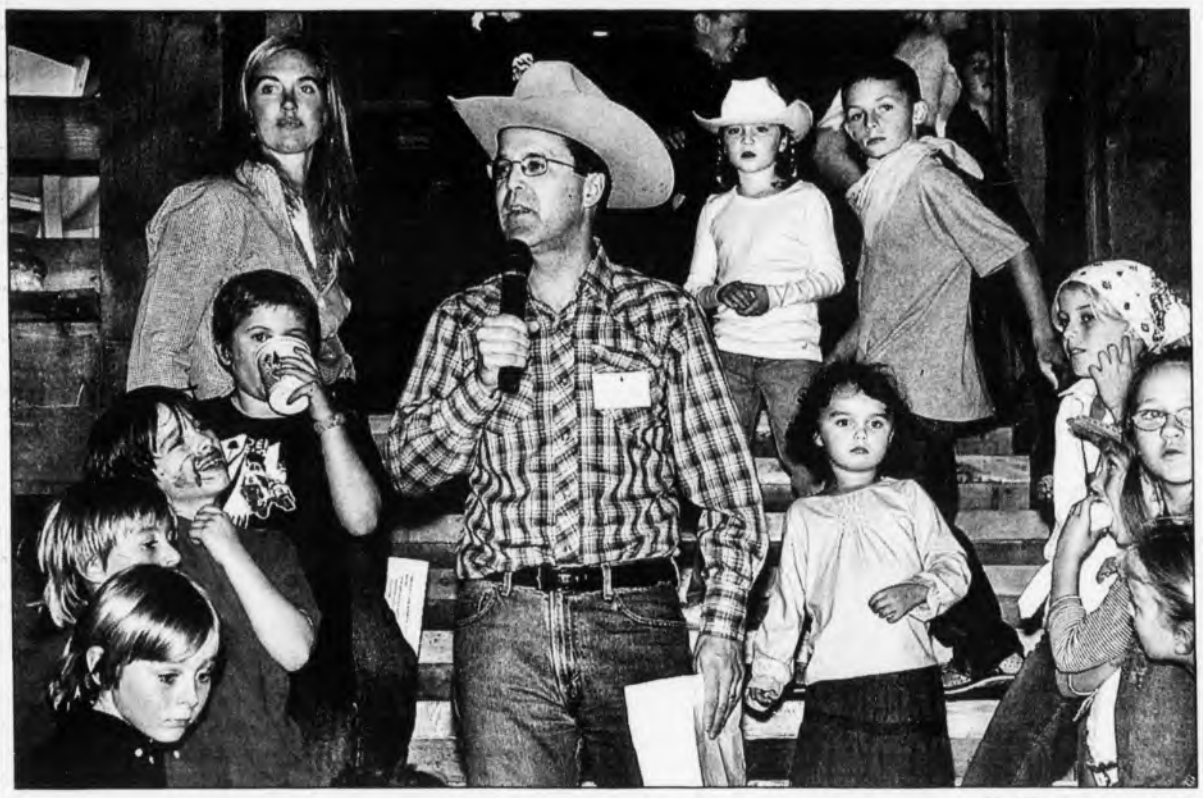
After this, Beal dropped back junior standouts Maggy McGoldrick and Sarah Coggins, both South Shore League all-stars, to bolster the defense, which served to pretty much scuttle Ursuline's all-out attack.

Skippers 5, Blue Hills 0

Not much suspense in this one either.

Red-hot Tory Hart scored three times, which gives her five goals in her last three contests.

Hart finished on a McGldrick pass six minutes in to get the ball rolling. Four minutes later, Sara Coggins created space on the left side of the box and drilled a low shot across the goal into the far right side, Christine Coner getting the assist.



Hart made it 3-0 in the 26th minute, running onto a Coggins cross. She was not done, though, as her pea from 25 yards out in the 38th minute sent the host Lady Skippers into the break with a 4-0 lead.

Freshman Danielle Sookiasian, a recent call-up from the JV team, pounced on a short rebound with 20 minutes to play and tucked it home to close out the scoring.

Girls soccer sectional semi-finals Cohasset vs. Sacred Heart At Scituate High School Tonight, 5 p.m.

SCHOOLS

COURTESY PHOTO/AMY OSTEN

CEF President Chris Oddleifson addresses the crowd and announces this month's CEF annual appeal during last Friday's Barn Bash at the Red Lion Inn. For more photos, see page 23.

CEF Barn Bash tops the charts!

It was a game that left both the team and spectators on the edge of their seats, as the game entered into two scoreless sudden death periods.

The Cohasset Education Foundation hosted its first Family Barn Bash Friday, Nov. 2, at the Red Lion Inn. Hundreds of adults and children came out to enjoy the live music, square dancing and excitement of the evening. This event wouldn't have been possible without the continued support of the Cohasset community. The CEF would like to thank Gerd Ordelheide, proprietor of the Red Lion Inn for the use of his beautiful barn and all of his generous support with the event. CEF would also like to recognize Doug Eymer, for his creative genius and guidance with the CEF designs and logos.

Jim Armstrong and his band, The Armstrong Brothers filled the rafters of the barn with their music and song. Shannon Lynch and students from Cohasset, Ana and Thomas Buckley performed with the Armstrong Brothers at the Barn Bash. The Red Lion barn was festooned with plants from the Village Greenery, pumpkins and gourds donated by the ASP organization and opulent floral arrangements provided by Patty Gillis and Kathy Giuggio. Amy Osten of Osten Photography took family photographs of guests sitting on hay bales in front of a beautifully decorated wagon.

Raffle prizes that evening included a complete clambake for six people donated by Jakes Seafood Restaurant, tickets to a Boston Bruins hockey game donated by the Englander family, a Lilly Pulitzer barn coat from E.A. Davis of Wellesley donated by the Skolnick family and an iPod Nano donated by the Schubert – Matheison family.

The CEF sponsored this family event in celebration of the tremendous support it has received from the community since their reemergence a year ago. The CEF has raised over $446,000, which has been divided into their Project Fund account and Endowment account. The Barn Bash marks the kick off to the CEF annual appeal, which will be mailed out to Cohasset residents this month. For more information on the CEF, visit their Web site at www.cohasseteducation.org.

Field hockey game was awesome

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

Hey everyone!

First of all, what an incredible weekend of high school sports! Last Friday, the varsity field hockey girls competed in their first tournament game against Seekonk. It was a game that left both the team and spectators on the edge of their seats, as the game entered into two scoreless sudden death periods. Then continued into penalty shoot outs were both goalies were like FREAKS OF NATURE (a compliment) as they saved shot after shot. Paige Strecker scored the winning penalty shot, setting off an explosion of excitement and celebration. Unfortunately, the Harwich game was not as victorious, loosing 8-0. However, players and fans alike will always remember one of the most exciting contests ever played by a Cohasset team, at least in this decade!

On a different note, if you find yourself wondering what the perfect gift is this holiday season, then rest assured, the following idea is a great alternative to itchy sweaters and talking toys! In addition to presents you might be buying for friends and family, why not consider a donation to a nonprofit organization that helps to better the lives of those in need.

Here's one opportunity you might want to consider: Thanks to the guidance of two Cohasset teachers, Ms. Noble (who spent her summer in Mali working with the local orphanage) and Mrs. Gordon, the middle school has opened the window of opportunity for those willing to help out a great cause. Starting on Tuesday, Nov. 13th, a collection box will be available to drop off summer and spring clothes, cotton blankets as well as money for newborn babies and young kids around the age of 3 who live at the Centre d'Accueil et de Placement Familial, an orphanage in Mali, West Africa. The money donated will enable the purchase of infant scales and antibiotics. Be proactive, by giving the best gift a person could ask for, a helping hand.

Why not make a difference this holiday season by donating to a cause that's important to you? Whether it is to the orphanage in Mali, or something else, show how thankful you are, by putting a smile on the face of someone in need.

Now, for the week's top stories:

- Monday, Nov. 5: The Spinnaker staff started to make preparations for the Thanksgiving issue…coming out Nov. 19!
- Tuesday, Nov. 6:: To be or not to be, that is the question, at least for those involved in the drama workshop, which takes place in the auditorium.
- Wednesday, Nov. 7: The girl's varsity soccer kicked off in their second tournament game, proving once again their awesome skills. Also, the first quarter comes to an end, meaning just three more to go!
- Thursday, Nov. 8: Yearbook time, hopefully all seniors have handed in their write ups!
- Friday, Nov. 9:: The beginning of a much needed long weekend! (Happy Birthday Abby!)

Make a difference!

Make-a-Difference Day is a national day of volunteering in its 16th year. It has long been a tradition at the Osgood School to participate and this year, the Deer Hill School will be holding its second Make-a-Difference Day. Make sure to mark in your calendars the following information so that you and your family can take part and Make-A-Difference here in town. Get ready for Nov. 17/18th, when students of both Osgood and Deer Hill families alongside other community members, will be working in teams to help with fall cleanup for some of Cohasset's elderly residents. Volunteers will rake, pull down storm windows, change outdoor light bulbs and remove window air conditioners. These are wonderful opportunities for the whole family to Make-a-Difference. If you are interested in volunteering or have any questions, please contact Patty Cunningham at 781-383-1378.

Youth Drama Workshop at middle-high school

Cohasset MHS Arts Boosters is pleased to announce a unique enrichment opportunity for Cohasset High School students: Youth Drama Workshop.

The workshop will be held on Tuesdays Nov. 13, 20, 27 & Dec. 4 from7-8:30 p.m.

Attend Cohasset High School's first Drama Workshop and learn from a professional how to:

- develop vocal techniques and delivery,
- shape a dramatic scene,
- perform monologues,
- practice improvisation … and much more.

Instructed by Steve Dooner, drama professor, skilled actor, and experienced director for The Company Theatre, Fiddlehead Theatre, Bay Colony Orpheum Theater, Quincy College Drama Society and others, the class is intended to bring your craft to the next level.

Sign up for all four free sessions in the HS Office or see Mrs. Noble by Nov. 7th.

All experience levels welcome. Space is limited.

Cohasset MHS Arts Boosters has applied for a 2007 Cohasset Cultural Council Grant to help subsidize this program.

Have a car you're no longer using?

Donate it to
Good News Garage and help get a family rolling again!

Good News Garage accepts, repairs and awards donated vehicles to families struggling to become financially independent.

You get the satisfaction of helping a family in need and may qualify for the highest tax deduction allowable under IRS regulations!

DONATING IS EASY!

To donate call toll-free
877-GIVE-AUTO
or donate online at www.GoodNewsGarage.org

Good News GARAGE
An affiliate of Lutheran Social Services of New England

Donate a car, Change a life!

Here Comes The Bride

• Mother of the Bride & Groom
• Guests

Large Sizes Available
We Have It All
Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm

"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358
HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS
"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.
Consignments by appointment
Mon - Sat. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-8

THANKSGIVING

Chocolates
Hostess Gifts
Fudge

Fresh Roasted Nuts
Gift Baskets
Mints

Send Gifts Online
hilliardscandy.com

Hilliards
CONFECTIONS SINCE 1924

Caramel Apples available Thanksgiving Week

Canton, Village Shoppes 781-828-9004
Easton, Rte. 138 508-238-6231
Hanover, Rte. 123 781-878-8533

"IT'S IRRESISTIBLE"
MICHAEL RIEDEL, NY POST

ON SALE NOW!

BENNY ANDERSSON & BJÖRN ULVAEUS'
MAMMA MIA!
THE SMASH HIT MUSICAL BASED ON THE SONGS OF ABBA®

Lexus Boston Area Dealers BROADWAY ACROSS AMERICA BOSTON | TUFTS Health Plan

617.931.2787 • BroadwayAcrossAmerica.com
Groups 20+: 866.633.0194 • Purchase thru authorized agents only
Nov 27 - Dec 16 • Colonial Theatre

Prices range $27.50 - $91.00. Additional fees may apply. All sales final; no exchanges or refunds. Prices, show dates, schedules and artists are subject to change. TTY 617.426.1444
www.mamma-mia.com
MAMMA MIA! ORIGINAL CAST RECORDING AVAILABLE ON DECCA BROADWAY

"A Better Lifestyle"
AT DECATUR HOUSE

Peg and Walter, residents of Decatur House Assisted Living, enjoying sun and sea!

"We're still independent but the exceptional services are here when we need them."

DECATUR HOUSE
An Assisted Living Residence
176 Main Street • Sandwich Village
Call for a tour today 508-888-6404 www.decaturhouse.com

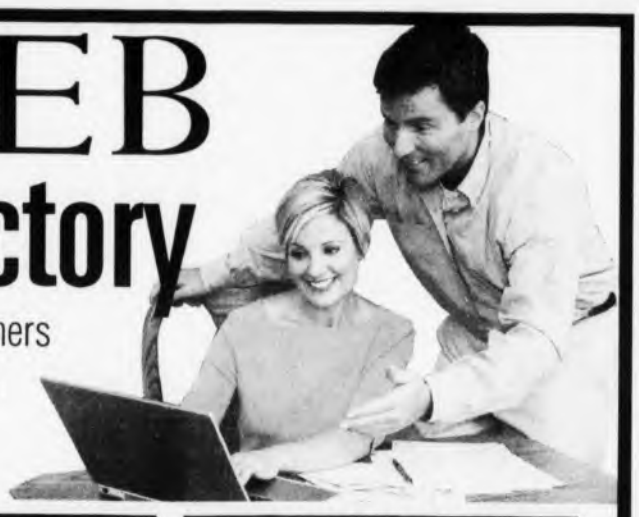
"ONE HELL OF AN EXCITING MOVIE."
Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE

"ONE OF THE BEST MOVIES OF THE YEAR."
Richard Roeper, AT THE MOVIES WITH EBERT & ROEPER

"POWERFUL, DRAMATIC, GRIPPING AND ACTION-PACKED."
Bill Zwecker, CBS-TV

ACADEMY AWARD® WINNER DENZEL WASHINGTON
ACADEMY AWARD® WINNER RUSSELL CROWE
A RIDLEY SCOTT FILM
AMERICAN GANGSTER

UNIVERSAL PICTURES AND IMAGINE ENTERTAINMENT PRESENT IN ASSOCIATION WITH RELATIVITY MEDIA A BRIAN GRAZER PRODUCTION IN ASSOCIATION WITH SCOTT FREE PRODUCTIONS DENZEL WASHINGTON RUSSELL CROWE "AMERICAN GANGSTER" CHIWETEL EJIOFOR CUBA GOODING JR. JOSH BROLIN TED LEVINE ARMAND ASSANTE JOHN ORTIZ JOHN HAWKES RZA MUSIC BY MARC STREITENFELD EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS NICHOLAS PILEGGI STEVEN ZAILLIAN BRANKO LUSTIG JIM WHITAKER MICHAEL COSTIGAN SOUNDTRACK ON THE ISLAND DEF JAM MUSIC GROUP PRODUCED BY BRIAN GRAZER RIDLEY SCOTT WRITTEN BY STEVEN ZAILLIAN DIRECTED BY RIDLEY SCOTT
IMAGINE R A UNIVERSAL PICTURE
www.americangangster.net



SOUNDTRACK ALBUM FEATURING "DO YOU FEEL ME" PERFORMED BY ANTHONY HAMILTON IN STORES 11/6
JAY-Z'S NEW ALBUM "AMERICAN GANGSTER" IN STORES 11/6

MOBILE USERS: For Showtimes - Text GANGSTER with your ZIP CODE to 43KIX (43549)!

AMC LOEWS BOSTON COMMON 19 175 TREMONT ST. 1-800-FANDANGO #730
REGAL CINEMAS FENWAY THEATRE 201 BROOKLINE AVE. 617-424-1266
SHOWCASE CINEMAS CIRCLE CLEVELAND CIRCLE 617-568-4040
AMC LOEWS DANVERS 20 LIBERTY TREE MALL 1-800-FANDANGO #734
AMC BRAINTREE 10 RTE. 37 & 128 781-848-1010
AMC FRAMINGHAM 16 RTE. 9 EAST OF WORCESTER RD. 508-628-4400
SHOWCASE CINEMAS DEDHAM RTE. 1, & 128 EXIT 15A 781-326-4905
SHOWCASE CINEMAS RANDOLPH RTE. 128 EXIT 20A OFF RTE. 24 781-963-0600
SHOWCASE CINEMAS WOBURN RTE. 128 EXIT 35 & RTE. 38 781-933-3330
SHOWCASE CINEMAS REVERE RTE. 1 & SQUIRE RD. 781-286-1660
AMC BURLINGTON 10 RTE. 128 EXIT 32B 781-229-9090
SOMERVILLE THEATRE 55 DAVIS SQUARE 617-625-5700
AMC LOEWS HARVARD SQ. 5 CONCORD ST. CAMBRIDGE 1-800-FANDANGO #731
SPECIAL ENGAGEMENTS NOT AVAILABLE ON DISCOUNT CERTIFICATES ACCEPTED
CHECK SITE FOR LISTINGS OR CALL FOR ADVANCE TICKETS ON SELECT SHOWTIMES

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO DEALERS
Haddon Lincoln Mercury
www.haddoncars.com
Hanson Automotive Inc.
www.hansonautomotiveinc.com
Jannell Ford
www.jannellford.com
Randolph Chrysler Jeep
www.randolphjeepchrysler.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CATERING
Salsa's - The Sausage Guy
www.sausageguy.com

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.com

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

LIMOUSINE SERVICE
JB Livery
www.JBLivery.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRESCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

WORSHIP NEWS

First Parish welcomes Jim FitzGerald

Jim FitzGerald has joined the staff at First Parish Unitarian Universalist in Cohasset as interim director of religious education. Since 1997, FitzGerald has worked as a sexuality educator/trainer at Planned Parenthood Mohawk Hudson in upstate/central New York. While at Planned Parenthood, he co-advised Teen View, a peer education program consisting of 20 middle school and high school students. Using their own personal experiences as teens, Teen View members create their own interactive theater skits to be performed with community audiences on a variety of issues facing teens.

It was Planned Parenthood's connection with area Unitarian Universalist congregations that ignited FitzGerald's interest in being involved with Unitarian Universalist congregations. Over the last five years, he linked his theological studies with his work as a sexuality educator and partnered with Unitarian Universalist congregations on topics related to sexuality and spirituality. FitzGerald holds a master's degree in educational psychology from The College of St. Rose in Albany, N.Y., and a master's degree in theology and ethics from Hartford Seminary in Connecticut.

COURTESY PHOTO

Jim FitzGerald is interim director of religious education at First Parish Unitarian Universalist.

FitzGerald holds a master's degree in educational psychology from The College of St. Rose in Albany, N.Y., and a master's degree in theology and ethics from Hartford Seminary in Connecticut.

From his arrival at First Parish in mid-October, FitzGerald has expressed a ready enthusiasm for meeting parishioners of all ages to discern how the religious education program might grow and expand to meet the needs of this faith community. This has begun. In his formal introduction to the congregation during the worship service on Sunday, Oct. 28, FitzGerald asked everyone under the age of 18 to stand. He addressed them with these words: "To the children and youth of First Parish standing, I promise that during my time here at First Parish, I will make your religious education my first priority. In me, you will find one who will never judge you, b always honor the person you ar I will never cease in cheerin you on to be the person you wer created to be." He continue with promises to parents, care givers and guardians of childre as well as to teachers, youth group leaders and the entire con gregation. His remarks conclud ed with a prayer borrowed fron the Buddhist tradition:

May we all be filled with lovin kindness
May we all be well
May we all be peaceful and a ease
May we all be happy.
Namaste, Blessed Be, Amen.

FitzGerald and his partner, Jaimy, relocated from upstate New York to the Boston area this past summer, when Jaimy accepted a new position as an environmental educator/naturalist at the Boston Nature Center. As a progressive Catholic, FitzGerald serves on the board of directors of Call to Action, a national Catholic organization dedicated to peace and social justice. Begun in 1976, Call to Action has worked for greater dialogue on controversial issues with other faith traditions as well as the secular community. In the spring 2008, FitzGerald will augment his work at First Parish by coordinating Call to Action's efforts to promote dialogue on a variety of issues within Catholic circles such as abortion, stem cell research and same sex marriage. While rooted in the Catholic tradition, FitzGerald believes that every person must be encouraged and supported in finding their personal spiritual path.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

The Rusty Skippers play holiday songs inside First Parish during the Cohasset Village Fair.

First Parish ready to usher in the holidays

A trio of holiday events is featured during Cohasset's Village Fair on Saturday, Dec. 1st from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Parish House of First Parish Unitarian Universalist, 23 North Main St.. Holiday shopping is easy and affordable when your gifts are to be found at the Estate Sale, also known the ReUUsable Sale, from fine china to antiques, from gently used jewelry to once loved toys — all ready and waiting to be wrapped and laid under a tree or a menorah or enjoyed by you. If you would like to donate something to the sale — not including computer equipment, stuffed animals, or clothes other than winter coats and baby clothes—please phone the church for donation instructions (781-381-1100).

New amid the offerings of this year's event are Silver Star ornaments. Proceeds from the sale of these ornaments will benefit Wellspring, the non-profit multi-service agency based in Hull and providing support and skill development for those among us facing challenges in our financial, physical, or emotional well-being. Purchase a silver star and help us all shine brighter.

Also new this year is a Gingerbread Fantasia. Come with your young ones and decorate gingerbread people to adorn your holiday table or to admire briefly and then savor.

At 11 a.m., head to the Meeting House, where the Rusty Skippers will perform their Holiday Pops Concert. Get into the holiday spirit with tunes that include "Sleigh Ride," made famous by the Boston Pops, and a selection from Tchaikovsky's "Nutrcracker Suite." This year's concert will feature vocalist Lily Sestito. The concert is free and friendly for all ages. A good will offering will benefit the Cohasset Food Pantry. Formed in 1995 through the inspiration of the late Rev. Ed Atkinson of First Parish Unitarian Universalist, the Rusty Skippers perform under the direction of Steve Biagini, instrumental music director at Deer Hill School. You can also enjoy the Skippers at the lighting of the town tree on Friday, November 23. Rusty Skipper performances are funded in part by the Cohasset Cultural Council.

On Sunday, Dec. 2, at 3 p.m. bring your dogs and cats and hamsters and bunnies and more for the Annual Blessing of the Animals in the First Parish Meeting House. Last year two alpacas made a grand entrance at benediction time. This is a community event, and all animal friends are welcome — live, stuffed, or photographed. Please ensure that the live ones are house-trained and leashed. Come and share the blessings!

Come share the holiday festivities! To learn more about the happenings at First Parish Unitarian Universalist in Cohasset, phone 781-383-1100 or visit www.firstparishcohasset.org, or come by the Parish House and pick up a newsletter.

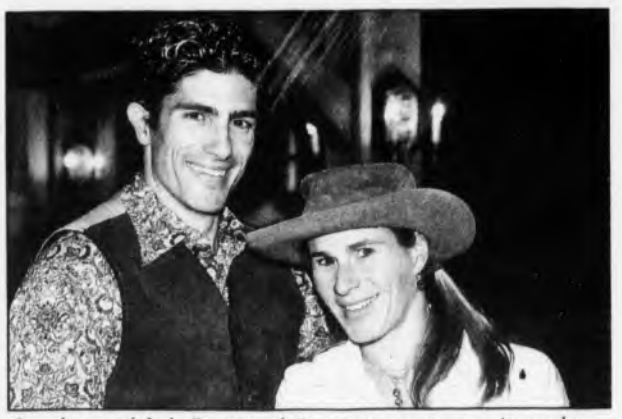
OBITUARIES

Gertrude C. Murray

Gertrude C. Murray, 91, of Cohasset, formerly of Belmont, died Nov. 2, 2007.

Wife of the late Bernard C. Murray, she leaves her children, Richard B. Murray and his wife, Joanne, of Santa Fe, N.M., and Susan Whitney and her husband, Daniel, of Scituate; her daughter-in-law, Rachel Murray of South Hampton, N.H.; and her grandchildren, Josh Messina, Jesse Murray, Ryan, Colin and Sean Whitney, and Austin and Matthew Murray; and loving remembered by Barbara Murray.

She was the mother of the late Michael Murray.



A funeral Mass was celebrated at St. Anthony Church, Cohasset. Arrangements were handled McNamara-Sparrell Funeral Home, Cohasset.

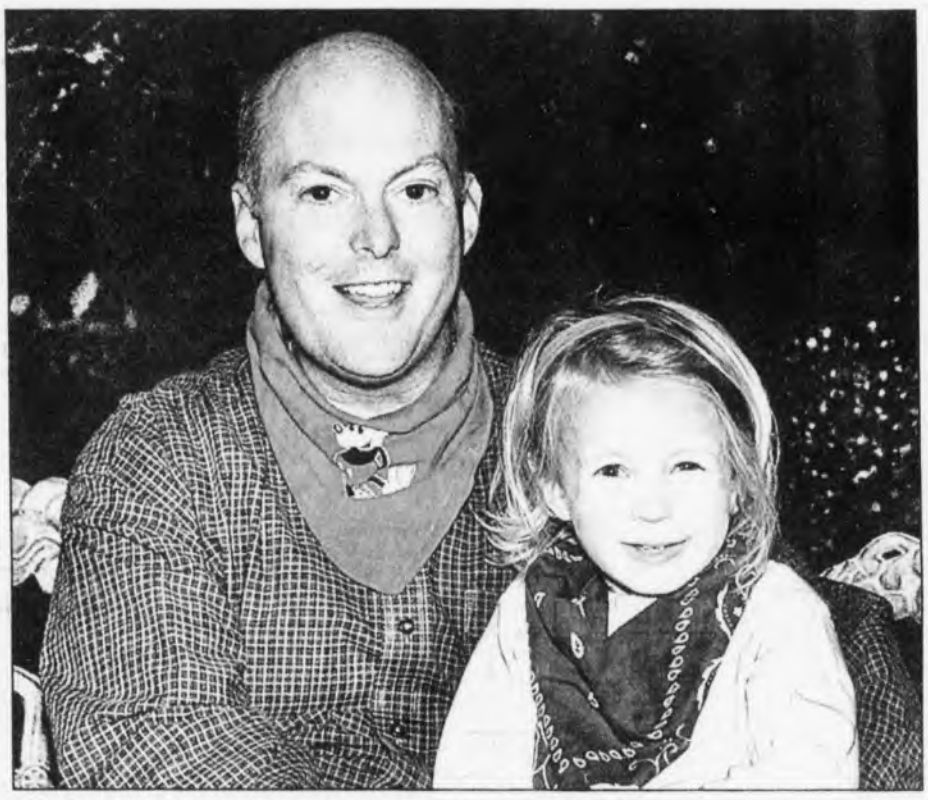
Memorial donations may be made to Home for Little Wanderers, 271 Huntington Ave., Boston, MA 02115.

WORSHIP GUIDE, PAGE 27

The Armstrong Brothers Band and guests, Joe Armstrong; Shannon Lynch, guest singer with the band; Bill White, square dance caller; Thomas Buckley, Cohasset student and guest musician; Bill Holbrook; Gerard Armstrong; Ana Buckley, Cohasset student and guest performer; and Jim Armstrong.

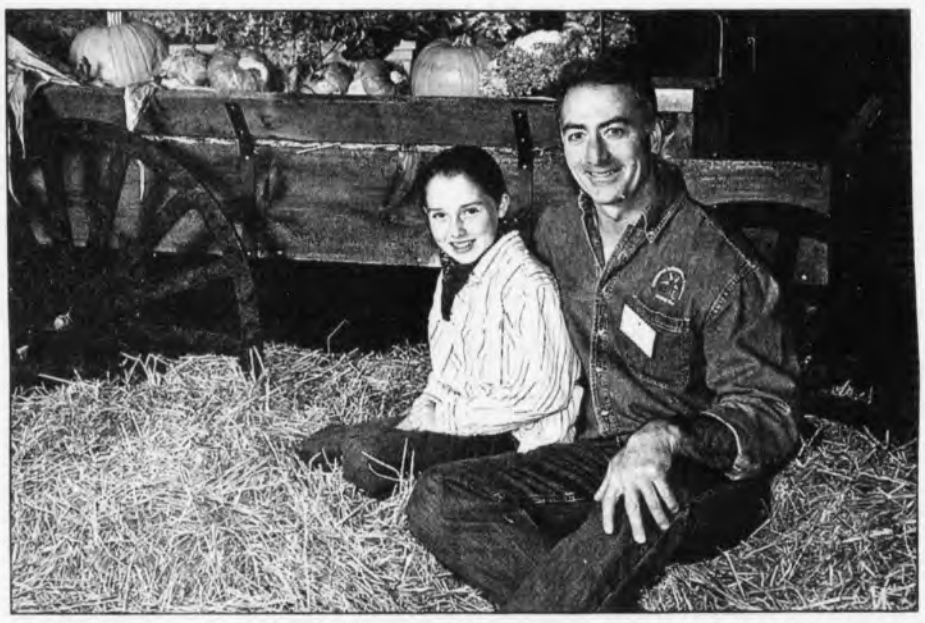
Jonathan and Judy Stavis in their country western attire at the Barn Bash.

HOMETOWN HOEDOWN!



Barn Bash kicks off annual appeal

The Cohasset Education Foundation hosted its first annual family Barn Bash Friday, Nov. 2, in the barn at the Red Lion Inn. Hundreds of adults and children showed up to enjoy the music from the Armstrong Brothers and live square dancing. The Cohasset Education Foundation is a privately funded nonprofit organization, which supports programs that enhance, enrich and maintain excellence in the Cohasset public schools.

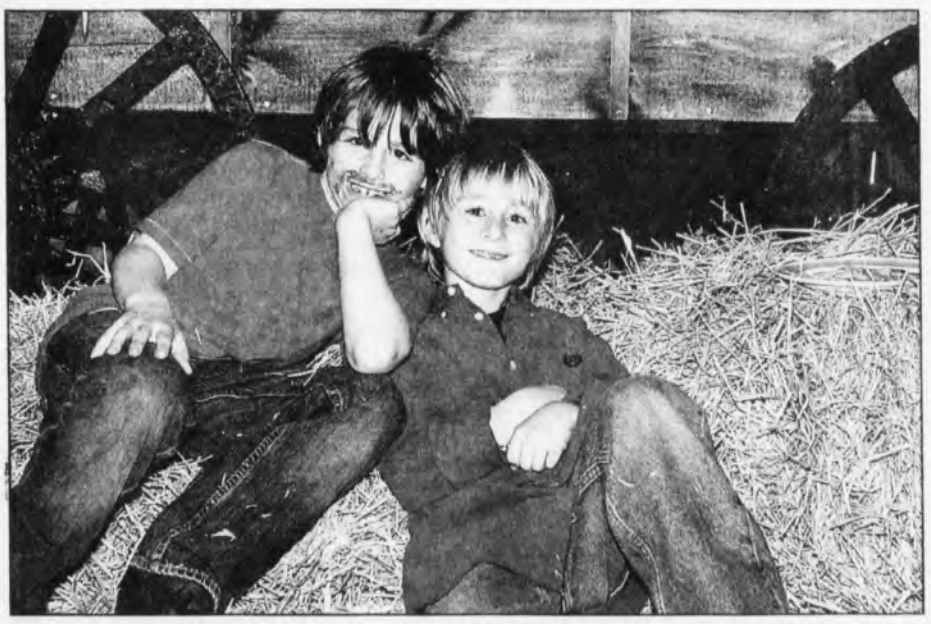


The party was a kick off to the CEF's annual appeal, which will be mailed out this month. The goal of the CEF is to ensure that Cohasset students, teachers and administrators are provided with the programs, materials and up-to-date equipment necessary to maintain a level of academic excellence in today's compelling environment.

To date the CEF has raised over $498,817 in cash and pledges. More than $100,000 has been disbursed from the CEF Project Fund to finance approved grants for projects in all of the schools. The CEF's Endowment Fund currently holds over $180,000. They hosted this event in appreciation of the continued support of the Cohasset community. For more information, visit www.cohasseteducation.org.

Photos by Amy Osten

Tucker Glavin and his daughter, Paige, came out to support the CEF.



CEF Board Member, John Dunn enjoys the CEF family event with his daughter, Kerry.

Dan Varney listens to the music of the Armstrong Brothers Band.

CEF Board Member, Pam Wilson takes in the action with Kelly Lynch and Nora Speer.

Will Englander and Michael Slanetz take a break from square dancing.

Junior Committee Member, Olivia Blackburn puts on her cowboy hat at the first annual CEF Barn Bash.

get AWAY

Ski Report - What's New in the Mountains of New England

Tim Jones
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

It was the worst of times, it was the best of times (sorry Charles Dickens). Last year's ski season started with warmth – and no snow – and ended with the best snowfall, and some of the best ski conditions ever in March and April.

Everyone's hoping the weather won't be big news again this year. What certainly is big news is the demise of the giant American Skiing Company and new owners for Sugarloaf and Sunday River in Maine, Attitash in New Hampshire, Mount Snow, and Killington and Pico in Vermont.

New capital is flowing into these resorts as the new owners improve their facilities.

New capital is flowing into these resorts as the new owners improve their facilities. Given the horrendous start to last year's season, it's not surprising that energy-efficient compressors, snow-guns and groomers are tops on everyone's shopping list. In fact, Attitash, Bretton Woods, Killington, Sugarbush, Sugarloaf and Sunday River all started making serious snow for the season in late October.

New lifts, trails, base lodges, slopeside villages, spas and health clubs will come about thanks to the new owners, but all take years of planning and construction. We'll see the results down the road. But other projects that have been ongoing for years are now producing results.

New Hampshire

New owners and/or operators will eventually mean change at Attitash (Peak Resorts), Ragged Mountain (RMR Pacific) and Loon Mountain Resort (Boyne USA). But what you'll see already at Loon, in Lincoln, is that after more than a decade of planning and permit processing they are finally opening three new runs – two groomed trails and a new glade – with two new lifts as the first phase of their expansion onto 2,450-foot South Peak.

Though the slopes at Bretton Woods in Bretton Woods are going to look pretty much the same this year, the off-slope experience is changing with a new 25,000-square foot spa and health club and 30,000-square foot convention center attached to the elegant Mount Washington Hotel. You'll see it rise before your very eyes as the season progresses, and it should be open in late 2008.

PHOTO COURTESY OF STOWE

Skiing at Stowe

Vermont

Four resorts have new owners in Vermont this season: Killington and Pico (Powder Corp.), Mount Snow (Peak Resorts) and Bolton Valley (Redstone). All will have much-needed upgrades before snow flies.

But the biggest and most visible changes are at Stowe, which is looking brand new – at least Spruce Peak where they've replaced slow lifts with new high speeds, added a new gondola to connect the Spruce base with Mount Mansfield across route 108, and created some new trail configurations. Stowe is also smack in the middle of building a complete new base village, including a base lodge and a huge slopeside hotel. The base lodge should be on-line in December while the hotel will open later in the season.

Believe it or not, there's a brand-new lift at Mad River Glen, where nothing is ever supposed to change. But traditionalists needn't worry. It doesn't look like a new lift. MRG spent $1.5 million this season to fully restore and refurbish their iconic single chair. You can enjoy the same 45-minute wait in line for the 11-minute ride to the top in glorious solitude.

Maine

Both Sugarloaf and Sunday River were purchased in August by Boyne USA. The hotels are being spiffed up, new carpet lifts have been installed for beginners, and there's more snowmaking.

But the biggest change in Maine is at Saddleback, where new lifts and a beautiful new base lodge opened last season are transforming this once-forgotten old warhorse. If you've never skied Saddleback, you've missed some of best terrain in New England.

Massachusetts

Cruise out to Jiminy Peak if you want to get a glimpse of the future at ski resorts. On top of their hill, they've installed a huge new wind turbine, called The Zephyr, which will generate a full 1/3 of the electricity used by this humming resort. It looks like a moving Brancusi sculpture and, in its own way, is as beautiful and practical as Boston's Zakim Bridge.

OFF THE RADAR

One of the best things about New England skiing is the sheer diversity. If you only ski the big-name resorts with high mountains, high-speed lifts and high-ticket prices, you are missing some of the best.

Here are samples of some favorite smaller areas you may never have visited.

Whaleback Mountain (Enfield, N.H.; 603 448-1489; www.whaleback.com) is already open for skiing and riding, sort of. In late October, they started trucking in ice shavings from local skating rinks and using them to lubricate their brand new Jib Park where skiers and snowboarders grind rails and other urban-style hits on snowboards and twin-tipped skis. Great fun if you are under 25 and still on Mom and Dad's health insurance.

Burke Mountain (East Burke, Vt.; 802-626-3322; www.skiburke.com) is about to go mainstream with lots of new slopeside lodging. Get there now, while it's still quiet. You'll love the terrain and the views.

Magic Mountain (London derry, Vt.; 802-824-5645; www.magicmtn.com) is the best-kept secret in southern Vermont. If you like challenging terrain and no crowds, don't miss it.

Black Mountain (Jackson, N.H.; 800-475-4669; www.blackmt.com) and Berkshire East (Charlemont, Mass.; 413-339-6617; www.berkshireeast.com) are ski areas that time has forgotten. The lifts are slow, but the prices are reasonable and the terrain is great.

Cannon Mountain (Franconia N.H.; 603-823-8800; www.cannonmt.com) is always cold, often icy, but is the biggest, most challenging and least crowded mountain close to Boston.

CONTACT INFORMATION

Attitash
Phone: 877-677-7669
Web: www.attitash.com

Bolton Valley
Phone: 877-9BOLTON
Web: www.boltonvalley.com

Bretton Woods
Phone: 603-278-3333
Web: www.brettonwoods.com

Killington
Phone: 800-621-6867
Web: www.killington.com

Loon Mountain
Phone: 800-229-5666
Web: www.loonmtn.com

Mad River Glen
Phone: 802-496-3551
Web: www.madriverglen.com

Pico
Phone: 802-422-3333
Web: www.picomountain.com

Ragged Mountain
Phone: 603-768-3600
Web: www.raggedmountainresort.com

Stowe Mountain Resort
Phone: 800-253-4754
Web: www.stowe.com

Sugarbush
Phone: 800-537-8427
Web: www.sugarbush.com

Sugarloaf/USA
Phone: 207-237-2000
Web: www.sugarloaf.com

Sunday River
Phone: 207-824-3000
Web: www.sundayriver.com

Tenney Mountain
Phone: 888-289-1020
Web: www.tenneymtn.com

IF YOU go...

You can ALWAYS save money on lift tickets by purchasing ahead of time online, at off-site vendors (try local ski shops), by buying multi-day tickets, or, best of all, by skiing mid-week and non-holiday. Check the Web sites for more special offers.

Where the Mountains Meet the Sea

Stephen Jermanok
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

IN NEW ENGLAND

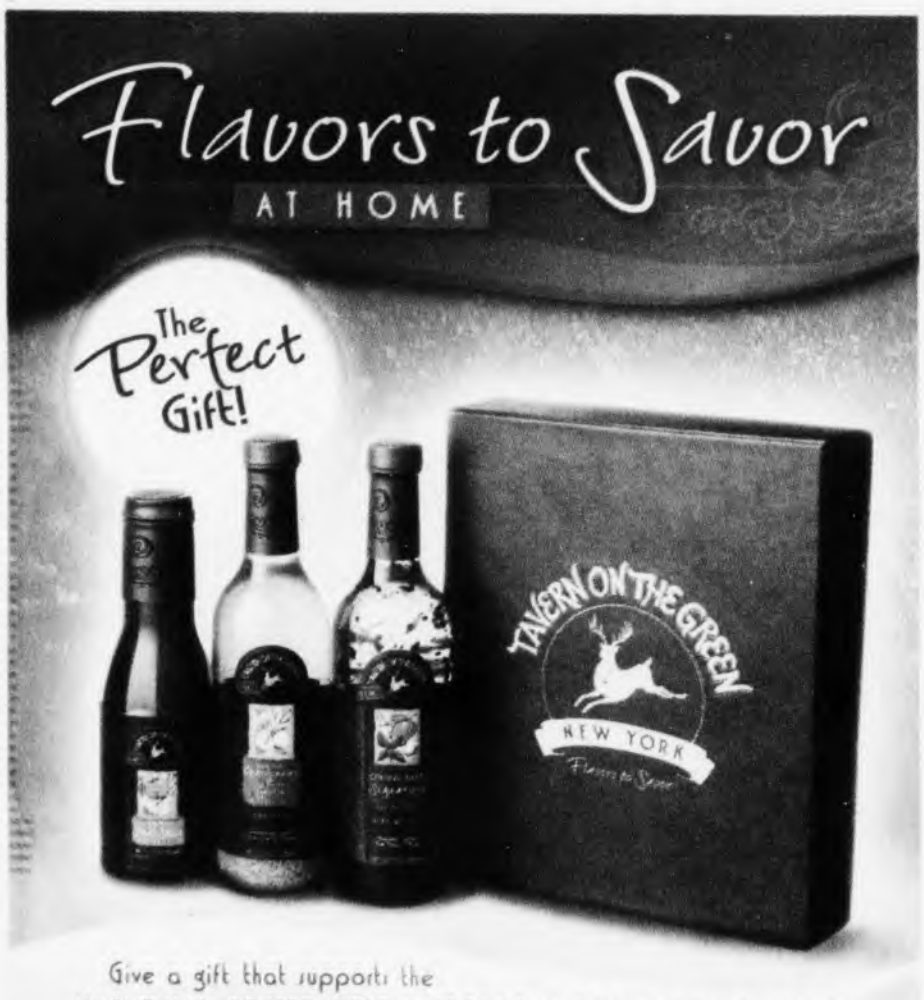
Ride the double chair to the top of Maine's Ragged Mountain this ski season and you'll soon understand the allure of the Camden Snow Bowl. The smell of early morning powder is overpowered by a blast of salty mist from the sea. Yes, this Maine ski area is the only spot in America where you can carve your turn and look at an expanse of ocean.

Below is the rock-strewn harbor of Camden, a favorite anchorage of yachters in summer but in winter only visited by fishermen haling in their catch of shrimp. Beyond the town are the emerald green Penobscot Bay Islands and the mountains fronting the lone National Park in the northeast, Acadia.

COURTESY PHOTO

Even the lift has sea views at Camden Snow Bowl.

The Snow Bowl's proximity to the Atlantic means the weather can be iffy. The fog rolls in and snow turns to mush. A nor'easter whips by and suddenly you're gleefully skiing in a blizzard. When the ski gods are with you, expect to share the mountain with local kids, dropped off by mom and dad; and couples who want a good dose of outdoors before settling back into one of several nearby, historic B&Bs.



With only 40 skiable acres and a vertical of 950 feet, the mountain is one of the smallest in New England – on par with Suicide Six in Vermont or King Pine in New Hampshire. Most of the 11 trails are deemed intermediate, perhaps to give the Mainers a feeling of accomplishment.

The Clipper slices through the pines down the front face for that stellar ocean view, while Upper and Lower Spinnaker are nice easy cruisers on the outer perimeter.

Shredders have one run called Mussel Ridge. If you yearn for steeps, take off the skis and go sledding. Perhaps the real reason Maine's oldest ski area is still around and operated by the town recreation department is the Snow Bowl's 440-foot long ice-coated toboggan chute. Originally built in 1936, this narrow track will have you shrieking as the toboggan drops off the side of Ragged Mountain at 30 miles per hour and glides halfway across Hosmer Pond.

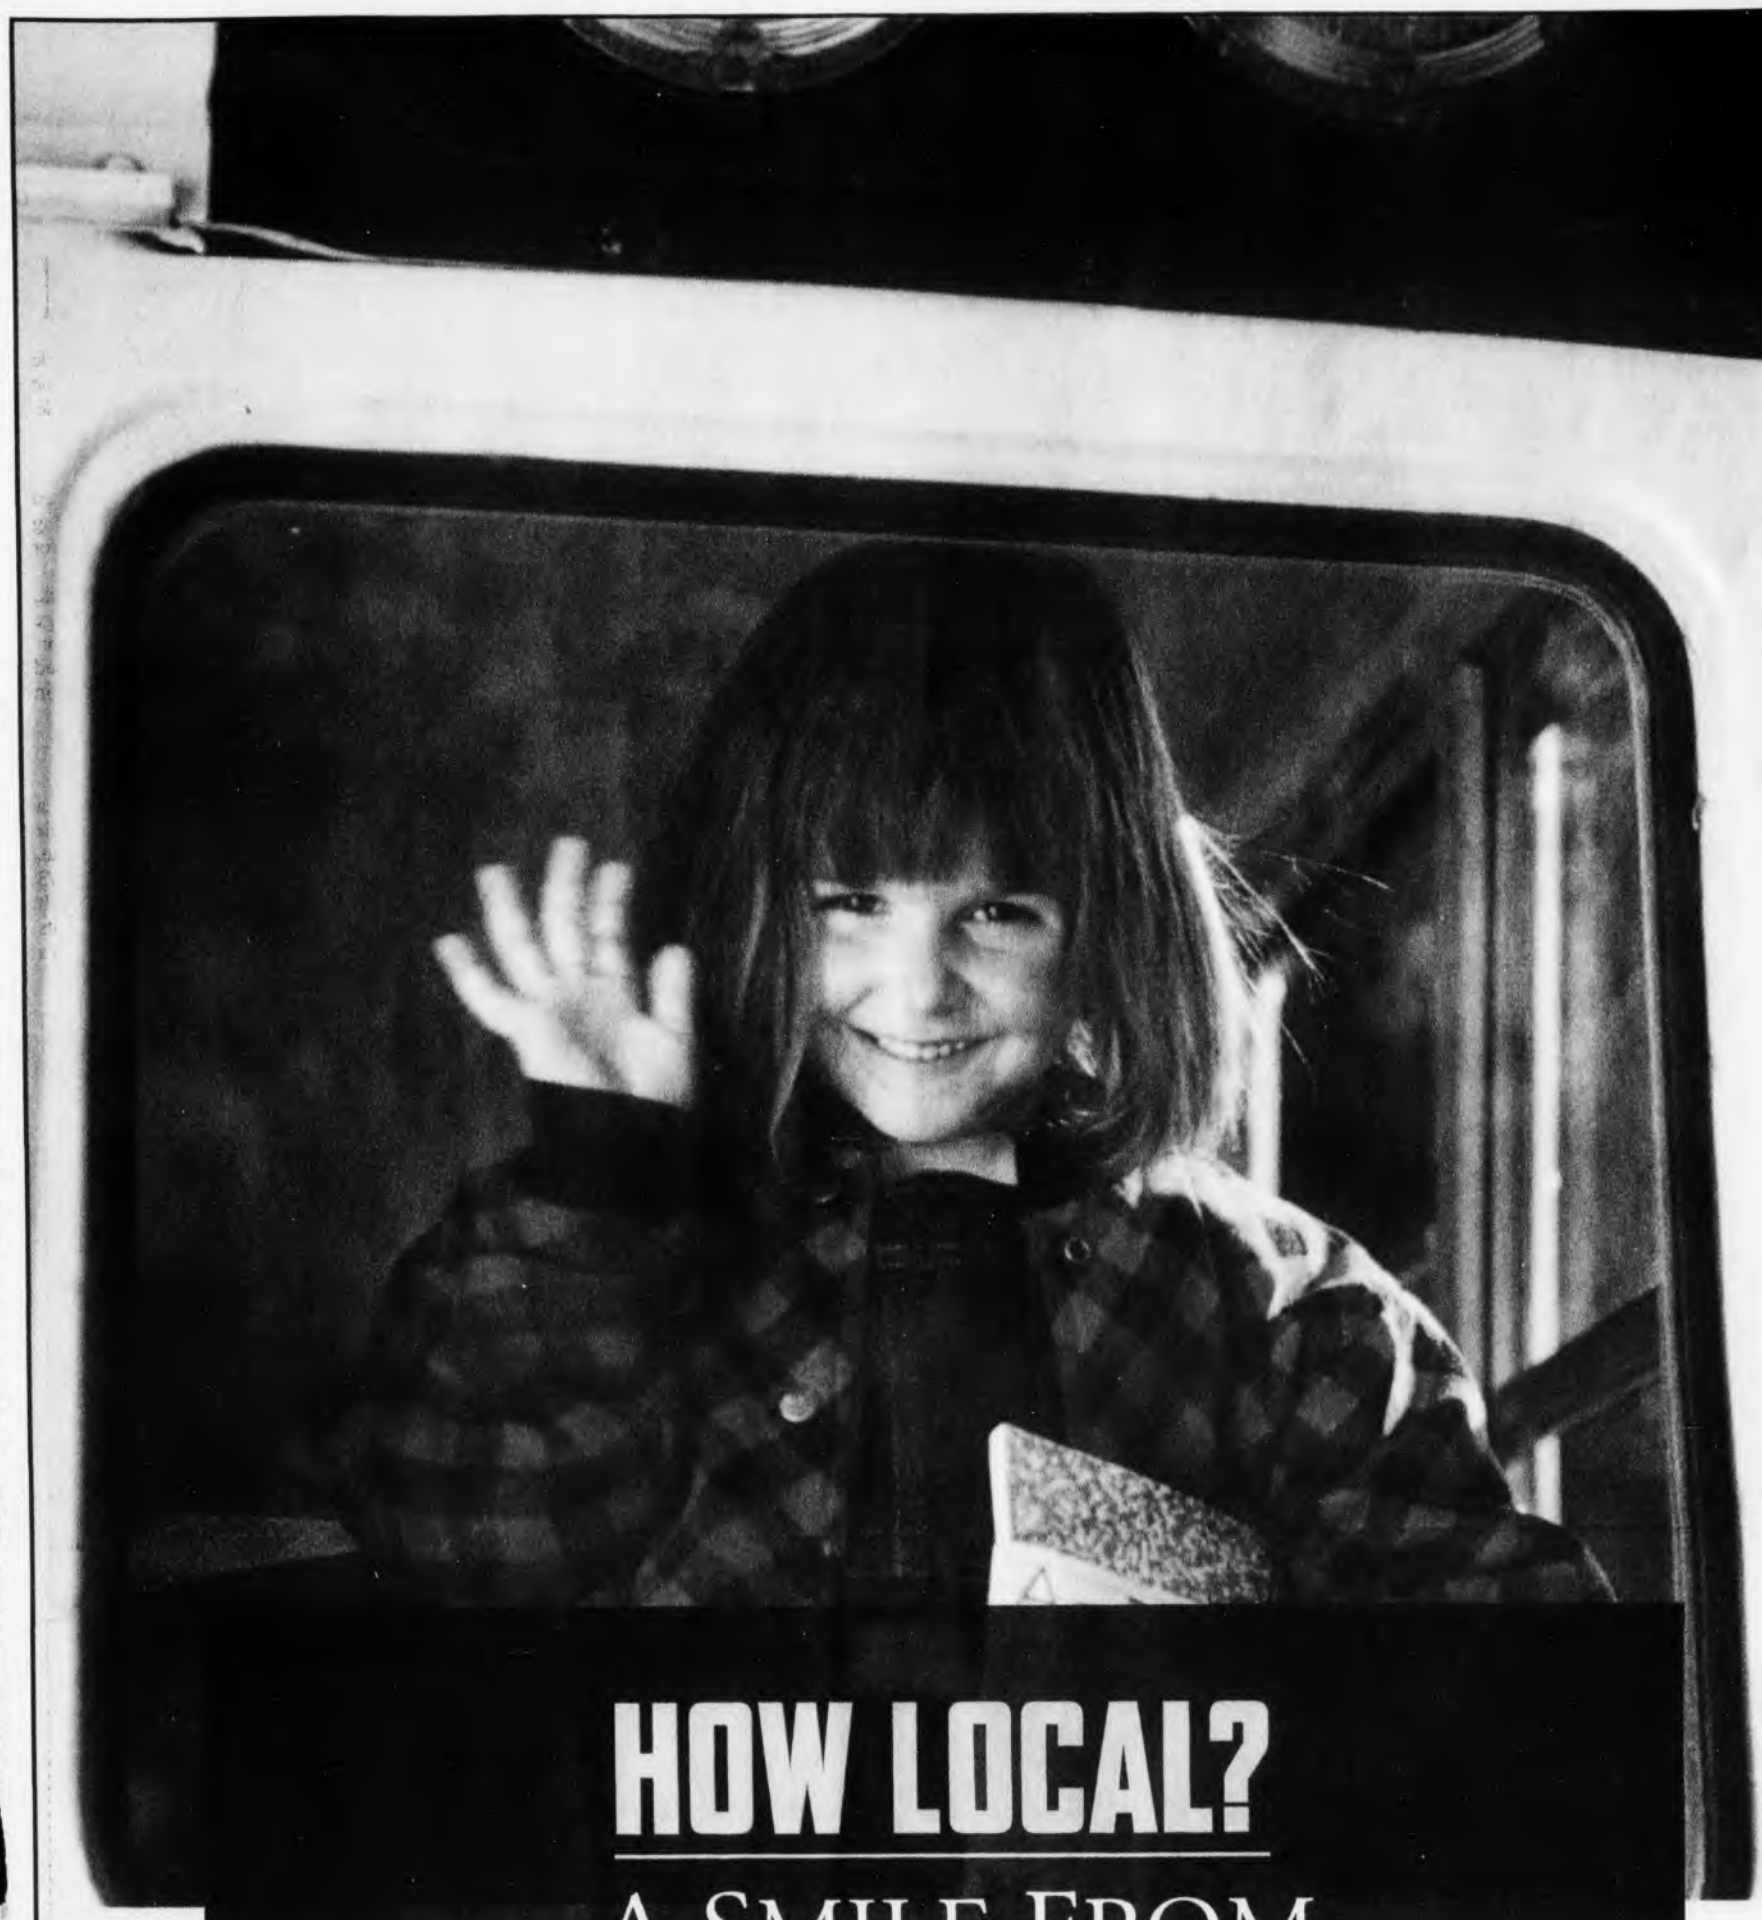
Unwind afterward with a warm cup of chowdah washed down with a Maine microbrew.

Camden Snow Bowl (207-236-3438; www.camdensnowbowl.com) is a 3 1/2-hour drive north of Boston. Lift tickets cost $14 to $30.

Give a gift that supports the
NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN

NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN®

Tavern on the Green proudly supports the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.



For easy recipes, information on other delicious Tavern on the Green products and to purchase, visit
TAVERNDIRECT.COM

ENTER PROMO CODE
BO5678
RECEIVE 5% DISCOUNT

ALL NATURAL

This exclusive line of savory sauces, balsamic vinegars, marinades and dipping oils brings the Tavern on the Green dining experience to life.

HOW LOCAL?

A SMILE FROM THE BUS ON THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL LOCAL!

HOW LOCAL? WICKED LOCAL.

Local means something. That's why WickedLocal.com is giving you something to talk about. If local means something to you, get involved. Post photos and videos. Read about local topics and comment on them. Post your event or just see what's going on. Create a blog or just read ours. At WickedLocal.com you can get involved or just take it all in. Go to WickedLocal.com and click on your community. Make WickedLocal.com your hometown home page.

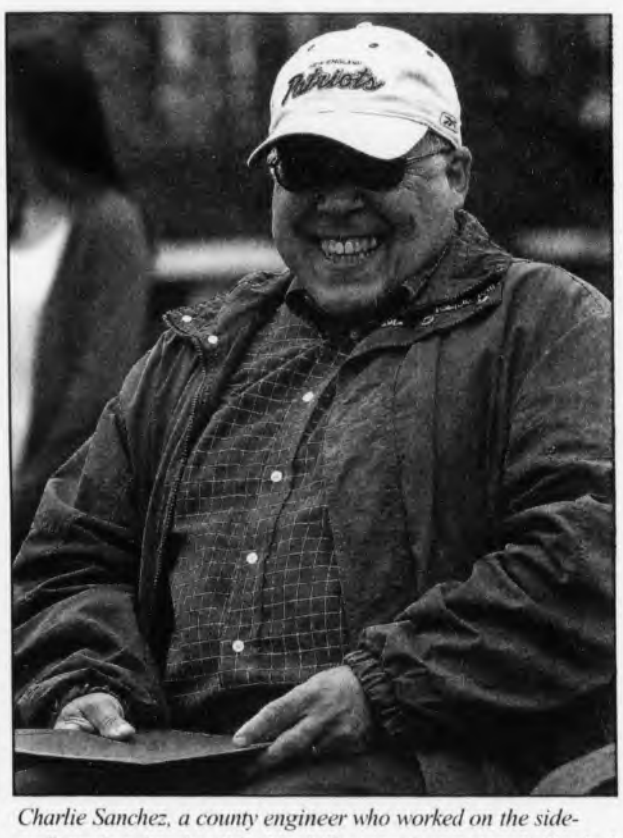
WICKED LOCAL™.com

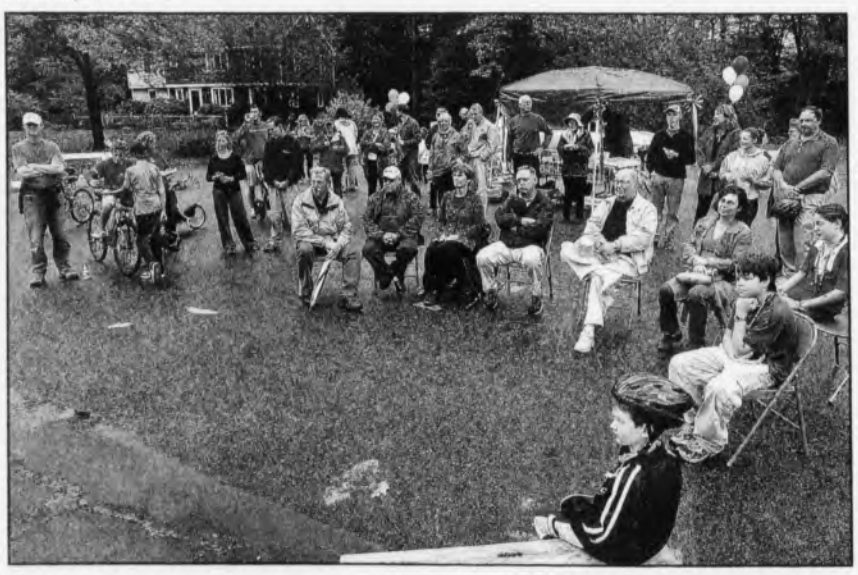
IT HAS TO BE GOOD TO BE WICKED!

Sidewalk celebration Forest Avenue neighbors get together

Nikki Federle, 9, of Cohasset puts spokes on her wheel during the sidewalk party at Surry Drive. Festivities included a bike-decorating contest.



Colby Williams, 11, of Cohasset draws out a hopscotch board on the street during the sidewalk celebration at Surry Drive.



Jonathan Kripke, 6, of Cohasset outlines the feet of his cousin, Holly Van Etten, 6 1/2, of Cohasset during the sidewalk party on Saturday (Oct. 27)

Dick Avery gives a hug to Trish Morse after receiving the Unsung Hero Award for helping keep Forest Avenue beautiful during the "grand opening" of the new sidewalk.

Charlie Sanchez, a county engineer who worked on the sidewalk project, laughs while Mark Brennan (not pictured) thanked everyone involved in the project.

Left: Neighbors along Forest Avenue gather at Surry Drive on Saturday (Oct. 27) to celebrate the sidewalk that will allow them to move along the length of the street safely linking a community that was previously disjointed. The entire roadway was also improved.

Staff photos
by Robin Chan

Right: "Hedda" looks up and is a moment away from smacking a kiss on Sue Barry of St. Paul, Minn., who was putting a bandana on the Baumgarten family dog during the sidewalk party.

NEW ENGLAND BULKHEAD

Clip 'N' Save For A Rainy Day!

10% SENIOR DISCOUNT

Replace that rotted leaking problem, now for Winter. We can fit any size: flat or sloped foundations. We do full digouts!

MA LICENSED

FREE ESTIMATES • 781-820-7381

www.coupons.townonline.com

Conway

INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.

Complete Insurance Protection

• AUTO • HOME • LIFE
• BUSINESS • HEALTH

HANOVER
183 Columbia Rd.
(781) 826-3804

SCITUATE
80 Front St.
(781) 545-6110

WHITMAN
715 Bedford St.
(781) 447-0661

Easy Lift RECLINER $899 BERKLINE RECLINERS

WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM

781-878-5759 • 1-800-696-5759
459 Plain St., Rte. 139, Rockland
Near the No. Abington Line
Open Daily 9-5:30
Friday 9-8:30
Sunday 12-4

FREE DELIVERY
FREE DISPOSAL

KEEP IT SIMPLE

If it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.

COUNTERTOPS

Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.

CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE

Bill Shea's

www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130

Kathy

Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry

We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.

Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling

Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)

Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.

Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES.

Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00

GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices

NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, Ma 02339
(Rt. 123 after Stop & Shop)

www.gemorama.com

Worship Guide

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: Jim FitzGerald. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Nov. 11

8 a.m. — Circle Ministry in the Parish House/Atkinson Room — Group led by Bill Baird & Kirk Jackisch and meeting 2nd & 4th Sundays)

10 a.m.—Worship in the Meeting House — "Armistice"

Religious education classes for toddlers, children and youth and childcare for our youngest begin at 10 AM in the Parish House. Our children will craft gifts for a First Parish son who grew up in this congregation and is now serving in Iraq.

Refreshments and fellowship follow the morning service and RE classes.

11:30 a.m. - RE Committee for Children & Youth

11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m. – Welcome to You and Unitarian Universalism and to First Parish UU — An Overview, Discussion & Brunch for New & Prospective Members

Come and discover who we are and what we're about—as Unitarian Universalists and as First Parish in and beyond Cohasset. This gathering is the first step in the membership process. While it doesn't obligate you, it does prepare you to receive the "right hand of fellowship" during New Member Sunday on November 18. Our minister will be joined by representatives of our Membership Committee, leading us in conversation and story. Childcare is provided.

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are an open, welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for all people, both near and across the world. For information on us go to www.ststephenscohasset.org or to learn about the Episcopal Church go to www.ecusa.anglican.org.

Highlights of our parish life include:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups , adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry; weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

Sunday, Nov. 11: Services at 8 am and 10 am. Church school at 10 am

Monday, Nov. 12: Veterans Day, office closed; 4 pm Christian meditation

Wednesday, Nov. 14: 9:30 am Healing Eucharist; 10:40 am Bible Study

Friday, Nov. 16: 9:30 am Yoga

Saturday, Nov. 17: 7:00 am Bible Fellowship; Workshop on multiculturalism and anti-racism, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.. Free and open to people of all faiths.

Sunday, Nov. 18 : Services at 8 am and 10 am. 9 am Youth Group meeting.

To contact us: Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083, or email cwood@ststephenscohasset.org.

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom: 1112 Main St., 781- 749-8103; denomination: Jewish; Rabbi Shira Joseph; Cantor Steven Weiss. Friday evenings 7:30 p.m.; Saturday morning worship, 10:30 a.m. Hebrew religious school and adult classes. For more information call our office, 781-749-8103. Also you can visit us at: www.shaaray.org

Friday evening Services begin at 7:30 pm and Saturday morning Services begin at 10:30. am. These services will be held every weekend for the rest of November.

Saturday Nov. 10th – 9 am KIDushat Shabbat – preschool-age children.

Temple Beth Sholom, 600 Nantasket Ave., Hull. 781-925-0091, 781-925-2377. Conservative. Rabbi Ben Lefkowitz. Daily Minyan, Monday-Friday, 7:45 a.m.; Saturday, Sunday and holidays, 9 a.m.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints: 379 Gardner St. Hingham, Denomination: Mormon; clergy: Bishop Leif Erickson (781-659-4702); Sunday meetings: 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. (Infants are welcome.) Enrichment Night for women (3rd Wednesday each month, 7 p.m.); scouting and youth programs: Tuesdays, 7 p.m.; early morning Seminary for teens: weekdays, 6 a.m., throughout school year. (H)

First Church of Christ, Scientist: 386 Main St., Hingham. Denomination Christian Science (781 749-2874). Christian Science church services are held at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday and at 7:45 p.m. on Wednesday evening. Everyone is invited!

The Christian Science Reading Room,35 Station St., Hingham, hours are Tuesday through Friday 11 a.m. –3 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Changes to the worship guide, may be sent by e-mail to mford@cnc.com.

Click on CohassetCares.com

Check out this month's Parents and Kids November issue

Greater Boston's Guide to Smart Parenting

One in 12 children in the U.S. has special needs tied to one or more physical challenge, sensory disorder, hearing impairment, or developmental delay. Find out the latest on special needs education and advice on how and when to share private information about your child with special needs. Plus holiday features on toy shopping for differently-abled children and manners 101 just in time for Thanksgiving.

FREE PUBLICATION AVAILABLE AT MOST LIBRARIES AND OTHER FAMILY FRIENDLY LOCATIONS.

www.parentsandkids.net

To share story ideas and thoughts, call Heather Kempskie at 508-634-7510
To advertise, in this award-winning publication call us toll-free at 866-CNC-KIDS
To get Parents & Kids delivered to your home call 1-800-982-4023

Legal Notices

MCELWAIN ESTATE
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 144952T18
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of J. Franklin McElwain late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 5th – 10th (being the 32nd –37th) account(s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 7 of the will of said deceased for the benefit of W.H.M. Talbot, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of November, 2007, the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney for the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 9th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11507741
Cohasset Mariner 11/9/07

To Place A Legal Ad Call Mary (781) 433-7902

POLICE/FIRE LOG

MONDAY, OCT. 22

1:03 a.m. Pond St., building checks.

1:05 a.m. Sohier St., building checks.

6:57 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Pond St., traffic enforcement.

7:27 a.m. Pond St., parking complaint, the assistant principal reports there is a vehicle parked at above location – ongoing problem.

7:52 a.m. James Lane, animal complaint, walk in party report black lab not on leash running loose, chasing children.

9:50 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle violations.

10:02 a.m. Hill St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

10:15 a.m. North Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation issued.

10:29 a.m. Beechwood St., hazard, caller reports there are two dark colored vehicle parked on the sidewalk and people are having to walk in the street to go around these vehicles.

12:51 p.m. Kings St., suspicious activity, caller reported a party came into her store and asked what type of items they sold.

1:06 p.m. Garden Rd., Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

2:14 p.m. Ridge Top Rd., and Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle violations.

2:50 p.m. Depot Ct., and North Main St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

7:45 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

7:55 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

9:45 p.m. Pond St., building checks.

9:50 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

TUESDAY, OCT. 23

12:55 a.m. Pond St., building checks, officer report building appears secured. There are line painters at above location for about another hour.

12:56 a.m. Sohier St., building checks.

1:17 a.m. Highland Ave., suspicious vehicle, officer reports vehicle parked at above location – interior light on – no one around it.

10:18 a.m. Sohier St., vandalism report, caller reports someone or some kids took a permanent marker to the playground and wrote inappropriate things.

10:47 a.m. Meeting House Lane, Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

12:42 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle crash/no injury, caller reports a motorist backed into his motor vehicle.

2:06 p.m. Atlantic Ave., lost property, caller reports two kid's bicycles have been left on her property for a few days now and they do not belong to her or any of her neighbors.

2:24 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, stolen property, walk in party reports his trailer has been stolen from the above location.

2:55 p.m. North Main St., notification, speed board has been posted across from this location.

3:01 p.m. North Main St., notification.

3:17 p.m. Highland Ave., downed tree, National Grid notified with a priority 2.

3:19 p.m. Nichols Rd., power outage, caller reports all of Nichols Road has no power. National Grid notified.

3:59 p.m. Sohier St., fire, training.

5:49 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., downed tree, received several calls, tree across the road at above location.

6:34 p.m. Hingham, fire, training.

7:54 p.m. South Main St., parking complaint, clerk at store reports vehicles parked all over.

9:23 p.m. S. Main St., officer wanted, caller stated that she just returned home and the front door was unlocked. Caller wanted officer to walk through with her. Officer reports the wind may have blown door open. Everything appears fine inside.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 24

1:20 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:20 a.m. Sohier St., both elementary schools check secure.

6:58 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Pond St., traffic enforcement.

7:37 a.m. Hull St., animal complaint, caller states "he just came face to face with a rabid coyote." The coyote is headed towards Lambert's Lane. The caller was concerned for school children at bus stops.

8 a.m. Weather: Cloudy, light wind, 62.

8:38 a.m. Stockbridge St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

9:44 a.m. Pratt Ct., missing child, 911 caller hysterical on 911 reports that her 9-year-old son is missing from home. He stayed home sick from school and was on the couch and now he is not there. Child has been located, he did end up going to school and has spoken to his mother. All units clear.

10:01 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop. One male is custody for operating after license suspension. Arrest: Robert V. Whelan, 12 7th Ave., Scituate. Charges: Operating motor vehicle with suspended license (2 counts).

11:18 a.m. Elm St., fire, 911 caller reports she has a fire in her kitchen. Problem with the stove, units are clearing.

12:56 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious vehicle, caller reports someone has left a damaged BMW behind the building by the dumpster. The BMW has tinted windows and some damage to it. Female has returned to get her vehicle, units clear for the time.

1:30 p.m. Hillside Drive, warrant services, male party in custody at this time. Arrest: George David Proctor, 17 Hillside Drive, Cohasset. Charges: WMS warrant.

3:18 p.m. Elm St., fire – public assist.

5:08 p.m. Norman Todd Rd., and Beechwood St., traffic enforcement.

5:17 p.m. High School and Pond St., B&E (past report), walk in party reports her vehicle was broke into and radio was taken, this occurred at above location.

6:09 p.m. Sohier St., fire, training.

7:49 p.m. Pond St., fire, investigation, caller reports inside odor of gas. All company investigating. Slight odor of gas. Command reports gas company on scene.

10:08 p.m. Elm St., assist citizen, caller is from Connecticut, is upset that her husband has not contacted her, he is staying at above location. Male party has contacted home – everything is fine.

10:58 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

10:59 p.m. Sohier St., building checks.

THURSDAY, OCT. 25

12:20 a.m. Deer Hill St., and Sohier St., building checks.

12:33 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

7:45 a.m. High School and Pond St., suspicious activity.

8:37 a.m. Elm St., transport prisoner.

11:24 a.m. Arrowwood Rd., and Clay Spring Rd., motor vehicle crash/roll over. Callers report a trailer truck roll over. Units are reporting this occurred at about 10:30 a.m. and the parties failed to call for assistance and called the tow company first. OSHA notified to respond to the scene as well as the state truck team and dot. Water dept. notified. State Police truck team is responding as well as DEP. DEP is not responding at this time. Clean Harbors on scene at this time. Fire Capt. reports units will be tied up for a while longer. Fuel transfer has begun with Clean Harbors and the vehicle that has flipped over. Truck has been righted.

12:55 p.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., fire, caller reports an odor of something burning at this location. Units tied up at the scene ventilating.

2:51 p.m. Beechwood St., and King St., fire, (misc.), E3 going to this location for inspection of a new hydrant.

3:44 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

4:11 p.m. Sohier St., fire, (misc.), fire units out at this location for training.

4:14 p.m. King St., and North Main St., hazard (traffic), car 20 notified dispatch that the lights and bells were on at the RR crossing, but the arms were not coming down. No train was coming through. MBTA notified and are on scene.

5:05 p.m. South Main St., motor vehicle crash/no injury.

6:49 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

8:08 p.m. South Main St., parking complaint, clerk is complaining about cars parked out front too often. Two motor vehicles tagged.

9:23 p.m. Elm St., bolo announcement, Scituate PD requests a welfare check on a red Cadillac Deville. Party is on medication and was just released from the hospital.

FRIDAY, OCT. 26

1:24 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:26 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

6:08 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., traffic enforcement.

9:33 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., fire alarm activation, caller from Anderson Fuel reports while they were making a delivery to this location they could hear the fire alarm gong off. Fire Capt. reports units will be tied up, there is a fire in the boiler. Homeowner contacted and is now on scene.

9:47 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

1:07 p.m. South Main St., assault and battery, walk in party reports he is a bar tender at this location and was punched in the back of the head by the owner of the business.

1:28 p.m. Nichols Rd., fire, investigation, caller reports a gas main has been struck with a fire in the gas main. Nichols Road will be shut down at this time. Keyspan notified and responding.

2:07 p.m. Linden Drive, suspicious activity.

2:50 p.m. Hull St., suspicious activity, caller reports two teenagers sitting on the front step with a shotgun or a large BB gun. No problems at this address, kids paying in the yard.

3:06 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported other/BLS.

4:36 p.m. Country Way, Scituate, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

4:51 p.m. South Main St., disturbance, caller reports there is an argument going on in the dining room. An argument between an owner and the employee, the employee has been terminated and was requesting their final pay check.

7:42 p.m. Forest Ave., and Forest Notch, vandalism report, walk in party reports his car was hit with an egg at this location, when he got out of his car to look there was pieces of shell stuck to his car. Officer to check the area.

8:46 p.m. Forest Ave., disturbance, caller reports kids throwing eggs at cars.

9:09 p.m. Beechwood St., and King St., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

10:36 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and King St., caller reports gray or silver Cavalier swerving in front of him and stopping at green light. Officer is out with this vehicle. Scituate K-9 unit has been paged. Scituate K-9 unavailable, Hull paging their K-9 unit. Hull K-9 also unavailable. Arrest: Joshua G. Knudsen, 251 Mount Blue St., Norwell. Charges: OUI of drugs, marked lanes violation, possession of Class B drug.

TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

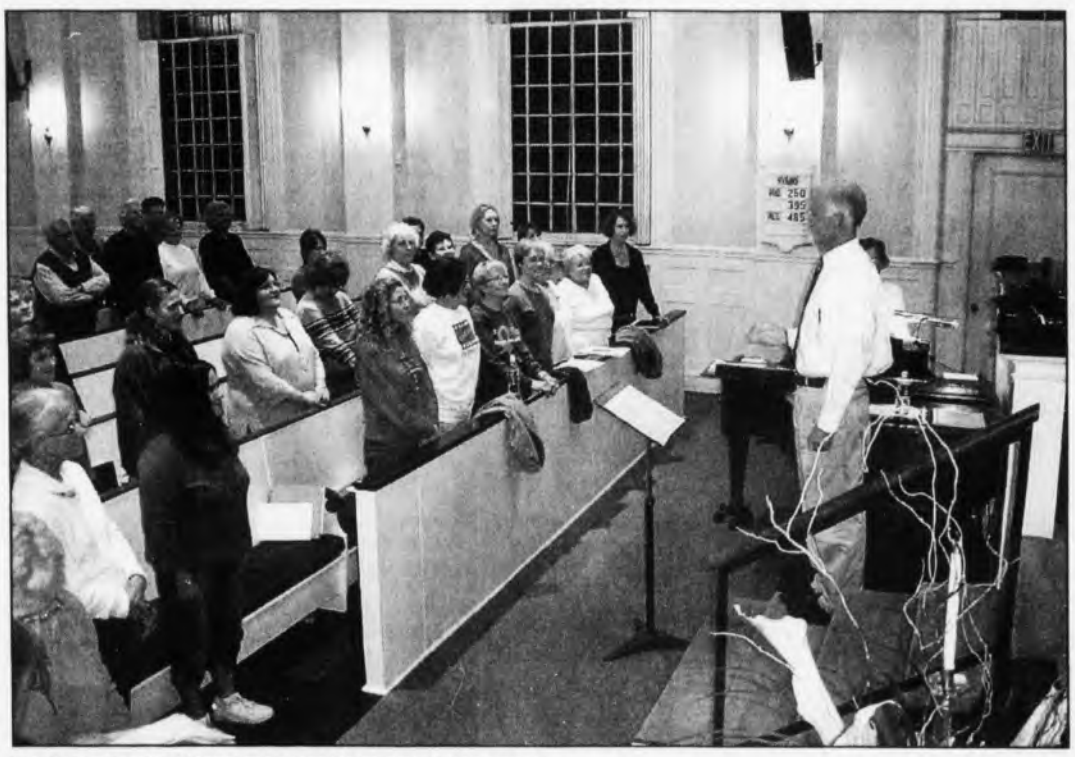
NOVEMBER 8-16, 2007

Pilgrim Festival Chorus to highlight works of Elgar and Brahms

The Pilgrim Festival Chorus will perform its fall concert Sunday, Nov. 11, at 3 p.m. in The Church of the Pilgrimage at 8 Town Square in Plymouth. The 62-member community chorus will be conducted by PFC Music Director William B. Richter.

The concert will feature several works by composer Edward Elgar, in honor of the 150th anniversary of his birth.

"Marking an anniversary of a composer with a concert is a tradition throughout Europe," PFC Accompanist Elizabeth Reilly said. "Featuring Elgar's works is a wonderful way to keep the music alive in modern society. This tribute reminds us of the diverse, progressive nature of music through the ages."



The chorus is currently rehearsing its performance of four of Elgar's part-songs and his rendition of the Catholic hymn "Ave Verum".

Elgar (1857-1934) was an English composer who often derived his compositions from his Catholic faith. He was a self-taught pianist, organist and violinist, under the influence of his father, who was also a musician. He composed more than 100 choral works that earned him knighthood and other recognitions.

Also in preparation is "The Liebeslieder Waltzes" by Johannes Brahms. This German-language piece features a unique four-hand piano accompaniment, to be performed by Reilly and guest pianist Vickie Schlosser.

Guest Accompanist Vickie Schlosser, left, and PFC Accompanist Elizabeth Reilly rehearse the four-hand piano accompaniment for "The Liebeslieder Waltzes" by Johannes Brahms.

The Pilgrim Festival Chorus rehearses for its Nov. 11 fall concert.

"These fast-moving selections of love songs were the popular music for dancing and socializing in the 19th century," Richter said. "The chorus is focused on perfecting the dynamics and presentation of this piece, so that it may remain true to its original form."

Brahms (1833-1897) was also the son of a musician, and began composing music as early as age 13. He devised music techniques that have influenced composers ever since. Brahms' greatest vocal work, "German Requiem," along with many others, is still widely performed today.

Tickets for the Nov. 11 performance are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. Advance tickets are available at The Golden Gull Studios at 17 South Park Ave. (508-746-8091); Frame It Studio and Gallery at The Pinehills, on Meeting Way (508-209-0550); and at the Plymouth Philharmonic office at 16 Court St., (508-746-8008). Tickets are also available from all PFC members.

For more information, visit the chorus' Web site at www.pilgrimfestival.org.

Send your calendar events to: Dorothy Dinsmore, Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 or by fax 781-837-4543 or email ddinsmore@cnc.com. For information call 781-837-4518. Deadline is Friday at noon. Visit Town Commons: What's happening on the South Shore on the web at townonline.com — click on your town — then click the funtab.

Thursday, Nov. 8

Food Allergy/Insect Sting Allergy: EpiPen Response seminar. 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 9, at the Conant Community Health Center, Bridgewater. To sign up for this free program, call 508-697-5800.

Cohasset Dramatic Club presents Moon Over Buffalo Performances take place at Cohasset Town Hall Auditorium, 41 Highland Ave., Cohasset, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-10, at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 2 p.m. For tickets call 617-697-2115.

The Friends of the Scituate Library and Buttonwood Books & Toys welcome Archer Mayor, . at 7 p.m. Nov. 8, at the Scituate Library, 85 Branch St., Scituate. Mayor will discuss "Chat", the 18th book in the highly successful and well-loved mystery series featuring Brattleboro, Vermont, policeman Joe Gunther. Books, provided by Buttonwood, will be available for purchase. If you are unable to attend and would like to purchase a signed book, call Buttonwood at 781-383-2665 or order online at buttonwood-books.com.

The Duxbury Newcomers Club invites the public to support local area women and invited guests as they showcase their handmade unique gifts and those of the companies they represent in the club's second annual Shop-A-Palooza. The event takes place at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, at The Pub in the Kingsbury Club in Kingston. It promises to be an evening of good food, good drink and - best of all - good shopping! More than 25 vendors include Mermaids of Duxbury, Bella of Cape Cod, Simply Beads, Celebrations, etc., Jilly Bean Bags and Wiggee's. Proceeds go to local charities. For information call Lori Mullin at 781-934-7173 or Mollie O'Hara at 781-934-9484.

The Buttonwood Book Group for Middle School children (Grades 6-8) will meet on Nov. 8, 7 p.m. at Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt. 3A, Cohasset. The facilitator is Ms. Barb Mullin. The selected book is "Flush" by Carl Hiaasen. No reservations are necessary. All are welcome. 781-383-2665.

Wine Tasting and silent auction to benefit TIC Network 6 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 8, at Plymouth Country Club featuring wine provided by Empire Wine and Spirits of Kingston and food prepared by the club's executive chef Keith Kolinsky Local singer Lori Asher will be performing. Tickets are $25 and are available through TIC by calling 781-834-4400 or e-mailing Ron Bersani at rbersani@ticnet-work.com

"Block Island Cottage" an acrylic by Susan Benoit

BEST BET

Gayle A. Loik and Susan Benoit present A Life in Color, through the end of December at Bella's Restaurant, 933 Hingham St, Rockland. Opening reception Nov. 11, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

"Musical Memories" a watercolor by Gayle A. Loik

Fairs and festivals

HOLLY FAIR at the Church of the Holy Nativity, 8 Nevin Road, South Weymouth, Nov. 9, 3 to 9 p.m.; Nov. 10, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Silent auction, and much more. Wii raffle. Roast-beef dinner, 6:30 p.m. Adults $10, children $5. All Welcome. 781-335-2030. Handicapped-accessible.

YE OLDE VILLAGE FAIR & LUNCHEON at the Harbor United Methodist Church 55 First Parish Road, Scituate, Nov. 10, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Luncheon 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Homemade luncheon featuring: fresh lobster rolls, fresh lobster salad dinner

ANNUAL HOLIDAY BAZAAR - The St. Francis of Assisi holiday bazaar held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 875 Washington St., Braintree 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 10. Lunch at 11:30 a.m. until sold out. 781-843-1597.

CRAFT FAIR The Mayflower Congregational Church, 207 Main St., Kingston, Nov. 10, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Briggs Building on Main Street. Tables available for rent. Anyone interested in a table or crafters who are interested in displaying at the fair contact Jo-Ann Gabriel at 508-747-8967 for details.

ANNUAL CHURCH FAIR, Bryantville United Methodist Church, 546 Mattakeesett St., Pembroke, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 10.

FALL HOLIDAY SALE, First Baptist Church of Abington 219 Adams St., Jct Routes 58 and 139, Abington,.9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 10 781-878-2447

17TH ANNUAL ANTIQUE SOUVENIR SHOW, Larry W. Williams Memorial Antique Souvenir, Taunton Holiday Inn, exit 9 off Rt. 495) from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 11. Admission $3.75. Club members on hand to offer free appraisals and information. 413-436-5998 or e-mail ctrtle@comcast.net

26TH ANNUAL HOLIDAY ART SALE The North River Arts Society Nov. 17 and Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. Admission is free.

15TH ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR, St. Ann by the Sea Crafters, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 17, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 18. Parish hall, 591 Ocean St., (Rt. 139) Marshfield. Table space available, $25 for two days. Call 781-83702447 or 781-834-4953.

PSYCHIC FAIRE: Wareham Lodge of Elks, 2855 Cranberry Highway, (Rt. 28 and 6) East Wareham, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 17. Admission $2.

AN OLD-FASHIONED HARVEST FAIR at the Norwell First Parish Church (at the junction of Rt.123 and River St. in Norwell Center) 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 17, rain or shine. Handicapped accessible. Call 781-659-7122 (mornings) for info.

FALL FAIR Pilgrim Congregational Church, 24 Athens St., North Weymouth, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 17. 781-337 2075.

ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR North Pembroke Elementary School PTO 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 18, from at the school. More than 40 local crafters, Pictures with Santa.

NINTH ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR Woodsdale School, 128 Chestnut St., (off Route 139) Abington from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Nov. 18, 86 craft tables, $1 adult admission to be donated to the Abington Food Pantry. Students will be selling Abington pajama bottoms.

CHANUKAH BAZAAR Congregation Shirat Hayam will be holding its annual Chanukah Bazaar Nov. 18. at their Temple located at 185 Plain St., (Route 139) in Marshfield from 9:30a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Open to the public and will feature holiday shopping, raffles and a bake sale. Congregation For info e-mail at info@shirathayam.net or by phone at 781.582.2700 shirathayam.net

LADIES HOLIDAY BAZAAR Black Rock Country Club, 19 Clubhouse Dr., Hingham, is hosting a, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 18, blackrockcc.com $25 per person.

Maureen Burke Santos

John Taormina

BEST BET

The South Shore Folk Music Club will hold a coffeehouse on Nov. 9, with John Taormina opening for Maureen Burke Santos, at the Beal House of the Unitarian Universalist Church, 222 Main St., Route 106, Kingston. The coffeehouse starts at 8 p.m.; doors open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for members and $6 for non-members. The evening will close with an open mike. ssfmc.org or 781-871-1052

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with Cindy Daley Band Nov. 8, at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 8, Living Proof 781-829-6999.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 8, 9 p.m. Jamie Walker.

Friday, Nov. 9

Friends of Braintree High Football Annual Comedy Night, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Braintree Moose Lodge, 175 West Howard St., Braintree. The show is featuring three professional comedians on stage at 8 p.m. plus an open mike session, DJ and raffles. Bring your own snacks, full service bar, adults only. A fun night for only $20 per person or $175 for a table of 10. Tickets available at the door. Proceeds will go to help support the Braintree High Football Program. For additional information, call Phil at 781-356-4135.

South Shore Singles will sponsor its bi-monthly dance with DJ: Dave Becker Nov. 9, from 8 to 11:30 at the Abington VFW, 30 Central St., Abington. Doors open 7:15 p.m. Free dance lesson 7:30 to 8 p.m. Free snacks and coffee, cash bar. 781-331-0021 southshoresingles.org

CALENDAR, see next page

The Capitol Steps bring their comedy and music to Plymouth Memorial Hall in Plymouth, on Friday, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m. Capitol Steps began as a group of Senate staffers who set out to satirize the very people and places that employed them, with album titles like, "I'm So Indicted," or "Papa's Got a Brand New Bagdad." Tickets priced at $40 for cabaret seating (which includes beverage service) and $30 for general admission, are on sale at the Plymouth Memorial Hall box-office at 50 Court St., in Plymouth, by phone at 508-747-1340 and 866-468-7619, online at plymouthhall.com and at all FYE and Strawberries stores.

BEST BET

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 8-16, 2007

"Afternoon Reflections," watercolor by Mary A. Smith

BEST BET

The South Street Gallery, 149 South St., Hingham will feature "Evidence of Life" works of Mary A. Smith on Nov. 16 from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Dec. 6. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

Continued from previous page

Wellspring Silver Star Soiree, A sparkling evening supporting the programs of Wellspring Nov. 9, 7 to 10 p.m. At the Derby Street Shoppes, 98 Derby St., Suite 460, Hingham. Food stations, music, wine silver giving stars, and the chance to win $1,000 shopping spree at the Derby Street Shoppes, $35 per person. Call 781-925-3211 for information or to purchase tickets

Communicating with deceased loved ones with Rita. Nov. 9, 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Center at Westwoods, Westwood. Costs $40 before Nov 1 and $50 after. For information, call Candita at 781-834-2728.

Phillips Old Colony House 780 Morrissey Blvd., Boston. Comedy and dinner show. Nov. 9, 7 p.m. Comics include Kevin Knox, Dan Boulger, Annette Pollack, Christine Hurley and Corey Manning. Call 617-282-7700, extension 0 or 781-843-4833 for reservations. The dinner and show is $39.95 per person. The comedy show alone is $25. Advance reservations are required.

The South Shore Folk Music Club will hold a coffeehouse on Nov. 9, with John Taormina opening for Maureen Burke Santos, at the Beal House of the Unitarian Universalist Church, 222 Main St., Route 106, Kingston. The coffeehouse starts at 8 p.m.; doors open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for members and $6 for non-members. The evening will close with an open mike. ssfmc.org or 781-871-1052

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 9, Sage 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 9, Flydown 781-829-6999.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Hoodoo Revelator Nov. 9, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpage-cafe.com or myspace.com/satch-snewbluesrevue

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, DJ Rick every Friday. 781-849-7007.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell, Nov. 9, 9 p.m. The Vibe, top 40. Cover charge.

Run of the Mill Tavern, 6 Spring St., Plymouth Nov. 9, Ole dudes.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 9, Funky White Honkies Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Saturday, Nov. 10

First Annual Veteran's Day Benefit Car Show Middleboro Town Hall Parking Lot, 10 Nickerson Ave., Middleboro, Nov. 10, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Prizes for best-entered cars, food and family fun. Car entry fee: $10 – all proceeds go to support working military dogs. All classic, muscle and show cars welcome. For information, call Kevin J. Cook, US Navy, Seabee – Retired and Middleboro resident. 617-899-2046, email: vetsdaycarshow@hotmail.com

Edaville USA, Christmas Festival of Lights, Route 58, Carver, Nov. 9-11 and Nov. 16-18. Visit Edaville.com for information

SCOH Learn To Skate: Our "Skate With US" program is a US Figure Skating Association Basic Skills program for boys and girls of all ages and skating abilities. Groups are kept small to allow for individual attention to student needs. Classes are held on Saturday mornings from 10:40-11:40 a.m. at the Pilgrim Skating Arena, 75 Recreation Park Drive, Hingham. For information call 781-741-8194 or check out our website: http://www.skateclub-hingham.org/learn.html

Adoption & Education Forum 2007 will be hosted by ASAP (Adoption & Foster Care School Awareness Project) on Nov. 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Pembroke Public Library, 142 Center St., Pembroke. Speakers will be Dr. Joyce Maguire Pavao, Dr. Boris Gindhis. Hollee A. McGinnis will host a panel of young adoptees on "Being Adopted - Being Different - Being in School." Workshops on cultural diversity, language comprehension, behavior management and more will be facilitated by professionals from Children of the World Books, Love & Logic Institute, Lindamood-Bell Learning Processes, DSS and Life Coach Anne Jolles. Registration is $35 (free to classroom teachers). We hope you will join us in forging a partnership for better, more sensitive and inclusive education. For information or to register visit asapmass.org or contact ASAP at asapmass@verizon.net or 781 293-3341

The South Shore Dancers will hold an Upscale Yard Sale at their next dance on Nov. 10. at the Cushing Center on Route 123 in Norwell. New or nearly new items can be donated for the sale. All proceeds will benefit the Lend-a-Hand program. There will be a dance lesson at 7:30 p.m. and dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. Admission is $9 for members and $10 for non-members. Reserve by calling Tom Osterland at 781 659-4703 or by email through our website: SouthShoreDancers.org.

Halifax Mobile Home Estates invites all adults to their monthly dinner dance. Nov. 10 at 6 to 11 p.m. Beef Stew Dinner with all of the fixings at 6: p.m. Dance with Dave Burbank and the DB Orchestra until 11 p.m. BYOB $15 per person. Henrich Hall Redwood Drive, Halifax. Reservations call Sally Burke at 781-293-8646 or Jo Schofield at 781-293-1206.

Down East Dancers monthly Country Dance at the Taunton Elks Lodge, 119 High St., Taunton. Dance lesson at 7:30 p.m. Couples and Line dancing, 8 p.m. to midnight with DJs Frankie & Marie. Potluck snacks, raffle, cash bar. $6. Information: 508-680-6736 or 781-925-1170. downeastdancers.com

Comedy night at Hong Kong City & Roseland Function Hall. 9 p.m., 174 Broadway, Taunton. Comics include Kevin Knox, Annette Pollack, Mike Bobek, Bobby Giardini, Chris Trabulsie, Alyx King, and Christine Hurley. Cover is $18 in advance, $23 the day of the show. For tickets call 508-822-2888 or 781-843-4833. Dinner will be served before the show, appetizers will be available during the show. Musical entertainment to follow.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 10, Easy Access 781-293-4135.

Violetta,(Natalie Polito) rejects Alfredo, (Kevin Hayden) for the sake of his family in South Shore Conservatory's La Traviata.

BEST BET

The South Shore Conservatory's presents Opera By The Bay's production of "La Traviata" at the Ellison Center for the Arts, Duxbury. This event has been rescheduled to Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m. A wine and cheese reception will precede the performances at 6:45 p.m. Opera by the Bay's production of Verdi's immortal classic features talented artists, full sets and costumes, and our intimate atmosphere that promises a first class operatic experience. Tickets are $20 for adults and $12 for children. For information contact Amy Schomp, 781-749-7565 x19 or amyschomp@southshoreconservatory.org.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 10, Six Foot Sunday 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, Nov. 10, Deepwater Blues. 781-849-7007.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Sweet Melissa, Stovall Brown, Madeleine Hall Nov. 10, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Mount Blue, Main St,. Norwell, Nov. 10, The Mystics.

Run O' The Mill, 6 Spring Lane (the Gristmill), Plymouth, Nov. 10, Traditional Irish Seisiun every Saturday evening from 5:30 to 9 p.m. Great tunes and songs of infinite variety from sea chanteys, rebel songs, and songs of loss, to jigs, reels, and hornpipes, with great craic and sing-along. Admission is free. No Cover. 508-830-1262.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 10, Bellevue Cadillac Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Sunday, Nov. 11

Edaville USA, Christmas Festival of Lights, Route 58, Carver, Nov. 9-11 and Nov. 16-18. Visit Edaville.com for information

The Pilgrim Festival Chorus Fall Concert performance, Nov. 11 at 3 p.m. at The Church of the Pilgrimage, 8 Town Square in Plymouth. Tickets are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. Advance tickets are available at The Golden Gull Studios at 17 South Park Avenue, Plymouth, 508-746-8091; Frame It Studio and Gallery at The Pinehills, Meeting Way in Plymouth, 508-209-0550; The Plymouth Philharmonic office at 16 Court St., Plymouth, 508-746-8008; and from PFC members. pilgrimfestival.org

Gayle A. Loik and Susan Benoit present A Life in Color, through the end of December at Bella's Restaurant, 933 Hingham St, Rockland. Opening reception Nov. 11, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

South Shore Conservatory presents Violinist Zack Ebin in concert with Pianist Eugene Kaminsky on Sunday, Nov. 11, 4 pm in Cox Hall at One Conservatory Drive, Hingham. The free concert features pieces for violin and piano by Bach, Beethoven and Franck. Cox Hall is handicapped-accessible. For directions to South Shore Conservatory's Hingham campus, visit southshoreconservatory.org or call 781-749-7565, ext. 10.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 11, Red Feather Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

CALENDAR, see next page

Mark your calendar

THE 16TH ANNUAL OPEN STUDIOS, with 36 artists located in the ET Wright Building, 379 Liberty St., Rockland and seven artists located in the American Sandpaper Co., 83 E. Water St. Rockland. Nov. 17, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Nov. 18 from noon to 5 p.m. The 4rth Floor Artists will be working and demonstrating in their studios, see displays of their work, Artists include painters, printmakers, sculptors, photographers, jewelers, graphic designers, interior designers, architects, fiber artists, woodworkers, and potters. Plenty of free parking with police details. The ET Wright building is handicapped accessible. 781-792-1705 4thfloorartists.org

BENEFIT CONCERT FEATURING HISTORIC EAST WEYMOUTH ORGAN The historic century-old organ of East Weymouth Congregational Church will be the star of a Nov. 18 concert featuring five organists in a benefit to restore and preserve the instrument. Admission is $10 for adults and $7 for students and seniors, and all proceeds will benefit the restoration and preservation of the instrument.For information call 781-340-1403, 781-974-3503 or visit www.eweyucc.org.

NORTH POLE EXPRESS Nov. 24, take a ride on the Polar Express at Kingston Commuter Rail Station.The event includes a magical ride aboard "The Polar Express" train, treats, a special gift from Santa and Mrs Claus and more. Tickets are $20 each and the train will leave the station at noon, 2:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. All proceeds benefit the Daniel Webster Elementary School Project Playground and PTO, Marshfield. For information or to purchase tickets, call 781-837-3555.

Movie review

Dirty 'Old Men'

No Country for Old Men (A)

Film Review
By Al Alexander

Joel and Ethan Coen like to cast actors with interesting faces. Javier Bardem gets the nod in their terrific new film, "No Country for Old Men.

I've never paid much attention to Josh Brolin. I always thought of him as a marginal talent feeding off his father's fame, sort of like Lorenzo Lamas.

Then I saw "American Gangster" and was surprised at how forcibly he registered in a few short scenes as a corrupt New York City detective sporting a sinister scowl and even more sinister mustache. He was great. And now he's even better, giving an Oscar-worthy performance in "No Country for Old Men."

This dude can act.

As terrific as he is, playing a trailer-park schnook on a run for his life after playing finders-keepers with a satchel containing $2 million in cash, Brolin isn't even the best actor in the movie. He's not even the runner-up.

Those spots go to Tommy Lee Jones and Javier Bardem, both even more mesmerizing than usual as Texans on opposite sides of the law and the opposite sides of a sea change in a way of life.

They form the fissured heart of Joel and Ethan Coen's brilliant adaptation of Cormac McCarthy's prize-winning novel about the borders between nations, eras and men's souls. A finer film, you will not see this year.

It has everything, from biblical themes of good vs. evil to ruminations on karma, fate and chance. But it's the way the Coens fold these esoteric musings into a standard chase film that reek of genius.

It couldn't have come at a more opportune time for the brothers, either, following arguably the two worst films of their career in "The Ladykillers" and the aptly named "Intolerable Cruelty."

Both were broad comedies that were a radical departure from their forte of crafting dark, subtle humor out of human foibles, as was the case with their two masterpieces, "Fargo" and "Blood Simple."

"No Country for Old Men" finds them back in suspense mode, combining elements of both pictures into something familiar yet so utterly unique it's practically beyond explanation. Like McCarthy's novel, it's a story that envelops you, luring you deeper and deeper into characters driven by a sense of duty, no matter if that means killing people, a la Bardem's assassin in a Prince Valiant haircut, or protecting them, a la Jones' wise old Texas lawman.

Both keep you riveted, as does Brolin as the resourceful rube they're chasing for wildly divergent reasons. Will they catch him? If so, who will get there first? And is Brolin's Llewelyn Moss just dumb and naïve enough to think he can elude them?

Those are among the many questions the Coens raise, as they keep you guessing about where the story is headed next. It's thrilling to behold, especially when you consider the whole thing is built around a standard plot in which a regular guy, albeit one as handsome as Brolin, goes hunting in the West Texas desert, comes across the bloody remains of a drug deal gone bad and finds a bag filled with more money than he and his beloved wife Carla Jean (Scot Kelly Macdonald nailing the Texas accent) could ever need.

Like the equally delicious "A Simple Plan," Llewelyn grabs the cash knowing, but not really considering the consequences of his actions. And those consequences are Bardem's ruthless killer Anton Chigurh, a man so evil he'd make Hannibal Lector shake in his body harness. It doesn't take him long to figure out who has the money, setting the stage for a terrific cat-and mouse game between Llewelyn, Chigurh and the town's wise old bloodhound of a sheriff, played by Jones.

Woody Harrelson eventually joins in the pursuit, too, playing a private detective hired by the money's rightful owner, an unscrupulous businessman played by Steve Root. Toss in a nasty pit bull, a crazy old uncle (Barry Corbin) and enough clueless counter jockies to stock eight Kevin Smith movies and you're talking one helluva good time.

The great Roger Deakins, serving as the Coens' director of photography for a ninth time, captures it all in a rapturous mix of stark open spaces and tight gaudy interiors, mostly flea-bag motel rooms that almost become characters in themselves.

It's in these run-down dens of inequity where some of the most thrilling scenes take place, as the Coens tap into their inner-Hitchcocks to create suspense out of something so simple as a ringing telephone.

If there were a flaw, it would be the ending, which may be construed as a bit pretentious by some, especially when you're expecting it to end with more of a bang. But a big, loud shootout would be a horrible efface to a film that's all about subtlety and reading between the lines.

It's an ambiguity that leaves the story wide open to interpretation. Why, for example, does Chigurh off his many victims with a pneumatic punch instead of a gun? And why does Jones' sheriff still investigate crime scenes on horseback? And why do these two desperate traits dovetail together so well?

The beauty of "No Country for Old Men" is trying to figure it all out. And the more you jostle its ideas in your head, the more you love everything about it. It's in a word, spectacular.

"No Country for Old Men" is rated R for strong graphic violence and some language.

SCITUATE MUSIC
Serving NE musicians since 1969
Over 700
Electric and Acoustic Guitars, Basses, Banjos, Duicimers, Mandolins, Ukuleles
Fender Guild
Huge selection of Fender and Guild Guitars, Basses and Amplifiers
Heritage DOD Digitech Boss EMG Seymour Duncan Sonic Nady EV Shure
Drum Sets
Cymbals Accessories Drum Lessons
USED Guitars • Amps Drums • Effects
PAYMENT PLANS
SONOR Zildjian SABIAN
DIGITAL PIANOS KEYBOARDS
CASIO
BAND INSTRUMENTS NEW • USED SALES • RENTALS ACCESSORIES
PA System Rentals & Sales All Sizes
Guitar & Amp Repair DJ & 4-track rentals
Guitar, Bass & Drum Lessons
CDs • TAPES 10,000 TITLES • Special Orders •
SHEET MUSIC "One of the largest selections in New England"
Scituate Harbor 781-545-9800

Zack Ebin

BEST BET

South Shore Conservatory presents Violinist Zack Ebin in concert with Pianist Eugene Kaminsky on Sunday, Nov. 11, 4 pm in Cox Hall at One Conservatory Drive, Hingham. The free concert features pieces for violin and piano by Bach, Beethoven and Franck. Cox Hall is handicapped-accessible. For directions to South Shore Conservatory's Hingham campus, visit southshoreconservatory.org or call 781-749-7565, ext. 10.

FINE ARTS CHORALE
ANNUAL CONCERT
Dr. Libor Dudas, Director
Sunday, Nov. 18, 4:00 pm, Old South Union Church
25 Columbian Street, South Weymouth
Featuring Mozart's "Missa Brevis in F Major,"
Dvorak's "Mass in D Major," and
J.S. Bach's "Missa Brevis in A Major."
Tickets $15.00, $12.00 for seniors and students.
For more information 800-230-7555
or visit www.fineartschorale.org.

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 8-16, 2007

BEST BET

Dreamchasers Theatre Arts Center of Norwell presents performances of "The Guyer Girls" on Nov. 16 and 17, at 7 p.m. and Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. at the Dreamchasers home, The Norwell Grange Hall, 142 Main St., Norwell. Starring in "The Guyer Girls" is Corinne Manning of Norwell as Mama. Her daughters are played by Emma Parrish of Duxbury, Raisa Hoffman of Marshfield, Tess Wenger, Rachael Caldwell and Alice Tilles all of Norwell. Tickets are $10, $8 senior citizens and students and $5 for Dreamchasers students. 508224-4548 dreamchaserstheatre.org

Continued from previous page

Monday, Nov. 12

New Beginnings, a non-profit, non-sectarian support organization for single, widowed, separated and divorced men and women, offers a safe place for healing and encouragement as you start a new chapter of your life. Meetings are every Monday at the UCC Church, 460 Main St., Norwell, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Support groups meet 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., followed by social time and the evening's program or speaker. Orientation is 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. each Monday All are welcome. For information, call Peggy Loud at 781-659-1857 or e-mail uccnorwell@aol.com

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke, every Monday, free Texas Hold'em with Northern poker league 781-829-6999.

Tuesday, Nov. 13

The South Shore Men of Harmony Barbershop Chorus invites men of all ages who like to sing to join them during the month of November to rehearsals that will be open to anyone who would like to learn Christmas music sung in the Barbershop acapella style. They will be accepting invitations from all sorts of organizations to present Christmas programs and would be delighted to include whoever is interested in having fun singing. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., at the corner of Central Street. Call 781-337-SING for additional information or e-mail danielcostello@gmail.com or billfitzjr@aol.com.

Hull artist Lenore Schneider presents Forever a'Bloom in the Clemens Gallery at Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham through Nov. 30. The show consists of eight flower drawings. She invites the public to her Sunday, Nov. 4, opening reception from 2 to 4 p.m. "Forever a'Bloom" may be viewed during library business hours. Learn more about Lenore Schneider and her art work by visiting lenoreschneider.com

The Buttonwood Book Group for Adults will meet at 7 p.m. Nov.13, at Buttonwood Books & Toys, Shaw's Plaza, Rt.3A, Cohasset. The selected book is Emma by Jane Austen. The facilitator is Ms. Sarah Duffield. No reservations are necessary. All are welcome. 781-383-2665.

La Leche League meeting: Mothers and mothers-to-be who would like to learn more about the normal course of breastfeeding are invited to attend this month's meeting at 7 p.m. Nov. 13, at the Hingham Public Library (corner of East and Leavitt Street). Babies are welcome. Other LLL services include a lending library and 24-hour telephone help. For information, call Christie 781-740-7808.

The Ventress Memorial Library in Marshfield hosts an ongoing book discussion group. The next session will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 13, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the historical room. The fall sessions will feature the Pulitzer Prize winning novel "Angle of Repose" by Wallace Stegner. Contact librarian Chris Woods if you need a copy of the book. Sign up in advance to reserve a seat, or just come on the day to listen. Free and open to the public. New members welcome. Light refreshments will be served. 781-834-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

Wednesday, Nov. 14

Dukakis to speak at Bridgewater State College. 1:30 p.m. Nov. 14, in the Campus Center Large Ballroom. Former Massachusetts Governor and Presidential nominee Michael Dukakis will present "The Uninsured: Forty-seven Million ....and Counting." For information, call 508-531-2627.

Dickinson Art Gallery, 1132 Main St., Weymouth presents the mixed-media works of the experimental contemporary painter, Stanley Krupa, in the Glass Gallery from Nov. 3 through Nov. 16. The studio gallery will be showing works by Edwina Caci, Vincent Elliot, William Beyer, Steve Boczanowski, Dominic Farrell, Kathy Ferrara, Roger Gill, Dick O'Brien, Isabelle Shamitz, Brian Josellyn, Charyl Weissbach, Marilyn Reisberg, Stephan H. Holland, Danielle Myers, Chris Myers, George Hartley, Corey Ritch, Charlie Robinson, J. Marshall Dyke, Danielle Festa, George Murray, Lisa Smith, and Fred Madden, as well as the private collection of the gallery owner, Donald Dickinson. Gallery hours are Wednesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m. dickinsonartgallery.com 781-331-3384.

The Fogg Lecture Series at First Parish Norwell, 124 River St., Norwell welcomes Kate Braestrup discussing her book, Here If You Need Me, on Nov. 14, 7 p.m. "Here If You Need Me" is an engrossing memoir filled with anecdotal stories recounting Kate's life after her Maine state trooper husband was killed by a driver who lost control of his car. After his death, Braestrup decided to pursue the career he had planned for his retirement. She became a Unitarian Universalist minister. This is a free event. Books, provided by Buttonwood Books & Toys, will be available for purchase at the event. If you are unable to attend and would like to order a personalized or signed copy, call Buttonwood Books at 1-781-383-2665.

The South Shore OCD Support Group holds monthly meetings for adults suffering from OCD, parents of children suffering from OCD or friends and family of adults suffering from OCD. Meetings are at 7 p.m. on the second Wednesday of every month at the Duxbury Senior Community Center, 10 Mayflower St.,, Duxbury. (Route 3 to exit 10 east, to Tremont Street, (RT 3A North) to 10 Mayflower). The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 7p.m. No cost. Wheelchair accessible. 508 830-1630.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

Thursday, Nov. 15

Braintree Art Association meeting, Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Thayer Public Library, second floor, 798 Washington St., Braintree. David Curtis will demonstrate watercolors. Free and open to the public.

Dreamchasers Theatre Arts Center of Norwell presents The Guyer Girls. This is the final dress rehearsal at 4 p.m. Nov. 15, to which senior citizens and teachers are invited free of charge. Doors open at The Norwell Grange, 142 Main St., Norwell at 3:30 p.m. 508-224-4548 dreamchasersthreatre.org

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

Toastmasters Club, Hanover. The new South Shore Professionals Toastmasters club will meet on the first and third Monday of every month. This is a great opportunity to learn about how Toastmasters can help you become a more effective leader and communicator. The meetings will run from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Rockland Trust building, 2036 Washington St.- third floor. Arrive 15 minutes early since the meeting starts at 6 p.m. sharp. Contact Stacey for information at 617-548-5877 or stacey@letitflowfitness.com. or toastmasters.org.

The Norwell Garden Club in collaboration with the Scituate Garden Club will present Holiday Designs with Robin Murphy Nov. 15, at 7 p.m. at Cushing Memorial Hall, 673 Main St., Norwell. Refreshments will be served and admission is Free.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 15, Apex Goodbye 781-829-6999.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's.every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 10, Bellevue Cadillac Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

BEST BET

Friday, Nov. 16

The South Street Gallery, 149 South St., Hingham will feature "Evidence of Life" works of Mary A. Smith on Nov. 16 from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Dec. 6. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

JM Productions presents Bandstand Revue with an Elvis Tribute and dancing. Dinner Show. Raffael's at the Clarion Hotel, Hull. For tickets, call: JM Productions at (617) 786-SHOW (7469) or visit JM Productions secure website for on line credit card purchasing at jmproductionspresents.com Patrons can also call Raffael's directly for telephone orders at 781-925-4515. Tickets for show only are $30 per person for dinner and show $50 per person with special hotel rates to stay over at the Clarion.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 16 Johnny Hoy. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com.

Left to right, Jean DiGiacomandrea, Meri Mizaras, Ron Pomykala and Kurt Hochkeppel.

BEST BET

Cohasset Dramatic Club presents "Moon Over Buffalo." Performances take place at Cohasset Town Hall Auditorium, 41 Highland Ave, Cohasset, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 8-10, at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 2 p.m. For tickets call 617-697-2115. The cast is made up of eight South Shore residents with Kurt Hochkeppel playing the role of Paul and Sharon White as Eileen, both Cohasset residents. The lead characters, George and Charlotte Hay are portrayed by Ron Pomykala of Plymouth and Meri Mizaras of Middleboro. The cast also includes Jean DiGiacomandrea in the comic role of Charlotte's mother, Ethel, Angela Paz as George and Charlotte's ever so rational and practical daughter, Rosalind, and Terry Low Those performers all hail from Scituate. Stephen Lee of Randolph rounds out the cast of characters as Richard.

Reunions

HOLBROOK HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion class of 1987, Nov. 10, 7 to 11 p.m. Cocktail Reception at The Four's Restaurant, 15 Cottage Ave., Quincy. Includes: cash bar, appetizer buffet, desserts, and a DJ. $40 per person. RSVP to: hhsclass1987reunion@yahoo.com or call 617-240-3846 as soon as possible. Tickets must be pre-paid.

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 2002-Fifth year reunion Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Salon du Soleil at the Red Lion Inn, Cohasset.

SILVER LAKE REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 72 35th class reunion, Nov 23, at Royal Garden Restaurant, Kingston Tickets are $25 per person includes Chinese buffet. Send check to Silver Lake Class of 72 Reunion, P.O. Box 2227 Duxbury, MA 02332. E-mail silverlaker72@yahoo.com or contact mirish21@hotmail.com or call 781-582-3516.

NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987 20 year class reunion on Nov. 23, 7:30-12:30 at Black Rock Country Club, Hingham. Ticket price is $50 per person, includes: cash bar, hors d'oeuvres, desserts and DJ. Call Cheri (Connolly) Farley at 781-659-5898 for more information or visit norwellhs1987.myevent.com

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 10 Year Reunion – class of 1997, Nov. 23, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Jillian's on Lansdowne St., Boston, on the second floor in the main Jillian's complex. $25 per person and guests are welcome. Includes plenty of food, lots of pool tables, and bowling.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987, Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at the Red Parrot in Hull Alumni are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL 30th reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/ M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion Class of 1982 Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 15th reunion Class of 1992 Nov. 23, 8 p.m. to midnight at F1 Boston on Wood Rd. in Braintree. The cost is $45 per person and the evening will include DJ, cash bar, and apps. Checks can be made payable to Laurice Vallancourt/BHS Class of 1992 and mailed to 11 Winter Terrace, Hanson MA 02341 by Nov. 9. Any questions, contact Laurice (Gunn) Vallancourt at vallancourt11@comcast.net

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 30th Reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987. 20th Reunion. Nov. 24, from 6:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at Marriott Hotel, Quincy. Ticket price is $60 per person, includes: appetizers, cash bar, and DJ. For information contact siobhan@swerling.com. Tickets must be pre-paid. Hotel Rooms are available

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr., Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holiday-inn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1977 30th year reunion, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Nov. 24. Dinner buffet at The Weymouth Elks, Washington St., (Rte. 53). Includes: cash bar, appetizers, dinner buffet, dessert and DJ. $35 per person. RSVP to weymouthsouth77@yahoo.com by Nov. 12.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987 Saturday, Nov. 24, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Sons of Italy in Braintree. $35 per person or $60 per couple. Includes D.J., cash bar and apps until 10 p.m. Checks made payable to B.H.S. Class of 1987 and should be mailed to Mary Ellen Coffey, 53 Till Rock Lane, Norwell, MA 02061. Any questions, contact Mary Ellen (Gunn) Coffey at maryellen724@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion - Class of 1982. Nov 24, 7 p.m. Emerald Hall Function Facility, 125 Bay State Drive, Braintree. Appetizers served throughout the evening and DJ for dancing. The cost is $35 per person, $60 per couple. For information visit braintreehigh.com and click on 1982. Endorse checks to Bob Malloy/BHS 82 and mail check with your name and guest's name to: 171 Helen Drive, Abington, MA 02351. Include phone or email so we can acknowledge receipt. For information or to update your contact information contact Bhs82@beld.net.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1982, 25th Reunion, Dec. 1, from 7 to 11 p.m.at The Jones River Trading Company, 42 Elm St., Kingston, $40 per person check payable to: WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF '82 Mail to: Mary Beth Hillson, 5 Collins Circle, South Weymouth, MA 02190. For more info or questions e-mail weymouthsouth82@yahoo.com

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASS FLORIDA REUNION: The 25th Annual Braintree High All Class Florida Reunion will be held at the Ramada Plaza Hotel in Kissimmee, FL the weekend of Feb. 8, 2008. The reunion luncheon is scheduled for Feb. 9, 2008. The cost of the luncheon will be $25 per person. For complete details, logon to braintreehigh.com, click on "Florida" or contact Jill (Whitten) Coyle at 781-843-3275 or jcoyle@beld.net.

ABINGTON HIGH SCHOOL 25th Reunion, Class of 1983 July 12, Location: TBD Time: tentatively 6 to 11 p.m. Seeking classmates. Contact Lisa Daniels (c.508-404-8326 or muffinmanny2000@yahoo.com) or (w 508-350-0101 or jimstoffel@hotmail.com) with updated contact information.

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

The Braintree Ballet Company

&

Director and Choreographer: Melissa Kelley Clark

Present

"THE NUTCRACKER"

a full length ballet production

East Middle School, River St., Braintree

For ticket information or to purchase tickets, please call:

Melissa Kelley's Dance Studio of Braintree, LLC

781-380-8856

Also visit our website at www.braintreeballetcompany.com

Celebrating our 12th season

A wonderful, magical holiday experience for the whole family.

(please check with age restrictions when calling for tickets)

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8TH at 2PM & 7PM

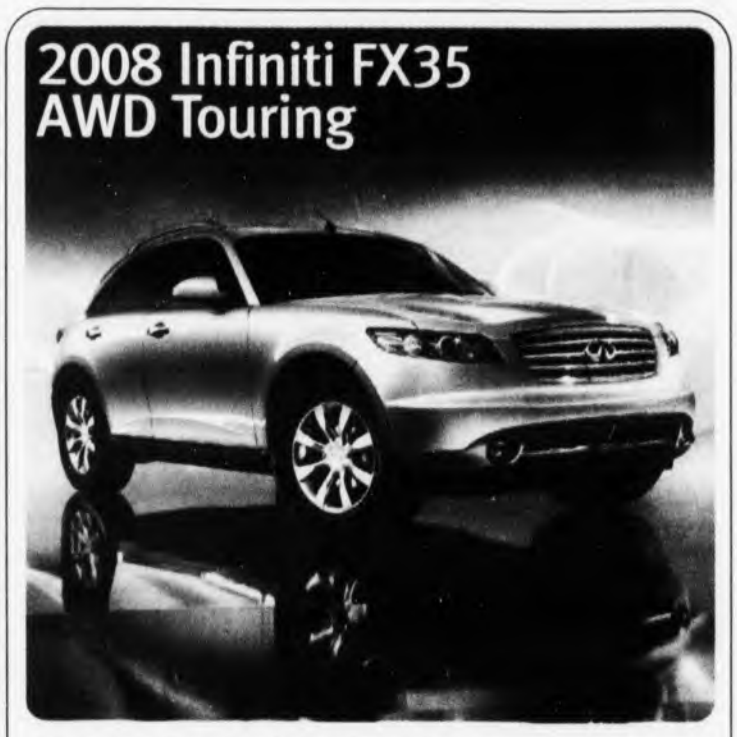
SUNDAY, DECEMBER 9TH at 2PM

INFINITI®

Quality. Luxury. Value.

2008 Infiniti G37 Sport Coupe

2.9% Available



MSRP $42,025

LEASE FOR $479* per mo. for 42 mos. $2,999 cap cost reduction

Voice Activated Navigation, Rear View Monitor, Blue Tooth, 300 HP V6, Bose Stereo, 6-Speed Manual...And Much More

Model #99368

2008 Infiniti FX35 AWD Touring

MSRP $42,865

LEASE FOR $389* per mo. for 24 mos. $1,399 cap cost reduction

Hands-Free Package, Bose Stereo/iPod Connector, XM Radio, Leather ...And Much More

Model #87418

2007 Infiniti G35x AWD Sedan

2.9% Available

MSRP $34,840

LEASE FOR $389* per mo. for 39 mos. $1,999 cap cost reduction

Heated Leather Seats, Power Moonroof, Intelligence Key, In-Dash CD Changer, Power Front Seats...And Much More

Model #90617

2008 Infiniti QX56 AWD

2.9% Available

MSRP $58,075

LEASE FOR $599* per mo. for 42 mos. $5,999 cap cost reduction

Leather, DVD Navigation, 20" Chrome Wheels, Power 3rd Row Seat, Heated Steering Wheel...And Much More

Model #86418

All New 2007 Infiniti M35x AWD

2.9% Available

MSRP $45,560

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $4,599 cap cost reduction

Leather, Navigation, Blue Tooth, Rear View Monitor ...And Much More

Model #98017

*Tax, 1st months payment, plates, registration, title, documentation and bank acquisition fees additional on all leases. Zero security deposit. FX35 – 10k miles/year; QX56 – 10k miles/year; M35x – 10k miles/year; G37 Coupe – 10k miles/year. Offer expires 11/14/07.

"Where you're always treated right!"

Ira Rosenberg, Prime Motor Group

Prime MOTOR GROUP

572 Washington St., Hanover
1-888-425-8999 • www.primeinfiniti.com

Open Mon. thru Thurs. 9AM to 8PM
Fri. & Sat. 9AM to 6PM, Sun. Noon to 5PM

44 *CAR-RT WSHC-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY R
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
Reuben Tower house
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

SPECIAL
Holiday Happenings
► SEE INSIDE

8 02722 99075 7 46

Paul Pratt Memorial Library
35 Ripley Rd.
Cohasset, MA 02025

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2007 | 52 Pages | 3 Sections | Vol. 28, No. 46 | $1.00

Deer Hill School honors veterans

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

► SEE PAGE 7

States featured in wagon train

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

► SEE PAGE 21

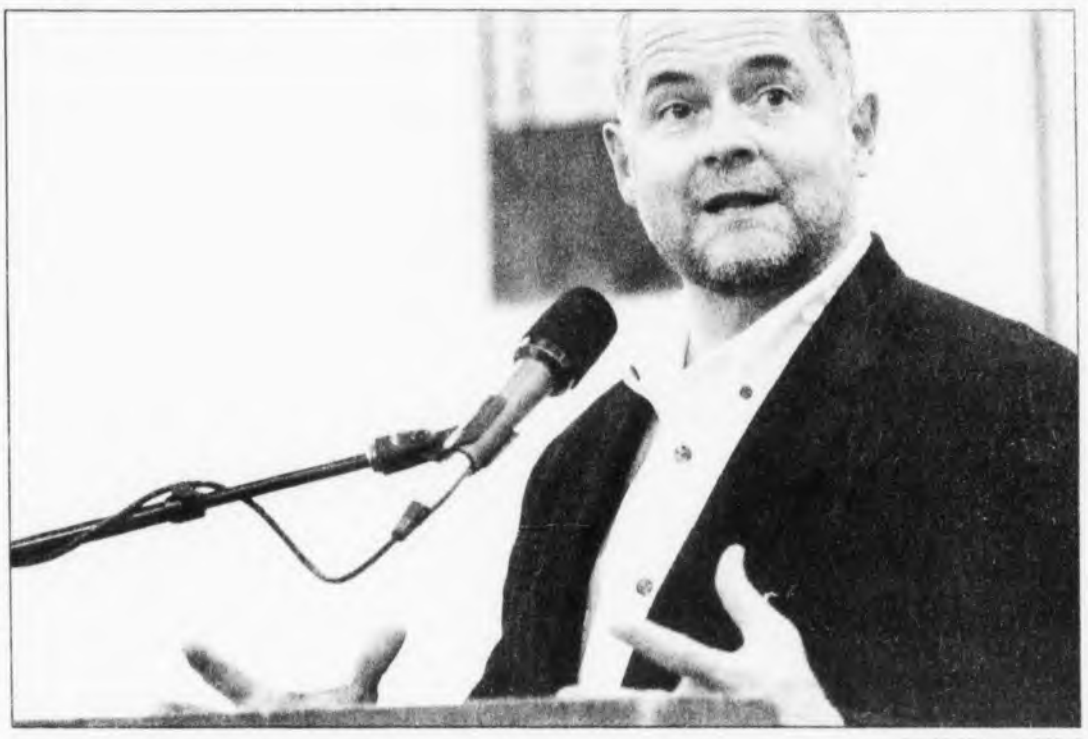
Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, the Cohasset Mariner will go to press a day early next week. Therefore, all news items and photographs must arrive by noon, Tuesday for next week's issue.
Even though, the Mariner goes to press on Wednesday, your hometown paper will arrive at the newsstands and in your mailboxes on Friday, as usual.
Contact Mary Ford at mford@cnc.com with questions.
Happy Thanksgiving!

QUICK INDEX

Post-prom update 4
Around Town 6
Wedding 6
Mad Scientist 8
Opinion 10, 11, 13
Life at CHS 20
Veterans Day 23
Worship 27

Victory for village bylaw

Passes muster with two-thirds of voters



By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The Village bylaw stole the show. Besides taking up over half of the Special Town Meeting discussion time, it elicited a passionate debate from both its proponents and opponents. In the end, the village bylaw (Article 4) passed after barely squeaking by with a two-thirds majority vote.

Six months of meetings and labor on the bylaw came down to a hand count on the floor of Town Meeting, with 151 in favor and 68 opposed. The motion surpassed the needed two-thirds threshold by just five votes.

With a cross section of citizens interested in the fate of the village, Special Town Meeting held on Tuesday (Nov. 13) in the Cohasset High gymnasium had little problem drumming up a quorum. The meeting began shortly after 7p.m. after the necessary 100 registered voters had checked in, in total 252 voters came out to discuss the 11-article warrant. Town Meeting dissolved around 10p.m., a little less than three hours after it began

SEE VILLAGE, PAGE 12

Mike Westcott of the Planning Board presents a brief overview of the six-page bylaw to voters at Tuesday's Special Town Meeting.

Fulfilling an orphan's dream

Retired CHS teacher leads the charge

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

For 32 years, Virginia Burbank taught grammar and literature at Cohasset High School and when she retired 10 years ago she figured she would spend the rest of her days relaxing in the rocking chair given to her as a parting gift. But in the past year, Mrs. Burbank's quality rocking chair time has been replaced with a determined and passionate drive to build an orphanage in Africa.

"It's exhausting but it's worth it, I can't wait to put my arms around the very first orphan."
— Virginia Burbank

A little over a year ago, Burbank accompanied her missionary sister into the heart of Kenya — and to the largest and worst slum in the world — a section of Nairobi called Kibera.

"I cried for the first two days of the trip because of what I saw — the poverty and the horror," says Burbank with a frown. She recalls a scene she won't soon forget: finding 13 orphaned infants on the floor of a tiny, dirty hut; one woman had taken them in so they would have at the very least a watchful eye over them. The region, like so many in Africa, has been badly stricken by the AIDS epidemic and many children lose their parents to the disease.

After two days of overwhelming emotion, Burbank prayed to find some way to help the situation. "I didn't know it was like this. I didn't want to go back to America the same way I came."

She didn't wait long for the answer to her prayers, late that morning at 4a.m. she woke up and began writing in a journal. The inspiration that came out was to build an orphanage in Kenya to house 72 children at one time. Four hours later she had a skeleton framework of how she would proceed with building an orphanage.

SEE DREAM, PAGE 16

COURTESY PHOTO

An Orphan's Dream, a non-profit South Shore-based charity, is raising money to build an orphanage in Kenya. Thousands of children are left orphaned after losing their parents to AIDS.

Train crossing

No malfunctions or near misses in Cohasset

By Nancy White

Steps have been taken to make the Greenbush grade crossings as safe as possible, but residents still need to be vigilant when driving through a rail crossing.

If the red lights are flashing and bells are sounding, do not cross the tracks, says Police Lieutenant Bill Quigley, regardless of whether the gates are down.

There have been several calls to the station with concerns the Lower King Street grade crossing was not working properly, but after witnessing the gates operate Quigley says the gates are working the way they were designed.

When a southbound train approaches the Cohasset station, the lights flash, bells sound and the gates are lowered at the Lower King Street crossing. However, as the train leaves the station or as the rear of the train clears the intersection, the gates start to raise. The lights remain flashing and the bells persist. When the train is approaching again, the gates are lowered once again.

"The law says to stay stopped as long as the red lights are flashing," says Quigley. Despite some confusion reported on the part of drivers to the Police Department, there have been no accidents or near misses at the crossing in Cohasset.

A similar system exists at Hingham at the Union Street crossing and to the north at the West Hingham station. On Wednesday of last week, a motorist went through the crossing when the gates were up, but the lights still flashing, as he went through the intersection the rear of the train was about 50 yards away.

SEE TRAIN, PAGE 3

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436

DRIFTWAY
AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com

VISIT US ON RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ - Since 1947
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E2020
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ▮ Bonds ▮ CDs
Mutual Funds ▮ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
781-383-1096
www.edwardjones.com
Edward Jones

Free Checking
Free ATMs
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset

The Cabinet Outlet
NEW ADDRESS!
Custom Made Cabinets & Tops
Stock Cabinets • Installations
Aristokraft CABINETS
781-826-9450
352 Columbia Road (Rte. 53) • Hanover

Visit Us For Your Special Thanksgiving Party Platters
Jumbos • 2 lbs. and up • Crab
Try Our Individual Clam-Boils
FALL HOURS: SUN. 10:30-7, WED.-SAT. 10:30-8
(781) 871-2433 The Lobster Barn
996 HANCOCK ST., ABINGTON
RTE. 18 TO RTE. 139W (Left at sign for Ames Nowell State Park)

PILGRIM PAVING
"Solid as the Rock!"
www.pilgrimpaving.com
RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL
FALL SPECIAL 10x20
two layers of asphalt over gravel
$595.00
DRIVEWAYS • PARKING LOTS • STONE DRIVEWAYS
SEAL COATING • FREE WRITTEN ESTIMATES
781.982.9898
Bill Dyer
DISCOUNT TO SENIOR CITIZENS AND NON PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

the BLIND STORE
SPRING WHITE Sale!
Direct Manufacturer of Symphony-Cellular Shades
Vertical Blinds & Custom Draperies
Design Consultants & Expert Installation Available
75% OFF
ie: Light Filtering Fabric-30x54
IS NOW $98
While Supplies Last! Similar Savings on Other Sizes. *In Stock Only
Comfortex BlindCrafter
272 Columbia Rd., Rt. 53 • Tedeschi Plaza • Hanover 781-826-6229 • 1-800-244-5998
www.theblindstore.com

PICTURE THIS/Abigail Hobson Alves

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

The Mariner caught up with Abigail Hobson Alves as she was checking voters in at the Special Town Meeting in the Sullivan Gymnasium on Tuesday night.

Name: Abigail Hobson Alves.

Occupation: Mom and part-time paraprofessional at South School (in Hingham).

Best day of your life: The day the man I had such a crush on in college asked me to marry him.

Best vacation: Trip to Japan my senior year in college to meet my pen pal I'd had since eighth grade.

Favorite season: Fall.

Favorite holiday: Each of my girl's birthdays: Melissa, July 9 and Grace, Feb. 9.

Favorite junk food: Oreo cookies.

Best magazine: Cooking Light.

Best movie: "Curious George." I love the soundtrack.

Best TV show: Frontline.

Dumbest thing you have ever done: Walking into a sliding glass door with a plate full of food.

Most memorable moment: When my first baby was born and the Doctor said, "It's a girl weighing 9 pounds 15 ounces!"

Pet peeve: Christmas decorations up before Halloween.

Goal: To raise respectful, happy, healthy daughters.

Person you'd most like to meet: Abigail Adams.

Biggest worry: Paying for my daughters' college educations.

Best part of Cohasset: Every part.

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Number One Readers' Choice Awards 2005 #1
Number One Readers' Choice Awards 2006 #1
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31)
or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken w/cheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash
Call for an appointment
781-383-1403
Paperscapes
Stationery & Gifts
781-383-8008

Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

IT'S TIME FOR BIOHEAT®!
Ask 'more' of your Oilheat company.
We provide more.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

The Clog Shoppe
NEW Muck Boots
The Perfect Alternative for any Kind of Winter.
$10.00 Off
Any Regular Priced Clog or Boot with this Ad.
Gift Certificates Available
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street,
So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 10-4
Front & rear entrance and parking available.

Easy Lift RECLINER
$899
BERKLINE RECLINERS
WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM
781-878-5759 • 1-800-696-5759
459 Plain St., Rte. 139, Rockland
Near the No. Abington Line
Open Daily 9-5:30
Friday 9-8:30
Sunday 12-4
FREE DELIVERY FREE DISPOSAL

KEEP IT SIMPLE
If it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.
COUNTERTOPS
Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.
CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE
Bill Shea's
www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130
Kathy
Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.

Holiday Trimmings...
Trim the Turkey.
Trim your waistline!
Trim the price!!
SportsArt FITNESS
TOYS FOR TOTS Marine Corps Reserve
Bring in $20 or more worth of new toys and SAVE $100 on product $1499+
SAVE $200 on product $2199+
SAVE $300 on product $2999+
THE MOST KNOWLEDGEABLE & TRUSTED FITNESS CO. IN N.E.
• HUGE SELECTION • BEST SERVICE • SINCE 1988
PFE PRECISION FITNESS EQUIPMENT
0% FINANCING
Visit us at www.pfe-inc.com
NEWTON 275 Centre Street (Exit 17 off Pike between Bertucci's & Starbucks) (617) 244-0812
HANOVER 228 Columbia Rd. (Rt. 53) 781-826-2199
NATICK 217 West Central Street (Rte. 135, next to NTB Tire) 508-655-0288

"ZOLTAN" AT SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
GYM MEMBERSHIPS
Unique Group Exercise Classes
Personal Training with Award Winning Gymnast • Gift Certificates
S.W.E.A.T.© Weight Loss Program includes Acupuncture
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

MUSIC LESSONS
Get 1 free lesson with this ad (new students only)
Music is fun and we're pros! Ages 7 up!
Our staff is Berklee and NE Conservatory alumni.
Guitar, Bass, Drums, Voice, Piano.
Mon - Sat, $22.00 1/2 Hour. All styles & levels.
MATT'S MUSIC CENTER
RT 18 S. Weymouth - 781-335-0700 - mattsmusic.com

Need more workspace in your kitchen?
• Kitchen & Bath Remodeling
• Full Service • Additions, Decks
• Our own team of electric, plumbing, tile & granite professionals
Servicing the remodeling needs of our clients for over 20 years
Martin General Contracting
We stay on the job until it's complete!
142 East Street, Weymouth 781-337-5232
MA Lic # 056369
HIC# 142848
To view our other projects, please visit us online at www.mgc79.com

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2933
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION
888-343-1899

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

www.coupons.townonline.com

PHOTO/NANCY WHITE

An SUV makes its way across the tracks on lower King Street. The police log has been full of complaints over the past week about the grade crossings in town.

Care urged at all grade crossings

FROM TRAIN, PAGE 1

Quigley says there may be some fine-tuning of the rail crossing on Lower King Street, "we want to make sure it is safe."

At the North Main Street crossing, the gates on the street and at the entrance to the station are not working in sync. For a northbound train, the North Main Street safety signals are activated before the station entrance signals. They have contacted the MBTA to work on a solution to this issue.

"Usually when we call, the MBTA is responsive," said Quigley.

According to MBTA spokesman Joe Pesaturo, sensors installed at the grade crossings trigger an interruption of the signal system in certain instances.

"That interruption tells the train to stop," he said. "If someone is on the crossing after the gates come down, the sensors will interrupt the signal system and the train is required to stop."

At the same time, these sensors don't specifically indicate a grade crossing obstruction. "The indication is the same should a rail break or the signal system shut down and for many other conditions," Pesaturo said. "All of these situations require the train to stop, but none of them require the train to sound a horn." Train engineers are expected to sound a whistle when they know for sure that there is an obstruction on the track, however.

"The fact that the gates are already down is all the warning a motorist should need to get away from the tracks, grade crossing, and/or stalled automobile," Pesaturo said. "The horn will [sound] well after the gate activation and will usually be the result of visual detection of an obstruction by the locomotive engineer. Until the obstruction is seen, the engineer would not have information about why the signal system was interrupted."

The train may or may not be able to stop short of a grade crossing, depending on where the train is when the signal system is interrupted.

"The train will [eventually] stop, but it will require a certain distance for stopping," Pesaturo said. "The actual distance is a function of many variables, including train speed, track grade and curvature, train length and weight, and wet rails or other substances on the tracks, such as leaves."

Even though Greenbush trains will run on a schedule, a train could appear on the tracks at any time due to unforeseen circumstances. This means that adults, children, and pets should stay off and away from the tracks at all times and that vehicles should not stop on the tracks under any circumstances.

While engineers are allowed to blow their train's horns if they notice a person, vehicle, or T workers on the tracks, some fear that this warning could come too late because it takes up to a mile for a train to stop.

Police officers will continue to monitor all grade crossings and continue their public education campaign. Two officers are trained in Operation Lifesaver, an international organization devoted to education about train and grade crossing safety, and have been in the schools already this year to speak with children about train safety.

The Cohasset police have adopted a "no tolerance" policy when it comes to rail safety. Criminal complaints will be sought for anyone caught on the tracks or inside fences.

Reporter Carol Britton Meyer contributed to this report.

For more information about Operation Lifesaver and its public education programs, visit www.oli.org. For more information about OL and its public education programs, contact the MBTA Rail Safety Trespass Prevention Office, 500 Arborway, Boston, MA 02130.

POLICE BEAT

Turkeys tossed after store mishap

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

As many as three or four carriages full of turkeys had to be disposed of after a food freezer went on the fritz at Stop & Shop on Saturday afternoon.

Two police officers, two Cohasset engines and the Scituate ladder truck responded to the supermarket after receiving a call about 2:23 p.m. about smoke coming from one of the food freezers.

The store was evacuated and the Board of Health notified. Public safety personnel were tied up at the scene for about 80 minutes. A fire engine from Hull covered the Cohasset station in case of another call.

Cohasset Health Inspector Tara Tradd said the cause of the fire was the fluorescent light inside the case. "Some plastic was stuck to it and created the mishap," she said. "There were approximately 30 turkeys thrown out. About 20 feet of frozen product was thrown away."

She said she is waiting for the final list of all products and quantities from the store manager. She said the aisle was closed off until the contaminated product was removed.

No-left turns

Police continue to monitor Route 3A near the Dunkin' Donuts exit for motorists who are attempting to make left turns onto the state highway during peak hours. The driveway has a sign warning motorists not to turn left during certain hours. Police received a complaint last Monday (Nov. 5) that the sign was being ignored.

Lt. William Quigley said police are also working on an overall traffic plan for Route 3A that would address certain problem spots.

He said police urge motorists not to attempt the left out of the Dunkin' Donuts parking lot during rush hour. "It is especially dangerous when someone is juggling their coffee," Quigley said.

Abandoned bikes

Two more abandoned bicycles were turned over to the police last week. On Monday (Nov. 5) within 30 minutes police received two calls about bicycles left on residents' property and were asked to collect them.

The bike left on Border Street is a 21-speed boys' diamond back, valued at $200. The second bike found on Jerusalem Road is a boys' 18-speed silver Shimano bike with no seat. The Shimano bicycle is valued at $150, police said. In both instances residents notified police that bikes were abandoned on their property.

Lt. William Quigley said no one has called to report the bikes as missing. There are now a total of four abandoned bikes at the station. Police recently had propertyroom.com pick up a number of unclaimed bikes.

"We average about two abandoned bikes a week," he said.

MVAs

• Police are following up to see if a medical issue caused an accident last Monday (Nov. 5) involving a 93-year-old Cohasset woman who drove into a legally parked 2001 Chevy pickup on the side of the road. The accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. on Elm Street. The woman was passing the police station heading toward the harbor when she rear-ended the truck. There was heavy rear-end damage to the truck and front-end damage to the 1997 Saturn that the woman was driving. She was transported to the hospital with what appeared to be minor injuries, police said.

• At about 10:26 a.m. on Tuesday (Nov. 6), a water department employee in a town-owned Ford pickup truck apparently did not see an approaching car as he backed out of a spot in Shaw's parking lot and hit a 2000 Mazda Protégé that was driving by in the travel lane. The Protégé was being driven by a 78-year-old Scituate woman. There were no injuries. The Mazda had front-end damage but did not have to be towed and the truck had no visible damage. Police cannot issue citations on private ways. Lt. Quigley said the town employee's view was obstructed by the SUV parked in the next spot.

• Police credit seatbelts with preventing any injuries among teenagers who were involved in an accident at Route 3A and lower King Street last Tuesday (Nov. 6). A 2001 Chevy Astrovan driven by a 17-year-old Hingham girl was stopped on 3A in the southbound lane. The Astrovan was going to turn left when it was rear-ended by a 1994 Nissan driven by an 18-year-old Hull teen. There were four people in the Nissan, all under the age of 20, police said. "Everyone was belted and there were no injuries," Lt. Quigley said. The Astrovan had minor rear-end damage and the Nissan had some front-end damage. Both cars were towed. A citation will be issued to the driver of the Nissan for following too closely, police said.

• A 23-year-old woman from Blackburg, Va., was apparently lost and passed the turn on Pond Street when she pulled the 2004 Hyundai sedan she was driving over to the side of the northbound lane on Route 3A last Friday at about 5:30

SEE POLICE BEAT, PAGE 4

THANKSGIVING

Chocolates
Hostess Gifts
Fudge

Fresh Roasted Nuts
Gift Baskets
Mints

Send Gifts Online
hilliardscandy.com

Hilliards
CONFECTIONS SINCE 1924

Caramel Apples available Thanksgiving Week

Canton, Village Shoppes 781-828-9004
Easton, Rte. 138 508-238-6231
Hanover, Rte. 123 781-878-8533

LEARN - TO - SKATE CLASSES
CHILDREN (4 1/2 & UP) & ADULTS
BAY STATE SKATING SCHOOL
NEW CLASSES START SOON!
WEYMOUTH CONNELL RINK
Sundays 5:00 PM
QUINCY SHEA RINK
Fridays 4:00 PM
Sundays 11:00 AM
781-890-8480
www.baystateskatingschool.org
39 Years Experience

Nails By The Sea
THE ULTIMATE ADVANCED NAIL CARE
15% off ANY SERVICE MON.-THURS with this ad.
Offer expires 12/13/07 Manicures • Pedicures • Full Sets • Eyelash Extension
Herring Brook Places
Appointment/Walk-ins Welcome
28 New Driftway, Scituate
Across from Greenbush Station
(781) 545 - 1030
Mon - Fri 10:00am - 7:00pm
Saturday 9:30am - 5:00pm

"Is your bulkhead leaking, rotting or rusted?"
• Experienced & Dependable
• All Steel Construction
• Galvanized Steel Available

FREE ESTIMATES
Licensed & Insured
SENIOR CITIZEN DISCOUNT
781-834-3399
EAST COAST BULKHEADS

Remember last June when you said:
"We will do a will, healthcare proxy and some estate planning after the kids go back to school in the Fall?"
Well, they're back!
Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048
George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)
Member ~ Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL
EST. 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS
Aaron M. Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED
Smile Makeovers since 1987
ZOOM2 in-office chairside whitening
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

Sleep Testing Comes to Plymouth at the Hilton Garden Inn
Total Sleep™ announces the opening of a Sleep Testing Center designed to provide the very best experience.
Please consult your physician and contact us today to schedule your sleep study appointment.
No Need to Wait – Appointments Now Available
Scheduling Available
Monday – Friday
9am – 5pm
Call Toll Free:
866-852-5433
Or Fax:
800-443-7402
total sleep™
To Learn More About Our Sleep Programs Contact Fernando DaSilva at 508-524-6054
Hilton Garden Inn Plymouth
Four Home Depot Drive
Plymouth, MA 02360

SEASONAL POOL & PATIO CENTER
781-826-0077
over 1 acre of showroom
Store hours: Mon, Tues 10-6 • Wed, Thurs, Fri 10-8 • Sat 10-5:30 • Sun 12-5

OLHAUSEN The Best in Billiards
Largest Dealer in Mass.
Build the pool table of your dreams with Olhausen's Custom® Kiosk, or buy one of the 40 masterpieces on display. Stop in to see all our Pool & Game tables.
2 piece pool cues 25% off.
Hanover, MA 357 Columbia Road Route 53, next to Building 19
Quality Game Tables
Bars & Stools, Spectator seating

Turkeys tossed after store mishap

FROM POLICE BEAT, PAGE 3

p.m. As she pulled back into the lane, she struck a 2006 Mercury Grand Marquis driven by a 55-year-old Hull man who was trying to pass her on the left. She was cited for failure to use caution on a state highway.

• A man walked into the police station to report that his car had been "tapped" from behind by another vehicle when he was at a stop sign near the harbor and the car drove off. He asked police to look over his car and they did not find any damage, Lt. Quigley said. The man was unable to provide a plate number but said the car looked like a livery vehicle and could have been a Lincoln or a Crown Victoria. Police checked the area and notified area towns but were not able to locate the other car.

K-9 search

Some residents of Jerusalem Road may be wondering why a police K-9 unit was called in and officers were searching the area last Tuesday (Nov. 6) at about 8:45 p.m. Cohasset police said the incident originated in Hingham. Hingham police requested assistance from Cohasset and the Hull K-9 unit. The dog tracked the suspect from West Corner along Jerusalem Road toward Wadleigh Park. Hingham police later called off the search. Cohasset police said the suspect was wanted for motor vehicle infractions and was not dangerous.

Car B&E

A 66-year-old Cohasset man told police that while he was inside Walgreen's at 9 a.m. last Wednesday (Nov. 7), someone broke into his 1989 Ford pickup truck and stole about $4 in coins, including a silver dollar, and three Country Western cassette tapes. The truck was unlocked. Police viewed surveillance tapes from Shaw's but views of the truck were unclear. The incident is under investigation.

Dog bite

A dog has been quarantined after it chased and bit a 17-year-old boy who was on his way home from school last Wednesday (Nov. 7). The incident occurred on North Main Street and was reported by the teen's mother. The dog bit the back of the boy's thigh and ripped his pants, police said.

Locker larceny

Police are investigating the theft of a girl's purse from her locker at the middle school last Wednesday sometime between noon and 2 p.m. The girl's pink handbag containing two Visa gift cards valued at $150; $150 in cash, her student ID, some change, a Cingular/AT&T black razor cell phone, gum, lip gloss and pens and pencils, was taken. The incident was also reported to the assistant principal. There are no suspects at this time but detectives are investigating, police said.

Suspicious man

A woman ran into Walgreen's with her three children after a man approached her in the parking lot last Friday (Nov. 9). He told her that she had left her car in reverse. When she told him to leave her alone, he began to walk toward her and she ran into the store. Police think there could have been a misunderstanding and that he may have been trying to tell her that her "reverse" lights were staying on which sometimes occurs with car alarms. She notified police about 1/2 hour following the incident. When police arrived the man had left. The incident was out of view of the surveillance cameras.

ID theft

A Cohasset man thinks he may be the victim of identity theft after he wired a large sum of money to a bank in Nevada after attempting to purchase a boat on eBay. He was subsequently notified by eBay that his password might have been compromised.

eBay also said it had no listing of the boat or the transaction.

Cohasset detectives are following up with the bank in Nevada and eBay security. The victim was asked to notify credit-reporting bureaus.

For more information about scams and identity theft, visit the Cohasset Police web site at: cohassetpolice.com.

Dump closed

The RTF being closed on Veterans Day, Sunday (Nov. 11) did not deter some residents from dumping their leaves anyway. Police responded to a complaint that the chain to the back entrance had been opened and suspect that some people wanted to drop off leaves and yard debris. The officer replaced the chain. There were several calls complaining about the dump being closed on Sunday.

Parking ban

No all-night parking is allowed on any street in Cohasset from Nov. 15-April 1 per the town's traffic rules and orders.

Post-Prom gets okay to use school facility

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"Finding a venue to take 150 teenagers starting at midnight is really, really difficult."
— Ann Kelly, Post Prom co-chair

After a two-year hiatus, the School Committee has given the go ahead for the annual post-prom party to return to school grounds. The Post-Prom Committee, a privately funded parent-run event and organization, has started work months early in preparation for the annual party.

Post prom and/or post graduation night-long events have grown in popularity in many towns over the past decade as a way to prevent the drinking that is often seen as a rite of passage for teenagers. The post-prom party is not a school-sponsored function.

The post-prom committees of the past two years have not come before School Committee to request the use of a school facility. Instead, they decided to hold the party at off-site venues. The class of 2006's post-prom party was held in the garage, the Recreation Department's building near the village parking lot. Last year's class celebrated at the River Club in Scituate.

With a new set of parent organizers at the helm, four members of the post-prom committee came before the School Committee to request the use of a school building. School Committee members Adrienne MacCarthy and Lucia Flibotte, recused themselves from a vote because of their involvement in planning the event. Both have sons in the graduating class.

"Finding a venue to take 150 teenagers starting at midnight is really, really difficult," said co-chair Ann Kelly, "and the options that are out there are cost prohibitive."

The committee had done research into local post-prom/post-graduation parties and most in the area were held at in the town's school facilities. To support their request, they resurrected a post-prom pact written in 2005 to be signed by all parents, students and chaperones. The pact was drafted in cooperation with the Police Department, School Department and School Committee after problems arose with alcohol and rowdiness at the 2004 post-prom party held at the high school.

Chairman Rick Flynn said the one of the most important factors was the kind of committee in charge of the party.

"This will be a law abiding event," affirmed Flibotte, "we're all on the same page to keep kids safe."

However, member Alfred Slanetz said the school buildings were institutions for learning, not for a party.

"Philosophically, should we be having a party in our school buildings? In my own opinion, school buildings should not be used for this purpose," said Slanetz, adding with the party on school property, the schools take on additional liability.

With MacCarthy and Flibotte recused, the vote was 2-1 in favor of allowing the post-prom to utilize a school building for the party, just which school building is being kept a secret as a surprise for the graduating class. Slanetz voted against the motion.

The Post-Prom Committee will return to the School Committee after the first of the year to discuss the logistics for the party and review the post-prom pact.

Building Permits

The following building permits were issued recently at Town Hall:

Suzdell, 6 Stoneleigh, 18 sq. asphalt roofing, $11,500; Chamberlain, 235 Pond St., extend kitchen and add screen porch over existing deck, $35,000; Mullen, 100 Pond St., Unit 66, remodel master bath and hall bath, $35,000; Chase, 170 South Main St., construct roof over entry and landscape arbor, $2,500; Silvia, 445 Beechwood St., 10 sq. asphalt roofing, $2,000; McKenna, 155 Beach St., new bathroom, $12,000; Paul, 68A Nichols Road, 30 sq. asphalt roofing, $11,750; Verrochi, 90 North Main St., remove and replace six windows, $6,500 and Carpenter, 70 King St., construct farmer's porch, $29,000.

Teen dance Nov. 30

Cohasset Youth Resources will host a Midnight Blue Dance for students in grades six through eight at the Teen Center from 7 to 10 p.m., on Friday, Nov. 30. There will be a door charge of $5 per person, and those attending will be required to show a student ID when signing in for the dance.

Students should be sure they gain admittance to the dance before their ride lives, as once full capacity is reached no further admittance will be allowed. There will be no admittance after 8:30 p.m.

Snacks and refreshments will be on sale. This is not a school function.

ELIZABETH GRADY

FREE MAKEOVER.

Free Makeup Application. Save $45.
During November our professional make-up artists will do an application and teach you how to do your own makeup using PUREMINERALS.™
For coverage, it's superior to normal makeup because it's concentrated. You use less, yet it always looks sheer and natural. Dermatologists recommend it because it doesn't contain fillers and talc that can irritate your skin and clog pores. PUREMINERALS is only available at Elizabeth Grady salons.
Feel free to schedule an appointment today.

Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for nearest location, services, products & gift certificates.

NEW ENGLAND BULKHEAD

10% SENIOR DISCOUNT

Replace that rotted leaking problem, now for Winter. We can fit any size: flat or sloped foundations. We do full digouts!

MA LICENSED

FREE ESTIMATES • 781-820-7381

Come to the AISNE Private School Fair

Sunday, December 2nd, 2007
1:00 - 4:00 p.m.
Westin Hotel, 70 Third Avenue
Waltham, MA 02451-7523

Finding the right school takes time. The keys to success are knowing your child and learning as much as you can about the schools you might consider. At the AISNE Fair you will meet with representatives from a number of Independent Schools in New England, including elementary and secondary schools, day schools and boarding schools, and single-sex and coed schools.

Come to the Private School Fair sponsored by the Association of Independent Schools in New England (AISNE) to consider private school options for September and get a head start on the school search process for the 08-09 school year.

To learn more about the Private School Fair, please visit us on the web at WWW.AISNE.ORG or give us a call at (781)843-8440.

This is a free event and open to the public.

Pinehills style.

This evening the menu calls for a little of this and a little of that and just a dash of something else, all tossed together with a smidgin of who knows what. Season to taste.

NOW OPEN! The spectacular new concept home by Kistler & Knapp at The Custom Gallery. Interior design and furnishings by The Cottage at The Pinehills and Concord.

The Pinehills
CUSTOM HOMES
Just off Route 3 at Exit 3 Plymouth, MA
pinehillscustomhomes.com
508-209-2007

If you can imagine it, we can build it.
- Introducing Ryecroft, a neighborhood of custom homes from $1.1 million, featuring woodland, pond and golf views.
- By Kistler & Knapp, MacKenzie Brothers, WhiteFox and Whitman Homes.
- Miles of trails; swimming and tennis at The Stonebridge Club; plus shopping, dining and services at The Village Green.
- To tour the custom concept homes, stop by The Summerhouse, open 9 to 5 daily.

$80K flood control master plan included in capital items

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The budget amendments sailed through with no discussion and unanimous approval, but the Capital Improvement Budget did not have it as easy. Debate centered on whether to fund the $80,000 flood control master plan, the heftiest item on the list. The master plan ended up in the final motion to expend $259,000 on seven capital items.

Balancing urgent capital needs with long-term goals has been the constant struggle of the Capital Budget Committee over the past few months.

"We had over $1.2 million in expenditure requests this year," said Steve Gaumer, chairman of the Capital Budget Committee. However, Town Manager Bill Griffin recommended only spending $300,000, mostly from free cash, on capital projects at Special Town Meeting.

Finding a more predictable source of capital funding is one of the primary objectives of the Capital Budget Committee in the upcoming months, said Gaumer, "it will not be a simple thing." Maintaining the current base of assets, nearly $93 million (not including roads and bridges or water/sewer infrastructure) worth, is not being adequately done because of lack of available funds, he said.

The Advisory Committee agreed something has to be done to better fund capital purchases, "the practice of using left over free cash for capital items must come to an end," said member Ed Lappen. However, a majority of the Advisory Committee endorsed the motion to expend $279,000.

A minority report from the Advisory Committee presented by Sam Wakeman contested the article on the grounds it continues the shortsighted, inefficient use of money. As an alternative, Wakeman proposed the available $300,000 be used to begin a capital stabilization fund — a concept the Capital Budget Committee is currently working on and will perhaps bring to Town Meeting in the future.

Gaumer returned to the podium to propose an amendment to strike the $80,000 flood control master plan for a total of $219,000 in requests. The removal of the big ticket item was partly due to the desire to limit spending as much as possible, "after due consideration we determined not to spend every last dime the town has."

The Board of Selectmen opposed this amendment unanimously, while the Advisory Committee endorsed it. The Selectmen viewed the flood control master plan as a critical need.

"We'd like to start to do the groundwork to begin to address serious flooding problems townwide," said Selectman Fred Koed. The flood control master plan would be a townwide study to develop a conceptual, phased drainage master plan that the town can implement over the next few years, the exact schedule depending on the pace of funding, said Selectmen Chairman Gary Vanderweil. The implementation of the plan he estimates will be upward of $5 million.

"Flooding issue about town have become exacerbated," said Vanderweil with stronger and more frequent storms as well as increased development in town. "I'm afraid if we wait we would lose seven months of addressing these problems."

Advisory Committee Chairman Merle Brown said the town needed to stop using free cash "willy nilly" and the funding of the plan could wait until the Spring Town Meeting.

Resident suffering from flooding, like Joe Coggins of 57 Elm St., did not agree the plan could wait, "these problems exist, they're not on a spreadsheet or a computer. They're in my backyard, my neighbor's backyard, in the streets...it's going to cost money now or more later."

Karen Quigley of 27 Clay Spring Road said if the town is proactive with the flood control master plan and has engineering in place, it might attract grant monies.

Right now, the town goes from one emergency to another (Mother's Day storm 2006, Patriots Day storm 2007) without addressing the issues comprehensively, said Stormwater Committee Chairman Marty Nee.

"Two years after the Mothers Day storm we are still without a plan to address the problems," said Nee. The committee supported the inclusion of flood control master plan in the capital budget.

By procedure, the Capital Budget Committee's amendment to exclude the flood control master plan was voted on before the main motion. The amendment was defeated by a majority vote.

The original motion to expend $259,000 on seven capital items was subsequently approved by majority vote.

Capital Improvements Budget

Flood control master plan	$80,000
Jacobs Meadow outlet channel design	$40,000
Special ed van replacement	$45,000
Library staff computer replacement	$15,000
Police cruiser replacement	$29,000
Ambulance refurbishment	$25,000
Fire heavy rescue tools	$25,000

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

Town Manager William Griffith, left, and Town Counsel Paul DeRensis go over a few details regarding articles at the Special Town meeting Tuesday evening. For more coverage, see page 12.

Dr. Edward Woods and his wife Lucia read through the Town Warrant articles at Cohasset's Special Town Meeting Tuesday evening at the Cohasset High School gymnasium.

Cohasset resident Betsy Millard works on her quilt while taking in all the debate during Tuesday's Special Town Meeting.

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
- Remote Desktop Support
- Home Office Setup
- Antivirus Firewall Setup
- Parental Control Software
- Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
- Data Recovery
- Wired & Wireless Networks
- Loaner Computers Available
- New Computer Consultation
- Hardware & Software Upgrades
Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com
Before Bob Black
After Bob Black

Conway
INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
Complete Insurance Protection
AUTO • HOME • LIFE
BUSINESS • HEALTH
HANOVER 183 Columbia Rd. (781) 826-3804
SCITUATE 80 Front St. (781) 545-6110
WHITMAN 715 Bedford St. (781) 447-0661

Here Comes The Bride
• Mother of the Bride & Groom
• Guests
Large Sizes Available
We Have It All
Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm
"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358
HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS
"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.
Consignments by appointment
Mon - Fri. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-1

BELLEW
TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.
CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING
Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!
Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!
781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

If it just won't cut it, we can fix that.
Don't ruin the holiday meal, let us sharpen your knives.
SERVICE CENTER
A Fix It Shop
In the Cohasset Village Parking Lot
781-383-6936
Open Tues. to Sat. 9am-1pm

INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!
- Slip and Fall
- Motor Vehicle Accidents
- General Litigation
No Fee Unless Successful
Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067

INLY INGREDIENTS ACADEMICS • INLY INGREDIENTS INDEPENDENCE • INLY INGREDIENTS HANDS-ON APPROACH • INLY INGREDIENTS INVOLVEMENT
One ingredient of an Inly education...
INLY SCHOOL
Come see why Boston Magazine called Inly one of "The Best Schools"
Schedule an observation
INLY SCHOOL • 46 WATCH HILL DRIVE, SCITUATE, MA 02066
781-545-5544, EXT. 114 • WWW.INLYSCHOOL.ORG
...individualized instruction in small class settings
INLY INGREDIENTS PROBLEM SOLVING
INLY INGREDIENTS INDIVIDUALITY
INLY INGREDIENTS LIFE SKILLS • INLY INGREDIENTS INSIGHT • INLY INGREDIENTS CREATIVITY • INLY INGREDIENTS INCLUSION

Cohasset native makes mark at Turner Broadcasting

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

T-DAY THOUGHTS

Happy Thanksgiving Week Cohasset. I know that many of you are traveling next week for Thanksgiving and want for all to be safe and sound. Make sure to leave plenty of time for your plans, take it easy and enjoy family and friends. For all of us who are staying around here, take the time as well to enjoy family, friends, football and turkey.

It does not seem possible that we are already here at Thanksgiving time. As we get ready to go into the Holiday season, we all need to enjoy the wonderful colors, sounds, parades and small things for all.

NDA SCHOLAR

I had a message from a very proud mom about her daughter and accomplishments that have been made this year in school. Courtney Culhane, a sophomore at Notre Dame Academy in Hingham has been named to the President's list. This accomplishment is the highest level of achievement. Courtney is in all honors classes and programs, is on the Cross Country team and works at Stop and Shop in between it all. Great job Courtney, your family is so proud of you.

NIFTY AT FIFTY!

Linda, Mike, Dave and Lauren Snowdale want to wish a happy birthday to Al Snowdale who is turning 50 this Sat. Nov. 17. (People will probably be surprised since he is aging so gracefully!) We all hope that you have a wonderful day Al and look forward to another 50 years. Happy Birthday!

Alexis Zerendow Hambrick has moved up at Turner Broadcasting System, Inc.

MOVING UP

Cohasset's won Alexis Zerendow Hambrick, now of Atlanta, was recently promoted to director of entertainment networks and sports marketing for Turner Network Sales (TNS), the domestic distribution, sales and marketing arm of Turner Broadcasting System, Inc. (TBS, Inc.).

Alexis is charged with leading her team in developing and implementing marketing strategies to maximize distribution and affiliate partnership opportunities for Turner's entertainment networks and sports properties.

Alexis most recently served as network marketing manager, developing and managing affiliate marketing for TBS, TNT and CNN en Español. She joined TNS in 1999 as a sales assistant and was soon promoted to marketing coordinator.

Alexis earned a bachelor of arts degree from Union College in New York. She is an active member of the Cable Telecommunications Association for Marketing (CTAM) and Women In Cable Telecommunications (WICT). She was born and raised in Cohasset.

JUNIOR GARDENERS

The Junior Gardeners of the Community Garden Club of Cohasset will meet this month on Monday, Nov.19 from 2:45 to 3:45 in the Deer Hill cafeteria. The children will be making a Thanksgiving holiday centerpiece. Parents are welcome to attend the meetings.

COOKBOOK, TOUR

"Cohasset Entertains," is back again at Flemings of Cohasset Village and Windsor Tea Shop. The cookbook is a collection of treasured recipes from the members of the Community Garden Club. There are complete menus for each season and step-by-step, easy to follow illustrations for creating beautiful centerpieces for your holiday table. This Thanksgiving, set the table with a beautiful dried arrangement or serve just a few of the delicious holiday recipes like bisque of butternut, or praline ice cream pie with rum sauce. Each cookbook cost $15 and all proceeds help fund club programs, services, and scholarship funds.

The Community Garden Club will also present "Christmas Memories", a holiday house tour on Thursday, Dec. 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.. This year's tour will showcase five of Cohasset's loveliest homes and the Cohasset Historical Society's Paul Pratt building, all lavishly decorated for the holiday season by garden club members. Tickets are $20 in advance and $25 on tour day and include directions to the homes and parking suggestions.

Tickets are now on sale locally at: the Windsor Tea Shop, Buttonwood Books and Toys, Flemings and Darilynn's, or on the day of the tour at the Second Congregational Church. For additional information, please visit the Community Garden Club website:

www.communitygarden-clubofcohasset.org or call 781 383- 0838.

MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Make-a-Difference weekend of activities is planned for Nov. 17/18th, when students of both Osgood and Deer Hill families alongside other community members, will be working in teams to help with fall cleanup for some of Cohasset's elderly residents. Volunteers will rake, pull down storm windows, change outdoor light bulbs and remove window air conditioners. If you are interested in volunteering, contact Patty Cunningham at 781-383-1378.

METCO WREATH SALE

Continuing its annual holiday tradition the Cohasset METCO program is offering fresh, beautiful, double-sided Balsam wreaths for your festive decorating. The cost is $10 per holiday wreath and the proceeds benefit the Cohasset METCO Scholarship Fund. Wreaths will be available for pick-up at the Cohasset Village Fair (between the Town Hall and the Second Congregational Church) on Saturday, Dec 1st.

Pre-ordering is appreciated. For more information, or to place an order, please contact Jody Golden (METCO PSO Rep.) at 781-383-2685.

That is it for this week.

Early deadline next week!

Please send in all of your news no later than Monday at 5 p.m.. Email works best and for photos, please send them to mford@cnc.com with the written portion coming to me.

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com

MAIL: Around Town, C/O One Creative Place, PO Box 33, Cohasset, MA 02025

WEDDING

Quintin - Norton

Meghan Diana Norton, daughter of Fred and Marie Norton of Framingham, and Paul-Michael Quintin, son of Paul and Anne Quintin of Cohasset, were married June 30, 2007, at Our Lady of Victories Church in Boston. A reception followed at the Boston Radisson in the Theartre District.

Maid of honor was Andrea Norton, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Bethany Quintin, sister of the groom, Sarah Danforth, Laura Engman, Katie Carlson, Sabrina Particelli, Michelle Malone and Alexis Dawicki, all friends of the bride. Flower girl was Olivia Derdul, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Peter Apostolides, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Joseph Norton, brother of the bride, Eric Wenmark, Patrick Hurley, Evan Carlson, Jon Tate, and Jeff Mehne, all friends of the groom. Ring bearer was Patrick Derdul, cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul-Michael Quintin

The bride is a graduate of Marian High School in Framingham, Babson College, and earned her master's degree at Cambridge College.

The groom attended Cohasset High School and is a graduate of Babson College.

After a two week honeymoon in the Caribbean, the couple lives in Natick.

Jade Forest to host 'The Myth of Aging'

John Loupos and Steven Aronstein, founder of Somatic Systems Institute, will co-present a workshop on clinical somatics titled "The Myth of Aging," on Sunday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The simple movement patterns that will be taught are designed to eliminate pain and stiffness and enhance proprioception and flexibility. Somatics use yoga-like movement patterns to help people gain smarter muscles by recalibrating the faulty brain/muscle control settings that cause chronic pain and stiffness. Somatics doesn't require exertion – it's non-competitive and non-jarring – making it suitable regardless of one's physical condition.

This event will be offered by the Pain & Mobility Clinic at Jade Forest Kung Fu/Tai Chi, 130 King St., Route 3A, Cohasset. The fee to attend is $150. For more information, call Loupos at 781-383-6822.

News hotline - 781-741-2933

We'll make you smile.
Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.
SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS
Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate
(781) 545-3466
New Patients Welcome · Free Initial Consultation

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

WINTER IS COMING
Call 781-335-8703
FREE ESTIMATES
For Driveways,
Parking Areas,
Tennis Courts
Over 45 years
HANABURY & SONS
ASPHALT SPECIALISTS

TROTTERS
$10.00 OFF
All Trotters
Sale Ends 11/30/07
EXTENDED SIZES
5 · 6 · 7 · 8 · 9 · 10 · 11
WIDE
WW
Shoe Market
Derby Street Shoppes, Hingham
(Rte. 3 at Exit 15) • 781.749.5411

BSC
BRIDGEWATER STATE COLLEGE
Expect More. Achieve More.
Step Ahead This Spring
• Spring registration begins November 20
• Classes begin January 23
Expand your knowledge and improve your professional credentials by choosing from an array of master's degree programs as well as certification and bachelor's programs on a continuing education basis – all taught by recognized experts at a reasonable cost.
Registrar's Office • Boyden Hall, Room 003
Bridgewater, MA 02325 • Fax: 508.531.6101
School of Graduate Studies
508.531.1300 • www.bridgew.edu/SoGS
Office of Continuing and Distance Education
508.531.2788 • www.bridgew.edu/cde

You are invited to
A SPECIAL STEIFF HOLIDAY
TRUNK SHOW!
Saturday, November 17
La Petite Maison
La Petite Maison
142 North Street, Hingham Square
781-741-8393
Shop among the great selection of Steiff mohair & plush animals
Receive a free Steiff gift with all Steiff purchases
Join us on Saturday, November 17 from 10am to 2pm

Dream • Plan • Succeed
Our home financing programs help you do it all.
MORTGAGE PRODUCTS
First Time Home Buyers Program
7-15 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
20-30 Year Fixed Rate Mortgages
15-40 Year ARMS
HOME EQUITY LOANS
Home Equity Line of Credit
Home Equity Fixed Rate Loan
Membership* available to those who live or work in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties, Dorchester, and any family member.
*$5.00 Primary Share Account required for Membership
NCUA
Quincy Credit Union 70 YEARS
100 Quincy Ave • Quincy, MA 02169
617.479.5558 • www.qcu.org

Vets honored at Deer Hill

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Take time to remember and thank veterans.

That sentiment was the message at last week's Veterans Day Ceremony at Deer Hill School and it was exactly what the students did. Through the mediums of music, song and written word, Deer Hill students showed their gratitude to a few honored guests in uniform. The show of appreciation was met with equal thanks from the veterans themselves.

"This is our first time going to Cohasset schools to see a veterans' service like this," said Tom Wigmore of the Sons of The American Legion.

The students used their abundant talents to convey their respect and indebtedness to the seven veterans who were able to attend the ceremony and those who were not able to attend.

The fifth-grade band filled the gymnasium with patriotic tunes as the rest of the student body filed into the room. Deer Hill had spent three weeks preparing for the ceremony, across all faces of the curriculum. Classroom teachers taught the students what it meant to be a veteran. In music class, all grades learned three songs for the ceremony.

Principal Jennifer deChiara opened the day by addressing the student body and explaining what Veterans Day means. Unlike celebratory holidays, Veterans Day is a solemn, respectful day to remember and thank those who have served and fought for the United States, deChiara explained to the children.

"We have a responsibility to those brave veterans to let them know they didn't fight for nothing. We can never forget their service or take it for granted," said deChiara who hopes the Veterans Day event would become an annual school tradition.

"I believe it's important for the children to understand that as Americans we enjoy freedoms that do not exist in many other countries, and in large part we have Veterans to thank," wrote deChiara in an e-mail as the impetus to organizing the event. "part of being a good citizen is appreciating those who have made sacrifices on our behalf."

Wigmore got the kids' attention and applause when he made reference to the success of two hometown teams, the New England Patriots and the Red Sox. But, he said, there was another team in need of support, a team of armed forces, "please thank them for their service," said Wigmore.

All fourth- and fifth-grade students wrote an essay about veterans; one student from each grade read their essay at the ceremony. Fourth-grader Mimi Waters said every veteran must be a leader by example, "if you are not determined to win then others won't be determined to win," she wrote. Fifth-grader Kristen Timothy wrote empathy, cooperation and perseverance were the three most important traits veterans must possess.

"Veterans are very special people who put themselves in danger to keep us safe," wrote Kristen. Next, the entire school sang, "We are proud of our veterans."

Several of the veterans stood up to both thank the students for their hard work and heartfelt words and songs.

"I can tell you put a lot of time and effort into this ceremony. I will remember this for the rest of my life," said Charles Daly, Cohasset's American Legion Post chaplain.

A young Army veteran recently returned from active service in Kosovo, Dave Nickerson, said he has received a warm welcome home from the community, "all the support this country gives keeps you going. You all help by supporting the troops."

"Veterans fight so we can have events like this in peace and quiet in tranquil towns like Cohasset," said Selectman Paul Carlson.

Coleman Nee, a Cohasset resident, Operation Desert Storm veteran and state Veterans' Services undersecretary, reminded the assembly "every day is Veterans Day. Veterans defend our freedom, rights and we are a better country because of them."

In a touching close to the ceremony, the entire student body joined by teachers, parents and veterans sang "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

STAFF PHOTOS/CRAIG GOLDECKE

US Army Sergeant David Nickerson of Cohasset points to Kosovo where he was for 18 months on duty with the 101st Engineer Battalion. Nickerson recently returned home. His cousin James Hynes,a fifth grade student at Deer Hill, brought Nickerson back to class for a surprise visit and question and answer session after the school's Veterans Day ceremony.

"We can never forget their service or take it for granted."
— Principal Jennifer deChiara

Mimi Waters, a fourth-grade student, reads her essay to veterans and students at the school's Veterans Day Ceremony held Friday morning. There were several guest speakers including, Thomas Wigmore of the Sons of American Legion and US Army SGT David Nickerson.

Ten-year-old James Hynes, a fifth grade student, chats with his cousin US Army Sergeant David Nickerson after Friday's Veterans Day ceremony at the school. James invited his cousin back to his classroom.

Let Us Do The Work!
FULLY-COOKED TURKEY DINNERS
ORDER EARLY!
Orders must be called in by Nov. 19 or while supplies last
(1) 15 lb. Avg.* Serves 8-10
COMPLETE DINNER
$79.95
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 2 Sides & 2 Pies
(2) 19 lb. Avg.* Serves 16-18
COMPLETE DINNER
$99.95
Less than $6/person
Includes Cranberry Sauce, 2 doz. Dinner Rolls, Stuffing, Gravy, Choice of 4 Sides & 3 Pies
Hilltop Dressing & Marinade Gift Packs $13.99
Extra Sides Available
FULLY COOKED TURKEYS AVAILABLE
855 Broadway
Route 1 Saugus
(781) 233-7700 x6802
Route 18,
Weymouth
(781) 340-4459

Don't miss the special pullout
HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL preview section
in today's paper
SPONSORED BY

THE HOLIDAY CLASSIC RETURNS!
"A terrific show. I loved it! Good old-fashioned heart-warming fun!" - WBZ-TV4
"Plenty of razzmatazz, including snow! You'll leave the theatre humming Irving Berlin's irresistibly hummable tunes!" – Boston Globe
Irving Berlin's WHITE CHRISTMAS
NOVEMBER 23 - DECEMBER 23
WANG THEATRE
Call (800) 447-7400 • www.citicenter.org
or visit the Citi Performing Arts Center Box Office
Citi Performing Arts Center Groups (20+): 617-532-1116
A Club Exclusive Attraction • Call Toll-Free 877-232-8898 or on-line at citicenter.org/club
TTY Ticket Orders: (888)889-8587
www.WhiteChristmastheMusical.com
citi PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

HILLTOP STEAKHOUSE BUTCHERSHOP
US Route 1, Saugus 781-233-7700
116 Main St., Weymouth 781-340-4459
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-7; Sun. 9-5 • Lottery - Food Stamps
NOW OPEN! Weymouth Butcher Shop
116 Main St., Rt. 18 • Weymouth
Whole or Half Boneless RIBEYE ROAST $4.99 LB
Fresh Bone-in Split CHICKEN BREASTS $1.59 LB
Boneless SIRLOIN TIP STEAKS $2.99 LB
LET US DO THE WORK FULLY COOKED TURKEY DINNERS
Fresh PERDUE TURKEY 99¢ LB
Portercross STEAKS $4.99 LB
Boneless Pork CHOPS OR ROASTS $1.99 LB
Deli Sliced TURKEY BREAST $2.99 LB
Frozen 2 Lb. Bag 26/30 Ct. RAW SHRIMP $4.99 LB
Fresh PORK TENDERLOINS $1.99 LB
Deli Sliced IMPORTED HAM $2.99 LB
Hilltop Marinated SIRLOIN TIPS $4.99 LB
Hilltop Marinated Cooked PORK SPARERIBS $2.99 LB
Pre Sliced AMERICAN CHEESE $2.99 LB
10 Oz. Pkg. WHITE MUSHROOMS 2/$3
XL Golden Ripe PINEAPPLES $2.99 EA
10 Oz. Pkg. SPINACH 2/$3
SWEET, RED, SPANISH 49¢ LB
LOOSE YAMS IDAHO & RED POTATOES 3 LBS/$1
All Lean NUTS $2.99 LB
WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITY. PRICES EFFECTIVE WED. 11/14/07 -TUES. 11/20/07. ATM ON LOCATION.
WWW.HILLTOPSTEAKHOUSE.COM
Not responsible for typographical errors

Click on CohassetCares.com

CAPE ESCAPE FOR ONLY $29.95
CALL 1-800-513-4720 NOW
& RESERVE YOUR CHOICE OF

Cape Escape
2 Days 1 Night
includes
$50.00 Dinner &
$25.00 Christmas Tree Shop Gift Card

OR

Day Trip to Cape Cod
- 3 Day/2 Night Getaway Gift Certificate good at over 1000 Marriott Hotel locations nationwide
- Dinner for 2 • $30 Gasoline
- $25 Christmas Tree Shop Gift Card

BONUS
First 50 Callers receive a $50.00 Gift Certificate valid at your choice of Mobil, WalMart, Home Depot

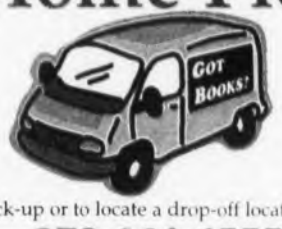
COURTESY PHOTOS

Children line up to create a chain of molecules at the South Shore Community Center.

The "Mad Scientist," Morgan Kuberry, demonstrates a chemical reaction.

Mad Science stirs up fun



South Shore Community Center hosted Mad Science recently. These classes help children explore the many aspects of science while having fun with hands-on experiments. The week's theme was chemistry.

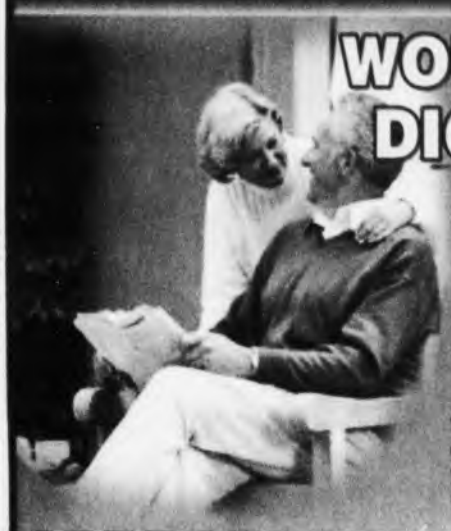
Morgan Kuberry, the Mad Scientist, encouraged the junior scientists to observe and create hypotheses as the chemicals are mixed together. The children got to make their own special project to take home.

Donate Books!

We also accept DVD's, Videos, CDs and More

Free Home Pick-Up!

To schedule a pick-up or to locate a drop-off location near you, call us:
978.664.6555
Or visit our website:
www.GotBooks.com/cnc
To learn more about the nonprofit groups we serve please call us or visit our website



Dance lessons offered

Line dance lessons are held each Tuesday from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., at the South Shore Community Center, 3 North Main St., for adults of all ages. Learn to Samba, Salsa, and Cha Cha, the Waltz, and other beginner line dances to country and popular music.

For more information, call 781-925-9066 and to sign up, call 781-383-9112.

383-6550 GOOD SPORT SPORTING GOODS Rte. 3A Cohasset
20% OFF ALL LAX GEAR

Trouble Hearing In Noise?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO TRY DIGITAL HEARING AIDS* FREE?

All you have to do is call our office for your FREE hearing test and ask for the Free Trial Offer.

You can wear the new OPEN FIT digital aids for 30 days free of charge with a small security deposit which will be fully returned to you if you decide not to keep your aids. If you decide that you can't part with your new aids, use the coupon below to save $500 Off a complete set of two instruments. This opportunity may never be repeated and positively ends November 30, 2007.

DIGITAL SAVINGS
Fully Programmable OPEN FIT Instruments
$500 OFF PAIR
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

WIRELESS TV LISTENERS
$49.95
(Limit Two) This will end the loud TV in your home.
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

FREE REPAIRS
Bring your broken aid in to any of our offices. If we can fix it in our lab, we will fix it
FREE!
Cannot use coupon with other offers. Does not apply to prior sales. Exp. 11/30/07

FREE HEARING TEST
Using the latest audiometric testing equipment available.
Call Our Office Today!
Expires 11/30/07

OWNED AND DIRECTED BY A DOCTOR OF AUDIOLOGY

"I'M NOT ASKING 'WHAT' ALL THE TIME" Since purchasing my hearing aids, it's made a world of difference for me and my wife. Now that I'm not asking "What" all the time, she says it's made her life much easier. I can hear everything the first time! Our communication has gotten so much better. I would highly recommend you.

-Robert Down of Hudson, MA

THANKS MASS. AUDIOLOGY!

Nationwide Service ★ Lifetime Care ★ American Owned & American Made ★ Advanced Hearing Technology

Mass. Audiology
Personal Hearing Systems
1-866-536-HEAR (4327)
www.massaudiology.com
Call today for a FREE Hearing Test in your home or in the office nearest you.

All major insurances accepted including GIC, 1st Seniority, BlueCare 65, Mass Health, and Medicaid

Owned and Directed by a Doctor of Audiology

Disney ON ICE
Disney · PIXAR
FINDING NEMO

©Disney/Pixar

ON SALE NOW!
Tickets Make a Great Holiday Gift!

DEC. 27 - 30

Thu.	Fri.	Sat.	Sun.
DEC. 27	DEC. 28	DEC. 29	DEC. 30
	11:00 AM	11:00 AM	11:00 AM
	3:00 PM	3:00 PM	3:00 PM
7:00 PM		7:00 PM

Banknorth GARDEN

Buy tickets at www.disneyonice.com, ticketmaster Retail Locations, TD Banknorth Garden Box Office or call (617) 931-2000

For information call (617) 624-1000 • Groups (617) 624-1805

TICKET PRICES: $17 - $22 - $27 - $32
Limited number of Front Row and VIP seats available. Call for details.
(Service charges and handling fees may apply. Prices include $4 facility fee.)

Raising support and awareness for companion animals

It's been some nine years since Cohasset resident Deborah Howard noticed the atrocious conditions a single puppy was left to endure in a Pet Shop in Atlanta, Ga. Since that day it has been her personal mission to ensure that all companion animals live a happy healthy life. Her efforts have led to undercover investigative reports on Dateline NBC, ABC's 20/20 and pieces Life Magazine, People Magazine and more importantly, the founding of the Companion Animal Protection Society in Cohasset.

COURTESY PHOTO

Cohasset resident Deborah Howard and Maggie.

Through Nov. 30, the organization will be holding an online auction to raise funds and awareness called the "Claws and Paws Shop."

Howard's Cohasset-based organization, is the only national nonprofit dedicated exclusively to protecting companion animals with their foremost concern being the abuse and suffering of pet shop and puppy mill dogs. Through Nov. 30, the organization will be holding an online auction to raise funds and awareness called the "Claws and Paws Shop" with amazing items up for bid including: trips to the Galapagos Islands, Bermuda, Australia, Key West and San Francisco, autographed items from Tom Cruise, Cam Neely, Bobby Orr, the Boston Red Sox, the Rock Band Boston, and more locally being a guest on NECN's TV Diner. Not to mention the obvious pet items like: collars, gift baskets and a session with "Animal Communicator" Marlene Sandler and a painting from "the Dog Artist" Jane O'Hara (both based in MA). Log on to www.caps.cmarket.com to bid on these amazing items and help this worthy cause.

'NE Perspectives' at the James Library

Three South Shore landscape photographers, Margot Cheel of Cohasset, Mike Sleeper, and Stephen Eames, are presenting a photography exhibit at the James Library and Center for the Arts, 24 West St, Norwell. The show continues until Thursday, Nov. 29.

The show, "New England Perspectives," will showcase the different views from each photographer. Margot Cheel presents aerial photography of the South Shore and Cape as abstract art. Mike Sleeper is well known for his panoramic photos of the South Shore landscape. Steve Eames captures New England scenes with a painter's eye. Margot Cheel's web site is at www.margotcheel.com; Mike Sleeper's web site is at www.mikesleeper.com and Steve Eames web site is at www.eamescreative.com.

The James Library is open from 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday. For more information, visit http://www.first-parishnorwell.org/james.html.

Custom-made for remodeling.

With custom sized Andersen® Woodwright® windows, you can replace your old, drafty worn-out windows while maintaining the timeless beauty of your home. With rich wood interiors, thick profiles and milling detail worthy of fine furniture, they are ideal for window replacement.

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Windows

CLIMATE Door & Window
276 Weymouth St., Rockland
781-681-7007
Financing Available

Andersen

Home Center | Sotheby's INTERNATIONAL REALTY

Artfully uniting extraordinary properties with extraordinary lives.

The Cohasset team in our new office (left to right)

Gail Yuhas Cove, Megan Coleman, Amy Daly, Laurie Ferreria, Millie Mitman, Manager, Joanne Chakalis, Ellen Goldenson, Gint Hayes, Gail Petersen Bell, President, Sarah Murphy.

Art & Sotheby's: Complimenting One Another

Acclaimed local artist, Michael Coyne displays his talents at an exhibit of his work in a unique setting - a recently renovated, 6,000 s.f. home at 525 Country Way in Scituate. Friday night from 6 pm to 9 pm a wine reception supports the local animal shelter. Viewings continue on both Saturday and Sunday from noon - 4 pm. The show is sponsored by our builder Michael Ahearn. For more information, please call Megan Coleman at our Cohasset office, 781-383-8835.

Home Center | Sotheby's INTERNATIONAL REALTY

One South Main Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-749-8833 – 781-383-8835
Hingham Cohasset

A program for "Downsizers"

www.HomeCenterSIR.com

glee shop for clothes

Belmont
59 Leonard Street
617 484 3711

Hingham
under the pink awning
The Derby Street Shoppes
781 749 6633

Beverly Farms
29 West Street
978 922 4777

www.glee.us

SALE

20% to 50%

OFF

EVERYTHING!!!

Saturday 11/17 - Sunday 11/25

excludes shearling, lightfoot Designs and prior purchases

Come home to Andersen.

Quality. Quantity. And Everything In Between.

Cape Cod Lumber
403 Bedford St. Rte. 18
Abington
80 Hampden Rd., Cabot Business Park
Mansfield
www.ccloco.com

Fairview Millwork
100 Pearl St
Bridgewater
508-697-6124 • 800-880-COOP
www.fvmw.com

Hingham Lumber Company
165 Chief Justice Cushing Highway (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
781-749-4200 www.hinghamlumber.com
Mon.-Fri. 7 am-5 pm Sat. 7 am-5 pm

andersenwindows.com WINDOWS • DOORS Andersen

"I never thought I could do it!"

The LEAD Program at Eastern Nazarene College can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months.

- Classes meet just one night a week
- Enroll now for February classes!

Call 877-ENC-LEAD
or visit us at
www.enc.edu

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what Eastern Nazarene College gave me."

— Maria Rodriguez,
ENC LEAD Program Student

Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
617-745-3000 • 800-88-ENC-88

OPINION

EDITORIAL

New neighbor

The good news is we can hope that getting used to Greenbush will not take as long as building it has.

The reality is the train has arrived and commuter rail is going to be a fact of life.

It should ultimately add to the quality of life for many of us — those who use it to commute and those who will use it just to go "in town" for dinner or other event. Having reliable and desirable public transportation should also add to property values or at the very least, maintain current property values.

However, train service is bound to have some hiccups and cause some headaches as we all adjust to the grade crossings, parking lots, and traffic impacts of the stations.

With that being said, safety is always paramount. We applaud our public safety and town officials for their concern and keeping this issue at the forefront.

It is clearly not enough for the MBTA to say that recent incidents involving grade crossings that are solely due to the fact that local motorists are not used to the grade crossings.

Yes, there is a learning curve. But, some of the crossings, particularly the one at North Main Street by Woodside Cemetery and the Cohasset Golf Club needs some adjustment.

On North Main Street last week, we waited a good 5 minutes in a line of cars behind the closed gates while the train was parked at the station unloading and loading passengers. Clearly in this case, the gates should have been up while the train was parked!

The Cohasset police log this week was peppered with complaints and concerns from callers about N. Main and King Street crossings.

Cohasset is not the only town experiencing "Greenbush growing pains" — next door in Hingham there is considerable confusion. There seem to be safety issues at grade crossings at the South Shore Country Club and at Hersey and South streets.

Responsibility for train safety rests on the shoulders of the MBTA, public safety officials, and our elected and appointed leaders. But all of us regular citizens — whether motorists, pedestrians or cyclists – need to take responsibility for our own safety. That means stopping when the red lights are flashing or the bells are ringing, even if the gate arms are not down. It is also important to check to see if a train is coming from either direction before proceeding across the tracks under any circumstance.

If there is any question about whether it is safe to cross, our advice is to sit there and wait before attempting to cross the tracks, and if you have a cell phone handy, call the police at 781-383-1055.

Do not be intimidated by cars behind you. One of the more distressing reports we heard this week in Hingham revealed that cars are honking at other cars in front of them, urging them to move forward when it isn't safe to do so.

Most of us know what it is like to feel that kind of pressure. How many times have you tried to turn left onto Main Street (Route 228) in Hingham from Cushing or Gardner? Have you tried to make a left from Sohier Street onto King Street (Route 3A)? The "lull" seems to take forever, especially if someone is behind you and you sense that motorist is impatient.

We hope you will never find yourself "stuck" on the tracks, but if you start to cross and the arm is down in front of you, drive forward right through the cross arm. Do NOT stop on the tracks!

We urge all motorists to be patient and respect others as we all get used to the grade crossings. Also, it is important that you report any malfunction or perceived malfunction.

Public pressure has and always will be the best way to get issues addressed.

MEETINGS

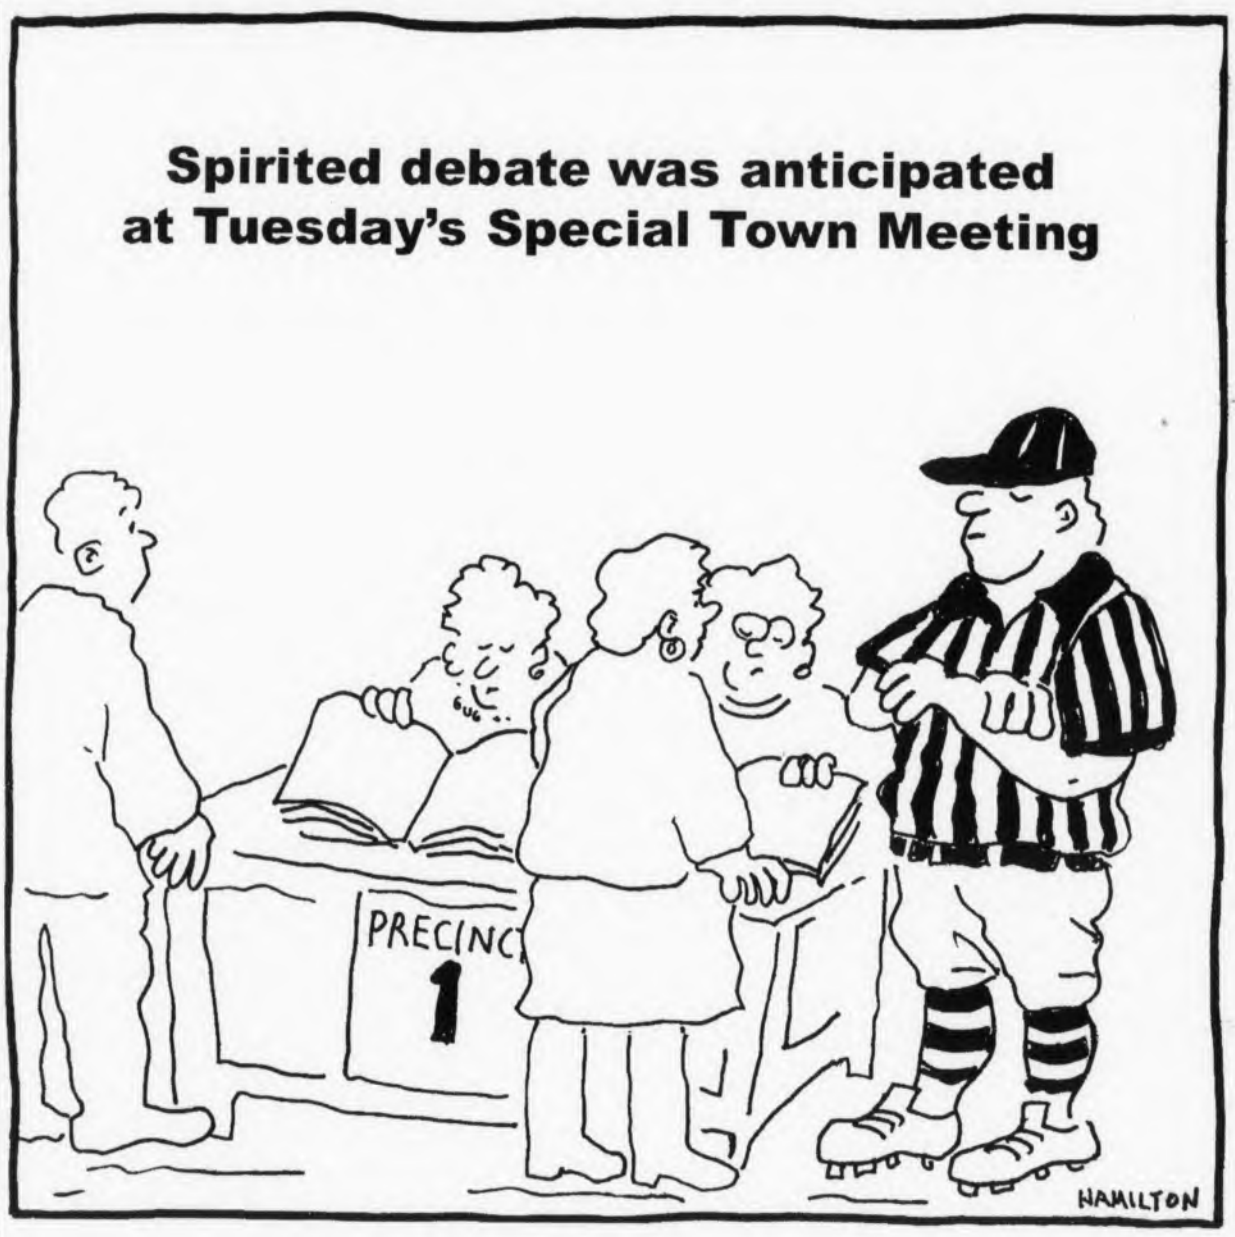
The following meetings are posted at Town Hall:

Alternative Energy Committee, Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.

Cohasset Library Trust Inc., Nov. 20, 7:30 p.m. at the library.

Sewer Commission, Nov. 26, 6 p.m.

Water Commission, Nov. 29, 6 p.m., King Street plant.



ZBA, Dec. 11, 7:30 p.m.

All meetings take place at Town Hall unless otherwise noted. Call the Town Clerk's office at 781-383-4100 for updates and additions.

Care packages for the troops

The George H. Mealy American Legion Post 118 is seeking donations of toiletries and other items for those deployed to Iraq and Afghanistan. Donations may be dropped off at the Legion Post on Summer Street daily after 3 p.m. or at Pilgrim Cooperative Bank branches on 3A or in the village.

Monetary donations are also accepted. Checks should be made out to the Sons of the American Legion, with "Soldiers Project" written in the memo line on the check. Checks can be mailed to Sons of the American Legion, PO Box 118, Cohasset, MA 02025.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Harborview improvements are appreciated

TO THE EDITOR:

The news of the vast improvements planned for Harborview, 60 Elm St., has been previously reported in these pages; the execution of the plans to date has been gratefully observed by this resident.

The work is being carried out by a very diligent work force, that is a joy to watch, and as scheduled and monitored by the local staff as it is completed. The residents have gotten use to the sound of saws and hammers and the presence of ladders and work trucks, but have not heard any words of complaint but only of appreciation from my neighbors.

When this restoration was announced it appeared to be a project of the Cohasset Housing Authority and of the Massachusetts Department of Housing, but other agencies have become involved. The commitments of the Cohasset Conservation Commission and of Rep. Garrett Bradley have had the effect that the entire exterior will be restored, including the paths, road and landscaping.

This letter is intended to be no more than a personal expression of my appreciation, but from casual conversation with my neighbors I think that it represents their attitude as well. It is my opinion that when this work is completed, probably next year, a remarkable restoration will have taken place, something of which we all can be proud; the residents and staff, the town of Cohasset and the Commonwealth. It will be just cause for celebration.

Robert C. Ernst Sr
60 Elm St..

Grateful for Cabaret support!

TO THE EDITOR:

We would like to thank all the people who attended the Cohasset Cabaret on the weekend of Nov. 2. As this was our first show, it was our intent to provide a variety of performers that would entertain with high energy and leave the audience with a smile on their face.

We hope you enjoyed the show and we plan to do it all over again with a brand new show called Cohasset Cabaret II on Nov. 7 and 8, 2008, at St. Anthony's Parish Hall. Save the date, tell your friends what they missed and bring them next year. If you really enjoyed the show and cannot wait for next year, you can see many of the performers in a totally new show at the Hingham Armory the first week of February.

Dan Volungis for Friends of Cohasset Elder Affairs

Village bylaw is only the first step

COMMENTARY

ALAIN PINEL

As much as one may wish, vitality will not be achieved only with the residents doing more shopping in their own village

Tuesday night Town Meeting was not that bad after all. The much awaited debate on the infamous article 4 lived up to its promises but, thanks in part to the discipline of an excellent moderator, the passion and the partisan arguments of the various orators were always controlled and respectful. Considering that the subject matter was nothing less than what we have in mind for the future of the village — a subject on which every resident may have a different point of view — this was not a small achievement.

The one thing that probably mobilized and "united" all the attendees was the fact that the village needed a lot of help. We all love the quaint atmosphere of this quintessential New England village but, unless we only look at it with adoring mother's eyes, we need to recognize that it had been for some time following a decaying trend. It was urgent to bring new life to the village, accelerate its commercial and housing development and, to this end, simplify and sweeten the permit process. Well, the Planning Board got what it asked for. Many people are happy for it. I am one of them, as it makes sense to give one single entity the full management of the process and place them in front of their new and tough responsibilities. Now what?

It would be wishful thinking to hope for a quick and significant change. The passing of the motion was not the end result, it was merely about creating the conditions for a more deliberate development of the village. Everything remains to be done: what development, what businesses, when, where, why? We are back to the drawing board. Sure it's going to be easier for entrepreneurs and developers to give Cohasset a try, but the challenge, now, is going to be to anticipate and plan the change, to create tomorrow a Cohasset we all could be happy and proud to live in.

A lady, at the meeting, asked the key question: what is the village going to be like in 25 years? This answer to the question is really the beginning of the new beginning. We need to agree to a common vision and be very astute and strict regarding its implementation. As I had mentioned in a previous letter to the Mariner, we don't need to fabricate a new glorious image for Cohasset; the town is already blessed with the most beautiful coast line and other natural gifts tied to two themes which marry very well: the sea and the art. We just have to capitalize on these assets to bring vitality and prosperity to the village.

SEE BYLAW, PAGE 13

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company,165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore. E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com

The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.

Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

'Start living from the heart'

TOWARD A SUSTAINABLE COHASSET

JoAnn Mirise

The most frequent question that people ask me when they find out that I am Not Buying It – my pledge to not purchase anything new for one year – is "How do you do it?" When I offer up some tips or stories, oftentimes I am pressed for more. What do I and don't I allow myself? How did I come up with my rules? What is my motivation to keep going?

At the beginning of my journey I, too, found myself looking for answers to similar questions. I wanted to know how this year would play out. I wanted to know that I would be protected from the sirens of consumption. (I like beautiful, well-designed things and here, in the small, affluent town where I live, beautiful, well-designed things were everywhere.) And most of all I wanted to know I would succeed.

So I got down to business. I read books. And blogs. And then I signed up for a very popular Yahoo Group, a global forum for people like me who, in an effort to wriggle from the grips of consumerism, have pledged to go a set amount of time without purchasing anything. I was excited to find a community that I could learn from and that wouldn't think I was a martyr or extremist, neither of which I consider myself in the least. I lasted less than 48 hours, hours in that narrow tunnel of stifling co-dependence. The group consisted of posting after posting of people asking if such and such was allowed as if there was an all-knowing authority on Not Buying It. And then there were even more postings of ensuing responses debating the validity of people's answers. I unsubscribed shortly after reading the post "What do I do when I run out of soap?" and before I responded "You need someone else to tell you what to do when you run out of soap?"

It took this experience to remind me that the most gratifying, productive and positive shifts in my life occurred when I didn't try so hard to have everything figured out.

It took this experience to remind me that the most gratifying, productive and positive shifts in my life occurred when I didn't try so hard to have everything figured out. I once had a friend from Spain who was one of those passionate, lick-the-bottom-of-the-ice-cream-bowl-of-life kind of souls. He was also sharp and wise and not afraid to share his opinions. One afternoon he was checking out my bookshelf. He was skimming the titles whilst murmuring little "oohs" and "aahs" and "oh, yeses" that is until he came to the bottom shelf. The self-help shelf. With an incredulous snicker he flung book after book at me, mocking the titles, which most certainly consisted of some variation of make more money, find the work you love and meet the person of your dreams. He asked why I would ever think that someone else would be able to offer me more than I can offer myself. Stop thinking so much and start living, from the heart, that is. Soon after, he gave me a copy of Gabriel Garcia Marquez's "Life in the Time of Cholera." He told me to read it and in a week we would meet up with some friends to linger over a meal, some wine and lively conversation about the book. Then we would dance. This, he said, was self-help, Spanish-style.

What would this world be like if we were to stop looking outward for answers and instead trust foremost in our own selves? What would our lives be like if gurus, life coaches and so-called experts were there as comrades that we invite to walk with us instead of in front of us, and what if we each started to right our wrongs from the inside out before they become the world's problem?

So please, continue to ask me about my experiences with Not Buying It. And ask me about all of my experiences with making a shift on behalf of the planet. And while I won't have any answers, I certainly will have stories. And maybe you'll be inspired to meet up with some friends to linger over a meal and wine and lively conversation about inviting change and making a shift yourself. And if you're lucky, there might be dancing.

JoAnn Mirise lives and writes in Cohasset.

Wagon Ho!

DRIVING WHILE TYPING

John Lengyel

Anyone can shepherd their child through second or third grade, but with every passing year it gets harder and harder to do your child's homework for him. Given unfamiliar methods of multiplication and division, new ancient civilizations, and foreign languages no one really cares about, it's no wonder some helicopter parents feel as if they're in over their heads.

The best way to combat this stress is to know a lot about pretty much everything, which is what I bring to the table in my house. You see, I'm an engineer, a writer, and I've got the Cotton-Eyed Joe almost down pat, so I have all the bases covered. I can "punch up" my 12-year-old's essay on adolescent self-consciousness with some much-needed humor. I can explain to my second grader the rules of NHL hockey fighting. And my technical background makes me ideally suited to designing, building, and presenting fourth grade wagon projects such as the one my daughter Mary completed this week.

Each student was assigned a state, and their job was to tell their parents the name of that state and then get out of the way for the next month while a state-themed wagon was constructed. Our state was Hawaii, so my first thought was to base the design on the "Lost'" crash site, with a miniature Kate and Jack, and a tiny Michael shooting a tiny Ana-Lucia in the chest. Of course this idea was way too edgy and cool for Mary, but I took her rejection like a man, throwing up my hands and telling her she could just design her whole project without me, and that I'd be in my room awaiting the inevitable disaster.

As I stood in the long line of parents and looked down the hall at the first wagons approaching I knew something was up. Most of the projects were significantly larger than I expected.

She decided to fill the front of the wagon with water and the rest with sand, on which sun bathers, palm trees, a Hawaiian flag, and a volcano would sit. I perked up a bit, because I knew my talents would be needed for the critical water/sand barrier. I began schematic drawings in earnest while she looked under the beds for Polly Pockets.

After weeks of preparation last Tuesday was the big day. Early that morning we rolled our Hawaiian wagon into the school cafeteria and did the final assembly. I dumped sand on one side of an angled piece of foam core representing the shoreline, and poured water into the other side. My expert caulking around the foam core worked perfectly to prevent leaks. We added the palm trees, the flag, the volcano, and the sunbathers on their little colored paper towels. We were GO for the parade!

As I stood in the long line of parents and looked down the hall at the first wagons approaching I knew something was up. Most of the projects were significantly larger than I expected. Nevada had flashing lights. Florida was playing music. North Carolina was actually hovering a few feet off the floor under its own power. There were multimedia presentations, a 1/12th scale model of the Zalkin Bridge with working hit-and-run drivers, a milk carton so huge it could have contained a cow, civil war ramparts, roller coasters, and a live alligator.

In contrast, the wagon Mary pulled down the hall looked like a Superfund site. The stop-and-go parade traffic had jostled the sand and turned the crystal clear waters of our Hawaiian lagoon into a grayish soup in which two half-naked Polly Pockets were floating face down. The grass skirt I'd glued to the bow was being slowly drawn-and-quartered by a few tendrils that had got wound around the front axle. And the volcano had somehow desecrated the Hawaiian flag.

No one had any idea what state this was supposed to be. "New Jersey?" I heard someone say. I tried throwing my voice. "I think it's Hawaii," I said at the wall, then pretended to be the father of the boy behind Mary. "You show 'em, Barney!" I said. Whoever it was swerved his 40-pound papier-mâché Mount Rushmore to avoid me and continued on nervously.

When you attend Cohasset's annual fourth grade wagon project for the first time, you realize what a healthy perspective Texans have on their high school football. I simply had no idea what I was up against. But I've got one more crack at it in 2009 and I know just which state I want Emily to get: Alabama. It's the cradle of the civil rights movement; it was the home of George Washington Carver and Forest Gump; and most importantly, bottle rockets and Roman candles are completely legal.

John Lengyel lives in Cohasset. He tried to weasel out of writing an article this week by claiming solidarity with the on-strike WGA, but we called horsepucky on that one.

Health Notes

Memorable tips about forgetfulness

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Ah memories...

How many of us can remember some of the first events in our lives? It's a generally acknowledged fact that memory loss accompanies aging. With so many instruments and devices for organizing and managing facts, from post-its on your refrigerator to the personal computer on your desk, who needs memory? Actually, the National Geographic reports that there are at least two individuals now living comfortably without any memory at all. One man was deprived of most of his memory when a virus destroyed his hippocampus, that part of the brain where memory is organized. The other was deprived of his hippocampus surgically to treat seizures. The results in the two cases were similar. Neither individual has any permanent memory of past events, yet both are happy and function normally retaining most mental functions such as arithmetic skills and the ability to read. The lesson: if memory goes completely, you don't have to worry about it any more.

Primitive man only had a few things to worry about, such as being eaten by a lion and where to find food. Then he had to learn about fire. Later reading and writing, then computer literacy, — and the Internet. To survive, there have always been a few core facts to remember. Once mastered, other remembered facts can lead to a life of enrichment, fun and fulfillment. It's just that our core knowledge now needs a substantial component of tools to manage the modern universe of information available to us. Formal education at all levels has been slow to include the new core survival requirements for the information age. And since each of us faces diminished capacity as we get older, we need to develop a system of augmenting what we know with the tools to organize the information we need to exist and find enrichment. Even if it's a notebook in the pocket or managing the answering machine or learning computer basics or meeting someone who already knows. So, I claim that assimilating information management in some of its many forms is as important as the following list of potential steps to improve your memory.

And since each of us faces diminished capacity as we get older, we need to develop a system of augmenting what we know with the tools to organize the information we need...

The NIH with characteristic candor, provides "steps already beneficial in other ways which may help reduce the risk of developing memory problems."

• Lower cholesterol and high blood pressure. A number of studies in recent years have suggested that vascular diseases — heart disease and stroke — may contribute to the development of AD, the severity of AD, or the development of multi-infarct dementia (also called vascular dementia).

•Don't smoke or abuse alcohol. According to a recent research report from Harvard Medical School, "Improving Memory: Understanding Age-Related Memory Loss," smokers perform worse than nonsmokers in studies of memory and thinking skills. Heavy alcohol use can also impair memory.

• Get regular exercise. Physical activity may help maintain blood flow to the brain and reduce risk factors associated with dementia.

• Maintain healthy eating habits. According to a study published in the Oct. 24, 2006, issue of Neurology, eating vegetables may help slow down the rate of cognitive change in adults. Researchers studied 3,718 residents in Chicago who were older than age 65. Of the types of vegetables, green leafy vegetables had the strongest association with slowing the rate of cognitive decline. Also reducing foods high in saturated fat and cholesterol and eating fish with beneficial omega-3 fatty acids, such as salmon and tuna, may benefit brain health. An NIA-funded clinical trial to test the effects of omega-3 fatty acids in people with AD is now recruiting patients nationwide.

• Maintain social interactions. Social interaction can help reduce stress levels and has been associated with a lower risk of dementia. In the February 2007 issue of the Archives of General Psychiatry, researchers found that loneliness is associated with an increased risk of late-life dementia.

• Keep your brain active. Some experts suggest that challenging the brain with such activities as reading, writing, learning a new skill, playing games, and gardening stimulates brain cells and the connections between the cells, and may be associated with a lower risk of dementia.

Everything wears out. It's to be expected. As you go on, look for an environment in which you believe you can operate and contribute even with diminished capacity. The lesson to be learned is that if you can't do anything about it worrying isn't going to help. Best to live with it.

Steve Bobo is a long-time member of the Cohasset Board of Health.

Adventures in drinking

HENSHAW

Tom Henshaw

Except for an occasional glass of merlot for old times' sake, I've pretty much eschewed strong drink for the past five or six years, ever since I discovered that I was paying almost as much for a six-pack of Michelob as I used to pay for a used car.

What I learned the other day made me almost regret that I had quit the sauce. Notice I said almost.

During the time I spent on the wrong side of the bar, I was known as an adventurous drinker, a sort of Marco Polo of the wine cellar, ready, willing and able to sample any brew or distillation whether I could pronounce or spell the name or not.

My bout with slivovitz 50 years ago is still spoken of with awe around the bistros on 48th Street.

A friend of mine from Zagreb introduced me to his national drink, which he referred to as plum brandy and which I referred to as (expletive deleted). If the Croats could do that to an otherwise tasty plum, I can see why they flirted with communism.

My bout with slivovitz 50 years ago is still spoken of with awe around the bistros on 48th Street.

But I digress . . .

The news item that brought back not so fond memories of slivovitz the other day was word that absinthe is making a comeback in the jet set bars after being banned in the United States since 1912 because someone thought it was an hallucinogen.

Forty or 50 years ago I would have been the first one in line at Toots Shor's for a taste of "the green fairy," even though I knew it was distillation of wormwood and the favorite drink of Picasso, whose paintings looked like he was hallucinating at the time.

If any of you guys wind up in New York, go to the Waverly Inn and order an absinthe minded martini, made with Lucid absinthe, Martin Miller's gin, fresh sour mix and orange twist for $15 and let a poor teetotaller know what you think.

Another item that caught my attention the other day was the listing of two popular brews made in New England — Smuttynose Pumpkin Ale in New Hampshire and Shipyard Pumpkin Ale in Maine. Those Yankees never let anything go to waste, do they?

I always thought it took barley and hops to make beer and ale but I looked it up and found that the Native Americans made a brew that was 4 or 5 per cent alcohol out of corn. I always thought corn was for White Lightning.

The folks who were here before Columbus intruded on their paradise used to chew the corn kernels to start fermentation, then they put it in water until it sprouted, then ground it up and boiled it. At my most adventurous, I think I would have just sipped it.

I used to be pretty good at ordering wines, too. I knew that generally white wines went with fish and poultry and red wines went with red meat, except maybe St. Emilion's white also was good with veal. You don't need to know that anymore.

The Amazing Food Wine Company of San Francisco is offering "Wine That Loves . . ." for $12.99 a bottle.

For instance, if you're having spaghetti and meat balls you'd order "Wine That Loves Pasta with Tomato Sauce." Kinda takes the adventure out of drinking, doesn't it?

Briefly

Brush being accepted at DPW

Residential brush will be accepted at the DPW parking area on Saturday, Nov. 17, from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

No trees over 3 inches in diameter will be accepted. No contractors.

Free legal clinic

Do you have a legal question or are you confused about a legal issue? The Bar Association of Norfolk County will sponsor a free legal clinic as a public service to the community from 6 to 8 p.m., Dec. 11, at Quincy District Court, 1 Dennis F. Ryan Parkway, Quincy Center.

A panel of attorneys experienced in all areas of the law will be available for one-on-one consultations to discuss legal questions. All consultations are strictly confidential.

For information contact Adrienne C. Clarke, Bar Association of Norfolk County, at 617-471-9693.

Village bylaw passes muster at Town Meeting

FROM VILLAGE, PAGE 1

Town Moderator Dan Evans kicked off the discussion on the village bylaw article shortly after 8p.m. by reminding voters to keep their comments courteous, "this is an issue where feelings run strong, so please take a deep breath before speaking," said Evans and during the course of the debate many speakers did heed his advice.

Mike Westcott, member of the Planning Board, presented a brief overview of the six-page bylaw.

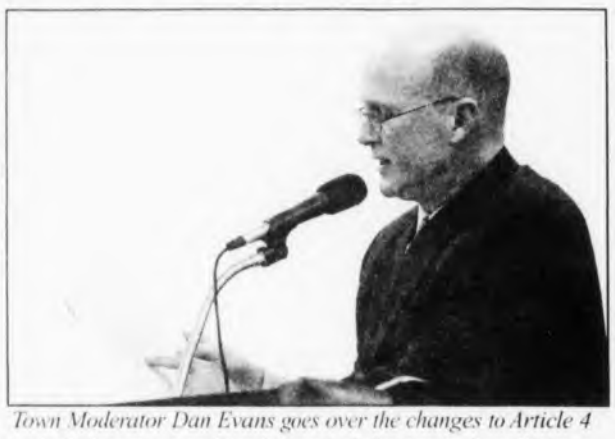
"It sounds incredibly complicated and in some ways it is," he said, but he simplified the at times confusing zoning language. Maintaining the charm and character of the village was first and foremost, followed by enabling investment and development in village properties that would increase the economic vitality of the district.

The bylaw calls for mixed-use, with retail/commercial use on the first floor and apartments on the second and third floors. He hoped by encouraging more housing options, young families and senior could have the ability to move or stay in town. Maintaining and promoting open space was also a priority.

Despite widespread support for the bylaw's intent to revitalize the village, the issue in debate over the past few weeks has been the special permit granting authority. As approved on Tuesday night, special permits for the Village Business District will be granted by the Planning Board. The Zoning Board of Appeals disagreed with this change. Traditionally, it was the ZBA who granted special permits for this district.

"My job is to find common ground, but there is simply not common ground on this issue," said the town's village consultant Angus Jennings of Concord Square Development Company, calling the difference "irreconcilable."

"It would be unfortunate if the bylaw was defeated on this issue," said Jennings, "if the objective is to remove existing restrictions on the village and keep in place controls for appropriate development, this bylaw does it."



The Board of Selectmen unanimously endorsed the bylaw, while the Advisory Committee voted 6-3 against the bylaw primarily because of the jurisdictional issue.

Although the ZBA agreed with the need for the zoning bylaws to encourage village revitalization, ZBA Chairman Woody Chittick said he could not support the bylaw with the jurisdictional change, "it's a well-intentioned but poorly constructed bylaw."

Chittick read a long list of problems he saw in the bylaw, including it was overly complicated, contained loopholes, eliminated a system of checks and balances between the boards, could cost the town additional money and was not in perfect form, "it's changed almost weekly…this is not a way to create and pass a bylaw."

Although Chittick had said last week the ZBA intended to propose an amendment to the bylaw that would revert the special permit granting authority back to the ZBA, they ultimately decided against it.

"After considerable thought, we decided we would simply be improving a poor bylaw to a mediocre bylaw," said Chittick. In addition, the one and a half page amendment probably would have complicated the issue even further.

Town Moderator Dan Evans goes over the changes to Article 4 with Cohasset voters. He also reminded voters to keep their comments courteous.

Chittick's comments got a few of the proponents riled up, including Westcott, who said he found some of his comments "insulting." He took one of those deep breaths Evans had recommended earlier. Shortly after, the discussion opened up to the floor of Town Meeting.

Ronnie McMorris of 89 Doane St. asked the Planning Board or its consultant to provide some sort of idea of what the village would look like in 25 or 50 years, if the bylaw passed.

Jennings said about 95 housing units could potentially be developed in the village under the bylaw. Over half of those units would be in smaller complexes with one to six units each. The regulations will not allow high-rise buildings (all buildings must be under 35 feet) and lots can only have 80 percent coverage.

Chris Ford, a current village property owner, said he worked in Cohasset Village back in 1981 and not much has changed in the 26 years hence. The zoning bylaws have prevented investment and development for too long and didn't want an dispute over special permitting to hold up change any further.

"I don't care which board it is, just don't throw out the baby with the bathwater," said Ford.

After over an hour and half of discussion Ed Wood of 231 Jerusalem Road, called the question to vote and Town Meeting unanimously voted to proceed to a vote on the village bylaw with not further comments.

A voice vote was taken, after which Town Moderator Dan Evans declared, "the yeas have it, the motion is adopted." Amid clapping from proponents, more than seven voters, including members of the Zoning Board of Appeals, stood up quickly to requests a hand count.

The counters took their place on the floor and the voters in favor of the bylaw raised their orange tickets high in the air. When those against raised their tickets, it was clear there were less, but those who had just voted in favored glanced around with uncertainty.

A few silent and dramatic moments passed as Evans tallied the votes from the podium.

The vote was 151-68 in favor of the motion, "that's slightly more than the two-third majority required, the motion is adopted." Another outburst of applause broke out on the floor.

Planning board member Mike Westcott, left at podium and consultant, Angus Jennings, right, present a slide show on the village article during Tuesday's Special Town meeting. The article passed by the necessary two-thirds with a vote of 151 to 68.

At right, Chris Ford, a village property owner, applauds to the yes vote on the village bylaw at Tuesday's Special Town Meeting.

PHOTOS/CRAIG GOEDECKE

Cohasset voters at Tuesday's Special Town Meeting hold up their "vote yes" cards for Article 4, the village bylaw.

Smooth sailing: Seven articles in 15 minutes

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

If the village discussion was a marathon, then the conclusion of Town Meeting was a sprint. The remaining seven articles were tackled in about 15 minutes time. A smaller crowd, indefinite postponements and smaller issues contributed to the speedy finish. The meeting wrapped up around 10p.m.

Article 5, a citizens' petition to amend the waterfront business bylaw was indefinitely postponed. The Planning Board has future plans to look at the district in much the same way they addressed the village business district — with a professional consultant and a well-vetted process.

The Community Preservation Committee had no requests for funding this Town Meeting season and Article 6 was unanimously indefinitely postponed.

Article 7 drew out some discussion from floor and was ultimately amended from its presented form. The article, presented by the Board of Selectmen, was intended to clean up the bylaws and eliminate several committees no longer relevant. These committees included the Personnel Committee, Design Review Board, Committee to Survey Structure and Function of Town Government, Drainage Committee, Commission on Disabilities and Civilian Dispatch Committee.

Good's amendment to remove the Design Review Board from the list of eliminated committees was accepted by a majority vote.

Robin Lawrence of 15 Beach St., and a member of the Board of Health, suggested the Drainage Committee remain intact citing a need for a committee focused on this issue. However, Steve Bobo of 292 Jerusalem Road said the more recently formed Stormwater Committee has absorbed the charges of the Drainage Committee. The motion to exclude the Drainage Committee from the eliminate committee list was defeated.

Next, Bill Good, Vice Chairman of the Planning Board, requested the Design Review Board be saved from elimination.

"In the past the Planning Board relied on its expertise," said Good, "for the kinds of projects likely to come up in the near future their input could be valuable."

Good's amendment to remove the Design Review Board from the list of eliminated committees was accepted by a majority vote. With no more discussion, the article was adopted by a majority vote.

Articles 8 and 9, both concerned with a property at 55 Norfolk Road and correcting a defective deed title, were unanimously voted to indefinitely postpone. Another Citizens' Petition (Article 10) to construct a 600-foot sidewalk on Route 3A between Lower King Street and Sanctuary Pond Road was voted to indefinitely postpone.

Lastly, the Selectmen requested permission to dispose of a property at 821 Jerusalem Road (Article 11). The town foreclosed on the property, which includes a two-unit dwelling, due to non-payment of property taxes. The property would be sold through a competitive process for the purpose of increasing the town's affordable inventory. Town Meeting adopted the motion unanimously with no discussion.

Town Meeting Rundown

Article 1 – Budget Amendments: adopted unanimously.

Article 2 – Capital Improvements Budget: adopted by majority vote.

Article 3 – Water Resource Bylaw: adopted unanimously.

Article 4 – Village Business District Bylaw: adopted by required 2/3 vote. A hand count was taken: 151 in favor, 68 against.

Article 5 – Citizens' Petition, Waterfront Business District bylaw: unanimous vote to indefinitely postpone.

Article 6 – Community Preservation Committee: unanimous vote to indefinitely postpone.

Article 7 – Amend Bylaw to Eliminate Committees: adopted by majority vote with an amendment, the Design Review Board was removed from the list of eliminated committees.

Article 8 – Taking of Portion of Land at 55 Norfolk Road: moved to indefinitely postpone.

Article 9 – Disposition of Portion of Land at 55 Norfolk Road: moved to indefinitely postpone.

Article 10 – Citizens' Petition, Construction of Sidewalk on Route 3A: unanimous vote to indefinitely postpone.

Article 11 – Disposition of Property at 821 Jerusalem Road: adopted unanimously.

FOCUS ON Higher Education
Get all of the information you need to pursue a higher education!
Don't miss the Higher Education special section on the week of November 26th!
This section will feature … and options … prospective higher … student. It will also highlight … programs, and … available to help … pursue a higher education.
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
Eastern Massachusetts New England

Autos OF THE Week
CAR
2005 PORSCHE CARRERA S

Traction, anti-theft, upgrade audio, leather interior, power moonroof, heated mirrors, aluminum wheels, much more! #P3465
$68,895
SUV
2003 CHEVY TRAILBLAZER 4X4

Auto, PW, PL #88574A
$12,999
TRUCK
NEW 2007 GMC SIERRA 4X4

Auto., cruise, remote entry, CD, A/C, trailer package. #7G201
BUY FOR $20,995
For more details on these fine vehicles and many others, go to today's Community Classifieds section!
Featuring These Great Local Dealerships...
Best Chevrolet • Colonial Ford • Columbia Buick Pontiac GMC
Marty's GMC-Pontiac-Buick-Isuzu • McGee Pre-Owned Super Store of Pembroke
Rietzl Porsche-Audi • Shaw Saab • South Shore Jeep-Chrysler-Volkswagen
Tom O'Brien Hyundai

'B' in 40B stands for 'broken'

HEDLUND REPORT

ROBERT HEDLUND

Regardless of its progressive origins, the truth is that Chapter 40B is a 38-year-old law that has been hijacked by some unscrupulous developers interested in little more than maximizing profits under the guise of providing for the common good.

Late last month, the Joint Committee on Housing, on which I sit, held a hearing on proposed changes to Chapter 40B, our state's so-called affordable housing law.

This hearing is quickly becoming a biannual tradition, as a lengthy line of senators and representatives air their grievances, explaining how developers are taking advantage of giant loopholes in this well-meaning law and burying local communities and volunteer boards with these horrendous projects that do little but drain municipal resources.

And then "affordable housing advocates" get up and tell the panel how everything is fine and nothing needs to be changed. And then nothing is changed.

But as anyone living in my district knows, Chapter 40B has been an abject failure when it comes to providing true affordable housing for the region. As I told the Housing Committee during my testimony, the "B" in Chapter 40B stands for "broken."

Regardless of its progressive origins, the truth is that Chapter 40B is a 38-year-old law that has been hijacked by some unscrupulous developers interested in little more than maximizing profits under the guise of providing for the common good.

Here are some facts about the impact Chapter 40B has had on affordable housing:

- Although the number of housing units built under 40B has skyrocketed, the total number of affordable units in the state has decreased significantly.
- Prior to 1999, 36 percent of all units built under 40B were considered affordable. In 2006, that figure stood at 26.6 percent.
- Since 2003, cities and towns have produced an estimated 5,484 units of affordable housing. Over that same time, 40B projects have generated just 4,517 affordable units, but also resulted in an additional 20,000 market-rate units.

These figures come from Repeal 40B, a grassroots group trying to collect enough signatures to have a question placed on the 2008 state ballot allowing Massachusetts voters to decide whether the law should be eliminated from the books. The reason this group formed in the first place is because the Legislature has failed to address one of the most significant issues facing suburban communities today.

The House of Representatives, to its credit, did approve a bill in 2004 that made modest changes to the law, including increasing the type of housing that can be counted toward a community's affordable housing stock. But like with so many other issues, the Senate shirked its responsibility to take the issue up, and the bill subsequently died.

How important of an issue is this to suburban communities? So far 40 towns have signed on to an initiative asking the Legislature to institute a moratorium on 40B projects.

One of the two 40B bills that I filed, Senate Bill 760, would do just that. It's not just that 40B isn't the solution to our affordable housing needs; it's that the law is being blatantly abused.

State Inspector General Gregory Sullivan last year reviewed the financial paperwork of 10 randomly selected projects and found significant problems with seven of them. We're not talking about misplaced commas, or forgetting to carry a two. We're talking about improperly inflated construction costs, hidden profits through sweetheart deals with friends and business partners and other "accounting fictions," as Sullivan put it. The most concerning part is that a post-completion audit by a monitoring agent missed many of these problems. Among the findings were that several of the projects had actually exceeded the 20 percent profit margin cap and owed the host communities hundreds of thousands of dollars.

"Based on our review to date, it has become clear to this office that the cost certification and monitoring process is 'broken,'" Sullivan wrote. "Our review has revealed that reported developer profits were routinely and substantially understated. The results, in many cases, were profit windfalls to the developers which deprived the respective municipalities of the excess profits that should have been paid."

And in a recent interview with the State House News Service, Sullivan was quoted as saying the problems he has uncovered represent "the biggest scandal in state history."

Changes are needed, and until we in the Legislature do just that, I think it is unfair to ask our local communities to work under the current set of rules.

I also have proposed Senate Bill 758, which would require all housing units built under Chapter 40B to be reserved as affordable. I think we need to ensure that developers have the common good at heart before they propose throwing a town's zoning and building regulations out the window. Developers currently only have to set aside between 20 and 25 percent of the units built as affordable. That's a terrible cost/benefit ratio for host communities who are being forced to provide costly municipal services to housing developments they have little control over and receive minimal benefit from.

Only in Massachusetts can a development where 75 percent of the condos are sold for more than $500,000 be considered an "affordable housing development."

No one doubts that we need more affordable housing, especially as median house prices continue to top $300,000. But Chapter 40B is not the answer. Evidence continues to mount that for every 40B project that lives up to the law's lofty ideals, there are several others that are just bad for the residents of the commonwealth.

For more information on the effort to eliminate Chapter 40B, check out repeal-40b.com.

Republican State Sen. Robert Hedlund represents the eight-town Plymouth-Norfolk District that includes: Hingham, Hull, Cohasset, Weymouth, Norwell, Scituate, Marshfield and Duxbury.

Village bylaw is only the first step

FROM BYLAW, PAGE 10

As much as one may wish, vitality will not be achieved only with the residents doing more shopping in their own village. Nor would it be serious to believe that new desirable businesses would wait in line to open in the village just based on the residents' patronage. We need to attract to town the sophisticated and — let's be honest — well off visitors from the entire region, and give them a chance to have a good time, spend their money and waste no time to book their next trip to beautiful Cohasset. Everybody wins.

If we win this challenge, it is because we will clearly identify what would cause these people to come to town in the first place. Surely they would not come all the way to Cohasset Village to buy automotive parts or go to a fast food joint. They would expect to see retail shops that cater to the sea and art themes which represent our strength, i.e. art galleries, shops displaying merchandise relating to the sea, souvenirs, decorations, jewelry, etc. With this new interest growing, you can bet that the second wave of entrepreneurs/investors will follow to take advantage of the change: fancy restaurants and tea houses, high-end boutiques, a couple of new nice hotels within the community... The beauty of such change is that not only would it bring prosperity to Cohasset but, for the most part, it would keep and enhance the basic unique character of the village.

Again, this is not going to happen overnight. We will have to make it happen, together. It is our town. The Planning Board and the Economic Development committee will need to focus on the objectives and embark on a new proactive mission, as any business would/should do. They know it. Much of their time will most likely be devoted to PMP — PR, Marketing and Prospecting. With the support of the residents, such an ambition is very much within our reach.

I realize that this plan is going too far for some. The change may be too much to deal with. To those, I say: what else do you propose? What are the realistic alternatives? Do you want to see your village slide to economic obsolescence and have to chip in more money each and every year for essential town capital expenditures, or do you want CHANGE, and hopefully get to enjoy it and benefit from it in years to come?

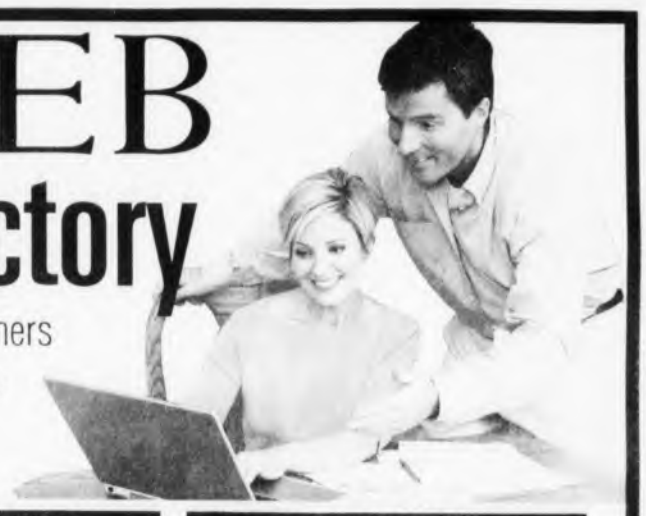
Alain Pinel lives at 188 South Main St.

Cohasset Library Trust to hold its first meeting

After a lengthy trip through the legal and legislative process, the Cohasset Library Trust is up and running. Created to protect and grow the Paul Pratt Memorial Library's endowment, the trust will hold its first annual meeting Tuesday, Nov. 20.

"We are blessed with a library that is truly at the center of town life," said Jane Goedecke, President of the Trust. "This treasure must be nurtured and protected. It is an investment in our future, so we must invest in its future."

Goedecke outlined different ways residents can help the endowment to grow. Gifts of $5,000 can create a named book fund to honor or remember loved ones and will earn the donor a place on the endowment donor wall, which will soon be installed in the library.



A brochure created by the trust describes pressures on the library budget: greater usage and a rapidly changing and increasing need for technology. At the same time, the library's share of Cohasset's annual budget has steadily decreased. Trust members are committed to improving library service by insuring funding that will "match the vision," according to Goedecke.

The Trust Board of Directors, appointed by the Library Trustees, in addition to Goedecke, includes Sheila S. Evans, Rodney M. Hobson, Linda M. Litchfield, Bernadette Faulkner, James T. McKenna, Sarah E. Morton, Brian M. Murphy, Christopher Oddleifson, Sarah R. Pease, John P. Reardon, Jr., Robert E. Riley, Deborah A. Shadd, Gordon M. Stevenson Jr., and Patience G. Towle.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
A to Z Boatworks
www.atozboatworks.net
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.com

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc.
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

LIMOUSINE SERVICE
JB Livery
www.JBLivery.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Satuit Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PARTY RENTALS
Country Rentals
www.countryrentals.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRESCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SAVINGS
Community Coupons
www.coupons.townonline.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestick Pool Service
www.bestickpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc.
www.bridgestreettire.com

TRAVEL
Clipper Travel
www.clippertravel.com

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT/ WEB DESIGN
Simple Wizardry
www.simplewizardry.com
Two-Studios
www.two-studios.com

WEDDING VIDEOGRAPHY
Robert Koza Videography
www.robertkozavideo.com

YOGA AND PILATES
Real Life Yoga
www.reallifeyoga.com

CURTIS LIQUORS

www.curtisliquors.com

All The Best At Thanksgiving

Number One Readers' Choice Awards #1 2007

CURTIS LIQUORS Gift Card Available now!

Closed Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, 11/22/07
Sale prices good thru Wed., 11/21/07
Not responsible for typographical errors.

BEERS/ALE

BASS ALE 12 PK BT $21.99 CS, 12 PK .....$11.99 +dep
CORONA REG AND LIGHT LOOSE BT .....$21.99 CS +dep
ST PAULI GIRL REG, DARK, NA 2/12 PK BT $18.99 CS, 12 PK PD .....$9.99 +dep
WARSTEINER BEER 2/12 PK BT $19.99, 12 PK .....$10.99 +dep
SAM ADAMS (ALL TYPES) LOOSE & 12 PKS $21.99 CS, 12 PK .....$11.99 +dep
MAGIC HAT (ALL TYPES) 12 PK BT $21.99 CS, 12 PK ..$11.99 +dep
HARPOON (ALL TYPES) LOOSE BTLS $20.99 CS, 12 PK ..$10.99 +dep
SHIPYARD (ALL TYPES) 12 PK BT $20.99 CS, 12 PK ....$10.99 +dep
LONG TRAIL (ALL TYPES) 12 PK BT $20.99 CS, 12 PK ..$10.99 +dep
SEADOG (ALL TYPES) 12 PK BT $20.99 CS, 12 PK .....$10.99 +dep
HEINEKEN REG, LT & AMSTEL "LOOSE" CANS & BOTTLES $21.99 CS +dep
BUD REG AND LIGHT 20 PK BT .....$13.99 CS +dep
LITE FROM MILLER 30 PKS $17.99 CS, 20 PKS ...$13.99 CS +dep
LITE FROM MILLER AND COORS LIGHT 18 PK CANS .....$11.99 CS +dep
COORS LIGHT 30 PK $17.99 CS, 20 PK .....$13.99 CS +dep
MILLER HIGH LIFE REG & LIGHT 30 PK CANS .....$14.99 CS +dep
MILLER HIGH LIFE REG & LIGHT 18 PK BTLS .....$7.99 CS +dep
MILWAUKEE'S BEST REG, LT, ICE 30 PK CANS .....$11.99 +dep
RED BULL REG & SUGAR FREE, 12 PK CANS .....$17.99 +dep

VODKA

KETEL ONE REG & CITREON 1.75L $33.99
BELVEDERE VODKA 750ML $23.99
CHOPIN VODKA 750ML $26.99
CHRISTIANIA VODKA (NORWAY) 750ML $21.99
GREY GOOSE REG VODKA (ALL FLAVORS) 750ML $25.99
ABSOLUT VODKA REG 1.75L $29.99
STOLICHNAYA VODKA 80 1.75L $29.99
FINLANDIA VODKA 1.75L $23.99
LUKSUSOWA VODKA 1.75L $19.99 (Less $3 Mail Rebate) ..$16.99
VIKING FJÖRD 1.75L $18.99
SMIRNOFF RED VODKA 80% 1.75L $20.99
SMIRNOFF FLAVORED VODKAS (Raspberry, Cranberry, Lime, Orange, Watermelon, Citrus, Strawberry, Vanilla, Green Apple, Black Cherry, Blueberry) 1.75L $21.99
GORDON'S VODKA 1.75L $14.99 (Less $5 Mail Rebate) $9.99
UV VODKA (ZERO CARBS)(ALL FLAVORS) 1.75L $14.99
SKYY VODKA 1.75L $21.99

GIN/WHISKEY/BOURBON

BOMBAY SAPPHIRE GIN 1.75L $33.99
TANQUERAY GIN 1.75L $32.99
TANQUERAY #10 750ML $25.99
GORDON'S GIN 1.75L $15.99 (Less $5 Mail Rebate) $10.99
BEEFEATER GIN 1.75L $26.99
SEAGRAMS "7" 1.75L $15.99 (Less $4 Mail Rebate) $11.99
JIM BEAM BLACK BOURBON ...1.75L $27.99, 750ML $17.99
JIM BEAM BOURBON 1.75L $19.99
JACK DANIELS 1.75L $36.99
MAKER'S MARK 750ML $22.99
WOODFORD RESERVE 750ML $26.99
KNOB CREEK BOURBON 750ML $22.99

RUM/CANADIAN/TEQUILA

CAPTAIN MORGAN SPICED RUM 1.75L $24.99
CAPTAIN MORGAN PARROT BAY (Coconut, Mango, Passion, Pineapple) 750ML $15.99
GOSLING'S RUM 1.75L $24.99
BACARDI SILVER, GOLD & SELECT 1.75L $20.99
BACARDI FLAVORED RUMS (ALL TYPES) 1.75L $21.99
SEAGRAM'S CROWN ROYAL ..1.75L $39.99, 750ML $21.99
SEAGRAM'S VO 1.75L $19.99 (Less $4 Mail Rebate) $15.99
CANADIAN CLUB 1.75L $16.99
CANADIAN MIST 1.75L $14.99 (Less $3 Mail Rebate) $11.99
CUERVO GOLD TEQUILA ORANJO, TROPINA, CITRICO 750ML $16.99
SAUZA GOLD TEQUILA 750ML $13.99

SCOTCH/IRISH WHISKY

JOHNNIE WALKER RED 1.75L $29.99
JOHNNIE WALKER BLACK 750ML $29.99
JOHNNIE WALKER 750ML .....GREEN $45.99, GOLD $59.99, BLUE $169.99
DEWARS SCOTCH 1.75L $30.99 (Less $3 Mail Rebate) $27.99
GLENLIVET 12 YR SCOTCH 750ML $31.99
GLENMORANGIE 10 YR OLD 750ML $34.99
CLAN MCGREGOR SCOTCH 1.75L $13.99
FAMOUS GROUSE SCOTCH 1.75L $29.99
CHIVAS REGAL SCOTCH 750ML $26.99
GRANT'S SCOTCH 1.75L $21.99
CUTTY SARK SCOTCH 1.75L $25.99
BALLANTINE SCOTCH 1.75L $19.99
JAMESON IRISH WHISKEY 1.75L $35.99, 750ML $19.99
BUSHMILL'S IRISH WHISKEY 750ML $19.99

CORDIALS/COGNAC/BRANDY

REMY MARTIN XO $110.99
VSOP COGNAC 750ML $36.99
HENNESSY COGNAC 750ML .....XO $112.99, VSOP $39.99, VS $25.99
COURVOISIER VS COGNAC 750ML $22.99
DOM B&B/BENEDICTINE 750ML $22.99
COINTREAU LIQUEUR 750ML $26.99
GRAND MARNIER 750ML $27.99
GRAND MARNIER 750ML 150 YR OLD $165.99
GRAND MARNIER 750ML 100 YR OLD $104.99
SOUTHERN COMFORT LIQUEUR 1.75L $25.99
BAILEY'S IRISH CREAM Original, Mint Choc., Caramel 750ML .$21.99
STARBUCK'S COFFEE & CREAM LIQUEUR 750ML $18.99
SAMBUCA ROMANA LIQUEUR WHITE & BLACK 750ML ..$18.99
FRANGELICO LIQUEUR 750ML $17.99
KAHLUA COFFEE LIQUEUR 1.0L $22.99, 750ML $15.99
CAROLANN'S IRISH CREAM 750ML $9.99
AMARETTO DI SARONNO 750ML $18.99
DRAMBUIE LIQUEUR 750ML $23.99
STOCK BRANDY 1.75L $15.99 (Less $6 Mail Rebate) $9.99
STOCK BRANDY 750ML $7.99 (Less $4 Mail Rebate) $3.99

SPARKLING WINES

DOM PERIGNON 750ML $109.99
KRUG CHAMPAGNE NV 750ML $99.99
RUINART BRUT ROSE, BLANC DE BLANC 750ML $55.00
VEUVE CLICQUOT YELLOW LABEL 750ML $35.99
MOET & CHANDON WHITE STAR 750ML $29.99
DOMAINE CHANDON Brut, Blancs de Noir, Riche (X-Dry) 750ML $14.99
GLORIA FERRER Blancs de Blancs, Brut, Blancs de Noir $12.99
M&R ASTI SPUMANTE 750ML $9.99
FREIXENET Brut and X-Dry 750ML $7.99
MIONETTO PROSECCO 750ML $7.99
KORBEL Brut and X-Dry 750ML $9.99
COOK'S Brut and X-Dry 750ML $4.99

DOMESTIC WINES

DUCKHORN MERLOT '04/05 750ML $42.99
CAYMUS CABERNET '05 750ML $59.99
CONNUNDRUM 750ML $19.99
JOSEPH PHELPS NAPA CABERNET '04 750ML $42.99
STAG'S LEAP ARTEMIS CABERNET SAUVIGNON '05 750ML $42.99
NEWTON "UNFILTERED" CHARDONNAY 750ML $42.99
CLOS DU BOIS MARLSTONE '03 AND BRIARCREST '02 750ML $37.99
CLOS DU BOIS CALCAIRE CHARD '03 750ML $18.99
CLOS DU BOIS CALCAIRE REG CHARD 750ML $8.99
CLOS DU BOIS 750ML Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot $9.99
RODNEY STRONG Cab, Merlot $11.99
RODNEY STRONG Sauv Blanc, Chard $9.99
ST. SUPERY 750ML Sauvignon Blanc $12.99
ROBERT MONDAVI 750ML ..Napa Cab $17.99, Napa Chard $14.99
B.V. RUTHERFORD 750ML Cabernet $18.99
B.V. COASTAL WINES 750ML (ALL TYPES) $7.99
STERLING NAPA 750ML .....Cabernet $17.99, Merlot $15.99
STERLING 750ML .....Chardonnay $12.99, Sauv Blanc $11.99
FRANCISCAN 750ML .....Cabernet $19.99, Merlot $14.99
HESS SELECT 750ML .....Cabernet $9.99, Chardonnay $8.99
BERINGER FOUNDER'S WINES (All Types) $7.99
BAREFOOT WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $8.99
FISH EYE WINES (All Types) 1.5 MAG $8.99
LOUIS MARTINI SONOMA Cabernet 750ML $10.99
BLACKSTONE WINE (All Types) 750ML $7.99, 1.5MAG ...$15.99
J LOHR 750ML .....Chardonnay $8.99, Cab & Merlot $10.99
SIMI 750ML .....Cabernet $19.99, Chardonnay $11.99
KENDALL JACKSON Chardonnay 750ML $9.99
KENDALL JACKSON Cabernet, Pinot Noir, Merlot 750ML $11.99
MERIDIAN WINES (All Types) 750ML $7.99
MONDAVI WOODBRIDGE (All Types) 1.5MAG $9.99
MONDAVI PRIV Select Chard, Cab, Mer, P. Grigio & Noir 750ML ..$7.99
RAVENSWOOD VB Merlot & Zinfandel 750ML $7.99
LIBERTY SCHOOL Cabernet Sauvignon 750ML $11.99
PEPPERWOOD WINES (All Types) 750ML $6.99
SMOKING LOON (All Types) 750ML $7.99
RED TRUCK RED TABLE WINE 750ML $7.99
OYSTER BAY Sauvignon Blanc, Merlot 750ML $7.99
TRINCHERO Chard, Merlot, Cab, Sauv Blanc 750ML $7.99
SUTTER HOME White Zin, Sauv Blanc ..1.5MAG $6.99, 750ML $3.99
SUTTER HOME Chard, Cab, Merlot, PG .1.5MAG $8.99, 750ML $4.99
VENDANGE WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $6.99
ALMADEN WINES (Low Tier) ....5L BAG/BOX $9.99, 3.0L $6.99
ARBOR MIST WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $4.99, 750ML $2.99
BERINGER WHITE ZINFANDEL 750ML $4.29
FRANZIA (Low Tier) 5L BAG/BOX $9.99
BOGLE RRV PINOT NOIR 750ML $12.99
BOGLE Chard, Merlot, Sauvignon Blanc 750ML $7.99
REDWOOD CREEK WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $8.99
RH PHILLIPS CHARDONNAY 1.5MAG $9.99
ROUND HILL (All Types) 1.5MAG $10.99
TOASTED HEAD CHARDONNAY 750ML $9.99
HOGUE WINES (All Types) 750ML $6.99
ESTANCIA CHARDONNAY 750ML $7.99
FETZER VALLEY WINES (All Types) 750ML $6.99
TURNING LEAF (All Types) 1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $5.99
CH STE MICHELLE CHARDONNAY 750ML $8.99
GNARLY HEAD OLD VINE Cabernet & Zinfandel 750ML $7.99
DELICATO (All Flavors) 3 LTR "BOTA BOX" $12.99
GEYSER PEAK 750ML Chardonnay $9.99
BOUCHARD Pinot Noir 750ML $9.99
WILD HORSE Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon 750ML $13.99

IMPORTED WINES

TALENTI BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO 750ML $39.99
RUFFINO Tan Label 750ML $18.99
RUFFINO Chianti & Orvieto 1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $6.99
MONSANTO CHIANTI CLASSICO RISERVA 750ML $14.99
ANTINORI SANTA CRISTINA 750ML $8.99
MONTE ANTICO SUPER TUSCAN 750ML $8.99
LIVIO FELLUGA ESPERTO PINOT GRIGIO 750ML $10.99
TOSCOLO CHIANTI 750ML $7.99
A-MANO PRIMITIVO, BIANCO 750ML $7.99
SANTA MARGHERITA PG 750ML $18.99
CASA LAPOSTOLLE CUVEE ALEXANDER Merlot & Cab ..$15.99
TERRAZAS Malbec & Cabernet Sauvignon 750ML $7.99
FARNESE Montepulciano, Sangiovese, Trebbiano 750ML $6.99
TORRES Sangre de Toro, Vina Sol 750ML $7.99
DA VINCI CHIANTI DOCG 750ML $10.99
LUNA DI LUNA WINES (Red & Blue Only) .MAGS $10.99, 750ML $6.99
MURPHY GOODE 750ML ...Cab, Chard $12.99, Fume Blanc $8.99
PETER LEHMANN CLANCY'S Red, Shiraz, GSM, Cab 750ML ..$9.99
ROSEMOUNT WINES (All Types) 750ML $7.99
GREG NORMAN RED WINES (All Types) .$10.99, Chardonnay $9.99
LINDEMAN'S BIN WINES 1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $5.99
YELLOW TAIL (All Flavors) 1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $6.99
CAVIT WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $10.99
MEZZACORONA WINES (All Types) .1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $5.99
BOLLA WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $10.99
BELLA SERA (All Types) 1.5MAG $9.99
ALICE WHITE WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $8.99
LOUIS JADOT MACON VILLAGES $8.99
LOUIS JADOT BEAUJOLAIS VILLAGES $7.99
BLACK SWAN (All Types) 750ML $5.99, 1.5MAG $8.99
LITTLE BOOMEY WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $8.99
LITTLE PENGUIN WINES (All Types) .1.5MAG $9.99, 750ML $5.99
CONCHA Y TORO WINES (All Types) 1.5MAG $6.99
HARVEY'S BRISTOL CREAM 750ML $8.99
WARRES OTIMA ....20 Year Tawny $29.99, 10 Year Tawny Port $15.99
WARRES LBV PORT 750ML $16.99
WARRES WARRIOR PORT 750ML $10.99

Big Enough to Serve You...
Small Enough to Know You... 2 Convenient Locations:

• 486 COLUMBIAN ST., Weymouth (781) 331-2345 • RTE. 3A., Cohasset (781) 383-9800

Fulfilling an orphan's dream

FROM DREAM, PAGE 1

A complex of six dormitories for the children would be built. Six children would be supervised and cared for by 12 foster mothers. The orphanage would be called "Oasis of Peace."

"In a desert of disappointment, devastation and destruction, this will be the children's' oasis of peace," says Burbank. The orphanage would be located on at least 30 acres of land to be used for farming.

Burbank didn't waste any time beginning the long journey to bring the orphanage to fruition. In the remaining weeks of her trip, the pieces of the orphanage began to come together. A Kenyan woman, Virginia Maringa, shared in Burbank's vision and co-founded the effort with her. They established a board of directors in Kenya to oversee the African part of the project.

COURTESY PHOTOS

Sharing the same first name, Virginia, the same occupation, teacher, and now the same vision for an orphanage in Kenya, Virginia Maringa, left, and Virginia Burbank co-founded the Oasis of Peace orphanage. Burbank will return to Kenya next week to look at prospective properties for the orphanage.

When Burbank returned home to the US she went right to work spreading the word about the vision for an orphanage in Africa.

"I haven't been thinking of anything else but the orphanage since I got back," says Burbank, "I am so determined to do this."

Her main focus while on these shores has been to raise the needed funds to buy the 30 acres of land and then, the funds to build the orphanage. She estimates the project will cost over $900,000. With such a lofty number, she gathered a team of 14 board members and together they have done all they can to spread the word about both the plight of the Kenyan orphans and the vision of building a home those orphans could call their own. Through fundraising events, speaking at churches, and simply word of mouth, they have been able to raise over $50,000.

"People have been very generous," Burbank says for which she is thankful. Her passion for the project is evident the moment she begins to speak of it. She has met scores of people who have opened both their hearts and their wallets upon hearing about the cause. Although she recognizes there is a long way to go, she believes a higher power is guiding the project to completion.

On Nov. 28, Burbank heads back to Kenya to look at three prospective pieces of land for the orphanage. She expects to stay in Kenya for three or four months.

"It's exhausting but it's worth it," says Burbank, with a warm smile, "I can't wait to put my arms around the very first orphan."

To find out more about An Orphan's Dream or to send a donation, please call 1-888-OASISOP or 617-481-2102. As a registered non-profit organization and a public charity, all donations are tax-deductible. Donations can be sent to An Orphan's Dream, P.O. Box 690243, Quincy, MA 02269.

Retired CHS teacher Virginia Burbank cried for two days after seeing the poverty and horror of the largest slum in the world, Kibera, a section of Nairobi, Kenya. The region, like so many in Africa, has been badly stricken by the AIDS epidemic and many children lose their parents to the disease. Burbank is now raising money to build an orphanage in Kenya to house 72 orphaned children.

SENIOR SCENE

Enjoy Thanksgiving feast on Nov. 20

The following events are sponsored by Cohasset Elder Affairs at 3 North Street. Registration is required for all events unless noted by calling 781-383-9112.

EVENTS

Make a Difference Days – Members of the Cohasset PTO and their families will go to the homes of senior residents to rake leaves and perform other chores, Saturday, Nov. 17, and Sunday, Nov. 18.

Thanksgiving Feast – Enjoy a Thanksgiving Feast at noon, Tuesday, Nov. 20, which is being offered to Cohasset seniors at the Atlantica Restaurant. Participants are asked to bring a non-perishable food item for St. Anthony's Food Pantry.

Lunchtime Lectures

The Lunchtime Lecture series will be held at 11 a.m. The cost is $2.50 including a gourmet lunch.

The Longevity Revolution – Join Frank and Libet Callahan, Wednesday, Nov. 14, for "Managing your Medications."

Medicare Part D Workshop – Join Sid Whiting from Senior Initiatives for this important workshop as he discusses the Medicare Part D changes for 2008, Wednesday, Dec. 5. The deadline for the annual open enrollment period is Monday, Dec. 31. The options for coverage will include a number of new plans with a wide range in premium costs. It is important that each plan is reviewed carefully before making a change in health coverage. The Angel Food Project will prepare lunch.

Library Corner

Great Decisions Group meets Sunday

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information, call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

Great Decisions Group – The next Great Decisions Discussion group will meet at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 18, in the Meeting Room. For those who have registered for the program, the group will discuss Children in Chapter Eight of the assigned text.

Library Book Group – Join the group for coffee and discussion of Penelope Fitzgerald's book "Offshore" at 10 a.m., on Wednesday, Nov. 28, in the Meeting Room. This book "offers a portrait of a group of eccentrics living in houseboats on the river Thames and describes how their disparate lives intertwine and complicate matters for everyone," NoveList. The book won the Booker Prize in 1979. All are welcome.

Movie Matinee – Come to the library for a free showing of the film "Singing in the Rain" starring Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds and Donald O'Connor at 11 a.m., on Friday, Dec. 7. Light refreshments provided by Friends of the Library. Movie site license is sponsored by Friends of the Library and Cohasset Democratic Town Committee.

Art Exhibit – Michael Weymouth is a gallery artist at the South Shore Arts Center and an associate gallery artist at the Copley Society in Boston. "Traveling Man" is his first one-man show and consists of paintings from several destinations he spent time in this past year, including Mexico, France and Italy. The show will be up through the end of December at the library.

FOR CHILDREN

School Project Help – The library Web site, www.cohassetlibrary.org, is set up to help with many school projects. Students in grades 1 through 5 will find everything they need on the Children's Page under links and homework help. A new addition to the search engine category is the CIA World Fact Book, which includes everything needed for country reports. The library has many research databases designed and written for students. Middle and high school students will find the research page extensive.

In addition, project help is always available by emailing the children's librarian, Sharon Moody, at smoody@ocln.org or the reference librarian, Gayle Walsh, at gwalsh@olcn.org.

NoveList – Looking for a good book? Click on NoveList, an extensive database of juvenile and young adult fiction, complete with reviews and reading levels.

Young Adult Page – The Young Adult page has links to sites and databases of interest to teens.

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

- Installs over new or existing gutters
- Keeps you safe from falling
- Lifetime Warranty

The Gutter Experts: New Repair Replacement

$250 OFF

FREE IN-HOME ESTIMATE

No Payments for One Year†

Code 121

Gutter Helmet

NEVER CLEAN YOUR GUTTERS AGAIN®

BBB

Call the Gutter Experts Today!

1-800-924-3563

www.GutterHelmetNE.com

†0% for 12 mos. on approved credit. Offer valid at time of estimate only. Not valid with any other offers and/or promotions. ‡ For qualified buyers. Financing provided by third party provider.

Free family fun

in historic downtown Hingham.

Upcoming events:

Horse-drawn Hayrides

Saturdays, November 24 - December 22, noon - 3 p.m. Corner of Main & North.

Ornament making for kids

Saturday, November 24 from 1 - 3 p.m. at the original Talbots.

Shop for Schools

Wednesday, November 28.
20% of pre-tax purchase price goes to any Hingham elementary school of your choice.

Christmas in the Square

Friday, Dec 7 from 6 - 8 p.m.
Singing, a live Nativity and
Santa's Grand Entrance at 6:30 p.m.
Saturday, Dec 8 - celebration lasts all day.

Festival of Trees

Friday, December 7 from 5:30 - 8 p.m. &
Saturday, December 8 from 10 - 3 p.m.

WIN: A Holiday Dinner for four.

Present this coupon to any participating Hingham downtown merchant and you'll be entered into a drawing to win a $300 gift certificate to the Square Cafe.

Name_____

Address_____

Home Phone #_____

No purchase necessary. One entry per family. Drawing December 7. The gift certificate has no cash value & cannot be substituted for any other item.

Vibrant shops & great restaurants in our authentic New England downtown.

for details visit:
discoverhingham.com

W E S

Discover Hingham

Professional DIRECTORY

ARCHITECTS

(pre-construction computer rendering)

If 3D digital imaging like this isn't part of your project's design...
...you're not getting the whole picture!

DUXBOROUGH DESIGNS

portfolio at duxboroughdesigns.com
Duxbury, MA • 781.934.7265

DRYER VENT

DRYER VENT WIZARD

Does your dryer take longer than one cycle to dry your clothes? If so you should have your dryer vent checked to help save energy costs and reduce the risk of a fire!

November Special
$25 Off
Any Dryer Vent Service
781-267-2112

Dry Clothes - Safe Homes
866-498-7233
Dryer Vent Cleaning • Repair • Alteration • Installation www.dryerventwizard.com

ELECTRICAL

Randall's Electrical Services
Interior/Exterior Lighting & Wiring
Design & Installation
Public, Commercial & Residential Projects
SERVING THE SOUTH SHORE EXPERTLY FOR OVER 30 YEARS
781-545-3799 • 781-424-8845

To Advertise in this Directory
Call Brandi at 781-433-7946

NOW is the time to advertise!

SLEEPY'S® - CELEBRATING OUR 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Simmons® Beautyrest

1/2 PRICE†

LAST THREE DAYS

SLEEPY'S® WILL BEAT ANYONE'S PRICE BY 20% OR IT'S FREE* Guaranteed

We will meet any price on any Stearns & Foster®, Internet, TrueForm®, Tempur-Pedic®, Comfor-Pedic or BodyDiagnostics™ models *Applies to same or comparable mattresses prior to delivery. Excludes closeouts, special purchases, exchanges, floor samples, warranties, discontinued & one-of-a kind items. Must present competitor's current ad or invoice.

†1/2 Price Sale applies to models listed in ad only. All models available for purchase and may not be on display. Sleepy's reserves the right to limit quantities - 1 per customer. Not responsible for typographical errors. Photos are for illustration purposes only.

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price

Simmons Twin 2 PC. SET $199.99
Full 2pc.set $279.99
Queen 2pc.set $299.99

Exceptional Value
Great value at our everyday low price

$399.99 Beautyrest Firm
Queen 2 PC. SET
Twin 2pc. set $299.99
Full 2pc. set $379.99
King 3pc. set $599.99

$599.99 Beautyrest Pillowtop
Queen 2 PC. SET REG $1199.99

		OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$899.99	1/2 Price		$449.99
Full 2pc. set	$1149.99	1/2 Price		$574.99
King 3pc. set	$1699.99	1/2 Price		$849.99

$649.99 Beautyrest Luxury Firm
Queen 2 PC. SET REG $1299.99

		OUR REG	SAVE	SALE
Twin 2pc. set	$999.99	1/2 Price		$499.99
Full 2pc. set	$1199.99	1/2 Price		$599.99
King 3pc. set	$1799.99	1/2 Price		$899.99

UP TO 36 Months 0% Interest-Free Financing Until Nov. 2010 No Money Down

Next Day Delivery When You Want It!
Choose Your 4 Hour Time Window
Same Day Delivery arranged. Excluding holidays. Store pick ups. Delivery to NJ, NY, Westchester, MA, CT, RI, PA & DE. Road conditions permitting. Available on in stock models. Delivery Fees Apply.

SLEEPY'S®
The Mattress Professionals®

DOWNTOWN BOSTON 45 Franklin St. (In Shopping District) 617-350-8909
BROOKLINE 1365 Beacon St. (Coolidge Corner) 857-364-0204
DEDHAM 510-520 Providence Hwy. (South of Staples) 781-326-0919
BRAINTREE 125 Pearl Street (Pearl Plaza, Next to Shaw's) 781-228-5009
BURLINGTON 34 Cambridge St. (Next To Roche Brothers) 781-202-3023
BURLINGTON 54 Middlesex Tpke (Next to Burger King, ample parking in rear) 781-273-1436
WOBURN 299 Mishawum Rd. (Opposite Woburn Mall) 781-722-0027
STONEHAM 149 Main Street (Next To Midas) 781-279-0309
NATICK 1400 Worcester Rt#9 (Next to Circuit City) 508-875-9280
NATICK 64 Worcester St. (Opposite Lexington Furniture) 508-319-2015
MILFORD Rte. I-495 & Rte. 85 (Quarry Plaza, Next To Lowe's) 508-482-0608
NEWTON 230 Needham Street (Next to The Vitamin Shoppe) 617-965-8084
MEDFORD 23 Revere Beach Pkwy. (Rte. 16, Opposite Kappy's Liquors) 781-396-1505
SAUGUS 1260 Broadway, Rt. 1 (North Strip South of Kowloon) 781-233-2958
SAUGUS 291 Broadway (Rte. 1 & Walnut St. Next to Walgreen's) 781-231-1461 Grand Opening
REVERE 339 Squire Rd. #40 (Northgate Shopping Center) 781-284-8208
LYNN 517 Lynn Way. (Rte. 1A, Opposite Kelly Honda) 339-883-0313
SWAMPSCOTT 447 Paradise Rd. (Vinnin Square, Next To Panera Bread) 339-883-0316
ACTON 291-307 Main Street (Acton Plaza, Next To Average Joe's) 978-263-5801
WESTFORD 174 Littleton Rd. (Westford Valley Mktpl., Nxt. to Starbucks) 978-392-0838
STOUGHTON 706 Technology Drive (Near Olive Garden) 781-344-0207
BEVERLY 2-6 Enon St.(Dodge Crossing, Next To The Rugged Bear) 978-922-5915
METHUEN 70 Pleasant Valley St. (Next To Market Basket) 978-688-5293
BROCKTON 715 Crescent Street (Crescent Plaza, Space 9B) 508-586-2050 *
ATTLEBORO 231A South Washington St. (Rte. 1, Next To Stop & Shop) 508-399-5159
PEMBROKE 117 Old Church St. (Lowe's Entrance, Next To Friendly's) 781-826-2318
SEEKONK 55 Highland Ave/Rt #6, Ann & Hope Plaza (Near Home Depot) 508-336-3950
PLAINVILLE 97 Taunton St. (Plainville Commons, Next To Panera) 508-643-0286
HYANNIS 685 Iyannough Rd. (Between Cape Cod Mall & Christmas Tree Shop) 508-778-2414
PLYMOUTH 16 Home Depot Drive. (In Front Of Home Depot) 508-732-0130
PLYMOUTH 120 Colony Place (Near D'Angelo, Opposite Walmart) 508-747-7388
NORTH DARTMOUTH 469 State Rd. (Next To TGI Friday's) 508-207-1010
SHREWSBURY 512 Boston Turnpike (Next To Jiffy Lube) 508-845-9350
WORCESTER 541 Lincoln Street (Lincoln Plaza next To Staples & Stop & Shop) 508-852-3940
LEOMINSTER 252 Mill Street (Near To The Mall At Whitney Field) 978-534-3407
WOONSOCKET 1500 Diamond Hill Rd (Walnut Hill Plaza Near AJ Wright) 401-766-2728 *
CRANSTON 286 Garfield Ave. (Cranston Parkade, Lowe's Plaza, Nr K-Mart) 401-944-6768 *
SALEM, NH 291 South Broadway (Opposite Best Buy) 603-898-2628

For more information CALL 1(800) SLEEPYS® (753-3797) www.sleepys.com
Showroom Hours: Monday thru Saturday 10am to 9pm, Sunday 11am to 7pm * Clearance Merchandise Available ©2007 SINT, LLC

Owned & Operated by the Acker Family for 4 Generations - Louis 1925, Harry 1950, David 1975, AJ 1980, Stuart 1995, Rick 2000 & Julian 2005

Cohasset Mariner

SPORTS

Town Commons
On the South Shore
See page 29

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Sarah Coggins (17) tries to work her way around a defender during the second half of their Division 3 South final against Norwell.

Wait till next year

Young Skippers lose 1-0 in South final to rival Norwell

By Mark Goodman
MGOODMAN@CNC.COM

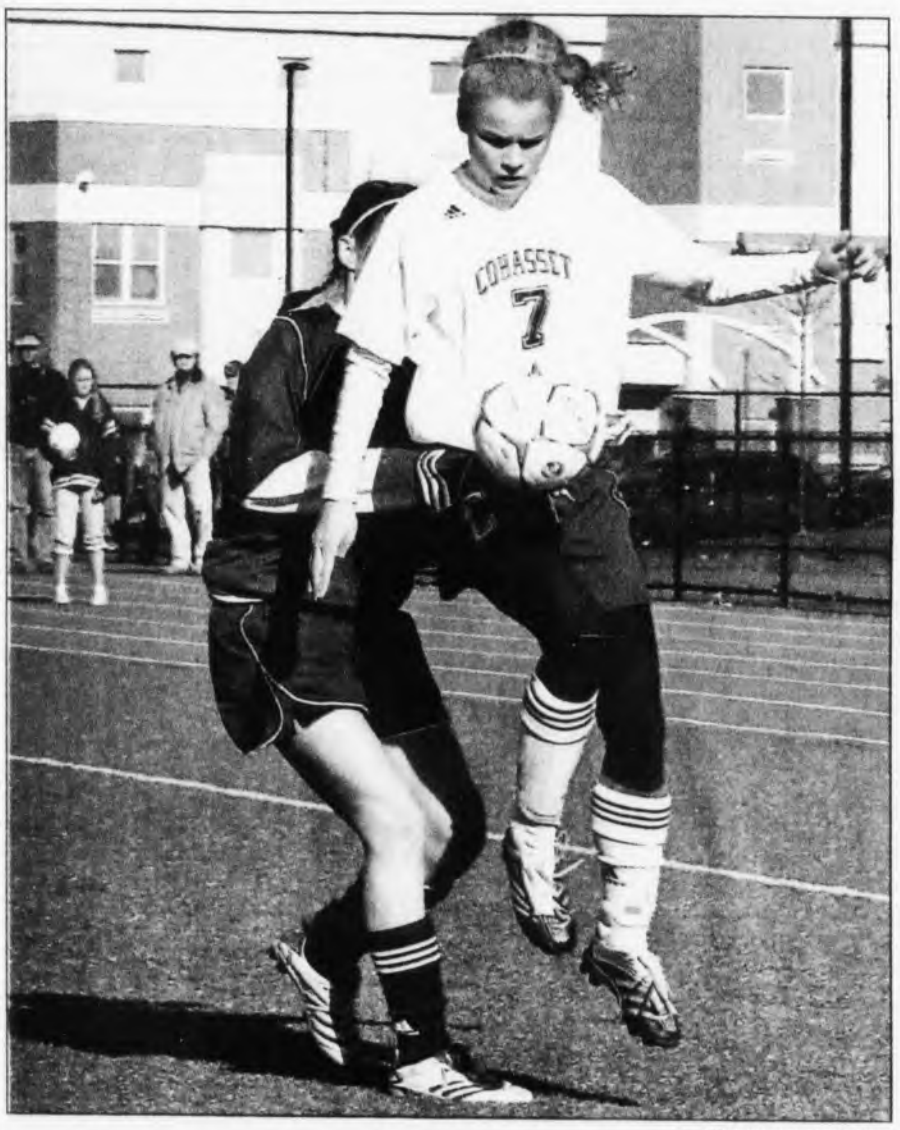
All it takes in a game like Sunday's Div. 3 South girls soccer final between Cohasset and Norwell is one kick.

In the 68th minute, Clippers senior forward Kylie Smith bent in a perfect corner kick from the left side toward the far post. It appeared to take a slight deflection off a Cohasset defender and go into the net, and Norwell won the game, 1-0, to claim its second straight sectional crown. It was Smith's fourth goal in the last three games.

In a game wrought with emotion between rivals and the two preeminent programs in the South Shore League, Norwell senior keeper Sallie Hardy called on a higher power to help bring about the game-winning goal.

"Every time there's a corner, I always go up a little bit out of the box and kneel down, and I just pray," Hardy said. "She (Smith) had a couple awesome goals the last game (against Millis, a 2-0 Norwell win) and, all of a sudden, there's this scramble and it was in the back of the net. My heart just dropped, it was so amazing."

Still, there was work to be done. The Clippers kept the momentum immediately after the goal, as a nice run up the middle of the pitch by senior forward Laura Powers forced a solid defensive play by Cohasset junior sweeper Sammi Lehr. Skipper junior keeper Johanna Brophy made a save in the 71st minute on another Smith corner that was again ticketed for the far post.



The Skippers started throwing bodies forward in the last 10 minutes in desperate search of a goal, but the Norwell defense continued the exemplary play that has been a staple of the team throughout the tournament. Cohasset junior Sarah Coggins earned a corner in the 73rd minute and it was struck well by junior midfielder Maggie McGoldrick, but Hardy handled it well to end the threat.

After absorbing a couple more Cohasset flurries near its penalty area, Norwell (16-3-3) had most of the possession over the last few minutes to seal the deal. Skipper sophomore Mackenzie Hart sent a good ball into the box with a minute left, but Hardy was again up to the task, and that would be Cohasset's final threat.

After the game, Skippers head coach Debbie Beal said she was proud of the way her team played and is already looking ahead to 2008.

"We made it here, and that's half the battle," Beal said. "I've got two seniors (fullback Anna Haggerty and forward Meg Anderson) who, unfortunately, their careers ended today. But, look at all the kids I have coming back. I can only be positive."

SEE SKIPPERS, PAGE 19

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Mackenzie Hart (7) goes up to trap the ball with her body during the first half of their playoff game Sunday.

Maggie McGoldrick is consoled by Christine Coner (2) following Cohasset's narrow defeat at the hands of Norwell.

Golfers wrap up

Czerkawski finishes successful golf career at CHS

By Joel Racicot
JRACICOT@CNC.COM

The Cohasset High School golf team wrapped up its season winning the South Shore League meet for a second straight year. The Skippers finished behind Norwell in the SSL but completed an otherwise very successful season.

Chase Stebbins finished 28th in the Div. 3 State Individual meet at Wentworth Hills Golf Club in Plainville, Ma, October 29.

Stebbins, only a sophomore, will return along with a very talented core of players next season for the Skippers. Charlie Czerkawski, the team's number one, is the only senior starter that will graduate.

Czerkawski was an integral part of a league title in 2005, followed by a pair of league meet championships the last two seasons. He was the team's number five as a sophomore and a three as a junior.

"He has been a big part of this program," said Cohasset golf coach Torin Sweeney.

Czerkawski finished this season with a 6-6-3 match play record, finished second in the SSL tournament and made the

SEE GOLFERS, PAGE 19

Skippers win second straight

Flibotte stars on both sides of the ball in win over Norwell

Eric MacCarthy
CORRESPONDENT

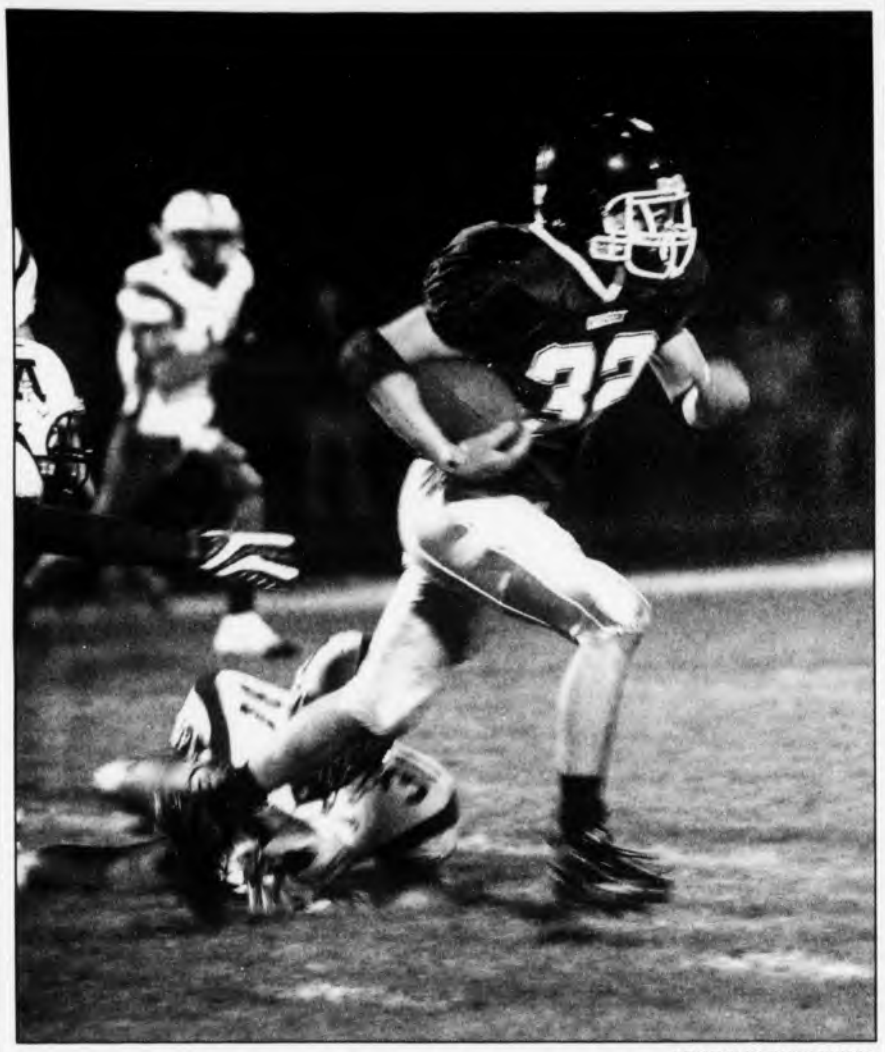
Can you imagine college or pro football players playing both defense and offense, ultimately being on the field at all times? It seems crazy to think that but in high school that is exactly what some players do, and some players make the best of it. Senior Mark Flibotte is one of those players as he dominated the game on both sides of the ball Friday during Cohasset's win against Norwell, 28-7.

Flibotte caught two touchdown catches in the victory and also led the defense with two interceptions. His first touchdown came in the last minutes of a very tight first half. Capping an 80-yard, 15-play drive by the Skippers, Flibotte's 20-yard catch gave Cohasset a 14-7 lead going into the half.

"That was an awesome drive for us," said Cohasset coach Pete Manasow. "We really needed that."

The game had been tied since the first quarter where both teams scored back-to-back touchdowns. Senior captain Kyle Pinkus, who finished with 80 yards on 9 carries, scored the first points of the game with a 25-yard touchdown run, but Norwell answered immediately.

SEE FOOTBALL, PAGE 18



Come Meet New England Football Hero...

The Nissan Guys - Richard Walker and Tom Norton with N.E. Running Back Kevin Faulk

#33 Kevin Faulk
3 Time Super Bowl Champion
Autographs, Photos & Refreshments
Tuesday, Nov 20 • 5pm-7pm
109 Accord Park Drive, Norwell (Exit 14 off Route 3)
800-562-9993

NISSAN
COASTAL NISSAN
NORWELL
coastalnissan.com

STAFF PHOTO/CHRIS SHORES

Cohasset running back Kyle Pinkus runs the ball for a first down against Abington.

Skippers win second straight

FROM FOOTBALL, PAGE 17

On their next drive, the Clippers, starting on their 35-yard line, drove down the field and scored a touchdown tying the game 7-7.

The game was opened up in the third quarter after Flibotte's second touchdown reception. This gave Cohasset a 21-7 lead. The Skipper defense didn't allow a first down until midway through the fourth quarter and played almost flawless in the second half.

Cohasset's' final touchdown was scored with about two minutes left in the game as they were trying to run the clock out. On a simple up the middle run, senior Sam DeGiacomo broke free for a 19-yard touchdown run.

Cohasset quarterback, senior Dave Snowdale, also had a great game like so many other times this season. Snowdale completed 12-of-20 passing attempts for a total of 163 yards, and two touchdowns.

"We validated our big win last week and the fact that we are a good team in this league," said Afanasiw about the game and his team's performance. "I'm proud of our guys, it's a very good team."

Cohasset's next validation test will come Thanksgiving Day against the Hull Pirates, following its bye week this week.

"The good teams can handle the excitement, handle the adrenaline and the pressure and just come out and make plays," Afanasiw said about the Thanksgiving Day game.

In last year's annual game, Hull came into Cohasset and stunned a good Cohasset team. This year Cohasset will look to not let this game go.

"You don't want to lose on Thanksgiving," said Afanasiw, "it ruins your whole day and makes the turkey taste bad."

Afanasiw also said that his team will have to learn from last year's game and remember how they felt and how that is not the feeling they want to feel

Sports Notes

Youth lacrosse registration begins Dec. 1

Cohasset Youth Lacrosse will open its sign-up for the 2008 spring season Saturday, Dec. 1 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the gymnasium at Cohasset High School.

Families who sign up on the first day of registration have an opportunity to save money, paying the registration price from 2007 of $160 for one player and $300 for two and $425 for three children. Registrants after the first sign-up day – and sign-ups will remain open by mail through a second in-person sign-up day on January 5 – will pay the new, higher, 2008 prices.

Registrations will be taken for both boys and girls at the 15 & Under level (7th and 8th graders) and 13 & Under level (5th and 6th grades) and 11 & Under level (grades 3-4). No previous lacrosse experience is necessary, and the program welcomes and encourages new players at all levels.

The youth lacrosse program is dedicated to introducing children to the sport. All players receive roughly equal playing time regardless of ability. Cohasset's boys teams participate in the Mass Bay Youth Lacrosse League, while its girls play in the South Shore Lacrosse League; neither league keeps standings or has playoffs, encouraging fair and equal playing time and a commitment to educating all participants in how to play the game. Every Cohasset team makes several road trips per year, which can be as close as games in Scituate or as far away as Nantucket.

Following the initial sign-up day, families interested in participating in the program can register by mail, at the 2008 price of $170 for one player, $320 for two, and $450 for three. That price will hold through the Jan. 5 sign-up day – also held at Cohasset High School from 9 a.m. – 11 a.m.

Cohasset Youth Lacrosse expects to field 12 or more teams this spring, depending on demand and available coaching. The program is committed to accepting every player who signs up during its open registration period; once that open sign-up period is completed, the program will establish its ideal roster sizes and take late registrants on a first-come, first-served basis only until the rosters are filled. At that point, a waiting list will be established, or players may be turned away.

Parents who can not attend the Dec. 1 registration session can wait until Jan. 5 to register in person, or can contact Melissa Grasz by e-mail at m.grasz@comcast.net to request registration forms. Include your name, address and the number of children being registered.

The registration fee covers all Cohasset Youth Lacrosse events, a uniform and a youth membership in US Lacrosse, the national governing body for lacrosse. US Lacrosse membership includes mandatory insurance coverage and a subscription to Lacrosse Magazine for Kids.

The program is limited to Cohasset residents, or students in the Cohasset school system.

In general, games for boys and girls are played Sunday afternoons. The spring practice schedule has not yet been set, although the older teams for both boys and girls typically have two practices and one game each week. At the youngest level, there typically is one practice per week. The teams will begin practicing indoors in early March and begin playing games in April. Cohasset's season concludes with the annual Family Day celebration – featuring intra-town games — in June.

Cohasset Youth Lacrosse works with other town sports organizations to minimize conflicts and to allow players to participate in as many activities as possible.

In addition to players, Cohasset Youth Lacrosse is looking for additional coaches at all levels. If you are interested in coaching in the boys program, contact Kirk Bukowski at 781-383-6771; if you want to assist in the girls program, contact Chuck Jaffe at 781-383-6688.

CYBSA Annual Meeting

The CYBSA would like to thank all those who volunteered and otherwise supported the CYBSA this past year. We hope all had enjoyable seasons - spring, summer and fall. We held our second annual Awards Night October 24, and it was great to see the kids who played for our division winners awarded team jackets, bags, trophies, etc.

Preparations for next year are well under way. Here are a few important dates to remember over the next month.

Tuesday, December 11, 2007 at 7:30 p.m. we will hold the Annual CYBSA Membership Meeting. All Regular Members of the CYBSA are invited to attend (membership applications are available on our website - CYBSA.net.) Any adult who is interested in furthering the objectives of the CYBSA may become a regular member. We encourage all of you to enroll. At this meeting we will present the state of the league and highlight our plans for 2008. The meeting will be held in the CMHS Cafeteria. A list of existing registered members is also listed on our website.

The CYBSA Constitution provides for a Board of Directors that is elected by the CYBSA's Regular Members. We are in the process of effectuating the transition to a fully elected Board. Last year, we elected 4 new Board members. This year, with service to start on January 1, 2008, we hope to elect 5 new Board members. Each position has a three-year term. We would like to have at least 3 of the new Board members to be non-coaches. That said, we encourage all interested members to run for the Board.

If you are interested in running for the Board, please complete the Statement of Interest form (available on our website) and return to via email to liam.oconnell@hklaw.com, or mail to PO Box 121, Cohasset, MA 02025. We will be accepting Statements of Interest through 5 p.m., Saturday, December 1.

Monday, December 3, we will post the slate of candidates for the elected positions on our website. All Regular Members of the CYBSA will be eligible to vote for the Board candidates. We will be distributing additional information regarding the voting process once the candidates have been posted.

Many thanks for your continued support - please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions.

skirt! magazine

skirt! magazine is now in Boston

skirt!®

is all about women... their work, play, families, creativity, style, health and wealth, bodies and souls. skirt! is an attitude... spirited, independent, outspoken, serious, playful and irreverent, sometimes controversial, always passionate.

www.skirtmag.com

Get in on the ground floor of a hip, new women's magazine in the Boston market! We are currently looking to fill the following position:

Account Executive

Develop leads, follow-up on assigned projects, presenting the publication and securing business for the magazine each month. Responsible for maintaining a list of several hundred active accounts and prospects. Will be expected to handle a large volume of business, exceeding 50 active accounts per month, and billings of $20,000 and above.

Requirements: At least 1-3 years experience as a sales rep at a print publication. Retail background helpful. Professional demeanor, college degree and computer skills required.

Please send resume and cover letter to:
skirt! Boston
c/o Human Resources
254 Second Ave. • Needham, MA 02494
or email at ghmnejobs@ghmne.com

Get away!

Looking to get away? Look for our new weekly travel section in today's paper!

Around the world? Cruise? White sandy beach? Big-city weekend? Action adventure? Ski resort? We've been there! Every week we'll feature articles on a new location by world traveling journalists, along with outstanding values so you can get away the right way.

GetAWAY is edited by one of America's leading travel writers, Fran Golden - she knows the ins and outs of travel, so make sure you check in every week to see Fran's newest favorite spot! You can also find it and Fran's blog online at wickedlocal.com!

Read it every week - and enjoy!

Wait till next year

FROM SKIPPERS, PAGE 17

Indeed, the Skippers are a young team, but they clearly weren't just happy to be here. They came to win, and outplayed the Clippers for significant stretches of the game. Sophomore fullback Meredith Kelly provided an outstanding physical presence, Coggins had a solid two-way game for Cohasset (16-4-2), and forwards Torey Hart, Caroline Fein and Kaci Kucinski worked well together up front.

The Skippers had a golden opportunity to break the nil-nil deadlock in the 58th minute, when Hart sent a great ball into Fein on the right side of the Norwell box. Fein was getting ready to unleash her shot when Clippers senior sweeper Amelia Cimini came in with a brilliant slide tackle to get the ball away. The Clippers defended the ensuing corner kick to keep Cohasset off the board.

That play turned the momentum back to Norwell's side, with sophomore Kara O'Connell and freshman Krista Prouty both getting good looks at the net within the next several minutes. Only a couple fine plays by Lehr and Brophy kept the Clippers off the board on those chances.

As many, including Beal, observed after the game, either team could have won. After two hard-fought battles in the regular season – resulting in a 1-0 Norwell win and a 0-0 draw – the Cohasset coach was looking forward to Round 3.

"This is the kind of game you want to play," Beal said. "You want to play a team that you know about and that you know how to defend, and you know what you have to do to beat them. They got the corner kick, and in it went."

After the score, Norwell coach Bruce Emerson said he felt his team's postseason experience came into play.

"I do think it made a difference as soon as we scored the goal," Emerson said. "We just picked up, and they just deflated."

With the talent the Skippers will have coming back next year and beyond, however, one has to figure this won't be their last trip to the South finals. That's not going to stop their coach from looking back on 2007 with positive vibes.

"They're upset right now, but they're going to stop and reflect on just how far we did come," Beal said. "The small steps that we started in August has turned into this huge ladder that we keep climbing and climbing."

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Cohasset's Torey Hart (19) battles for the ball during second half play of their Division 3 South final Sunday. Cohasset lost 1-0 to Norwell, it was the third time the Clippers defeated the Skippers this season.

Golfers wrap up

FROM GOLFERS, PAGE 17

league all-star team. His presence will be sorely missed.

"His driving ability sets him apart from other guys," Sweeney said. "He hits the ball long and straight and that always gets him off running, it also can intimidate his opponent."

Czerkawski is no stranger to competition. He stars on the state champion Cohasset lacrosse team and looks to play in college.

Jon Wade played well in the second spot for the Skippers this season. The junior finished with a 9-3-3 record in league play. He finished undefeated at the fourth spot a year ago.

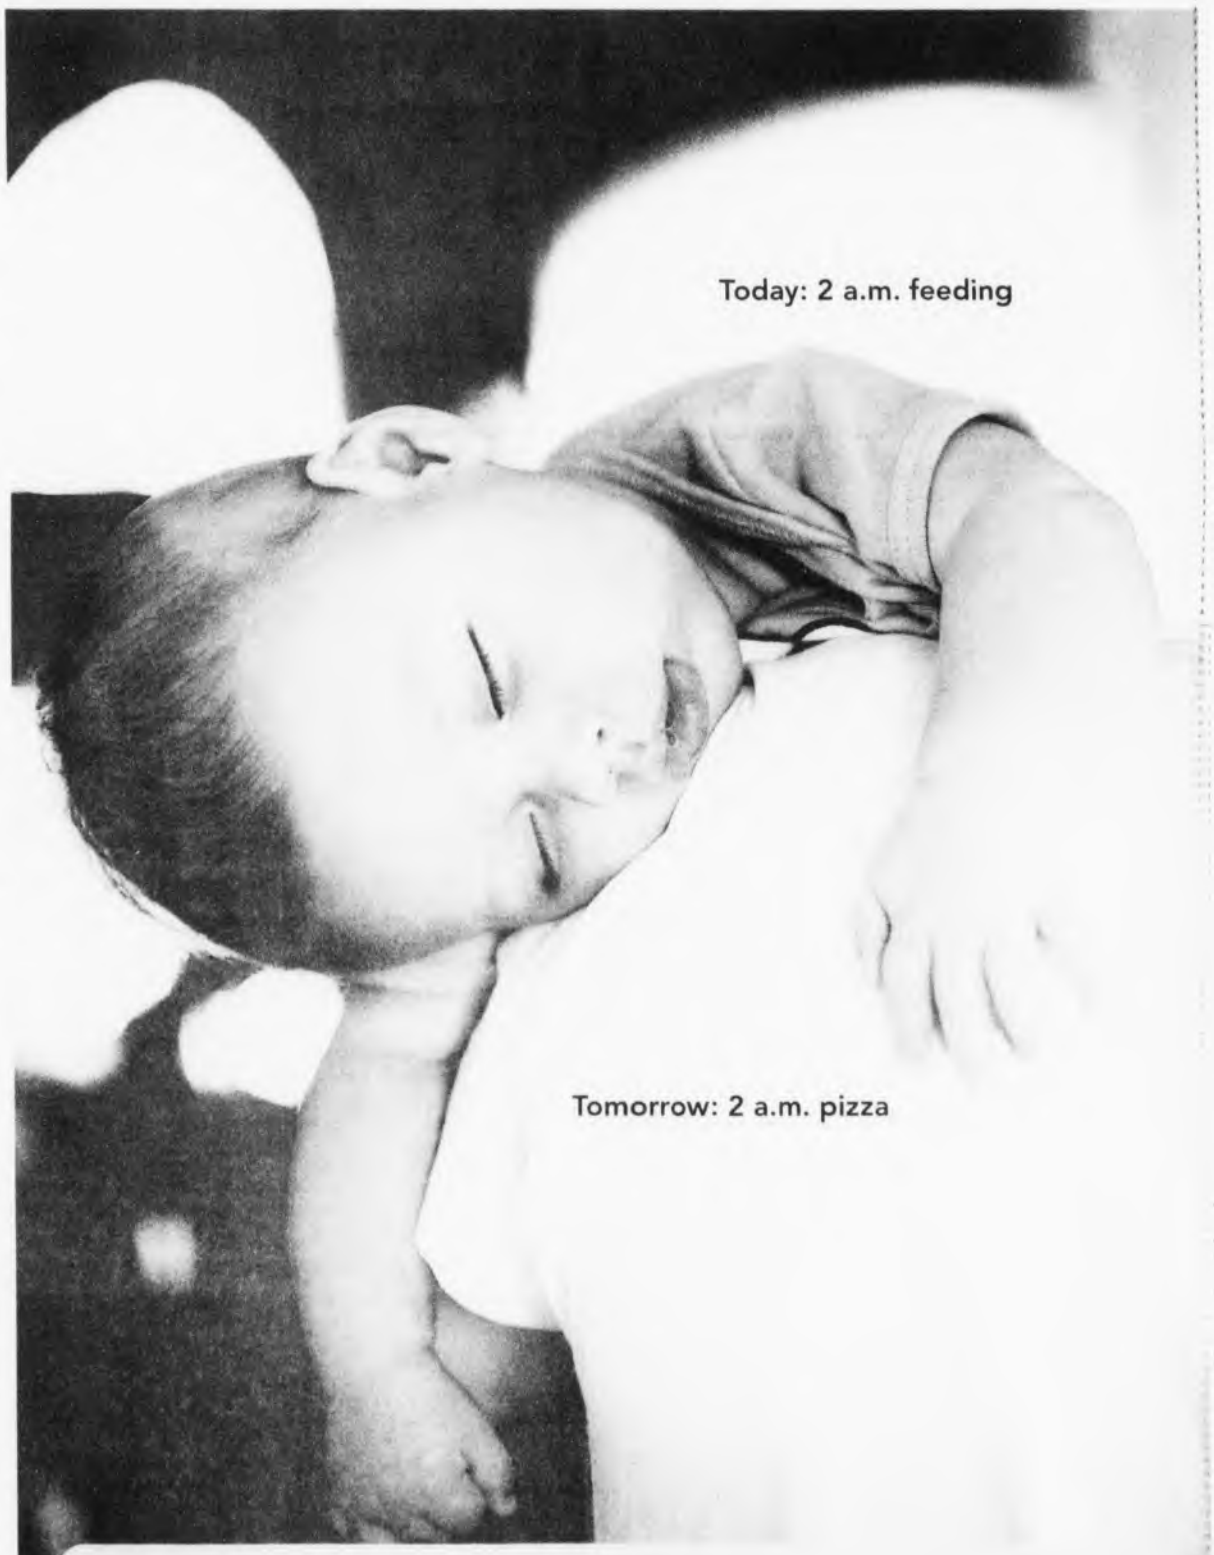
"It's a significant jump to go from the four to the two," Sweeney said. "I think his performance in the league meet made a statement that he is ready to be a top dog in the league."

Wade placed first at the league tourney and made the all-star team.

Stebbins played well enough in the sectional tournament to qualify for the individual state tournament. His 10th place finish in the sectional proved he is a very good golfer with an unlimited ceiling.

"That was just a great experience for him as a sophomore," Sweeney said.

Ian Quinlan, sophomore, finished 9-2-4 in league match play at the fourth spot. His 81 at the league meet should propel him going into the 2008 campaign.



Freshman Robby Hill finished 11-3-1 at the fifth position.

"He had a great season," Sweeney said. "For a freshman to do that is very impressive."

Harry Cipolla (3-3-2) and senior Conor Michaud (2-2-2) shot well from the end of the rotation.

"We were so young this year so we got some great experience," Sweeney said, noting that rival Norwell graduates three senior starters. "We should be in good shape next year."

Sports e-mail jracicot@cnc.com

College will be here before you know it.

Now's a great time to consider the U.Fund® College Investing Plan, the Massachusetts 529 plan managed by Fidelity. Get started today with low monthly contributions to your child's future. Qualified withdrawals are permanently federal income tax-free, and you'll benefit from Fidelity's money management expertise. So you'll sleep a little easier. Assuming you're sleeping at all.

Fidelity INVESTMENTS
Smart move.

mefa UFUND
Massachusetts 529 Plan

Visit your local Investor Center or call 1.800.793.3145 | Fidelity.com/ufundeducation

The U.Fund College Investing Plan is a program of the Massachusetts Educational Financing Authority and managed by Fidelity Investments. If you or the designated beneficiary are not a resident of Massachusetts, you may want to consider, before investing, whether your or the beneficiary's home state offers its residents a plan with alternate state tax advantages or other benefits.

Units of the Portfolio are municipal securities and may be subject to market volatility and fluctuation.

Please carefully consider the Plan's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses before investing. For this and other information on any 529 College Savings Plan, call or write to Fidelity for a free Fact Kit, or view one online. Read it carefully before you invest or send money.

Brokerage services provided by Fidelity Brokerage Services, Member NYSE, SIPC, 100 Summer Street, Boston, MA 02110 457123

Turkey Day Trot to raise funds for DMD

Runners have an opportunity to participate in the Thanksgiving spirit of sharing and appreciation, while also making room for that extra helping of turkey. Dan McCarron of Cohasset, founder and chairman, announces the seventh annual Turkey Trot, Cohasset, will take place Nov. 22, Thanksgiving morning. All funds raised will benefit the Jett Foundation of Pembroke to combat Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy.

The 3.1-mile race, which starts on Cohasset Common at 8 a.m., follows the town's Little Harbor along its route. Registration will begin at 7 a.m. on the Common. Those signing up by Nov. 9 are guaranteed a number and a runner's shirt, according to McCarron. The registration fee is $20 before Nov. 16 and $25 after. Families of four or more are capped at $100. Runners and their friends are invited to donate more to this cause. Go directly to jettfoundation.org to register. Official trip timing be will be done by Sark Productions of Waltham.

This year's charitable event is co-sponsored by the Shoe Market, Hingham. "We are very appreciative of our sponsors' support. Through their help, the registration fees and the additional generous donations of those who support this important cause, we hope to top all previous year's fundraising efforts," McCarron said.

The Jett Foundation, founded in 2001 by the McSherrys of Pembroke, for their son Jett, raises funds for research and clinical trials to combat DMD, the most common and lethal genetic disorder in the world. DMD affects one in every 3,500 male births; 20,000 new cases are diagnosed each year. It is a muscle wasting disease and most boys are wheelchair bound by 12 and don't live beyond their teen years.

Girls soccer makes us proud!

LIFE AT CHS

CHRISTINE KENT

While still on the topic of girls' sports, it is important to note the annual Powder Puff game after school on Wednesday will certainly be one to watch...

Hey readers!

Hope everyone had a great long weekend. The girls' varsity soccer team definitely kicked off the weekend on a positive note, beating Sacred Heart 1-0 at Scituate High School. A great win for the Lady Skippers who then advanced on to the Division 2 finals on Sunday against long time rival, Norwell. Unable to keep their winning streak alive, the girls lost 1-0 against their harsh competition. With a superb season under their belt, the girls soccer team can only improve next year, and finally take home the tournament title. Awesome season ladies!

While still on the topic of girls' sports, it is important to note the annual Powder Puff game after school on Wednesday will certainly be one to watch. Some local "experts" believe that the juniors are favored by 3-1/2 points, but as a senior, I am obligated to say, I highly doubt this. Never will touch football be played so fiercely, especially between such close rivals. So don't forget to join the company pool, or place your bets, because this year's Powder Puff competition will be a nail biter!

Another contest that always proves to be exciting is the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game against Hull. This year's game is at Hull, so let's make sure our guys get lots of fan support.

On to a completely different topic, don't forget to purchase your Thanksgiving issue of The Spinnaker. For those people who are unaware of The Spinnaker, it is the High School newspaper compiled by the students of Ms. Berman's journalism class. A 40-page paper, filled with intrigue and humor that can be all yours for the low price of just one dollar!

Now for the events of the week:

- Monday, Nov. 12: American flags waved proudly as we paid tribute to the Veterans!
- Tuesday, Nov. 13: A town meeting was held in the Gymnasium. Let's hope they didn't scratch the wooden flooring.
- Wednesday, Nov. 14: The senior Peer Leaders reunited with their freshmen friends during lunch. Hopefully, the leaders were able to provide some new pearls of wisdom for these impressionable youths!
- Thursday, Nov. 15: The parents of grade 8 students attended Curriculum Night to discuss....their child's curriculum.
- Friday, Nov. 16: Kids wait anxiously for 2 pm to arrive, which marked the beginning of the weekend and another step closer to turkey and pumpkin pie!

Well, that's it for me this week. Have an awesome weekend and yummy Thanksgiving!

Christine Kent is a senior at CHS. Her column appears weekly in the Mariner.

PREVIEW DAY FRIDAY ONE DAY SALE SATURDAY DON'T MISS IT!

SPECIAL 159.99 GEOFFREY BEENE
Suit separate jacket & pants. Jacket. Reg. $300, after special 129.99, special 109.99. Pants. Reg. $125, after special $60, special $50.

MORNING SPECIALS 8AM-1PM BOTH DAYS

THE BIGGEST ONE DAY SALE OF THE YEAR

SATURDAY, PREVIEW DAY FRIDAY
LOOK FOR THE SEASON'S LOWEST PRICES ON SELECTED ITEMS STOREWIDE

SPECIAL 79.99
Select down coats from Calvin Klein, DKNY, Liz Claiborne and others. For misses. Reg. $180-$220, after special $90-$110.

SPECIAL 49.99
Boston Harbour suede jacket. M-2XL. Reg. $150, after special 69.99.

SPECIAL 9.99
★Only at Macy's John Ashford poplin dress shirt. Polyester/cotton. Reg. $34, after special 11.99.

SPECIAL EXTRA 50% OFF
CLEARANCE
For total savings of 60%-75% off kids' separates. Girls' 2-16; boys' 2-20. Orig.* 6.98-$48, after special 4.99-19.99, special 2.49-9.99.

SPECIAL 14.99
★Only at Macy's Karen Scott 3-button mockneck sweater. For misses. Reg. $32, after special 19.99.

SPECIAL 29.99
5-pair set: garnet, citrine, peridot, blue topaz, amethyst & diamond-accent earrings in 18k gold over sterling silver. Reg. $100, after special $40.

SPECIAL $55
Diamond-accent earrings in 14k white or yellow gold. Reg. $180, after special $72.

SPECIAL $79
Cultured freshwater pearl & diamond-accent earrings in 14k gold. Reg. $260, after special $104.

SPECIAL $189
Pink or blue sapphire & diamond ring in 14k white gold. Reg. $600, after special $336.

SPECIAL $339
1 ct. t.w.‡ diamond earrings in 14k gold. Reg. $1000, after special $560.

SPECIAL $799
1 ct. t.w.‡ diamond studs in 14k white gold. Reg. $2390, after special 1338.40.

SPECIAL $1199
1 ct. t.w.‡ diamond pendant in 14k gold. Reg. $2600, after special $1456.

SPECIAL $2299
5 ct. t.w.‡ diamond bracelet in 14k white gold. Reg. $5000, after special $2800.

SPECIAL 49.99
★Only at Macy's Leisure Woodbridge 5-pc. luggage set. Reg. $160, after special 79.99.

SPECIAL 49.99
★Only at Macy's Palermo Collection 6-pc. sateen sheet set. 400-thread cotton. Queen-king. Reg. $100 & $115, after special 69.99 & 79.99.

SPECIAL 99.99
★Only at Macy's Woodbury 24-pc. room ensemble. Queen-king. Reg. $400 & $450, after special 199.99 & 249.99.

SPECIAL 39.99
Bella Cucina convection toaster oven. #13049. Reg. 79.99, after special 59.99.

★macy's
macys.com

OPEN 8AM-11PM FRIDAY & SATURDAY

8AM-10PM BOTH DAYS AT BROOKLYN, STAMFORD, PREAKNESS, LEDGEWOOD, WEST ORANGE, HAMPTON BAYS, METRO CENTER & CHESTNUT HILL • 8AM-9PM AT BOSTON, SUBURBAN SQUARE & CENTER CITY • 8AM-9PM FRI & 8AM-8PM SAT AT BELMONT • REGULAR HOURS AT FURNITURE STORES

star REWARDS
Open a Macy's Account for extra 20% savings the first 2 days with more rewards to come. Exclusions apply; see below.

New cardholder savings are subject to credit approval; savings valid the day your account is opened and the next day; excludes services, certain lease departments and gift cards; on furniture, mattresses and rugs, the new account savings is limited t $100; application must qualify for immediate approval to receive extra savings; employees not eligible. "LOWEST PRICES OF THE SEASON" REFERS TO MACY'S WINTER SEASON (11/01/07-1/31/08). REG.ORIG. PRICES REFLECT OFFERING PRICES IN EFFECT DURING THE 90 DAYS BEFORE OR AFTER THIS SALE, BUT NOT NECESSARILY DURING THE PAST 30 DAYS. SAVINGS MAY NOT BE BASED ON ACTUAL SALES. SOME ORIG PRICES MAY NOT HAVE BEEN IN EFFECT DURING THE PAST 90 DAYS *INTERMEDIATE PRICE REDUCTIONS MAY HAVE BEEN TAKEN. MORNING SPECIAL PRICES IN EFFECT 11/16/07 & 11/17/07, 8AM-1PM. May contain rose-cut diamonds. ‡Ct. t.w. represents approximate weight; total weight may vary to up to .05 carat Jewelry photos may be enlarged or enhanced to show detail; most gemstones are often treated to enhance their beauty; some treatments may not be permanent and/or may require special care; ask your sales associates for details. Fine jewelry not a Belmont. Select fine jewelry items at West Orange, Middlesex & Hampton Bays. Home store items not at Center City. Moderate sportswear not in Short Hills, Chestnut Hill, Suburban Square & Bridgewater. Clearance and Orig./Now items will remain at th advertised prices after the event; these items are available only while supplies last. Extra savings taken off of already-reduced prices; "special prices" reflect extra savings. Advertised items may not be at your local Macy's. Selections may vary by store. Luggag & electrics carry a warranties; to see a manufacturer's warranty at no charge before purchasing, visit a store or write to: Macy's Warranty Dept., GPO Box 3200, NY, NY 10116, attn: Consumer Warranties. For store locations, log on to macys.com

Turkey shoot is Nov. 18

A fun family afternoon is planned at the Scituate Rod & Gun Club off Route 3A (near the Cohasset line) on Sunday, Nov. 18 from noon to 4 p.m.

Turkeys will be awarded for winners of different events including skeet shooting and archery.

Everyone is invited!

METCO wreath sale

Continuing its annual holiday tradition the Cohasset METCO program is offering fresh, beautiful, double-sided Balsam wreaths for your festive decorating. The cost is $10 per holiday wreath and the proceeds benefit the Cohasset METCO Scholarship Fund. Wreaths will be available for pick-up at the Cohasset Village Fair (between the Town Hall and the Second Congregational Church) on Saturday, Dec 1st.

Pre-ordering is appreciated. For more information, or to place an order, please contact Jody Golden (METCO PSO Rep.) at 781-383-2685.

Anti-Racism workshop set for Nov. 17

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 16 Highland Ave., is sponsoring Seeing the Face of God In Each Other, an inter-faith workshop on anti-racism, with The Rev. Cannon Ed Rodman from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17.

This free event is open to people of all faith traditions, ages teen and up. Lunch will be served.

State pageant

Deer Hill puts wagons on parade

Matt Montefusco is all dressed up for the state wagon parade; he represented the state of North Dakota.

Madigan O'Neill represents Arkansas in the state wagon train parade at Deer Hill. The parade has become an annual event.

Staff photos/Chris Shores

Bebe Davis shows off the Buckeye State during the wagon parade at Deer Hill on Tuesday. The annual event is part of the fourth-grade social studies curriculum.

Sean Kearns takes a break during Deer Hill's wagon parade. Family and friends were invited on Tuesday for the annual event.

Charlie DeVries shows Shanaya Merritt his Nevada wagon, featuring Las Vegas. Fourth-graders dressed up and decorated wagons, which were paraded for family, friends, teachers and staff.

Matt Montefusco chose North Dakota and dressed the part. Fourth graders picked a state for their wagon parade projects.

HunterDouglas
Duette®
Honeycomb Shades
Available in a variety of styles and colors
617 964 4580
BARROWS
THE WINDOW SHOPPE
365 Boylston Street
Newton
www.barrows.biz

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
OCTOBER 4 – MAY 4
JAMES LEVINE MUSIC DIRECTOR
BSO FLEX PASS
A great gift idea!
The BSO Flex Pass fits your schedule. Enjoy all the benefits of a season subscriber with a pass book containing three vouchers redeemable for BSO performances of your choice. For more details and to purchase, call 888-266-7575, or visit bso.org.
Prices: $105, $159, $210
888-266-7575 • bso.org

FAIRVIEW
LAWN SPRINKLER
Specializing in
• Plumbing & Heating
• Spring Start-ups and Repairs
• Custom Installations
• Shut Down, Winterize
Serving and Installing All Types of Irrigation Systems Since 1963
781-659-4540
www.fairviewlawnsprinkler.com

a Sale to Remember

TODAY–SUNDAY

SHE'S GOTTA HAVE IT!

TAKE AN EXTRA 25% OFF* almost all permanently reduced fall fashions for her for a total savings of 40%–70% off original prices.

BUY MORE, SAVE MORE on all Sutton Studio and Aqua cashmere sweaters: take 15% off when you buy 1; take 20% off when you buy 2; take 25% off when you buy 3 or more. Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

TAKE AN EXTRA 20% OFF a selection of already reduced furs for a total savings of 40%–50% off original prices. In the Maximilian Fur Salon.

TAKE AN EXTRA 30% OFF a selection of already reduced handbags for a total savings of 45%–55% off original prices.

TAKE 25% OFF the ticketed prices of Sutton Studio cashmere mufflers, hats and gloves Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

TAKE AN EXTRA 30% OFF a great selection of already reduced intimates for a total savings of 45%–60% off original prices.

HE KNOWS A GOOD DEAL

SAVE 25%–40% on a great selection of men's fall classic and contemporary sportswear collections

SAVE 25% on all Joseph & Lyman cashmere sweaters Orig. 225.00–375.00, Now 127.49–299.99. Exclusively at Bloomingdale's.

TAKE 25% OFF a great selection of fall American and European designer suits, sportcoats and trousers.

TAKE AN EXTRA 40%–50% OFF all already reduced dress shirts and neckwear for a total savings of 55%–70% off original prices.

TEACH KIDS ABOUT VALUE

TAKE 25% OFF a large selection of fashions for infants, toddlers, girls and boys, including basics and accessories for babies.

ENTERTAIN NEW HOME IDEAS

SAVE 20%–70% ON A LARGE SELECTION FOR YOUR HOME Including dinnerware, kitchen electrics, cookware, flatware, cutlery, luxury sheets and bedding, down comforters, pillows, bath towels, luggage and furniture. Plus, our entire collection of luxury mattresses and one-of-a-kind handmade Oriental rugs.

SAVINGS OFF REGULAR, ORIGINAL AND ALREADY REDUCED PRICES

bloomingdale's

ALSO SAVE ON BLOOMINGDALES.COM†

Sale ends November 18, 2007. *Certain designer, brand and women's premium denim exclusions apply; see sales associate for details. †Prices, savings and selection may differ on Bloomingdales.com. Designer fine jewelry and fine watches excluded from this sale. Reg./Orig. prices reflect offering prices. Savings may not be based on actual sales. Intermediate markdowns may have been taken. Savings off regular, original and already reduced prices. Some items may be included in sales already in progress or in future sales. Some items are great values. No adjustments to prior purchases. Quantities may be limited; not all styles in all stores; colors vary by store. Maximilian furs not in Soho, Aventura, Palm Beach Gardens, Miami, Mall of America, Orlando, Las Vegas, Beverly Center or Stamford. Bkids not in Soho, Beverly Center, Chevy Chase and Newport Beach. No rugs or furniture except living room seating and occasional tables at Willowbrook Mall. Furniture and mattresses not at Walt Whitman Mall or Short Hills. Furniture, mattresses and rugs not at Soho, Bridgewater Commons, Lenox Square, North Michigan Avenue, Old Orchard Center, Mall of America or our California stores. Furniture and mattresses must be delivered from our central warehouse; delivery fees apply. An edited home selection available at Chevy Chase. No home items or luggage at Soho, Beverly Center, Bridgewater Commons or North Michigan Avenue. No fashion at Oakbrook Center, Mediah Temple or Las Vegas. Bloomingdale's is not responsible for any typographical or pictorial errors.

SPECIAL HOLIDAY HOURS: NOVEMBER 11 THROUGH 17.

FASHION APPAREL STORE AND HOME/MEN'S STORE, CHESTNUT HILL MALL, CHESTNUT HILL: 617.630.6000. SUNDAY 10-8, MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY 10-9:30.

US Marine Grant Emde shares a poem he wrote while deployed in Iraq.

A wreath was placed at the honor rolls at Veterans Memorial Park.

DUTY, HONOR, COUNTRY

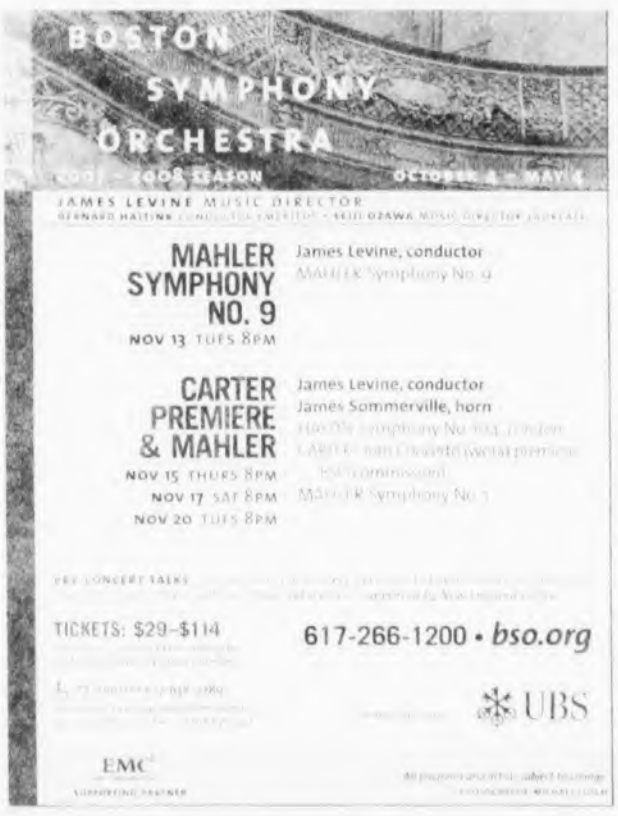
Cohasset observes Veterans Day

Staff photos by Chris Shores

Cohasset Veterans Agent Robert Jackson, who served in the US Navy, speaks during a Veterans Day prayer service at 11 a.m. Sunday at Veterans Memorial Park.

Iraq War Veteran U.S. Marine Grant Emde of Cohasset reads the Marines Prayer during Sunday's Veterans Day observance.

American Legion George H. Mealy Post 118 Chaplain Charlie Daley salutes during the singing of the National Anthem.



Deirdre Wigmore, president of the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, and her father-in-law, American Legion Post Commander Steve Wigmore, place a wreath during the Veterans Day prayer service.

The harbor provides a backdrop for three Cohasset veterans who are standing quietly during the prayer service.

get AWAY

Holiday fun in the Big Apple

Howard Shapiro
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

In early November, you can see the holiday season begin to seep into New York. It happens before the first public Christmas tree is lit, before the first store window is dressed with a snowflake.

The crowds begin to come into town, and all of Manhattan is a photo opportunity. People stop mid-sidewalk and pose for photos with family and friends. It's a clear sign: New York, especially at this time of year, is a memory that must be captured.

The Big Apple has become synonymous with Christmas holiday celebration. Hotels fill, Broadway booms, restaurants pack in the crowds. Times Square, bustling on any night of the year, becomes a city in itself – the lights of the Great White Way, digitized and even more animated nowadays than ever before, seem brighter given the electricity the holiday crowd generates.

The official start of the holiday season comes Nov. 22, with the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, and one of the unofficial holiday pleasures follows immediately after – ambling by the city's department store window displays.

Department stores have been through turbulent times nationally over the past two decades, but New York continues to support a strong department store tradition, which includes spectacular holiday window dressing that brings in shopping crowds. Look for big holiday window displays this season at Macy's, Bloomingdale's, Bergdorf Goodman, Barneys, Saks Fifth Avenue and Lord & Taylor – a walk to them all in a day is not just quintessentially New York, but is a solid way to burn off those extra holiday calories.

PHOTO COURTESY OF TISHMAN SPEYER

Skating at Rockefeller Center

The area surrounding the Christmas tree at Rockefeller Center – the tree will be lit this year on Nov. 28 – becomes probably the most densely populated block in the United States and the most colorful, in the glow of 30,000 lights. Underneath the majestic tree, skaters celebrate on the open ice-skating rink at Rockefeller Center, watched over by Paul Manship's Prometheus statue, among the city's most iconic pieces of public art and a fountain in warmer months.

The people who crowd Rockefeller Center are continuing a long Christmas tradition. People began to enjoy a Christmas tree there shortly after the Depression, and by 1933, a tree was more prominently decorated, with about 700 lights. The next year, the Prometheus Fountain statue was unveiled and two years later, New Yorkers and visitors began ice-skating at Rockefeller Center.

The tree's closest rival is downtown, at South Street Seaport, which this year celebrates its 25th Christmas tree, at Pier 17, along with many holiday events that now draw visitors from midtown.

Wherever you find the holiday spirit in New York, by all means, bring your camera.

Editor's Note: Broadway stagehands went on strike late last week, with all but eight plays closed as of press time.

Here are details about major attractions and events in New York during the holiday season.

Free attractions

❄ The Christmas Tree at Rockefeller Center. Rockefeller Center is located between 5th and 7th Avenues and 47th and 51st Streets. The Christmas tree – New York's most visited – will be lit Nov. 28. www.rockefellercenter.com.

❄ Holiday store windows. Barneys (Madison Avenue at 60th Street), Bloomingdale's (Third Avenue at 59th Street), Bergdorf Goodman (Fifth Avenue at 57th Street), Lord & Taylor (Fifth Avenue at 38th Street), Macy's (Herald Square, the intersection of Broadway and Sixth Avenue, at 34th Street), Saks Fifth Avenue (Fifth Avenue at 49th Street).

❄ South Street Seaport Christmas Tree. The seaport is at Fulton and South Streets. The tree will be lit Nov. 24. www.southstreetseaport.com.

Big-deal events

❄ Radio City Christmas Spectacular. This year, the nation's most well-known Christmas spectacular at the great Art-Deco movie palace in Rockefeller Center celebrates 75 years – a lot of high kicks from the Rockettes and high jinks from the productions. From Nov. 9 to Dec. 30, at Radio City Music Hall, Sixth Avenue at 53rd Street. Call 1-212-307-1000 for tickets, which range from $40 to $90. http://christmas.radiocity.com.

❄ Ice Rink at Rockefeller Center. You can ice skate ($9.50-$17.50, depending on the day and your age) and rent skates ($9), for 90-minute sessions from 8:30 a.m. to midnight, on New York's fabled outdoor rink. Fifth Avenue, between 49th and 50th Streets. Information: 1-212-332-7654 or www.therinkatrockcenter.com.

❄ George Balanchine's The Nutcraker. The ultimate Christmas dance performance, by the New York City Ballet at the New York State at Lincoln Center, is on-stage from Nov. 23 through Dec. 30. Tickets range from $20 to $120. The theater is at 63rd Street and Columbus Avenue. Information: 1-212-870-5570 or www.nycballet.com.

❄ Big Apple Circus. Celebrate! is the circus' 30th-anniversary big-tent show at its annual engagement at Lincoln Center' Damrosch Park, 62nd Street between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues. Performers – human and other animals – are coming from many different nations. Tickets range from $28 to $84. Information: 1-212-721-6500 or www.bigapplecircus.com.

Give a gift that supports the
NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN

NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING & EXPLOITED CHILDREN®

Tavern on the Green proudly supports the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children.

For easy recipes, information on other delicious Tavern on the Green products and to purchase, visit

TAVERNDIRECT.COM

ENTER PROMO CODE
BO5678
RECEIVE 5% DISCOUNT

PHOTO COURTESY OF THE MUSEUM

Enjoying the works at the Eric Carle Museum of Picture Book Art in Amherst.

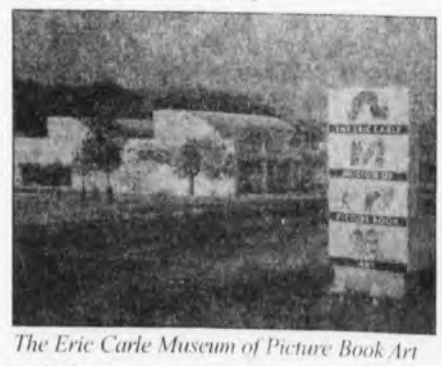
Once upon a time in Amherst

Stephen Jermanok
GATEHOUSE NEWS SERVICE

IN NEW ENGLAND

No, we're not talking about that soon-to-be butterfly, but the Western Massachusetts-based artist behind The Very Hungry Caterpillar and more than 70 other books, Eric Carle. It was 1995, when the acclaimed children's book author and his wife, Barbara, got hungry to open up a small studio to showcase his work. Well, my friends, fairy tales do come true.

The Eric Carle Museum of Picture Book Art developed in Amherst, Mass., on a far grander scale than even Carle could have imagined.



Like Cinderella or Sleeping Beauty, the hero of this story is once again a prince — the honorable Gregory Prince, Jr., President of Hampshire College. Upon hearing about his neighbor's desire, Prince granted the Carles their one wish and donated a 7.5-acre apple orchard on university grounds to build their museum. With far more than a few of Carle's drawings on the walls, the 44,000-square-foot museum today houses the largest collection of children's book illustrations in America.

"Similar to the way picture books are an introduction to literature for the very young reader, we wanted to build a museum that would introduce children to the experience of looking at art," Carle said.

The Central Gallery is devoted to the works of Carle and is rotated regularly to display his inexhaustible supply of illustrations. The West gallery features the works of highly regarded children's book authors. The current exhibition on The Spiderwick Chronicles by Holly Black and Tony Diterlizzi will be on display through Jan. 27.

The museum also boasts an art studio so all child visitors can have their own creative experience. And there's also a reading library with more than 2,000 picture books – and cozy couches and chairs to give the comfort of a living room if overstimulated kids need to decompress. Or, in Carle vernacular, parents can transform The Grouchy Ladybug into The Very Quiet Cricket.

The Eric Carle Museum of Picture Book Art is open every day but Monday. Admission is $7 adults, $5 for children. For hours and directions, visit www.picturebookart.org.

The Eric Carle Museum of Picture Book Art in Amherst.

American Diabetes Association®

American DIABETES MONTH®

November 2007

Could You Have Diabetes and Not Know It?

Take the Test. Know your Score.

Take this test to see if you are at risk for having diabetes. Diabetes is more common in African Americans, Latinos, Native Americans, Asian Americans, and Pacific Islanders. If you are a member of one of these ethnic groups, you need to pay special attention to this test.

Write in the points next to each statement that is true for you. If a statement is not true, put a zero. Then add your total score.

1. I am a woman who has had a baby weighing more than nine pounds at birth.	Yes	1	_____
2. I have a sister or brother with diabetes.	Yes	1	_____
3. I have a parent with diabetes.	Yes	1	_____
4. My weight is equal to or above that listed in the chart.	Yes	5	_____
5. I am under 65 years of age and I get little or no exercise.	Yes	5	_____
6. I am between 45 and 64 years of age.	Yes	5	_____
7. I am 65 years old or older.	Yes	9	_____
		TOTAL

Scoring 10 or more points

You are at high risk for having diabetes. Only your health care provider can check to see if you have diabetes. See yours soon and find out for sure.

Scoring 3–9 points

You are probably at low risk for having diabetes now. But don't just forget about it. Keep your risk low by losing weight if you are overweight, being active most days, and eating low fat meals that are high in fruits and vegetables, and whole grain foods.

American Diabetes Association®

*At-Risk Weight Chart

*Body Mass Index

Height (in feet and inches without shoes)	Weight (in pounds without clothing)
4' 10"	129
4' 11"	133
5' 0"	138
5' 1"	143
5' 2"	147
5' 3"	152
5' 4"	157
5' 5"	162
5' 6"	167
5' 7"	172
5' 8"	177
5' 9"	182
5' 10"	188
5' 11"	193
6' 0"	199
6' 1"	204
6' 2"	210
6' 3"	216
6' 4"	221

If you weigh the same as or more than the amount listed for your height, you may be at risk for diabetes.

Diabetes Facts You Should Know

Diabetes is a serious disease that can lead to blindness, heart disease, strokes, kidney failure, and loss of a limb.

You are at greater risk for diabetes if:

You are age 45 and older • You are overweight • You have high blood pressure • You have a family history of diabetes

For more information, call

1-800-DIABETES (342-2383)

or visit our website at www.diabetes.org

This message made possible through funding from Amylin Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

AMYLIN™

POLICE/FIRE LOG

SATURDAY, OCT. 27

12:19 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., assault and battery, caller reports that someone is trying to break into her house. White male, mid 20's with jeans and a gray shirt. Call given to Hingham as well. Units out near this location with one male. Lt. report person was assaulted at this address. Lt. bringing one in for paramedics. Officer transporting 1. Another officer to station with 2 female juveniles. One juvenile has been dropped off at Hull St. into adult custody. Juvenile protective custody. Age: 16. Juvenile protective custody. Age: 15. Juvenile protective custody. Age: 14. And charges with: A&B with dangerous weapon, malicious destruction of property more than $250. Juvenile summoned on charges: A&B with dangerous weapon, malicious destruction of property more than $250.

7:34 a.m. South Main St., B&E, caller reports that the garage appears to have been broken into. Detectives round.

8:30 a.m. North St., downed power lines, caller reports a downed wire hanging in the middle of the street. Officer reports this is a telephone wire. Verizon being notified.

10:44 a.m. Howe Rd., animal complaint, caller reports listed party at the above address owns a pit bull that is off the leash. He is concerned for his kids and states this has happened more than once. Caller left a message for the ACO. Dog is off of the leash and dog is not a full pit bull. Dog is currently unlicensed in Cohasset. Attention ACO.

11:09 a.m. South Main St., property (stolen), walk in party reports two bicycles have been taken from her garage which was left unlocked and was found wide open when she woke up this morning.

12:30 p.m. Little Harbor Rd., and Jerusalem Rd., notification, caller reports the road is starting to flood.

1:38 p.m. Elm St., investigation/follow up, officer taking statement.

4:33 p.m. Forest Ave., traffic enforcement.

5:01 p.m. North Main St., and Forest Ave., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

7:03 p.m. Lincoln Park, Scituate, medical aid.

8:54 p.m. Hull St., suspicious person, Hingham reports a white male with jeans and white shirt and dark hair looking into motor vehicles. Area search negative.

10:17 p.m. Hull St. and Jerusalem Rd., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

10:30 p.m. N. St., medical aid, mutual aid to Hull.

SUNDAY, OCT. 28

1:29 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

4:30 a.m. Sohier St., building checks.

3:15 a.m. Booth Hill Rd., and 3A, medical aid, Scituate fire requests R3, vehicle vs. deer – possible injuries.

9:24 a.m. Beach St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

10:13 a.m. Pleasant St., property damage, caller would like to report part of her fence has been knocked down, she doesn't know how this happened. She would like to speak with an officer. Officer reports no one has damaged this fence. It's old and fell of natural causes.

10:47 a.m. Church St., lock-out/lock-in, caller reports she has locked herself out of the house.

11:13 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, officer wanted, caller from this location reports a drunk shopper and isn't sure if she is driving or has a ride. Officer reports this party checks out ok and is not driving a vehicle.

12:36 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle crash, caller reports a motor vehicle accident in front of Shaw's.

12:51 p.m. Bancroft Rd., animal complaint.

1:19 p.m. King St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

2:46 p.m. Reservoir Rd., medical aid.

8:11 p.m. North Main St., vandalism report, caller reports she went to move her car and her window was smashed.

9:41 p.m. North Main St., parking complaint, caller reports that there are 4 cars parked at this location and it is posted "No Parking". Officer reports no cars parked at or near this location.

11:21 p.m. Doane St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

MONDAY, OCT. 29

3:13 a.m. N. Main St., fire, investigation, caller reports company detector is going off. House has been checked, found no problems.

8:22 a.m. Ash St., fire – public assist, caller reports her fire alarm is going off, but she cannot reset it, she set it off accidentally.

9:02 a.m. Nichols Rd., fire, investigation, caller reports bad water main break at this location. Fire Chief notified responding.

9:52 a.m. Lamberts Lane, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

10:15 a.m. Nichols Rd., public service, caller reports she would like to see the OIC regarding the problems that the construction has been causing in the area.

12:11 p.m. Atlantic Ave., B&E, caller reports her home has been broken into and items are missing from the residence and her dog was outside when they got home.

12:18 p.m. Elm St., lost property.

12:26 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

2:01 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious activity.

3:49 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, notification, Water Dept. reports the hydrant at above location Beechwood side of the road is O.O.S.

5:02 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, suspicious activity, caller reports she heard noise at above location – they had officers out at above location today. Caller wants officer to walk through and check building, she is there alone. Caller reports telephone is dead, requesting officer to respond back at 6:20 when she is closing. Officer walked through.

5:41 p.m. Red Gate Lane, notification, caller reports brown water, contacted Water Dept. they will contact caller.

6:20 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, assist citizen.

6:41 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, dead animal, caller stated there is a dead raccoon in the middle of 3A.

TUESDAY, OCT. 30

12:49 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks, building checks secure.

1:13 a.m. Sohier St. building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

3:53 a.m. Reservoir Rd., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

6:22 a.m. South Main St., public service, caller states "there is water pouring out of the building." Water is in the building, possible frozen pipe.

7:27 a.m. Nichols Rd., assist citizen, caller requests info concerning school buses getting through.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, calm, 40.

10:59 a.m. South Main St., fire, investigation, caller reports strong outside odor of gas at this location.

2:01 p.m. Pond St., and Lantern Lane, traffic enforcement.

2:16 p.m. Disturbance, caller reports she is having a problem with her brother-in-law, he is intoxicated and is being verbally abusive to her. Units clear at this time, peace has been restored.

2:34 p.m. South Main St., traffic enforcement.

3:07 p.m. Elm St., bolo announcement, bolo put out to Cohasset units….from Sandwich PD, a shooting occurred about 45 minutes ago. Suspect is a white male, bald on top with long hair on side of head with a shaggy beard, a tattoo of a skull and crossbones on his neck. Suspect told victim to pull over and an argument started regarding a Hell's Angel's sticker on the victim's motor vehicle. Victim was then shot by the suspect and the suspect fled.

3:14 p.m. Border St., medical aid.

4:12 p.m. Fairoaks Lane, larceny, caller reports some items missing from her home.

5:01 p.m. Forest Ave., traffic enforcement.

5:19 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, motor vehicle stop, traffic citation.

7:31 p.m. Adams Rd., civil matter between homeowner and contractor.

8:52 p.m. Elm St., medical aid.

8:57 p.m. Smith Pl., disturbance, caller stated that someone is knocking on her door and won't answer when she asks who it is. It is a prank between friends.

9:16 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 31

12:39 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

12:42 a.m. King St., open door/window.

6:33 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

6:59 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

7:59 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

8:11 a.m. North Main St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

9:45 a.m. Pleasant St., erratic operation of motor vehicle.

10:29 a.m. School Buildings, building checks, officer reports all secure.

1:24 p.m. South Main St., and Depot Ct., traffic enforcement.

1:31 p.m. Nantasket Ave., Hull, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

3:17 p.m. Hull St., annoying phone calls, walk in party reports receiving harassing phone calls.

4:16 p.m. Hull St., suspicious activity, Greenbush dispatcher reports 2 subjects on track. This location is Hingham – given to Hingham PD. Greenbush dispatcher caller reported subject left the tracks.

5:35 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., parking complaint, caller is complaining of a motor vehicle parked on the side of the road and believes it is parked illegally.

6:03 p.m. George Washington Blvd., Hull, medical aid, transported SSH/BLS.

8:15 p.m. Ledgewood Drive, disturbance, caller reports a group of kids in the woods near this location is throwing candy.

8:48 p.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

8:56 p.m. Sohier St., building checks.

9:14 p.m. Elm St., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

9:16 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, parking complaint, caller reports that there is a tractor trailer parked illegally.

9:29 p.m. North Main St., disturbance, caller reports there is a verbal argument going on here. A female is in need of medical attention.

9:32 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Pond St., motor vehicle stop, verbal warning.

10:34 p.m. Rust Way, lost property, caller states her daughter's red and black Trek Mountain bike was lost tonight. Bicycle found in the neighbors yard, no damage.

THURSDAY, NOV. 1

12:30 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

12:30 a.m. Sohier St., building checks, both elementary schools check secure.

12:37 a.m. King St., public service, flat tire.

6:39 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway and Beechwood St., traffic enforcement.

6:39 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

7:06 a.m. Forest Ave., traffic enforcement.

7:14 a.m. Beechwood St., Beechwood Street between CJC Highway and King Street will be down to one lane. Emergency motor vehicles can get through.

7:43 a.m. Hull St, public service, caller reports the lights are flashing, but the gate is not down. MBTA notified. Hingham notified.

8 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

8 a.m. Weather: Cloudy, windy, 60.

10:19 a.m. South Main St., vandalism report, caller reports he would like to see an officer regarding some damage done to his fence.

10:26 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

10:34 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

10:43 a.m. Church St., larceny, caller reports license plates were stolen from his vehicle overnight. Plates were entered into NCIC by dispatch as stolen. Plates have been cancelled in NCIC Marshfield PD has confiscated the plates in their town on 10/30/07, this was confirmed by dispatch.

11:29 a.m. Elm St., animal complaint. Large brown and white dog at fire HQ. ACO notified. ACO to residence and advised the son to retrieve the dog.

12:50 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid.

1:36 p.m. Elm St., vandalism report, caller reports graffiti spray painted on the benches at this location.

1:47 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, disturbance, caller reports a male party is on site at this location that was evicted and not supposed to be on the property.

2:55 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, property (lost), caller wants it logged that a brief case has been stolen from her vehicle while she was in the store. She did not want to leave any information and did not want to file a report she already drove back to her office in Norwell and then called. Just a log note at this time.

2:59 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid.

3:18 p.m. Lamberts Lane, vandalism report, caller reports she was at her house with her kids and heard the front door open and went to the door and there were some kids that opened her front door and sprayed silly string in her house. Sgt. reports they did not open the inside door just the outside one and sprayed silly string on the door. Caller is satisfied.

3:33 p.m. South Main St., disturbance, walk in party reports a group of youths throwing rocks at vehicles at this location.

4:31 p.m. Beechwood St., animal complaint.

4:31 p.m. Wheelwright Farm, well being check, caller reports she has not seen or heard from her elderly neighbor in a few days and would like someone to check on her. Officer reports this party is in the hospital, neighbor has been advised.

5:11 p.m. South Main St., animal complaint, caller reports a woodpecker is pecking a hole from the outside of her home into her son's bedroom, she would like this logged and has also left a message for the ACO.

5:21 p.m. Elm St., animal complaint, Fire Dept. reports the brown and white husky looking dog that has been hanging around the station is back. Fire Dept. report the animal control officer wanted it logged every time the dog came around. ACO spoke with the owner, this has been an ongoing problem.

8:12 p.m. Linden Drive, motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

8:37 p.m. Elm St., animal complaint, dog walked into the station, belongs to the party listed above. ACO responded. Owner has been called.

9:47 p.m. Rustic Drive, civil matter, male subject in station regarding an ongoing civil problem. Subject will be contacting his lawyer regarding same.

9:52 p.m. Border St., dead animal, caller reports a dead deer in the middle of Border Street. Caller is a passerby and didn't know where on Border Street, she said it was near a farm and a field. Officer reports this is in Scituate, Scituate PD notified.

10 p.m. Beach St., suspicious vehicle, caller reports a mail truck parked on Beach Street. On a call to a contact for the post office, he stated the truck broke down earlier this morning and was supposed to be towed then.

11:03 p.m. Border St., caller reports she has an unwanted guest and he will not leave. She also states he is throwing things around her house. Party is in protective custody.

FRIDAY, NOV. 2

1:08 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, public service, there is a Halloween decoration hanging over the roadway. Officer unable to remove the decoration. State DPW notified. Mass Highway on scene.

1:20 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

1:27 a.m. Deer Hill and Sohier St., building checks.

6:33 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

7:05 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

7:33 a.m. Hull St., dead animal, caller reports a dead fox in the roadway, left message for ACO.

7:35 a.m. Nichols Rd., public service, Nichols Road by #85 is down to one lane.

7:36 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

8 a.m. Weather: Sunny, light wind, 47.

8:16 a.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

9:22 a.m. Sohier St., Deer Hill/Osgood School check.

11:38 a.m. Stagecoach Way, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

12:16 p.m. Black Rock Rd., fire, (misc.), detail officer was approached by a citizen to report a strong odor of gas outside. Keyspan notified to respond.

2:01 p.m. South Main St., public service.

2:22 p.m. Pond St., school check.

4:06 p.m. Nichols Rd., fire, investigation, transported SSH/ALS, caller reports her oil burner is smoking and there is an odor in the house. Caller was advised to get out of the house and wait for the Fire Dept. to arrive. E3 reports a light smoke condition in the basement. Command requests Anderson Fuel to the scene. Command reports there is an oil spill in the basement and to notify the DEP. R3 will be transporting the homeowner to SSH/ALS.

4:25 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, traffic enforcement.

5:03 p.m. Forest Ave., traffic enforcement.

5:31 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, civil matter, walk in party would like an officer to head up to this location regarding an ongoing civil matter Officer reports no problems at this time.

8:15 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller reports a red SUV driving in front of him going real slow and has no lights on, would like an officer to check. Officer has that vehicle in front of Shaw's Plaza. Driver has been issued a ticket for the violations observed by the officer.

8:55 p.m. Bancroft Rd., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation/warning.

9:10 p.m. Elm Ct., medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

SATURDAY, NOV. 3

12:54 a.m. High School and Pond St., building checks.

12:55 a.m. Sohier St., officer reports building appear secured.

6:44 a.m. Fairoaks Lane, erratic operation of motor vehicle, caller reports vehicle all over the road. Officer reports he has located vehicle – newspaper delivery.

7:13 a.m. Cedar St., motor vehicle stop, traffic citation issued.

10:20 a.m. North Main St., hazard, multiple callers report the gates are down and the lights are flashing at this location. This has been going on for more than 5 minutes and nothing is happening. BMTA has been notified. MBTA is sending out a crew, Hingham Police have been notified to detour traffic on the other side. MBTA crew on scene, the gates have been restored, crew will stick around to make sure there aren't any more malfunctions.

10:47 a.m. Cemetery Rd., downed tree, caller reports a large tree down at this location blocking the roadway in and out.

11:30 a.m. Jerusalem Rd., fire (misc.), call directly into Fire HQ, calling party reports a problem with a window. Squad 1 requesting the extension ladder, a drill, a piece of wood and some 2-3" screws.

1:02 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., fire, (misc.), caller reports a tree has fallen on some wires at this location.

1:24 p.m. North Main St., fire, (misc.), across from this location multiple callers reports a transformer has blown and there are trees on the wires and in the street. National Grid has been notified.

1:32 p.m. Domestic, walk in wants to speak with an officer regarding domestic problems. Officer will be tied up with this call for an extended period of time – party would like an emergency 209A – on call judge paged.

2:20 p.m. Hobart Lane, downed tree, caller reports across from this location there is a tree down that is blocking the road. Tree and park dept. notified.

2:23 p.m. Forest Ave., downed tree, caller reports a tree down across her private driveway – no wires involved. Advised to contact a private tree removal company and call back if there is any problems.

2:24 p.m. Pond St., and Bancroft Rd., downed tree, caller reports a large limb down at this location blocking all of the road.

2:26 p.m. Pond St., and Bancroft Rd., downed tree, 911 caller reports a large tree blocking Pond Street. No units available to respond. DPW notified.

2:28 p.m. Atlantic Ave., fire (misc.), caller reports a large branch caught in the wires over his driveway. Squad one detailed to scene – situation handled by Fire Captain – Squad one clear.

2:33 p.m. Chief Justice Cushing Highway, medical aid, transported SSH/ALS.

2:33 p.m. Sohier St., assist other Police Department, callers report tree blocking RR tracks between the Sohier Street Crossing and Pleasant Street Crossing. Transit Police notified. Officer reports that a train is being held-up due to tracks being blocked. Transit Police are advised.

2:38 p.m. Cushing Rd., downed tree, multiple callers report a tree down blocking the whole road.

2:53 p.m. Highland Ave., downed tree, caller reports a large tree branch came down and broke his fence, it is now on his property and in the road. Advised to contact private contractor if branch is on private property.

3:19 p.m. Forest Ave. (misc.), caller reports a tree came through the roof of the house – no personal injury at this time. PD and FD responding. FD reports that scene is secure – situation turned back over to the homeowner.

3:32 p.m. Old Pasture Rd., 209A service.

3:39 p.m. Deep Run, downed power lines, caller reports a wire down in the road. Squad reports this is a telephone wire in the street, Verizon notified.

3:42 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., fire, (misc.), caller reports a large tree on the wires. Officer reports the branch has fallen from the wires, officer had moved it to the side of the road.

3:52 p.m. Nichols Rd., downed tree, callers report a large tree in the road. DPW notified.

3:58 p.m. Jerusalem Rd., downed tree, 911 caller reports a large tree down on wires.

4:07 p.m. Red Gate Lane, downed tree, caller reports a large tree down and took the wires down. National Grid notified responding.

4:10 p.m. Doane St., downed tree, caller reports a large tree down on the wires in the back yard of this location. These are the wires that connect to the house. Officer reports the tee is uprooted and resting on the wires.

4:16 p.m. Bow St., notification, caller reports her neighbors are cutting down trees in their yard and are not supposed to be. Caller states they are on conservation land. She wanted this logged.

Donate quality winter coats for kids, adults and babies, too!

Drop off coats now through Jan. 15 at any of Anton's Cleaners 43 stores or Jordan's Furniture

Please donate coats you would give a friend.
No tears, rips, missing buttons or zippers.

Coats distributed by community agencies to those in need

Distribution Partners

BU Medical Center's Outreach Van
Catholic Charities Refugee & Immigration Services
Cradles to Crayons
Community Giving Tree
Lowell Wish Project
Massachusetts Association for Community Action (MASSCAP)
Southern New Hampshire Services
The Salvation Army

Promotional Partners

Jordan's Furniture
Fox 25
105.7 WROR
Community Newspaper Company
Comcast Spotlight

Anton's CLEANERS
Cleaning of coats donated by Anton's Cleaners.
More information at www.antons.com

Worship Guide

Beechwood Congregational Church, 51 Church St. 781-383-0808. Pastor: Douglas Fish; director of children's ministry: Barbara Fish. Sunday Service and Sunday School at 10 a.m. followed by a fellowship. Bible study every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Choir rehearsal: 9 a.m. Sunday.

First Parish Unitarian Universalist on Cohasset Common, 23 North Main St. (Parish House). 781-383-1100. www.firstparishcohasset.org Minister: the Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull. Interim Director of Religious Education: Jim FitzGerald. Interim Choir Director: Jeanne Scammell. Interim Organist: Carolyn Bates; Alternate Interim Organist/Accompanist: Maureen Hague. Parish Administrator: Sandy Bailey. Parish Committee Chair: Mary Parker.

We welcome all to our inclusive spiritual community. We affirm our Unitarian Universalist Principles and put them into action by worshiping together, caring for one another, and working for a safe, just, and sustainable world.

Sunday, Nov. 18:

8 a.m.— Circle Ministry in the Parish House/Atkinson Room (group led by Joan Kovach & Susan Meikleham and meeting 1st & 3rd Sundays)

10 a.m. — Worship in the Meeting House — "Harvest Home" - New Member Sunday

We will welcome our new members during this service of worship and celebration! Our children and youth will join us for the first part of this service and then depart for their religious education classes in the Parish House.

Religious education classes for toddlers and childcare for our youngest begin at 10 AM in the Parish House.

Refreshments and fellowship follow the morning service and RE classes.

11:30 a.m. — Circle Ministry Facilitators Gathering - Minister's Study

7 p.m. — An Ecumenical Thanksgiving Service - Panagia Greek Orthodox Church - 811 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset

This many-year-old tradition is shifting nights this year from the Wednesday before Thanksgiving to the Sunday before, and at a family-friendly hour. So come, bring your children and give thanks in this ecumenical service that calls us into that primal spiritual space—gratitude.

All are welcome as we worship and learn and live our faith together! To learn more about First Parish Unitarian Universalist, please come by the Parish House and pick up or sign up for the current monthly newsletter, The Common, or visit our website at www.firstparishcohasset.org or contact Rev. Dr. Jan Carlsson-Bull, Minister, at 781-383-1100.

Nativity of the Virgin Mary Church, 811 Jerusalem Road, 781-383-6380. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Denomination: Greek Orthodox. Priest: The Rev. Fr. John G. Maheras. Sunday Services: Matins 9 a.m. Divine Liturgy: 10 a.m. Liberal use of English language. Sunday Church School 11:15 a.m. Fellowship hour follows Liturgy; Children's Sermon Sundays; Weekday services during Holy Great Lent: Wednesdays: Presanctified Divine Liturgy at 7 p.m.; Friday: The Akathist Hymn, 7:30 p.m.; Bible Study: Wednesdays, 8 p.m. Greek language school: Mondays and Fridays, from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Saint Anthony Roman Catholic Church, 129 South Main St., 781-383-0219. The Rev. John R. Mulvehill, pastor; Permanent Deacon Paul Rooney. Weekday Masses: Mondays - Fridays, 7 a.m. (8 a.m. holidays), Saturdays, 8 a.m.; Weekend Masses: Saturdays at 5 p.m., Sundays at 8 p.m. (7 p.m. summer), 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Coffee and fellowship in the Parish Center following the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday Masses. Sacrament of Reconciliation (Confession): Saturdays from 4:15-4:45 p.m. and by request. First Friday of the Month: Adoration from noon to 3 p.m., Benediction at 3 p.m., and Evening Mass at 5 p.m. For Holy Day Masses and Parish Events call 781-383-0219 ext. 9. For Religious Education call 781-383-0630. Web site: www.saintanthonycohasset.org.

Second Congregational Church, 43 Highland Ave. Service (with choir) begins at 10 am in the sanctuary with Nursery care and Sunday School provided at the same time. Join us for fellowship in Bates Hall following the 10 a.m. service. Youth groups for middle and senior high school children. Periodic book, Bible and topical discussion groups. For more information please call 781-383-0345 or visit us on line at: www.2ndcc.org.

Welcome from St. Stephen's Episcopal Church! If you are visiting from out of town, you are most welcome to join us in celebration this Sunday. We are located at 16 Highland Ave in Cohasset Village.

To reach us by phone call 781-383-1083 or visit our website at www.ststephenscohasset.org to see our calendar of events or learn more about the parish. Our parish interim priest is Rev. Dr. Edward C. Kienzle. The interim assistant is Colette Wood.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church invites families and residents to join us this fall. We are an open, welcoming, Christian community dedicated to caring for all people, both near and across the world. For information on us go to www.ststephenscohasset.org or to learn about the Episcopal Church go to www.ecusa.anglican.org.

Highlights of our parish life include:

- "Godly Play" Christian education for children ages three through grade 5.
- Jr. High and High School youth groups , adult education, Bible study, book group
- Outreach to the hungry, homeless and those in prison
- Monthly luncheon for seniors
- Fellowship and fun; music
- Environmental ministry, weekly yoga and meditation group

This week at St. Stephen's:

Saturday, Nov. 17: 7:00 am Bible Fellowship; Workshop on multi-culturalism and anti-racism, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m.. Free and open to people of all faiths.

Sunday, Nov. 18: Services at 8 am and 10 am. 9 am Youth Group meeting.

To contact us: Stop by at 16 Highland Ave, Cohasset (We are the church "on the rock." Enter during the week at office around back) or call 781-383-1083, or email cwood@ststephenscohasset.org.

Vedanta Centre, 130 Beechwood St., 781-383-0940. Denomination: Vedanta, an Indian philosophy which honors all world religions. Clergy: Rev. Dr. Susan Schrager. Sunday morning, 11 a.m. Refreshments and fellowship after the service. Thursday Meditation and Study Class from 7 to 8 p.m.

Thanksgiving Day Service on Thursday, Nov. 22nd at 11 a.m.

Congregation Sha'aray Shalom, 1112 Main St., 781- 749-8103; denomination: Jewish; Rabbi Shira Joseph, Cantor Steven Weiss. Friday evenings 7:30 p.m.; Saturday morning worship, 10:30 a.m. Hebrew religious school and adult classes. For more information call our office, 781-749-8103. Also you can visit us at: www.shaaray.org

Friday evening Services begin at 7:30 pm and Saturday morning Services begin at 10:30. am. These services will be held every weekend for the rest of November.

Obituaries

Madelyne Browne

Volunteer and avid sports fan

Madelyne "Honey" Browne, 88, of Cohasset, who was thrilled to see the Red Sox win two championships in her 80s, died Nov. 13, 2007, at South Shore Hospital following a short illness.

An avid sports fan, Mrs. Browne, who recently turned 88, grew up in Cambridge and had been a Cohasset resident for more than 60 years, where she and her late husband, internationally known architect W. Chester Browne, raised four daughters.

Three of the children, Pamela Prendergast and her late husband Kevin; Meredith Gledhill and her husband, Robert; and Melissa Browne and her husband, Ronald Hobson, also settled in Cohasset. Her fourth daughter, Linda Dalby, lives in Glendale, Calif. She also leaves seven grandchildren, Jennifer, Prescott, Rebecca, Boyd, Tucker, Ted and Will; and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Browne was well known for her cooking, and had been trained as a home economics teacher at LaSalle Junior College and Framingham State Teachers College. She and her husband hosted legendary dinner parties for family and friends.

She was an active volunteer of the Carnivale Charity Trust, St. Anthony's Parish Guild, and had been an active parent at Derby Academy, Milton Academy and Newton Country Day School of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. Browne was also a member of the advisory committee to develop the commonwealth's community college system in the 1960s.

She was also member of Cohasset Golf Club, Cohasset Yacht Club and The Neighborhood Club.

A funeral service will be held at 10 a.m., on Saturday, Nov. 17, at St. Anthony Catholic Church, Summer Street, Cohasset.

Madelyne Browne

Interment will be private.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to Hospice of the South Shore, 100 Baystate Dr., Braintree, Ma. 02184

McNamara-Sparrell Funeral Home is handling the arrangements. For an online guestbook, visit: www.mcnamara-sparrell.com

Worship News

St. Stephen's accepting book donations

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church is currently accepting donations of slightly worn hardcover and paperback books, DVDs and CDs for its annual book sale, part of the ecumenical Village Fair that will take place this year on Saturday, Dec. 1 on Cohasset Common.

Donations can be brought to the church in bags or boxes and placed inside the parish hall door marked church offices. Use the reserved parking spot to unload books during church office hours, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday. Old textbooks, romance novels, damaged or moldy books or books with notes and/or highlighting will not be accepted.

Money raised from the book sale will be used to send underprivileged children and their families to the Barbara C. Harris Camp in Greenfield, N.H.

Interfaith Thanksgiving service at Greek Church

The Cohasset Interfaith Thanksgiving Service will be held this year on Sunday, Nov. 18th at Nativity-Assumption of the Virgin Mary Greek Orthodox Church, 811 Jerusalem Road. The celebration of Thanksgiving begins at 7 p.m. and will feature choirs and clergy from various congregations in Cohasset.

This annual tradition was changed from its usual time the night before Thanksgiving, to the Sunday before with the hopes it will be easier for people to attend who might be busy with company on Thanksgiving-Eve. The time was also moved early in the evening making it easier for families with children to attend.

Retreat programs at St. Joseph's

St. Joseph Retreat Center, 339 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset is hosting the following upcoming programs:

- Saturday, Nov. 17, Day of Prayer, 9:00 – 3:30. "Heart for the Holidays during a Time of Loss"
- Sunday, Nov. 18, Reflective Workshop, 9:00 – 3:30. "Grief and Gratitude in Prayer and Spiritual Direction"
- Dec.7-9, Weekend Retreat. "Soul Collage – A Journey of Discovery"

Besides scheduled events, the retreat house is often available for private retreat days. For more information and to register, visit www.csjretreatcenter.org or call 781-383-6024.

Legal Notices

ZBA/13 HILL ST.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, December 11, 2007 at 8:15PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §8.7.2 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicant, Curt Dukeshire, seeks to build a two car garage at 13 Hill Street. According to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-11-09.

AD#11516754
Cohasset Mariner 11/16, 11/23/07

ZBA/88B BEACH ST.
LEGAL NOTICE
TOWN OF COHASSET
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

A public hearing will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday, December 11th at 8:45 PM to hear and act upon an application for a Special Permit pursuant to §8.7 and any further relief as the Board deems appropriate. The applicant, Mark Ellis, seeks to raze the existing structure and construct a new single family dwelling at 88B Beach Street, according to the application on file in the Town Clerk's Office. File #07-11-13.

AD#11516796
Cohasset Mariner 11/16, 11/23/07

COLLINS ESTATE (4)
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 85P0907T4
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of Mary McElwain Collins late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 16th – 19th account(s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 14th (2) of the will of said deceased for the benefit of JMG, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of January, 2008 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney of the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 10th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11516676
Cohasset Mariner 11/16/07

COLLINS ESTATE (3)
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 85P0907T3
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of Mary McElwain Collins late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 16th – 21st account(s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 14th (3) of the will of said deceased for the benefit of Frank H. Gleason, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of January, 2008 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney of the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 10th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11516680
Cohasset Mariner 11/16/07

COLLINS ESTATE (2)
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 85P0907T2
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of Mary McElwain Collins late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 17th – 22nd account(s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 13th (2) of the will of said deceased for the benefit of Joanna M. Gleason, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of January, 2008 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney of the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 10th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11516669
Cohasset Mariner 11/16/07

COLLINS ESTATE (1)
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 85P0907T1
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of Mary McElwain Collins late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 17th – 22nd account(s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 13th (3) of the will of said deceased for the benefit of Frank Gleason, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of January, 2008 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney of the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

WITNESS, DAVID H. KOPELMAN, ESQUIRE, FIRST JUSTICE of said Court at Canton this 9th day of October, 2007.

Patrick W. McDermott
Register of Probate

AD#11516819
Cohasset Mariner 11/16/07

MCELWAIN ESTATE
LEGAL NOTICE
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
The Trial Court
Probate and Family Court Department
Norfolk Division
Docket No. 144952T16
Notice of Fiduciary's Account

To the persons interested in the estate of J. Franklin McElwain late of Cohasset, in the county of Norfolk.

You are hereby notified pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 72 that the 16th – 21st (being the 33rd – 38th) account (s) of Horace S. Nichols and Grant H. Gray as trustees (the fiduciary) under Article 10 of the will of said deceased for the benefit of Helen M. Shepler, has been presented to this Court for allowance.

If you desire to preserve your right to file an objection to said account(s), you or your attorney must file a written appearance in said Court at Canton on or before the 21st day of November, 2007 the return day of this citation. You may upon written request by registered or certified mail to the fiduciary, or to the attorney for the fiduciary, obtain without cost a copy of said account (s). If you desire to object to any item of said account (s), you must, in addition to filing a written appearance as aforesaid, file within thirty days after said return day or within such other time as the Court upon motion may order a written statement of each such item together with the grounds for each objection thereto, a copy to be served upon the fiduciary pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. Rule 5.

To Place A Legal Ad Call Mary (781) 433-7902

BLANCHARD'S

Est. 1838

Always the Best Selection, Always the Best Price!

WINE

BUBBLY

Veuve Clicquot Brut	750ml $35.97	Paul Zinc Cremant	750ml $14.97	Freixenet Brut & Extra Dry	750ml $7.97
Bollinger Brut Special Cuvee	750ml $35.97	Roederer Estate Brut	750ml $16.97	Jacobs Creek Brut	750ml $7.97
Moet & Chandon White Star	750ml $29.97	Domaine Chandon Brut, Rose, & Blanc De Noir	750ml $15.97	Martini & Rossi Asti	750ml $9.97
Deutz Brut	750ml $29.97	Korbel Brut, Extra Dry, Chardonnay & Rose	750ml $9.97	Canella Prosecco	750ml $11.97
Duval Leroy Brut	750ml $25.97	Domaine Ste. Michelle Brut, Extra Dry & Frizzante	750ml $8.97

RED WINES

2003 Rombauer Merlot	750ml $26.97	Artesa Napa Cabernet Sauvignon	750ml $12.97	2005 Esmonin Gevrey Chambertin	750ml $19.97
2004 Sebastiani Merlot Alexander Valley	750ml $19.97	Curious Beagle Cabernet Sauvignon	750ml $10.97	2004 Domaine Lafarge Passetoutgrains	750ml $16.97
Frei Brothers Merlot	750ml $12.97	Hedges CMS Red	750ml $9.97	Domaine Fougeray De Beauclair Bourgogne Rouge	750ml $10.97
Michael Pozzan Napa Merlot	750ml $10.97	Henry's Drive Shiraz	750ml $24.97	2005 La Spinetta Langhe Nebbiolo	750ml $21.97
2006 Abbotts Table Red Blend	750ml $21.97	Penfolds Bin 389	750ml $23.97	Cascina Garitina Barbera D Asti "Cararti"	750ml $11.97
2004 Dashe Dry Creek Zinfandel	750ml $18.97	Torbreck Woodcutters Shiraz	750ml $17.97	200X Marina Cvetic Montepulciano d Abruzzo	750ml $24.97
Seghesio Zinfandel	750ml $15.97	Wakefield Shiraz	750ml $13.97	2004 Terrabianca Campaccio	750ml $27.97
Gnarly Head Zinfandel	750ml $7.97	Billi Billi Shiraz	750ml $8.97	2003 Siro Pacenti Rosso D. Montalcino	750ml $19.97
Ponzi Pinot Noir	750ml $29.97	Jadot Beaujolais Villages	750ml $8.97	Villa Antinori Toscana IGT	750ml $19.97
Elk Cove Pinot Noir	750ml $22.97	Guigal Cotes Du Rhone	750ml $8.97	Villa Cafaggio Chianti Classico	750ml $16.97
Elke Pinot Noir	750ml $19.97	2003 Ch. Clarke	750ml $24.97	Da Vinci Chianti	750ml $10.97
Paraiso Pinot Noir	750ml $16.97	2003 Ch. Malmaison	750ml $15.97	Marques De Caceres Crianza	750ml $10.97
Belvedere Pinot Noir Russian River	750ml $14.97	2003 Ch. Le Sartre	750ml $13.97	1997 Dows Vintage Port	750ml $55.97
Mark West Pinot Noir	750ml $8.97	2005 Ch. Haut Nadeau	750ml $10.97	Warres LBV Port	750ml $16.97
Mirassou Pinot Noir	750ml $7.97	2004 Domaine Charvin Chateauneuf Du Pape	750ml $51.97	Harvey's Bristol Cream Sherry	750ml $10.97
2003 Terra Valentine Napa Cabernet Sauvignon	750ml $29.97	Domaine Des Martinelles Crozes Hermitage	750ml $14.97
2005 Justin Cabernet Sauvignon	750ml $22.97	Ch. St. Martin De La Garrigue "Bronzinelle"	750ml $11.97
2004 Simi Alexander Valley Cabernet Sauvignon	750ml $17.97	2005 Domaine Chantal Lescure Cote De Beaune	750ml $22.97

WHITE WINES

2003 Mount Eden Estate Chardonnay	750ml $33.97	Greg Norman Chardonnay	750ml $9.97	Kim Crawford Sauvignon Blanc	750ml $13.97
Sonoma Cutrer Chardonnay Sonoma Coast	750ml $19.97	J Lohr Chardonnay Riverstone	750ml $9.97	Oyster Bay Chardonnay & Sauvignon Blanc	750ml $8.97
Newton Red Label Chardonnay	750ml $18.97	Sterling Vintners Chardonnay & Pinot Grigio	750ml $9.97	Conundrum	750ml $22.97
Au Bon Climat Chardonnay	750ml $17.97	Kenwood Sonoma Chardonnay	750ml $8.97	Trimbach Pinot Gris	750ml $14.97
Cuvaison Chardonnay	750ml $16.97	Estancia Chardonnay	750ml $7.97	Willm Pinot Blanc	750ml $7.97
Sterling Napa Chardonnay	750ml $13.97	2005 Domaine Matrot Meursault	750ml $29.97	Santa Margherita Pinot Grigio	750ml $18.97
Frei Brothers Chardonnay	750ml $12.97	Jadot Pouilly Fuisse	750ml $18.97	Terlan Pinot Grigio	750ml $14.97
Beringer Napa Chardonnay	750ml $12.97	J J Vincent Bourgogne Chardonnay	750ml $12.97	Il Vignale Pinot Grigio	750ml $10.97
Kendall Jackson Chardonnay	750ml $10.97	Alphonse Mellot Sancerre "La Moussiere"	750ml $14.97	Hogue Riesling & Gewurztraminer	750ml $7.97
Toasted Head Chardonnay	750ml $9.97	2006 Sbragia Sauvignon Blanc	750ml $17.97	Lois Gruner Veltliner	750ml $9.97

FAMILIES

Greg Norman Red Wines	750ml $10.97	Fat Bastard All Types	750ml $7.97	Barefoot Cellars	1.5L $8.97
Beringer Founders Estate All Types	750ml $8.97	Montes Cabernet, Chardonnay & Merlot	750ml $7.97	CK Mondavi All Types	1.5L $8.97
Rosemount Diamond Reds	750ml $7.97	Fetzer All Types	1.5L $11.97	Sutter Home Cab, Chard, Merlot & Pinot Grigio	1.5L $8.97
Columbia Crest Grand Estate All Types	750ml $7.97	Woodbridge Cab, Chard, Merlot, Pinot Grigio & Shiraz	1.5L $9.97	Bella Sera All Types	1.5L $9.97
Mondavi Private Selections All Types	750ml $7.97	Yellow Tail All Types	1.5L $9.97	Cavit All Types	1.5L $10.97
Blackstone All Types	750ml $7.97	Turning Leaf All Types	1.5L $9.97	Sutter Home White Zinfandel	1.5L $6.97
BV Coastals All Types	750ml $7.97	Black Swan All Types	1.5L $8.97	Beringer White Zinfandel	750ml $4.99 2 for $9.00
Smoking Loon Cabernet, Chardonnay & Merlot	750ml $7.97	Redwood Creek All Types	1.5L $8.97	Delicato Bota Box All Types	3L $12.97

Duboeuf Beaujolais Nouveau is Arriving on Thursday November 15th

LIQUOR

Ketel One 80° & Citroen Vodka	1.75L $35.97	Tanqueray Gin	1.75L $33.97	Baker's Bourbon 107°	750ml $29.97
Absolut 80° Vodka	1.75L $29.97	Beefeater Gin	1.75L $26.97	Woodford Rsv Bourbon	750ml $26.97
Smirnoff 80° Vodka	1.75L $20.97	Hendrick's Gin	750ml $29.97	Maker's Mark Bourbon	750ml $24.97
Smirnoff 80° Vodka Citrus, Apple Raspberry	1.75L $22.97	Burnett's Gin	1.75L $13.97	Johnnie Walker black	1.75L $62.97
Skyy 80° Vodka	1.75L $19.97	Crown Royal	1.75L $44.97	Chivas Regal Blended Scotch	1.75L $54.97
Svedka 80° Vodka & Citroen	1.75L $18.97	Seagram's 7	1.75L $16.97	Dewar's White Label Scotch	1.75L $32.97
Cossack 80° Vodka	1.75L $11.47	Canadian Club	1.75L $17.97	Cutty Sark Scotch	1.75L $29.97
Grey Goose Vodka All Flavors	750ml $27.97	Canadian Mist	1.75L $15.97	Ballantine Scotch	1.75L $19.97
Idol Vodka Made from Grapes	750ml $24.97	Jameson Irish Whiskey	750ml $22.97	Southern Comfort	1.75L $27.97
Reyka 80° Vodka	750ml $19.97	Bushmill's Irish Whiskey	750ml $21.97	Pierre Ferrand Reserve Cognac	750ml $45.97
Gosling Black Seal Rum	1.75L $24.97	Milagro Silver Select Tequila	750ml $58.97	Hine VSOP Cognac	750ml $39.97
Capt. Morgan Spiced Rum	1.75L $26.97	Patron Reposado Tequila	750ml $48.97	Gautier VSOP Cognac	750ml $18.97
Sailor-Jerry Spiced Rum	1.75L $24.97	Cuervo Gold Tequila	1.75L $34.97	Kahlua French Vanilla & Hazelnut	1.0L $23.97
Parrot Bay Coconut, Mango & Pineapple Rum	750ml $14.97	Sauza Gold Tequila	1.75L $29.97	Bailey's Irish Cream	750ml $22.97
Bacardi Silver & Amber Rum	1.75L $21.97	Jack Daniel's	1.75L $38.97	Frangelico Hazelnut Liquer	750ml $18.97
Bacardi Rum Flavors All Types	1.75L $23.97	Jim Beam Black	1.75L $29.97	Drambuie	750ml $27.97

BEER

Alesmith All Types	25.4 oz Bottles $10.97	Sam Adams All Types	12 Pack $11.97	Hoegaarden White	6 Pack Bottles $7.97
Allagash Grand Cru	25.4 oz Bottles $6.47	Shipyard All Types	12 Pack $11.97	Bass	12 Pack Bottles $11.97
Rogue All Types	22 oz Bottles $4.47	Sierra Nevada Pale Ale	12 Pack $12.97	Newcastle	12 Pack Bottles $12.97
Southern Tier Tripel	22 oz Bottles $5.97	Wachusett All Types	12 Pack $12.97	Stella Artois	12 Pack Bottles $11.97
Brooklyn Black Chocolate Stout	6 Pack $7.57	JK Scrumpy's Cider "Organic"	22 oz Bottles $4.97	Heineken	Loose Bottles $21.97
Longtrail All Types	6 Pack $6.47	Harpoon Cider "New"	6 Pack Bottles $7.97	Killians	20 Pack Bottles $15.97
Magic Hat All Types	6 Pack $6.67	Woodchuck Cider All Types	6 Pack Bottles $6.97	Michelob Ultra	20 Pack Bottles $14.97
North Coast Red Seal Ale	6 Pack $8.97	Chimay White "Cinq Cents"	24.5 oz $8.97	Bud & Bud Light	30 Pack Cans $19.97
Smuttynose All Types	6 Pack $6.97	Dupont Saison	24.5 oz $7.47	Coors Light	30 Pack Cans $19.97
Southampton Double White	6 Pack $6.47	Samuel Smith All Types	18.6 oz $3.47	Miller Lite	30 Pack Cans $19.97
Leinenkugal Sunset Wheat	12 Pack $12.97	Weihenstephaner	16.9 oz $2.47	Pabst Blue Ribbon	30 Pack $14.97
		Ayinger Dopplebock	4 Pack Bottles $10.97

MARSHFIELD
700 Plain St. • 834-9068

ALL BEER AND TONIC PLUS DEPOSIT. Not responsible for typographical errors - We reserve the right to limit quantities - ALL BLANCHARD'S distributors are individually owned and operated. Some products not available in all stores - substitutes offered.

TOWN COMMONS

What's happening on the South Shore

NOVEMBER 15-23, 2007

Theater review

'Brendan' comes to Boston

By R. Scott Reedy
CORRESPONDENT

PHOTO © CHARLES ERICKSON

Parked at his favorite spot in his favorite Allston pub, Brendan (Dashiell Eaves) gets a lecture on friendship and loyalty from bartender Josh (Tommy Schrider) as his mother (Nancy E. Carroll) looks on in the Huntington's world premiere production of Brendan by Ronan Noone, running through Nov. 17 at the Calderwood Pavilion.

Playwright Ronan Noone has written "Brendan" — a heart tugging, warmly humorous and insightful treatise on what it means to restart one's life in a new country — as the second in a planned trilogy of American plays dealing with an outsider's perspective on the U.S. After mounting the trilogy's first installment, "The Atheist," earlier this season, the Huntington Theatre Company is now presenting a superb world premiere production of "Brendan," also at the Calderwood Pavilion in the Boston Center for the Arts. The Irish-born Noone began his collaboration with the Huntington as a playwriting fellow in 2004 and has rapidly become one of America's most promising young dramatists. With "Brendan" it is easy to see why.

Director Justin Waldman, once again at the helm, ensures that Noone's tale of a young Irishman who relocates to Boston comes vividly and richly to life. It is a relatively uneventful life until a letter from home informs Brendan of his mother's passing and further lets him know that she has already been buried. Brendan was in the U.S. by himself, but with his mother's death he is even more alone. Her memory, however, remains, as does her influence over his daily life. His mother is, quite literally, with him always and always willing to share her advice.

With a new relationship in its infancy, a test to get his driver's license, and a citizenship ceremony to worry about, Brendan has only so much time to grieve and so he carries his mother's memory with him everywhere he goes. Noone has beautifully crafted a mother-son relationship to which many will relate. As Brendan, the shy classical music fan determined to make a go of his new life, the perfectly cast Dashiell Eaves captures his character in look, demeanor and heart. Nancy E. Carroll, a veteran actress with considerable local credits, also has just the right sound and feel of an Irish mother from the old country who wants only what is best for her son even if that means questioning his every decision. Brendan may be the only one who can see her, but no one who sees the play will be able to forget her.

Director Justin Waldman, once again at the helm, ensures that Noone's tale of a young Irishman who relocates to Boston comes vividly and richly to life.

Natalie Gold is also terrific as Rose, the Stop & Shop store manager who lives above Brendan and who just might like to live with him if they can each overcome their respective awkwardness. Kelly McAndrew — who memorably replaced Ashley Judd as Maggie in the 2003 Broadway revival of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" — manages to be both sinfully sexy and sincerely sweet as the young "professional" who teaches Brendan to do more than just drive a car. Like the rest of this great cast, Ciaran Crawford has a memorable turn as "Steveo," Brendan's closest friend and workmate.

Scenic Designer Alexander Dodge captures everything we need to know about the backdrop of Brendan's new life with a John Hancock Tower-dominated set from which everything from Brendan's apartment and car to the neighborhood bar emerge with clever, convincing authenticity.

The Huntington Theatre Company will present "Brendan" at the Stanford Calderwood Pavilion, 527 Tremont St., Boston, through Nov. 18. For tickets and information, visit the box office, call 617-266-0800 or go online at huntingtontheatre.org.

Movie review

Reviewer takes out 'Claus'

Fred Claus (D+)
Film Review
By Al Alexander

Family dysfunction is one of the themes of the regrettable "Fred Claus," with Paul Giamatti and Vince Vaughn.

Raise a glass of Christmas jeer to "Fred Claus," the most annoying sentimental holiday tripe Hollywood ever tried to shove up your chimney.

It's a real pain in the ash, too, wasting an outstanding cast on a story that's not naughty or nice, just bland and shockingly unfunny. I say "shocking" because the director is David Dobkin, the guy behind last summer's hit "Wedding Crashers."

Given that film's wit and charm, you'd think he could come up with something beyond lame slapstick and tired gags rooted in sibling rivalry and the fact that elves are short.

Writer Dan Fogelman ("Cars"), who's not above stealing a bit or two from Will Ferrell's "Elf," uses family dysfunction as a premise.

Life in the elves quarters was never as chilly, though, as it is in Santa's abode. His is a house divided, with Santa (Paul Giamatti) on one side and his less saintly brother Fred (Vince Vaughn) on the other. How could the preeminent corporate icon of peace, love and understanding be so reviled by his lying, panhandling brother?

The movie offers no discernable reason beyond the contrivance that Fred is jealous of his brother's international celebrity. Oh, yeah, and that Mom (Kathy Bates) always liked him best.

Dumb as it is, the film still might have worked if it weren't so poorly cast. Come on, the pudgy 5-foot 8 Giamatti as Santa and the hunky 6-foot-5 Vaughn as Fred? They look about as mismatched as Schwarzenegger and DeVito in "Twins."

Worse, the white-bearded Giamatti plays Father Christmas so victimized and sullen that he comes off more like a homeless Yale grad than the alleged propagator of happiness and good will. And Vaughn tries so hard to be funny that he goes from merely grating to being as irritating as your drunken uncle at a holiday meal.

Surely the film's three Oscar-winning actors — Kevin Spacey, Rachel Weisz and Bates — can compensate, can't they? No dice. All three are wasted in nothing roles that could have been played by just about anyone. So why are they even here? Ditto the rest of the supporting cast of Elizabeth Banks ("The 40-Year-Old Virgin"), Chris "Ludacris" Bridges ("Crash") and John Michael Higgins ("The Break-Up"). Apparently Dobkin was given too many toys and simply didn't know what to do with them all. He would have been better served by a script that was far less plot-heavy and more about the very real issues that can drive wedges when one brother is hugely successful and the other struggles at nearly every turn.

The only time the movie comes remotely close to accomplishing this is when Fred, frustrated and feeling alone after unintentionally ruining Christmas, heads to a meeting of Siblings Anonymous, where he meets up with Frank Stallone, Stephen Baldwin and Roger Clinton.

Yet, even that is more clever than funny. Even so, more of that kind of off-the-wall wit would have been preferable to ridiculous plot machinations like Spacey's efficiency expert threatening to shut down Santa and outsource his operations to the South Pole. Or Higgins' milquetoast elf trying to summon the courage to ask out Santa's tall, leggy operations manager, played by Banks, outfitted in a ridiculously short, low-cut red dress.

Just seeing her in that get-up made be shiver, as did the schmaltz ending Dobkin cooks up in a weak play for tears that is beyond pathetic. Almost as pathetic as "Fred Claus," the cheap holiday gift that keeps on giving — migraines.

Rated PG. "Fred Claus" contains mild language and some rude humor.

Calendar of events

BEST BET

The Ventress Memorial Library, 15 Library Plaza, Marshfield, presents TrainDay! Nov. 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., a free festival of events and activities with appeal to all ages. The day will feature a working model railroad, food, games, music, railroad history and shopping. Celebrate the October, 2007 opening of the Greenbush rail line that links the South Shore to Boston by train for the first time since 1959. Experience a real electric model train display in action thanks to special guests, the Cape Cod Model Railroad Club. View a train photography exhibit by Greg Guimond, Jonelle DeFelice and Doug Scott. See displays of trains in Marshfield history and around New England. Sample desserts made from authentic Pullman car recipes. Children can play games in the Children's Room and pose inside Thomas the Tank Engine to have a photo taken as a Thomas conductor handicapped accessible. 781-834-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

Thursday, Nov. 15

Braintree Art Association meeting, Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Thayer Public Library, second floor, 798 Washington St., Braintree. David Curtis will demonstrate watercolors. Free and open to the public.

Dreamchasers Theatre Arts Center of Norwell presents The Guyer Girls. This is the final dress rehearsal at 4 p.m. Nov. 15, to which senior citizens and teachers are invited free of charge. Doors open at The Norwell Grange, 142 Main St., Norwell at 3:30 p.m. 508-224-4548 dreamchasersthreatre.org

Network4Success Business-to-Business Networking Group meets the first Thursday of the month at the Plympton Library from 5 to 6 p.m. and the third Thursday of the month at the Halifax Country Club from noon to 1:30 p.m. For meeting info, email info@network4success.org or visit network4success.org

The Norwell Garden Club in collaboration with the Scituate Garden Club will present Holiday Designs with Robin Murphy Nov. 15, at 7 p.m. at Cushing Memorial Hall, 673 Main St., Norwell. Refreshments will be served and admission is Free.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke Nov. 15, Apex Goodbye 781-829-6999.

Fish Tale On the Water, 44 Jericho Road, Scituate, presents Drift Away with J. Place, Joe Micarelli and John Litwin, performing music from the 40's, 50's, 60's and 70's.every Thursday at 8:30 p.m. 781-545-4700

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell Nov. 15, Jeff Conley.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth, Satch Romano's open mic with Slo-Burn Nov. 15, at 9 p.m., for people 21+. No cover. 781-335-9796. nextpagecafe.com myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 15. DJ Ramu 781-837-6368.

Friday, Nov. 16

The South Street Gallery, 149 South St., Hingham will feature "Evidence of Life" works of Mary A. Smith on Nov. 16 from 6 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and visitors will have a chance to meet the artist at that time. The exhibit will be on display until Dec. 6. Hours are from Monday to Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. 781-749-0430 or visit southstreetgallery.com

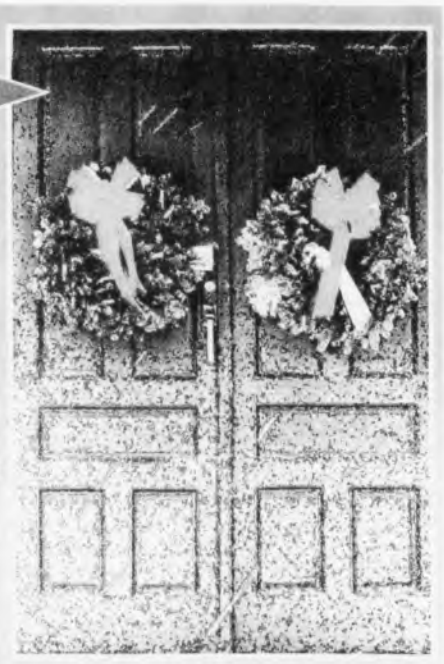
CALENDAR, next page

Mark your calendar



NORTH POLE EXPRESS Nov. 24, take a ride on the Polar Express at Kingston Commuter Rail Station. The event includes a magical ride aboard "The Polar Express" train, treats, a special gift from Santa and Mrs Claus and more. Tickets are $20 each and the train will leave the station at noon, 2:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. All proceeds benefit the Daniel Webster Elementary School Project Playground and PTO, Marshfield. For information or to purchase tickets, call 781-837-3555.

NSRWA THANKSGIVING WEEKEND WALK on the Hanover Greenway Summer St. Conservation Parcel, at 1 p.m. Nov. 25. Walk off your turkey dinner with the NSRWA and make this a family tradition. At about mid-route along the 8.5 mile Hanover Greenway is the Summer Street parcel, large woods where French's Stream joins the Drinkwater River. Board Member Doug Thomson will lead this walk of about two miles round trip through the woods and over the longest (40 ft) of the Greenway footbridges. The trail passes into the recently acquired 70 acre King Street parcel as well as around the Clark Bog before looping back to the bridge. Ample parking is available at Ellis Field, which is at the junction of Circuit St. and Summer St in Hanover. Suggested donation is $5. Pre-registration is required. Contact Paula Christie at 781 659 8168 or e-mail paula@nsrwa.org register. Visit nsrwa.org for information.

THE DANIEL WEBSTER ESTATE AND HERITAGE CENTER, 238 Webster St., Marshfield. The third Victorian Christmas Show House will open the Season with a Gala Cocktail Party on Friday, Nov. 30 from 7 to 10 p.m. Tickets are $50 per person. To order tickets call Virginia at 781-837-2403. RSVP Date: Nov. 20. For further information, visit danielwebsterestate.org

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 15-23, 2007

The North River Arts Society is holding its 26th Annual Holiday Art Sale on Saturday, Nov. 17 and Sunday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. Admission is free.
This event is geared toward holiday shopping, and showcases hundreds of wonderful works of art including original paintings, prints and photographs, as well as 3D and mixed media works - with prices starting as low as $15. Also offered is an exclusive Gallery on Stage, featuring original art starting at $400, as well as the 2008 NRAS Art Calendar.
Also featured is an Early Bird Admission at 9 a.m. on Saturday. For $15 you can beat the crowds and perhaps find the perfect piece of art for gift-giving or for your own collection!
Artists who have participated in past NRAS Holiday Art Sales include: Norma Brown, Margaret Farrell Bruno, Sue Charles, Lilly Cleveland, Dominic Farrell, Mary Felton, Dorit Flowers, Patricia Flaherty, Wendy Hale, Laura Harvey, Nancy Sargent Howell, Brooks Kelly, Bernard Korites, Jeanne MacFarland, Marjorie Osborne Whorf, Peggy Roth Major, Elizabeth Trubia, Page Railsback, Donna Rossetti-Bailey, Mike Sleeper, Cindy Vallino and many more. For information call the NRAS office at 781.837.8091, Mon. - Fri. 9 a.m. to noon.

Continued from previous page

JM Productions presents Bandstand Revue with an Elvis Tribute and dancing. Dinner Show. Raffael's at the Clarion Hotel, Hull. For tickets, call: JM Productions at (617) 786-SHOW (7469) or visit JM Productions secure website for on line credit card purchasing at jmproductionspresents.com Patrons can also call Raffael's directly for telephone orders at 781-925-4515. Tickets for show only are $30 per person for dinner and show $50 per person with special hotel rates to stay over at the Clarion.

Dreamchasers Theatre Arts Center of Norwell presents performances of The Guyer Girls on Nov. 16 and 17, at 7 p.m. and Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. at the Dreamchasers home, The Norwell Grange Hall, 142 Main St., Norwell. Tickets are $10, $8 senior citizens and students and $5 for Dreamchasers students. 508-224-4548 dreamchaserstheatre.org

The New Art Forum of Kingston, presents The Painted Verse, Nov. 16, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Ye Olde Yellar Yankee Barn, 228 Main St., Kingston. The exhibit may also be viewed from 1 to 4 p.m. Nov. 17 and 18, 20, 21, and 24and 25 781-585-5622.

Abington High School Drama Club presents Little Women Nov. 16 and 17, 7:30 p.m. PKS Music Room, Abington High School. Tickets are $5 for students and senior citizens, and $7 for adults.

Single Executives Club Singles Dance Oct. 16, at Radisson Hotel Grand Ballroom, 929 Hingham St., Rockland. Exit 14, Rte. 228, off Rte. 3. Dancing with music by award-winning DJ from 8:30 to midnight. Complimentary hors d'oeuvres, free door prizes, and match game prizes. Free dance lessons from 7:30-8:30 p.m. For singles & couples, 35+ years old. Cost is $10 before 9. Proper business dress required; sports jacket highly recommended. 781-446-0234. se-4u.com.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 16, The Crew 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 16, Chain Drive 781-829-6999.

Run of the Mill Tavern, 6 Spring St., Plymouth Nov. 16, Tex Mad Dog & the Cat.

The 1940's Radio Show. Nov. 16, 8 p.m. and Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. A dinner theater package includes seating for the performance, a meal, tax and gratuity for $45. Deadline for dinner reservations is Nov. 10. Performances will be held at the Paris Cabaret and Starline Room Dinner Theater, 49 Monk St., Stoughton. For reservations or more information call 508-823-1584 or E-mail PhoenixRising Enterprises@Gmail.com.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell Nov. 16, 3 South.

New England Singles Dances, VFW Hall, 30 Central St., Abington, Nov. 16, 8 p.m. to midnight. $9.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 16, Spank 781-837-6368.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Gracie Blues Nov. 16, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 16 Johnny Hoy. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Saturday, Nov. 17

The North River Arts Society is holding its 26th Annual Holiday Art Sale on Saturday, Nov. 17 and Sunday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. Admission is free. For information call the NRAS office at 781.837.8091, Mon. - Fri. 9 a.m. to noon.

The Bumpus Gallery, 77 Alden St., Duxbury presents the work of Cape Cod artist Elizabeth Pratt titled Potpourri during November and December. A reception will be held at the gallery on Nov. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. The artist will give a slide presentation and explain how she manipulates paint to achieve unusual effects. Refreshments will be served and all are invited to attend. The exhibit may be viewed during regular library hours. For information call 781-934-2721.

Wellness Workshop, Nov. 17 at noon at Medspa New England 2 Main St.,, 2nd Floor, Plymouth. Learn how to enhance your Physical and Environmental Wellness. Learn how to "Go Green". No charge to attend. Limited Seating—Call Cathy for reservations at 617-827-1360.

Scituate High School's Drama Club is presenting William Shakespeare's Twelfth Night Performances on Nov. 17, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. Tickets are $5 each and are available at SHS's student-run store and at the door on performance days. Scituate High School is located at 606 Chief Justice Cushing Highway, Scituate.

AFSP hosts Annual Survivors of Suicide Conference More than 30,000 people in the United States die by suicide every year. Suicide is a growing epidemic that takes the lives of more Massachusetts residents than homicide. On Nov. 17, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) will sponsor its annual National Survivors of Suicide Day Conference at Mount Ida College at the New England Institute Building in the Dodge Auditorium in Newton Conference registration will take place between 9 and 10 a.m. Participants will view a teleconference via a satellite and Internet broadcast, allowing survivors throughout the U.S. to share their experiences of loss and gather information about resources for healing. (For participants who are unable to attend the conference, the 90-minute program will be broadcast on afsp.org from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Eastern Time, with a live online chat immediately following the broadcast.) Registration is $20 ($10 for students) and scholarships are available. For information, 617-439-0940.

The Ventress Memorial Library, 15 Library Plaza, Marshfield, presents TrainDay! Nov. 17 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., a free festival of events and activities with appeal to all ages. The day will feature a working model railroad, food, games, music, railroad history and shopping. Celebrate the October, 2007 opening of the Greenbush rail line that links the South Shore to Boston by train for the first time since 1959. Experience a real electric model train display in action thanks to special guests, the Cape Cod Model Railroad Club. View a train photography exhibit by Greg Guimond, Jonelle DeFelice and Doug Scott. See displays of trains in Marshfield history and around New England. Sample desserts made from authentic Pullman car recipes. Children can play games in the Children's Room and pose inside Thomas the Tank Engine to have a photo taken as a Thomas conductor handicapped accessible. 781-834-5535 or visit ventresslibrary.org

Artwork by Pat Isaac

The 4th Floor Artists present The 16th Annual Open Studios, with 36 artists located in the ET Wright Building, 379 Liberty St., Rockland and seven artists located in the American Sandpaper Co., 83 E. Water St. Rockland. Nov. 17, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Nov. 18 from noon to 5 p.m. In each building, see artists working and demonstrating in their studios, see displays of their work, do a little holiday shopping, and enjoy tasty refreshments. Maps will be available in each building. Artists include painters, printmakers, sculptors, photographers, jewelers, graphic designers, interior designers, architects, fiber artists, woodworkers, and potters. Plenty of free parking with police details. The ET Wright building is handicapped accessible. 781-792-1705 4thfloorartists.org

Susie Burke and David Surette will perform at The Old Ship Coffeehouse off the Square, 107 Main St., Hingham on Nov. 17, at 8 p.m. The Coffeehouse off the Square is at the Old Ship Church Parish Hall, 107 Main St., in Hingham Square just up from the Loring Hall Theater and on the MBTA's 220 bus from Quincy Center. Admission is $10 at the door. The concert begins with an open mike at 8 p.m. For information or to volunteer (free admission) call 781-749-1767 or visit burkesurette.com

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 17, Brother Spyke 781-293-4135.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 17, Radio For the Blind 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, Nov. 17, Tommy Baker Band. 781-849-7007.

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell Nov. 17, Johnny Vance.

New England Singles Dances, Nov. 17, Sheraton Braintree Grand Ballroom, Exit 6 off Route 93. DJ $12.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Mr. Nick & Dirty Tricks featuring Brad Faucher Nov. 17, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 17 Duke Robillard. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

CALENDAR, see next page

Benefit concert featuring historic East Weymouth organ The historic century-old organ of East Weymouth Congregational Church will be the star of a Nov. 18 concert featuring five organists in a benefit to restore and preserve the instrument. Admission is $10 for adults and $7 for students and seniors, and all proceeds will benefit the restoration and preservation of the instrument. For information call 781-340-1403, 781-974-3503 or visit eweyucc.org.

FINE ARTS CHORALE
ANNUAL CONCERT
Dr. Libor Dudas, Director
Sunday, Nov. 18, 4:00 pm, Old South Union Church
25 Columbian Street, South Weymouth
Featuring Mozart's "Missa Brevis in F Major,"
Dvorak's "Mass in D Major," and
J.S. Bach's "Missa Brevis in A Major."
Tickets $15.00, $12.00 for seniors and students.
For more information 800-230-7555
or visit www.fineartschorale.org.

Reunions

COHASSET HIGH SCHOOL Class of 2002- Fifth year reunion Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. in the Salon du Soleil at the Red Lion Inn, Cohasset.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 15th reunion Class of 1992 Nov. 23, 8 p.m. to midnight at F1 Boston on Wood Rd. in Braintree. The cost is $45 per person and the evening will include DJ, cash bar, and apps. Checks can be made payable to Laurice Vallancourt/BHS Class of 1992 and mailed to 11 Winter Terrace, Hanson MA 02341 by Nov. 9. Any questions, contact Laurice (Gunn) Vallancourt at vallancourt11@comcast.net

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 30th Reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at Braintree Son's of Italy Hall. Tickets are $40 per person, or $75 per couple, if purchased by Nov. 1,includes a buffet dinner. To purchase tickets or to update your contact information visit BraintreeHigh.com/1977.html or mail your check to: BHS Class of 1977, P.O. Box 850088, Braintree, MA 02184-0088. All class members are invited to attend.

HANOVER HIGH SCHOOL The class of 1997 reunion will be held anytime after 8 p.m. Nov. 23 at Hurricane O'Reilly's, 150 Canal St., Boston. Contact Renee George (Heckathorn) at Reneelyda@hotmail.com with questions.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 10 Year Reunion – class of 1997, Nov. 23, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Jillian's on Lansdowne St., Boston, on the second floor in the main Jillian's complex. $25 per person and guests are welcome. Includes plenty of food, lots of pool tables, and bowling.

HINGHAM HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987, Nov. 23, 7 p.m. to midnight at the Red Parrot in Hull Alumni are looking for classmates. Contact Tracy O'Sullivan at 781-982-1226 or Dawn Youngworth at shaneandmom@comcast.net

NORWELL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987, 20 year class reunion on Nov. 23, 7:30-12:30 at Black Rock Country Club, Hingham. Ticket price is $50 per person, includes: cash bar, hors d'oeuvres, desserts and DJ. Call Cheri (Connolly) Farley at 781-659-5898 for more information or visit norwellhs1987.myevent.com

RANDOLPH HIGH SCHOOL 30th reunion Class of 1977 Nov. 23, from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Randolph Lodge of Elks. Contact Mary Graziano at 781-986-5754 or Maria Civita at 781-961-2292/ M.Civita@comcast.net for information and ticket confirmation.

SILVER LAKE REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL Class of 72 35th class reunion, Nov 23, at Royal Garden Restaurant, Kingston Tickets are $25 per person includes Chinese buffet. Send check to Silver Lake Class of 72 Reunion, P.O. Box 2227 Duxbury, MA 02332. E-mail silverlaker72@yahoo.com or contact mirish21@hotmail.com or call 781-582-3516.

WEYMOUTH NORTH HIGH SCHOOL - Class of 1987, 20th year reunion Nov. 23, at The Weymouth Elks. Tickets are $30. each, and include DJ, dancing, buffet dinner, and cash bar. For information and tickets, e-mail class officers at WNHS1987@yahoo.com.

WHITMAN-HANSON HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion Class of 1982 Nov. 23, from 6 to 11 p.m., at the Radisson Hotel, Rockland. Tickets cost $60 per person. Dinner and music will be provided. For address changes and information, contact Michelle Webber at 508-528-7509, Diana Marcotte at 978-663-7257, John Rozen at 781-618-7214, or e-mail whrhs1982@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 20th reunion Class of 1987 Nov. 24, from 7 p.m. to midnight at Sons of Italy in Braintree. $35 per person or $60 per couple. Includes D.J., cash bar and apps until 10 p.m. Checks made payable to B.H.S. Class of 1987 and should be mailed to Mary Ellen Coffey, 53 Till Rock Lane, Norwell, MA 02061. Any questions, contact Mary Ellen (Gunn) Coffey at maryellen724@yahoo.com.

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL 25th reunion - Class of 1982. Nov 24, 7 p.m. Emerald Hall Function Facility, 125 Bay State Drive, Braintree. Appetizers served throughout the evening and DJ for dancing. The cost is $35 per person, $60 per couple. For information visit braintreehigh.com and click on 1982. Endorse checks to Bob Malloy/BHS 82 and mail check with your name and guest's name to: 171 Helen Drive, Abington, MA 02351. Include phone or email so we can acknowledge receipt. For information or to update your contact information contact Bhs82@beld.net

HANOVER HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987 20 Year Reunion, Blackstone's at Indian Pond Country Club, Nov. 24, 7 p.m. to midnight. Tickets: $60 at the door, or $50 in advance. Mail your check payable to: Hanover High School Class of 1987 to Betsy Gillis, 71 Pond Rd., Duxbury, MA 021332. Tickets include passed hors d'oeuvres, cash bar and entertainment.

QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1987. 20th Reunion. Nov. 24, from 6:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at Marriott Hotel, Quincy. Ticket price is $60 per person, includes: appetizers, cash bar, and DJ. For information contact siobhan@swerling.com Tickets must be pre-paid. Hotel Rooms are available

STOUGHTON HIGH SCHOOL, Class of 1987 will be holding its 20th class reunion on Nov. 24, at the Holiday Inn at 195 Westgate Dr., Brockton. E-mails and addresses of fellow classmates are needed. E-mail or contact Kathy (Kosinski) Nelson at shs1987reunion@yahoo.com or 508-286-4261 or Jenn Remmes at 401-333-6730. Hotels rooms are available for $89. Call the Holiday Inn, 508-588-6300. Use code# S87 holiday-inn.com/brocktonma.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL- Class of 1977 30th year reunion, 7 to 11:30 p.m. Nov. 24. Dinner buffet at The Weymouth Elks, Washington St., (Rte. 53). Includes: cash bar, appetizers, dinner buffet, dessert and DJ. $35 per person. RSVP to weymouthsouth77@yahoo.com by Nov. 12.

WEYMOUTH SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL Class of 1982, 25th Reunion, Dec. 1, from 7 to 11 p.m. at The Jones River Trading Company, 42 Elm St., Kingston, $40 per person check payable to: Weymouth South High School Class Of '82 Mail to: Mary Beth Hillson, 5 Collins Circle, South Weymouth, MA 02190. For more info or questions e-mail weymouthsouth82@yahoo.com

WEYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASSES REUNION will be held Feb. 8 and 9, 2008 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, 7470 Highway 192 in Kissimee, Fla. Call 1-800-327-9170 for reservations. On Feb. 10, a cruise departs for four nights, five days to the Bahamas. For information visit geocities.com/Lureman72 or contact Dick Laneau for registration for at 727-345-4323 or e-mail luresWanted@tampabay.rr.com

BRAINTREE HIGH SCHOOL ALL CLASS FLORIDA REUNION: The 25th Annual Braintree High All Class Florida Reunion will be held at the Ramada Plaza Hotel in Kissimmee, FL the weekend of Feb. 8, 2008. The reunion luncheon is scheduled for Feb. 9, 2008. The cost of the luncheon will be $25 per person. For complete details, logon to braintreehigh.com, click on "Florida" or contact Jill (Whitten) Coyle at 781-843-3275 or jcoyle@beld.net.

ABINGTON HIGH SCHOOL 25th Reunion, Class of 1983 July 12, Location: TBD Time: tentatively 6 to 11 p.m. Seeking classmates. Contact Lisa Daniels (c.508-404-8326 or muffinmanny2000@yahoo.com or (w 508-350-0101 or jimstoffel@hotmail.com with updated contact information.

Want your reunion posted in Town Commons? E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com

TOWN COMMONS

NOVEMBER 15-23, 2007

Artwork by Elizabeth Pratt

BEST BET

The Bumpus Gallery, 77 Alden St., Duxbury presents the work of Cape Cod artist Elizabeth Pratt titled "Potpourri" during November and December. A reception will be held at the gallery on Nov. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m. The artist will give a slide presentation and explain how she manipulates paint to achieve unusual effects. Refreshments will be served and all are invited to attend. The exhibit may be viewed during regular library hours. For information call 781-934-2721.

Continued from previous page

Sunday, Nov. 18

The Marshfield Lions Club is having a Pancake Breakfast from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Nov. 18, at the Marshfield Elks Club, 1321 Ocean St., Route 139. Adults $4 and children $3.

Guitarist Steve Lin will perform at the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham on Nov. 18, at 3:30 p.m. This free concert is sponsored by the Boston Classical Guitar Society and the Hingham Public Library.

The North River Arts Society is holding its 26th Annual Holiday Art Sale on Saturday, Nov. 17 and Sunday, Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. Admission is free. For information call the NRAS office at 781.837.8091, Mon. - Fri. 9 a.m. to noon.

Plymouth Cordage Museum, Cordage Commerce Center, 10 Cordage Park Circle, off Route 3A, Plymouth. The Annual Cordage Reunion will again bring together former workers, families, and friends on Nov. 18, from 2 to 4 p.m. A dedication ceremony will unveil a plaque of donor's names. The plaque will be added to the ever growing collection of memorabilia found in the Cordage Museum and will honor those who helped put the museum on the map. The first and last locomotives purchased by the Plymouth Cordage Company are now on display. The museum is open Saturdays and Sundays, except for holidays, from noon to 4 p.m. It is handicapped-accessible and admission is free.

Norwell native and Harvard professor John R. Stilgoe will discuss Norwell Before the Information Age at the James Library & Center for the Arts, 24 West St. in Norwell on Nov. 18 at 3 p.m. Free and open to the public. Stilgoe will discuss aspects of the so-called information age. For information call the James Library 781-659-7100 or visit jameslibrary.org

Ladies Holiday Bazaar Fundraising Event to benefit Wellspring hosted by Black Rock Country Club, 19 Clubhouse Dr,. Hingham, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 18. Enjoy an afternoon of shopping, silent auction, and raffle to benefit Wellspring. Crafts, adult and children's clothing, accessories, floral arrangements, holiday gifts, pillow caps, stationery, skin care products, handbags, travel totes, and much more. Cash and credit cards will be accepted. Proper dress required (no jeans please) $25 per person Includes light fare, cash bar, and $5 donation to Wellspring. Bring your donation of new hats, gloves, mittens, or scarves to decorate the Wellspring Tree. Registration is required. To register, and for more information about Wellspring, Visit blackrockcc.com Black Rock Country Club, 19 Clubhouse Dr., Hingham, MA 02043

Persephone's Daughters, the Plymouth based women's a cappella chorus, presents "What We Share A Concert of World Music" at First Parish Unitarian Universalist Church, Top of Town Square, Plymouth on Nov. 18, at 3 p.m. The proceeds of this concert will go to Cranberry Hospice. Tickets are $15 for adults , $10 for seniors and children and are available at the door. For reservations and information call 508-747-0212.

John Kramer, pianist and composer, will perform a free concert at Thayer Public Library, 798 Washington St., Braintree, on at 3 p.m., Nov. 18. Kramer will play works of Wm. Albright, F. Chopin, C. Debussey, F. Liszt, and T. Monk. 781-413-1327.

The 16th Annual Open Studios, with 36 artists located in the ET Wright Building, 379 Liberty St., Rockland and seven artists located in the American Sandpaper Co., 83 E. Water St. Rockland. Nov. 17, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Nov. 18 from noon to 5 p.m. Plenty of free parking with police details. The ET Wright building is handicapped accessible. 781-792-1705 4thfloorartists.org

Join the Fine Arts Chorale at 4 p.m. on Nov. 18, featuring Mozart's "Missa Brevis in F Major," Dvorak's "Mass in D Major," and J.S. Bach's "Missa Brevis in A Major" at Old South Union Church, 25 Columbian St., South Weymouth. The chorale and orchestra will be directed by Dr. Libor Dudas and joined by soloists Anastasia Nikolova, soprano; Sara Bielanski, alto; Brian Padilla, tenor; Ishan Johnson, bass; and organist Dr. G. Frederick Guzasky. Tickets are $15, $12 for seniors and students. For tickets call 800-230-7555, e-mail FineArtsChorale@aol.com or visit fineartschorale.org Handicapped accessible.

The 1940's Radio Show. Nov. 18, at 2 p.m. A dinner theater package includes seating for the performance, a meal, tax and gratuity for $45. Deadline for dinner reservations is Nov. 10. Performances will be held at the Paris Cabaret and Starline Room Dinner Theater, 49 Monk St., Stoughton. For reservations or more information call 508-823-1584 or E-mail PhoenixRising Enterprises@Gmail.com.

Benefit concert featuring historic East Weymouth organ The historic century-old organ of East Weymouth Congregational Church will be the star of a Nov. 18 concert featuring five organists in a benefit to restore and preserve the instrument. Admission is $10 for adults and $7 for students and seniors, and all proceeds will benefit the restoration and preservation of the instrument. For information call 781-340-1403, 781-974-3503 or visit eweyucc.org.

Monday, Nov. 19

The North River Arts Society presents Don & John Lasting Impressions, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery featuring original works by Donald R. Dacier and Hanover resident John Nutter. This show will run through Jan. 12, 2008. The public is invited to a free opening reception on Monday, Nov. 19 from 7 to 9 p.m. Hours for the Library gallery, located in Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield are Monday-Wednesday: 9:30 a.m.-9 p.m., Thursday-Saturday: 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. For information, call NRAS at 781.837.8091 or email: info@northriverarts.org. Visit John's website at nuttart.com

New Beginnings, a nonprofit, nonsectarian support organization for single, widowed, separated and divorced men and women, has helped more than 9,400 South Shore residents start a new life over the past 20 years. New Beginnings meets at the UCC Church, 460 Main St., Norwell, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Support groups meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., followed by social time and the evening's program or speaker. Orientation is from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and is highly recommended for newcomers. All are welcome. For information, call Peggy Loud at 781-659-1857.

Toastmasters Club, Hanover, The new South Shore Professionals Toastmasters club will meet on the first and third Monday of every month. This is a great opportunity to learn about how Toastmasters can help you become a more effective leader and communicator. The meetings will run from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Rockland Trust building, 2036 Washington St.- third floor. Arrive 15 minutes early since the meeting starts at 6 p.m. sharp. Contact Stacey for information at 617-548-5877 or stacey@letitflow fitness.com. or toastmasters.org.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 19, Free Texas Hold Em Poker with Northern Poker League 781-829-6999.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 19, Texas Hold Em Poker781-837-6368.

Tuesday, Nov. 20

The South Shore Men of Harmony Barbershop Chorus invites men of all ages who like to sing to join them during the month of November to rehearsals that will be open to anyone who would like to learn Christmas music sung in the Barbershop acapella style. They will be accepting invitations from all sorts of organizations to present Christmas programs and would be delighted to include whoever is interested in having fun singing. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hingham Community Center, 70 South St., at the corner of Central Street. Call 781-337-SING for additional information or e-mail danielcostello@gmail.com or billfitzjr@aol.com.

The Inconvenient Truth with Al Gore film viewing at Thayer Public Library, 798 Washington St., Braintree Nov. 20, 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium on the upper level Doors open at 6:45 p.m.; film starts promptly at 7 p.m. Free and open to the public. 781-848-0405 x4420.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 20, Game Show Trivia 781-837-6368.

Wednesday, Nov. 21

The Dickinson Gallery, 1132 Main St., Weymouth will feature the work of Stephen H. Holland until Nov. 30 in its new "Featured Artist" series. Holland is a former illustrator who paints in an exciting realistic style. The gallery is now showing works by Edwina Caci, Vincent Elliot, William Beyer, Steve Boczanowski, Dominic Farrell, Kathy Ferrara, Roger Gill, Dick O'Brien, Isabelle Shamitz, Brian Josellyn, Stanley Krupa, Charyl Weissbach, Marilyn Reisberg, Danielle Myers, Chris Myers, George Hartley, Corey Ritch, Charlie Robinson, J. Marshall Dyke, Danielle Festa, George Murray, Lisa Smith, Fred Madden and the private collection of gallery owner, Donald Dickinson. Hours: Wednesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday noon to 5 p.m. 781-331-3384 dickinsonartgallery.com

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 21, Clubba Lang 781-829-6999.

JJ Mulligan's, 941 Washington St, Braintree, Nov. 21, Thanksgiving Eve DJ party 781-849-7007.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. Satch and The Mighty Houserockers Nov. 21, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Mount Blue, Main St., Norwell Nov. 21, Matt Chase.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

Venus II, 277 Ocean St. Marshfield. Nov. 21, Night before Thanksgiving with two floors of entertainment First floor featuring Twenty Eight; second floor DJ Battle between two of Boston's Finest DJ's 781-837-6368.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 21, Covered in Funk. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Guitarist Steve Lin will perform at the Hingham Public Library, 66 Leavitt St., Hingham on Nov. 18, at 3:30 p.m. This free concert is sponsored by the Boston Classical Guitar Society and the Hingham Public Library.

BEST BET

Scene Stealer artwork by John Nutter

BEST BET

The North River Arts Society presents Don & John Lasting Impressions, a new exhibit at the Ventress Library Gallery featuring original works by Donald R. Dacier and Hanover resident John Nutter. This show will run through Jan. 12, 2008. The public is invited to a free opening reception on Monday, Nov. 19 from 7 to 9 p.m. Hours for the Library gallery, located in Library Plaza, Webster St., Marshfield are Monday-Wednesday: 9:30 a.m.-9 p.m., Thursday-Saturday: 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. For information, call NRAS at 781.837.8091 or email: info@northriverarts.org. Visit John's website at nuttart.com

Thursday, Nov. 22

The Duxbury Interfaith Council Ecumenical Thanksgiving Service will take place at Bumpus Park, King Caesar Rd. on Thursday morning, Nov. 22 at 7:30 a.m. Clergy from our community congregations will conduct an ecumenical service commemorating the Pilgrims first Thanksgiving. Refreshments and fellowship will follow the service in King Caesar's Barn across the street.

Tsang's Village Café, 644 Washington St., Rt. 53 Hanover, saxophonist Holly Stevenson and keyboardist and arranger, Yasko Kubota will perform every Wednesday and Thursday evening from 8 to 11 p.m.

The Sea Note, 159 Nantasket Ave., Nantasket Beach, Nov. 22, Girls, Guns & Glory Forgetful Jones and Shay's Rebellion. Cover charge. Casual dress. All shows start at 9:30 p.m. Age 21 and over admitted. Full handicap access. 781-925-4300 or email: theseanote@aol.com

Friday, Nov. 23

Landscape Perspectives three photographers Margot Cheel, Mike Sleeper and Stephen Eames will be on view at the James Library and Center for the Arts, Norwell Center, through Nov. 28. The exhibit may be viewed Tuesday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. jameslibrary.org, or 781.659.7100.

The British Beer Company, Washington St., Pembroke. Nov. 23, Clubba Lang 781-829-6999.

All Seasons Restaurant and Sports Lounge, 327 Plymouth St., Halifax, Nov. 23, Radio for the Blind 781-293-4135.

The Next Page Blues Cafe', 550 Broad St., Weymouth. The Gulf Boys Nov. 23, at 9:15 p.m., No cover 781-335-9796 visit nextpagecafe.com or myspace.com/satchsnewbluesrevue

Fairs and festivals

26TH ANNUAL HOLIDAY ART SALE The North River Arts Society Nov. 17 and Nov. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the G.A.R. Hall, 157 Old Main St., Marshfield Hills. Admission is free.

15TH ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR, St. Ann by the Sea Crafters, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 17, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Nov. 18. Parish hall, 591 Ocean St., (Rt. 139) Marshfield. Table space available, $25 for two days. Call 781-83702447 or 781-834-4953.

PSYCHIC FAIRE: Wareham Lodge of Elks, 2855 Cranberry Highway, (Rt. 28 and 6) East Wareham, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Nov. 17. Admission $2.

AN OLD-FASHIONED HARVEST FAIR at the Norwell First Parish Church (at the junction of Rt.123 and River St. in Norwell Center) 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 17, rain or shine. Handicapped accessible. Call 781-659-7122 (mornings) for info.

FALL FAIR Pilgrim Congregational Church, 24 Athens St., North Weymouth, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Nov. 17. 781-337 2075.

ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR North Pembroke Elementary School PTO, Pilgrim Road, Pembroke 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 18, from at the school. More than 40 local crafters; Pictures with Santa.

NINTH ANNUAL CRAFT FAIR Woodsdale School, 128 Chestnut St., (off Route 139) Abington from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Nov. 18, 66 craft tables, $1 adult admission to be donated to the Abington Food Pantry. Students will be selling Abington pajama bottoms.

CHANUKAH BAZAAR Congregation Shirat Hayam will be holding its annual Chanukah Bazaar Nov. 18, at their Temple located at 185 Plain St., (Route 139) in Marshfield from 9:30a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Open to the public and will feature holiday shopping, raffles and a bake sale. Congregation For info e-mail at info@shirathayam.net or by phone at 781.582.2700 shirathayam.net

LADIES HOLIDAY BAZAAR Black Rock Country Club, 19 Clubhouse Dr., Hingham, is hosting a, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 18, blackrockcc.com $25 per person

THE HULL HOLIDAY SHOWCASE will be held Saturday, Nov. 24 at the Clarion Hotel & Conference Center, 45 Hull Shore Drive, Hull, MA from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. FREE Admission.

CHRISTMAS HOUSE TOUR: The 1718 Stetson House in Hanover Center, Route 139, Nov. 30, from 6:45 to 7:45 p.m. followed by concert and refreshments. $10.

CHRISTMAS CRAFT FAIR South Shore Christian Academy, 45 Broad St., Weymouth. Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HOLIDAY TRUNK SHOW, James Library & Center for the Arts, 24 West St., Norwell. Dec. 1, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Rug hooking demonstrations of contemporary rug designs by the Duxbury Rug Hookers. Custom crafts and arts by regional artisans including handbags, hooked rugs, organic honey, custom jewelry and more. Free. 781-659-7100 or jameslibrary.org for information.

NEW ENGLAND ARTISANS SHOWCASE Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Glastonbury Abbey Conference Center, 16 Hull Street (Route 228) in Hingham and will feature 18 exhibitors from six New England states whose work will be familiar to folk art collectors and readers of Early American Life Magazine, Country Home and Country Living. Admission is $3. Ticket proceeds benefit the Robert Weiser Memorial Scholarship Fund at Hingham High School. 781-749-6764.

SNOWFLAKE FAIR First Parish UU, 330 First Parish Road. Scituate. Dec. 1, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Holiday Wreaths and swags crafts and toys homemade baked goods and candy hand made gifts lunch and refreshments HARBOR HOLIDAY BOUTIQUE: The Barker Tavern, 21 Barker Road, Scituate, Dec. 2, from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Free and open to the public.

FOURTH ANNUAL HOLIDAY SHOPPING BONANZA supporting the Jordan Hospital Club Cancer Center, Dec. 8, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Cedarville Community Room, 2209 State Road, Plymouth. Call 508-844-1855.

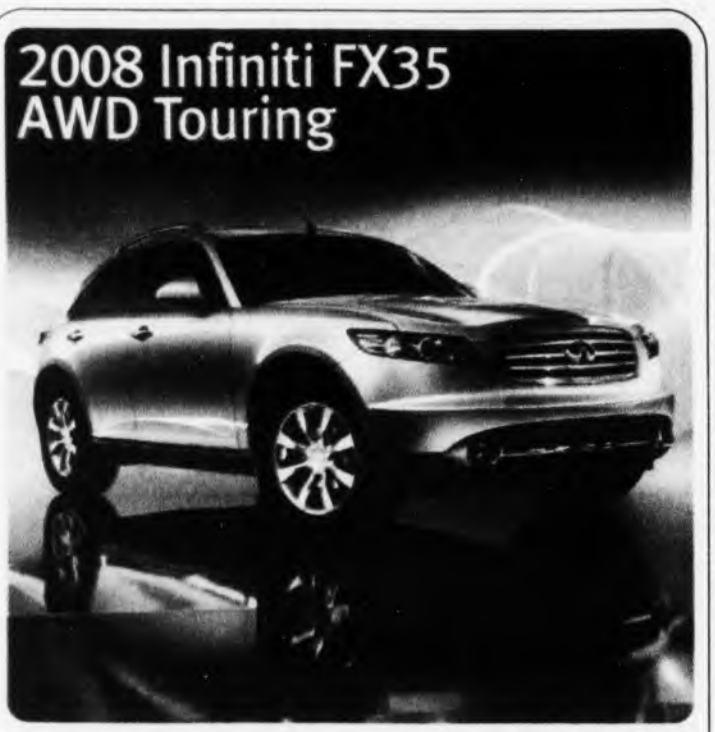
E-mail ddinsmore@cnc.com to include your fair and festival listing

Send your calendar news to ddinsmore @cnc.com

SCITUATE MUSIC
Serving NE musicians since 1969
Over 700
Electric and Acoustic Guitars, Basses, Banjos, Dulcimers, Mandolins, Ukuleles
Fender Guild
Huge selection of Fender and Guild Guitars, Basses and Amplifiers
Heritage DOD Digitech Boss EMG Seymour Duncan Sonic Nady EV Shure
Drum Sets
Cymbals Accessories Drum Lessons
PAYMENT PLANS
USED Guitars • Amps Drums • Effects
SONOR Zildjian SABIAN
DIGITAL PIANOS KEYBOARDS
CASIO
BAND INSTRUMENTS NEW • USED SALES • RENTALS ACCESSORIES
PA System Rentals & Sales All Sizes
Guitar & Amp Repair DJ & 4-track rentals
Guitar, Bass & Drum Lessons
CDs • TAPES 10,000 TITLES • Special Orders •
SHEET MUSIC "One of the largest selections in New England"
Scituate Harbor 781-545-9800

INFINITI®

Quality. Luxury. Value.

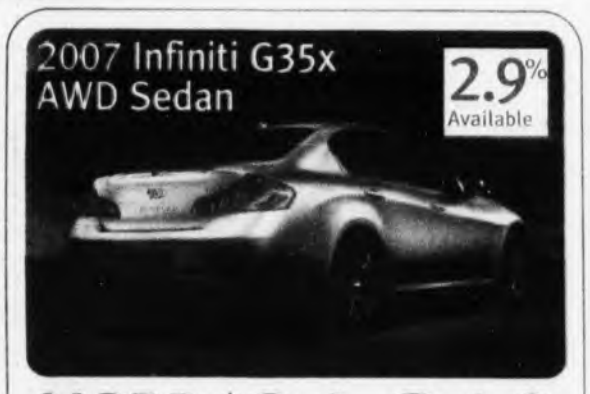


MSRP $42,025

LEASE FOR $479* per mo. for 42 mos. $2,999 cap cost reduction

Voice Activated Navigation, Rear View Monitor, Blue Tooth, 300 HP V6, Bose Stereo, 6-Speed Manual...And Much More

MODEL #99368



MSRP $42,865

LEASE FOR $389* per mo. for 24 mos. $1,399 cap cost reduction

Hands-Free Package, Bose Stereo/iPod Connector, XM Radio, Leather ...And Much More

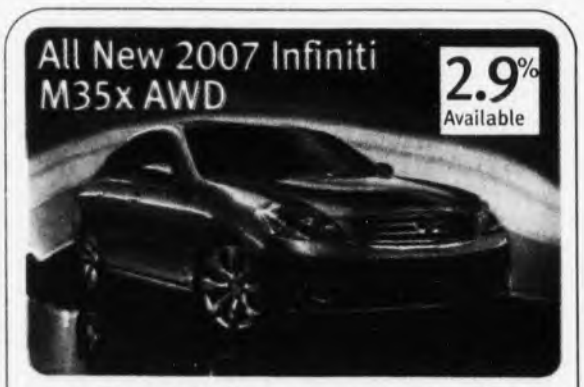
MODEL #87418

MSRP $34,840

LEASE FOR $389* per mo. for 39 mos. $1,999 cap cost reduction

Heated Leather Seats, Power Moonroof, Intelligence Key, In-Dash CD Changer, Power Front Seats...And Much More

MODEL #90617

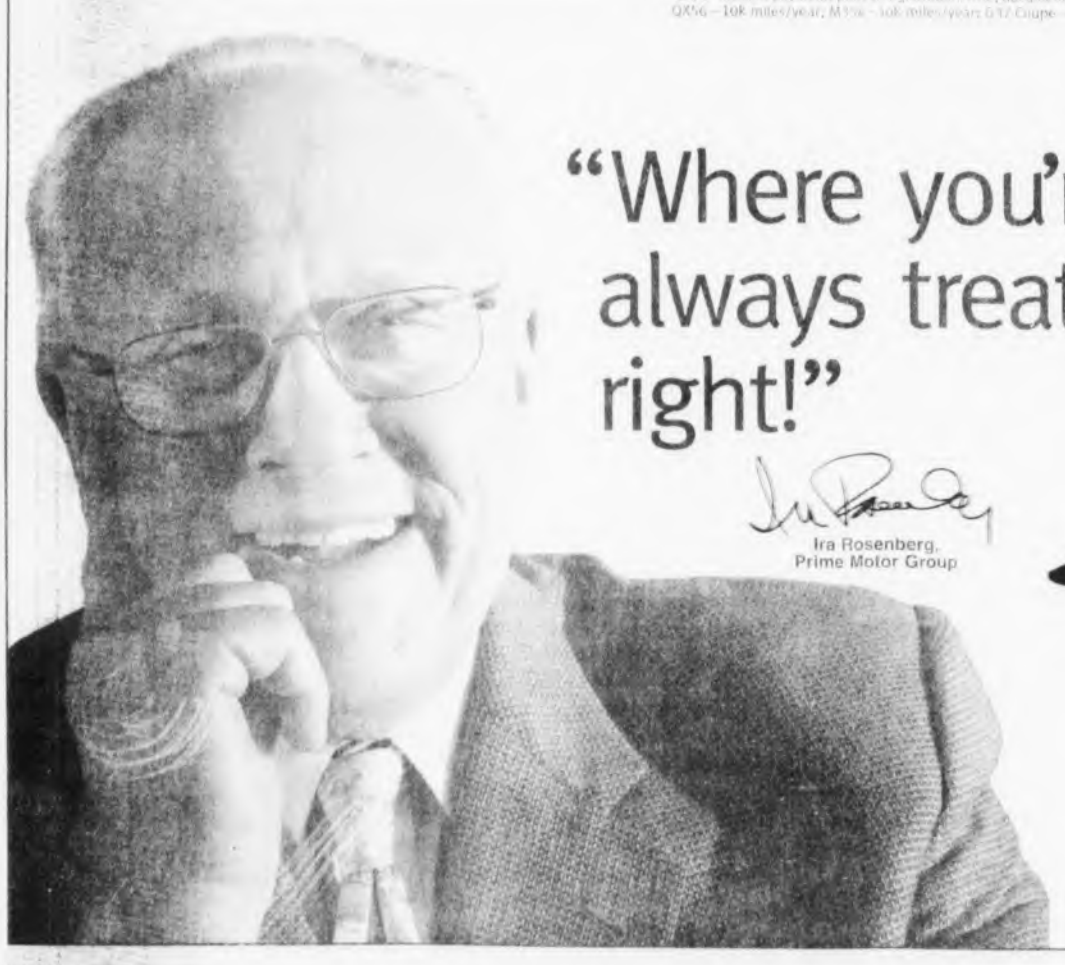


MSRP $58,075

LEASE FOR $599* per mo. for 42 mos. $5,999 cap cost reduction

Leather, DVD Navigation, 20" Chrome Wheels, Power 3rd Row Seat, Heated Steering Wheel...And Much More

MODEL #86418



MSRP $45,560

LEASE FOR $399* per mo. for 39 mos. $4,599 cap cost reduction

Leather, Navigation, Blue Tooth, Rear View Monitor ...And Much More

MODEL #98017

*Tax, 1st months payment, plates, registration, title, documentation and bank acquisition fees additional on all leases. Zero security deposit. FX35 – 10k miles/year; QX56 – 10k miles/year; M35x – 10k miles/year; G37 Coupe – 10k miles/year. Offer expires 11/21/07.

"Where you're always treated right!"

Ira Rosenberg,
Prime Motor Group

Prime MOTOR GROUP

572 Washington St., Hanover
1-888-425-8999 • www.primeinfiniti.com

Open Mon. thru Thurs. 9AM to 8PM
Fri. & Sat. 9AM to 6PM, Sun. Noon to 5PM

49 CAR-RT WSHC-008
PAUL PRATT LIBRARY
35 RIPLEY RD
COHASSET MA 02025-1745

SOUTH SHORE REAL ESTATE
Serene setting
► SEE CLASSIFIEDS

TOWN COMMONS
Small Works exhibition at the South Shore Art Center
► SEE INSIDE

8 02722 99075 7 47

Paul Pratt Memorial Library
35 Ripley Rd.
Cohasset, MA 02025

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company | www.wickedlocalcohasset.com | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 2007 | 56 Pages | 3 Sections | Vol. 28, No. 47 | $1.00

Marine Corps celebrates milestone

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

► SEE PAGE 24

Deer Hill hosts fine feast

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

► SEE PAGE 27

'Turkey shoot' at gun club

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

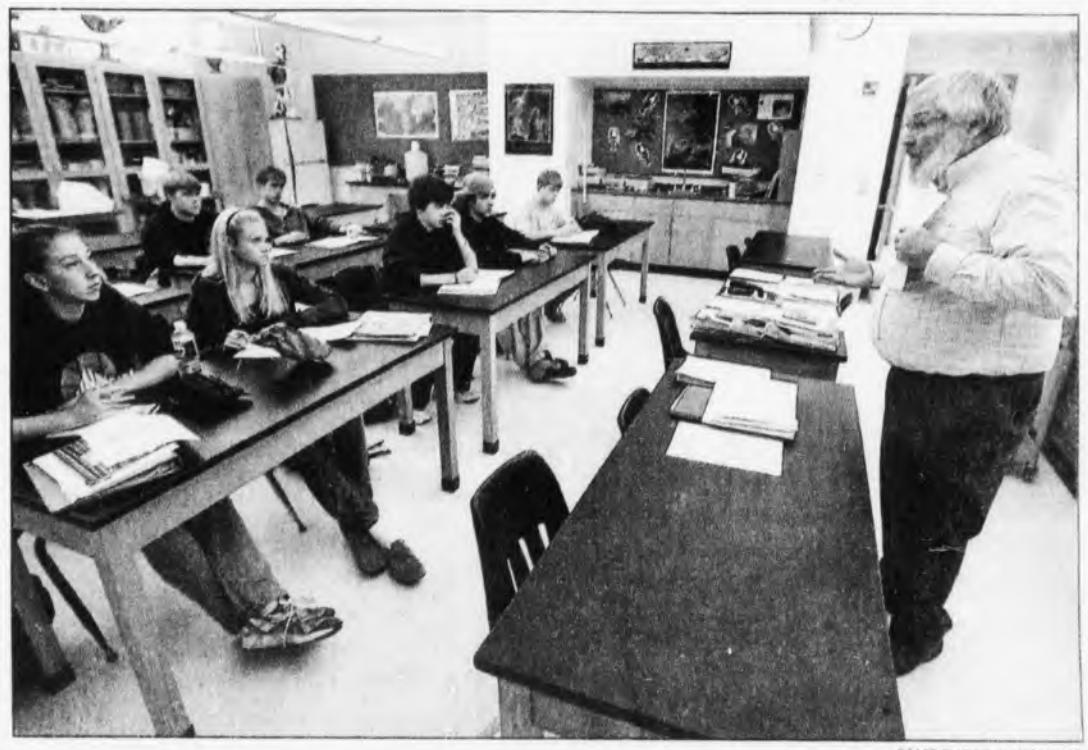
► SEE PAGE 29

QUICK INDEX

Sidewalks 3
MCAS results 5
Engagement 6
Nutcracker 7
Letters 12
Archives 14
Health Notes 15
Worship 28

The science of teaching

Magnussen wins Excellence in Teaching Award



By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Sitting down is something David Magnussen readily admits he does badly. As a Cohasset High School teacher for nearly 26 years and science department chair, he has plenty to do — a science curriculum to oversee, teachers to mentor and four classes of students. With an easy smile framed by his trademark beard, "Mr. Mag" as he is called by most of his students and their parents, is never bored and enjoys every minute.

Recently, the veteran teacher was honored with the Harvard Club 2007 Excellence in Teaching Award from the Harvard Club of Boston. He was one of nine teachers in the New England selected. The teachers were recognized for their ability to inspire curiosity and excellence among their students.

Fittingly enough, that's what Magnussen says he tries to do day in and day out, "my philosophy funda-

SEE AWARD, PAGE 4

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Award-winning teacher, David Magnussen, who is affectionately called "Mr. Mag," talks about the carbon cycle in his Marine Science class at Cohasset High. See a video show about Mr. Magnussen's class at www.wickedlocalcohasset.com.

Lesson in giving

Fourth-grade class learns about El Salvador

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

It's not everyday a fourth grader hears about El Salvador. The tiny country in the faraway place of Central America might show up only on a world geography test or on the nightly world news. But, over the next few weeks Jane Thomas's fourth-grade class at Deer Hill School will learn a lot about El Salvador and about what it is like for some people that live there, particularly its children. They might even change a few lives for the better.

"We can't assume they have anything, we keep trying to make life better for these children."
— Diane Fischer

Last Friday, Diane Fischer of Weymouth visited Mrs. Thomas's class to talk to them about her first visit to El Salvador about a year ago. Fischer became connected to the Spanish speaking country after adopting her daughter Jenny from a Salvadorian orphanage; together they traveled to see the country over 25 years later.

Fischer will return to El Salvador in January and asked the students in Mrs. Thomas's class to collect some needed items she will bring with her. The Salvadorian children need very little to be able to attend school—shoes, pencils and paper. But, the children in Barrio Hortensia don't even have those simple things. The students were charged to each put together a pencil case for the children to take with them to school.

STAFF PHOTO/ROBIN CHAN

Fourth-grader Jack Osten takes a closer look at a cut-ins made in El Salvador during Diane Fischer's talk.

To give the class a taste of what it is like in El Salvador, Fischer brought photos and Salvadorian crafts to share. The painted crafts feature brightly colored figures outlined in black — the trademark of a Salvadorian craft.

She told them of the barrio, the Spanish word for neighborhood, they spent a considerable amount of time in and will return to on their upcoming trip in January. Barrio Hortensia, located outside of the El Salvador capital San Salvador, is a grouping of tiny

SEE GIVING, PAGE 16

Train Panels

Station to show times gone by

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

Greenbush commuters will soon get a history lesson while waiting for the train.

As part of an agreement between the MBTA, Army Corps of Engineers, and the Massachusetts Historical Commission, three large interpretative panels at each of the seven stations in Hingham, Cohasset, Scituate, Braintree, and Weymouth will detail the history of the Greenbush line in each community. The displays will feature a combination of written narrative and historic photos with captions.

"The panels are being fabricated and designed as part of the MBTA's effort to address the impacts the restoration will have on the historical resources along the Greenbush line," said Virginia H. Adams, senior architectural historian with the Public Archaeology Laboratory in Pawtucket, R.I. The project is managed by the MBTA, which hired PAL to serve as the project's cultural research consultant. PAL has been working on the project in various phases for more than a decade.

PAL asked each of the historical societies in towns served by Greenbush to provide compelling photos and other images and has received input from all five communities on a draft of the four-foot by four-foot panels, which are now at the printer. The Cohasset Historical Society made some suggested modifications to the originally proposed text, according to Historical Society Executive Administrator Lynne DeGiacomo.

The purpose of the panels is to give train riders and others who might stop

SEE TRAIN, PAGE 17

Cohasset Mortgage Company Inc.
Your Local Mortgage Broker
FREE
Application Processing
Credit Report
Appraisal
Will Charles
781-383-9436
MA Mortgage Broker License #MB3427
www.cohassetmortgageinc.com

DRIFTWAY AUTO SALES & REPAIR
FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
ALIGNMENT
TIRES • TOWING
781-545-8600
126 First Parish Rd., Scituate
www.driftwayauto.com

VISIT US ON RTE 3A in COHASSET
HINGHAM LUMBER COMPANY
The Better Builders Yard™ Since 1947
781-749-4200
888-8 HINGHAM

Lic. # A11929 Lic. # E26267
D.J. RICHARD ELECTRIC CO., INC.
781-383-2800
Residential, Industrial, Commercial
Quality Wiring Since 1983
GENERATORS
Scituate

Stocks ▮ Bonds ▮ CDs
Mutual Funds ▮ IRAs
John J. Flanagan
Investment Representative
781-383-1996
www.edwardjones.com
Edward Jones
Serving Individual Investors Since 1871

Free Checking
Free ATMs
Pilgrim Bank
Cohasset
(781) 383-0541
www.BankPilgrim.com

The Clog Shoppe
NEW Muck Boots
The Perfect Alternative for any Kind of Winter.
$10.00 Off
Any Regular Priced Clog or Boot with this Ad.
Gift Certificates Available
781-331-4040
9-11 Union Street,
So. Weymouth, MA 02190
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-8, Sun. 10-4
Front & rear entrance and parking available.

IT'S TIME FOR BIOHEAT®!
Ask 'more' of your Oilheat company.
We provide more.
Atlas Glen-mor
1-800-433-1616
www.AGMoil.com

"ZOLTAN" AT SZABO FITNESS & ACUPUNCTURE
HOLIDAY GIFT CERTIFICATES
Unique Group Exercise Classes
Personal Training with Award Winning Gymnast • Gym Memberships
S.W.E.A.T.© Weight Loss Program includes Acupuncture
781-925-1941
on Nantasket Beach, Hull • www.szabofitness.com

TRI TOWN
LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Holiday Ideas • Firewood $250 Cord 128 cu. ft.
Barrels Sand & Salt • Christmas Trees Are In!
FREE DELIVERY Saturday Deliveries 7-5
388 VFW Drive, Rockland, MA 02370
781-871-1700

10% Off with this Ad
The Potters Room Bookstore
219 North Ave. Abington, MA
781-878-0833
Christian Books
Music, Art & Gifts
Tues., Wed., Fri. 10-6; Thur. 10-8
Sat. 9-4; Closed Sun. & Mon.

PICTURE THIS/Mrs. Claus

COURTESY PHOTO

Mrs. Claus arrives in the harbor during last year's Jingle Bell Walk. She and Santa will be arriving this year at 2 p.m. today (Nov. 23) at the town landing off Border Street. From there they will take a horse-drawn hayride to the South Shore Community Center for refreshments and singing.

Name: Mrs. Claus

Occupation: Helping Santa make the holidays special for children everywhere.

Best day of your life: Marrying Santa.

Best vacation: Skiing in the Alps.

Favorite season: Winter.

Favorite holiday: Christmas Eve.

Favorite food: Gingerbread cookies and milk.

Best book: "The Polar Express," by Chris Van Allsburg.

Best movie: "White Christmas."

Best TV show: Santa and I do not have cable!

Dumbest thing you have ever done: Washing Santa's best wool suit in hot water.

Pet peeve: Families who forget to leave a snack for Santa and his reindeer.

Goal: For every child to have a wonderful Christmas.

Person you'd most like to meet: The tooth fairy.

Biggest worry: Santa forgetting any toys on Chrismas Eve.

Best part of Cohasset: The South Shore Community Center.

Atlantic Bagel & Deli
Voted the "Best Bagel South of Boston"
Stop by for an everyday special of a bagel with butter and a small coffee or kid's drink for under $2.00
Or try one of our 15 types of bagel with one of our 12 types of cream cheese $1.95 to $2.10 (Lox spread $2.31) or try one of our 10 + Standard Fare Sandwiches ($4.95) or 17 + Specialty Sandwich ($5.95)
like: Guacamole, turkey, bacon, lettuce, tomato, and peppers
Roast beef, herb cream cheese, onion, lettuce, & tomato
Grilled chicken wicheddar, peppers, and onions
Hot pastrami and Swiss with onions, and peppers
Turkey BLT
Chicken Caesar wrap
Egg and cheese ($2.50)
Tomatoes, provolone cheese with pesto sauce ($3.95)
Sliced lox, cream cheese, capers and red onions ($5.50)
Party Platter Specialist
Try a platter of roll-ups cut into thirds and professionally presented
45 South Main, Cohasset Village 781-383-2902
Monday to Friday: 6 AM to 3 PM, Saturday: 6 AM to 2 PM, Sunday: 7 AM to 1 PM
Also located in Hingham Center 781-740-0636
Please visit the other stores in the Belz Building
Cohasset Dog Wash Call for an appointment 781-383-1403
Paperscapes Stationery & Gifts 781-383-8008

PILGRIM PAVING
"Solid as the Rock!"
www.pilgrimpaving.com
RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL
DRIVEWAYS • PARKING LOTS • STONE DRIVEWAYS
SEAL COATING • FREE WRITTEN ESTIMATES
FALL SPECIAL 10x20
Two layers of asphalt over Gravel
$595.00
781.982.9898
Bill Dyer
DISCOUNT TO SENIOR CITIZENS AND NON PROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

The Cabinet Outlet
NEW ADDRESS!
Custom Made Cabinets & Tops
Stock Cabinets • Installations
Aristokraft CABINETS
781-826-9450
352 Columbia Road (Rte. 53) • Hanover

WARMINGTON'S HAS FURNITURE TO FIT!
70" SOFA $799
Any Room
✓ Living Room
✓ Dining Room
✓ Bedroom
SMALLER FURNITURE FOR SMALLER SPACES
WARMINGTON FURNITURE.COM
FREE DELIVERY • FREE DISPOSAL
781-878-5759
1-800-696-5759
459 PLAIN STREET
ROUTE 139
ROCKLAND, MA
(NEAR NORTH ABINGTON LINE)

Get Control of Your Computer
RGB Computer Solutions
PC & Laptop Repair
- Remote Desktop Support
- Home Office Setup
- Antivirus Firewall Setup
- Parental Control Software
- Virus, Popup & Spyware Removal
- Data Recovery
- Wired & Wireless Networks
- Loaner Computers Available
- New Computer Consultation
- Hardware & Software Upgrades

Bob Black
781-749-9694
94 Station St. 2nd floor
Hingham, MA 02043
rgb@rgbcomputersolutions.com
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com
Before Bob Black
After Bob Black

COHASSET MARINER
HOW TO REACH US

The Cohasset Mariner is located at 73 South Street, Hingham, MA 02043
COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY www.townonline.com

Main telephone number: 781-383-8139
www.cohassetmariner.com

The Cohasset Mariner USPS 455-390 is published weekly Thursday by Community Newspaper Co./South. Periodical postage paid at Boston and additional mailing office.
POSTMASTER: Send change of address notice to Cohasset Mariner, 165 Enterprise Dr., Marshfield, MA 02050.

• ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATES
$43 in town for one year. Call circulation department, 888-343-1899 to subscribe or report delivery problems.

• NEWSROOM
Call: (781)383-8139
Fax: 781-741-2931
News Editor: 781-741-2933
Reporter: 781-741-2935
Sports: 781-837-4577
Calendar: 781-837-4518

• PHOTOGRAPHY
To request photo coverage, call 781-741-2933
For reprints of photos, call 866-746-8603

• RETAIL ADVERTISING
Sales Representative:
Claudia Oliver 781-837-4519
Advertising deadline: Tuesday, noon.
Fax: 781-837-4541
Our retail advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Call: 800-624-7355
Fax: 781-453-6650
Legal Ads: 781-433-7902
Legal Fax: 781-453-6650
Billing Inquiries: 800-894-5141
Mailing Address:
Community Newspaper Company
254 Second Avenue,
Needham, MA 02494
781-433-6700
Our classified advertising department is open from 9 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

• DROP SITE
Cohasset News, 3 Brook St.
Last pickup for news items, Tuesday at noon.

• CIRCULATION
888-343-1899

• EDITORIAL E-MAIL ADDRESSES
cohasset@cnc.com
cohasset.sports@cnc.com
cohasset.events@cnc.com

• ADVERTISING POLICY: The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Conway
INSURANCE AGENCY, INC.
Complete Insurance Protection
• AUTO • HOME • LIFE
• BUSINESS • HEALTH
HANOVER 183 Columbia Rd. (781) 826-3804
SCITUATE 80 Front St. (781) 545-6110
WHITMAN 715 Bedford St. (781) 447-0661

Make Your Own Beaded Jewelry
We have everything you need, specializing in genuine semi-precious beads, Swarovski crystal beads, pearls, findings, sterling silver, Bali and much more.
Have Fun and Make Big Profits!
Always adding to our collection of beads, crystal & sterling
Receive $5 OFF Your 1st Wire Wrapping Class
(with this ad)
Gemorama Inc. is now opening its doors to walk-in customers. We've been supplying the Bead Industry for 35 years.
Call us at 781-878-4010 for information on Knotting and Wire Wrapping CLASSES.
Mon.-Fri. 9:00-3:30
Sat. 9:00-12:00
GEMORAMA INC. Wholesale Prices
NEW LOCATION 155 Webster St. Unit 0-1, Hanover, MA 02339
(Rte. 123 after Stop & Shop)
www.gemorama.com

Matthew's JEWELERS
1 Hour Jewelry Repair
Ring Sizing
Chain & Clasp Repair
Prong Retipping
Jewelry Polishing
Rhodium Plating
Jonathan Livingston Square
130 King Street (Rte. 3A)
Cohasset
(781) 383-1200

BELLEW
TILE & MARBLE CO., INC.
CERAMIC ❖ PORCELAIN ❖ MARBLE ❖ SLATE
GRANITE ❖ TUMBLED STONE ❖ LIMESTONE
METAL ❖ GLASS TILE ❖ MOSAICS ❖ MURALS
HAND-PAINTED TILES ❖ GRANITE COUNTERS
MARBLE VANITY TOPS
PREFINISHED HARDWOOD FLOORING
Visit Our Brand New Showroom @ 308 Hingham St., Rockland!
Our commitment to quality, selection, value, and service along with our beautiful new 6,000 sq. ft. designer showroom has made us the undisputed leader in the Boston area. Our professional staff is the best around and will guide you in all your selections...we are the Gold Standard of tile showrooms!
781-982-3030 • Visit Us @ BellewTile.Com

N. Main sidewalk to station floated

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

"The need for a walkable area to the train station via North Main Street is common sense."
— Howie Altholtz, 4 Cedar Ledge

Sidewalks are among the issues of the moment.

Forest Avenue recently got its long-awaited and lobbied for sidewalk.

At the recent special Town Meeting there was a citizens petition to install a sidewalk on Route 3A (ultimately, the article was indefinitely postponed).

Now, a resident has come forward to discuss the need for a sidewalk on North Main Street from King Street to Cohasset train station.

"The need for a walkable area to the train station via North Main Street is common sense," said Howie Altholtz of 4 Cedar Ledge. After a series of e-mails to Town Manager Bill Griffin and the Greenbush office (Tom Gruber and Mark Brennan), Altholtz put on the Selectmen's agenda Monday night to discuss the issue. Right now, there is no pedestrian/bike sidewalk access to the Cohasset station. But, funds and design plans are in place to build a sidewalk—just not on North Main Street.

The town received a transit-oriented district grant from the state for approximately $275,000 in 2006. The grant was given for the construction of a sidewalk up Lower King Street and then along Route 3A to the station entrance. Greenbush liaison Mark Brennan expects work on the Route 3A sidewalk to begin in the spring months.

However, Altholtz said a sidewalk on North Main made more sense because it was a direct route to the station which people would be more apt to use, "some people characterize the lack of a sidewalk to the station as the biggest disappointment of the mitigation process."

A sidewalk on North Main Street to the station has like most Greenbush issues a long history. In 2002, the Board of Health, in conjunction with the Rails with Trails program, hired a consultant to look at the possibility of a pedestrian/bike pathway to the commuter train station. The town talked with the MBTA about using the maintenance road next to the track for a pedestrian walkway, but in the end the proposal was turned down. When the Greenbush guys came on in early 2005, the options were a sidewalk via North Main or Route 3A. After meetings with representatives from the Board of Health, police, fire and DPW, it became clear the most practical solution was Route 3A. Two major developments, Scituate Hill (across from King Street on Route 3A) and the TOD shopping plaza, Old Colony Square, made the 3A sidewalk even more practical.

The challenges to construct a sidewalk on North Main were both numerous and costly, Brennan explained to the Selectmen. On one side of North Main Street there is ledge, private homes, culverts and wetlands. On the other there are wetlands, coupled with a drastic drop off several feet from the current street curb. Over 200 trees stand in the way as well, Brennan estimated. There's not even room to widen the street a few feet for larger fog lines.

"The first 400 feet you might be okay, but the last 2300 feet is virtually impossible," said Brennan. Rough, conservative estimates for a North Main Street sidewalk were almost $1.4 million.

Despite the practical reasons Brennan enumerated, Selectman Fred Koed said the project might be inevitable, "there was always a sense someday something would have to be done on North Main."

"I'm pessimistic about getting anything from the T," said Selectman Ralph Dormitzer in terms of money, but Koed said state monies could be a possibility down the line.

"We should plan to deal with it when it makes sense," said Altholtz and wanted the Selectmen to recognize the sidewalk as an issue.

"I'm not at all opposed to it but there are some real challenges here, money is one of them," said Dormitzer.

Altholtz was charged with making informal inquiries at the state level about support for the North Main sidewalk. Brennan said he would re-look at the North Main Street and see if he could come up with any alternatives.

Health insurance cut for some town officials

No longer will paid elected officials working less than 20 hours per week be able to have the benefit of health insurance through the town. For many years, paid elected officials (members of the Board of Selectmen and the Board of Assessors) have had the option of town health insurance.

The Board of Selectmen voted unanimously to grandfather the current health insurance takers (two members of the Board of Assessors) while doing away with the benefit in the future.

The primary reason for doing away with this benefit is cost. Family health insurance annually costs $11,000. The town was responsible for 69 percent of that cost, over $7,000.

POLICE BEAT

Residents on alert for scams

By Mary Ford
MFORD@CNC.COM

"The letter did not pass the smell test."
– Police Chief James Hussey

A Beechwood Street resident told police last week that some time ago a man who identified himself as Mr. Shepard called to tell him that he had won $4.5 million that would be delivered to him and all he had to pay was $150 in order to receive the check, Chief James Hussey said.

The man said he would contact him later with further details. When Shepard called again, he said the man bringing the check was delayed and asked the resident to send him the $150. At that point, the resident knew there was a potential scam taking place and contacted police.

While the officer was at the residence, Shepard called again. The officer identified himself and after he hung up, a successful phone trace was conducted.

"Detectives are following up to see what they might have," Hussey said.

In an unrelated incident, another resident notified police after receiving a letter in the mail telling him he had won $1.5 million. "The letter did not pass the smell test," Hussey said. The letter, which was sent bulk mail, asked for personal information and was apparently an attempt to steal someone's identity.

Hussey said the letter was forwarded to the Secret Service, which is monitoring this type of mailing.

Cohasset police gave the resident, who received the letter, an ID theft package that explains how to check on one's credit and credit cards.

Stolen laptop

Police are trying to help a local woman find a laptop that she believes was stolen. The last time the woman used the laptop was at Los Angeles airport and when she retrieved her luggage at Logan Airport the computer was missing.

Cohasset police took the report and forwarded it to the Massachusetts State Police and police at Los Angeles Airport.

Chief Hussey said police have also put information on the NCIC (National Criminal Investigation Center).

Mailbox

Police do not believe damage to a mailbox on Lamberts Lane last week was a deliberate act of vandalism. Based on the officer's observations, it appears that a car caused the dent in the post and it is possible that a motorist backed into the post and left the scene.

Deer on tracks

A caller reported a dead deer on the railroad tracks last Wednesday (Nov. 14) at about 7:42 a.m. The deer was removed by the MBTA.

Chief Hussey said deer on the tracks is not uncommon and the animals can enter the right of way at any of the grade crossings.

Cartridges

A caller reported finding two boxes of empty aerosol cartridges in the Town Parking Lot last week. Police are trying to determine where they came from. Chief Hussey said they looked like trash that someone had just left there and they were not hazardous.

MVAs

• There was a three-car accident last Thursday (Nov. 15) at 2:06 p.m. near the entrance to the middle-high school. Police said a 2000 Chrysler was traveling west on Pond Street toward 3A near the high school driveway when it collided with a 2007 Nissan that was attempting to turn left into the driveway. Based on that collision, the Chrysler was pushed into the middle of the driveway colliding with a 2000 Jeep that was waiting to come out and was turned back onto Pond Street in the direction of 3A. The operator and passenger in the Chrysler and the operator of the Nissan were transported to the hospital with non-life threatening injuries, police said. The operator of the Nissan was cited for failure to yield.

• On Friday (Nov. 16) at 5:03 p.m., there was a collision between a 2003 BMW and a 2007 Hyundai at the traffic light at 3A and Pond Street. The BMW was headed southbound and the Hyundai was on the northbound side. Both cars were stopped at the light. When the light turned, the operator of the BMW thought the operator of the Hyundai signaled that it was OK for her to take a left. The Hyundai was proceeding to take a right turn onto Pond Street when the collision occurred.

There was minor damage to both cars and no citations were issued.

Property dispute

Police have advised Forest Avenue neighbors to have their property surveyed to resolve a property line dispute. The matter came to the attention of police last week after a walk-in to the station complained that a neighbor had pulled up stakes on his property and was parking his car on his property, preventing him from doing work.

Cigar sale

Police appreciate being alerted to the potential sale of tobacco to minors. Last week a customer reported seeing a clerk sell a cigar to a minor. Police went to the store and spoke with the clerk who assured police that an illegal sale had not occurred. At this point, there is no solid evidence to prove the customer's claim, police said.

Hussey said police follow up on this type of call and appreciate it when people pass information to the police.

Parking ban

No all-night parking is allowed on any street in Cohasset from Nov. 15th-April 1st per the town's traffic rules and orders.

ALL ABOARD!!!!!!!!!!
If you think the Greenbush line is the hottest thing to hit Cohasset, think again!
You forgot The Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
No horns, whistles, glitz or gimmicks.
Law Offices of George Lane Marlette, P.C.
572 Pleasant Street
Brockton, MA 02301
508-586-2123
Cohasset Branch, 9 Brook Street
Cohasset, MA 02025
781-383-1048
George Lane Marlette, Esq.
Bruce G. McNeill, Esq. (of counsel)
Concentrating in Civil Litigation, Real Estate, Divorce, Mediation, Estates and Trusts
Member – Massachusetts Council on Family Mediation
National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys Inc. (NAELA)

Clarks ENGLAND
Women's Special Purchase
SALE $39.95
Sale price refers to Chinna, Bluebelle & Amaretti styles only.
Sale Ends 12/2/07
Shoe Market
Derby Street Shoppes, Hingham
(Rte. 3 at Exit 15) • 781.749.5411
www.theshoemarket.com

NEW ENGLAND BULKHEAD

Clip 'N' Save For A Rainy Day!
10% SENIOR DISCOUNT
Replace that rotted leaking problem, now for Winter.
We can fit any size: flat or sloped foundations.
We do full digouts!
FREE ESTIMATES • 781-820-7381

Simply Elegant.
The Hartland Hurricane
Make every day a special occasion with Simon Pearce designs.
Darilynn's
Gifts • Bridal Registry • Home Accessories • Baby
64 So. Main St. • Cohasset Village • 781.383.1062
www.darilynns.com

INVOLVED IN AN ACCIDENT?
Choose the Right Lawyer!

• Slip and Fall
• Motor Vehicle Accidents
• General Litigation
No Fee Unless Successful
Law Office of Drew M. Elinoff
1382 Pleasant Street, Weymouth
781-337-2067

Care • Compassion • Commitment
COHASSET DENTAL
EST. 2003
Comprehensive aesthetic dentistry for the entire family
Welcoming new patients • Most insurance accepted
Kevin M. Thomas DDS
Aaron M. Chenette DMD
invisalign CERTIFIED
Smile Makeovers since 1987
ZOOM2 Whitening
223 Chief Justice Cushing Hwy, Suite 104 • Cohasset • 781-383-9393

The Clothes Line contemporary women's clothing
20% Off All Cashmere
20% Off Boots & Shoes
3 DAYS ONLY
Fri., Sat. & Sun., Nov. 23, 24 & 25
Lots of New Jewelry for Great Gifts!
132 Front Street • Scituate Harbor • 781-545-1201

Magnussen wins Excellence in Teaching Award

FROM AWARD, PAGE 1

mentally is to keep kids stimulated," he says, "stimulation and interest comes as a result of doing interesting things and working hard."

When students begin to feel successful from their hard word it gives them confidence in their intelligence and abilities, he says.

"I've always thought as a teacher you make a kid as good as they can be," says Magnussen.

Energetic, demanding and passionate about both science and teaching is the way he says his students would describe him. He also strives to be a teacher, who is approachable and willing to work with students. He enjoys getting involved in the college application process with the high school seniors, offering both ideas and writing recommendations, "this school puts a lot of kids in the science field," he says proudly.

Magnussen didn't always envision himself a teacher, but while a senior at Bates College in Maine he was encouraged by a favorite professor to try his hand at teaching. His first teaching experience was in a pre-school classroom with learning disabled children.

"I found it was something I was very interested in," he says sincerely, then quips, "I've been dedicated and poor ever since."

Junior, Andrew Smith, inspects his saltwater tank during class on Tuesday.

David Magnussen checks out the animals in junior Sammi Lehr's, right, and junior Torey Hart's (not pictured) saltwater tank during their Marine Science Class. The tanks are being used so that the students can appreciate how chemical cycles work in the real world.

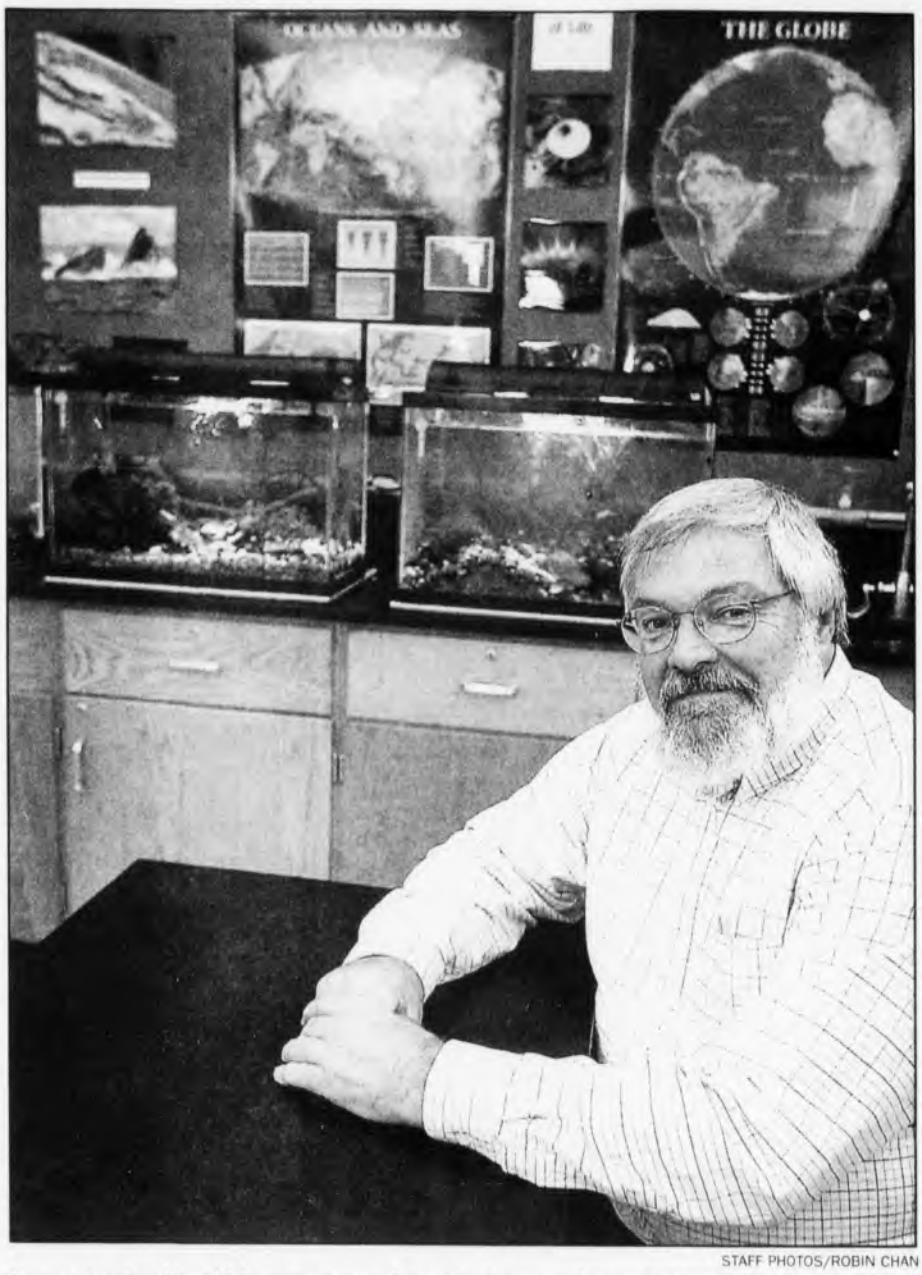
After teaching in Maine for a couple years, he moved to the South Shore to teach at Hanover Middle School. Although he says the school was an "extraordinary place to be" with young teachers and plenty of fresh ideas, he primarily taught one course — life science.

"I get tired very quickly of doing the same thing," says Magnussen. When a job for a middle school science teacher opened up at the Cohasset Middle-High School he accepted the job on the promise he'd have the chance to move up to the high school where he could teach a variety of courses.

"When I came here I requested (variety) and the school has never disappointed me," said Magnussen with a laugh. This semester alone he is teaching AP Biology, Marine Biology, Anatomy and Physiology and Introduction to Physics. All in all he's taught 19 different courses over the years.

For the last 15 years, he has held the responsibilities of science department chair as well. A self-described man who can't stay still for long, he relishes the movement teaching a class of high school student provides.

This movement ties into the his simple motto "science is a verb," meaning students do things — hands-on projects, maintaining salt water aquariums, field research and getting outdoors to explore.



"Kids today have lost an appreciation of the natural world," says Magnussen, so in many ways he's tried to incorporate the out of doors into his classroom. In his science classes they learn a lot of science theory, but he always teaches how that theory applies in the real world.

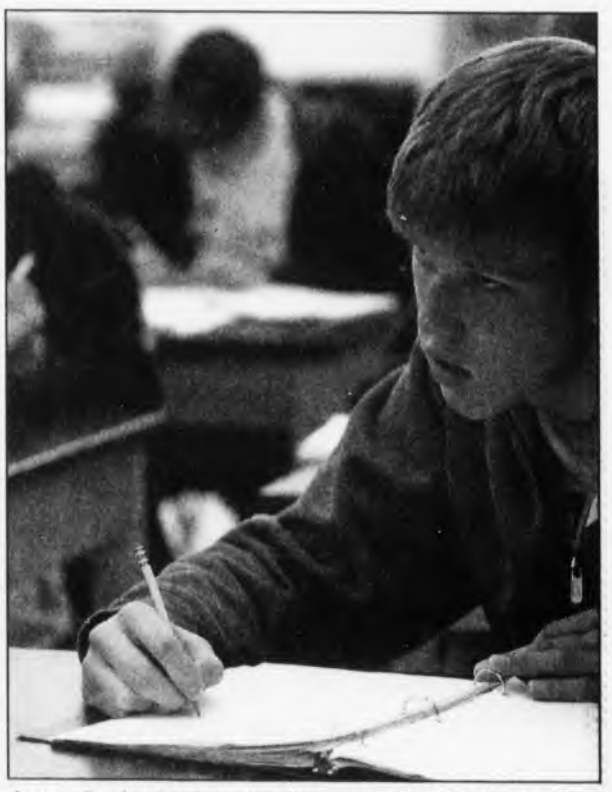
Some of his favorite memories from years gone by were field trips — really, adventures — to Belize, Guatemala and Costa Rica. From 1995 to 2005 he traveled each year with a group of about 25 students to Central America to explore the tropical ecology of the area.

"It is by far the best thing I've ever done in education," says Magnussen. The trips to Belize and Guatemala were a learning vacation and took its participants from bird watching in a freshwater lagoon, snorkeling on a coral reef to seeing the wildlife deep in a rainforest first hand. After all that, the student would head to the Mayan ruins in Guatemala and actually stay with a Mayan family.

"It's pretty exotic stuff…far away from Cohasset," he says with a laugh.

In 26 years, Magnussen has seen many changes in Cohasset, its schools and its students. Most strikingly, he says, is the way MCAS testing has changed the way teachers have to teach. Teachers must spend a good amount of class time and energy focusing on MCAS topics and scores, which takes away from time teachers can devote to more interesting pursuits that may engage students more.

STAFF PHOTOS/ROBIN CHAN



Science teacher David Magnussen recently received an award from the Harvard Club of Boston. After 26 years, the chair of the science department will be retiring from Cohasset High this spring.

"It's a measure of mediocrity and it isn't the solution," says Magnussen. Luckily, he says, for most students it stops at 10th grade, "but for the teachers in grades six through nine it can be very stressful."

He's noticed a difference in his students as well over the years, "I don't know how they do all they do," he says explaining many students are strung out and overbooked. But, in the same token, some are increasingly distracted from academics by a variety of things.

Magnussen is scheduled to retire this spring and looking back he's proud of the wonderful staff he has to work with day in and day out so he knows he's leaving the department in good hands, "they are inspiring."

But, it's the students that he may miss the most, "The cast of characters are so different year to year, it's been really fun getting to know them," he says.

Junior, Gordon Smith, copies down one of the six cycles during class on Tuesdasy.

Local News
Local Advertising
Cohasset Mariner
Call Claudia Oliver
at 781-837-4519
for retail advertising

Holiday Sale
Friday, Saturday, Sunday
November 23, 24, 25
Savings up to 50%
BEST OF BOSTON 2005
COHASSET JEWELERS
BEST OF BOSTON 2007
781-383-1933 / Toll Free 877-867-2274
790A Route 3A, Cohasset, MA
Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9:30-5:00, Sun. 12-5

AbsolutelyFABULOUS!
Hand Embroidered
PILLOWS
All states available
Select countries
Order early for Christmas
$144 ea.
*Home Accents *Consignments *Antiques *Artwork *Furniture *Mirrors
*Fireplace Equipment *Gifts *Bar Stools *Bars & Islands
THE QUEEN'S GARDEN
21 Park Ave. at Rte 18, South Weymouth • 781-331-6272
Open 7 days! Extended Holiday Hours! 9-8 Mon-Sat, 11-6 Sun

MCAS scores are in

Cohasset schools plugging along at all levels

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

The MCAS results are in and Cohasset is making strides in all areas.

The Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System, or MCAS, is an annual statewide test in its 10th year of administration. The School Committee took a long, hard look at the 2007 MCAS results a few weeks back (Nov. 7) along with each of the three school principals.

Regionally, Cohasset ranked highest on both the grade three reading and math tests as well as the grade six and grade eight math tests. The region included the nearby public school district of Hanover, Hingham, Norwell, Scituate, Duxbury, and Marshfield.

The percentage of Cohasset students at the proficient or advanced levels is higher than the state percentages at all grade levels on both the MCAS math and English portions. All three Cohasset schools are meeting their targeted annual yearly progress scores on both the English and math. If Cohasset keeps on pace with its yearly gains, all students should score proficient and above by 2014 when all students are required to be proficient in reading and math by the federal No Child Left Behind act.

MCAS tests include multiple choice, open response, and short answer questions and writing prompts. School and district results are used to evaluate, revise, and update the curriculum and instruction programs, aligned with the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks.

Beginning in the third grade, each year students take the MCAS tests yearly until eighth grade and then again in grade 10. Passing the grade 10 MCAS is a requirement for high school graduation.

About a month ago, the Boston Globe printed the statewide MCAS ratings. Cohasset High School ranked 105 in English and 106 in Math for grade 10. Supt. of Schools Denise Walsh said the scores did not take into consideration all the variables inherent in the statistics.

"The only true, valid comparison is to look at the cohort groups," which means looking at each class's results as they progress through grade levels, said Walsh, "we're not interested so much in surrounding communities. We looked at what our students are doing."

The two-hour presentation dove into each grade's scores and the principals enumerated what they believed contributed to the score as well as what they plans for improvement.

"I love the cohort analysis, you look at it and you see the children moving. I think it's impressive," said School Committee member Adrienne MacCarthy at the end of the presentation.

Deer Hill Grade 3

The grade three scores for both math and reading ranked first among neighboring South Shore schools. On the reading portion 81 percent of students garnered a proficient or advanced score, 85 percent for the math portion. Although the third grade students attend Deer Hill, Osgood Principal Janet Sheehan presented the grade three schools because Osgood's curriculum prepares the students for the test while in kindergarten through second grade.

Sheehan credited a new full-time reading specialist, co-teaching classes, professional development, increased MCAS analysis, and a new Reading Street program as some of the reasons for the improved scores. Full-day kindergarten, increased technology resources, lower class size and increased assessment helped to boost the math scores as well, said Sheehan.

"We're starting to see all the effort put into the literacy program at Osgood pay off," said School Committee member Alfred Slanetz, "it's very positive to start to see the results."

The increase in math scores Sheehan attributed to a new Everyday Math curriculum, including additional professional development, more time for math instruction and small class sizes.

Deer Hill Grades 4 and 5

At the fourth and fifth grade levels Deer Hill Principal Jennifer deChiara said there have been gains almost across the board. The biggest jump was in grade four math MCAS, 5 percent more students reached a proficient or advanced rating over last year, or 56 percent, said deChiara.

In the English portion of the MCAS at grade four, 76 percent passed with a proficient or advanced score, 80 percent in grade five. New classroom libraries, small reading groups, and additional professional development were some of the reasons named for contributing to the improvement in scores.

Despite a five percent gain, regionally the grade four math scores were still on the lower end. DeChiara expects this to change as teachers become more familiar with the new Everyday Math curriculum and knowing the areas to emphasize and de-emphasize.

In the analysis of both portions of the MCAS (math and English), deChiara found students had trouble fully developing their ideas and writing. While the grade three MCAS is mostly about facts and skills, the grade four test asks students to explain how they got their answers. There is deeper thinking involved. To combat the problem, deChiara and the Deer Hill teachers are incorporating more writing across the curriculum such as, math journals and follow-up questions to explain how a student got the answer through oral reasoning.

Looking ahead to next year, deChiara is hopeful a math consultant and math specialist could be included in the upcoming fiscal 2009 budget.

"It's the same model used over the last few years to improve literacy," said Walsh.

Middle-High School Grades 6 to 10

The Middle High School is seeing some movement in their schools, but no significant jumps in scores, said Principal Joel Antolini. Because each class has a unique individual make-up, it's the cohort group that tells the story of the class, explained Antolini.

The grade 10 math scores jumped to 81 percent of student scoring proficient and advanced, over just 56 percent when the same students took the test back in the eighth grade (2005). The English scores moved slightly from 81 percent to 83 percent from eighth grade to tenth grade.

To improve English scores, which 83 percent of the students passed this past year, Antolini plans to get the teachers more involved in MCAS analysis, implement a writing guide of core concepts and a continued focus on classroom instruction. Additional time for math instruction, in the form of math labs, has been added this year.

A taste for wine

Cohasset resident receives liquor license

By Nancy White
NWHITE@CNC.COM

His shop, A Taste for Wine & Spirits, will take up residence in the current Cohasset Plaza Liquors storefront off Route 3A.

Cohasset residents with a taste for wine will soon have a go-to place to quench their thirst. Cohasset resident Bruce Sinclair has been working for the better part of two years developing a business plan for an upscale liquor store specializing in fine wines.

On Monday night, the Board of Selectmen approved one of the integral pieces to the project, the application for an all-alcoholic liquor license. His shop, A Taste for Wine & Spirits, will take up residence in the current Cohasset Plaza Liquors storefront off Route 3A. The approval transferred the all-alcoholic license of Cohasset Plaza Liquors to A Taste for Wine & Spirits. Sinclair, owner and manager, plans to open within a few months time.

"My goal is to bring the present business into a new business model," said Sinclair moving from a typical package store to a fine wine business.

As the father of two young teenagers, Sinclair told the Selectmen he would maintain high vigilance when it came to underage drinking.

"I hold the law very highly," said Sinclair. He is certified by the Mass Pack organization in beverage alcohol training and recently attended the 2007 educational seminar offered by the state Alcoholic Beverages Control Commission (ABCC). All employees will be required to get similar training.

Although Sinclair has spent the past 20-plus years working in the athletic industry, he started his career life as a manager of Gimbel's Liquors in Brookline. Over the past few years, he has revisited his early passion for the wine business by taking courses in wine studies and entrepreneurialism.

Sinclair went into some detail with an overview of his business plan. His primary customer target is individuals in the 35 to 55+ age range that have the ability income-wise to enjoy finer wines. He plans on making wine approachable with suggested food pairings and organization by wine character, flavor profile and varietal influence. The paint on interior walls will give customers visual clues as to where their wine of choice is located.

To supplement the wines will be choice craft brews and specialty spirits. There will also be a selection of organic and low or no sulfite wines. A small display of wine accessories from books to corkscrews will be available as well.

Several neighbors and friends came to the meeting to speak on Sinclair's behalf and all gave glowing reviews.

News hotline - 781-741-2933

NEW ENGLAND ARTISANS SHOWCASE

Unique opportunity to purchase the work of 18 nationally known craftsmen offering woodcarvings, tinware, country furniture, folk art, rag rugs and other traditional and historical crafts.

Saturday, December 1, 2007, 10:00 am - 4:00 pm
Glastonbury Abbey
16 Hull Street (Rte. 228), Hingham, MA

$3.00 admission ($1.00 off with this ad)
Proceeds to benefit the Hingham High School Robert Weiser Memorial Scholarship Fund

Deck The Halls and the living room...
the dining room...
the kids room... the bath...
at inside out
home furnishings & accessories specialties reproductions rare finds
Gift Certificates Available
781-829-4567
31 Schoosett St. (Rte. 139) in Pembroke
Tuesday-Saturday 10-6 • Thursday until 8 • Sunday 12-5

Who says Santa has to be fat?
Toast our 70th Anniversary SALE with savings of 10-40%* on the latest equipment
The All New CYBEX Residential ARC Trainer
ELLIPTICAL EXTRAVAGANZA
30% OFF
ON OUR TWO MOST POPULAR MODELS
0% FINANCING AVAILABLE
The True TSX The worlds first Non-Impact running machine gym source
EXTRAORDINARY FITNESS EQUIPMENT
NEWTON 617.332.1967
PEABODY 978.538.5200
FRAMINGHAM 508.872.6000
WARWICK, RI 401.738.9393
*Not to be combined with other offers. In stock residential items only. Does not include Concept 2 & Power Block. Sale Ends 1/30/07

Try our Holiday Short-Term Stay

Mrs. Nan Wahle and her granddaughter

Respites are Convenient for Families!

Allerton House
in Hingham
Assisted Living Community
15 Condito Road

- 7th day Free
- Complimentary Guest Meals
- Two Hours of Free Personal Care Service

Call Carol Taylor Today!
781-749-3322

Owned and managed by Welch Healthcare Management Group

www.welchhrg.com/allertonhouse

This weekend is full of fun

AROUND TOWN

JENNIFER PIEPENBRINK

BUSY SEASON

Hi Cohasset, I hope all families and friends enjoyed Thanksgiving this week and being with all. Now get ready to enjoy this weekend, which is loaded with fairs, events and shopping!

This column talks a lot about some Cohasset happenings for the holidays as well as recognizing some deserving Cohasset students. Have a great week.

TOP STUDENTS

Congratulations go out from two schools to Cohasset residents. The first school is Fontbonne Academy, a Catholic, college-preparatory high school at which Emily St. John, Grade 10, earned First Honors on the Fontbonne Academy First Quarter Honor Roll.

The second school is Tufts University where Cohasset's Caren Garber is attending for her first year. "Drawn from 15,387 candidates for admission-the second-largest pool in the University's history-the 1,375 members of the Class of 2011 are an exciting collection of academic and personal achievement," said Lee Coffin, dean of undergraduate admissions." Have a wonderful year Caren!

YOUNG AUTHOR

Amanda Thomson of Cohasset and daughter of Ray and Sue Thomson has released her second book called "Season." Season is a sequel to "Millenium Girl" and is the continuing story of Carolyn (the main character) as she tries to discover who she is and what she stands for through the challenges of adolescent life. Make sure to check it out at local bookstores and online. Congratulations on your success Amanda, your family, friends and Cohasset are all so proud of you.

VILLAGE STROLL

Village merchants are busy planning the annual Cohasset Village Holiday Stroll to be held on Saturday Dec. 15th in Cohasset Village, encompassing South Main Street, Elm Street, Depot Court, Pleasant Street, and Ripley Road. From 4-7 p.m. the streets will be alive with holiday cheer as businesses stay open late with refreshments, open houses, entertainment, and special holiday celebrations. For children, there will be a hay ride and visits with Santa. Each participating business will offer a raffle prize; tickets are available at the Village businesses and all proceeds will benefit the Cohasset Appalachia Service Project. For more information visit any of the Village locations.

HOUSE TOUR

The Community Garden Club of Cohasset will present "Christmas Memories", a holiday house tour on Thursday, Dec. 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.. This year's tour will showcase five of Cohasset's loveliest homes and the Cohasset Historical Society's Paul Pratt building, all lavishly decorated for the holiday season by garden club members. Tea and light refreshments will be served at Bates Hall in the Second Congregational Church on Highland Avenue in Cohasset. There will also be a holiday gift boutique where wreaths, garlands, and holiday decorations may be purchased. Tickets are $20 in advance and $25 on tour day and include directions to the homes and parking suggestions. The tour will be held rain or shine and is suitable for adults only. Tickets are limited so be sure to purchase your tickets as soon as possible. Tickets are now on sale locally at: Windsor Tea Shop, Buttonwood Books and Toys, Flemings, and Darilynn's. You may also purchase tickets on the day of the tour at the Second Congregational Church.

For additional information, please visit the Community Garden Club website at www.communitygardenclubofcohasset.org or call 781 383-0838. Proceeds from the tour fund the garden club's scholarship and its many civic projects. The Community Garden Club of Cohasset is a member of National Garden Clubs, Inc. and the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs.

HOLIDAY DECORATING

The monthly meeting of the Community Garden Club of Cohasset will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 27, in Bates Hall at the Second Congregational Church on Highland Avenue.

This month's program, "Holiday Decorating: Topiaries to Swags" will be presented by horticulturist consultant Paul F. Split. Techniques for making fresh holiday wreaths, buffet and table arrangements with candles and evergreens, as well as roping, swags and topiaries will be demonstrated. Coffee will be served at 9 a.m. and the meeting will begin at 9:30.

SNOWFLAKE FAIR

Stop by the Beechwood Church's Annual Snowflake Fair on Saturday, Dec. 1, to shop for the holidays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.. Have coffee and donuts and then lunch while you shop. Children will enjoy choosing interesting White Elephant items. For crafty types, check out our homemade goods: hand knit items, centerpieces, jewelry and decorated wreaths. Don't have time to bake? Buy our baked goods, especially our much sort after Beach Glass Candy. A Clam Chowder luncheon will be served at 11:30. The Beechwood Church is located on Church Street.

WREATH SALE

Continuing its annual holiday tradition the Cohasset METCO program is offering fresh, beautiful, double-sided Balsam wreaths for your festive decorating. The cost is $10 per holiday wreath and the proceeds benefit the Cohasset METCO Scholarship Fund. Wreaths will be available for pick-up at the Cohasset Village Fair (between the Town Hall and the Second Congregational Church) on Saturday, Dec 1st.

Pre-ordering is appreciated. For more information, or to place an order, please contact Jody Golden (METCO PSO Rep.) at 781-383-2685.

TEEN DANCE

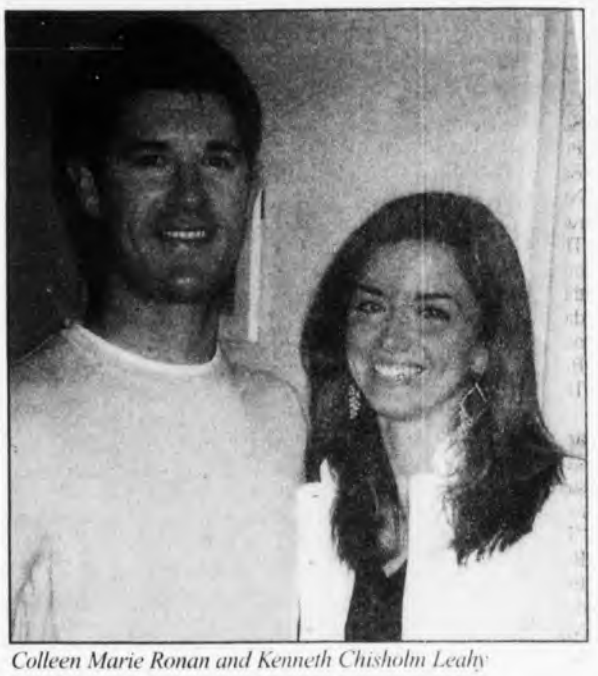
Cohasset Youth Resources will host a Midnight Blue Dance for students in grades six through eight at the Teen Center from 7 to 10 p.m., on Friday, Nov. 30. There will be a door charge of $5 per person, and those attending will be required to show a student ID when signing in for the dance.

Students should be sure they gain admittance to the dance before their ride lives, as once full capacity is reached no further admittance will be allowed. There will be no admittance after 8:30 p.m.

Snacks and refreshments will be on sale. This is not a school function.

HOLIDAY SHOWCASE

Hull Holiday Showcase will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 24, at the Clarion Hotel & Conference Center, 45 Hull Shore Dr., Hull. Admission is free.



Purchase gifts and decorations for the holiday season from retailers, artisans, crafters and more. The Snowflake Café will feature muffins, soups, sandwiches, hot chocolate, coffee and more to satisfy one's hunger. There will also be a Children's Shopping Center just for kids to do their holiday shopping for family, friends, teachers, etc. All items will be priced under $10.

That is all for this week. Send me in all of your news and information no later than Tuesday by 5:00 pm.

EMAIL: aroundtowncohasset@yahoo.com

MAIL: PO Box 33, Cohasset, MA 02025

ENGAGEMENTS

Colleen Marie Ronan and Kenneth Chisholm Leahy

Ronan – Leahy

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ronan of Wilmette, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Colleen Marie, to Kenneth Chisholm Leahy, son of David and Barbara Leahy of Cohasset.

The bride-to-be graduated from Creighton University in 2003. She is currently employed by Starcom Worldwide in Chicago as an associate media director.

Her fiancé attended Cohasset High School and graduated from Providence College in 2000. He is employed as a territory manager for Innova Surgical Group.

An August 2008 wedding is planned.

'NE Perspectives' at the James Library

Three South Shore landscape photographers, Margot Cheel of Cohasset, Mike Sleeper, and Stephen Eames, are presenting a photography exhibit at the James Library and Center for the Arts, 24 West St, Norwell. The show continues until Thursday, Nov. 29.

The show, "New England Perspectives," will showcase the different views from each photographer. Margot Cheel presents aerial photography of the South Shore and Cape as abstract art. Mike Sleeper is well known for his panoramic photos of the South Shore landscape. Steve Eames captures New England scenes with a painter's eye. Margot Cheel's web site is at www.margotcheel.com; Mike Sleeper's web site is at www.mikesleeper.com and Steve Eames web site is at www.eamescreative.com.

The James Library is open from 1 to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday. For more information, visit http://www.firstparishnorwell.org/james.html.

Give the gift of Canon! Popular presents, now with lower prices.

The Spirit of Photography.
Canon EOS 40D DIGITAL

- 10.1 Megapixel digital SLR with 3.0-inch LCD screen
- 6.5 fps, burst rate up to 75 consecutive JPEGs or 17 RAW images
- 100,000 cycles shutter durability, includes Self Cleaning Sensor Unit
- Canon Lens Kit Packages and Instant Rebates mean HUGE SAVINGS
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

in-stock with special packages

Incredibly Advanced. Remarkably Simple.
Canon EOS DIGITAL REBEL XTi

- 10.1 Megapixel digital SLR with 2.5-inch LCD screen
- Compatible with over 50 EF and EF-S Lenses, and EOS accessories
- Strong, lightweight body, also includes Self Cleaning Sensor Unit
- Canon Lens Kit Packages mean HUGE SAVINGS
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

top rated and new lower price

- 12.1 Megapixel digital camera
- 6x Optical Zoom and Optical Image Stabilizer
- JPEG + Raw recording modes
- Optical viewfinder plus 3.0-inch LCD screen
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

Canon PowerShot G9 DIGITAL CAMERA — just arrived

- 8.0 Megapixel digital camera
- 4x Optical Zoom and Optical Image Stabilizer
- Face Detection Technology and Red-eye Correction
- Optical viewfinder plus 2.5-inch LCD screen
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

Canon PowerShot SD850 IS DIGITAL ELPH — $299.99

- 7.1 Megapixel digital camera
- 3x Optical Zoom and ISO 1600 - sharper in low light
- Face Detection Technology and Red-eye Correction
- Optical viewfinder plus 2.5-inch LCD screen
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

Canon PowerShot SD1000 DIGITAL ELPH — $199.99

- Ultra-compact and lightweight
- 10x Optical Zoom and Optical Image Stabilizer
- Water-resistant non-slip rubber coating
- Long eye relief for easy viewing
- Includes Canon U.S.A., Inc. 1-year Limited Warranty

Warranty available for inspection at authorized Canon dealers.

Canon BINOCULARS 10x30 IS — $389.99

• Gift Certificates Available • Photo Greeting Cards (4in x 8in) Available In-Store and On-Line

newtonville camera
Since 1974, New England's Photo & Video Store

Monday - Friday: 9am - 6pm | Wednesday & Thursday: 9am - 7pm | Saturday: 9am - 5pm | Sunday: Closed

249 Walnut Street, Newton, MA 02460 | www.NVCAMERA.com | 617.965.1240

Young dancers to perform in Boston Ballet's Nutcracker at Opera House

Three young dancers from Cohasset, Brianne Crough, Sofia Deligiannidis, and Faith Porter, will perform in Boston Ballet's 2007 production of The Nutcracker at the Opera House, running Nov. 29 through Dec. 29. These young ballerinas join 200 other young dancers from the three Boston Ballet School studios in performing with the internationally acclaimed Boston Ballet in the magical and beloved The Nutcracker.

Brianne, the daughter of Kevin and Sandy Crough, has been a student at Boston Ballet's Norwell studio for five years. Her past roles have included a Page in "The Sleeping Beauty" with the Russian Perm Ballet and a Bug in Boston Ballet's Balanchine production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Most recently she was cast as a ballet student in the Disney movie, "The Game Plan," and was featured with the stars of that film in the tea party scene. This is Brianne's third year dancing in The Nutcracker. She will dance the role of Polichinelle, one of the clowns appearing from under Mother Ginger's skirt and dancing for Clara.

Sofia is the daughter of Chris and Fili Deligiannidis. She has been a student at Boston Ballet's Norwell studio for seven years. Sofia has proudly performed in The Nutcracker in various roles including the Chinese Doll and Angel. This year, in her fourth year, she will perform the role of Soldier in the battle scene between the Mice and the Nutcracker.

Faith, the daughter of Jim and Sarah Porter, has been a student at Boston Ballet's Norwell studio for six years. Last year, she performed in Boston Ballet's Balanchine production of A Midsummer Night's Dream as a Bug. This year, she was cast as an alternate Reel Girl in Boston Ballet's La Sylphide. This is Faith's first time appearing in The Nutcracker. She will dance the role of Polichinelle.

All three girls attend ballet class four times a week in the Intensive Division of the Boston Ballet School, the largest ballet school in North America, at the school's South Shore Studio in Norwell. When they are not dancing, the girls all enjoy the beach, spending time with their friends and family and sailing lessons at the Cohasset Sailing Club. Sofia is an avid fisherman. In addition, Brianne plays soccer and Sofia and Faith enjoy reading, drawing and playing the guitar. Faith also enjoys musicals and was a cheerleader in the Cohasset Dramatic Club's summer production of "High School Musical." Brianne, Sofia and Faith are all sixth-grade students at Cohasset Middle School.

COURTESY PHOTO

Three young dancers from Cohasset, Brianne Crough, Sofia Deligiannidis, and Faith Porter, are pictured with their ballet teachers, Christine Busch and Laura Young.

The girls are pictured with their ballet teachers, Christine Busch and Laura Young. Ms. Busch danced with the American Ballet Theatre, the San Francisco Ballet and the Metropolitan Opera Ballet. She is the Principal of the Boston Ballet School South Shore Studio in Norwell. Ms. Young, a Cohasset native, performed as a Principal dancer with the Boston Ballet. She danced the role of Kitri, partnered by Rudolf Nureyev, in "Don Quixote," the ballet that first gave Boston Ballet international recognition. She also danced with Nureyev in "Swan Lake" at the London Coliseum in the role of Odette-Odile. She was the first American ballerina to perform in China after the Cultural Revolution. Ms. Young first danced Boston Ballet's Sugarplum Fairy in the 1972 production of The Nutcracker.

Tickets for The Nutcracker can be purchased by phone through Ticketmaster at 617-931-2787, online at www.ticketmaster.com or www.bostonballet.org., or in person at the Opera House box office.

LIBRARY CORNER

Book group to discuss 'Offshore'

The following events will take place at Paul Pratt Memorial Library at 35 Ripley Road. For more information call 781-383-1348 or visit cohassetlibrary.org.

Holiday Closing – The library will be closed Thursday, Nov. 22, and Friday, Nov. 23, for Thanksgiving. However, library materials may be returned by using the book drop.

Library Book Group – Join the group for coffee and discussion of Penelope Fitzgerald's book, "Offshore," at 10 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 28, in the Meeting Room. According to NoveList, the book "offers a portrait of a group of eccentrics living in houseboats on the river Thames and describes how their disparate lives intertwine and complicate matters for everyone." "Offshore" won the Booker Prize in 1979. All are welcome.

Movie Matinee – Come for a free showing of the film, "Singing' in the Rain," starring Gene Kelly, Debbie Reynolds and Donald O'Connor at 11 a.m., Friday, Dec. 7. Light refreshments provided by the Friends of the Library. Movie site license generously sponsored by the Friends of the Library and the Cohasset Democratic Town Committee.

FOR CHILDREN

School Project Help – The library Web site, www.cohassetlibrary.org, is set up to help with many school projects. Students in grades 1 through 5 will find everything they need on the Children's Page under links and homework help. A new addition to the search engine category is the CIA World Fact Book, which includes everything needed for country reports. The library has many research databases designed and written for students. Middle and high school students will find the research page extensive.

In addition, project help is always available by emailing the children's librarian, Sharon Moody, at smoody@ocln.org or the reference librarian, Gayle Walsh, at gwalsh@olcn.org.

NoveList – Looking for a good book? Click on NoveList, an extensive database of juvenile and young adult fiction, complete with reviews and reading levels.

Young Adult Page – The Young Adult page has links to sites and databases of interest to teens.

House tour: It takes a town

One of the highlights of the Christmas season in Cohasset is the biennial holiday House Tour of the Community Garden Club of Cohasset and the wonderful holiday spirit it evokes in town. This year's tour is called "Christmas Memories" and is sure to create new memories with its beautiful decorations, joyful sounds, and wonderful scents. It will be held on Thursday, Dec.6, from 10 to 4.

This is a much anticipated event which takes months of preparation and hard work by both club members and non-members alike.

It began last spring as garden club president Mary Eisenhaure and house tour chairwoman Dolores Roy began the search for unique homes to tour. In the end they were delighted to find five exceptional homes that reflect a variety of periods and styles in architecture- an antique sea captain's home, an elegant Second Empire style home, two new shingle-style homes with dramatic Little Harbor views and a charming cape-style colonial on the Gulph River. As a wonderful beginning to the tour, Cohasset Historical Society members will also recreate a Victorian Christmas in the Paul Pratt building.

Decorating workshops began this fall where garden club members have been busy creating swags, wreaths, garlands and holiday crafts that will be used to decorate the homes, the Paul Pratt building, and Bates Hall in the Second Congregational Church.

Head decorators have met with the homeowners and toured the homes and have created a unique design for each home which incorporates as much natural material as possible.

In the next two weeks, the club's many talented members who include floral designers, interior decorators, artists, and flower show judges will contribute their time and artistry as they work as teams with the head decorators to bring the designs to completion

The members of the hospitality committee have enlisted the help of all bakers in the club who will make the dozens of delicious cakes, cookies, and breads served at the holiday tea set up in the Second Congregational Church.

Storeowners have offered to sell the tickets or have become sponsors of the event and townspeople have donated crafts for the holiday boutique. As a finishing touch, the bells of Saint Stephen's will ring out carols to accompany the tour goers as they stroll through town.

Come join the Community Garden Club and all its helpers for a memorable holiday event.

Tickets of the tour include maps and parking directions. The tour is held rain or shine and is for adults only. Tickets are $20 in advance and $25 on the day of the tour at the Second Congregational Church on Cohasset Common. Tickets are on sale locally at Flemings, Darilynn's, Windsor Tea Shop, and Buttonwood Books and Toys. For additional information, call 781 383-0838 or visit www.communitygardenclubofcohasset.org

Proceeds from the house tour help fund the many programs and projects of the club which include civic beautification, scholarships, and educational programs. Community Garden Club of Cohasset is a member of the National Garden Clubs, Inc. and the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc.

Here Comes The Bride

• Mother of the Bride & Groom
• Guests

Large Sizes Available
We Have It All

Touch of Klass
552 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
781-828-7847
Mon. thru Sat. 10-5
Wed. & Thurs. Eves 'til 8pm

"Our Secret"
548 Washington St.
Canton, MA 02021
(781) 828-0358
HOW TO DRESS LIKE A MILLION ON SOMEONE ELSE'S MILLIONS
"WORN ONCE"
Great selection of gowns for mothers of bride, groom & guests.
DESIGNER SPORTWEAR
Worn once and new.
Consignments by appointment
Mon - Sat. 10-5 • Thurs. 10-8

New Scituate Harbor Spa

Gift Certificates Available
Full-Service Day Spa
• Massage Therapy
• Stone Therapy
• Facial Treatments
• Nail Care

SPASCAPE day spa

3 Mill Wharf Plaza, Scituate • 781.545.1200

We'll make you smile.

Jay T. Hodge, D.M.D.

SCITUATE ORTHODONTICS

Corner of 123 & 3A • Scituate
(781) 545-3466

New Patients Welcome · Free Initial Consultation

TOY SALE

20% OFF ALL TOYS

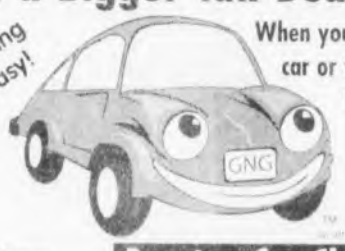
Friday, Saturday & Sunday
November 23, 24 & 25

Buttonwood Books & Toys
Shaw's Plaza, Rte. 3A, Cohasset

GREAT GIFT IDEA

LLADRÓ

Talk to Me!



'Talk to Me!' porcelain sculpture from Lladró makes a great holiday gift. $420

Long's
Fine Jewelers Since 1878

BOSTON • BURLINGTON • BRAINTREE
NATICK • PEABODY
877.845.6647 • www.longsjewelers.com

Get a Bigger Tax Deduction*

Donating is Easy!

When you donate your car or truck to Good News Garage

*Most donors can deduct the blue book value of their vehicle if it is given to a Good News Garage client.

Donate a Car, Change a Life
Good News Garage
1-877-GIVE-AUTO
(1-877-448-3288)
Donate Online: www.GoodNewsGarage.org

music unlimited
Since 1975
Guitars, Guitars, Guitars!

Walden · G&L · Gretsch · Takamine · Ovation · Taylor · Gibson · Yamaha Guitars

Over 100 New Guitars Just Arrived!

200 Webster St., Rt. 123
HANOVER
(Next to Boston Interiors)
781-871-6363

WE BEAT OR MATCH ALL PRICES!

Cranberry Crossing
KINGSTON
(Just off Route 3, Exit 10)
781-585-2242

musicunlimitedonline.com

Complete Adult Ski Package
BLIZZARD · DALBELLO
• Salomon Bindings
• Ski Poles
$399.95

ATOMIC
• Jr. SKI (80-140 cm)
• Jr. Bindings
$149.95

K2
• Mystery Luv
• Salomon Bindings
$269.95

Complete Adult Snowboard Package
• Freestyle Snowboard
• Ratchet Bindings
• Snowboard Boots
$299.95

COUNTRY SKI & SPORT INC. 1970

161 Quincy Ave.
Quincy
617.773.3993
(Across from OLindy's)
901 Winter St.
Hanson
781.826.2022

www.countryski.com coupons & more
sign up for our e mail list today!!

FAIRVIEW
LAWN SPRINKLER
Specializing in
• Plumbing & Heating
• Spring Start-ups and Repairs
• Custom Installations
• Shut Down, Winterize
Serving and Installing All Types of Irrigation Systems Since 1963
781-659-4540
www.fairviewlawnsprinkler.com

Pre-K children enjoy a feast.

Community Center celebrates Thanksgiving

This month the children of the SSCC Nursery School have been learning about the first Thanksgiving. The children collected food and with their parents and teachers brought a car loaded with food for the Food Pantry at St. Anthony's Rectory. The donation was made in time for Thanksgiving.

Enrichment class shares songs and stories about the history of Thanksgiving.

COURTESY PHOTOS

From left, Justin Appleby, Elise Regan, Ellie Fox, Jamie Fox and Sam Farber donating canned goods to the Food Pantry.

ROLEX

OYSTER PERPETUAL
29MM LADY-DATEJUST
PEARLMASTER

HINGHAM
JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street • Route 53, Hingham • 781-749-2108
Hours: Tue. - Fri. 9:30-5:30 • Sat. 9:30-5:00
OFFICIAL ROLEX JEWELER
ROLEX ♛ OYSTER PERPETUAL, DATEJUST AND PEARLMASTER ARE TRADEMARKS.

us: most job listings. you: most likely to succeed.

Thanks to WickedLocalJobs.com's recent partnership with Yahoo! HotJobs, getting ahead is easier than ever. We've got the most Eastern Massachusetts jobs. The most up-to-date listings. The most of what you need to find the right one.

VISIT WICKEDLOCALJOBS.COM TODAY.

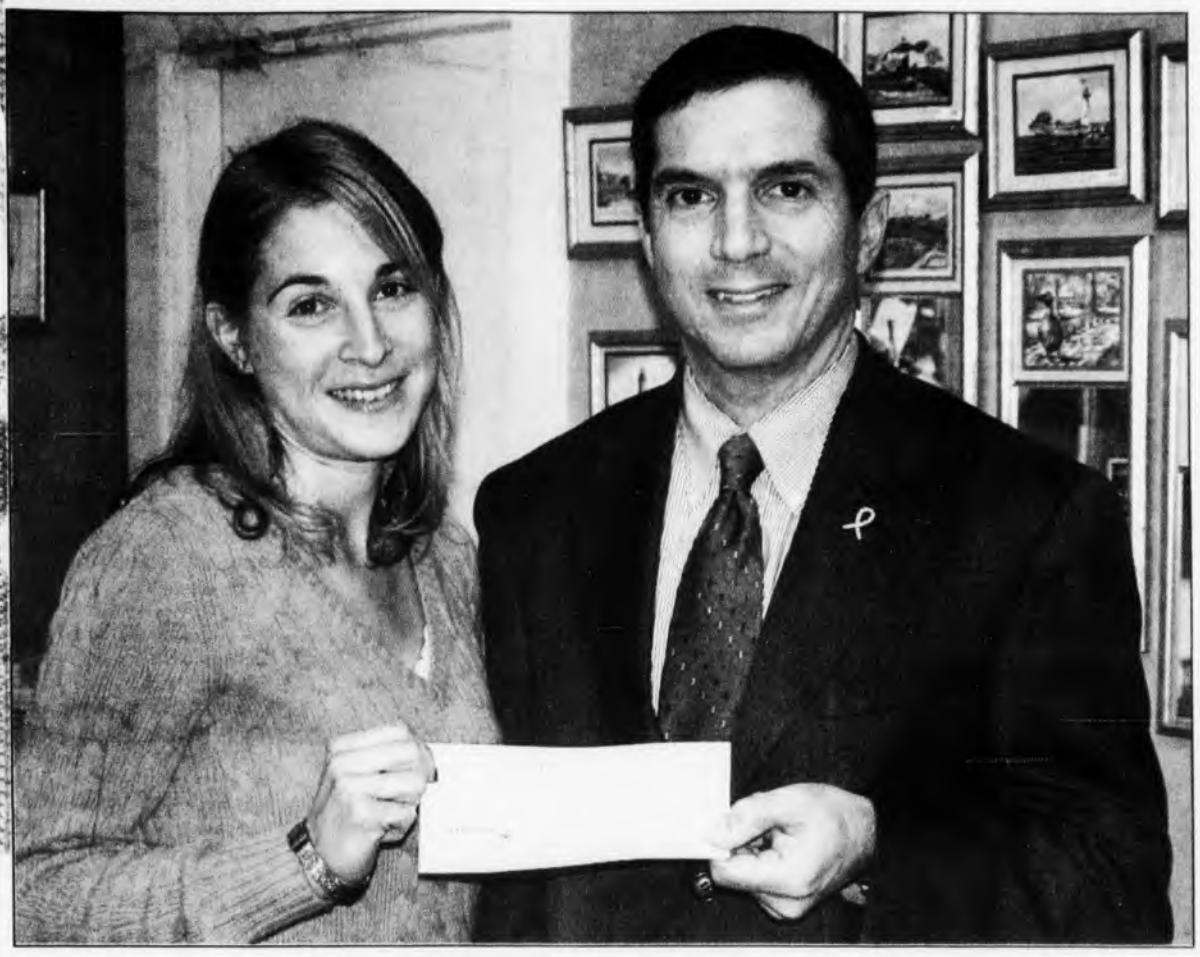
WICKED LOCAL Jobs.com | in partnership with YAHOO! hotjobs

©2007 Yahoo! Inc. All rights reserved.

Change the Climate of Your Home with Energy Efficient Replacement Doors & Windows, Patio Doors and Entry Doors.
CLIMATE Door & Window
276 Weymouth St., Rockland
781-681-7007
Financing Available
Andersen
Replacement Windows and Patio Doors

KEEP IT SIMPLE
If it's $55 there, it's probably only $53 here. We measure in your home, quote, remove your old top, install your new top and clean up. 54 Years in business. Always happy customers. We own the factory.
COUNTERTOPS
Installed the same day we remove and dispose of your old top.
CORIAN, SILESTONE or GRANITE
Bill Shea's
www.billsheas.com
Toll Free 1-888-267-4269
(617) 471-9130
Kathy

Choose Corian for a one piece, seamless, no chip, repairable surface that does not support bacteria and will give you years of trouble free pleasure.



"I never thought I could do it!"

"Employers want people who have a strong ethics and values-based education and that's what Eastern Nazarene College gave me."
— Maria Rodriguez,
ENC LEAD Program Student

The LEAD Program at Eastern Nazarene College can help you complete your Associate's, Bachelor's or Master's degree in 18–24 months.
• Classes meet just one night a week
• Enroll now for February classes!
Call 877-ENC-LEAD
or visit us at
www.enc.edu
Eastern Nazarene College
23 East Elm Avenue, Quincy, MA 02170
617-745-3000 • 800-88-ENC-88

FIGHT FOR A CURE

COURTESY PHOTO

On Nov. 16, Cohasset Jewelers owner, Mark Cirone, presented Paula Goldfarb, representative from Susan G. Komen for the Cure, a check for $1000 in the store's ongoing effort to raise funds and awareness for breast cancer. This check now brings Cohasset Jewelers donation total to more than $45,000 to support funding for research and a cure for breast cancer.

Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

ONE GIFT FITS ALL.

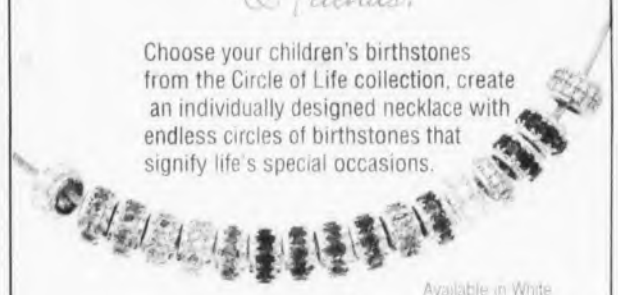
Give an Elizabeth Grady gift certificate.
It's the perfect gift for everyone on your list. They'll all love a relaxing facial, body massage, a day or an entire year of beauty. Each certificate can be customized and is presented in an elegant gift box, complete with ribbon, and sent the day you order. Call now or visit our web site. It's a beautiful way to shop.

Call 1-800-FACIALS or visit www.elizabethgrady.com for nearest location, services, products & gift certificates.

Writing workshop at Buttonwood Books

Grub Street South at Buttonwood will welcome columnist Suzette Martinez Standring at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 27, at Buttonwood Books & Toys in Shaw's Plaza. Suzette will host a workshop, "Learn How to Write with Brevity and Impact." Learn the techniques that columnists use to engage readers. Suzette will lead the class through a guided imagery exercise that will teach participants to write from the heart, a skill that translates to all genre writing.

The workshop is free, however, reservations are necessary and can be made by calling Buttonwood at 781-383-2665.



GIFTS ASSEMBLED

Let Santa's Helpers at
THE SERVICE CENTER
Assemble your gifts
A Fix It Shop In the Cohasset Village Parking Lot
14 Parking Way, in Cohasset Village
781-383-6936

The Possibilities Are Endless....
Mothers, Grandmothers & Friends!

Choose your children's birthstones from the Circle of Life collection, create an individually designed necklace with endless circles of birthstones that signify life's special occasions.

Exclusively at:
Available in White or Yellow Gold
Phone Orders Welcome
HINGHAM JEWELERS
35 Whiting Street, Rt. 53, Hingham, MA 02043
781-749-2108
Visit us online at www.hinghamjewelers.com
For information call or email hjsales@hinghamjewelers.com

"128 is a parking lot"
For added traction you can always depend on Sullivan Tire.

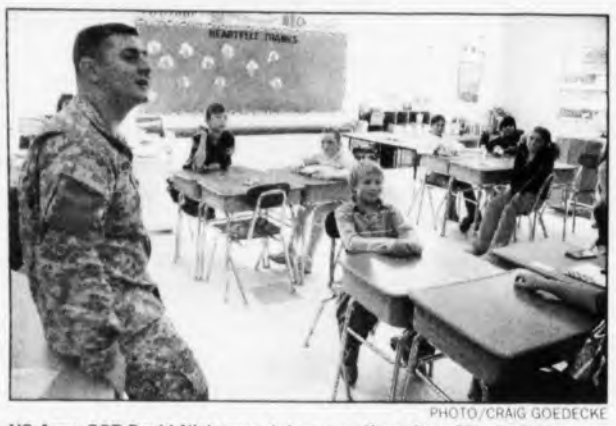
Super Traction Sale!
*in stock tires only. No other discounts apply. Sale ends 11/25/07

GOODYEAR ASSURANCE TRIPLETREAD ALL SEASON TIRE | WINTERMARK | GRASPIC DS-2

Save 15% on Goodyear, Dunlop and Bridgestone
All Season, Snow and Light Truck Tires
GOODYEAR
BRIDGESTONE
DUNLOP TIRES
*in stock tires only. No other discounts apply. Sale ends 11/25/07

FREE Battery Check
No other discounts apply
Offer ends 11/30/07 Code: BATTERY

12 months NO INTEREST on your Goodyear Credit Card!
Offer ends 11/30/07
See store for details



SULLIVAN TIRE AND AUTO SERVICE
46 Stores throughout New England
Maine • Massachusetts
New Hampshire
Rhode Island
Call our Certified Tire Experts Toll Free at 866-494-1654
Please visit www.sullivantire.com

Order Your Farm Tables Now for the Holidays!
Prices Starting at $695

Experience The Lifestyle
11 Commerce Rd., Rockland
781-871-1225
Mon.-Sat. 10-6 pm; Sundays 12-5 pm
R.D. RESTORATIONS & ORIGINALS
HOME STORE
www.restorationsandoriginals.com

AMERICAN FUEL OIL COMPANY
HANOVER, MA 02339
781-826-1396
★★★ DISCOUNT OIL PRICES ★★★
24 HOUR BURNER SERVICE
SAME DAY DELIVERY (If ordered before 10:00AM)
AUTOMATIC DELIVERY ★ BUDGET PLANS ★ SENIOR DISCOUNT
We are a full service company with our own in-house technicians serving South Shore to Plympton

PHOTO/CRAIG GOEDECKE

US Army SGT David Nickerson takes questions from Ms. Jordan's grade 5 class at Deer Hill School after the school's Veterans Day ceremony. Nickerson's cousin James Hynes, age 10, is a student in the class.

Deer Hill students' Veterans Day essays

As part of the Deer Hill School character education program, students were asked to write an open response essay explaining what they considered to be the most important character traits for a veteran to have and why. The following essays were chosen and read at the Veterans Day ceremony held Nov. 9.

Veterans

- By Maria Waters, grade 4

Do you know who veterans are or how they help our country? If not, read on and it might give you a better idea.

Veterans are courageous soldiers who fight for our country. Veterans must be brave, willing, and determined. If they are not those three things they will have a smaller chance of winning the war. If they are those three things they will have a much better chance of succeeding. Veterans fight overseas and in our country. Veterans fight to protect our country and to gain freedom.

Did you know you don't have to fight to be a veteran? You can be a doctor, a nurse, or a mechanic. They can serve in the Marines, Air Force, Coast Guard, or National Guard.

Veterans help our country become free and fight for different things to be fair to everyone. You also have to be a leader to fight in war. You have to be a leader because if you are not calm or ready to win, no one will be calm or ready to win. You have to be brave because if you are not brave everyone else will be scared. If you are brave and courageous, everyone else will be brave and courageous. You must be determined to win or no one else will be determined to win. You must be willing. If you are not willing, no one else will be willing and you will fail to succeed.

Veterans fight for us to make sure our lives and our country are safer than ever. Veterans Day is very important. It is a day when there are parades to congratulate our soldiers.

Our Veterans

- By Kristin Timothy, grade 5

Veterans need unique traits, such as empathy, cooperation and perseverance in order to do their best. Every day veterans depend on these traits to survive the day. Veteran's face challenging situations each day and these traits help veterans accomplish tasks that wouldn't get done.

Empathy is needed to help veterans understand other people's feelings. Veterans help people in other countries by understanding their problems and needs. They don't force their ways on them; instead they work with the people to make life better. Empathy is a difficult trait to have and takes patience to get, but veterans seem to have empathy naturally.

Cooperation is the only way veterans get their jobs done. Veterans need cooperation to work together to keep themselves and us safe. Each veteran needs to listen to their leaders and do what they are told. When veterans use cooperation they are working together to win a battle or accomplish a common goal.

Perseverance is the hardest trait for veterans to have. Many veterans are away from their families for a long time. Sometimes the weather conditions are difficult where they are fighting. Sometimes the battles are dangerous and their friends can get badly hurt or killed. Veterans need perseverance to get through these hard times.

Empathy, cooperation, and perseverance are the most important traits for veterans to have. These traits help veterans get along, do their best, stay focused and accomplish their goals. Veterans are special people. They put their lives in danger for our freedom. Veterans are important to us and make our lives better by using these traits.

MORNING SPECIALS

6AM† TO 1PM FRIDAY & SATURDAY DURING OUR THANKSGIVING SALE

†EXCEPTIONS APPLY. SEE BELOW.

SPECIAL 69.99
LONDON FOG®
Wool bomber jacket S-2XL. Reg. $195, after special 99.99.

SPECIAL 19.99
MICHAEL MICHAEL KORS
Dress shirts or ties. Reg. 49.50-59.50, after special 24.75-29.75.

SPECIAL 16.99
Alfred Dunner career and casual separates. For misses & petites. Reg. $42-$60, after special 25.20-$36.

SPECIAL 69.99
LARRY LEVINE
Select down coats. For misses. Reg. $180, after special $108.

SPECIAL 7.99
LAUREN RALPH LAUREN
Signature pillow. Cotton cover; polyester fill. Standard/queen. Reg. $20, after special 9.99.

SPECIAL $219
1/3 ct. t.w.† diamond ring or pendant in 14k white gold. Reg. $640, after special $272.

SPECIAL $229
2 ct. t.w.† white sapphire studs in 14k white gold. Reg. $600, after special $357.

★SPECIAL 11.99
Only at Macy's
Illumina 3-pc. fry pan set by Tools of the Trade. Reg. $40, after special 19.99.

SPECIAL 29.99
Versailles cotton sheet set. Queen or king. Reg. $75 & $90, after special 49.99 & 59.99.

SPECIAL 78.99
CUISINART
7-cup food processor. #DLC5BC. Reg. $130, after special 99.99.

SPECIAL 19.99
SHARPER IMAGE
Digital key chain with LCD screen. Reg. 34.99, after special 29.99.

★SPECIAL 99.99
MARTHA STEWART COLLECTION
Only at Macy's
7.5' pre-lit artificial tree. Reg. $250, after special 149.99.

take an extra 20% OFF SWEATERS FOR MISSES, PETITES AND MEN
Select styles. Reg. $40-$80, after special 29.99-59.99, special 23.99-47.99. Women's prices slightly higher.

take an extra 20% OFF MISSES' OUTERWEAR SELECTIONS
Wool, down and leather styles. Reg. $145-$700, after special $87-$420, special 69.60-$336.

take an extra 20% OFF SUITS FOR MISSES, PETITES AND WOMEN
Select skirtsuits, pantsuits and more. Reg. $200-$360, after special 69.99-$252, special 55.99-201.60.

take an extra 20% OFF SLEEPWEAR AND ROBES FOR HER
A selection of pajamas, gowns, robes & more. Reg. $20-$69, after special $15-51.75, special $12-41.40

take an extra 20% OFF MEN'S COLD WEATHER SELECTIONS
Gloves, scarves, hats and more. Reg. 24.99-$68, after special 19.99-49.99, special 15.99-39.99.

take an extra 20% OFF MEN'S SUITS, SUIT SEPARATES & MORE Selections include sportcoats & dress pants. Reg. $80-$595, after special 29.99-297.50, special 23.99-$238.

take an extra 20% OFF GIRLS', BOYS' AND JUNIORS' SPORTSWEAR
Select tops, jeans & more. Infants 0-24 mos.; girls' 2-16; boys' 2-20; juniors. Reg. $20-$90, after special $12-$54, special 9.60-43.20

take an extra 50% OFF ALL CLEARANCE KITCHEN ELECTRICS
Mixers, blenders, coffee makers & more. Orig.* 9.99-399.99, after special 4.99-299.99, special 2.49-149.99.

★macy's
macys.com

REG/ORIG* PRICES REFLECT OFFERING PRICES IN EFFECT DURING THE 90 DAYS BEFORE OR AFTER THIS SALE, BUT NOT NECESSARILY DURING THE PAST 30 DAYS. SAVINGS MAY NOT BE BASED ON ACTUAL SALES. SOME ORIG PRICES MAY NOT HAVE BEEN IN EFFECT DURING THE PAST 90 DAYS. *INTERMEDIATE PRICE REDUCTIONS MAY HAVE BEEN TAKEN. SALE PRICES IN EFFECT THROUGH 11/25/07; MORNING SPECIALS PRICES IN EFFECT 11/23 & 11/24 6AM-1PM. ‡Ct. t.w. represents approximate weight; total weight may vary to up to .05 carat. Jewelry photos may be enlarged or enhanced to show detail; most gemstones are often treated to enhance their beauty; some treatments may not be permanent and/or may require special care; ask your sales associates for details. Jewelry photos may be enlarged or enhanced to show detail. Fine jewelry not in Belmont. Select fine jewelry items at West Orange, Middlesex and Hampton Bays. Moderate sportswear not in Short Hills, Chestnut Hill, Suburban Square and Bridgewater. Home items not in Center City, Suburban Square or Chestnut Hill. Extra savings taken off of already-reduced prices; "special" prices reflect extra savings. Closeout, clearance, permanently reduced, new reductions, special purchases and Orig./Now items will remain at the advertised prices after the event; these items are available only while supplies last. Advertised items may not be at your local Macy's. Selections may vary by store. Electrics carry warranties; to see a manufacturer's warranty at no charge before purchasing, visit a store or write to: Macy's Warranty Dept., GPO Box 3200, NY, NY 10116, attn: Consumer Warranties. For store locations & hours, log on to macys.com

†OPEN 7AM FRIDAY & SATURDAY AT BOSTON, BELMONT, METRO CENTER, PARAMUS GSP & PARAMUS PARK • 7AM SATURDAY AT CHESTNUT HILL • REG HOURS AT FURNITURE STORES

Honoring those who serve

The following men and women from Cohasset are on active duty:

- Maj. John Atkinson, USMC;
- Lt. J.g. Michael Baird, USCG;
- Maj. William E. Baird, USAF;
- 2LT Alan L. Bauen, US Army;
- Ensign Allison Berg, USN;
- Master Sgt. Kenneth G. Borland, USAF;
- CWO2 Jeffery H. Brown, USN
- LTC Charles D. Coe, US Army;
- Master Sgt. Mark A. DiNardo, USAF;
- Lt. J.g. Kevin Duffy, USCG;
- Lt. Andrew Hamilton, USMC;
- Airman Joanna Hamilton, USAF
- Master Sgt. Laurence Hoogeveen, USAF;
- HM. 2 Keith Jackson, USN;
- Lt. Matthew Lewis, USN;
- LCDR David J. MacDonald, US Navy;
- Maj. D. ROSS MacLeod, USAF;
- Lt. Col. Christopher Mahoney, USMC;
- Spc. Justin Maitland, US Army
- Lt. Peter Minnar, USAF;
- CDR Patrick O'Connor, USN
- RADM Brian Salerno, USCG;

Direct additions or changes to this listing to Cohasset Veterans Memorial Committee.

Visit: www.cohassetveteransmemorial.com.

Business

Tim Chamberlain

Chamberlain honored by Boston Business Journal

Tim Chamberlain, a Cohasset resident, has been chosen as one of the Boston Business Journal's "40 Under 40." The 38-year-old is the Director of Development at New Boston Fund, Inc., a real estate investment, development and management firm located in Boston.

Every year, the Boston Business Journal picks 40 of Boston's up-and-comers to highlight. Tim was chosen from about 250 nominations. In addition to professional accomplishments, community involvement and volunteer work are also considered.

Tim's community activities include volunteering as a coach for his community baseball teams and volunteering to provide food for the homeless on the streets of Boston with his friends. In addition, Tim provides support for organizations such as Partners for Youth with Disabilities in Boston, Regina Snowden's organization that provides a mentoring big brother big sister program for disabled children; Catholic Charities; Thayer Academy; Boston College; and The Thomas M. Brennan Memorial Foundation, which provides scholarship grants to an incoming Boston College freshman who exemplifies Tim's friend and classmate, Tom, who died at the World Trade Center on September 11.

Tim Chamberlain has more than a decade of experience in the real estate industry and has spent the past six years with New Boston. As Director of Development, his primary focus is to source, analyze, negotiate, entitle and implement development investment opportunities in the New England region. He is currently involved in more than $300 million of development investment projects ranging from dense urban redevelopment to suburban mixed-use developments in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. Most importantly, for the communities in which these investments are made, the projected job and tax creation for these projects exceeds 2,000 construction and 5,000 permanent jobs with over $20 million in tax generation for the communities.

Tim's experience includes working as a commercial real estate broker for GVA Williams, serving as a member of Cushman & Wakefield's downtown Boston brokerage team, and working for Fish & Fred O'Neil's Business Development Team as a Development Executive for Suffolk Construction Company, Inc.

A Massachusetts native, Tim Chamberlain attended high school at Thayer Academy in Braintree and went on to earn a degree in Business Administration from Boston College. A devoted husband and father, Tim resides in Cohasset with his wife Maureen; his son, Jack; his daughter, Aidan; and his dog, Seamus.

South Shore Skin Center announces 'paperless' practice

South Shore Skin Center, a dermatology practice offering a wide range of medical, surgical and cosmetic services, has recently gone "paperless" and integrated an Electronic Medical Records system.

EMR allows the medical staff at South Shore Skin Center's Plymouth and Cohasset offices easier access to patient data, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, which is essential for patient history/case research and during a patient emergency. EMR enables faster transmission of patient data to a patient's primary care physician or specialist. Electronic prescriptions may be sent to a patient's pharmacy right from the office so they may be ready for the patient to pick-up after a medical appointment.

"With EMR, each patient's file is at our fingertips. We're able to send prescriptions to the patient's pharmacist during the patient's appointment. If a patient needs surgery, we're able to quickly transfer patient data to the surgeon's office. EMR drastically increases efficiency and eliminates the paper chase," said Dr. Richard Eisen of South Shore Skin Center.

South Shore Skin Center offices are at 223 Chief Justice Cushing Highway, Suite 202, Cohasset, 781-383-3340; and 45 Resnik Road, Suite 102, Plymouth, 508-747-0711. For more information, visit the Web site at southshoreskincenter.com.

Pilgrim Bank welcomes new board members

Francis E. Campbell, president and chief executive officer of Pilgrim Bank, has announced the election of two new members to the board of directors of the bank:

Melissa J. Browne is a senior vice president, director of marketing and research and a partner at Meredith & Grew, a commercial real estate investment firm in Boston. Browne holds a CPM designation and is an advisory board member of Warren Group Publishing. She is also president of Cohasset Golf Club and was recently appointed to the board of directors of the Francis Quinet Scholarship Fund. Browne graduated from Georgetown University.

Mary E. Granville is the owner and president of The Appraisers Collaborative Inc. in Braintree, a real estate appraisal firm. Granville is a former president of the Massachusetts Board of Real Estate Appraisers and the Society of Real Estate Appraisers. Currently, Granville, who holds both SRA and MRA designations, recently served on the Compliance Committee of the Massachusetts Board of Registration for Real Estate Appraisers and is a certified general appraiser in the Commonwealth.

Train DVD available

DVDs of the Greenbush Line Grand Opening Celebration are now available to purchase for $20 each. To order a copy, call Shaun Galvin at 781-424-2197 or email shaungalvin@yahoo.com. The request can also be sent with a check for $20 per DVD to Shaun Galvin, P.O. Box 526, Hingham, MA 02043.

OPEN FRIDAY & SATURDAY AT 6AM*

MACY'S THANKSGIVING SALE

25%-50% OFF STOREWIDE

TEN TO SPEND!

FROM 6AM 'TIL 1PM FRIDAY OR SATURDAY!

*Open 7am Friday & Saturday at Boston, Belmont, Metro Center, Paramus GSP & Paramus Park • 7am Saturday at Chestnut Hill • regular hours at furniture stores

$10 TEN TO SPEND! FRIDAY OR SATURDAY 'TIL 1PM $10

TEN DOLLARS

SPEND YOUR $10 SAVINGS PASS ON A SALE OR CLEARANCE PURCHASE† OF $25 OR MORE

NOT VALID ON MORNING SPECIALS. VALID FROM STORE OPENING UNTIL 1PM 11/23 OR 11/24/07 ONLY; LIMIT 1 PER CUSTOMER.

†Excludes: specials, everyday values, super buys; bridge & designer shoes and handbags, sportswear & intimate apparel, cashmere, cosmetics/fragrances, fashion jewelry, watches, furs, premium tops & bottoms for him (D 567/571), swim, electrics, electronics, furniture, mattresses, rugs; Holiday Lane Dept., trim, cards & wrap. Also excludes: All-Clad, American Rag, Baccarat, Barbara Barry, Ben Sherman, Buffalo, Burton, Calvin Klein, Coach, DKNY, Dooney & Bourke, Guess, Henckels, Hugo Boss, Impulse, INC, Joseph Abboud, kate spade, Kenneth Cole, Lacoste, Lalique, Lladro, Levi's/Dockers, Louis Vuitton, Lucky, Material London, Michael Kors, Natori, Nautica, The North Face, Perry Ellis, Polo/Ralph Lauren, T Tahari, Tasso Elba, Tommy Bahama, Tommy Hilfiger, Vera Wang, Waterford, Wüsthof (designer exclusions don't apply to outerwear depts.); previous purchases, special orders, services, gift registry kiosks, gift cards, macys.com, macys weddingchannel.com, payment on credit accounts, bridal salons, J&R Express, maternity, Stride Rite, Ticketmaster, Vision Express, wigs, restaurants, wine. Cannot be combined with any savings pass/coupon, extra discount or credit offer, exept opening a new Macy's account. Macy's employees not eligible. Valid for one-time use. Purchase must be $25 or more, exclusive of tax & delivery fees. EXTRA SAVINGS $ APPLIED TO REDUCED PRICES. MCE or take an extra 10%-15% off† when you use your Macy's Card or savings pass

$10 ★macy's $10

ALL-DAY SAVINGS PASS

EXTRA 15% OFF†

A SELECTION OF REGULAR, SALE & CLEARANCE PURCHASES STOREWIDE (10% OFF A SELECTION OF FINE & BRIDGE JEWELRY, HOME ITEMS, SHOES, COATS, SUITS, INTIMATES, DRESSES, SPORTCOATS FOR HIM). VALID 11/23/07-11/25/07

★macy's

★macy's

macys.com

Shrek is here! 14.95 with any $35 purchase.

Only at Macy's, our limited edition plush talks when you press his foot! Donkey and Puss In Boots finger puppets included!

While supplies last.

New cardholder savings are subject to credit approval; savings valid the day your account is opened (or the next day, if your account is opened after 10PM ET); not for use in certain departments and gift cards; on furniture, mattresses, and rugs, the new account savings is limited to $50. Must open account in store to receive extra savings; employees not eligible. SALE PRICES IN EFFECT THROUGH 11/25/07. EXCEPT AS NOTED. For store locations & hours, log on to macys.com star REWARDS extra 20% savings 10%-15%

OPINION

Our nation's first Thanksgiving

By Jim Rose
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Although Chief Josiah Wompatuck was born six years after our nation's first Thanksgiving, he more than likely later became friends with the Wompanoags and English participants. The exact date of the first Thanksgiving in 1621 is not known, but it is assumed to be in late September or early October, soon after the crop of barley, beans, corn, peas and squash were harvested. It is also a period that Plymouth hosted a sizeable number of migrating birds.

A detailed eyewitness description of the celebration comes from Edward Winslow's Mourt's Relation: "Our harvest being gotten in, our governor sent four men on fowling, that so we might after a special manner rejoice together, after we had gathered the fruits of our labors; they four in one day killed as much fowl, as with little help beside, served the Company almost a week, at which time amongst other Recreations, we exercised our Arms, many of the Indians coming among us, and amongst the rest their greatest king, Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five Deer, which they brought to the Plantation and bestowed on the Governor, and upon the Captain and others. And although it be not always so plentiful, as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God, we are so far from want, that we often wish you partakers of our plenty."

The term, "Thanksgiving," was first applied in the 1800's. Pilgrims did not use it themselves, since the event instead was a time of spiritual devotion. Everything the Pilgrims did revolved around a spiritual context. But as Winslow's description reveals, the celebration was similar to the traditional English harvest festival, a secular festivity dating back to the middle ages, where villagers ate, drank and played games.

In the 1600's, a person's social standing determined where he or she ate.

In the 1600's, a person's social standing determined where he or she ate. The choicest food was placed next to the most important people. Diners didn't sample everything on the table like we do today; they just ate what was closest to them.

"The Mayflower on Her Arrival in Plymouth Harbor" by William Formsby Halsall (1841-1919).

Map of Plymouth Harbor drawn by French explorer Samuel de Champlain in 1605.

The choicest food was placed next to the most important people. Diners didn't sample everything on the table like we do today; they just ate what was closest to them. The most important table was called the High Table. The guests at this seating probably included Governor William Bradford' Captain Miles Standish. A military leader who massacred six Indians in Weymouth in 1623; William Brewster, the Pilgrims religious leader; Chief Massasoit; and Squanto, who taught the Pilgrims how to plant native crops and was also an interpreter for them.

Outside of the High Table, the majority of the guests stood, squatted, or sat on the ground, clustering around open fires where venison and waterfowl turned on a spit and varieties of meat and vegetable stews simmered. Besides ducks and deer, there was a good supply of wild turkey in 1621. Turkeys were not a new discovery to the English. When the Conquistadors arrived in Mexico in the early 1500's, they found the Indians had domesticated their turkeys for consumption. By 1575, the domesticated Central American turkey made its way to the English table. However, the wild turkeys of New England were much bigger and faster.

The Pilgrims also added seafood to their Thanksgiving celebration. In the autumn, bluefish, cod, eels and striped bass were caught, as well as shellfish such as oysters, clams and lobster. Pilgrim William Bradford recalls the feast in Plimoth Plantation: "For some were thus employed in affairs abroad, others were exercised in fishing, about cod and bass and other fish, of which they took good store, of which every family had their portion. All the summer there was no want; and now began to come in store of fowl, as winter approached, of which this place did abound when they came first (but afterwards decreased by degrees). And besides waterfowl there was great store of wild turkeys, of which they took many, besides venison, etc. Besides, they had about a peck of meal a week to a person, or now since harvest, Indian corn to that proportion."

The Pilgrims didn't use forks until the last decades of the 17th century. They ate with spoons, knives and fingers. They wiped their hands on cloth napkins, which they also used to pick up hot food. However, the Pilgrims were without pumpkin pies, cranberry sauce and mashed potatoes.

Today Americans think of the English as having bland food, but the Pilgrims used many spices including cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, salt, pepper, and dried fruit. They brought sugar over on the Mayflower, but at the time of the feast the supply was small. The Pilgrims didn't have ovens, so pies, cakes and breads weren't available. But they did cook samp, a corn-based porridge.

The food that was eaten at the feast would have seemed fatty by our present standards. Yet it was probably healthier for them then, seeing they were more active and needed the protein. They were more concerned about the plague and the pox than clogged arteries. Vegetable dishes, one of the mainstays of our modern celebration, didn't contribute to the feast as much. Depending on the time of year, many vegetables weren't available to the Pilgrims. Albeit they did consume beans, cabbage, corn, onions, peas and squash.

Between meals the Pilgrims and Wompanoags played games for entertainment. The Indians might have taught the English the Pin Game, where a player attempted to toss a small ring onto a pin. Blind Man's Bluff may have been played as well. Target shooting was a popular sport among the English to see who was the best shot. In addition to sports, both the English and the Indians enjoyed singing and dancing.

For the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, the Indians were not a despised band of savages. They were human beings similar to themselves. Edward Winslow recounts they were "very trustworthy, quick of apprehension, ripe witted and just." Without Massasoit and Squanto to rescue them with food and advice, the Pilgrims might not have survived. As it was, half of the original Mayflower passengers perished that first winter.

The Continental Congress issued the first official Thanksgiving Proclamation in America in 1777. Abraham Lincoln declared Thanksgiving a Federal holiday as a "prayerful day of Thanksgiving." In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt set the date for the holiday to take place on the fourth Thursday of November.

Printed with permission of Friends of Wompatuck State Park, a volunteer organization that helps maintain the park. For those who would like to join, call Eric at 781-741-6047.

Jim Rose is the FOW's News Editor and Historian.

Water mains and staging area appeal

SEWER REPORT

JOHN BECK

This is one in a continuing series of status reports on the Little Harbor/Atlantic Avenue sewer and water projects.

The contractor is fully mobilized and is making progress on all fronts. There are three crews simultaneously deployed in three different areas: Nichols Road, Deep Run/Rust Way and Whitehead Road.

The water main replacement in all three areas is continuing as the race against freezing weather accelerates. As mentioned in the last report, the temporary water lines (the yellow pipes on the roadside) cannot be used when there is a threat of significant freezing, because they are not protected by at least four feet of earth. Replacement of the water mains in many areas will be in the same location as the old pipes, using the same trench that was part of the original installation. This will not require any ledge removal and thus should be relatively easy. There are a few areas where new trenches for the water mains or lateral lines need to be dug. This work will be more difficult and time consuming and may require small-charge blasting of any existing ledge. Pre-blast surveys will be done by the contractor for each property that could be affected by blasting. If you received a notice that you may be in a blast zone, it is your responsibility to contact Sandy Penttinen of Penttinen Associates at 978-836-7052 to schedule a free survey. If you suspect that damage has occurred as a result of the blasting, immediately contact the CES project manager and report the suspected damage. This will assure that any needed repairs will be done and the cost covered by the contractor's insurance carrier.

Any water main replacements that cannot be done before the onset of freezing weather will be done in the spring.

When the water work closes down for the winter, the contractor will begin the sewer excavation and installation with crews in all three areas. Much of the sewer pipe installation will require blasting due to the extensive ledge in our town. Some blasting for the new sewer has already begun on Deep Run. The pre-blast surveys and notification recommendations above apply equally to the sewer work.

Earlier this week a failed hydraulic line on a truck delivering material to the staging area leaked hydraulic fluid onto the roadway and within the staging area. The hydraulic fluid was cleaned up using standard procedures for such events and the site returned to normal operation the next day. Hydraulic fluid is similar to the brake fluid in your car.

A few citizens have continued to object to the location of the project staging area in their neighborhood. They have appealed the decision by the Building Inspector that this staging area for the town's sewer, water and drain projects meets zoning requirements. This appeal is before the ZBA on the grounds that the zoning requirements have been violated because the staging area sub-contract is between two private entities, the town's contractor and a private land owner. They contend that this does not involve "town operations" as defined by the appropriate zoning bylaw. It is the firm opinion of the Sewer Commission that this narrow legal interpretation is incorrect for the following reasons:

The hydraulic fluid was cleaned up using standard procedures for such events and the site returned to normal operation the next day.

• The operations conducted on a daily basis in the staging area are for the singular purpose of supporting the construction of the new sewers and drains and replacing aging water mains and services, all for the town, not a private entity. The contractor's activities are overseen by the town's agent and project manager, Coughlin Environmental Services LLC (CES), who has a construction trailer in the staging area, again in accordance with the town's contract with L&M Holdings. Water pipe currently owned by the town is now secured at the site under the control of the town's agent. There is no doubt that the town has operational control of the staging area.

• The Building Inspector's interpretation of the Zoning Bylaw is therefore correct. This is clearly a "Community Facility" under Section 4.2 and falls within the categories of "wastewater treatment, water supply – or other protective use operated by the town."

• The contractor is required to supply the area for the town's uses and the actual procurement of the site is left up to the contractor. The basis for this strategy is to allow the contractor to secure facilities as economically as possible so that the cost savings can be transferred to the community. The staging area is central to the work zone and conveniently located for resident access to the project manager's trailer. It will help reduce the construction period because of shorter travel distances for equipment and supplies and will enhance emergency response.

• Members of the ZBA will deliberate the appeal during their next meeting on Dec. 11. Should the staging area be forced to relocate, the cost to the project will be substantial, and delays will be inevitable. The cost impacts will be passed on to all the water consumers in town and the new sewer users.

The overall schedule (download-

SEE SEWER, PAGE 15

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Good neighbors

TO THE EDITOR:

Several greathearted families volunteered to the Senior Center to do autumn yard clean up for senior citizens who requested it. Not only do the seniors benefit from this assistance, but also their thankful donations to the Senior Center will help fund other activities. Best of all, the children of these public-spirited families are introduced to the concept of service and community responsibility. These children will enjoy more fulfilling lives, and the communities they inhabit later as adults will be better places, thanks to their parent's good example.

The leaves are falling late this year, so there still will remain plentiful opportunity for the seniors to enjoy exercise and character-enhancing labor in the fresh air.

R. Murray Campbell
217 Jerusalem Road

Making a difference

TO THE EDITOR:

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to everyone who participated in the Make-A-Difference-Days both at the Osgood and Deer Hill schools and out in the community in conjunction with Cohasset Elder Affairs. We were lucky to have favorable weather conditions and I know many people went above and beyond what was necessary. How nice it was to see not only members from our school communities (K-12) alongside other members of our town, who made an effort to come out and help some of their neighbors.

I have received wonderful feedback from many of our participants and understand many friendships and connections were created. I feel lucky to live in such a caring community and wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving.

Patty Cunningham
PSO Chairperson of Make-A-Difference-Day

COHASSET MARINER

Community Newspaper Company,165 Enterprise Drive,
Marshfield, MA 02050 781-829-9305, FAX: 781-837-4543

The publisher assumes no responsibility for the omission of an advertisement or for typographical errors in an advertisement, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the error occurs if it affects the value of the advertisement.

Copyright © 2007 Community Newspaper Company. All rights reserved. Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without permission.

PUBLISHER, CNC: KIRK DAVIS

EDITOR IN CHIEF: MARK SKALA
781-837-4574, E-MAIL: mskala@cnc.com

EDITOR: MARY FORD
781-741-2933, E-MAIL: mford@cnc.com

STAFF REPORTER: NANCY WHITE
781-741-2935, E-MAIL: nwhite@cnc.com

SPORTS EDITOR: JOEL RACICOT
781-837-4577, E-MAIL: jracicot@cnc.com

GENERAL TELEPHONE NUMBERS
CIRCULATION: 888-343-1899
MAIN PHONE NUMBER: 781-741-2933
CLASSIFIED NUMBER: 800-624-7355
SALES FAX NUMBER: 781-837-4541
EDITORIAL FAX: 781-741-2931
ARTS/CALENDAR FAX: 781-837-4543

REGIONAL ADVERTISING DIRECTOR:
MARK OLIVIERI 781-837-4504

PAGINATION/PRE-PRESS MANAGER:
PAULA O'BRIEN 781-837-4584

CREATIVE SERVICES MANAGER:
NANCY SMALL 781-837-4587

COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER COMPANY
www.townonline.com

Town Commons: Dorothy Dinsmore. E-mail items to ddinsmore@cnc.com
The Cohasset Mariner is published every Friday by the Community Newspaper Company, 165 Enterprise Drive, Marshfield, MA 02050.
Periodicals postage paid at Marshfield, MA 02050.

You can find stories and editorials from the Cohasset Mariner at www.cohassetmariner.com

Sidewalk work takes center stage

MAKING TRACKS

TOM GRUBER & MARK BRENNAN

Beechwood sidewalk – The Town committed to the Beechwood residents several years ago that it would put a sidewalk on Beechwood Street to connect as much of the residential area as possible to South Main Street. After a very long wait, work has begun connecting Talarico Lane to South Main Street via a bright shinny new sidewalk. The grading has been done and the area now awaits its asphalt sidewalk surface. Weather permitting; by the time you read this, the asphalt should be down.

We did get a few questions this past week wondering what was being done on Beechwood Street. One call wondered why the Town was putting granite curb on Beechwood Street. When we started putting the granite curbing at N. Main Street. end of Beechwood, they probably assumed that the curbing was going to be placed the entire length of the construction, which is not the case. The real answer is quite simple. The area to the south side of Beechwood Street at S, Main Street rises quite high above the road way. To construct a proper sidewalk, we needed to cut into that small hillside. In order to hold the dirt back on either side of the sidewalk a small retaining wall was needed. Being rather budget conscious, we reached into our bag of tricks and used old curbing that was squirreled away from the Village Revitalization Project to construct the small wall and curbing. The net result is a handsome set of retaining walls and curbing with the used granite adding a bit of character to them. Of course, the curb and wall extend only as far down Beechwood as needed based on the land contour. The balance of the curbing is asphalt Cape Cod berm, which was placed last week. Where the Cape Cod berm is used, there will be a grass strip between the street and the sidewalk as a safety measure.

Lower King Street sidewalk – We have mentioned numerous times that the Town received a Transportation Oriented Development (TOD) grant to design, permit and construct a sidewalk from the Forest/Main/King intersection to the Greenbush Station. As way of background, we examined a series of more direct routes to the station other than the one finally selected. The most direct way would have been to use the maintenance road that the MBTA has constructed parallel to the tracks from King Street to the station. However, there were a series of problems with this solution. First, the maintenance road is inside of the railroad fencing, so it would not be safe for general public use. Secondly, since this distance is about one-half mile, there would be security and policing issues due to the isolation of the path, especially after dark. Third, the MBTA absolutely prohibits the public from walking on their property, which is where this maintenance road would be. So, this route was a "dead duck."

Curb and retaining wall from Old Village Curbing.

COURTESY PHOTOS

Last minute grading at Talarico Lane prior to paving.

One call wondered why the Town was putting granite curb on Beechwood Street.

A second solution would have been along N. Main Street to the station. This pathway presents tremendous Conservation Commission issues due to the adjacent wetlands that would need to be replicated. Further, there are extensive portions of the road where the land drops away from the road and there is just no place to construct a sidewalk. The road is also very narrow, so no space can be carved from the road for a sidewalk. Where the edge of the road would need to be widened to accommodate a sidewalk, either retaining walls and fill (with appropriate wetland replication as required by the Con Com) would be required. Of course we could also build a cantilever structure for the sidewalk to extend it over the wetland, but that clearly would be a nightmare and very expensive. A conservation estimated cost for the N. Main Street path would be at least four times greater than the route actually chosen of King to Route 3A to the station. So, that's how we got where we are.

The Town paid the MBTA to design and build sidewalk from Main/Forest/King to Laugelle Lane, including a pedestrian crossing and a pedestrian gate. As soon as P. A. Landers is finished with the grading on Beechwood Street they will move to do some of the preliminary grading on King Street between Laugelle Lane and Route 3A. Possibly the paving will be done this fall, as well, depending on the weather. The balance of this sidewalk will wait for next spring. So, you should see some activity on King Street this coming week, if it hasn't started already.

Forest Avenue – This week we received a Traffic Sign and Pavement Marking recommendation report from the Norfolk County traffic consultant. This report contained the county's recommendation for road markings, signs and crosswalks. Before we can finalize the road markings and signs we will hold a joint meeting with the Town Safety Forces as well as the DPW to determine if we need to make any modifications to this plan. We had originally planned to do all of the road striping using a new long-lasting epoxy marking material. However, the epoxy cannot be used when the road gets too cold. So, we will be using a conventional water-based paint that should hold us 'till spring and then we'll repaint with epoxy. No cross walks will be added now, because each cross walk will require a bit of additional construction on the non-sidewalk side of the road to build the required pedestrian safe landing area.

Dumb and dumber, yet – Last week we had an eyewitness report that someone took a page from this movie and executed a really dumb move at the Lower King Street railroad crossing. Are you sitting down for this one? A person actually approached the crossing in their car, stopped at the tracks, did a U turn between the traffic islands on either side of the tracks and went back from whence they came. What were they thinking? Honest folks, you can't make this stuff up!

Miscellaneous Greenbush – You may remember that we reported about 75 cars in the Greenbush parking lot on Oct. 31, the first day of regular operation. A quick count of cars on Tuesday, Nov. 20th shows about 130 cars.

Tom Gruber, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Affairs, Email: cgbaffairs@townofcohasset.org
Mark Brennan, Special Assistant to the Town Manager for Greenbush Engineering, Email: cgbengineering@townofcohasset.org
Phone: 781-383-3094

National symbol

HENSHAW

TOM HENSHAW

The state is fixing to spend $680,000 to protect Plymouth Rock and pretty up that symbol of our founding for the hordes of tourists and others who have been conned into thinking it's the exact place where our Pilgrim Forefathers hit the beach that day in 1620.

Better they should spend the money tidying up the Brooklyn Bridge for sale.

Actually, no one knows for sure just where the Pilgrims landed and the myth that they stepped ashore on the Rock, like the myth that Abner Doubleday invented baseball in Cooperstown, N. Y., is only the recollection of a 94-year-old man who wasn't there.

"On Monday, they sounded ye harbor and found it fit for shipping, and marched onto ye land & found diverse cornfields & little running brooks, a place fit for situation," was all that William Bradford, who was there at the time, had to say of the landing.

It was not until 1741, more than a century later, that Thomas Faunce, son of the Mayflower's John Faunce and the last ruling elder of the Pilgrim church, recalled hearing talk of the rock when he was a kid, born 27 years after his father came ashore.

The Rock itself was not identified until 1769 when someone pointed to a nondescript stone and said, "That's it!"

Until then, it was just another granite boulder left by a melting glacier during a time when global warming was a meteorological condition, not a political issue.

The Rock will be protected by a reinforced plywood box from March through May next spring while a Greek-style portico above it is rehabbed.

"We want to protect the Rock and be very careful with what's left of the Rock," state Senate President Therese Murray is quoted as saying. "We don't need something falling on it."

It hasn't been handled so gently in the past.

When Plymouth's Liberty Boys, inspired by the Boston Tea Party, chained a team of oxen to the Rock to drag it to a more appropriate location for the celebration of Forefathers' Day in 1774, it broke in two.

The larger part was left behind and the smaller section taken to Town Square.

It was still there in 1815 when the great controversy broke out. Who was first to step on the Rock that day in 1620 — Mary Chilton or John Alden?

The answer? Neither. There were no women in that first landing party, and John was back on the Mayflower tending to the beer supply.

The section of the Rock that was left behind in 1774 was located in use as a doorstep in a beachfront warehouse, and the two parts were united in Pilgrim Hall in 1880.

Never mind that the two parts didn't fit together well. This was the Rock because they said so.

As the 300th anniversary of the Pilgrims' landing approached in 1920, someone noted that the expected crowds of tourists might wonder how the Forefathers could have stepped ashore on the Rock when it was nowhere near the water.

So once again it was placed in chains and a steam shovel employed to take it back to the beach, and once again it broke in two pieces.

The battered old boulder was repaired and set down on the beach under the Greek portico so tourists could view it and say, as they have for years:

"I thought it was bigger than that."

Busy, busy, busy holidays

THE FAR SIDE OF PERFECT

DIANE K. DANIELSON

Busy, busy, busy. That's all we hear around the holidays. Just like the evil magician from "Frosty the Snowman," we run around muttering that we're "busy, busy, busy!" to anyone who tries to get our attention. Don't they realize that during the holidays we're much too busy for friends and family? Who has time for them when we've got cards to send, presents to buy, trips to plan, turkeys to roast, parties to attend and houses to decorate? Admittedly, for some people simply being busy is their idea of fun. But is busy, busy, busy the best way to spend the holidays?

Unfortunately, I don't foresee any end to this "busy-ness" trend. In fact, we continue to invent products to enable us to become even busier. Would Starbucks be such a success if we all regularly got a full night's sleep? How about protein bars? Why stop to eat a complete meal when you can have all the protein you need in a single candy bar? Add in one of my son's "go-gurts" — yogurt in a tube, for anyone who has yet to discover this time-management miracle — and I can literally consume a full day's worth of calories in less than five minutes flat (and not enjoy a single second of it).

What about stem cell research and the Genome Project? The most likely use will be to engineer humans who function on less sleep. (Note to self: At first breakthrough, sell off Starbucks' stock.) Or perhaps we could add an opposable big toe. Imagine how much more we could accomplish if we had the equivalent of four hands. (Thus leading to the retirement of the phrase, "But I only have two hands.") Even better, what if we could literally be in two places at one time? Now that must be worth an NIH grant or two. Of course we would then be a nation where everyone was always in two places at once and not enjoying either one, because we could only imagine what else we might be missing out on. (Thus leading to the birth of the phrase, "If I could only be in 1001 places at one time!")

But not all breakthroughs in efficiency actually help us be more efficient. Take email. For me, the primary use of email seems to be scheduling and rescheduling phone calls, meetings and other events for which I'm much too busy. My guess is that it would probably save me more time to actually go through with the originally schedule plan in lieu of exchanging 30 minutes worth of emails about how I can't possibly make that 10-minute phone call three weeks from now because I'm "busy, busy, busy!"

A couple of years ago, realizing that all this busyness was completely ruining the holidays for me, I figured it was time to check out this therapy thing. I knew I had crossed over some sort of line when I caught myself telling a colleague that "sleep was overrated," while simultaneously contemplating how one might improve the flavor of zinc lozenges so that they wouldn't clash so much with my third cup of coffee of the morning. But the problem with therapy is that you actually have to make time for it; and I didn't have any time to begin with.

So, it wasn't long before the number of voicemails and emails exchanged in attempts to schedule and reschedule potential therapy sessions made my good intentions fruitless. Add to that some resulting billing discrepancies over which sessions actually took place, and I figured that I would need another therapist simply to deal with the stress that this one was causing. So much for that plan.

This year, to get through the holidays, I'm going to try a completely different strategy. I'm planning one weekend where I have absolutely nothing on the agenda. And I can't wait for someone to ask me what I'm going to be doing over that weekend, just so I can reply, "not a single bloody thing!" Then I'll watch as they pick their chin up off the floor, give me a quizzical look, and offer me the name of their therapist.

Diane K. Danielson is a Cohasset resident who would like to encourage other Mariner readers to join her in making room for one agenda-free day or weekend during this holiday season. For more random musings and career insights from Diane, visit the Downtown Women's Club blog at womensDISH.com.

What our children think about America

COMMENTARY

LEE JENKINS

A few weeks ago a talk show conducted some Kid on the Street interviews with 14-to 17-year-olds. The questions posed were "What does it mean to you to be an American?" or "What do you think you owe your country?"

Some answered that they didn't owe America anything because it doesn't do anything for them, instead America owes them big time. Other students were looking forward to getting out of school so that they could leave for someplace better — like the Middle East or Europe. The majority consensus indicated no loyalty or respect to the U.S., but rather an entitlement mentality to a lot more than they perceived America was providing.

Soon after, while at a local college football game a senior sociology major began a conversation with me. In his opinion America is an appalling place to live because supposedly 47 million people do not have health insurance. Also, the undocumented workers are not getting enough benefits. Both parents in a household have to work to afford what he considered the entitled American lifestyle – cell phones for everyone in the household, premium cable, big screen TVs, etc., etc.

How much longer can we expect to be the greatest nation on earth while we are nurturing our children with negative impressions of what America is really all about?

Boy Scouts wanting to boost troop morale by collecting items for America's soldiers were banned in Cambridge for being too "pro-war."

Parents are paying college tuitions for their students to take courses on happiness. One of the most popular courses at Harvard is Positive Psychology where students learn to have a fulfilling and flourishing life.

In a recent front-page story in the Mariner, it was disclosed that the Cohasset School administration has finally developed a uniform way of dealing with bullying. This behavior has been plaguing the public schools for decades. In all of these cases it comes across loud and clear that somewhere along the way we have been failing our children.

How much longer can we expect to be the greatest nation on earth while we are nurturing our children with negative impressions of what America is really all about?

It would be interesting to discover how many teachers took time to discuss with their students the following remarks made by French President Sarkozy on his visit to Washington earlier this month. "...to the millions of men and women who came from every country of the world and who – with their own hands, their intelligence, and their hearts – built the greatest nation in the world, America did not say, 'Come, and everything will be given to you.' Rather, she said, 'Come, and the only limits to what you will be able to achieve will be those of your own courage, your boldness, and your talent.'"

Leonora "Lee" Jenkins lives at 198 Jerusalem Road.

BRIEFLY

Department of Corrections

Due to a reporting error, an article that ran in last week's Mariner "Train Crossing" warrants some clarification as to how the gates at Lower King Street operate.

When a southbound train approaches the Cohasset station, the lights flash, bells sound and the gates are lowered at the Lower King Street crossing. However, if the train is at the station for an extended time (typically during rush hours) the gates and warning lights "time out." The gates raise and the lights and bells stop ringing. Traffic can pass through, but typically only one or two cars. As soon as the train starts to move out of the station, the gates, lights and bells are once again activated. The train passes through and everything shuts off, cars are free to cross the tracks.

Last week's article incorrectly reported the lights and bells remain flashing and sounding while the gates are raised. Residents should be aware of how the grade crossing signals operate to ensure a safe crossing of the tracks.

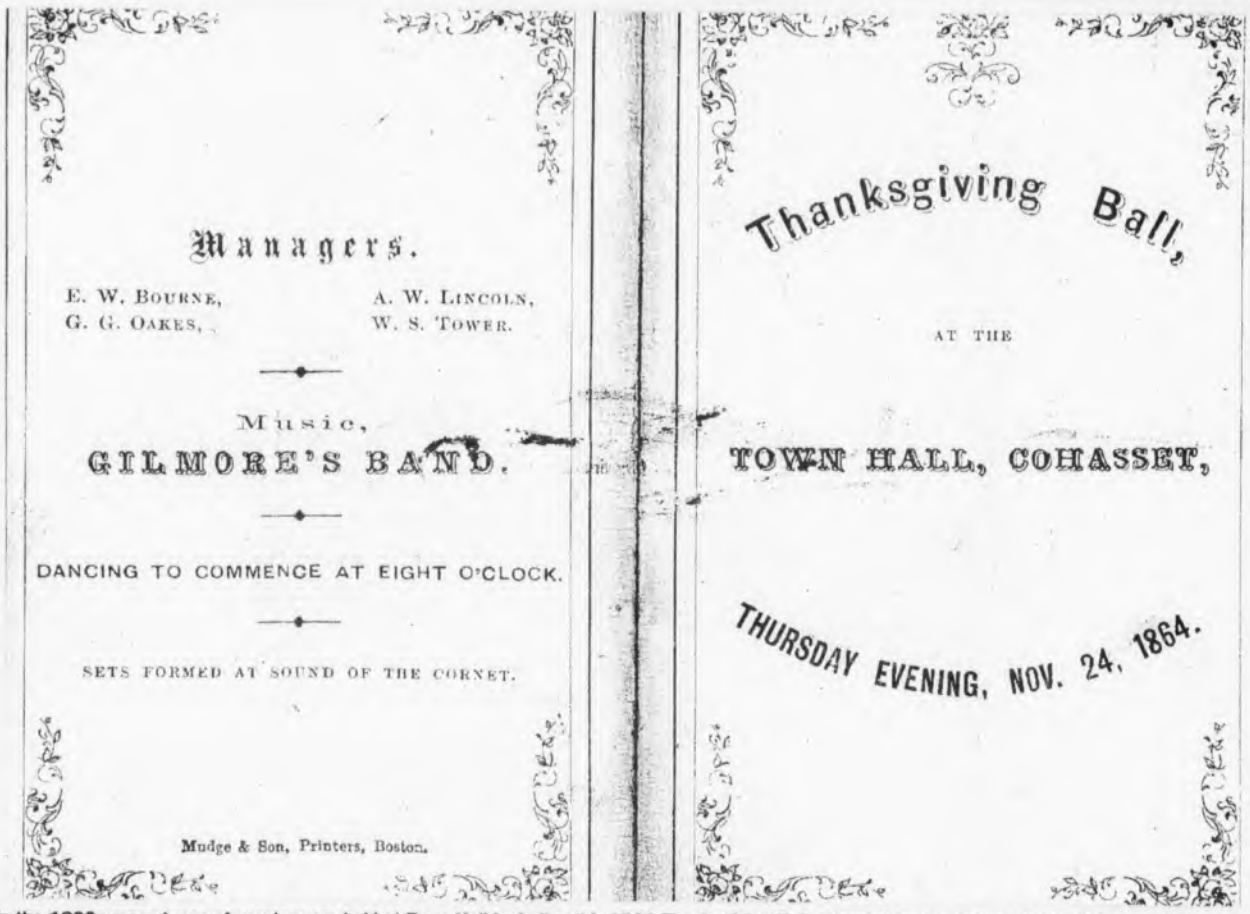
Cohasset has had a couple of signal malfunctions at various grade crossings. Some were storm-related during the 'Noel' storm and others were due to glitches in the system. The MBTA responded to all incidents. There have been no near misses that the police are aware of.

Assessors to conduct public disclosure program

The Cohasset Board of Assessors is required to undertake, subsequent to the Bureau of Local Assessments' preliminary certification review, a Public Disclosure Program. This disclosure is intended to inform property owners of the current assessments for fiscal year 2008 Certification. The 2008 assessments reflect overall stability in the Cohasset real estate market, which results in modest increases in valuations.

The Public Disclosure will be conducted at the Office of the Board of Assessors at Cohasset Town Hall, 41 Highland Avenue during normal business hours, Monday, Nov. 26, and concluding Friday, Nov. 30. Business hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Thursday; 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., Tuesday; and 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., Friday.

The Assessors' office staff will be available for taxpayers to review, discuss, and request changes in proposed values during the disclosure period. Any questions pertaining to this disclosure may be directed to the Assessors' Office at 781-383-4114. For the convenience of taxpayers, the disclosure will also be available at the Paul Pratt Public Library, 35 Ripley Road, Cohasset, during normal business hours, which are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday; 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday and Friday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday; and 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday.



Annual Town Meeting date set

With the Special Town Meeting in the rear view mirror, the Board of Selectmen is looking ahead to the spring Annual Town Meeting. On Monday evening, they voted to set the date for Saturday, March 29, 2008. The meeting will begin at the Cohasset High School Sullivan Gymnasium at 9a.m. Any petitioned article submissions for the Town Warrant from town boards or citizens petitions will be accepted until Monday, Jan. 14, 2008.

The Town Election is scheduled for a week later on Saturday, April 5.

Check out CohassetCares.com

Happy Thanksgiving weekend from The Cohasset Historical Society

Managers.

E. W. Bourne, A. W. Lincoln,
G. G. Oakes, W. S. Tower.

Music,
GILMORE'S BAND.

DANCING TO COMMENCE AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

SETS FORMED AT SOUND OF THE CORNET.

Mudge & Son, Printers, Boston.

Thanksgiving Ball,

AT THE

TOWN HALL, COHASSET,

THURSDAY EVENING, NOV. 24, 1864.

In the 1800s many types of events were held at Town Hall including this 1864 Thanksgiving Ball attended by the Bates, Pratts, Oakes, and Towers among many others. They waltzed and danced the quadrille, contra and cotillion to popular songs of the day including the Virginia Reel, Union Generals and We Meet Again.

From the Archives is a weekly feature provided by Cohasset Historical Society.

The Cohasset Historical Society welcomes donations. If you have something that you would consider donating to our archives please give us a call at 781-383-1434.

Beacon Hill Roll Call

By Bob Katzen

bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

November 12-16, 2007

Senator
Robert L. Hedlund
(R-Weymouth)
(617) 722-1646
Room 413F

Representative
Garrett J. Bradley
(D-Hingham)
(617) 722-2120
Room 472

QUESTIONS

If you have any questions about this week's report, e-mail us at beaconhill@aol.com or call us at (617)720-1562.

Copyright © 2007 Beacon Hill Roll Call. All Rights Reserved.

By Bob Katzen

THE HOUSE AND SENATE: Beacon Hill Roll Call records local representatives and senators' votes on four roll calls from the week of November 12-16.

SPEAKER DIMASI'S ENERGY CONSERVATION LEGISLATION (H 4365)

House 151-0, approved and sent to the Senate a comprehensive energy package aimed at expanding the use of cleaner, renewable energy in the state. Only a handful of controversial amendments were debated on the House floor. Many representatives who filed amendments pitched their proposals in a room near the House chamber to Democratic leaders who drafted "consolidated amendments" that were then brought to the House floor for consideration. All of these consolidated amendments were easily approved. The House also disposed of several amendments on the House floor without a roll call vote and without debate. Provisions include establishment of a new Department of Clean Energy; a $2,000 income tax deduction for consumers who purchase hybrid or alternative fuel vehicles; extension of a 15 percent or $300 tax credit to businesses that purchase a solar water heating system; requiring that the state replace government vehicles with more fuel efficient ones and new programs to provide loans and grants to cities and towns to finance the cost of energy efficient improvements. The measure also establishes specific energy goals including meeting at least 20 percent of the state's electric load by the year 2020 through new, renewable generation; reducing greenhouse gas emissions by 20 percent from 1990 levels by the year 2020 and reducing total energy consumption by at least 10 per cent by 2017. Supporters said that this landmark pro-environmental legislation, supported by businesses, the energy industry and environmentalists, would increase the state's use of cleaner, renewable energy and reduce its dependence on foreign oil. (A "Yes" vote is for the bill).

SLIDING SCALE FOR AUTO SALES TAX BASED ON FUEL EFFICIENCY (H 4365)

House 33-119, rejected an amendment replacing the state's flat five percent sales tax on passenger cars with a sliding scale sales tax ranging from zero percent to five percent. Buyers would pay a lower tax on vehicles with greater fuel efficiency. Vehicles would be divided into categories based on the vehicle's seating capacity in order to determine the sales tax. An owner of an SUV would not be penalized for simply owning an SUV. Owners of hybrid SUVs with greater fuel efficiency would pay less than an owner of a less efficient SUV. Amendment supporters said that these tax incentives would encourage and reward consumers who buy fuel efficient vehicles and discourage and penalize those who choose to pollute the environment. They noted that the amendment would help clean up the environment and lower the state's dependence on foreign oil. Amendment opponents said that the amendment is well-intentioned but goes too far and would jeopardize the delicate balance of business and environmental groups that support the legislation. They noted that amendment proponents have not offered an estimate of how much the sliding scale sales tax would cost the state. (A "Yes" vote is for the amendment replacing the state's flat five percent sales tax on passenger cars with a sliding scale sales tax. A "No" vote is against the amendment).

EXEMPT SOME OF THE SALES TAX ON HYBRID AUTOS (H 4365)

House 152-0, approved an amendment giving a sales tax break to car buyers who purchase hybrid vehicles. The amendment would exempt from the state's five percent sales tax the dollar difference between the cost of the hybrid and the cost of the same non-hybrid vehicle. Amendment supporters said that this would mean that a consumer who buys a hybrid for $35,000 instead of the same non-hybrid car for $30,000 would not have to pay the sales tax on the $5,000 difference. They argued that this would encourage the purchase of hybrids and would cost the state very little in lost revenue. (A "Yes" vote is for the sales tax break).

DELAY GREEN BUILDING TAX CREDIT (H 4365)

House 150-2, approved an amendment creating a "green building tax credit" that includes financial incentives to encourage developers to build energy efficient buildings but preventing the tax credits from taking effect until the Department of Revenue issues a report on their economic impact. The portion of the amendment delaying the amendment was added on a voice vote, without a roll call, to the original proposal that simply provided the tax credits. Amendment supporters said that the proposal is well-intentioned but the cost of the tax credits is unknown and should be determined prior to actually offering them. Opponents offered no arguments. (A "Yes" vote is for the amendment that provides and delays the tax credits. A "No" vote is against the amendment).

ALLOW GOVERNOR'S COUNCILORS TO PRACTICE LAW IN COURTS (S 2332)

Senate 27-5, approved a bill allowing members of the Governor's Council who are lawyers to represent clients before courts, state boards and agencies. Current law prohibits all state employees, except legislators, from representing clients in these capacities. The council is an elected eight-member body that screens and votes on the confirmation of the governor's judicial appointments and on requests for pardons and commutations of sentences. Supporters of the bill said that it is unfair to prohibit councilors who are lawyers from practicing before the courts, state boards and agencies. They noted that councilors earn only $25,000 per year and in most cases depend on outside income to support their families. Opponents said that the bill is special interest legislation filed on behalf on former Judge and current Eighth District Governor's Councilor Thomas Merrigan who says that he was not aware of the law when he was elected. They argued that the proposal creates a conflict of interest because it would allow councilors to practice before judges whose appointments were or might in the future be acted upon by the same councilor. The House approved the measure on a voice vote without a roll call or debate. Only final approval is needed in both branches prior to the measure going to Gov. Patrick. (A "Yes" vote is for the bill allowing members of the Governor's Council to represent clients before courts, state boards and agencies. A "No" vote is against the bill).

BAN LAWYER-LEGISLATORS FROM PRACTICING BEFORE STATE BOARDS AND AGENCIES (S 2332)

Senate 5-25, rejected an amendment to prohibit legislators who are lawyers from representing clients in front of state boards and agencies. Amendment supporters said that current law bans all state employees, except legislators from this practice. They argued that it is a conflict of interest for representatives and senators to represent clients before boards and agencies when these same legislators are voting on the funding of these entities. Amendment opponents said that legislators are technically not public employees. They argued that the ban is unnecessary and would discourage potential candidates from running for election to the Legislature. (A "Yes" vote is for the amendment prohibiting legislators who are lawyers from representing clients in front of state boards and agencies. A "No" vote is against the amendment).

$15 MILLION FOR FUEL ASSISTANCE (H 4332)

Senate 37-0, approved and sent to Gov. Deval Patrick a measure providing $15 million for low-income residents to purchase heating oil, propane and natural gas and electricity. Supporters said that rising energy costs and the forecast of a very cold winter make this funding necessary. They noted that the funds would supplement the federal Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program. (A "Yes" vote is for the bill).

CHANGE DATE OF PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY (S 2414)

Senate 33-5, approved a bill changing the date of the state's presidential primary from March 4 to February 5. The measure would also allow several special elections for vacant state representative and senate seats to be held on the same day. The move would mean that the state's primary would be on "Super Tuesday" along with more than 20 other states. Supporters said that a nominee might already be chosen if the state waits until March and argued that the move to February would make the state's primary relevant. They noted that allowing special legislative elections on the same day would save the state an estimated $100,000 in Election Day costs including the printing of ballots. Some opponents said that this bill appeared out of nowhere and is being rushed through the Legislature while important legislation is stalled in committees. They argued that they suspect that the proposal is somehow designed to benefit Sen. Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign and hurt former Gov. Mitt Romney's campaign by making him spend time in Massachusetts to avoid an embarrassing loss here. Others noted that the change would increase election costs for many cities and towns that have already scheduled local elections for March 4, the day on which they expected that the presidential primary would be held. (A "Yes" vote is for the change to February 5. A "No" vote is against the change).

	Robert L. Hedlund (R-Weymouth)	Garrett J. Bradley (D-Hingham)
H 4365	Y	Y
H 4365	N	Y
H 4365	Y	Y
S 2332	N	Y
S 2332	Y	Y
H 4332	Y	Y
S 2414	N	Y

Y = Yes; N = No, NV = No Vote

Bob Katzen welcomes feedback at bob@beaconhillrollcall.com

FRI 11/23 AT 7:30, SAT 11/24 AT 2 & 7:30, SUN 11/25 AT 1:00 & 7:00

"A terrific show, I loved it! Good old-fashioned heart-warming fun!" - WBZ-TV4

"Plenty of razzmatazz, including snow! You'll leave the theatre humming Irving Berlin's irresistibly hummable tunes!" – Boston Globe

Call (800) 447-7400 • www.citicenter.org
or visit the Citi Performing Arts Center Box Office
Citi Performing Arts Center Groups (15+): 617-532-1116
A Club Exclusive Attraction • Call Toll-Free 877-232-8898 or on-line at citicenter.org/club
TTY Ticket Orders: (888)889-8587
www.WhiteChristmastheMusical.com
Globe Santa
citi PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

HILLTOP STEAKHOUSE BUTCHERSHOP
NOW OPEN! Weymouth Butcher Shop
116 Main St., Rt. 18 • Weymouth

US Route 1, Saugus
781-233-7700

116 Main St., Weymouth
781-340-4459

Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9-7; Sun. 9-5 • Lottery - Food Stamps

Bone-In Ribeye STEAKS OR ROASTS $3.99 LB
Ground Fresh Daily GROUND SIRLOIN $1.99 LB

Steakhouse Cut SIRLOIN TIPS	$2.99 LB	Boneless Pork CHOPS OR ROASTS	$1.99 LB	Fresh CHICKEN TENDERLOINS	$1.59 LB
Boneless Chuck POT ROAST	$2.59 LB	Fresh Pork Sirloin CUBES OR CUTLETS	$1.99 LB	Deli Sliced ROAST BEEF	$4.99 LB
Boneless New York SIRLOIN STEAKS	$2.99 LB	Fresh PORK TENDERLOINS	$1.99 LB	Deli Sliced GENOA SALAMI	$3.99 LB
Fresh Chicken DRUMSTICKS OR THIGHS	99¢ LB	1 Lb. Pac PLUMROSE BACON	$2.99 EA	Pre Sliced Imported SWISS CHEESE	$4.99 LB
Special Special 5 LB. GIFT BOX CLEMENTINES	$3.99 EA	Squash ACORN, BUTTERNUT, BUTTERCUP	39¢ LB	All 5 Lb. Bag POTATOES	$1.99 EA
12 Oz. Pac CRANBERRIES	$1.99 EA	Wax TURNIPS	39¢ LB	All Loose NUTS	$2.99 LB

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITY. PRICES EFFECTIVE WED. 11/21/07 -TUES. 11/27/07. ATM ON LOCATION.
WWW.HILLTOPSTEAKHOUSE.COM
Not responsible for typographical errors

HEALTH NOTES

Fire-safe cigarettes could save lives

By Steve Bobo
SPECIAL TO THE MARINER

Tobacco is bad, perhaps not the worst compound we can put in our bodies; after all, there's heroin; meth, crack, etc. Nevertheless, it's a compound we like to hate. From time to time we take a new swipe at tobacco. We tax it; we prohibit its use in public places, restaurants, schools, and buildings. Would that we were so effective in stamping out other killers in society: Drunk drivers, guns, obesity, etc. Nevertheless, a new Massachusetts law, the so called so called Fire Safe Cigarette law, is scheduled to go into effect in January 2008. The legislation was developed and placed in effect in New York State on June 28, 2004. For those interested in its details, the Massachusetts version of this law may be found on the web at:

mass.gov/legis/laws/seslaw06/sl060140.htm.

The law is aimed at reducing one of the associated risks of tobacco use: fires started by inadvertent (or perhaps intentional) failure to extinguish cigarettes. Cigarettes will continue to burn if not extinguished. The cigarette burns in public places have long since disappeared because smoking is disappearing.

Proponents of the law report that smoking-materials are still the #1 cause of home fire deaths in the United States, killing between 700 and 900 people — smokers and non-smokers alike — per year. About a quarter of the fatalities in smoking deaths were not the smokers. About a third are children of the smokers. About a quarter were neighbors or friends and the rest were spouses or parents of the smoker. Mattresses and bedding, upholstered furniture and trash are the items most commonly ignited in smoking.

About a quarter of the fatalities in smoking deaths were not the smokers. About a third are children of the smokers. About a quarter were neighbors or friends and the rest were spouses or parents of the smoker.

Fire-safe cigarettes are a proven practical, and effective way to eliminate the risk of cigarette-ignited fires. It's an easy step for cigarette manufacturers to take, just remove the potassium nitrate introduced into cigarettes to promote continued burning. It's used in gunpowder, fuses and anywhere oxygen is needed to promote burning. The use of cigarettes that have a reduced propensity to burn when left unattended will help prevent tens of thousands of cigarette-ignited fires each year. "Fire-safe" cigarettes are the law in New York, California, and Vermont (covering 20 percent of Americans) and in all of Canada.

Doubtless, fire-safe cigarettes will save hundreds of lives each year. Deaths caused by cigarette fires have declined dramatically in New York State in the first few months that fire-safe cigarettes were mandated there in 2004. The use of cigarettes with a proven, reduced propensity to ignite other materials will achieve improved fire protection.

Much depends on one's outlook that certainly plays a part in laws such as the Fire Safe Cigarette law. For smokers the new law could be considered just another assault on personal freedom and cigarette manufacturers, which depend on an industry in business long before there was a constitution. It makes one wonder why guns that also kill lots of people are not banned as well. If one puts posturing and politics aside, it probably has to do with the fact that dangerous things such as knives and guns have some concomitant value as a potential protector while smoking tobacco is just a nasty habit and has no such virtue. Indeed, forensic experts have noted that cigarettes have often been implicated in acts of arson. The lit cigarette in a book of matches has long been a favorite with mystery writers as the initiator of suspicious fires and has in fact become a much-used tool by arsonists. Could such a law be effective in forestalling terrorists as well?

Rep. Ed Markey of the seventh district in Massachusetts helped introduce the bill, known as the Joe Moakley Memorial Bill in memory of the late Rep. Moakley who fought for this legislation ever since a family in his district perished in a cigarette-caused fire in their home.

So, in January, your legislature will enact another law to help protect us from another of life's evils. Lets hope they can do as much for a few of other significant problems, which face us in the near future.

Steve Bobo is a long-time member of the Cohasset Board of Health.

Water mains and staging area appeal

SEWER REPORT

JOHN BECK

FROM SEWER, PAGE 12

able PDF format) for water and sewer projects will soon be added to the Sewer Commission Web page on the Town of Cohasset's Web site at townofcohasset.org/sewer/documents.

Contacts: Questions about any aspect of the work should be addressed to Kevin McRae, the resident engineer for the town's contractor, Coughlin Environmental Services LLC (CES). His office is in the construction trailer in the staging area off Jerusalem Road. The telephone number for the trailer, which will be staffed during normal working hours, is 781-383-2900. McRae's cell phone number is 617-592-3276.

Questions about the updates: Any questions about the updates may be sent to the author, John Beck, at johnbeckiii@msn.com.

John Beck is Vice Chairman of the Cohasset Sewer Commission.

Sustainable Cohasset to host reception Nov. 29

Sustainable Cohasset will host a reception with hors de 'oeuvres and beverages for new and existing members from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 29, in the Bartow Room at St. Stephen's Church on Cohasset Common. The program will open with a Native American ceremony by Bob Charlebois, a Native American pipe keeper and interpreter for the Wampanoag Indigenous Program at Plimoth Plantation.

The second segment of the program will be devoted to realizing the vision of Sustainable Cohasset with the formation of working groups that will engage members in doable tasks that sustain their individual environmental passions and advance the objectives of Sustainable Cohasset as it continues into its second year.

The second segment of the program will be devoted to realizing the vision of Sustainable Cohasset with the formation of working groups that will engage members in doable tasks...

Sustainable Cohasset celebrated its one-year anniversary in October. In its first year, Sustainable Cohasset's accomplishments included an environmental film series, fundraising with 20 local merchants to create cloth shopping bags to encourage local shopping and to reduce plastic bag use, a survival workshop, a Buying Circle for organic turkey, grass-fed beef, and pesticide-free cranberries, and participation in the annual MCAN conference.

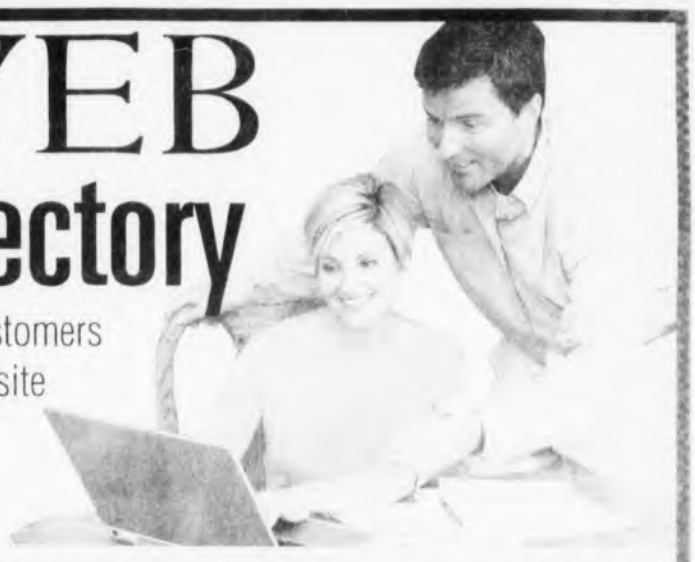
In addition, they designed and developed the CO2 Cube in conjunction with Cohasset High School students, which illustrates the metric volume of a ton of CO2 and developed an advertisement for sustainability as part of a national advertising campaign.

GOP Town Committee to host holiday party

The Cohasset Republican Town Committee will host its annual holiday party from 4 to 7 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 2, at Bancroft Hall Lightkeepers Residence, Cohasset Harbor. The cost is $20 per person and $30 per couple. There will be a cash bar.

To register call Julie Guild at 781-383-6443, Polly Logan at 781-383-0031, or Kevin O'Donnell at 781-383-6113. Make checks payable to The Cohasset Republican Town Committee, Julie Guild, 365 Jerusalem Road, Cohasset, MA 02025.

Contributions help fund Republican Candidates and Annual Scholarships for college bound high school seniors. Participants are asked to bring canned goods for the Cohasset Food Pantry.



For more information, visit the Web site at www.gop8.com/CRTC.

Send your news tip to mford@cnc.com
News hotline - 781-741-2933
Fax news of your event to 781-741-2931

Please recycle this newspaper

WEB Directory

Sending Customers to Your Website

APPLIANCES
Hancock TV & Appliance
www.hancocktvandappliance.com

AUTO REPAIR
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

BABY AND KIDS FURNITURE
Baby Furniture Warehouse
www.babyfurniturewarehouse.com

BANQUETS/CORPORATE FUNCTIONS
Trueman's Catering
On Tray Inc.
www.truemanscatering.com

BANQUET FACILITIES
Benjamins Restaurant and Function Facility
www.benjaminsrestaurant.com

BEADS & JEWELRY
Beaucoup Beads
www.beaucoup-beads.com
Gemorama
www.gemorama.com

BOATS/MARINE
Bayside Marine
www.baysidemarinecorp.com
Monahan's Marine
www.monahansmarine.com
3A Marine
www.3amarine.com

BRIDAL
Country Weddings Bridal
www.countryweddingsbridal.com

CANDY & GIFTS
The Fudge Bar
www.thefudgebar.com

CHOCOLATE
Phillips Candy House
www.bostonchocolate.com

COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE
Partners Investment Properties, llc
www.pipre.com

COMMUNITY CENTERS
Hingham Community Center
www.hinghamcommunitycenter.com

COMPUTER SERVICES
RGB Computer Solutions
www.rgbcomputersolutions.com

COMPUTER TRAINING
Transitions: Your Business & Career Resource Center
www.transitionsresources.com

DANCE STUDIO
Fred Astaire Dance Studio
www.fadshanover.com

DIGITAL/OFFSET COLOR PRINTING
Pyramid Printing & Digital
www.pyramidprinting.net

EMBROIDERY/ SCREENPRINTING/TROPHIES
Rockland Athletic Supplies
www.rocklandathletics.com

FENCING
Armstrong Fence
www.armstrongfence.com

FINISH CARPENTRY/FINE WOODWORKING
Roberts Custom Joinery
www.rcjoinery.com

FRAMING FURNITURE
Warmington Furniture
www.warmingtonfurniture.com

GYMNASTICS & DANCE
Joans Olympic Gym
www.joansolympicgym.com

HANDYMAN SERVICES
Handyman Connection
www.handymanconnection.com

HEALTH CARE
Bridgewater Goddard Park Medical Associates
www.bgpma.com

HEALTH CLUB
Braintree Athletic
www.atlantissportsclubs.com

HOME HEALTH CARE PROVIDER
PM Companion Agency, Inc
www.pmcompanions.com

INSURANCE
Goodale Insurance
www.cohassetinsurance.com

JEWELERS
Snyder Jewelers
www.snyderjeweler.com

KAYAKS
Buckles & Boards Ski & Surf
www.bbskis.com

LANDSCAPE SUPPLIES
Back Yard Living
www.back-yard-living.com

LANGUAGE CENTERS
Su Escuela
www.suescuela.com

LIMOUSINE SERVICE
JB Livery
www.JBLivery.com

MASSAGE THERAPY
Hingham Massage Therapy
www.hinghammassage.com

MORTGAGE COMPANIES
First Bancorp Mortgage
www.FBMmortgage.com
Mount Vernon Mortgage
www.mountvernonmortgage.com
Saint Mortgage
www.satuitmortgage.com

MUSIC & ENTERTAINMENT
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

MUSIC SCHOOL
Bosse School of Music
www.bosseschoolofmusic.com

OIL HEAT & HVAC
East Coast Petroleum
www.eastcoastpetroleum.com

PRE-OWNED VEHICLES
Driftway Auto Sales & Repair
www.driftwayauto.com

PRESCHOOLS
South Shore Conservatory
www.southshoreconservatory.org

RESTAURANTS
The Snug
www.snugpub.com

SALON
Charles David Salon
www.charlesdavidsalon.com

SCITUATE
Scituate Chamber of Commerce
www.scituatechamber.org

SKATING ARENAS
Pilgrim Skating Arena
www.skatepilgrim.com

SWIMMING POOLS
Bestek Pool Service
www.bestekpool.com

TIRES & AUTO REPAIR
Bridge Street Tire & Alignment, Inc
www.bridgestreettire.com

